Foundation Plan Is Mapped

Plans for pushing for organization of an industrial foundation here were discussed at a special committee meeting Thursday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Fred Auforth, chamber vice president, and Grady Elder, chamber manager, discussed the proposal with a committee from the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycee delegation said they were confident that their organization would work on the project, and that the proposal would be presented at today's luncheon meeting of the Jaycees for formal action.

Much ground work was laid last year for organization of an industrial foundation here. Forest Sears, who headed the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, made extensive surveys of industrial foundations in other cities. He appeared before service clubs and other groups to discuss the proposal, and several planning sessions were held by the committee.

As a result of the work during the past 10 months, a proposed charter has been drafted, which would set the foundation up as a non-profit corporation with capitalization of $50,000.

Details for the campaign to subscribe capital for the industrial foundation are expected to be worked out within the next few weeks.

Meanwhile, leaders in the movement hope to submit the charter application and set up the non-profit corporation.

The foundation would assist industries in acquiring sites and building facilities here on a lease, or lease-purchase plan. Otherwise it would not lend money, and it would not contribute to operation of an industry.

Representing the Jaycees at the meeting Thursday were Steve Birdwell, the Rev. Don Hungerford, Ray Houpt and Howard Milburn.

2 Facing Bombing Charges

BEAUMONT (AP)—Two men were charged today in three bombings Monday night.

Chief of Detectives Jim Stafford said E. E. Sanford, 39, and Tommy Sanford were taken to Austin for lie detector tests. He declined to speak of events leading to their arrest this morning.

He said, however, a search of E. E. Sanford's house turned up nothing.

Three bombs were exploded here Monday night. One damaged St. Michael's Orthodox Church, one blew up a truck owned by Rufus Kilpatrick, a state representative, and the third damaged the home of C. R. Smith.

Racial tension has been mounting here since last fall, when Lamar Tech opened its doors to Negroes in compliance with a federal order.

The campus was picketed for some time until picketing was ordered halted by mayor Jimmie Cokinos. Some minor scuffling was reported between pickets and Negro students. Lamar is still integrated.

All other schools here are segregated.

Recent attempts have been made to keep the city buses segregated.

Two Rangers, Eddie Oliver and Harvey Phillips, were sent here Tuesday. They accompanied the Sanfords to Austin.

Stafford said both men denied the charges and requested the tests.

Police said they thought St. Michael's Church was bombed in the mistaken belief it was the place of worship of Cokinos. Kilpatrick recently voted to send to committee a bill backed by an integration bloc. Smith said he felt his home was bombed because he had taken a "middle of the road" stand on integration.

Police said a dud dynamite bomb was found Tuesday in the yard of a Negro man, Oscar Fonteno. Fonteno was not known to be active in integration work.

WEATHER PICTURE:

'Rain Drops'

Light showers Thursday night brought welcome moisture to the Snyder area, and there were hopes of more light precipitation today.

A "clear" period this morning was short lived as low clouds rolled in again from the north and northeast.

The rainfall Thursday night measured .28 of an inch in Snyder, according to David Strayhorn, official weather observer. The new moisture increased the total for 1957 so far to .53 of an inch.

That is the most moisture recorded here for that period since 1949, when 2.3 inches were gauged in the month of January. The January average since 1911 is .6 of an inch.

The Weather Bureau predicted that West Texas skies would clear this afternoon, but more cloudy weather is expected Saturday. Temperatures are expected to drop below the freezing mark tonight, although the low last night was a mere 35 degrees.

The Weather Bureau forecast slightly warmer temperatures Friday with occasional rain. Saturday colder weather was due throughout the state.

He Kills Off 54 Persons

LONDON (AP)—A Salvation Army drummer who admitted killing off 54 "people" in 24 months has been sentenced to two years in jail.

The culprit is 42-year-old Birrell Davidson of Kennoway, Scotland.

He might still be pounding that set of skins, as he did for 20 years, except for one thing.

He knocked off one of those people twice.

This naturally aroused a certain amount of suspicion, and as a result Davidson found himself telling it to a judge in the Old Bailey police court.

The charge was defrauding the Salvation Army Insurance Co., for which Davidson worked as an agent when not drumming. The prosecution said 3,383 pounds ($9,472.40) was involved and unfolded this tale:

As agent for the company, Davidson sold policies, collected premiums and passed on death settlements from the firm to the beneficiaries. It was dull work paying only 5 pounds ($14) a week. But two years ago Davidson found a way to liven it up a bit.

He stole a pad of 75 blank death certificate forms from a registrar's office. Then he began taking out policies in the names of fictitious persons, paying the premiums himself. And when somebody living wanted to surrender a policy, Davidson would pay the cash surrender value out of his own pocket and continue the premiums.

When he needed money, he would kill off one of his policy holders, send the head office a forged death certificate, and pocket the proceeds. He got away with it 54 times.

The 55th time, he put in a claim for 200 pounds ($560) for the death of Mrs. Julia McBay. A clerk in the head office seemed to remember seeing that name before.

Local Lambs Place Eighth

SWEETWATER — Two Snyder lambs placed eight in stiff competition during the opening day of the six-county junior livestock show at Sweetwater today.

Powell Berry showed the eighth place lamb in the light weight fine wool class. Devane Jones had eighth in lightweight crossbred.

Snyder Future Farmers and 4-H club members faced competition from 101 lambs entered in the light weight class alone. Judging will continue this afternoon on sheep swine judging will begin.

Others from Snyder who placed were Clyde Reed, 16th, 27th and 28th; Jerry Scrivner, 33rd; Richard Miller, 25th; John Ward, 29th; Dick Hayes, 26th; Billy Green, 32nd and Clyde Robinson, 24th, all in lightweight fine wool.

In lightweight crossbred judging, results were: Dick Hayes, 11th; Billy Ray Browning, 13th, 18th; Richard Miller, 20th, Alex Cross, 21st and Billy Clyde Robinson, 31st.

Former Oklahoma Track Star Killed

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Forrest Efaw, former Oklahoma A&M track star and National AAU steeplechase champion, was electrocuted last night while hunting.

Efaw, 37, won four Missouri Valley mile and two-mile championships while running with the Aggie team in 1938-39-40 and after graduation won the National AAU championship.

Officers said he was hunting on his farm late yesterday when his dog chased a rabbit into a piece of irrigation pipe. Efaw lifted the pipe to shake out the animal and it came in contact with a high-voltage electric wire. His son, Fritz, 9, was with him at the time.

Bond Issue Okayed

HOUSTON (AP)—A $7 million bond issue for improvements at the Port of Houston was approved yesterday.

Tito Calls Off His Plans For U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The collapse of President Tito's scheduled visit to Washington deals a blow to U.S. policy aims in Eastern Europe.

State Department authorities, however, displayed no surprise at the announcement from Belgrade today that the Yugoslav leader, a Communist defiant of Moscow control, had called off the trip at least for the time being.

The reaction to the plan, among many congressmen and some other groups, had been bad.

Secretary of State Dulles, at the capitol for committee testimony on President Eisenhower's program to block Communist incursions in the Middle East, declined immediate official comment. He said he had not seen the announcement at the time.

But Sen. Ellender (D-La), who had raised one of the first voices in Congress in support of Eisenhower's plan to bring Tito here, expressed "disappointment."

