Oldest Resident On 100th Birthday

J. H. EMMONS

On Jan. 29th, Mr. Emmons observed his passing of the century mark at his place south of town. He was returned to Memorials Hospital in San Angelo the following day.

C of C Planning Banquet Feb. 28th

A general meeting of the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce was held last Wednesday night in the County Court Room, with Buddy White presiding.

Plans were announced for a banquet to be held the evening of Feb. 28th here with Delbert Downing of Midland as speaker. Mr. Downing addressed a similar meeting here about 10 years ago.

Further plans will be announced later and ticket sales for the event will begin soon, under direction of E. C. Peters.

Fifty-two people attended the meeting and one of the main purposes of the get-together was to present results of the Speak Out held early last October.

White gave highlights from the long report prepared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce personnel. The most frequent suggestions were for better drainage of town streets, more curbs and paving; also procuring better motel and restaurant facilities.

There were 39 suggestions that this town should have a movie house, either indoor or drive-in (our drive-in theater closed a year and a half ago).

White stated that plans are to have a membership drive in the near future to secure operating funds for the Chamber of Commerce, and to set up an office and perhaps hire a secretary.

Immediate plans call for naming more officers to help the interim officers now serving until next Fall. A vice president and two more directors are needed.

Accomplishments cited by White as having been made since August of 1968 included: the welcome here for Governor Connally and his party, listing of deer hunting leases, promotion of area hunting, the Speak Out sessions, welcome given the Make It With Wool contestants, and the Santa Claus parade held in December.

Miss Shelton Reports Library Book Missing

Miss Jewel Shelton, high school librarian, has following report this week:

"A History of the English Speaking Peoples The New World" by Winston S. Churchill has been lost from the Eldorado High School library. It has a gray back with a black spine with red bands across it. The call number in white lettering is 942 C563h V. 2. It belongs to a set, and alone it is not of great value, but the usefulness of the set is greatly impaired without it. It cannot be replaced.

Anyone knowing whereabouts of this book, please return it to the High school library.

Lions Banquet Set For Monday Night

The Eldorado Lions Club will stage their Sweetheart Banquet this coming Monday evening in the Memorial Building.

Post Script

Next week's issue of the Success will be the one just before the Formal Opening of the newly completed Schleicher County Medical Center.

We plan to carry special advertising, write-ups, etc., in connection with the big event. We have already done a considerable amount of preliminary work on this and expect to be busy through the week end and following week.

All regular contributors of columns, news, etc., should keep this in mind and turn such things in as soon as possible.

We expect to print and deliver next week's paper at about the usual time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Enochs recently observed their 60th wedding anniversary, quietly.

They were married here in 1909 while seated in a surrey at the front of the home of Justice F. C. Bates, Sr. The surrey was loaned by the occasion by Dr. Patton. Justice Bates was a Confederate veteran.

Except for brief periods spent in Real county and Oklahoma, the Enochs have spent all of their married life in Schleicher county. In addition to ranch work, Mr. Enochs engaged in farming and freighting with wagon and team in this area's early days.

Elsewhere in this Success issue is a report on a recent meeting of the Eldorado Woman's Club.

The club was organized and federated in 1920. That means that next year, 1970, will be the Golden Anniversary Year for the club.

Mrs. M. H. Woodward, current president, states that as yet there are no special events set for the Golden Year but no doubt in the coming months some things will be worked out.

A half a century is a considerable period of time. Perhaps some elderly member might have a collection of all 50 yearbooks which could be exhibited. Or it would be interesting to see who could come forth with the oldest yearbook. Or a report could be prepared of the highlights of 50 years of accomplishment by the organization.

More reflections on the 1918 flu epidemic, which was called Spanish Influenza . . .

Chris Enochs called and reported that she and Mrs. O. K. Enochs became very ill with the flu at that time and Dr. Patton treated them.

For cough, he prescribed "MacArthur's Syrup" and Miss Enochs states that it did considerable good.

With passing of the voter registration deadline last Friday, there were about a thousand citizens who qualified themselves to vote in the ensuing year, according to announcement this week by Sheriff Orval Edmiston.

The clerks in the office will make up the new poll lists for the four precincts in the near future, at which time a more accurate count of voters will be announced.

Monday morning, sale of 1969 license tags started in the office and will continue through the months of February and March.

It was about 1½ years ago that our drive-in theater closed. At the Speak Out sessions sponsored last Fall by the Chamber of Commerce, 39 people made the suggestion that they would like to have such a facility here again.

That is laudable, but a theater operator would need more than 39 patrons to make a go of such an enterprise.

'Rooter' Skunk Maims Goat, Bull

It made me so damn mad," declared Pat Joiner Monday when he told of an encounter he had had that morning with a rooter skunk in his feed barn.

To begin with his billy goat had accidentally been locked in the feed barn Sunday night. When Pat entered the barn Monday morning here was this big skunk chewing on the goat. He had bitten chunks of flesh from the goat's legs as well as his nose. Joiner believes that when the skunk emitted his musk it blinded the goat and rendered him helpless to defend himself. Somehow the two animals came through the open door.

In a pen next to the barn was an 8-month-old registered bull, and the skunk immediately attacked him, sinking his teeth in the bull's nose. By that time Pat had managed to arm himself with a two-by-four and when the skunk turned on him he was able to deliver a hard blow to his neck, killing him.

Was it rabid? More than likely, believes pat, who then reported to the sheriff's department. Their conclusion: the skunk is dead and can't do any more damage, so why send the head to Austin? The bull and goat were both chewed on and if they are rabid, they are both doomed to die.

Note: Joiner says a "rooter" skunk is larger and marked different from the usual breed around here.

