Hospital Bids

Postponed One Week; Now Set For March 20

According to a phone call from Architect Don Goss on Monday, several contractors have requested more time to prepare their bids on the hospital, and the date has been set forward one week to Wednesday, March 20th.

He said the bidders will meet with the Board at the Memorial building at 2:00 p. m. Goss was of the opinion that there would be from six to eight bidders.

The bidding, he said, would be on a "lump sum general contract bid," and it was possible that the lowest bid would be determined in "twenty minutes" provided there were no alternatives requiring negotiation.

Eagle Band To Go To Dallas In June

Plans are under way for the Eldorado Eagle Band to march in the parade at the Lions International Convention to be held in Dallas in late June.

Our band will march in the parade at 9:00 a.m. June 26th thru downtown Dallas, Texas bands are to be third in the parade.

Bandmaster Wayne McDonald and the band officers will be making arrangements for this coming event.

Tentative arrangements call for the band and sponsors to leave here June 25 and spend the night in the Dallas area at a motel. This will have to be arranged soon because most hotels and motels in the Dallas area are already reserved for convention delegates, who will be converging from all 50 states and many foreign countries.

After spending the day of the 26th in Dallas, the band will return to Eldorado that night.

The local Lions club, school officials, and the Band parents are already looking into the matter of raising the many hundreds of dollars that will be needed to put this over.

The 26th of June is less than four months away.

All Set For Annual Observance Of Public School Week Next Monday Thru Thursday

Once again, the county-wide school system here in Schleicher county is joining others over the state of Texas in getting ready to observe Public School Week, next Monday through Thursday. While parents and other school patrons are welcome to visit the school at any time during the year, they are urged to make special effort to attend during Public School Week.

Supt. C. T. Humphries, the school trustees, and all others connected with the school invite everyone to study the attached visitation schedule.

With Robert Jay in charge of arrangements, a Science Fair will be staged again this year in the room across the hall from the lunch room. Visitors in both the high school and elementary school should attend this science fair. A team from the science department of Angelo State College will judge these exhibits for awards.

During Public School Week, the patrons have a special opportunity to become acquainted with the work which the local school system is doing.

In order for the school to have enough extra chairs to accommodate the visitors, certain days have been scheduled for visitation (see schedule below.) If this schedule does not fit the visitor's convenience, the administrators urge that parents come at their convenience. Likewise, in order to have sufficient food on hand for lunches, the visitors should sign the form for the day they intend to have lunch at the school and send it back to the homeroom teacher. The form should be sent back no later than this Friday, March 1st.

Parents will use students' cafeteria tickets. If you have more than one child in the school, visit all of them on the day you choose.

Next week's Success issue will be our annual Girl Scout issue, boosting Girl Scout Week.

We will have write-ups, advertising, etc., all carrying out the theme of Girl Scout Week. All leaders of the local troops are asked to please turn in their write-ups of what their respective groups are doing.

Raymon Mobley had planned to hold his formal opening Saturday at his new Enco service station, but delays in shipment of some of his promotional materials have caused him to have to delay the event until later.

Fred Gillaspay is managing the other Mobley Enco station across the street from the Eldo hotel, and it will remain open for the present.

Ben Keel's Star-K Kitchen continues a busy place, with pepper, mesquite, and pricklypear jellies being turned out under his direction. At other times, the place is turned into a small factory for peanut brittle patties.

A distinctive-looking Corvette Convert sports car graced the front parking area of the Eagle Chevrolet Olds place this week.

The vehicle features disappearing headlights, seats for just the driver and one passenger, distinctive ornamentation, and a price tag over $5,000.

S. C. Engdahl has moved his garage to the large orange building on South Main street which housed the Wm. Cameron Lumber Co., and in more recent years was headquarters for Service Pipe.

By Monday, the mover from San Angelo has hoisted up the old A. T. Wright house onto wheels, and had it ready to move to the country where it will be remodeled into a residence for the Jim Thornton family.

Rusty Gibson's Southwestern Fence Company has been busy lately on an order for 50 feeders for Red Barn Chemical Co. The feeders are made of metal and lumber and are used in feeding liquid mineral feed. Gibson says that when the initial order of 50 is delivered, he may be in line for additional orders.

Red Barn Chemical has a Texas office in Bryan, and representatives in Sonora and San Angelo. The company furnishes these feeders free to ranchers who buy their product. Feeders built in Eldorado are being used in Schleicher and surrounding counties.

Rusty Gibson and crew were also busy this week putting finishing touches on the new fence between the First Christian Church and the Public Housing Development, and were getting ready to put a small ornamental fence around Mobley's new Enco service station.

A coffee is being held all day today, Thursday, in the West Texas Utilities Co. office, honoring C. J. Hahn on his retirement. Mr. Hahn has spent 42 years with the firm, including the past dozen years as manager of the local WTU office.

Pat Wester is coming on the job as new manager. The Wester family have lived here for the past several months and they moved here from Fort Davis.

Others working in the local WTU office are Mack McAngus and Mrs. Ola Mae McDonald.

Today's Success is coming out on Leap Year Day, Feb. 29th, and it won't do so again until 28 years from now, in 1993.

And as far as is known, no one in this county has a birthday on Leap Year Day.

Following several days with clear skies and drying winds, cloudy and damp weather returned to this area early Wednesday morning.

Game Set For Tuesday

The Winters Blizzardettes will come to Eldorado Tuesday for a return practice game if both the schools are successful in their Bi-District games Saturday night.

