Proposed $50,000 Memorial to 36th Division Would Mark Site of Original Invasion Near Salerno, Italy

Scurry County relatives of men in Company G, 142nd Infantry Regiment of the 36th Division, expressed appreciation this week in the proposed $50,000 memorial to the 36th Division on the site of its bloody landing in Italy.

The memorial is being proposed by the division's former commander, Major General Fred L. Walker. He led the division from Camp Bowie through the hard-fought Italian campaign until it reached a point 35 miles of Rome.

The men of Company G and other units of the 36th, Walker says, "have the honor of being the first of Americans decisively to defeat the trained German troops on home soil. They were the first Americans to establish a beachhead on the mainland of Europe.

"By their courage, their gallantry and sacrifices they led the division in Italy and set an example for other troops to emulate. A suitable memorial would be contructed as an [illegible]-reminder of their [illegible] achievements and supreme sacrifices to future Americans and European generations.

Colonel Clayton P. Kerr of Dallas, Walker's chief of staff, is now in Italy negotiating negotiations with the Italian government for a tract of land for the memorial shaft. The Fort Worth site is at the foot of Mount Rubiano, overlooking the military beach-head scene of the Division's veterans arrival.

Walker said he [illegible] $100 contribution to Colonel Allen Ainsworth of Lubbock, who is to be named chairman of a campaign to raise the memorial fund. Ainsworth was executive officer of the 142nd Regiment when it struck at Salerno and is now on terminal leave from the Army.

Lieutenant Colonel Carl L. Phillips, Dallas attorney, who was the division's supply and evacuation officer in the Italian campaign, and Colonel A. B. Crutcher of San Antonio, were named to head Ainsworth.

On December 16 the almost wholly reserve 36th is scheduled to dock in New York, bringing with it a record of combat that ranks high among units of the second World War.

That record will go into the memorial. 400 days of combat, five campaigns in Italy and France, Germany and Austria, two major amphibious operations, citations from two humbles and heroism. It includes 175,000 enemy troops captured, dishonors, thousands killed and wounded, 12 Medals of Honor, six Presidential Citations, 12 Distinguished Service Plaques and hundreds of other commendations, medals and awards.

The cost of that record was high. The division's casualty rate was the third highest in Europe: 27,243 T-patch men listed as casualties, of whom 3,974 were killed, 19,052 wounded and 4,317 missing in action.

WAR CHEST TO BE CONTINUED REST OF MONTH

County Drive Officials Advised by Wire to Push Campaign as State Lags Below Goal

Telegram received Wednesday afternoon by W. J. Ely, county chairman, and other War Chest officials, revealed that the United War Chest campaign will be continued through November since Texas has failed to raise more than 62 per cent of its over-all goal.

"Since this failure in the state," Governor Coke R. Stevenson reports, "makes it necessary to do something, the war chest drive will continue throughout November. We are now settled on two patriotic enterprises, namely war gifts and war bonds, and we must not let one interfere with the other."

Through Wednesday Snyder and Scurry County had raised $3,385.66 toward the county's over-all quota of $6,108. This left the county, as Chairman W. J. Ely stated, about $2,715 short of its goal.

Cheering news on the United War Chest front was confined in a report that China Grove, with a quota of $82.80, had raised $84.

Through Wednesday four Scurry County communities were over the top in the campaign. They were China Grove, Bethel, Dermett and Woodland.

Reports received this week on three more county communities revealed this progress:

Ennis Creek, $64.39 raised against a goal of $116.85; Crowdes, $73 raised against a goal of $124.80; and Martin, $5 raised against goal of $62.80. Arah reports $25 raised against assignment of $32.20.

Late Wednesday Mrs. Jim Beavers reported $131.50 raised for the Camp Springs-Midway community.

Reporting for Independence Mrs. Cecil Hall lists $58.50 raised against a quota of $181.

Chairman Ely and community chairmen were making a special effort Wednesday to conclude the county-wide campaign.

All reports on the UWC drive, Ely states, should be filed by Saturday without fail.

CHARLIE JONES KILLED BY CAR EAST OF TOWN

Resident of County Over 50 Years Dies When Driver Blinded by Oncoming Truck on Road

C. H. (Charlie) Jones, 70-year-old Scurry County citizen, was killed instantly Wednesday morning, 6:00 o'clock, when he was struck three-quarters of a mile from the square on U. S. Highway 180 by a car driven by Billy Nicks of Snyder.

Jones, according to first-hand reports obtained by J. A. McRoyer, constable of Precinct No. 1, and Hinch Bell, city chief of police, was walking southeast on the right hand side of the highway and still to the edge of the pavement.

Nicks had been to town to get his sister and was returning to the Nicks residence on the I. F. Smith place. A truck was immediately behind him and an approaching truck coming over the hill with bright lights, blinded him.

Not only did local police check on the case, but the State Highway Department patrolman checked and absolved the driver of any blame in the unavoidable but fatal accident.

Mr. Jones died instantly, investigating officers ruled. He was thrown to the right several feet into the barrow pit.

Jones was born October 18, 1875, in Rockwall, and had lived in Scurry County 50 years. He and his family lived for years in the Plainview community.

A member of the Church of Christ many years, Mr. Jones had always favored community and civic progressiveness.

Funeral arrangements, pending arrival of a son from Salt Lake City, Utah, in the armed forces, will be announced from Odom Funeral Home.

The well known county farmer is survived by the widow, Mrs. Zelma Jones; six children, Alva Jones, Ruth Jones, Paul Jones, all of Snyder, Mrs. Charlie Lee Smith of Hermleigh, Mrs. Mildred Popejoy of Dunn and E. L. Jones, with the armed forces at Salt Lake City, Utah; five brothers, Skiller Jones of Dallas, John W. Jones, Forest Jones, Clyde Jones, all of Snyder, and Alvis Jones of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Howell of Snyder, Mrs. Maude Howell of Alvord, and eight grandchildren.

New Automobiles Not to Be Sold on Rationed Basis

New automobiles, Snyder area people were informed Tuesday, that will soon go on sale will not be rationed.

The Office of Price Administration at Washington and War Production Board, in a joint statement, say that with nearly 24,000,000 cars now on the road and new production underway, there is no longer danger of a general breakdown of the automotive transportation system.

It is predicted that as new production picks up, newer and better used cars will become increasingly available in Scurry and other counties.

No automobiles have been rationed since last July when remainder of the general stock of pre-war cars was released for general use.

Hundreds See New Post-War Ford Car

First post-war Ford for Snyder's trade area went on display Friday morning at Cantrell Motor Company, 1711 25th Street, and hundreds of people have viewed the new car.

Since automobiles are no longer rationed, Gene Cantrell, operator of the firm, says he is taking orders for new cars on the basis of first come, first served.

Servicemen, Cantrell states, will be given preference on new automobiles, but they must accept delivery as their names fall in rotation.

The Dallas Ford plant is now turning out more than 100 new Fords per day.

