Classing Office At Abilene to Be Opened for Area

Scurry County is one of the 32 Central West Texas counties to be served during the 1945 crop year by a cotton classing office in Abilene, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces.

The Abilene office, to be located at 126 North Second Street, will be reopened after being closed five years. Since the Abilene cotton classing office closed, it has been necessary for farmers here and in other counties to send samples of all cotton placed in government loans to other offices at Lubbock and San Angelo.

Robert H. Hamlin Jr. of Dallas, cotton officials state, will be transferred to Abilene to take charge of the office. In Scurry and the other 29 counties to be served by the Abilene office, an average annual production of 500,000 bales of cotton is marketed.

There will be, Scurry County farmers are informed, a nominal fee for grading of cotton going into government loan—but no charge on cotton graded under the Smith-Doxey Act.

In addition to Scurry, other counties to be served by the Abilene cotton classing office will be: Knox, Dickens, Baylor, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Fisher, Jones, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Midland, Callahan, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Upton, Reagan, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, Schleicher and Brown.

Abilene's Mounted Square Dance Team, it was announced Tuesday evening at a directors' meeting of the Scurry County Rodeo Association, will appear at each rodeo performance here July 18, 19, 20 and 21.

In wild cow milking, group-day money, it was stated, will be $75 first, $50 second and $25 third, and $75 for first and $25 for second per two-day go-round for the cow milking and calf roping.

Increased Ration For Gas Will Not Meet Demands

Sunday driving is definitely not back yet, and probably will not be for some time, Scurry County's War Price and Ration Board announced Tuesday in explaining eligibility requirements for increased gasoline rations.

Not every B coupon holder will be eligible for increased gasoline rations now that ceilings have been raised to 650 miles per month throughout the country, the county War Price and Ration Board continues.

Only those B ration holders whose essential occupational driving needs exceed the present 8 ceiling of 475 miles a month will be eligible for an increase. The amount of the increase for eligible B card holders will vary according to their actual occupational driving needs, but in no case may their total rations exceed the new ceiling, he said.

Most B ration holders—such as home-to-work drivers who are getting what they need under the 475 ceiling—should not apply for any increase since their applications will have to be rejected and will only add to the work of the local War Price and Rationing Boards.

It was also announced that motorists are no longer required to use the A, B, C and T windshield markers.

Although V-E Day has made possible a 10 per cent increase in the amount of gasoline in filling stations, the supply is still a long way from meeting public demand. Ration boards will have to continue to say "no" to many car owners who do not need additional gasoline for essential driving.

Full Parity Price For Cotton Seen By State Expert

Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor of farm economics, who predicted a 35 cent cotton loan for months, also forecast Wednesday a full parity price for cotton this year.

Dr. Cox, who addressed a meeting of agricultural workers here Tuesday, said the cotton loan would be at least 35 cents, with support at full parity a strong possibility.

Cox said the loan would be at least a dime a bale for the crop of every after which it would be raised to the 100 percent of parity price and settle at approximately 35 cents.

The study is being pursued by the government against August 1 when the cotton loan is set for announcement at Memphis, and farmers and staples at different prices yet to be established and increase the probability that it will be higher than it otherwise would be until it reaches a 35 cent level.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 2 days before "your time", its effects help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic cause.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Charlotte McMath Marries in California

On Saturday, June 9, the beautiful patio of the Rancho Vista Del Monte, the home of Dr. and Mrs. Horace Frederick Pierce, was the setting for a lovely little garden wedding solemnized at high noon when Charlotte Dennis McMath became the bride of John Bertram.

The bride was charming in a shell pink lace-lined gown with a color of flowers of the same shade. She carried a shower of lily-of-the-valley matching the gown of her only attendant, Laura Feathers.

Mister Sibley Pierce played a violin solo, "Oh, Promise Me" by de Koven, and the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner. Dr. Tyleson Chastain read the service, which was witnessed only by the members of the household where Miss McMath has been employed for many years.

Mr. Bertram came to America from the Aleutian Islands, where his family owned and operated a commercial shipping line between those islands and Portland. He was employed by the engineering firm of Chapman, Morrill & Scott in Boston and on the Pacific coast for 19 years. He has been employed by the city of Santa Barbara for a number of years, and both he and Miss McMath have a host of friends there, who they expect to make their home.