This will be the last home basketball of the 1967-68 season and Winters will be a tough opponent so everyone make special effort to back the Eaglettes to victory.

Game time will be 7:30 Eldorado has beaten Winters 36-28 and 43-42. The game will be close one and exciting and a fine way to end the "home court" season.

Snelson Pledges Hard-Hitting Race For State Senate

PETE SNELSON

Pledging an aggressive, hard-hitting campaign with a full discussion of the issues, Pete Snelson today formally announced his candidacy for the State Senate from the 25th District in the May 4th Democratic Primary.

"There will be new leadership in the Texas Senate next January and it is vital that our part of West Texas have a voice which is in step with the future, and not the past," said Snelson. "People from throughout the 21-county district have urged me to again serve in the Senate."

A native West Texan, Snelson formerly served in the House of Representatives and the Texas Senate. Redistricting resulted in the combining of parts of two senatorial districts two years ago and Snelson lost to the present incumbent by 61 votes.

"I greatly appreciate the fine support which I received in Schleicher county two years ago in the race for the state senate," said Snelson, "and I am very pleased (Continued on Page 5)

Public Housing Units Inspected Tuesday

Tuesday was the day the newly-completed Public Housing units here in Eldorado were inspected and turned over to the Public Housing Authority to begin renting.

Workmen were putting finishing touches on the units Monday. This included touch-up painting and Rusty Gibson and his crew were completing a fence at the units just north of the courthouse, which are to be for the elderly.

The other units located in north-eastern Eldorado near the Scout hall have also been completed and are ready for occupancy. A small office building for the executive secretary is located there.

Mrs. Max Wilkins, executive secretary, stated that rental applications will be taken in the Memorial Building club room Thursday (today) from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m., and Friday from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m.

To be eligible to live in the units a family's assets cannot exceed $10,000, unless such assets together with the net income of the family are not sufficient for it to obtain and maintain adequate accommodations on the private market.

Limits in net income after exemptions:

No. Persons	Admission
1	$2800
2	3000
3	3400
4	3600
5	3900
6	4100
7	4200
8	4400
9	4500

Approximate rentals to be paid based on family income:

$1500	$25
$1501 to $1999	$30
$2000 to $2399	$37
$2400 to $2699	$42
$2700 to $2999	$47

(Several other factors also will have a bearing on rentals paid by dwellers.)

Mrs. Donnie Gilmore will succeed Mrs. Wilkins as executive secretary on March 7th.

There are 7 duplexes in all, making for 14 housing units. Eight are 2-bedroom, four are 3-bedroom, and two are 1-bedroom units.

All units are modern, brick-veneered structures, with all kitchen equipment, plumbing for washer, up-to-date heating, and they present an attractive appearance in their respective neighborhoods.

Charles Wimer flew Sunday to Omaha, Neb., for a meeting of Northern Natural Gas Co. officials, and returned home Wednesday.

Coach Jack Bell's Eaglettes will get one final chance to subdue the Eagles from Canutillo High School this Saturday night at 7:30 in the Eldorado gym in a Bi-District encounter. It is "one final chance" because Canutillo will move into Class AA ranks next season.

The rivalry between the two schools dates back to 1963 when Eldorado was the victor 40-29 in a game played in Pecos. In 1964 Eldorado played both the boys and girls with the girls traveling to El Paso and losing 49-32. The next season Canutillo lost the flip and came to Eldorado where they won a thriller in double overtime 50-48. Canutillo thumped Menard in 1966 but in 1967 Eldorado was back on the scene and played the El Paso school in Ft. Stockton and lost 43-39 in one of the Eaglettes' worst games of the season. So, Saturday Eldorado gets another chance, and they have every intention of winning it.

This season Canutillo has won 19 games and lost only 2. Those who saw the game last year will remember the lightning quickness of the orange and white defense and the methodical offense. Both guards and forwards were ready to capitalize on every Eaglette error. From that team returns Irene Lujan at forward and Emily Alderete and Rachel Garcia at guard. The team is average height but their extreme quickness makes up for it.

Eldorado's Eaglettes own a glittering 28-2 record as they have enjoyed their best season ever. They have not only won more games than any Eaglette team but also scored more points in a season, won more consecutive games (21), and lost less. This team has

Canvass For Heart Drive Set For This Sunday

The chairman of the 1968 Heart Sunday appeal in Eldorado will be Mrs. A. G. McCormack, it was announced today by Mrs. Winnie Jackson, local Heart Fund Campaign Chairman.

Heart Sunday will be observed here as the high point of a month-long Heart Fund Campaign.

Volunteers Sunday afternoon will consist of the young people from the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. They will call on residents of Eldorado beginning at 4:00 p.m., and continuing for an hour or two.

Also, Mrs. McCormack will mail out letters to Schleicher county residents for contributions to the Heart Fund drive.

Proceeds of the drive are used to support research, education and community service activities of the Heart Association, the only voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combatting diseases of the heart and circulation, which are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this county.

Arrangements for Bi-District Game were being made as the Success went to press.

Easter Seal Letters To Be Delivered

Easter Seal Appeal letters are to be delivered this week in Schleicher County according to Jo Ed Hill, the Easter Seal Representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. As Representative, Mr. Hill serves as contact representative for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as Treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in Schleicher county.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

The Society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

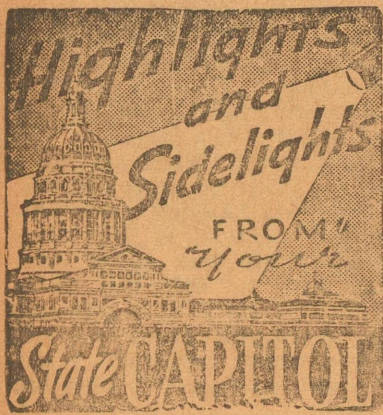

Mr. Hill pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled children.

