

World Church Council Calls For East, West To Turn To Peace

By ERNEST A. AGNEW
EVANSTON, Ill. (U) — The momentous second General Assembly of the World Council of Churches neared its end today after ringing declarations calling for "the living together" of the East and West and placing the church adamantly against racial segregation and use of nuclear weapons.

This assembly of church leaders representing 163 denominations from 48 countries ends tomorrow after almost continuous sessions since Aug. 15. The principal major task remaining was that of the "oneness in Christ," or church unity.

Over the weekend, the assembly accepted reports which: Appealed to Communist and non-Communist nations to recognize they must "live together" in order to head off their march toward a cataclysmic war. "However deep the conflict may be," the council said, "it is not necessarily an insuperable bar to living together. Mankind is sick of it, and wants to be at peace."

Urged upon nations of the world the abandonment of "force as an instrument of policy beyond existing frontiers."

Termed communism a snare of "false promises" but warned the West against "anti-Communist hysteria."

Called on all nations to "pledge that they will refrain from the threat or use of nuclear weapons against the territorial integrity or independence of any state."

Urged new efforts for international control, inspection and prohibition of atomic, hydrogen and other mass-destruction weapons to end "an arms race of unprecedented dimensions."

Termed racial segregation "an unutterable offense against God to be endured no longer." It is the duty of the church, the report said, to protest against "any law or arrangement that is unjust to any human being or which would make Christian fellowship impossible."

Concerning East-West relations, the report to the assembly said that it purposely avoided the term "coexistence" because it first was used by Communist leaders.

"We stand against submission to, engulfment by or appeasement of totalitarian tyranny and aggression," the report stated. "We also stand against the exploitation of any people . . . and for basic civil liberties. . . . Christians must continue to condemn totalitarianism as false in doctrine and dangerous in practice. They will be no less firm in continuing to oppose atheistic materialism."

One section of the international affairs report was critical of some phases of American foreign policy. That section said: "When American foreign policy is determined primarily by the criterion of anti-communism, it generally strengthens conservative and reactionary political groups in the East Asian scene and tends to weaken the forces of healthy social reform."

It pointed to two dangers: "On one hand, the temptation to succumb to anti-Communist hysteria and the danger of self-righteous assurance concerning the political and social systems of the West; on the other hand, the temptation to accept the false promises of communism and to overlook the threat to any responsible society."

Concerning racial segregation, one report said that "the whole pattern of racial discrimination should be no longer endured, and churches should protest 'any law or arrangement that is unjust to any human being' or bars Christian fellowship."

Gov. Agustin Yanex of Jalisco state, which produces the best tequila, started it by closing saloons over the weekend. Police authorities were dubious at first. Now they are mildly enthusiastic and report petty crime is down 40 per cent.

Neighboring Nayarit state on the Pacific coast was impressed and put in a similar closing order Aug. 15. Nayarit bar owners threatened to go on strike. Gov. Limon Guzman said that would be fine with him. The saloonkeepers also said that anybody who wanted a drink would just buy a bottle Friday and, anyway, prohibition would only lead to speak-easies. Gov. Guzman said that at least the country people who sell in the Saturday markets wouldn't be able to spend money in the bars.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A slender man or a middle-weight will live longer, on the average, than one who is stout.

Many persons ask how they can promote long lives for themselves. This natural question is hard to answer, but suggestions may be given.

One possible answer is good cheer. Most men or women who reach their eighties or nineties seem to be of cheerful nature. It is likely that their outlook has helped them to reach an advanced age.

Weight is another factor of importance. Life insurance figures indicate that men and women of slender build, or with average weight, live longer on the average than those who are stout.

Explaining the reason for that, doctors say that the heart of a heavy person is forced to work too hard. It must pump blood to millions of fat cells, in addition to the cells in vital organs and muscle tissue.

The average man or woman of today is less heavy than was the case 40 years ago. After a modern adult gains weight beyond a certain point, a reducing plan is likely to be adopted.

Millions of persons succeed in cutting down their weight, but others fail. The most important reason for failure is too much appetite. Unless eating is held in check, how can a stout person expect to lose weight?

Other persons are far too thin. Often, but not always, these persons suffer from poor appetite. If they eat a great deal, and still remain thin, it is well for them to consult a doctor. The doctor may find some serious trouble—tapeworm for instance.