After a wedding breakfast served in the patio, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram left for the south for a short honeymoon.

The bride is a sister of W. M. McMath of Snyder. She lived here for many years before going to the West Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milsen of Pyote spent the week-end with Mrs. Milsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Torrey, of Snyder. Mrs. Milsen is remaining for an extended stay.

Housewives Urged to Use Meats Bulletins

Snyder city housewives will be able to help in the government meat control program by using the meat price bulletins which are being made available through the Scurry County War Price and Ration Board.

Such bulletins, according to OPA officials, are a simple and powerful weapon to help in smashing the black market in meat. Each bulletin contains ceiling prices for meats sold in Group 1 and 2 stores.

This bulletin, which the housewife can take to the butcher, will help to stop stealing of anything having to do with meat.

A Toast TO AMERICA!

These gentlemen of Japan are drinking to us. They are raising their cups in the hope that Americans will get "tired" carrying on a bitter war thousands of miles from home. The Japanese high command is counting on us to help her hold her stolen empire.

The only way we will upset this Jap strategy is to become acutely aware of certain jolting facts:

Do you know that Japan, the "master-race" of 70,000,000, now controls nearly a half-billion people—nearly a quarter of the world's population?

Do you know that Japan right now has sufficient materials and food to carry on for many years at the present rate of attrition?

Do you know that the Japs are making planes as fast as we can knock them down? One of our returned Navy fliers just recently said he chased a "Judy" (they're not fighting the old type Zeros any more!) for forty miles . . . and the Jap simply pulled away from one of our fastest planes!

Do you realize that it's 14,000 miles from France to Tokyo . . . that we can't wait for the leftover arms from Europe to beat Japan . . . that the Jap Military is counting on this very barrier of distance to cool our ardor for war?

Do you realize that we have never taken one of her stolen islands without having to account for every last man on it—that our first two years of fighting yielded tens of thousands dead Japs but only a few thousand prisoners?

These are cold facts. Let's look at them coldly, honestly.

If we haven't enough ships, we must build them. But a citizenry complacent in the idea that one of the world's strongest empires is a pushover doesn't build them fast enough.

If we haven't enough guns, planes and tanks, we must make them. But that means staying on our war jobs until our war jobs are finished.

The question is not "Can we beat Japan?" It's "When?" "How?" And at what cost in lives?

The answer is up to every last one of us.

It will end as soon as 130,000,000 Americans and their allies, fighting and working together, make it end.

How you can help

1. Keep that war job!
2. Keep buying Bonds!
3. Keep doing all your country asks!

House Votes to Permit Unlimited Slaughtering Locally in Meat Crisis

Moving Saturday to overcome the acute meat shortage in the Snyder area and elsewhere in the nation, the House of Representatives at Washington voted overwhelmingly to permit the unlimited local slaughtering when done under sanitary conditions.

The vote was on an amendment to CEA extension legislation offered by Representative Poage of Texas and supported by Representative Anderson of New Mexico, who becomes secretary of agriculture July 1. The amendment would provide almost as much meat as ceiling prices which the agriculture secretary recalled, as operating cleanly.

Anderson told the House: "This amendment will be useful to us, explaining that it would help solve local meat shortages by increasing production and would relieve the transportation of meat 'back and forth across the country!'"

In another move to increase the civilian meat supply, the army disclosed that it will cut down sharply on its purchases during the next 60 days.

The government previously had announced that lend-lease shipments of meat will be suspended during the July-September quarter.

This plan of reduced military buying is apparently what President Truman had in mind when he told a news conference at Olympia, Washington, Thursday that he expected an improvement in civilian meat supplies as soon as Anderson takes over as secretary of agriculture and way to administer.

Paving the way for diversion of the large portion of beef production into civilian markets, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones has stated that the rationing of the portion of beef which federally inspected slaughterers must set aside for military purchase will be suspended.

This order, Snyder area people can expect, will become effective Sunday.

Meat slaughtering will be permitted on the ten per cent of the output of choice and the commercial grades of beef, and on the entire output of the other grades of beef, veal, lamb and mutton, for the government.