"I hate to see such conditions created that President Tito feels there will not be a favorable atmosphere for a peace conference at this time," Ellender said.

"I am very hopeful that the President will review the invitation later if he thinks it will assist him in findng a solution to world problems."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said Tito "is pulling further and further away from us," and added:

"It is unfortunate that the climate is such at this time that a conference might prove harmful."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), on the other hand, urged fellow senators to be as "discourteous" as they can in references to Tito.

In a statement for Senate delivery, apparently prepared before the announcement that Tito would not come here, McCarthy said:

"It is now clear that we who believe that the Tito visit is bad for our country cannot hope to prevail upon the executive department to change its mind about the invitation. Our only hope, it seems, is to raise such a fuss that Tito will decide not to come."

Ellender, a frequent critic of administration foreign policy, said also that Eisenhower was "100 per cent right" in deploring the treatment accorded King Saud of Saudi Arabia on his arrival in New York. Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. criticized the King, and the city refused him an official welcome.

Ellender called "short-sighted and wrong" the opposition of some members of both houses of Congress against the reported invitation to Tito to visit this country.

Reports have been current for months that this country planned to invite Tito to visit Washington. The action was designed to strengthen ties with the man who, though a Communist dictator, broke with Moscow.

Strong objections have been voiced by members of Congress, and various Catholic and veterans organizations.

Because of these objections, the Yugoslav newspaper Borba reported this week Tito probably would not accept an invitation now even if it were pressed.

Air Testing Is Protested

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A tide of protest was rising today against the practice of testing airplanes over populous areas as a result of the flaming crash of a huge airliner into a crowded schoolyard.

The reaction came within hours after the four-engine plane collided at 20,000 feet with a jet fighter yesterday, then came down in a screaming dive, breaking apart as it fell.

The accident, which took place as both planes were being tested, left seven dead and 78 injured.

In Washington, Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand (R-Calif.), immediately called for an investigation of flight-testing over populated areas. He asked that all test flights over Los Angeles be stopped, pending examination of the regulations.

Residents for miles around said the sound of the transport crash was "like an earthquake."

Abilene Boy Killed During Patrol Chase

STAMFORD (AP)—Highway Patrolman Oscie Renfrow said John McMinn, 13, of Abilene, crashed and was killed last night while being pursued by officers.

Renfrow said the youth was driving an auto identified as one stolen in Abilene. He said the car failed to make a turn south of here and rolled over several times.

Death Jump Investigated In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—William Gerron, 51, either fell or jumped to his death from the ninth floor of the Montagu Hotel last night, landing within a few feet of the grill where his wife was preparing to eat. He was a lawyer, formerly of Brady.

Police were investigating the possibility that Gerron was pushed but said it was highly improbable that foul play is involved.

Gerron's wife, Mrs. Rita Gerron, 30, had just ordered her meal in the grill when she heard the impact of her husband's body on the sidewalk.

She ran to the window with others. She gave police later a detailed statement of events leading up to her husband's death.

She said she and Gerron were married in Corpus Christi in June of 1955, while he was a lawyer in the veterans' land scandals.

Mrs. Gerron said after she married Gerron, he became interested in Mexican sulphur, lead and other metal mining properties and they moved to Mexico City. Mrs. Gerron said her husband's investments didn't pan out, and that they came to Houston last year in an attempt to borrow money to carry on his projects.

Gerron lost that money, too, she said, and returned to Houston Jan. 20 to get more. Thursday, she said, her husband borrowed $1,500 from a friend.

Arms Policy Is Criticized

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today accused the Western Powers of deliberately evading a solution for the problem of world disarmament.

It charged, in a statement distributed by Tass, that the United States was "speeding up preparations" for a new atomic war—an obvious reference to American plans to establish foreign support commands.

The statement said the United States used not only evasion but delaying tactics within the United Nations to avoid a solution on the disarmament problem.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a news conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts toward solving the problem."

Death Toll Mounts In Flooded Section

By The Associated Press

The toll of death and destruction mounted today as new heavy rains fed one of the worst floods in the history of the Appalachian Mountain region and carried the threat deeper into the South.

Thirteen were dead in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia — first to be struck when floodwaters rolled out of the mountains four days ago.

President Eisenhower declared portions of Kentucky and West Virginia a disaster area as damages ran into millions of dollars. Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley also requested disaster designation for six southwest counties where 2,000 were homeless and 18,000 knocked out of their jobs.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, said it was allocating half a million dollars for flood relief in the three states.

But even as already devastated areas began the herculean task of getting back to normal, new flood warnings were raised in Tennessee, western North Carolina and northeast Georgia.

Farther south, the Warrior River was rising swiftly in Alabama, where the Tombigbee also was expected to go out of its banks.

Heavy rains continued to pound east Tennessee from Chattanooga to Knoxville. Eight and a half inches have fallen in 12 days, more than twice the normal amount for the month.

Two hundred families fled their homes at Sevierville, 26 miles southeast of Knoxville, as water from the Little Pigeon River rose to two and three feet deep in the center of town.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Asheville, N. C., sounded flash flood warnings for the mountain section. The Southern Railroad reported three freight trains stalled by landslides in western North Carolina.

STREET BECOMES CANAL—The main business street of Williamson, a West Virginia coal mining center, lies under water at the peak of the floods which forced the Tug River out of its normal bounds. An estimated 75 per cent of the city of 9,000 persons is covered by water.

Stay Of Execution Granted By Daniel

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel granted a 10-day stay of execution today to Alvaro Alcorta, 32, who was sentenced to die tomorrow for wife murder. This moves the execution date to Feb. 12.

The Pardons Board said Alcorta's attorney requested more time to appeal to a higher court.

Social Security Proposal Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended 275 million dollars to pay for improved social security benefits voted by the last Congress.

It included that amount in a catch-all bill calling for $335,090,000 in supplemental funds for the remaining five months of the current fiscal year. The over-all total was $46,997,500 less than President Eisenhower had requested.

The extra funds for the social security administration would boost to $1,575,000,000 the amount provided for the program for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The committee set aside an extra 15 million dollars for emergency conservation measures in drought-stricken states. The President had asked for 25 millions for this purpose, but the committee said the lesser sum would be enough for the five months remaining in this fiscal year.

It recommended that authority of the Agriculture Department to make farm ownership loans be hiked by 20 million dollars, bringing the total for this purpose to 44 millions for the year.

Also approved was an increase of 45 million dollars in revolving loan funds for the mall Business Administration.

The committee rejected a request of the Interior Department for 30 million dollars to continue domestic purchase of tungsten, asbestos, fluorspar and columbium - tantalum for the defense stockpile. The committee said there is no defense justification for further acquisition of these minerals and that "continuation of this subsidy program . . . is entirely unwarranted."

A request for $67,500 to enable the Foreign Quarantine Service to inspect ships on a 24-hour basis also was rejected. The committee said shippers now pay for the cost of extra-hour immigration and customs clearance.

Record Price Paid For Champion Steer

FORT WORTH (AP)—Lone Star Brewing Co. paid a record $7,000 today for the grand champion steer of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

The Hereford steer, exhibited by Bobby Sale, 13, of Stanton, won grand championship. The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sale and is a 4-H Club member.