During 1967, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services to 17,622 children and adults who were in need of rehabilitation services. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, Mr. Hill added.

The Easter Seal Campaign will run through Easter Sunday, April 14.

Austin, Texas.—A rather important corner may have been turned by the State of Texas in providing transportation facilities for its people. This by clarifying where the line between state and federal regulatory power should be drawn. Texas Aeronautics Commission took the big step when its six members voted to certify Air Southwest Co. of San Antonio as an intrastate airline competing with the large federally regulated interstate lines.

Air Southwest plans to offer commuter service among Dallas, San Antonio, and Houston using Lockheed prop-jets. It says it can offer service comparable to the large airlines and at rates lower by more than 20%.

Federal-state rub is that the Civil Aeronautics Board licenses the interstate carriers and has its service and subsidy balances all worked out, without considering any state-licensed airlines.

So, Air Southwest is going to upset those balances somewhat, by taking from Braniff, Trans-Texas and Continental airlines some of the revenues now received under their charters from the CAB.

CAB did not make its wishes in the matter of Air Southwest's certification known to the Texas Aeronautics Commission. But Braniff, TTA and Continental did. Result was a seven-day hearing before TAC examiners, then another hearing for oral arguments before the commission itself.

Despite TAC's favorable ruling, the fight is far from over. Opponents to Air Southwest's plans have made it known that they plan to take their case into the courts—as far as it will go.

In the state courts, they will maintain that the TAC's action was not based on "substantial evidence". If they fail there, one attorney said they might go into the federal courts, charging that the TAC certification placed an undue burden on interstate commerce in violation of the U. S. Constitution.

Special Session Outlook

Gov. Connally revealed a "new unofficial estimate" by State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert on available General Revenue Funds, indicating that available revenue for operating state government may be some $50 million higher than the comptroller's October, 1967, estimate of $297.6 million.

Governor Connally says the import of that is "the increase in available revenues will relieve the pressures for as large a tax bill as was originally anticipated" for the special legislative fiscal session. Connally has denied rumors that he will call a special session of the Legislature in March.

"I am hopeful that if the special legislative session this year can be postponed until June," Speaker Ben Barnes said, "the figure will be even less" than the previous estimate of $115 million in new tax resources necessary to support the state government in the fiscal year which begins September 1.

Barnes said recent revisions in revenue estimates mean that if the Legislature had passed a two-year tax bill in 1967, instead of waiting for a special session, Texas taxpayers would have been taxed about $60 million more than necessary.

L.B.J. Contract Awarded

A contract for construction of 16,673 feet of high gameproof fencing at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Gillespie County has been awarded to Jasper Moore of Ingram. Moore was lowest among five bidders with a project price of $19,717.

Parks and Wildlife Department said the fencing project was designed more to keep exhibition animals in L.B.J. State Park than to keep visitors out. But it will enclose a large portion of the park and separate it from Ranch Road 1 and the L. B. J. Ranch, popularly known as The Texas White House.

People Pollution!

"With over population a world problem, Planned Parenthood is becoming increasingly important as a governmental project," says Alan Bloebaum, regional director of the Southwest Region of Planned Parenthood.

A five-state district meeting on the subject is set for March 4 and 5 in Austin. This conference will be followed by a series of state sessions on family planning.

Among them will be a special family planning conference by OEO, the American Association of Planned Parenthood Physicians and the State Nursing Association.

Cost of planned parenthood for one family per year is about $15, whereas the cost of welfare support—federal, state and county—for a dependent child is about $1,200 a year.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court will hear arguments on March 27 in a Ft. Worth case involving whether the city has provided required services to keep 6.3 square miles of annexed land or whether it must relinquish the property taken February 18, 1963, near Everman.

High court agreed a South Houston Gardens man is entitled to $14,000 damages for harm to his house and peace of mind caused by low-flying planes after William P. Hobby runways were extended to near edge of his property.

Transfer of four square miles from Rosenthal to Lorena school district is invalid without Falls county's school board approval, Supreme Court concluded, upholding Court of Civil Appeals.

State Banking Board's award of a charter to American Bank of Commerce in Grapevine now has Supreme Court approval.

Third Court of Civil Appeals backed up a district court order that a charter should have been granted to Mission Savings and Loan Association in northeast Bexar county.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed death penalty assessed Kenneth Allen McDuff who was accused of killing three teenagers.

Residency requirement in state aid to families of dependent needy children act is under attack in a new federal court suit.

Poverty Program Shifting

Texas War on Poverty program seems to be heading for a shift in control to the cities and counties under new federal legislation. New law will give local governments the option of taking over programs, effective February 1, 1969.

Cities and counties would have three alternatives: designate an existing community action agency; or designate themselves or some other public or private agency to operate the poverty program; or leave the decision of who is to run the program up to State poverty program officials.

Change in control may also mean a change in the funding formula for the poverty program. Regional OEO Administrator Fred D. Baldwin said there is a "strong possibility" that next year's federal appropriations will come to the states without federal strings on how the money should be used.

Park Development Assured

Parks & Wildlife Commission Chairman Will Odom announced a $54,000 Federal matching grant to develop outdoor recreation facilities at Goose Island State Park, north of Rockport.