Dale DeShazo Made Paper Sports Editor

Dale DeShazo of Snyder, junior student at West Texas State College Canyon, has been nominated by the Student Senate and appointed by President J. A. Hill to serve as sports editor of the college newspaper, The Prairie.

DeShazo also edits a column, Riding Herd, the purpose being to bring about a closer relationship between the student body and the athletic program of West Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeShazo.

36th Division Slated To Arrive Nov. 10

Snyder area people were cheered this week by news that elements of the 36th Texas Division are scheduled to dock at New York November 10.

The veteran Texas outfit still has some Snyder area men in it. Scurry County's Company G, 142nd Infantry of the 36th Division has had personnel changed so rapidly that only a few Scurry County men remain in the 142nd Infantry.

It will be recalled that in peacetime the 36th Division was a National Guard outfit.

Members of units in the 36th Divisiony la[illegible] fought in some of the war's 36th a[illegible]st battles—including the cost-France a[illegible]g at Salerno, Italy. The [illegible] fought in North Africa, [illegible] Germany.

Mutt and Jeff couldn't have posed any better for this picture than Simon Best city chief of police, and J. P. Billingsley, county clerk, with the money bags from the D. S. Dudley Carnival held here recently. The two happen to be holding 21 pounds of money, $258.49, that the Snyder Will Layne American Legion Post realized from the carnival during its local appearance.

Cotton Ginnings Climb to 2,248 as Weather Clears

Blessed by sunshine and continuing pretty weather, Scurry County ginnings, through noon Wednesday, reached 2,248 bales.

Tuesday and Wednesday there were no Mexican nationals at all in the county's migratory labor camp, one block north of the square. All were busily engaged in harvesting cotton which is said to be opening rapidly.

Report received by Ira R. Sturdivant, county crop reporter, from the Department of Commerce reveals 2,091 bales of cotton were ginned in Scurry County previous to October 18.

Ginnings prior to October 18 compare rather unfavorably with 5,716 bales reported ginned prior to October 18, 1944.

Even though cotton ginnings so far are running less than 50 per cent of 1944 ginnings, pretty weather during the next three weeks will greatly facilitate crop harvesting and cause remainder of cotton to really open.

Weldon Johnson Gets Fine Quarter Houses

Weldon Johnson, Ennis' Creek rancher, is getting some mighty fine colts by his six-year-old Quarter Horse stallion, Trigger McCue.

The horse is out of a Black Bob mare, Pansy, that Bill Taylor raced for many years. Black Bob is a famous Quarter Horse in this area, having been owned by P. L. Fuller.

Black Bob was sired by Hiram Baker, by Peter McCue.

Ivan Francis Hardy Discharged.

Ivan Francis Hardy, electrician's mate second class of the U. S. Navy, this week received his service discharge at Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington, the public relations office states. Hardy was in a group of 15 discharged at the separation center.

Snyder Highway Warehouse And Equipment Burn

Snyder's most destructive fire in recent years was tallied Saturday morning when the State Highway Department warehouse in the eastern part of town burned with loss of $10,000 in stock and equipment.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered at 2:00 a. m. Despite efforts of the Snyder Volunteer Fire Department, the fire, fed by an exploding gasoline pump and barrel of kerosene, soon covered the entire structure.

G. R. Austin, Scurry-Borden County maintenance foreman for the State Highway Department, says the warehouse will be rebuilt soon. It was a sheet iron structure with wooden beams and rafters.

Six or eight explosions were a number of Snyder people, as tires on highway equipment began to pop.

In addition to a considerable amount of stock and equipment lost in the fire, the 1941 model Ford coupe Mr. Austin used was a total loss, as was a 1941 model Chevrolet truck and a 1939 model Ford truck.

In addition to Scott, other board members are W. A. Griffin of Snyder, chairman, and John A. Stavely of Fluvanna, member.

Shoe Rationing Ends With Greater Stocks

Shoe rationing in Scurry and other counties of the nation was terminated at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, and Snyder area consumers breathed a deep sigh of relief.

Terminating a program inaugurated on February 8, 1943, the Office of Price Administration said rationing could be lifted because shoe production has increased remarkably since V-J Day.

OPA officials are calling on merchants to give preferential treatment to returning service men and women.

Spokesmen for the shoe industry promise plenty of footwear for civilians, and shoe production is said to be near pre-war levels.

Snyder Hallowe'en Is Quiet Occasion

Snyder observed its first peacetime Halowe'en Wednesday night in five years, and city officers report the festive occasion unusually quiet.

One attraction card was a carnival at Hermleigh, at which a carnival queen was named. N. T. Underwood, Scurry County Chamber of Commerce manager, was present and helped conduct a war bond rally.

Dunn community, in Southern Scurry County, also staged a Hallowe'en carnival that attracted good crowds.

Fluvanna to Host Next Meeting of County Singers

Hermleigh Methodist Church was filled Sunday morning when semi-annual sessions of the Scurry County Singing Convention got underway at 11:00 o'clock.

Jack Patrick, convention president, presided for the conclave, which attracted singers from Colorado City, Loraine, Rotan, Kress, Slaton, Spur and Abilene.

In business session Sunday afternoon Fluvanna was successful bidder to host the April, 1946, session of the convention.

A bountiful dinner was spread at noontime, basket style, and both Patrick and Mrs. Claude Patrick, convention secretary, express gratitude to the good women of Scurry County who prepared dinner to accommodate convention attendants.

Rev. A. T. Mason, Hermleigh Methodist pastor, was host minister for the songfest.

Exceptionally good singing and quartet numbers were on the menu during Sunday's conclave.

Among the many out-of-county attendants were T. D. McKinney and his singers of Spur, J. P. Spears and Luther Rudd of Slaton and the Vineyard family of Kress.

Odell Allen Tells of Battle Service with Ship in War Zones

In a recent message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allen of Route 2, Snyder, Odell Allen describes how his ship, the U. S. S. Sanborn, APA 193, observed its first anniversary on October 3.

"One year ago October 3," he says, "we hoisted the colors and started this ship on her career. We have done a lot since then—sailed some 44,000 miles, visited some 10 Western Pacific ports, transported some 7,000 troops and taken part in two invasions.

"We have lost seven of our ship's company by enemy action, and two of our company have been decorated. We haven't had a serious accident. We lost," Allen says, "one man accidentally but through no fault of personnel or material.

"A year ago we said the Sanborn was going to be a smart ship. She is. I am sure that there is no ship in the fleet that operates more smoothly, more smartly, in daily routine or that has a better reputation among the troops."

Joe Holder Attends Lost Battalion Meet

Sergeant Joe N. Holder of Fluvanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Holder, was among members of the Lost Battalion who attended the battalion reunion Sunday and Monday in Wichita Falls.

Dedication services for members of the Lost Battalion who never came home were held Sunday evening, 7:00 o'clock, in Wichita Falls Memorial Auditorium.

Beginning at 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon, men of the 131st marched in a unit—probably for the last time. They were led by Lieutenant Colonel Blucher Tharp, commander, Major General Fred L. Walker, who commanded the 36th Division, and Governor Coke R. Stevenson, in a parade with peace as the theme.

