Eldorado Girl Reports On Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. "Pete" Isleib of south-central Alaska arrived in Eldorado Saturday evening with Mr. Isleib's business partner, Steven I. Smith. Mr. Isleib and his wife, the former Ruth Parker, are en route to Connecticut where they will begin their lecture tour with two movies, "Alaska's Wilderness Wildlife" and "Follow the Frontier." They will be in Eldorado about two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Parker.

A cinematographer, Mr. Isleib is also a big game guide and commercial fisherman, operating out of Cordova, Alaska, on the south-central coast. A partner in the Anchorage firm, S&I FILMS, he has been involved the past two years in the production of the two current lecture tour movies on Alaska and the North. His wife, Ruth, has worked closely with him on the production and soundtracking of the movies. Mr. Isleib and his partner have sold movie footage to National Geographic Society for their television program on Alaska and have shot footage on request from Walt Disney Studios in addition to their own production activities.

Alaska, the Isleibs say, is not just a land of ice and snow and desolate glacial waste as many people picture it. Alaska is a living land of excitement and adventure, mystery and beauty, wilderness and civilization.

Ranch Hand Killed After Shooting Spree

Amador Gonzales, Mexican ranch hand on the Curtis Stockton ranch, was shot to death at 2:00 a.m. Saturday, after he had gone berserk and threatened the lives of his family and employer with rifle and knife.

Because of new regulations concerning publicity, law men are reluctant to furnish details for publication, but the following is substantially what happened, according to unofficial sources:

When his wife fled to the Stockton ranch house, Amador followed, shooting with a rifle obtained from a pick-up. With Gonzales following him, Stockton retreated to another part of the house containing his gun case and was able to gun the man down, thereby preventing what could have been a wholesale ranch massacre.

Amador's family arrived here over the week end and took the body to Seagraves for burial.

Light Snow Activity Here Early In Week

Eldorado residents woke up Monday morning to find a light covering of snow and blustery cold winds. Most of the snow disappeared Monday and by 6:00 p. m. the sun set in a cloudless sky. The wind dropped and so did the temperature, which stood at about 20 degrees Tuesday morning.

There wasn't enough snow to add anything to the moisture starved situation here. The only good was expressed by a ranch woman who said, "At least it settled the dust for awhile."

Weather reports Tuesday gave only meagre hope for showers in this area which has not had measurable rainfall in five months.

Doctors To Visit Here Saturday

C of C Pres. E. C. Peters received a phone call Wednesday morning from Dr. J. B. Brame of Pasadena stating that he (Brame) and his doctor partner plan to arrive in Eldorado Saturday afternoon to meet with the hospital committee here as well as with citizens in general.

Since weather and flying conditions will be a factor, the time of their arrival is indefinite. Peters plans to have a telephone committee to bring together a representative crowd.

John Gilmore's big wooly-looking dog, "Sam" got the surprise of his life the other day.

Sam, of course, is really an awful good dog and you never have to switch him to make him mind. All John has to do is to talk to him and he understands. But Sam would get out of his pen by climbing over the fence in spite of all his master could do. John finally installed one of those electrified wires along the top of the fence and waited to see what Sam would do.

Of course you know what happened—when his paw came in contact with the top wire it bit him. Surprised and startled, Sam fell back into his pen and then spent the next 10 minutes barking angrily at the wire.

Eagle Cagers Win East Zone Title

It was a strange game in Eagle gym Tuesday night as Junction came, not to win but "to hold the score down." As a result Eldorado won 17-11.

It started like a normal game and Eldorado scored but when Junction got possession although they were behind 5-3 they came out and passed it from player to player, Jessie Bosmans intercepted a pass with a few seconds to go in the quarter and was fouled; he made the free shot and Eldorado had a 6-3 lead.

In the second quarter Coach Bell had his boys press and in a few minutes it was Eldorado 16 and Junction 7. Junction got possession again and stalled until Childers intercepted with 30 seconds remaining. He shot from outside and missed and the gold took the rebound and scored and before the buzzer sounded they again had the ball, a shot went in, and the half time score was 16-11.

The half-time was spent looking

The City Election comes April 4th, and terms of Eldon Calk, mayor, and Granvil Hext and Jimmy Harris, aldermen, will expire.

Presbyterians Issue Call To New Pastor

In a congregational meeting this week, the Presbyterian Church here issued a call to a new pastor, who is expected to be on the job here about mid-June.

The Rev. Toney D. McMillan, currently attending Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, was issued the call. He has served as an interim pastor in Arkansas for a year, and will receive his degree from the seminary in May. He and his wife are both natives of Arkansas and she is a graduate of Baylor.

In the congregational meeting, the Presbyterians voted unanimously to issue the call to the Rev. Mr. McMillan. His coming is subject to approval by the Presbytery of the Southwest. He will be the first full-time pastor of the local church since Rev. Dan Sebasta moved to Big Spring last Fall.

Paul Page and his pulpit committee had been at work since that time on the matter of getting a new pastor, and arranging in the meantime to carry on the church's affairs with interim pastors. Several Senior students from the seminary have preached in recent weeks, and Mr. Page stated that present arrangements will be continued during the coming four months pending the move here by Rev. McMillan. Sunday School and morning worship are held, with no night services.

It was also stated that Rev. Noel Wilkinson, former pastor here, will serve some of the time as interim pastor as well as ministerial students. Rev. Wilkinson, who is now retired from the active ministry, served the local church back in the 1930's.

The Presbyterians look forward to the move here of their new pastor and his wife early in the summer, and will carry on in the meantime.

Rattlesnake Round-Up Set Mar. 3-5 At Menard

The Menard Jaycees will have their second annual Rattlesnake Round-Up March 3-4-5.

This year's Snake show will be bigger and better with such added attractions as a Free Wild Life Exhibit. This is from the Parks & Wildlife Commission and will be composed of wild animals that are found in Texas.

Prize money will be given again this year for the longest snake, biggest snake, smallest snake, etc.

Cecil Fox, well-known snake handler and one of the state's leading authorities on snakes, will be on hand to "milk" the rattlesnakes and to give various demonstrations.

Also, the annual Rattlesnake Dance will be Saturday, March 4. The Rattlesnake Round-Up is the main moneymaking project for Jaycees. This money will be put back into the community through civic and community improvements projects sponsored by the Menard Jaycees.

People knowing the whereabouts of rattlesnake dens or wishing to have snakes removed from their property may contact the Menard Jaycees.

Mrs. George Long writes that they had expected to be home by now but George took a cold last week and that set him back some. They were hoping to return by this week end. Mr. Long's address is: V.A. Center, Ward 14-B, Temple, Texas.

The boys and girls Jr. Hi games originally scheduled with Rock-springs for Saturday, Feb. 11, have been called off.

