The News extends the new firm a cordial welcome to Snyder and assure them that they could not possibly have located in a better country or among a more industrious set of people than is to be fonnd in Snyder and her large trade territory.

Commissioner Rcsigns.

T. C. Stinson of Ira, resigned his office as County Commissioner last Saturday, and J. B. Autay, late Democratic nominee, was sworn in to fill out Mr. Stinson's unexpired term.

T. C. Stinson has made, not only his people, but Scurry county at large an efficient officer in every sense of the word; ever faithful in the discharge of his official duties and doing what he considered to be for the best interests of all concerned.

"Well done thou good and faithful servant."

Mr. Autry, the new incumbent, we feel sure, will make the people of that precinet a good representative as he has had experience as a commissioner. We congratulate the people of that precinct upon having acted wisely in the selection of their Commissioners.

Our Honor Roll.

The following have our thanks for cash on subscription this week:

A. T. Bridgman, Route 1; Miss Viola Ellis, Lubbock; Warren Scrivner and Tom Huffman, Dermott; W. B. Thrash, Hermleigh; John M. Savage and Dr. A. C, Leslie, Snyder; W. H. Wilson, Fluvanna.

Here Prospecting.

E. Cartwright and M. E. Whiting, of Oklahoma City came in Monday. They are looking for improved farm property. In our opinion these gentlemen have come to the right place; we feel confident after they investigate the many advantages offered by our county they, as hundreds of others have done, will decide to locate with us.

From Various Sections.

People were here Saturday from Hermleigh, Dunn, Ira, Canyon, Bethel, Arah, Fluvanna, Dermott, Ennis, Hud, Camp Springs, China Grove, Plainview, Lone Wolfe, Cottonwood Flats, and Pleasant Valley. In conversation with representstive farmers from the above places we were informed that old Scurry would gin 20,000 bales of cotton this season, and not half try—provided they can secure help to pick it.

Church Calls Pastor.

The congregation of the First Christian chnrch at this place, has called Elder William Fearn as its pastor.

Elder Fearn has, for the past six years, had charge of the West Texas Mission Work under the supervision of the State Board of Missions, for the Disciples of Christ.

He will move here, with his family, at an early date and enter actively into the work.

The News is glad to note that many of our farmers are getting hogs to consume their surplus feed. This is a move in the right direction. The idea of a farmer buying his meat has always seemed preposterous to us.

OUR FARMERS STOCKING UP ON FINE HOGS

Many of our farmers are buying hogs, which is right, but they should also "stock-up" on a few good dairy cows.

There is a good market, here in Snyder, the year round for all the "butter fat" our farmers can produce You can get a cream separator cheap, sell your butter fat at a good price. Think this matter over and you will decide that The News is right in advocating the "Silo-Jersey cow route" for our farmers.

One good Jersey cow will produce six to seven pounds of butter fat per week, and right here in Snyder you have a market for it at from 24 to 26 cents per pound for every pound you will bring in. This would mean from $1.50 to $1.75 per week for your butter fat from each cow and you would still have the skimmed milk to feed to your calves and hogs.

Get some good cows and a separator and use up some of your surplus feed and make money to pay cash for your groceries and dry goods. People do it elsewhere, why can't you?

NO NEED FOR YOU TO GO TO DALLAS

Some people think that it is actually necessary to go to Dallas and walk up and down its principal business streets and view the latest styles in suits. cloaks, shoes, millinery, gents and ladies furnishings, on display in the large show windows there, before they can know what the latest styles really are.

Not so friends, for right here in Snyder, Scurry County, Texas, our merchants have on display in the various show windows all of the latest styles in shoes, hats, caps, suits, coats, cloaks, millinery, etc. Of course their displays are not as large as those in Dallas, neither is Snyder as large as Dallas, but the style and quality of goods is just as good and the people who are offering them for sale, are our friends and neighbors and can be relied upon in every instance. No there is no need to go to a large city to see the latest styles, for men, women and children.

It is the duty of every citizen in Snyder and her trade territory to patronize the home merchant.

Don't be misled by the luring advertisements now being sent you by the mail order houses, for 99 times out of every 100 you can do as well, and in most instances better, by patronizing your home merchant. It is the home merchant that makes it possible for you to market your various country produce, not the mail order houses.