Band Banquet A Dream

A young couple silhouetted thru a rose vine, by a big yellow moon, rose trees, a wishing well, an inviting garden corner filled with white wrought iron lawn furniture canopied by a dark night sky, studded with stars transformed the Memorial Building into a garden setting of Moonlight and Roses for the Band Banquet last Saturday night.

The banquet menu consisting of filet mignon, string beans, corn souffle, hot baked potatoes, tossed salad, homemade pies, tea and coffee, was served buffet style from tables lighted by candelabra.

Several younger band girls dressed in identical red dresses served as waitresses.

Trevinos Orchestra furnished an evening of delightful music for dancing, ending at midnight with "Ramblin' Rose."

In a special meeting last Friday Hospital District board of directors met with Architect Don Goss and made a final inspection of the new plant. Upon the advice of Mr. Goss the board voted to accept the structure as substantially complete and to pay for it. A few—very few—minor corrections were pointed out which were subsequently corrected.

Beginning Monday trucks have been backing up to the former Ford building on Main Street, loading up truck load after truck load of equipment and supplies and delivering them to the hospital where it is being unloaded, unpacked, checked, and distributed throughout the many rooms.

A bare two weeks remain to install all furniture, fixtures, equipment and supplies before Sunday, February 16, when the board has announced that the entire county will be invited to a Formal Opening and to see for themselves what they voted for.

Monday Meeting
In a regular meeting Monday night the board met and verified the progress that had been made up to that time.

Otto Scherz of Scherz Nursery met with the board and presented a landscaping plan for the hospital grounds. The Eldorado Success was in error last week when it reported that the board had engaged Scherz to take charge of the job. Actually one or two other nurseries had also been invited to submit plans and up to this time no commitment had been made. But there will be a landscaping plan.

With the major part of their work now out of the way, the board members Monday spent considerable time discussing not only landscaping but lighting of the grounds in front of the entrance. Pat Wester of West Texas Utilities was present to aid the board with its plans.

Dr. J. B. Brame and his administrator Miss Kroeger joined the meeting at half time and together helped clarify answers to many questions that will come up when the institution is in operation.

Under terms of a recent lease agreement Dr. Brame, doing business as "Medica Diversified, Inc." is leasing the hospital upon its completion and will assume full responsibility for its operation, with authority to hire and fire, and assume all expenses. His lease becomes effective when the institution is turned over to him, which will be Monday, Feb. 17, 1969.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

A few weeks ago a letter from a farm exchange student in India was printed in this column. Yesterday I had another copy of Michele Mahaffey's letter to friends in the United States.

Never in our time has the world and its goings on been such an open book. Every country has its visitors and every visitor writes about what he sees. Through the ears and eyes of students we get our best chance to know how the rest of the world lives. We may not agree that their methods are the best in the agricultural world but our knowledge will help us understand them better.

New Delhi, India

Dear Friends:

My second host family lives in a city with a population of 20,000. There are 14 people living in the home in a joint family system. The host father has 60 acres of paddy. One brother runs the pharmacy, and the other maintains a cloth shop.

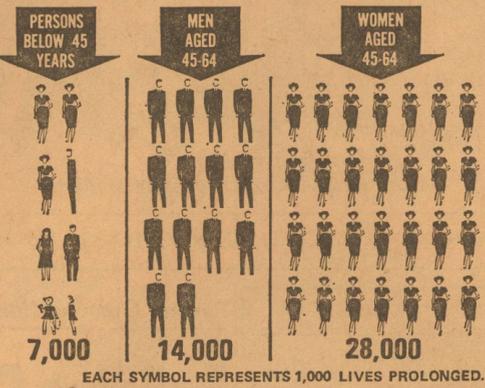

The host father is raising IR-8 paddy and is one of the farmers in this block experimenting with this type of rice. The results are very successful. My host father kept me very busy learning all about Indian agriculture. The area where I stayed was in a very fertile valley, with large hills surrounding the area. The crops grown there are paddy, millet-pearl, finger, fox tail, horse-tail, bananas, coconuts, onions and other vegetables. In the nearby hills are tea, coffee and cardamon plantations. Oranges, tangerines, bananas, sugar cane and coconut are also raised there.

Many of the farmers raise double crops here. Coffee is a plant which requires shade, so bananas or orange trees are interplanted with the coffee, and one has a good double crop. Also, onions or other vegetables are planted among banana trees.

The crops are all in need of rain. The past four years the rains have been small, and again this year there has been no rain. Irrigation is one of the main problems in Indian agriculture. Lack of education in farmers is another problem. The village farmers won't take up the new and better methods of farming and planting. Government interference is a problem mentioned by some of the more progressive farmers. They say the price of food grains is too low, and there can be no profit.

Bullocks are used to plow the fields. Seeds are hand planted and hand harvested, India's agriculture is almost all manual labor. The farmers in one section of this valley are aero-spraying their crops this year. It is on an experimental basis, and many farmers are disputing it because the paddy land is in different stages of growth. They have different feelings about at what stage the paddy should be sprayed.

HEART RESEARCH PROLONGING 49,000 LIVES

'PROGRESS' in the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases since 1950—the year massive research programs were initiated—is reflected in this chart. About 253,000 Americans below 65 die of these diseases yearly; had the 1950 rate persisted, the toll would exceed 302,000. This equates to an apparent savings of 49,000 lives yearly. Division of the 45-65 group, 28,000 women and 14,000 men, was based on earlier statistics indicating improved mortality experiences of middle-age persons favors women about two to one. The Heart Fund, begun in 1949, speeded virtually all advances leading to this achievement.

In my next family I will get to see the spraying done, and I'm anxious to see the results.