School Landscaping Project Launched

Eldorado P-TA has taken on as a project the landscaping of the school grounds, especially the grounds around the new buildings, and have set aside the sum of $900 with which to start this ambitious program.

Their first step has been to engage Scherz Nursery of San Angelo to lay out an overall, long-time plan, and this plan is now on display in the superintendent's office showing types of trees and shrubbery called for as well as its exact location.

A room mothers meeting was held Wednesday morning for the purpose of reviewing the entire plan and for deciding where to start planting.

Various school organizations as well as Eldorado civic groups are being invited to cooperate in the project.

"Someone," said Mrs. Bob Sykes, P-TA president, "may wish to plant a tree in memory of a loved one." She also pointed out that the initial $900 set aside to begin the project would only cover about one-third of planned program.

February is tree-planting time in West Texas and anyone interested in joining this worthwhile project should contact Mrs. Bob Sykes, P-TA president, or School Superintendent C. T. Humphries.

Brush dozed in early 1966. No seeding. Stock continued grazing following control of brush—no deferment.

Brush dozed in January and February 1966. Seeded to native grasses and pasture deferred during the growing season.

RANGE IMPROVEMENT AND BRUSH CONTROL

Could it be possible that controlling brush on our ranges may not be a paying proposition? I am sure we will all agree that it costs money to control brush. It could be that it is the follow-up after the control that determines whether it pays or not.

Like someone has said, "The brush has got to go." Perhaps this is true, but the idea for getting rid of the brush should be replaced with grass. To do this takes more than just removing brush from our rangelands. The cost of controlling brush should be considered as well as the returns in dollars and cents from having controlled the brush. If it costs $10.00 an acre to control brush on a given acre of land, and the control is effective for ten years—what then? If the money was borrowed at 7 per cent and amortized over a period of ten years, it means that each acre would need to produce each year about $1.42 more grass (beef, wool, mohair) just to break even. To make a profit on this land that we spend this kind of money on, it is going to have to make even more than $1.42 an acre.

After the brush is controlled, how is the best way to get the land to produce more in grass? A number of our producers recommend that the land be rested the first three months during the growing season after the brush is controlled. This allows the grass to spread, make seed, and gain in vigor. If the ground is disturbed and the range is in fair or poor condition it is a good investment to buy good grass seed and put in the disturbed areas. Research and experiment recommend rest and deferment following the control of brush.

Continued grazing of our rangeland after the brush has been controlled just does not give the grass a chance to move in and take over like it should.

Proper use is another practice that should go along with deferred grazing when brush has been controlled. This just means grazing our ranges at an intensity which will maintain adequate cover for soil protection and maintain or improve the quantity and quality of desirable vegetation.

In controlling brush there are several methods of control. To decide which method should be used several things are to be considered such as type of brush, range site, and the pasture as to size and condition.

In controlling brush the producer should have a plan. It should be more than just a plan to control brush. It should include what is going to be done about management type practices after the brush is controlled. Just controlling brush and hoping for rain will not bring the desired results.

If these management type practices are planned and carried out brush control can result in production of 2 to 4 times as much native grass as on untreated areas. These areas will remain free of wood-plant reinvasion for several more years if such good grazing practices as deferred grazing and proper use are carried out.

Dr. E. J. Dyksterhuis of Texas A & M Range Science Department says "Don't belittle grass as a controller of brushy invaders. Have you ever tried to start a young tree or shrub in a tall growth of native perennial grasses? The most economical way to delay return of brush cover on range is immediate establishment of a full stand of the taller native perennial grasses. On the other hand, continued close grazing with bare areas through part of the year hastens the return of brush."

Mr. E. C. Fisher, superintendent of the experiment station field unit at Spur, who is the leader of mesquite control research, said, "The old belief that Indian fires and prairie dogs controlled mesquite can be thrown out."

For some 25 years we have tried to whip the brush problem. Millions of acres have been oiled, plowed, chained, grubbed or sprayed. Much of this rangeland being in fair or poor condition, they did not have the defensive power to prevent brush reinvasion. In only a few instances where sound management and proper follow-up treatment have been applied, have producers brought infestation temporarily under control.

Controlling brush is only one step in restoring ranges back to high forage production. If this is our objective then it must be done in a planned, systematic program if it is to be fully effective. Other necessary steps are reestablish-

CHEVY CAPTURES CUP—For turning in the best emergency braking stop among 77 passenger cars entered in the recent Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials, Chevrolet was awarded Popular Science Magazine's Gold Cup. The ability to make a high-speed emergency stop in a single lane of traffic even after severe brake usage was demonstrated by a full-sized Chevrolet Impala. It braked to a full stop in 166.8 feet from 65 miles an hour. Shown presenting the award to James G. Musser (left), Chevrolet's assistant chief engineer for passenger cars, is Hubert Luckett, executive editor of Popular Science Magazine. Several other Chevrolet cars also scored "firsts" in the trials at Daytona Beach, Fla. A Corvair 500 triumphed over all other entries in fuel economy with 26,045 miles per gallon. Two Chevelles were first and second in fuel economy in their class while two Camaros were first and second in acceleration tests in the class for sport compacts.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Farmers should browse around in farm equipment stores just as their wives often do in department stores and supermarkets.

"This may be a good way to keep up-to-date on new farm machinery which is continually being placed on the market."

The wise purchasing of machinery demands a look-around attitude before spending money, or before signing your name to a contract for installment buying of equipment.

Ask yourself some questions . . . Will the implement fit my operation? Is it too large, or too small? What service is available for repairs? What warranty does it carry? Will it make or save money for me?

If you ask these questions before you buy, you'll be a quality buyer, and a satisfied customer, too.

Junk is something you keep for ten years and then throw away two days before you need it.

It costs money to feed cattle lice. These parasites are among the most damaging to beef cattle.

Cattle infested with lice spend a lot of time rubbing against fences, posts, or other objects due to the annoyance caused by these insects. Cattle on feed do not gain as they should and require more feed for a pound of gain when infested.

Infested cows lose weight and their calves become prime targets for the pests. Reduced weaning weaning weights of calves is one spot that really hits the pocket-book hard.

Cattle lice are common over the entire state and include both the biting and sucking types. Their populations build up rapidly after cool weather arrives in the fall.

Sucking lice, short- and long-nosed, pierce the animal's skin and feed by sucking blood. They are usually found on the sides of the animal's neck, on the brisket, back, inner surface of the thighs, tail and around the nose, eyes and ears. Chewing lice are smaller and are usually found on top of the shoulders and around the root of the tail but may also infest other parts of the body.

Many chemicals are available for controlling lice as well as other external parasites of livestock. Because of restrictions and safety suggestions which apply to the use of control measures, stockmen are invited to come by the office for a copy of MP-601, "Texas Guide ment of good forage plants, control of brush infestation, and management of grazing to maintain a vigorous stand of grasses.

