With the approach of September, many local families will be sending a son or daughter off to college. Some will be starting their college course while others will be returning as upperclassmen.

The Success has a special 9-month subscription rate of $3.00 for students. The paper will be sent as soon as the student returns to college and will continue thru next May.

A handy coupon is printed on page 2 of this Success issue for the convenience of college students and their parents, and they are urged to take advantage of it.

These subscriptions must be ordered and paid for in September.

Here is another special word for students going to college: When you fill out your registration papers for the new year, be sure to put the Eldorado Success as your home-town newspaper. That way the college public relations department can send us news releases concerning your activities during the school term.

The Democratic Convention is under way in Chicago this week and the present Vice-President, Hubert H. Humphrey, is still considered the front-runner for nomination for President.

There has been some party infighting the first day or so on the seating of some delegations from southern states. This has delayed the moving on to the important convention business of platform, and nomination of presidential candidates.

Every election year there is much concern voiced over the allegation that the present convention system is obsolete and should be streamlined, especially since the convention proceedings are carried into millions of homes by television.

But both major parties seem slow to make any major changes in the present set-up.

Closer to home in regard to politics:

The Commissioners Court have met several times this month and have given some preliminary consideration to the matter of redistricting the boundary lines of the Commissioner precincts.

A test case a while back went to the Supreme Court and that body ruled that commissioner precincts must be apportioned according to the "one-man one-vote" concept. Here, this would mean that the four precincts would corner in Eldorado.

When and if the Commissioners Court does re-apportion, it will not

Athletic Booster Club Proposed

Coach Barker has announced plans for a meeting Monday night to which all parents interested in athletics are invited.

Meeting will start at 8:00 p.m., in the class room adjoining the band hall and the entire Eagle coaching staff will be present.

Films of the McCamey scrimmage game which will take place here Friday will be shown at Monday night's meeting for the purpose of evaluation.

All parents—both men and women—are invited to attend and the main purpose will be to organize an Eagle Booster Club to support the entire athletic program—not necessarily limited simply to football.

Labor Day Holiday Is Coming Up

This coming Monday, the second of September, is designated Labor Day and will be a general holiday.

It is the final holiday of the summer. Some people will go to the lake, to family get-togethers, and other events while others will just take it easy at home.

No doubt, some people will go to HemisFair, The World's Fair at San Antonio is going into the final month of its six-month run. It closes Oct. 6th.

Most local stores will be closed on the day, as well as court house offices and federal offices. The post office will put mail in boxes as on any holiday, but there will be no window service.

School will be out for Labor Day, and class work will resume Tuesday morning.

Locally, the business establishments that remain open will be limited mainly to service stations, and cafes and drive-ins.

Since most local stores will be closed over the long week-end, you are reminded to do your shopping with your friendly home-town merchants and stock up with enough supplies to last.

And if you drive anywhere, be sure to drive carefully.

Season Tickets Are Still Being Sold

High School Principal Guy Whitaker announced this week that sales of the season tickets for the Eagles' five home games are still under way in his office.

Friday will be the final day of "option" sales to holders of last year's tickets. After Friday, the tickets remaining unsold will go on sale to the general public.

The tickets are $7.50 each and are good only for varsity games. Bronte comes here Sept. 13th for the Eagles' opening game of the '68 season.

Captains Of The Eldorado Eagles Football Team For 1968 . . .

Scrimmages Set For Eagle Football Boys

Coach Sherwood Barker said today that two pre-season scrimmages had been arranged before the opening football game of the season against Bronte. Scrimmages are set against or with two Class AA teams, the first for Friday night, August 30, with McCamey, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. Second warm-up contest is with San Saba High School there the night of Friday, September 6, at 8:00 o'clock.

Coach Barker said that it was too early in the year to announce any starting positions. He summarized the first 12 practice periods as busy sessions indeed. He said that the usual attrition had reduced the squad from 41 boys on Monday, August 19, to 37 on Saturday, August 24.

He continued that eight lads were ailing this past week end due to illness and minor injuries. These included Ross and Bob Whitten with "summer flu," Joel Muzquiz with some bruised ribs, John and Gary Danford both with ankle injuries, Paul Page with a virus infection, Sam Oglesby with a bruised trachea (throat), and Billy Doc Hubble with a bruise to the lower back.