Starts Second Year

PARIS (AP)—Mild-mannered Guy Mollet today started his second year as premier of France, a job in which the average tenure since the war has been about seven months.

REGISTRATION OF VEHICLES BEGINS

Registration of vehicles started here this morning at the office of the county tax assessor-collector.

The tax office is issuing the state's "new look" in license plates, which this year are with black numerals.

Motorists have until March 31 to register their vehicles, according to Geral G. Greene, tax assessor-collector.

Some 12,000 to 13,000 vehicles are expected to be registered here through the year.

4,504 Qualify To Vote In County

A total of 4,504 persons in Scurry County qualified as voters by the deadline yesterday.

These persons either paid poll taxes or secured exemption certificates. This is not a true total of the number of persons who can vote, since those living outside the city limits who were at least 60 years old by Jan. 1, 1956, can vote without exemption certificates, and those who will become 21 this year can still get exemptions, even though the poll tax deadline has passed.

There were 3,680 poll taxes paid and 864 exemptions. The office of Geral Greene, county tax assessor-collector, finally closed at about 9 p.m. yesterday. Closing time was 5 p.m., but the line continued to grow. Greene eased the burden of tax office employes working overtime by furnishing barbecued chicken.

Almost 700 persons qualified to vote from mid-morning yesterday until the office closed last night.

Although the number of persons who paid poll taxes or got exemptions does not represent even half the number in Scurry County who could qualify to vote, the figure is considered good.

The 4,504 total was high for an "off" year, when state and national elections and county elections are not held. In 1955, there were only 3,950 qualified voters. There were 7,145 last year, a regular election year. In other election years, there were 5,025 in 1954 and 7,335 in 1952, the record year.

Even though this is considered an "off" year, there will be at least four elections here this year. One drawing interest is the $750,000 right-of-way bond election in connection with the proposed Snyder freeway Feb. 16. There is the special U. S. Senate election scheduled April 2 to fill the seat vacated by Gov. Price Daniel. Locally, there will be a school board election and city council election. Those are the elections definitely scheduled so far.

By The Associated Press

The twin issues of prohibition and who will be senator boosted poll tax payments in vote-heavy Texas cities, a spot check Friday showed.

Records may be set for off-year tax payments in some cities. Deadline for payments was midnight Thursday.

Heaviest payments, in comparison to 1956—a presidential and statewide election year—appeared to be in Dallas, Galveston, Orange, Harris, Tom Green and an area between Beaumont and Port Arthur.

In those places, the possibility of prohibition balloting looms this year.

Some other local issues appeared to have helped edge payments in many counties over the figures for 1955—last off-year for elections.

Some cities gave credit for the approaching election of a senator to succeed Gov. Price Daniel.

Harris County (Houston) Assessor-Collector Carl Smith estimated collections could push final figures to about 365,000—which would be an unexpected increase over last year's general election total of 339,809. Political observers credit the special Senate race with part of the increase, but say most credit should go to much talk and speculation about prohibition elections. The 1955 total was 194,369.

In Dallas, where a prohibition election is almost certain, an estimated 200,000-plus persons qualified to vote, either through tax payments or registration for exemptions. This would be well ahead of the 136,440 total of 1955, and only slightly less than the 243,353 in 1956.

At Athens, figures were about the same for 1957 and 1955—3,220. Last year's total was 6,500. Water district and bond elections are expected.

Dan Nixon Is Sentenced To Die In Chair

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Former policeman Dan Nixon, 34, was found guilty of murder with malice yesterday in the fatal shooting of his wife and was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Nixon, suspended from the force after his 23-year-old blonde wife, Laura Jean, was shot six times Oct. 5, gasped when the verdict was read and began weeping.

His two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Goodale and Mrs. Jones Mingus, broke into hysterical sobs.

The jury deliberated two hours and 10 minutes before returning the guilty verdict and fixing his punishment at death. Formal sentencing will take place later.

During the trial, Nixon testified he shot his wife when he learned she was having unnatural sex relations with another man.

His attorney tried to show Nixon was out of his mind the day of the shooting. Two doctors gave opposing views as to his anity.

Nixon had said he took 16 antihistamine pills the night before the shooting and his attorney claimed Nixon was still feeling the effects of the pills the next day.

Obviousy shaken by the prosecution's vicious closing arguments, Nixon offered while waiting for the verdict to give his eyes to some blind person if he got the death penalty.

60 Caddys For Saud

DETROIT (AP)—More than 60 jewel-studded, custom-built Cadillacs have reportedly been ordered from General Motors for King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Automotive circles said the cars would be air-conditioned and some would have one-way window glass, enabling passengers to see out without being seen.

Armour plate and special gun mountings are reported going on some; still others are being especially equipped for desert hunting.

GM's Cadillac Division would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Sources acquainted with the cost of producing such custom-built vehicles estimated the fleet would cost near a million dollars.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Rules Are Rigid For Exemptions

By WILLIAM O. VARN
AP Newsfeatures

After picking the right form and deciding which type of return to file, the taxpayer should next get a clear idea of the number of exemptions he can claim.

The rules on exemptions are rigid and are strictly applied because they free so much of your income from taxation. It is to your advantage to claim all exemptions to which you are entitled, but no more.

For each exemption, you can deduct $600 from your gross income right away. That much is tax free. You get one $600 exemption for yourself and another $600 for your wife if you file jointly. If you file separately, each can claim one exemption for himself or herself separately.

You can claim another exemption of $600 each for one child, stepchild or legally adopted child who received more than half of his or her support from you and who had not reached the age of 19. If your child is either a student or less than 19, you may claim him as a dependent and get an exemption, regardless of the amount of income he or she may have. If the child is 19 or more, and is not a full-time student, you lose the exemption if he had over $600 income during the year. You also can claim a married child as a dependent if he or she fits the description of age and income and did not file a joint return with his or her spouse for 1956.

For dependents other than children, five requirements must be met to claim an exemption. They must: (A) have received less than $600 gross income during the year; (B) have received more than half of his or her support from you; (C) not have filed a joint return with his wife (or her husband); (D) be a citizen of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; and (E) either have been a member of your household for the entire taxable year, or must be related to you. They may be relatives of the husband or wife if a joint return is filed.

Relatives qualifying under these provisions as dependents for whom you may claim an exemption are: mother, father, mother or father-in-law, brother, sister, stepbrother or step-sister, brother or sister-in-law, son or daughter-in-law, stepmother or stepfather, grandparents, granchildren, or (when related by blood) aunt, uncle, nephew or niece.

If several persons together contributed more than half the support of an individual during the year, but no one contributed more than half alone, the group may decide on one of their number to claim the exemption. If a dependent was born or died during the year, you can claim a full exemption if the dependent met the above tests for the part of the year he or she was alive.

Aged and blind taxpayers, including husband and wife on a joint return, get special exemptions treatment under the law. Besides the regular $600 personal exemption, a taxpayer who is 65 years of age or over, or who is blind gets an additional $600 for age or blindness. Thus, a taxpayer 65 or older gets $1,200 exemption and if blind another $600 or a total of $1,800. A taxpayer who is under 65 can get the regular $600 exemption plus $600 if blind, or a total of $1,200. A married couple, each blind and 65 or over, would be able to exempt $1,800 each or $3,600 of their income from tax.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zetsman, 305 Thirty-Sixth St., announce the arrival of a son on Jan. 29, in the Sweetwater Municipal Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Zetsman, Roscoe; and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Steward, Houston, formerly of Snyder.