We spent one day in the Hills looking at coffee, tea and cardamon plantations and lots of bananas, oranges and other fruits. The owner of a large multi-crop plantation showed us around and explained things. He is one of the first to grow coffee in this area, and he is experimenting to improve the coffee berry. Also, he is now experimenting with the Mexican hybrid what on some terraced land. It looked very good, and he thinks it will grow well in that area.

The bananas grown in the valley are the green variety and very sweet. There is a lot of controversy over the planting method. The double-tree (two plants in one place) method produces more bananas, but also requires more fertilizer. The triangle method is new. Plants are placed five feet apart. This method is very successful, averaging 13 bananas per acre. A banana tree lasts one year. Cost of cultivation is 2,000 rupees and profit is 5-6,000 rupees. I tasted several different varieties of bananas.

I also visited a vineyard. The owner said that he gets grapes throughout the year. He prunes 5 times in two years, and this is the only place in the world where this method is used.

In the Palm Hills at Kodaikanal, India, I visited the Kodaikanal School. That is an American city, and the school is one of three American schools in India. There are 350-400 students enrolled yearly in grades one through 12. Approximately 20 students are Indians; 90% of the graduates enter colleges or universities. The city is 7,000 feet above sea level, and it is really a beautiful place. It has a cool climate, and the misty haze from the clouds adds to the scenic beauty. There is a golf course, boating and other recreational facilities.

A wildlife sanctuary in Thadkery, Kerala was a very exciting place to visit. We had an eight-hour boat ride around the 22-mile lake. We saw herds of elephants, wild boar, bison, spotted deer, fox and a cougar. We had a picnic lunch, and then I suggested we take a hike. We started tracking some elephant prints. Going up a hill in 8-foot elephant grass surely wasn't easy. We never tracked them down, but it was really exciting and fun.

I visited several village schools, and all the schools are over-crowded. The children sit on the floors. They have small slates to write on and a notebook. Classes are held outside many times under a tree or on the porch of the school building. There are two shifts of school each day.

There are also village nursery schools. Ages range from 2½ to 4. The school teaches the child to attend school, some health practices and provides a babysitter for the village mother who usually works in the field all day. The school's furnish a midday meal for the children. A part of the meal is the powdered milk and foodgrains from the U. S.

The weather is still very hot here. I wish we could exchange some heat for the cold you are having now.

Sincerely,
Michele Mahaffey

God & Country Award To Be Presented

MARK BLAND

February 9 is Boy Scout Sunday and on this date Mark Bland will be presented the "God and Country Award" at the morning worship service of the First United Methodist church. Those attending the ceremony will include Jim Holley, Scoutmaster of Troop 18; Mark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bland, and his sisters, Carolyn and Frances. Also present will be Eldon Calk, Institutional Representative. In addition to this award, Mark has recently completed his requirements for Eagle Scout.

Rev. Salter states that it takes a minimum of one year to earn the "God and Country" medal. Self-discipline and personal incentive play a large part in the program. The requirements are divided into three stages. The work includes Bible reading and memorization, stewardship, public prayer, church beliefs, and map making. There are also many service projects which must be completed.

Other boys currently working on their "God and Country Awards" are James Holley and Mike Salter. The Lions Club sponsors the local Boy Scout troop.

Eldorado To Host Cage Teams From Eden

The basketball teams will be at home this Friday night to host the Eden Bulldogs in a district 8-A contest. There will be only two games, A girls and A boys, with action starting about 6:15.

Both the Eagles and Eaglettes were victorious in the earlier game but it is a district contest and comparative scores show that the Eden girls have improved. Regardless, both teams of green need to win this one to hold a top spot in district play.

Junction Coming Here Tuesday
Next Tuesday Eldorado will entertain Junction in the continuation of the district 8-A wars. There will be no "B" boys games so play will begin about 6:15 with the girls' contest. The Eaglettes hope to play as well as they did before against Junction and come up with another victory. The Eldorado boys hope to play even better than they did in Junction where they won it after the game on a free throw. Junction has a good team and yet Eldorado has improved steadily during district play and has played each game to the wire. We hope it will be another step for Eldorado toward a district championship.

A Visit To Scouting Headquarters

New Brunswick, N.J.—Along U. S. Highway 1, in the midlands of the Garden State, is the spacious brick headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America.

It is appropriately placed. The BSA is conservatively a $50-million a year business serving 5.8 million "customers" in 50 states through 12 regional offices, 500 local councils, and 3,000 district committees. For every one of the 4,000 professional Scout executives throughout the nation there are 400 adults who contribute their experience for boys. That adds up to 1 1/2 million volunteers.

On a murky day in London back in 1909, William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, wandered lost in a pea soup fog. A young lad stepped forth to guide him. The English Scout explained it was his duty to help.

Boyce, the next day saw Lord Baden-Powell, scouting's founder two years prior, and on Feb. 2, 1910, the Boy Scouts of America began. Since then nearly 40 million American boys have passed through its Cub, Scout and Explorer ranks.

"Scouting is Outing." Certainly part of its popularity is the result of increasing urban growth. Thru scouting city boys have a chance to meet the great out-of-doors.

But, it isn't all hiking and camping skills. The BSA looks toward a double goal: Better American in a better America; and to do this it keeps up with tomorrow. Today Scouts across the country are earning their badges on the new frontiers: space exploration, communications, oceanography and atomic energy. How well it has met its aims, you can judge from scraps of history:

Scouting is international. Scouts are worldwide, and a collection of four dozen commemorative stamp issues from every continent points up that it may be, in a very real sense, a force for peace.

Scoutland's newest addition here is the Augustus Memorial International Scout House, a pleasant airy hostelry where as the name suggests foreign Scouts may stay, or patrols from Anaheim or Anchorage may put up on their pilgrimage to the Scout capital.