With state matching, this will finance a $108,000 development project including restrooms, tent camping units, trailer camping, shelters, roads, parking areas and utilities. The park, acquired in 1935, is the home of a 2,000-year-old live oak tree, Chairman Odom noted.

Appointments

Robert D. Spellings of Fort Worth is new administrative assistant to Speaker Ben Barnes.

Former Bexar County Judge Charles Grace was named statewide chairman of Don Yarborough's campaign for governor.

Dr. Lee Wilborn, assistant commissioner of education for instruction, will join Texas Bankers Association March 1 as education

Reverse Sought In Rural 'Drain'

Can the tremendous flow of Americans from small towns to overcrowded cities be reversed?

Robert D. Partridge, who has seen his own home town of Maryville, Mo., shrink gradually, believes it can.

And he believes that rural electric cooperatives can play a key role in cutting down the crisis of rural America.

"Rural America tends to be forgotten," Partridge said in an interview at Hotel Adolphus, Dallas.

He is general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) which began its 26th annual meeting in Dallas Sunday.

Half a million Americans move to cities each year, he said, most of them untrained for city jobs. They leave scores of run-down communities minus the leadership of young people.

Partridge cited mechanization of agriculture, and a resulting decrease in farmers, as one of the reasons for the urban move, prompting in turn a dropoff in small town businesses needed to support the farmers.

"We believe it is possible to begin to make rural America a place where industry will locate and where people will live and work," Partridge said.

Rural electric cooperatives are a "potent business force," he added, with the "capability and incentive to do something."

The "something" is the stimulation of location of industry in rural areas, partially through the growth of the cooperatives themselves.

During the past five years, some 130,000 jobs were created by this stimulation and these cooperative systems, Partridge reported. He termed this a "modest" beginning.

NRECA cooperatives work with federal, state and government agencies, and with city consumer organizations, to boost the country as an attractive area for business.

The relocation program so far has attracted such industry as steel mills, and box and cheese factories. Partridge does not anticipate difficulty in getting city people to move to rural areas once the opportunity is there.

He gave the keynote address to the NRECA meeting at the 9:00 a.m. opening session Monday. —reprinted from the Dallas News.

Attending from the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op headquartered here in Eldorado were: W. W. Sheen of Menard, Co-Op president; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell of Ozona and Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Strauss of Big Lake, both on board of directors; and Mr. and Mrs. Elton McGinnes of Eldorado.

President Lyndon B. Johnson flew in Tuesday noon from the LBJ Ranch to address the meeting in Dallas.

The delegates are due home Thursday night.

Texas Hosted Most Visitors Ever In 1967

Austin, Texas.—Texas last year hosted more visitors—who spent more money here—than ever before, the Texas Highway Department reported recently.

A total of 20,684,000 persons from out of the state visited Texas in 1967. They spent a record $1,203,137,000, making 1967 the second year in a row that the value of the Texas travel industry has surpassed the billion-dollar mark.

The automobile again was the favorite mode of transportation.

The Highway Department's annual visitor industry survey showed 15,198,000 persons visited Texas by automobile during the year. Their expenditures in the state amounted to a total of $807,972,000 while in the state. Total number of automobile visitors was up 7.4% over 1966; and their expenditures rose 11.6%.

In addition, the Texas Tourist Council, an Austin-based association of travel-related businesses, estimated that an additional 5,486,000 out-of-state visitors came to Texas by commercial carriers. This group added an estimated $395,165,000 to the state's economy.

The prospects for good crop yields in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District are better than they have been in many years. Rainfall received since September of last year through January of this year totals 12.67 inches. All the moisture fell slowly and none of it was lost by runoff. Few (if any) farmers who irrigate have applied a pre-planting irrigation to their land.

Maximum potential yields can not be attained from cropland if the needed water is not available from planting time until the crop is made. Irrigation before crops are planted, when needed, is one of the most important irrigations that is done to help supply the water needs of the crop from the time it is planted until harvest.

By applying enough irrigation water to fill the soil to full field capacity, water is available for plant use through the entire crop year. Water from this irrigation is stored in the entire depths from which plants use moisture. This moisture helps prevent the crop from going into stress during the hot summer months. Pre-planting irrigation is considered by most irrigation farmers to be the most important irrigation given their crops. However, the need and importance of any irrigation should not be minimized.

The availability of water in the amount needed to completely supply the need of the crop, does not assure good yields. Without proper irrigation water management, good yields can not be attained. In addition to having water available for irrigation, when to irrigate and how much water to apply must be known. Also, the water must be applied without causing waste or erosion.

Knowing when to irrigate is equally as important as having the water to irrigate with. Sometimes the wilting of the crop is used as a guide as to the time to start irrigating. This is in error if the purpose of the irrigation is to supply water when needed by crops being grown. When plants wilt and suffer from lack of moisture, the right time to irrigate has already passed. The period of time that plants are in a wilted condition, before needed moisture is received, also affects crop yields. The right time as to when to irrigate is by or before the time the plants need water. This can be determined by digging a hole to root zone depth and check the moisture content of the soil. When the moisture content is about 50% of field capacity it is time to begin irrigating.

The water to apply can be determined at the same time the moisture content of the soil is determined. The amount applied should be the number of inches needed to bring moisture content up to full field capacity. To accomplish this the water lost by inefficiency of irrigation must be considered. Therefore, the gross amount applied will be more than the net inches needed.