Yes, we can safely say that controlling brush is an expensive operation regardless of the method of control. If the producer is not careful his range will be reinfested with brush before he has received a return on his money.

If brush needs to go, but if we are not going to give the grass a chance to replace brush, perhaps the brush should be left alone until other management type practices can be worked out.

for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry."

There may be a destiny which shapes our ends, but our middles are of our own chewing.

During the winter, while deciduous plants are in a dormant state, is a good time to control several plant pests. Spraying pecan and fruit orchards as well as ornamental trees and shrubs with dormant oils can often prevent severe damage from phylloxera (gall formers) and scale insects the following season. Control during the growing season is very difficult due to the hard waxy covering on scale insects and the protective gall of phylloxera. During the winter, these insects are generally in the egg stage and oils are effective as ovicides—are able to cause death to the egg.

There are two types of dormant oils on the market, concentrated emulsions and emulsible oils. Such terms as emulsive oils, miscible oils, and soluble oils are applied to emulsible oils. These oils usually consist of an oil in which one or more emulsifying agents have been dissolved. Emulsible oils usually contain from 95 to 99% oil. The concentrated emulsions usually contain from 80 to 90% oil by volume.

Careful attention should be paid to the selection and application of a dormant oil. Generally, heavier oils are more toxic to insects; however, they are also more toxic to plants. The more highly refined or purer an oil, the safer it is to the plant; also, the higher the cost of the oil.

Oils kill insects by completely enveloping them in a continuous film which interferes with respiration, thus suffocating the insect. Therefore, complete coverage of plants with a dormant oil spray is necessary in obtaining satisfactory control. Avoid excessive application as damage to the tree may result. Dormant oils should be applied when the temperature is between 40 and 60 degrees F. and free of freezing weather within 48 hours after application.

Dormant oils should not be allowed to get on the roots of trees.

Dormant oils have repeatedly damaged sugard and Japanese maple, beech, hickory, walnut, and butternut trees.

Follow directions given on the container label.

Charity would be more likely to begin at home if it were deductible.

Jr. High Boys Win Two Games From Sonora

The Jr. High boys won 2 games from Sonora here Thursday night. The 7th grade had a much tougher time than before winning 21 to 16 and the 8th grade winning in overtime 36-33.

In the 7th grade game the boys had a hard time finding the range, trailing 8-3 at the end of the first quarter. It was turnabout in the second quarter as the half ended 9-9. Archie Nixon then hit 4 straight field goals while Sonora scored 3 points and the third quarter ended 17-12. Each team scored 4 points in the fourth quarter to provide the final score of 21-16.

Archie was high with 10 points, Billy Hubble had 8, and Ricky Mann had 3. The rebounding of Oscar Martinez in the last half helped the Eagles maintain their lead. Tom Hartgraves, Rickey Griffin and Gary Danford did good jobs of ball handling and defending. This was the final game of the season for the 7th grade and we are looking forward to a continuation of the good work throughout track and especially next year in all sports.

The 8th grade boys played another close one as they let Sonora catch them in the 3rd quarter, 23 all and the regulation game ended 30-30. The Eagles started off like it was going to be an easy game as they moved the ball real well and had a 17 to 12 lead at half-time on the strength of 5 of 8 field goals by Robert Porter. Then the shooting got cold and the defense sluggish and Sonora caught up. In the final minute of play, Sonora went ahead by one point and Keith Williams tied the score with one of two free shots. In the overtime play Sonora scored first on a free shot, then Williams hit a field goal to go back in front to stay. Charles Adams and Donnie Overstreet each scored a basket after that and Sonora scored one more time, then the Eagles ran out the remaining time. Porter was high with 13 points, Adams had 8, Williams 8, Overstreet 6, and Steve Sykes had 2. Sykes played one of his better defensive games. The boys are now 9 wins and 10 losses after losing the first three games. They have won 5 of the last 7 games and lost the two games by one point each.

7th Grade Girls Win Rocksprings Tourney

(We should like to note at the outset of this article that Eldorado's 7th Grade team entry was in competition with regular Jr. High "A" teams in this tournament, an observation that makes their victory even more impressive.)

While their 8th grade school-mates were winning the Iraan Tournament, the 7th Grade Jr. Hi team was doing what no other Eldorado Jr. Hi team has been able to do—win the Rocksprings tournament. The game summaries are as follows:

Eldorado 24—Nueces Canyon 15

Coach Ken Thomas (who graciously consented to coach the girls in this tournament and who evidently was expert at it reports that when Nueces Canyon took the floor their height advantage was rather awesome to his little Eldorado charges and their early-game jitters were not entirely shaken off until the latter stages that saw Eldorado, though never behind in the game, pull out in front with a commanding lead, enough to allow him to play all 13 of the Eldorado roster.

Loretta Schooley and Patty Page shared scoring honors in this game with 16 and 8 points respectively, with Jeannie McCravey and Barbara Robledo alternating in setting up their plays. The defense, led by Gay Lynn Richardson and ably assisted by Leslie Martin and Jeannie Rountree, and again with Barbara Robledo's versatile help, contained the Canyon forwards quite well, giving up only 4 field goals. Other forwards who saw action were Thelma Bosmans and Judy Hanusch; guards were Eva Stigler, Marian Bland, and Betty Bradley. Sherry Davis was not able to make the trip because of illness.

Final: Eldo. 20, Rocksprings 17

In an atmosphere charged with tension and resounding with constant roar by the jam-packed stands, and in a game with the lead changing hands with every alternating basket through the first 3 quarters, the littlest Eaglettes kept their poise and pulled away during the 4th quarter, enjoying a comfortable 5 point lead at one time near the end of the game. While Loretta Schooley was collecting 9 points, Patty Page 8, and Jeannie McCravey 3, guards Gay Lynn Richardson, Leslie Martin, and Jeannie Rountree were holding the Rocksprings offensive threat at bay. But it was Barbara Robledo, sent in to harass opponent Molly Thurman's offensive drives and who parried her thrusts so successfully as to render her efforts rather inept, whom Coach Thomas singled out as a contributing factor in the turn of the tide.

Coach Burleson of Rocksprings, had wisely countered Loretta Schooley's dangerous left-handed moves by posting a strong left-handed guard on her, so take-charge Patty Page and Jeannie McCravey set up patterns of give and go that took up the slack and kept the offense a constant threat. And the guards, out-sized in height but not in heart, responded like troopers to the highest challenge in their yet young and brief career, and pose good promise for the future.

Gay Richardson, almost carbon copy of 8th grade guard Mary Lynn McCalla, whom she has understudied all year, was named to the all-tournament team, as was Loretta Schooley, forward, whose performance in both games was outstanding.

Coach Thomas advises that he would like to express his gratitude for the mothers who looked after the girls throughout the day and to the parents and other fans whose attendance lent the needed support to the team. And to Jenny Martin, thanks for the indispensable contribution she made all season as team manager.