There is a do-it-yourself museum where a complex TV-telephone set-up reviews 60 years of scouting. Here is where you'll see Theodore Roosevelt with Troop 1 at Lawrence, N.Y. You also hear the voices of John Glenn (himself a Scout) and Baden-Powell across the years and space. You can play push-button weatherman. If you have a ham license, you can talk to the world over K2BFW. You can look at the lights on a map of America that show where scouting is—it's all over. Or look for the brass plates of your neighbors in scouting's great bronze memorial book of those who have saved a life.

Later you can wander down an activated nature trail, where lights flash and buzzers buzz when you hit the right answer on a series of electronic questions. It is a thrill to recognize a warbler, but even more to see the elegant balance of nature in all its forms.

There are right now 4 1/2 million boys in America who have joined of their own accord because they wanted a change from the city, a chance at horseplay and roughnecking, and a crack at the laws of the spirit: fair play, integrity and service to others. And, there are more than a million "dollar-a-year-men" who are willing to pay a buck to give precious leisure time.

Scouting seems here to stay. Be prepared.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Andrews during the week end were Rev. Louis Sparkman and daughter Annie, from London, Tex. Also from London were Mrs. Allie Wilson and Mrs. Annie Hight.

Girls Tip Yellowjackets

The Eldorado girls won a close one over the Menard Yellowjackets last Friday 50-42. The games in Menard have always been thrillers and this one saw Eldorado lead by only a point or two most of the way until about three minutes in the game when the point spread became seven and eight.

The story was that the green girls could not get a basket to fall in the first half as the score was tied 17-17. Linda Derrick did hit 3 times and Dale twice plus Kathleen O'Harrow's six free shots to produce the points. They saw 22 shots roll everywhere but in the hoop. Meanwhile the aggravating (to all opponents) Eaglette guards were doing a good job rebounding and generally messing up the Menard offense. A team with less desire and fight might have given up but the Eaglettes came on in the third quarter with baskets by Dale, Kathleen, and Randy Yates plus Kathleen and Linda's free throws to add 17 more while Menard added 11. In the final quarter Kathleen's 15 points and a bucket by Randy put it on ice. Kathleen ended the evening with 25 points coming through in the fourth quarter. Linda Derrick had 11 with seven coming in the first quarter when all seemed cold. Randy Yates came in during the second half and added a spark and 4 points at a crucial time. Dale Montgomery totaled 10 and six carried in the third quarter when the team came through.

The Eldorado guards were outstanding in their hustle and rebounding despite the fact that they are average size girls. Donna Davis did a great job on the 6 foot post girl allowing here 8 points while Donna claimed 18 rebounds, Lisa McAngus and Lisa Whitten are fine outside who can move and rebound. When they were in difficulty with fouls Sheri Roberts, Claudia Meador and Mary Lynn McCalla came in and worked well.

The offensive hit 80% at the free throw line and 30% for the game from the floor. The girls got through the first half of district play without a loss. If they can do as well the second half they'll be bringing home another district championship.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
by Tiny Godwin
Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The agricultural economy for Schleicher county was approximately 3.9 million dollars for 1968.

Management problems, farm technologies and their applications, resulted in some 24 result demonstrations, 3654 phone calls to the agent's office, and some 75 meetings in regard to the county economy, exclusive of many committee meetings and conferences filled the county agent's agenda in the past year.

Exclusive of all the above there were some 755 calls in regard to recreation and the general nature of horticulture, the care of the hedge, fertilizing the lawn, insect and diseases—if you will for—a thing of beauty, or for a bearing fruit tree and/or the many other things that confront a gardener start now.

There are many things to be done around home so start now by planning the action.

During periods of inclement weather the avid gardener can obtain much satisfaction as well as many hours of enjoyment by studying the seed catalogs and planning the garden for the coming season. Because of the intense competition among the seed companies the information contained in their catalogs can be relied upon for accurate information concerning the plants and supplies listed.

The catalogs provide a free source of details about flower varieties and in many cases are the only sources for new varieties. Using the information given on colors, heights, and planting tips it is easy to plan a well arranged attractive garden. Don't forget to include a few of the new varieties described in order to provide a conversation piece in your garden. When selecting garden supplies remember that price doesn't necessarily determine quality. Choice quality usually comes from reputable firms that do not care to risk their reputation by offering inferior products.

Don't be misled by promises of something new and different in the way of garden plants or garden equipment. Many times the so-called "new startling discovery" is just another old, easy to grow, plant misrepresented under a new name. That is why it is best to make your purchases of nursery stock and landscape items from reputable, well established firms. The itinerant peddler and vacant lot operator should be checked closely as there is seldom any recourse in the event that the plant fails to grow.

Times are always hard for those who seek soft jobs.

Protect the evergreen plants in the landscape from excessive winter damage by providing adequate soil moisture to prevent leaf damage caused by the drying effects of cold winter winds. Using a mulch in the shrub border will help conserve soil moisture.

Do not be in a hurry to prune back your rose bushes even though they may be an eyesore in the winter landscape. They may be partially pruned back to prevent damage by the winter wind but the heavy pruning should be done in late winter or early spring just before the major growth begins.

Heavy pruning early in the winter will often force new growth during a prolonged warm spell which makes the rose bush extremely vulnerable to a sudden drop in temperature.

Now is the time to plan and plant a rose garden to insure beautiful flowers during the coming growing season. Locate the rose garden in an area of the yard where they will receive at least 6 hours of sunlight each day and will not be in direct competition with the roots of nearby trees and shrubs.