Think the matter over seriously before you send a penny out of Scurry County for anything that you can buy at home. Trade at home and be a public benefactor, to your town and country.

Dies Very Suddenly.

The message received here Saturday night announcing the sudden death of Adrian Banks at De Kalb, Tex., cast a gloom over the entire community. The remains arrived over the R. S. and P. railway in Snyder Monday and funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Werner, a life long friend of deceased, at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, where many friends gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to their former fellow citizen and friend. The remains were laid to rest in the Snyder cemetery.

To the grief stricken family and sorrowing friedds, our hearts go out in deepest sympathy and condolence. The folling acted as pall bearers: W. A. Kincanon, Bibb Alexander, Roy Garner, Lon Graham, Dr. Howell, and H. M. Boyd.

After Cotton Pickers.

Our old-time friend, A Beaver, of the Fluvanna country was here Monday. He had started for his old home at Jonesboro, Texas, in search of cotton pickers, but as some of the farmers near Snyder were sending east for a shipment of pickers he joined in with them. He says not one-third of the cotton is out yet, and with favorable weather cotton picking will be good 'till Christmas.

Come to Scurry, there is work for the whole d— family and the dog.

Press Reporter.

Snyder has a city marshal who is somewhat of a "roper. In the contest last Saturday he roped and tied down a goat in 34 seconds. If "Pack" had thrown up his hands in place of turning the animal over he could easily have made a record of 28 seconds.

Ask C. R. Fellmy how to get 12½ cents for a bale of cotton.

THE HERMLEIGH SCHOOL OPENED

The Hermleigh Public school opened Monday morning Oct. 19, with an enrolment of 46 students.

The faculty this year consists of O. L. Howell, Superintendent; B. G. Appleton, Principal; Miss Ethel Cherry; Mrs. O. L. Howell. Miss Wanda Altman teacher of music.

At the opening exercises Prof. O. L. Howell made an earnest and impressive talk to the pupils and outlined the plan of work for the coming session. Every member of the faculty was called on and each responded. Others who took part in the exercises with entertaining and enthuiastic discourses, were R. C. Herm and W. Gentry, two of the trustees, and A. C. Tate.

The attendance at the opening of this session is not what could be desired. Those unacquainted with existing circumstances can form no idea of how loud is the call for helpers in the white fields surrounding Hermleigh, and it falls to the lot of many school children to answer the call this year. Nearly every child enrolled has come,

"Fresh from the cotton fields,
White in their beauty;
Into the School-room,
Ready for Duty."

We feel certain that others will be added to the role daily, and that Hermleigh Public school will succeed under the supervision of O. L. Howell.

The News feels a deep interest in the Hermleigh school and bespeaks for it the loyal support of the entire citizenship. Realizing that the trustees and teachers must have the hearty cooperation of the patrons, to accomplish efficient school work.

COW BOYS REUNION AND BIG RACE MEET

The "Cowboys Reunion and Race Meet" held here last Friday and Saturday, under the management of Grank Still, was all that could have been asked. Everything was done as advertised, as well as many new attractions added to the program.

This was as good a show, of its kind as it has ever been our privilege to attend. All of the "bronks" and riders were far above the average, and all those connected with the show conducted themselves as perfect gentlemen. In fact the entire performance is pitched on a high plane.

The "goat ropeing contest" and the "Wild Horse Race" were two of the leading attractions. Many participants were entered in each of these. We give below the time of the leading contestants in the "goat roping."

O. P. Wolfe, time 34 seconds.
H. L. Miller, time 35 seconds.
R. C. Miller, time 36 seconds.
T. H. Huffman, time 5[illegible] sec.

Two prizes were awarded in this contest; $10.00 and $5.00 respectively.

In the second roping contest, T. H. Huffman of Dermott, won first and Oscar Hart of Double Mountain, won second. Time, 24 and 25 seconds, respectively.

The "wild horse race" was won by Clarence Abercrombia, prize $3.00.

The "cigar race" was won by Renzer Crowder, prize $2.00.

"Snyder Tom" the bucking bull, was rode, for five jnmps, by Oscar Hart, after which the rider proceeded to hit the ground. A prize of $10.00 was offered for any one to ride the animal two jumps.

Frank Still won "the bucking horse contest" Friday and Wade Winston won the "saddle horse race."

Mr. Still has made many friends here who will be glad to have him return with his show at any time.