District Meeting Of P-TA Planned

A meeting of the executive committee of the district covering this area of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers was held here yesterday to plan events of the district conference, to be held in Snyder March 26-27.

Meeting with the group were some members of the city P-TA council, headed by Mrs. Harold Brown. Local P-TA units will host the district conference.

Here for the conference will be Mrs. F. C. McConnell of Austin, a state vice-president, and Floyd Parsons, superintendent of the Big Spring schools, a state committee chairman. Both will make talks during the session. Mrs. McConnell will be main speaker for the morning session of the March 27 conference.

Helping to plan activities of the conference yesterday were Mrs. Bob Herren of Haskell, district president; Mrs. Robert Cross of Anson., a state vice-president; and Dr. Dwane Collins of Snyder, district vice-president.

On the first day of the conference a district board meeting will be held. A tea for that afternoon has been scheduled for the board and for past local P-TA officers by the city council. That night, the district board will be honored at a dinner.

During the afternoon of March 27, opportunity sessions will be held on the same pattern as that followed by the last state conventions, each session to have leaders and resource persons. They will be on legislation, and teacher recruitment. Collins is coordinator of the program.

Department Store Sales Are Slashed

DALLAS (AP)—A 17 per cent drop in Dallas department store sales for the week ending Jan. 26 helped pull down sales totals by 7 per cent in the 11th Federal Reserve District.

Sales showed gains of 1 per cent in El Paso and 2 per cent in Fort Worth for the week. Houston sales declined 2 per cent and San Antonio sales 1.

Lost 25 Pounds With Barcentrate

Mrs. Marie Bussly, 1508 Winnebago, Corpus Christi, wrote us that she had lost 25 pounds taking Barcentrate.

Get Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat without starvation diet, return the empty bottle for your money back.

WOMEN

IN COOKING FAD

Small Boys Ape Their Dads

AP Newsfeatures

NOW THAT DADS are doing K.P. duty in something like 75 per cent of American homes, Juniors also have discovered that it's fun to cook.

Male chefs, senior and junior, steaks with a flourish these days, while Mom sits back and applauds. The trend has extended to Toyland, where some of the most popular toys of the year are junior cooking sets designed for the cowboy-and Indian crowd. There's a new chow-time set featuring miniatures of famous brands of soup, baked beans and spaghetti, including recipes with a western flavor. Junior size barbecue equipment and soup chef sets also are available and in high demand.

To prepare these viands there are miniatures of famous brand appliances, such as a battery powered electric mixer. There are brand-name cooking utensils in the culinary kits, also. Even handsome copper-bottomed pots and pans just like Mother uses are available in miniature.

There's a fiberglass insulated toy stove, and a new electric saucepan for junior cooks. New also is a line of toasters that pop up and light up like the real thing, although they don't actually work.

The boom in playroom food equipment extends to the grocery store. A new favorite is a fiberboard supermaket with ample shelves stocked with brand-name packages.

Jelly making is another new enterprise for the younger set. And there are pancake and pizza mixes available in junior sizes for the greater glory of the pint-size chef.

Getting Into College Poses Tough Problem In US Today

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

ONCE YOUR SON or daughter has narrowed his choice of colleges down to about half a dozen he must fill out an application blank for each college.

Many of the big-name colleges today are crowded. Some of them get from five to 10 applications for every opening they have. This does not mean, however, that only the genius gets accepted. But in addition to the famous colleges there are many good somewhat less well-known institutions that even have trouble filling their classes.

The things a college looks for in an applicant are:

1. Academic standing in his class.
2. Extra-curricular activities.
3. Recommendation from his high school.
4. Results of the College Entrance Examination.

Academic standing is important. The student in the upper 10 per cent of his high school class will have no trouble; students in the upper 25 per cent probably will be accepted in the big-name schools. Below this it's not too likely a student will be accepted in the popular crowded schools. It would be wise for a student whose grades are not too good to apply to several of the lesser-known colleges. There is no harm, of course, in his applying to a big-name school, too. Grades are not all the colleges pay attention to; they look not only at academic records. They want young people who are interested in out-of-class activities. Work on the school paper, in the dramatic club, in sports, in any of the many extra-activities of the high school help turn young people into good college material.

Recommendation from the high school principal is given heavy weight by most colleges. This recommendation covers not only the grades the student received in high school and a list of his extra-curricular activities but also some remarks on what kind of a human being he is and how much the high school thinks he would profit from a college education.

Last are the results of the examinations given by the College Entrance Examination Board.

This board offers standardized tests to make it possible for high school seniors to apply to more than one college without taking more than one set of entrance examinations. The scores of the C.E.E.B. tests are submitted by the Board to as many colleges as the student wishes to apply to. Some colleges require these tests, but all colleges consider them. The C.E.E.B. tests are given all over the world on five specified days during the year. A small fee is charged. There are two tests. The Scholastic Aptitude test is a combination of a general information exam and an intelligence test. It is a three-hour morning exam. The second is the Achievement tests. These are three one-hour exams given in the afternoon. The student has a choice of which subjects he wishes to be examined in.

. . . Special Coiffure Created

WEEK DEDICATED TO WOMEN

An ode to spring in coiffure design is this "Eloquent Elegance Beaufantasie" coiffure created by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association for National Beauty Salon Week.

This week, observed Feb. 10, is dedicated to more beautiful women, a thought in keeping with the silken swirls of feminine flattery emphasized in this coiffure.

The asymmetrical styling of the casual waves lends itself to complete harmony with the one-sided hats of the season.

A natural looking permanent wave professionally prescribed maintains the line and silken softness of the coiffure.

Width in the coiffure is maintained with a line and lifted waves, rather than bulk, and hair length is definitely shorter.

Women Can Look More Sexy In Ski Clothes Than Bathing Suit

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The best way to hunt a husband is on skis, says Fred Picard, an international authority on glamor in the snow.

"A girl can look sexier in ski clothes than in a bathing suit," says Picard, who has a unique opportunity to compare snow maidens and bathing beauties, since he lives in Sun Valley, Idaho, where girls schuss down the showy slopes for a quick change and a plunge in the pool. "Most men find women more intriguing if something is left to the imagination. And a beautiful girl is never more radiant than when her cheeks are glowing and her eyes sparkling from healthful outdoor exercise at 10 below."

Good-looking, athletic young men also are plentiful at ski resorts, points out Picard, who started designing ski clothes in his native Switzerland, but became an American citizen after coming to this country to assist in setting up the Swiss Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

He now lives with his wife Andree and 11-year-old daughter Jacqueline in the original log cabin built by Sun Valley's first settler, David Ketchum.

A girl who seriously considers finding romance on the ski slopes must, however, give careful thought to her outfit, says Picard. Her ski clothes must be correctly tailored, because she can easily look a mess if they are either too baggy or too tight. This designer deplores the current trend toward skin-tight elastic ski pants, because, he says, they are likely to look merely like long underwear.