There are three primary requirements for a good rose garden. They are:

1. Use healthy disease-free plants from a reliable source.
 2. Provide a preventive spray program for controlling black spot and mildew.
 3. Proper preparation of the planting bed.
- Roses can be grown in practically any type of soil from a sandy loam to a heavy clay provided it is well drained and ample organic matter is incorporated into the existing soil. If the soil is poorly drained the problem can frequently be remedied by using raised beds so that the level of the individual beds is six to eight inches above the surrounding soil level.

Protect the trunks of newly planted shade trees from sun scald by wrapping the trunks with a special trees wrap paper available from garden centers and nurseries or by merely covering with burlap to prevent the damage from the direct rays of the sun. Newly planted trees should also be staked to prevent the wind from blowing them over during periods of heavy rain.

Nature gives everybody five senses. The other two—horse and common—you must acquire.

Jane Wyatt Leads March of Dimes As Mothers Protest Birth Defects Toll

By JANE WYATT National Chairman, March of Dimes Mothers' March on Birth Defects

During the years that I have served as National Chairman of the Mothers' March on birth defects, I have visited many of the more than 100 March of Dimes birth defects centers throughout the nation. In this time, I have seen countless children helped by skilled medical professionals using the most modern techniques of care.

It is always touching—and sometimes even awesome—to see the courage with which these small victims of birth defects face the consequences of the physical or mental damage they suffer. Ultimately, however, one becomes angry about the sad, wasteful erosion of young life. Why, one asks over and over, must these tragedies happen? Why are a quarter of a million newborn babies denied the gift of normal health every year in the United States?

Anger is not enough to meet this challenge. It must spiral into an active protest that will become a nationwide force in the fight to prevent birth defects. We owe it to unborn generations to support those who are leading this fight.

Since 1958, following the successful conquest of epidemic polio, the March of Dimes has devoted itself to the long-neglected field of birth defects.

Looking back on that decision now, I realize that in a sense this move was a protest against the shameful apathy and inaction that enveloped the subject. Public ignorance was appalling, the result of a centuries-old attitude that birth defects were tragic inevitabilities, and there really wasn't much you could do to prevent these cruel acts of nature.

Yet within the past decade tremendous changes have oc-

ON THE MARCH. Ready, set and going strong are these members of the March of Dimes Mothers' March. They are typical of women protesting against birth defects throughout the country.

urred because of scientific gains in this field. Conditions once regarded as hopeless now are being treated so effectively by doctors and allied medical personnel that children all over the country are able to lead useful, productive lives. In some heartening instances, there have been cures. Most important, perhaps, is the growing realization that prevention of birth defects is a possibility. Rh disease in the newborn caused by blood incompatibility between the developing baby and the mother, threatened some 40,000 infants annually. Today, a vaccine administered to an Rh negative woman after the birth of each Rh positive baby will protect future children from the ravages of this condition. The German measles (rubella) vaccine is expected to be licensed this year. Its significance can be seen clearly in the wake of a German measles epidemic a few years ago that caused tens of thousands of birth defects in this nation alone.

Thus it is in a new atmosphere of hope that mothers in cities, towns and rural areas will again march in protest to raise more funds to support the treatment and research carried on through the March of Dimes.

From its inception, the March of Dimes fight against birth defects was a protest against shocking, lifelong damage to little children. Now, as we see significant advances in birth defects prevention, mothers have a far stronger reason to march in protest. The March of Dimes is providing help, but the problem is enormous and needs the wholehearted backing of an aroused public. Never before has there been better reason to enlist support for scientists who are working toward the day when there will be fewer babies born with twisted bodies and crippled minds.

Woman's Club Has Safety Program

The Eldorado Woman's Club heard Mr. Frank Perkins, Texas Highway Patrolman, discuss traffic safety at a meeting at the Memorial Building on Tuesday, Jan. 28.

The patrolman, whose home is in San Angelo, presented a film prepared by General Motors that showed several ways that one-car accidents occur and the effects and how they could have been prevented, mostly by the driver keeping alert at all times. Mr. Perkins was assisted by Del Copeland, local highway patrolman, in presenting the film. He stated that a large percentage of fatalities were from "mystery" accidents, one-car accidents.

Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen was leader for the day. Mrs. J. L. Neill and Mrs. E. H. Nimitz were hostesses.

Mrs. M. H. Woodward presided over the business meeting during which the nominating committee, Mrs. R. D. Johnson, Mrs. Bascom Hartgraves, and Mrs. Robert Page, presented the slate of officers for the year 1969-70. The following slate were elected:

Mrs. M. H. Woodward -----pres.
Mrs. Vernon Rogers -----1st v.p.
Mrs. Robert Page -----2nd v.p.
Mrs. Arch Mittel -----sec.
Mrs. E. H. Nimitz -----treas.
Mrs. Edwin Jackson -----parl.
Mrs. R. D. Johnson -----counselor
Mrs. W. N. Ramsay -----historian

Mrs. V. G. Tisdale's resignation was accepted with regrets. She was a charter member of the club and now lives in San Angelo.

The hostesses served refreshments to the two guests, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Copeland, and 13 members who were present. —Rep.

Eagles Trail At Mason

Mason's Punchers turned back the Eldorado Eagles to take the top spot in the District 8-A basketball race in Mason Tuesday night. The Eagle eagles lost by 5 points.

The win brought Mason's record to 5-1 while Eldorado dropped to a 4-2 mark.

Johnny Schuessler led the Punchers with 15 points followed by Roby Lee with 12. Ross Whitten paced Eldorado with 10 points.

Jerry Doyle is moving his family to McCamey this week. The Jim Holley family will move soon to the Thomson T Circle.

