

Summer Reading Now Finished

The Library has been a busy place all summer. Many of the children signed up for the reading club. Forty-six children read their 12 books and this is the best record we have ever made.

The story hour was enjoyed very much by the pre-schoolers. We had as helpers Mrs. Ernest Nimitz, Mrs. John Stigler, Mrs. Jack Jones, Miss Mary Ann Page, Mrs. Bill Gunstead, Mrs. Bill Rountree, Mrs. James Raibourne, Mrs. Jimmy Doyle was responsible for getting the program going and she did a fine job. Mrs. Bill Collins made some clever posters to publicize the program. Many of the young mothers helped with refreshments each time. The librarian would like to express appreciation to each one who helped, for you made it a success.

Any child who earned a certificate can pick it up at the library; they are now ready.

These memorials were given since our last report:

Mias Amigas gave four books, Paradise Lost for L. L. McFall; Rebel in Blue for Mrs. W. F. Meador; No One Hears But Him, for Mrs. R. A. Evans; Bay of Traitors, for Jim Williams.

Others given were: A Farewell to Arms for Sam Easley, The Sun Also Rises and For Whom the Bell Tolls, for Mrs. T. R. Spence; the three above were given by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Doyle.

Newest books for the children are The Donkey Ride, The Guard Mouse and Noggin and the Whale.

Late adult books are: When She Was Good, A Night of Watching, All the Little Live Things and Nicholas and Alexandra. —Ruth Baker, librarian.

Highway Dept. Increases Services To Public Over Past 50 Years

Austin, Texas.—The first half century of the Texas Highway Department has been one of growth—growth not only in the building of a 68 thousand-mile network of highways but also in services offered to the public.

The Highway Department, celebrating its Golden Jubilee during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30, has developed traffic services simultaneously with the modern Texas highway network.

Seven tourist information bureaus are operated at key entry points along the Texas border as well as one in the rotunda of the State Capitol in Austin. Travel counselors at these bureaus—at Anthony, Wichita Falls, Denison, Gainesville, Texarkana, Waskom and Orange—distribute travel literature, provide road condition information and assist tourists in charting their travels to any area of the state.

Presently a bureau is under construction at Amarillo and another is planned for Laredo.

In addition to providing tourist information, the bureau personnel issue permits to those truckers and travelers who have oversize or overweight vehicles. These permits also are available at any highway department district office.

Now 'til Christmas

The minislump is over and economists are asking themselves, what now: Business boom or minor recovery? All indications I've observed seem to justify a bullish outlook for business and the economy for the remainder of 1967 and into 1968.

The business upturn may be much more rapid—and more vigorous—than that projected by either the former "recession predictors" or the "middle-of-the-roaders."

But I'm less enthusiastic about the prospects for profits. The economic recovery has been stimulated, in large measure, by a substantial increase in consumer demand, and this should continue for the balance of the year. Our economy has a tremendous "built-in demand factor," whose potential can have a dramatic effect on the business curve. Significantly, two areas hard hit by consumer reluctance to spend—automobiles and appliances—have recently been the object of strong consumer demand.

However, despite the increased consumer spending, and resultant business upturn, I see declining production and rising wage costs putting corporate profits in a bind. Their future is primarily dependent on two factors: taxes and labor costs.

The Administration is expecting such a strong upswing in the economy, an income tax increase has been proposed to prevent inflation and a return to tight money. I feel that this concern is well taken. But how big an increase and when will it be enacted?

I predict the increase will probably be higher than a 6% surtax and it may be made effective this year, depending on the momentum of the business upturn. However, enacted too soon, a tax increase could choke off the recovery before it really gets under way.

Another question that could vitally affect both business and the stock market: Is there to be an auto strike in September? Unfortunately, everything points to it, and its effects on the total economy will be similar to the waves created by tossing a pebble in a puddle.

