Ike Confirms West's Lead In Nuclear Weapons Race

Hargrave Will Judge Stock Show Entries

L. M. Hargrave, associate professor of agriculture education at Texas Tech College, Lubbock, will be judge of the annual Scurry County Junior Livestock Show here Friday and Saturday.

Hargrave, in addition to being judge, will be main speaker at an annual barbecue to be held Friday night for members of the junior livestock association and county members of the 4-H Clubs and Future Famrers of America chapters and their parents. The barbecue will be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday night at the stock barn in Towle Memorial Park, where the show will be held. New directors for the association will be elected at the meeting.

The 1955 board will later elect officers. Hugh Taylor is now president of the association, while Max West is secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Holmon Odom, Bill Eiland, and J. L. (Broadway) Browning.

Hargrave has been a member of the Tech faculty since 1946. Before that time, since 1935, he had been vocational agriculture teacher at Wolfforth. He holds bachelor and master degrees from Tech, both degrees in agriculture. Last summer he studied education exhibits under the Texas A&M extension service.

The judge will view a total of 289 animals in the show. There will be 126 barrows, 123 lambs, 32 dry lot calves, and eight commercial calves entered by FFA members from Snyder, Hermleigh, and Ira, and 4-H Club members from Snyder, Ira, Fluvanna, and Hermleigh.

By 6 o'clock Thursday evening, all animals must be weighed in at the show barn. Judging will begin at 9 o'clock the next morning, with barrows first on the judging list. Judging of lambs will start at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, while calf judging will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Grand champions of each division will be announced Saturday afternoon.

An auction will be held Saturday afternoon. Auctioneer Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock will sell some 91 animals in that sale. Other animals in the show will be sold at floor prices. The ten top animals in each class and weight will be sold in the auction, so there will be 40 sheep, 30 barrows, and 20 dry lot calves. The top commercial calf will also go into the sale.

The following awards have been set up for the show:

Sheep — four divisions, fine wool light from 85 to 105 pounds and heavy over 105, crossbred light 85 to 110 pounds and heavy over 110. Prizes for each division are $10 for first, $7.50 for second, $5 for third, $4 for fourth, $3 for fifth through 10th, $2 for 11th through 20th, and $1 for 21st through last. Grand champion $25, reserve champion $15, ribbons for champion fine wool and crossbred, ribbons for first five places in each division, banner for best club or chapter pen of 10, exhibit awards of $5, $4, and $3; show ring award for first in each division, $5.

Barrows — three classes, light 180-210 pounds, medium 211-240, and heavy 241-280. Prizes for each class, $15 for first, $10 for second $7.50 for third, $5 for fourth, $4 for fifth, $3 for sixth through 10th, $2 for 11th through 20th, and $1 for 21st through last. Grand champion $25, reserve champion $15, and awards for pen of three $10, $5, $2.50, $1.50, and $1.

Dry lot calves — two classes, light under and including 850 pounds, heavy over 850. Prizes of $40 for first, $30 for second, $20 for third, $15 for fourth, $12.50 for fifth, $10 for sixth through 10th, $7.50 for 11th through last. Grand champion $65, reserve champion $35.

Commercial calves — Prizes $10 for prime, $7.50 for choice, $5 for good, and $2.50 for commercial.

Exhibit awards have been set up for each division by the association, with prizes to be $5, $4, and $3. The local Tech Club has set up tie clasp awards for each division on showmanship. Grand champion trophies will be presented by Marshall Erwin in the hog show, Max West and John Boren in the lamb show, and C. T. McLaughlin in the calf show. Rotating trophies for chapter or club winning each division will be presented.

Only Three In Race For City Council

With only three days left before the deadline for filing as candidate for one of the three city council posts to be filled in the April 5 general city election, only one candidate has announced for each of the vacancies.

Deadline for filing is March 5, Saturday. A candidate may file any time Saturday, but the city hall closes at noon on Saturdays.

Candidates so far are Walter Hales, owner of Walter Hales Lumber and Supply Co., the only incumbent seeking reelection; Hollis Fields, owner of Snyder Steam Laundry & Dry Cleaners; and G. W. Parks, co-owner of Snyder Meat Co.

Fields and Parks are seeking posts which will become vacant when the terms of Eugene Harper, former owner of the Pal-O-Mar Cortel, and C. N. von Roeder, retired businessman, expire at the time of the election.

Absentee balloting in the election will begin Mar. 15, and continue for 17 days until April 2.

Judge for the election is C. H. Callis, who will have as assistant judges, Mrs. Harry Lee, W. P. (Bill) Davis, and Mrs. Lynn Henderson. Clerks for the election will be Mrs. J. L. Fargarson, Mrs. L. P. Houston, Mrs. J. W. Patterson, and Mrs. J. P. Avary.

The election canvassing board will be composed of: Harold Bennett, judge; Bud England and J. M. Newton, clerks.

Rites Set For Blast Victims

Funeral services for Raymond Earl Ridley, 25, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Ridley was one of three men killed Monday afternoon when a nitroglycerine shot exploded as they were preparing to lower it into an abandoned oil well. The accident occurred 16 miles southeast of Christoval in Schleicher County.

Services for Clarence Russell Boyd, also 25, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Overton Baptist Church. Bell Funeral Home will direct both these services.

Services for the third man killed by the explosion, V. B. Floyd, will be held in Electra.

Mr. Ridley was born March 11, 1929, in Fort Worth. The family later lived in Breckenridge and Odessa before moving here about five years ago. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ridley, route 3; his wife, the former Billye Duene Layne, and a brother, Gaylord Michael Ridley, also of Snyder.

The Rev. H. E. Snell of Wichita Falls officiated at the services. He was assisted by the Rev. Roaal McGaha of Ira. Burial was in Snyder Cemetery.

