1.45 inch here...

Rain sweeps Scurry County

The City of Snyder, slighted somewhat during recent thunderstorms, received almost an inch and a half of rain late Thursday evening and early this morning, according to local reports.

Elsewhere across the county, rainfall averaged from a half to just under an inch.

Two emergency sirens in the west portion of Snyder sounded during the storm, causing some citizens a couple of anxious moments before they automatically shut off. Civil defense officials said this morning that the sirens, at 48th Street and Galveston and 25th Street and El Paso, were probably touched off by lightning.

According to the water pump and filter plant, Snyder received 1.45 inches of moisture. That brings the total for 1994 to 5.32 inches, most of which has occurred during the past month.

Residents from Fluvanna and west of Snyder reported a half-inch of rainfall. Polar received six-tenths.

The area immediately north of the city received an inch. Loyd Mountain reported nine-tenths.

The storm also dropped nine-tenths in Ira, Dunn and along Highway 180 east of Snyder. Hermleigh residents recorded between a half-inch and seven-tenths.

The weather is expected to improve, but a stormy, rainy period is expected for the first portion of the Memorial Day holiday weekend across Texas.

Skies will begin clearing from the west on Saturday, but there is a chance of continued showers and thunderstorms over the area of West Texas through tonight. Some of the storms could be severe, forecasters warned.

Saturday's high temperature is expected in the mid 80s with a low of about 60. The remainder of the Memorial Day weekend calls for highs in the lower 90s and lows in the lower 60s.

'Pygmalion' to play Saturday

Snyder High School drama department's award-winning play, "Pygmalion," will be presented to the public for one performance only Saturday evening.

Curtain time will be 8 o'clock in Worsham Auditorium. Tickets are $2 each at the door.

"Pygmalion" advanced through district, area and regional contests to become Snyder's 26th one-act play at the UIL state contest earlier this month. It was the 25th one-act play to reach Austin under highly-regarded drama instructor Jerry Worsham.

While the play did not add to Snyder's list of 12 state crowns, it did set a record attendance this year in Austin. Throughout the various levels of competition, numerous cast members won acting awards.

"We wish we could perform the play for two or three nights but unfortunately, because of people's schedules and all that is going on, it just wouldn't work out," said Worsham. "We're pleased to perform it Saturday for those who haven't seen it and those who would like to see it again."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Russell Skiles, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, noticed a national news clip that we had missed. A young man went to court asking for his name to be changed to Trout Fishing in America.

Just Trout, for short.

Although the judge reportedly thought the whole idea to be a little fishy, he went ahead and signed the papers to officially give 17-year-old Peter Eastman Jr. the new name he requested.

The kid reportedly wanted the new name on his high school diploma as a way to exhibit his independence. He explained: "It is a breaking away. I am not a kid anymore. I want to be my own person."

Said Skiles:—"Maybe that makes sense in California, but not to this West Texas country boy.

"Want to show your independence? Move out, get a job and start paying the bills."

Observed a wire store where a Corpus Christi house cleaning service offered bikini-clads maids.

Some of the staffers were arrested on prostitution charges.

House cleaning...wonder if social security taxes were deducted.

And other wierd news. The Seminole Sentinel reports that a department store in Tennessee got stuck with a check drawn on "The East Bank of the Mississippi."

Family suing for millions

MIDLAND (AP) — The widow of an inmate who was hogtied has filed a lawsuit accusing jailers of violating the man's civil rights and deliberately ignoring his medical needs.

Trinidad Gonzalez's federal lawsuit was filed last week.

Tomas Gonzalez, 41, died July 9 in a hospital after being hogtied in the Midland County Detention Center five days earlier. An autopsy listed the causes of death as alcohol withdrawal and positional asphyxia induced by the hogtying restraint method.

School standards are getting tougher

AUSTIN (AP) — Schools this year will be ranked as acceptable by the Texas Education Agency if as many as three out of four students fail a part of the state skills test.

And that standard is even tougher than last year, when the TEA first started to rank schools.

"It says we have a long way to go in improving our public schools," Criss Cloudt, associate commissioner of the Texas Education Agency, said Thursday.

The TEA has revised its accountability rating system for public schools and school districts, which was used for the first time last year.

The system ranks schools as exemplary, recognized, acceptable and low-performing.

Under the standards for this year, schools are exemplary when at least 90 percent of the students pass the reading, writing and math portions of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills, the dropout rate is 1 percent or less, and the attendance rate is at least 94 percent.

Recognized schools are those where at least 65 percent of the students pass each subject area of the TAAS, the dropout rate is less than 3.5 percent, and attendance is 94 percent or better.

Statewide, the average attendance rate is about 94 percent, and the dropout rate, 3.9 percent.