Snelson Named To Commerce Group

Austin, Tex.—Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland has been appointed Chairman of the Texas Senate Committee on Commerce and Industry by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Senator Snelson was also named Vice Chairman of the Senate Committee on Oil and Gas and as a member of the Committees on Agriculture and Livestock; Education; Finance; Legislative, Congressional and Judicial Districts; Parks and Wildlife; Public Health; Transportation; and Water and Conservation.

"I know that Senator Snelson will do an outstanding job as Commerce and Industry committee chairman," Barnes said in announcing the appointment. "His past service to his state makes him extremely well qualified for the job, which will be of high importance as we perform the tasks of the 61st Legislature."

Committees handle a large volume of the actual work load performed by the Senate. All bills introduced in the Senate are referred to an appropriate committee, which holds hearings and discussions on the proposal before making recommendations for action to the Senate as a whole.

Senator Snelson, an advertising executive, was elected to the Senate in 1964 after serving a term in the Texas House of Representatives. After a redistricting conflict, he was defeated in 1967 by Senator Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo. However, in 1968, Senator Snelson defeated Hardeman to regain his Senate seat.

During his previous term in the Senate, Senator Snelson served on nine committees and was instrumental in the passage of legislation allowing physicians immunity from damages for reporting to authorities any injuries to children suspected caused by abusive treatment.

Senator Snelson holds a bachelor's degree from Texas Western College and a master's degree from Northwestern University. A Mason, he is a former president of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Lions Club.

He and his wife, Susan, have four children.

Auslin Report

By HILARY DORAN, JR.

This past week saw the Legislature leap into action with the naming of the standing committees in the Senate taking place on Tuesday and the House standing committees being named the following Thursday. I was extremely pleased with the committee appointments I received as I feel that they will enable me to be of greater service to my district. I was fortunate enough to attain a seat on the powerful House Appropriations Committee as it is the committee that writes the spending bill that allows the State to function. I also serve on four other committees, being the Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, and a member of the Committees on Livestock, Congressional and Legislative Districts and Rules.

However, with the increased importance of committee assignments also comes the increased responsibility and extra work that is involved in being a good member of these committees. For example, the House Appropriations Committee was named at approximately

PAR-TEE

We are happy to welcome Jerroll Sanders back in our Golf Membership. We just hope that Bobbie and Lynn are back with us soon also.

We had an unscheduled mixed team play Sunday. The team of Vernon Rogers, Mayor Eldon Calk, Club President Charlie Mahn and Woman's Association President Eddy Kinser was the winner with two under for 18 holes. Second place was a tie between the team of Jack Hext, Nell Wester, C. L. Martin, Jr., and Jerroll Sanders and the team of Ralph Waldron, Ernestine Hext, Mary Robinson, and Pat Wester. The Waldron, Hext, Robinson, Wester team won on the 2nd hole of a sudden death play off. (Jack is still a little miffed at me about that "lucky" putt.)

Several of us are considering asking Vernon Rogers and his team to give us at least half a stroke a hole in these plays. After all a pro should give duffers a little handicap—and Vernon must be a pro cause he couldn't be that lucky each time!

We had several visitors at the Golf Course this week. The Dick Bearces were out Sunday afternoon. Pat Finley has been out giving lessons (no charge). June Jones and Ricky were playing Sunday afternoon as well as Ronnie Griffin. June said that she thought she needed a little instruction before she became a professional. Anyway it was nice to have all of you on the course and we hope that you will be back soon.

Other activities on the course . . . Paul Page and Jack Hext giving lessons. I do believe we are going to wind up with more instructors than players, don't you Carroll? I guess we will have to give the title of Assistant Pro to Pat, Paul and Jack.

The Sonora Women will not be able to come and play on February 20th so we will schedule that event later in the spring.

Don't forget the Bridge sessions of February 13 and 27th. And looking a little further in the future, the annual meeting of the El Dorado Golf Club will be on March 27th (the last Thursday) of March. Also Mixed Team Play will be the last Sunday of the month—February 23rd.

Looks like the weather is going to be too disagreeable for golfing this week. Maybe we can all get caught up on the "non-essentials" and be back the next pretty day. 'Twould be nice if it would rain about four inches, tho.

Happy Birthday to Gloria Enochs on January 30th and to Pearl Enochs on February 3rd!

Happiness is finding a wrinkle cream that really works.

11:00 a.m. on Thursday and commenced hearings at 2:00 p.m. that same day. This committee will continue to hold hearings from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m., Monday thru Saturday, until the middle of February, in order that all state agencies and institutions have an opportunity to present their requests to the committee.

It is the general consensus among the members of the House that Speaker Gus Mutscher once again demonstrated his capacity and ability for leadership by the careful utilization of members seniority and ability in the naming of the 45 standing committees of the House. Naturally, no one got everything they wanted in the way of committee assignments, but the great majority of the House was treated with fairness and respect by Speaker Mutscher.

The inauguration honeymoon is over and everyone is rolling up their sleeves to start the hard work that lies ahead of all of us in order that we might have a successful and constructive session.

Fallout Film Shown As Lions Club Meets

C. T. Humphries presided at the meeting yesterday of the Eldorado Lions Club.

Plans were reported complete for the Sweetheart Banquet to be held Monday night at 7:00. L. V. Newport and his committee will set up tables and chairs Sunday afternoon. Ronnie Mittel is in charge of the program.

A Texas A&M and U. S. Dept. of Agriculture film, "Fallout and Agriculture" was shown with L. D. Mund as protagonist.

Tom Sandlin, the only guest, was introduced by D. G. Salter.

The club voted to again this year present a plaque to the outstanding farmer or rancher to be named by supervisors of the Eldorado Divide Soil & Water Conservation District. These plaques are given by the Fort Worth Press.

At start of the meeting, Joe Christian led singing of "America," Lion Gunstead led the Flag salute, and Lion Dudley gave invocation.