Coach Barker remarked that the rumor mill had it that Sonora with their two-times consecutively district champions had 70 boys out for football while Eden with a tough schedule and up from Class "B" competition had only 14.

Coach Barker continued that Pete Bryan had returned from a period of military training and had been assigned along with Coach Helmers with junior high school lads.

When queried concerning candidates for the various team positions, Coach Barker remarked that the coaching staff's objective was to find the 11 best football players among the Eldorado youngsters whoever they are. He said that presently he could compare the various boys only among themselves but that he would have much better perspective after scrimmaging McCamey and San Saba.

He did say that the offensive system called for quick hitting speedy play execution and that at present best tackle prospects for offensive duties were two sophomores. He said that the guards and center were also younger candidates. He concluded that coaches were working hard with heavier boys in efforts to teach them required skills for defensive positions.

Tomorrow night's instructional session with McCamey will see the Badgers field 14 lettermen including an outstanding tailback, Frank Taylor who weighs 180, and Frank McKee who with 200 pounds plays a destructive tackle, along with Anderson at QB, Judkins at center, and McMarion at end will act as tutors in the game of football. Activities start at 7:00 p.m. on the high school field.

Success Crew At Work On Football Booster Ads

Again during the coming football season, the Success will run the series of ads boosting the Eagle team. They will begin running on Sept. 12th.

The crew have already done some of the preliminary work, such as taking pictures of the team members and coaches last Thursday. These have been engraved and will be a part of the ad series.

Eagle boosters who get on this ad series demonstrate their backing of the team.

MORE GRASS FIRES

The firemen were called to a grass fire last Thursday afternoon at the Figure Three Ranch east of town. They were assisted by units from Mertzon, Ozona, and Sonora, in controlling the blaze. Firemen report that ranchmen are cooperating with spray equipment and in other ways during this dry time of year.

The time of the year that all farmers look forward to is almost here. The harvesting of crops is the time of each crop year that most farmers enjoy most. At harvest time yields for each crop is determined. Also, the most important question of every farmer is answered, the question of whether crops make a profit or a loss.

There are some things that a guarantee can not be secured for. A guarantee assuring farmers a profit from each crop every year is something that is unheard of. However, farmers throughout all America have for years been doing things that help assure each crop making a profit.

Rainfall is always one of the big factors affecting crop yields in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District. The lack of enough water from rainfall to produce good yields each year is not something that just started. Schleicher county farmers have never consistently received enough rainfall to produce high yields.

From 1936 through 1967 the average annual rainfall for Schleicher county was 19.48 inches. During this time there were 19 years with rainfall below the average. Also, during this time there were 192 months in which less than one inch of rainfall was received. Each year for the past 32 years, there has been six months of each year with less than one inch of rainfall.

The fact that rainfall has been low as well as erratic has helped farmers in the District to become aware of the need of applying and maintaining needed conservation practices on their farms. Damage caused by excess water in high rainfall years and water lost, that was needed for crop production, were two of the reasons that the Eldorado-Divide S&WCD was organized some 26 years ago. Benefits from conservation practices applied and maintained, were experienced by farmers throughout the District the first year it was in operation. Assisted by technicians of Soil Conservation Service, conservation plans to treat each acre of agriculture land according to its needs, and use each acre according to its capabilities for production and improvement was prepared on numerous farms. Level closed end terraces and farming on the contour were two of the practices that received top priority by nearly all farmers.

Farming on the contour in conjunction with level closed end terraces, started paying dividends in Schleicher county from the time the first system was put in use. Rows on the true contour held all the water from some of the rains. Level terraces properly planned, designed and laid out by the SCS, constructed to the needed height and width, held water that was not held by contour rows. Water that was once lost from the field, was held where it was needed for crop use. Low lying lakes, that in times past were too wet to plant and drowned out in many years if crops were growing in them, were being utilized to better advantage.

