'Day' honors discovery well engineer

Ed Mlcak, who served as the drilling supervisor on the Jesse Brown Number 1 — the discovery well for the Canyon Reef oil field — will be honored with a reception Tuesday at Snyder city hall.

Tuesday has been declared "Ed Mlcak Day" in Snyder to recognize the SACROC area production superintendent on his retirement. The reception will be from 4 until 5 p.m.

Effective June 30, Mlcak will end almost 37 years of service with Chevron U.S.A.

He first came to Scurry County in 1948 as an engineer with Standard Oil of Texas, which became Chevron in the late 1960s.

It was at that time he witnessed the oil boom which almost literally transformed Snyder and Scurry County overnight — a boom brought about by the discovery of the Canyon Reef oil reserve.

This reserve is now produced by the SACROC unit — which has gained a worldwide reputation through its secondary recovery methods first developed here using C02 gas.

"It's a great top on a career," Mlcak said Monday morning, "to end up in the best field with the best people and to live in the best community."

His latest assignment here dates to 1973, when he returned in his present post as the Number 2 man at SACROC.

After his first tour of duty during the boom days of Snyder, he was reassigned in 1954 to the North Texas District, working in Gainesville.

During the interim period, he saw service also in Ardmore, Okla. with in-between assignments along the Texas Gulf Coast.

He is a native Texan, growing up in Sealy near Houston. He holds a bachelors degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Oklahoma. Mlcak is a registered professional engineer in both Texas and Oklahoma.

He and his wife Gwen have one son, Mark, who is now completing his residency training as a family practice physician in Wichita Falls.

"It takes so many people to get things done, it doesn't seem fair to single out only one. I can truly say I'm humbled and that I'm appreciative of both the honor and the community," he said.

He was honored also last March 21 as he was presented the McLaughlin Award, given to recognize contributions to the Scurry County oilpatch.

Ask Us

Q. — Will the public be able to see the arrival of the B-1B bomber?

A. — Yes. An open house is scheduled at Dyess, AFB in Abilene Saturday. Visitors will be admitted beginning at 10 a.m. and the first B-1's arrival is set for 2 p.m. Other events are planned during the day also.

In Brief

More security

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — The Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport and American Airlines have instituted extra security measures in the wake of the hijacking of TWA Flight 847.

Armed guards are now posted at two American terminals that serve nearly 60 percent of the airport's passenger traffic. In addition, American has placed a 24-hour hold on all business freight coming from Frankfurt, Germany, and Paris, and a two-day delay on personal freight.

Although no hijackings have originated at D-FW, airport officials said the current hostage drama has increased vigilance among employees who screen an average of 88,000 passengers daily.

"The airport is mindful of the events that have occurred overseas ... and is committed to providing a safe environment for the traveling public," airport spokesman Joe Dealey Jr. said.

Local

Truck found

According to reports, an individual called local police around 4 p.m. Sunday and reported seeing a truck apparently abandoned near the intersection of U.S. Highway 84 and Farm Road 1606 northwest of Snyder.

Highway patrolmen checked state files and discovered the late-model Chevrolet had been reported stolen from the Quicklay Pipeline Co. in Post Saturday afternoon.

Saturday fires

Snyder firemen answered two calls Saturday afternoon.

At 2:54 p.m., firemen extinguished a small grass fire about 2 miles south of town on Texas Highway 208.

At 9:28 p.m. they went to the Uda Jolly residence at 3000 41st St. where they extinguished a small fire on the kitchen stove.

Berri seeks withdrawal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Nabih Berri, a leader of the Shitte Moslems holding 40 American hostages in Beirut, said today the captives will not be released until the United States pulls its warships back from the eastern Mediterranean.

In Washington, White House spokesman Robert Sims said Berri's latest demand will not change U.S. policy, which he said is not to deal with terrorists.

Asked if the new demand was a troubling development, Sims said: "It's troubling that they're continuing to hold these innocent people ... It's complicated enough already."

The Pentagon has confirmed that a U.S. flotilla led by the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz is in the eastern Mediterranean. It was dispatched after the TWA Boeing 727 was hijacked by Shiite extremists on a flight from Athens, Greece, to Rome.

Berri's demand added a new condition for the release of the Americans, now in their 11th day of captivity. Until now, Shiites have only demanded that Israel free more than 700 Lebanese prisoners.

Berri dismissed the release as a "political zigzag."

He insisted the Shiites will not free the 40 Americans seized June 14 aboard a hijacked TWA jet until 735 other Lebanese behind bars in Israel have been released.

Berri, who is also Lebanon's justice minister, said U.S. Ambassador Reginald Bartholomew telephoned him today to reiterate that Washington would not publicly pressure Israel to free the prisoners, who are mostly Shiites.

Berri said: "The advance of the 6th Fleet towards our shores forces us to add one more condition — this time for the Amal movement — and that is the withdrawal of the 6th Fleet from our coast."

The 31 prisoners freed by the Israelis were turned over to representatives of the International Red Cross at Ras Bayada, five miles north of the Israeli border, said Timur Goksel, spokesman for the U.N. Interim Force in Lebanon.

Abdul-Majid Saleh, a Politburo member of the Shiite Amal movement, welcomed the homecoming prisoners in south Lebanon, "the land of the honest who defeated Israel and forced its withdrawal."

But Saleh added: "We will not accept that this is going to be the last batch released. All our men must be released so the Americans will be freed."

Officials in Israel said release of the prisoners was not intended as part of a deal with the sky pirates. But Israeli sources said it aimed at providing an opening to end the 11-day-old hostage crisis, which began with the hijacking of a TWA jet with 153 people aboard.