Mr. Boyd, who had lived in Snyder for about a year, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boyd of Arp; his wife, the former Ela Lee Hartley, whom he married on May 21, 1952, in Hobbs, N.M.; a daughter, Mary Annette; a son, Russell Dale; a sister, Mrs. Margie Barton of Longview, and three brothers, J. E. Boyd of House, N.M., and Hershall Boyd and Jerry Boyd, both of Arp. The Boyd family lived at 1702 Avenue R here.

'Big Shot' Is Rescheduled

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission scientists, after a last-minute conference, called off the "big shot" scheduled for just before dawn today. They said weather conditions were unacceptable.

A spokesman said that no shot would be fired tomorrow either, but that a weather evaluation session would be held tomorrow to determine if the detonation would be rescheduled for Friday morning.

No reason was given for the postponement other than "weather conditions." Presumably winds were too strong aloft. The shot, to have been fired from a 500-foot tower, was the one originally scheduled to open the spring test series. It has been postponed repeatedly.

Weather conditions were considered near perfect when yesterday's small nuclear shot was fired from a 300-foot tower on Yucca Flat.

Although the blast was in the lower range of nuclear devices, the flash was seen in five states within a radius of 475 miles. Atmospheric conditions were near perfect. The atomic cloud stretched out nearly 200 miles and no radiation fallout was reported outside the test site.

The AEC said the device, designed by its Livermore, Calif., laboratory, had a yield of "several kilotons." This is a fraction of the standard A-bomb's power of 20 kilotons, or 20,000 tons of TNT.

Arab Refugees Riot In Gaza

GAZA, Egypt-held Palestine (AP)—Hundreds of Arab refugees, angered by Monday's clash between Israeli and Egyptian troops, demonstrated in the face of police and army gunfire today.

At least seven people were wounded as police and Egyptian army troops fired on demonstrators to maintain order.

It was the second day of rioting in the city. Enraged refugees stoned U.N. truce commission head quarters here yesterday in a four-hour outbreak, smashing windows and tearing down a U.N. flag. They also burned a U.N. jeep and automobile before Gaza police dispersed them.

Appointment Made

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers today appointed Lester Hamilton of Palestine to replace R. L. Kenderdine Jr., of Palestine on the Upper Neches River Municipal Water Authority board. Lewis R. McCarroll, Rusk, and Gus Blankenship, Jacksonville, were reappointed. Terms are for six years.

Repeat Performance

Yesterday was almost a repeat of the previous day weatherwise. The temperature rose to a high of 78 degrees, then dipped to 40 degrees for the overnight low. By 7:30 it was back to 43 degrees, David Strayhorn, acting weather observer, said.

RED LEADER RELEASED, RE-ARRESTED

Carl Winter, center, former Michigan State Communist Party leader released from Leavenworth Federal Prison after serving two-thirds of a five-year sentence for conspiring to teach or advocate overthrow of the government, is flanked by U.S. Deputy Marshals L. E. Hay, left, and Ronald Mangrum as he was taken to be arraigned on a new charge of willful membership in a group (the Communist Party) which advocates overthrow of the government. He was later released on bond.

First Water Reform Measure Receives Approval In House

AUSTIN (AP)—The House today passed its first water reform bill, a measure requiring water districts to register to prevent overlapping.

The bill was sent to the Senate on an overwhelming voice vote. It would force each district to register with the State Board of Water Engineers as part of the effort to give the central agency better statewide control.

A measure providing the death penalty for repeat violators of the state narcotics law won its first committee test last night.

By a 12-6 vote the narcotics bill survived an effort to remove the death penalty provision, but the committee on criminal jurisprudence was not yet ready to send the bill to the floor for debate. It went to subcommittee for a week.

The Senate Labor Committee today debated but put off final action on a measure urged as one to make sure there is no recurrence of a labor deadlock such as the dispute that disrupted Port Arthur for more than a year.

The hearing on the labor measure was postponed from last night when the Senate committee failed to get a quorum. Quorum failure also held up committee action in the Senate on a proposal to remove the jury trial requirement in most lunacy cases.

Despite the Texas Independence Day holiday, both the House and Senate had sessions today.

The seller of narcotics is "worse than a murderer" and the maximum penalty should be comparable to that for murder, Rep. Jack Welch of Marlin told the House committee. He and Rep. John T. Cox of Temple are co-authors of the narcotics death penalty measure.

State and federal narcotics agents appeared in behalf of the bill.

Dub Naylor, chief of the narcotics division of the Department of Public Safety, said his officers were "fighting with a short stick to get these dope heads out of circulation" and needed all the help they could get from the Legislature.

Naylor also appeared for a bill providing for seizure by state officers of vehicles used in illegal dope transportation. The committee sent that measure to a subcommittee also.

"We want to make the dope runners walk," Naylor said. "We want to make it just as hard as possible for them to operate."

Sharply divided views on what kind of insurance legislation is needed to protect the man who buys the policy from fraud continue to pile up before the legislature.

A House committee yesterday heard spokesmen for "small" insurance companies accuse the "big" fellows of trying to drive them out of business with a bill to boost capital and surplus requirements.

The measure was held over again until next week for its third public hearing to give everybody a chance to speak.

'Money' Cited As Matusow Objective

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) said today, after listening to the testimony of turnabout witness Harvey Matusow, "I think the gentleman is interested n money."

"And," Welker added, "he has an avenue of getting money."

Welker declined to elaborate, but he told newsmen they would be "more enlightened" after the Senate Internal Security subcommittee has taken testimony from the publishers of Matusow's book, "False Witness," and others.

The subcommittee is inquiring into Matusow's repudiation of sworn testimony he gave congressional Red hunters and as a paid government witness in the trials of convicted Communist leaders.

The subcommittee called Matusow back for more questioning amid signs it may be nearing the end of its examination of him.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the testimony of Angus Cameron and Albert E. Kahn, New York publishers of Matusow's book, will be "much more important than this man's."

After yesterday's fast-paced hearing, marked by increasingly sharp exchanges between Matusow and committee members, Eastland said "I think there is a case for the Department of Justice." He added, "We may have several cases."