Since stock prices traditionally tend to rise or fall in anticipation of individual company earnings, I think investment success will demand the greatest degree of selectivity. Recent market strength probably reflected anticipation of at least a moderate business upturn in the last half of this year. But, I feel that while disappointing full year profits—somehow below 1966—have probably been discounted, the market may not have discounted a tax increase of more than 6%, a protracted auto strike and escalation of the Vietnam War.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

By a majority of 69 to 11 the Senate last week confirmed President Johnson's second and most recent appointment to the Supreme Court. Thurgood Marshall, a civil rights advocate, was the choice.

Marshall's color should not, of course, have anything to do with the merits of the appointment. It is purely a matter of qualifications and in that respect Marshall's suitability undoubtedly leaves much to be desired.

Respected lawyers and other observers, who have followed Marshall's career, insist that he is by no means a top lawyer, and they question his judicial temperament. For many years he was special counsel for NAACP. Many issues growing out of racial strife reach the Supreme Court for final decisions. Certainly there is nothing in Marshall's past which would enable him to be judicial and objective in disposing of such matters. Yet Judges are supposed to be fair and open-minded with respect to interpretations of laws.

This appointee is a liberal, perhaps an ultra-liberal. He has served as an activist while a member of the notorious National Lawyers Guild—an outfit that was once branded by the House Un-American Activities Committee as a subversive organization. He was also once an active member of the International Juridical Association also once identified as subversive. Whether Marshall subscribes to the tenets of these left-wing groups is not known. But in any event his past associations raise serious questions as to his judicial temperament.

The importance of such appointments cannot be over-estimated. On issues related to civil rights, pornography, education, religion, politics, passports, subversion and local law enforcement, the court has in the past often been closely divided. A good many 4 to 3 decisions have resulted. Experts are convinced that Marshall will side with the Warren majority when such issues arise. That has been true of Abe Fortas, who was appointed a year ago by President Johnson. Thus, the Supreme Court becomes more and more aligned with the Warren liberal majority.

Busy People Need Short-Cut Meals

THIS IS A BREAKFAST MENU especially planned for active weekends. Made with convenience foods from the pantry shelf, it can be prepared in minutes, leaving plenty of time for outdoor activities. Wake up with a glassful of Start—tart-sweet orange flavor instant breakfast drink that's made by simply emptying the can of crystals into a quart of cold water and stirring. And for variety, try the three other flavors, too—orange-pineapple, pineapple-grapefruit, and pink-grapefruit. Next, enjoy a coffee cake made from a cake mix, topped with coffee-flavored nuts. And, of course, it's accompanied by a cup of instant coffee.

QUICK NUTTY COFFEE CAKE

| 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons water | 1/4 cup sugar |
| 1 egg white | 1-1/2 teaspoons instant quality coffee |
| | 1/4 cup chopped nuts |

Measure cake mix into small mixing bowl. Add water and egg white. Beat 2 minutes until smooth. Pour into a greased and floured 8-inch square pan. Bake at 350° about 30 minutes, or until top springs back when gently pressed with finger. Drizzle melted butter over warm cake. Combine sugar and instant coffee; sprinkle over cake with the chopped nuts. Serve warm.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Austin, Tex.—With the tolling of school bells, some 2,598,000 students are back in Texas classrooms. Enrollment is 42,000 more than last year.

An estimated 122,000 professional people (teachers, principals, and superintendents) are required in the 1,275 school districts in Texas. Texas State Teachers Association reported a month ago there were only 450 applications for 1,951 vacancies.

Texas Education Agency estimates $1,350,300,000 will be spent on public school education in 1967-68. This is 4%, or $55,700,000, increase over last year.

During the coming year, Texas will be spending $505 for each pupil. Average cost per child for 1966-67 was $479.

With an anticipated continuing teacher shortage, TEA expects an increase in the number of teaching aides employed to do clerical and other non-teaching tasks. Nearly 5,000 of these aides are expected to be employed over the state, compared with 4,317 in 1966-67.

