

WTCC Sessions To Mix Business With Pleasure

Big Conclave To Start On Thursday

The greatest combination of color and pageantry with serious studies on common problems in the Southwest—the West Texas Chamber of Commerce—will open for a three-day session here Thursday.

How many visitors it will draw is purely conjectural, but the figure is expected to run into the thousands. What will happen is clearly defined by the convention program which mixes business with entertainment.

Business, of course, is the prime subject of the convention. Such problems as freight rate equality, oil, livestock, cotton, local governments and budget making are down for discussion by competent speakers.

First work of the convention will be done by the all-important works committee which goes into session Thursday at 9:30 a. m. in room No. 1 at the Settles to turn out final resolutions for consideration of directors at the Thursday luncheon. D. H. Hollin, Wichita Falls, will be in charge. Half an hour later Tom Garrard, Tahoka, head of the elections committee, will convene his group for a joint session with the finance board in room No. 2 at the Settles.

At the luncheon 10 district directors will be elected and with new officers will form the WTCC executive board. Mrs. Gail Seal will direct entertainment for the program as well as for other similar gatherings.

Opening big gun of the convention will be fired at 2:30 p. m. Thursday when the transportation section meeting is held. Jerry Sadler, railroad commissioner, is the speaker, and there was a growing belief here Saturday that he would make an important announcement at the session.

LEADING SPEAKERS at the concluding session of the WTCC convention Saturday will be Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, (upper left), who will talk on "The Citizen and his Government"; George C. Heston, Georgetown, (upper right), tax and government specialist, who will discuss public expenditures; and Rupert F. A. "und, (below) Santa Fe, N. state taxpayers association director, who will speak about local governments and their budgets.

(industrial north and east). Half of the WTCC campaign in this direction was successful previously when the commission abolished differential rates, that order now being held up on a temporary injunction granted rail carriers.

Also at the afternoon session E. Reagan, Big Spring, WTCC traffic committee head, will provide and introduce J. M. Wilson, Floydada, president of the Freight Rate Equality Federation, organization pushing the freight rate fight. Jess Showers, Vernon, will report on FREF finances and G. H. McKinney, Fort Worth, on membership.

Developing the convention's Americanization theme, the show will be built around Indian days, the pioneer era and modern times. The script has been edited down to where the revue will move on at a fast pace.

DUTCH TROOPS RECAPTURE TOWN FROM NAZIS WHILE STRONGEST BELGIAN FORTRESS FALLS

Belgian King Gets Friendly Note From FD

Invasion Denounced; Neutrality Terms Are Broadened

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt replied in a most friendly vein tonight to an appeal from the king of the Belgians that he support little Belgium's fight against the Nazi invaders with all his "moral authority."

Message To Leopold In his message to Leopold III, the soldier-monarch, Mr. Roosevelt denounced the "cruel invasion" of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The people of the United States hope, as I do, that policies which seek to dominate peaceful and independent peoples through force and military aggression may be arrested, he said, "and that the government and people of Belgium may preserve their integrity and their freedom."

At the same time, the president issued a proclamation applying the neutrality act to the low countries in the same manner he had invoked it previously against Germany, France and England.

The principal practical effect of this was to forbid American credit to the Dutch government. Regardless of the neutrality act, the Belgian government is barred from borrowing in this country by the Johnson act. The latter statute forbids extension of credit to governments which have defaulted on previous war debts to the United States.

Even before Mr. Roosevelt's message to Leopold, a neutrality law to the newest belligerents, Belgium and the Netherlands, was introduced in favor of repealing the Johnson act and revising the neutrality statute to permit the granting of credit to Britain and her allies.

"If I've got a bulldog in my front yard to scare away burglars, the Kentuckian told reporters, "I'm going to feed him."

Some senators previously had expressed fear that credits might lead the country into war.

CHURCHILL SETS UP A 'STREAMLINED' WAR CABINET

Under New Five-Man Board England Rushes To Holland Front

LONDON, May 11 (AP)—With characteristic speed, Winston Churchill tonight formed a new British government of all parties and gathered around himself a new streamlined, five-man war cabinet while allied forces raced against time for vantage points in the low countries and swapped blows from the air with German warplanes.

The war cabinet, replacing the old eight-man board of strategy of Neville Chamberlain, includes Chamberlain, Lord Halifax, foreign secretary under the resigned prime minister, and the labor party leaders, Clement R. Attlee and Arthur Greenwood.

Its formation was announced as British and French troops sped to positions alongside their new Dutch and Belgian allies, Royal Air Force planes blasted away at German concentrations and communications in the Rhineland and British naval planes gave Adolf Hitler a dose of his own surprise strategy with sudden stabs against German-occupied Bergen, on Norway's west coast.

In addition to the premiership, Churchill retained the portfolio of defense minister and designated Chamberlain lord president of the council; Attlee, lord privy seal; Greenwood, minister without portfolio; and kept Lord Halifax in his old post.

In appointments outside the war cabinet, he handed over his former job of first lord of the admiralty to A. V. Alexander, laborite who held the post in Ramsay MacDonald's government in 1929-1931; and appointed Anthony Eden, conservative minister of war, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, liberal leader, air minister.

Churchill expects to announce other cabinet appointments Monday or Tuesday.

There were no immediate indications who will be chancellor of the exchequer or whether Sir John Simon is being replaced in this post.

It is regarded now as unlikely that David Lloyd George, World War premier and chief critic of Chamberlain, will be included in the Churchill cabinet.

Handsome, assertive Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary under Chamberlain and later dominions secretary, supplanted Oliver Stanley, whose replacement in the war ministry last January caused sharp criticism.

Attlee, chief of the labor opposition who helped bring Chamberlain's downfall, replaces Sir Kingsley Wood.

Sir Samuel Hoare is supplanted by Sir Archibald Sinclair, the liberal opposition spokesman, and Greenwood, deputy labor leader, takes over the post formerly held by Lord Hankey. As lord president of the council, Chamberlain is presiding member of the privy council, a position not formerly included in the war cabinet but listed in tonight's announcement as second only to Churchill's post.

The smaller war cabinet meets the demands of numerous members of parliament for a more wieldy body to facilitate quick decisions. Its duty is to step up the British war effort unhampered by departmental red tape.

'New Type Of Weapon' Said Put In Use

Picked Air Force Had Put The Fort Out Of Action

BERLIN, May 11 (AP)—A "new type of weapon" enabled the armies of Adolf Hitler to capture Eben Emael, described as the strongest fortress in Belgium's liege defenses, the German high command announced tonight.

The forts' commander and 1,000 men surrendered, the announcement said.

A picked air force detachment, in a slanting attack from above, already had put the fort out of action yesterday, the command said, and held its garrison in check with the new weapon until an army unit attacking from the north arrived and forced the surrender.

"Further and more precise details must of course be kept in the dark," authorities said of the new weapon.

It was a matter of speculation whether this was the weapon which Hitler mentioned in a speech at Danzig last year and which has had experts guessing at its nature ever since. (There also has been speculation whether it was the magnetic mine.)

Eben Emael was the second fort claimed to have been taken in the Liege fortified zone, where the imperial German steamroller was stalled for a week of frontal assault in 1914.

This time the German armies sliced through the Dutch appendix province of southern Limburg, which virtually is undefensible, seized Maastricht, on the border between the western edge of Dutch Limburg and Belgium, and captured the vital bridges over the Maas river and the Albert canal in Maastricht and to the west of it.

Then, according to the official German announcement, they stormed Fort Eben Emael, which controls these crossings, and it surrendered this afternoon.

The scene of this action is some 15 miles north of Liege proper. The new Albert canal runs north from Liege to above Maastricht, thence west to Antwerp, and with its correlated fortresses, is Belgium's shield against invasion from the northeast and north.

(An official Belgian communique admitted the Germans gained "a foothold," at heavy cost, in the Belgian defensive positions about Maastricht, but insisted that "around Liege, our positions remain intact.")

French military sources acknowledged the Germans had taken Maastricht.

Germany's communique claimed between 300 and 400 enemy planes were destroyed on the ground and 33 shot down in air fights yesterday. The Germans said they lost 11 and 15 were missing.

CHUTISTS KILLED AS THEY TRY TO LAND IN THE INTERIOR

Amsterdam Bombed By Invaders, Attempt Made On Police Quarters

AMSTERDAM, May 11 (AP)—Netherlands border troops were reported officially tonight to have recaptured one town from the main German invading forces in a four-hour counter-attack and to have killed every soldier in a German armored train.

In the interior, the Dutch high command said, the Germans dropped more parachute troops and they, for the most part, were destroyed.

But with German bombs killing at least a score persons in the first air raid on Amsterdam, the country's largest city, the defending army and police ran into new troubles.

Germans in civilian garb tried in vain to capture police headquarters at The Hague and sniped at soldiers and policemen from the roofs of houses.

While first line Dutch troops, for the most part, were falling back according to plan from the eastern frontier after laying waste to means of approach, the high command acknowledged the Germans had "crossed a river"—presumably either the IJssel, east of Arnhem, or the Maas, further south.

The front line defenders, however, had accomplished their main purpose: gaining time for complete flooding of the main water line defenses in the middle Netherlands.

One border fort was stubbornly holding out against the Germans. The town recaptured by the Dutch was identified in allied advice as Mill, ten miles inside the frontier on a main, cross-country railway line.

The same advice identified the fort holding out as Pennerden, at Velp, east of Arnhem (however, French military advices reported Arnhem, in east central Netherlands, about 12 miles from the border had been captured by the Germans).

Although Netherlands troops, aided by British planes and the Dutch river fleet, were reported earlier to have wiped out resistance of parachute troops at Rotterdam and Dordrecht island, tonight's communique indicated the airport at Waalhaven, south of Rotterdam, still was in German hands.

The communique, in part: "After furious attacks which lasted four hours—a town which had been in the hands of the enemy had been recaptured by us. Thereafter all soldiers on a German armored train were killed. In the train were found pamphlets in the Netherlands language and Netherlands army uniforms. x x x

"The English air forces have repeatedly bombed the only airport still in German hands (presumably, Waalhaven). German troops have penetrated from this airport to some points and vigorous action is now proceeding against them.

"An attempt to take police headquarters somewhere in Holland (The Hague) by surprise failed completely. From some houses where Germans are living who up to now enjoyed the hospitality of our country, there has been firing on the Dutch military and police. "An effective end has been put to this x x x

Another German bomb raid on Amsterdam's airport, Schiphol, was driven off, with four German planes shot down by British and Dutch fighters.

LATE BULLETINS

LONDON, May 11, (Sunday) (AP) The Brussels radio reported at 7:05 a. m. today (1:05 a. m. EST) that 10 German planes had been sighted over the city and 10 minutes later the station went off the air.

Several hours earlier the station had announced that 31 Nazi bombers had flown over Aacht at a height of 12,000 feet.