Matusow told the subcommittee yesterday he guessed he had obstructed justice by taking the former Arvilla Bentley, divorced wife of Rep. Bentley (R-Mich), to Nassau in 1952 when a Senate Elections subcommittee wanted to question her in its probe into the financial affairs of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Later she and Matusow were twice married and twice divorced, and he testified that his former wife told him she gave McCarthy $70,000 instead of the $7,000 referred to in the subcommittee report.

McCarthy said he would not dignify anything Matusow said by answering it.

The former Mrs. Matusow, now married to local attorney James O'Toole, could not be reached for comment about the incident.

Matusow said McCarthy and others, had a part in his taking the then Mrs. Bentley to Nassau and he said that he "sold" the story of this to columnist Drew Pearson for $200 to $250. Later, Matusow said, he asked Pearson to consider it a loan. He testified he never repaid Pearson.

Pearson issued a statement saying that Matusow had "presented an amazing and documented set of facts regarding his trip to Nassau with Mrs. Bentley, plus other matters which proved to be absolutely accurate. He said he was broke and I loaned him either $200 or $250."

In other testimony yesterday Matusow said he was the inventor of a "stringless yo-yo" but he refused to say under his Fifth Amendment privilege whether the manufacturers are "a Soviet or Communist firm."

Matusow declined to tell newsmen how his "stringless yo-yo" would work. He said that was a trade secret.

Will Beggs Dies Today

W. D. (Will) Beggs, 79, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at his home at 3103 Avenue W.

Mr. Beggs was born April 15, 1875, near Fort Worth, and came to Scurry County several years ago as a rancher from Wellington.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete at Bell Funeral Home at noon, pending the arrival of a son, John Billy Beggs of Post, and a daughter, Dorette Beggs of Lubbock. Survivors also include his wife.

No Comment On Plans For 1956

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the Western world has enjoyed all along a great lead over Russia in development of hydrogen bombs and atomic weapons.

He said he thinks it would be pointless to speculate on how long the lead may prevail. He just doesn't know.

Eisenhower's news conference remarks were in response to a request for comment on Prime Minister Churchill's statement yesterday that the United States has strength of the Soviet Union. Churchill added that Russia would be in a position, however, to launch a full-scale nuclear attack against the United States in two to four years.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower felt that Russia might be able to pull even with this country in three or four years.

After a pause, the President said any conclusions he might make in that field would be nothing more than speculation.

He went on to say we do know that the Western world has enjoyed a great lead in the H-bomb and the atomic weapons field in general.

How long that lead may last he just doesn't know, Eisenhower said.

There does come a time, he said, when if you get a big enough supply of a particular weapon, there is doubt as to whether it is important that you acquire a lot more such weapons.

The news conference also touched on these other matters:

POLITICS — Three times the President laughed off attempts to find out whether he will seek reelection next year. Once was when he was asked for comment on a statement by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) that the Republicans probably couldn't win next year without Eisenhower as their candidate.

Eisenhower laughed, too, when asked whether he wanted to send any message to Vice President Nixon regarding Nixon's statement yesterday that he hopes Eisenhower will run again. The President said he had no message for the vice president but probably would have something to say to him when Nixon returns Saturday from his Latin American trip.

The third attempt came when a newsman asked whether it could be taken for granted that Eisenhower will attend the Republican nominating convention in San Francisco in August 1956. Eisenhower shot back a crisp no. The President would have no occasion to go to the convention unless it was to make a speech accepting the nomination.

ZHUKOV—The President was reminded that he told a recent news conference he would be glad to consider inviting Marshall Georgi Zhukov, Russia's new defense minister, to the United States. Eisenhower commented that he has given the matter some thought but has decided against extending an invitation at this time.

The President added, however, that he hasn't forgotten about the matter, and indicated that Zhukov —whom he met in Berlin and became well acquainted with at the end of World War II—might possibly get an invitation later.

TAXES—In response to a question, Eisenhower said he naturally was delighted and gratified that the Senate Finance Committee voted 9-6 yesterday against the Democratic proposal to cut everybody's taxes by $20 next Jan. 1.

Two Democratic senators, Byrd of Virginia and George of Georgia, teamed up with seven Republicans in the committee to knock out the house-approved proposal.

Eisenhower said he was pleased the Senate committee had brought out a bill to continue excise and corporation taxes at present levels beyond April 1, when they are scheduled to decline, and had done so without any provision for an income tax cut.

LABOR MERGER—In reply to a question as to whether he sees any danger of a labor monopoly as a result of the planned merger of the AFL and CIO, Eisenhower said he doubts any organization can set itself up as the bosses of any great number of Americans.

WHEAT FOR RUSSIA—The President ruled out any possibility of sending surplus American wheat to Russia. At his news conference last week Eisenhower said he had ordered a study of the idea, but that he personally looked askance at the proposal.

Today he said that no plan to ship wheat to the Soviet Union is being studied at this time—meaning the idea has been dropped.

Irving Schools Remain Open Despite Strike

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—The eight Irving schools opened on schedule today despite a strike of teachers and other school workers, and the acting superintendent of schools said the situation was better today than yesterday, when the strike began.

Parents and others took over the jobs of missing teachers and workers.

The employes struck to seek to have Supt. John L. Beard restored to his job. He was fired without a public explanation.

The school board announced that, in effect, nine school principals and other executives who struck are fired.

And the board said that if striking teachers didn't return to classes today, they, too, would be without jobs.

Some 114 persons stayed away from their jobs yesterday. They met last night and continued in session until 3:30 a.m. this morning. When the meeting broke up, none of the participants would reveal what went on.

Acting supt. Charles Langston this morning said some new teachers had been employed and some who struck yesterday had returned.

He said, shortly after school opened, that he had not fully checked all schools to see how many teachers were on the job.

But his early check showed nine teachers at the junior high school had returned to work. The school employs 42. He said eight teachers at an elementary school returned.

About 25 per cent of the 300 or so teachers stayed away from work yesterday, first day of the walkout. About half the office workers and 90 percent of the custodian staff failed to work yesterday.

