NEGOTIATIONS FOR A SETTLEMENT MOVE TOWARD SUCCESS

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Negotiations for a settlement of the Manchurian conflict appeared today to be moving toward success with the approval of the United States behind the council's resolution asking the Japanese to evacuate the territory as soon as security conditions permit.

Approval of the American government was announced yesterday by Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

The agreement of the United States and the twelve neutral members of the council means China's request for a fixed time limit for the troop withdrawals is likely not to be granted and it indicates an accord with the Japanese contention that such a time limit is not practicable.

It was learned, however, that Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese spokesman, probably will continue to insist on the time limit, although Dr. Sze himself asked whether he might modify his demands in the face of the American endorsement of the resolution, answered dejectedly: "I don't know."

General Dawes announced the decision of the United States government in a statement to newspaper correspondents.

"The United States government approves the general plan of settlement embodied in the proposed resolution," the statement said "and has so informed both China and Japan. It urged upon them acquiescence in the general plan embodied in the proposed resolution."

U. S. WILLING TO BE REPRESENTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Seeing eye to eye now with the League of Nations council on the Manchurian muddle, the United States is willing to be represented on a neutral commission of inquiry.

TOM MIX NEAR THE CRISIS

FATE OF ACTOR TO BE KNOWN WITHIN NEXT 24 HOURS

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26.—Tom Mix was nearing the crisis today in the fight his physicians are making to save his life. The actor was semi-comatose and his fate was expected to be known within 24 hours.

Suffering from peritonitis which developed from a ruptured appendix, the actor was given several injections of serum to counteract the infection.

A bulletin issued late last night by his physician read:

"Although the patient had a more restful day, we do not feel that we can report his condition changed."

Previously it had been officially reported his condition was extremely critical.

"I do not want to appear gloomy about Mr. Mix's condition," said Dr. N. Smith, one of the physicians, "but he is in a precarious state and only time can tell."

New Trial Granted Mal S. Daugherty

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26 (AP)—Granting of a new trial to Mal S. Daugherty, once convicted of misusing the funds of the defunct Ohio State bank at Washington Court House, of which he was president, was upheld by the state supreme court yesterday.

The supreme court refused to review a decision of the appellate court which had freed Daugherty of one count of his indictment and reversed his conviction on four others.

Daugherty, a brother of former United States attorney general Harry M. Daugherty, had appealed the case after being sentenced to two years imprisonment and fined $10,000.

Jury To Decide If He Spat Or 'Pfted'

MINOT, N. D., Nov. 26. (AP)—Whether the Kenmare police chief spat in the face of C. M. Hanson or merely "pfted," is for a jury to decide.

Hanson yesterday brought suit for $10,000 against Chief Peter Larson in district court here. He asserted he was spat upon last summer as he sought an apology because his son was called into juvenile court.

The chief asserts he did nothing more than make a slight noise with his lips. He only "pfted," he said.

FOUR INDIANS ARE FROZEN TO DEATH

WHITE MEN SEEK TO AID 1300 TRAPPED BY BLIZZARD

(By The Associated Press)

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 26.—White men were toiling over snowbanked trails south of here today carrying Thanksgiving food to 1,300 Navajo and Zuni Indians who are living on pinon nuts after being trapped by a blizzard on the high mesas of Malapais.

Four Indians, including one papoose, have frozen to death, it was learned in the settlements last night when a band of horsemen who reached a Zuni village after struggling for hours through miles of deeply drifted snow, returned here.

A family of three Navajos and a lone man died in their camps near Atarque, they said. Fears were felt for other families on the high mesas gathering pinon nuts when the storm enveloped them. They were thought to be huddled in open camps on the barren Table-Top mountain with only wagon sheets for shelter.

The chief region of distress today seemed to be around Atarque, a village of about 300 persons. Range sheep were threatened by the severe cold and a shortage of food.

Fifty white horsemen were dispatched through the drifts with food for the Indians. At the Zuni agency W. A. Trotter, superintendent, said unless additional food reached the Indian camps in 24 hours severe suffering would result.

Fear for Jacob Barth and Dan Padilla, deputy United States marshals, which had resulted in the launching of three searching parties last night, was removed when the lost pair arrived at St. Johns, Arizona.

Lupe Velez Denies Gilbert Romance

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—Lupe Valez, Mexican movie actress, landed here last night after a flight from New York and denied hints of a romance with John Gilbert, the actor.

The rumor arose from their return on the same boat from Europe as rumors usually do when movie people travel on the same boat.

Gilbert arrived from New York two days ago by train. He said: "Lupe is a wonderful girl, but we are just good friends."

Two Uninjured As Car Is Overturned

Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Hubbard, 1815 Avenue K, whose motor car turned over in a ditch on the Slaton highway about 11 o'clock last night in order to avoid hitting a parked car on the highway, were not injured, Mrs. Hubbard said today.

The couple had been to Slaton with their baby and were en route home. In the glare of an oncoming car Mr. Hubbard saw a parked car in the road just ahead, a tarpaulin over it and no lights. He slowed down and swerved into the ditch to avoid hitting it or being hit.

FISHING BOAT RUN DOWN BY STEAMSHIP

UNRULY SEA AND FOG BLAMED FOR CRASH; FIVE ARE SAVED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The unruly sea that pounds off the southern-most tip of Nova Scotia's rock-lined coast echoed today another of the interminable tragedies of the Atlantic — a schooner rammed and sunk and seven of her crew of twelve lost.

Groping last night through fog that wrapped about her like a huge blindfold, the British steamship Gypsum Prince ran down the 134-ton fishing boat Edith and Elinor, sinking her at a point ten miles off Baccaro light, about 60 miles southeast of Yarmouth.

Seven men went down with their boat. Those saved, according to wireless messages from Captain Geeve of the Gypsum Prince and Captain Simon Theriault of the Edith and Elinor, were: Capt. Theriault, Engineer Manley Gooddick of Digby, N. S., Paul Pitts, Oscar Thibideau and John Powers.

"The fate of the others," said Capt. Theriault's message to his ship's agent at Gloucester, Mass., is not known.

The Gypsum Prince put out lifeboats immediately but the Edith and Elinor—named after the wife and daughter of her master—went down within four minutes of the crash.

Two coast guard craft were dispatched at once to the position given by the Gypsum Prince, which was standing by in the hope there might be additional survivors.

The Edith and Elinor was a week out of its home port, Gloucester. The Gypsum Prince, of 3,915 tons, was en route to Digby, N. S.

The master of the Gypsum Prince said his ship was not seriously damaged.

LOSS OF FARM BOARD SHOWN

STONE THINKS PAPER LOSS WILL DROP TO VANISHING POINT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—On paper the farm board has lost $177,000,000 of the half billion given it by congress to stabilize prices of wheat and cotton.

Actually Chairman Stone of the board refuses to concede that or any similar amount should be written off. The board still has enormous hoards of both commodities. If prices go up high enough the loss might be reduced to the vanishing point.

Still it was the loss figure as of present values that Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee wanted and obtained. It was furnished him yesterday as his committee heard demands from the national farm organizations for the old, oft-vetoed remedies of export debenture and equalization fee.

These farm aids should be approved, contended the farm leaders, by way of strengthening the farm board. They did not suggest the board be done away with, as a good many have urged since the federal money started plunging into an apparently bottomless abyss of sinking wheat and cotton prices.

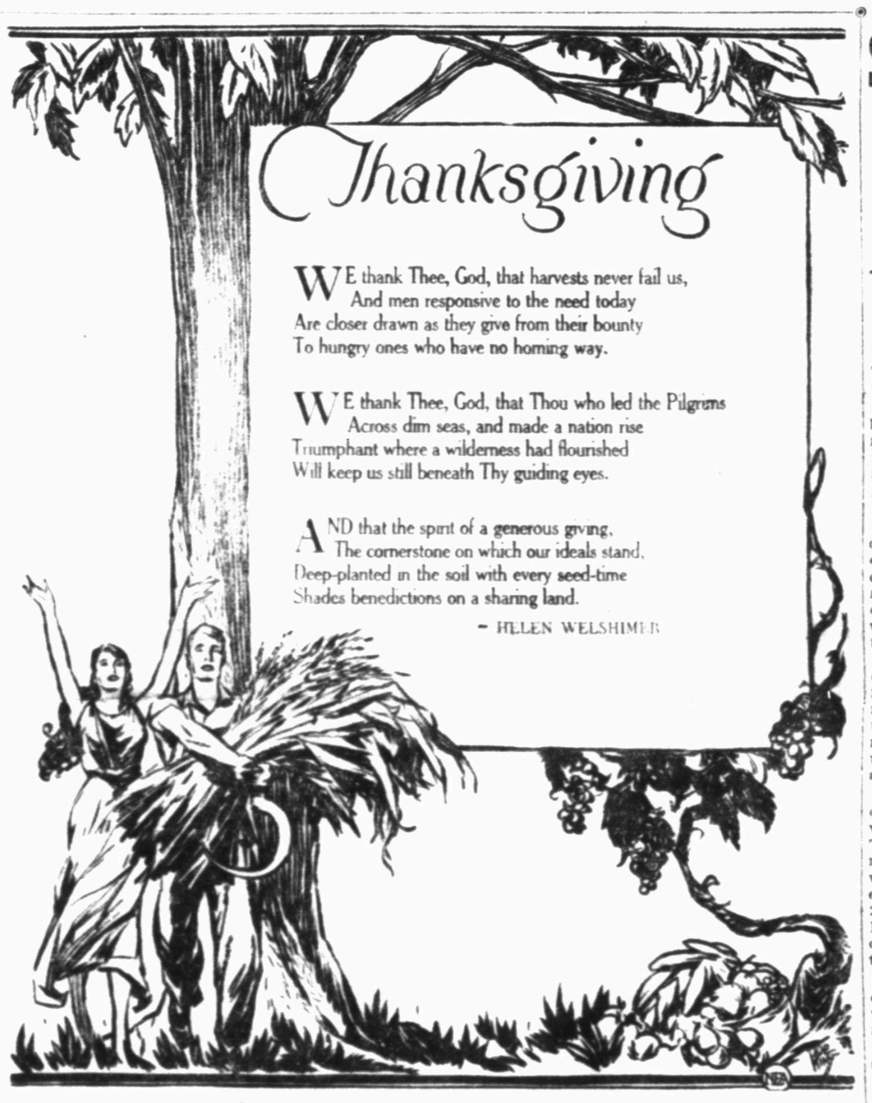
HOLIDAY WEATHER CRISP



SOUTH PLAINS GETS SLEET AND RAIN

TEMPERATURE DROPS BELOW FREEZING; RISING TODAY

Ushered in by crisp weather, Thanksgiving day had its 309th anniversary today.