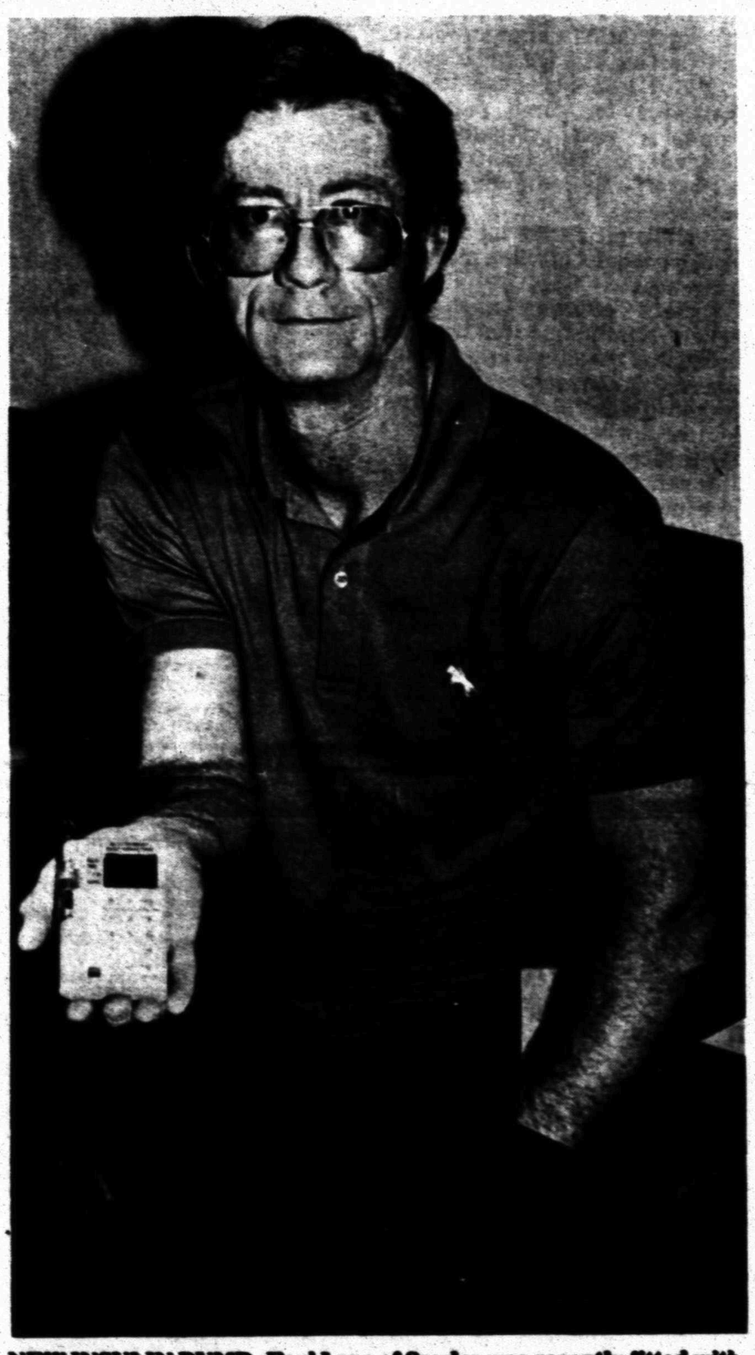
Indecency report filed

Dallas-based welfare officers have filed an indecency with a child complaint based upon an incident which allegedly occurred here one year ago.

Welfare workers with the Texas Department of Human Resources in Dallas contacted local police Saturday morning. The incident is alleged to have occurred in June of 1984.

According to investigators, the parties involved no longer reside in Snyder but prosecution of the case — if warranted — would be carried out here.

The case has been referred to the district attorney's office for possible consideration before the next local grand jury, now scheduled for July 1.



NEW INSULIN PUMP—Earl Lane of Snyder was recently fitted with the latest model Eugly Insulin Infusion Pump which is helping him to maintain a blood sugar level of about 100. The pump fits inside a calulator-like case which can be programmed to give the proper insulin dosage automatically. Lane was first diagnosed as a diabetic 16 years ago. (SDN Staff Photo)

Shuttle lands safely

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Discovery's international crew, proud of a near-flawless flight, swooped out of orbit today and guided the space plane to a perfect dawn landing on a hard-packed desert runway.

Five Americans, a French test pilot and a Saudi Arabian prince touched down at 6:12 a.m. PDT, at the end of a weeklong, 2.9-million-mile journey during which they launched a record four satellites and their ship served as a laser target in the first "Star Wars" space shuttle test.

"We are very proud of those accomplishments," commander Dan Brandenstein said earlier. No other shuttle crew had launched more than three satellites.

Sixty-five minutes before landing, Brandenstein and pilot John Creighton fired braking rockets 220 miles above the Indian Ocean to drop the shuttle out of orbit and start it on a blazing dive through the atmosphere on a course that descended over the Pacific and across the California coast north of Los Angeles.

Two loud sonic booms cracked the air as Discovery descended into Edwards, its fuselage glistening in the morning sun as it circled overhead and made its approach.

On hand to meet the shuttle were 10 Saudi Arabian princes, including four brothers of Prince Sultan Salman Al-Saud, who was one of two foreign passengers in the seven-member crew. The other is Patrick Baudry, a French Air Force pilot.

'New lease on life'...

Implanted insulin pump aids diabetic

By Shirley A. Gorman
SDN News Editor

Earl Lane of Snyder says he has been given a new lease on life.

A diabetic for the past 16 years, he was recently fitted with a Eugly Insulin Infusion Pump which is helping him to control his blood sugar level.

For years doctors have tried to control Lane's blood sugar, with relatively no permanent success. Like a roller coaster, it had varied from as high as 500-600 to as low as 10 or 11 — a level that causes him to lose consciousness.