Some of the major benefits of applying and maintaining the needed conservation practices is, water received is kept where it is needed for crop use. Lake fields become the most productive part of the farm, after the problem of crops being destroyed by too much water has been eliminated. "Too dry to plant on the hill and too wet to plant in the lakes" was how one farmer described the conditions on his farm before his cropland was terraced.

Crop yields in the district will continue to be affected by the amount of rainfall received. However, more important than the amount received, will be the amount kept on the land for crop use. Maximum potential yields can be attained only when all the needed conservation practices are applied and maintained.

New System Needed For Appointment Of Sup. Court Justices

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

An awareness of the need for a change in the method of choosing members of the Supreme Court has become apparent during consideration by the Senate of the Fortas-Thornberry confirmations.

Out of it has come several proposed changes in the Constitution, designed to remove such appointments from the realm of political favoritism. In recent years such choices have become patronage plums, with little thought being given to judicial qualifications of those appointed.

One U. S. Senator proposes that vacancies be filled from a list of five—chosen by a conference of all the chief judges of all the states' highest courts and the chief judges of all 11 U. S. Courts of Appeals. The President would then have to pick one of the five, and the Senate would have to confirm.

This is an excellent approach. I introduced a resolution to accomplish about the same plan several years ago. Such a method would go far toward removing such appointments from politics and favoritism.

Another sound proposal would require each member of the Supreme Court to be reappointed and confirmed every 10 years. That would prevent members from becoming autocrats, and would allow their official conduct to be scrutinized and reassessed periodically.

In any event, it is now generally admitted that the Supreme Court has in recent years played havoc with constitutional government. That fact was recognized by the chief judges of all the states' courts at a meeting not long ago. They accused the high court of "making new laws", rather than interpreting them.

But changes in the Constitution are extremely difficult to come by. The knee-jerk liberals always oppose such changes. They are committed to the concentration of power in Washington—and the Supreme Court has in recent years advanced that concept.

What is needed is a sensible, acceptable remedy which the American people can support—a remedy which can be identified and crystallized. The great aroused power of American public opinion could then be exerted. Unity of purpose and unity of action are essential if this tragic condition is to be corrected before it is too late.

Our number of "satisfied customers" with the benches at the Golf Course is increasing daily. Everyone is delighted with this addition and are now talking about one for each tee box. Again our Thanks to Skeet and Oran for making these benches available to us.

By the way, did you ever hear of someone turning in a "0" for a score on a hole? I do believe that would "take the calke"—ask Penny Bland just how to accomplish this feat.

I hear tell that some golfers are superstitious to the extent that they wear the same clothing each time they play—after having a good round while wearing said clothing. Therefore we know that one man will be wearing a yellow shirt and one woman a pair of yellow plaid shorts with a white blouse when playing the final match in the mixed team tournament this week. I just wonder if washing the clothing has any effect on the game?

Glynn Hill Attends Workshop At Tarleton

Stephenville, Texas.—Glynn D. Hill, Eldorado Vocational Agriculture Teacher, attended a workshop on August 20 at Tarleton State College for vocational agriculture teachers who supervise student teachers.

Eldorado High School is one of 34 schools cooperating with Tarleton State College in the vocational agriculture teacher education program. Student teachers spend eight weeks in the local high schools under the supervision of vocational agriculture teachers in preparation for certification.

The cooperating vocational teachers met with Tarleton State Agricultural Education personnel Dr. J. B. Morton and Bill Trick to establish minimum standards for student teachers. Minimum standards were established for the participation of student teachers in the areas of class room and agricultural mechanics activities, supervised farm training programs, Future Farmer of America activities, and adult and young farmer educational programs.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

I quote from a recent paper prepared by a human development specialist, Ed Pope from Washington, D. C. Mr. Pope is neither pessimist nor optimist. He tells it "like it is."

The family is changing; the importance of its child rearing role is decreasing, the importance of marriage is increasing.

People no longer marry just to have families, said Ed Pope, Federal Extension specialist in human relations and development. They marry for self-fulfillment in a society in which other relations are increasingly impersonal.

The intimacy of marriage becomes for adults something they either have or find a substitute for, Pope said.

In child rearing, the family increasingly is giving way to peer groups and "all one can do is speculate about its effect," said Pope.