NEW YORK, May 11 (Sunday) (AP)—A Brussels broadcast, picked up by NBC, said the Belgian capital had undergone two more German air raids this morning.

AMSTERDAM, May 11 (Sunday) (AP)—At least 20 persons were reported killed today when four bombs fell in the heart of the city.

LONDON, May 11 (Sunday) (AP) A German radio broadcast heard here today said Essen, where the great German Krupp arm works are located, and two other German towns had been bombed by allied planes.

AMSTERDAM, May 11 (Sunday) (AP)—Dutch military units sped to South Amsterdam early today to search for German parachute troops reported to have entered that section of the city after landing outside nearby Haarlem.

LONDON, May 11 (Sunday) (AP) The Netherlands air ministry radio service announced shortly after 3 a. m. today (8:40 p. m. CST Saturday) that several German planes had been sighted over Gruitdenburg, east of Rotterdam, flying westward.

Rural School Program Set Eighty-seven grade students of rural schools in Howard county will receive promotion certificates in exercises planned for Monday evening.

Of the number 81 will participate in joint exercises at the city auditorium while 13 at Chalk and 11 at Midway will be given theirs in individual school programs.

'Life In America' Is Theme Of WT Revue

"Life in America," the WTCC convention revue and entertainment highlight under direction of Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence, is expected to play to capacity crowds Thursday and Friday evenings at the city auditorium.

Because the program will be broadcast, the curtain will go up promptly at 8 p. m. each night, and those attending will be out of the show in plenty of time to make the dances.

Developing the convention's Americanization theme, the show will be built around Indian days, the pioneer era and modern times. The script has been edited down to where the revue will move on at a fast pace.

Against a setting of trees and Indian topees, secured from a Dallas amusement concern, the "Spirit of Indian Days" will include the staging of "Pale Moon" by Arthur Hodge, San Angelo, and an interpretative Indian dance by Mary Ruth Dilts, Lubbock, formerly of Big Spring.

See Another Oil Shutdown

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP)—The possibility of another long statewide oil field shutdown similar to the one of last August arose here today.

Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler warned that Texas crude and gasoline stocks were so high a 15-day shut-in starting about May 27 might be necessary.

Commission Chairman Lon A. Smith said he had formed no opinion on whether another closing was needed but agreed with Sadler that the situation was serious. The question probably will be discussed fully, he added, at the next statewide prorotation hearing May 20.

Ernest O. Thompson, the third member of the commission, insisted a shutdown would not be required. The industry will sail through the summer in good shape, he asserted, if the commission will issue a 90-day prorotation order based on the United States bureau of mines production recommendation for June.

At least part, and perhaps all, of the new section of state highway No. 9 south will be open in time for use by WTCC convention visitors from the south.

Surfacing of S. Gregg street progressed to within a few blocks of the south end of the city and once on the highway proper, rapid progress will be made on the 30-foot paving.

Drive Halted By Frenchmen

PARIS, May 11 (AP)—Seasoned French troops in the Sierck region of the Moselle river valley today beat off the largest German attack on the Maginot line since the war started, military sources reported. An entire German division of 14,000 men was said to have been halted in its tracks.

The Nazi movement just east of Luxembourg reportedly was from the strongly fortified front-line positions to which outpost units withdrew yesterday at the first assault by Nazi advance guards.

Additional forces quartered in the subterranean Maginot line supported the battle squares with artillery and machine-gun fire and tonight the military spokesman here said the battle area was quieting down.

At the same time, a French high command communique said the Germans had lost heavily in fighting in the southern part of Luxembourg.

The allies were rushing troops to the aid of the low countries, the communique revealed, adding: "Indicated preparations were going ahead for large-scale fighting which forecasters have said might result in the "most gigantic battle of all times."

France counted her civilian dead in two days of air raids at 147 tonight, reports from various towns swelling the first total of more than 100 persons killed.

The report indicated that air fields, railway centers and stations appeared to be the principal objects of the Nazi air force.

Home Towners Now Total 66

The virtues of nearly 70 West Texas cities will be paraded by boys and girls of high school in the area as the perennial favorite of the WTCC convention—the My Home Town contest—is unveiled here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The entry list stood at 66 Saturday night with Doyle Flores, Balmorhea, and Aza Lea Hollibaugh, Roby, the new entries. Vernis D. Wolfe, Gatesville; Lois Murphy, Odessa; Dwight Lewis Kinard, Memphis, and Betty Lou Frazier, Tahoka, were certified as their community representatives.

Family From Clarendon Is Area's 'Most Typical'

FORT WORTH, May 11 (AP)—The title of "typical American family in West Texas" today was awarded to the family of D. E. Leathers, Clarendon, Donley county farm and ranch operator.

Chosen to represent District 1 of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in the contest, Mr. and Mrs. Leathers and son 19, and a daughter 16, were selected from among nine other district winners as most representative of the West Texas region.

The family has started getting ready for their biggest thrill, a trip to the New York world's fair as the West Texas candidates in a contest to select the national American family.

The winning family will make its first official appearance in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce revue, "Life In America," Thursday night at the opening of the WTCC convention in Big Spring.

The alternate choice of the judges in the West Texas contest is the family of John J. Prudeo of Rankin and Fort Davis. They also will be presented at the Big Spring convention.

Weather Forecast

WEST TEXAS—Variable high cloudiness Sunday and Monday with afternoon showers or thunderstorms over mountains of southwest portion warmer Sunday.

EAST TEXAS — Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday.

Garden City Classes Have A Banquet

Members of the Garden City senior class were honored by their sponsors, the junior class, in their traditional banquet at the Crawford hotel here Saturday evening.

W. T. "Tanias" Strange, Lubbock, delivered the principal address, mixing seriousness with humor, in telling the young men and women that they faced great challenges and prospects, advised them not to give up and overlook no opportunity.

N. P. Taylor, superintendent, lauded the two classes, declaring that the school had accomplished a record amount of work this year, a fact he attributed to student cooperation. Taylor said that a high school education was easily worth $10 a day to the student—$7,200—for the four year course and admonished the seniors to continue hard work.

On the program were Bobbie Bogard, Mrs. C. J. Cox, LaNeil Cox, Carolyn Cox, Norma Ruth Calverley, Lolita Redell, Vernay Boynton, Inez Sellers, Mattie Martin, Wyatt Lipscomb, Peggy Jean Sparkman, Celia Westerman, J. W. Patterson and Keith Appleby. Isabel Cox was pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Wester of Iranan have been the guests of his sister, Mrs. J. F. Crenshaw, and husband.

Revue

be the pioneer family composed of Mrs. Ira Thurman as the mother, George Coats, as the father, and Mary Ann Dudley and Dean Miller as the children, who will do a dance "Put Your Little Feet."

Swing is the tempo for the third and final act, "Spirit of Today," Teresa Corcoran from North Texas State Teachers College will give one of her famed dances, Nancy Jane Gates, well known young Denton singer, will be heard and a tap dance trio from Midland made up of Marjorie Barron, Jean Shotlander and Ann Vannaman, will show their flying feet.

Featured in the show will be Joyce Whaley, Sweetwater, current "Miss West Texas," and Gloria Conley, "Miss Big Spring." They will be attended by Sonny Hargrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hargrove, and Patricia Neel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Neel. Both were Tiny Tot bathing revue winners.

Sponsors will be presented between the first and second acts and will be on stage for all of the third act, which is garden party setting. At the conclusion of the Thursday evening show, those attending will ballot for "Miss West Texas," neither Miss Whaley nor Miss Conley being eligible. Friday evening the winner will be "crowned" with a 10-gallon hat emblematic of her title.

An added attraction for the Thursday show will be the first presentation of the Typical West Texas Family. Both the winning and the alternate families will be quartered at the Crawford.

Music for the revue will be furnished by Floyd Graham's 17-piece NTSTC band. Assisting Mrs. Lawrence in producing the show are Mrs. R. E. Hount, Ruby Bell, Miss Eugene McNallen and Mrs. Frank Gibson, stage committee; and Roy J. McDaniel, in charge of properties.

NO NEW CONTRACT FOR SHIRLEY TEMPLE

HOLLYWOOD, May 11 (AP)—Twentieth Century Fox studio will not renew its contract with Shirley Temple, juvenile film star who was the world's top-ranking box office attraction for four consecutive years.

ALBAUGH TEST AT 4,325 FEET IN LIME

Late Saturday the Ray Albaugh No. 2 John A. Robinson northwest Dawson county wildcat had drilled to 4,325 feet in hard lime. On the ground were 4,900 feet of 7-inch OD pipe ready to be run to that depth before the shift is made from rotary to standard. The test has been high on the anhydrite and lime markers. Location is in section 54-M, ELARR.

HERE'S MAP OF 'TOTAL WAR' AFTER FIRST DAY—Unprecedented in all history was the blitzkrieg drive of land forces into Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg. Black arrows indicate the location and direction of many German thrusts by land which accompanied parachuting of troops to the ground at many points, and widespread bombing. Nazi symbols show cities subjected to bombing—or where Hitler parachuted troops to the ground. White arrows indicate Dutch and allied defense moves. The major battle of the first day was at Rotterdam, with Dutch offering stubborn resistance. Nazis claimed capture of Maastricht and Malmédy. Dutch reports said British forces had landed at several points on the Netherlands coast, with British detachments passing through Amsterdam. Germans claimed Luxembourg went into Nazi hands with virtually no resistance, but French reports said allied forces had engaged the invaders inside the little duchy.

FOILS ATTEMPTS TO DYNAMITE RAIL LINE

DEMING, N. M., May 11 (AP)—A Southern Pacific railroad track-walker foiled an attempt to dynamite the company's main line here today, and an alien Mexican was jailed for investigation.

Sheriff Ernest Prugel said the man arrested was identified as Miguel Portillo, 52. Nine sticks of dynamite, capped and fused, were found by the track-walker under a switch frog on the company's main track, 150 feet from the North Gold avenue underpass inside the city.

FASCIST FEELING IS RUNNING HIGH AGAINST BRITAIN

ROME, May 11 (AP)—Arid mounting fascist feeling against Great Britain, marked by anti-British posters and a slugging incident, Pope Pius XII sent his blessing from the Vatican today to Germany's newest enemies, with prayers for their victory. Messages to the Catholic rulers of Belgium and Luxembourg and to Protestant Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, whose countries had been attacked "against their will and right," said of the pope's prayers for their liberation.

Convention

New officers will be elected after H. S. Hilburn, Plainview, reports for the nominating group. Sidney Kring, Wichita Falls, will serve as secretary.

Oil, livestock and cotton—economic backbone of the region—will be discussed at the Producers General assembly Friday, 10 a. m. with Joe Clark, Albany, head of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas association, Jay Taylor, Amarillo, president of the Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, and H. G. Farr, Fort Worth, trade barrier chairman for the State-wide Cotton committee, as speakers.