To make the acceptable category, a school must only have at least 25 percent of the students pass each section of the TAAS. Schools where less than 25 percent of the students pass any subject of the TAAS are considered low performing.

Ms. Cloudt said these standards are tougher than ones applied last year — the first time schools and district were rated under the program. And she said the plan is to make the standards progressively tougher.

"1994 is set as a transition year to that new system. We are implementing tougher and tougher standards over the next five years," she said.

Last year, TEA reported that 22 campuses were exemplary; 256 recognized; 5,580 acceptable, and 326 low performing.

Schools that are low performing can be closed after a couple of years if they don't improve. Schools that are in the other three categories can receive financial incentives.

Ms. Cloudt said schools should know in early July where they rank, and that TEA will have the complete statewide results by early August. She said the TEA is devising a school report card that will be sent out to students' parents in November detailing the school's ranking.

Methodists will attend conference

Three Scurry County residents will represent Union United Methodist Church at the June 6-9 85th session of the Northwest Annual Conference. They include the Rev. Dean Guest, pastor; Evelyn Mebane and Buena Jackson.

Bishop Alfred L. Norris will preside at the session at First United Methodist Church, 305 N. Baird in Midland.

Dr. James Moore, pastor of St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Houston, will be the conference speaker. Norris will preach for the Service of Ordination and Consecretation on Wednesday evening.

A special VISION 2000 Celebration barbecue meal and rally are planned for Tuesday, June 7, in the plaza of Midland Center. The rally will feature special music from a variety of traditions and preached by Dr. Moore.

Other worship services, events and meals are planned throughout the week. Displays of church boards and agencies as well as related church programs will be available throughout the 4-day session.

Lotto jackpot at $17 million

by The Associated Press

The next Lotto Texas jackpot has grown to $17 million after no ticket for the latest game correctly matched all six winning numbers, lottery officials said today.

But 172 tickets matched five of the six numbers chosen Wednesday night in the drawing that had an estimated $10 million jackpot, the Texas Lottery said in a prepared statement.

Numbers drawn from a field of 50 in the twice-weekly game were: 1-13-19-20-27-31.

A ticket matching five of six numbers picked in Wednesday's drawing pays $1,392.

Lottery officials said 9,832 tickets matched four of six numbers, with a payoff of $88.

Also, 173,733 tickets were sold with three of six numbers, with each worth an automatic $3.

If sales continue as expected, officials estimate the jackpot for Saturday night's game will be $17 million.

Lotto Texas began in November 1992.

Gates will be installed

HOUSTON (AP) — George and Barbara Bush's neighbors are tired of the sightseers and gawkers who cruise the horseshoe-shaped street for a glimpse of the former First Family.

So later this year, with the blessing of the Houston City Council, the West Oak Drive neighborhood will activate two iron security gates to keep out the rubberneckers.

A unanimous vote by the Houston city council Wednesday will permit the neighborhood to use iron gates to secure some privacy.

The Texas Legislature made the move possible last year, changing a state law that prohibits restricting access to a public street. The law now exempts streets where ex-presidents live.

The swinging iron gates will be accessible only to those who know the secret security code or have a remote control. The gates were installed last fall, but won't be activated until the Bushes return from their summer home in Maine.

An intercom system will be available for visitors to buzz residents, but you can't buzz the former first family. They aren't listed on the intercom, but the Secret Service is.

Neighbors, who declined to be identified, spoke out about the lack of privacy.

"We have young children playing on the street," one neighbor said Thursday. "There was one case when a kid was knocked off his bike and the guy didn't even stop."

Another neighbor said Barbara Bush has no privacy as things are now.

Tour bus operators had already been barred from the street because of complaints by area residents.

Prison gang leader gets life

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The leader of the Mexican Mafia says spending his life in prison won't affect him because he'll push ahead with his mission of representing oppressed people.

"I'm nothing but a Mexican and a soldier representing all of the exploited people of the world and my race," Heriberto Huerta said Thursday, just before a federal judge sentenced him to life in prison.

"Even though I may be in the depths of the prison, I will continue to find a way to represent the Mexican people," Huerta said defiantly after addressing the court in a rambling five-minute speech.

U.S. District Judge Ed Prado ordered Huerta to serve three life sentences and four 30-year sentences for his seven convictions on racketeering and drug conspiracy charges. The sentences will run concurrently.

A jury convicted Huerta, 41, and six of his associates, including his wife and mother, after a monthlong trial in February.

Huerta's attorney, Richard Langlois, said his client would appeal.

Huerta already is serving time in federal prison, where he has been the past 11 years. He was accused of running the prison-based Mexican Mafia crime organization from his prison cell.

