Jerome Mitchell Dies At Age Of 71

Sanford Jerome Mitchell, 71, died at 11:30 a.m. Monday at his home here in Eldorado following several months of illness. His condition became critical during the last two weeks, and men of the community sat up with him during his final days.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 in the First Baptist church of which he was a member.

Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery beside Mrs. Mitchell who died April 4, 1956. Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Pall bearers were: Joe Griffin, L. L. Kinser, Victor Kent, Monrie Allen, Elton McGinnes, and J. C. Schooley.

Honorary pall bearers were: Don McCormick, Doyle Easterwood, Jim Martin, Fred Butler, Jerry Perry, Bill Maness, W. D. Hubble, and Damon Wagoner.

S. J. Mitchell had been employed by Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op since Dec. 1, 1947, and only three other employees now have a longer period of service. His most recent job with the Co-Op had been as yard and warehouse man.

He was born Sept. 6, 1894 in Williamson county and was a veteran of World War I, serving in France. He was married to Mrs. Fern Aldridge here in Eldorado Oct. 7, 1939.

Survivors include two sons, Sgt. Voy J. Mitchell who is serving in the Air Force in England, and Alton Roy Mitchell of Dallas; a daughter, Maudie, Mrs. Roy Short of Eldorado; two step-sons, Ruble H. Aldridge of Houston and Glendon Aldridge of Dallas; two brothers, F. O. Mitchell of Coppas Cove and Ruben Mitchell of Canton; two sisters, Mrs. Ammer Carter and Mrs. Jack Clark, both of Eldorado.

West Texas C of C Directors Meet Here

Directors of District 9, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, met Wednesday morning in the board room of First National Bank to evaluate plans for development of the growth potential of West Texas.

The 17 business and community leaders heard WTCC president John Ben Shepperd of Odessa outline potentials which were discussed in nine planning sessions.

The "brainstorming" sessions included discussion of agriculture, ranching, water resources, tourist and industrial development, education, petroleum, chemicals and public affairs.

W. R. Cusenbary of Sonora, district vice president, directed the meeting. R. W. Hardy of Abilene, a WTCC vice president, directed the discussion of methods to attain the goals through local community action.

Eldorado directors are Mort L. Mertz and Ed Meador.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Dannheim and children left last Thursday to return to their home at Seattle, Washington, after visiting here for three weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dannheim.

School News

James Allen Bryan, new assistant coach, and Wayne McDonald, new band director, were moving here this week. Both will be in Shugart apartments for the present.

Guy Whitaker, high school principal, and his family are on a vacation trip to East Texas.

Walls and roof are in place on the new band hall, and work is continuing on the walls for the ag. building. An unusual feature of the ag. building is the pre-cast slabs which form the sidewalls. The slabs were cast flat and then hoisted into place with a crane and fastened with welded joints.

Saturday, August 6, at 1:00 p.m. is date for the football boys to undergo physical exams, announces Coach Ray Morgan.

Coaches Ray Morgan, Pete Bryan, Jack Bell, Tom Sikes, and Kenneth Thomas plan to attend the State Coaching School in Houston. This year's school will be held from July 30th to August 4th.

Post Script

With our subscribers: Mrs. Roy Briggs is a new subscriber at 4109 Pine, Waco, Texas.

Mrs. Tom Henderson recently renewed her subscription from 2208 Ridgewood Drive, at Tyler, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gibson have moved from Irving, Texas, to Route 2, Batesville, Arkansas.

Not one to call for help when she discovered a 3-foot rattler under her car Saturday afternoon, Mrs. W. H. Joiner went back to the house and got her shot gun—got in the car and backed it away from the critter, then got out and let him have it.

"I missed him the first shot, 'cause I was up too close, so I backed off a piece and blew him in two."

Vandalism is not confined to any one place as noted from articles in our exchanges. Fort Stockton and Iraan were both having their problems last week.

From Fort Stockton Pioneer: Vandalism is a vexatious and costly problem for any community. Normally we deplore it in principal, and get really indignant only when our own property is the target.

Of particular concern to officers is the activity of a group—believed to be heedless youngsters—who have directed their effort toward the Fort Stockton Post Office and the United States mails. A federal offense is involved here, and the consequences could be serious indeed.

From Iraan News: Too bad the artists in our high school classes do not put their talents to a better use than they have recently. The motto, Seniors 1966-67, that adorned the prehistoric sides of Dinny, the dinosaur in Alley Oop Park, just two days before the celebration July 2 did not take a lot of imagination or intellect—just plain stupidity will fill the bill.

The Iraan Chamber of Commerce is considering the offer of a $100 reward for information leading to the conviction of the guilty parties defacing public property.