Plans were laid during the Sunday-Monday conclave to perpetuate the 131st or Lost Battalion.

New Telephone Directories Show Listings Growth

Distributed over the week-end Snyder's new 1945 telephone directories lists 1945 contain 647 subscribers, of which 38 are new members.

C. H. Cale of Lubbock, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager, reports the new directories are about the same size as used in 1944.

Most of the new subscribers for the local telephone exchange were secured in October.

First subscriber in the new directory is the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, and the last subscriber is Your Exchange.

Ample space is provided on page 11 for new subscriber listings.

The post-war directory has a nice volume of advertising throughout its 16 pages.

Mutt Clark to Farm After Release from Four-Year Service

Sergeant George (Mutt) Clark Jr., his wife learned over the week-end, received his service discharge Friday at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, after a record of four years and six months in service.

Mutt spent most of his time in service at an army base training recruits. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Horton.

Mutt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark Sr. of Snyder.

Mutt's brother, Corporal Henry B. Clark, spent 10 months in the European Theater of Operations and received his discharge October 10.

George and Henry have purchased the Chandley Glenn tract of land. Mrs. Henry B. Clark is the daughter of John Curtis of Snyder.

John Toomer Back With Army Discharg

Given a discharge from service upon the basis of a "soldier's job well done," John W. Toomer, husband of Mrs. Jessie Mae Toomer, says the couple will make their home here.

Toomer received his honorable discharge at Camp Swift.

The Snyder soldier served overseas 15 months. He saw combat in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

Wounded in action March 1 of this year, Toomer was sent to France and later went back to Germany.

Attached to the Fifth Armored Division, Toomer holds three battle stars, the Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Commissioners Go to To Road Conference

Accompanied by Sheriff Earl Strawn, County Judge P. C. Hairston and Scurry County's four commissioners left Tuesday morning for Austin, where the group attended a State Highway Commission hearing.

In addition to Strawn and Hairston, other members of the county group were: T. B. Knight, commissioner Precinct No. 1; Jones Chapman, Precinct No. 2; Ted Haney, precinct No. 3; and Schley Adams, Precinct No. 4.

The group is scheduled to return today (Thursday).

Sorrells Serving on New Super Carrier

Willie E. Sorrells, 27, yoeman second class of the U. S. Navy, has been assigned to the crew of the U. S. S. Franklin D. Roosevelt, second of the Navy's new super aircraft carriers, his Knapp friends learned this week.

The 45,000-ton carrier, named for the late President Roosevelt, is the first major combatant vessel of the modern fleet ever to be named for an individual.

Sorrells and other members of the ship's crew took pre-commissioning training at Newport, Rhode Island.

Estell Wellborn Is Texas Tech Beauty

Estell Wellborn, freshman at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, has recently been nominated as a beauty candidate for the Tech freshman class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie M. Wellborn of Snyder.

Estell was voted the most beautiful girl in Snyder High School in 1944-45. She is a graduate of the local school.

Elliott Roosevelts And Dog Stop in Snyder for Lunch

Snyder people got a real surprise Sunday when royalty, in the personages of Elliott Roosevelt and his wife, the former Faye Emerson, ate dinner at a local cafe and had their Cadillac serviced at a local service station.

Elliott and Mrs. Roosevelt had evidently motored through from California, and were en route to Fort Worth.

One of the most colorful sons of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Eliott gained fame in service, in the field of radio broadcasting and as an extraordinary personality in business.

Although he had rather references would not be made, Elliott became, it will be recalled, center of a hot controversy last year when the A priority given his English Dane—a present to Faye Emerson—caused two servicemen to be taken off an airplane at a Southern airport.

One service station attendant declared the Roosevelt dog was "as big as an ox; well on second thought almost as big. The dog was entirely 'out of this world'."

Joe Holder, Just Out of Japanese Prison Camp, Hits Tire Troubles

It remained for Joe Holder of Fluvanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Holder of Fluvanna, to mark up one of the war's unusual records while a prisoner-of-war at the hands of the Japanese.

Joe was in Java with the 131st Field Artillery unit, the "Lost Battalion" which held its reunion at Wichita Falls over the week-end. The group was fighting with the Dutch, and for several months worked like Trojans to help win the war.

The Fluvanna soldier became separated with the Dutch Army units and, with others, lived with natives of the big island in the Southwest Pacific for several months. He ate meals with natives and was really getting accustomed to Java food when the invading Japanese noticed he was an "off-color" person and promptly detained him as a war prisoner.

When Joe was released and got back to the States, his troubles really began. For instance, he bought a car at Abilene, and while on his way home blew out two tires near Sweetwater.

Joe had been overseas for a long time, and naturally he went into the nearest tire store and plunked down American money for two new tires. The dealer would not let Joe have the tires, of course, without tire certificates, so Joe thought the fellow must be "nuts."

Well, to make the story brief, Joe and the dealer got into a highly controversial argument—for Joe had never heard of tire rationing in the United States.

It looked like awhile that Joe might have to go back to Japan, where "folks were civilized," and buy tires where all the credential needed was the money.

Happily, however, the dealer convinced Joe that tire certificates would have to be forthcoming; such were obtained, tires put on the car and Holder came home a mush wiser and more "war conscious" soldier.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a [illegible] and lace dress with a sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The finger-tip veil was held to her head by orange blossoms. For "something old" the bride wore a pair of gold earrings belonging to her Grandmother Miller; for "something borrowed" she wore a diamond brooch belonging to Mrs. W. D. Harris; and for "something new" she carried a white Bible with the names "Wilson and Joy" engraved in gold as a gift from Rev. Shahan. The Bible was topped with white gladioluses arranged about a white rose with stephanotis streamers.

While guests were entering and being seated Louella Dougherty played two preludes entitled "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "To the Evening Star" by Wagner at the Hammond organ.

Rev. Joe Graham sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mrs. Dougherty played "The Bridal Chorus" by Wagner as the bridal party entered. "Traumerei" was played during the ceremony, and during the recessional "The Wedding March" was played.

Mrs. Charles Owen, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor. She wore a gown of misty blue lace and net. Her corsage was of red roses. Ola Margaret Leath and Mary Bell Weathersbee were bride's maids. Ola Margaret wore a dress of yellow marquisette and Mary Bell wore a green marquisette dress. Both wore pink carnation corsages. Dressed in a pink taffeta dress with a white chrysanthemum corsage was Ann Fish, who was flower girl. Mrs. Edgar Taylor, mother of the bride, was dressed in a street length powder blue suit with a corsage of white carnations. Staff Sergeant Truett McGregor was best man.

Ushers were Corporal Albert Miller Jr. and Raymond Mangum.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Taylor gave a reception at their home for the members of the wedding party. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds and topped with miniature bride and bridegroom. A bouquet of white roses completed the table decorations.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon trip. For her going-away dress the bride wore a melon color crepe dress with a black gaberdine coat and black accessories.

The couple will live at Abilene.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before your "time" is due, it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
Try Cardui. It helps, you'll glad you did.