It is possible that the army will take the fat, choicest and thick steaks and roasts, leaving the lean and other cuts for the civilian market.

Jones has asked poultry growers to make more poultry meat available to civilians in the eastern part of the country. For months the army has taken the full output of poultry meat in a high specialized poultry production area including parts of Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. After July 1 about 30 per cent of the poultry from this area will be released to civilians and hospitals.

T. E. Irvine Dies At New Mexico Home Saturday

Thomas Ernest Irvine, brother of Mrs. Ira Crenshaw and C. H. Jones of Snyder and Eland Irvine of the Midway community, died suddenly Saturday morning at his home in Roswell, New Mexico. Mr. Irvine had been in ill health since last September.

Funeral services for Irvine were held Saturday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, at the Western Chapel in Roswell with Rev. Thomas W. Brisham of the First M. E. church officiating. Music was furnished by the choir of the church, and burial was in South Park Cemetery.

Irvine was born [illegible] in Little Rock, Arkansas. He came to Texas as a young man, and was married on a ranch August 30, 1903, he was married to Beulah Gilmore. They lived in Texas until 1910, several years of which time was spent in Snyder. He then moved to Roswell. He was employed at The Roswell Daily Record until last September when he was forced to retire because of ill health.

Mr. Irvine is survived by the widow, Mrs. Ethel Irvine, and one daughter, Mrs. H. E. Garth Hicks, three sisters, Mrs. Ira Crenshaw and Mrs. C. H. Jones of Snyder and Mrs. Dick Pitts of Weed, New Mexico; two brothers, Eland Irvine of the Midway community and Elza Irvine, in Indiana; and two grandchildren.

We're not sure, but sometimes we wonder if our birthstone isn't the grindstone.

Thereafter on the first day of each month such publishers are required to file other certificates to the effect that new subscriptions and so many renewals were received during the current month from personnel of the navy, marine corps and coast guard, and that there is available for examination by the postmaster the written requests for the publication as stated by the military personnel concerned.

Huddleston Brothers Meet in Pacific First Time in Two Years

"Mom, I am A-1 today and just over to see you. Only got to stay about 30 or 40 minutes, but that was a great trip" writes Corporal Bobby Huddleston, son of the Will Clement Clan, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Huddleston of the Pyron Ranch.

"We talked quite a bit. He sure has changed a lot and is bigger now than I. We have not some pictures to send you and he sure had a great ship. I was glad to go to see him and was determined to get over and stay at the other. Couldn't stay long because of the place we are in. There's not much to say except I wanted you and dad to know I saw Andy (Andy or Huddleston). He is doing fine and sends regards to each of us. We'll make out mighty and both of you be proud."

Brothers Visit

Both in the U. S. Navy, Seaman First Class Andrew Huddleston, above, and his brother, Bobby Huddleston, coxswain, recently enjoyed a reunion aboard Andrew's ship, the USS San Francisco. The boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Huddleston of the Pyron Ranch, had not seen each other in over two years. Their trails have neared many times, but this is their first meeting.

Fats Collection on Upswing in Counties Of Western Texas

With collection of used fats on the upswing in Scurry and other West Texas counties the War Food Administration Tuesday outlined a simple procedure for housewives turning in fats to meat dealers.

Through Office of Price Administration, housewives deal in my two and ration points and go to the meat counter to buy meat. Then they take the fats to the meat counter and receive credit for them.

Housewives will be asked to bring to the meat counter only fats, not bones, meat or other kitchen waste. They also are asked to drain and wrap the fats, which are then ready for the meat counter.

Housewives who have been saving cooking fats in tin cans are asked to pour the fats into paper containers before taking them to the meat counter.

Housewives who have been saving cooking fats in paper containers are asked to place the containers in a paper bag before taking them to the meat counter.

Housewives who have been saving cooking fats in glass jars are asked to place the jars in a paper bag before taking them to the meat counter.