Along this line we should always remember that the only young folks we hear about are the ones that get out of line. The other 99% are pretty good kids.

Gene and Vernell McCalla announce that a three-day "Green Tag Sale" is getting under way today, Thursday, at their Eldorado Variety store.

It seems like every time I open my mouth in this PS column, I manage to stick my foot in it!

Last week I sounded off again about the dead-end street to the airport and of the need for a street around a new block, and then we concluded by saying, "But so far no dirt has been turned."

Those words were written about 2:00 p.m., on Wednesday, and we worked like fury from 2:00 o'clock to 6:00, getting things in type—on the press—printed, folded and addressed for mailing. I hadn't been home since 7:00 o'clock that morning.

Then with our work all done, I finally homeward "plodded" my weary way" and what did I find?

I found that county maintainers, graders, and bulldozers had widened out the street from the Episcopal church to the airport gate and had filled in the whole block with a huge amount of caliche in preparation for the very improvement I had been talking about!

Since that time this job has been proceeding rapidly. These county men have bulldozed out and opened up a street from the airport gate north one block, and then east one block on the north side of Lillian Crosby's property.

No one can say that the county doesn't co-operate with the city in improving its streets. They have been working in many different parts of town during the past month. They have been widening streets where needed, laying and packing a caliche base, and we understand the final job will be a black-top paving.

We are going to be proud of this new job down by the airport, and if we have sounded like we were impatient it is because we didn't understand how many jobs were involved.

County Commissioners in Precincts two, three and four, also have a claim on county road equipment. Right now they are working in Precinct One, which includes the city of Eldorado. It seems that there is a sort of gentleman's agreement and each precinct must take its turn.

We're proud of the jobs they are doing in Eldorado right now.

We were happy to learn last week that Bennie Harkey had bought the remaining assets of the former Gault Ford business. The sale included tools, equipment and stock of parts. Mr. Harkey will have an announcement in the near future regarding the type of business he will operate.

Ben Fatheree has moved from the Bob Ledingham house to the E. E. Donaldson house.

Pony Leaguers In Exciting Game

There wasn't a dull moment here Tuesday when Pony Leaguers from Christoval fought to a finish with Eldorado in a game that had to go into an extra inning to break a tie, and finally ended 8 to 7 in favor of Eldorado.

At the end of the 7th inning the score stood 6 to 6. Going into the 8th Christoval managed to squeeze in another run putting them in the lead. Eldorado followed in their last time at bat by tying the game again 7 to 7. An overthrow to third allowed Eldorado's winning run to come in.

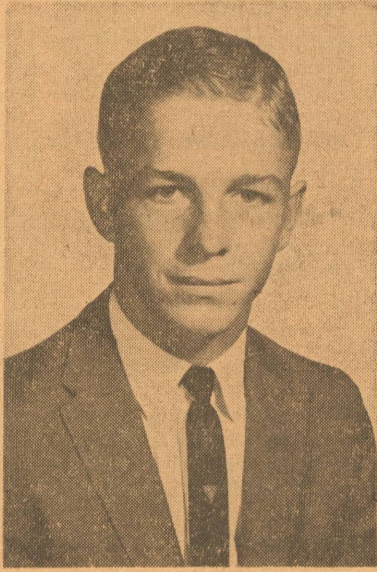

Play Again Tonight

The same two teams will play again Thursday evening starting at 5:30. The early starting time is set in order to complete the game well before Little League starts at 8:00.

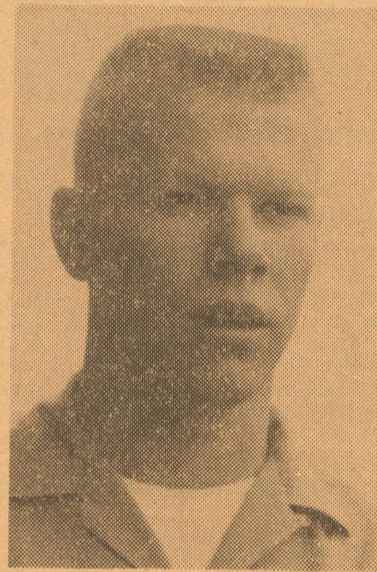

Fans who are able to get to the field at the earlier hour are promised good games by the Pony Leaguers who are mostly in the 15-year age group and usually play heads-up ball.

Of course, they make some errors too.

Mrs. Millican, 51, Dies In San Saba

Mrs. Julian Millican, 51, passed away at 11:45 p.m. Friday, July 1, at Rollins-Brook hospital in Lampasas, Texas. She had been hospitalized one day.