During Planning Stage

It's the time to decide on house heating

Building a new home or bringing an old one up to date with a remodeling job requires many decisions in the planning stage. Probably none is more important than deciding on the method of heating the house since heat is so essential to comfort and health.

Whether you decide to heat your new home with floor furnaces, circulating heaters, steam radiators or a combination of these, or with a central furnace, the location of the equipment should be determined during the planning stage of the house so the necessary flues for venting the equipment can be shown in specifications and on plans.

The new gas heating equipment for venting to a flue will be coming off production lines in substantial quantities by January. So there is time to carefully plan the heating of your new home. It is most important to plan heat with your architect or builder as part of house if sought-after natural gas heat is to be enjoyed at its best.

Palmer Brothers Review Hardships In Europe Action

Joe and Buster Palmer, former Snyder residents, have recently received honorable discharges from service, Mrs. Fred Palmer, their mother, learns.

Joe was with the Fifth Army under General Clark, attached to the 3341st Quartermaster Truck Company.

Joe was inducted into the army June 18, 1942, and spent 27 months overseas. He wears the Fifth campaign medal with five bronze stars, the Good Conduct medal and other decorations. He was engaged in hauling men and supplies to the truth lines.

Darkest moment of Joe's army life, he states, was the Anzio bootheld, where so many of his buddies lost their lives—because U. S. troops were short of ammunition and supplies. Ammunition was rationed and food got very low, he says.

"All we could do," the Snyder boy declares, "was just pray for the dear boys in the air as they were all that saved us for our ammunition was virtually gone."

Sergeant T. E. (Buster) Palmer was attached to the 850th Air Engineer Squadron, stationed in England. He was 75 miles from London.

Buster reports their shops were bombed several times but he and some of his buddies were plenty lucky. In the service three and one-half years, he took most of his training at Curtis Wright Technical Institute, Glendale, California.

Buster spent two years overseas. His average work day was from 14 to 16 hours to help "keep on flying." He was in Snyder recently visiting his children, Little Sandra and Ralph, and with close friends.

The first book printed from movable type was the Gutenberg Bible. Only 41 copies are in existence today, and each is valued at $100,000.

Electric Gdgets Soon To Help in Chores of Home

Electrical appliances for making home work easier, by Snyder area housewives will soon be on the market and farm women, especially, will be buying new cleaners, mixers, irons and other appliances which they did without during the war.

If utilized in the correct manner, electrical appliances can save a great deal of energy and time, Estalla Babel, county home demonstration agent, points out.

When the homemaker buys a new appliance, it will save her time and work in the long run if she studies out first the best way of doing the job. Just as an example, here are a few pointers in cleaning a room with a vacuum cleaner. First the homewife should see that there is enough light and ventilation in the room for a good and comfortable job. After she decides on the best method of doing the job she must eliminate any part of the task she can or combine steps in the cleaning.

"If you can use one attachment for several jobs," says Miss Babel, "you may be able to do all those steps before the attachment is changed. Keep everything within easy reach so that when you need to change attachments you can do it quickly. Attachments have a specific job. Be sure you are using the right one for the job you are doing."

Proper method of using any electrical appliance will save money, too, because the appliance will last longer and need fewer repairs.

James P. Pitner on Way Home with 37th Buckeye Divisioners

A veteran of 22 months overseas, Staff Sergeant James P. Pitner, 22, son of Mrs. J. P. Pitner of Route 1, Snyder, will soon be on his way home with the returning 37th Buckeye Division, reports the 37th Infantry Division Headquarters at Luzon.

Pitner, a member of the 37th Division's 129th Infantry Regiment, is entitled to wear the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the soldier's Good Conduct medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre ribbon with two battle stars and the Philippines Liberation ribbon with a star.

Doughboys of this outfit saw action on Bougainville in the Solomons prior to their initial Lingayen Gulf landing on D-Day on Luzon. Then the 129th knocked out Jap resistance in the Fort Stotsenburg Area before capturing Manila's Old Walled City—to culminate their 130-mile sweep through Central Luzon.

Moving to Northern Luzon, elements of the 129th were the first Yanks to enter Baguio, the shell battered summer capital in the Phillipines. Members of the group then moved into the Cagayan Valley to break the final Jap stronghold in the Phillipines.

Recruits Solicited for Service With Army

Wayne Hall, U. S. Army recruiting officer with headquarters at Big Spring, announces he will have a representative at Snyder's draft board office Friday afternoon, 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock, to accept recruits for service.

Hall's representative will accept enlistments or reenlistments. Boys just coming of draft age—if volunteers—can volunteer for service for a one and one-half year tour.

All draftees, it is pointed out, are subject to a two-year term of Army duty.

Those enlisting for a three-year hitch can choose the theater of service, and men who re-enlist, Hall states, will be entitled to all benefits of the GI Bill of Right. They will receive a 90-day furlough with pay before entering into active duty. They may retain their present rank.

Bang's Disease Vaccine Made.

Army veterinarians have set up in Italy the same type of control program which has been so successful in combatting cattle brucellosis (Bang's disease) in this country. They are producing brucellosis vaccine there, from a special strain flown from this country.

John Roddy Serves On Seaplane Tender

John H. Roddy, chief electrician's mate of the U. S. Navy, another Snyder Navy man, helped round out the final chapter of the Seaplane Tender U. S. S. Currituck, when it was assigned as one of the naval units with the liberation forces in Korea and China.

So reports the Navy Fleet News Center, which says the Currituck, as the "mother" ship of scores of Navy patrol bombing seaplanes, and its personnel played an important part in the destruction of enemy shipping between the Jap homeland and conquered territories to the south.

Cleaning of Pillows Aids Fight Against Winter-Time Colds

A number of families in Scurry and neighboring counties are just getting over fall colds and influenza, and this brings up the question of airing the beds and pillows.

It will be good news to Scurry County home makers, Texas Extension Service advises, to learn that feather pillows may be washed.

Feather pillows may be washed with feathers in them, according to Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. Or feathers may be removed from the ticking, put in a large muslin bag and washed separately.

Whether the feathers are washed in the ticking or in a muslin bag, the method is the same. Warm water with lots of suds is needed, and washing should be done with a weak washing soda solution. The pillows may need to go through another suds, and then through several lukewarm rinse waters. "When the washing job is done, says Mrs. Claytor, "squeeze the water out, and let the pillows dry in warm air and in sun, if possible. During the drying process, lightly beat the pillows two or three times so they will be fluffy."

If the feathers and ticking are washed separately, a good stiff starch can be applied to the inside of the ticking with a sponge or soft cloth. This starch will act as a coating so the feathers will not work through," Mrs. Claytor says.

Dust Causes Swine Pneumonia.

Keep hog house floors free of dust and pulverized straw, and it will help prevent swine pneumonia, says a bulletin of the American Veterinary Medical Association. Dust and straw particles irritate the pig's lungs and frequently bring on pneumonia.

Hunters Bag Elk And Deer on Trip in Wyoming Hills

Nolan van Roeder of the Van Roeder Seed Farms of Knapp, and a group of eight O'Donnell hunters returned Friday morning from a two-week deer and elk hunt in Wyoming that proved highly successful.