New Freedom Gas Kitchens are beautiful without useless frills and gadgets

Sketch by Detroit Michigan Stove Company

BEAUTIFUL WITH DOWN-TO-EARTH EFFICIENCY

Natural gas—the accepted kitchen fuel—does wonders in a kitchen designed around its distinct qualities of speed, cleanliness, accuracy and economy. Such a kitchen is the "New Freedom Gas Kitchen" now coming off the designing boards. As you can see from the above sketch, such a kitchen combines a maximum of efficiency and utility with beauty. One of its outstanding features is ventilation so that greasy vapors, cooking odors and heat are drawn from the room. Plan now for the postwar convenience of a New Freedom Gas Kitchen. . . . . Former Publisher of Times Writes New Book on West Texas

A copy of the exciting new book, "It Happened Here in West Texas" by J. L. Martin, former Snyder newspaper editor and publisher, has been received and the following review will be of interest to Times readers:

The author is a veteran West Texas newspaper man, having owned and edited 15 newspapers, one of which is The Scurry County Times, and has written six books. Mr. Martin is now a resident of Brady, but lived in West Texas 35 years.

Forty-five years ago Mr. Martin made a prospecting trip over the Plains, passing through a number of counties on horseback. Since that time he has been in practically every county west from Fort Worth to New Mexico, and from the Red River to the Rio Grande.

Mr. Martin's new book is everything its title implies—happenings of persons and things never before and in print, using real names of many who played parts in exciting incidents related in the author's fascinating humorous style. The book is illustrated with 24 humorous pen drawings by Jennie Martin, wife of the author, and also well known among the newspaper fraternity of West Texas.

The Martins have announced that so long as their present stocks of the first edition lasts they will autograph copies and mail to addresses for the regular retail price, $2 per copy.

First Presbyterian Church

Last Sunday was a good day in the Snyder and Fluvanna Churches. Ralph M. Read of the Reynolds Presbyterian Home for Children was with the two groups in talks and sermon, the pastor going back in the afternoon with him and with Mary Brown Roberson via Abilene to the Buffalo Gap Young People's Conference and returning that night with Wallace Jones and his son, Wallace Jr. and Carl Turner, who were at the senior conference.

Next Sunday the Snyder church will have Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., after which the intermediates will report on their conference.

At the 11:00 a. m. services we will have the privilege of hearing Lieutenant J. C. Landrum of Fluvanna, who has just been released from a prisoner-of-war camp in Germany, and Major Ralph McKenna, also of Fluvanna. Major McKenna is from the Air Command of the Army Air Force, CAP Divisions. We cordially invite the public to hear them.

Last Sunday at Fluvanna Don and Billy Jones reported on the intermediate conference, and Miss Jones of Hobbs, New Mexico, reported on the Presbyterian Senior Encampment of New Mexico.

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Snyder School Park the local junior department of the Sunday School will hold a picnic, sponsored by Mmes. Bert Baugh, Andy Jones and Jesse Jones. All mothers of these ages are invited to come and assist in the picnic.

Public is welcome to our services. Night service at 8:30 Sunday. Prayer service Wednesday at 8:30.—C. C. Dooley, Pastor.

Rob Dorward, 67, Borden Rancher, Passes Sunday

B. D. Dorward, beloved 67-year-old Borden County rancher whose ancestors were born in 1842 when Texas was a republic, was called across the Great Divide Sunday morning at 5:00 o'clock from a Big Spring hospital following a brief illness.

Brother of J. C. Dorward, member of Scurry County Selective Service Board, B. D. Dorward was born October 10, 1877, in Harrison County. His father, David Dorward, was born in Scotland and came to American when 21 years of age.

"Rob," as he was widely known, came to Borden County with his father and two brothers, David and Jim, in 1892 and settled in what is known as the "49 Pasture." After his mother's death his father maintained a home and was both father and mother to the three boys. The family endured the many hardships incident to the times and conditions.

"Rob" was united in marriage February 21, 1900, to Cora Bedell and settled in Howard County in 1901 with his father. He was converted when 18 years old at a revival held by Rev. W. W. Werner, pioneer Cumberland Presbyterian minister, widely known in Scurry and Borden Counties. Meeting in which Dorward was converted was held at the old camp meeting ground at Lake, which was near Fluvanna. He united with the Presbyterian Church in 1903.