San Antonio police and federal authorities blame the prison-born Mexican Mafia for at least 73 killings in San Antonio since 1991.

Despite Huerta's claim that he led only the Mexikanemi Science Temple of Aztlan, a religious and cultural group, not the Mexican Mafia, Prado found that he indeed ran the crime gang.

What causes female facial hair?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes a woman to get unwanted facial hair? What are the treatment options available?

DEAR READER: Although some women develop facial hair as a result of hormone imbalances or hormone-producing tumors in the reproductive tract, most cases have an unknown cause.

Therefore, while I urge you to check with your gynecologist (or dermatologist) for blood tests, I suspect that you will be left with the usual treatment options: bleaching, shaving, plucking, or waxing. A cosmetologist can probably help you.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please provide information on Ewing's sarcoma.

DEAR READER: Ewing's sarcoma is a malignancy of bone that most commonly affects men between 10 and 20 years of age. The tumor usually appears in the bones of the extremities, and often causes pain and swelling.

The diagnosis is made by biopsy; CT or MRI scans are used to define the extent of the disease, because the affected bone is usually more extensively involved than can be seen on standard X-rays.

Although Ewing's sarcoma is a highly dangerous cancer that may spread, more than 60 percent of patients can be cured, using a combination of surgery, chemotherapy and radiation. Thus, patients require the skills of orthopedic surgeons, oncologists and radiation therapists.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are the benefits of taking natural sulfur orally?

DEAR READER: Sulfur is a macromineral (used in large quantity by the body) that is necessary for blood coagulation, bone and muscle development, and growth metabolism. It is present in several vitamins, as well as in the amino acid methionine.

Because it is so prevalent in foods (protein, beef, peas, beans, peanut butter, wheat germ, and others), deficiency states are not known to exist. Therefore, sulfur supplements are not necessary.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Fads I: Vitamins and Minerals." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My grandson was diagnosed with fibrous dysplasia a couple of years ago, after suffering a broken arm. His activities are very restricted. Why?

DEAR READER: Fibrous dysplasia of bone is an hereditary disorder marked by an abnormality in bone development. Cysts form in one or more bones, weakening them and making them more likely to fracture.

Sometimes other organs are involved as well, including the endocrine glands. There is no cure for this condition, which, fortunately, ceases when the bones stop growing at puberty.

Until that time, children with the disorder must restrict their activities, to prevent broken bones. Thus, the therapy is conservative in most instances, although severe deformities of the long bones (in the legs, for instance) may require surgical correction.

Your grandson's doctors have probably limited his physical activity for the time being, so that he won't fracture other bones.

Judge can proceed with spending probe

EL PASO (AP) — An appeals court has ruled that state District Judge Edward Marquez can proceed with his investigations into alleged underfunding of state programs here.

The 8th Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday that it had no jurisdiction in the case and lifted a temporary stay issued May 12, which had been requested by state agencies targeted by Marquez's two courts of inquiry.

"Hopefully, I will be able to proceed with no further delays," said Marquez, whose next hearing is at 4 p.m. Friday.

State agencies attempting to kill the courts of inquiry next could appeal to the Texas Supreme Court. Their attorney, William Kilgarlin, was out of town and could not be reached for comment Thursday.

The presiding judge of a court of inquiry, which is similar to a grand jury, has the power to file criminal charges. In this case, Marquez can bring charges against individuals but not state agencies.

Marquez has convened two courts of inquiry to look into alleged underfunding of state transportation and human service programs in El Paso. Last week, he launched a third to investigate whether state officials improperly tried to impede his other probes.

In a five-page ruling, the appellate court says because Marquez convened the courts of inquiry in his capacity as magistrate, not as state district judge, it has no jurisdiction in the case.

It was the second time the state agencies have been thwarted in their attempts to have the court of inquiry killed. Earlier this month, the state Court of Criminal Appeals rejected motions to block the investigation.

Knicks roll to 2-0 series lead

After the Knicks beat the Pacers 89-78 Thursday night to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals, Indiana coach Larry Brown said New York's extra effort was as crucial as Patrick Ewing's 32 points and 13 rebounds.

"It you look at all the hustle plays, I think the Knicks came out ahead on every one of them," Brown said. "That's why they've been so successful this year and the last couple of years — they get every loose ball and they get every long rebound and they make every effort play. And we haven't done that."

"We're going to have to be more aggressive, dive for loose balls and make the hustle plays like New York did tonight," Smits said.

"They came up with a bunch of second shots and all the loose balls," Fleming said.

The Knicks outrebounded the Pacers 47-35 and had 11 steals compared to seven for Indiana.

"I thought we started to get the loose balls and hit the boards harder (in the second half)," New York guard Greg Anthony said. "It was a tremendous effort for us."