The season's win-loss record for the 7th Grade girls is 5-0.

Below is a rather complete list of "idea killers." Read carefully and memorize. The next time some one comes up with a good, workable plan to get something done in the community and you feel like you are luke warm about the proposition, pitch a few of these out. They work nearly every time. Just tell them . . .

- It costs too much.
- It has been tried before.
- It isn't the right time.
- It's a gimmick; it won't work.
- It's too full of theory.
- Let's take our time; we must not move too fast.
- Put it in writing.
- Appoint a committee to look into the idea.
- It doesn't conform to policy.
- It won't work in this part of the country.

Nearly any of these idea killers used alone will do a good job of squelching enthusiasm, but in case some determined soul gets insistent, use a half dozen of them; they are bound to work.

A long time ago I had a pie crust recipe which used vinegar as a part of the liquid, I misplaced it and forgot about it but each time I made pastry I'd wonder about just how much vinegar that recipe that I used to use called for.

Now I know. A friend, Mrs. Jewel Robinson, Home Demonstration Agent in Hockley County, sends a few chosen recipes at Christmas instead of a card. This year's "Christmas from The Jewel's Kitchen" had my long lost pastry recipe. Use it once and you won't be as careless as I was; I guarantee you will hang onto this recipe for . . .

Pie Crust

3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups shortening
1 egg, well beaten
5 tablespoons cold water
1 tablespoon vinegar.
Cut shortening into flour and add salt. Mix all liquids together, the egg too, and mix into flour and shortening mixture.

Keep mixing until mixture holds together; at first it may seem that there isn't enough liquid but it's just right. Many, many pie crusts have been made tough because a bit of extra water was added to make it handle easier.

The busier a home maker gets the more welcome are casserole dishes. A casserole, a green salad and a sweet and a complete meal is ready. The following is such a dish and the weather doesn't have to be cold to enjoy it.

"Meat and Potatoes"

3 tablespoons margarine or butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon salt—pepper to taste
1/4 cup pimiento
4 cups cooked potatoes, diced
1/2 can luncheon meat, diced
1/2 cup grated cheese.

Melt fat over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk, gradually, stirring constantly. Add salt. Cook until thickened. Add pimiento, chopped. Layer meat and potatoes and cheese in a greased baking dish. Cover with white sauce. Bake at 325 F. for 30 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

The longer we live and the longer a parent lives the more likely it becomes that we will someday need the facilities of a nursing home. I include the following article in my column today because we are interested in such institutions and need to know more about them and Miss Lane's article will guide us in our thinking.

The American Medical Association has developed some guidelines to help families or individuals in selecting a nursing home, says Miss Leota Lane, Extension, family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

She adds that a quality nursing home makes every reasonable effort to restore patients to the maximum degree of independence and self-help possible. For many patients, a nursing home is only a step between the hospital and independent living at home.

You should first find out the level of care provided. Three classes of nursing homes are accredited: those offering intensive care under a registered professional nurse, with a registered nurse on duty at all times; skilled nursing care under a full-time registered nurse and a registered or licensed practical nurse with an attendant on duty at all times.

Miss Lane says an examination by the family physician is the best way to determine which type nursing home one should seek. The doctor can also give information about special needs of the patient which must be met such as diet, therapy and medical supervision.

Visit the homes on your list to look at their facilities. Ask questions. Is the home licensed by state or local licensing agencies? Is there a staff doctor who spends time in the home with the patients and nursing staff? Does the staff make periodic reports to the physician on the patient's condition?

What is the number of nursing staff and their hours of duty? Are facilities provided for rehabilitation, such as walkers, hand rails, or exercise steps? Are high standards of food service maintained?

Check into cost. What are rates for nursing care, room and board? Is the fee on a monthly or weekly basis, payable in advance and will there be a refund if the patient leaves the home? Ask about special charges such as shampoos and haircuts.

Mississippi, a familiar target of northern leftwingers, caught another whiff of a lingering grudge last week when by a vote of 134-to-100 House Democrats renewed a racially-inspired action to gratuitously heap punishment on a 20-year veteran member from the home state of Jefferson Davis.

John Bell Williams happened to be the victim of the wrath which was chipped up by the anti-Mississippi partisans. Using as an excuse that Williams had introduced a pro-Goldwater speaker in Mississippi during the last Presidential race, the liberals chose to rob the veteran lawmaker of his valuable seniority on the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

This display of venom began at the beginning of the last session two years ago when they toppled Williams from the chairmanship to the foot of the committee ladder. And the action last week prevented him from being the ranking Democrat next to the present chairman.

The motivation behind the move two years ago was exposed when the antagonists blocked an effort to have the same punishment at that time applied to Adam Clayton Powell, then chairman of the Committee on Labor. Powell announced from the White House in 1952 that he was supporting the Republican nominee for President.

But two years ago the Harlem Democrat was in good standing with the liberals—and he was a Negro, and he was not from Mississippi.

As further evidence of the motivation which accounts for this appalling action, two years ago a New York Congressman—whose district included a part of Harlem—moved to exclude from membership in the House the entire 5-member Mississippi delegation. But they lost in that brush effort by a vote of 149 to 276. That vote was from the entire House—not just the Democrats—and it was too brash for even some of the liberals to swallow.

But a sizeable majority of the Democrats in the House are liberals and race-conscious. Some say it makes good campaign fodder in their districts to demean and denounce anyone from the Magnolia State. John Bell Williams happens to be a convenient whipping boy for these partisans to attack. And an ingenious excuse was used to vent the spleen for a power-drunk group.

Blankets May Have 10 Per-Cent Mohair

Texas mohair may soon go into Army blankets.

Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo has advised the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association that the Defense Personnel Support Center's currently outstanding contracts for manufacture of 1,815,132 blankets may contain 10% of mohair.

"The Procurement Center at Philadelphia has requested 13 contractors to revise specifications to include the mohair content if at all feasible," Congressman Fisher said.

"The Philadelphia office is now awaiting replies from contractors before the amount of mohair to be included in outstanding contracts can be determined. The results of this effort will have bearing on specifications for mohair content when future procurement orders are placed."

Although this would not be the total answer to all the mohair growers' market problems, it would be a move in the right direction, said Howard Derrick of Eldorado, TS&GRA president. Association officers and Congressman Fisher have spent a great deal of time and effort trying to interest defense officials in using mohair, stressing that under present market conditions it is one of the lowest-cost natural fibers they could buy, and that it gives the finished product high quality and long life.

Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has aided Congressman Fisher and TS&GRA officials in their efforts to have mohair included in military orders.

