Democratic. Published Every Friday.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1892.

OUR TICKET.

For President.
JAS. B. WEAVER of Iowa

For Vice-President.
JAMES FIELD, of Virginia.

For Governor of Texas.
T. L. NUGENT, of Ft. Worth.

For Congress—8th District.
EVAN JONES, of Dublin.

For Senator—26th District.
THOS. GAINES, of Comanche.

For Legislator—99th District.
GEO. L. CLARK, of Huckabay.

Who said the democrats and republicans would not unite to defeat the will of the people?

The democrats are beginning to concede the fact that they are not what Jefferson calls democracy.

C. K. Bell, who claims to be a candidate for Congress in this district, is seldom heard of these days. It is better that it is so.

It will amount only to plain "Jimmie" after the election. The "Gov." will forever disappear as a prefix to James Stephen Hogg.

The "force bill" is a dead issue. The People's party of the South do not need it, and there is not enough of the two old parties left to make use of it.

The People's party will have a practical chance to show its hand after November. Nearly every one of its Congressional candidates in Texas will be elected.

The race of Hon. Evan Jones for Congress in this district is a walk-over at the least. No other candidate is known in the race by two-thirds of the tillers of the soil.

Hon. T. L. Nugent is gaining votes every day that passes and the big majority he will roll up against the Hoggs in November will bury them "past all surgery."

Wall street has moved to Texas and pitted her agent against the People's candidate for governor. Will the democrats and patriots of Texas stand it? That is the question.

Texas democracy, so-called, is not "in it" this year. The wails of the dying are already heard in the land. Let it go by default and damn be he who cries, "hold enough."

Weaver and Field are both speaking in the campaign, but they do not travel on free passes or in private cars. They are of the people, for the people and will be elected by the people.

The Fifty-second Congress gave $65,000 for an intercontinental railway survey in South America. How much did they give the Mississippi flood sufferers? Nothing. That was unconstitutional.

Modern democracy is thought by the few democrats(?) in Texas to be more advanced, high-minded and progressive than the fogy ideas of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of democratic principles.

The Standard Oil Co. has closed a contract to furnish the World's Fair with oil for fuel at 72½ cents per barrel delived at Jackson park. This gives something of an idea of their profit to the common herd.

The mud-slingers are gradually coming to the front in the Congressional campaign. Some white-washing will be necessary for the demos and if much more is sad some of them will also be compelled to swallow the lie.

Since the republican endorsement of Geo. Clark, the race for governor is between Hon. T. L. Nugent, the People's party candidate, and Hon. Geo. Clark, the republican-democratic Wall street candidate. Which will you take?

The Cisco Round-Up speaks of Thos. Jefferson ss the "idol of the Third party." The democrats of Texas claim him as the daddy of their platform, but were he living he wouldn't own it. Jefferson doctrine is good enough for us, idol or no idol.

When Gen. Weaver spoke to 15,000 people in the mammoth sized Mechanic's pavilion in San Francisco the Associated Press telegraphs six lines, but when Baby McKee has the colic the public is dosed with a whole column of telegraphic rot. There's a change coming.—Colorado News.

If Clark gets three to one in the cities and towns, and Nugent gets three to one in the country, where in the name of Moses is Hogg's three to one to come from? Wash Jones said Hogg would be the hindmost dog in the chase, and the general public believes he told the truth.—Texas Iconoclast.

The telegraphic reports of last Friday contained the following: "The democrats have a great deal of missionary work to do in Dallas county if they expect to pull Abbott through. Kearby will sweep the city of Dallas without a doubt and the chances are that he will carry this, the banner democratic county of the district."

The Waco Evening News is as inconsistentas it has gall. Before the Houston convention it was whooping up Clark's side of the question and posing him as a young Jesus, with wings just sprouting, but since the convention the News has been describing those wings with hooks on them and has also found a tail with a spike on it. Consistency, where art thou!

It is an insult to the intelligence of a voter to tell him that there is no difference between the democratic and republican parties, when it as pronounced as between light and darkness, as Heaven and hades. —Goldthwaite Mountaineer.

The difference is only on the tariff. One skins the bark up the tree, the other down. You see there's where the wide(?) difference comes in.