NORTH CENTRAL and WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Thursday. No important temperature changes.

12 Burned In Oil Well Blast

COLORADO CITY, Tex. (AP)—Twelve men were burned, three critically, in an oil well explosion today at Silver, 22 miles south of here.

Eighteen men were at work and only six managed to get free of the well before flames enveloped it.

Eight of the injured were brought to the Root Memorial Hospital here. Emergency beds were set up in the halls.

The men were employes of the Halliburton Co. They were at work fracturing (breaking up an oil formation for a free flow of oil) when a high pressure oil line broke and caught fire.

Witnesses said the scene was a mass of flames within seconds.

Other injured included Joe Tillman, Lem Nation, J. R. Hardegrade, W. Z. Stevens and A. M. Nitsch.

Rough Political Fight Shapes As Shivers, Sewell Square Off

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

DALLAS (AP)—Allan Shivers, governor of Texas longer than any other person, squared off today with a blind veteran of the World War II Navy in what may be the state's roughest political fight.

Shivers, who speaks here tonight at a $50-a-plate Texas Independence Day dinner, and the veteran, Jim Sewell of Corsicana, are champions of their respective segments of the Democratic Party in Texas.

The ultimate prize is Texas' 24 electoral votes—a gaudy, glittering bauble of victery in a close presidential race—which in 1952 went to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Shivers led Texas Democrats, including the state party organization, into the Republican fold in 1952. And there has been no forgiving in the ranks of what Sewell terms "the real Democratic Party in Texas."

"I think the real Democrats of Texas will control the 1956 state Democratic conventions," Sewell said today. "It will be a fight but the people of Texas are tired of the Republican administration. I believe the whole South is, and I think they will all reaffirm their faith in the Democrats in 1956."

Recently, there has been talk of a coming meeting of Shivers with Democratic National Committee Chairman Paul Butler of Indiana. "There is a good chance of the two sides getting together," said George McKelvey, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. McKelvey says he is a self-appointed peacemaker.

Shivers said in a news conference this week that he would welcome a meeting with Butler "and not altogether on my terms." But Sewell quoted Butler as saying that McKelvey did not speak for the national chairman. Meanwhile, no date for a meeting has been set.

"He's just talking through his hat," Sewell said of McKelvey. "The people of Texas have had enough of Allan Shivers and his Republicanism. They know the Democratic Party is the best party for them. We don't want to be dictated to by radical Republicans from the North."

Sewell is chairman of the Democratic Organizing Committee which the national party set up in Texas when Shivers took the state executive committee.

Now Shivers and his group have formed the Texas Foundation. It is set up as a tax-exempt organization, by Shivers-led Democrats they say, to promote interest in government.

"Interest in Shivers!" said Sewell. Proceeds from the Independence Day dinner tonight will go to the Texas Foundation rather than the state executive committee.

"These are not Democrats," says Sewell. "We like Democrats like Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson and Estes Kefauver."

Yesterday Sewell asked for free radio time for Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) to match the free time Shivers gets tonight. And said one of the incorporators of the Texas Foundation, State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin of Austin:

"Let them (the Sewell group) have the free time. I believe in free speech."

Cotton Men Study Quota Amendments

Close to 100 persons, including farmers, representatives of agricultural agencies, and others interested in the federal cotton allotment program met yesterday afternoon in Colorado City to draft proposals for amending allotment procedures.

The group, representing Scurry, Mitchell, Borden, Howard, Fisher, Nolan, and Taylor Counties, adopted the principle of a resolution offered by a committee which had been working for several days on the proposals. The resolution, which will later be delivered to Texas congressmen, will ask for disaster ratings for counties which produce 34 per cent or less cotton than the average production for three of the preceding 10 years.

Another proposal in the resolution would have those counties with production from 35 to 50 per cent of the normal production figured on the three-year basis considered as possible disaster counties.

Cotton acreages, then, could be increased in those counties declared as disaster counties. The resolution asks for increase by not more than 75 per cent of the current cropland acreage for the farm.

Nolan von Roeder of Snyder, Loyan C. Walker of Abilene, Max Carricker of Roby, N. D. Miers of Fisher County, Ernest Wiman of Roscoe, Curtis Latimer of Colorado City, and Will Jones of Colorado City were appointed as members of a steering committee, which will do further work on the resolution.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel and representatives George Mahon, O. C. Fisher, J. T. Rutherford, Omar Burleson, and Frank Ikard.

Later the steering committee will send representatives to Washington to meet with farm committes of Congress. This will be done as soon as audience can be obtained.

Work has been done during the last several days by persons interested in amending the allotment program. Under the present program, they say, counties which have mostly dryland farms are suffering in the program because of small plantings during the prolonged drought here. Farmers were forced to borrow heavily from private lending agencies and the federal government to survive the drought, and the small allotments being given them now are not enough for them to make repayment on the loans, they said.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Two New Wells In Garza Field Set

Curtis R. Inman of Midland has filed applications requesting permits to drill two new explorations in the recently opened Justiceburg-North area of east Garza County.

The No. 1-B W. V. Roy will be 330 feet from south and west lines of 119-5-H&GN. The No. 2-B W. V. Roy will be 330 feet from south and 1,320 feet from west lines of the same section.

Both the projects are approximately seven miles northeast of Justiceburg, and each is slated to dig to about 2,700 feet, using cable tools.

MITCHELL WILDCAT

Continental Oil Co. No. 1-33 I. L. Elwood Estate is to be drilled as an 8,000-foot Pennsylvanian prospector in southwest Mitchell County.

Drillsite is 18 miles south of Westbrook and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of 33-17-H&TC.

COLEMAN RANCH

Clyde M. Cantrall of Colorado City is to drill the No. 1 Coleman Estate in the North Coleman Ranch field of north Mitchell County.

Drillsite is 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of 85-97-H&TC, three miles south of Ira. Combination tools are to be used to drill to 3,200 feet.

