REDUCE DEATH LIST AT TULSA

GERMANS ENGAGE FRENCH IN BATTLE IN UPPER SILESIA

KNIFE IN HAND OF HOMICIDE VICTIM, DEFENSE PROVES

TAKING OF TESTIMONY STARTS THURSDAY IN MURDER TRIAL OF A. C. CARPENTER.

DRINKING OF HAIR TONIC SHOP SAY PRECEDED TRAGEDY

State Rests Early in Afternoon and Defense Puts Character Witnesses on Stand.

A knife, held with a death like grip was in the right hand of Jack Hollingsworth when Dr. J. E. Daniel reached his side in the alley east of the Hearn hotel on the evening of March 24. Dr. Daniel told the jury what he saw there that night when he took the stand, Thursday afternoon, as the fourth witness for the defense.

The state rested its case against A. C. Carpenter on trial for the slaying of Hollingsworth at 2:10 o'clock. The defendant has showed no signs of nervousness since the trial began. His wife, a brother and his aged father have been at his side constantly, but immediately at the beginning of the afternoon session, the defendant's wife was sworn as a witness and was put under the rule with the other witnesses.

Dr. Daniel stated on cross examination that he did not know whether the knife Hollingsworth had in his hand was open or closed and further stated that he could not attempt to tell the jury that the deceased had the knife in his hand when the shooting occurred.

Use Character Witnesses.

The first three witnesses introduced by the defense were character witnesses. Glen Wright, who served as constable and marshal at Mart, Texas, the former home of the defendant, stated that Carpenter had a good reputation there as a peaceful, law abiding citizen. Frank Foster, cotton weigher at the same place, testified to the same facts as did City Attorney E. M. Mann who formerly lived there. On cross examination all three stated that they did not know his reputation since he had left Mart, some three years ago.

J. W. Ketner, a butcher, was third witness for the state. He told that he was a member of the party in the back of the drink stand where drinks were passed and that he saw the defendant enter the building.

"Carpenter had his right hand in his left bosom," the witness told, "and when he approached Jack (Hollingsworth) he placed his left hand on Jack's shoulder. Carpenter said, 'I understand that you have been making some remarks about me.'

"Jack then said, 'Let's go outside.'"

The witness then stated that he started to leave the place and had just got out of the door on Eighth street when he heard two shots fired. He said he left and did not return. When asked whether he saw Hollingsworth have a knife in his hand the witness told on cross examination that the only time he saw the deceased with a knife was when he opened the bottle of hair tonic but that he replaced it in his pocket immediately.

Wounds Are Described.

John Taylor, the second witness for the state, told that he preceded the defendant and the deceased out of the side door and that the shooting took place before he could turn around.

Dr. M. A. Beckman testified that Hollingsworth was dead. He described the wounds and told that one bullet entered the left arm between the elbow and the shoulder near the biceps muscle. The bullet went through the arm, and entered the left side of the body, struck a rib and was extracted near the back bone, it being just under the skin.

The other bullet, the doctor told, entered the back piercing the back bone two-thirds of the way down, ranged downward and lodged under the right collar bone. It was this last bullet that produced death, the physician stated.

Had Expected Trouble.

J. O. Bobo saw the defendant about 20 minutes before the shooting took place, he told the jury, at the domino parlor on Seventh street near Ohio. He testified that Carpenter told him at that time that he was going to have some trouble with Hollingsworth. He told that the defendant was armed at the time.

J. Elliott, who was in charge of the Grand Domino parlor on the day of the shooting stated that Carpenter stood in front of the place at 4:45 that evening while Hollingsworth was talking to him inside the building. The witness said that while he was talking to the deceased that the defendant raised his blow torch as a recognition.

Fifth Defense Witness.

At a late hour this afternoon the defense called the fifth witness to the stand. It was evident that they sought to prove that the defendant fired the shots believing himself to be in apparent danger.

Examination of over two score witnesses, who were summoned to testify in the case against A. C. Carpenter, charged with murder was begun Thursday morning at 11 o'clock when Pink Rhodes was called to the stand.

The twelfth juror was selected at 10:40 o'clock. Another special venire was summoned during the night and morning. Those chosen to compose the jury are: J. Frank Wolfe, J. C. Winfrey, W. H. Gwinn, J. A. Giddings, J. S. Meredith, B. F. Chapman, W. L. Brown, R. W. Schucht, W. E. Vaught,

HEAD OF THE ALLIED COMMISSION RESIGNS

By Associated Press.

OPPELN, SILESIA, June 2.—General Lerond, head of the allied commission for Upper Silesia, has been recalled, it is unofficially reported here.

Paris Denies Report.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, June 2.—The foreign office today issued a denial of the reports from Upper Silesia that General Lerond, head of the inter-allied commission there, has been recalled.

By Associated Press.

OPPELN, June 2.—French soldiers forming the garrison of Beuthen, a city in southeastern Silesia near the old Polish frontier, have been attacked by forces organized by the German inhabitants of the town. Reports state the Germans in the fighting numbered 3,000. The French used tanks in charging the Germans, and are said to have gained the upper hand. There have been many German casualties, it is reported, but the French have not suffered losses.

The situation at Beuthen is complicated by the presence of Polish insurgent forces around the city. The Poles began a fight with Germans in the outskirts of the town on Sunday, and when the French were attacked, the Poles rushed to their assistance. Reports from Beuthen are not entirely clear but it would appear that the French commander refused the proffered aid, as it said the French are holding the Poles from entering the town.

The attack by the Germans on the French is said to have been well played. Telegraph and telephone wires between the French headquarters and the barracks were cut, sentries were driven back and the headquarters detachment was surrounded. Tanks were rushed to the scene and the Germans, who were armed with pistols, attempted to capture the machines but were repulsed and were driven into adjacent buildings, from the windows of which a hot fire was opened. The tanks charged on the buildings, firing volleys through the doors and windows.

Situation Is Grave.

The situation at Beuthen is reported by neutral refugees reaching here to be grave. The German population of the city is declared to be desperate. Food supplies are running short and there has been much looting during recent nights.

All wire communication between Beuthen and Kattowitz, further south, has been interrupted since Sunday. Refugees arriving here said the French at Kattowitz have killed a number of Poles who attempted to loot two motor lorries loaded with food, and it is declared there were some French casualties.

Germans and Poles have been engaged in a battle near Gross Strehlitz, just east of the Oder river and south of Oppeln. The Germans have attacked the Poles and have forced the insurgents to withdraw from strong positions.

German dead and wounded have been removed from the scene of this fight which took place at Posnowitz, about five miles west of Gross-Strehlitz, and were taken to Krappitz, a town on the west bank of the Oder. When wagons loaded with German dead entered Krappitz the populace was so excited that Baron Von Fless, commander of German volunteer organizations there, had difficulty in controling the temper of his officers.

See Dead Removed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press was at Krappitz when these wagons entered the town and saw the dead, who ranged from sixteen years to sixty, removed from them. The improvised ambulances which brought the wounded from the scene of the fighting were parked in rows in the court of the castle at Krappitz.

Women began volunteering last night for service at the front. A number of women, wearing men's clothing, are driving wagons and automobiles, some of them carrying army revolvers in their belts. The Germans are sending every man possessing any sort of weapon to the Posnowitz front.

Advices received here state the Germans in control of the city of Gleiwitz, about 10 miles northwest of Beuthen, have mined the town and will wreck it if the Poles attempt to capture the place. Members of the Black Watch, constituting a part of the British forces sent into Silesia, have reached Stubendorff, about six miles northwest of Gross-Strehlitz, and Polish sentries are on duty only a short distance away. French soldiers are in undisputed possession of Gross-Strehlitz.

It is reported in German circles here that orders have been issued by the Poles to destroy everything as they retreat, should the British advance.

Allied officials have received advices indicating the probability of considerable lawlessness and looting in the next few days, since the Poles are losing control of the situation. The Germans informed the British that as soon as the allied advance began German protective organizations, which have been secretly organized in towns in the territory occupied by the Poles, would go into action and would attempt to prevent the destruction of property.

The industrial situation in Upper Silesia, with the exception of the Myslowith district, is laid to be chaotic.

URGE INVESTIGATION OF THE CLOTHING WORKERS

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Congressional investigation of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America was urged before the senate labor committee today by representatives of clothing manufacturers who attacked the union as a "red menace" to American industry.

PRESIDENT HOPES NATION MAY NEVER FIRE GUN IN WAR

DELIVERS ADDRESS BEFORE THE GRADUATING CLASS OF NAVAL ACADEMY.

WANTS AMERICA TO BE A REPUBLIC OF CONSCIENCE

Defense of Country Inherent And One of Noblest Things in This World, He Says.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 2.—A hope that the nation would never be called upon to fire a gun in war again was expressed by President Harding today in presenting diplomas to the graduating class at the naval academy. The president added a promise that while he was president the young men graduating today never would have to go to war except in a cause that squared the American conscience.

"A good deal is said nowadays," said Mr. Harding, "about preparing for defense. I know nothing nobler in this world than the defense of one's own country. That is an inherent thing in man, planted in the human breast by God Almighty. There wouldn't be any civilization today if men were not willing to give their all for its preservation.

"But the preservation of the established order is one thing, and it is highly essential, while crusading for a new order is quite another thing, sometimes most nobly inspired, sometimes most illy advised. I can believe the ideal for our country is a sensible blend of the maintenance of the established order and the enthusiasm of the crusader.

"I want to say to you, young men, I hope you'll never be called upon to draw a sword nor fire a gun except in the expression of the customary amity and respect. And I promise you that while I am president, you'll never be called to fire a gun except you can do it with the American conscience, with which you can answer to God.

"I do not want to be misunderstood. I want an America unafraid but I want you to help make a republic of conscience, a republic of sympathy and a republic of high ideals."

BILL TO AUTHORIZE THE PRESIDENT TO MAINTAIN TREATY RIGHTS OF ALIENS

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A bill authorizing the president to maintain through federal courts or otherwise and irrespective of any state law, treaty rights of aliens in the United States, was introduced today by Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, and referred to the foreign relations committee. It would specifically permit use of the army or navy as well as United States marshals to enforce court rulings.

Where such alien rights were contravened in the judgment of the president, he would be authorized to instruct the attorney general to assume the defense of civil or criminal suits against aliens and transfer the issue to federal courts. While no specific application was described in the bill, it was said it might be available under cases arising out of state statutes such as the California anti-alien land law.

GERMAN SERGEANT SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS IN PRISON

LEIPSIC, June 2.—The high court in session here, trying Germans charged with offenses committed during the war, today sentenced Sergeant Neuman, accused of ill treating British prisoners, to six months' imprisonment.

TROOPS DO NOT PARADE AROUND CAPITAL WHEN CHILEAN CONGRESS MEETS

SANTIAGO, June 1.—For the first time in the history of Chile troops did not parade around the capital during the joint session of congress which convened today. The annual message of President Alessandri was favorably received, especially parts dealing with international matters. Among the chief recommendations was the granting of free instruction to over 300,000 children.

International commerce, the message said, reached 1,246,000,000 pesos gold in 1920 which was made up of 455,000,000 pesos in imports and 791,000,000 pesos in exports.

President Alessandri made special mention of the railway loan recently negotiated in the United States, referring to it as destined to strengthen the cordiality of the American people, "whose greatness is recognized throughout the world."

STATE ENGINEERS MAKE INSPECTION OF IOWA PARK ROAD

R. M. Hubbard and D. K. Martin, representing the state highway department, Thursday morning made an inspection of the Iowa Park road paving, with a view to recommendations for state aid for the work in this county.

They were accompanied by County Judge Jones and County Engineer Isbell; also by T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, J. A. Richolt and I. H. Roberts, representing the chamber of commerce.

Wichitans who returned from the inspection at noon said that the engineers expressed hearty praise of the methods used and results obtained on the Iowa Park road, and appeared entirely satisfied. Messrs. Hubbard and Martin went on to Wilbarger county from Electra.

THREE AND HALF LIBERTY BONDS QUOTED AT 86.06

NEW YORK, June 2.—The further decline of 3½ per cent tax exempt bonds to 88.06, an overnight loss of 78 points and the lowest price ever registered by that issue, was one of the striking features of the first half of the session of today's stock market.

Decision of the federal reserve bank to reduce loan values on liberty banks and victory notes probably contributed to the further reaction.

Liberty 2½s rallied vigorously in the last hour from their minimum, recovering to within a fraction of yesterday's final price of 86.84.

EXPECTED TO REMOVE "PENALIZING RATES" FOR RESERVE BANKS

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Progressive rediscount rates now in effect in the St. Louis and Kansas City reserve districts—described by President Harding recently as "penalizing rates"—probably will be removed by the federal reserve board soon, it was said today at the treasury.

Leading bankers of the country who conferred recently with President Harding suggested that these rates be removed to ease credit conditions, particularly for the agricultural interests. In the view of the treasury officials, the reason for the establishment of progressive rates have disappeared and their operation is thought to be no longer necessary.

Such a step by the reserve board, in the treasury's opinion, would be in line with a general lowering of rates which is thought to be coming during the summer as a result of accumulated reserves and a better financial situation over the country.

According to reports to the treasury, bankers generally are doing what they can to assist the agricultural industry both through credit extension and by a tendency to refrain from forcing liquidation of crops held awaiting better prices.

PACKER CONTROL BILL IS PASSED IN HOUSE

Places Packing Houses and Stock Yards Under Supervision of Secretary of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Haugen packer control bill was passed today by the house without a record vote and sent to the senate.

The measure places packing houses and stock yards under the supervision of the secretary of agriculture, who is authorized to prescribe regulations. Packers and stockyard proprietors would be required to establish accounting systems and keep records that would clearly show profits and ownership.

TYLER APPOINTED TO TAKE TESTIMONY IN BOUNDARY CASE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Fred S. Tyler of this city was appointed today by the supreme court as commissioner to take testimony on the question of "what constitutes the south bank of the Red river and as to where along that bank is the true boundary line as between the states of Oklahoma and Texas."

Mr. Tyler's instructions were to receive and report the testimony "without findings as to facts or law," and was given the power to issue subpoenas.

SEC. HUGHES ENDORSES THE CENTRAL AMERICAN FEDERATION OF STATES

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Formal endorsement of the Central American federation of states was voiced today by Secretary Hughes in an address at a luncheon in his honor given by Maximo H. Zapada, Nicaraguan foreign minister. Mr. Hughes said that if the proposal for confederation were acquiesced in by all the peoples concerned, it would "in the opinion of this government be a happy result."

TIDE OF BUSINESS FAILURES RECEDING

NEW YORK, June 2.—The tide of business failures continue to recede slowly, according to reports received by Bradstreet's for the month of May. These showed 1,338 failures for the month, a decrease of 7.4 per cent from the April aggregate and the smallest monthly total recorded since November, 1920.

SECRETARY DENBY URGES RESPECT FOR THE ENLISTED MAN

TELLS NAVAL GRADUATES THEY MUST BE OFFICERS BUT NOT SNOBS.

FREE FROM A COOLISH VANITY OF THEIR RANK

Bespeaks For New Officers a Spiritual Consecration to Their Duties.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 2.—In presenting commissions to the graduating class of the naval academy here today, Secretary Denby, himself an enlisted man in the navy in the Spanish-American war and a private, sergeant and commissioned officer in the marine corps in the world war, struck a new note in urging that professional attributes of the naval officer be combined with respect for the enlisted force.

"You must so conduct yourselves that your superior in rank shall respect you, your equals love you and those under your command obey you with a smile," the secretary said. "You must be officers, but not snobs. Your commissions are ill-bestowed unless you are free from a coolish vanity of rank.

"Pride should be yours, a very just and honest pride in your uniform. That pride may the best be shown by so wearing that uniform that all must honor it and you.