Last Monday the Republican state convention at Ft. Worth indorsed the candidacy of one of the democratic nominees, Hon. Geo. Clark. Now it remains to be seen whether or not the Hogg democrats, who claim to be true blue will vote for a republican in order to beat the Peoples candidate as has been charged they would. A vote for Clark or Hogg means a vote for republicanism, a vote for Nugent means to vote for the State of Texas and her interests.

The tail of both the old party tickets appear to have been drabbled in the same mud-hole. Reid's opposition to labor as shown by his running a "rat" printing office for 13 years in defiance to organized labor is offset by Stevenson conducting a "scab" mine. They are both equal and consistent. It is the unmittigated fool of a workingman that votes for them who is inconsistant, and who ought to share with the locked-out men at Homestead until he comes to his senses.

The Bristol Courier, (Dem.) says that the 35,000 votes that will be polled by the populists will be cast principally by "cranks, traitors, soreheads, demagogues and damned scoundrels.—Knoxville, (Tenn.) Journal.

It is just such contemptible narrow mindedness as is shown above, in both the old parties, that is daily driving scores of the very best men in the State into the ranks of the "populists." This is a free country; the constitution guarantees to every man freedom of speech and thought. The man who would denounce his neighbor as a "d—d scoundrel" because of a difference of opinion, is himself worse than a thief.—Claiborn Progress.

It has come to light that the great cry against the Homestead, Pa., strikers for shooting and seriously wounding Frick, the noted agent of Carnegie, was nothing more or less than a base and treacherous scheme of capitalists to cause the sympathy of the people of the United States to turn against the strikers and in favor of the Carnegies. Frick was reported to have been shot three times and stabbed one time, but it has proven a lie, that he was not hurt at all, and is now regularly engaged at his business in the Carnegie works.

Macune in coming down to Texas is as cheeky as a man can well be. Persons who are informed know he squandered something over one hundred thousand dollars for the farmers of Texas trying to teach them new methods in financiering.—Waco News.

The News happens to be one of the persons who is not informed, and don't care to be. The trouble in proving the above lie is to find the man that is informed. Such bare-faced lies against any man's character should not be tolerated by the United States courts.

MORE MISREPRESENTATION.

The Banner-Leader misrepresents me in my speech at Ballinger on the silver issue. The Banner says:

"During the course of the evenings address the speaker in refering to the free and unlimited coinage of silver plank in their platform came out honestly and stated that it was only put there to catch votes in the north-western states and that no good other than that would come of it, as not one dollar more money would be put in circulation by such a law being in full force and operation."

I made no such statement, but I did say that the People's party's silver plank was a straight forward, honest declaration of principles, while the democrat's and republican's silver plank was vasilating and was gotten up to catch the votes of the gold-bugs of the northeast, because the interest of the people of the great south and west is inimical to the interest of the gold-bugs of the east as they are a wealth-accumulating class, while the great south and west are a wealth-producing class. Hence the fight lies between the two sections. All we ask for is that our laws be so adjusted as to give us of the south and west an equal chance with those of the east, in whose interest all legislation has been for the last quarter of a century.

I hereby solemnly promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer and cider, and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic in the same.

Rev. Josiah Taylor, a missionary in Africa for thirty years, says: "The tobacco habit blunts the sensibilities of Zulu Christians so that missionaries feel that it is almost as much of a hindrance to the progress of the gospel and to the elevation of the people as intemperance."

"There is not another practice in civilized society," says Dr. Harris, "that will so directly introduce a young man to vicious associates and to all haunts of wickedness, as do the rebuked, fashionable habits of tobacco using, nor is there another article of luxury that so secretly and yet so surely saps all the foundation of manliness and virtue. It paves the way to every vice, and tends directly and powerfully to habits of the grossest immorality."

President Bascom, speaking of tobacco using, says: "The habit is vulgar and low in all its associations. It uniformly degenerates into that which can only be fittingly chsracterized as filthy. No one who uses tobacco can fully scape the taint. His breath is impregnated with it; his clothes are full of it, his presence is a constant reminder of it to delicate organs. The use of tobacco is an unclean habit and belongs to unclean persons."

Says, Dr. Parker, "Tobacco demoralizes. It makes a man careless about his hair; he lets his nails go uncleaned, his clothes are soiled; in a word he is dirty."