No serious trouble exists for many thin persons except poor appetite. Health experts point out that vitamin<sup>a</sup> can be employed to increase the appetite. The B-complex vitamins, for example, are of utmost importance, and can be found in proper quantity only in liver or yeast.

There are persons who have little enjoyment of liver as a food, and who eat liver less than twice a week. These persons may make up for their lack of a balanced diet by taking brewer's yeast or B-complex tablets, which are sold at drug stores.

Heart Ailment Fatal To Cardinal Schuster

VARESE, Italy (U) — Alfredo Ildefonso Cardinal Schuster, Roman Catholic archbishop of Milan, died today of a heart ailment. He was 74.

The aged churchman, who was elevated to the College of Cardinals and took over his archdiocese in 1928, had been in failing health for some time. He died in the papal seminary at Venegono, near Milan.

DATE DATA

Caution: Don't Wear Love Where It Shows

Dear Miss Brandon:

Recently I met a boy who is really out of this world. I believe everybody knows how I feel about him except the boy, himself.

How can I hint to him how much I like him and want him to take me out?

JANICE

Aw oh! I feel trouble coming. Don't be deceived by surface appearances. If "just about everybody" else knows how you feel, I'll bet he does, too.

Watch your step. Don't push things too far, too fast. When you want to win a boy, rule number one is: Don't discuss him with your friends! More dateships have been dashed against the rocks in this way than any other.

Is the boy intelligent? Nix on hinting, then. He's probably wondering if a clinging vine like yourself would be too hard to date. No boy will voluntarily get mixed up with a girl he doubts he'll be able to get away from.

Just be your own sweet, extra friendly, cheerful self. Go out your way to "accidentally" be where he is. Strike up conversations whenever possible without being obvious. That's all you can do.

Dear Miss Brandon:
About three months ago I was going with Bill. Then, all of sudden he dropped me. Why?

ANN

Send me a crystal ball, a deck of cards, and some tea leaves in the next mail and I'll see what I can do.

Why do boys drop girls? For the same reason girls drop boys, I guess. There are many types of boys. Each type is looking for a certain type of girl. While some boys find certain feminine qualities attractive; others find them irritating.

There are at least a hundred reasons why a boy might want to stop dating a girl. Your plight could be hinged on any one of them. To make an accurate diagnosis, I would have to know a little about Bill and a little about Ann, plus the incident leading up to the long silence.

Try habitual tardiness, silliness, gossiping, or chasing on for size. For the free booklet, Prescription for Popularity, write Beverly Brandon in care of the Big Spring Herald. Also, don't forget to send in your letter on the sort of person you consider the ideal date. It may win you a nice prize. Do it today!

GREETINGS TO OUR TEXAS BRETHERN:

The Salem South Baptist Association, composed of 33 Baptist churches, can and does hereby commend to you our good friend and brother, L. L. Roloff, as one of America's Outstanding Gospel preachers.

For the past three weeks, the huge Gospel Tent has been filled to capacity by the people of our Association and surrounding territory. There has been great conviction for sin, and a turning from sin to find the Saviour. A spiritual impact was made upon our association that we believe will last until Jesus comes.

May we take this means of expressing our appreciation to the radio listeners with whom the services were shared for their prayers in our behalf. More than ten thousand Baptists and many thousand other Christians will be remembering your campaign, September 1-19, as Brother Roloff leads you. We urge the preachers and Christian workers to get behind Brother Roloff and his corps of workers and you are sure to have a great ingathering of souls.

Praying God's richest blessings on your labors to win souls to Christ, we are,

In Christ because of Calvary,

Dust Cloth Gets Great Big Hand

AP Newsfeature

Here's a preventive for housework hands that's easy to make at home, fun to use and a bright idea for a church bazaar item.

A novelty dustcloth to protect your manicleur has been worked out by local sewing center experts. Here's how to make it:

Start with one of the specially treated dustcloths that you can buy at hardware or ten-cent stores or simply use a square of cheese-cloth. If you prefer, then trace a great big hand on a piece of gay fabric from your scrap bag—make it about the size of a cotton work glove. Gather it at the wrist and stitch a piece of contrasting binding across the gathers and at the top edge.