"No one knows better than I with what great respect the enlisted man looks upon an officer who is 'every inch a man.' No one knows better than I with what contempt the enlisted man views the officer who is unduly burdened with the weight of his own importance.

"The enlisted man will quickly size you up. He wants to like you. He wants to respect you. He quite properly feels that he is too much a man himself to want to be commanded by one lacking any essenial element of manhood."

Reviewing the deeds of the navy, Secretary Denby bespoke in the new officers a spiritual consecration to duty and added: "When the red day comes, if come it must, when in the flame of battle your souls are taken from you under our country's flag, you will die as gentlemen should die, honest and simple and brave, regretting nothing and glad that you have so lived as to merit so worthy a death."

JURY IS UNABLE TO AGREE IN THE SHEARMAN CASE

EL PASO, June 2.—The jury in the case of C. P. Shearman, his sons, Neil, John and Allen, and Thomas Mendoza, charged with the murder of Arch A. Wood, prohibition enforcement officer, was still out at noon today. The deliberating body took the case at noon yesterday and has made but one report—that it was hopelessly disagreed. This was at 5 o'clock yesterday, when the court sent the jurors back for further deliberation.

REPORTED KING GEORGE TO OPEN ULSTER PARLIAMENT

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, June 2.—The News Letter today says it has learned "on very good authority that King George will visit Belfast for the purpose of opening the Ulster parliament in state on June 21.

ARE UNABLE TO CONFIRM REPORT OF THE KING'S PLAN

LONDON, June 2.—The Irish office today stated it was unable to confirm the report that the king would open the parliament of north Ireland in Belfast on June 21.

LITTLE PROGRESS NEGOTIATING RAIL WAGE AGREEMENTS

CHICAGO, June 2.—The status of negotiations over working agreements between railroad employes and the individual roads is "anything but satisfactory," B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of labor, declared today.

Delay in the negotiation of new agreements to replace the national agreements has been caused on several roads by disputes as to the jurisdiction of employes' committees, it was learned.

The question of jurisdiction in the case of five roads was before the railroad labor board today in an attempt to straighten out the tangle. These include the Texas & Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

Not a single agreement for any group of employes on any road has yet been signed, Mr. Jewell said.

NINE WHITE MEN KNOWN DEAD IDENTIFY FIFTEEN DEAD NEGROES; OFFICERS BLAMED FOR THE RIOT

KNOWN WHITE DEAD.

TULSA, OKLA., June 2.—A check of the morgues today showed nine known white dead. They were:

WALTER DAGGS, local manager of the Pierce Oil corporation.

ARTHUR JONES, Wynona, Okla.

CLEO SHUMATE, Tulsa, son of Mrs. William M. Ingersoll, Neodesha, Kans.

CARL IOTSPOICH, 28, Tulsa.

F. M. BARKER, Haviland, Kans., who carried an identification card with name of Norman Gillard, Tulsa.

HOMER C. CLYNE, 16 years old, of Tulsa.

S. J. WITHROW, 19 years old, Tulsa.

ERNEST AUSTIN, 30, Tulsa.

Unidentified man about 40 years old.

TULSA, OKLA., June 2.—At a meeting in the municipal building today various Tulsa citizens charged that a complete fall-down of the city and county law enforcement officials was responsible for the rioting and incendiarism here Tuesday night and Wednesday morning which so far has resulted in the known deaths of nine white men and 18 negroes, the wounding of nearly 300 persons, and fire loss to negro property estimated at $1,500,000.

Adjutant General Barrett, commanding the state troops in Tulsa county under a declaration of martial law by Governor J. B. A. Robertson, was equally emphatic in charging that a complete fall-down of the local peace officers was responsible for the rioting and said that the factors which led to it were an impudent negro, a hysterical girl and a yellow journal reporter.

General Barrett said that he came to Tulsa with 100 uniformed men from Oklahoma City and in short time pacified 25,000 armed, milling men, and said the sheriff could have done it with equal facility if he had used his power to deputize assistants. The general said the presence of six uniformed policemen or a half dozen deputy sheriffs at the county building Tuesday night, when whites, bent on taking from the jail Dick Rowland, a 19-year-old negro bootblack, charged with attacking a white girl, clashed with negroes intent on protecting Rowland, would have prevented the riot.

He added that men holding special permits to carry weapons, chiefly were instrumental in inciting the outbreak and did most of the shooting.

He said a rigid court of inquiry or grand jury investigation should determine the guilty persons.

After speeches in which Tulsa residents assumed responsibility for the riot, through having been negligent, a committee of seven civic leaders, as appointed to care temporarily for all helpless negroes, estimated well in excess of 2,000 and to rebuild on long term payments or as gifts, the homes destroyed in the negro quarter.

NINE WHITE MEN DEAD FIFTEEN NEGROES IDENTIFIED

TULSA, OKLA., June 2.—Outwardly Tulsa resumed its normal atmosphere today except for the presence under a martial law proclamation of approximately 500 Oklahoma national guardsmen sent here yesterday after many hours of rioting between negroes and white men, including a night of incendiarism in which virtually the entire negro quarter was destroyed with a loss of $1,500,000. Shortly before 10 o'clock Adjutant General C. F. Barrett announced that the number of state troops here would be reduced today to 250, with the lifting of martial law depending on the apparent ability of city and county authorities to cope with the situation.

As the situation rapidly quieted down today the estimates of killed and wounded dwindled. Nine white men dead had been identified today and 15 dead negroes were accounted for.

Basis for estimates that still ranged as high as 40 negroes dead was the possibility of an unknown number of bodies having been destroyed when the torch was applied to the residence district. Casual search of the quarter failed to disclose additional bodies or bones today but a thorough search by the guardsmen was on.

Business houses in Tulsa opened as usual today, and the customary crowds were on the street. From 5:30 o'clock negroes began coming from their hiding places and riding or walking to their employment. Some wore white handkerchiefs around their arms, others were tagged with a white ribbon badge printed "police protection," but many went along unmolested without any marking of disinterestedness.

Establishment today of the death of Ernest Austin, 30 years old, of Tulsa, brought the list of known white dead to nine. Austin previously had been identified as F. M. Baker of Haviland, Kan. Baker, it was discovered, was wounded and died in a hospital early today.

Grand Jury Investigation.

Governor J. B. A. Robertson, who came here yesterday from Oklahoma City to assume personal charge of the efforts to restore order, this morning said he felt assured the trouble was over and that he would return to the capital at 1:30 p. m. He said he intended to insist on a rigid grand jury investigation of the clash. He was non-commital as to the lifting of martial law, and also as to efforts to establish the exact number of dead and wounded.

The list of wounded mounted gradually as persons who previously had not been treated called on physicians. The approximate number was placed at 240, with the belief that many more than that were hurt but did not report their injuries.

The plight of more than 5,000 negroes under joint guard and protection at the fair grounds was regarded as serious today. Many of them lost their entire possessions when fire swept their district. It is understood an effort is being made to sift from the negroes at the fair grounds those who participated in the initial clash at the county building Tuesday night when white men bent on taking from the jail Dick Rowland, 19-year-old bootblack, alleged to have attacked a white girl, met armed negroes, whose intention was to protect Rowland from being lynched.

As rapidly as a negro at the fair

TESTIFIES CHESTER WAS NORMAL WITH EXCEPTION OF COLD

KANSAS CITY, June 2.—Dr. Paul P. Halleck, a resident interne at the city hospital, told the jury trying Densel Chester that he attended Chester while he was a patient at the hospital and found him normal in every way and suffering from nothing more than a cold.

Chester was never tortured, Dr. Halleck said, and the only part of Chester's testimony, given yesterday, regarding the treatment he received that was true, according to the doctor, was that a small quantity of spinal fluid was taken from his back in order to make a test as to his physical condition.

DEFENSE RESTS IN THE CASE OF DENSEL CHESTER

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 2.—The defense in the case of Densel Chester, accused of the murder of Miss Florence Barton, rested its case this morning, with the understanding that it would be allowed to introduce one more witness this afternoon.

I. B. Kimbrell, special prosecutor for the state, said he did not care to cross-examine Chester.

The defendant, who yesterday told a sensational story of having been slugged and beaten on a train by detectives who were guarding him, of a three months' loss of memory and of various tortures which he asserted were inflicted on him while a prisoner in the city hospital in Kansas City, did not resume the stand this morning.

The state in rebuttal called J. A. Leppart, a former policeman, who testified that he saw Chester and Fred Roberts in a motor car in front of his place between 10 and 11 o'clock the night of October 2. He said there was a third man in the car with them. Both Chester and Roberts have denied on the stand there there was a third man with them.

Leppart said the car in which the men were riding was an old, dusty-looking touring car. The state has contended and its witnesses have testified that three men riding in a car of the make and model described, stopped beside the car in which Miss Barton was killed and that one of the men, alleged to be Chester, fired the shot that killed her.

SAYS THE OIL SUPPLY WILL BE EXHAUSTED IN 16 YEARS

COLUMBUS, OHIO, June 2.—The oil supply of the United states will be exhausted in 16 years, if present rates of production are kept up, and no new producing territory is discovered, it is asserted by Professor John A. Bownocker, state geologist and professor of geology at Ohio State University.

According to Professor Bownocker, the United States has petroleum reserves amounting to six or seven billion barrels. The rate of production in 1920 was 440 million barrels a year. However, this is thought to be the highest mark production will reach, Bownocker said geologists believe. The production rate is expected to decline this year.

Thus, Professor Bownocker points out, this country actually can produce oil for longer than 16 years, but at a constantly decreasing rate each year.

More than 60 per cent of the world's oil supply is produced in the United States. Much oil is imported here from Mexico, second in oil production, but, Professor Bownocker declared, at Mexico's present rate of production, her wells will cease to be a factor in two or three years.

EFFORTS TO PROVOKE A GENERAL STRIKE FAILS

BUENOS AIRES, June 2.—Efforts by communists to cause a general strike in Argentina have thus far failed to win complete success. All public services, except taxicabs, continue in operation.

The maritime strike effective yesterday, tied up many Argentine Navigation company vessels, but the concern began recruiting non-union crews.

Various small manufacturing concerns, including flour mills, bakeries and print shops, were closed down yesterday.

Newspapers generally credit the authorities with preventing the spread of the strike by vigorous repression of communist activities.

Few additional workers walked out today and reports from various quarters said that some of the returners were returning to their posts and that the places of others were being successfully filled.

SAYS THE HOUSE WILL ELIMINATE $98,000,000 OF NAVY APPROPRIATION

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Elimination by the house of practically all of the $98,000,000 added to the naval appropriation bill by the senate was forecast today by Representative Kelly, republican, of Michigan, chairman of the house conferees on the measures. He declared the house had gone the limit in providing $296,000,000 for the navy.

"The house," said Mr. Kelly, "will agree to the senate provision for a navy after July 1 of 120,000 instead of 100,000 men."

He added, however, that the house might yield on the senate item for new navy aircraft.

TO EXTEND INDEBTEDNESS OF THE FUR EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—The New York and St. Louis banks have decided not to extend the apparent $14,000,000 indebtedness of the International Fur Exchange, it was announced today.

ONLY ONE COUNTRY IS NOW TWO COUNTRIES AND BOTH IMAGINARY

SUCH IS WAY THE WORLD LOOKS UPON JAPAN SAYS MR. RUSSELL.

NOT SEEKING OTHER LANDS TO COLONIZE HER PEOPLE

Country Has Sufficient Territory Even For the Fast Growing Population.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
Special Correspondent of The Wichita Daily Times.
(Copyright, 1921, Wichita Daily Times)

TOKIO, June 2.—Imaginary men, mountains, islands, countries, animals, fruits and flowers have always danced more or less before the vision of man in his febrile or vinous hours—griffins, hippogriffs, basilisks, Lilliputians, anthropophagi and pink monkeys—but so far as I know Japan is the only country on record that was two countries at the same time and both imaginary.

That is the way the world has elected to look at her. Part of us are confirmed in the habit of thinking of Japan as a country desperately driven because of its narrow limits and its swelling populations to go forth and grab additional land wherever land can be found. The rest of us are just as certain that Japan has a tremendous ambition to rule the world and by stealth, by trick, by bargain or by open depredation is busily annexing territory day and night.

The only thing we agree about is that Japan is either a basilisk or a hippogriff menacing us with destruction and therefore on with the new battleships and be quick about them.

For the notion that Japan is forced without its will into land-grabbing to get room for its people to stand on there are some supporting facts. I suppose there were supporting facts for the conception of the Minotaur and the jobberwock. The population of Japan increases about 700,000 a year. Only 19 per cent of its soil is tillable; the rest is mountain and rock. On this 19 per cent the population is about as dense as in any other country on earth. Almost every inch that will grow anything has its green blade. Now, men say, shall this Japan feed its annual increase of hungry mouths except by getting more land? And as she is an island and islands don't stretch, there is nothing for her but to grab on the land and to send forth her teeming legions to till them.

Hence these visions of overflowing Japanese colonies all about the earth with which we are regaled every three weeks in congress. Today the horrible specter of a Japanese colony makes its appalling presence known at Magdalena bay. Tomorrow it will be in Peru, the next the hideous thing will be in Colombia, Ecuador, Moldavia, Thibet or Winch, menacing our interests with its vast brown hordes and of course necessitating more battleships.

But the odd fact is, if any of us care for the facts, that Japan isn't driven to seek additional land on which to plant the feet of her people; she has land enough. And her people are not thronging in vast hordes to colonize other countries; they are clinging tooth and nail to their native soil and in general can't be coaxed, bought, lured or bribed to do anything else.

In Formosa, for instance, which has been for 26 years Japanese territory, and where exists every opportunity for profit and every condition to invite, the zealous efforts of the government have planted a Japanese population of fewer than 300,000.

In Korea, also now Japanese territory, the Oriental Development company, a government institution, has been trying for years to induce Japanese people to take up fertile farms in an attractive climate and with money and every conceivable advantage has been able to get only about 300 families a year.

In the whole of North America, including the terrible Magdalena bay, Mexico, Canada, California and all, there are only 135,618 Japanese. In South America where the venerable Henry Cabot Lodge sees the monster advancing with giant stride there are all told 31,161. In China, well-known to be the goal of Japan's depraved intentions, only 27,377.

These figures knock the stuffing out of the idea that Japan has entered upon any colossal scheme to make the world Japanese by colonizing it. The 1,209 Japanese in all Mexico would not seem to demand much of a battleship to disperse; the seven in Uruguay would hardly seem to menace the Monroe doctrine enough to keep us awake at night; we may learn without a shudder that there are three in one city on the coast of Chili.

Well, then, what is the trouble and why does Japan look so steadfastly away from home and why does she follow this aggressive policy toward China and what is the meaning of her advances in Manchuria?

It isn't that she wants territory on which to plant people and so start Japanese colonies and expand the empire but that she wants raw material on which she can keep them busy at home.

Japan is changing over from an agricultural to a manufacturing and commercial nation. As she changes more and more the greater becomes her need of raw materials, the less becomes her need for room.

Her advantages in manufacturing are a fair coal supply, much water power and a population with a low standard of living, a low wage scale, great industry and a gift of manual dexterity. Furnish now the raw material and if these conditions continue Japan will become one of the foremost manufacturing and carrying nations of the world.

On the soil that she has at present there is plenty of room to house a factory population.

What she seeks therefore in China, Manchuria, Siberia, is not room, but iron, wool, cotton, wheat, oil.

She needs for her woolen factories 100,000 bales of wool a year; she raises fewer than 1,000.

Her cotton manufacturing has grown so fast that from 1917 to 1919 her imports of raw cotton more than doubled. She must have them always increasing supplies.

In the metal trades, her imports of iron ingots more than doubled in the same time; or iron bars, rods and the like from $52,000,000 worth to $126,-000,000 worth.