"It will not last long. Your day, my day, the world's day, the day of opportunity, the day of grace, the day of salvation—all days are swiftly passing away; and the great day, the last day, will surely and speedily come." So speaks the wise man. He speaks well. Time is short. Our waking hours are soon over. The cradle and death chair of Fredrick the Great in the Hohonzollern meuseum are placed side by side. With all of us they stand near together. The time allotted us to do our work for God will soon have emptied itself into the ocean of eternity. We must seize the present opportunities. Their neglect can never be repaired. We have our work to do. We have a daily work. It is more important than we know. Let us be up and doing. Remember what Jesus said: "I must do she work of him who sent me while it is today; for behold the night cometh, when no man can work." Only one conscious of this necessity will be able to say, when the sun is setting, "I have glorified thee on earth. I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do."—Epworth Herold.

STRANGE.

Why is it that one peril is courted while another peril is shunned in popular estimation? Boys, for instance love to play with gunpowder in spite of its risks, but are disinclined to play with poisionous snakes. And men and women who are afraid of strychnine have no fear of wine or whiskw.

Nothing, indeed, is more remarkable in connection with the liquor question than the officious readiness of unprofessional people to recommend something that has "the drunk" in it to their friends and neighbors as a remedy for every imaginable complaint or disorder. No matter what one's trouble is—headache, indigestion, lame back, corns, languor, nervousness, a sense of fullness, or sense of "goneness"—as soon as it is mentioned some one who makes no pretense to medical knowledge or skill, will tell of bottled porter, or a wine sangaree, or milk punch, or a spoonful of whisky, to be taken at meal-time, or in the middle of the forenoon, or before going to bed, as a certain cure of that particular trouble. Persons who would never think of prescribing strychnine, or aconite, hasheesh; or even oil of vitrol or croton oil, without asking a physician about it, will speak with the utmost positiveness of the propriety of their pet dose of intoxicating beverages.

And the next strangest thing is that so many people are fools enough to take such advice—and the liquor which comes with it. Yet there is ten times as much harm done by the liquor drunk at the advice of friends as by all the other poisons put together. There is trouble enough from physicians' currying popular favor by recommending liquor to their thirsty patients; but if drunkards must multiply on the plea of medical necessity, by all means let them go to ruin with a certificate from "regular practitioners," and not start off for perdition on the advice of their unprofessional aunt or next door neighbor.—*S. A Snake With Nine Rattles.

Dr. R. A. Ross killed a rattle snake Saturday in his horse lot that had nine rattles and a button and measured 3 feet long. These snakes are very uncommon in this part of Texas and it is probably the only one found this season.

The democratic press of Texas is busily engaged in explaining to the people that the silver plank of the Chicago platform, interpretated, is a plain declaration for the free coinage of silver, while this is going on in Texas and some of the western States the democratic newspapers in the east are explaining to their machine voters that it is plain and outspoken against free coinage. The plain truth is that it is a clear straddle, expected to catch the votes of the south and west and still retain that of the east and if Grover Cleveland is elected he is bound by the platform in no way on the silver question, and, of course he will as he has always done proceed to give it a black eye. Elsewhere we give a letter on the question from him which was published in the New York Sun just before the Chicago convention. Read it.

A New Enterprise.

Our enterprising oil mill man, G. H. Connell, is considering the advisability of putting in a corn sheller at the oil mill and running it with power from the oil mill engine. This enterprise is one of great importance to the farmers of Erath county as it would necessarily make the price of corn higher and would also be a paying investment to the parties putting in the sheller. It is to be hoped that Mr. Connell will decide to put in the machinery and the PROGRESS feels sure that the farmers of Erath and adjoining counties will substantially encourage the enterprise.

FROM HEADQUARTERS.

PEOPLE' PARTY HEADQUARTERS
FORT WORTH, Sept. 5th, '92.