DEEP STRIKES

Humble Oil & Refining Co. has a flowing discovery in sight at its No. 1-D Rosa H. Barnett in west Upton County.

The wildcat recovered at total of 34.67 barrels of pipeline oil from Devonian pay at 10,509-552 feet during a three-hour and 11-minute drillstem test. There were no signs of formation water. Gas surfaced in six and a half minutes, with fluid at the top in 83 minutes. After the tool was closed the operator reversed out an additional 16.29 barrels of oil from the drillpipe.

This project is now making hole below 10,571 feet in Devonian lime and chert. It was originally started to drill to 13,600 feet to test the Ellenburger. It is 15½ miles northwest of Rankin.

Discovery production has been found in the Ellenburger at Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1-B Brandenberg, a deep wildcat in the Payton field area of south Ward County.

A drillstem test from 10,084-165 feet, open one hour and 22 minutes, surfaced gas in three minutes and distillate in 21 minutes. The well flowed gas at the rate of 6,161,000 cubic feet daily and made 13.79 barrels of 48.8-gravity distillate in one hour through a one-inch choke. Operator was reported running casing for a completion attempt in the Ellenburger.

SCURRY COUNTY

W. L. Meadows and others have reported completion of the No. 2 J. N. Bynum in the Diamond M-Clear Fork field of Scurry County.

The well pumped 68 barrels of 30-gravity oil plus two per cent water on a 24-hour potential test. Pay was topped at 3,120 feet, where casing was cemented. Total depth is 3,215 feet. The pay was fractured with 20,000 gallons.

Location is 990 feet from south and east lines of 178-97-H&TC.

GARZA OILER

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 2-G Humble Fee, Justiceburg-Glorieta field project, has been completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 155.86 barrels of 38-graavity oil plus 23 per cent water.

Production is through perforations at 2,530-572 feet, where 10,500 gallons of fracture fluid had been used. Gas-oil ratio on the test was 631-1. Top of the pay was at 2,530 feet, with total depth 2,588 feet.

The well is 430 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of 116-5-H&GN.

School Sets 'Open House'

A special program for observation of Texas Education Week has been planned by the Central Elementary School, principal Joel Griffin said today.

The school will hold open house beginning at 6:45 o'clock Friday evening, with the evening's program conducted by teachers and students. A student reception committee will furnish hostesses, guides, and ushers.

All parents and other persons are invited to visit the school Friday and Friday night, Griffin said, adding that visitation in classrooms will last until 7:30 o'clock that night. After that time, a program will be held in the junior high school auditorium under direction of Mrs. Weldon Kincaid and Mrs. Landis Lee. That program will include songs by the sixth grade choir, a play on the elementary level, ballet, tap dancing, and readings.

After the program in the auditorium, a social hour will be held in the cafeteria.

O. R. (Bud) O'Bannon of Odessa, Tex., said capital stock will be registered with the Securities Exchange Commission and will be underwritten nationally. He has no name for the firm.

The claims, south of Dove Creek in Cross Canyon, were bought from Durango prospectors.

Helicopter Answers Call For Ambulance

HOUSTON (AP)—When a first lieutenant received injuries in an automobile wreck near here, a patrolman called for an ambulance and received a helicopter.

The craft dropped between power lines, settled near the accident scene, and corpsmen had 1st Lt. Herschel Williams, 27, Mobile, Ala. at a base hospital in 10 minutes.

"Williams needed an ambulance and our rescue teams needed practice," said a spokesman at Ellington Air Force Base.

ICT Parley Slated Here On Saturday

About 150 high school students, all members of vocational industrial clubs, will come here Saturday for a district convention.

Indistrial education students will come here from Big Spring, Lamesa, El Paso, Merkel, San Angelo, Odessa, Sweetwater, and Abilene for the meeting, which will be highlighted by several contests.

Approximately 17 areas of industrial work will be represented in contests to be held during the day. The contests will be both in day trades, which are those which students study in the schools without working in downtown businesses, and in co-operative trades, those which involve the students' working in industrial businesses here. Day trades contests will be held at the high school's vocational education building, while contests in co-op trades will be held in several business houses here. Included in contests and tentative locations are those for nurses aides and laboratory technicians at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, auto parts at Wade Pipkin Motors, auto mechanics at Lamb Chevrolet Co., auto body works and fender repair at Pap Willis Body Shop, and radio and television at M&M Radio & Electric.

J. C. Jackson, local ICT co-ordinator, said the public is invited to all activities of the industrial clubs Saturday. Those interested may see many of the contests at the school's shop building. Buses will be run from there to other contest locations during the day.

Contests will be held from 10 o'clock Saturday morning until noon and from 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock that afternoon. A general session will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Another will be held at 4 o'clock that afternoon, when officers and a district sweetheart will be elected. The district president will run for state presidency, and the district sweetheart will be a candidate for state sweetheart. Caroline Nobles is local candidate. Local candidates will also be chosen for offices. Also, those placing first, second, or third in any of the contests will be eligible to enter the state contests. The state convention will be held in Waco April 21-23.

On Saturday night, a talent contest will be held, open to all students with any talent. A dance will be held for the students that night.

King Quits In Cambodia

PARIS (AP)—The French News Agency reported today that King Norodom Sihanouk of the Indochinese state of Cambodia has abdicated.

The agency said the 33-year-old monarch stepped down from the throne of the 70,000-square-mile country in favor of his father Prince Suramarit. The report did not give the reason.

The French Foreign Ministry said it had no information beyond the French News Agency account.

The report took Paris by surprise. Only a month ago the King had won an overwhelming vote of confidence in a plebiscite he called to reassert his national popularity. He had ordered the vote to still an underground campaign claiming Cambodia's independence from France had been obtained not by Sihanouk but by Son Ngoc Thanh, premier during the Japanese occupation and the leader of the chief opposition to the King.

Man Attacked With Needle

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—A young Air Force doctor was arrested last night and charged with assaulting another man with a hypodermic needle.

Edmund Rahal told police he was stabbed three times in the arm and hand by Capt. Frank W. Johnson, who is assigned to the 2nd Medical Squadron at Hunter Air Force Base.