Of nickel her imports increased fourfold; of tin, lead and leather they doubled.

Glance for a moment at the figures of Japan's memorable advance in the ship building industry, less than five years being shown here:

Number of yards, end of 1912, six; March, 1918, 57.

Capital invested in these, end of 1913, $12,775,000; March, 1918, $81,-525,000.

Funded debt of these, end of 1913, $1,800,000; March, 1918, $11,025,000.

Number of cradles in them, end of 1913, 17; March, 1918, 157.

Number of workers in ship yards, end of 1913, 26,139; March, 1918, 97,-655.

In 1918 the Japanese ship yards turned out 324 steel steamers of more than 1,000 tons each, or a total tonnage of 1,107,338, and even after the great slump in ship building following the close of the war, they were building at the rate of about 500,000 tons a year.

Consider also the growth of the Japanese mercantile marine. In 1893 it consisted of only 15,000 of large vessels in ternational commerce. It has grown to 709,000 tons in 1896, 1,527,000 in 1906, and 2,452,000 in 1916.

With its cheap and skilled labor Japan can build and operate ships more cheaply than almost any other nation. It has before it therefore by legitimate competition a large part of the carrying trade of the world. But to build its ships it must have iron. Its own iron deposits are small, it turns therefore to the nearest country that has iron, which is China, and as China has not hitherto developed its resources Japan starts in, with no very nice or delicate methods to make sure of the developing.

Then the terrified world sees the basilisk eyes and awful claws of the monster, as it begins to absorb a nation of 400,000,000 inhabitants.

In 1914 there were 5,266 manufacturing companies in Japan, having a paid-up capital of $426,784,000. Four years later there were 8,221 such companies with a paid up capital of $848,-855,000. The number of factories has increased from 17,062 to 23,391; the number of employes from 853,964 to 1,409,196.

The wise and the experienced will not need to seek further than these figures to find the true origin of the jobberwock. Startled competitors and frightened jealousy can see a monster in every shadow.

PENN-BURK WELL IS DOWN ABOUT 2,000 FEET

VERNON, TEXAS, June 2.—The Penn-Burk well, west of town, is now at the "critical" depth, about 2,000 feet, and developments are expected at almost any time. The test is being carried on in unproved territory. A heavy blue shale was encountered at 1,900 feet. Drillers expect to strike the pay sand at 2,200 feet.

PROVINCIAL REFERENDUM IN STYRIA ON AUGUST 3

GRAZ, AUSTRIA, May 31.—The Styrian provincial died today adopted a motion of the so-called German party, supported by the Christian socialists and peasants, fixing August 3 as the date for holding a provincial referendum on the question of fusion with Germany. It is reported that the Jugo-Slavs threaten, if the Styrian plebiscite decides for Germany, they will occupy the provinces of Styria and Calinthia.

CLINE IS SCHEDULED FOR ADDRESS BEFORE TARIFF ASSOCIATION

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, June 2.—Plans for carrying the fight for a tariff on southern products to the senate finance committee when the tariff bill comes up before that body for consideration will be discussed at the meeting of the Southern Tariff congress here Saturday, according to W. M. Massie, president of the local chamber of commerce and ad director of the Southern Tariff association which is holding the congress.

The failure of the sub-committees of the ways and means committee to specify a sufficient rate of duty on hides, vegetables and mineral oil is a distinct blow to these industries, according to Mr. Massie and every effort will be made to get the finance committee of the senate to raise the rate of duty to a figure that will enable producers to compete with foreign products.

Besides President Massie, speakers for the tariff congress are: John H. Kirby, Houston, president of the Southern Tariff association; R. L. Henry of Waco; Nathan Adams of Dallas; Thos. L. Blanton, congressman from Texas; W. W. Turney of El Paso, president of the Texas Cattle Raisers association; N. A. Shaw of Texarkana, president of the Texas Farmers league; Louis J. Wortham of Fort Worth; Will H. Gray of Tulsa; Ike T. Pryor of San Antonio; Geo. M. Thurmond of Del Rio; Ed Woodall of Hillsboro; Walter Cline of Wichita Falls; E. G. Senter of Arlington and others.

Many prominent club women from different parts of Texas are expected to attend the congress here to listen to the tariff discussions.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., June 2.—Mrs. Ethel Hutchinson Nott, on trial here charged with the murder of her husband, George B. Nott, today pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. Judge William Maltbie sentenced her to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Mott had been on trial two weeks.

Robert De Forest for the defense today addressed the court, saying that "certain documentary evidence had come into the possession of the state since this trial began that has put a different aspect on the case. The defense is ready to offer a plea to a charge of murder in the second degree."

The documentary evidence to which Mr. De Forest referred consisted of some fifty letters written by Mrs. Mott to Elwood B. Wade while they both were in jail here. Wade was hanged recently for his part in the crime.

WARREN S. STONE TO GET SALARY OF $25,000 A YEAR

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 2.—Warren S. NO DECISION YET AS TO APPEAL OF ELECTION CONTEST

Police Commissioner Brailey said Thursday that he had reached no decision as to his course in the contest proceedings, and did not know whether he would proceed with the appeal which was instituted following the decision of Judges Napier and Martin, that the election should be run over.

In the event the appeal is carried to the higher courts, no final action is probable before late in the year, as the higher courts are not in session during September, and it would be fall before the matter could even be presented for consideration.

PLAN FOR ERECTION OF A NEW CHURCH BUILDING

VERNON, TEXAS, June 2.—At a meeting of the congregation of the Federated Prebyterian church here, a resolution was adopted calling for the institution of a canvass for the purpose of erecting a new church within the next twelve months. It is planned to start a campaign for funds by November 1 of this year. Sixteen thousand dollars are now on hand, and it is intended building a structure costing in the neighborhood of $75,000. There are over 350 members in the local Presbyterian church.

Save Your Trees

Were your fruit trees hit by the frost? If so, what should you do with them? You will know if you read next week's issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

The frost this spring cut a wide swath clean across the country and nipped in the bud a startling proportion of our prospective fruit harvest for the year—it is estimated that as much as 30% of the apple crop is lost.

In next week's issue, Benjamin Wallace Douglas tells what he plans to do with his frozen trees. His story shows how the forehanded farmer can prepare now to make up this year's losses with a bumper yield next year. It shows, too, how the indifferent orchardist may lose not only this season's crop, but perhaps his trees as well.

In the following issue E. V. Wilcox pictures another aspect of the situation in a snappy article, Where the Great Freeze Hit. And just as THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN serves the fruit grower, so it keeps every farmer in touch with all the national news of his business. For a whole year—52 issues—this service costs but $1.00.

If you're a farmer, you need it.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE SPECKLED BAND

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far:

Early one morning Helen Stoner came terrified to Holmes for help. She said she lived with her stepfather, the last survivor of one of the oldest families in England, the Roylotts of Stoke Moran. He was a physician who had given up practicing after having beaten a servant to death in anger in India. In India Dr. Roylott had married Helen's mother, who had died not long after returning to England, and Helen and her sister had since lived with him. Helen's mother left all her money to her husband until her daughters should marry.

He developed a violent temper. He let gypsies live on the run-down estate. He kept a cheetah and a baboon from India. And he was the terror of the neighborhood. Two years before her sister, who had just become engaged, died tragically. One evening, complaining of the smell of tobacco in her room, which was next her uncle's, she went to Helen's room, and told her that each night she heard a low whistle. She returned to her room and locked the door. A few hours later Helen heard her scream out in terror and rushed to her. She muttered, "It was the Speckled Band," and shortly died in agony.

Helen herself had recently become engaged to Mr. Percy Armitage, and she felt that she was herself in danger. Some repairs had been started in her room and Dr. Roylett had asked her to occupy the room in which her sister had died. There in the silence of the middle of the night she had heard the low whistle which had heralded her sister's death. Her stepfather, who had been cruel to her, was away from home that day, and Holmes determined to visit the house. First he went to examine the will of Helen's mother, which showed that each daughter could claim her share at marriage. Dr. Roylott traced Helen to Holmes's house, but did not find her and left after threatening Holmes.

PART FOUR.

At Waterloo we were fortunate in catching a train for Leatherhead, where we hired a trap at the station inn, and drove for four or five miles through the lovely Surrey lanes. It was a perfect day, with a bright sun and a few fleecy clouds in the heavens. The trees and wayside hedges were just throwing out their first green shoots, and the air was full of the pleasant smell of the moist earth. To me at least there was a strange contrast between the sweet promise of the spring and this sinister quest upon which we were engaged. My compaion sat in the front of the trap, his arms folded, his hat pulled down over his eyes, and his chin sunk upon his breast, buried in the deepest thought, and pointed over the meadows.

"Look there!" said he.

A heavily-timbered park stretched up in a gentle slope, thickening into a grove at the highest point. From amid the branches there jutted out the gray gables and high roof-tree of a very old mansion.

"Stoke Moran?" said he.

"Yes sir, that be the house of Dr. Grimesby Roylott," remarked the driver.

"There is some building going on there," said Holmes; "that is where we are going."

"There's the village," said the driver, pointing to a cluster of roofs some distance to the left; "but if you want to get to the house, you'll find it shorter to get over this stile, and go by the foot-path over the fields. There it is, where the lady is walking."

"And the lady, I fancy, is Miss Stoner," observed Holmes, shading his eyes. "Yes, I think we had better do as you suggest."

We got off, paid our fare, and the trap rattled back on its way to Leatherhead.

"I thought it as well," said Holmes, as we climbed the stile, "that this fellow should think we had come here as architects, or on some definite business. It may stop his gossip. Good-afternoon, Miss Stoner. You see that we have been as good as our word."

Our client of the morning had hurried forward to meet us with a face which spoke her joy. "I have been waiting so eagerly for you," she cried, shaking hands with us warmly. "All has turned out splendidly. Dr. Roylott has gone to town, and it is unlikely that he will be back before evening."

"We have had the pleasure of making the doctor's acquaintance," said Holmes, and in a few words he sketched out what had occurred. Miss Stoner turned white to the lips as she listened.

"Good heavens!" she cried, "he has followed me, then."

"So it appears."

"He is so cunning that I never know when I am safe from him. What will he say when he returns?"

"He must guard himself, for he may find that there is some one more cunning than himself upon his track. You must lock yourself up from him tonight. If he is violent, we shall take you away to your aunt's at Harrow. Now, we must make the best use of our time, so kindly take us at once to the rooms which we are to examine."

The building was of gray, lichen-blotched stone, with a high central portion, and two curving wings, like the claws of a crab, thrown out on each side. In one of these wings the windows were broken, and blocked with wooden boards, while the roof was partly caved in, a picture of ruin. The central portion was in little better repair, but the right-hand block was comparatively modern, and the blinds in the windows, with the blue smoke up from the chimneys, showed that this was where the family resided. Some scaffolding had been erected against the end wall and the stonework had been broken into, but there were no signs of any workmen at the moment of our visit. Holmes walked slowly up and down the ill-trimmed lawn, and examined with deep attention the outsides of the windows.

"This, I take it, belongs to the room in which you used to sleep, the center one to your sister's, and the one next to the main building to Dr. Roylott's chamber?"

"Exactly so. But I am now sleeping in the middle one."

"Pending the alterations, as I understood. By-the-way, there does not seem to be any very pressing need for repairs at that end wall."

"There were none. I believe that it was an excuse to move me from my room."

"Ah! that is suggestive. Now, on the other side of this narrow wing runs the corridor from which these three rooms open. There are windows in it, of course?"

"Yes, but very small ones. Too narrow for any one to pass through."

"As you both locked your doors at night, your rooms were unapproachable from that side. Now, would you have the kindness to go into your room and bar your shutters."

Miss Stoner did so, and Holmes, after a careful examination through the open window, endeavored in every way to force the shutter open, but without success. There was no slit through which a knife could be passed to raise the bar. Then with his lens he tested the hinges, but they were of solid iron, built firmly into the massive masonry. "Hum!" said he, scratching his chin in some perplexity; "my theory certainly presents some difficulties. No one could pas the shutters if they were bolted. Well, we shall see if the inside throws any light upon the matter."

A small side door led into the white-washed corridor from which the three bedrooms opened. Holmes refused to examine the third chamber, so we passed at once to the second, that in which Miss Stoner was now sleeping, and in which her sister had met with her fate. It was a homely little room, with a low ceiling and a gaping fireplace, after the fashion of old country-houses. A brown chest of drawers stood in one corner, a narrow white-counterpaned bed in another, and a dressing-table on the left side of the window. These articles, with two small wicker-work chairs, made up all the furniture in the room, save for a square of Wilton carpet in the center. The boards round and the paneling of the walls were of brown, worm-eaten oak, so old and discolored that it may have dated from the original building of the house. Holmes drew one of the chairs into a corner and sat silent, while his eyes traveled round and round and up and down, taking in every detail of the apartment.

"Where does that bell communicate with?" he asked, at last, pointing to a thick bell-rope which hung down beside the bed, the tassel actually lying upon the pillow.

"It goes to the housekeeper's room."

"It looks newer than the other things."

"Yes, it was only put there a couple of years ago."

"Your sister asked for it, I suppose?"

"No, I never heard of her using it. We used always to get what we wanted for ourselves."

"Indeed, it seemed unnecessary to put so nice a bell-pull there. You will excuse me for a few minutes while I satisfy myself as to this floor." He threw himself down upon his face with his lens in his hand, and crawled swiftly backward and forward, examining minutely the cracks between the boards. Then he did the same with the woodwork with which the chamber was paneled. Finally he walked over to the bed, and spent some time in staring at it, and in running his eye up and down the wall. Finally he took the bell-rope in his hand and gave it a brisk tug.

"Why, it's a dummy," said he.

"Won't it ring?"

"No, it is not even attached to a wire. This is very interesting. You can see now that it is fastened to a hook just above where the little opening for the ventilator is."

"How very absurd! I never noticed that before."

"Very strange!" muttered Holmes, pulling at the rope. "There are one or two very singular points about this room. For example, what a fool a builder must be to open a ventilator into another room, when, with the same trouble, he might have communicated with the outside air!"

"That is also quite modern," said the lady.

"Done about the same time as the bell-rope?" remarked Holmes.

"Yes, there were several little changes carried out about that time."

"They seem to have been of a most interesting character—dummy bell-ropes and ventilators which do not ventilate. With your permission, Miss Stoner, we shall now carry our researches into the inner apartment."

Classes Offered Grammar Students To Make Up Work

Work in the fifth, sixth and low seventh grade subjects will be given this summer, beginning at once, for students who failed in one or more subjects, according to an announcement from Superintendent Lee Clark Thursday morning.

Students wishing to enter the classes, which will be called Monday, June 6th, are asked to report to J. E. Park at the High school Friday morning at 8:30 and make arrangements.

It was not intended at first to offer the grade credit work, but the demand since school closed has justified the later arrangement, Mr. Clark stated

"MERRY WIVES" GO BACK TO CHILDHOOD—FOR A DAY

Members of the "Merry Wives" Five Hundred club "went back to childhood" for a brief afternoon Wednesday, happily conducted by their hostess, Mrs. Claude E. Clark.

The pretty party was given in the dining room of the William-Mary hotel, where a screened section of the room was made lovely with a sunshine color scheme, carried out principally with yellow and gold nasturtiums. The guests were instructed to secure their score cards by giving their Christian names, by which they were to be called for the afternoon. When these were secured they were found to be attractively hand-painted in yellow, with a bit of verse on a white card attached at the back. Below the verse, which gave instruction to "go back to childhood" just for a day, there was the promise "Daisies won't tell," with a tiny field daisy attached.

In the games, Mrs. B. E. Sylvester won high score and was presented with a cut glass bud vase. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Hill cut for consolation, Mrs. Taylor winning, and the hostess presented her with an ivory vanity mirror. A pretty gold lingerie pin was presented Mrs. Aldredge, a guest.