For the South Plains and Panhandle territory, it was a bleak anniversary, chilly weather having put a damper on scheduled events, although football games were to be played at Amarillo and Lamesa.

Temperature Climbs

Lubbock's temperature was climbing at noon after having hovered several degrees below freezing during the night. Rain and sleet made things uncomfortable in the city's vicinity while from Shallowater to Sudan, snow ranging from three to four inches was reported.

Other snow was reported north of Plainview to Amarillo. Snow fell over the Amarillo territory last night, under protection of freezing temperatures, and the blanket remained spread today for distances ranging from 150 to 300 miles in all directions.

The fall amounted to three and one-half inches in Amarillo, and was lighter at most other points. The Amarillo weather bureau announced this morning that the snow was over and that warmer weather was in sight. After a drop from 29 degrees at 7 a. m. to 24 two hours later, the mercury started climbing. Clouds were broken, and there was no wind.

Minimum temperatures throughout the territory during the night were from 25 to 30 degrees. The Santa Fe reported rain and sleet and freezing temperatures as far south as Sweetwater.

The dispatchers reported snow 300 miles to the west, 250 miles east and 130 miles north of Amarillo.

Highways Passable

All highways were passable and trains were running on schedule.

The temperature registered a new low mark for the season at Wichita Falls Wednesday night, 36 degrees,

LUBBOCK FANS AT FOOTBALL CONTESTS

FOURTH OF RESIDENTS AT AMARILLO AND ABILENE TODAY

With a fourth of the city's population at Amarillo and Abilene for football games, Lubbock is observing a quiet Thanksgiving day.

For those who stay at home, it will be an afternoon around the fireside with a majority of the citizenship huddled around radios, listening to the reports of the Amarillo-Lubbock game.

All stores, banks, schools, and the postoffice are closed for the day.

Fans Support Teams

For approximately 5,000 grid fans, it will mean a day of strenuous support of their teams. More than 4,000 of this group are in Amarillo to watch the Westerners clash with the Sandies while the others are in Abilene seeing the Texas Tech Matadors battling the strong Simmons University eleven.

Included in the list of fans going to Abilene was the Matador band which will parade with Tech fans through the downtown streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Tech band is also booked for an appearance in Amarillo tomorrow at the state teachers convention.

The day's observance was ushered in with a union Thanksgiving service at the First Baptist church. Dr. W. Y. Pond of Waco preached the sermon.

Three special trains left the Santa Fe depot shortly after 9 o'clock bearing between 1,500 and 1,700 fans to the Amarillo game. Cars and buses carried an additional 1,200. Cars left all during Wednesday afternoon and night and scores of them left in the wee hours of the morning for the North Plains city.

To Stage Parade

Upon arrival in Amarillo, the Lubbock delegation will stage a huge parade through the downtown streets. Headquarters for Lubbock

RENEW ATTACK ON HOOVER

NAVY LEAGUE AGAIN MAKES ASSAULT ON THE PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Navy league, returning to the assault on President Hoover's policy, now maintains the principal charges of its renowned "abysmal ignorance" statement stand unrefuted.

A new broadside by the league, issued late yesterday, flung back the answer of the presidential committee which found it guilty of "inaccuracies, false assertions and erroneous conclusions."

Record Reviewed

It went further, devoting six pages of close print to a review of what it termed "Mr. Hoover's unconstructive record as to naval building since he has been president."

The statement was in the form of a 17-page printed letter addressed by Walter Bruce Howe, chairman of the board, to the directors of the Navy league. It promised a later "full rejoinder" to the committee which Mr. Hoover named to demonstrate "untruths and distortions of fact" he found in the original league attack. This was issued by William Howard Gardiner, president of the organization. Gardiner, supported by a vote of confidence from his executive committee, has not made the apology which Mr. Hoover said he would expect.

Five specific untruths are ascribed in the new pamphlet to the report of the Hoover committee. Contrary to this report, said Howe, the United States is not now engaged in more naval building than any other power, its own figures show that France is way ahead.

Thanksgiving Hails Eventful Epochs In America Since The Colonial Era

DAY ONLY RELIGIOUS EVENT CELEBRATED IN UNITED STATES

BY OSCAR LEIDING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Thanksgiving day—the only religious festival celebrated in the United States by authority of its government—has had its ups and downs. Sometimes it has been a day of fasting—at other times a day of feasting. Sometimes it occurred in the spring, when the earth was fresh for planting. Or perhaps it followed the golden harvests of autumn.

Mostly it has been a day filled with religious meaning — but the "first" Thanksgiving was three days of food and frolic.

Commonly, its beginnings in America are traced to Plymouth in 1621 when a handful of sturdy Pilgrims "entertained and feasted" for nearly a week.

More correctly, however, Thanksgiving as it is known today stretches less than a century back to that rail-splitter from the midwest, Abraham Lincoln.

Pilgrims 'Rejoice Together'

One chronicler of the Pilgrim festival makes no mention of religious significance. He wrote:

"Our harvest being gotten in, our government sent foure men on fowling, that so we might after a more special manner rejoyce together,

DELAY IS SEEN IN DECISION

NO ACTION TAKEN BY JUDGE MULLICAN IN TRUCK CASE HERE

Decision in the case of L. P. Jeffreys, Lubbock truck owner and contract carrier, against the Railroad Commission of Texas and its law enforcing officials and peace officers of Lubbock and Lynn counties, will not be handed down for some time, it was indicated today by Judge Clark M. Mullican of the 99th district court, before whom the case was argued over two weeks ago.

"I do not know when I will announce my decision for I have not had time to study the case," Judge Mullican stated. "In fact, my court is so busy I have to hold court Thanksgiving."

Some additional papers, including a supplemental brief filed by R. P. Maddox, of Tahoka, personal counsel of Mr. Jeffreys and the arguments of the state as presented by Elbert Hooper, assistant attorney general in charge of work for the railroad commission, have been filed with the court.

A mass of papers, including copies of the rulings of higher courts, are to be ready by the court before

AMERICA REVIEWS TRIALS OF LAST YEAR AND TURNS HOPEFULLY TO NEXT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Bidden once more to the festival board of Thanksgiving, America today acknowledged the mercies, reviewed the trials of the last year and turned hopefully to the next.

From the lowliest fireside to the symbolic hearthstone of the White House went forth expressions of cheer or gratitude on this 309th anniversary of the original day of thanks.

Prayers of hopefulness, as well as thanksgiving, arose from the thousands of pulpits, hearkening again to the year 1621 and the stalwart religion of Governor Bradford's Plymouth colonists.

Crisp and chill as the waning Indian summer unlocked its long grip in the east to the frosty touch of winter, the day provided a perfect setting for the deed.

Aside from the solemn aspect of the observance of this holiday of America's own, there was the lighter side of pleasure. To the stadiums went hundreds of

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

INHERITANCE

ONE OF THE gravest tragedies is the quarrel by children over money left to them by their parents. Some parents are eminently successful in rearing a family in the early years only to have the children turned into bitter mutual enemies after their parent's death. Such family warfare may arise over a very small amount of money. Some children have in later years become life-long foes of each other over a few hundred dollars of inheritance.

It is astonishing how much effort many parents expend in amassing a fortune for their children and how little thought and preparation they give to the assurance of its wise use and distribution after their death. How much farther the world's business would be advanced if parents were to be as much concerned about preparing their children for fortunes as about preparing fortunes for their children! Any contribution we cna make toward building good habits of character in our children is much more to be desired than gold.

Our next interest ought to be in preparing for old age in ourselves. Savings and insurance are evidences of common-sense foresight. Wise parents leave wills. The mother as well as the father writes one. By doing so they make their property the more likely to be distributed as they wish it to be. Otherwise, most of what they leave may be spent in litigation.

If you have no will, go, father and mother, to a competent lawyer before the morrow's sunset, and each draw up a will. Provide in it for your care in infirmity and for the care of your surviving spouse. Be business-like. If there is more than one child, state in the will that the child who cares for you or your spouse when you need physical care shall be duly compensated at a reasonable rate as long as there is money available in your estate. Then you won't feel you are a burden and the child who cares for you will not be driven to hate the other children nor accuse them of ingratitude.

While you live, spend of your own fortune as you see fit, for your own needs and comforts, making ample provisions for your care as long as you live. Unfortunately a good many children, like hungry vultures, are only waiting for their parents to die to feed on their fortune. Perhaps those same parents have been depriving themselves of necessities so as to have something to leave for their children. Some parents die prematurely because they had denied themselves the necessary medical aid they were well able to afford. Those parents who don't deny themselves too much contribute most to their children's welfare.