Eaglettes Defeat Mason Tuesday 47-40

Eldorado's girls were hard pressed but they came through Tuesday with a 47-40 win over Mason to open the second half of district 8-A play.

Both teams were quite ready to play and it resulted in some excessive bad passes, fouls, and traveling. Eldorado's guards found themselves in foul trouble before the half as Lisa McAngus, Donna Davis, Lisa Whitten, and Claudia Meador all had three fouls. The Mason forwards were extremely fast and the quicker, shorter guard was utilized instead of the usual post guard. Mary Lynn McCalla and Sheri Roberts came in to do a very good job along with the Lisa's in the second half. Eldorado is fortunate to have six outstanding guards who are capable of a fine performance on any particular night.

Dale Montgomery had probably her best game ever as she hit 54% of her shots plus 4 free throws to wind up with 30 points and 6 rebounds. Kathleen O'Harrow was not having too much success hitting from the floor and still wound up with 11 points and 6 rebounds as she hit 75% of her free throws. Linda Derrick popped in six points as she shared the outside duties with Randy Yates. Both girls did a good job outside.

The first quarter score was 12-12 and at half-time it was 29-14, Eldorado and at the third period it was 38-35.

The Eaglettes stayed ahead the entire game but never by more than a few points.

This makes the district standings read as follows:

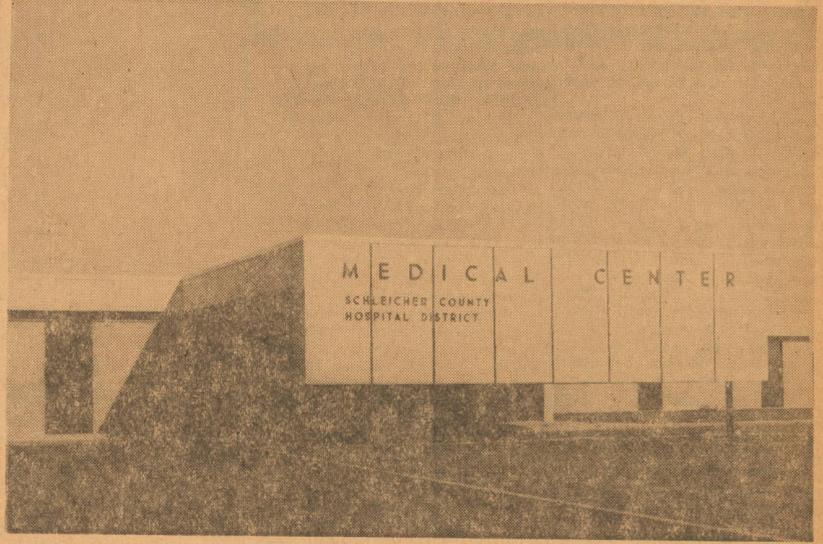

Eldorado	6-0
Menard	4-2
Mason	3-3
Junction	3-3
Eden	1-5
Sonora	0-6

Mason by quarters—
Eldorado 12 17 11 7-47
Mason 12 12 11 5-40

The "B" write-up will appear next week.

Schleicher County Medical Center

Austin, Tex.—Legislative committee appointments now have cleared the way for lawmakers to get down to the real business of the 61st Texas session.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced 27 senate committees which assured increased power for liberals, urban areas—and the presiding officer.

Speaker Gus Mutscher followed up two days later with a sweeping reshuffling of all major House panels, leaving only three chairmen in their old places of authority.

Barnes picked veteran Senators Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan to head the "Big Two" senate committees—finance and state affairs. Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, however, remains as finance vice-chairman and head of the working sub-committee which actually conducts hearings on the budget.

El Paso Sen. Joe Christie, prospective sponsor of a constitutional amendment to legalize sale of liquor by the drink, heads the constitutional amendments committee. Aikin is chairman of the education panel which probably will handle important school legislation.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin heads the jurisprudence committee; Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, water and conservation; and Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, nominations.

All 45 chairmanships in the House went to veterans of two or more terms of service.

For the fifth time, Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah will be chairman of the budget-writing, appropriations committee, and Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas will chair revenue and taxation which originates tax measures. Only other chairman retained by Mutscher was Rep. John E. Blaine of El Paso, liquor regulations.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, who came to the legislature with Mutscher in 1961, has been designated chairman of the busy House state affairs panel. Rep. R. H. Corp of Victoria, who headed state affairs last session, is in charge of the rules committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House calendar. Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth directs the House administration committee with offices close to the speaker and his top staff assistants.

Bills Passed

Even while awaiting committee assignments during the third week of the session, legislators boomed through two bills of a semi-emergency nature.

First passed was a $905,815 appropriation measure to forestall a welfare cut (in aid to dependent children), to assist growing junior colleges and to help finance legislative and governor's operations this year. A fund transfer of $35,000 headed off a $28 cut in aid to needy families. Governor's office got $130,000 for new personnel, equipment, travel and postage. Colleges got $335,815, the senate $325,000 and House $115,000.

Second bill urged by Gov. Preston Smith increased retirement benefits of some 6,500 retired state employees an average of 10%. Minimum benefit would be raised from about $30 to $56 a month. A retirement boost for elected officials will be the subject of a separate bill.

Senate Reforms Rules

Senate lost no time in adopting rulebook reforms designed to curb free-wheeling conference committees and to relax its own secret-vote provisions.

They voted 25-6 for new joint rules. Most dramatic change would limit conference committees named to adjust differences between house and Senate bills to doing just that—rather than writing totally new legislation behind closed doors. The House has yet to act.

Senate later approved 30-1 revisions of its own operating procedures which for the first time direct open committee hearings on appointments by the governor (unless a majority of the nominations committee votes for executive session).