Going in from Dubois, on the Wyoming stage trails to a point about 25 miles north of Dubois, Wyoming, hunting was plenty good, because the group killed five elk, four deer, a snow-shoe rabbit and plenty of pheasants. Plenty of snow was reported above the timber line in the Washie Needle Peaks.

Besides van Roeder, members of the O'Donnell group were D. J. Belch, W. L. Gardenhire, J. T. Middleton Sr., J. T. Middleton Jr., Mack Noble, O'Donnell postmaster, Benny Middleton and T. Girard.

In the kill were three bull elks, two cow elks, two buck deer and two does. The pheasants nagged and the snow-shoe rabbit rounded out a hunt that would have been ideal anywhere, the group declares.

William P. Simpson Discharged by Navy

William P. Simpson, aviation machinist's mate first class of the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Simpson, has received his discharge from service, and with his wife, Charlotte, is now at Oakland, California.

Simpson, a 1939 graduate of Hermleigh High School is now 24 years old. He served overseas two years, first was attached to a base in the Aleutian Islands, with a Navy PBY, and later was sent to the South Pacific with a B-24 crew.

Prior to entering the Navy, Wilson attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, a year and a half.

Ralph A. Curtis, senior chaplain of the U. S. Navy, sent Mr. and Mrs. Simpson a message this week telling of William's good conduct while in the Navy. The Snyder boy plans to make his home in California.

Sure, we've won the War—

BUT THE COST GOES ON!

IT WILL COST MILLIONS TO BRING OUR ARMIES BACK and it's just as expensive as it was taking them over. Meanwhile, thousands of our men who stay behind in occupied territory must receive their pay, be clothed, housed and fed at Uncle Sam's expense.

WE OWE THEM A RETURN TRIP TICKET TO HEALTH. Today, the rehabilitation and care of over 300,000 wounded are among America's gravest peacetime problems. This obligation is one which every American can now share in—by investing in the Great Victory Loan.

UNCLE SAM MUST STILL PAY FOR THESE. Although America had already started to cut down on production of various kinds of war materials, the swift ending of the war left many planes, tanks, battleships, guns, made at the last minute, still to be paid for.

America Must Take Care of Her Own In the Great Victory Loan!

IT'S too much to expect that the cost of a war which lasted many years can just stop overnight. Although the fighting is over the paying has to go on for some time to come.

So once more it's ALL TOGETHER in America's Great Victory Loan. Start off your own peace and prosperity—and your country's—right by investing in the biggest quota of bonds you've ever bought.

Congressman Mahon Favors Using Army Dirt Movers for Conservation

In his latest "Sidelights from Washington," George Mahon, 19th district congressman, gives some data on dirt moving equipment, airport programs and surplus aircraft that will be of personal interest:

West Texans who are interested in dirt moving equipment and machinery for the use of local Soil Conservation Districts will approve action recently taken by Congress. For months many of us in Washington have sought legislation which would require the transfer of certain surplus dirt moving machinery to these soil conservation districts. A few days ago the Senate passed unanimously such a bill, and the House Committee on Agriculture has approved and plans to present to the House for passage a similar bill.

My mail indicates widespread interest among farmers in the use of this machinery of soil conservation districts. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of soil and water conservation, and much of this surplus machinery could not be put to better public use.

In Texas there are 115 Soil Conservation Districts embracing 336,000 farms. In the United States there are 400 Soil Conservation Districts embracing a vast territory in excess of 700,000,000 acres. Those of us who are advocating the proposed legislition feel that it would be in the public interest to make much of this surplus dirt moving equipment available to these districts, rather than let it lie idle or sell it for a few cents on the dollar.

The proposed airport construction program, which has been approved by the House and sent to the Senate for consideration, provides for federal participation in the cost of local airports up to 50 per cent. But the federal government would not participate in the cost of the land, and the project would have to be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. The CAA office for Texas is in Fort Worth. L. C. Elliott is director.

Manufacturers of airplanes suitable for private ownership and use are trying to gauge the public demand for such planes. One private plane manufacturer estimates that the airplane industry will make and sell to the private users 50,000 planes in 1946. Most of the surplus Army and Navy planes now being disposed of are war-weary combat types, or are otherwise so constructed that they are not economical or safe for individual use.

Our West Texas high schools that desire war-weary planes for educational purposes can get them. Even though such schools do not have courses in mechanics and aviation, and do not have shelter for the planes, they can secure a plane by making application and paying the packing, handling and transportation costs, ranging from $50 to $350. The Educational Disposal Section, Surplus Property Division of the RFC in Washington has circularized the schools as to procedure. The disposal regulations have recently been notified. I would be glad to provide further information to the schools upon request.

The surplus aircraft disposal program is a big one. Planes of the original total value of $10,000,000,000 are in process of being declared surplus and offered for sale to the public. Up to October 15, 44,000 planes had been declared surplus and 14,000 of them had been disposed of.

There are 614 surplus aircraft on the air field at Laneso. At the South Plains Army Air Field at Lubbock there are 1,500 Flying Fortresses, many of which have served with distinction overseas. The air forces will declare 1,200 of these planes surplus within a few weeks.

Many Extensions Slated for Region By Midwest REA

Electric [illegible] Scurry and other counties served by Midwest Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Roby will be extended during the next year to many additional farms, [illegible] Times.

The REA cooperative is entering its seventh year of operation and serves a seven-county area with rural electricity.

Relaxation of war-time restrictions [illegible] Europe, is one making it possible, Adams states, for the organization to proceed with delayed construction projects.

"In addition to construction now underway or approved," Adams says, "we are making surveys for projects which upon completion will put every rural family in our area within easy reach of our lines. We expect within the next three years to extend service to approximately 1,000 new consumers if the required funds can be obtained."

One hundred and forty-nine additional miles of lines now under contract, when constructed and energized, will service about 400 new consumers in the seven-county area. At present there are 671 miles of energized lines in the area, serving 1,400 consumers. Since the cooperative was organized in the region seven years ago, allotted loans have totaled $13,000, Adams disclosed, used in financing its lines and other facilities.

The cooperative has met all obligations in making contracted interest and principal payments on REA loans, and has paid $13,864.22 on principal in advance of due dates as a cushion of credit in preparation for larger loan amortization and maintenance requirements in the near future. Area counties served by the REA include Fisher, Stonewall, Scurry, Nolan, Borden, Jones and Mitchell.

The cooperative put its first 139 miles of power lines into operation in Fisher County October 10, 1939, and served 400 consumers.

None in County to Get New Pension Grant Maximum

Although Scurry County at present has 325 persons on the old age assistance rolls none of the recipients can be eligible for the $40 monthly maximum permitted by actual need.

So states Mrs. Verna Gammon, Scurry County's State Department of Public Welfare director.

An Austin dispatch this week reveals that some old age pension checks in November will include the increase of $10 the maximum permitted by the August amendment to the state constitution which raised the ceiling from $30.

