Menard Friend Has Praise For New Arena

Menard, Texas, June 7th

Horace Linthicum, Eldorado, Texas

Dear Horace,

We wanted to let you know how much we enjoyed the first show in the new arena. You and all of Eldorado have something to be mighty proud of there. I don't know of a better set-up any where.

The arena may have been a dream come true for you, but within that dream, memories have been born for many a youngster which will be cherished the rest of their lives. I had one man tell me that he would have given half of his life to have been able to go to a show in a place like that when he was a kid.

'I don't recall seeing a long-hair or hippie-looking freak there. The little boys all did their very best to be men. Perhaps tomorrow and years to come we will still have some hard-working, level-headed men, with a little common horse sense, to turn our country over to. To me the little men in your arena would make much better presidents than the ones we read about in the newspapers or see on TV. Sincerely,

Paul G. Kothmann.

Conservation practices help keep the streams and lakes from being filled with topsoil from agricultural land Lakes and streams filled with soil can become polluted to the point that they are unfit for fish and wildlife or recreational purposes. The supply of good water for human consumption and home uses, is effected by how agricultural land is managed. The abundant supply of good wholesome food in America, didn't just happen; it was brought about by good farming methods, including good soil and water conservation

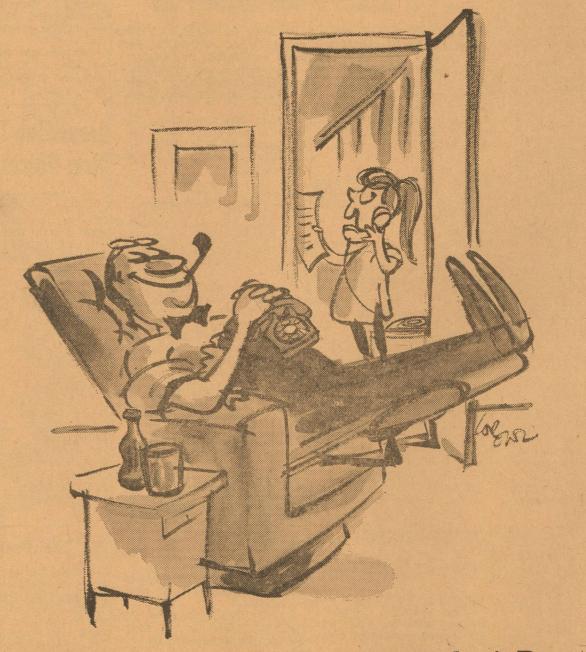

Sol fertility and condition either mproves or becomes depleted as he land is used. Unfortunately the latter is always the case if needed management practices are not planned and applied. By applyng and maintaining all the needed soil, water and plant conservaion practices, the land can be kept in its maximum potential producive condition.

Farmers and ranchers can reeive assistance from the - Soil Conservation Service in planning and applying the needed conservation practices on their land. Cost share in applying enduring type conservation practices is available in this District from the Great Plains Conservation Program, administered by the S. C. S. Also, cost-share assistance is available from the Schleicher County A. S. C. S. office.

Crabmeat Lorraine

For a culinary "grand slam" — the easy way — try this! The country folk of eastern France originated a savory baked custard-cheese tart, known as Quiche Lorraine. Although it began as a simple peasant dish, a little imagination turns it into glamorous party fare.

Quiche Lorraine ranks as something spectacular in itself. This alternative features crabmeat smoothly blended into the custard and Swiss cheese. Dots of scallions and dill weed complete the supreme temptation, when Crabmeat Lorraine bakes in a tender, flaky pastry shell.

Difficult? This special pie requires just minutes - and takes an hour to prepare from mixing bowl to table. Served hot from the oven, this Quiche makes an excellent lunch or supper dish. Or serve it in tiny wedges as a hot hors d'oeuvre.

Nutritionally speaking, Crabmeat Lorraine scores high, too. The filling is rich in protein and the pastry shell, prepared from enriched flour, contains these essential nutrients: thiamine, niacin and riboflavin — three B-vitamins, plus the mineral, iron. All are needed for daily maintenance of good health.

> CRABMEAT LORRAINE PIE One 8 or 9-inch pie

Small Towns In Trouble

Noting preliminary census figures discouraging to many communities, Gov. Preston Smith said revitalizing the small towns of Texas may be tougher than starting them.

"Right now," said Smith in a speech at Crane, -'the people of rexas-whether they live in the largest city or the smallest rural community-have some problems as tough for them as were those that confronted the 'frontier busters.' In many respects, our challenge and our task are more demanding and much more complex. The preliminary reports on the census of so many of our smaller cities spell out in box-car letters that as much tenacity-just plain guts-is required to tackle that job as the old-timers needed."

National Bureau of Standards presented the state with $80,000 standards and calibration equipment.

Precision instruments will be used in the new Department of Agriculture Weights and Measures Laboratory just dedicated here. Equipment is first of kind officially issued to states by the federal government since the 1840's, and the Governor said it wlil benefit inby insuring just and fair transac-

Clarence Pickard, 80, is retired at his Indianola, Iowa home. But the former aviator, farmer, county agent and college professor who returned just 18 months ago from Peace Corps service in Bulandshahr, India, says he is looking for new ways to serve mankind. Pickard and his wife, Mildred, 75, now spend much of their time giving talks and showing slides depicting their life as Peace Corps Volunteers. In India, the Pickards lived in one room which at one time was shared by 36 baby chicks. The Indians have great respect for age, which Pickard found helped him with his Peace Corps work. Peace Corps Director Joseph Blatchford says the Corps is now seeking many skilled farmers and craftsmen.