Establishing and maintaining a good irrigation system is essential in attaining irrigation water management. A poor delivery system can waste from 25% up to more than 50% of the water available for irrigation. Excessive grade and side fall or a reverse grade adds to the inefficiency of irrigation. Also, water received from rainfall can be wasted and cause soil erosion on irrigated fields with excessive sidefall and grade.

The conservation of water for crop production should be of great importance to every citizen of Schleicher county and especially to those who operate the land. Since the average rainfall is low, it is very important that all moisture received be conserved for crop use. By conserving all rainfall, and applying additional water when needed and in the amount needed, irrigation farmers can supply the water needed for maximum yields.

Assistance in planning and applying all the needed practices on irrigated land is available from the Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district. Cost share assistance is available in applying enduring type conservation practices through the Great Plains Conservation Program (administered by the Soil Conservation Service) and the Schleicher County A. S. C. office.

Maybe you won't find Daisy, the appropriately-named dachshund, at the 1968 Dallas Flower and Garden Show, but she's putting on the dog — or would that be dogwood? — anyhow. Helping Daisy show flower power are Martha Dawson, left, and Danna Millet, two flower children who wouldn't miss the 17th annual spectacular of entertainment, fun and beauty for all ages. Dates of the Flower Show will be March 9 through 17 in the World Exhibits Building at State Fair Park.

Bi-District

remained unbeaten in Eagle Gym for two seasons.

The green and white team is scoring well this year hitting an average of 60 points per game. This offense is led by Libby Preston with 20 per game, Susan Mobley 18, and Susan Hill 15. The forwards are hitting about 70% at the free throw line. The Eaglette defense is manned by Chris Edmiston, Sherry Yates, and Donna Davis who are allowing only 40 points per contest. Bolstering the offensive starters are Arlene Hartgraves, Stella Hubble, and Dale Montgomery who are hitting an average of 7, 5 and 4 points per game. Defensive back-ups include Lisa Whitten, Randy Yates, Billie Gayl Blaylock, and Shirley Hubble. Eight of these girls are Seniors and they have made up their minds to settle for nothing short of a victory. Donna Davis, the only Junior and the four Sophomores join the Seniors as the team bids for a trip to the regional meet in Lubbock.

The Eaglettes have worked hard this season and have earned every laurel which they've received. They set some goals for themselves at the start of the season and one by one they are reaching them.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. March 2. Prices will be $1.00 for adults, 50c for students and all passes are suspended for this game.

The Eldorado girls will appreciate our support in this important Bi-District game. Let's fill Eagle Gym and support the Eaglettes.

Meeting Set For Free Golf Lessons

Carroll Ratliff, instructor for El Dorado Golf Club, has asked that all women interested in golf lessons meet with him at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning, March 1st. Weather permitting, meet at the golf course, otherwise please meet with him at the Ratliff Store. Lessons will be given twice each week, probably on Tuesdays and Fridays. There will be no charge for these lessons and each woman interested in learning to play golf, is urged to attend this meeting Friday morning at 10:00.

Eaglettes Take 27th Win

Twenty-seven wins in one season comes only with lots of hard work by fourteen girls and their coach plus support and encouragement from their parents and friends.

Last Thursday these girls and a faithful few who braved the elements, went to Eden to return a game with the Bulldogs who are awaiting a Bi-District game with Talpa. The Eaglettes won it 66-39 though after the big district championship game on the previous Tuesday, they were a bit down. This was the 27th win and the 20th consecutive.

The crowd for either team was very small and not much verbal enthusiasm so the girls played well enough to win but were a bit sluggish in some areas. This is not to say however that the Eaglettes looked bad because they were very outstanding in some ways. For instance Susan Hill had her eye on the basket from outside as she hit 10 baskets plus a free throw for 21 points. Then Libby Preston really outdid herself in the rebound department as she hauled in 24 which is a record for an Eldorado forward. She turned some of those rebounds into points as she had 6 baskets plus 9 free throws for 21 points. Susan Mobley had 5 field goals for 10 points but her rebounding and expert passing were worth numerous points. Stella Hubble and Arlene Hartgraves had 6 points while Dale Montgomery daded 2.

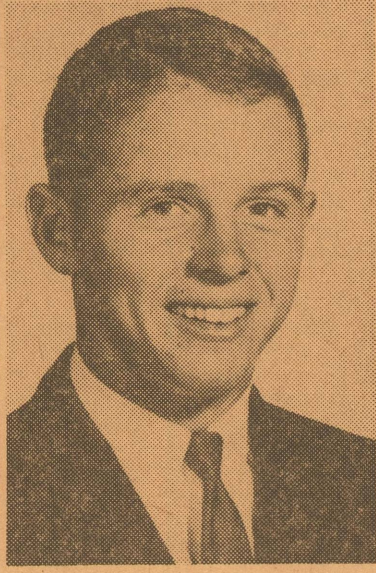

There was nothing wrong with the percentage from the floor as they hit 40% the first half and 31% the second. They did fall down considerably at the free throw line hitting only 16 of 37 attempts for 43%. The forwards usually hit 70% or better.

The Eldorado starting guards did a fine job and the reserves didn't let up because Eden didn't score 40 points going with their starters the whole game. Chris Edmiston had 13 rebounds, Donna Davis 7, Randy Yates 6, Sherry Yates 2, and Billie Gayl Blaylock and Shirley Hubble 1 each.