Typical West Texas Family will be introduced by Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth, while Mayor G. C. Durham and Ted O. Groebel, local chamber president, will open the session and extend a welcome. A. L. Clifton, Waco, will respond. Nominations for the next convention city—four minutes each from Waco, Mineral Wells and Midland—will be heard from the floor.

Meanwhile, the works committee will have been in session until the wee hours Thursday evening and back at work Friday morning. Its final session—a prolonged one—will be Friday evening.

While balloting for the 1941 convention site waxes warm Friday afternoon, the convention takes off for the big All-Youth parade and the Americanization meeting, where will be developed the "American Way of Life" theme, at the city auditorium. Oscar H. Benson, national director of rural scouting for Boy Scouts of America and founder of the 4-H club movement, will speak. Governor W. Les O'Daniel will have a brief word for youth.

Heading down the home stretch, directors hold their last session at 7:30 a. m. breakfast Saturday to pass on last resolutions and elect new officers on the basis of reports by Houston Harte, San Angelo, nominations chairman.

Governor O'Daniel will make the featured address of the morning speaking on "The Citizen and His Government" in which he will urge closer study of local governments and budgets.

But it will be Rupert F. Asplund, Santa Fe, N. M., for 25 years director of the New Mexico Taxpayers association, and George C. Heister, Georgetown, Southwestern University professor, who will develop the convention topics on government and expenditures. Asplund will talk on local governments and budget making and Heister on mounting public expenditures.

The session will open at 9:30 a. m. and will close with announcement by Gairard of the next convention city and the introduction of new officers by Harte. At all assembly sessions, J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, will preside and A. F. Ashford, San Angelo, will be in charge of directors sessions. E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, president, is honorary head of all activities.

Decorations Are Going Up

Big Spring Saturday began putting on a gay front for convention visitors as nearly 150 business men cooperated in raising red, white and blue blunting.

Jake Douglas, Jr., chairman of the decorations and parade committee, said he was gratified by response and urged others who might have been overlooked to contact him.

Among other firms who joined Saturday in erecting decorations were Sherrod Bros., Wackers, Woolworth, Lloyds, Banner Creamery, Hiway Liquor, Bankhead Cafe, Master Cleaners, Coca Cola, Firestone Service, Barker Steak House, Logan Hatchery, A. W. Castle, Bud Lawson Service, Modern Cleaners, Shroyer Motor, Humble Service, Douglass Barber Shop, Courtesy Service, Master's Electric.

Millers Pig Stand, Bugg Food Store, Ross Barbecue, Meyer Courts, Coleman Camp, Hill-top Cafe, Frank Powell's Service, Tex Hotel, Pool Grocery, Hanshaw-Queen Motor, Troy Gifford Service, Marvin Wood Garage, John Nutt Service, Reeder Insurance, Walker Abstract, Settles Barber Shop, Thorp Paint & Paper, Harry Lees Tailor Shop, McEwen Motor, Taylor Electric Service, Texas Club, Bliss Liquor, Lone Star Chevrolet, Public Investment, Bell Telephone, C.A.P. No. 4, Postal, Piggly Wiggly and Darby's Bakery.

Another phase of the work by Douglass' committee was the parade which was shaping up nicely with a total of 23 bands pledged for the convention. In addition, most of the 500 Boy Scouts and leaders gathered here for their annual Round Up, will join in the procession as will scores of 4-H club boys and girls from this and surrounding counties.

In the official section of the parade will be Governor and Mrs. O'Daniel; his aide, Assistant Adj. General Gaston S. Howard; E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, WTCC president, and Mrs. Fawcett; Ted O. Groebel, local chamber president, and Mrs. Groebel; Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth; and Oscar H. Benson, New York, national Boy Scout official.

The parade route has been mapped and those participating have been notified of their mobilization points and when and where they will be fed into the line of march. The parade demobilizes near the city auditorium where the Americanization meeting will be held.

The session will open at 9:30 a. m. and will close with announcement by Gairard of the next convention city and the introduction of new officers by Harte. At all assembly sessions, J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, will preside and A. F. Ashford, San Angelo, will be in charge of directors sessions. E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, president, is honorary head of all activities.

Mother's Day..... May 12th

Our Tribute To Your Mother

We can think of no holiday more in keeping with the American Tradition than Mother's Day. It has ever been "American" to honor the great heroes of our land — is it not fitting, then, that we should set aside a day in honor of our greatest heroine, the American mother?

But Mother's Day takes on added importance when we stop to think of how personal this holiday is. All American mothers of course we honor, to our own Mother we pay special tribute.

If it isn't possible for you to see your mother today, why not wire or call her? . . . Your thoughtfulness will fill her heart to overflowing—

TIME TRIED — PANIC TESTED

Honoring a Great Lady

It's our sincere belief that Mothers are truly the greatest people in the world. We know too that this is a very busy and disconcerting world . . . and that sometimes we forget how much Mother really means to us. However, this Sunday is your chance to really express your devotion . . . the day Mother expects you to be with her. Don't let her down . . . she's depending on you just as you've depended on her for years in the past.

War Issues Up, Others Decline

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—The stock market emerged from its second worst week of the year today with a rally in war issues and a further decline on many peace time shares.

While speculative forces seemed to have partially recovered from the selling shock of Friday's session, most were unwilling to resume bidding except for steel, aircrafts and coppers which, it was believed, may benefit quickly from heavier allied purchasing due to intensification of the European conflict.

much were widely distributed. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 450 from yesterday, but compared with last Saturday, off 1.3 points.

WPA's Non-Construction Projects Will Be Displayed To The Public

Open House Week Scheduled For May 20-25

All the varied activities of WPA workers on non-construction projects in this area will be on display from May 20 through May 25 in order that interested citizens may inspect the work being done in this phase of the works program, it is announced.

Emphasizing the theme, "This Work Pays Your Community," WPA officials are inviting the public to see the type of jobs which are being provided for women and for professional and clerical workers.

WPA projects in Big Spring include the housekeeping aide, nursery school, paleontological recreation, matron service, library and commodity distribution.

Monday night, May 20, an entertainment program will be furnished by local talent and supervised by H. F. Malone, recreation supervisor. Hours are from 8 o'clock to 9 o'clock when a radio broadcast will feature talks by Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt, John M. Carmody, administrator of Federal Works Agency, Colonel F. C. Harrington, commissioner of work projects administration and Mrs. Florence Kerr, national director of professional and service projects.

The primary objective of this open house work is to acquaint the public with the tangible benefits which are derived from this broad program of work for women and white collar workers," declared John C. Burnside, district manager.

"Roads, bridges, and public buildings standing in plain view of the public need no introduction but much of the valuable work done on the projects operated in sewing rooms, nursery schools, libraries, class rooms and in other WPA industry projects headquarters escape the attention of the average person.

PTA NOMINEE—Name of Mrs. Wm. Kletzer (above) of Portland, Ore., will be offered for three-year term as president of National Congress of Parents and Teachers at the P.T.A. convention May 4-6, at Omaha, Neb. She's now a vice president.

which may be added to the worth while activities of the local communities. In some localities useful projects are operating which are adaptable and needed in other nearby communities. We are hoping that interested officials will profit by the interchange of ideas received during this work and will be aided in developing well-rounded programs of public benefit in every community in this section," Burnside said.

FHA Volume Here Over $250,000

The Federal Housing Administration's volume of business in Howard county from the beginning of the FHA program through 1939 exceeded a quarter of a million dollars, E. T. Stearns, FHA district director at Fort Worth, announces.

This figure includes mortgages accepted for insurance and property improvement loans reported by lending institutions, Stearns said. The separate totals are: 62 mortgages accepted for insurance amounting to $203,212 and 208 property improvement loans amounting to $74,181. Thus the total of private capital under FHA auspices represented in Howard county's modernization and building program during this period amounted to $277,393 in 270 loans.

The Federal Housing Administration program in Howard county, Stearns said, received its greatest impetus in 1939 when the FHA accepted for insurance 30 mortgages amounting to $108,100 or very close to fifty per cent of the total volume of mortgages accepted for insurance throughout the entire program. Property improvement loans during this period numbered 71 in the amount of $30,801.

Indications, Stearns said, point to a continuation of activity at least at the 1939 level and possibly at an increased rate through 1940. The efforts of the building industry to supply housing for the lower income groups could account for a substantial increase. This would involve the building of homes in the $2,500 price range which can be bought under the FHA plan with a small down payment and monthly payments not in excess of $25, Stearns said.

AAA COMPLIANCE MEETING MONDAY

Approximately seventy-five county committeemen, performance supervisors, clerks and others from District 6 north were due to gather here Monday at 9 a. m. in the Settles for a compliance meeting.

E. V. Swain, AAA field representative for the northern half of District 6, said that the session would deal entirely with problems and procedure surrounding compliance with the 1940 Federal farm program.

C. H. Mosely, state compliance supervisor, will lead most of the discussions. A visitor at the meeting will be J. I. Mauck, assistant field supervisor for District 2 of which Lubbock is the center. The meeting here will be a one-day affair.

Sales are hitting new highs... so Buick dealers are ready to make swell deals.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you missed it!

JUST suppose that down the street a dealer had an automobile so close to your heart's desire that it might have been made to your own specifications. Suppose it had the room you've been wanting—the big, strapping size you'd like—the imposing style and good looks and soul-satisfying luxury of appointment. Suppose it had all the life and zip and action you could ask for and a big, durable, thrifty power plant that could match even fine watch-works for smoothness. Suppose you knew that car set the standard for real modernity and value—but just assumed that it must be out of your reach because it was so obviously good!

Spring Flowers Are Decoration At Affair

A candlelight breakfast was held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock by members of the Sub Deb club honoring their mothers and guests at the Settles hotel.

Wild roses and larkspur decorated the rooms and formed a flower border on the tables that were set in U shape. Candles in crystal holders were at intervals down the table. Blue, green orchid and pink were the chosen colors and used throughout the decorations.

Favors were colonial nosegays tied with ribbons of the four colors and placed at each mother's place. Programs were circular and decorated with lace and in the center was a wild rose. Ribbons of the four colors also decorated the programs.

Place cards for mothers were in the shape of aprons trimmed with lace and for daughters were baby clothes.

Panicles scattered over the table and bowls of other cut flowers completed the decorations. Janice Slaughter met guests at the door and gave a program to each mother and after the breakfast welcomed each mother and guest. Members introduced their mothers and a sextet, "Mother" was sung by Sara Lamun, Marie Dunham, Gloria Conley, Ruth Ann Dempsey, Anna Belle Edwards, Loveda Shultz, Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser played the accompaniment.

A toast to mothers was given by Champe Phillips who closed by reading an original poem by Champe Phillips. The response was given by Mrs. E. M. Conley from all the mothers.

The mothers were made honorary members of the Sub Deb club and the group sang the club song.