The $40-per-month maximum, it is pointed out, will be permissible only on a basis of actual need. To date no Scurry County pension recipient has been certified for a grant greater than $30. One of the 325 this month may get as much as $35.

Before the new law went into effect on pensions, this county had 75 oldsters who were each drawing around $20 per month. The State Department of Public Welfare is operating on the same basis as previously, but the new maximum of $40 per month will be available only in cases of actual need—and not a special allotment for all on the rolls.

Public Welfare Department officials said this week that payments to 173,441 oldsters will total $4,201,156. Of the total, 4,286 will receive grants exceeding the old maximum of $30 and 794 will get the $40 maximum now permitted.

Navy Man Writes Okinawa's Storm Did Big Damage

"The tornado that struck Okinawa Island did a lot more damage than many people could imagine," writes Edgar Lynn Hudnall, storekeeper second class of the U. S. Navy, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. (Bill) Hudnall, of Camp Springs.

"Not only were docks and warehouses facilities damaged heavily in the industry, Hudnall states, but both Americans and Japanese dead were in piles when reconstruction work began. Many of the Japs had to be buried in common graves, so crude for time were the Navy and the Army.

"I have been on Okinawa Island since June, and will doubtless be there for six more months."

Edgar Lynn attended Hobbs High School in Western Pecos County. Before being assigned to the U. S. Naval Supply Depot on Okinawa he was attached to the U. S. S. Saratoga.

Long Range Soil Building Plan Set For Agriculture

Scurry County's 1,300 farmers are asked this week that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has adopted a "long range" approach to speed a "proper use of the nation's land, to bring richer and better living to farm people and better water conservation.

The 1946 program will differ more materially to farmers, operating through AAA county and community committees, in recommending conservation practices.

Under a plan set out today by W. E. Trueblood, director of the farm service division of the production and marketing administration, farmers will be given allowances of funds to operate their conservation programs.

Past AAA programs have allotted assistance principally on a state-wide basis. The 1946 program will provide about the same amount of assistance as 1945's.

The 1946 program will provide assistance for three types of practices: (1) Application of lime, fertilizer and other materials; (2) planting of cover crops; (3) harvesting of legume and grass seeds; (4) erosion control and water conservation; (5) range and pasture improvement; (6) forestry; (7) and other practices such as noxious weed control and clearing land for tillage and pasture.

Grain Pastures Vital to Winter Dairyman's Feed

Possible shortage of protein feeds during the coming winter, makes small grain pastures in Scurry and other counties the most important item in dairymen's plans this fall. So advises Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, which reports that 8,500 acres in Scurry County are being drilled and seeded to small grains.

In view of the unfavorable feed outlook, dairymen stand to gain more from grazing small grains this winter than at any time in the past. November 1 is close to the end of the season for planting small grains. But if there is no delay, there still is time for many dairymen to plant these crops. Small grain crops cannot be beaten as an abundant low cost source of high quality protein, minerals and vitamins.

Texas Extension Service says that it takes more than 30 sacks of cottonseed meal to equal the protein in one acre of small grain pastures. This was shown in tests made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In those tests yields for the season of 6,000 pounds of dry matter per acre containing 27 per cent of protein were common. Oats, wheat, barley and rye were among the small grains used.

Cotton Retains Most of Record Price Review of Southwest Market Reveals

Latest Swing of the Southwest Farm Markets, as prepared for Times readers by the Production and Marketing Administration, reflects firm market prices. Cotton maintained most of its ground of last week when it reached the highest prices since 1937.

[illegible] and sirloin grade, along with liberal offerings of rice and light offerings of peanuts and hogs.

Except for weakness of stocker calves at San Antonio, Southwest cattle markets continued upward and gained 25 to 50 cents per 100 pounds. Trade was active with a good demand reported from both killers and shippers, while receipts were slightly reduced from the heavy volume of the preceding week.

Slaughter steers remained scarce and brought high prices. At the close of the week, cutter cows sold between $7.25 and $8 in Fort Worth and $7 to $7.75 in Houston, while most canners in San Antonio brought $6 to $6.50. Canner and cutter cows realized $6.50 to $8.50 in Wichita and $5.50 to $8.50 in Oklahoma City.

Eggs were very strong as offerings, especially those of top quality, fell below trade needs. Dealers in Dallas and Fort Worth paid 50 cents, New Orleans 50 to 53½ cents for large grade A-eggs. Denver quoted 39½ to 41 cents a dozen for current receipts. Markets in liberal poultry [illegible]

Hens brought 22 to 24 cents a pound in Dallas and 21 to 24 cents in Fort Worth.

Early in the past week cotton advanced to the highest level since the mid-twenties, and later price recessions failed to erase all the gain. Growers continue to sell freely, but plantings from this year's short crop are running consid rably below a year ago. Demand, especially for the higher qualities, is in excess of present offerings.

Thousands of dollars are going into the revenue of other state treasuries when it should be going into the Texas treasury for the maintenance of Texas highways.

Fats Get Another Slash in Points as Stocks Improve

Another area consumers breathed a deep sigh of relief Sunday when butter, margarine, lard, shortening and oils went down to eight points per pound.

Holders of depleted ration books saw in the OPA move a genuine desire to make the wartime cooking essential available to civilians on as reasonable a point scale as possible.

Office of Price Administration spokesman said current ration values will be maintained through December 1 on the better cuts of [illegible] pork and on all lean pork.

All meats now ration-free will continue as during November. The only revision of the meat point chart is assignment of lower ration values for six fat pork cuts and barbecued pork. These cuts range from two to four points a pound.

The agriculture department estimates that butter supply will be 12 per cent greater in November. Release of 80,000,000 pounds by the Army is given as the reason.

Among fats and oils, lard supply has improved most. It will be up about 30 per cent in November, the agriculture department said.

Bowles reported that the over-all meat supply next month is expected to be about one-half of one per cent less than in October.

Because of foreign requirements, the domestic supply of beef will be down about 13 per cent in November, veal about 19 per cent and lamb and mutton about 22 per cent.

An agriculture department spokesman said this country's foreign commitments on meat have not been met in full in October, and that this will require heavier shipment in November than had been planned.

The new series of five stamps becoming valid November 1 for meats and fats includes the last four red stamps—W1, X1, Y1 and Z1—and one green stamp—N8—in ration book IV.

Hermleigh Beats Fluvanna Boys in Friday Tilt, 40 to 0

As a highlight of their annual school carnival, the Hermleigh High School Cardinals defeated the Bulldogs from Fluvanna High School last Friday afternoon by a score of 40 to 0.

Displaying a strong ground attack, the Cardinals were never pressed, and used their plays successfully although one of their touchdowns was made on one of the longest passes seen in the county in many days. The pass, thrown by Bill Don Kinney caught a man in the end zone.

The Fluvanna boys were threatened, however, whenever they put up a game fight throughout the game.

The two teams meet again November 9 at Fluvanna, and Fluvanna, Coach Inky Turner, who had worked with the boys only three days prior to the Hermleigh game, may be prepared to pull some surprises from the hat.