"Properly fitted ski pants should have a taut, narrow look which give a girl a slim, long-legged appearance," says he. "But if they are too tightly fitted of elasticized fabric, they may have just the opposite effect and reveal bumps and bulges which are better concealed."

The husband-hunting skier should go in for bright colors, says Picard, pointing out that a white snowscape makes the perfect background for vivid hues.

FOR GOOD EATING

Apples have been called Nature's most versatile fruit and in today's 30-minute, over-baked dinner you'll find the apples impart a delicious, fresh-tasting flavor that transforms this jiffy meal into a satisfying, sumptuous repast. Choice quality, all-purpose apples like the late-harvested spicy ones are plentiful now and these are good keepers so you can have a supply on hand. The other ingredients come right off your pantry shelf so this is also an excellent "emergency" recipe to have available for those occasions when unexpected guests stay to dinner.

HURRY-UP HAM AND APPLE OVEN DINNER

2 12-oz. cans luncheon meat
3 Winesap apples, cored
¾ cup currant jelly
2 tbsps. prepared horse-radish
2 large cans julienne green beans, to measure 5 cups
4 tabsps. butter or margarine

Cut each loaf of luncheon meat crosswise into 3 equal protions. Cut apples into inch slices. Arrange apple and meat slices alternately down the center of a 8 x 12 inch baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 mins. Mix jelly and horseradish together. Spoon half over meat and apples. Heap green beans around the loaf, and dot with butter or margarine. Replace in oven and continue baking for 10 mins. Spoon remaining jelly-horseradish sauce over loaf to serve. Serves 6.

Valentine Favorite: Amethyst

February's birthstone, the amethyst — symbol of sincerity — is said to have been the favorite stone of St. Valentine. He wore one engraved with a Cupid, popularizing it as a stone for lovers and making it particularly appropriate in modern times as a St. Valentine's Day expression of sentiment.

Entitled to wear the amethyst, birthstone for February, are Charles Lindbergh, American pioneer in aviation, and Charles Darwin, scientist and naturalist. Also on the February list are inventor Thomas Alva Edison and the untiring 17th Century diarist, Samuel Pepys, along with well-known contemporaries in theatrical arts: Clark Cable, Katherine Cornell and Lana Turner.

Worn by the Crusaders as symbols of inner serenity, amethysts, according to legend compiled by the Jewelry Industry Council, were long felt to be ample safeguards aginst unrest. They still are traditional in bishops' rings and appear in the English Coronation Service and in the coronet of the Prince of Wales. They are mined in Uruguay, Brazil, Ceylon, the Urals and Madagascar.

Modern jewelry designers are showing amethysts increasingly, in faceted stone rings for men and women and in pins, clips, bracelets and necklaces in which the gems often are grouped with other stones of contrasitng colors.

If you are plump, don't kid yourself into thinking that tightly fitting clothes make you appear slimmer. Material stretched over flesh adds to size. It does not detract from it.

Engagement Ring Marks Lover's Day

A record number of betrothal diamonds will sparkle on Valentine's Day this year to give the 'day of lovers' a special glow of its own, according to the Jewelry Industry Council.

The romantic practice of picking Valentine's Day as an engagement date has grown steadily since World War II, says Albert E. Haase, Council president, until today it challenges Christmas as the favorite date for announcing engagements.

Because the engagement ring is one of the most important pieces of jewelry many girls ever own, Mr. Haase suggests a practical as well as a romantic approach in a brief four-point guide to what to look for in buying a diamond.

The Council's "4Cs" are color, clarity, cut and carat and they are defined as follows:

"Color" in a diamond is a delicate thing; a faint shade or tone can make a world of difference. Diamonds have been found in varying colors, from colorless white to deep yellow, brown, blue and even black. The finest commercial diamonds, so far as color is concerned, resemble a crystal clear drop of water.

"Clarity" refers to a diamond's freedom from imperfections such as spots of carbon, internal cracks or tiny bubbles. Nothing in nature is perfect and a diamond is a product of nature. The smaller the flaws in a diamond and the fewer there are, the greater the value. For commercial purposes a diamond which shows no flaws to an expert eye under a 10 power jeweler's magnifying glass may be advertised legally as "perfect" or "flawless."

"Cut" refers to the shape of the diamond and the process by which it is changed from the rough to the faceted stone. Until the stone is cut its value is but potential. Regardless of how clear or large a diamond may be, until it is cut and polished, it has very little beauty. In fact, the full measure of its beauty, meaning its fire and brilliance, is attained only by the proper cutting.

"Carat," the fourth "C," is the acceptable standard of weight for diamonds. The carat is divided into 100 points. Thus when a girl says her diamond is one quarter carat she means 25 points.

But whatever its size, the engagement diamond's long lasting beauty lights a special light of love on Valentine's Day, the Council says.

'New Look' Back Again

PARIS (AP) — Christian Dior brought back the New Look today.

The Paris style dictator dropped skirts by a good four inches on an average, or to more than mid-calf, in his "Liberty Line" show.

Many of the afternoon dresses came to the bottom of the calf and some almost to the ankle. Allowing for very high heels, Dior's new length seems to vary between 14 and perhaps 8 inches from the floor.

It was another break with other Paris designers who are featuring hemlines 16 inches or so above the floor. But across the Channel Dior already has support in British designers who've lowered their hems to 13 inches from the ground.

However, Dior's new length is not a fashion revolution of the proportions of his New Look of just 10 years ago. He paved the way with a dozen long dresses last season — now he lets the ladies choose between longer and longest.

(No. 3) SOME FACTS ABOUT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

THERE IS NO CLERGY AND LAITY. The Holy Spirit does not sanction calling preachers, "Reverend"; this title belongs to God, "He hath sent redemption unto his people: . . . holy and reverend is his name." (Psalm 111:9). There is no hierarchy in the church. The bishops are the elders and the pastors (se last week's article). There is no distinction between Christians except in function. Deacons, evangelists, teachers and others who serve in any capacity do so under the supervision of elders who are bishops (overseers), "Take heed therefore unto yourselves ("elders" see v. 17), and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers. . . . " (Acts 20:28). The elders are under the chief Shepherd (Christ), "The elders which are among you I exhort, . . . Feed the flock of God which is among you, . . . Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being examples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory . . . " (I Pet. 5:1-4).

TO BE GREAT IN THE LORD'S CHURCH one must render great service, ". . . Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and that they are great exercise authority upon them. But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant." (Matt. 20:25-27).

REDEEMED WOMEN AND MEN ARE: (1) Memebrs, "Now ye are the body (church, Col. 1:18) of Christ, and members in particular." (ICor. 12:27). (2) Disciples, "And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, . . . " (Acts 6:1). (3) Christians, ". . . And the disciples were called Christians first at Antioch." (Acts 11:26). (4) Believers, "And beleivers were the more added to the Lord, . . . " (Acts 5:14). (5) Saints, ": . . Lord, I have heard . . . how much evil he hath done to the saints at Jerusalem." (Acts 9:13). (6) Priests, "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, . . . " (IPet. 2:9). (7) Children of God, "In this the children of God are manifest, . . . " (IJno. 3:10). (8) Brethren, "I beseech you therefore, brethren . . ." (Rom. 12:1).