Ewing was tremendous for the Knicks. He made his last seven shots, including four baskets and 10 points during an 18-2 run that broke the game open in the second half. New York trailed by five when Ewing hit a jumper with 3:19 left in the third quarter. When Ewing capped the spurt with another jumper, it gave the Knicks an 11-point lead with 7:46 remaining in the game.

The Pacers never got closer than seven points the rest of the way.

"Patrick was just not going to let us lose," Knicks coach Pat Riley said. "He's as committed as any superstar I've ever been around. He's adamant that the ball is going to go through him."

That's a pretty impressive tribute considering that Riley coached Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Magic Johnson to four NBA championships with the Los Angeles Lakers. Still, Ewing wasn't completely satisfied with his performance.

"I thought I played a pretty good game," he said. "But I was disappointed I didn't get as many rebounds as I wanted and I had too many turnovers (six)."

Derek Harper, who has struggled in the playoffs, broke out of his slump with an excellent, all-around game. The Knicks guard had 18 points, eight assists and six rebounds while committing only one turnover in 36 minutes.

Charles Oakley added 17 points for the Knicks, who overcame a second-quarter cold spell during which they missed 15 of 16 shots.

Reggie Miller led Indiana with 23 points, and Smits had 22. No other Pacer scored in double figures.

The Knicks got a boost from the loud crowds in the first two games at Madison Square Garden, where they are 8-0 in the playoffs. Now the Pacers return home for Games 3 and 4 at Market Square Arena on Saturday and Monday.

"If it gets any louder in Market Square than it was in Chicago, then I'm going to be scared," Harper said.

Fernandez is upended by Romanian Spirlea

PARIS (AP) — Mary Joe Fernandez, who made it to the French Open final last year, was upset in the third round today by Irina Spirlea of Romania.

The 20-year-old Spirlea, ranked 41st in the world, outran and outhit the 10th-seeded American in a 6-4, 6-1 victory.

Last year, in what she and her coach depicted as a breakthrough, Fernandez lost a three-set final to Steffi Graf after victories over Arantxa Sanchez Vicario and Gabriela Sabatini.

Spirlea, who reached the semifinals in the Italian Open earlier this month, will likely face the top-seeded Graf in the fourth round. Graf faced Joannette Kruger of South Africa later today.

The men's top seed, Pete Sampras, faced Paul Haarhuis of the Netherlands, and fourth-seeded Andrei Medvedev of Ukraine played Greg Rudeski, the first Canadian in the post-1968 Open Era to reach the third round.

On Thursday, the spotlight fell on two durable pros who rarely get much attention — Aaron Krickstein and Ronald Agenor.

Agenor, at 29 the oldest man left in the field, outlasted 21-year-old David Prinosil in the longest match at the tournament since the tiebreaker was adopted in 1973. It took five hours and 71 games — played over two days — but Agenor came out on top 6-7 (4-7), 6-7 (2-7), 6-3, 6-4, 14-12.

Krickstein, three years younger than Agenor but a tour member since 1983, has kept plugging away despite a daunting series of injuries over the years. The American's persistence was rewarded with a straight-set victory over second-seeded Michael Stich.

"I never really thought about quitting as of yet," Krickstein said. "I feel like I could play another three, four years, if I want to and can hopefully improve still a little bit more."

Ranked 33rd, Krickstein said he wouldn't rule out a return to the top 10, but "it's getting tougher every year."

Stich's ouster further weakened the bottom half of the men's draw, which already had lost No. 3 Stefan Edberg.

Fifth-seeded Croatian Goran Ivanisevic is the top-ranked player remaining in that half of the field, followed by Michael Chang, the No. 8 seed.

Cook's 13-hole 5-under paces soggy Colonial

"I like that," Cook quipped Thursday after thundershowers cut short the first round of the 48th Colonial golf tournament with him leading through 13 holes at five under par.

"I thought the person leading when it was called would be declared the winner," he joked. "Full purse. Official win."

Yes, indeed, Cook likes that.

But alas, it was not to be. PGA officials ruled that play would resume at 9 a.m. today and perhaps continue until nightfall, weather permitting.

The forecast: "More of the same," sighed Duke Butler, the PGA Tour's tournament director. But he said the plan is to somehow complete 54 holes by Saturday for a fourth and final round Sunday.

Actually, the start of the first round was delayed briefly by the soggy Colonial Country Club course, and the wet greens proved vulnerable targets once play began.

Cook, starting on the back side, shot a 4-under 31 and dipped five under with a birdie at his 11th hole.

"Next thing I knew we were eating salsa in the locker room," he laughed.