During the past 16 years, Lane has had many reactions to insulin, numerous times when his blood sugar level rose to dangerously high levels and he had to be hospitalized and numerous times when it dropped so low that he literally passed out.

Several years ago he suffered two diabetic comas.

Known as a "brittle diabetic" in medical circles, Lane's condition did not respond to what is considered normal for diabetics.

For instance, one problem he had is that–unlike the average diabetic–his body never warned him that his blood sugar level was dropping. It would just happen and he would pass out.

Also, unlike most diabetics, diet did not alleviate his symptoms. Since his pancreas produces no insulin, Lane is dependent on man-made insulin.

Finally, as Mrs. Lane explained, "The kids couldn't take it anymore. (They have four children including one married child.) So we knew we had to do something."

That something turned out to be a visit to the diabetic unit at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene where they met Dr. F.A. White, a specialist in endocrinology, who eventually acquainted them with the Eugly Pump.

The Eugly Pump weighs six ounces and was named for the term euglycemia which means almost normal blood glucose level.

Earlier this month, Lane checked into the hospital and remained there for a week while he and his wife learned about the pump.

While at the special diabetic unit, they met a 13-year-old girl who was also fitted with the pump.

Now, the Eugly Pump is fast changing his life for the better, Lane said.

The first pumps were developed in 1980 and were originally made for use by pregnant, diabetic women, Mrs. Lane said. Her husband's pump was manufactured in Illinois and is the latest model.

It includes a needle inserted into his stomach just underneath the skin. This needle is attached to small, clear tubing which fits around Lane's stomach.

Both are taped into place with surgical tape. The tube leads to the pump which is encased in a calculator-like case and worn clipped to his belt.

Indians to be focus of museum program

A one-day program for youngsters grades 2-4 will be offered Tuesday at the Scurry County Museum. The session will focus on the American Indian.

The class will meet from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. A pre-enrollment of 18 students have signed up and they are asked to bring a sack lunch.

Topics to be covered include what the Indians ate, the type of clothing they wore and the games they played.

As a special project, the students will make their own warrior shield.

It is the second program offered this summer by the museum staff for elementary-age youth. Last June 11-12, they conducted also a two-day nature study session.

Commissioners deny request to use auto

Scurry County commissioners denied a request Monday from Juvenile Probation Officer Larry Thompson, who asked that his office be granted the use of a 1982 Buick Regal which was confiscated recently by district court officials in connection with drug-related charges.

Monday's action was pending a final recommendation from the 132nd District juvenile probation board, however.

Hassie Sneed made the motion to deny Thompson's request until the court had a recommendation from the juvenile board. Ted Billingsley seconded the motion and it passed with Eldon Perry abstaining.

According to Thompson's request, if he is granted use of the vehicle, the sheriff's office will install a two-way radio and they could use the car also when need-

Probe explosion at airport

TOKYO (AP) — Japan assigned more than three dozen investigators today to probe the explosion of a luggage container unloaded from a Canadian Pacific Air jetliner at Tokyo's Narita airport.

Officials refused to comment on reports the blast may be linked to the crash of an Air-India jetliner in the Atlantic.

Canadian Pacific Flight 003 originated in Vancouver. The Air-India flight originated in Toronto and stopped in Montreal, and was heading for London en route to New Delhi and Bombay when it crashed.

Indian officials said the Air-India crash may have been resulted from an explosion — possibly a bomb.

In the Canadian capital of Ottawa, Foreign Minister Joe Clark condemned what he called the "terrorist bombing" in Japan.

Sean Brady, a spokesman for Clark, said there was no firm evidence of a link with the Air-India crash, but, "Certainly people are looking at the possibility of a connection between the two incidents given their coincidence in terms of date."

The Sunday explosion, which killed two luggage handlers and injured four, occurred about 40 minutes after the baggage was unloaded and 53 minutes before the Air-India jetliner with 329 people aboard crashed off the Irish coast.

Noboru Takada, Narita Airport police chief, told a news conference that 40 police officers had been assigned to investigate the explosion.

The blast occurred in a cargo handling area separated by a wall from where scores of passengers were gathered at luggage carousels awaiting delivery of their baggage from the aircraft.

Masafumi Ebie, spokesman for the airport police, said Sunday that the six workers apparently were unloading luggage from four containers beside a conveyor that carries baggage to arriving passengers.

Police said the Canadian flight carried a crew of 16 and 374 passengers, of whom 252 were Japanese and 80 foreigners. No breakdown of their nationalities was available.

Jean Garneau, a spokesman for the Canadian transport ministry, said by telephone in Ottawa that the Canadian Pacific Air plane was not searched prior to loading in Vancouver.

Hand luggage and passengers were electronically screened, but the luggage put into the baggage hold was only checked to see if it belonged to someone holding a boarding pass for the flight, Garneau said.

The Toronto Globe and Mail newpaper reported today that two Sikh fugitives wanted by the FBI in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi were suspected of involvement in the Sunday incidents.

The newspaper quoted Indian government officials as saying that one of the fugitives, Lal Singh, was on a Canadian Pacific Air flight to Vancouver, British Columbia, and had a ticket on the connecting Flight 003 which carried the explosives-laden baggage.

The Indian sources and an airline official, who insisted on anonymity, said Lal Singh did not board the plane in Vancouver, but his baggage apparently was put on board.

The Indian sources said the other fugitive, Ammand Singh, flew to Toronto on Saturday before the departure of the Air-India jet.

Islamic leaders blame bombing on hostage crisis

HOUSTON (AP) — The weekend bombing of an Islamic mosque may have resulted from hostility stemming from the U.S. hostage situation in Lebanon as well as erroneous perceptions about Islam, a religious leader says.