Services were held at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, July 3, at Howell-Doran chapel, San Saba, with burial in Chapel cemetery.

Mrs. Millican was a retired school teacher and had lived in San Saba county for 30 years. She was born April 10, 1915 in San Saba county. She was a member of the Methodist church and Order of the Eastern Star.

She was a sister of W. G. Godwin of Eldorado, who with Mrs. Godwin attended the funeral.

Cissy Gault of Grand Prairie, former Eldorado resident, spent part of last week visiting here with Genie Newport.

Mrs. L. L. Hudson and two children of Odessa are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sauer.

Doctors Disagree With Pathologist's Finding On Cause of Cecil Fay Death

The following article comes from the Ozona Stockman and concerns the death of Cecil Fay, the 23-year-old cafe cook, who was buried in Eldorado cemetery nearly three weeks ago.

Although both local doctors disagreed and disputed the finding, a San Angelo pathologist's report of the cause of death of Cecil Fay as "acute viral hepatitis" went into the record on the death certificate filed by the undertaker and thus became official.

Fay, 23-year-old cook in a local cafe, died in the Crockett county hospital two weeks ago after being treated there for about a week. Cause of death was not immediately determined and a post-mortem operation was performed by a local physician and tissue were sent to the pathologist for examination.

The pathologist's report of hepatitis as the cause of death, encountered disagreement from both doctors. The patient showed no symptoms typical of hepatitis, both doctors agreed, and Dr. Sherrill reported that in his opinion Fay's death was caused by "Pneumonia Lymphatic Leukemia." Nurses in the hospital were given shots of gamma globulin as a precaution.

A new case of hepatitis was reported in the city during the past week. A child in the Latin-American community was diagnosed as suffering from the disease, Dr. Lloyd Sherrill, who is county health officer, reported.

Members of the child's family have been given GG shots and precautions taken to prevent spread of the disease, the doctor said. Poor sanitary conditions are most often responsible for spread of the disease, he said.

Several cases of hepatitis have been reported in the community in recent months, the doctors agreed, and efforts are continuing to improve sanitary conditions and to guard against communicable disease outbreaks. No specific cause for the hepatitis outbreaks has been pinpointed.

Physical Exams Set August 6th For Eagles

Coach Ray Morgan, who is beginning his first year as Eagle coach, announces that August 6 has been set as time for Eagle football team members, and Jr. High football players, to undergo physical examinations for this fall's season.

Aug. 6 is a Saturday and 1:00 p.m. will be the time. Dr. Dyer will come from Ozona to conduct the exams in the school gym, and Coach Morgan and the other coaches will assist him.

County Visited By Another Freak Rain

Clouds that dumped about two inches of rain on parts of Eldorado swept over the county last Thursday and again left many parts of the county unsatisfied.

A satisfying two inches was recorded around the east side city limits and over that amount fell at the Eagle Theatre about a mile farther east.

West of town out along the Big Lake highway about four miles, one resident claimed at least 2 1/2 inches, and the Circle T ranch claimed 3 inches. But some farmers in Bailey Ranch area said they never stopped plowing. In the Reynolds community Clemens Sauer reported 1.60 inches with perhaps a heavier fall to the south of them, while to the north it seemed to fade out.

Out on the Menard highway George Humphrey and Gerald Hartgraves jubilantly reported 3 1/2 inches.

The Forrest Runge ranch off in the north part of the county could claim only one-tenth.

8-In. Pipe Rolling For New Pipeline

Sinclair's office in Midland reports that contract has been let for construction of their new pipeline in this county, according to word received by Robert Page of Eldorado.

Further information given Page was that 8-inch was rolling from a steel mill in Utah and is to be wrapped in Odessa before being delivered to location here.

While name of the contractor was not given it was understood that construction would be under way this month, and that the new line would be in operation some time in August.

The new line will be about 10 miles in length from the Eldorado gas field to the Sinclair gasoline plant at Huldale. About ten capped gas wells will be put on production when the line is completed.

Navy Mechanic Visits In Eldorado

Pete L. Fay, a ten-year Navy career man, arrived in Eldorado two weeks ago to attend his brother's funeral and has been visiting here since that time.

Pete, a son of Dick Fay of Eldorado, joined the Navy from Eldorado in July, 1956, and is now an aviation jet engine mechanic serving aboard an aircraft carrier, the USS Oriskany off the coast of Vietnam. He is due to report back for duty on July 17th.

Fay's ten years in the Navy included boot camp at San Diego, then a 2-year tour of duty at Corpus Christi. Following that he was back in San Diego on the U.S.S. Lexington and then to the Naval Air Station near San Diego.