The refreshment course carried out the same color scheme, with place cards inscribed with the Christian names of the guests. Banana salad garnished with orange, ice tea and orange sherbet, was served. Yellow carnations were plate favors. Those present included Mesdames Paul Barnett, Roscoe Davis, Sylvester, Gant, Charlie Preston, Mac Taylor, Fisher, Hill, Jenkins, Gilchrist, Weaver, Wright, McCurdy, Aldredge, Roberts and Clark.

The club meets next week with Mrs. Gant, at 1623 Eleventh street.

APPROACHING WEDDING OF YOUNG PEOPLE ANNOUNCED

The engagement and approaching wedding of Joe Mooring and Miss Grace Albritton were announced at an informal party given at the home of Mrs. J. B. McDowell, sister of the bride-elect, Tuesday evening. The wedding is to be solemnized Wednesday evening, June 8.

The announcement party was a very pretty affair, with the McDowell home beautifully decorated in cut flowers, kewpies and hearts. Games and dancing were enjoyed, and fruit punch served throughout the evening. At a late hour a refreshment course of ice cream and cake was served, the plate favors being little hand painted announcement cards with the names and date for the wedding. The announcement came as a surprise to most of the friends of the young people. Miss Albritton having just graduated from Wichita Falls high school, where she was one of the popular members of her class. Mr. Mooring, a former Plainview boy, has made his home in Wichita Falls the past three years.

Those present at the announcement party included Mesdames J. A. Albritton and J. B. McDowell, Misses Era Lee Dewis, Lorine Phillips, Irwine Maupin, Mary Underwood, Elsie Gist, Anna Byman, Lillian Brannon, Edith Berney, Frances Hackbush, Katie Semmons, Grace Albritton and Linda Oliver of Antelope, Texas; Messrs. Tom Hamilton, Vernon Davis, Jack Breeland, Herbert Karrenbrock, Byron Bryan, Ernest Highfill, Madras Albritton, Joe Mooring, John Albritton, Charlie Brooks, Earl Misner and J. B. McDowell.

USE "TIZ" IF FEET ACHE, BURN, PUFF UP

Can't Beat "Tiz" For Sore, Tired, Swollen, Calloused Feet or Corns.

You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "Tiz" and only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—adv.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edmund

When I had milked the cow and her dotter and had left Jubilee on the back step waiting for a handout and had went in to breakfast, my ant looked at me and said to me where was my shoes and I said I had left them upstairs because it was vacation and I always went barefoot in vacation, and my father said as soon as I had et my breakfast to go upstairs and put on my shoes and stockings, and if had not of been for my ant I would of been all right.

Peanuts goes barefoot and Nibs goes barefoot and wears long pants, but I have got to wear shoes and stockings and short pants all of my life and till I have got whiskers. That is the kind of peonle some fellas has got. My mother says she is going to order a baby carriage if she cannot get one second hand and that I can take Annabell Lee to the pasture with me when I go after the cow and be a little useful around the house.

I said if she would get me an express wagon with peddles on it I could put Annabell Lee in the front of it and peddle her all around town, and she said she supposed if she got me a shot gun I could load Annabell Lee in it and shoot her over the top of the house, but the baby buggy would suit her all right. I went out and looked at the house when I got done eating and I would like to try it. I bet Farrel's would be supprised to have Annabell Lee come down on their roof sometime.

When we was going past the stink factory Jubilee run under it and come out with the biggest rat I ever saw in his mouth and it was not hurt hardly at all and I got it with my fingers around its neck so it could not bite me and I carried it quite a ways and they all wanted it, but we went around and snuck up on the other side of our house and I went in between the houses and raised the window to my ant's bedroom and held the rat inside and let go.

Then we went over to the brickyard and Peanuts had me look at his toe to see how it was getting along where I had tied the skin on it but he would not let me touch it, so I said it was doing as well as could be expected and that it was lucky for him that he had me fix it when he did. Then he asted me if it looked dirtified but not mortified. I said if it got mortified I would have to cut it off, and he said I would in a pig's wrist, but I dubbled up my fist and asted him if I would or I wouldn't and he said he guessed I would.

Then we thought we would have a game of ball and I went home for my ball and my mother made me come in and mind Annabell Lee. Then by the time it was supper time and I had to go for the cows and everything the little mutt fell asleep. If she had done it sooner I could of snuck off.

WYNNE-STALEY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY; WILL BE AT HOME HERE

Miss Fleet Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Staley of this city, was given in marriage by her brother, J. I. Staley, to James Chester Wynne Wednesday afternoon.

The marriage was solemnized at the First Christian church at 1:30 o'clock Rev. J. Lem Keevil saying the ceremony in presence of relatives and close friends of the young people. The altar vicinity was converted into a very beautiful background with palms, fern and baskets of gladioli, and bride and groom were attended by a very attractive afternoon wedding group. Mrs. W. L. Parker sang, "O Promise Me," with Mrs. R. E. Strange at the organ, and the wedding party entered to the Lohengrin processional. Miss Staley was attended by her sister, Mrs. W. L. Hawkins, as matron of honor, and Misses Vera Hale and Seuda Willis, maids; little Miss Helen Ramming of Dallas, niece of the bride, carrying the ring on a satin pillow. Mr. Wynne was attended by George Gutzman as best man and Daniel Rubsam and John Finch as groomsmen.

Mr. and rMs. Wynne left immediately after the ceremony for New Orleans, from where they will visit other southern cities of interest for two or three weeks, expecting to be at home in Kemp Kort on their return here.

Afternoon Costumes.

Afternoon costumes were worn by the members of the wedding group for the ceremony, with the exception of the bride, who wore a beautifully tailored traveling dress of midnight blue, handsomely lightened with green, with hat and accessories to harmonize. Mrs. Hawkins wore a midnight blue dress with touches of green in the same shades, with a grey plumed hat and gloves. The bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and valley, lilies, and the matron of honor wore a corsage of sweet peas. The maids, Misses Hale and Willis, wore tailored silk afternoon suits with large hats and wore corsages of sweet peas. The little ring bearer was very attractive in a spring green frock.

LATEST STYLE

By LENORE

With skirts so short and shoes so challenging, the selection of suitable footwear is second only in importance to the choice of a becoming hat. The newest ways to walk the path of fashion this season are many and varied, and the great number of attractive styles offers unlimited opportunity for properly, and at less expense than last season, outfitting every type of wardrobe.

Three, perhaps four, pairs of shoes are required to be suitably shod in the summer. The regulation black or brown Oxford with Cuban heel is extremely practical, being smart for street wear with the plain crepe or linen dress. For dressier wear a black or gray pump in the sandal or strapped type of model will be smart, and this may be worn with the afternoon dress on the street or for dancing.

For country wear the strapped sport Oxford is the very newest thing, the favorite models combining white buckskin with brown, green or tan leather. To these may be added an attractive white pump with French or Cuban heel.

Compare the Cost

HOUSE ON KEMP BOULEVARD IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Fire which is thought to have originated from a gas range caused about $2,000 damage Wednesday night at the home of Hubert H. Clark, 1706 Kemp boulevard. The loss was covered by insurance. The flames destroyed partitions between the rooms in the house and caused other damage. None of the family was at home when the fire started.

THIS WILL BENEFIT WICHITA FALLS' WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months causing gas on the stomach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. Acting on both upper and lower bowel, Adler-i-ka removes matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. BAYER say Aspirin

"Bayer" on Genuine Aspirin—say "Bayer"

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—adv.

"Stomach Trouble of 30 Years Standing Relieved in a Week"

New Ulm woman writes that Ware's Black Powder gave prompt relief after other remedies failed.

"My mother had stomach trouble for over 30 years and used all kinds of medicines, but never got relief. Then heard of Ware's Black Powder and got some. Mother took the medicine according to directions and in less than a week she was well."

So writes Paula Wotipka of New Ulm, Texas, on May 11th, 1920. Ano her mother's case is but one more link in the ever-growing chain of evidence which proves the power of Ware's Black Powder in the treatment of stomach and bowel troubles. Sold by druggists everywhere for 40 years. Not a purgative. Contains no harmful drugs. 60c and $1.20 the package. Send for Dr. Ware's booklet—free.

"Ware's Baby Powder Saved Our Baby Girl from Dysentery"

"A God-send in the most anxious hour of our life" writes Mrs. W. H. Piatte of Shreveport.

"I would be an ingrate if I didn't write a word of praise for Ware's Baby Powder. It without doubt saved our 19-month-old baby girl from dysentery after two doctors had given her up. Words can not express our gratitude, for it seemed a God-send in the most anxious hour of our life."

Thus does Mrs. Piatte's testimony bear out the experiences of hundreds of mothers who have found this simple, harmless remedy a valuable help in cases of summer complaint, teething and stomach and bowel trouble in infants. 60c and $1.20 the package at all druggists. Given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, they love to take it. Write for Dr. Ware's booklet on stomach and bowel troubles—free.

FAVORABLE FACTORS IN THE SITUATION OF OIL.

While the oil held in storage in the United States is the largest quantity ever known in this country there are several factors that are considered favorable for a better market for crude in the not distant future. Among these are the following:

The domestic consumption of oil is considerably more than domestic production.

Domestic production of oil is decreasing.

Domestic consumption can be expected to increase during the next few months.

Importations of oil from Mexico which have contributed so largely to our present surplus are decreasing and are not likely to be so large again even if no tariff is levied against its importation.

In addition to these factors there are indications that our government is assuming its responsibilities growing out of the world war and the adoption of this policy will mean the slow revival of our foreign trade. This will not only immediately increase the exportation of oil and oil products but it will revive lagging domestic industries which are users of fuel oil and other oil products and will enlarge our domestic market.

These facts and others are resulting in greater optimism among oil operators and some of them are hopeful that the next change in price will be upward and not downward.

SPRAY FOR FLIES ON CATTLE.

Owing to the fact that the season is now here when the little pestiferous fly so common in Texas does considerable damage by annoying milk cows it is deemed advisable to give a formula for spray which may be used to considerable advantage when properly applied, advises C. M. Evans, animal husbandman A. and M. College of Texas.

200 quarts coal oil.
1 quart oil of cedar wood.
2 quarts of any standard coal tar stock dip.

A small hand spray may be used and the material should be sprayed on the flies when they are thickly congregated on or about the cow. In this manner many of them will be killed and by persistent effort these pests may at least be controlled if not exterminated.

MOB RULE.

There have been occasions when the decent element of a community needed to take the law into its own hands in order that local peace and order might be preserved. Human rights and property rights, when menaced seldom recognize any law.

Justice frequently moves too slowly and uncertainly through the courts to appease the inflamed minds in the community when some striking wrong has been committed. In such instances one cannot too strongly blame those who take the law into their own hands. Theirs is not a premeditated act.

Or if the law is brushed aside in a frontier settlement or a boom community where the acts of wrong doers have been especially flagrant, and the local peace officers are not strong enough to cope with the situation one can somewhat condone the summary acts of the decent element to clean up their communities.

But when centers such as Dallas, Beaumont and others of that class allow an unknown group of citizens to usurp the enforcement of law, to make of themselves a committee on community morals which decides what shall be permitted and what shall not be, and which convicts without trial and sentences without authority, then the time is well arrived for state authorities to take speedy action against such a committee's unlawfulness.

Each one of us could assume self righteousness and take the law unto ourselves and go about correcting each wrong act and punishing each evil doer. But if we did there would be chaos in an extremely short time—and that chaos if effective would shortly result in our early demise.

There is no large number of men in any community whose life record would properly permit them to decide arbitrarily what crimes should and what crimes should not be handled by the courts.

And even though there were a large number of such men they are the ones for the most part who would not take part in order through mob rule.

In Texas, aside from capable county and local peace officers we have an organization which is famous all over the world for its effectiveness in keeping order and running down criminals. Whenever our Rangers take up a case the guilty parties are certain to receive their just deserts.

These Rangers established their reputation as law enforcement officers when Texas was a frontier state, and the last of that period was not so very long ago. Their effectiveness has not been questioned to this day. Any community in Texas which is suffering from a low state of public morals is able to have their help in cleaning up, and raising the moral average.

As greatly as attacks on women are to be condemned, and as speedily as the full extent of the law should be meted to those who make the attacks, the extremely important point to consider is that we have the law and peace officers to handle such cases and other infractions of the community's standards.

If we go outside the law by permitting a group of self-appointed, holier-than-thou individuals to make judgments and inflict punishments upon wrong doers then we with the criminals and the self appointed individuals all have common ground. Each winks at it, breaks it or ignores it defiantly.

The breakdown of law begins the disintegration of government. Surely Texas has not gone that far.

WHY?—

Is Sugar Sweet?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

When we refer to sugar as being "sweet," or vinegar as "sour," or salt as having a taste which we characterize by its own name, we are really alluding not to the inherent qualities of these substances themselves, but to the effect which they have upon the nerves of taste which extend from the tongue and part of the throat, to a certain definite portion of the brain.

In the first place, sugar, salt and other solids are of themselves entirely tasteless. It is only when they are either partially or completely dissolved, that we taste them—a fact which may be proven by placing any of these solids upon our tongue when this organ is completely dry. At first, there is no reaction whatever, and then, as the saliva and other natural secretions commence to dissolve them, we begin to be aware of the characteristic taste. But, at best, we only know by experience what taste is—without being able accurately to define the reason why one chemical should act in a certain way upon the taste-nerves of the brain, and another should lead to an entirely different reaction. We say, for example, that sugar is "Sweet," and by this we understand the particular taste-reaction which, by experience, we have come to associate with the various kinds of sugar—although sugar of milk does not produce this effect nearly so strongly, and saccharine, which differs radically from sugar in its chemical construction, has a far "sweeter" taste than sugar. "Sweets," "salts" and "acids" are therefore the effects, rather than the qualities, of the substances themselves.

Hard on Colonel Harvey.

(New York Times.)

There is much chuckling in Washington, some of it suspiciously near the state department, over the orders that have gone forward to Ambassador Harvey. He is directed to join with the other members of the supreme council in passing upon the plan to give financial aid to Austria. But this is the plan of the League of Nations. It was devised by the league, will be submitted by the league, and may be carried out by the league. So that it will b a little hard for the ambassador—or, at least, for his colleagues—to keep a straight face after his formal notice to all and sundry that the United States would not have "anything whatsoever to do with the league or with any commission or committee appointed by it or responsible to it, directly or indirectly, openly or furtively."

The ambassador further notified the members of the league, whom he evidently regarded as capable of any trickery, that neither "by hook nor crook" could they "beguile" America to change her mind about the league. But we may be sure that when Secretary Hughes reaches his shepherd's crook across the ocean and puts it about Jr. Harvey's neck the redoubtable colonel will go to meet with the league, a most submissive mutton. He may be tempted to tell the league that it is a piece of impudence for it even to pretend to be alive, after he had condemned it to death; but we think that he will now be able to refrain from that and other verbal exuberances. The wires between Washington and London are still open.

HUMANISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY

Of Elihu Root, former secretary of war, secretary of state, senator, now adviser-at-large of the Administration on international affairs, I heard Secretary Hughes say not long ago: He has pointed the way to the stars and I find in his example daily courage and inspiration.

Mr. Root was recently discussing the position in which international lawyers found themselves in these times of vicious public opinion. He said that he knew a man who visited an insane asylum and was being shown through it. They came to one ward in which were many patients and all of them were in rocking chairs and all were oscillating back and forth with great energy. The keeper explained that these patients were violently insane and that the rocking chairs were provided as a means through which their violence might spend itself. It kept his attendants from being all used up.

In the present unpromising circumstances, Mr. Root thinks, it might be well to provide rocking chairs for the international lawyers.