Turning serious, he added:

"It's frustrating to have a good round going and stop and not be able to finish it. I would have loved to finish. ... Anytime you chop up your round like that it's tough to get the same flow. But somehow we'll try to find it."

When the sirens sounded, Cook held a one-shot lead over Tom Lehman.

Cook's playing partner, Nick Price, was off to a fast start at three under through 13. Hale Irwin, Ken Green and Bruce Lietzke were also three under at various points on the course.

Greg Norman, the runner-up here last year, turned the front nine in 2-under 33 but fell back to even after a double-bogey at 11.

Jose double lifts K.C. past Rangers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The two-run double Felix Jose hit to give Kansas City the lead wasn't nearly as suspenseful as his catch giving the Royals the victory.

There was never any doubt about the seventh-inning shot Jose hit off Texas' Cris Carpenter Thursday afternoon. Rocketing into straightaway center, it was sure to score at least the go-ahead run from third on a sacrifice fly. When it sailed over David Hulse's head, it guaranteed two.

Then a short time later with the tying runners on base and two out in the ninth, Hulse lifted a high fly ball toward Jose in right field that disappeared in the late-afternoon sun.

But after losing the ball at the last minute, Jose regained it at the last second. Dropping to his knees, he make a tenuous catch and preserved a 3-1 verdict over the frustrated Rangers.

The loss wrapped up a 4-6 road trip for the Rangers.

Roger Pavlik, who entered 0-2 with a 20.25 ERA, shut out the Royals on nine hits through six innings, but was replaced by Rick Honeycutt (0-2) after Brian McRae singled leading off the seventh.

The Royals had nine baserunners the first three innings and wound up stranding 13 for the day. Tom Gordon (4-3) allowed one run and six hits in eight innings, struck out five and walked three. Jeff Montgomery allowed singles to the first two batters in the ninth, then finished for his seventh save.

Astros outlast Atlanta, 8-5

Hudek escaped a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the ninth inning and Caminiti had three doubles, the last keying a four-run eighth inning as the Astros beat the Atlanta Braves 8-5 in a game that ended at 1:02 this morning.

The game was delayed by a rain shower for 2 hours 8 minutes in the fifth inning and the two teams played for 3 hours and 14 minutes.

The crowd was announced at 45,976, but there were less than 3,000 on hand when it ended.

The previous night the Braves edged Houston 6-5 in a 13-inning affair that lasted 4 hours and 25 minutes and ended at 12:05 a.m.

Collins turned 45 at the stroke of midnight — the seventh inning — as the Astros took two of the three games in the series.

"He aged one year at midnight and five years in the bottom of the ninth," said Hudek, who recorded his fourth save by bailing out Mitch Williams.

Williams, who entered the game with a 7.71 ERA, gave up a leadoff single to David Justice and walked Dave Gallagher on four pitches.

That was enough for Collins, who brought on Hudek, who had given up the game-winning hit to Jeff Blauser in the 13th inning on Wednesday night.

The right-hander walked Mark Lemke to load the bases, then struck out pinch-hitter Ryan Klesko, got Deion Sanders on a force-out grounder to the mound and Blauser on a grounder to second.

Girls' softball results

Poison 32, Jade-ettes 9

The Poison outhit the Jade-ettes 24-2 on their way to a lopsided win on Thursday.

Miranda Hackford slammed two triples, two doubles and a single, Kayla Phillips tripled and ripped two extra-base hits, Brooke Williams pounded two doubles and a single, and Jeana Trefelmeyer slapped a two-sacker to lead the 4-0 Poison.

Kristen Martinez and Amber Harmeyer each chipped in three hits, and Carrie Hernandez, Priscilla Reyes and LaShonda Collins each lifted two singles.

Rebecca Digby and Cary Brown each laced a single for the Jade-ettes.

Irvin to have shoulder surgery

DALLAS (AP) — Cowboys wide receiver Michael Irvin will have exploratory surgery next week to determine whether he needs a second operation to repair a partially dislocated left shoulder.

Dallas' medical staff has recommended immediate corrective surgery for the injury, which Irvin sustained during a workout last week.

Irvin will wait until after his precautionary orthroscopic procedure before deciding what to do, Cowboys officials said.

Owner Jerry Jones said Irvin will be ready for the season.

"The procedure Michael is following guarantees he will be ready for the season," Jones told The Dallas Morning News.