Fay, apparently has done well in the Navy and expects to remain in the service until he earns a retirement pension. He is the only colored boy in the Navy from Schleicher county. His present address is:

Little League Season To Close Out Friday

Monday Night
Following the rains of last week, Little League play was resumed Monday when the Tigers played the Red Sox. The game came to a close at the end of 4 1/2 innings with the Red Sox, 9 and Tigers 4.

Tuesday Night
The Cougar-White Sox game which started at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday night, had nothing special to recommend it, except that the Cougars won 10 to 1.

It was a slow-moving game and before the 6th and final inning came to a close, clocks showed 9:45. But Cougar games always bring out a good crowd and cars were parked every which way around the field.

Final Games
Thursday night will see the Red Sox play the White Sox.

Friday night, July 15, the Tigers play the Cougars—ending the Little League season for this year.

HERE FROM TENNESSEE

Mrs. Evelyn Wooten who has an office position with Acme Boot Co., in Clarksville, Tenn., spent part of her two weeks vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van O'Harrow. Prior to her arrival in Eldorado she spent some time in Dallas at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wooten, who also were visitors here over the Fourth.

Mrs. Wooten left Saturday to return to her home in Tennessee, traveling by plane.

I Am A Tired American !

I am a tired American.
 I'm tired of being called the ugly American.
 I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.
 I am a tired American—weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.
 I am a tired American—choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate our Government by placard, picket line, and sit-ins by the hordes of dirty, unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order and decency.
 I am a tired American—weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.
 I am a tired American—fed up with the mobs of scabby-faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the “new wave” of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

 I am a tired American—weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.
 I am a tired American—nauseated by the lazy-do-nothings who wouldn't take a job if you drove them to and from work in a Rolls Royce . . .
 I am a tired American—who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched Americans in an obscene race, who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture . . .
 I am a tired American—weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins—who prefer Chinese Communism to capitalism—who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

 I am a tired American—who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast—movies denouncing the United States, movies made in Communist China.
 I am a tired American—who is angered by the self-righteous breast-beater critics of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States, but who never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.
 I am a tired American—who represents the pimply-faced beatniks who try to represent Americans as the “bad guys on the black horses.”
 I am a tired American—who is weary of some Negro leaders who, for shock purposes, scream four-letter words in church meetings.
 I am a tired American—sickened by the slack-jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

 I am a tired American—who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their own children to private schools.
 I am a tired American—who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed. They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.
 I am a tired American—who gets more than a little bit weary of the clique in our State Department which chooses to regard a policy of timidity as prudent—the same group which subscribes to a “no-win” policy in Vietnam.
 I am a tired American—real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world —a generous-hearted nation—a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the ‘have-nots’ achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

 I am an American—who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the “Star Spangled Banner” and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes, of the brassy trumpet when Old Glory reaches the top of the flag pole.
 I am a tired American—who wants to start snapping at those phony “high priests” who want us to bow down and worship their false idols and who seek to destroy the belief that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave.
 I am a tired American—who thanks a merciful Lord that he was lucky to be born an American citizen—in a nation under god, with truly mercy and justice for all.— by Alan McIntosh, publisher, The Rock County Herald, Laverne, Minnesota.

State CAPITOL

Austin, Texas.—Taxes—with its what, why, where, who and because—raised its unpopular head in the Texas capitol this week.
 Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy presented a report to Gov. John Connally and the Texas Legislature.
 Everybody's request for more money indicates that the spending program to be presented the 1967 Legislature will eat up the $75 million state surplus—and require new money to finance.
 Higher education, pay raises for teachers and state employees, water development, state park and recreation expenditures, the Texas Highway Patrol—all want in on the act.
 The tax policy committee is headed by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, who asked the Texas Research League to list possible sources for new taxes.
 Proposed were:
 —Increase the state sales tax from its present 2% to 2½ or 3%, raising $72.4 to $144.8 million a year;
 —Corporation income tax of 4.4% (average of those in the 37 states which levy it), raising from $18 to $106 million a year;

Building Empty For Months To House A Going Concern Once Again . . .

Bennie Harkey, who sold his Enco business and two service stations a while back to Raymon Mobley, has announced plans to open a business establishment in the former Ford location here. Joe Gault, who was Ford dealer here for a time, went out of business last Fall, and this building has stood empty since around the first of the year. It is on South Main Street.

—Graduated personal income tax, raising $75 million a year. (There are 36 states with personal income taxes.)

Draft Call
 Texas' part of fulfilling the national draft call for 31,300 men in September includes furnishing 1,381 men in July; 1,837 in August; and 1,585 in September, says Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director.
 In addition, between 4,000 and 5,000 Texas men will be called for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in September.