But the average parent will have nothing to leave. At 65 he will be penniless. The problem for the average parent is to begin at the cradle to train the child not to expect too much from him, but to develop early independence and the feeling of affectionate obligation to his parents, finding it no hardship to help them in old age.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED JOBLESS IN AUGUST NOW EMPLOYED HERE

REAL CAUSE IS GIVEN MANY TO OBSERVE THANKSGIVING

By GORDON WEBB,
Journal Staff Writer

Recently found part and full-time employment will enable at least 558 Lubbock residents, a majority of whom was jobless August 1, to observe Thanksgiving fully today.

That same group of men and women of which 447 have full time work and only 111 are employed short hours or on rush days, is earning $36,931 per month—money which last summer probably was not in circulation.

These figures, compiled from information supplied by managers and operators of 246 Lubbock firms, does not include the thousands of cotton pickers engaged in the cotton harvest on 2,500 farms in the county, nor the estimated 400 persons used in the ten-day Thanksgiving poultry rush season by produce houses.

Reports Encouraging

Most encouraging are reports of firms not engaged in seasonal activities—the department and clothing stores, filling stations and other firms catering to the trade of motorists, tailor shops, bakeries, drug stores, cafes, hotels, groceries and beauty shops. This group is paying $15,436 each month for 294 employes they did not have three months ago.

Eleven local gins, in or near Lubbock, said that although the peak of their business had passed they still were using 46 employes and paying them approximately $4,145 a month. A few weeks ago, the gainers said they were using two and three times this number of employes.

Cotton compresses this week reached the peak. Estimated increase in payroll over August 1 is $9,250 per month for 142 employes. Their work will extend into next spring. Cotton buyers and brokers are spending $3,350 monthly more than this past summer. Their additional employes total 26. Because of large cotton holdings this employment probably will last into March or even later.

Information gained in the survey corroborates that received by Miss Evelyn Richter, secretary of the United Welfare association here.

"More than 200 families are receiving aid in the form of supplies, supported by rent of employment and our charity problem in the Lubbock resident is in the transient," said Miss Richter. "In the past two weeks I have received applications for aid from 14 transient families but there were no requests from local groups.

Miss Richter classifies transients as those people in need of aid who have not lived in Lubbock county six months.

Four weeks of exceptional business—which many managers compared with the 1929 boom period—are reported by merchants. Some firms, now doing capacity business, have not increased their staff because they have stretched a point during the slack period to keep their organizations intact.

Staffs Increased

Of 15 department, dry goods and clothing stores interviewed, eleven had increased staffs. These firms were paying $3,826 to 93 part-time workers and 52 regulars.

One cleaner and presser reported that his busy season usually came during the summer, but that he was doing a bigger business in November than August 1. Other tailors made similar reports. Of 12 cleaners, tailors and hatters contacted, nine had additional workers who were receiving $1,270 each month.

Salaries have been cut by a number of firms, but they were prompt to point out the lower prices and increased purchasing power of the dollar.

"Yes, our firm has made a slight salary reduction," said one store owner, "but we are employing more people now. The money is being distributed to more families — one reason for the increased business this fall is due to that fact."

One dry goods merchant made this statement: "People who had full supplies of bed linen and clothing two years ago have worn out that clothing and are buying again. I know men who had a dozen or two dozen shirts two years ago who have been replenishing their supply. Others will be following their example."

Another encouraging situation is the fact that tax payments, city, school and state, are increasing far above the 1930 totals, according to A. C. Jackson, schools manager, A. J. Clark, county tax collector, and R. A. Holland, city collector and assessor.

Tax payments Wednesday collected by Mr. Clark, exceeded the entire November, 1930, total. Railroad companies, taking advantage of the two-installment plan, made payments yesterday. But in October, with less than five persons taking advantage of the two-payment offer, county and state collections were double those of the previous October.

All Are Optimistic

Practically all the firms interviewed were optimistic in viewing the future.

The following groups were contacted: Fifteen department stores, clothiers and dry goods merchants; eleven drug stores; six cafes, six hotels; ten groceries; six wholesale groceries; 30 service stations; eleven automobile accessories dealers; five lumber yards; eight automobile dealers; eleven gins; five furniture stores; six hardwares; five laundries; four machine shops; three music stores; four packing houses; three photographers; six plumbers; five radio shops; six transfer firms; 12 cleaners and tailors; three construction firms; two compresses; one cotton oil mill; seven utilities groups; four dealers in agricultural implements; three bakeries; three banks; two barber shops; seven battery stations; eight beauty parlors; one uniform manufacturer; 13 cotton brokers; four dairies and creameries; seven feed stores.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

SPORTS WRITER'S THANKSGIVING

This being the season of Thanksgiving it is meet that a chronicler of games and the people who play them should offer his two cents worth too. Accordingly, let us join in expressing thanks for.

PETE CAWTHON, DUTCHEY SMITH, DEL MORGAN and the TECH MATADORS, who have served each other, their school and their town well this season and who are today striving to serve us by trimming the chaps of the Simmons Cowboys. The coaches have done their part. We are particularly thankful for them.

WELDON B. CHAPMAN, BURL HUFFMAN and their Lubbock HIGH WESTERNERS, who have swept through early season games with such profundo as to make them favorites to whip Amarillo today and bring home a district championship. By their fine sportsmanship and playing they give us much for which to be thankful.

THE BUSINESS MEN of Lubbock whose efforts have brought great results toward the raising of Lubbock athletics standards and abilities of the city.

DIRTY WALLER and the LUBBOCK HUBBERS who played a successful season of baseball last summer. Truly there was sport in seeing those boys win by a big majority their season game bringing night baseball to Lubbock.

LUBBOCK GOLF CLUBS AND GOLFERS who brought the West Texas Golf association tournament to Lubbock, who have refused to listen to the calls of depression and who have continued to build golf in Lubbock and on the Plains.

OUR CLASS B friends and the teams of the South Plains who have done their bit toward promoting athletics and we'll be thinking about the Floydada-Lamesa game this afternoon hoping that the best team wins and that the loser knows when it is beaten.

SPENCER WELLS DICK SMITH JACK PARSONS LEROY BROWN ROSCOE WILSON BUCK DAVIS ROSS M'WHORTER PARKER TROUTY THE PLAINSMAN C. W. RATLIFF TIM STOVALL, WILEY RUIE RAY HINCHEY R. KELLER CARL PATTON THE SILVER KEY HOUSE THE STRANGLERS CLUB THE LOS AMARADAS and the TOREADOR. Tech for their glides that will result in good football being given the Matadors if they win today.

And now may be join with our national contemporaries, particularly with William Rauscher of NEA service, in offering thanks for other things of athletic nature.

PEPPER MARTIN. By dash and zing he upset one of the greatest baseball machines ever put together. More than that he emerged with a trace of hydrocephalus, by which we are trying to say swelling of the head. And for his deeds the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs might well be thankful.

FRANCIS OUIMET. By luck and perseverance that carried him through nearly a score of weary and unrewarded years he finally triumphed in the National Amateur championship tournament. More than that, Ouimet has given to the name of golf the fine influence of a gentlemanly spirit which is a great help.

ELLSWORTH VINES. Not since old Red Comet that was Maurice Loughlin slashed his way across tennis courts of the world has there appeared such a colorful figure dragon as Vines. He has brought back a splendid old picture of winning action and it is a picture tennis can use.

BILL BURKE. He showed the world that a core boy from the laundry could play golf, too, when he won the National Open. But you have to be thankful for George Von Elm, likewise, for George made him work in time-and-a-half overtime and then some to beat him.

* * *

MAX SCHMELING. He showed this 18th round knockout of the Yell Stribling that the old type of fighting men who love to fight is not extinct. And many thanks to W. L., too, for the brave fight he fought.

MATADORS TO MEET SIMMONS TODAY

SANDIES MEET WESTERNERS FOR CROWN

FOUR THOUSAND FANS FROM HERE ARE TO CHEER LUBBOCK

(Special To The Journal)

AMARILLO, Nov. 26—By winning the Thanksgiving Day football classic at Amarillo today, the Lubbock High school Westerners will cinch the championship of District 1. They are opposed by the Amarillo Golden Standstorm in the crucial gridiron contest.

With some 4,000 fans from home to cheer them on, the Westerners enter the game today as favorites, marking the first time in years that a Lubbock team was favored over the Sandies. By virtue of a string of straight victories in which is included a win over the Pampa Harvesters, who had previously defeated Amarillo, the Westerners are given an edge.

Would Cause Tie

In spite of Lubbock's favoritism it would be no upset if Amarillo should win today's game and thereby throw the district race into a three-cornered deadlock between Lubbock, Amarillo and Pampa. The teams would be compelled to play off the tie before December 5 for on that day the bi-district game must start.

Weather May Be Bad

Weather conditions promised to be about as bad as they usually are when a good game is scheduled the weather man having no respect for Thanksgiving or any other giving. Snow which fell here yesterday morning was practically melted by nightfall, but it was drizzling rain and sleet and the prospects were for a wet field and cold bleachers.

Judging from the continued demand for tickets, however, and the news that Lubbock was sending two special trains and four busses loaded to capacity besides the highway trade fans at today's game will have just about as much respect for the weather as the weather holds for them.

The teams spent a restful day yesterday. A skull practice in the hotel where the Westerners are encamped constituted most of the day's workout, though a limbering up exercise was held by both teams.

Everybody seems to be in fine spirits here and the town has gone football crazy. The coaches, Blair Cherry and Weldon Chapman were besieged by reporters nearly all afternoon but learned little except that the teams plan to wage a bitter warfare against each other tomorrow.

The condition of Gene Barnett, Lubbock's plunging and passing fullback, appeared not so critical as was first indicated. Barnett's foot broken in the game with Childress at Lubbock more than two weeks ago, is not completely healed and will handicap him to a marked extent, probably keeping him from playing all of the game. Coach Chapman named him on the probable starting lineup with reservations, indicating that if Bill Davidson was able, he might divide time with Barnett or even start in his stead. Davidson has been troubled more than a week with a serious knee injury that has been slow in healing.