Next pin the hand to the dust-cloth, placing it with the wrist at a corner and the fingers pointing toward the center. Stitch around the outline, using the zigzag attachment of your machine, and then trim away excess fabric. This is easier than cutting out the hand first.

MRS. HARRY MARTIN McBRIDE

Anna Sue Love Becomes Bride Of Harry M. McBride Of Sugar Land

Fern and pink gladioli formed the setting for the wedding of Anna Sue Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Love, 1021 Bluebonnet, to Harry Martin McBride, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McBride of Sugar Land Sunday at 5 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Candelabra and white satin also decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony which was read by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the church.

PEGGY King played the wedding marches at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Charles Warren, who sang "O, Promise Me." "On This Golden Day of Promise" and "Wedding Prayer."

Wearing an original gown of white imported lace and tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Waits length, the dress was fashioned with lace bolero with Peter Pan collar and sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. A fingertip veil of tulle fell from a cap of lace trimmed with iridescent sequins, pearls and bead trim. The bride carried a bouquet of pink roses surrounded by white feathered carnations with roses and carnations cascading on streamers.

Following wedding tradition the bride wore a turquoise pin belonging to her paternal grandmother, a blue garter, and carried a white Rainbow Bible borrowed from Fern Holmes. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. E. L. Heith, sister-in-law of the bride, was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Marie Love, sister of the bride, and Bunny Potter of Beaumont.

The three attendants wore identical dresses of pale pink crystallite over taffeta. They were sleeveless and were styled with low square necklines, full pleated skirts were waist length. The bridesmaids wore pumps dyed to match their gowns, halo-effect hats of pink satin cord trimmed by peppermint carnations in back and pink gloves. Their bouquets were colonial style arrangements of peppermint carnations adorned with two shades of pink ribbon.

The bridegroom's best man was Garland McMeans of Fort Worth, his cousin. Usher-groomsman were R. L. Heith, brother of the bride, and Roger Brown, cousin of the bride.

Wendell Brown and Jane Osborne, cousins of the bride were altar taper lighters. Miss Osborne wore pale pink crystallite and a wristlet of peppermint carnations. Mrs. Love chose for her daughter's wedding a blue silk shantung suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding. Receiving were the bridal couple, the parents of the bride and the bridesmaids.

Floral arrangements were used throughout the home. The bride's table was covered with white organdy and centered by pink gladioli. Nosegays of white carnations were used at the corner. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Allen Holmes of Lubbock and Mrs. Don Hodges of Sterling City.

Mrs. Carson McKaskell of Stanton was in charge of the register and Mrs. Tommy Gage and Mrs. Clayton Belle made up the other members of the houseparty.

Out-of-town guests were Allen Holmes of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Onstott of Sterling City; Mrs. Garland McMeans of Fort Worth and Carson McKaskell of Stanton.

For her wedding trip to Dallas Mrs. McBride wore a beige silk shantung dress accessorized with lizard shoes and bag, brown velvet hat and gloves and a pink rose corsage.

The couple will make their home at 2539 Blodgett, Houston, where they will attend the University of Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College and Southwestern University where she was a member of Phi Mu sorority. She has been employed this summer by The Little Shop.

Mr. McBride is a graduate of Sugarland High School, attended Southwestern University where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha. He has been employed during the summer by a telephone company in Sugar Land.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Love entertained members of the wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at Smith's Tea Room Saturday evening.

Swedish star Mai Zetterling, making her American debut in Paramount's "Knock on Wood," talks to Lydia Lane about her favorite way of keeping hands young and graceful.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Simple Exercises Help Keep The Hands Young

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — The first thing I noticed about Mai Zetterling, the girl Danny Kaye married in "Knock on Wood," was her hands. When I told her this as we lunched at Paramount she seemed very pleased.

"Hands fascinate me," Mai explained. "They tell so much about a person. Chewed off nails announce a chronic case of nerves and polish which is peeling means that you are either lazy, careless or inefficient. A girl who does not have time to keep her nails well manicured should never wear a highly colored polish.

"The way a person uses his hands is revealing," Mai announced. "Hands tell whether you are ill at ease, relaxed, excited or nervous. And some people contend that hands are the most accurate way of judging age."