Two other witnesses also charged Johnson with assault and battery, said Patrolman L. C. Higgs.

Police said the incident occurred as Johnson and Rahal were leaving an attorney's office after a discussion of a civil matter. It was not clear what brought on the alleged attack.

Police said they did not know whether the needle was loaded. They said Rahal's wounds did not appear serious.

The U.S. marriage rate reached an all-time peak of 16.2 per 1,000 declining since that time except for population in 1946 and has been an upswing in 1950 when the Korean war started.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — Panair Do Brasil says it will hire new pilots to replace 120 men fired after a 45-day strike. The airline hopes to have service near normal within two weeks.

The strike mainly affected Pan American World Airways operations within Brazil. It began after the airline dismissed a pilot on charges of disobeying company regulations.

The company said it still had 36 fully trained pilots.

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5486.

No doughnut made without potatoes can be what it should be, many good cooks think. Whether you agree or not, fresh doughnuts are probably among your favorite sweets and they are always in season.

FEATHER DOUGHNUTS
3 medium potatoes
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
7 to 8 cups sifted flour
1 package dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
½ cup soft margarine or butter
2 eggs
½ teaspoon numeg (optional)

Peel the potatoes and cook in 2 cups boiling salted water until tender. Drain off water, reserving 1 cup. Pour water into a large mixing bowl and stir in sugar, salt and 1 cup of the flour. Beat until smooth. Sprinkle yeast into ¼ cup warm (not hot) water. Stir until dissolved, then beat into batter. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place until bubbly.

Meanwhile, mash the hot potatoes in the pan in which they were cooked. Measure 1 cup, place in a mixing bowl, and beat in margarine or butter, eggs and nutmeg. When the batter is full of bubbles, stir in the potato mixture and remaining flour. Knead eight to 10 minutes, or until the dough is smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl and brush the top with soft or melted shortening. Let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Punch the dough down and store in the refrigerator.

About 2 hours before serving time, remove the dough from the refrigerator and cut in half. Roll each half about one-third of an inch thick and cut into rounds with a cutter or squares, using a sharp knife. Place on a floured board, cover with a cloth, and let rise until light and doubled in bulk. Slip into deep, heated fat, turning them when they rise. Drain on paper toweling. Coat with granulated sugar by shaking a few at a time in a paper bag with a half cup of sugar. Makes four dozen doughnuts.

Transparent Tape Can Hold Zipper Firm For Stitching

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

Even expreienced home seamstresses sometimes run into trouble when it comes to doing a smooth, professional job of inserting a zipper.

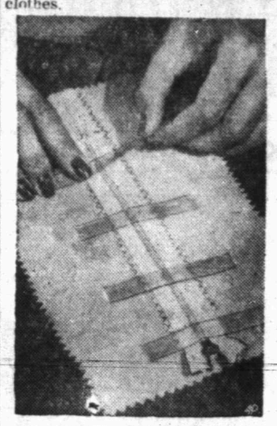
Pinning and basting a zipper before stitching takes time. Here is a suggestion to speed up zipper insertion, using transparent cellophane tape to hold the zipper in place, instead of pins or basting threads.

The technique is simple. First, run a strip of tape along the right side of your opened seam to hold the edges firmly together (with raw edges turned in along the seam line, of course). Second, turn the fabric and place the zipper along seam line on wrong side of fabric, securing with several crosswise strips of tape. Third, using the zipper foot on your sewing machine, stitch the zipper on the right side, stitching right over the tape. Peel off the tape, and presto —a perfect placket.

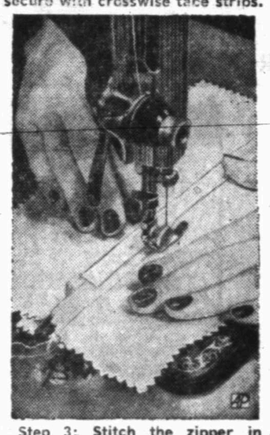
Besides speed, there are several good reasons for securing zippers with cellophane tape. Since there is so little handling of the fabric, the seams do not get stretched and the zipper will not pull out of shape. When the zipper is stitched, it lies flat and smooth. With this technique, it's simpler to insert a zipper even in such difficult fabrics as satin or velvet.

Experts remind you to be careful about selecting the right zipper for your purpose. Zippers come in lengths from four to 36 inches, suitable for anything from a dainty blouse to a heavy lumber jacket. Be sure you have a swatch of your fabric along when you buy your zipper, to be sure of perfect color match in zipper and thread.

There are other uses for cellophane tape in your sewing room, too. Use a piece to secure the loose end of thread on a spool. Use it to hold together leftover scraps of fabric. Use it instead of pins in any fabric where pin holes will show. Use it, too, instead of basting plastics, where a pine hole may cause the plastic to tear. And, after a sewing session, use it wrapped wrong side out around your hand to remove bits of thread and lint from your clothes.



Step 2: Place zipper along the seam line on the wrong side and secure with crosswise tape strips.



Step 3: Stitch the zipper in place right over the tape using the machine zipper foot, then peel off tape.

Decorations were in a Liberty Bell theme. Place mats were gold-colored bells, and a centerpiece for each table was fashioned of a bell.

Suspect In Rape-Slaying Under Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old father of two children was charged today with the rape-slaying of New York University coed Ann Yarrow. He was first arrested on a separate rape complaint.

After 12 hours questioning, William Patrick Farrell was booked on a charge of homicide.

Police nabbed Farrell in a cemetery yesterday after a short chase from the apartment of his sister-in-law Irene Miller, 20, on East 3rd Street, about a block from where Miss Yarrow, 23, was slain.

A slim, good-looking man of medium build, Farrell went to Mrs. Miller's home yesterday morning and, with a butcher knife in hand, robbed and raped her in front of her 3-year-old son, police said.

Before raping the woman, police said, he chased from the apartment Mrs. Miller's stepfather, who called police. Farrell fled from the rear of the apartment when they arrived, but was caught after police fired a warning shot.