Senators also were authorized to announce how they voted on confirmation of appointments.

Legislation Rains In

Bulk of legislation proposed by Governor Smith—and a lot he did not ask for—in his first message to the 1969 Legislature has rained in to hoppers of both houses.

Constitutional amendment proposals would lower the voting age to 23, shore up women's legal rights and authorize horse track betting on a local option basis in Bexar and Harris counties.

Among other bills introduced in the House and Senate are:

—A proposal by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston to make air and water pollution a misdemeanor offense—for corporations as well as individuals.

—A Texas Meat Inspection Law, sponsored by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg. (Without a state act, the federal government will take over meat inspecting in Texas.)

—Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to abolish common-law marriage and permit divorce because of unsolvable discord between husband and wife.

—Liberals will try again for a minimum wage with a bill sponsored by Reps. Raul Longoria and Lauro Cruz setting a state minimum of $1.10 per hour.

—Senator Bates also has a bill prohibiting private clubs—including country clubs—in "dry" areas (based on his premise that if an area votes to be dry, it ought to be completely dry).

—Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio wants to extend until 2:00 a.m. every day the time in which alcoholic beverages may be sold. (Such a bill passed in 1967 but was vetoed by Gov. John Connally.)

—Affirmative action is expected on the industry-labor compromise bill to increase the maximum weekly payments under the Workmen's Compensation system to $49.

—Rep. Hilary Doran of Del Rio and Gus Floyd of San Antonio will run with a bill exempting Texas from Daylight Saving Time.

—Representative Cory wants a code of ethics for teachers and a state commission to enforce it.

—A proposal by Rep. Neil Carwell of Alvin to require cities and counties to designate the right of way at intersections and put up traffic signs within two years to help establish blame in accidents.

—Representative Caldwell also would prohibit games, puzzles and other advertising techniques such as those used by gas stations.

There has been a shortage in only one field. Nobody is rushing forward with tax ideas. Although that may soon be the subject of a new address to the Legislature by Governor Smith.

Budget Work Begins

A record $5.6 billion in spending proposals of the Legislative Budget Board has been placed before the House appropriations and Senate finance committees as a starting point in 1970-71 budget-making.

Bill calls for $1.1 billion in general revenue spending, an increase of $170.4 million, but it does not provide for teacher pay raises, new senior colleges and many other high-priority items.

Starting bill calls for $14.9 million for the judiciary; $277.2 million for health, hospitals, special schools and youth institutions; $2.67 billion to executive and administrative departments and agencies of state; $2.63 billion for education; and $16.7 million for the Legislature.

Courts Speak

Federal district court judge here ruled that a college student with a I-S deferment from the draft may finish out his academic year.

State Supreme Court told a San Antonio judge he could not order an insurance company to reveal its auto liability policy limits when involved in a lawsuit.

Supreme Court upheld lower courts rulings that a Vidor youth who promoted an illegal drag race was not entitled to damages for injuries received when he was hit by one of the racers.

Life sentence given a Wichita county man in 1928, for assault, was thrown out by the Court of Criminal Appeals because the man had no lawyer in two prior convictions cited in his trial.

Attorney General Martin obtained a permanent injunction in an Austin district court against an aluminum concern to halt "bait and switch" selling tactics or misrepresenting price cuts.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held constitutional a 1935 law against synthetic milk that includes both vegetable oil and dry milk solids.

Hardeman Given Appointment

Governor Smith, according to advance predictions, appointed former State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo to a six-year term on the State Board of Insurance. He plans to name Hardeman chairman of the Board, which regulates the state's second largest industry, when he is confirmed by the Senate.

Texas Pavilion At Expo '70

Texas will have a pavilion at Japan's World's Fair, Expo '70 at Osaka, if the Legislature approves a half-million dollar appropriation for expenses.

Texas' interest in the fair is partly a result of Japanese interest in Hemis-Fair '68 at San Antonio. Plans call for a pavilion of about 3,000 square feet at an estimated cost of $504,500. This could include the pavilion, transportation and housing.

Pavilion would be run by a trimvirate of state agencies—Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Department of Agriculture and Texas Tourist Development Agency.

HELP!

The Success crew takes this means of soliciting your cooperation in helping us to provide you with a better local newspaper with more news in it. We would like for you to please turn in your news items to us.

Unlike our big brothers in the city, a local newspaper does not have a huge reporting staff. The Success can't send men to cover a birthday party, social events, etc. But we want to have a story of those events in your local paper.

When you have a visitor, that's news. When you get married, that's news. When you take a trip, that's news. When your child has a birthday, that's news. When you have a social gathering, that's news. There are many things happening in this county that we want to run in the paper, but we don't know where and when they happen.

We are going to ask your help. When something happens let the Eldorado Success know about it. You may write out the item or story, or write out the facts and we will re-word them, if necessary, for the news story. You can mail us your write-up, drop by the Success office, or phone us.

There's only one simple rule to follow when you send us a story. Think of 5 W's—who, what, where, when and why. Answer all of those questions and you'll have a story.

Be sure to include first names. And when your story contains the name of a married woman, write it "Mrs. John Doe" not "Mrs. Jane Doe." Also please help us spell names correctly. Always ask how to spell a person's name—even if it is "Smith." It might be spelled "Smyth."

We start work on your local newspaper a week in advance. In other words, as soon as we get this week's paper off the press we begin work on next week's paper. Also, our crew are busy days late in the week doing commercial printing for our local customers. So the earlier you get your stories into the Success office the better it will be for both of us. Stories which come in first get choice and best placement in the paper.

With your help we know the Eldorado Success will have more news about Schleicher county people. We'll have a local paper of which you'll be proud. And when you're proud of your local paper, we'll be proud too.