"They used to be," I commented, "but today with so many corrective preparations one can keep youthful hands longer than before."

"Exercise will help to keep your hands young," Mai confided, "because your fingers won't get stiff and your joints won't get enlarged. I knew a dancing teacher in Sweden who was in her seventies but her hands were young. She had exercised them every day."

I wanted to hear more about this.

"The routine doesn't seem like very much," Mai explained, "but when you make a habit of doing them daily you'll get wonderful results.

"First you make a tight fist and then open your hands spreading your fingers vigorously. Do this ten times," Mai said.

"Then make a flat again, and keeping your arms as still as possible, rotate your wrist making a small circle. Go around first in one direction and then another. If you have allowed your wrists to get stiff this one will seem awkward at first.

"The third exercise I like to do at night," Mai remarked. "It's like putting on a tight kid glove, stroking down each finger. But while I do this I work in a hand cream, giving a special rub to each of my knuckles. It's very relaxing, because in your hands are the endings of nerves from all over the body.

"And I've known people who have had difficulty sleeping. They soaked their hands in hot water before going to bed," Mai added. "It helped relax them and made sleep come easily."

"Do you ever have difficulty sleeping?" I asked.

"I don't because I never go to bed all keyed up. If I've been working late or had a stimulating evening, I make a point of doing some routine thing like brushing my hair a hundred strokes, or even straightening out a drawer until I find my mind quieting down. Then I can drop off to sleep the moment my head hits the pillow."

Fourth Victory For Big Spring Horse

Jolly Kay, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tucker of Big Spring, romped to her fourth victory of the season at Ruidoso Downs in New Mexico Saturday and the surprised track, officials told. She paid $17.80, $5.30 and $5.75. The favorite, Parkmount, was next to last, just ahead of Buckle T, considered second in the field in pre-race betting. In the lower photo, Mrs. Tucker holds the reins. Tucker is the man with the field glasses around his neck. Gene Hensley, second from far right, is the track's major stockholder. His brother, Jim, the track secretary-treasurer, is at far left. Melvin Alexander, the horse's trainer, is to the left of Mrs. Tucker. The jockey is E. Garza.

Cleveland Pace May Be Telling

The New York Yankees aren't conceding the American League flag to Cleveland but the first seed of doubt is beginning to grow in the minds of the defending champions. This suspicion was gleaned from a remark by Allie Reynolds, veteran Yankee pitching star who helped in all five consecutive championships. "If they (the Indians) continue at this terrific pace," he said, "they deserve to win." Reynolds was referring, of course, to Cleveland's sensational .721 winning percentage, a pace never before attained by an American League club. Should the Indians continue at this pace through the end of the season, they will smash the league record of 110 victories turned in by the 1927 Yankees.

The Yankees, traveling at a 690 pace, a feat never before reached by a runner-up club, defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, yesterday but they lost ground to the Indians. While the Yankees were winning their sixth straight, the Tribe was extending its own consecutive victory string to 10 in Boston's Fenway Park, walloping the Red Sox twice, 6-2 and 9-1.

This gave the Indians a four-game lead over the Yankees. Both teams have 25 left to play. The National League pace continued to tighten as the on-schling Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Braves in Milwaukee, 13-4 and 11-4, to pull up to 1 1/2 games behind the front-running New York Giants. The best the New Yorkers could do was gain a split in St. Louis after dropping an 11-inning 5-4 decision to the Cardinals. They overcame a 3-1 deficit to win the nightcap, 7-4.

Cincinnati's Redlegs strengthened their hold on fourth place, defeating Philadelphia, 3-2 and 8-4. Chicago's Cubs came from behind twice to sweep a twin bill from Pittsburgh, 7-4 and 4-1. In a wild double-header marred by a free-for-all, the Detroit Tigers took two from Philadelphia's Athletics, 14-3 and 2-1, and wrested

Shaughnessy Round Winner Could Be A Co-Champion

It could be possible for the first and fourth place teams to open the semi-final series on the home floor of the fourth place team for the first two games and then move over to the first place home park for the next three—returning to the fourth place team's park for the last two games if needed. The same will hold true for the second and third place teams. If the winning team is not the pennant winner, the playoff winner will be declared a co-champion of the League along with the regular season winner.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

It was pleasing to learn that Wilford Moore is willing to take a long look at J. C. Armistead. Big Spring's all-state fullback last year, in fall football drills at McMurry College in Abilene starting this week and will put Jake on a scholarship if he makes good. J. C. has only to apply himself to make anybody's ball club. He's supposed to weigh 188 pounds now, which means he'll have to take off eight or 10 pounds.