Two homemade bombs exploded at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, an hour after worshippers had finished their evening prayers and left the mosque, authorities said.

An estimated $50,000 damage resulted from the blast and subsequent fire at the DAR US SALAM mosque located in a strip shopping center, arson investigators reported.

It took less than a minute to extinguish the fire, authorities said.

No arrests were made Sunday, police said.

Senior arson investigator Bill Sammons was not certain that the bombing had anything to to with the U.S. hostage situation.

"We've had a pipe-bomber in that area for three months," Sammons said. "Whether he decided to hit the mosque because of Lebanon, who knows?"

The Islamic Society of Greater Houston has six affiliate mosques in the area.

Society officials say they believe the mosque was bombed because of the situation in Beirut, where U.S. passengers from a hijacked Trans World Air Lines jetliner are being held hostage by Shiite Moslems.

Sayed M. Gomah, society president, called the bombing "a terrorist act."

"When it comes to Moslems, the American public is ignorant," Gomah said. "People think that all Moslems are like (Iranian Ayatollah) Khomeini, which is not the case."

Gomah said almost all of the 30,000 Moslems in the Houston area have ties to his society and "only a few" are Shiites.

Dear Abby

Second-Time Students Measure Success by a Different Degree

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My son, who has a wife and two children, just received his law degree at the age of 31. Our whole family is tremendously proud of him, and we have you to thank for it. He said a letter he read in your column inspired him to return to college and become a lawyer. He shared that letter with us, and I had it framed and presented it to him at his graduation.

Please run it again, Abby. It may inspire others who think it's too late to realize that it's not too late at all.

With love ...

A FRIEND
IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR FRIEND: What an upper your letter was! Here is the piece, with special congratulations to your son, the lawyer:

DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old college dropout whose lifelong ambition was to be a physician. I have a very good job selling pharmaceutical supplies, but my heart is still in the practice of medicine. I do volunteer work at the local hospital on my time off, and people tell me I would have made a wonderful doctor.

If I go back to college and get my degree, then go to medical school, do my internship and finally get into the actual practice of medicine, it will take me seven years! But, Abby, in seven years I will be 43 years old. What do you think?

UNFULFILLED IN PHILLY

DEAR UNFULFILLED: And how old will you be in seven years if you don't do it?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have an only child—a grown daughter we dearly love—and when we pass on, we want to leave her our entire estate, which is considerable.

The thing that troubles us is this: Our daughter is married to a very unworthy character. For years he has taken advantage of her sweet, forgiving, generous nature because he knows she worships him. We are sure that whatever we leave our daughter will be spent on this dirty dog.

How can we prevent this from happening?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: There is no way you can control the way your daughter spends her inheritance. But feeling as you do about her husband, please consider leaving a nice sum to your local animal shelter. That way you can be sure that some four-legged dogs will also benefit.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Both of our sons have been married for about 15 years. Their wives were of normal weight when they married our sons, but one daughter-in-law weighs about 300 pounds and the other weighs about 225. Their ages are 35 and 37. Both our sons are good-looking, and neither is fat.

Our daughters-in-law seem to have no pride in their appearance, which upsets everyone in the family, except themselves. They are fat, they know it and they don't care! When they first began to put on weight, they tried various diets, pills, doctors, etc., but they both gave up and decided to "accept" themselves as they are.

They wear the wrong kind of clothes (shorts and blue jeans) without any apologies.

Our problem (my husband's and mine) is how do we cope with this? We are ashamed to be around them. Our sons have accepted the situation, but we seem unable to.

Perhaps we need more help than the girls. Any suggestions?

UPSET IN FLORIDA

DEAR UPSET: I am glad you suggested that perhaps the problem is yours, because it is. It's your privilege to avoid uncomfortable situations, but it's their right to dress and look as they please.

I urge you to look into counseling in order to help you accept that which you cannot change. You seem to be an intelligent woman. I hope for the sake of your sons' happiness and your own peace of mind that you learn to live and let live without being judgmental.

One killed, two injured during mid-air colllision

TEMPLE, Texas (AP) — A pilot tried in vain to warn two small planes that they were dangerously close to colliding moments before the single-engine Cessnas crashed in mid-air, killing one man and injuring two others, authorities said.

The accident occurred as both planes were making a final approach to the runway at Draughon-Miller Municipal Airport about 4:20 p.m., said patrolman Terry Kelley of the Temple Police Department, who was investigating the crash.

"The airport has no tower and pilots are responsible for letting each other know their positions," said Kelley.

The names of the victims were not immediately released pending the notification of relatives, Kelley said. But all were believed to be soldiers from Fort Hood, he said.

Kelley said that according to witnesses the two single-engine Cessnas were making a final approach to the landing strip and one plane was flying slightly above the other.

FOOD

Aileen Claire

Eggs and microwave do mix

The microwave is not a panacea for all foods. Some foods are best prepared conventionally. Eggs often team well with the microwave, although there are some exceptions.

Omelets, scrambled eggs and poached eggs cook well at Full power or High. In other forms, the yolk of an egg cooks faster than the white because the yolk contains fat. A whole egg also may explode as it cooks because internal pressure builds up very quickly during the rapid heating.

MICROWAVE COOKING

Solve these problems by using half or one-third power, when, for example, you hard-cook eggs. Also cover the egg with a lid, plastic wrap or waxed paper for more even cooking.

QUICK HASH PIE WITH EGG SAUCE

Hash Pie:

- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 can (15 ounces) corned beef hash
- 1 cup fine, dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish

Egg Sauce:

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

MICROWAVE: Combine all ingredients for hash pie. Press mixture into 9-inch greased pie plate. Cook on Full power for 10 minutes, rotating plate 1/4 turn 2 or 3 times.