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Much has been written about the early years of a child's life being the formative years, but I seriously doubt that they influence the sort of person he becomes any more than the guidance he receives as a teen-ager.

Teen-agers have a natural tendency to be happy-go-lucky and carefree. They tend to take the easy way whenever that way is possible and they tend to shirk responsibility and neglect obligations unless they have been pointedly taught that this is wrong. To build character a devoted parent must instill high principles.

Joe discovers he's out of notebook paper so he asks Jimmy to "lend" him a few sheets. Tomorrow the incident is forgotten. What's a few sheets of paper? It has little value and everyboyd borrows items like that. Sometimes it's paper and sometimes it's a pencil, an art gum eraser or even small change when lunch money is all spent too early in the week.

Where's the line? If there is no need to repay a few sheets of notebook paper or a borrowed dime, why should one repay a borrowed book or a borrowed dollar? Or if we carry slip shod training into adult life we have a full grown person who feels no compulsion about paying charge accounts promptly or other non-recurrent bills at all.

Teen-agers are careless, carefree people and we may be tempted to say, "Leave them alone and don't hamper them with restrictions, but this is the wrong attitude.

Good training during their formative years is of utmost importance.

A person's credit is a person's character and not to be dealt with lightly. Instill this in your teen-ager. Letting a sloven attitude develop in small matters today can ruin their entire future and happiness tomorrow.

"A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches."

Injury Of Workhorse Turns Louisville 5 Into A Power

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Memo to basketball coaches: Like to improve your team, turn it from a good one into perhaps a great one? Then take a look at Bernie Hickman and his Louisville Cardinals.

It happens this way. First, the star of your good team turns up with a back ailment. It reduces his effectiveness both as a scorer and rebounder just enough that someone else has to take over his workhorse duties. The new leader develops so quickly that by the time the ailing ace is ready to go at close to top speed again you have two stars instead of one and perhaps a great team instead of justa good one.

Foolproof system . . . provided you have Louisville's depth, an ailing star with the capabilities of a fellow like All America candidate Charlie Tyra, and a teammate with the potential of Bill Darragh.

The Tyra-Darragh punch has rolled the Cardinals into a 10-game winning streak, with Miami (Fla.) the latest victim by 89-60 last night. More than that, Louisville is up to No. 3 nationally with a 14-2 record and ready to take over should either top-ranked North Carolina or second-ranked Kansas falter.

Both Tyra and Darragh scored 19 points against Miami and Tyra showed he's back in shape by grabbing 18 rebounds, hardly the sign of an injured player.

Duke took over second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference by defeating Maryland 72-60. Wake Forest continued to move up, making it six in a row and 18 out of 14 by routing Virginia 73-58.

Oklahoma City whipped Wichita 84-70, and St. Peters of New Jersey stretched the nation's longest winning streak to 19 against Siena 81-60.

St. Johns of Brooklyn (9-4) improved its NIT chances, 78-70 over Pitt, and Montana won its ninth straight home game and took over second place in the Skyline Conference battling as well, 64-60 over Wyoming.

Denver stopped Utah State 69-66 in overtime and Utah routed Colorado A&M 86-60 in other Skyline games. Temple defeated Delaware 87-57, Cincinnati drubbed Toledo 68-63, Brown beat Harvard in overtime, 58-56, on Joe Tebo's jump shot with two seconds left, Xavier of Ohio crushed Baltimore Leyola 102-76, Evansville surprised Butler 81-72, Eastern Kentucky edged the Quantico Marines 102-96 in another overtime game, and Maine lost 100-60 to Rhode Island.

Billy Tied For Phoenix Lead

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The accent was on youth today as two former United States amateur golf champions, Billy Maxwell and Arnold Palmer, led the way into the second round of the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

Maxwell, of Odessa, Tex., 1951 winner of the amateur title, and Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., the 1954 champion — both pros for less than three years — had 4-under-par 66s starting off today at the par 34-36--70 Arizona Country Club.

One shot back was still another newcomer, a 25-year-old novice pro named Gene Bone from Louisville, Ky., and Detroit. Representing the Old Guard of tournament golf was Lloyd Mangrum, also listed at 67.

Cary Middlecoff, 1956 winner of the Phoenix event, finished with a 69 and a tie for 14th place around — and in back of such young fellows as Doug Higgins of Midland, Tex., Billy Casper Jr., of Bonita, Calif., Don January of Lampasas, Tex., Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y., as well as Messrs. Maxwell, Palmer and Bone.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THERE'S A REMOTE possibility that Snyder might land the site for the Region 1-AAAA basketball tournament.

Snyder is just about as centrally located among the four districts involved, Districts 1-4, as any city.

The districts involved are the El Paso, Panhandle and Fort Worth districts and the district next to us, 2-4A composed of Abilene, Big Spring, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa.

Odessa, actually, is the most logical site but since Odessa is a member of one of the districts involved, the other three districts would likely vote against holding the tournament there.

Lubbock's Coliseum Another Logical Site

Lubbock, too, is another spot pretty well centrally located but there again you have the "member city" problem as Lubbock is a member of the one of the competing districts.

Lubbock, if she wants the tournament, might well land it, though. The Hub city has the advantage over Odessa in that the tournament could be held in the spacious Municipal Coliseum which would be a strange court to all participating teams.

The two Lubbock schools, Tom S. and Monterey, do not use the Coliseum. In the case of Odessa, the gym there wouldn't be a "strange" place to the 2-AAAA champion.

A lot of things depend, of course, of Snyder bidding for the tournament.

The local interest right now, naturally, is centered around our own Tigers in their bid for the 3-AAA title.

If the Tigers go on to win the 3-AAA race of which they are now leading, then we certainly wouldn't want to distract from the Tiger playoff games by bidding for the Region 1-AAAA tournament.

Tourney Idea Unlikely In Region 1-3A

Whereas Region 1-4A will likely determine its champion in a tournament, we don't look for Region 1-3A to do likewise.

Region 1-4A is scattered out much more than Region 1-3A, therefore a tournament idea would fit 1-4A more than it would in 1-3A.

You'll recall that each region has two options (1) to play single game bi-district series, or (2) hold a four-team single elimination regional tournament at one site.

As in the case of the 1-4A region, Abilene, if she wins 2-AAAA of which she now leads, would have to play the El Paso champion, 450 miles away. That would be a long jaunt for either team to have to go for one basketball game.

And in the other bracket, the Panhandle champ which will be either Pampa or Borger, will play the Fort Worth champ, better than 300 miles apart. So you can see how scattered out Region 1-4A is.

The fartherest point in Region 1-3A is less than 250 miles for the most part and most of 'em are much closer than that.

We may be wrong but we feel like the four champions in Region 1-3A will vote to stage the playoffs in two separate parts, bi-district game one week and the regional finals game the following week.

Well, guess we're putting the "cart before the horse" since none of the districts we're referring to here has determined its champion.

Expansion On NFL Agenda

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A discussion of the players' assn., talk about possible expansion to a 14-team league and proposed rules revisions are on the schedule for today's second session of the annual National Football League meeting.

The 2 NFL clubs completed their annual 30-round player draft yesterday and today go behind closed doors in executive session to take up various problems con-Bert Bell who last night was awarded a $10,000 boost in salary to $40,000 a year and a $10,000 bonus for 1956, presided.