Corporal Burney W. Dunnam arrived in Snyder Monday with a discharge from supply division of U. S. Army Air Corps. He was released over the week-end from William Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, receiving a physical check-up prior to being discharged.

In the service since February 12, 1942, the Snyder mattress factory operator was ordered to the European Theater of Operations in November of the same year. He served as a driver with a quartermaster truck company in England, France and Germany.

Burney's sister, Mrs. Lila Jones, lives at 2402 Avenue R.

Jack Terry Visiting After Army Stretch

Holder of five battle stars and the Presidential Citation, Private Jack Terry, given an honorable discharge from service, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. (Bob) Terry.

Jack was attached to the Amphibious Engineers of the First, Seventh and Ninth Armies just out of Berlin when Germany surrendered.

A 1941 graduate of Snyder High School, Jack left for the U. S. Army on October 28, 1943. He sailed from Halifax, Nova Scotia, and went to Liverpool, England.

Jack was in Normandy on D Day, and subsequently was sent to Belgium, Holland and Germany.

The red, white and blue in our flag have special significance. White signifies purity and innocence; red, hardness and valor; blue, vigilance, perseverance and justice.

Letters From Our Readers

In the following letter to The Times, Reader Olga Bowers gives Snyder area people something serious to think about on "The Danger of Inflation."

For almost four years our country was in war and during that time we experienced many shortages of essential goods. During this time measures were taken for control of prices. Now that the war is over, we must take care that prices do not rise and the same conditions exist as after the last war. Let us review what happened at that time.

When the war was over in November, 1918, a few controls over prices were promptly dropped. During the next few months as industry shifted to peace-time production, there was a short lull and prices sagged. Most people thought the danger of inflation was over.

But by March, 1919, workers returned to peace-time jobs rushed to stores to spend their savings. Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers began a wild scramble for inventories.

As a result prices skyrocketed. Nearly half the inflation of the entire war period took place after the guns ceased firing.

And then in June, 1920, came the collapse. Prices were far ahead of buying power. People could not pay for what was produced. Orders were cancelled. Inventories were dumped. Prices crashed.

The result: One hundred and six thousand businesses went bankrupt. Four hundred and fifty-three thousand farmers lost their farms through foreclosure. Pay rolls dropped 44 per cent.

Our economic fumbling delayed orderly peace-time reconversion for more than two years. It brought suffering and misery to millions of business men, farmers and workers.

Again we stand at the end of a great World War. Problems of peace this time are vastly greater. The global scope of the conflict has caused economic distortions throughout the civilized world. Great countries like France and China are already struggling with the fires of inflation.

During the next few months, as in the winter of 1918, some prices are likely to ease. And many people will feel that all danger of inflation has passed.

Price control must continue. We cannot risk another experience such as we experienced after the last war. Let's keep price controls. Sincerely yours—Olga Bowers.

Poultry Carry Tuberculosis.

Recent veterinary research shows that in many farming localities, 50 per cent of adult poultry flocks are tuberculosis carriers, Scurry County raisers are advised. This is why it pays to dispose of over-age hens.

Bill King Shows Lions Part of Huge Collection of World War Souvenirs

Overseas two and one-half years with a Signal Corps unit of the Army, ex-Staff Sergeant Bill King entertained Snyder Lions Tuesday noon with part of one the biggest arrays of World War II trophies seen here.

King went to North Africa where he visited numerous interesting points; then to Sicily. King landed at Paestrum, Italy, one of the oldest cities of Europe, then went to Pompeii, where he saw Mount Vesuvius erupting to destroy a small city or two. Centuries ago this mountain destroyed the great city of Pompeii. He even brought some of the lava that flowed from the mountain.

King also visited Naples, where he saw three world famous operas presented in the famous gilded opera house.

On the soldier's menu was Anzio, where numerous wealthy Italians had summer homes. At Rome the Snyder boy visited St. Paul's Cathedral, the world's largest. He then went to San Rafael, Cannes, the Riviera and Monte Carlo, France.

King accumulated souvenirs at Monte Carlo, which is a free state of eight square miles owned by a wealthy prince. In Paris, he reported, styles were still up-to-date and its night life a marvel of Europe even in war time.

Lions were told how the local boy crossed into Germany over the Blue Danube River. A lot of beautiful country was seen, including the Bavarian Alps. Eagle's Nest, Hitler's home, was an interesting place, King declared.

Among souvenirs King showed Lions were an SS trooper's knife, Bavarian pipes, commando knives, one of the first 22-caliber pistols made, a dress pistol, a Mauiser 32-caliber pistol, air corps sword, a pair of fine binoculars and some Mischaum pipes.

One of the war's real finds, and a prize exhibit of Sergeant King was a collection of medals from Willie Messerschmidt, creator of the great Messerschmidt fighter planes of World War II.

Patsy Spikes gave two numbers, "Here Comes the Navy" and "Anchors Aweigh."

King & Brown Put New Frigidaire on Display This Week

King & Brown, Snyder Frigidaire dealers, 1914 25th Street, announce this week that they have received their first new post-war Frigidaire models and that refrigerators have now been released for sale to the public. War Production Board restrictions have kept the refrigerators from the public until now.

"In our refrigerators, the meter-miser, super-freezer, life-time porcelain finish, quickube ice trays, meat tender and other advantages that have served to make Frigidaire the world's largest manufacturer of refrigerators are again present, and are made with the same or better material than was used in pre-war construction," said King & Brown.

"Little wonder," concluded the dealers, "the public has made Frigidaire the favorite in the past. This year, as always, it will be 'look to the favorite, look to frigidaire'."

Robert Lee Arnett Emergency Leave

The local sailor attended Snyder Schools. He will report to the Navy Separation Center at Norman, Oklahoma, November 9 for his service discharge.

Share the Care

Are you willing, during this all-out Victory War Loan campaign, to share the care? Are you willing to do without a few luxuries in order that the government can pay payday home for the boys?

The above and a lot of other questions will have to be answered by Scurry Countians and the nation within the next few days. We have never fallen down on a war loan drive in the past, but with the shooting phase of the war now over, we will indeed have to share the care to get the job done right. Let us never say that Scurry County failed to do its full part in a bond drive!

When Is Your Boy Coming?

You do not know! We have four at our house whom we are very anxious to see. The Army and Navy do not agree on points for discharge; but they do agree that one occasion for the delay in bringing the boys home is the lack of transportation facilities. How then does the quotation from the Dallas News of October 3 sound?

New York, Oct. 2—Six hundred thousand bottles of Scotch whiskey arrived Tuesday aboard the Egidia, New Anchor Line ship, from Glasgow. It also carried 12 passengers.

What a proportion? Twelve passengers and six hundred thousand bottles. It will take a long time to get 'em home at that rate.—The Crusader.

The 36th Comes Home

With one of the war's outstanding combat records on official files, the Texas 36th Division will dock November 10 in New York, and in this homecoming will be written a chapter that will long live in the hearts of Scurry County and West Texas people.