A Token of Love

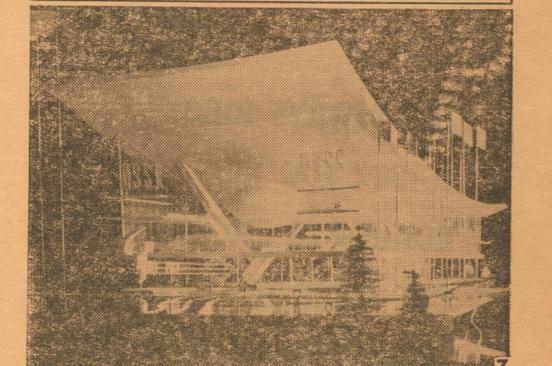

St. Valentine's Day is traditionally celebrated on February 14, "a day when tokens of love are exchanged" or so says Webster's. Made with your own hands, this cake is the kind of token anyone who is special in your life will appreciate — any time of year. It's a rich chocolate cake, complimented by a fudgy white frosting that's blended with plenty of flaked coconut.

- FOREVER YOURS CAKE
- 1 package devil's food cake mix
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 1/8 teaspoon salt
 - 2/3 cup milk
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1-1/3 cups (about) flaked coconut

Prepare cake mix as directed on package. Pour batter into a greased and floured 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350° for about 50 minutes or until done. Cool. Split cake horizontally in half to make two layers. Combine sugar, salt, and milk in saucepan. Bring quickly to boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Continue boiling, stirring occasionally, until small amount of mixture forms very soft ball in cold water (or to temperature of 232°). Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla. Cool to lukewarm (110°). Add coconut. Beat until spreading consistency. (If necessary, place frosting over hot water to keep soft while spreading.) Fill and top layers. If desired, place cinnamon candies in heart design in each corner. Makes about 9 servings.

Russia Goes All Out For Expo

The Soviet Union, which did not even participate in New York's World's Fair, not only will take part in Canada's Expo 67, but will do it on a very grand scale. Her fifteen million dollar pavilion has one of the largest "ground plans" of any there. And this pavilion has everything—from a huge restaurant, to a planet-like planetarium, to a 600-capacity movie theatre, even to a room where visitors will experience weightlessness, just as the astronauts do!
Dynamic in appearance, the Soviet Pavilion features a steeply rising "suspended" roof, flowing contours, large panels of glass for an atmosphere of lightness, and rises to a height of 138 feet. Inside, visitors will see exhibits of Soviet successes in the fields of industry, science, technology, and culture. The Pavilion's theme, "Everything in the Name of Man, for the Good of Man," reflects the overall Expo 67 theme of "Man and His World."

As if all this weren't enough, the Soviet Union will also contribute much to Expo in the way of art, entertainment and culture. Scheduled for participation are the Bolshoi Opera, the Bolshoi Ballet, Moscow Circus, the Red Army Chorus and the Piatnitsky Choir. In addition, Russian sportsmen will join in the Exhibition's international competitions.
Fifty-two thousand visitors from the USSR are expected at Expo 67 during the fair's six month run from April 28th to October 27th, and to help them get there, Russia has inaugurated regular service between Leningrad and Montreal via Soviet passenger liner.

Win East Zone

at one another, the score, and general disbelief. So far Derrick had hit 5, Rogers 6, Halbert 2, and Bosmans 3, and little did anyone realize that they had just seen 99.99% of the scoring for the night.

This game was important to Eldorado because a win meant they would wrap up the east zone championship — to Junction it was a game in which they wanted to lose by as few points as possible; they are 1-4 in district play.

The Eagles were obviously thrown off balance by this tactic and could never get warmed up shooting because they knew if they shot and missed Junction would hold it for one shot.

With all this to consider the Eagles came out in the third quarter, controlled the tip and the next 16 minutes of play! Yes, the Eagles controlled the ball the entire third quarter and as they began to work for one shot Halbert was fouled. He sank his free shot and the third quarter ended with Eldorado ahead 17-11.

The fourth quarter was a repeat performance and as the clock showed 5 seconds remaining, Rogers, Derrick and McCravey all shot once each, each missed and McCravey fouled a Junction boy who missed the free shot and the game ended.

The pleasure of a fast moving, hitting, rebounding game was denied the fans and the coach and the players, but a team must function in all situations to be true champions. The boys kept their poise and control throughout the game and won themselves a zone title and that was more important Tuesday than the pleasure of the fans.

So Junction managed to "keep the score down" but the end result was the same—the Eagles of Eldorado won as they had twice before this year. These boys proved that in pressure, press, stall or what have you, they can play the game.

Scoring:

Eldorado	6	10	1	0-17
Junction	3	8	0	0-11

Girls Beat Junction In District Contest

The Eldorado girls kept unblemished their district record as they claimed a 53-31 win over Junction Tuesday night. The Eaglettes now 3-0 will face a showdown with Menard in Menard Friday night.

A good scoring effort from the starting forwards gave the Eaglettes a 19-7 first quarter lead. Susan Mobley accounted for 11, Libby 6, and Susan Hill 2 in the opener. The guards, Chris Edmiston and Sherry Yates were busy gobbling up stray passes at the center line. Another unit of guards went in after 5 minutes which included Shirley Hubble, Jacque Davis, and Shane Henderson. They also did a good job defensively.

During the second quarter the girls added another 13 points with Susan Mobley notching 4, Libby 4, and Susan Hill 5. Eldorado held a 32-19 half-time advantage. Libby, carrying four fouls in the second quarter, came out before the half.

The third quarter gave Eldorado another 12 while Junction collected 2 on excellent defense by Nancy Jurecek, Chris, Sherry, Shirley, Jacque, Shane, Jan Wagley and Billie Geyl Blaylock.

None of the starting six played in the fourth quarter and Eldorado made 9 points and allowed Junction 10. Martha Sue Page hit for 4, Randy Yates 4, and Stella Hubble 1. Arlene Hartgraves did not score but she did collect a couple of rebounds. The defense rotated with Shirley Hubble, Shane, Jacque, Jan, and Billie Geyl.

So Eldorado came out with their 21st win and moved their district record to 3-0 and hope to make it 4-0 Friday.

Susan Mobley was high with 17 points, Libby 13, and Susan Hill 14. Sherry Yates had 9 rebounds, Chris 7, Shirley 6, Jacque 5, Nancy Kay 2, Jan 2, Billie Geyl 2 and Shane 1, defensively.

Miss Page Is Named Crocker Homemaker

Martha Sue Page ranked first in a written homemaking knowledge and attitude test given to Senior girls Dec. 6 and becomes Schieffer County High School's 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, it has been announced. Registered for the test were 581,334 girls in 14,753 of the nation's high schools, a new record for the 13 years the program has been offered by General Mills, its sponsor.

Martha Sue will be awarded a specially designed silver charm, and she remains in contention for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000.

In the program's next step, a state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected from winners in all schools of the state. She will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be given a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica by that firm. The state runner-up's award will be a $500 scholarship.