Final rites for Dorward were held Tuesday morning, 11:00 o'clock, at Gail Methodist Church. Rev. C. C. Dooley, Snyder First Presbyterian Church pastor, assisted by Rev. M. W. Clark, Snyder Methodist minister, and Rev. R. L. Crowell, Vealmoor Baptist pastor, officiated.

Beyll Funeral Home of Big Spring directed arrangements, and burial was made in Gail Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Hugh Taylor and Olin Keen of Snyder, Lawrence Anderson, Cecil McKee, Carl Attaway and [illegible] of Luther, Mr. Atkins of Big Spring and J. Homer Beal of Gail.

Mr. Dorward is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Catherine Borders of Napa, California, Minnie Dorward of Luther, Mrs. Cora Autry of Big Spring; and two brothers, David Dorward, operator of Gail's only crop [illegible], and J. C. Dorward of Snyder.

Two Billions Paid on War Veteran Deaths

Benefit payments to people in Scurry and adjacent counties are included in figures released Monday by the Veterans Administration at Washington, revealing that national service life insurance death claims have paided around one million. Actuary General Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, declares there has been more than a 200 per cent increase in the volume of service life insurance during the past eight months.

A recent national survey proved that now in the history of the world more American newspapers have read the Want Ads.

Vitally Needed Fats and Oils

Possibly the saving day by day of used kitchen fats may not seem too important to the average housewife, but the government is still urgently stressing the need of all used fats and oils in prosecuting the war.

Scarcity of vegetable fats and oils comes with all the more importance when the fact is considered that every two pounds of used oils sold to local merchants—and for 2cd points, can directly mean a dead Jap and saving of some American life and a direct hastening of the war's end.

We are very fortunate indeed to live in a land where the government, instead of demanding, merely asks that we salvage and sell our used cooking oils.

Costly Ground Won

Now that Okinawa is behind our fighting men from a military point of view, and the cost of this hard fought campaign can be ascertained, we have been given something of a preview what fighting will really be like as we attempt to invade Japanese soil in force.

All the ground we gain in the Pacific theater of operations will be costly ground—costly in men and material, and we should, as a measure of self-preservation, throw the last ounce of strength into the task ahead to insure that we may win this bitter conflict against the Japs.

We have already sacrificed too many men to think in terms of "peace at any price." We have paid too high a price in blood and treasure, and have American blood on our hands to ever relinquish any of our hard earned gains to Great Britain, Russia or any other Allied power.

Plenty of Sugar—for Brew

Recent observations from the [illegible] ... [illegible] ... of liquors and beers on the shelves today.

In this connection, The [illegible] ... from a letter of recent date [illegible]

"We, the brewers and producers of the United States have been [illegible] ... which are the breweries getting the sugar to make beers during the month of July?

"There are some people who do not drink and do not approve must be drinkers. I am willing and glad to do without as long as our sailor boys and our Allies were getting it, but I think it is time something should be done when the breweries are allowed to have our sugar when there is a shortage and we do not have enough for our family and for canning our fruit, which is so badly needed.

"Cannot something be done about it?"

When the history of the war effort, and the sacrifice of the American people for victory is finally written, the most disgraceful chapter will be the favoritism given the beer dealers while the average citizen sacrificed even to life itself.

Editorial of the Week

FREEDOM OR YOUR SHIRT

Pressure from the folks back home has resulted in a new meat program. War Mobilization and Reconversion Director Vinson, in consultation with the OPA, WFA, OES, the Army and the Defense Supply Corporation, has made recommendations which revolve around increased subsidies while price ceilings remain untouched.

How long this method of taxing people to pay for their food, and hold the line on prices which the consumer should rightfully pay to meet the cost of production, remains to be seen. The senate [illegible] committee, in its report on the [illegible] government agencies handling [illegible] finds the past policy of the agencies which [illegible] ing of cattle has contributed to meat shortages, states:

"The way to stimulate the feeder to place cattle on feed . . . until they are finished is to be given him a price sufficient . . . to do the job and to earn a reasonable profit."

This nation must soon decide how far it will go with a government "planned economy." You cannot long mix it and a free economy—one or the other must eventually give way.