Convention To Bring Round Of Parties

Teas, Dances And Tours Of The City To Be Held To Entertain Sponsors And Wives Of Visiting Officials

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention may mean a good deal of work for the organization as far as the men in charge are concerned but it will be just a round of parties for the feminine members.

There are dances, parties, teas, and tours enough to satisfy the most social minded. Various committees are at work to arrange entertainment for the sponsors and others who will attend on May 16, 17, 18th, the 22nd annual convention.

As chairman of the women's activities, Mrs. Ted Groehl is in charge of several affairs to be given for wives of directors and visiting officials. There will be approximately 50 women present and the local directors' wives and wives of city officials will act as official hosts.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the groups will meet at the Settles hotel on the mezzanine floor to go on a scenic tour of the city. Such spots as the state hospital, scenic drive and the park will be visited and shown to the out-of-town guests.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock a coffee is to be given at the Crawford hotel for the group.

The Business and Professional Woman's club is to act as host to the sponsors who will number approximately 40 girls representing their towns.

A tea dance for Thursday afternoon from 4 o'clock to 6 o'clock has been scheduled the first day of the convention and a theatre party Wednesday night has been temporarily planned for those sponsors who may arrive early.

A booth is to be set up in the Settles hotel where the girls will register and members of the club will be on hand to help them find their rooms, old friends or show them about the city.

Friday morning a chuck wagon breakfast is to be held at 9 o'clock at the city park for the guests and members of the club. A bacon and egg breakfast, coffee and plenty of fun and music are promised for this informal affair. Jeannette Barnett, president of the club, is chairman of the sponsor activities.

Other Entertainment

In addition to the special entertainments, immediately following the recess Thursday and Friday nights which are being staged at the municipal auditorium, dances are to be held at the Settles and Crawford hotel ballrooms for all members of the convention. Temporary arrangements have also been set to have square dancing at the Elks hall on both nights for novel dancing.

Guests registered in the white brides book and gifts were presented to the bride-elect. Others present were Mrs. Joseph Primm, Mrs. William Dehlinger, Mrs. Worth Peeler, Mrs. Ben LeFevre, Dorothy LeFevre, Mary Burns, Mrs. Albert Fisher, Elinor Byerley, Elizabeth Northington, Betty Craven, Mrs. Claude Miller, Mrs. Matt Harrington, Mrs. Hayden Cochran.

Sending gifts were Mrs. Henry Edwards, Mrs. G. C. Dunham, Mrs. Fritz Wehner, Mrs. Elmer Craven, Mrs. Harry Williamson, Mrs. B. R. Whaley, Mrs. A. Swartz, Ann Zarafonitis, Doris Thomas, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mrs. William Tate, Mrs. Robert Currie, Mrs. Dave Eastbourne, Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mrs. Sam Goldman.

HD Council Has Reports At Meet Saturday

Dates Of Coming Activities Are Announced

Council reports were given by Mrs. H. W. Musgrove and Mrs. R. E. Martin when the Howard county home demonstration council met Saturday in the county agent's office with Mrs. Hart Phillips presiding.

Mrs. W. H. Ward gave a report of the dairy show at Lamesa on April 26th and Mrs. H. S. Hanson gave a report from land use planning which she and Mrs. Glen Cantrell inspected at Plainview, O'Donnell and Taboka.

Mrs. Hanson announced a benefit party in the W. O. W. hall on May 23rd. Achievement day was announced for June 28th by Mrs. Shirley Fryar, 4-H club girls' sponsor and a youth's parade for May 17th at 2 o'clock when the 4-H girls will participate was told.

The next radio program is to be given by Overton and Knott, Mrs. U. S. Dalmont said and the mattress program was discussed. June 15th has been set as a deadline for these mattresses.

Short course for adults at A. & M. is to be July 11th and 12th and every club is to elect a candidate to be present at the June council meeting. Three will be chosen to represent the county at the Texas Home Demonstration association.

The council voted to let chairmen appoint the three delegates to the demonstration. The next reporter's meeting was set for May 25th.

Others present included Lora Farnsworth, Mrs. Walter Barbee of Hi-Way, Mrs. J. Z. Parker of Midway, Mrs. O. D. Fletcher of Midway, Mrs. R. E. Martin of R-Bar, Mrs. Porter Hanks of Vealmoor, Mrs. W. Agnell of Big Spring, Mrs. Joe B. Hoard, Mrs. O. N. Green, both of Clischoak, Mary Snell, Margaret Jackson.

Spring Breakfast And Program Given By Study Club

STANTON, May 10 (Sp1)—The Stanton Study club met Thursday morning in the City cafe for a spring breakfast and Mrs. Arlo Forrest presided as hostess.

Places were marked by small white cards placed in front of miniature may baskets, filled with spring blossoms. The long breakfast table was centered with five large bouquets of roses, carnations and honeysuckle.

Following the breakfast and a business meeting at which the date for a barbecue was set for May 30, the club members adjourned to the home of Mrs. Poe Woodard, where the program was presented.

Mrs. Charles Slaughter gave a report of the Eighth District convention which met in Midland, April 3, 4 and 5. Mrs. Slaughter was official delegate for the Stanton Study club.

Mrs. Poe Woodard presented a review of Irving D. Tressler's "With Malice Toward All," a hilarious account of the author's trip through the southern states. The book is a take-off on "With Malice Toward Some," and was written by the same author who wrote "How to Lose Friends and Alienate People," a take-off on Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Those present were Miss Maude Alexander, Mrs. O. B. Bryan, Mrs. P. L. Daniel, Mrs. Ernest Epley, Mrs. Fillmore Epley, Mrs. Arlo Forrest, Mrs. Elsie Gilkerson, Mrs. Odie Hazlewood, Mrs. Calvin Jones, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Dale Kelly, Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Mrs. H. A. MEET THE KING AND QUEEN—Reigning royalty of Big Spring Kiddieland are Sonny Hargrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hargrove, and Patricia Neel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Neel. They were declared the winner in a Tiny Tot's revue, staged last Sunday in connection with the opening of the municipal swimming pool, taking honors in a field of 20 entrants. Silver trophies went to both Sonny and Patricia, the latter shown accepting her loving cup from City Manager E. V. Spencer while Sonny waits for his. The two will have special parts in the all-West Texas revue, to be staged at the municipal auditorium Thursday and Friday nights as an entertainment feature of the WTCC convention.—(Photo by Kelsey).

SENIOR CLASS REHEARSING ON PLAY TO BE GIVEN HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

At 8 o'clock Tuesday night, the senior class of Big Spring high school will present a play, "Oh Professor," at the municipal auditorium.

Capturing the true light-hearted spirit and fun of college life, Katharine Kavanaugh in writing the three-act comedy has produced a play as gay as the fests and as fast moving. The play concerns a fun-loving crowd of characters who become involved in a puzzling and absurd mix-up of identities that forms the plot for the comedy.

The cast includes Lawrence Deason as Michael Pemberton, Jacqueline Faw as Patricia Patterson; Percival Courtwright played by Warren Baxley, Dr. Aristotle acted by J. L. Wood and Jake played by Joe Robert Myers.

Johnny Miller plays the part of Jimmy Anderson, Madam Fifi is played by Cheslie Miller and Helen Pool takes the part of Miss Fredricka. Loveda Shultz is Fluff, Marie Dunham, Bertha; Mary Margaret Williams is Jean and Cozarea Walker is Belle.

With each character working on his part and assuming the responsibility of his role, the play promises to be successful.

The Sports Parade

BY HANK HART

Lew Jenkins, New 135-Pound Champ, To Visit Here Soon

Lew Jenkins, the Sweetwater swimmer who Friday night won the lightweight boxing championship of the world by knocking Lou Ambers, Herkimer, N. Y., in less than three rounds, will probably visit here sometime this week. A sister, Mrs. Faye Dean, who has lived here for the past decade, intended to go to Sweetwater today to greet the young titlist, returning home with all speed to be with a very sick mother. Lew's next fight is almost certain to be with Sammy Angott, who won the NBA version of the 135-pound crown in a bout with Davey Day at Louisville, Ky. Lew should take that one easily enough. Angott could get no better than a draw in a fight with Tippy Larkin last year. Larkin is the younger who was punched just once by Jenkins. One of Jenkins' more enthusiastic promoters here is Jake Robertson, who grew up with him in Sweetwater.

Joe E. Brown, the movie comedian and father of Joe Brown, business manager of the Lubbock baseball club, suited out for the first two games of the Big Spring-Lubbock series last week and served as part time coach for the Hubs. Working a couple of innings on the first base line Thursday night, Brown took opportunity to direct a verbal barrage at the Big Spring dugout, attempting to rattle Irv Pellegrini, Baron hurler, but Pellegrini ignored him. The comic paid Berger quite a compliment by saying "The Big Spring team played smart baseball." His idea of a smart baseball team, he added, was a team that could score the most runs. Collier Parrish, Lubbock scribe, placed a stamp of approval of the Big Spring team, writing that the Barons were the best looking ball team to appear in Lubbock this season.

The Barons' great shortstop, Don Wolin, should make the WT-NM League's all-star team in a walk this season. He was beaten out for the honor by Lubbock's Salty Parker in 1939. Salty, incidentally, is playing a good infield for the Marshall Tigers this year, has them right in there fighting for the East Texas league lead. He's hitting himself in the third slot. Charley Engle, Lubbock's skipper, has slowed up badly during the past four seasons. He at one time was one of the classic shortstops in the Texas league.

Charley Correll, the first sacker pink slipped by Manager Tony Rego Thursday morning, has caught on with Berger. Charley wasn't hitting up to expectations but the real reason Rego let him go was because he wanted more pepper in his inner cordon. Bill Garbe, the new man, can talk a heap. Garbe, incidentally was in the league in 1936, playing both with Midland and Hobbs. Has been at Salty's wing as an outfielder at that time. Bob Knobles, Tony's new gardener, was with Salt Lake the early part of the season.

Attendance At WT-NM League Has Not Been Up To Par

Attendance at WT-NM league games is not up to par but should pick up when the weather definitely takes a turn for the better. Amarillo is proving to be the most popular home club in the league. Lubbock's figures are sadly off. So are Big Spring's. The turnouts at Lamesa have been so-so. Lynn Everson, who starred in the Midland outfield last year, was signed by Lubbock upon gaining his release from Midland. In the opinion of many of his supporters, Sammy Hale, Midland skipper, made a mistake in keeping Rube Narango instead of Everson. Dutch Prather, Pampa's new first sacker, is hitting in cleanup position for the Oilers.

On the Barons' last road trip, Eddie Laurel, second sacker, was never fooled on pitches until he reached Lubbock, then struck out four times in two games. The Hollywood Stars gave up on Bill Skelly, shortstop, at the same time they sent Don Wolin back to Big Spring, returning Skelly to Kansas City. Richard Morehead, regular last year, has returned to plug that spot in the Stars' inner works. Bud Giddens, right handed hurler who had been under Jake Ata's wing at Henderson is here for a try-out. Giddens lost out at Henderson when he became sick and had to retire.