Following her selection, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in an expense paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C. Climax of the trip will be the naming of the 1967 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Chosen from the state winners on the basis of her original test score, plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive a scholarship increased to $5,000. Grants of second-, third- and fourth-ranking girls in the nation will be raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

All judging is conducted by Science Research Associates, Chicago. This educational testing and publishing firm also constructs and grades the written test.

Eagles Wind Up East Zone

The Eldorado boys will seek to wind up their east zone campaign with a perfect 6-0 record in Menard Friday night.

Menard made a real fight of it for the first half when they met in Eldorado. However, the last half the Eagles got busy and took it going away. The Eagles will be ready for a tougher contest on the Jackets home court and their last game of the season.

Meanwhile, things are really beginning to get interesting for the Eagles because they will be going for their 20th victory of the season against only 5 losses. They will be preparing for a district championship play-off with the west zone champ who at the moment appears to be Iraan. Be there Friday in Menard to back the Eagles to victory.

Eaglettes Go For Big Win, To Play Menard Friday

The Eaglettes stand 3-0 in zone play and Menard is only a step behind a 2-1 record so the Eldorado girls must beat Menard Friday in Yellowjacket gym.

True, the last encounter of these two teams in Eldorado didn't show any strength from the black and gold but they always fight hard against Eldorado and especially in their own gym and especially, too, when a victory would give them a tie for the zone title.

The Eaglettes will have to rise to the occasion and be ready to go full speed against the inspired Yellowjackets.

The Eldorado fems will be trying for victory No. 22 against 4 losses. Most important the local girls will be trying to win the east zone championship. Fill the 'jacket gym with Eaglette fans.

Library Meeting Held Here Last Week

The Hill Country Area Meeting convened in the Memorial Building auditorium Wednesday, February 1st, at 9:30.

Mrs. Mary Davis Coupe was at the register, Mrs. Edwin Jackson, Mrs. Granvil Hext and Mrs. Vernon Rogers served coffee and doughnuts.

Mrs. Victor Kothmann, area chairman, called the meeting to order. Mrs. W. N. Ramsay, Library Board chairman, introduced Judge Tom Ratliff, who welcomed the group to our town.

One representative from each library told of the value of the library to the community. There was a general discussion on libraries and their value by the group.

Miss Elizabeth Karle, Field Consultant with the State Library, led this discussion and gave us further information on improving the library and some of the aims of the state program.

Sack lunches satisfied our hunger at 12:00 o'clock.

Mrs. J. L. Neill gave "My Trip to Guantanamo Bay." This was both interesting and informative. Anyone who has not heard Mrs. Neill has missed some first hand facts on Cuba.

Ruth Baker brought a short history of Eldorado Public Library.

There was an exchange of books between the libraries represented and the visitors toured the library. The meeting adjourned and the group went for a brief tour of the El Dorado Woolen Mill.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stavall, Mrs. Grace Powers, Mrs. Terry Hill, Barksdale, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Powers are volunteer librarians for their library.

Also present: Mrs. Victor Kothmann, Mrs. Lillie Mae Ellison, Mason; Mrs. Ellison is Mason librarian. Miss Elizabeth Karle, Abilene.

(Jack) Griffin, and Miss Julia Ann Toland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Toland, Taft, Texas, were united in marriage on February 5th at 4:30 p. m., at the Forest Height Methodist Church, Lubbock, Texas. The Rev. O. A. McBrayer officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Take Week-End Trip

A week end trip to Mexia was enjoyed by Mrs. Jack Etheredge, Mrs. Ed DeLong and Mrs. R. L. Ballew, when they visited at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Miller. Mrs. Miller is the former Ella Mae Sharp, a sister of Mrs. Etheredge and Mrs. DeLong. They also visited Old Fort Parker, located near the Miller ranch.

On the trip back on Sunday afternoon they stopped briefly in Copperas Cove for a visit with the R. D. Holts. Mr. Holt was superintendent and Mrs. Holt taught Math in the Eldorado schools in the 1920's and 1930's. They asked to be remembered to their friends in Eldorado. Both are still very active in the teaching profession.

Mrs. Holt is in charge of five school libraries in Copperas Cove and Mr. Holt is a professor for night classes at Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton, Texas.

Their son, Roy, Jr., is retired from the Navy after 20 years and lives in Austin, Texas, and their daughter, Nancy, lives with her husband and two children in Copperas Cove.

The group also stopped in Brady for a short visit at Fireside Nursing Home with Mrs. Lela Blaisdell, an aunt of Mrs. DeLong and Mrs. Etheredge.

Austin, Texas.—Texas legislators are at work on Gov. John Connally's recommendations for raising $144,200,000 in new taxes which include a "surprise" proposal to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink.

His local-option, mixed-drink endorsement was the major bombshell in an otherwise predictable package based on boosts or adjustments in old-standby sales and business taxes and a transfer of farm road financing to the highway fund.

House Revenue and Tax Committee hearings are due to get under way immediately. Legislative leaders acknowledge some bitter controversies are upcoming for the first major revenue program advanced since Connally took over the governor's office.

In his 25-minute speech to a joint session of the House and Senate, Connally outlined his views on how to raise the $971.5 million necessary to carry out his general revenue spending program for the next two years.

Here, in summary, is the governor's tax program: —Repeat the sales tax exemption on all alcoholic beverages, effective July 1. (Should yield $26 million.)

—Increase the gasoline tax 1c a gallon (from 5c to 6c), effective July 1. (Since $24.4 million of the additional revenue automatically would go to the available school fund, general revenue of this amount would be freed for legislative appropriation. Tax raise would add $73.2 million to the state highway fund.)

—Repeat the 1949 Colson-Briscoe Act's general revenue allocation of $15 million a year to farm-to-market roads and leave financing of these roads to the highway department. ($30 million general revenue gain.)

—Tax distilled spirits and wine sold by the drink at licensed establishments five-cents-an-ounce. ($15 million gain.)

—Increase the corporation franchise tax rate from $2.25 per $1,000 to $3. ($30.9 million.)

—Raise the natural gas production tax from seven to eight per cent of wellhead value, effective July 1. ($17.8 million.)

Connally said he had tried to fashion "an equitable plan which will impose the least possible burden upon the individual and business taxpayers of this state."

He emphasized that he recommends legalizing liquor by the drink only on a local-option basis and under "strict regulation" with punishment by revocation of licenses for repeat sales of liquor to minors. He hit at the existing "subterfuge" which now permits serving of mixed drinks through "so-called private clubs."

"It is time to bring this matter into the open," the governor said. "It is my considered opinion that a far-more-wholesome climate will prevail if liquor can be sold by the drink, legally and under tight regulation."

Connally got his biggest applause when he said he would NOT recommend a state college-university tuition increase.

Program on Blind Given As Lions Club Meets

The Lions—both locally and nationwide—have always concerned themselves with sight conservation and help for the blind, and the program at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions Club carried out this theme.