Bell was expected to submit the results of his two-day meeting with player representatives Kyle Rote of the New York Giants, and Norman Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams and their attorney, Creighton Miller, former Notre Dame football player.

The players ask for formal recognition by the owners and the league, a minimum salary of $5,000, expense money in training season, a $12 minimum for board and lodging between the end of the training season and the first league game, an injury clause guaranteeing a full season's pay and a shorter training season.

End Dick Wallen, UCLA sophmore, caught 23 passes for 308 yards and two touchdowns, during the 1956 season.

San Angelo Drops Pro Baseball

SAN ANGELO (AP)—The San Angelo Colts have given notice they are returning their franchise to the Class C Southwestern League.

Eight of the club's 12 directors yesterday signed intent to quit the league and passed a resolution declaring the organization insolvent.

The directors said a bankruptcy claim would be filed today.

The Colts drew only 50,000 fans last year.

W. J. Green, president of the league, said he would attempt to find a new operator for the franchise. He said any new operator would have to clear a debt of $2,738 owed by San Angelo and deposit another $2,300 with the National Assn. of Minor Leagues.

Turman Wins By KO For 10th Time

DALLAS (AP) — Buddy Turman, 179, Dallas, scored the 10th knockout of his career last night when he KO'd Otis Carr, 200, of Wichita, Kan., in the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Turman exploded with a flurry of punches from the opening bell and floored his heavier opponent for an eight count before putting him away for keeps in the fading seconds of the round.

Turman now has a record of 21 victories against two losses.

Texas Starts Spring Drills

AUSTIN (AP)—Approximately 80 candidates, including more than 20 lettermen, are expected to turn out when the University of Texas holds its first spring football practice Monday.

They will provide the material which the newly-appointed grid coach, Darrell Royal, will be working in an effort to rebuild the university's football fortunes.

The Longhorns will engage in 18 spring practice sessions, which by Southwest Conference rules must be completed within 28 calendar days.

Royal, the 25th to serve the university as head coach, has indicated the spring drills will terminate with an intra-squad game on Feb. 28.

Although lettermen will be available for every position, it will be several days before the eligibility status of all candidates is certified. Fall semester examinations were completed only this week and final grades have not been tabulated in all courses.

Leading performers of the 1956 varsity, which posted a 1-9 won-and-lost record, will be back and will be augmented by stellar freshmen who fashioned a 4-1 season mark.

Among them are Walter Fondren, who for two seasons has been the league's most versatile backfielder; Joe Clements, the top passer and total offense leader of the Southwest Conference, and Bob Bryant, the No. 1 pass receiver in the conference.

He will appreciate the opportunity to meet you.

In the business life . . .in the social life . . .in all every-day-activity of Snyder . . . think of those two words — "GET ACQUAINTED" — in terms of WHAT THEY MEAN TODAY? Wouldn't this be a sorry place if no one knew no one? Then, conversely, the more people you know, the more enjoyment is YOURS! Yes, the basic enjoyment of living.

And, so . . .there's to be "LET'S GET ACQUAINTED," the time of directing EVERYONE'S ATTENTION to EVERY ONE in Snyder!

Let's Get Acquainted

Dulles Given Boobie Prize

LONDON (AP) — Egyptian President Nasser no longer holds the undisputed title of "Foreigner Most Hated in Britain." U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Prime Minister Nehru of India moved up fast this week as strong contenders.

Most observers still gave Nasser a slight lead as consequences of the Suez Canal fiasco pinched tighter and tighter on the British economy. But Dulles' remarks on British and French soldiers and India's actions in the Kashmir dispute left Nasser's claim at least shaky.

Dulles long has been one of the less favorite figures in Britain. His popularity dropped to its new low after he told a Senate committee last Thursday: "Personsonally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

Dulles was trying to explain that one reason President Eisenhower hadn't asked Britain and France to join in his new doctrine on the Middle East was because of the unpopularity of the British and French in the Arab world as a result of the Suez invasion. But as usual the explanation failed to catch up with the original statement in a public mind already prepared to believe the worst of Hulles.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph summed up British reactions thus: "Anti-American feeling goes against the grain here; but there is no similar compunction about anti-Dulles feeling, as the secretary of state may discover if he goes on forgetting himself. What he said was gratuitously offensive."

Plans Will Be Made

WESLACO (AP)—A steering committee has been appointed by members of a special all-Valley irrigation field day committee to make plans for their upcoming water conservation program.

Man Lands Airplane On Kansas Turnpike

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Jack Wilson got lost in a patch of fog while flying his light plane home from Emporia, Kan., so he landed on the Kansas Turnpike and taxied six miles to its nearest service station.

Officials said this violated several regulations but they decided not to prosecute.

In fact, they arranged for highway patrolmen to stop traffic on the toll road long enough to let Wilson take off again.

The diameter of the planet Mars is 4,200 miles, about half that of the earth.

CONTROLS SOUGHT

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Senate bill 78 just introduced in the Idaho legislature calls for establishing a "state board of rain control" with enforcement vested in the liquor law enforcement division.

The bill says in part: "If Idaho is to gain her rightful place in the economy of the west, it is essential that the whimsy of the elements be placed under rigid and planned control. . . ."

The tongue-in-cheek group of lawmakers who introduced the measure was headed by State Sen. R. M. Wetherell, a Democrat.

No Firecrackers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Don Toy tactfully told his guests at a Chinese New Year's Day dinner last night that they could not follow the usual Chinese custom of shooting firecrackers. Toy pointed to one of the guests—Police Chief Bernard Brannon. It is against the law to shoot firecrackers in Kansas City.

Ministers Week Is Planned For State

DALLAS — As many as 3,000 ministers of all faiths may come to the Southern Methodist University campus here on Feb. 4-7 from throughout the United States to attend the university's 22nd annual Ministers Week, an event that has grown into the largest of its kind in Protestantism, according to officials.

Three churchmen — one of them SMU Chancellor Umphrey Lee — will deliver a series of lectures during the four-day theological get-together, which is designed to help produce a better trained ministry.

Other two speakers are Dr. James Muilenburg, professor of Hebrew and Cognate languages at Union Theological seminary in New York City, and Dr. Theodore F. Adams, pastor of First Baptist church in Richmond, Va., and president of the Baptist World Alliance.

Lectures — 13 in all — will be given in McFarlin Memorial auditorium and will be open to the public.

Besides the lectures, two other events are to be featured during the week.

With representatives present from some ten institutions she has aided, a testimonial dinner for Mrs. W. W. Fondren, Houston churchwoman and philanthropist, will be held Feb. 4.

On Feb. 6, the Methodist Historical library, given to the university by retired Bishop Frederick D. Leete, will be formally dedicated.

This library, valued conservatively at $150,000 and containing 3,000 items, is one of the most comprehensive collections in existence about Methodism and its founder, John Wesley, say leaders.

On Feb. 2, a dinner will honor Bishop and Mrs. Leete.

Ministers Week at SMU was instituted under that name in 1936. It grew out of a lectureship on Christian missions endowed in 1919 by Mrs. Fondren and her late husband.

Two SMU buildings bear the Fondren name: Fondren library and Fondren Science building.