Athletics Falter After Early Lead

PHILADELPHIA, May 11 (AP)—The Athletics jumped off to a fast start today, scoring four runs in the first inning, but couldn't hold the lead and lost 9 to 8 to the Washington Senators.

CHAPMAN SCORES TO GIVE TRIBE 1-0 TRIUMPH

CLEVELAND, May 11 (AP)—Rube Hameley's ninth inning single drove in Ben Chapman to give the Cleveland Indians a 1-0 triumph over the St. Louis Browns today.

Will Ramsdell May Toe Slab In Both Tilts

Will Ramsdell, veteran righthander, will go after his fifth and possible his fifth pitching triumphs of the season this afternoon when the Berger Gassers and the Big Spring Barons square off for a twin bill. First game will get underway at 2:30 o'clock.

If the Kansan wins the opener, he is expected to return to the hill for the nightcap, apparently dedicated on achieving his goal of 20 victories this year.

Howard "Lefty" Parks resumed his mastery over the Big Spring team in Saturday night's battle, scattering 15 hits as the Gassers won the first game of the series, 11-7.

The Barons were never in the ball game until the ninth inning when they rallied for four of their runs and had two potential tallies on the sacks.

Bob Larsen opened on the hill for the locals but could not retire the opposition, giving way to Leo Jones after Gordon Neill's forces had chased four runs across the dish. Jones exhibited a fine fast ball in holding the Gassers fairly well in bounds.

Parks was hit hard and was in plenty of trouble but coasted in behind the effective timber work of his mates.

Home Run Mack Short had a first inning home run and two doubles to lead the hitting parade while Snooks Carroll and Carl Cox had three hits each for the Big Springers.

Every man in the Baron lineup with the exception of Bill Scopetone hit safely at least once. Scopy had no luck at all. He was whiffed four times by Parks.

Fat Bell muffed Eddie Laure's ground ball to get Parks in "dutch" to begin the ninth. Bill Garbe followed with a double and the Barons were off to the races. Carroll appeared with his line single and both runners scored.

Scopetone skied to Kirk in center but Cox, Don Wolin and Elton Muratore hit in succession before Parks could force Jones to pop to Decker and Bob Knobles to ground out, Bell to Neill.

Jones did an effective job of bridging the heavy hitting. Neill surrendering only one hit to the big fellow in four tries. He had three swings and three misses on his final try.

REAGS BEATEN COLLEGE STATION, May 11 (AP)—One-hit pitching coupled with a circuit clout with two aboard enabled the Texas Aggies to down the Baylor Bears 5-1 here today in a game that was featured by a slight fielding on both sides.

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT HOUSTON, May 11 (AP)—Flyin' Freddie Wolcott, the cattle country boy with the stout heart, came to the end of his Southwest conference career today with a magnificent high hurdles drive that cracked the American record.

But his best, three first places and a new national record, wasn't enough to stop the well rounded University of Texas team that topped Wolcott and his Rice Institute team from the Southwest conference throne.

The Longhorns, leaning on a huge fellow rapidly developing into one of the nation's best discus heavers and a sack of other point getters, scored 62 points to finish 23 points ahead of Rice. Only two records fell—but Wolcott's 139 second skimming of the 120 yard high hurdles which broke his own American record of 14 seconds flat he shared with Robert Osgood, formerly of Michigan, carried enough drama for the crowd of 3,500.

Deep in the stadium arena, with little wind blowing Wolcott jumped off perfectly on the high hurdle start and failed to touch humber.

On the least stick, with Boyce Gatewood, University of Texas hurdler and Wolcott looking like a double exposure as they over-together, the great Rice man pulled out and finished three feet in front of the Texas boy who has tried unsuccessfully for four years to beat perhaps the greatest American hurdler.

Meet officials said an anemometer, or wind gauge, has been used on the race and that the time would be officially submitted to the National AAU for recognition as a new American mark.

Several minutes later he hurried away from the broad jump pit and captured the 220 yard low hurdles with a stout finish after losing his stride on the final hurdle when his foot slipped it to the ground. But he came out of the stumble,

Doug Jones In S'finals Of Odessa Meet

Defeats Norman And Armstrong, To Meet Raymond Stoker

ODESSA, May 11 — Douglas Jones, Big Spring, advanced into the semi-finals of the Odessa invitational golf tournament by defeating Ed Armstrong, Hobbs, N. M., here Saturday afternoon, 4-3.

His opponent this morning was scheduled to be Raymond Stoker, Odessa, who was impressive with Saturday triumphs over Elton Dozier and Bob Farmer.

Jones won his first round match at the expense of Horace Norman, San Angelo, 2 and 1.

In the lower bracket of play two Odessans, Eddie Morgan and Morgan Neill, will play for the right to the finals.

Obie Bristow, Big Spring, was eliminated by Neill, one up 19 holes Saturday afternoon after deciding the tournament favorite, Bill "Red" Roden, Glen Rose, 2 and 1, in his morning match.

Jones won medalist honors Saturday with a one under par 69.

Activity In S'ball Begins

STANTON, May 11 (AP)—A group of business men met this week to begin organization of the Stanton softball league, and to map out plans for the season's competition. Guy Eiland was elected president, and O. B. Bryan secretary of the entire league.

At the meeting four individuals agreed to sponsor teams as follows: Dr. J. E. Moffett, who will sponsor a team made up of the officers of the volunteer fire department, which will be called the Fire Bugs; Jack Jones, local groceryman, the Floorsweepers; Frank Dyon, theatre owner, the Queens; R. M. Deans, and a team from Lenora. Two other teams are expected to enter to make up six teams for the first half of the season.

A committee was appointed at the meeting to frame the rules for governing the play and arrange the half season's schedule.

The floodlights have already been re-installed, ready for the night games, and several practice games have been played this week.

Last year Stanton's first season of softball created much interest and entertainment, drawing large crowds from the surrounding country to the games. The official season is expected to begin within two weeks.

Waddies Lose To Pampa, 6-4

STEEERS CLINCH TIE FOR LOOP CHAMPIONSHIP

DALLAS, May 11 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns clinched a tie for the 1940 Southwest conference baseball championship and swept the two-game series with the Southern Methodist Mustangs today behind the three-hit pitching of Melvin Deutch, 4 to 0.

Deutch gave his club its twelfth victory in thirteen conference starts.

GALLAHADION BEATEN—Bimelech 1st In The Preakness

By SID FEDEB PIMLICO RACE TRACK, BALTIMORE, Md., May 11 (AP)—Bimelech "squared himself" today.

Resounding from his dismal failure in the Kentucky Derby a week ago, Col. E. R. Bradley's pride of the Blue Grass roared back in the golden jubilee running of the Preakness to make every pole a winning one and gallop home two lengths in front.

He drove down the stretch with his tongue sticking out as usual, and nothing else was even close, while Col. Bradley, whose health forbade his appearance at Churchill Downs last Saturday, sat in a grandstand box and smiled his satisfaction "this greatest horse I ever owned." Bimelech was clocked in 1:53.3 for the mile and three sixteenths, nearly two seconds off the track record.

It was a horse race for only the first 50 yards, when Charles S. Howard's Oregon-bred Midland broke from the electric gate in front and Bimelech got away fifth in the field of nine. By the time they passed the clubhouse the first time, Bimelech was in front and on his way.

After that they just chased him home. Midland took second place by a length and a quarter over last week's derby winner, Gallahadion, owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Marx of Chicago.

Mrs. George D. Whilener's "dark horse," Yoru Chance, was fourth, six lengths in front of the Maryland mudder, W. L. Brann's Potor in sixth place came the "crooked running" Andy K., owned by the Mississippi stable of Tony Pelletier of New Orleans and Mel Emerich of Chicago.

Di Is Last Mrs. Tony Hellette's Sun Phoenix was seventh. Royal Man, from the stable of Harold S. Clark of Miami Beach, was eighth and last nearly 20 lengths off the leaders, came the derby's third-place finisher, Arnold Hanger's Dit.

At the payoff, Bimelech, backed down to 9 to 10, returned $3.80 for each $2 win ticket, $3.10 for place and $2.80 for show. Midland was $6.90 for place and Gallahadion was $4.90 for show.

Thus Bimelech returned to the winner's circle again in his brilliant career, marred only by the defeat of last week. Before that, he had been to the post eight times and had come home on top eight times.

In cash value, this preakness was one of the classic's richest. The victory was worth $53,200 to Bimelech, within $500 of last year's winner's purse and fifth largest in the preakness. It boosted his earnings to $204,065.

Midland took $10,000 a second money; Gallahadion pocketed $5,000 for third and Yoru Chance received $2,000 for fourth.

Phillies Win Over Brook

BROOKLYN, May 11 (AP)—Kirby Higbe's fine relief hurling was a major factor as the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 for the second straight setback suffered by the daffiness tads.

Philadelphia—000 000 000—5 8 0. Brooklyn—004 000 000—4 7 1. Mulcahy, Higbe and Warren; Tamula, Hamlin, Kimball and Phelps.

Reds Defeat Cards, 12-5

ST. LOUIS, May 11 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds took first place in the National League today by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals, 12 to 4, while Brooklyn was losing to Philadelphia. Bill Werber's home run with two men on base capped the rally by the Reds in the third inning. Johnny Mize hit his sixth homer of the season for the Cardinals.

Cincinnati—016 103 001—12 17 2. St. Louis—011 102 000—5 8 3. Thompson and Lombard; Lanier, Bowman, Davis and Padgett.

Cats Defeated By Rebs, 5-2

FORT WORTH, May 11 (AP)—Bunching one extra base hit with three errors by Third Baseman Irvine Jeffries the Dallas Rebels scored three runs in the third inning to lead for the margin of victory in their 5-2 game with the Fort Worth Cats.

Dallas—003 000 101—5 6 2. Fort Worth—001 000 001—2 12 3. Overman and Weiland; Horton, Hillin and Lanton.

Loboes Edge Out Pioneers

LAMESA, May 11—Lloyd "Pat" Patterson survived a late rally on the part of the Clovis Pioneers to win his second game of the season as Lamesa came out on the long end of an 18-16 tally here Saturday night.

Score by innings: Lamesa—000 430 342—16 16 2. Clovis—203 333 315 18 18 3. Batteries: Hunt, Taylor, Schmidt, Byington; Patterson and Karthous.

CHICAGO EVENED PIRATE COUNT

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs evened the series with Pittsburgh at a game apiece today by cashing in on Vance Page's relief pitching with a three run rally in the sixth inning that routed Joe Bowman. The rally, erasing an early Pirate lead, gave the Cubs a 7 to 5 win.