To the People's Party of Texas:

I desire to call your special attention to the following facts, viz:

1st. I have positive information that the National Democratic Executive committee has decided to make a determined attack on our lines throughout the entire south, but particularly in Texas, during the month of September. They will not only order out all the speakers they can control in this State and put them in the field to abuse and ridicule our cause, but they will mass here a large number of speakers from other States, who will come to Texas to instruct free born Texans how to vote. Let me caution you not to allow yourself to become demoralized by anything of this kind. We have already in our ranks more voters than either of the other parties have, and are daily gaining in strength. No matter what this army of invasion and its allies, the home speakers, shall say or do, remember that this is their dying struggle to perpetuate their power, and, if we are true to ourselves we have absolutely nothing to fear. We can afford to laugh at their sneers and their jeers, and even at their threats, and their prayers to us to save them from political destruction.

2nd. I am also in possession of reliable information which satisfies me that we may expect parties opposed to the People's party to manufacture and place in circulation all sorts of falsehoods calculated, if believed, to create dissatisfaction in our ranks. I am in possession already of a paper of this character which is infamious but impotent, in that it is not at all likely to be believed by any sensible man. Whenever you hear of anything of this kind, or get into your possession any publication of this character, communicate at once with your county chairman, and have him communicate with me at once, that I may take the necessary steps to hunt down the infamous creatures that will concoct and circulate these falsehoods.

3rd. One other matter I desire to call your attention. You will discover that the speakers, who will be put out by the democrats in Texas, are going to have very little to say about the silver question, and not a great deal about the tariff. The burden of their cry will be "The Force Bill." They will insist that the people of the South can submit to anything and everything rather than have bayonets at the polls. Let me say to you my friends, that we have nothing to fear on this score. There is no more danger of the force bill becoming a law than there is of Great Britian taking charge of our elections. It was defeated in the United States Senate with a large republican majority. And every People's party Congressman who will go to Washington after the next November elections, will go there pledged to vote against the bill. A vote for the People's party will therefore be a vote against the bill, quite as certainly as one for the democrats. Don't let this bug-bear alarm you or influence you, except to urge you to renewed efforts in our cause.

4th. It will not be possible for this office to send out much campaign literature, owing to the fact that we are a poverty stricken people, with no millionaires in our organization and no wealthy corporations and trusts to subsidize the speakers or help in our interest, if we wished it even. But it is possible for every People's party voter in Texas to pay for two to five or ten copies of a People's party paper from now until election day. These papers will be furnished at 10 cents until then, and our friends can and should see to it that every reasonable man in the State, now opposed to us, but willing to read and consider our platform, shall be furnished without cost to him, with a copy of a good reform paper each week until election day. If this is done, it will secure to us 25,000 more votes, and make the election of our national and State tickets absolutely certain.

He who is forewarned is forearmed. I have now put you on your guard, and I am confident you will know what to do to protect your interests.

Fraternally Yours,
H. L. BENTLEY,
Campaign Manager.

Cleveland's Silver Letter.

There has been many requests recently for the publication of Mr. Cleveland's silver letter. To meet this demand the following clipping is taken from the New York Sun of June 20, only seven days before Mr. Cleveland's nomination. Since the Sun is an old and standard democratic authority, it is hoped that all good democrats will accept its statements, swallow their sentiments and vote the Cleveland (not the democratic) ticket:

"For the last time before the vote, the democrats of the south and west, who want to secure a fair show for their ideas respecting the coinage of silver, should glance at the silver platform on which Grover Cleveland will stand if nominated to-morrow.

He will stand upon this declaration contained in a letter written on February 24, 1885, after he had been elected as president, and at a time when he had no immediate use of democratic votes:

"I hope that you concur with me and with the great majority of our fellow-citizens in deeming it most desirable at the present juncture to maintain and continue to use the mass of our gold coin as well as the mass of silver already coined. This is possible by a present suspension of the purchase and coinage of silver. I am not aware that by any other method it is possible. It is of momentus importance to prevent the two metals from parting company; to prevent the increasing displacement of gold by the increasing coinage of silver, to prevent the disuse of gold in the custom houses of the United States in the daily business of the people; to prevent the ultimate expulsion of gold by silver. Such a financial crisis as these events would certainly precipitate, were it now to follow upon so long a period of commercial depression, would involve the people of every city and State in the Union in a prolonged and disastrous trouble.