Moore is not likely to regret his decision. Other schools passed over Armistead for various reasons. J. C. can play football, there's no question about that, and McMurry could use a few more of his calibre and who possess his desire to win. Incidentally, he could be running in the same backfield with Bobby Hayworth, first string quarterback on the 1953 Big Spring backfield.

Hayworth, who weighs 180 pounds now, was tried at fullback for a while but he's back at quarterback now. Hayworth should be about ready to come onto his own at McMurry.

The TCU football guide exposes the fact that Big Spring's Dick Lawwell made the starting lineup for the Frogs in spring training. Additionally, it identifies him as a good blocker and a fair defensive player. The good looking youngster is a senior but has two years of eligibility remaining, if he wants to take it. He's a 6-foot-2, 230-pounder.

Goose Tatum, star of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has been given three Cadillacs during his career by admirers. The most recent occasion was in Wrigley Field, Chicago, last week, where the Trotters appeared. Tatum makes, it is said, more than $30,000 a year for his court antics.

Spike Dykes, a 150-pound center who attended grade school for several years here, is again eligible to play football at Ballinger High School. He'll probably perform at center for the Bearcats, who won their district championship last season and pole-axed Andrews in the playoffs.

That was the game which still causes Glenn Frazier to shudder. He laments his Mustangs did nothing right that day, that the Cats did nothing wrong. Everyone agreed that there was no where near two or three touchdowns difference between the two clubs, yet Ballinger won, 40-0.

Dillard Adair, the Colorado City grid mentor, has some of the finest material in the school's history back this year but he learned recently one of his lettermen, Don Owens, elected to pass up his last year of eligibility to enroll at Kemper Military Academy in Booneville, Mo. Owens played in the Wolf backfield.

More than a few observers have already picked Colorado City to meet Childress in bi-district play. Frank Selvy, basketball star at Furman University was president of his senior class.

Kid Gavilan Is 1-2 Favorite Over Saxton In Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan goes after his 100th victory Wednesday night as a 1-2 favorite to beat Brooklyn's Johnny Saxton in a title bout in Philadelphia. Saxton is his first big for the century by Middleweight King Bobo Olson last April, the Kid is supremely confident he will give the 24-year-old Saxton a sound drubbing. The 15-rounder in Connie Mack Stadium will be the clever, 25-year-old Cuban's eighth defense of the 147-pound crown he won three years ago from Johnny Bratton. Bratton, too, was the last man to challenge Gavilan who whipped him handily in November.

The cocky Saxton believes Gavilan is ready to be taken and he's the one who can do it. Solidly built and catlike in his movements, Saxton uses a crowding style which normally gives Gavilan his most trouble. The champ likes to set his own pace. Saxton has 4-3-2-3 record. His two losses — to Gil Turner and Del Flanagan — were by split decision. Johnny Lombardo, the free-swinging Mount Carmel, Pa., welter who held Saxton to a draw on Aug. 4, meets Denmark's Chris Christensen in a 10 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight. ABC will telecast the bout at 9 p.m., EST.

SEASON GRID DUCATS GO ON SALE AT SCHOOL TAX OFFICE TODAY

Season football tickets for home games of the Big Spring Bears went on sale to the general public this morning. Priced at $5 each, they are good for five contests. The Longhorns launch their home campaign against Stephenville the night of Sept. 24, then play Yaleta, Lamesa, Snyder and Sweetwater in that order here. An estimated 600 tickets were sold to last year's ticket holders last season. In addition, applications for between 200 and 225 were taken and placed on file by Tax Office officials. Those were to be filled this morning. School officials are still hopeful at least 1,000 season ducats can be sold within the next few days. Last year, nearly 900 seats were reserved for the season by local fans.