Spencer Tracy And Hedy Lamarr Co-Starred In Feature At Ritz

HE-MAN AND GLAMOR GIRL—The virile Spencer Tracy is teamed with the fascinating Hedy Lamarr in the Ritz theatre's offering for today and Monday, a story of false and true love called "I Take This Woman."

'I Take This Woman,' Billed Today And Monday

Hedy Lamarr definitely becomes an outstanding dramatic actress in her first American picture background, in "I Take This Woman," playing today and Monday at the Ritz theatre, in which she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy, one of the screen's greatest actors.

The story of a social butterfly who, when her romance crumbles, finds sanctuary and finally real love, happiness and a new destiny at the side of an earnest, faithful scientist, "I Take This Woman" follows "Lady of the Tropics," in which she was co-starred with Robert Taylor.

The action of the story is in New York, in locale ranging from glamorous night clubs and fashion salons to a dingy tenement. W. S. Van Dyke II directed.

Verree Teasdale has one of her best wise-cracking roles and Kent Taylor exacts Tracy's rival for Miss Lamarr in the play. Lorraine Day, Mona Barrie, Jack Carson, Paul Cavanaugh, Louis Calhern, Frances Drake, Marjorie Main, George E. Stone, Willie Best, Don Castle, Dalies Frantz and Reed Hadley are other principals in the large cast.

Dramatic highlights include an attempted suicide and rescue; a dramatic encounter between Miss Lamarr and her former lover; the event that brings her to a realization that the physician is her real love; and gay revels in his colorful Zebra club, its pillars formed of huge painted zebras. Penthouses of the rich contrast with action in the humble clinic. Miss Lamarr wears a number of gorgeous gowns, and other glamorous modes are shown in a colorful scene in a fashion studio.

South Seas Adventure At Queen

William Gargan And Wallace Ford Play In 'Isle Of Destiny'

The attraction for today and Monday at the Queen theatre is the Fine Arts picture, "Isle of Destiny," which goes to the South Pacific for adventure between the U. S. Marines and international gun runners, and for romance between a glamor girl filer and two wise-cracking, daredevil leathernecks.

William Gargan and Wallace Ford are featured as the two fighting Marines who have been complaining about the dullness of life at the U. S. air base on the island of Palo Pango. Then along comes the beautiful, blonde daredevil pilot played by June Lang, stopping over on her round-the-world fight to see her brother, the commanding officer of the base. Before she is rescued the girl wrecks her plane on a jungle island, becomes the prisoner of an international gun runner, and nearly loses her life from poisoned darts blown from a gun by the native wife of the villain.

"Island of Destiny," a Franklyn Warner production, promises an abundance of exciting action, photographed in Cosmocolor, directed by Elmer Clifton, released by RKO Radio. Others in the cast are Gilbert Roland, Katherine De Mille, Grant Richards and Tom Dugan.

North Woods Setting For Lyric Picture

John Payne, Gloria Dickson In 'King Of The Lumberjacks'

Two of the most talented of Hollywood's younger players are starred in Warner Bros' "King of the Lumberjacks," which will play today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. They are handsome, virile John Payne and piquetuous, blonde Gloria Dickson.

The stars, supported by such seasoned favorites as Stanley Fields, Joe Sawyer and Victor Kilian, have in "King of the Lumberjacks" a dynamic drama of the North Woods where each tree is a potential killer, and loggers must be either supermen, or die. Grant Withur adapted this Robert E. Kent story, and the action film was directed by William Clemens, whose recent work has indicated a promising career for the director.

Set in the rugged backwoods of our north, the story tells of Slim, portrayed by John Payne, a downcast city youth seeking a job in a lumber camp run by Dominic, played by Stanley Fields. The gruff, iron-fisted crew boss is impressed by Slim's showing in a scrap on his first day as lumberjack, and the two become fast friends. It is when Cusley leaves for a San Francisco vacation that Tina, played by Gloria Dickson, a pretty but shabbily dressed girl, arrives in the lumber town broke, trying for a job singing in the local saloon. When Dominic is wounded, it is Tina alone who cares for him. The humanness of "the boss" comes to the fore, and when he proposes, Tina accepts.

Slim returns to find that his boss has married the girl with whom he is in love — for whom he had been searching. He gets caught under a giant redwood, soon after, and Tina nurses him back to health. The two fall in love all over again and a parting embrace is interrupted by Dominic. Furious, he tries to kill Slim, but in a dramatic scene his change of heart leads him to risk his own life to save the boy and sacrifice his own happiness for the young couple.

Pastor Long Remembered — GLASGOW (UP) — When the Rev. Michael Maginn, of St. Alphonsus R. ## Civic Affairs Committee Set Up By Business Club To Serve In Affiliation With The C. Of C.

A decision to set up a special committee which will directly represent the organization in community betterment projects as come from the American Business Club. Formal organization of its Civic Affairs committee was announced Friday, with Cecil Snodgrass as the chairman. Other members are Ernest Wisdom, Porter Garrett, Jack Terry, Norman Priest, W. D. Scott, J. E. Underwood, Tom Cotes, Bob Knox, R. D. Goltely, Merrill Creighton and Chester Cluck.

ABC members pointed out that the special committee would function in such civic fields as are not covered by the chamber of commerce, thus obviating the necessity of another organization. A letter from the club to the chamber of commerce outlining this view follows:

"In view of the fact that the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce with its large membership of men and women of all ages, its splendid directorate and management, is doing an excellent job, and that the American Business Club is devoting approximately 50 percent of its activities to civic affairs, we feel that no additional organizations are needed here at this time.

"While the functions of most organizations are splendid, but too many of such organizations would overlap and be detrimental not only to our present Chamber of Commerce and to the American Business Club but to all the other fine clubs which we now have in Big Spring. It would entail expenses which the present population and volume of business are not able to support.

"We feel that there is in Big Spring at the present time a sufficient number of clubs to fit the requirements of every man regardless of age or vocation and to fill the civic and service needs of the city and that the continued improvement of these clubs would be a far greater asset than the organization of new clubs.

"We believe that the American Business Club can handle any civic work not now covered by our present Chamber of Commerce, and have appointed a standing committee to handle such activities.

"This committee is known as the Civic Affairs Committee of the American Business Club. "Its duties are: To investigate the needs for civic betterment. "To co-operate and collaborate with the Chamber of Commerce assisting them where and when assistance is needed and performing such duties ordinarily performed by a Junior Chamber of Commerce, if such activities are not already covered by the present Chamber of Commerce.

Editorial

Conventions are an American institution itself. Civic organizations that correlate the efforts of individuals toward the betterment of their particular territory are essentially American things. West Texas is basic America.

Put them all together and you can see that the theme emphasized in this year's West Texas chamber of commerce convention—"The American Way of Life"—is eminently proper.

The WTCC, in its convention to open in Big Spring on Thursday, has seen fit to stress this Americanism program from the viewpoint of youth; and that, too, is a healthful thing. After all, it is Youth who pay the eventual big price when a nation totters, or when a government is absorbed in dictatorship or crumbles under debt, or when a country has to go to war, or when civilization must undergo violent transition and reconstruction.

The WTCC always has been interested in the young people of West Texas. A meritorious program year after year has been that of sponsoring the "Home Town" oratory contests; girl sponsors demonstrate that West Texas young people are free for a fair share of gaiety and fun; the high school bands are encouraged as an outlet of musical expression and to teach the young folk some of the important aspects of a well-rounded mode of living. Youth is given more than usual attention this year, with the introduction of the fine future citizens who are our Boy Scouts today, and of the 4-H club boys and girls who certainly are learning and doing in the real American Way, in making productive jobs for themselves and in putting to proper use those things they have at hand.

We have commended time and again the many worthwhile programs the WTCC is developing for the good of the West Texas empire. Doubtless some more fine things will be done at the Big Spring convention and during the year to come. But the WTCC is doing a noteworthy thing in encouraging the young people to see what is important to them, and to see that a proper appreciation of American things is essential to developing these American things to the fullest individual enrichment.

It is fine that Youth will have its day, and we salute the young people and the WTCC leaders who are their friends.

Chapter 26

The Wick Women

Mrs. Arnold's Dorothy was an excellent nurse. Brenda rousing at two with a panicky feeling that she had deserted Adelaide too long, peeped into the door and saw the thickest woman lifting Mrs. Rostetter effortlessly in one arm while she shook and smoothed the pillows, straightened the wrinkled sheet with the other hand. Adelaide was murmuring contentedly.

It was during this time of trouble—for Adelaide was gravely ill, not so much from any specific disease but from sheer weakness—that Brenda came really to know and love The Shortest Street.

It was as though one roof sheltered all the families, one topic concerned them all. Judge Harper and Hugh came twice a day to inquire for Adelaide. They brought flowers, fruit—anything they could think of which might make her illness more bearable to the patient, the nursing easier for those who cared for her.

The Misses Ponsonby whom Brenda hardly knew slipped in and out like gentle wraiths, dusting the living room (grief for her employer had made Grenadine doubly careless), quietly taking charge of Adelaide's small personal mail, and generally making themselves useful. And out from previously known to Brenda only as "the Wicks."

Isobel had described them to Brenda the week after her arrival. "Not that I've seen them," she hastened to say, "Nobody in this house has ever laid eyes on them but Adelaide. They're recluses. The only exercise they take is in their own back yard after dark, and they've let the hedges grow so high that nobody can see them even then. They do all their ordering by telephone, even the delivery men have orders to put their packages on the back porch and go away."

"But—but what made them like that?" Brenda's eyes were wide. "A tragedy. It seems that the man Miss Wick was engaged to was driving out to dinner with her father, and both were killed in an accident. It was a double bereavement to the girl, you see and her mother gradually became affected by her daughter's melancholia and refused to see people just as Miss Wick did."

"Real melancholia?" "Not in the pathological sense. I believe, though it well may have become so by now. It started with Mrs. Wick having to keep callers away from the girl, and ended by her getting the same twist, I suppose."

"How long ago was this?" "Seventeen years."

Brenda was dumbfounded. "You don't mean to tell me that for all that time a perfectly sound and healthy girl had shut herself away from her friends—from sunshine and fresh air—"

"She can't be a young girl now," Isobel argued. "And I greatly doubt if she was sound and healthy or she wouldn't have behaved so. Why are you so surprised, Brenda? Aren't we forever reading in the papers of some person who stayed in bed for forty years because he'd quarreled with his wife, or took a vow not to eat bread, or something, until some fanatic wrong was rectified?"

"Yes. But those are just people in the newspapers. The Wicks live on The Street!"

Cross-Section Of Life Isobel's green eyes narrowed in laughter. "My dear child, The Shortest Street is just a little piece of the world—a cross section of life, maybe, though I do think our isolation brings out any queerness we may have."