Kathy Robinson, the manager, is that fourteenth girl who is busy every day and every game providing the essentials for the team and keeping books. Working together as a unit this group will indeed leave an enviable records for those to come.

that many others have volunteered their help for the campaign this year."

In his formal announcement this week Snelson reviewed some of the objectives which he plans to pursue in the Legislature.

"Foremost among my legislative goals is the passage of a 'conflict of interest' law to prevent legislators from appearing for pay before state agencies," said Snelson. "A cure for influence peddling by legislators was recently cited by Governor John Connally as one of the greatest needs of our state government and I intend to work to bring this about."

Also, Snelson said that he is in favor of a change in the Senate rules so that the entire legislature will have a greater voice in the writing of the appropriations bill.

"The present rules have made it possible for certain legislators to hold an axe for selfish influence over the head of state agencies and state employees through their writing of the appropriations bill," said Snelson.

"I'm greatly concerned about the recently publicized problems of the Texas Liquor Control Board and believe that we must move with dispatch to correct shortcomings in our laws and in their enforcement," said Snelson. "It is the duty and responsibility of the Legislature to write workable laws and to provide the financing necessary to vigorously enforce those laws."

Financial restrictions placed on the current Liquor Control Board are such that it has only 159 agents to police 254 counties with 40,000 licenses in wet areas, and 1,360 private clubs. All of the agents are paid less than other comparable state positions.

"The salaries of all our state law enforcement officials must be increased to a level commensurate with their duties and responsibilities," stressed Snelson. "This, plus additional changes in the code of criminal procedure, will be necessary if we are to win the fight against crime."

Meeting the educational needs of our growing state has long had the dedication of Snelson, both in and out of the Legislature. Many point to Snelson's background of 10 years as a teacher and administrator in high school, college and junior college as important qualifications for playing a lead role in bringing about better educational opportunities for our citizens and in making the teaching profession even more attractive financially and otherwise.

Snelson said that he would continue his dedication to the growth and development of those institutions of higher learning in the 25th senatorial district including Sul Ross State College, Angelo State College, Odessa Junior College, Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde and pledges his cooperation with plans for the proposed Junior College to serve the Trans-Pecos area.

"Also, I will work for continued improvements for such state facilities in the 25th District as McKnight State Hospital and Ft. Davis State Park," said Snelson. "Other areas to which I will devote my attention and energies include the continued development of the oil and gas and sulphur industries; farming and ranching needs; protection and development of our water resources and the promotion of tourist attractions."

Born on a pioneer West Texas farm and ranch family in Ward county, Snelson is active in the business affairs of the area as the owner of an advertising agency. He is married to the former Susan Sutton and they live at 2406 Shell St. in Midland with their children, Gene, 8; Sandra, 6; and Steven, 4. They are members of the Presbyterian church.

Snelson received a Bachelor's degree from the University of Texas in El Paso and a Master of Science degree from Northwestern University. He is a Purple Heart veteran of World War II, during which he served three years in the U. S. Army, including 18 months in Europe. He saw front line action with the 44th Infantry Division and later served as a Special Agent of the Counter-Intelligence Corps.

In seeking to again represent West Texas in the Texas Senate, Snelson emphasized that it is vital that the attention, interest and energy of our state be dedicated to meeting the challenges of the future because we cannot afford the luxury of keeping our heads buried in the sands of 20 years ago.

New Game Warden Now On The Job Here

ALAN MASLOFF

Alan D. Masloff, 25, of San Antonio has been commissioned a game warden by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and has been assigned to duty in Schleicher county. He will be headquartered in Eldorado and arrived at his new duty station last week. He is married to the former Miss Arlene Young of Wetmore. They have two young daughters: Andrea, 2 and Audra, 1.

Eaglettes Slip By Winters Tuesday Night

A tremendous defensive effort by three Eldorado guards plus clutch shooting at the right time by the forwards helped the Eaglettes to a thrilling 43-42 win over the Winters Blizzards Tuesday in Winters.

Chris Edmiston, Sherry Yates and Donna Davis played an outstanding defensive game making a minimum of errors. The two Seniors had 11 rebounds each and Donna had 9. Winters has two tall forwards plus one who ripped the net outside. The initial quarter saw Eldorado down 10-2 before the crowd was hardly seated. The Eaglettes began to get going and by the time the first 8 minutes were up it was Winters 14-13. Libby Preston kept Eldorado in the game the first half getting 12 points of the 20 total.

The Blizzardettes were still ahead 20-22. The second half saw the green perk up and move better but still scoring only 10 points; four from Libby and 2 long ones plus a free throw by Susan Mobley. Arlene Hartgraves had replaced Susan Hill and was fouled. She missed the first and made the second and it turned out to be the margin of victory. Meanwhile the Eldorado trio was playing tougher allowing only 7 points; so the Eaglettes led 30-29. The forwards began to find the range some better and put in 13 points while Winters was also making 13 but they were one shy of victory as Chris and Sherry controlled the ball the last 35 seconds to hold on to victory number 28.

The forwards hit a 41% average from the floor making 16 of 39 attempts. However, the free throw line tells the real story as Susan Mobley made 6 of 6 attempts, Susan Hill 3 of 6, Libby 1 of 2, and Arlene 1 of 2 for 70%. Eldorado made 11 of 16 attempts while Winters made only 8 of 15 tries.

Winters has a fine team with tall guards and forwards but the "Little Green Leprechauns" came through under pressure and won their 21st consecutive game.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

If you drive your car 100,000 miles in 10 years, the total costs will be more than $11,000, or 11 cents a mile.