Remove from oven. Cover with waxed paper, let stand 5 minutes. Cut into serving-sized wedges, top with 1/3 cup hot Egg Sauce.

While hash pie is standing, put butter, flour and seasonings in 2-cup glass measure or a bowl that can be used in the microwave. Cook on Full power for 1 minute. Stir. Cook on Full power for 1/2 to 1 minute, or until hot and bubbly. Blend in milk. Cook on Full power for 3 to 4 minutes, stirring once or twice, or until boiling. Stir in eggs.

NOTE: To hard-cook eggs in microwave oven, separate 6 eggs into 2 lightly buttered liquid measures or small bowls. Mix yolks slightly with a fork. Cover each container with plastic wrap. Microwave on Medium or Medium-Low 2 to 3 minutes for yolks, 5 to 6 minutes for whites, stirring 1 or 2 times for yolks, 5 to 6 minutes for whites, stirring 1 or 2 times. Remove when slightly underdone. Stand, covered, 2 minutes. Cool long enough to handle comfortably, then chop as desired.

CONVENTIONAL COOKING: Combine all ingredients for hash pie. Press mixture into 9-inch greased pie plate or metal pie pan. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven for pie plate, 350 degrees for pie pan, for 30 to 40 minutes. Cut into serving-sized wedges, top with 1/3 cup hot Egg Sauce.

EGG SAUCE: While hash pie is baking, in medium saucepan over low heat melt butter. Blend in flour and seasonings. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and bubbly. Blend in milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Boil, stirring constantly, 1 minute. Remove from heat, stir in eggs.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

"Winning Defense for the Advancing Bridge Player" is the title of Frank Stewart's latest contribution to bridge literature. He selected a title which should offend no one, since all of us are certain that we are getting better at bridge. Early in the book, Frank demolishes the old chestnut "second hand low." Here is the deal.

West leads the four of hearts to his partner's king, which wins the trick. East continues with the heart jack and then the eight, which South finally wins. Now comes a low diamond, and West must be alert to the right play. It is absolutely essential for him to put up the king. Otherwise declarer will put in the 10, which will be won by East's jack. On the next diamond play, West's king will go under dummy's ace, and the rest of dummy's diamonds from the queen down will all be winners.

Of course in many instances putting up the king would not prevent declarer from eventually running the suit. After all, South can let West hold the trick. If that were to happen here, West would immediately take two more heart tricks to set the contract.

"Second hand low" is a fine old adage, and it is usually right. But if you're one of Frank Stewart's advancing bridge players, keep your eyes open for the exceptions.

Sul Ross women win...

Western takes 14th at CNFR

Compiled from AP and other sources

BOZEMAN, Mont. – Western Texas College's men finished 14th in the College National Finals Rodeo here after failing to pick up any additional points in the short-go Saturday.

Bliss Mayhan scored a 70 in his finals bareback ride. The performance was seventh in the go-round and left him with 207 total points and an eighth place finish in the final average standings.

Snyder's Van Hale bucked off in the bull riding and had to settle for seventh place in the average with a total 141.

"Naturally I was disappointed we didn't do any better," said a weary WTC Coach Bob Doty, who drove back from Montana over the weekend. "I think our guys put out as hard as they could on every head and as long as they do that that's all anyone can expect of them.

"I was glad Van made the short round in the bull riding since this was his last year here and wish Gary (Rowe) could have made it back in the calf roping. Glenn Jordan is going to Sam Houston State next year and maybe he can make it to the finals on their team," added the coach. "Bliss, Tony (Hecksher) and Donnie (Yorks) are all eligible to come back for us next year and that will provide us a good nucleus to work with."

Sam Willis of Southwestern Oklahoma State and Tami Nobel of Sul Ross State were the stars as their schools captured the mens' and womens' team titles during the 36th annual rodeo.

The Southwestern Oklahoma State men finished with 684 points at the week-long rodeo, followed by Sam Houston State with 609. Sul Ross State men finished sixth with 303 points while Western Texas was 14th with 75.

The Sul Ross women racked up a whopping 724.5 points to easily outdistance runnerup Arizona, which had 394.5.5.

Willis claimed the CNFR's mens' all-around title with 282 points, while Paul Latham of Eastern Wyoming was second with 255 and Ricky Mellman of Sam Houston State third with 45.

Willis finished third in steer wrestling average at 14.5 seconds after winding up fourth in Saturday's final short-go in the event with a time of 4.8.

Teammate Bryan Wright helped secure the mens' title for Southwestern Oklahoma by winning the saddle bronc average with 224 points and finishing second in the short-go with a ride worth 75 points.

However, Willis fell just short in his effort to win the national all-around title. He finished the season with 1,134.5 points, while Kent Richard of McNeese State was the winner with 1,161.5 points.

While the national and CNFR all-around cowgirl titles eluded Nobel - both went to Lisa Scheffer of the University of Montana - Nobel and Jeff Medlin of Eastern New Mexico did accomplish a unique goal.

They became the first cowboy and cowgirl ever to combine for a CNFR team roping title by totaling 24.9 seconds in the average.

Noble and teammate Jacquelyn Jenkins tied for third in average at the CNFR in goat tying at 26.7 seconds, while Nobel was 10th in barrel racing at 45.2 seconds. Also scoring points for Sul Ross was Jinita Williams, who was third in average in breakaway roping at 12.3 seconds.

In the bareback bronc competition, Scott Gress of National College in Rapid City, S.D. was first in both the CNFR and the over-all national championship with scores of 227 and 852 points, respectively.

Chip Gatlin of Sam Houston State won the national championship in steer wrestling with a total of 830 points, while he and Leon Vick of Wyoming tied for the CNFR title with a total time of 14.40 seconds.