"The revival of business enterprise and prosperity, so ardently desired and apparently so near, would be hopelessly postponed. Gold would be withdrawn to its hoarding places, and an unprecedented contraction in the actual volume of our currency would speedily take place. Saddest of all, in every workshop, mill, factory, store, and on every railroad and farm, the wages of labor, already depressed,, would suffer still further depression by a scaling down of the purchasing power of every so-called dollar paid into the hand of toil. From these impending calamities it is surely a most patriotic and grateful duty of the people to deliver them."

He will stand upon this further declaration, contained in his letter of February 10, 1891, to the Mugwump chairman of a meeting held in the Cooper union in this town to denounce the free coinage of silver: E. Ellery Anderson, Chairman:

Dear Sir—I have this afternoon received your note inviting me to attend to-morrow evening the meeting called for the purpose of voicing the position of the business men of our city as to "free coinage of silver in the United States."

I shall not be able to attend and address the meeting as your request, but I am glad the business interests of New York are at last to be heard on this subject. It surely cannot be necessary for me to make a formal expression of my agreement with those who believe that the greatest peril would be invited by the adoption of the scheme embraced in the measure pending in Congress for the unlimited coinage of silver at our mints.

If we have developed an unexpected capacity for the assimilation of a largely increased volume of this currency, and even if we have demonstrated the usefulness of such an increase, other conditions fall far short of insuring us against disaster if in the present situation we enter upon the dangerous, the reckless experiment of free, unlimited and independent silver coinage. Yours very truly,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

This is Grover Cleveland's platform on the silver question. It is on this platform that he asks the votes of the silver democrats of the south and west. It will make no difference to him what plank these democrats succeed in inserting in the platform of the convention in case he should be nominated. He will act on his own platform, not on the platform of the convention of the democratic party. In his crusade against the silver interests he will repudiate the convention's platform as to silver, just as he repudiated the platform of the convention of 1884, when he began his crusade for free trade.

For Grover Cleveland feels and understands that he is greater, wiser and better than the democratic party."

MILLS WAS NOT THERE.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills is a democrat of national reputation. His ability as a debater and his readiness to meet his polititical opponents at any time and at any place have gained for him the respect of democratic partisans everywhere. Hence it was that those who are opposed to the "heresies" of the People's party hailed with a thrill of delight, which always attends upon anticipated triumph, the announcement made last winter that the Hon. Roger Q. was preparing a campaign book destined to knock into smithereens the crude absurdities of the conglomerated mass of howling cranks who had dared to array themselves in opposition to existing conditions. Time rolls on. The book was prepared, or at least part of it was, and its advance sheets given to the press for publication. But from some cause or other it did not meet the expectation of the public. It did, however, or at least the published portion of it did, meet with the criticism of the "calamity howlers" everywhere, and the flimsy character of its reasoning was plainly shown up. Then followed the announcement that the Hon. Roger had decided to not publish his work because it "would not pay." Of course if it had been a good campaign document the national democratic committee would have published it regardless of whether it would "pay" or not. But this much is said by way of introducing the following clipping from the Dallas News of August 10, one of the largest democratic organs in Texas. The fact that Mr. Mills regarded the "heresies" of the People's party of sufficient importance to have justified him in employing much of his valued time in preparing a book to refute them, disbars him from pleading that the party is beneath his notice, and the only reasonable construction that can be put upon his refusal to meet Hon. Harry Tracy, is that he is afraid to face the truth.

The clipping is as follows:

WACO, Tex., Aug. 5.—Dr. Geo. B. Harris, a prominent third party man, received the following letter:

"DALLAS, July 25.—Dr. G. B. Harris, Bruceville: Dear sir—Your favor the 22d, received. Replying, will say that should you arrange for a joint discussion between Colonel Mills and myself I will meet him, but want four or five days notice, that I may not have to make too long a run to get to Temple. Please let me know what the arrangements are as soon as possible. Yours truly.

HARRY TRACY.

Thereupon the doctor address Mr. Mills the appended letter:

BRUCEVILLE, Tex., July 28.—Hon. R. Q. Mills: Dear sir—I have just received a letter from Mr. Harry Tracy. He says he is anxious to meet you and discuss the issues of the day. There is to be a three days camp meeting at Temple, Tex., August the 10, 11 and 12. Can you meet him there on any one of these days? If so, please let me know the day, and also drop Mr. Tracy, at Dallas, Texas, word if convenient. It is claimed that you can do up the People's party in discussion to their backs, but when it comes to facing the real issues of the day, that you are not there. We will see. Either d[illegible] the People's party up to are[illegible], or shut up, one or the [illegible] make[illegible] Hope to hear from you at once a[illegible]d oblige. G. B. HARRIS.