Gas, oil, and maintenance accounts for the largest portion of money the average driver spends to operate his car, according to a recent study by the U. S. Department of Transportation.

"Of the 11 cents per mile figure listed in the study, gas and oil cost 1.7 cents, and maintenance, accessories, parts and tires cost 2.1 cents, for a total of 3.8 cents per mile, or 35% of the operating cost."

The study was based on a new car selling for $2,800. Depreciation ranked second as an operating cost factor—2.8 cents per mile—or 25%.

The study assumed that few motorists drive the same car for 10 years, but that the average auto, sold or traded three or more times, is on the road that long. The cost per mile of depreciation is higher in the earlier years of ownership, but rising maintenance costs in later years tend to offset this.

The balance of operating costs per mile include 1.8 cents for garage, parking and toll fees (16%), 1.4 cents for insurance (13%) and 1.2 cents for state and federal taxes (11%).

Just about the time a woman thinks her work is done, she becomes a grandmother.

One of these days the wet and cold weather will stop, fields and pastures will dry and outdoor activities will boom.

With the return of favorable weather for farming activities, agricultural chemicals will be used in great volume. Accidents involving the use of such chemicals will increase during this rush period unless care is exercised and the manufacturer's label directions are followed closely.

Before agricultural chemicals are used, the fine print on the chemical container should be carefully read. A trade name is not a reliable identification of contents of a container because contents may be modified from year to year without a change in name.

The only safe way to purchase pesticides is by the active ingredient content which is printed on the label. The wise purchaser knows the specific chemical needed for a particular use, and makes his selections on this basis.

Material is available for the asking at my office which will help in the identification of insects and diseases which attack crops, flowers, ornamentals and home gardens in the county. Many of these publications also list recommended control measures including the chemicals and amounts needed for control.

Once a chemical has been purchased, the user should become familiar with the label directions before the material is used. It doesn't take long to read a label and knowing its contents could prevent a serious accident.

Don't be in a hurry about pruning roses bushes.

If the plants are cut back too early, warm days plus the abundance of soil moisture will force new growth from the base of the plants and a severe freeze between now and spring could kill the roses to the ground.

On unpruned plants, the new growth will take place in the top and this is usually the only part of the plant damaged should a late freeze occur.

Delay the rose pruning job until late February or early March. Don't prune climbing roses until after the first spring flush of flowers.

Blooming in the spring, besides the flowers, are a variety of "shyster" landscape materials salesmen.

Be cautious about spectacular claims for landscape plants. These can include claims of outstanding hardiness under all conditions and exposures, unusual beauty of form, foliage, flowers, fruit, unusual names and new types. Thousands of dollars are spent each year on misfit or overrated plants and garden gadgets.

Don't be a victim of misleading advertising. Spend some time checking on claims before you invest. Visit your local plant nursery and garden supply center for assistance. Local county Extension agents can also supply information on landscaping plans, plant selection and home grounds maintenance.

Demand for fertilizer is high and because wet fields have caused delays in getting plant food distributed, a real rush is expected when fields are dry enough for working.

The best way to be sure that you have the right type and amount of fertilizer when you need it is to get it on order now or even perhaps better in the barn. And if you need spreader or applicator equipment, better get an order in early for its use. Once fields are dry enough to permit use of the equipment, it may be hard to come by.

If fertilizer is purchased in bags, here are a couple of storage tips. Be sure to give it room to breathe by leaving an air space between each stack of bags. Always store fertilizer in a dry place. Don't place bags on a dirt or concrete floor because they'll pick up moisture and get lumpy and caked up. It isn't a good idea to stack fertilizer more than 8 bags high.

Keep fertilizer away from animals since it is food for plants and not for animals.

PAR-TEE

The Welcome Mat is out this week for Beverly and Gerald Childers and their children—Holly, Jerry and Debbie. We are indeed happy to have them as new members of the El Dorado Golf Club.

The Bingo Party for March 2nd has been called off. Our Girls' Basketball team will play the bi-district game here in Eldorado on that night, therefore Bingo has canceled. The next scheduled Bingo night is March 23.

Ralph Waldron reported that due to the frozen ground they were unable to have the tree planting Saturday as scheduled. That event is scheduled for this Saturday—the 2nd of March. So all you "willing workers" be sure to show up at the golf course this Saturday with a good supply of energy and muscle.

To follow up a comment in last week's Par Tee news here are a few added facts that might be of interest to you readers. These facts are "borrowed" from another publication.

Stop worrying—Some of the world's largest financiers met in Chicago in 1923.

President of the largest Independent Steel Company;

President of the Largest Gas Company;

President of the New York Stock Exchange;

Greatest Wheat Speculator;

One of The President's Cabinet;

Greatest Bear in Wall Street;

Head of The World's Greatest Monopoly;

President of the Bank of International Settlement.

They certainly should be considered the world's most successful men. At least they had found the secret of making money.

Some 40 years later, where are the men?

1. The president of the largest independent steel company, Charles Schwab, died a pauper. The last few years of his life, he lived on borrowed money.

2. The president of the largest gas company, Howard Hopson, is now insane.

3. The greatest wheat speculator, Arthur Gutten, died abroad, insolvent.

4. The president of the New York Stock Exchange, Richard Whitney, was released from Sing Sing prison.

5. The member of the President's cabinet, Albert Fall, served a penitentiary term, was pardoned and released to die at home.