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, said that one day a man came up to him in north Topeka, when he was a youngster and offered to sell him a horse. It was a good-looking horse, stood the test of riding, driving, pulling and was wonderfully cheap at $25, which was the price the man asked.

"Why are you selling so cheap," asked Curtis.

'I've got to have the money," was the reply.

Curtis bought the horse. He took it to the stable, gave it hay and corn. The horse wouldn't eat. An examination showed that it had no tongue and had learned long before that it was no use for it to try to negotiate solid food. It had to have bran and grits fixed up for it in liquid form so it could drink it. Otherwise it was a good horse. He had, however, been deceived by the horsetrader and would remember and get even.

Curtis went to a miller he knew and offered to sell him the horse. He told him all the facts, even to the missing tongue. He convinced the miller, who had lots of grits, that the horse would be a good buy for him at $50. The miller agreed made the purchase and was ever after well pleased with his bargain.

"And thus was it demonstrated," said the Senator, "that there is more profit in straight than in crooked dealing."

Here is the native-born resident of New York City, that individual often sought and rarely found in the great metropolis, Jonathan Mahew Wainwright, recently colonel in the Twenty-seventh division overseas, and now First Assistant Secretary of War.

Colonel Wainwright was born in 1864 at eleven West Thirty-third street, New York City, just off of Fifth avenue, on the ground now occupied by the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. Not only that but his father was born in New York and his paternal grandfather was Episcopal bishop of the city and his maternal grandfather was none other than Nicholas William Stuyvesant, who came all the way down from the early dutch settlers.

So does a real, many-generation New Yorker come into a high departmental post in Washington.

The History of Your Name

SIMS

Variations—Simms, Simpson, Simmons, Simonds, Symonds, Simmonds, Symondsen.
Racial Origin—Anglo-Saxon.
Source—A biblical given name.

Strangely enough, the connection between the family name Sims and the Biblical name of Simon is one which does not occur to most people. Yet today it is not unusual for a man whose christian name is Simon to be called "Sime" by his friends.

Back in the days before the old Anglo-Saxons finally went down before the swords of William the Conqueror and his Norman-French army, in the days before family names had been thought of by any nation other than the Romans, these Anglo-Saxons delighted in nick-names, apparently. Simon, or Simeon was a popular name in England then, and they shortened it to Sim. They were also fond of diminutive endings, of which "kin" was one (it corresponds to the German 'chen" of today). Hence the old parchments often contain the name Simkin, meaning "little Sim," or Symkyn. Later the Normans used the diminutive ending "et," and Symonets began to appear on the records.

Then as the population grew, along about the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, the method of identifying different men of the same name by telling whose sons they were grew to the point where the description such as "Sim's son" became shortened to Sims son. Sims is the name with the final "on" dropped.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

It was a little caddie boy one pleasant summer day
Who drew a well known business man to bear his clubs away,
And oh, the little lad was proud to think that through the game
He'd be a partner of a man so widely known to fame.

The man was noted in the press, and many a tiny Tim
Would dream the pleasant dreams of youth when he would be like him,
And likewise did this caddie boy who thought from him he'd learn
The way to make a great success when it should come his turn.

The business man was off his game, it greives me sore to say,
He was not honest with himself nor with the boy that day;
He nagged and cursed the little chap until his heart was sad,
And roundly blamed him every time a shot he made was bad.

He did not truly count his score, nor fairly play the game,
The boy discovered he was false, despite his business fame,
And when the boy got home that night, he said manner grim:
"I hope when I grow up I won't be anything like him."

Oh man, if you would know yourself and get an honest view,
Go out and learn just what it is your caddie thinks of you.
The sign of shame is on your brow, to stay forevermore,
If your're the kind of man the boys don't want to caddie for.

Little Benny's Note Book

By Leo Fogg

Yestidday in skool Miss Kitty was telling the class about grate deeds and nobel acts, saying, The noblest act eny man can perform is to do something that will aid the cause of suffering humanity, now is there anybody in the class who duzzent know what I meen wen I speek of aiding the cause of suffering humanity?

Wich nobody raised their hand, proving everybody thawt they knew wat it ment weather they did or not, and Miss Kitty sed, Very well then, I will call on somebody to give me an illustration of a deed that would help the cause of suffering hewmanitty. Benny Potts, I will call on you. Wat would you do if you had your choice of deeds to aid suffering humanitty?

Id do something so grate they would make another holliday without eny skool every yeer to celebrate it, I sed.

Wich everybody started to clap their hands as if they thawt I had did it alreddy, and Miss Kitty banged wih her ruler, saying, Silents, Im surprised. I must say I think that Benny has a very selfish conseption of suffering humanitty. Think of the grate and nobel sergeon who first discovered annisthetieks. That was aiding the cause of suffering humanitty. Now perhaps James Egan can give us another ixample and tell us wat he would do to aid the cause of suffering humanitty.

Wich Jimmy Egan got up, saying, Id be a grate sergeon and perform an operation on childrens heds so they could lern twice as mutch in a day as wat they can now, and then they would ony haff to go to skool every other day.

Wich everybody started to clap agen and Miss Kitty banged with her ruler something fearse, saying, Silents, the intire class will remain after skool for half an hour.

Wich we did.

LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—adv.

Cost $160,000 to Remove Bad Taste From City's Water

It would cost a little matter of $160,000 to take that spoiled-cheese taste out of the city water.

The taste is caused by "algae," the same being the high-brow name for little plants that grow on the bottom of the supply ditch from the lake to the water plant. The only way to get rid of them is to cover the ditch over, and that would cost about $5 a foot, or $26,400 a mile, or $158,400 for the six miles of ditch.

City officials hope to make a closed ditch of the aqueduct some day. However, a careful examination of the city's cash box Thursday morning failed to disclose any $160,000 available for such a purpose.

BEAN RECOMMENDS COFFEE HIGHLY AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

A talk on "Coffee" by Bert J. Bean was the principal feature of Thursday's session of the Rotary club. Needless to relate, Mr. Bean recommended coffee rather highly, and complained that the time allotted him to prepare a speech and the few minutes allowed him to deliver it, did not enable him to do the subject full justice.

In discussing some of the historical aspects of his subject, Mr. Bean related that when the drink was first introduced in Turkey, many centuries ago, the coffee houses became so popular that the Mohammedan priests objected on the ground that the new institution kept people away from the mosques. The United States is now the greatest coffee drinking country, Mr. Bean said, with an average consumption of about 20 pounds per capita. The speaker paid his respects to those who contended that coffee had harmful effects as a beverage.

A challenge was presented by the Kiwanis club, the baseball team of which wants to play the winner of the Wichita-Rotary club game on June 20. Dr. M. W. Hoover, president of the Kiwanis club, presented the challenge, which was accepted and a committee named to work out details.

Dr. Everett Jones of the chautauqua committee urged the support of Rotarians for this entertainment. A committee headed by J. M. McFall was named to handle the sale of tickets to members. Other members of the committee are John Gould, M. A. Marcus, Tom Bergin, John Thomas and Robert Collier. The committee requests that all members of the club who expected to purchase tickets secure them from some member of the ticket committee at or before the Rotary luncheon Thursday of next week.

President Robbins read a letter from the Rotary club at Corpus Christi, asking indorsement of that city's deep water plans. A committee consisting of J. M. McFall, J. C. Mytinger and Hubert Harrison was named to draft suitable resolutions, after Mr. Mytinger had spoken briefly on the wisdom of endorsing the Corpus Christi plan.

An "au revoir" telegram from Fred Couper, who sailed for the international convention Thursday, was read at the meeting.

NINE-YEAR-OLD BROTHER OF CECIL BURKETT GIVES VERSION OF THE KILLING

KNOX, IND., June 2.—Alfred Burkett, nine years old, was admitted to the witness stand at today's session of circuit court to testify in defense of his brother Cecil, aged 11, on trial for the alleged murder of a seven-year-old playmate, Bennie Slavin, at Ora, Ind., last Thanksgiving day.

Judge William C. Pentecosta in permitting Alfred to tell his story overruled the state's protest that Alfred is in the same grade at school as Elsie Slavin, Bennie's six-year-old sister, whom the judge excluded from the stand yesterday because of her youth.

Alfred confirmed Cecil's story told yesterday about the work the boys were doing in the Burkett yard.

Cecil, during an hour of questioning failed to change his assertion that the shooting must have been accidental, as he did not pull the trigger and was not near enough to the gun to cause it to explode.

TOOTS AND CASPER — Casper's Appetite Suddenly Improves — BY J. E. MURPHY

LEGION MEMBERS GETTING QUARTERS READY FOR SESSION

A number of members of the American legion are doing "club room fatigue" at night this week, making needed changes and repairs in their new quarters at 812½ Ohio. A number of changes and betterments were found necessary in the rooms when the legion took them over recently, and it was decided to save money by having the legionnaires do the work themselves, as far as possible. So they are working nightly with paint brushes and hammers, and there are enough sure enough workmen to accomplish good results.

The nightly fatigue detail will continue this week and Saturday afternoon. Any legionnaire who wants to wield a wicked hammer is not only invited, but urged, to come around and help out.

MAY TAKE UP ISSUE OF GERMAN SHIPPING SEIZED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Intimations from Paris that the reparations commission might again take up the question of the status under reparations agreements of the German shipping seized in this country during the war, were met here today with the statement that any payments to the commission on account of these ships was a question for the United States alone to decide.

It was pointed out that when the United States entered the war the ships were taken over by authority of an act of congress.

Everett Harding Prefers to Take Chance at Judge

CHICAGO, June 2.—Everett Harding, self-styled cousin of the president, charged with impersonating a federal officer, today changed his plea from not guilty to guilty in order that the verdict would be rendered by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis rather than by a jury.

Harding feared that the jury would be swayed by political bias, according to his attorney, and the decision to change the plea came after a conference between the opposing attorneys and Judge Landis.

NEWSPAPERS HAVE SHOCK FOR DEVOTEES OF DANCE

PARIS, June 2.—Dancing devotees upon unfolding their newspapers today experienced a severe shock when they read that the world's amateur dancing championship had been awarded to "Georges Clemenceau and partner."

Their astonishment at the agility of "the Tiger" was somewhat tempered when they read far enough to learn that the dancer was the former premier's grandson, the son of Michael Clemenceau.

REFUSAL OF PREMIER OF BAVARIA TO ACT ON REQUEST EMBARRASSING

BERLIN, June 1.—Refusal of Premier Von Kahr of Bavaria to disband the einwohnerwehr, which has come up on the eve of Chancellor Wirth's program speech, has caused great dissatisfaction in government circles here as embarrassing the new chancellor, who had intended to inform the German parliament that his cabinet was bending every effort to fulfill the latest allied ultimatum. Hope was held that the Bavarian issue, one fo the knottiest since the new ministry was selected, had passed the critical stage.

ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLE SHOULD BAND TOGETHER TO PREVENT WAR IN FUTURE

CHARLOTTSVILLE, VA., June 2.—The English speaking people of the world should be banded together in leadership of all the nations until wars are recognized as futile and unnecessary and are done with forever, Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, said in an address here today at centennial exercises of the University of Virginia.

Deprecating war as a sapper of the physical vigor of nations and denying that "peace will rot the vitals of a nation," the ambassador expressed the belief "that now is the time for the English speaking peoples with their great and peculiar advantages to resolve that never again will they permit this fair world to be devastated by unnecessary war if by standing firmly together they can prevent it."

"What is to hinder their co-operation to this great end?" he asked.

"Nothing that I know of but ignorance and suspicion."

Hollingsworth Clamps On the Brakes in Last Canto and Saves Game

HOUSTON, June 1.—Chalk up one for Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth's boy. Though he will not be credited officially with the 3 to 2 victory earned by the Spudders over the Buffs yesterday it was mainly through his efforts that the Salmites were returned victors. Skipper Salm called on "Rube" Marshall to stop the spurting southerners and "Rube" acquitted himself admirably for eight rounds. However, he started to falter in the final period and Walter, seeing a well-earned victory slipping from his grasp, called upon "Holly" to keep the home boys at their proper distance.

A man was on second base by virtue of an infield hit and a passed ball when "Holly" assumed the burden. Just previous to his entrance a heavy downpour had halted hostilities for about fifteen minutes and he had a slippery ball to handle. But "Holly" worked as he never worked before and retired the side in one, two, three order—the hardest smash garned off his delivery being a measly pop to Works.

The Spudders got right down to brass tacks in the opening canto and brought their war clubs into play. Three solid smashes netted two markers which gave Marshall a neat little margin to work on. The Salmites never lost the lead and added one more in the third chapter when Danny Gross lambasted a screaming triple to left and tallied on an error at third base.

Thereafter it was nip and tuck between Marshall and Bolden. Both hurlers breezed along in championship form until "Rube" started wavering in the ninth at which point Salm played his ace and evened up the series. The detailed score:

FIRST INNING.

Wichita Falls: The Spudders landed on Bolden in the opening frame for a trio of singles and got away to a two run lead. Beecher dumped one down the third base line and beat it out. Gross bunted poorly and was out at first while Beecher held second. Rothfuss grounded to Darringer and Beecher was run down between third and home trying to score on the drive. Rothfuss romped to second while Beacher was being put out. Clark drove him in with a slashing single to center and he stole second a moment later. Time was taken out for a few moments while McDonald had something taken out of his eye and he then promptly poled a safety to left that scored Clark. Miller was thrown out by Bolden. 2 runs, 3 hits, 1 error.

Houston: Baggan flew out to Rothfuss and Bailey followed with a drive to deep center that Miller gobbled up. Whiteman grounded to Gross and was an easy out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING.

Wichita Falls: Works lofted to Bailey in Right. Blades took care of Kitchens' grounder and tossed him out at first. Marshall received a life when Bottomley kicked his grounder, but Bracher popped to Doyle. No runs, no hits, 1 error.

Houston: The Buffs got one run back in this session on two clean hits, one a double. Bottomley cracked the first ball pitched to center for a single and took second on Doyle's sacrifice to Marshall. Darringer flew out to Beacher. Blades doubled to left scoring Bottomley but remained at second when Griffith lined to Beacher. 1 run, 2 hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.

Wichita Falls: The Buffs gave their run back as soon as possible. Gross socked one to his liking to deep left for three cushions for a starter. After Rothfuss had popped to Darringer, Griffith shot the ball to Doyle to catch Gross napping, but the pill got away from the third sacker and Gross counted. Clark was thrown out at first by Doyle and McDonald popped weakly to Bottomley. 1 run, 1 hit, 1 error.

Houston: The Buffs kept right after Marshall in this round and chased another marker across. Bolden opened with a bunch to right for one base and went to second while Bolden was beating out a bunt down the third base line. Both runners advanced on Bailey's sacrifice. Bolden tallied on Whiteman's long sacrifice to Rothfuss in deep right and Baggan took third. Bottomley drew a pass. With Doyle at bat Bottomley and Baggan attempted a double steal but the former was run down on the line and tagged out by Clark for the final out. 1 run, 2 hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING.

Wichita Falls: Miller tried to lay the First ball down and cross the infield, but was thrown out by Bolden. Works whiffed. Kitchens socked a one bagger to left and Marshall waited until he had been served four bad ones. Beacher drove one at Blades and Marshall was forced at second. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Houston: Two hits failed to produce a run for the Buffs in the fourth. Doyle singled to right and was forced at second when Darringer hit to McDonald. Blades beat out a bunt to McDonald, putting Darringer on second. Marshall put on a little extra steam and got Griffith on strikes and Darringer was caught stealing third, Kitchens to McDonald. No runs, 2 hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING.

Wichita Falls: Gross poked a long single to left but was too ambitious and was thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. Baggan to Darringer. Rothfuss tapped to Bolden and Clark fouled out to Griffith. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Houston: The Spudder outfield retired the Buffs in this chapter. Bolden skied to Beacher and Bailey flew to Rothfuss after Bruggan had beaten out an infield hit to Clark. Whiteman's skyscraper fell into Beacher's open mitts. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.

