Only Four Days Remain For Prospective Candidates To File

This coming Monday, February 2nd, is the deadline for prospective candidates to file and get their names on the ballot for the Democratic Primary in May.

Most populous race in Schleicher county is Commissioner of Precinct 2, where incumbent Gene McCalla is opposed by Mrs. Vi Henderson, Pat Joiner, and George Williams.

Lawrence Dannheim has Alvin Farris as an opponent, and County Judge Tom Ratliff has George Draper opposing him.

Unopposed candidates as the Success goes to press this week are: B. L. Blakeway, Justice of the Peace; J. P. Enochs, County Clerk; and A. G. McCormack, County Treasurer.

There are rumors of more candidates expected to file in coming days, but time is getting short and they will have to make their decisions one way or the other no later than 6:00 p.m. on Monday, February 2nd.

Dick Preston as County Democratic Chairman has charge of arrangements for the primary.

Eagles Drop Coniest To Mason Tuesday

Eldorado held on through three quarters Tuesday staying within with Mason. Sonora and Junction 2, 3, or 4 points of Mason but a few missed baskets combined with records. the hot hand of Skeeter Martin killed the chance to beat Mason as Eldorado fell 77-63 in a district 8-A race.

The story early in the game was poor rebounding by the Eagles and men on the floor. The Eagles trail shots that spelled their downfall.

Mason took a 14-11 first quarter though Eldorado was within one point several times. At half, it was 34-30 and the third quarter rush a bit realizing time was growing short and in so doing had at Adams 1. least 10 bad passes many of which led to 2 points for the Punchers. A simple statement of harsh frontier justice.

A Progeny Program for testing bull performance is a key factor in producing heifers of such size and quality. Carefully selected bulls go into their own feed lot and grow out on a diet rich in cottonseed hulls and meal. The highest gainers with desired conformation are subsequently used to replace old bulls and poor performing bulls.

Heifers Weighing

Mr. Mansfield credits this testing program with adding at least 50 pounds per head to the weaning weight and eventual sale weight of his calves.

In winter months, supplemental protein feeding involves a schedule of six pounds of cottonseed cake per head every three days. Mr. Mansfield says this saves on labor required for feeding. Moreover, the cattle can graze over a wider area of the ranch, thus better utilizing the grass.

Got Away

Not long ago, cowboys in a light airplane were chasing a bobcat running for cover on the Buckeye Ranch in Fort Sumner, New Mexico.

As the plane swooped down for the kill, one of the airborne hunters became excited and fired without tak-ing aim. He shot off a front wheel of the airplane. They landed safely but the bobcat got away.

Mr. Good regrets there are so few of Red's caliber around these days, and he expresses concern over the growing problem of finding and keep-ing good ranch hands. They get along on the Buckeye men, especially at round-up men, especially at round-up and branding time. "I'm strictly a cottonseed cake man and so was my Dad," Mr. Good says, "We feed our Herefords four or five pounds of cake per head every other day, sometimes for as long as six months." His is a successful, light-stocked operation on 42,000 acres. Mesquite, a spiny shrub or small tree with shadeless foliage that has no grazing value, is becoming a problem and he'll soon have to spray or bulldoze.

Ranch by sharing the work load with neighboring cattle-men, especially at round-up