James L. Freeman, executive director of the West Texas Lighthouse For The Blind in San Angelo, was on hand to give a presentation of the work done by his organization.

He was introduced by Joe M. Christian, program chairman for this month.

Mr. Freeman pointed out that the Lighthouse, one of 10 over Texas, employs the blind in manufacture of products, and gives vocational training, and recreation, and provides a Braille library.

Mr. Freeman passed out pamphlets describing the Lighthouse, and small Braille alphabet cards. Chair caning, yarn and mop making, and furniture and clothing repairs are among the endeavors of the Lighthouse. The program was well received by all present.

George Stanley Finley, San Angelo attorney and Eldorado native, was chairman of the board of directors of the Lighthouse last year.

In the business session, at which Boss Lion Charles Wimer presided, the date of March 7th was announced for this year's Queen's Program to be presented.

Jack Bell, chairman of arrangements, reported that three judges from out of town would select the winners. It was also agreed that each girl who enters the contest will be given a small charm from the local club. Further arrangements will be worked out in the near future.

It was also voted, in connection with the Queen's Contest, to keep the fee at $5 for a local business concern to sponsor a girl, and to keep door admission the same as last year.

Agriculture Report

Texas agriculture is failing to attain its reasonable production potential by as much as a billion dollars a year, the House Interim Committee on Agriculture has found.

"This suggests that Texas agriculture is now operating at only one-half to two-thirds of its capability," the report says.

Committee made three recommendations. They are to set up a Coordinating Board to set agricultural goals, compile annual agricultural statistics, county-by-county, for planning and programming, and pass legislation to permit agriculture to provide funds of its own for research and promotion.

Attorney General Speaks

Students at state-supported colleges no longer are required to take a "loyalty oath" in the opinion of Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin said the 1949 act which required the oath of students and faculty was altered in 1953 by a law which covered only paid employees of the school. Some legislators are considering a bill to put students back under the law.

In other opinions, Martin held: —District court judges who are members of county juvenile boards must be paid an additional $325 a month in salaries, and county commissioners cannot pay less.

—Parks and Wildlife Department has authority to issue depredation permits for killing of wild birds or animals in Dimmitt, Uvalde, and Zavala counties.

—A person convicted of a felony and given a suspended sentence is not barred from applying for and receiving probation under the misdemeanor probation act.

—Texas inheritance tax provision concerning use of the "resident decedent's" entire estate wherever situated as a factor in determining the rate to be applied to succession of property is constitutional.

—Presidio County Hospital District can levy a tax for initiating operation of the district.

—Possible amendment would provide a safeguard against any subsequent federal legislation that might deprive the state of its bounty in the event of oil or mineral production.

Sadler, however, presented his views and summed up with a declaration that minerals alone, "in a short period of time would more than pay for the total cost of the establishment of a state-owned park in the Guadalupe Mountain area." Committee members directed that the bill be held back for a hearing

Prevent Burglaries With Simple Precautions

Dallas, Tex.—Many burglaries of homes and apartments in Texas can be prevented if simple precautions are taken states the Insurance Information Institute.

The Institute's Southwest Regional office in Dallas lists these burglary-preventive steps:

1. If you are away from home, don't advertise it. Tightly drawn shades, notes to the milkman and accumulated newspapers and circulars are a dead giveaway even to the inexperienced housebreaker.
2. Whenever you leave home—even if only for a few minutes—lock doors and windows.
3. When you are out at night, keep a few lights lit.
4. Never leave a house key under a doormat or over a door. Those are the first places a burglar will look.
5. Keep your garage door closed and locked at all times, whether you are home or not.
6. Door hinges should be on the inside, to prevent a burglar from forcing them with a crowbar.
7. Heavy screening on windows and sturdy double locks on door make forced entries more difficult.
8. Careful attention should be paid to securing basement doors.
9. Large amounts of cash, jewelry and coin collections should be kept in a safety deposit box or adequate safe.
10. Locks should be changed when moving into a new apartment or when a key has been lost.
11. Don't leave ladders lying around where they can be used by a would-be housebreaker.
12. Be cautious when strangers come to the door. Women at home alone should be particularly care-

- ful. Use a "night" door chain.
13. Before leaving on a trip, notify neighbors and police so they can keep an eye on your house. Discontinue deliveries of newspapers and milk. If you will be on a long trip, arrange to have the lawn mowed.
14. Keep a record of the serial numbers of such property as typewriters, firearms, photographic equipment, bicycles, etc. to aid the police in the event you are burglarized.
15. Always report burglaries and attempted break-ins to the police and cooperate with officers investigating crimes in your neighborhood.

8th Grade Girls Take Tourny Win at Iraan

While their Jr. high schoolmates, the 7th Graders, were taking the Rocksprings Tournament, the 8th Grade Jr. Hi team was put to its sternest test of the season in winning the 1st place trophy at Iraan, the second year in a row to claim the championship title there.

In running their season's record to 13 wins without a loss, the little Eaglettes got by Grandfalls, Alpine Central, and Alpine Centennial (who had upset Iraan in the other semifinal game), and earned generous plaudits from rival coaches, the staff of officials from Ozona's athletic department, and Iraan's administration, who complimented them not only for their playing skills but also for their personal attractiveness and display of good sportsmanship and courteous conduct. Other schools rounding out the 8-team bracket in the girls' division were McCamey, Rankin, and Sanderson. Brief summaries of games are as follows:

Eldorado 49—Grandfalls 11

In the Fri. night opener with Grandfalls, a rather formidable opponent (who went on to win the consolation trophy), the local forwards pressed perhaps their most persistent offensive attack of the season, with Linda Derrick and Sheila Murr alternately driving for the basket and Peggy Hill feeding with most accurately placed and perfectly timed passes. Linda's relentless barrage accounted for 28 points, with her touch just as smooth and near-perfect at the foul line, where she sank 8 of 10 free throws. Sheila Murr, moreover, hit 5 of 6 free throws in her total of 15 game points, and Peggy Hill with 4 points sank two free shots without a miss. This 15 of 18 free throws, or 83%, was like icing on the cake, and especially impressive for Jr. High girls under pressure. Lisa McAngus, Kathleen O'Harrow, and Rita Roden alternated at guard and forward positions, and Kathleen scored 2 points.

Guards Gail Robinson, Claudia Meador, Kathleen O'Harrow, Mary Lynn McCalla, and Mona Wagoner displayed their usual strong defense, holding their opponents scoreless from the floor for two quarters, while their aggressive tactics completely stifled any real offensive threat of the opponents.