Grain Farmers Cautioned
 John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, advised Texas grain farmers to “make certain your harvest is stored in a state-licensed warehouse and to demand a valid Texas Grain Receipt.”
 Approximately 70 warehouses have failed to renew their licenses this year, though the grain harvest is well under way in many parts of the state. Grain stored in these warehouses is not protected by bonds and license required by law, said White.

More Boat Ramps
 Thirty-three new boat ramps

across the state, making a total of 94 such ramps, have been approved by the Texas Highway Commission.

Twenty of the new ones are adjacent to farm-to-market or park roads.
 These new ramps will increase launching facilities by more than one-half and will cost $241,800, or an average of $7,327 each. Source of money, provided for under the Texas Water Safety Act, comes from Certificate of Number fees collected from Texas boat owners.

And, speaking of boats, new boat inspection fees and unclaimed boat gasoline sales taxes are reaping about $100,000 a month for the state.

According to the State Parks and Wildlife Department, a new system is being set up so that fines collected for boat safety law violations will go to a State fund, rather than to county funds where most other law-breakers' fines are deposited.

Big Thicket Endorsed
 State Parks and Wildlife Commission endorsed “in principle” the creation of a Big Thicket State Park. It will embrace some 15,000 acres of the 300,000 acres in Liberty, Hardin, Tyler and Livingston counties known as the “Big Thicket.”

Will Odom of Austin, commission chairman, said endorsement would be made “specific” after the Parks and Wildlife staff has studied the proposal. Then all the Commission needs is legislative approval.

Other Parks Need Repair
 According to William M. Gosdin, park services director, state parks' buildings need repairs to the tune of $970,000.

State Parks are expected to get $2,200,000 for improvement from federal sources during each of the coming five years. But Gosdin said a complete statewide outdoor recreation plan is needed by 1970 to keep the state qualified for federal aid for park construction.

County Government Study
 Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed the following as an advisory committee to the Legislative Council Study Committee on County Government:

Harold Green, president, County Judges and Commissioners Assn.; L. D. McCormick, president, County Treasurers Assn.; O. D. Ginegan, president, County Tax Assessors & Collectors Assn.; V. G.

Young, assistant director, Agricultural Extension Services at Texas A&M University; Joe G. Resweber, Harris County attorney; Dick Kirby, president, County Auditors Assn.; and Bill Waters, president, District and County Attorneys Assn.

Council is composed of 10 State Representatives and five Senators, with Smith as chairman and House Speaker Ben Barnes, vice-chmn.

Contrasting Job Situation
 Texas employment is continuing its upward trend, but at the same time, unemployment is rising too, the Texas Employment Commission reports.

Total employment rose from 3,867,600 in April to 3,893,000 in mid-May, while unemployment rose from 121,000 to 124,000 during the same period. The number of workers on non-farm payrolls rose by 6,500 to 3,585,300, and farm employment jumped 23,900 during

May. The 3,000 increase in unemployment was caused by early entrants into the market from schools.

Short Snorts . . .

Governor Connally has approved nine grants under the Economic Opportunity Act. Fort Worth and Tarrant County got the biggest chunk of money—$368,980—for use in planned parenthood services, family-neighborhood services, poverty centers and dental care. Waco and McLennan county received $346,130 for day-care services, booster education, remedial and summer education, expansion of Planned Parenthood.
 Department of Agriculture designated as drought disaster areas Carson, Lipscomb, Wheeler, Hemphill and Collingsworth counties.
 Dr. Hal Potts, Dallas, is new district program consultant for Texas OEO, appointed by Governor Connally.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Have you forgotten anything?

You stand at the front door, leaving on vacation, pausing and mentally checking your list. What you are taking checks out, but what about the things you may be leaving?

I know some one who has done every one of these things—luckily with no dire results, other than some property damage. A friend and her family went to Mexico City for two weeks and left the record player on. The heat of the motor running the turntable ruined 4 or 5 expensive records which happened to be on the machine.

—Many people punch the button on the dishwasher just before locking the door when leaving the house. A dangerous habit; insurance companies say that more home fires are caused from over heated dishwasher motors than any other source. Don't start the dishwasher just before going to bed, either.

—Another unfortunate somebody left a television set plugged in during our stormy season. They had no lightning arrestor, nor a TV picture tube either, when they returned home from a week end trip.

—Somebody else, and we all know this somebody in that it has happened to many people, went away and left a washing machine running. A cut-off valve failed to work and neighbors saw water running out the front door before anyone knew to go in and stop it.