Last year, Irvin had 1,330 yards receiving, his third-straight 1,000-yard season.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Texas Utilities Electric Company (TU Electric), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA), publishes NOTICE of its Statement of Intent to implement proposed Rate WPC1 - Wholesale Power Service - Cap Rock. The only customer that will be affected by the proposed tariff will be Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc. This is not a "major change" in rates within the meaning of the PURA since the charges under the proposed tariff are less than the charges that would otherwise be applicable under TU Electric's existing Rate WP - Wholesale Power Service, the tariff under which Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., presently receives service from TU Electric. The proposed effective date of the proposed tariff is June 10, 1994, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

A complete copy of the proposed tariff and TU Electric's application is on file with the Commission and at each of TU Electric's business offices.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is 45 days after the date the application was filed with the Commission. The application was filed with the Commission on May 6, 1994.

Florida law office shooting: one dead

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A man opened fire today in a downtown law office, killing one man and wounding two people. Police arrested a suspect shortly afterward.

When police arrived, the suspect was on the floor and a witness pointed him out, police spokeswoman Sonya Friedman said. The slain man was dead at the scene, police said.

Witnesses told WINZ-AM they saw an elderly man, walking with a c ane and dressed in a light-blue suit, led into a police car.

The shooting occurred in the six-floor Cumberland Building.

Kimlee Edwards, who works on the fifth floor, said she was standing by the elevator when she heard a commotion on the floor above.

"We heard a man yelling at a woman to get down on the floor, stay down, don't move," she said. The sound of gunshots followed.

Ms. Edwards said the only room she knew of on the sixth floor was a conference room used for videotaping depositions.

A man and woman were taken to Broward General Medical Center, said spokesman Chuck Malkus. The woman was listed in critical condition, and the man's condition was serious.

In the same building, divorce lawyer Eric Golden was shot to death Feb. 19, 1987, as he stepped off an elevator outside his sixth-floor office. A retiree was charged with killing Golden, who represented his ex-wife.

One kidnapper killed

MOSCOW (AP) — Commandos captured a gang of kidnappers and freed their last four hostages unharmed in southern Russia today, only hours after the gunmen fled aboard a helicopter with millions of dollars in ransom, police said.

One of the kidnappers was killed in a shootout with special forces soldiers from the Interior Ministry, said Alexander Kalmykov, a police official in the southern city of Mineralnye Vody.

There were conflicting reports about the size of the ransom.

An Mi-8 helicopter provided to the kidnappers took off at 9:15 a.m. with a three-man military crew at the controls, said Maj. Viktor Gusakov, an Interior Ministry spokesman in Mineralnye Vody.

Military helicopters carrying anti-terrorist troops followed close behind, he said.

Your Birthday

Saturday, May 28, 1994

In the year ahead you might place greater emphasis than ever before on your abilities to originate and lead. Instead of taking a back seat, you'll now feel impelled to direct events.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're required to make a decision in a joint endeavor today which could affect others, be sure to consult with your counterparts. Chances for success are magnified when all are in accord. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today it might be necessary to take a calculated risk in order to advance an endeavor that has been a bit sluggish lately. If you've studied the matter thoroughly, go for it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something about which you've been ready to give up on can be concluded to your satisfaction in this cycle and produce the types of benefits you initially anticipated. Work on it today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) An assignment you've always found distasteful may reveal its real inner self to you today and you could discover it's not as bad as it originally seemed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Bargains for which you've been looking could be out there today. Yet it might take considerable investigating to uncover them, but if you'll persist, you'll be pleased.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) An appropriate opening might present itself today that'll enable you to get something serious off your mind you've been reluctant broach, but anxious to discuss with a valued friend.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This could be a profitable day for you, but it might require expert financial gymnastics to make it happen. If you use your ingenuity and resourcefulness, desirable results are indicated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone you helped previously might request a loan from you again today. In this person's case, it may be better to say "no", because this individual needs to learn to be independent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your innate kindness won't let you exclude a hard to get along with individual from an event today. His/her gratitude may undergo a surprising twist.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You can accomplish your purpose today by not retaliating in a similar fashion to harsh individuals. This might cause them to soften to a point where they are actually amenable.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're the one who can get things back on track again in situations where good ideas have been mired down. Take it upon yourself to show others how to refine their raw concepts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Because you won't give up on individuals with whom you're closely associated, they, in turn, won't give up either. It's your persistency that inspires the transformations today.

The weak can win tricks

By Phillip Alder

We all know the story of David and Goliath, when little David used a stone thrown from a sling to down the giant Goliath. Today's deal reminds me of this. It is one of my favorite teaching deals, because inexperienced players have trouble believing that "length before strength" is valid. They would much prefer to bid an A-K-Q suit than a 6-5-4-3-2 suit.

After a predictable first round to the auction, many Souths would pass, refusing to bid a suit as weak as 5-4-3-2. But this South knew that any four-card suit is biddable, especially on the second round of the auction.

West applied the pressure with a pre-emptive raise to three hearts. However, North had sufficient distribution to justify his three-spade bid. Now South showed true courage, raising himself to game. Note that four spades is the only game contract with any chance of success.