And now the Wicks, mother and daughter, had sidled out of their own front door late one afternoon and walked boldly to the old Burnham house and entered without so much as ringing or knocking. It chanced that Brenda was just coming downstairs after sitting a long time with Adelaide. She stared in amazement at the two women who stood quietly looking at her. She had an impression that they were dressed for a costume party of some sort. Both had long hair, done up in great bundles on top of their heads. They were stiffly corseted, their shoes were high and buttoned. Brenda's incredulous eyes lingered on those shoes, and she asked herself where on earth they got them! Their clothes were of a strangely unfamiliar cut.

She clung to the bannister for a moment, wondering what this invasion meant. Then she saw their faces; lovely sad faces, with a soft high light of kindness on both as though one reflected the other. "May I know who you are, please?" asked the older woman gently.

"I'm Brenda Burnham." She smiled and came down the rest of the steps. "And you?" "Burnham," murmured the caller. "Frances, do you hear that? You have the Burnham mouth, my dear. Your mother, whose husband built

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

This house, had just such dimples. "niece. I am right, am I not? Anne Burnham," went on the sad, gentle voice, "used to be my closest friend before—before she left The Street. Still, she is a neighbor and serious. We have heard that Mrs. Rostetter is ill. She does not, of course, either by inheritance or right of primary occupation, belong to The Street."

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON Even a bug can be a victim of propaganda. Seventeen-year locusts, especially.

Puritan ministers started the anti-17-year locust propaganda 300 years ago. What the Massachusetts preachers said about the insect troublemaker was character assassination, no less. The cicadas still haven't lived it down.

It seems the Puritan farmers got scared when the ground practically exploded and billions of insects came forth. They'd never seen anything like that in England!

It was a swell opportunity for the ministers to throw a little fear into the backbones. So they announced that the insects were locusts. It was another visitation, they preached, like to the plague of locusts that laid waste Egypt in Biblical times.

LOCUSTS AREN'T LOCUSTS

The Puritan theologians were nature-faking. Seventeen-year locusts aren't locusts at all. They're periodic cicadas, no relation to the voracious insects of the Bible. But the preachers poured it on, and the bad name stuck.

Now a 17-year locust "plague" is coming again this year, the biggest since 1923. Uncle Sam's entomologists say there's no cause for alarm. Adult cicadas don't eat at all. They do make the woodlots ring when several million get in tune at once, but you'd be grudge a cicada his brief few weeks of song after waiting patiently for his turn for 17 years?

As bugs go, cicadas are high-type citizens. They aren't major pests, and their life cycle is the most interesting in bugdom. For instance, The eggs are polite, and wait their turn to be hatched. The first egg laid hatches first, and so on.

A female lays about 500 eggs in bark. It doesn't hurt older trees, and rarely injures younger ones.

The hatched larvae drop to the ground, and burrow in for 17 years in a Rip Van Winkle. Nobody knows why it takes 'em so long to develop.

Somehow, after 17 years in a solitary burrow, they tell to the hour when the other pupae are about to emerge. All the males come out one night, the females several nights later.

MUSIC IN THEIR LEGS

Their "digging clothes" in which they spent 17 years split down the back when they emerge. The cicada steps out in a milk-white debut dress, complete with gauze wings. They turn darker in an hour. Then they have black bodies, orange legs, and big, red eyes.

After that, life's one brief round of song—but only for the males. They sing choruses in the top branches of a tree, solos in the lower branches, by rubbing their wings on hollow sound boxes on their bodies.

The bureau of entomology finds that cicadas are homebodies, who stick close to their own localities. A brood emerges somewhere every year, but is restricted to a definite area.

The American broods of cicadas have been numbered. This year's crop is Brood 14. It is the largest and most widely distributed. The 1940 17-year locusts are spread from Cape Cod to Illinois. Brood 10, which is due again in 1953, is next largest.

That's the not-very-scary slowdown on "17-year locusts" who are going to visit us in a "plague" this summer. Too bad they got the wrong kind of publicity, back there in 1634, isn't it?

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK Some time ago this reporter mentioned a little "disappearing act" Lowell Thomas puts on when he comes into the AP building, where his offices are located. He gets on the elevators and disappears. Even the elevator boys, so they say, have no idea where he goes.

But now comes a message from a man at Bloody Monday mine, Eustate, Nevada, who says, "Dear George... we enjoy your column out there and when some of the boys come out to the camp we read it over and criticize it. Take for example the office of Lowell Thomas—there isn't a gentleman, hobo or soldier of fortune in the world who could not lead you to Lowell Thomas' office."

"If you have ever been a bum you know how the boys put their mark on places—"good for a feed," "good for a little change," "mad dog," "good for a rest," "goodly people," etc. Well, Lowell's office is marked all the way from Shanghai to Hell itself as a refuge for Saints and Sinners. They all look alike to him. When he was tucked away in the Empire State Bldg., they found him. When he moved to Radio City, the grapevine sent word all over the world. They even have the names of his secretaries and his assistants, like Miss Davis. It is easy to find Lowell in Radio City. He is of the old school—God bless him!"

"I have a rich gold mine out here, but I don't dare start producing, for if I do I'll demoralize gold and then you know what would happen. The Indians and sheepherders say I'm crazy and so does everybody else, but I'm enjoying life, and as it is today it takes a crazy man to enjoy it—no sane man could.

"Well, the coyotes are calling and the owls are screaming, and it is time to retire. With regards to the lampposts of New York, as O. Henry used to say, I remain, Sincerely yours."

The letter was signed, "What's in a name?"

Well, pal, thanks and thanks for the clipping you sent me from the Fallon Standard, taking me to task for certain references to the "western" style of dress observed in Reno on my recent visit there. I have quite a collection of clippings from Nevada now, even from the Virginia City News itself, which has put a sort of mild curse on me for describing things as they seemed to me. Well, that's understandable. I get mad myself sometimes when I read what other people write. When I wrote about seeing so many ambrosias in Reno I suggested that maybe this was a hangover from the influence of the recent Warner Bros. invasion. No doubt it was. In any case, the very little of Nevada that I saw left me with ambition to see more, and some day I intend to go.

One of the nice things about this town is its quaint attitudes toward rain. There were six rainy nights culled for in the script of "Lone Wolf Meets a Lady" and the director got five nights in a row exactly as he wanted them; no rain. The sixth night, when it rained, there was confusion until he could get the set covered with tarpaulins so he could go on working with studio rain. The Jack Moss who produced "The Buscotti" is the same Jack Moss who used to say no almost every time anybody asked anything about Gary Cooper. Cooper and Moss, the latter more or less in the background, were a "team" for seven years.

The association began, actually, when Cooper met Jack while he was making a movie in New York. Jack was an assistant director. The eastern studio closed shortly after that, and while Gary went hunting in Africa, Jack went hunting for a job. He still was hunting when Cooper returned and telephoned him. Cooper had learned he was suspended by Paramount, and he needed a go-between for negotiations. Moss took the job without pay as a friendly gesture. Two days later—these big silent men move slowly—Gary telephoned and said he had been thinking things over, and how would Jack like to be his manager in Hollywood?

Big Jack Moss came west. He's a heavy guy, and apparently he was heavy on the demands. First off, he yanked Cooper out of the cowboy rut, demanded and got the right to approve Cooper stories and directors. The lid blew off when he demanded "A Farewell to Arms" as a Cooper vehicle, but he got it. Then the hinted around that Gary might be good in comedy, too—that how Cooper got into the fast company that made "Design for Living," and how he paved the way toward further comedy assignments.

He gave up the Cooper management when the chance to produce dropped into his ample lap, but he's still doing right well for a young fella.

So is Jack—"The Buscotti" is a nice, touching, sure-fire picture about a boy and a dog, always good whether it's filmed on a sound stage or, more beautifully as here, in its actual locale down in Georgia. The picture ought to do things for little Billy Lee, a youngster who hitherto was almost as obscure, in the public eye, as was Jack Moss.

$1,180 Asked Locally By Red Cross

Big Spring and Howard county citizens have been called upon to donate $1,180 toward the $10,000,000 war relief drive announced by the American Red Cross, it was announced Saturday by Shine Phillips, Howard-Glasscock chapter chairman.

Phillips received quick notice of the local quota after the national appeal was issued Friday.

He urged that checks be sent to him. The Herald also will receive contributions, turning them directly to the Red Cross.

"This is the long-postponed drive which the American Red Cross hoped would not be necessary," Phillips said. "Our national officers had stated that until it was inevitable, no national drive would be conducted. The happenings in the low countries of Belgium and the Netherlands and in Luxembourg Thursday and Friday have caused that inevitability."

"We wish to dispatch our share in this drive as speedily as possible," he said. "We are all aware of the overwhelming need of these innocent victims of the European war. If we do not act soon, it will be too late."

Red Cross authorities Friday pointed out the need for relief in Norway and Belgium, now that these countries are engulfed in the war. Each contributed more than $1,000,000 from its own Red Cross funds to help Finland and they are now confronted with staggering relief work in their own countries to be conducted on depleted treasuries.

MONEY CABLED
WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—The Red Cross cabled $100,000 to Belgium and the same amount to the Netherlands today for relief of the military and civilian wounded.

The Red Cross also announced it had ordered 100 ambulances for use in the war zones.

TO MAKE BIDS MAY 21 ON MARTIN CO. ROAD PROJECT

STANTON, May 11. (Sp)—The Martin county road situation has once more come to life, with the contractor's notice of highway construction, on 15.400 miles of flexible base and base preservative on the Stanton-Lamesa highway, from a point 13.5 miles north of Stanton, to the Dawson county line. Bids are to be opened at the office of the state highway department at Austin, on May 21. Placing the base on this road will begin near a point where the designated Stanton, Andrews highway forks from the Stanton-Lamesa highway. Since the highway is now paved from the downtown section of Stanton, to a point five miles north, the completion of this new project will leave only about eight miles of unpaved highway to Lamesa.

The construction of flexible base over this 15.400 miles will improve a section of road which was built in the fall of 1938, at which time drainage structures were built and grading was done, some of it over new right-of-way.

Oystermen who "plant" their beds, cover the producing bottoms with layers of old shells. The young oysters attach themselves to these after passing the larval stage.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness" (Psalm 17:15).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality" (page 428).

Steak House To Open Here On Tuesday

CHEF BARKER

Plans are set for the opening on Tuesday of a new food establishment in Big Spring, the Steak House, at 801-11 East Third street, to be operated by C. B. 'Chief' Barker.

licenses Saturday, most of them by children who had to have their parents' signature. This is one thing the boys and girls learned during the week.

ker, well known hotel culinary expert.

A new building, to seat 50 at tables, and so located that drive-in service also can be maintained, has been erected according to special design to fit the needs of the Steak House. The building will be air-conditioned and is modern throughout.

Mr. Barker, accompanied by Mrs. Barker and their daughter, have established residence in Big Spring. They were accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Inadberry, and the former will be Barker's chief cook at the steak house. The two have been associated for several years.