While enrollment continues to grow, some observers have noted that the 2% increase this year is not nearly as dramatic as the increases in prior years.

Grades one to six will enroll approximately 1,418,000 pupils and grades seven to 12 about 1,179,000.

City Sales Tax

A dozen Texas cities—including Austin—are rushing into special elections on the new 1% local option sales tax which became legal on August 28.

Here's what the big hurry is all about: local levies approved in elections this month will be collectable January 1. Elections after October 1 would not provide money in the till until April 1.

Thirty days' notice is necessary to call elections—either by order of city governing bodies or in response by petition by citizens.

First cities to vote on the sales tax will be Elgin and El Paso. Their elections will be held September 27.

Aranas Pass, Corpus Christi, Electra, Henrietta, Nacogdoches, Orange Grove, Texarkana and Wichita Falls will vote September 28.

Voters in Austin and Taylor will go to the polls on September 30.

Connally Undecided

Gov. John Connally returned from his African hunting expedition undecided whether he wants to travel Texas campaign trails again.

He told reporters that he may take several weeks or even months to make up his mind whether to seek a fourth term.

Lieut. Gov. Preston Smith says he will run for governor whether Connally does or not.

Other candidates said to be considering 1968 races are:

—Don Yarborough of Houston, a liberal who has opposed Connally twice. He may run for the gubernatorial post again next year.

—Former Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, who may run for lieutenant governor.

—House Speaker Ben Barnes who is ready to announce for lieutenant governor if Connally runs again and for governor if Connally retires.

Cotton Plow-Up

John C. White, State Agriculture Commissioner, has extended the cotton stalk plow-up deadline to September 10 in Cameron, Willacy and southern portions of Hidalgo and Starr counties.

White said 100% mop-up is necessary to destroy winter hibernation quarters of the destructive pink bollworm. Bollworm used to destroy every third bale of cotton in Rio Grande Valley. Now it does only nominal damage, usually late in the season, says the Commissioner.

New Laws Effective

Major new laws went into effect within the last week.

Among the most significant: —“Medicaid” implementing act to provide free medical benefits to 250,000 Texans on welfare rolls; —Minimum age for drivers increased to 16;

—Changes in the 1965 Texas Code of Criminal Procedure designed to strengthen law enforcement officers;

—New hours for Texas liquor stores—10 a.m. to 9 p.m. except Sunday;

—Eligibility of 10,000 non-citizens for old age assistance payments—if they have lived in the U. S. 25 years or more.

Projects For Aged Approved

Governor's Committee on Aging has approved for continuation special projects to benefit senior citizens in Austin, Dallas, Galveston and Houston. An outlay of $57,058 for second-year financing was cleared.

Committee also approved new projects in El Paso for $28,816 and Wichita Falls for $22,934.

El Paso will establish an information and referral center for senior citizens.

Wichita Falls project calls for establishment of a day center for leisure time activities.

Lots Of Roads

Besides hearing a request for a single designation of the hug-the-coast highway from Orange to Brownsville, the Texas Highway Commission authorized a number of road projects.

Included were a 4.2 mile FM road in San Jacinto county (from Camilla northwest to FM 1514); a loop around Huntsville; a route for US 271 from Paris to the Red River; a 12-mile FM road in Atascosa county from the McMullen county line where FM 2925 ends northwest to US 281 at Campbellton; two miles of FM 1397 in Bowie County; a one-way street pattern in Garland; six farm to market roads to serve Sam Rayburn and Toledo Bend reservoirs in San Augustine, Nacogdoches, Angelina and Newton counties; sections of US 281 and SH 79 in Wichita county; four miles of FM road in Polk county from US 190 southeast to FM 350; planning of US 82 thru Nocona; widening of SH 327 in Silsbee; and two interchanges on US 87 in Hale county.

Air Control

State Air Control Board, armed with new powers and money, has called on major cities and counties to set up local air control programs, promising help and cooperation.