South won the heart lead with his ace and immediately played a trump. East won and led a top heart, forcing the dummy to ruff. But declarer happily played another round of spades. When they broke 3-2, the hand was under control. Declarer played on diamonds until an opponent ruffed in, losing only three trump tricks.

True, it is easier on the nerves to have longer and stronger trumps than these. But if you enjoy a three-card majority and the opponents' trumps are dividing 3-2, which they will more than two-thirds of the time, the contract will usually be playable. The many dwarfs will overpower the few giants.

Rooster Can Raise Cain Without Raising His Head

DEAR ABBY: While rummaging through some old papers, I found a Dear Abby column about crowing roosters that I clipped, intending to respond. Here it is, finally.

The writer claimed that if a rooster can't raise his head and stretch his neck, he cannot crow.

On our small island, we kept roosters and chickens in the back yard of our parsonage. Because of other fowl in the neighborhood, crowing was no problem.

After my husband died, my son and I moved to an apartment with two chickens and a rooster. In our more closed environment, the rooster became a problem, so at dusk, we put the rooster in a box and placed it in the closet. Promptly at 3 a.m., the rooster crowed! Naively thinking, as your reader did, that a rooster needs to raise his head and stretch his neck in order to crow, we modified the box so the rooster could not stretch his neck.

You guessed it! The next morning, the rooster crowed at 3 a.m. in the very low cardboard box in a dark closet.

We finally gave the rooster away, and we still do not know what can keep a rooster from crowing. Abby, does anybody really know?

AUWINA S. WEED,
KEY WEST, FLA.

DEAR AUWINA: I am sure among my readers is an expert on fowl behavior (no pun intended) — and when I hear from him or her, I'll let you know.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I are very close. Recently I invited her to accompany me on a shopping trip to purchase a new desk.

After browsing in a few furniture stores, I saw a beautiful rolltop desk that I really liked and decided to purchase it.

My sister, who wasn't even in the market for a desk, suddenly decided that she wanted one too, so she ordered the identical desk.

I was quite annoyed, but I didn't say anything. A few days later, the subject of the desk came up, and I calmly told her I was rather upset because she had ordered a desk exactly like mine! She became defensive and told me that I was being childish, since we live in different towns and have a different circle of friends.

Abby, please don't tell me that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery.

MIFFED IN YPSILANTI, MICH.

DEAR MIFFED: Why are you "miffed"? Your sister lives in a different town — and even if she lived in the same town, why should her having a desk like yours minimize your pleasure in owning a handsome desk?

I am reminded of a letter I received from a woman who came to church on Easter Sunday and encountered not one, but two women wearing hats exactly like hers! One woman's nose was completely out of joint; she gasped and marched out of the church without looking left or right. The other women broke up laughing.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Your rules for visiting patients in a hospital were indeed timely. Our minister discussed it in his Sunday sermon, and among other comments, she said: "When you go into a patient's room, never sit down. Stand, and when you find yourself shifting from one foot to another — leave!"

HAL WALLIS, DALLAS

Convicted Dallas cop killer executed for slaying in 1981

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — A self-described rebellious drug and alcohol user who said he found God in prison was executed early today for fatally shooting a Dallas police officer 13 years ago.

Stephen Nethery, 33, in a brief final statement, asked for prayers for his family and the family of his victim, ending his comments with: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit, Amen."

Eight minutes after the lethal injection began, he was pronounced dead.

Nethery, of Daisy, Tenn., was executed for the Feb. 23, 1981, shooting death of Dallas police officer John McCarthy.