Cook Appliance Team Wins Sweetwater Softball Title

SWEETWATER (SC)—Cook Appliance Company of Big Spring terminated its 1954 softball season in grand style here Saturday night, defeating the Sweetwater All-Stars, 14-0, in the finals of the Sweetwater tournament. Dwight Weber hurled a three-hit game for the Cookies. James Watts

Broncs Lashed By Potashers

CARLSBAD, N. M. (AP)—Carlsbad's Potashers backed the pitching efforts of Don Hatridge with a 12-hit attack and coasted to an easy 11-3 victory over the Big Spring Broncos here Sunday night. The defeat eliminated the Broncos from first division consideration in the Longhorn League race. Midland defeated San Angelo Sunday to clinch that position.

The Broncos returned home following the game and are due to play in San Angelo tonight. They go from there to Odessa for contests on Wednesday and Thursday before returning home to wind up their season. The 49ers Sunday stomped on the Chicago Cardinals, 42-7, at San Francisco. Elsewhere on the exhibition scene, the Green Bay Packers defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 36-14, at Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia Eagles outlasted the Chicago Bears at Little Rock, 24-21.

Amarilloans Ousted In Wichita Meet

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Three third round games in which the losers in two of them will be eliminated are on tap in the double-elimination national non-pro baseball teams held last night. New London, Conn., ousted Council Grove, Kan., 3-2. Richmond, Va., scored its second victory against one loss in eliminating Amarillo, Tex., AFB, 5-4, and the Columbia, Tenn., Monsanto Chemicals knocked out San Diego Marines 5-4.

Bengals Twice Defeat Aztec Nine, 8-3, 10-2

Benefiting from fine pitching on the part of Charley Fierro and Horace Yanes, the Big Spring Tigers swept a double header from the Colorado City Aztecs here Sunday afternoon, winning the first game, 8-3, and the second, 10-2. Fierro hurled a four-hitter in the first game while Yanes got the victors down with just one bingle in the nightcap. Both the runs scored off Yanes in the second game were unearned. Fierro clubbed a first game home run for Colorado City while Junior Dutchman hit one for Big Spring in the first inning of the second engagement. The Tigers ganged up on two Colorado City hurlers for 14 assorted blows in the second game. Arista and Hill had three each.

GOP Chairman Accuses Demos Of Aiding Reds

By JACK BELL
CINCINNATI (AP)—National Chairman Leonard W. Hall keynoted a Republican party campaign pep rally here today by accusing congressional Democrats of using "vast cunning" in attempts "to make our anti-Communist legislation unworkable."

Hall called on party committeemen and state chairmen to "re-affirm our standing pledge of campaign ethics." But he said in a speech prepared for a workshop conference here that the Republicans are "not going to hang up the gloves" in what President Eisenhower said was the "crucial struggle" for control of Congress.

As a possible example of what he had in mind, Hall said he was happy to report that the Republicans have "no ragtag, bobtail hangers-on of the left-wing ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) persuasion to confuse us with calls for recognition of Red China and for scuttling the administration's hard-hitting antisubversive program."

The GOP chairman did not spell out his indictment fully, but his thrust about making anti-Communist legislation "unworkable" obviously was aimed at Senate Democrats, headed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who forced through a measure to strip the Communist party of its legal rights.

The Democrats did not succeed in getting final approval of their original proposal to make membership in the party a crime. The measure, as amended, stripped the Communist party of legal status. But Democrats hailed its passage as a political coup which would answer Republican charges they had been soft toward the Reds.

Republicans had complained that as originally drawn the bill would have hampered prosecution of persons who did not register under the terms of the Internal Security Act. Eisenhower signed the amended measure with the observation that he had been assured it would not impede such prosecutions.

Eisenhower sent congratulations to the more than 100 GOP party leaders attending the conference here on their "determination to prepare thoroughly for the forthcoming campaign."

Hall got down to cases with a prediction to a conference of Western committee members that the Republicans will gain from 15 to 25 seats in the House, where the lineup now stands at 218 Republicans, 213 Democrats, 1 Independent and 3 vacancies.

He said that in his view "the Senate looks better than the House," so far as Republican chances go, since he said several Democratic senators including Humphrey in Minnesota and Paul Douglas in Illinois — are seeking re-election in states where the Republicans have control of the state governments.