Wichita Falls: McDonald grounded out to Bottemley, unassisted. Darringer threw Miller out at first. Blades fumbled Works' grounder, but he was thrown out trying to steal, Griffith to Blades. No runs, no hits, 1 error.

Houston: Marshall was in great form in this inning and retired the side in order. Bottemley grounded out, Marshall to Works. Gross took care of Doyle's bounder and got his man at first and Darringer flew out to Miller. No hits, no runs, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.

Wichita Falls: Kitchens grounded out Darringer to Bottomley. Marshall caught one on the nose and slammed it back at Bolden a mile a minute, but the latter stuck out his bare hand and the pellet stuck in it. Beacher drew a comp. Gross came through with his third safe hit, a line drive to right for one bag. Beacher romped to third on the clout, but Rothfuss' best was a weak pop to Blades. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Houston: "Rube" used his head this inning and turned the Buffs back cuteness once more. Blades thumped a one base clout to center and advanced on Griffith's sacrifice, Kitchens to Works. He went to third while Gross was throwing Bolden out. With the tying run on third and Baggan up, things looked dubious, but Marshall threw four wide ones and gave Baggan his base. Bailey slammed a scorcher at Gross and the latter tossed to Clark at second, forcing Baggan. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

EIGHT INNING.

Wichita Falls: Bolden was in rare form in this canto and the Spudders were retired in one, two, three fashion. Clark grounded to Blades and was an easy out at first. McDonald flew out to Bailey and Miller hit nothing but the air. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Houston: Marshall was still traveling in airtight fashion and the Buffs could do nothing with him. They were unable to get the ball out of the infield in this round, Whiteman was thrown out by McDonald, Marshall tossed Bottomley out and Doyle went out, Clark to Works. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.

Wichita Falls: Works waited out a pass but was forced at second when Kitchens hit to Darringer. Kitchens stole second, but could not get any nearer the plate as Marshall fanned and Beacher flew out to Whiteman. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Houston: Darringer beat out a slow roller down the third base line and went to second on a passed ball. A heavy downpour held the game up for about 15 minutes at this juncture and when play was resumed Hollingsworth was sent to the mound in place of Marshall. Blades put Darringer on third with a pretty sacrifice. Hollingsworth then put on the brakes and forced Griffith to pop to Works and got Bolden on strikes. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

SEMI-FINALS MAY BE REACHED THIS WEEK

Several Matches in Local Tourney For Bower Trophies Have Been Finished.

The end of this week will probably see the semi-finals played in the tournament for the Scott Bower trophies at the Golf club, a number of matches having been finished in both flights, as follows:

First round, first flight—A. R. Cotton beat P. S. Richardson; S. L. McDowell beat Horrace Robbins; T. P. Adams beat C. J. Norton; John O'Donohue beat C. E. McCutchen; John Paskins beat Jac' Oltorf; W. E. Norton beat H. F. Weldon, one up in 20 holes; D. Burleson beat M. Staniforth. Golding and Cochran have not yet played.

The second round of the first flight has had only one match so far, McDowell winning a place in the semi-finals by defeating A. R. Cotton.

First round, second flight—C. I. Francis beat E. P. Bass; Frank Collier beat G. C. Wood; C. O. Davis beat M. Norton; W. W. Gardner beat R. O. Harvey; L. T. Burns beat M. D. Rowe; F. W. Callender beat Walter Robbins.

The only second round match in the second flight so far was between C. O. Davis and W. W. Gardner, the former winning.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants 9-8, Phils 2-3.

NEW YORK, June 1.—New York closed the long home stand today by defeating Philadelphia in both sessions of a double header, 9 to 2 and 8 to 3. Kelly hit his ninth home-run of the season in the first game, tying Meusel for the league leadership. Bancroft hit a home-run, triple, double and single in the four times up in the second game, but fainted on the bench from the exertion of the home-run.

First game—

HIS CLUBBING HELPED

DANNY GROSS.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR.

Babe Ruth made his thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth home runs against Washington and a double-header on the Polo grounds. Milan hit one and Ruth two in the first game. In the second game Shanks, Roth, Meusel, Ruel and Ruth hit four bases.

Cincinnati took first place in the National League when Philadelphia beat Brooklyn.

Brooklyn filled the bases in the sixth, eighth and ninth inning but scored only one run in the three.

Old Pitchers Find Going Is Extremely Rough This Season

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Old pitching bones have had a lot of tough going this season.

Youngsters, unknown and unsung, are slipping into the regal robes of the old kings of the mound.

"Lefty" Cooper, Fred Toney, "Babe" Adams and "Red" Faber are the only veterans showing anything close to their old form.

Alexander the Great is doing bench duty for the Chicago Cubs with a sore arm and Jim Vaughn, his big teammate, isn't delivering as expected.

Dutch Reuther, sensation of the 1919 pennant dash of the Cincinnati Reds, is a disappointment in Brooklyn and his old staff mate, Hod Eller, is out of the game under suspension.

Burleigh Grimes, Sherry Smith and in fact all of Uncle Robb's all-star pitching staff cracked and Brooklyn is falling down in the pennant race.

Perdy Schupp and Bill Doak, of the Cards are out of form. Scott Perry has fallen by the wayside with the Athletics. Bob Shawkey has been useless to the Yankees and Tris Speaker is having his trouble with his stars, Coveleskie, Bagby and Mails.

Arthur Nehf, the $35,000 beauty of the New York Giants, hasn't been as effective as Bill Ryan, a rookie pitcher from the International League.

Walter Johnson's work with the Washington Senators makes it seem that the old star is almost through. Joe Bush hasn't shown anything for the Boston Red Sox and George Daus has done the Tigers very little good. Dick Rudolph had to give up after a brave effort and is now working with the Braves as a coach.

Managers blame the cold, rainy weather of the early season for the failure of the old wings to get in shape. But while they are waiting for the coming of the hot rays, clubs with good young hurlers may get out for a lead that w il be hard to overcome.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are getting the best pitching of the year. "Lefty" Cooper is in his best form, "Babe" Adams looks as young as ever and Glazner, Zinn, Ponder and Yellowhorse are delivering.

MAKING ATHLETIC COACHES AT INDIANA UNIVERSITY

BLOOMINGTON, IND., June 2.—Future Pop Warners and Percy Haughtons will be molded at the Indiana University school for coaches here this summer. Each year the school is held for high school or college teachers who wish to give their students the benefits of specialized coaching. Nearly 400 were enrolled in the school last summer.

Regular university credits are given students taking the courses in baseball, football, basketball, track, wrestling, tennis, golf, swimming and other sports. Seventeen physical education courses will be given this year. Most of them are open to both men and women.

A course in the theory and practice of basketball and baseball is included in the courses for women.

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

They got over by the skin of their teeth, but they were almost bunted out of a ball game.

Marshall was nicked for nine hits, but four of them were infield blows, three of which dumped down the third base line and one to second base.

The two glaring Spudder weaknesses are inability to bunt and inability to field bunts.

Wonder if everybody is satisfied with the manner in which Salm juggled his gunners. Suppose they are as long as he got away with it—but what a panning he would have received if "Holly" had lost out.

One would never know from reading an account of the contest in any morning paper (except Houston's) that "Holly" was the hero of the day. Despite the fact that he went in and saved the day in the ninth by disposing of three men after a Buff had reached second, that important feature was left out.

Danny Gross had a great day with the stick. He poled out three clean drives, one of which was triple and another a near double. His triple practically won the game.

Tomorrow's the big day and one of the biggest mid-week crowds of the season is expected to turn out to welcome the boys home. The brand of ball displayed by them while on the road was not a bit bad. They left home in the cellar and they are bound to come back in seventh place at least and maybe in sixth. Moreover, they made this advance at the expense of three southern clubs which were in the first division.

The fact that the Spudders are returning after a successful road trip would be sufficient to draw a large crowd, but many additional fans will journey to Athletic park to pay tribute to Buddy Tanner. There's goin' to be a band in everything to try to cheer Buddy up a bit. He has it coming to him—there's no doubt about that.

There was an abundance of good twirling in the Texas league yesterday and some stellar fielding too. Only nine runs were scored by the eight clubs and three clubs were whitewashed. It is doubtful whether such low scores will be turned in again on one day this season.

Unless the Sultan of Swat poles one out of the lot today he'll have to travel some from now on to beat his last year's mark of 54. Baseball critics throughout the country were practically unanimous in stating that if Babe broke his 1920 record he would have to pick up his extra crashes in the early part of the campaign. A year ago today he thumped out three round trip tickets, bringing his total to fifteen, the mark which he now sports.

Guess Bill Tilden and Molla Mallory will have to keep up America's reputation across the pond. Both the male and female golfers failed to show anything startling in their line, but Bill has won his way to the semi-finals in the French tennis championships while Mrs. Mallory has defeated all her opponents thus far and is still going strong.

To deny that Carpentier has even a fighting chance against Dempsey is absurd though there are many who make that assertion. We cannot dope out on what they base this judgment. Dempsey can hit harder than the Frenchman, but that is about all. Carpentier is a much more finished scrapper and is far faster. Though he may not be able to hit as hard as the champion, he packs sufficient wallop to stretch the best of them out for the count of ten.

Though he may not be an even choice, a man who is as clever as Georges and who can hit as hard has a chance and a good chance. We have read of even money being offered on the melee but we do not think it is being quoted from the housetops with a megaphone. Still, it would be well to remember that in 1892 the one and only John L. had brute strength while Gentleman Jim was supposed to have nothing but cleverness. If we have been correctly informed, and we believe we have, cleverness decided the issue.

MINOR LEAGUES ARE RAPIDLY REGAINING FORMER STRENGTH SINCE END OF WORLD WAR

NEW YORK, June 2.—The minor baseball league, at its height a short time before the entry of the United States into the world war and so nearly threatened with extermination during that period, is regaining its former strength.

Baseball men have watched with interest and optimism the gain of the many small leagues since the close of the war. They declare it is a matter of only one or two years before the small cities, which in years past have supported class C and class D organizations, again will back the numerous leagues which formerly supplied the majors with playing talent. The frequency with which college and semi-professional stars of the past two or three years have entered major league baseball successfully, is declared to be largely due to the paucity, during war times, of the small leagues.

The high water mark of the minor league was in 1914. That year, in addition to the two major leagues and three class AA loops, the American association, International league and the Pacific Coast league, there were two class A organizations; eight in class B; seven in class C and 21 in class D. The two class A organizations, the Southern association and Western league, withstood the war shock, although at financial losses to directors. They were joined in the classification last year by the Eastern league and this season by the Texas league.

Decrease in Smaller Leagues.

The decrease in the smaller leagues from 1914 until 1918, when the minimum was reached, nowever, was marked. In 1915 the class B group, which the previous year had comprised the Central, Eastern association, Three-I, New England, New York State, Northwestern, Texas and Tri-State leagues, dropped the Eastern association and the Tri-State league, the latter composed of a group of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware cities.

By 1918, only three leagues of this class had survived, the Eastern, Pacific Coast International and Texas leagues. It was largely the vigor shown by the Texas and Eastern groups during this period that earned for them their present classification in class A.

By 1920 the membership of the class B leagues again numbered six, including the Three-I, Michigan-Ontario, Pacific International, Texas, Virginia and Western Canada leagues. This season the South Atlantic league was admitted, making a membership of seven in the class as compared with the eight of 1914.

The class C and D groups thus far failed to "come back" so successfully. Only two, Florida State league and Piedmont league, are operating in class C this season as compared with the seven of 1914, according to official published lists. Only nine are operating in the class D group as compared with the 21 of 1914. Of these nine only four, the Appalachian, Georgia State, Texas-Oklahoma and Western association, have endured through the critical years. The others now in this classification are the Blue Ridge, Dakota, Mississippi State, Southwestern and West Texas leagues.

Are Financially Firmer.

Financially, however, the leagues that have remained are on a firmer basis than ever. Salary limits in 1914 in class B averaged $2,500 monthly; in class C from $1,200 to $1,400 and in class D from $1,000 to $1,400. Only in 1918 did they take a pronounced slump. Then in the class D leagues the Blue Ridge limit of $900 was the low level. This season, the class B salary figures range from $2,800 to $3,250; class C $2,400 to $2,650 and the class D leagues pay a limit of $2,400, a figure undreamed of in 1914. The Dakota league, one organization with such a limit, includes Madison, S. D., with a population of 4,144; Mitchell, S. D., 8,478 and Redfield, S. D., with 2,755 among its cities. Sioux Falls, S. D., is the largest of the cities of the league, with a population of 25,202. Baseball men declare that such support for minor league clubs from cities of that size indicates surely that the game will regain its former strength throughout the country, insuring for the major leagues a correspondingly higher grade of baseball. The table showing decrease between 1914 and 1918 and steady increased since that year follows:

Class	Major	AA	A	B	C	D	Total
1914	2	3	2	8	7	21	43
1915	2	3	2	6	5	11	29
1916	2	3	2	6	3	8	24
1917	2	3	2	6	2	7	21
1918	2	3	2	3	1	2	12

GROH SIGNS WITH CINCINNATI REDS AT CLUB'S TERMS

CINCINNATI, June 1.—Henry K. Groh, holdout captain and third baseman of the Cincinnati Nationals, signed his contract at the club's terms today.

He accepted the salary of $10,000, his pay to start when he is reinstated by Judge Landis.

Groh held out obstinately for a salary of $12,000 and it is believed he signed with the understanding that he would be traded.

PRELIMINARY SHOOT WON BY J. L. NABB

Local Captain Leads Large Field by Smashing 98 Out of a Possible 100.

By breaking 98 pigeons out of a possible 100 J. L. Nabb, field captain of the Wichita Falls Gun club, glazed the trail in the preliminary shoot of the annual registered tournament now under way at the local traps. W. H. Heer of Guthrie, Okla., gave him a close rub for high gun by spilling 97.

One of the features of the day's program was the score turned in by J. P. Morrison Jr., 11-year-old son of J. P. Morrison of Temple, Okla. Young Morrison showed that he was no novice at the game by breaking 56 out of his 60 targets.

Yesterday's complete scores were:

J. L. Nabb	98x100
W. H. Heer	97x100
A. G. Deatherage	95x100
L. E. Day	94x100
J. P. Morrison	92x100
W. Daniel	91x100
Frank Howard	91x100
Paul Adams	91x100
C. J. Pate	90x100
L. H. Little	88x100
C. B. Wood	88x100
Bert Adrian	85x100
Ferris Holmes	83x100
G. D. Rigsby	83x100
W. J. Gibbs	79x100
Charles Greenberg	77x100
Charles Gay	76x100
J. J. Galyher	76x100
E. P. Bowen	73x100
G. Simon	70x100
L. Morrison	44x 50
E. Morrison	46x 50
J. P. Morrison Jr.	50x 60

Chaney vs. Frush Tonight.

CLEVELAND, June 2.—George (K. O.) Chaney, Baltimore lightweight, and Danny Frush, Baltimore featherweight, will appear in a twelve-round decision tonight at Duna field. Chaney meets Billy McCann of Cleveland at 133 pounds and Frush meets Eddy Walsh of Brooklyn at 128 pounds.

Champion Anxious To Get Back to His Conditioning Grind

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 2.—Jack Dempsey today began to show indications of cracking under the spell of his enforced four-day rest. The heavyweight champion is becoming more fretful because of the inactivity at his camp and is eager to resume his conditioning grind on Saturday, which will be continued without further interruption until he finishes training for the defense of his title against Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, July 2.