Lanham Mangold of Southwest Texas State swept both the CNFR and national titles in calf roping with a rodeo time 32.0 seconds and 722 national points.

While Wright won the CNFR saddle bronc title, the national title went to Mike Merchant of Tennessee-Martin with 720 points.

In bull riding, Clint Branger of Northwest Community College in Powell, Wyo., won both the CNFR and national crowns with a combined rodeo score of 218 points and national points totaling 725.

Nolan Twissleman of Cal Poly-San Luis Opispo totaled 360 points to win the national individual team roping title.

Levi wins Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) - Wayne Levi needed two holes of a sudden-death playoff to oust rookie Steve Pate Sunday and capture the $500,000 Georgia-Pacific Atlanta Golf Classic.

Levi won his eighth tour title with a 12-foot birdie putt on the second extra hole. Levi, who earned $90,000 for the victory, got even with an eight-foot birdie putt on the 17th.

Snyder team rips squad from Spur

Snyder's Babe Ruth League team improved its season record to 3-0 with a 27-0 plastering of Spur here Saturday night.

The team now gears up for Tuesday's game here with Brownfield. Time of the contest has been changed to 8:30 p.m. at Moffett Field.

Snyder ran off a 19-0 lead in an hour-long first inning Saturday, then coasted the rest of the way. To speed the contest, Spur went to bat for nine straight outs in the next "inning" and eventually wound up scoreless in five stanzas.

The locals got their runs on nine hits, 15 walks and six errors. They also stole an unofficial 20 bases.

Don Osborn was the winning pitcher. He went three innings and recorded six strikeouts. Kenneth Pickering and William Foree hurled one inning apiece. In all, Snyder pitchers gave up only two hits and fanned 11 batters.

Justin Webb led Snyder sticks in a two-for-two performance with a home run, a double and two walks. Steve Parker had three singles and six RBI while Chris Fryar drilled a home run and Mike McWilliams punched a triple.

Funeral service slated for American

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A funeral service was scheduled today for Alberto Radelat, one of two young Americans police believe were killed after they walked into a restaurant in Guadalajara, Mexico, where a reputed drug lord was giving a party.

Radelat, 32, was reported missing Jan. 31 after he failed to make a flight from Guadalajara to Dallas-Fort Worth. Ten days later, his parents began an exhausting search that ended in sorrow last week in a stuffy, fly-infested morgue in the Mexican city.

There, the bodies of Radelat, and his 36-year-old companion, John Walker, of Minneapolis, were identified. Authorities said they had been tortured before they were killed.

Officials told Radelat's parents — Dr. Felipe Radelat and his wife, Ana — that the men were victims of reputed Mexican drug figures who believed the men were informents because of their dark coloring and North American accents.

Radelat had been relaxing in Mexico after earning enough money to finish dental school. He had been spending his time with Walker, a disabled Vietnam veteran who was living in Mexico so he could afford to finish his first novel — a murder mystery.

The elder Radelat said the state judicial police and the state attorney general in Guadalajara were of little help.

"They were just giving us the runaround," he said. "We were three weeks (in Guadalajara) and we went to every jail and every hospital, and the attorney general kept saying, 'Oh, he will show up.'"

After nine days in Mexico, the Radelats were told by police that Walker's car had been found in Plaza del Sol, a busy tourist and shopping area.

"I can't believe that the car can be parked in a very busy area ... for 19 days with Minnesota license plates ... and the police didn't find that," Radelat said. "To me that's hard to believe."

Radelat, who fled Cuba for a new life in the United States 25 years ago, said the U.S. consulate also wasn't much help as officials were busy with the kidnapping of U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Enrique Camarena Salazar and his pilot.

In mid-May, the couple flew to Washington to meet with officials in the State Department and the DEA.

"That's when there was apparently some change in the attitude," he said. "That was what pushed the people in Washington to put more pressure on the Mexican authorities, the federal authorities. That was what put us in the situation where we are now of finding the bodies."

On June 6, the U.S. Embassy announced that Rafael Caro Quintero, the reputed drug kingpin charged with Camarena's kidnapping, had been charged with killing Walker and Radelat.

On June 9, police arrested Francisco Tejeda Jaramillo, one of Caro Quintero's bodyguards. Both later confessed to killing the two Americans, according to the Mexican attorney general's office, which said three other men are being held and three others are sought in the slayings.

At 3 a.m. Tuesday, Tejeda led police to Walker and Radelat's bodies, buried in a wooded area in a shallow grave southwest of Guadalajara, authorities said.

The Radelats traveled from Mexico City, where they had been staying, to the morgue to help identify the bodies

Cuts, bruises result of one-vehicle wreck

A 29-year-old Snyder man sustained what were thought to be minor injuries in a one-vehicle accident north of the city Saturday night.

According to Department of Public Safety accident reports, Jon Allen Kelly of 3207 40th St. was driving a late model Chrysler west bound on County Rd. 226 — just west of the Snyder Country Club — at 9:35 p.m. when he apparently lost control of the car.

The vehicle struck a steel guard rail and then traveled along the rail until striking a concrete bridge abutment.

Kelly was taken from the scene to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries described as numerous lacerations and brusies.

DPS officers were also called to investigate a minor one vehicle accident early Saturday morning.

According to their reports, Gilbert Pesina of Rt. 3, Snyder was driving a 1977 Pontiac on Farm Road 1611 about 1.5 miles west of Snyder when he collided with a fence.

About 30 feet of the fence — valued at $500 and owned by Ben Wilcox of Rt. 3, Snyder — was damaged in the 12:15 a.m. accident.

Pesina was not injured.

Scanner said stolen from local residence

An incident now being investigated as a residential burglary was reported in the city late Saturday night.