During Ministers Week, Hr. Lee will deliver the Fondren lectures. His theme will be "An Earnest Appeal And What Became Of It." He will speak five times, including the opening and the closing Ministers Week addresses.

"God And Man In The Old Testament" is the subject of Dr. Muilenburg's four Jackson lectures on the Bible.

Dr. Adams' Peyton Lectures on preaching will develop the theme of "A Pastor Looks At His Preaching." He will also speak four times.

Morning prayer and holy communion will be held each morning during the week, and a number of meetings for special groups are also on the program.

Highland Park Methodist church will be the scene of a Perkins School of Theology Alumni luncheon on Feb. 6.

Institutions and organizations besides SMU which have received gifts from Mrs. Fondren and which will pay tribute to her at the dinner in her honor include: Board of Hospitals and Homes, The Methodist Church; the Methodist Home, Waco; St. Paul Methodist church, Houston; Scarritt College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tenn.; Southwestern university, Georgetown; Texas Methodist Conference; Institute of Religion, Houston; Methodist Hospital, Houston; and Rice institute, Houston.

Training School At Colonial Hill Church

A training school was being held at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church this week, and through Wednesday 173 had enrolled in the one-week course.

A total of 87 adults and young people were studying the book of Romans, taught by the Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor. Roy Hanson was teaching intermediates, who numbered 15. There were 21 juniors under direction of Mrs. S. R. Murphy. With Mrs. John Best, elementary director, leading, there were several teachers working with children, including Mrs. M. L. Rogers, Mrs. Claude Hensley, Mrs. W. F. Allmand, Mrs. B. J. Hart, Mrs. W. W. Carey, Mrs. Truman Black, and Mrs. Best.

Highlights of each evening were the playing of tape-recorded messages from the evangelistic conference held in Fort Worth last month.

Deacon Nomination At Colonial Hill

Twenty-four men will be nominated Sunday by the congregation of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church for deaconship.

Twelve of the men are to be elected, and on the following Sunday they will be chosen from the 24 nominees. The 12 will serve as active deacons.

A system of deacon rotation had previously been adopted by the church.

Pan American Is Firm's New Name

"Stanolind is now Pan American Petroleum Corporation."

That was the greeting persons who telephoned the nation's fourth ranking oil producer heard today at the company's locations throughout the United States and Canada.

For today was the effective date of the change of name from Stanolind Oil and Gas Company to Pan American Petroleum. The change was first announced last week.

The new telephone greeting was only one of a series of moves by the company to implement adoption of its new name.

New letterheads for outside correspondence went into use at all locations. Stationery for internal use will be replaced as existing stocks are depleted.

Pan American Petroleum commericial checks were issued for the first time. Employees who are paid at the first of the month received their last payroll checks bearing the Stanolind name. They'll get their first Pan American paychecks on the 16th. Others who are paid on the 10th of the month will see the new issue a few days earlier.

Work was begun on the major task of changing building signs, lease and well signs, and truck identification insignia.

Letters are going out to supplier utilities, public officials and others with whom the company does business, notifying them of the changeover.

New corporate seals were placed in use by the company secretary and assistant secretaries.

Some idea of the magnitude of the task can be gained from these facts: Pan American Petroleum has more than 8,500 employees; it operates about 14,800 producing wells in 15 states and one Canadian province; it owns about 12,500 producing oil and gas wells; it operates 15 natural gasoline and cycling plants; it has offices in or near 65 towns and cities in the United States and Canada.

E. F. Bullard, president of Pan American Petroleum, stressed that the change is one of corporate name only, and that neither the company's organization nor its operations would be affected in any way.

The name was changed, he said, for two reasons: "To eliminate any possibility of association and confusion between the company and others with names similar to, or having similar significance to, our name, and to give our company a name indicative of the geographical extent of our operations."

Bullard noted that within the past 15 months, Pan American Petroleum has become active through subsidiaries in Cuba, Jamaica and Venezuela, in addition to its long-standing operations in the United States and Canada.

The company's general office and research center are in Tulsa. Division offices are in Oklahoma City, Fort Worth, Houston, Casper and Calgary.

Metropolitan Label Sought For Valley

WESLACO (AP) — The Valley Chamber of Commerce has invited a team of men from the Bureau of the Budget to inspect the Lower Rio Grande Valley in an effort to get the Valley designated as a metropolitan area.

Jack Drake, executive vice president of the Valley Chamber, made the invitation in a revised presentation to the Bureau.

"There is no doubt in my mind," Drake said, "that metropolitan designation would follow immediately" if the officials would ride along the "longest main street in the world, U.S. Highway 83 which connects the cities of the Valley."

The designation would automatically allow the Valley increased allotments in business and reduced rates, Drake said. He said some companies allow discounts for cities in metropolitan areas and increased allotments of hard to get items. The designation would rank the Valley 52nd in the U.S. market, he added.

The Budget Bureau turned down the earlier presentation, Drake said, because of a rule that a city in the area must have a population of 50,000 or more to get the classification.

But he claimed the Bureau's definition and method of designation of a metropolitan area were inconsistent.

Polio Immunization Plan May Be Dropped

HOUSTON (AP)—The Foster Place Methodist Church, which attempted to immunize its 750 members against polio, faced the prospect today of abandoning the project.

The church group, charging only $1 a shot, had completed administration of one of the three-shot Salk vaccine series.

Dr. M. D. Levy, president of the Harris County Medical Society, and Dr. Thomas Royce, chairman of its public relations committee, denied the church group had their sanction. They said the whole thing was a misunderstanding and that it was against society policy to approve such programs.

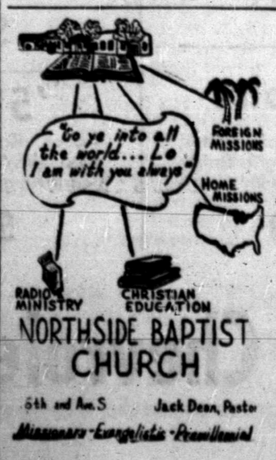
The Rev. James Argue said the program will be abandoned unless the medical society approves it.

Squirming Explained

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Police, advised that a man was "having a fit or something" in the middle of the street, sent officer Angus A. Spence to the address. A man was indeed squirming around in the street, but he explained to Spence that he was only trying to turn a water tap set in a hole in the road.

UNLETTERED COPS

DALLAS (AP)—Asst. Police Chief J. E. Curry ordered the police training school to give instructions in block lettering to rookie policemen. He took the action after courts, warrant offices and records personnel reported difficulty in deciphering handwritten reports—especially traffic tickets.



KEEP "Tuned-in"

—Have you heard from God today? Or is there too much static? Maybe you are just not 'tuned-in.' At this moment there are voices and music surging all about you. Do you hear them? Maybe not, but you could if you had your radio delicately in tune. Prayer is the sensitive instrument man must use to get in tune with God. But it is hard to stay tuned in. Elijah failed here ... and so do we. That is why we need the church. It helps us keep our finger on the dial of faith and obedience to God's will. Go to church Sunday. Carry your walkie-talkie with you every day. Keep it tuned to heaven. Make frequent reports of your victories and failures, and receive your marching orders direct from God! "Speak, Lord, for Thy Servant heareth."