Despite the fact that Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, placed his training paraphernalia under lock and key before he departed for New York, Dempsey could not resist the temptation to go on the road yesterday. It became known today. The champion left camp secretly and alone, returning forty minutes later dripping wet with perspiration. He covered between five and six miles.

Dempsey is showing a marked aversion towards the numerous visitors that appear at his camp daily. Yesterday he was called on the telephone by some theatrical friends who said they were coming out to entertain him. As soon as he hung up the receiver, Dempsey jumped in his automobile and drove away from camp. He did not return for several hours.

The title holder broke his silence on the possible outcome of his fight on July 2 when a friend asked him point-blank if he would knock out Carpentier.

"I have a hunch that I will," laughingly he replied, "and if I'm feeling good that day the fight will be over inside of four rounds."

Later on Dempsey was asked what he would do if Carpentier landed flush on his jaw like he did against Joe Beckett in England.

"I guess I'd have to resign, too," smiled Dempsey. "But he hasn't hit me on the chin yet."

Martin Burke, the New Orleans heavyweight, is back in camp today ready to take his turn facing the champion. Burke purchased a head guard to protect a swollen cauliflower ear from further damage.

FAMOUS PINCH HITTER GOES FROM CHICAGO TO INDIANS

CHICAGO, June 1.—Eddie Murphy, one of the best pinch hitters in the American League, has been claimed by Cleveland from the Chicago White Sox under the waiver arrangement. It is understood Cleveland will use him in a trade.

Russell Pence, a young pitcher said to have a lot of natural ability, quit the Chicago team today, saying he would go back to his home in Marrine, Illinois, where a man "didn't have to learn so much to win ball games."

Hodge, formerly a pitcher on the Nashville Southern league team, also will be released, it was announced.

HEINE GROH'S FUTURE HOME IS IN DOUBT

Cincinnati Players Want Him to Stick But Giants and Pirates Are After Him.

PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Heine Groh may become a member of the Pittsburgh National league club, it was said today when it became known that George Gibson, manager of the Pirates, had been in long distance telephone communication with him.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—Members of the Cincinnati National league team are besieging the management not to trade Heine Groh, holdout third baseman, who signed a Red contract yesterday and they planned to meet Groh today to urge him to change his mind about playing with the Reds.

"Greasy" Neale may also return to the team. The Philadelphia National league club has asked waivers on Neale, and the Reds have claimed him.

It has been stated with authority that Groh may be traded to New York for several players and money and if Neale returns, Charley See will be transferred from the outfield to the pitching staff.

Miss Leitch Strong Favorite in British Woman's Golf Race

TURNBERRY, SCOTLAND, June 2.—With all the American entrants eliminated, the British woman's golf championship tournament narrowed down today to a purely British competition in which Miss Cecil Leitch, the present champion, remained a strong favorite.

Miss Leitch justified the hopes of her admirers this forenoon, winning her match in the fifth round with Mrs. Cautley of Thanet, 2 up and 1 to play.

Miss Joyce Wethered of Worplesdon defeated Mrs. J. Cochrane of Stirling by one hole, and Miss L. Scroggie of St. Rule defeated Miss Molly Griffiths by the same score.

Carpentier's Speed Makes 20th Century Look Like Tractor

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 2.—Sparring partners who have entered the ring for workouts with Georges Carpentier declared today that Dempsey's chances of winning over the French boxing champion were extremely slim.

Jack Goldberg, a welterweight from Panama, who received a bit of punishment in the stable arena yesterday, declared he had never seen such a powerful right hand.

"It will foot anybody," he said. "You never know when it was coming and if you do there is no escape. And as for speed, Carpentier has the Twentieth Century limited looking like a farm tractor."

Sam McVey, a negro heavyweight, who has known Georges since he began his ring career, bore out the statement concerning the strong right arm, and emphatically predicted that Dempsey would experience unconsciousness on July 2.

TEXAN FAVORED TO WIN SOUTHERN HANDICAP SHOOT

ATLANTA, GA., June 2.—E. F. Woodward, state trapshooting champion of Texas, was a favorite to win the southern zone handicap trapshooting tournament here because of his record of 100 straight hits in a preliminary shoot held Tuesday.

MARGARET CHURCH FIRST TO RAISE EDUCATIONAL QUOTA

VERNON, TEXAS, June 2.—Margaret claims the honor of being the first charge in the Vernon district to pledge its quota to the $32,000,000 educational fund which the Methodist church is campaigning for. Margaret's quota was $3,248 and this amount was exceeded by more than $200.

The campaign locally opened Sunday and reports from other points in the district are encouraging. That the Vernon district will pledge its quota of about $75,000 seems assured. More than half of this has been pledged.

All Prices F. O. B. Syracuse

Back of this new standard of prices is a bit of history. Last September the Franklin cut its price drastically. A remarkable sales record followed. For months past Franklin business has required normal capacity production. Since December last, there has not been on hand at the factory at any one day more than three days' production of cars.

This favorable situation has effected economies which make possible the present revision, thereby creating a new opportunity for purchasers, and again emphasizing the proven advantages of Franklin performance—

LOOK FOR THE MEYER RED DIAMOND

If You Want More Bodily and Mental Vigor
Try Me I Only Require One Minute
of your time each day. I have helped give thousands of weak, run-down, nervous folks, increased strength and endurance, in two weeks' time, in many instances.

I am not a doctor but PHYSICIANS HAVE OFTEN ADVISED PEOPLE TO TRY ME. Former UNITED STATES SENATORS, United States Army Generals, Judges of U. S. Courts and many well known people have availed themselves of my help.

STRONG MEN, ATHLETES, BRAIN WORKERS—they know what I can do when they want the "stay there" strength and endurance that wins.

WOMEN WHO ARE WEAK, nervous and irritable as a result of overwork, worry or household drudgery have often obtained most surprising relief from me.

When, as a result of iron starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but try me. I only take one minute of your time each day. I am NUXATED IRON—organic iron. I am like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. I help make strong, forceful, red blooded, men and beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women. Without iron like me, your blood becomes pale, thin and watery and loses its power to change food into living tissue, therefore nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it.

To prove to yourself what I can do get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles, then try me for one month and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; how the color has come back to your face and how much stronger and more steady your nerves now are. I will not injure your teeth nor disturb your stomach. You need not lose a cent on me. If I do not give you satisfactory results my manufacturers will refund your money. Get only me. Beware of imitators. I come in tablets only, never in liquid form—Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet—and the word "Nuxated" on every package. Sold at all druggists. (adv.)

NOTICE OF ELECTION.
Order to Determine Whether or Not the Commissioners Court Should Issue Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars of Hospital Bonds.

On this the 9th day of May, A. D. 1921, this court being in regular session, all members present, came on to be considered the petition of Joe Daniel and 314 others, the same being at least 10 per cent of the qualified property tax payers of Wichita county, Texas, praying that bonds be issue by Wichita county, Texas, in the sum of $75,000 for the purpose of enlarging and equipping the buildings of the Wichita General hospital, situated and located in the city of Wichita Falls, Wichita county, Texas.

And, whereas, there is in said county a city, to-wit: Wichita Falls, Texas, with a population of more than 10,000 persons.

And, whereas, the acts of the 33rd legislature, title 29A approved March 26, 1913, provides for the issuance of the bonds, for the erection of county hospitals and enlarging and equipping of said hospitals and for all other necessary permanent improvement in connection therewith.

Therefore, it is hereby ordered by the Commissioners Court of said county, that an election be held on Saturday, the 18th day of June, A. D. 1921, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted: Shall the Commissioners Court of Wichita county, Texas, be authorized to issue bonds in said county in the sum of $75,000, payable as follows: Thirty $1,000 bonds, payable serially, three bonds each year for a period of 10 years, numbered from one to 30 and according to their numerical number, $45,000 in $1,000 bonds, numbered 31 to 75, payable 25 years after date with option of redeeming same at any time after 10 years from date. All of said bonds bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and to create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for the purpose of enlarging and equipping the buildings of the said Wichita General hospital within and for said county. Said election shall be held at all of the regular voting precincts in Wichita county, to-wit:

Election Precinct Number One, at the City Hall in Wichita Falls.
Election Precinct Number Two, in S. E. corner of Court House.
Election Precinct Number Three, at the Allendale school house.
Election Precinct Number Four, Cashion school house.
Election Precinct Number Five, at the mayor's office at Burkburnett.
Election Precinct Number Six, at the office of Justice of Peace of Iowa Park.
Election Precinct Number Seven, at the Denny school house.
Election Precinct Number Eight, at the Upper school house on Beaver creek.
Election Precinct Number Nine, at the Clara school house.
Election Precinct Number Ten, at the city secretary's office at Electra.
Election Precinct Number Eleven, in N. E. corner of Court House.
Election Precinct Number Twelve, N. W. corner of Court House.
Election Precinct Number Thirteen, S. W. corner of Court House.
Election Precinct Number Fourteen, at Neitsler Store at Mt. Caramel.

And the regular election officers are hereby designated to hold and conduct said election, to-wit:

Election Precinct Number One: J. C. Ward, presiding officer; judges, Ed Wilson and R. C. Priebe.
Election Precinct Number Two: Presiding officer, J. B. Fitts; judges, F. M. Hull, J. O. Bentley.
Election Precinct Number Three: Presiding officer, E. A. Guinn; judge, R. L. Ludolphus.
Election Precinct Number Four: Presiding officer, J. D. Cooper; judges, J. H. Shaw, John Holder.
Election Precinct Number Five: Presiding officer, W. R. Hill; judges, J. W. Ferguson, F. R. Knaut.
Election Precinct Number Six: Presiding officer, S. R. Munden; judges, Viola Smith, G. B. Gaunt.
Election Precinct Number Seven: Presiding officer, J. R. Pace; judges, Will Hodges, Dan Hooks.
Election Precinct Number Eight: Presiding officer, Will Guthrie; judges, Chas. Ancell, Frank Hamilton.
Election Precinct Number Nine: Presiding officer, Will Heiserman; judges, R. A. Bain, W. E. Lindsey.
Election Precinct Number Ten: Presiding officer, Edward Schlaffke; judges, C. T. Aven, E. M. Friend.
Election Precinct Number Eleven: Presiding officer, M. K. Emmert; judges, Luther Leissler, F. V. Crowell.
Election Precinct Number Twelve: Presiding officer, B. M. Bullard; judges, I. A. Albritton, W. H. Downing.
Election Precinct Number Thirteen: Presiding officer, N. O. Monroe; judges, G. E. Friberg, Lester Jones.
Election Precinct Number Fourteen: Presiding officer, Jake Roessler; judges, E. W. Huff, R. T. Moye.

Said election shall be held under the provisions of title 29A, acts of the 33rd legislature laws of 1913 and the general laws regulating the issuance of bonds.

And only qualified voters who are property tax payers of said county shall be allowed to vote; and all voters desiring to support the proposition to issue bonds shall have printed on their ballots the words "For the Issuance of Bonds," and those opposed shall have written on their ballots the words, "Against the Issuance of Bonds."

The manner of holding said election shall be governed by the laws of the state governing general elections.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The cotton market was very quiet during today's early trading. Liverpool was about as due and the opening here was steady at a decline of 1 to 5 points. There was some light covering and a little buying for New Orleans and Japanese account. The demand was supplied by southern selling realising or liquidation, however, and the market showed an easier tone after the call with October selling around 13.45, or about 5 points below last night's closing. The news from the goods trade was considered rather encouraging as a better demand was reported for print cloths, but some of the Carolina mills were said to be closing and so far as indicated by cable no definite progress was made toward a settlement of the British coal strike yesterday.

There was a little more scattering liquidation later and the government report making the condition 66, was followed by a flurry of local commission house selling which sent the price of October contracts off to 13.30 or 20 points net lower.

These offerings were by no means active or general, however, and the market soon became uiet again with prices showing rallies of several points on covering.

The upward revision of last year's acreage figure attracted some comment but the market remained very quiet during the middle of the afternoon with prices steady around 13.40 for October, or about 10 to 11 points net lower.

Cotton closed quiet.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—Only minor price changes were made in the first hour of trading in cotton today, the market being in a waiting attitude because of the pending bureau report on conditions. At one time the most active months were 4 points under the close of yesterday, as the result of favorable weather over the greater part of the belt. At another October was 3 points over yesterday's close over more cheerful labor news from England and the report that railway men had lifted the ban against handling imported coal. July traded down to 12.27 and back up to 12.31.

The report of 66.0 per cent of normal as the condition of the crop on May 25 was slightly higher than average expectations and caused moderate selling which carried the trading months 18 to 19 points under the close of yesterday. July dropping to 12.13 and October to 12.87.

In the late trading there was some disposition on the part of shorts to cover because of the holiday here tomorrow in observance of confederate memorial day and the prices made a partial recovery. Toward the close July stood at 12.25 with the more active months showing net declines of six points.

Cotton closed steady at net declines of 6 to 8 points.

DALLAS, June 2.—Cotton middling, 11.00; steady. At Houston, 11.80; steady. At Galveston, 12.00; steady.

New Orleans Spot Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—Spot cotton quiet and unchanged. Sales on the spot, 193 bales; to arrive, none. Low middling, 9.25; middling, 11.75; good middling, 13.25. Receipts, 7,199; stock, 456,139.

LIVESTOCK.

Fort Worth Live Stock.

FORT WORTH, July 2.—Very moderate receipts of cattle arrived today, the count calling for only 1,100 head, but the calf supply was liberal, around 1,500 head being offered. Steers sold to a fair demand at prices that were about steady but heavy cattle in the native division were very slow to move. Outside buyers took over most of the calf crop at steady prices.

A run of about 700 head in the hog yards sold readily on a strong market. Shippers paid $7.65 for good hogs and packers secured some at $7.55. Most sales ranged from $7.50 to $7.56. Pigs remained unchanged at $.00 to $7.25.

Receipts in the sheep house were limited to about 200 head, most of the supply being lambs. Market conditions remained unchanged.

Quotations:

Cattle: Beeves, $3.00@6.00; stockers $3.00@4.50; cows, $2.00@5.25; canners, $1.00@2.00; heifers, $4.00@7.50; bulls, $2.00@3.25; calves, $1.00@6.50; yearlings, $5.00@8.50.

Hogs: Light, $7.50@7.65; medium, $7.25@7.50; mixed, $6.75@7.25.

Sheep: Lambs, $5.00@7.50; yearlings, $4.00@5.00; wethers, $3.50@4.00; ewes, $2.50@3.25; culls, $1.00@2.00.

Kansas City Livestock.

KANSAS CITY, June 2.—Cattle: 4,000; beef steers steady; top yearlings $8.75; heavy steers $8.25; calves steady; best vealers $8.50; other classes slow and steady; undertone weak; most cows $4.50@5.75; choice $6.25; canners mostly around $2.00.

Hogs: 6,000; steady to strong; spots higher; top $7.65; bulk $7.25@7.60; stock pigs steady to 10c higher; best $8.90.

Sheep: 4,500; sheep steady; best Texas wethers $4.15; most fat native ewes around $3.25; lambs 25@50c higher; clipped lambs $10.25; top native spring lambs $12.25; bulk better grades $11.50@12.00.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, June 2.—High price records for the season were again outdone today in the wheat market. Upturns, however, were moderate compared with those which have been witnessed of late. Bullish factors continued to be the scantiest of the visible supply, the shrinkage of the prospective 1921 yield and the unabated export demand. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c to 1c higher, with July at $1.37½ to $1.38, were followed by a moderate reaction, and then by an ascent higher than before.

Notwithstanding that persistent selling together with further rains in the southwest led to new declines, the market took a decided upward jump later as a result of big export business and of bullish crop estimates. Prices closed nervous, 3c to 3½c net higher, July $1.40½ to $1.40⅝.

Corn was firmer with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ½c higher, including July at 67c to 67½c, the market eased down a little, and then scored another advance.