—All too many home owners have returned from a fine vacation to find that the food freezer failed early in their trip and hundreds of pounds of spoiled food lay in sullen readiness to wipe out all memory of the fun of "getting away from it all." Whew! The tales all of us could tell of this kind of thing. Leave a key with a friend and ask them to check occasionally if you are to be gone for a long time.

I really didn't have any intention of spoiling your vacation when I started thinking on these things. I just don't want you to let anything else spoil it for you either. Have a good trip.

Only about 40 pounds of a 1,000 pound steer are sirloin steak, and 35 pounds are porterhouse, T-bone and club steak.

This cream cheese brownie recipe created quite a stir at a family reunion (not ours) not long ago and one of the members brought a copy home with her. Something rather special that I thought maybe you might like to take to your family gathering this summer.

Cream Cheese Brownies

- 4 ounces German's Sweet Chocolate
- 5 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 ounces Cream Cheese
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 cup plus 1 tablespoon unsifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract.

Method: Melt chocolate and 3 tablespoons of the butter over low heat. Mix well and cool. Cream other 2 tablespoons butter with cream cheese. Slowly add 1/4 cup sugar to butter cheese mixture, mixing until fluffy. Blend one egg, 1 tablespoon flour and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Set aside.

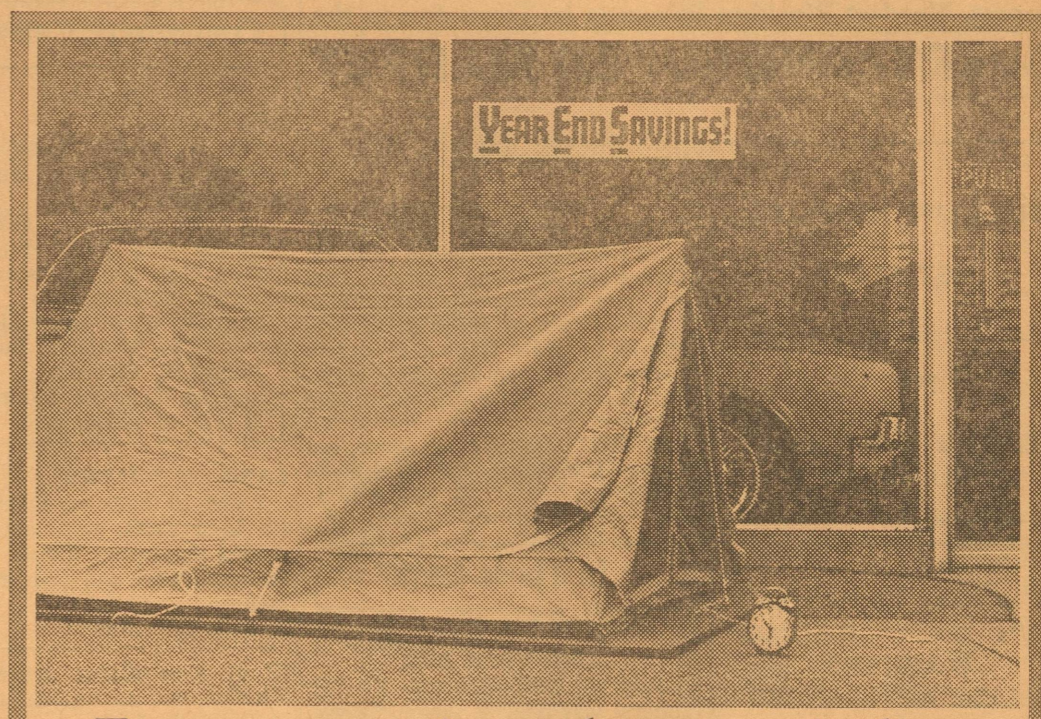

In another bowl: beat two eggs until light colored. Slowly beat in remaining 3/4 cup sugar, beating until mixture thickens. Add baking powder, salt, remaining 1/2 cup flour; blend in chocolate mixture, all 1 teaspoon vanilla, nuts and almond extract.

Put scant half of the chocolate mixture, spread thin, in greased 8-inch square pan. Spread cheese batter over this. Zig-zag a knife through the two layers for a marbled effect. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 to 35 minutes. Take care not to over-bake.

Make these up now, freeze and when you need them they are there, ready and waiting.

If adults checked their own eating habits as critically as they check those of their children they would find about the same degree of variations and strangeness.

Old Hotel Building At Mason Sold To Bank

The Mason National Bank has announced the purchase of Fort Mason Hotel as a site for its new banking home.

Whether the hotel structure, empty for four years except for a barber shop, will be completely torn down or only partially so is a decision bank officials will make soon.