Amarillo's faster backfield, composed of "Chiggers" Enoch, La Barge, Bassett and Cazzell, will carry Amarillo's hopes tomorrow. The lines are considered to be about equal, with Lubbock's forward wall perhaps having the advantage of experience.

The teams appeared quiet, confident and yet eager on the eve of the battle. There was no show of cockiness or overconfidence on the part of either club, and this was a most pleasing sign to their coaches. Everything pointed to a hotly contested gridiron scrap today.

The Westerners will be wearing blue jersies today and the Sandies will wear white sweaters. The change was made when neither coach would agree to the other's using the regular playing jersies, which would conflict were both teams to use them. Lubbock's jersies are borrowed from Texas Tech, the Lubbock college using them in connection with the coaching school held there in August.

JACK SHARKEY. Yes, we are thankful even for Jack Sharkey. Well, didn't he beat Carnera?

THE WRESTLERS. We give thanks that they are no worse than they are.

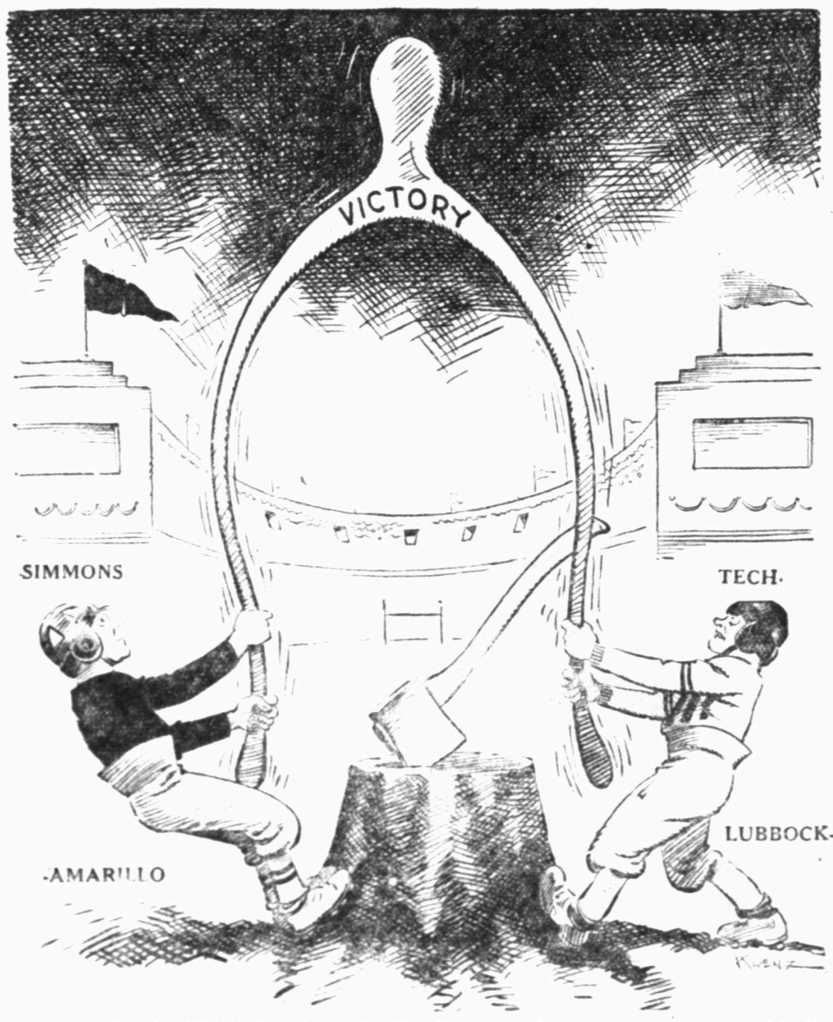
SCHOOL IS RAZED

BEEVILLE, Nov. 26. (AP)—The school building at Mineral, a community northwest of Beeville, was razed by fire yesterday. Teachers and students evacuated the building without injury.

TO BROADCAST GAME

The Westerner Golden Sandstorm game will be broadcast direct from the playing field this afternoon, it was announced here yesterday. Radio station KGRS will furnish the broadcast going on the air about 2 o'clock. The Amarillo station is a thousand-watt station and operates on an assigned frequency of 1410 kilocycles.

HERE'S HOPING THE LOCAL BOYS GET THE LONG END



GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT ABILENE

TECH TEAM TO SEEK REVENGE IN CLASH WITH COWBOYS

(Special To The Journal)

ABILENE, Nov. 26.—Before a Homecoming and Thanksgiving crowd that still promises to be the largest of the season in spite of unfavorable weather conditions, the Simmons University Cowboys and the Texas Tech Matadors meet this afternoon in annual gridiron dispute.

Hungry for vengeance and with a good opportunity of getting same, the Matadors appeared in rather high spirits here at their hotel this morning. Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith were not inclined to optimism, holding that Simmons's defeat at the hands of Howard Payne last Saturday would go toward making the Cowboys tougher than usual.

The Cowboys are not anticipating a beating, but then they did not expect to be defeated when Coach Chaney's Howard Payne Yellow Jackets came to town last Saturday. They realize that the Matadors stack up well, perhaps better than the ordinary Texas Conference team, and they are going to be out for blood tomorrow.

Matadors Seek Revenge

Tech feels that it must win the old ball game. It has been four years since a Matador team turned back a Cowboy outfit, and four years of straight defeats can make any team determined to fight and fight hard.

A special train from Lubbock failed to materialize, but quite a number of rabid Tech supporters will be on the sidelines rooting for the Matadors.

Coach Pete Cawthon, upon his arrival, said the squad had a short and nervous workout at Sweetwater. The Matador mentor was not at all optimistic when the club reached town. He was lamenting more than anything else an injury that will keep one of his star backs, Slick Close, the Wayland College grad and former star, out of the lineup. Close seems to have a broken foot, the same having been hurt in a previous game and aggravated in the game last week in which he helped Tech whip the University of New Mexico, 32 to 6. Close will not be in the lineup, according to Cawthon.

The Tech backfield is further crippled as a result of injuries suffered by Harold Crites, regular fullback, and Shorty France, sensational little halfback. Both may have to play, however, but neither will be up to snuff. Speed Moffett, quarterback, appears in good shape. Lefty Sollis is likely to take Close's place in the backfield and Murray Nichols will do some work at fullback. Jim O'Leary will be ready to play as quarter. Mark Welch and Basil Hill are other halfbacks likely to see service.

Cawthon intimated that he would take no chances with his shock troops but would start his regulars and keep them in as long as they could wiggle. Price and Hitchcock attends, Baker and Owens at tackles, Greer and Ayers at guards and Tribble at center most likely will start in the line. Baker is a former Abilene High star, getting 11-state honors from the local institution.

Steers And Aggies Will Battle Today

TRADITION OF MANY YEARS IS BEHIND CLASSIC TODAY

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26. (AP)—A Texas Aggie football squad, crippled by injuries but backed by the tradition of being hard to defeat on its home field, meet the University of Texas eleven today in the annual southwestern Thanksgiving day gridiron classic.

Only once in the eight times the two teams have played on Kyle field have the Longhorns won. The game is the 38th match between the two institutions.

On the injured list of the Aggies were Captain Moulden, tackle; Robertson, center; and McFadden, halfback. Moulden was expected to see action part of the game, however.

Weather forecasts indicated the game would be played under cloudy skies. Slightly warmer weather from the prevailing cold of the past two days was in prospect.

Thousands of alumni of both schools gathered for the annual battle, including many business and political leaders of the state. Governor Ross S. Sterling and Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt were to participate in ceremonies preceding the game.

Long Island U. To Continue Football

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Long Island university, which decided a year ago to give up football because of the heavy expense of operating a team, now plans to go right on with the intercollegiate game.

Only the fact some games could not be cancelled made the university go through with the 1931 schedule but a new regime proved so successful that a faculty committee yesterday approved the continuation of football.

Drastic reorganization of French railway companies is expected within a short time.

Lamesa, Floydada Battle Today For Class B Title

COLORFUL AND FIERCE CONTEST EXPECTED IN LAMESA TILT

To decide the Class B championship of District 2, Lamesa High School's Golden Tornadoes will meet the Floydada High school Green Whirlwinds this afternoon on the Lamesa field.

By virtue of elimination the two strongest Class B football teams in District 2 will clash for the district championship this afternoon on the Golden Tornado field. The game is sure to be one of the hardest fought, one of the most colorful gridiron contests waged on anybody's football field on this Thanksgiving day.

The list of events leading up to the big game at Lamesa today have been garnered by right and might of the strongest teams in some of the most rugged games of the season. There has been little to mar a perfect Class B season, so far as the leading teams are concerned. Some schools have been forced to close their doors and their gridiron gates but it is common belief that the strongest teams survived.

Lamesa won its district in regular order, defeating Post in the bi-sub-district game for the championship of the southern half of the district and is gunning for the district title with a team that has been raised from rock bottom since the season started. Coach F. T. McCollum's hopes at the beginning of the year were not so high. He had a small, inexperienced club, many of his former stars being lost by graduation. He has built up a team that has had no trouble so far, even though it has won some games by scant margins.

Over in the northern part of the district, Floydada has been setting the brush afire with its greatest football team since the good years of 1924 and 1926 when it startled the whole section, losing only one game and that to Amarillo. Coach L. T. Barksdale, coming to Floydada last year, has built up a team in which the natives have utmost confidence and over which the town and section has practically gone wild.