Harriet Hill of 1904 Ave. R reported that someone had apparently broken into her house and stolen a police scanner radio. The incident was noted at 2:14 a.m. Sunday.

The theft is thought to have occurred sometime earlier Saturday night.

Local officers are also investigating a criminal mischief incident reported early Monday morning.

Mary Ann Gutierrez of 2408 26th St. called police at 12:08 a.m. Monday to report the vandalism of her 1977 Mercury.

Two tires on the Gutierrez vehicle were reportedly slashed while the vehicle was parked at a local private club earlier Sunday evening.

City police also recovered a bicycle reported stolen last Friday.

The bike, reported stolen by Bobby Nolan of 906 27th St., was recovered Saturday and no charges are expected to be filed in the case.

Two weekend wrecks minor

Two minor traffic accidents were reported in the city during the weekend.

Debby Cawthron of Rt. 2, Snyder filed the first accident report at 3:05 p.m. Saturday.

She told police that her 1982 Ford had apparently been struck by an unidentified vehicle while parked at the Western Texas College Pro Shop earlier in the afternoon.

The weekend's second mishap occurred at 6:58 p.m. Sunday in the 2400 Block of 26th St.

Involved in it were a 1977 Mercury driven by Mary Ann Gutierrez of 2408 26th St. and a 1980 Ford driven by Donna Marie George of 2407 26th St.

No injuries resulted from either incident.

County denies auto use request

The court is currently paying Thompson $25 a month mileage for an annual estimated total of 6,732 miles.

Thompson's office has jurisdiction over both Scurry and Borden County. He said that as of January 1986, his required mileage would go up because juveniles would have to be transported to either Big Spring or Abilene since they can no longer be housed in the county jail.

The minutes were approved as read also.

Drug charge follows stop

Two suspects were arrested Sunday night for misdemeanor drug charges following a routine traffic stop in the 3100 Block of College Ave. at 8:16 p.m.

Two male subjects in the vehicle were charged with possession of marijuana in a quantity less than 2 ounces and both were charged with possession of prohibited drug paraphernalia.

The driver of the vehicle was also charged with driving while intoxicated while the passenger was charged with one count of public intoxication.

In all, eleven suspects were jailed on routine misdemeanor charges Saturday and Sunday.

Two other subjects were charged with public intoxication Sunday evening and three were charged with being intoxicated on a licensed premises.

Saturday evening arrests included two for PI and a third for an unpaid fine on a previous PI arrest. One local man was charged with misdemeanor possession of marijuana also.

Insulin pump aids diabetic

"I feel like a new man," Lane said. "I am real proud of it. I can work up a storm now."

The tubing and needle has to be changed every 48 hours and the insulin is replenished daily. The pump operates on a battery and is equipped with an alarm system in case of a weak battery or malfunction.

Lane said it does not interfere with his every day activities or his work at Wireline Inc. in Snyder.

The needle cannot be felt unless he touches a nerve during insertion, he said.

The batteries are recharged every 24 hours and have an almost limitless life expectancy, Mrs. Lane said.

The pump is worn constantly, even while he is asleep, and it can also be worn in the shower and the swimming pool as long as the area where the needle is inserted into the skin is covered.

Now, Lane said he thinks of it as "just another part of his body," advice given to him by his doctor.

The pump automatically gives Lane his basal rate dosage of insulin every hour. Just before meals he programs it to give him a bonus dose.

Even with the pump, Lane still monitors his blood sugar level with a glucometer. Since being fitted with the Eugly Pump, his blood sugar level remains around 100. A normal level is 120.

The Eugly Pump cost $2,500 of which insurance paid the bulk. Monthly supplies cost another $65.

Lane said he feels stronger now and has not had a diabetic episode since obtaining the pump. Mrs. Lane said "it's like a miracle for us."

She also said that two main advantages of the pump are that it controls the pre-meal dosage of insulin and will help prevent future problems.

Diabetics can be afflicted with blindness, kidney failure and amputation of the limbs, Mrs. Lane explained.

In the past, Lane's bad reactions could be brought on by too much insulin, not eating enough, missing a snack or too much exercise. It was common for a cold or virus to "send him to the hospital."

Lane's diabetes was discovered 16 years ago during a routine insurance examination. Prior to that he had been experiencing some common symptoms of diabetes such as excessive thirst, urination and hunger.

The tragedy of Alzheimer's

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My grandmother has Alzheimer's disease, and it is heartbreaking to watch the withdrawal of this active, life-loving woman into a world we cannot enter. Although she no longer responds to questions, I notice some of her former personality and facial expressions seem to return when she is gently touched. Is this a common phenomenon? If so, why?

DEAR READER — If your grandmother truly has Alzheimer's disease and not some other form of dementia, she may still — at times — respond to touching and caressing. But these interludes will become increasingly rare as the disease envelopes her. Recognition of and reaction to loved ones are attributes of most dementias. Unfortunately, Alzheimer's patients inexorably retreat into private, withdrawn worlds of their own. Enjoy your grandmother while you can and give her as much kindness as you can muster. Soon it will be too late.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have heard that exercise may be more harmful than beneficial. How much exercise is required for optimum health before it becomes counterproductive?

DEAR READER — Exercise is beneficial to everyone, even cardiac patients. However, as you point out, the question is how much is enough. I cannot give you a specific answer.

People who are active in their younger years seem to enjoy ongoing exertion as they age. Some people continue to ski, run and play tournament tennis into their 80s and 90s. On the other hand, a backhoe couldn't move some middle-aged folks from their favorite chairs in front of the television.

