From Staff, Wire Reports

Residents of Snyder and other cities which come under the state sales tax will feel the pinch of the state's first tax hike since 1971 beginning Tuesday.

It's all part of a $4.6 billion tax hike approved in July by state lawmakers. Most of the money goes toward the revamped public school system set up by the Legislature.

Everyone who buys almost anything will see the hike as the state sales tax goes from 4 percent to 4.125 percent. Smokers and drinkers are expected to be hit the hardest.

The first part of the tax package is already in effect as the gasoline tax doubled to 10 cents a gallon last August.

On Tuesday, the state cigarette tax goes from 18.5 cents to 19.5 cents a pack. Smokers also will be hit by a legislative move placing cigarettes under the sales tax.

In cities like Snyder where the 1 percent local sales tax is collected, a pack of cigarettes that cost $1 on Monday will cost $1.06 on Tuesday.

Increases on alcoholic beverage taxes vary. The state will take $2.40 per gallon of liquor, up from $2. The beer tax goes from $5 per 31-gallon barrel to $6.

Because it is not a percentage increase, the tax hike weighs more heavily on cheaper drinks.

Officials with the state comptroller's office speculate adding a fraction of a cent to the state sales tax is sure to cause some confusion. In expectation of this, state officials have sent out a half million cards showing how to calculate a 4.125 percent sales tax.

The state sales tax change will be implemented this way.

For purchases of 10-29 cents, it's a penny tax. From 30-48 cents, it's two cents. From 49-68 cents, it's three cents. From 69-87 cents, it's four cents.

In addition to raising the sales tax, lawmakers stretched it to cover additional products, including vending machine sales, newspaper and magazine sales (with the cost of the Snyder Daily News going to 25 cents daily and remaining at 30 cents for Sunday), cable television (which has in part prompted a rate hike request locally), parking, repair work (excluding automobile repairs), computer software, tobacco products and laundry and dry cleaning services.

The sales tax also will cover tickets to concerts and sports events, unless the events are run by not-for-profit organizations. There will be no sales tax on tickets to high school and college

SPARKS FLYING — Snyder fireman Bruce Beall had sparks flying inside the old Snyder City Jail as he and other city employees worked to dismantle the city lockup. The need for it was eliminated after city and county officials reached an agreement to have all prisoners processed directly into the Scurry County Jail. 23-year-old city jail now dismantled

The agreement finalized in September between city and county officials to have all prisoners processed directly through the Scurry County Jail signaled the end of a 23-year-old institution for the City of Snyder.

All city prisoners are now booked directly into the Scurry County Jail. At the PD, bars, bunks and plumbing in the jail — originally constructed in 1961 — have been torn out.

This space is now being converted to a storage closet and day room for city officers.

In order to keep costs of the conversion to a minimum, off-duty police and firemen have been doing extra duty tearing out the old jail and refinishing the vacant area.

The bars, doors and walls of the old city lockup are scheduled to be sold as scrap iron during the next city auction slated for November 3.

Water project vote due

Snyder council members will consider Monday the first step toward what is projected to be the single largest improvement project undertaken by the city during the next 12-month period.

In addition, the city will hear a request to raise the rate for cable TV services offered here by SCAT — an increase projected at $1.50 for the "base" service. Part of this increase relates to a new state sales tax plan.

Both agenda items are included in the slate to be considered during the council's regular October session. It will begin at 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

Regarding the capital improvement project, councilmen will discuss contracting with a Lubbock engineering firm for plans to add a second settling basin at the water treatment plant.

The system — called a solids contact clarifier — will consist basically of a large holding tank with automatic cleaning equipment at its base.

City staffers note the current water treatment plant has only one holding tank. To clean it, it must be drained and the solid waste which accumulates must be "washed out" by high-power water hoses — a step which essentially shuts down the plant's operation.

Council members will consider contracting with the firm Parkhill, Smith and Cooper to design and construct the system. The 1984-85 city budget includes the plan as a capital improvement project. It is estimated to cost some $500,000.

Regarding the cable TV rate request, the council has authority to act on such requests involving the "base service" only offered by SCAT.

Noting that the last rate hike was implemented in 1980, SCAT officials are seeking to raise the base rate from $9.50 per month to $10.46.