Police linked Farrell with the Yarrow murder during questioning on Mrs. Miller's complaint. Through the evening they tackled the dirty job of dredging for a knife they said he told them he had thrown down a sewer.

After ordering Farrell charged with homicide, Asst. Dist. Atty. Vincent J. Dermody said he had taken a statement from the man, but did not disclose its contents.

Asked if Farrell had admitted the slaying, Dermody replied, "No comment." He also declined to say if a knife found by police in the sewer was the Yarrow murder weapon.

In addition to the homicide charge, Farrell was booked on charges of assault, robbery and rape of Mrs. Miller and assault and robbery of her stepfather, Charles Yesler, of Hoboken, N.J. He was charged also with a weapons law violation and threatening Yesler and Mrs. Miller with a 12-inch butcher knife.

Farrell, an employe of a woodworking firm, is married to Mrs. Miller's sister and lives in Brooklyn. Mrs. Farrell is expecting a third child.

Police did not give any details on how Farrell might have met Miss Yarrow.

They said their question about the attack on Mrs. Miller led to the Yarrow case when Farrell answered "Yes" to the routine query, "Have you ever done anything like this before?"

Miss Yarrow's mutilated body, nude except for a sweater around her neck, was found by a friend who had loaned her the apartment in which she was staying.

Australians Start Cleanup After Flood

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Residents of towns and villages in western New South Wales pushed a vast clean-up today as floodwaters slowly receded from the devastated area. Only a few small communities were still endangered.

The minimum death toll was placed at 40, but police said the exact total probably never will be determined. Some authorities estimated the damage might run into tens of millions of dollars, but other estimates were more conservative.

Baleria Eubank, leading scorer for the Ira girls basketball team, takes aim for another of her many shots at the goal last night in Ira's 58-41 win over Hobbs for bi-district championship. Miss Eubank scored 32 points in the game. (Lee Watson photograph)

Ira Girls Advance To Regional Meet

Ira's girl basketballers, who had taken championship of District 16-B without too much trouble, made winning look easy again last night.

The game was played before about 1,200 persons in the Snyder High School gymnasium.

It wasn't smooth sailing all the way for Ira — Hobbs kept the game fairly close — but after taking a lead in the first minute of the game, Ira never gave it up.

Winning last night's game gave the Ira girls the right to travel to Canyon Friday to enter the eight-team regional girls Class B tournament. Among other area teams winning that right were Roosevelt of District 6-B, which last night beat Bula of District 5-B 68-65, and Silverton of District 9-B, which beat McAdoo of District 10-B last night 44-38. Two nights ago, Bledsoe of District 7-B took Flower Grove of District 8-B 63-33 to advance to the regional tourney, while Cotton Center of District 4-B defeated Lazbuddie of District 3-B 53-51.

Bledsoe is believed to be the team with which Ira will be matched in the first round of the tourney at Canyon.

Baleria Eubank, who has led Ira scoring all season, paced the Ira girls to last night's win. She scored 32 points, while Peggy Taylor sacked up 22 and Jo Ann Ford four. Barbra Sellers and Delphine South led the Hobbs effort with 17 points each, while Darlene Ogden had four and Anna Rogers three.

Guards playing in the game for Ira were Nita Thomas, Dixie Lee Kimmel, and Mary Turner. Those for Hobbs in the game were Agnes Hudnall, Clara Ann Neves, Betty Moffett, Nora Thomson, and Joanna Wall.

By the end of the first quarter last night, Ira was ahead 14-8. During the second period, the Ira team built up the lead gradually until it was ahead 30-16 at halftime.

Hobbs began to close it up during the third period. While Ira led by 12 points, 40-28, at the end of the third quarter, Hobbs got within nine points about two minutes deep in the fourth.

Of the five times the two teams met this year, Ira has won four times. One of those wins was by only one point, however, and another by two.

By winning last night's game, the Ira team made its season record 30-4. Hobbs finished the season with a 23-7 record.

Coaching the Ira team is Miss Betty Gandy, assisted by Bill Allen. G. C. Herring is Hobbs girls coach.

Brooks Gets Beat In City Loop Tourney

The Hermleigh team broke into the semi-finals of the city basketball league's championship tournament last night by handing Brooks Oil Well Service its first defeat in league play.

Hermleigh won the game 61-54 and gained the right to go into semi-finals against Chuck Wagon, which drew a bye in the second round. That game will be played tomorrow night.

Winning last night in the consolation bracket was D&H Super Market, which eliminated National Guard from the tourney in a 50-39 game. The D&H team will take on Brooks tomorrow night, with the winner to meet the loser of the Hermleigh-Chuck Wagon game the next night. Finals in the tourney will be held Saturday night.

While the Brooks team sailed through the city league's round-robin schedule without a loss and plastered D&H 78-48 in the first round, it couldn't even gain the lead in last night's game against Hermleigh.

Hermleigh led 15-16 at the end of the first quarter, 34-28 at the half, and 48-36 at the end of the third. Bill Voss led Hermleigh scoring with 20 points, followed by Ray Isaacs with 13. Leading Brooks were Bill Couch with 15 and Bob Zetzman with 10.

In the consolation bracket game, D&H held the lead throughout, 12-10 at the end of the first period, 21-17 at the half, and 35-31 at the end of the third.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

Top competitiors from Ira this time may be Don Gray, Ferrel Bryant, and Lawton Taylor. Gray, a miler, is improving on his time this year. Last year he ran third in district on the mile. Bryant, who runs the 440 dash, had a time of about 59 seconds last year but is trimming it down this time, Dismuke said. Taylor is a high jumper. He placed second in the junior division of the high jump last year in the district meet.

Two freshmen are showing up this year. Although they may not get anywhere this year for lack of enough practice, Dismuke has high hopes for them during the next two years. They are James Earl Autry and Tommy Echols. Autry last year was high pointer in the district's junior division. His specialty is the high jump. Echols heaves the shot and runs the dashes.