SUDAN GRASS

The Reliable Hay and Forage Crop.

A statement from the Agriculture dept., Washington, D. C.—Sudan grass already needs no exploitation, and it hardly seems likely that anything will develop to detract from its popularity or to lessen its usefulness. Numerous representatives of its group (the sorghum) are now, and have been for a long time, important forage crops in this country. Taking this into consideration together with the wonderful showing Sudan Grass has made, the predicting of a bright future for it seems entirely justified.

Sudan grass is a new hay that has been imported by our government, tried out at various experiment stations and proved a great success in every section of the country.

It is a tall annual grass and under normal conditions, ranges in height from six to ten feet. The stems are small and somewhat more leafy than Johnson grass, which it most nearly resembles, though it is entirely different from Johnson grass. Like the sorghum crop it must be planted each spring and dies when the first frost comes. It usually matures ninety days from planting, and the second crop is ready for harvesting within thirty days from the first cutting.

There has never been a time but what there was a good price for hay somewhere. Sudan grass hay, beyond a reasonoble doubt has solved the hay problem of the world for the simple reason that it readily grows in all sections of the country, and gives, possibly, a bigger yield, by double, with a feeding value second or equal to alfalfa. Stock readly prefer it to all other hays or forages. On account of its large yield and feeding value it makes a splendid silo crop in arid districts it is usually planted in rows thirty-six inches apart.

This requires one pound of seed to the acre. Sown broadcast where the rainfall is ample, requires from fifteen to twenty pounds per acre.

Results Speak for Themselves.

As demonstrating the wide range of adaptability of Sudan grass to various climates and soils, We attach the following testimonials:

San Antonio Experiment Farm, San Antonio, Texas.—"Sudan grass, a new drouth resistant. Seed yield at this station has varied from fifteen to twenty bushels per acre. The forage yield varied from five to seven tons per acre. This present season we secured from two one-quarter acre plats an average of slightly more than four tons per acre for the first cutting."

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.—"Sudan grass hay proved an excellent hay crop for our conditions and gives a seed yield ranging from three to seven hundred pounds per acre."

U. S. Department, Agriculture, Bureau of plant Industry, Washington, D. C.—"The seed is worth from $2.00 to $3.00 per pound at the present time, (March 15, 1914) This extraordinary price is made possible by the fact that there is very little seed available. Five hundred pounds per acre is perhaps an average yield.—H. N. Vinall, Agronomist."

College Station, Texas.—"It is undoubtedly a valuable hay crop for Texas conditions, and I hope to see it widely destributed over the state by the end of the season. —A. B. Conner, Agronomist in Charge."

Prescott Chamber of Commerce, Prescott, Ariz.—"Sudan grass is in its second season of experimentation in the Western states. We grew a small plot on a quarter of an acre of our experimenting farm at Prescott and found it would yield about 1500 to 2000 pounds per acre from a planting of about five pounds of seed to the acre. We understand that stock prefer Sudan grass in many cases to alfalfa. It makes a stand from four to five feet tall and stools out well."

Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station, Stillwater, Okla.—"We sowed plots May 1st and harvested August 12th. The plots yielded respectively nine hundred and seven hundred pounds of seed per acre. The results was obtained from grasses that was planted in rows forty-two inches apart and cultivated."

S. Dakota State College and Agriculture Experiment Station, Brookings, S. D.—"I would state we have grown it on experimenting farms for the past two years both at Brookings and Highmore. It has yielded from four to seven tons of hay at Brookings, in two cuttings, and from two to four tons per acre at Highmore. All the seed planted in this state during the present season which was not obtained from the U. S. Department of agriculture or the experiment stations was imported from your state at a price of $2.00 per pound. I think it will sell at 50 cents per pound as soon as it becomes at all common."

Arizona Experiment Station, Phoenix, Ariz.—"The best plot I had last year yielded something over seven tons per acre from two cuttings. It is sure to prove a good annual forage for this section."

University of Nebraska, College of Agriculture, North Platte, Neb. —"We tried Sudan grass only last year and did not then give it a very accurate test, however the results are very promising."

Agriculture Experiment Station, Sub-Station No. 5, Temple, Texas—"Hay yields have ranged from three to seven tons per agre. Seed from four to eight hundred pounds per acre. The indications are that seed will be about the same price as last year."