6. The greatest Bear in Wall Street, Jesse Livermore, died a suicide.

7. The head of the world's greatest monopoly, Iver Kruger, The Match King, died a suicide.

8. The president of the Bank of International Settlement, shot himself.

In the same year, the winner of several of the most important golf championships, including the U.S. Open and the PGA Tournament was Gene Sarazen. Today he is strong, still playing an excellent game of golf and is solvent.

Conclusion: Stop worrying about business and get out and play golf! —Winkler County News.

Herd Enrolled

Robert Page, Hereford breeder located near Eldorado, has enrolled his herd of cattle in the Total Performance Records Service of the American Hereford Association. The announcement was made by Association officials in Kansas City, Mo.

In expanding its service to Hereford breeders and to accumulate information for future research value in breed improvement, the American Hereford Association inaugurated a system of recording performance. The new Registry, which will be combined with the Association's present activity in evaluating the performance of herd sires gained through the Association's Register of Merit system, and its present pedigree registry, will round out the Association's Total Performance Records, a means of helping breeders gain more information and make it a matter of record in all phases of performance—total performance—of their cattle.

Swinging At The Fair

When HemisFair '68 opens April 6, in San Antonio, Texas, visitors will note one point: this is a fair in motion. Fairgoers will be able to enjoy a stately gondola glide down the San Antonio river—where Victorian houses along the banks—some 100 years old—have been restored and will be used as restaurants for various nations.

For a little faster-paced action, the Swiss Skyride will fill the bill. In cars suspended overhead from wires, riders will see a bird's-eye view of the Fair—and be able to get to any far point almost instantly.

Movers who like their action sitting down can go to the revolving restaurant atop the Tower of the Americas—a staggering 622 feet above the ground—for a view of the South Texas landscape as well as the Fair, itself. This highest revolving restaurant in the Western Hemisphere will make one complete turn every hour.

But, perhaps the most swinging event at the Fair will be at the Frito-Lay/Pepsi-Cola pavilion.

the oldest and probably one of the best meets in the state. Schools are entered from all over the state.

Eldorado was paced in the field events by big John Mayo who set a new Division record of 57' 1" in the shot. This toss was also better than the winning distances in Divisions I or II. Mayo also threw the discus 146' 2" for 3rd place in this event. Mayo's efforts in the shot and discus gave Eldorado a total of 16 points before the running events finals started in the afternoon.

The preliminaries were held Saturday morning. The 44-yd. Relay team composed of Bob Page, Roy Davidson, Paul Page and Wayne

Doyle, qualified for the finals. They won their heat with a 45.8. In the finals they placed 5th with a 45.6. This time is one full second faster than the time posted at the same meet last year by the relay team that went on to place 6th in the State Meet at Austin in May.

Wayne Doyle, Albert Torres, and Don Overstreet were in the 100-yard dash. Doyle qualified for the finals and placed 3rd, getting nipped at the wire for the top spot.

In the 220, hard luck hit Roy Davidson again. He had the 4th best qualifying time, but was overlooked for the finals. The judge mis-read his watch and an incorrect time was turned in for him.

Albert Torres and Don Overstreet failed to qualify in this race also.

Paul Page began to set the stage for the coming attractions in his beat of the 440 yd. dash. He not only won his heat, but turned in a neat 53.4 which was the 3rd best time in the preliminaries. However, in the finals Paul cleared a 53.2 which gave him the 1st place medal. Page was the only Class A boy running in the finals. All others were from AA high schools.

Mickie Clark was the other hard-luck Eagle. In the 330 yd. hurdles he hit the last hurdle and had a hard fall that kept him out of the finals in this race. Clark said that the track at Ft. Stockton was a jinx to him, as the same thing had happened to him last year in Fort Stockton.

Ray Lewis/Lozano, the Eagle 880 man and anchor-man for the mile relay team, ran a fine 2:02.4 in the 880 which was good enough for a 3rd place. In the one-mile run, Albert Torres and Sam Oglesby did not finish in the money. However, by the district meet on April 6th in Eldorado, these two boys should be in good enough form to place high in this event.

At this point in the meet, Denver City had 55 points and Eldorado was in second place with 44. The next and final event was the Mile Relay. The stage was set for a show-down. The Eldorado team composed of Doyle, Davidson, Paul Page, and Lozano turned in a 3:35.1 and were beaten by Jal, New Mexico at the wire when their anchor-man leaned across the tape ahead of Lozano. The 2nd place gave Eldorado 16 points. Denver City was 4th in the Mile Relay and captured 8 points to give them a total of 63 points. The 16 point 2nd place gave Eldorado a total of 60 points.

All things considered, this was a championship effort by the 12 boys from Eldorado who make up the Eagle track squad. Their next meet is this Saturday, March 2, in Ozona. The following weeks they will compete in Sonora, Eldorado, Coahoma, Colorado City, and then on Saturday, April 6, the district meet will be held in Eldorado.

Hold out on the phone company.

After 7 p.m., you can call anywhere in the country for a dollar.

All long distance callers worth their salt know that calling in the daytime is more expensive than calling in the evening hours. (Actually, most people call during the day, when we charge our regular rates.) But long distance callers aren't interested in explanations. The only thing they care about is calling for the cheapest possible price. So to get more for their money, they devised a scheme you might call The Waiting Game.

The idea is to do just what the name implies: Wait and wait and wait and wait. Because they know if they can hold out till after 7 p.m. or any time of the day on Saturday or Sunday, they can call anywhere in the country for a dollar or less.

Which just goes to prove that anybody can afford to call long distance. Provided they know how to play The Game.