It is possible one or two stories of the four-story buff brick building will be removed, and the bottom floors worked over into a modern banking facility. Or the building may be razed to the ground.

"Whichever route we take our hope is to make Mason National Bank an institution of expanded service to the community," President Bill Lemburg said.

The hotel cost $150,000, including furniture and fixtures, when completed and opened to the public in 1929. —Mason County News.

Too many short-term debts can cripple your total credit program, tie up operating capital and cause you to miss opportunities that require immediate funds. Questions, Answers, Regarding Low-Rent Public Housing

Q. What will low-rent public housing cost in local taxes?

A. Nothing. No levy is needed. No tax increase is needed. The federal government, through loans or guarantees of loans, makes possible the financing of housing, and makes an annual contribution to enable rents to be set within reach of low-income families.

Q. Is this type of housing "free"?

A. No. Tenants must pay their rents, just as Mr. Average Citizen anywhere else. Rents are, by law, lower than those charged on the private market, permitting low-income families to acquire decent housing within their means.

Q. Is low-rent housing something new and untested?

A. By no means. The low-rent public housing program was created by Congress in the Housing Act of 1937, as a local federal-aid to communities through which they may provide decent, safe and sanitary housing to shelter low-income families unable to afford standard housing. More than 240 communities in Texas have low-rent housing.

A. This is determined by the local Housing Authority, based on the need and demand for such housing in this area.

Q. Is the Local Housing Authority appointed by Washington, D. C.?

A. Emphatically no! The Local Housing Authority of Eldorado is a product of this community. It's headed by five local citizens, John Hodges, Kenneth Vaughan, Clay Porter, Mrs. Domingo Pina, and Carolyn Spencer. They serve as Commissioners and are appointed by the local Mayor. Policies and operations of the Authority are determined here!

Q. What's meant by "elderly housing" — old houses?

A. No, "elderly housing" is local housing especially constructed to meet the living requirements of senior citizens in this community. Such important features are included as non-skid floors, electrical outlets at no stoop, no squat levels . . . ramps instead of stairs . . . grab bars around tubs and showers . . . storage and shelves within easy reach . . . "buddy system" buzzers for emergencies and other helpful features to make life more pleasant for the elderly.

Q. Who can live in "elderly housing"?

A. To be eligible, an applicant or applicant group (1) must be a family; that is, two or more members, a single person age 62, or the remaining member of a tenant family. Single persons who are under a disability as defined in the Social Security Act are also considered to be a family. (2) The family's net income must not exceed the admission income limits established by the LHA and approved by PHA.

Q. Does the public pay "someone else's rent"?

A. No. Each tenant pays his own rent. The cost of maintaining and operating low-rent housing is paid entirely from rentals.

Q. What is the federal government's role in Low-Rent Public Housing?

A. The federal government guarantees payment of the mortgage on the property. If the Local Authority's income isn't sufficient to cover all operations and meet annual mortgage payments, then Uncle Sam makes up this difference. This is the so-called "subsidy" that worries some folks.

Q. Does low-rent public housing compete with standard local rentals?

A. No. Low income families cannot afford high rents on modest income. As a result, they must resort to slum and substandard housing.

Q. Who owns low-rent housing units?

A. The Local Housing Authority, an arm of the City of Eldorado. The Local Housing Authority develops, builds and manages these dwellings.

Q. How much rent is charged?

A. This depends entirely on the family income. Rents are based NOT on the size of the apartment, but rather on a percentage of earnings, usually approximately 1/5%.

Q. Who is eligible to live in low-rent public housing in Eldorado?

A. Families of low-income and elderly single persons over 62.

Q. Isn't public housing wasteful? Can't privately financed home builders do the job at half the cost?

A. These charges are false, since public housing is built by private local contractors through competitive bidding. Most of these contractors also build privately financed local housing. When true cost comparisons are made, based on size of the dwelling units, the price of land and quality of construction, development costs of low-rent public housing compare favorably with privately constructed housing.

Q. What does Organized Labor think of low-rent housing?

A. Organized Labor has supported the low-rent program since its birth in 1937—not only because Labor realizes that construction of low-rent housing in an area means more and better jobs—but because Labor believes in the principle that every local family is entitled to a decent place to live—in a respectable neighborhood.

Q. Where can I learn more about Low-Rent Public Housing in Eldorado?

A. Contact the Housing Authority of the City of Eldorado, at 118 Dixie Drive, or by telephoning 853-2344.

Civil rights, foreign aid, poverty, and an assortment of Great Society programs will be on the agenda when the Congress returns to work following the July 4 recess. Unless the housing section is removed from the civil rights bill, extended debate on it may delay adjournment this year by as much as a month.