With a reputation of note in preparation and serving of steaks, Barker comes here from San Angelo, where he was associated with the Carnton hotel as chef. Previously he was chef at the Jung hotel in New Orleans, and he has served in the same capacity with other hotels, including the Adolphus in Dallas and the Lamar in Houston.

In 1924, Chef Barker took a special course in preparation of steaks in Los Angeles, and since has specialized in preparing steaks and chops. These will be a specialty of the new Big Spring establishment, but a full menu will be available, including beverages and sandwiches for drive-in customers. Charcoal broiled steaks and chops will be featured.

Barker said he also will maintain a catering service, to prepare and serve menus at parties.

BIG RUSH ON FOR DRIVERS LICENSES

One thing the Safety Week program, sponsored by the Safety Council, accomplished was a rush for drivers licenses.

H. B. Matthews, in charge of the drivers license division for the state highway patrol, said that he had 25 applications for operators ber,

Farm And Ranch Talk ROUND THE COFFEE POT

By Newton Robinson

Around 75 people are expected to attend the district 6 meeting of the AAA here Monday. Among those to attend the meet will be C. H. Mosley, performance supervisor, who will be in charge, and F. V. Swain, district representative, who will assist. There will be 19 counties represented at the meeting.

STANTON, May 11 (Sp)—Among the Martin county boys who have started club calves on feed during the last week is Owen Kelly, who secured a calf from the H. A. (Chuck) Houston ranch, south of Stanton. Kelly has fed two calves from Houston's ranch for the past two years and has made creditable showing with both of them. Dub Clements has started a calf from the Tink Houston ranch and William Roy Woolsey has started a calf from the L-7 ranch, which is managed by Stanton Brown in the northern part of the county.

Elmer Anderson secured two calves from Renfro Bros. at Hereford, Texas, and started them on feed last week. He also purchased a registered Hereford cow from this ranch, and hopes to start raising his own calves.

County Agent George Bond, who is assisting the boys in selecting their calves, states that most of the boys plan to have their calves on feed by the middle of this month.

Interest is growing among the 4-H Club boys of Martin county, in registered Hereford cattle. C. G. Keele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keele of the Valley View community recently purchased two registered bull calves from Walter Adamson, an uncle who lives near Winters. He plans to feed and show them in the various registered shows in West Texas next spring.

Tom Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Estes of the Goldsmith community also bought two registered yearling heifers and a yearling bull last week from the Renfro Bros. in Hereford. He plans to keep his heifers with others he has already, and start a herd of registered Herefords.

I. R. Caudle attended the auction sale of 100 registered and pure blooded Hereford bulls of service age held at Midland Saturday.

Mark Nasworthy, who ranches east of Pecos, sold 300 mutton goats to J. O. Radd of San Angelo this week. Nasworthy received $2 a head for the goats. They were one to three years old.

Recommendations of ranchers from 17 states who will start a tour of West Texas ranches from Midland June 24 are expected to make many changes in the 1941 AAA range program. It will be on the basis of suggestions from ranchers that the new program will be drafted. Conservation work done on ranches in 16 West Texas counties will be inspected during the tour. The 1939 AAA conference was held at Hot Springs, S. D.

Mack Newton said Saturday that he was still feeding his males because of lack of rain on his place. Pasture is practically all of the county in poor shape and needs moisture badly.

San Angelo's new $35,000 cold storage locker plant was formally opened for public inspection Saturday. E. A. Schumaker, formerly manager of the co-operative food locker at Galveston is in charge of the Angelo plant.

ASSOCIATED PRESS PICTURE NEWS

CHIANG AMONG FRIENDS—In his capacity as chairman of the People's Political Council, China's nearest approach to representative government, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek (foreground) visited with 145 council delegates at Chungking.

HOW NOT TO SAIL A BOAT—Soon after this was taken near the Miami Beach, Fla., causeway, Forrest Lee of Miami was splashing in the water. He spilled in race of tiny sailboats.

GOING MY WAY, MISTER?—Maybe Postmaster General Jim Farley was trying to "humb a ride to White House when he and F.D.R. were pictured at a baseball game in Washington.

WELCOME—Floral wreaths expressed to Mrs. William E. Borah, widow of the late Idaho senator, the welcome of Honolulu on her recent visit to the Hawaiian Islands.

ASKS NAVY SECOND TO NONE—Urging a navy that'll make Uncle Sam second to none, Admiral Harold R. Stark (right), chief of naval operations, testified at the senate naval hearings; he estimated that such naval expansion would cost about $2,180,000,000 over a five-year period. With Stark is Capt. C. M. Cooke of the office of naval operations.

SCALES OF FASHION—Thanks to her father, Percy Visca, a New Orleans biologist, Yvonne Visca wears costume jewelry made from the heavy, ivory scales of the rarfish. Mr. Visca thought of using the scales for lined ornaments.

ALL THE COMFORTS OF WAR—Though he seems at ease in this swivel chair, somewhere at the front in France, this soldier is anti-aircraft spotter. The dog's ready for messenger service.

GOES WEST—With her new title, "Miss Spiritual America," awarded at a Washington contest, Fern Hall (above) of Toledo, Ohio, is heading west for film work. The Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, who wed the Windsors, officiated at contest.

SAILOR'S LIFE FOR HER—"Stay at home and miss the sea?" That echoes the sentiments of Mrs. Mary P. Converse, 67, Denver grandmother and society leader who'll sail as fourth mate on the freighter S. J. Luckenbach, out of New York May 31. Navigation is a serious hobby with Mrs. Converse, who's examining a 100-year-old astrolabe, predecessor of the sextant.

NAZIS TURN URNS TO STERNER USE—Germans are shown lined up at one of the Reich's metal repositories where, according to censor-approved information, little-used urns and other metal ornaments are collected for the nation's use. The sign reads: "Metal gifts received here." The metal is used to strengthen the Reich's depleted reserves.

RIGHT-HAND MAN—High up in the councils of England's doughy Winston Churchill is Admiral Sir Dudley Boscawen (above), the First Sea Lord of Great Britain.

WATCH AT ZEEBRUGGE—On the famous mole, or breakwater, at Zeebrugge, Belgium, a sentinel watches, wondering if Germany and England will again meet here. During World War, German U-boats took to sea at Zeebrugge after a canal trip from Bruges, Belgium, where they'd arrived by rail from Germany. Britain blocked canal by sinking cement-filled cruisers.

LITTLE SPITFIRE

By Jean Randall

"May we be of assistance?" Brenda was bewildered. She had entirely forgotten the Wicks. Her native courtesy impelled her to treat these queer gentle women with the utmost graciousness. At the same time, she could not risk an invasion of the house by those of whose conduct she could not be sure.

The younger woman saw her perplexity and spoke for the first time, and in the same almost inaudible voice as her mother.

"Mother is Mrs. Wick, and I'm Frances," she explained. "We live between Miss Ormond and Mrs. Arnold."

A Daring Idea

Brenda rallied her forces. She realized dimly that this was quite as likely to be a crisis in the lives of the callers as in Adelaide's illness.

"She said: 'Shall we go into the living room where we can talk?' And when they were all seated, she told the whole story in the utmost detail. 'It'll do 'em good,' she thought, 'to get their minds on something besides themselves.'"

So she spoke of diets and ice bags, doctors' calls, and the difficulty of managing a house in time of illness. She described Isabel, Eric and Mac; even Grenadine. She dwelt on the kindness the stricken family had received, ever mentioning the flowers that had come that day, and the jelly Maud VanNess had sent in.

"They drank it all in thirstily. It seemed to pitying Brenda that they had been parched for just such trivial news of their kind. When the girl had finished her recital, she looked at them with a smile.

"So you see we are in good hands!" Mrs. Wick's mouth dropped. "Yes, I see. You don't need us, that is certain. We'd hoped to be of some help, Frances and I." She paused a moment, then leaned forward and spoke with urgency. "Can't you think of something—no matter how simple, or how difficult—we could do to be of service?"

A daring idea seized Brenda's imagination. Mac told her afterward that no one else on The Street would ever have had the courage to propose it.

"There's one thing that we simply can't get around to," she said in a matter-of-fact tone. "That's paying the bills downtown: light, and gas, and water and all, you know. The men are so tired with helping us, or so busy making up arrears, that we haven't felt like asking them."

A bleak light dawned in Mrs. Wick's eyes. "You can certainly send checks!"

Brenda shook her head. "Adelaide—Mrs. Rostetter would have a relapse when she found it out! She never paid anything by check. And," continued Brenda shamelessly, "we have only cash in the house, anyway, since Mrs. Rostetter is too ill to sign checks." She paused a moment and then went on. "Of course I shouldn't have spoken of it if you hadn't been so kind about offering to do anything"—she put a significant accent on the word—"for us. We won't say any more about it. Do you think it is getting colder out?"

She could see mother and daughter look at each other. It seemed to her that some signal passed from Frances to the older woman. At last Mrs. Wick sighed, and said, "Give me the bills, my dear, and I'll see that they are attended to."

"You won't—won't send your own checks? It really would upset Mrs. Rostetter seriously—it would."

A faint smile curved the grave lips of her caller.

"I will pay them in cash. Please make your mind easy about that!"

The first medical school in America was established in Philadelphia in 1751. Rural free mail delivery in the United States was begun in a small way in 1896.

WELCOME TO BIG SPRING, said Mayor G. C. Dunham, right, as he greeted Dick Stubbs, Dallas, as the latter brought the garnet Ford sedan to Big Spring to be put in readiness for transporting the Typical West Texas Family to the New York World's Fair. "Mayor," responded Stubbs, "your hospitality speaks for itself, and, sir, believe me you have the old convention grip." The two posed with the car in front of the municipal auditorium, whence the family will leave Friday morning for a fast trip to New York. (Photo by Kelsey).

Dr. and Mrs. Collins Begin Extensive Trip This Morning

Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins left today for Dallas to attend the state medical meeting which convenes there May 13-14 inclusive and they will then go on to Washington, D. C. to visit her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Durham, who reside near Falls Church, Va.

The Collinses will be gone about two months and plan stops in New York to visit a cousin, Mrs. J. M. Nicol and to attend the national medical meeting on June 10-14 inclusive. They will also attend the World's fair.

Enroute to Abilene they will visit a daughter, Mrs. E. L. Haag and family and in Dallas will visit a son, M. D. Collins and family. At Paris, Tex., they will visit his sister, Mrs. Esther Hudgins and family. They will make stops at Muscle Shoals and Great Smoky mountain and national park and other spots of interest. They plan to return by way of Norfolk, Va., the Carolinas and Florida.

In Florida they will visit Mrs. M. D. Collins who will be spending the summer there. In Louisiana they will stop to visit her brothers, H. A. and B. M. Teckell and other relatives. Dr. and Mrs. Collins are accompanied by their granddaughter, Mary Elizabeth Haag of Abilene.