Eldorado 41—Alpine Central 13
In its semifinal game with Alpine Central, Eldorado's offense was slow to get rolling but eventually gained momentum in spite of the total of 21 fouls the team picked up in the course of the game, 11 of which Central cashed in on. Again the guarding was spectacular, as the contingent of Mary Lynn McCalla, Kathleen O'Harrow, Claudia Meador, Gail Robinson, and Mona Wagoner allowed only one field goal. Linda Derrick scored 15 points, Peggy Hill 14, Sheila Murr 8, Kathleen O'Harrow 4, with Lisa McAngus and Rita Rozean feeding and playing good floor games.

Final: Eldorado 37, Alpine Cent. 19
The stage was set for a show down between two teams with unblemished seasonal records, a 12-game winning streak going for each. Centennial had disposed of McCamey in its opener, had upset Iraan in the semi-finals, and had shown an impressive defense although its scoring was not nearly as prolific as Eldorado's in its previous two games. Moreover, Centennial was able to scout Eldorado against Central, whereas Eldorado had only warnings of spectators that Centennial was tough, a very fast driving team that would draw fouls, handled the ball well, and passed fast.

Throughout this season your reporter has noted the stalwart defense efforts of the guards. In 11 of their 12 victories they never allowed more than 4 field goals in any one game; in some games they allowed none.

Brady, in the Junction Tournament finals, had scored 8, several, though, in the closing stages when line-up changes were being effected. But the big question was, had they really been seriously challenged, severely tested? Would the team fall apart if its defense began to leak?

Well, the final score indicates the answer, but it does not tell the full story. Eleven of Centennial's points came on free shots, and the guards gave up only their usual number of 4 field goals! Even though Eldorado looked ragged in spots, throwing the ball away several times or passing directly into the hands of opponents (due perhaps to having to adjust to a faster pace than usual of the opposition and thus upsetting their own timing), they pulled steadily away in the closing stages and all hands got to see action.

Linda Derrick again was the big gun, scoring 19 points; Sheila Murr, usually steady and always scrappy, had a low for her, but 5 big points; and Peggy Hill, who always seems to take more pleasure in making the assist than in scoring a shot, still collected 13 points. Lisa McAngus and Rita Roden relieved Linda and Peggy in the 4th quarter, and Mona Wagoner saw action at guard at the same time. The guards, who have been so outstanding all season, and whose switching man-for-man defense is so second nature to them and executed so beautifully, are Mary Lynn McCalla, Kathleen O'Harrow, Claudia Meador and Gail Robinson. Susan Rogers, a member of the guard roster, missed the tournament because of illness in the family. The team manager is Jean Newport, who, in the tournament, looked after the needs of the team and whose game statistics and score-keeping log provide the story for the reporter.

C. A. REYNOLDS CONTRACT RENEWED AT BRADY

C. A. (Lefty) Reynolds, who is rounding out his 16th year as head of the Brady school system, was given a new three-year extension of his contract at a recent called meeting of the Board of Trustees. Reynolds' new contract will run through June 30, 1970.

Prior to moving to Brady, Reynolds was superintendent of Eldorado schools.

Eagles Cagers Beat Sonora, By 58-45

The Eagles of Coach Jack Bell beat Sonora for the second time this season but in a more convincing fashion, 58-45, and with all hands sharing in the victory.

This win put Eldorado 4-0 in east zone play while the Broncos are 2-2, and Menard and Junction are each 1-3. This means that the Eagles can win it with a victory over either Menard or Junction this week. However, after watching these boys it is obvious they will go for convincing wins over both so as to leave no doubt.

Coach Bell was extremely proud of all the boys after the Sonora game in that he felt they showed great desire, hustle, and excellent execution of their duties. The Eagles employed three different offenses and two defenses which keep Sonora off balance throughout the contest.

The initial quarter started with 2 points by Jesse Bosmans but Laney Cook of Sonora followed with a lay-up and free shot. The quarter continued to be close but the Broncos led 16-13 at the close of the period mainly on strength of Cook's 10 points.

Eagle fans may have felt that things looked limp but no one told the boys because they went back in the second period to net 16 points and hold Sonora to 6. Six points each by Bosmans and Donald Rogers plus 4 by Gary Derrick led the charge. By now the Eagles had caused the Brones to make lots of mistakes while Eldorado was cashing in on them. Eldorado, enjoying a 29-22 half-time advantage, took a breather from the torrid battle, regrouped, talked over strategy and came out ready to wrap it up. The third quarter saw Eldorado net only 12 points to 15 for Sonora as Danny Halbert hit 5 as did Derrick but it kept the Eagles ahead 41-37 at the end of the period.

As the fourth quarter tip went into the air, and Eldorado controlled, each boy on the Eagle team was working as hard as they have ever worked to win this big one. As a result they left Sonora in their dust. Halbert added 8 more points on jumps shots, Chris McCravey poured in four consecutive free throws when the Eagles needed them, Rogers stole the ball at mid court and tore down court to lay it up and in, and Derrick notched a lay-up and free shots to give Eldorado a 17-point quarter. Meanwhile Sonora was totaling only 8 points mainly due to the fact that Jesse Bosmans was everywhere Laney Cook was! He did a great defensive job on Cook holding him to 14 points, 10 below his 24-point district average. In addition to his defensive antics he scored 9 points and got 3 rebounds for a fine night's work.

Danny Halbert led the scoring with 17 points and 11 rebounds. Danny intercepted passes and played one of his best defensive games ever.

Donald Rogers had a very good night hitting 14 points and grabbing 11 rebounds. He worked hard in rebounding and putting his shots back up for the Eagles. He was the most consistent scoring threat for Eldorado as he bucketed points in every quarter.

Gary Derrick played one of his best games also netting 14 points and grabbing down 13 rebounds. Gary worked the boards on both offense and defense and made 50% of his 12 shots attempted.

Chris McCravey, the third outside man had some difficulty in hitting from the floor but he had no trouble in popping in four straight free shots and playing a fine defensive game.

Jay Halbert also saw service as an outside man. Jay hustles and causes the offense to make lots of mistakes and he also got two rebounds.

Buff Whitten relieved Derrick at times through the game and did a commendable job as did Pat Childers, Rusty Meador and Bobby DeLong.

The Eagles hit a good 43% from the floor though they only could manage 50% from the free throw line.

All in all it was a great game from the Eagle point of view and the gym was bursting with proud Eagle fans who could take great pride in watching a group of boys work very hard for something they wanted very much.

The Eagles have now won 18 games against only 5 losses. They have managed to remain unbeaten in Eagle Gym this season.

Let's go with this hustling bunch of Eagles every step of the way in 8-A.

In your home alone, 166 electrical appliances are available to save time, reduce work and do a better job faster and more economically.

Small wonder that in the last 10 years the typical American family has nearly doubled its use of electricity. And at very low cost. While the cost-of-living has been spiraling upwards, the price of electricity has been coming down.

Here at WTU we keep pace with the increasing use of electricity in industry, in business and in the home. It is a way of life with us, for we know that electricity powers progress.