On the poverty front, the President wants nearly $2 billion authorized to continue the many-pronged program during the next fiscal year. More than $2½ billion have already been paid out to finance this venture—not counting the $18 billion annual outlay for a variety of other federal welfare projects.

The war on poverty has been a dismal failure in many areas, with good results being reported in some spots, particularly in the preschool training program. Top-heavy with high salaried administrators, some 30 in the Washington poverty headquarters draw from $19,000 to $29,000 a year. And in scores of instances local project bosses make more money than the highest official in the community.

At the Job Corps' Camp Gary in Texas, there are 864 on the paid staff, 208 of whom make $9,000 a year—an average of 57% higher than their previous pay. At least 1032 employees of local "community action" programs across the country are paid $10,000 a year or more; about 200 exceed $15,000. It costs more than $9,000 to train each drop-out who enrolls in the Job Corps.

Many scandals have arisen in the program. In Harlem federal poverty funds were used to finance a Black Arts Theater project which dramatized a "hate-white" racist theme in gutter language. An investigation there failed to locate any trace of $400,000 out of the $10 million Sargent Shriver had advanced to the area.

More and more, it appears that the surface of so-called poverty is being only scratched; and that individual work, not spending other people's money, is the only way to fight poverty and win.

Some catchy bumper stickers are now being seen, which read: "I'm fighting poverty—I work!"

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Cattlemen should remember that with the hot, dry weather of July and August at hand, growing cattle cannot be expected to continue gains on Bermudagrass without additional feed.

During hot weather and short moisture periods grass loses some of its nutritive value, and an animal's forage intake decreases. The result is a drop in gains.

In Texas A&M experiments, steers averaging about 500 pounds each were grazed on Bermudagrass. Half were given five pounds of sorghum grain each day and the other half got none. Those that received no supplement gained 1.2 pounds per day from April 28 to July 7 and gained only .4 pound per day from July to September 15. On the other hand, animals that received the supplemental feed gained 1.7 pounds per day during the first period and 1.1 pounds during the last period.

If a cattlemen wants additional gain on his cattle, grain should be fed at the rate of at least 1% of the animal's body weight per head per day. To finish cattle out for slaughter it will require as much as 2.5% body weight in concentrate feeds, or a full feed.

In conclusion, weaned calves weighing about 300 pounds should not be left on Bermudagrass during this critical summer period without supplemental feeding.

In this scientific age, the only impossible things are people.

Researchers at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Center are making something of an improvement on crossbred cattle.

Instead of breeding a crossbred cow back to one of the parent breeds, the cow is mated to a bull of a third breed. For example, a cow that is one-half Hereford and one-half Brahman, is bred to a Charolais, Charbray, Brown Swiss, Red Poll or Santa Gertrudis bull.

The results have been outstanding. According to Walter Kruse, animal husbandman at the A&M station, average weaning weight of straight bred calves at the McGregor station for the last 11 years is 392 pounds.

Average 180 day weaning weight of three-breed cross calves is 460 pounds, says Kruse. Calves from the standard, first-cross, (F1) mothers averaged 420 pounds at weaning time.

Reason for the increase in weaning weights, says Kruse, is the boost in hybrid vigor brought in by the bull of the third breed. Breeding first-cross mothers back to a bull of one of the parent breeds means the calves are approaching a pure breed again, thus losing much of the hybrid vigor.

Finding a way to live the simple life is today's most complicated problem.

Mohair producers are urged to attend a July 16 meeting at Junction, Texas. The Mohair Promotion Council of America will hold the meeting. It begins at 10 a.m. Its purpose is to obtain producers' opinions on whether the council should seek a check-off from the incentive payments on mohair.

Funds from the check-off would be used in promotional activities for mohair, just as the wool check-off is used for promotion of wool and lamb.

C. A. Dishman, chairman of the program and planning committee of the council is in charge of the meeting.

A free barbecue lunch will be served by Junction civic leaders. All mohair producers will find it worthwhile to attend.

It isn't necessary for a man to have his face lifted. If he's patient enough, it will grow up through his hair.

Farmers and ranchmen will not file a claim for refund of Federal tax on gasoline used on their farm and/or ranch as they have done in past years. Instead, the refund of Federal tax on gasoline used on or after July 1, 1965 must be claimed as a credit on their annual income tax return.

This credit will first be taken on the return for the first full tax year beginning after June 30, 1965. If the return is filed on a calendar year basis, the credit for gasoline tax refund taken on their 1966 return will include the tax on gasoline used in the period from July 1, 1965, through Dec. 31, 1966.

The refund is claimed as credit in a manner similar to the credit for tax withheld on wages.