Floydada established its right to meet Lamesa in the championship game by making a sensational last half spurt to overcome a two-touchdown lead and beat Littlefield in the bi-sub-district game, which was played at Lubbock.

Whirlwinds Day Early

Coach Barksdale and his Whirlwinds passed through Lubbock yesterday at noon enroute for Lamesa. They worked out there yesterday afternoon and appeared fit and fine for the big game. With the exception of Quarterback "Little" Murray, the sensation of the team in its important games, who is still suffering from a broken hand, the Whirlwinds are in fine shape. Murray will be started in the lineup, Coach Barksdale said. Martin Heald, Welch and Bridges are Barksdale's other regular backs who make up the difference which gives the Whirlwinds a slight edge. Floydada's passing attack, coupled with a hard line-smashing attack, will be hard to stop.

Time-Honored Rivalries Of Grid Draw Fans Today

"CLIMAX" CLASHES OF SEASON REACHED IN NATION TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Time-honored rivalries of the gridiron drew football fans throughout the country today for the "climax" games of the season.

Except in the mid-west, where a four-team charity circus involving the lower-ranking members of the Big Ten held the featured spot, games of long-standing tradition topped the program in every section.

In Elimination Event

Chicago, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois were scheduled to hook up in an elimination event at Chicago with the winners of two preliminary contests clashing in a final brief game. The Marquette-Drake game at Des Moines was the only other outstanding contest in the mid-west.

Action was scheduled to open in the east with Colgate and Brown resuming their 23-year-old rivalry at Providence. The 38th struggle between Cornell and Pennsylvania headed the eastern program. Other traditional rivalries were Holy Cross-Boston college and Carnegie Tech-New York university. Nebraska against Pittsburgh headed the intersectional card.

The only other intersectional game of major importance saw Florida playing the University of California at Los Angeles.

Title At Stake

The Tennessee-Kentucky game at Lexington carried off the honors in a big Southern schedule as it brought a possible definite settlement of the southern conference title race. A Tennessee victory would give the Volunteers a claim on the crown but if Kentucky scored an upset the title would go to Tulane without argument. Vanderbilt and Alabama offered another top-ranking attraction.

In the southwest, Texas and Texas Aggies held the spotlight with both tradition and a pair of strong teams.

Utah was favored to capture another Rocky Mountain conference crown by eliminating the Utah Aggies. Oregon faced St. Marys.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS

Thanksgiving Day has rolled around throughout the United States—It has come again on the South Plains of Texas—and with the coming of this day—People rejoice—People go to football games—People feast—and deeply felt within the hearts of those who realize, is a thankfulness for their well-being. The spirit of this thankfulness dates back to Plymouth Rock—To our pilgrim fathers. So we join, with those who reflect the spirit of this day, in realizing what a joyful occasion Thanksgiving is for this South Plains empire—The garden spot of the United States—A place where a greater number of people per thousand have concrete reasons to be thankful than any place in the world.

Thought For Today

Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.—2 Corinthians 2:11.

Temptation has a music for all ears.—N. P. Willis.

Jazz Music

A New York dance orchestra leader complained the other day that present-day jazz music has lost its kick. Predicting that people soon will be sitting down to listen to the music instead of dancing to it, he asked plaintively:

"What's happening to jazz, the music that's supposed to send hot and cold thrills down the spine, get feet to hopping around and get everybody excited?"

Probably a good many things have been happening to it; but quite possibly the chief thing is that the general emotional attitude of the nation at large has moved right out from under it. We are quieter now than we were a few years ago. Cold thrills along the vertebrae are not at such a premium as they were once. We are approaching a new viewpoint, and one of the results is that we like our dance music slower, smoother and less discordant.

Jazz came to its heydey just after the war. The nation then was in an abnormal emotional state. The wild jungle rhythm of the jazz band fitted its mood perfectly.

The years of mushroom prosperity increased this feeling. Somehow, we got the notion that we were moving somewhere at a perfectly prodigious clip. All of the old ways were going to be discarded, and the man who saved his money and took thought for the morrow was simply a dolt. A new era was dawning. Stamp your feet, clap your hands and get excited—we're the children of tomorrow, and the sky's the limit!

Well, we've grown more sober and more wise in the last couple of years. We aren't all going to become millionaires overnight, perpetually rising stock values aren't going to relieve us of the necessity of being thrifty, and the chief problems of the ages are, after all, mainly unsolved. We had our party, and we've been suffering from a headache ever since.

So now we feel differently. Red-hot jazz music, hectic and giddy, no longer appeals to us as it used to. We're not quite so ready to kick up our heels as we were a few years ago.

Care Of Teeth

One of the significant developments of the fall season has been the decision by the American Dental Association, in its recent convention at Memphis, to use advertising to educate the public about dental hygiene.

This is no way marks a break with the established rule that individual dentists are not to advertise themselves. The association as a whole will handle the matter through a new bureau in an effort to keep the public informed about the proper care of the teeth; and the results should be highly beneficial.

The old saying about an ounce of prevention and a pound of cure is nowhere so apt as in the care of the teeth. If the association, through advertising, can drive the lesson home it will be doing the whole country a service.

The Dole

Edward A. Filene, the well-known Boston merchant, is one business man who is not frightened by that dreadful expression, "the dole." Appearing before a Senate committee recently, he declared that every employer should be required to provide employment insurance for his wage-earners, either on a private system or on one established through the government.

The chief benefits of this, he believes, would be indirect. The man out of a job would have an income, to be sure; but Mr. Filene holds that the chief effect of this system would be to make employers take extra pains to stabilize business so that unemployment would be materially reduced.

That Girl on Broadway says a careful man is one who always makes his promises in his wife's name.

There are at least 50 million pedestrians who can be thankful they're alive today.

LITTLE to be thankful for today? Ridiculous! The average American doesn't know how well off he is—he hasn't any idea of what is going on in the rest of the world as far as hardships are concerned!

The Plainsman is no smirking Pollyanna, attempting to discount facts and truths. The year 1930 has been no wonder year as far as commerce, labor, trade, the professions and our every line of endeavor are concerned. But even at that, as we near its end, 1930 has cared well for our country as a whole.

Before you look down your nose and bray about 'depression' and 'hard times', supposed you were numbered among the untold millions of starving in China!

Suppose you, and your fever-wracked family were attempting to beat stark famine, pestilence and death from the door of a mud caked shack in the Yangtse river.

Suppose you and your were slaves to the cracking whip of that modern Czar of all the Russians, Josef Stalin and his power-drunk henchmen of the Soviet—suppose you had to live, herded like cattle, for a card entitling you to nothing more than the bare necessities of life!

Little to be thankful for today? Rot!

SUPPOSE you were a business man in England, Austria, Rumania, or in almost any country of the world except United States and France. What kind of a position would you find yourself in today?

You'd have no money.

You'd have no credit.

You'd have no business—and what is worse, you'd have little hope of improving your condition any time soon.

You'd be worried in every waking and sleeping hour that the worst would come. You wouldn't know whether your country was going to steer clear of bankruptcy for another 24 hours or not.

* * *

Suppose you were one of Indias millions—virtual slaves without hope. Suppose you lived in Italy and there under the iron rule of a big-jawed dictator, you couldn't even wear the kind of hat you wanted. To get closer home, suppose you were a New England textile worker—or a Pennsylvania or Kentucky coal miner—who, secured by strikes, the economic situation and labor disputes hadn't been working for 10 long months and had a worn out, sick wife and a half dozen rickety kids in need or bread?

Nothing to be thankful for? Positively silly!

ONE of the biggest stumbling blocks between the rank and file of this country and return to normalcy has been the failure of the individual to be honest with himself.

In Black October, of '28, when the sky high markets baled out to crash heavily a hundred points below, it became popular for people who hadn't lost a dime to talk about being "wiped out in the market".

Ever since that time it has been popular to talk about the depression, failure, sinking dividends and everything else of a pessimistic nature.

Most of us hace 'talked poor' so long that we really believe we are poor—in spite of the fact that today's dollar will buy $1.43 worth of necessities as compared with 1928's dollar!

We have so convinced ourselves that we're in tight straits that without thinking of what we're doing we've ridden obligations, cut expenditures and in one way or another added to actual conditions.

As a matter of fact, there's not one man in ten as badly off as he has led himself, subconsciously, to believe—and the tenth man still has plenty to be thankful for today.

* * *

WE might just as well turn over a new leaf and start being scrupulously honest with ourselves. Unless we are ill—or have illness in the family—or unless we are in absolute want, and there's no reason for remaining that way in the midst of a generous, free-hearted people, we have a lot to be thankful for.

Can't you see it?

Certainly you can!

One of the things we have never been able to understand is how a person can publicly admit slaying two others, cutting their bodies up and shipping them in a trunk—and then plead 'not guilty' to murder.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says this is the one day in the year when something besides father gets it in the neck.

The average man would like to be wealthy enough to hire an English butler to pour his coffee in his saucer for him.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS

The Plainsman is up in Amarillo today, seeing the job well done and making advance arrangements to ceremoniously greet Colonel Erasmus Elberfield Tack, when the latter comes to Lubbock to sweep out the Avalanche-Journal offices.

Of course, there is a bare possibility that The Plainsman will have to do the sweeping and flunkeying in the Amarillo Globe-News plant, instead of Colonel Tack having to do it here, but he's not worrying about that.

One thing is sure: if Colonel Tack is elected to do the janitor work for one day down here he'll get a royal greeting—band and all!

HOPE IT'S PERFECT!

There are just two things needed to make today a perfect Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock. Of course, those two things are a Lubbock victory over Amarillo and a Tech victory over Simmons.

Let's all pull for a perfect Thanksgiving.

Yea, Tech! Yea, Westerners!