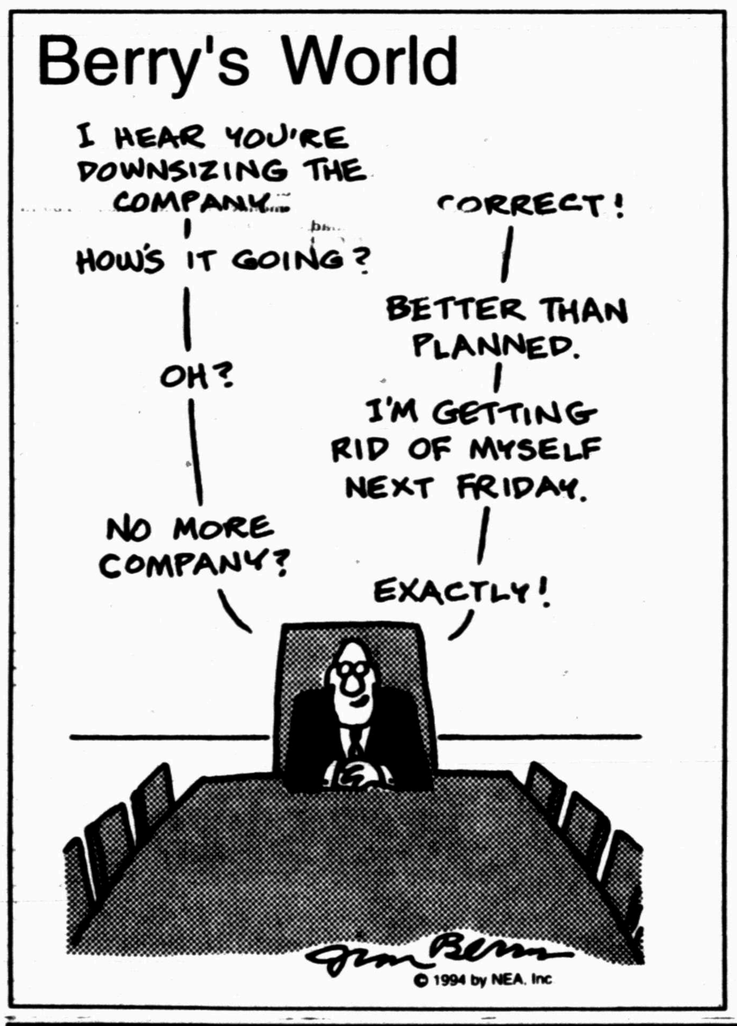
He became the sixth inmate executed in Texas this year and the 77th in the state since capital punishment resumed in 1982. The total — by far the highest in the nation — accounts for one-third of all executions in the United States since the Supreme Court allowed the death penalty to resume 18 years ago.

The execution took place about three hours after the U.S. Supreme Court, in an 8-1 decision, rejected a late appeal to spare the former construction worker.

Nethery's attorney, Mark Ticer of Dallas, contended the trial jury improperly was not allowed to consider Nethery was drunk and under the influence of marijuana when the fatal shooting occurred.

Nethery was having sex with a woman in his car at White Rock Lake in Dallas when McCarthy and his partner discovered them. The officers suggested the couple put on their clothes and leave.

Nethery responded by pulling out a .32-caliber pistol and opened fire, killing McCarthy.



Districts to renegotiate dispute

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Leaders of three underground water conservation districts have agreed to reopen negotiations over disputed claims to the Edwards aquifer.

The Edwards Underground Water District, Medina County Underground Water Conservation District and Uvalde County Underground Water Conservation District signed the agreement Thursday.

According to the three-year pact, the three boards will renew talks on a regional water management plan and formulate proposed legislation to support the plan.

They also have agreed to develop a common strategy for managing pumping from the aquifer — San Antonio's only water source — during droughts.

"This agreement forms a bridge between our districts and makes possible fair, effective and, most importantly, regionwide management of the Edwards aquifer from Uvalde County to Hays County," said Jo Ann S. De Hoyos, chairwoman of the Edwards district.

According to the four-page agreement, any of the districts may withdraw from the pact with written notice to the other parties.

The Edwards district was formed in 1959, and included Bexar, Comal, Hays, Medina and Uvalde counties.

Medina and Uvalde county voters withdrew in from the district in 1989, then formed separate, more powerful single-county districts. Those districts have statutory authority to regulate the size and location of irrigation and municipal wells.

Facts About The BIBLE

BY JOHN LEHTI

HIS WATCHMEN ARE BLIND!

"HIS WATCHMEN ARE BLIND, THEY ARE ALL IGNORANT, THEY ARE ALL DUMB DOGS, THEY CANNOT BARK, SLEEPING, LYING DOWN, LOVING TO SLUMBER."(ISA.56:10) ISAIAH WROTE THIS ADMONITION TO WARN THE PEOPLE THAT THEY MUST BE VIGILANT IN DEALING WITH THEIR POWERFUL NEIGHBORS. THIS PROPHET KNEW IT WAS NOT THE STRENGTH OF ALLIES BUT RATHER THE SPIRIT OF GOD THAT WOULD KEEP THEM FROM ALL HARM. SO AS A WATCHFUL SENTRY IN THE NIGHT GUARDS A SLEEPING ARMY, THEY HAD TO BE ALERT TO THE DANGER OF A CRAFTY ENEMY. COUNTLESS BATTLES HAVE BEEN LOST, NOT THROUGH LACK OF MANPOWER OR ARMAMENT BUT, BECAUSE THE WATCHMAN WAS ASLEEP! ISAIAH KNEW THIS BUT, UNFORTUNATELY, THE KING AND HIS ADVISORS DID NOT SEEK GOD'S GUIDANCE.