This has never happened in a society before, he said. Children have been turned over to other groups to be raised, but never a group of its own age. It is just happening in our society with no real control or direction.

Society has no more room for real adolescence, according to one authority.

Ed Pope, Extension human development specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, blamed such an attitude for much of the drug use and "youth revolution" today. He said a youth does not have time to grow up gradually at his own pace.

"Youth are thrust from childhood into adulthood too fast in our culture," Pope said in an interview at Texas A&M University. "They have no time to discover a real sense of identity."

But youth has always been searching for their place, Pope said. They have just quit swallowing goldfish and wearing raccoon coats.

Many turn to drugs for "kicks" and to help in their search. Although they are not new, drugs are getting the attention today.

Why? Pope said that through modern communications and the nation's emphasis on science, youth know a great deal more a great deal earlier in life than they ever did before.

From this combination of greater knowledge about everything and less time to digest it gradually, arise confusion, conflict and protest in all forms, from drug use to college campus revolts, he said.

"It is difficult for young people to decide who they are and because of this they find all kinds of protest against lack of opportunity to grow up gradually at one's own pace," the human relations specialist said.

"But it is unfortunate that the public is being scared to death of marijuana and LSD," said Pope. "They are scared to such a degree that they fail to learn about the positive achievement in research and therapy accomplished through their use."

Some of the supervised medical research and therapy include treatment of alcoholics and use in psychotherapy. Pope cited LSD research by Dr. Kenneth Godfrey of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Topeka, Kansas.

In one LSD treatment, called psychedelic, Godfrey found the patient presumably able to see himself in a different and more acceptable way. This treatment is used with alcoholic and psychoneurotic patients.

In another treatment, termed "psychoytic," LSD is thought to lift the forgetting barrier so one may be able to work with the unconscious material brought up during the drug experience.

Godfrey's report said LSD and like drugs may, after sufficient research, prove to be a boon to the psychiatrist in the treatment of mentally ill patients. However, there is no question that this drug is not magical. It is a tool for well-trained individuals to use. Godfrey reported, warning that unwise use is likely to be the vehicle to mental illness.

Pope said the main danger of LSD is having a bad trip with no one on hand to guide the user. "You can't tell how you will react to the drug," he said. "It depends on personal makeup and the type of LSD he takes."

Drug use is a medical, psychological and social problem, the specialist said. No one is sure of the effects of drug misuse on any of these angles but "we need to work on the problem from all three angles."

Dorris English has rented the Sam McGinnes house on the Mertz road.

Austin, Tex.—Traditionally Austin has been the headquarters site for Texas campaigns of presidential candidates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquarters (American Independent Party) now is located 49 miles to the south in New Braunfels.

It was moved from the capitol city to within 30 minutes' drive of the office of the party's state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant—especially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November.

When the state executive committee of the American Party decided to replace Miss Jane Sumner of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braunfels; named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replacing Mrs. Margaret Bacon of Austin; and removed Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birchism" were hurled. Miss Sumner ran for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1966 and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio during Spears' 1966 bid for State Attorney General.

"It's not the Birch people that are causing the trouble," Chairman Logan says. "It's the anti-Birch people. They were all looking for Birchers when they were getting signatures to get Wallace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

Logan said he didn't think the internecine battle would harm Wallace's Texas campaign, and Mrs. Bacon said she still intends to work for votes for Alabama's former governor.

Wallace will be in the state Sept. 16 to speak at a $25-a-plate fundraising dinner in Dallas on the eve of the American party's Sept. 17 state convention there. He's also scheduled to speak to the convention.

Gubernatorial Campaigns Heat Up

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith's announcement that he would not go to the National Democratic Convention in Chicago because he would rather use that time to get better acquainted with delegates to the State Democratic Convention, to be held in Austin Sept. 17, came as something of a surprise.

But it's not the first time Smith instinctively has steered clear of battles within the party—as the Chicago scene was sure to be. He has gained some wide-spread and rather unexpected support from liberal Texas Democrats because he refused to go with Gov. John Connally, then Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Speaker Ben Barnes to head off a migrant workers' march to Austin two years ago.