In addition, new sales tax requirements now placed on cable systems will raise this fee to $11.50. The new sales tax plan — passed this summer by the state legislature — makes cable TV services taxable effective Oct. 2. (see related story this issue).

SCAT officials note they also plan increased rates for the two other levels of "premium" service offered over cable. The council request involves only the base rate, however.

Under "old business" items, council members Monday will consider also:

—The second reading of an ordinance changing six lots in the Bootland West Addition from R-3 (general residential) to M-2 (heavy manufacturing).

—The second reading of an ordinance which specifies safety standards which must be met to use LP (propane) gas inside the city limits. The change has been characterized as a way of giving the city more enforcement power LP use in expectation of a more general use of the utility fuel here.

County moves to self-insured plan

County commissioners Monday opted to carry the county's retired staffers on a county self-insured hospitalization plan until Jan. 1, 1985.

The decision was part of a planned changeover to self-insurance for all Scurry County employees.

After Jan. 1, retired employees who wish medical insurance coverage above Medicare-Medicaid benefits will be required to obtain such plans from private insurance companies.

In the past, by assuming the insurance premium costs, retired employees could retain the medical insurance plan offered through the county.

The switch to the self-insurance plan will terminate this option, however.

Commissioners voted unanimously Monday morning to offer self-insurance benefits through Jan. 1 for retirees.

For other county employees, the self-insurance plan will offer them expense-free hospital stays if facilities at Cogdell Memorial Hospital are used.

There will be a yearly $200 deductible for expenses related

2nd home break-in reported Saturday

According to reports, relatives discovered a door ajar at the Wilson residence, 2708 33rd St., around 9 p.m.

Investigators said Monday morning the residence had apparently been entered sometime Friday or Saturday. Entry was gained by forcing the door.

Police did not have a complete list of items taken from the residence by Monday morning. They said it appeared drawers and closets in the home had been gone through.

It was the second report of a residential burglary which apparently occurred prior to the weekend. Saturday morning, officers also investigated a break-in reported at the Charles Blakley residence, 2800 El Paso.

In Brief

To default

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government will declare a West Texas grain storage house in default on a multimillion-dollar grain storage contract today, an official at the U.S. Department of Agriculture said.

P.L. Blake of Greenwood, Miss., did not pay the government by last Friday's deadline the 966,000 bushels of corn his warehouse came up short in an August inspection, or $2.9 million to cover the missing grain, said Merrill Marxman, deputy administrator for commodity operations at the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"We will proceed this morning to ask our contracting officer in Kansas City to declare the house in default," Marxman said.

Ship over

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Spanish cruise ship with approximately 150 sleeping crewmembers aboard overturned in a dry dock early today, trapping about 50 people inside as it lay in the water, authorities said.

The accident occurred at 3:48 a.m. at the Norfolk Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., said Don Haupt, director of paramedical rescue in Norfolk.

Haupt said that about 100 of the approximately 150 people aboard got out as the vessel overturned. Another 50 were still inside the ship, he said.

Lt. Susan Donner, a Coast Guard spokesman, identified it as a Spanish-based cruise ship, the Santa Cruz.

She said the ship was on a platform above the water when it overturned and fell into the water.

Hotel fire

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A "very suspicious" fire in the downtown Hilton Hotel forced the evacuation of more than 400 guests, including people who screamed for help before being rescued from their balconies, authorities said today.

Investigators were trying to determine the cause of the five-alarm blaze, which started just after 9:30 p.m.

Extensive Mafia crackdown spreads to the United States

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A jailed crime boss has defied the Mafia's code of silence, enabling police to round up scores of suspected mobsters and putting U.S. authorities on the trail of others in one of the biggest breakthroughs against the Mafia in 20 years.

Police said Tommaso Buscetta violated the "omerta" — or code of silence — to avenge the killings of seven relatives by rival gangs in a fight for control of Palermo's big drug trafficking network.

In Washington, Justice Department spokesman Thomas M. Stewart said Sunday U.S. warrants were issued in connection with the case, but he refused to say where they were issued or whom they sought.

Police officials in Italy, speaking on the condition they not be named, said law enforcement officers in several American cities had joined the search for suspects named by Buscetta.