The 36th Division, when it sailed for overseas duty in April of 1942 had in the 142nd Infantry Regiment, Scurry County's prime manhood—specially trained for some of the war's toughest battles. Not only did the 142nd Infantry Regiment distinguish itself as one of the division's crack outfits, but from the battlefields emerged such great soldiers as Captain Homer Spence, Lieutenant Colonels Roy O. Inge and Jack E. Seitell, Battalion Commander Tim O. Cook and many others. Space forbids a full list of Scurry County men who distinguished themselves in combat and won some of the nation's highest military honors.

Record of the 36th, with the Salerno landing in Italy, battles on Sicily, North Africa and France will live on and on in the hearts of all who had loved ones in the unit of our armed forces. And when the final chapters of this war are talled Scurry County men will be among the bravest and "fightingest" honored.

Editorial of the Week

OUR REAL DELINQUENCY

R. E. Blair, superintendent of the boys' state school at Gatesville, speaking at Sweetwater this week, placed the major blame for the so-called juvenile delinquency on the home.

"If the boys (and girls) don't get the proper training in the home, what can you expect the school and church to do about it?" he asked.

He attributed broken homes as the major cause of delinquency among boys—and he pointed out that he did not consider a "broken home" to be one in which the parents are divorced. "We have had a lot of boys coming to the state school from homes where both parents have been working. Many of these distraught parents come to us and want to know what they ought to do about the situation. We advise that either one or the other, preferably the mother, stay at home and take care of her family."

The state school superintendent suggested several ways he thought Texas might reduce its juvenile delinquency cases:

1.—By removing the basic causes of delinquency;

2.—By diagnosing the situation and arriving at an understanding of the causes of delinquency in the community;

3.—By harmonizing the relationships between the physical and spiritual conditions existing in a community;

4.—By using the schools the year around for youth service;

5.—By placing greater emphasis on religious education in the home, the school and the church.

Mr. Blair pointed out that few of the boys are committed to the state school from homes in which spiritual matters are given a place in the life of the family.

"We have found that very few of the boys who are placed in our care are boys who have attended Sunday School and churches. Most of them are from homes where the parents do not attend church or Sunday School.

"It is for this reason that we place greatest emphasis on the need for a 'spiritual revival' in this country."

The Gatesville man said that any community which fails to provide recreational centers and activity programs for their boys and girls is shirking its responsibilities. Idleness is a big contributor to delinquency, he said, and communities need to do everything possible to keep the youngsters employed at something that will build their minds, their bodies and their souls.—The Nolan County News.

BY LEON GUINN

In the November-December bond selling drive the U. S. treasury expects to raise $17,000,000,000. This would represent a $6,000,000,000 over-subscription of its $11,000,000,000 issue, and doubtless enough, supplemented with taxes, to carry the government through the current fiscal year. . . . The government, after all, is really the American people, and funds invested in war bonds are not only invested in the safest organization in the world, but such funds immediately become the means with which the service man, the service man's widow and the disabled veteran all can live through the months which lie so challengingly before us.

☆

Now that curbs of war-time are gradually being lifted, corporate food chains are planning considerable expansion and re-equipment programs which will run into hundreds of millions of dollars. . . . The programs, from which independents can take a cue, call for plenty of new, streamlined warehouses throughout the country, entirely new retail units and stress on the popular combination markets. . . . Corporate food chains are really going to go after dollar volume increases, and those outside the chains can take warning before such a "reconversion" program breaks.

☆

While the housing shortage in Snyder's trade area continues at its most acute level in five years, people in this area can at least be consoled with the fact that other communities of the nation are in the same boat. . . . Housing experts now declare that America has a deficit in housing facilities nearing the 12,500,000 mark, and no prediction can be given as to when we might get families settled in a normal way.

☆

If a minimum of 1,250,000 new homes are constructed annually in the United States for the next 10 years, we would just then be getting back to normal, and in the meantime many structures now occupied will become unlivable. . . . First, permanent housing repairs seem to be a crying need, and new edifices erected should not be started until grade A building materials are available. . . . The market for comfortable homes, if carried along sane lines, can spark post-war prosperity just as automobiles did after World War I. . . . Main trouble now is to keep present demand for houses from inflating prices to a level where potential buyers will be kept out of the market.

☆

You would be surprised at the number of Americans who want price controls continued, despite all the clamor one hears from day to day over the radio and through the press for relaxation of price controls—all along the line. . . . It is true that the average citizen wants price controls relaxed gradually, but the conservative observer wants no more of such booms as were created in 1919—with the disaster that followed in 1920 and 1921.

☆

Since nothing is being done about the matter by the United States, reports this week reveal that Russo-American relations are being allowed to simmer in their own juice. . . . Observers, however, are not too discouraged about breaking the present stalemate and in due course the urgency of necessity will bring the situation to a boil. . . . Something acceptable to both sides must be cooked up, but haste at this time will do irreparable harm, Washington feels.

☆

A great deal has been said recently about the danger of letting Russian and American relations fall in the well, but our State Department at least has felt that we must call Russia's bluff about some of the proposals made at the London conference. . . . Russia's post-war poverty, plus a desperate need for all types of consumer goods, will doubtless temper negotiations when the need for action arises, and it is as yet surprising how few realize the devastation that occurred in Western Russia. . . . The U. S. will eventually emerge as the "big stick" wielder in world affairs, but this should not give us much to crow about, since goods going overseas will have to be backed with an adequate type of Import-Export Bank credits.

☆

Although most of the strikes which have broken out in the United States during the past 30 days can be laid to unrest and differences going into pre-war days, there is some sentiment in Washington that the peak of strike troubles has been successfully passed—unless the unions change their minds and decide that they must hold to the line on the matter of a 30 per cent wage increase for all unions. . . . There is entirely too much talk about the government sanctioning the strikes in order to make employers pay higher wages—rather than let surplus funds go back to the government in the form of income taxes. . . . The government has realized the need for moderate wage increases, but as in previous years does not contemplate unions demanding a full 30 per cent increase. . . . Government attaches thought a seven to eight per cent wage increase would have been adequate indeed.

☆

Getting down to brass tacks and letting the chips fall where they may in diplomacy, the fact remains that feeding Europe through the winter will be a job that the Allies will have all they can handle to get done—with honors. . . . Mass starvation is already facing Europe, and the only way human life can be sustained will be through immediate shipments of food and materials for bread.

Marvell Watkins At Home After Service

Back from 41 months in the Army, 34 of which were spent overseas, Marvell Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Watkins, is now home with a service discharge.

Marvell was in the military band of the Second Armored Division and was stationed in seven countries during his tour—Africa, Sicily, Scotland, England, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany. The Snyder soldier rolled into Berlin on July 5 of this year.

Marvell arrived in the States at Boston October 7, and received his discharge two weeks later at Fort Sam Houston.

Before he entered the Army, the Snyder boy had been a member of the Snyder High School Tiger Band for five years.

In Germany, Watkins recalls, he saw Jack Terry, Othel Cumbie, Burney Allen and Henry B. Clark. He saw another Snyder boy, Leonard Keller, while he was in Holland.