Others on Dismuke's track team include Earl Clinkenbeard, sophomore, and Dwayne Rosser, freshman. Clinkenbeard and Rosser are both milers.

Up at Fluvanna, coach Grover Watkins has started track workouts. The school, which usually has a baseball team but no track, has decided to abandon baseball.

Watkins will enter his team in the District 16-B meet this year. That district includes Hobbs, Hermleigh, Ira, Roscoe, Roby, and Loraine.

The Fluvanna track team is built around four boys, Delbert Hataway, junior who runs the 100 and 440 dashes; Vernon Browning, sophomore who runs the mile and may try the discus throw; Bobby Lemons, junior miler; and Leslie Burrow, sophomore discus thrower.

Pat Gerald, who resigned as head coach at Sweetwater, will not actually leave the school until this semester has ended, and he has taken over as golf coach.

The Sweetwater golf team, which took regional championship last year, has begun workouts with a team built around two returning lettermen. Doyt Dill and Don Whorton are the regulars. About 10 more boys are also trying for places on the first team. One of the top contenders is Bubba Meyer, who last year was a finalist in Sweetwater's city golf tournament.

Fort Stockton is holding its annual Comanche Relays Saturday and will have 27 schools competing. Crane and Fort Stockton teams will be the only ones in that meet which will come to the Canyon Reef Relays here the next weekend.

Ponies Take Title In Southwest Loop

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Chalk up another one for the turtle over the hare. This time it was. Southern Methodist that played the plodding part only to nip Texas Christian at the wire and win the Southwest Conference basketball title.

It was SMU's first title in 18 years and an NCAA Tournament berth was included in the loot.

TCU and SMU were figured on a par before the season, but when TCU won the Christmas conference tournament — beating SMU 74-71 in the process—the Horned Frogs got the nod.

The Mustangs hung in there, however, and after being in and out of a first place tie with TCU during the season squeezed back into a deadlock last weekend. The payoff came last night in the league windups for TCU and SMU.

Unpredictable Arkansas up and booped TCU 110-89 while SMU waltzed in 93-80 over Texas. That gave SMU a 9-3 mark and made TCU 8-4.

SMU had a snap against Texas, losingest team in Longhorn history. The Mustangs were out front by 18 during the first 10 minutes and leveled off about 12 points to the good most of the second half.

Arkansas really pulled a chiller against TCU. The Razorbacks, spilled from the race by SMU last week, hadn't scored more than 86 points in any one game all season, but they have a league record with their 110. Defense, surprisingly, was the pattern for Arkansas, and it had TCU on edge. Dick O'Neal, TCU's high-scoring sophomore, was closed out with 17 points.

Arkansas wound up in a second-place tie with TCU.

SMU will meet one of two as yet unnamed at-large selections in the Western regional of the NCAA at Manhattan, Kan., March 11.

In an NCAA preview, Idaho State beat Seattle 74-65. Idaho State, the Rocky Mountain champ, and Seattle, an at-large pick, will play an elimination game at San Francisco's Cow Palace March 8.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame closed its home season by defeating DePaul 72-61 as Lloyd Aubrey hit eight hooks and 10 of 11 foul shots for 26 points.

Holy Cross, set to defend its NIT title, defeated Dartmouth 56-62. The Crusaders had some trouble with the Dartmouth zone but a stall and a free throw by Captain Joe Early in the last 16 seconds put them beyond reach.

Washington & Lee's precocious sophomores outmanned Virginia's Buzzy Wilkinson and beat the Cavaliers 98-89 for their sixth straight success. Wilkinson hit 40 points in the regular season windup for both clubs.

Harris Is Worrying About Injuries Now

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

As if he didn't have problems enough trying to pull a second-division club, loaded with inexperienced youngsters, up by its bootstraps, Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers today turned his attention to worrying about Ferris Fain.

The two-time American League batting king jammed his right knee in a game last season when he was playing with the Chicago White Sox. The Tigers took a chance on him and obtained him in a trade during the winter in hopes the knee would come around.

Fain, a first-baseman, not only is a hitter of ability, but, almost as important, he's one of the few really experienced players on the Bengal roster.

"Fain will be my first baseman if his knee is all right," said Harris, who took over the Tigers this year.

But as of now, Fain's leg is not all right. He limped noticeably yesterday, the first day of training, and admitted he was favoring the leg.

"There's no use denying the darn thing has me worried," said Fain. "But doctors tell me it's going to be okay. If I didn't feel they are right I wouldn't be here in camp."

He revealed he aggravated the injury twice during the winter—once while pheasant hunting and again when he toppled three feet off a scaffold.

Meanwhile, General Manager Hank Greenberg of the American League champion Cleveland Indians, disgusted with the antics of some of his players who have refused to sign, cracked the whip and brought outfielder Larry Doby into line.

Greenberg talked to Doby several hours yesterday and they reached no agreement. Greenberg then told Doby there was no use hanging around the Tucson, Ariz., camp, and ordered him home to Paterson, N. J. Doby signed in a hurry, at, he said ruefully, Greenberg's terms.

Greenberg also hauled third baseman Rudy Regalado and pitcher Hank Aguirre into line, leaving an even half-dozen tribesmen outside the fold. All told, there are only 24 holdouts in the majors and most are expected to capitulate shortly.

The New York Yankees had some encouraging news from their GI second baseman Billy Martin. He hopes to be out of the Army by early July. There was a flurry in the Yankee camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., when the report began to circulate that he would rejoin the club early in the season, perhaps by opening day.

Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers both reported overweight.

Harris Only Texas Titlist In Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Roy Harris, the clouter from Cut and Shoot, Tex., is the only Golden Gloves titlist from Texas still in the running in the national tournament here.

Harris came through with two victories last night.

Three other Texas champions lost last night. Four other Texas winners were eliminated Monday night.

Meanwhile, several other fighters, from Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, continued in the tournament. They did not compete in the Texas tournament at Fort Worth in mid-February.