Smith, however, says he is serious about wanting to meet and talk to state convention delegates because he wants to command the convention. The September state convention is known as the "governor's convention." It will be interesting to see who wins control—the man who is governor now or the man who is the Democratic nominee.

There's no doubt among Republicans that the star of their state convention in Fort Worth on Sept. 17 will be GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers. Eggers is running a hard race against Smith.

Constitutional Revision Recommendations

While Texas Democrats are taking a stormy role in nominating a presidential candidate in Chicago, a potentially historic event will be unfolding on the home front.

In a three-day Austin meeting this week, State Constitutional Revision Commission is wrapping up its final recommendations for a new Texas constitution.

Sub-committees completed their year-long studies last month.

Fireworks were anticipated on these proposals:

—Four year terms for governors and all other statewide officials who now have two year terms (Recommendation would prohibit direct succession to a second term by the governor).

—Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions.

—A requirement that state senate closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished.

—Authority for the legislature to instruct courts as to how they will handle appeals from state administrative agency actions.

—Provisions for county home rule and optional plans for consolidation of political subdivisions and functions within a county.

—Appointment of Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals judges by the governor from a nominating commission slate of three.

—Easier access to courts for taxpayers protesting assessments.

Recommendations agreed on by the revision commission must go to the legislature next year. Legislature then can submit all or any part of the recommendations to the voters—or reject them entirely.

Aside from its recommendations of minor controversial nature, commission has made a good-faith effort to tighten and streamline the constitution and chop out long-recognized dead wood.

Appointments . . .

Governor Connally reappointed three members of the Pan American College Board of Regents to terms expiring in 1973. They are Lou Hassell of Houston, Leonel Garza of Brownsville, and McAllen Attorney Morris Atlas.

Then the Governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the late Walter McBee of Dallas, Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salvation Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative.

House Speaker Barnes named these committees:

—To study election laws: Reps. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi, James D. Cole of Greenville, Russell Cummings of Houston, Raymond Price of Palestine and J. W. Stroud of Dallas.

—To study recreational water safety: Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur, Gerhard A. Schulte of San Marcos, Bill T. Swanson of Houston and Leroy Wieting of Portland.

—To assist in a study of determine the feasibility of creating a Texas stock exchange: Reps. David Finney of Fort Worth, Don Cavness of Austin and Dick McKissack of Dallas.

C. R. Baskin will be new acting chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board, succeeding John J. Vandertulip, who is joining the International Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso as principal engineer.

Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation has transferred Wichita Falls State Hospital Superintendent Dr. Willard Segerson to that post at Austin State Hospital.

Wildlife Plans

Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted a $17.5 million operating budget for the next fiscal year.

Commission will ask the 1969 Legislature to appropriate money to reopen the fish and water-exchange pass between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf across Mustang Island.

Commission also set Texas Duck season for December 14-Jan. 1. Daily bag limit was set at four and possession at eight. Goose season will be October 20-January 12, with daily bag and possession limit of five.

Studies of the ecology of prairie chickens and ways to increase their population—perhaps enough to hunt them someday—have been authorized by the Commission for the year beginning Sept. 1.

Open season was set for November 16-21 for deer in Devil's pocket unit, Angelina Management area.

City Water Prices Vary

"Water Service in Texas Cities," new publication by the Texas Municipal League, indicates a wide spread in water prices throughout Texas.

Lowest city rate is Uvalde's $2.50 per 10,000 gallons; highest is Terrell's $10.25. League said average water prices charged by 61 cities of populations between 10,000 and 25,000 is $6.00 per 10,000 gallons.

Tidelands Arguments Again

U. S. Supreme Court has granted Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin an Oct. 14 request hearing on location of Texas shoreline or the point from which Texas measures its submerged land boundaries.

Last December a decision granting Texas ownership of tidelands to 10.3 miles into Gulf of Mexico held that where shoreline has receded, Texas cannot claim the 1845 historic boundary (which would give Texas more acreage). Federal government also would deny Texas its 10.3-mile area where the shore has been built out into the Gulf.

At stake is about 36,000 acres. Since 1950 the undisputed acreage has yielded more than $100 million in oil-gas leasing for permanent school fund.

Short Snorts . . .