Traditional Chivalry Of The South Places Women In The Political Spotlight, Although The North Is Still Wary

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—If a woman is elected vice president of the United States in 1998, she will be a lady of the South. Probably she will be a citizen of Arkansas.

Dutcher

The traditional gallantry and chivalry of the South effervesce even into national politics. It was a governor of Georgia who made Mrs. Rebecca Felton the first woman senator, although only for a day. Now a governor of Arkansas has appointed Mrs. Hattie Caraway to be senator and these Southern statesmen vie so earnestly in paying tribute to that other sex that there's no telling where it will all end. What the North does about putting women in the Senate was best indicated by the 750,000 plurality by which Senator Jim Ham Lewis of Illinois won over Ruth Hanna McCormick.

Arkansas stands proudly at the top of feminism's honor roll. Two Arkansas congresswomen elected to succeed their husbands sat in the House last session twice as many as any other state ever had at the same time. Now comes Mrs. Caraway.

Various Southern Democrats conspired before the 1924 convention in New York and put in nomination a heroine who, if she had been nominated and elected, probably would have been the most beautiful woman to hold high office since the administration of Cleopatra. She was Mrs. Leroy Springs, national committeewoman from South Carolina.

Politicians from all sections became enthusiastic over the idea as soon as they saw Mrs. Springs. Every time she stood up the band played "Oh, You Beautiful Doll." Then the convention broke into that terrible Smith-McAdoo row and Mrs. Springs, who had seconded McAdoo, received only 18 votes from South Carolina as the delegates nominated Charlie Bryan and dashed home.

Lately Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, the congresswoman from Florida, has been talked about as a vice presidential possibility. Mrs. Owen, however, knows better than to try for a place on the national ticket. She has her eye on the Senate. No one believes that a Southern state would ever refuse such a job to a lady who asked for it.

American women had to wait until they had the "South in the Saddle" before the women's suffrage amendment was passed. That was in the Wilson administration when Southern Democrats were guiding legislation.

No Southern member of Congress, according to many reports from authoritative sources, can resist a lady lobbyist. They barge in on the old gentlemen from Dixie with all the assurance of a fisherman trolling a goldfish bowl and a general success reminiscent of the days when Queen Marie of Rumania and her ladies-in-waiting were capturing the peace conference. Even the late Senator Caraway, who considered lobbyists akin to scorpions and took their hides off one by one during his investigation of them, became meek and mild when Mrs. Gladys Moon Jones sassed the committee and said all the things it wanted to know were none of its business.

And you can just imagine how pleasant the several congresswomen in the House feel life will be now that Southern Democrats are to hold the important posts.

Actually, the increasing talk about a woman vice president probably will be mere moonshine for several decades. That prediction about 1998 stands. But the South will see to it eventually.

Male politicians in general are frightened by the prospect of women in places of political responsibility. If they promote a woman for Congress they have to be satisfied first that she won't go haywire on them. They remember how the wife of the Democratic national chairman turned on Al Smith in 1928, how Mrs. McCormick blew up during her campaign, how Mabel Willebrandt drew heavy fire.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 243 East Twelfth Street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Health," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

FEWER OPERATIONS

All I know about the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, held in New York recently, is what I read in the papers. I was invited to be present as a journalist and was told that every opportunity for publicity and interviews with prominent surgeons would be put at my disposal, but I was unable to attend.

Dr. Clendening

The conspicuous feature of the meeting to judge from accounts, was the absence of any indication of the scientific advancement of surgery. The discussions were concerning publicity and teaching the public about cancer, and so on, and magazines and journals of surgeons but there seemed to be no indication that anything new and any real work in medicine had been discovered.

There was a trade against Spirit-healism, and sneers at Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir William Crookes, who died in the belief that he sounded a dead cat like talking to a dummy through a medium from Indian Dr. Carl Wickland seems to have made a strong impression on the surgeons and I should be irritated by his presence no doubt, but I heard him speak in a medical meeting about a year ago, after about an hour of it a very thoughtful looking doctor who was sitting next to me turned and said: "Have you the slightest idea what in heaven he is trying to get at?" And this relieved me because I had been trying to figure out the same thing and thinking it was my own stupidity which prevented me.

The fact is, of course, that surgery today is in a sort of position of suspended animation. No real advance in its methods has been made for well over twenty years. Its great stimulus was given to it by Lister and the development of the aseptic method. This, combined with the already developed science of anaesthesia, created a great field of work. But it has now been pretty thoroughly explored.

Through the work of many men surgery attained to a technical perfection that put it for a time as the leading department of medical practice. It still enjoys all the benefits of that great period of inspiration. Average surgeons today have attained to a dexterity that the great pioneers of the art could not have learned. But the glory has departed. Fifteen years ago surgeons were the great heroes of medicine, every student in a medical class wanted to be a surgeon. Today hardly a fair percentage give it a thought.

As a matter of fact, surgery is losing ground. Internal medicine has made so many discoveries that they have rendered large parts of a surgical treatise of fifteen years ago ridiculously antiquated. The X-ray especially is taking over accomplishments that formerly were exclusively surgical. Diathermy and other electrical methods are doing the same thing. It is a hopeful sign. It means fewer surgical operations. In this all truly good surgeons rejoice.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

J. R. B.: "Will you please tell what are the commonest causes of eruption on the scalp, and on the chin, and on the back, and under the armpits, and on the feet?"

Answer: The commonest eruptions on the skin of the scalp are ringworm and favus. The latter makes a particularly ugly encrusted sore, and causes the patient great discouragement, if treatment with home remedies is tried. With X-ray treatments the sores disappear rapidly.

The commonest eruption on the chin is impetigo—a pus infection. Barber's itch is also frequent in this location.

On the back the commonest eruption is acne (pimples, in plain language).

Perhaps the commonest eruption in the armpits is ringworm (or Phobie itch.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Broadway, Park Avenue, Fifth Avenue and a few other Manhattan "rues" and "strasses" have managed to get into print year upon year.

But anyone who even pretends to know anything about New York is aware that the vast percentage of celebrities who have actually done something to merit a transient fame are to be found in an area starting at Central Park west and ending, perhaps, at Columbus Avenue. Two other sectors wherein may be found important New Yorkers who seldom figure in the flashy glitter of Broadway events are Washington Square and Gramercy Park.

Well, let's see, there are William Beebe, who hunts down strange fishes and plants in faraway spots and writes charming books about them; the studio of Howard Chandler Christy, with its screens of lovely magazine-cover ladies; Wm. Benda, master of masks, the studio of Neysa McMein and of Penrhyn Stanlaws and of Henry Raleigh and of Walter Trumbull and a score of others; there's the whimsical and almost fabulous Oliver Herford coming and going at the Players Club; Wallace Morgan and Fannie Hurst and the sumptuous apartments of Edna Ferber, the cozy studio of Will and Inez Irwin tucked away in an odd corner, the cottage of the Will (story of philosophy) Durants—and a lot others.

In a word, these are habitations. Here you'll find the books you've read, the art works you've admired across the street, fresh bread and stopping at a shop to see whether the price of pants has been properly the Broadwayesque atmosphere, no fifth-rate furniture being given, they never deserve the theater world.

• • •

And when you walk among famous artists, writers, you go—oh, dear me!—a mile of Broadway! But several spots way up Central Avenue, around 67th Street.

I'll probably never stop tipping it off but just in at the "Emerald."

Of a cold evening when bacon is sizzling on you will find more real living than in all the Broadway spots put together.

Which being what it is I have often wondered why Broadway happened to be picked as the breeding place of so many columns. In such moments I stand in bewildered consternation as voices come over the radio and daily outbursts appear in the newspapers concerning Broadwayesque persons of little or no consequence. I find myself asking "who cares?" And who, as a matter of fact, does?

TECH STUDENT WRITES CORRECTION; ASKS OPINIONS ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS

Dear Plainsman: It is not often that I can correct as wise a man as you, but I do feel that the occasion has presented itself and I can take advantage of the opportunity. In your paper of November 24, 1931, you referred to the Tyler State championship team of 1930 as the "Trojans". This you will observe is not the correct name of the team, but they are known as the "Lions."

Also I would like to know why the paper does not carry complete football reports of the scores of at least the main contestants in the state championship race? I suppose that this point depends on the sport writer reporting various games.

If space permits, I would like for you to discuss the topic of "Compulsory activity tickets at Tech" in your paper and also "Texas Tech in the Southwestern Conference".

Yours very truly,
T. H. S.

(Dear T. H. S.—All thanks to you for your correction, truth of which is cheerfully acknowledged. I knew better, but it was just one of those slips. Is it the Tyler professional baseball team that is labeled 'Trojans'?

As to compulsory activity tickets at Tech, I regard that as a problem for Tech studes and teachers to work out. Really I am not well enough informed to voice an intelligent opinion, save this: In a student and faculty body as large as those of Tech, more activity tickets should be purchased than are purchased. Perhaps it would be better to attempt to increase such patronage by tradition, appeal to patriotism, etc., than to try to do it by compulsion. I, personally, am opposed to compulsion when the job (any job) can be done in a nicer way. Americans, you know, don't 'compulse' very well.

As to football scores, unless a line is dropped in composition or in makeup, purely by error, we do report all important—and too many unimportant—football scores, both Texas high school and national college.

In re: Southwest conference. While I think there is plenty of time for Tech to be admitted to the conference, I would jump with glee upon learning that admittance had been approved. Eventually Tech will gain admission to the Southwest conference because some day the conference will need Tech more than Tech needs it. However, I think Tech has done remarkably well in athletics, as well as in academics, considering its youth. I'll go even further in opining that Tech's all around record, including enrollment, athletics, academics and what-have-you, is the best ever made by any college or university in the same number of years. Thanks for your letter. Write again. The Plainsman.)