Under a planned economy, we will eventually lose our freedom of action; under free competition we might lose our shirt temporarily, but still have a chance to recover it. Higher subsidies are just another form of inflation via the tax route.—The Munday Times.

Moral courage is a virtue of higher cast and nobler origin than physical. It springs from a consciousness of virtue, and renders a man, in the pursuit or defense of right, superior to the fear of reproach, opposition or contempt.—S. G. Goodrich.

Despite Japan's delicate stunt a army and navy claim prefers to say hope it the nation is willing to "fight to the end." . . . By terming the present conflict a "holy war," Japan is trying to exhort her people to a fanatical type of resistance that will know no surrender. On side of death. . . . Stiffening Jap resistance is being reflected each day on bloody, bitter Okinawa. . . . The Japs provide catacombs on the some islands, and if we are to "smoke the yellow bellies out" we're going to have to revise upward our totals for ammunition, hand grenades, bombs and howitzer shells.

Take the information for what it may be worth, but of the sensational investigations of war activities will be an inquiry into utilization of "unvouchered funds" by the Office of Strategic Services and Office of War Information. . . . These funds are not subject to the usual federal audit where they have become available by the millions for "cloak and dagger" propaganda operations. . . . The facts have come to light that the funds have been used for buying everything from whiskey to real estate and radio stations. . . . A searched investigation before Congress defeat packered out entirely because it might hurt certain propaganda operations.

Lieutenant General Ira C. Eaker, new deputy commander of the Allied Air Force selected by General Arnold, is to be highly commended for taking an active part in the shake-up of top AAF personnel. . . . With our AAF the pride of all entire nation, certain changes in personnel are indeed for the good, because it takes [illegible] . . . Since inadequate production of carbon black, vitally needed in tire manufacture, has needed a full explanation, changes are coming with every anticipation for the report this week end when the Senate war investigating committee . . . The report will be "plenty hot" and have some pretty strong words along a critical line of WPB's chemical branch and charges of monopolistic obstacles on the part of petroleum companies. . . . The shortages of the moment can be traced to a major lack of carbon black, and since world supplies in natural rubber cannot be stockpiled—at the best for years—the American public should know just where the blame lays, regardless of where the chips may fall.

Joe Davies, who is Director War Production Board to break a black market scandal in the next two months involving several hundred thousand dollars worth of paper. . . . This federal agency will ask for indictments of more than a dozen individuals on charges they illegally obtained and sold considerable quantities of paper. . . . Most of the paper, it is alleged, found its way into comic magazines, and compliance action will be undertaken against at least one large Eastern daily newspaper on charges of over-using newsprint quotas.

We will as a nation get into plenty of hot water if we permit at this time isolationists like Senator Burton K. Wheeler and several other legislators, recently returned from Europe, to jar loose with the horror stories they collected on conduct of Russian troops in occupied parts of Eastern Europe. . . . The stories deal principally with treatment of released American and British POWs in Poland and Germany.

. . . Some shockers are on tap about French handling of German civilians, and data gathered by American officers released from German compounds by Russians will add fuel to the discussions. . . . Unless we have to stop put to isolationists and their loud mouths, and conduct ourselves as though we as a major power had sanity behind the heartstone, we might as well look forward to another holocaust of war. . . . We are so liberal over here we will even let our real traitors sow the seeds of World War III before we even win World War II.

Post-war tax planning, it can be safely said, has not progressed very far, but treasury experts have some well fixed ideas about procedure. . . . Corporation taxes for example, are due for a general overhaul and some substantial rate reductions. . . . Individual income taxes will be reduced also, but how much is anybody's guess. . . . The little fellow, it seems, will, however, have to keep paying the irritating income withholding tax.

If our agricultural experts know anything about predictions, the meat shortage will ease considerably within the next 60 days. . . . Veal, beef and lamb should be fairly easy to purchase, and pork, while slower in getting into retail channels, should be plentiful again by September. . . . Considerable work will be done within the next two weeks in curbing black markets operations in meat and meat products. . . . The meat shortage has right now reached such a proportion that many retail butchers are working tie-in sales with the little meat on shelves. . . . pitted cheese, canned beans and meat flavoring extracts are a few of the items housewives are being forced to buy in order to purchase available meats.