Export sales of 500,000 bushels to Holland were noted. The market closed firm, ⅛ to ⅝c net advance, with July 67 to 67⅛c.

Oats started ⅛c off to ⅛c higher, July 42⅛c to 42⅜c and made slight general gains later.

Provisions sagged owing to absence of any special demand.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Under lead of rails, equipments and tobaccos, stock market prices were mainly higher at the opening of today's session. Early gains of 1 to almost 2 points were made by Canadian Pacific, International Harvester and Sumatra Tobacco. The list soon became unsettled, however, on further selling of Crucible Steel, which added 1½ points to yesterday's loss of 3½ points. Sentiment again was adversely influenced by the weakness of Liberty bonds, the 3s falling to 86.52, the lowest price yet recorded for that issue.

Some of the steel, equipment, oil and food shares registered further reactions at mid-day when call money rose to 7½ per cent but the trend otherwise was toward increased steadiness. Liberty 3½'s made another decline to 86 but soon rallied to 86.40.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 600,000 shares.

MRS. DON LONG RESIGNS CHAIR OF CIVIC LEAGUE; MRS. CRAWFORD SUCCEEDS

Mrs. Don Long resigned the presidency of the Wichita Falls Civic league during the executive board session of the league Wednesday. Mrs. H. S. Crawford, second vice president, succeeding to the office twice vacated this year.

Mrs. Long was elected first vice president of the civic organization at the regular election some months ago, and named active vice chairman by Mrs. Smock, who had served as president three years. On Mrs. Smock's resignation at the May meeting, shortly before her departure for Indiana, she succeeded to the presidency. Mrs. Long has not been in the best of health, however, and felt after consideration that she could not undertake the responsibilities of the chairmanship. Her resignation was accepted with sincere regret.

Mrs. Crawford will conduct her first meeting as president of the league at the regular meeting on Tuesday, when the membership will be asked to confirm the board's action with regard to Mrs. Long's resignation. A number of matters of minor importance which came up for consideration before the executive board will be presented to the membership Tuesday.

REDUCE DEATH LIST OF RIOT AT TULSA

grounds is sponsored by his or her employer a "police protection" tag is issued and the prisoner released. It is hoped in this manner to thin the ranks to where the five negro officers of Tulsa county can identify the negro participants in the riot.

As the day wore on Tulsa assumed an entirely normal appearance aside from the presence at street intersections of the khaki clad guardsmen who slowly patrolled their beats or leaned on their bayonetted rifles, the marching through the streets of relief details and the occasional dashing about of camion loads of soldiers.

SYSTEMATIC STOCK-TAKING OF TULSA DEATHS AND RUIN

TULSA, OKLA., June 2.—With daybreak today, this city under the control of strict martial law, began a systematic stock-taking of the death and ruin which after hours of race rioting spread in its path Tuesday night and yesterday morning.

The military forces headed by Adjutant General Barrett, started a check of the list of dead which unofficial statements placed at somewhere near 100, most of them negroes. Belief was expressed by all officials that the disturbance would not recur.

Eight white men were killed so far as a check of the morgues disclosed. Some of the 35 white injured in hospitals are expected to die.

When the military forces comb over the burned negro quarter a number of negro bodies were expected to be found. This morning the bodies of 15 negroes lay in morgues.

Belief was expressed by officials that the bodies of all the negroes killed would not be found, as it was thought that a number were burned in their homes. Then, too, reports were received at military headquarters that a number of negro bodies had been thrown into the river and others burned outside the city.

Many Cannot Recover.

Physicians treating wounded negroes at hospitals said a score could not recover.

Military patrols and guards at every principal street corner kept a firm grip on the situation today. Business was virtually suspended last night, under a general order issued by Adjutant General Barrett, but stores were permitted to open at 8 o'clock this morning. Citizens were not permitted on the streets last night, under the order, and it was strictly enforced by the guardsmen. Any one who ventured on the streets without a military pass, was taken to the guardhouse.

A sweeping investigation of the causes leading up to the rioting was expected to get under way during the day. Governor J. B. A. Robertson, who came here late yesterday, planned to take an active hand. A military commission had the task of fixing responsibility for the outbreak.

Outside the horror of killing and wounding in the series of race battles, the situation of thousands of homeless negroes presented the most serious condition and one which will give authorities the biggest problem.

All that was left this morning of the hundreds of negro homes bunched in the section fired by white rioters was a blackened waste, a curling column of smoke here and there, and a few shattered walls.

Burn Mile Square.

The burned area is more than a mile square. Virtually no buildings escaped. Many were cheap frame buildings, but more than a score of them were substantial brick business houses. A negro church recently completed at a cost of $85,000 was consumed by the flames.

The property loss, according to real estate men, will total well over $1,500,000.

Five thousand negroes were herded in the fair grounds under protection of the militia and thousands of others who fled out of the city came trickling back.

Citizens were called upon to contribute bedding and clothing for relief of the refugees. A civilian committee and the red cross provided food and other comforts for them.

One suggestion was to clear away the debris in the old negro quarter and erect tents there.

Since martial law was declared late yesterday there has been no indication of further conflicts, and observers expressed the belief that the flare of race feeling had died out. There were rumors at various times of sporadic trouble, but investigation proved them untrue.

No Negroes on Trains.

Trains coming into Tulsa last night brought no negroes and the number of white passengers was reduced sharply. On the train arriving from Muskogee at 1:30 a. m. it was said that three coaches generally are crowded and that the entire negro section usually is filled to capacity. This morning no negro passengers alighted and there were fewer than a score of white passengers. The negro porter was not permitted to make his usual run, and a white brakeman substituted for him.

At the downtown hotels where negro bell boys and porters heretofore have been employed, guests were requested to tell the substitute elevator operators their floors and then find their own rooms.

Officials hope to clear up just what led to the first shooting Tuesday night. A newspaper man who was at the court house at the time said about 25 white men gathered on the south side of the building. Three of the leaders entered the court house, he said, on the top floor of which Dick Rowland, a negro, was being held for an alleged attack upon a white girl in an elevator of a downtown building. Most of the white men were not armed, according to the newspaper man.

Sheriff McCullough met the three men who entered the building and warned them away, with the declaration that the negro would be protected at any cost. The prisoner was in a cell at the top of a winding stairway which could have easily been held by a few against a mob.

Gather at Court House.

Meantime about 30 negroes, some armed, gathered in little groups west of the court house. Barney Cleaver, negro, a veteran peace officer, went among the gathering negroes and counselled them to disperse. At this time there apparently was no concerted action among the negroes.

Most of them started to leave, but were called back by a few leaders. Twice again the majority of the negro mob moved away, but each time they returned at the appeal of the few who were determined to stay.

By this time the white crowd had been reinforced by curious persons. Then some broke, running eastward, shouting "Let's get guns."

The negroes moved away and took a stand about three blocks away. The white crowd remained near the court house, receiving reinforcements.

Then armed negroes appeared in motor cars racing past the court house.

The white men then moved away from the court house and it was a brush between skirmishers in an alley that precipitated the general shooting.

The two forces consolidated soon afterwards and the negroes were driven through the business district back to their quarters.

They took up a stand across the Frisco railroad tracks, about a thousand strong, and a battle took place when the white rioters lined up behind buildings on the other side of the railroad tracks.

Finally, fires were started by the whites and the negroes dislodged.

The matter of collecting insurance on the property in the negro quarter today was in dispute, the insurance men holding that their policies on the approximately $1,500,000 worth of buildings destroyed did not recognize mob violence as a destructive agent. It was regarded as possible that some of the negroes might seek to recover from the city of Tulsa, seeking to establish that the city was negligent in not having provided sufficient protection, and therefore was responsible for the losses.

WILL SEND 250 OF THE NATIONAL GUARD HOME

TULSA, June 2.—Adjutant General Barrett, commanding the state militia force in Tulsa county under the martial law proclamation, announced this morning that 250 of the 450 guardsmen will be sent home this afternoon. He did not say which companies would be relieved.

REQUEST GOVERNOR TO STOP ATTACK ON NEGROES

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Association for the Advancement of Colored People today telegraphed Governor Robertson of Oklahoma asking him to use his full powers to stop the reign of violence and terror at Tulsa. The association also offered its co-operation and announced it expected to send representatives to Tulsa to ascertain the cause of the disorders.

WHITE MEN ARRESTED FOR LOOTING AT TULSA

TULSA, June 2.—Thirteen white men were arrested by national guardsmen in the negro quarter today and sent to the city jail for investigation. It was said all men had in their possession property which apparently had been taken from houses which the flames did not reach, but from which the negro occupants fled in fear. Many such houses were entered, according to guardsmen, and trunks and cabinets broken open.

KNIFE IN HAND OF HOMICIDE VICTIM

W. T. Vance, S. M. Seales and C. L. McKinney.

The indictment was read to the jury to which the defendant entered a plea of not guilty. In the true bill returned by the grand jury, Carpenter, the defendant, is charged with the murder of Jack Hollingsworth on the evening of March 24, 1921.

Twenty witnesses for the state were present and an attachment was issued for the three absent ones. The defense called a list of 21 witnesses, including several character witnesses. The court swore in 26 men and women. The rule was invoked and all retired from the crowded court room with the exception of Pink Rhodes.

Pink Rhodes Testifies.

On direct examination the witness told that he and the defendant and two other men had met in a drink stand on the morning of the day that Hollingsworth was killed and that they had all taken a drink of eau de quinine, a hair tonic.

He told of having heard a report in the drink stand that morning, but although an effort was made by the state to refresh his memory with reference to something that was lying on the floor, probably a pistol, the witness stated he did not remember.

He also told on direct examination that a few minutes before Hollingsworth was killed, the latter, himself, Mr. Kitner and a drummer had taken a drink in a little anteroom at the rear of the drink stand next to the Hearn hotel. He told that as he was walking out of the place he met Carpenter and told him that if he wanted a drink he could go to the back and get it.

As he reached the door, the witness testified, some one remarked, "You have made too many threats against me." He stated he did not know who uttered the statement.

Hears Fatal Shot.

The witness had stepped out on the sidewalk when he heard a shot. He was talking to Policeman Miles at the time. He and the policeman stepped into the alley and met the defendant. The defendant handed the policeman a gun, a bone-handled pistol.

Rhodes said he stepped to the doorway which led into the alley and saw Hollingsworth lying there, his feet lying in the alley but his body inside the door.

On cross examination, the witness said he could not place the time of day when he saw Carpenter in the drinkteria on Seventh street but believed that it was in the morning.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE OF GASOLINE, IS NOW 18 CENTS

You can now drive your car nearly twice as far for a dollar as you could when gasoline prices were at last year's peak.

Another two-cent cut per gallon was made by local companies and stations Thursday morning, the new price being 18 cents.

Also, the Gulf Refining company has cut the wholesale price of kerosene to eight cents.

GASOLINE IS REDUCED TO 18 CENTS AT ABILENE

ABILENE, TEAXS, June 2.—Gasoline dropped from 20 cents to 18 cents a gallon at two stations here this morning.

MARTHA WASHINGTON IS ON WAY TO NEW YORK

BUENOS AIRES, June 2.—The Munson liner, Martha Washington, which had been tied up in this port for about two months and about which raged one of the most bitter labor struggles in the history of the republic, today is well on her way to New York. The vessel left yesterday after members of her crew who had been arrested in connection with the outbreak of a fire on board the ship on Monday, had been released, and had returned to their posts.

EXPECT REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF LINEN COLLARS

CHICAGO, June 2.—A reduction in the price of linen collars is expected by the directors of the National Clothiers' association who today asked the Collar Makers' association of Troy, N. Y., for a conference.

"We were successful in getting straw hat manufacturers to reduce prices," said Charles E. Wry, executive director.

APPROVE APPLICATION OF CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY

PHOENIX, ARIZ., June 2.—State Water Commissioner Norviel today accepted for filing the application of the Southern California Edison company to develop hydro-electric energy from the Colorado river. Promoters of the project say it involves an ultimate expenditure of about $800,000,000, or twice as much as the sum spent on the Panama canal.

SENATE PASSES ANOTHER FARMERS' RELIEF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 2. — Another farmers' relief measure, the bill of Senator Curtis, republican, Kansas, to loan up to $50,000,000 to federal farm loan banks to distribute among farmers at not more than 5½ per cent interest was passed today by the senate with assurance of early house approval.

DENY APPLICATION TO TAKE OFF PASSENGER TRAINS

BATON ROUGE, LA., June 2.—The Louisiana railroad commission today denied the application of the Texas and Pacific railroad to discontinue about twelve passenger trains which the road claims were being operated at a loss. The road, however, was given permission to close agency stations at Black Hawk, Anchorage and Lobdell.

12-YEAR-OLD BOY UNABLE TO LOCATE HIS MOTHER HERE

Leroy Watson, aged 12 years, came to Wichita Falls Wednesday night at 10:30 o'clock expecting to meet his mother at the depot. He could not find her, and an elderly man who had ridden on the train with him sought to find her, but to no avail.

The man kept the boy all night and Thursday morning turned him over to the juvenile officer who is making an effort to find the lady who the boy says is Mrs. Ethel Freeman. He says that his mother is a registered nurse.

Leroy has been in school at Konwah, Okla. School was out last week, and Wednesday he was put on the train and sent to Wichita Falls.

The juvenile officer asks that if anyone knows the whereabouts of Mrs. Leroy Freeman or if she should hear of her boy's arrival in the city, please communicate with him at the court house.

WILL SEEK TO PROVE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS PROPHESIED IN BIBLE

According to Evangelist J. C. O'Hair, the Bible very clearly sets forth the fact and outcome of a league of nations during the last days of the Christian age.

Mr. O'Hair, who is teaching the Bible at the Central Presbyterian church, will speak Thursday night on the subject, "The League of Nations" in the light of the Bible. This wonderful message has been delivered before many audiences who have declared the truth presented to be unanswerable. Mr. O'Hair states that prophecy is history pre-written and that history is prophecy fulfilled.

The Presbyterian church at Eleventh and Bluff streets was quite comfortable Wednesday night, but if the attendance continues to increase a larger building will have to be secured. The various denominations of the city were represented last night and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the unique way in which the Bible is taught from the large Bible chart. It is expected and desired that the building will be filled to capacity Thursday night.

E. C. Huckabee of the First Methodist church, south, of this city will sing a gospel solo. Meeting at 8 o'clock. No collections. All are invited.

2 AUTOMOBILES STOLEN, ONE IS RECOVERED STRIPPED OF MOVABLES

Two automobiles were stolen Wednesday, according to reports to the police. A Chevrolet belonging to R. A. Jones of 2134 Axenue was stolen, and later found, stripped of practically everything detachable.

C. M. Featherston of 1412 Taylor reported the theft of a 5-passenger Franklin, which was taken from the downtown district. It had not been located at noon.

MONA MARIE WELL EAST OF ELECTRA COMPLETED FOR 25

The Mona-Marie Oil company on the T. W. Roberts, east of Electra, has cleaned out and completed its No. 1 well, which is now making 25 barrels from the 900 foot sand.

On the Burnett, south of Electra, the Planet Petroleum company has just completed its No. 15 well in the 962 oil sand. It is now making 60 barrels. The company is making location for the 16th well.

The Sagmo Oil syndicate No. 1 Reis has reached a good oil sand at 1660 and has drilled in 10 feet, and are waiting on a string of casing to resume operations.

In Archer county, the Lorena oil company has made a location on the Luke Wilson ranch, in the southwest corner of the L. A. Moore tract in block 2, H. & T. C. survey.

The Couch Winfrey Oil company on the Henderson have pulled the casing and will try to find a new seat on their 1620 sand.

Dee and Belport in their No. 1 test are drilling at 1640 feet, and on their No. 1 Helms are still going near 1300. On the Cowan estate they are drilling at 1635.