PAVING TO BE PROTESTED

COUNTY DADS OPPOSE ASPHALT CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY

County Commissioner L. C. (Claude) Denton of Lubbock and J. T. Pinkston of Slaton will file a protest with the state highway commission Tuesday at Austin against letting of contracts for asphalt paving on state highway No. 7.

"When we voted bonds for the paving we decided for concrete," said Denton Wednesday night. "The state next week will open bids for asphalt paving on the 17-mile stretch between Lubbock and Roundup. The county has funds to put concrete there and we are protesting asphalt."

The highway committee of the chamber of commerce also will send representatives to discuss general highway improvements in Lubbock county with members of the state commission, members in session Wednesday afternoon voted. J. H. Hankins, chairman of the committee, is planning to go. Names of others who will represent the chamber of commerce will be announced later.

Concrete paving on the proposed construction will cost approximately $21,000 per mile, as compared with $10,000 per mile for asphalt, said Mr. Denton.

The local group also will ask the highway commission to proceed with construction of paving of a three-mile strip south of Slaton. Concrete also will be sought for this improvement.

Pinkston and Denton plan to urge improvement of roads in adjoining counties to connect with paving in Lubbock county, with particular emphasis on seven miles on highway No. 7 in Hockley county.

"Highway 7 cuts through a corner of Hockley county, and because there is only seven miles of the road in that county, its voters will not approve bonds. Consequently, we are asking the state to make this improvement to match work we have done in Lubbock county," Denton said.

The local delegation will leave Monday and plans to return Wednesday.

COUNTY AND FEDERAL PRISONERS ARE REMOVED TO NEW JAIL; FIVE FREED

Twenty - three prisoners, 21 county and two federal charges, were locked securely in Lubbock county's new $127,000 jail this morning. Only five city prisoners remained in the jail at City hall this morning and J. T. Inmon, corporation court judge and police sergeant, made a Thanksgiving gift. He freed the quintet. The usual menu will be served county prisoners today.

The prisoners were moved starting late Wednesday by Sheriff Wade Hardy and Deputies Will Earnest and Joe Rieger from the much sawed and welded cages of city jail. The men were moved five at a trip shackled and handcuffed. Negroes and Mexicans were transferred first.

Several persons held for Lubbock county at Plainview will be brought here late in the week.

Despite an overcast sky a drizzle of rain, the steel which bound their hands, and the charges or sentences which held them in prison, the men were jubilant at being moved. They shouted and sang in a discordant chorus long after the newly erected steel doors of the new jail swung behind them and the locks clicked.

Sheriff Hardy and members of his staff will be located in the offices on the ground floor of the new building Thursday. Office equipment was being moved last night. It was with a sigh of relief that police saw the county prisoners moved yesterday, they said. The city jail has been overloaded for months, and the inmates twice have broken free.

Mexican Families To Get Reparations

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—State reparations of $10,000 have been promised the parents of Emilio Cortes Rubio and Manuel Garcia Gomez, Mexican students who were shot to death by a deputy sheriff at Ardmore, Okla., last June.

"I will not wait for an international claims commission to act," he said, referring to instructions sent to the Mexican embassy at Washington declaring Mexico's intention to seek camages.

SUSPEND BANK SOLICITING

WORK ON NEW BANK AT PLAINVIEW HALTED TEMPORARILY

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 26 (Special)—Activities of the committee of the board of city development in assisting C. W. Carson and associates in selling $30,000 worth of stock in a proposed state bank, have been suspended, temporarily at least, it is announced here by members of the committee.

The committee feels that with other projects on foot it is for the best interests of the banking situation in Plainview to permit these to take their course, without any apparent interference.

"The committee is of the opinion that public sentiment is not yet sufficiently united to make this particular banking organization desirable at present."

Members of the committee are: Jim Heard, chairman; Lester James, P. B. Randolph, T. J. Shelton and J. A. Jordan.

The group was named by the board of city development at a recent conference with Mr. Shelton and his associates in the proposed organization of a state bank. It had been planned to have a capital of $50,000 for the bank, with surplus and undivided profits of $25,000. Of this sum, $30,000 was to be raised locally and the remainder provided by Mr. Carson and his associated, including Earl Fuqua and Wilbur C. Hawk, of Amarillo.

THANKSGIVING

after we had gathered the fruit of our labours; they foure in one day killed as much fowle, as with a little helpe beside, served the company almost a weeke. . . ."

Marked Burgoyne's Defeat

America's first national Thanksgiving, however, was not a harvest festival but marked the surrender of Burgoyne. Called by the continental congress, it was held on Thursday, December 18, 1777.

To President George Washington fell the honor of proclaiming the first Thanksgiving after the national government was established. Again a Thursday was chosen—November 26, 1789.

Congress asked that the day be proclaimed for giving thanks for the constitution—but passed the measure only after a political battle because thele were objectors to the constitution.

The next Tranksgiving day was again Thursday—February 18, 1795, a fast day called by President Washington. From that time, the occasion followed an erratic course, jumping three years to a Thanksgiving day proclaimed by President John Adams for a Wednesday, May 9.

Various Dates Chosen

President Madison was a consistent Thursday man in proclaiming a Thanksgiving day for each of the four years he was in office—but selecting a different month for each.

State interest carried the tradition along. Then, in 1862, after signal victories to the land and naval forces," President Lincoln urged the people to give thanks at their places of worship.

He also proclaimed Thanksgiving days for Thursday, August 6, 1863, and the last Thursday of November, 1864.

Johnson Follows Custom

History records that he intended the day to be observed annually but assassination cut short his own furtherance of the tradition and President Johnson is credited with carrying it out after he was prevailed upon by a preacher to do so.

He named the last Thursday of November in 1866 and for the succeeding years he was in office.

Thenceforth, Thanksgiving day moved along under its own momentum. In addition there have been extra Thanksgivings, commemorating the centennial of the declaration of independence, July 4, 1876, and the centennial of Washington's inauguration, April 30, 1889.

The kunkles and Mulholdens are neighbors.

Trial Of Galveston Attorney Is Passed

HOUSTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Trial of Henry Greenberg, Galveston attorney, on a charge of subordination of perjury, was passed until tomorrow after hearing of two defense witnesses here yesterday.

The postponement was necessitated by assignment of Federal Judge William I. Grubb, who was hearing the case, to a three-judge court.

Charges against Greenberg grew out of a hearing before Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly last February for D. E. Simmons of North Carolina who was charged with violation of an internal revenue act in connection with 800 gallons of liquor found in his possession. The government alleged Greenberg had Simmons deny his identity in order to forestall federal removal.

OBSERVANCE

rooters have been made at the Herring hotel.

The Lubbock trains will begin arriving back here tonight at 10 o'clock, each train being approximately ten minutes behind each other.

Santa Fe officials decided to run three trains after the weather became inclement, a large number of fans changing to the trains after reports said the roads were heavy due to snows on the North Plains.

The first train, christened "The Westerner" carried the high school student body, the pep squads, band and faculty members. "The Plainsman", the second train named after Chas. A. Guy, Daily Journal columnist, and the third section carried adult fans.

The regular Santa Fe train to Amarillo this morning carried a large number of Lubbock and South Plains teachers who will attend the annual Texas State Teachers convention which will be in session there this week-end.

The day's program also calls for an all-day service at the South Side Baptist church with a basket dinner being spread at noon. A song service will be held this afternoon.

The Salvation Army is playing host to needy persons of the city with a Thanksgiving dinner at the Army hall, Texas Avenue and Fourteenth street.

GRID BATTLE IN MUD AND SLUSH LOOMS

AMARILLO, Nov. 26 (AP)—With three and a half inches of wet snow on the ground, cloudy skies that threatened to break and let the sun through any minute, and gradually rising temperatures, the Amarillo Sandstorm and the Lubbock Westerners faced a football battle in mud and slush on Butler field this afternoon, to determine whether Lubbock shall have clear claim to the district one high school title, or whether the two teams go into a triple tie with Pampa. A capacity crowd of 12,000 was expected despite the bad weather.

The snow had been scraped from the gridiron, but the soggy blanket had left the turf muddy and slippery.

Blind Men Led To Safety From Fire

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26 (AP)—Eighteen blind men were led to safety from the second floor of the adult training school of the Ohio blind commission when fire broke out in the building yesterday.

No officials of the school were in the building at the time. The blind were preparing to begin their day's work when the fire was discovered. Mrs. Allie Brown, who had taken her blind husband to the school, was the only person in the building with unaffected sight. She organized the group and led the march to safety.

DAY TRAIN TO BE STARTED

DENVER SCHEDULE ON SOUTH PLAINS LINE TO BE CHANGED

A change in schedule, effective Sunday, by which the Fort Worth & Denver City railway will change its night train out of Lubbock to a day-train, was announced by F. D. Daggett, general passenger agent. The schedule affects the run between Lubbock, Fort Worth and Dallas.

The new schedule calls for a train leaving Lubbock at 6 a. m. and arriving in Fort Worth at 4:15 p. m. to connect with a train arriving in Dallas at 5:35 p. m. A train leaving Dallas at 8:25 a. m. will arrive in Fort Worth at 9:45 a. m. and in Lubbock at 8:35 p. m.

Schedules Tightened

The change in schedule will reduce the running time between the designated points in both directions by more than an hour and a half, the announcement said.

With this change Lubbock instead of at present having two over-night services to and from Dallas and Fort Worth will be benefitted by the option. This will enable passengers from Lubbock desiring to spend the night at Fort Worth or Dallas an opportunity of leaving there early in the morning and reaching home that night, and also enable through passengers destined to points beyond Fort Worth and Dallas in both directions to avail themselves of either morning or night trains of connecting lines out of these points.

be arrested to get his Thanksgiving day dinner. Robert was found yesterday and presented to county authorities, who already had 18 children on their hands and no place for a 19th. They turned him over to Sheriff Howard Duff. The sheriff had to keep his prisoners' board bill straight, and there was nothing else to do but arrest Robert. It was an open charge.