San Antonio, Dallas and Houston all have city-county programs under way. First evidence of the success of such co-operative efforts came in Harris county when operators of 11 private garbage dumps were persuaded, without court action, to abandon the burning of trash and to install sanitary landfill methods of garbage disposal.

City and state air pollution control engineers provided technical advice to the operators, and the threat of an injunction and civil penalties ranging up to $1,000 a day under the new law was enough to convince the operators they should make the change.

School Orders Issued

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar has upheld a Harlingen school board order closing Wilson Elementary School at Primera (in Cameron county) and requiring transportation of 200 pupils to Stewart School, Harlingen, and Di-hman school, Combes.

Edgar overruled transfer from the Gilmer to the Gladewater Independent School district of 45 pupils who live in what used to be East Mountain District which recently consolidated with Gilmer. Parents brought suit to block the consolidation, claiming Gilmer schools were inaccessible to their children.

The crop year 1967 will soon be over and farmers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District will know the per acre yield of the crops on their places. Most farmers already know approximately how much cotton and grain sorghum they will make. Unfortunately, crop yields will be low throughout most of the district.

Water, one of the most important elements in crop production, has not been adequate to meet the needs of crops. The amount of rainfall received this year has not been a lot different than what has been received over the past 25 years. Through July the county average was about 10 inches. Yearly rainfall averages mean very little. Probably the most value of an average rainfall record would be the reminder that rainfall in this area is not often in excess of what is needed and all the rainfall received needs to be kept where it falls. The rainfall that is received each year is not what makes the crops. Water that is kept where it falls for crop use is what helps make the maximum yields.

This year's crop yields have been benefited by soil, water and plant conservation practices that have been applied and maintained on the land. Even though most of the crops have not been harvested, it is very evident that crops are much better on terraced and contoured fields. The most obvious difference can be seen in the areas that received the least amount of rain from August of last year up till now. The only crop to amount to anything in these areas is just above each terrace where all the water was held. Where the most rainfall has been received it is easy to see that the yield above terraces will be better than where water was not held by terraces. Some of the crop yields can be attributed to the good rains the latter part of last year. Some of the lake areas that filled with water last year and destroyed last year's crops, have good crops this year. The un-terraced area above these lakes have very little crops where rainfall has been low this year.

Each year, from as far back as they remember, farmers in the Eldorado-Divide SCD can cite instances of increased yields as a result of conservation practices applied and maintained. Last year on dry cropland, cotton was 30% better on Ello Wilde's farm on the area benefitted by water backed up by terraces. This was the case even though there was no big rains on Wilde's farm after January 1, 1966. The good yield was due in part to rainfall received in 1965. The 124 bales on 114 acres make an average of about 1.09 bales per acre. The areas benefitted by water backed up by terraces made 1.25 bales per acre. The per acre yield on land contour farmed and not benefitted by water backed up by terraces was .93 bale per acre.

If farmers in the District could get a guarantee of .9 bale of cotton on dry cropland there is little doubt but what every farmer would take the guarantee. This of course is impossible. However, holding the water that is received from rainfall where it falls for crop use, is not impossible. It is not impossible then to assure the best yields possible from the amount of rainfall received whether it be a little or large amount.

Each farmer in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District should take a close look at their farming operation and determine what is happening. Where it is obvious that water is lost from the fields by runoff and crops in lake areas destroyed by water lost from other fields, immediate steps should be taken to eliminate this situation.

Even though water is one of the most essential elements in crop production, the other items essential to good production must not be overlooked. Soil fertility must not be overlooked. Soil fertility is equally as important as the needed moisture for crop yields. Poor soils produce poor crops low in the necessary elements needed in both animal and human nutrition. The application and maintenance of all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices is the only way that maximum yields can be attained.

Assistance in planning and layout of all needed conservation practices on all agriculture land is available through the Soil Conservation Service assisting the District.

Cost share in applying enduring type conservation practices is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the Soil Conservation Service, and from the Schleicher County A.S.C.