N. B.—I see that you are billed to be there on the 11th. Will you be there? H.

So far no reply has been received from Colonel Mills.

Don't forget the place when you have produce to sell or groceries to buy. T. T. KNIGHT.

The ritual of Gideon's Band, Macune's annex to the Alliance, has been published and the secret oathbound society exposed in Mississippi. It needs no such exposure here in Texas. No one doubts its existence, and that it plays a strong hand in the political game of the People's party goes without saying.—Chief.

Nothing needs any exposure to the editor of the Chief's mind. Any cussedness that can be named he is willing to take up and harp on it without investigation. Even when anything has been gotten up in fun he is always ready to convert it into use to further his own aims. If there is a fool in the United States who believes that there is such an organization in the United States let him stand up and compare the length of his ears with that of the Mississippi river.

Candidate Weaver will soon be in Texas. Democrats should suspend hostilities among themselves long enough to decorate a flag pole with his head dress.—Ft. Worth Gazette.

No doubt but that the Gazette would like to see the scalp of Gen. Weaver and every other advocate of justice dangling from a pole, but a man who can pen the above is a coward and sneak and would run from his own shadow. He might rob a hen roost or ballot box, but face a foe, never.—Jefferson Jimplecute.

As time grinds slowly on towards the election it is interesting to note the squrm of the Clark men and the squeal of the Hogg men. The Clark faction have in a degree received consolation by the indorsement of the republicans, but the Hoggites O, where are they! we would suggest this answer, that they are not in it. The guess is whether they will vote for a republican nominee in the person of Geo. Clark who is the bosom friend of monopoly, or vote for Hon. T. L. Nugent who is in every sense of the word a peoples man.

Cotton picking is at a standstill on account of wet weather; it is opening very slow.

The People's cause is moving along nicely. Our club will meet regular until the 8th of November. We want the People's party to look well to one thing: have good and true men put on guard as judges and clerks at every polling box in the United States or we will be beaten out of our election as we have been in the past. Stealing of votes or not counting out what has been counted in has been very hurtful to the People's party. Let us look well to this in time. All People's party papers should call the attention of their readers to this one thing. All we ask is a fair thing, if we are beat we will submit until the next election day, but we want to know it is a fair beat.

Every club should meet regular and attend to their business as the time is close by for a decision.

LIVE OAK.

According to previous appointment Live Oak Sunday School met for the purpose of celebrating its first anniversary, Saturday Sept. 10th, 1892.

After reading of the scripture, singing and prayer, the school formed in a procession and exercised in drilling; then returned to the house when the superintendent, W. M. Stephens, delivered an address of welcome to visitors, and after singing dinner was announced and all partook thereof until satisfied of the good things prepared for the occasion. When, by his request, a procession was formed and marched to the residence of David McCurdy and formed a line in front of same and sung, "Christians are you growing weary," which was enjoyed very much by him in his afflictions. The procession then went back to the church house when volunteers were called for to make talks in the interest of Sunday Schools. W. A. Daniels, of Salt Branch, and H. W. Stracener, of Oak Grove, responded in appropriate talks for the occasion, after which a class of little boys and girls sang "Oh, we are Little Soldiers," then J. B. Whisenant and A. W. Smith followed with appropriate remarks.

Altogether the celebration was a success and will long be remembered by those who participated in it. We hope the school may live to enjoy many more anniversaries.

Our genial friend, W. K. Dennis is all smiles, and well he may be, for its a girl.

WHEAT MADE TO WALK

For more than a year I was afflicted with external sores and ulcers; my right leg was so bad that I could not walk without a crutch, and my general health was very poor. I was treated nine months by the most noted physician in Dallas, but derived very little benefit from his treatment. My physician finally gave up my case, and advised me to go to Hot Springs; but instead of taking his advice I took Saxet, which cured me completely in a short time. There was a perceptible improvement in my condition in a few days and in a few weeks my sores had all healed and I was again active and strong, and had no use for crutches. RUE WHEAT, Dallas, Tex.