CLEANED OUT, TOO

PITTSBURGH—Butcher Karl Kreutzer rubbed his hands and smiled. His last turkey had just been carried out by a customer and he was about to close his shop when two men walked in.

"By golly, this was a good day—I'm sold out, look!" he beamed.

Yeah, that's what we been waitin' fer," snapped one of the newcomers, whipping a pistol from his pocket, "now stick 'em up!"

SUPERINTENDENT DUNCAN JOINS THE PLAINSMAN IN WAGER ON GRID GAME

Enabling Lubbock to double forces against Amarillo's Tactless Texan, Supt. M. H. Duncan of Lubbock schools who this week asked the district attorney at Amarillo to force football gambling under cover has joined with The Plainsman, Daily Journal columnist, in a wager on today's Westerner-Sandie classic.

Superintendent Duncan, as well as The Plainsman, will serve the Tactless Texan as "office flunkey" for a day if Amarillo wins. If Lubbock wins, the Amarillo columnist will serve in that lowly capacity at Avalanche-Journal offices.

Superintendent Duncan arrived on the scene Wednesday at the Rotary club luncheon. He was proposed by Neil H. Wright, of the local school board, who guaranteed that Duncan would aid The Plainsman at Amarillo, if the Westerners lost.

Colonel Tack, in every day life is Gene Howe, editor and publisher of the Amarillo Globe and News. The Plainsman, Charles A. Guy, holds the same position in the Avalanche and Journal organization.

KELLAR GETS DEER

An eight-point deer was brought down by John C. Kellar, a state highway department inspector, of 2121 Ninth street, in the Davis mountains near Valentine. He returned here Wednesday by automobile.

Martin N. Koonsman, a state highway department employe, of Abilene, accompanied Kellar on the trip and bagged a six-point deer.

Drilling Resumed On Cochran Test

Resumption of drilling in the Penn Oil company's test well, No. 1 Slaughter in labour 80, league 129, Carson county school land, in Cochran county was expected this week.

Change to the 6 5-8 inch casing said. The bit was down below the 4,200 foot level. Drilling has been in the lime, the lime stringer having been picked up at 3,965 feet. The hole was shut down at 4,160 feet for the cementing of the new casing.

San Salvador will tax postal cards to raise funds for a new post office.

POULTRY SHOW IS PLANNED

IDALOU AFFAIR WILL BE HELD FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

IDALOU, Nov. 26 (Special)—Several hundred birds are expected at Idalou's first poultry show which will open here Friday and continue through Saturday. Farmers and poultry fanciers of the Idalou trade territory will enter fowls.

Lansden To Judge

H. B. Lansden, Lubbock, a licensed A. P. A. judge, has promised to be here to judge the show. Mr. Lansden, a former department of agriculture poultry husbandman who was in charge of poultry work in 11 states for the department, will also lecture to those present on poultry subjects. He also said he would explain his reasons for the selection of birds for first, second and third places.

Coops have been promised the show. There will be free feed and care will be taken of all birds shown. No admission will be charged to those visiting the show.

Plan Entertainment

Entertainment is being provided in the way of an old time song feature.

No cash prizes will be given this year, because of the expense and the fact that this is the first show. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each class.

The show is open to chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese.

Among the rules for the show are: 1 governed and judged by rules of the American Poultry Association; 2-competition open to all breeds reorganized by the American Standard of Perfection; 3-standard exhibition coops will be provided free of charge; 4-no entry fee charged but all birds must be leg-branded; 5-birds showing symptoms of any disease will be rejected; 6-the show will be judged by a licensed A. P. A. judge and his decision final; 7-all birds must be on hand by noon Friday, November 27. None can be removed until after Saturday noon.

Prizes will be awarded for first second and third place for cock, cockerel, hen, pullet and pen in each variety and also for the best pair of turkeys, geese and ducks.

RAINEY SEEKS DEMO POST

FORMER BOXING CHAMP SLATED FOR FLOOR LEADERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—A boxing champion of half-century ago may don the Democratic gloves for sparring Republican jabs in the political ring this winter.

He is Henry Thomas Rainey of Illinois, who now appears slated for the party's floor leadership of the house if his friend, John Garner of Texas, wins the speakership when the new congress meets December 7.

From present indications the 71-year-old veteran will find lessons learned in winning Amherst's heavyweight championship in 1883 useful in driving party policies through a closely divided house.

Defeated Once

Rainey and Garner came to the house together March 4, 1903, the same day the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth began his legislative career. Like Longworth, Rainey suffered one break in the house service, he went down before the Republican landslide of 1920, but he came back two years later and has kept repeating, winning back a ranking place in Democratic councils.

Two characteristics make the Illinois member easily spotted in the house. A shock of snow-white hair waves down over his forehead. He wears a flowing bow tie of navy blue or black.

Rainey served his legislative apprenticeship on the labor committee where he won attention as an advocate of the 8-hour day. On the important ways and means committee later he drafted at President Wilson's request the act creating the tariff commission.

In 27 years of service the Illinois veteran has followed the liberal wing of his party.

DIES OF INJURIES

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26 (AP)—Shirley June McCollum, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCollum, Coronado, California, died in a hospital here yesterday from a fractured skull suffered when her parents' car overturned near Keller, Tuesday night.

Telephones enabling passengers to call home or office while traveling are being installed on British trains.

TURKEYS TO BE AS POPULAR TODAY AS ON OTHER THANKSGIVINGS HERE

A survey of Lubbock produce houses and grocery stores Wednesday afternoon led to a belief that about as many turkeys and chickens would be eaten today by residents of Lubbock and vicinity as usually are consumed on this holiday.

There was a difference in price of five cents a pound for turkeys between the price of 1931 and that of 1930. This year's price was five cents less than a year ago, taking both the retail and wholesale prices.

At the McDonald Packing company where the Piggly-Wiggly stores and others secured their supply the demand was good. While the demand was not as great this year as last, there was no leftover. In fact, it was said more birds could have been sold had the plant been able to secure more.

Swift and Co. reported their turkey and chicken business to Lubbock grocers and market men was about the same as in other years. The Titman Egg corporation reported only a few calls for turkeys from regular customers as its business is confined largely to out-of-town trade. The Lubbock Poultry and Egg company reported sales were not as large locally as in other years.

M System markets reported they were a little larger than last year.

Hodges brothers had sales as good as in other years. "We could have sold more if we could have gotten the birds," Mr. Hodges added.

Most grocers who do not buy from farmers and kill and dress the birds buy from local produce houses. The Park Produce company reported its sales not equal to other years, while the People Produce company said its turkey business was a little below other years. The People company sold a number of birds on the foot.

The price to farmers and turkey raisers was slightly higher by produce men who bought to kill and dress for local trade than the regular turkey market, it was explained by the McDonald packing company. The price for both turkeys and chickens was generally two cents a pound higher. Hotels and restaurants bought in about the normal quantities this year, with the price lower than other years.

EDITORS MEET

HARLINGEN, Nov. 26. (AP)—The annual convention of the Texas Editorial association opens a three-day session at Mission today. The program included a tour of the Rio Grande valley and visit to the midwinter fair here.

Fat Man

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 4 weeks and cut out pastries, sugar and fatty meats—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts, it will last you 4 weeks. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug Store, Lubbock Drug Co., Bowen's Drug Store and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy or any live druggist in America with the understanding that you must be joyfully satisfied or money back.

W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y. writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25 per cent more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 yrs. old and feel 20 yrs. younger. I get up feeling 100 per cent. Kruschen sure is great!"—Adv.

Three Days Remain To Pay On Taxes

Only three days remain for first payments of Lubbock property owner wishing to pay taxes in installments, County Tax Collector A. J. Clark said.

Unless one-half of the taxes is paid before Dec. 1 the entire amount must be paid by January 31, or a penalty will be incurred. The second installment must be paid before June 30.

Tax payments have been unusually heavy this month, with more than 50 tax payers, including some of the largest accounts, being paid on the installment plan, Mr. Clark said.

Sheet mills at Llanelly, Wales, closed down a year ago, have just resumed.

Of course the Tinymites all tried to make the dogs enjoy their ride. They pulled the little dogcart rather fast along the street. The dogs began to bark real loud which brought the gathering of a crowd of other dogs who shouted, "Let us get in on this treat."

"All right," said Scouty. "Form in line. We'll have some fun that will be fine. We'll take four dogs at once, until you all have had a ride. Now, please don't crowd and all keep mum. Eventually your turn will come." The dogs behaved themselves real well and lined up, side by side.

It wasn't very long until all of the dogs had had their thrill. Then Clowny said, "I'm getting tired. We ought to rest a bit." A bulldog snapped, "If you don't mind, I'll take you where you all can find a dandy little park bench. It's a lovely place to sit."

So, to the park bench they all went and there a half an hour was spent. Then Clowny spied two greyhounds that were running very fast. "Oh, gee, those dogs can race," said he. "They're just as speedy as can be. Please get them to come over here, befor they race on past."

The dogs were stopped and brought right up before them, by a little pup. Then Clowny said, "Will you two hounds help us put on a race? Brave Scouty here can ride on one. I'll take the other. I'will be fun." And, when the dogs said, "Sure," a smile spread on wee Clowny's face.

Soon Scouty hopped upon one hound, while all the stray dogs gathered 'round. Then Clowny hopped the other and exclaimed "We'll both race fair." They promptly lined up side by side and in a moment, Coppy cried, "All ready, go!" And both the greyhound dogs began to tear.

How Good Doctors Treat Bad Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold or cough due to a cold is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—Adv.