Hall sailed into the Democrats for what he called "shameful" and "indecent" attacks on Eisenhower in connection with the President's order to the Atomic Energy Commission to go ahead with a contract with the Dixon-Yates syndicate for a private plant to produce power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic national chairman, has called this a "raw deal" because he said the power could be produced by the TVA for millions of dollars less.

Treason Hearing For Officer Opens Today In Illinois

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—The Army court-martial of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, first American officer to be charged with treason in the Korean War, starts today.

Eight former prisoners of war, members of the Army and Air Force, will testify against the slightly built, grey-haired, 46-year-old officer.

He is accused of aiding the Reds after his capture at Wonsu Oct. 1, 1950, and with committing "acts detrimental to fellow prisoners of war."

The specific charges state that Fleming: "Willfully stepped on the foot of an enlisted man while they were being taken to a prisoner of war camp in North Korea, reported to the camp commander an argument between two fellow prisoners, led camp discussion groups and made recordings later broadcast by Radio Peiping."

The earth is 7,918 miles in diameter.

CONTROVERSIAL MEASURE

Eisenhower Signs New A-Energy Bill Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the new atomic energy legislation and declared it will speed the time when the atom "will be wholly devoted" to peaceful purposes.

The bill, which ignited one of the hottest congressional fights of the year, overhauls the 1946 Atomic Energy Act. One of the changes permits the government, under certain security safeguards, to give nuclear information to America's allies.

The new legislation also, for the first time, opens the door for development of a private atomic power industry within the United States.

Eisenhower, in a statement, took note of the warm debate in Congress over these provisions.

He said he feels "some misunderstandings" were revealed during the debate, and added: "I want our people to know that these provisions are designed eventually to relieve the taxpayer of the enormous cost of the commercial aspects of the enterprise, while fully protecting the public interest in atomic energy."

"In fact, these provisions carry into effect the 1946 policy declaration of the original Atomic Energy Act, that free competition in private enterprise should be strengthened."

Eisenhower expressed confidence that the new measure will be a boon to public and private development of atomic energy. It will, he said, to greater national strength.

"Programs undertaken as a result of this new law," the President declared, "will help us progress more rapidly to the time when this new source of energy will be wholly devoted to the constructive purposes of man."

Supporters say one immediate effect will be to stimulate the development of electricity from atomic energy. But even the most optimistic guessers are that commercially feasible power from atomic machines is still several years away.

While the basic objectives of the measure were not questioned, a number of its provisions ran into heavy challenge, especially in the Senate. Much of the argument followed the theme of the long-standing controversy over public vs. private power, with the bill's opponents crying "private monopoly" and its defenders saying it promoted "free enterprise."

A new row over patents may break out in January. That's when the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee will review the bill's compromise clause requiring companies to share for five years any atomic power patents.

Opponents said they accepted the patent compromise at the last minute to avoid another drawn-out debate.

The 104-page bill, virtually rewriting the original eight-year-old atomic law, provides this new authority:

1. The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) can grant 40-year renewable licenses for private industry to operate atomic facilities and handle fissionable materials. If Congress approves, the AEC can build full-scale power plants, for experimental purposes only, and other government agencies can apply for regular nuclear licenses. Cooperatives and publicly owned utilities get preference to buy the government-produced power.
2. The President can give friendly nations hitherto secret details on the external characteristics of atomic weapons, their performance and methods of erecting defenses against them.
3. The President can start negotiations to carry out his plan for a global A-pool to help backward nations and can give friendly powers more data on how to produce civilian atomic power. These agreements are subject to congressional review.

The bill specifically approves a politically explosive proposal for the AEC to contract with a Southern utility group for a new private steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply the Tennessee Valley area with another 600,000 kilowatts of energy by 1957. The power to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area, would go over Tennessee Valley Authority lines. TVA in turn would send equivalent power to the Paducah, Ky., atomic plant.

Reds Ask Japanese Fishing Pact Talks

TOKYO (AP)—Russia is willing to conclude fishery agreements with Japan "if the Japanese government offers direct negotiation," the newspaper Asahi reported.

The paper quoted a cablegram to the Japan-Soviet Friendship Assn. from Yoshitaro Hirano, a member of the association now in Shanghai. Hirano is en route home from Moscow, where he and three other Japanese negotiated with Soviet authorities in fishery matters in northern Japanese waters. Since the end of World War II