Exercise is a very individual matter. In general, you may safely exercise to the point of fatigue at any age. Dangerous exercise consists of sudden strenuous exertion performed intermittently or on rare occasions. Any exercise is good if it makes you feel good, but you have to be sensible. If you are basically sedentary, take it easy at first. Work into an exercise program gradually.

Walking and swimming are safe and healthful hobbies, particularly for people who do not engage in regular sports. A brisk hour's walk, performed several days a week, can tone up any cardiovascular system.

Moderate exercise is different from training. Although training produces more striking physiological changes, it is not appropriate for the average person.

My rule for exercise is to do it, but start slowly and listen to your body when it tells you that you have had enough.

I do not believe that every person over 40 requires a special cardiac evaluation before beginning an exercise program. Since I am in the minority, you may want to ask your doctor about this. However, the only problems I have encountered are in people who impulsively begin strenuous activity without first warming up and starting with light exercise. This holds true for aerobics as well as for serious running. Your body is the best judge of how far you should extend yourself; listen to what it has to say.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Search underway in jetliner's crash

CORK, Ireland (AP) — Helicopters and rescue ships pulled scores of bodies from the icy North Atlantic and searched today for hundreds more believed killed in the mysterious crash off the Irish coast of an Air-India jumbo jet carrying 329 people.

Officials said saboteurs may have set off an explosion on the flight, which originated in Toronto, Canada.

All 329 people on board were believed dead.

The airline's offices in London and New York said the flight carried 307 passengers and 22 crew members. The airline said 278 Canadians were aboard, almost all of Indian descent.

Also on board were at least 28 American residents, including seven U.S. citizens, all of Indian descent.

Indian and Canadian officials said they were investigating the possibility of a link between the Air-India crash and an explosion on a luggage container taken from a Canadian Pacific Air jet in Tokyo. That plane originated in Vancouver, Canada.

In the first 15 hours after the crash Sunday, 123 bodies were recovered before a massive sea and air search was suspended for the night. The hunt resumed this morning.

The Boeing 747, traveling from Montreal to London's Heathrow Airport, plunged into the ocean 120 miles southwest of the Irish coast.

Indian Civil Aviation Minister Ashok Gehlot said Sunday the crash appeared the result of an explosion. He noted that wreckage was scattered over a five-mile radius.

3 Snyderites earn degrees

COLLEGE STATION--Three students from Snyder received their degrees at Texas A&M University's spring commencement exercises.

Randall H. Stone received a master's degree in architecture. Receiving bachelor degrees were Willis E. Cumbie, animal science, and James B. Vincent, management.

Local's son has graduated class

Airman Anthony L Puente, son of P. L. Puente of Ralls and Mary J. Puente of Snyder, has graduated from the integrated avionics computerized test station and component course at Lowry Air Force Base, Calif.

During the course, the students were taught fundamentals and application of electronic principles for operation of automatic test equipment. They also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Puente is scheduled to serve with the 27th Component Repair Squadron at Cannon Air Force Base, N. M.

Heart Association launches new awareness campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — Aiming to reach "unmatched numbers of workers," the American Heart Association on Friday launched a program called Heart at Work that will enlist employers to encourage people to stop smoking, eat wisely and exercise regularly.

The association said it hopes to help employers motivate workers to reduce their risk of developing heart and blood-vessel diseases, which it estimates will kill almost 1 million Americans this year and cost about $72.1 billion in medical care, lost salaries and related expenses.

"The primary goal of this program is to reach unmatched numbers of workers, not only in factories but in corporate offices, schools and all levels of government, with basic and direct health messages accompanied by viable plans of action," said Dr. Robert M. Daugherty, chairman of the association's program committee.

Dr. Thomas J. Ryan, association president, told a news conference that "in the last five years, cardiovascular diseases alone have cost the American public some $259 billion.

"Public and private funding sources are being strained to the breaking point by ever-higher medical-care costs," he said.

Daugherty said Heart at Work will focus on controlling high blood pressure, stopping cigarette smoking and improving nutrition. It also will stress fitness through exercise and education about early warning signs of a heart attack.

Heart at Work will be implemented by the association's state and metropolitan affiliates in all 50 states with the cooperation of public and private companies that want to participate.

Companies will be offered a kit containing informative literature, posters and program guides. Daugherty said the affiliates may give the kits to companies or may charge $30 for them.

Contents include a smoking-cessation kit that offers tips on how to quit smoking: "Switch to a brand you find distasteful," for example. The smoking unit also offers a plan for limiting the number of places in a company where employees may smoke.

In another unit, employees are urged to have their blood pressure checked regularly and to control it through good nutrition and exercise along with prescribed medication when needed.

The nutrition unit would educate employees on the need to lower cholesterol intake, control calories and assure balanced nutrients.

The company then would "create a supportive environment at work by providing nutritious food in vending machines and cafeterias," Daugherty said. A nutritionist also could be brought in to offer cooking classes to employees, he said.

Daugherty said Heart at Work was the association's "most comprehensive coordinated effort." While blood pressure testing in the office is well established, nutrition programs and this particular anti-smoking program are new.

The program's "expected consequence ... is the possibility of saving many lives and the potential for reduced health-care costs and monetary losses due to disability and absenteeism," he said.

Ten companies already are preparing to implement the program, the association said. Because three-fourths of the nation's 90 million workers are employed at places with fewer than 500 people, the AHA said it will target medium-sized companies.

Brewer finishes AF training class

Tech Sgt. Teddy L. Brewer, son of Orval D. and Christine Brewer of Snyder, has graduated from the U. S. Air Force telecommunications systems control course at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

Graduates of the 26-week course learned how to monitor and analyze the performance of radio and wire telecommunications circuits. They also earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Brewer is scheduled to serve with the 1999th Information Systems Squadron at Sunnyvale Air Force Station, Calif.