Authorities said investigators hoped the U.S.-Italian operation could crack alleged connections between the Sicilian Mafia and the secret American crime society known as the Cosa Nostra.

Thousands of police officers throughout Italy were searching for mob figures named by Buscetta, Italian police said. Italian magistrates issued arrest warrants Friday for 366 suspects. Police said 58 arrests were made over the weekend and 160 other suspects listed by Buscetta already were in jail for crimes.

The Italian news media said Buscetta's turning informant was the biggest break against the Mafia since Joseph Valachi, a mob figure in the United States, confessed to a U.S. Senate commission in 1963.

Among those tracked down after Buscetta's revelations was Giuseppe Greco, a Mafia figure who was convicted "in absentia" for the 1983 murder of a judge involved in the fight against organized crime.

Buscetta, after being arrested in Rio de Janeiro for allegedly carrying a false passport, was extradited from Brazil to Italy on July 15. He tried to commit suicide after his arrest and was returned to Italy under heavy guard.

He is believed to be one of the most important links between South American cocaine traffickers and drug-selling gangs in the United States and Europe.

Authorities said Buscetta implicated people in drug trafficking rings and in the murders of 120 people, including local officials in Palermo, over the past 14 years.

Reports said Buscetta named crime figures allegedly behind the murder of Gen. Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa, Italy's top anti-Mafia official who was slain, along with his wife, in Palermo in 1982.

Buscetta also named additional mobsters allegedly involved in the 1983 car-bomb killing of Judge Rocco Chinicci, who came down hard on the Mafia, the reports said.

A Palermo police official told The Associated Press that "thousands of paramilitary police" were sweeping Italy for the mobsters and several areas of Palermo were sealed off Sunday.

Newspapers said Buscetta named top-ranking politicians in Palermo and other cities as having mob links. Quoting high-ranking but unidentified sources, the papers said officials were investigating some of those named. The papers did not name any politicians.

Buscetta has been in at least two maximum security prisons since he was extradited from Brazil on charges of drug trafficking.

Dear Abby

Offers to Fix Old Jukebox Are Music to Family's Ears

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: On Aug. 22, the following letter appeared in my column:

"Dear Abby: We have three adult crippled children (our own) all in wheelchairs due to a rare genetic form of cerebral palsy. However, this is not the problem; I'm coming to that.

"Our children love music, so we bought them a used jukebox and stocked it with their favorite records—mostly polkas, Irish ballads, golden oldies, etc. Last December the jukebox broke down. The dealer who sold it to us tried to locate the transfer switch that was needed to repair it, but he told us that since it was a 20-year-old Wurlitzer, he doesn't expect to find one because the parts are not being made anymore.

"Abby, the model is 2810 and it plays only 45s. It had a beautiful tone before the switch broke.

"Can you help me, or is this a hopeless case?—Gertrude B. in Wilkes-Barre, Pa."

"Dear Gertrude: There must be someone out there who has an old Wurlitzer transfer switch. Readers? Write to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038."

Did I get letters! My mailman isn't speaking to me, and my staff is still working overtime to handle the responses.

More than 10,000 people from all 50 states, Canada and Puerto Rico wrote, offering to send a transfer switch. And at least a dozen people volunteered to custom-make one!

Michelle K., an employee of the H and G Amusement Co. in Milwaukee, was the first to call my office to say that she had already started taking up a collection at work in order to send a good, rebuilt Wurlitzer to Gertrude's children. She added, "The Milwaukee Sentinel, which carries your column, agreed to pay the $75 shipping charges."

An engineer in Maryland offered to fly to Wilkes-Barre and restore the jukebox to working order, regardless of what was required—free of charge.

I heard from people offering to send Gertrude their collections of old records. Some kind-hearted strangers even sent checks to "help out."

The outpouring of generosity and compassion for Gertrude and her three disabled children had me and my staff typing through tear-dimmed eyes.

I telephoned Gertrude and spoke to her and her husband, Chuck. They were overwhelmed with gratitude and said, "There is no way we can thank all those wonderful people, so will you please thank them for us?"

You will be pleased to know that the sound of music will again be heard in Gertrude and Chuck's home thanks to Philip Roth, owner of Roth Novelty Co. in Wilkes-Barre. He wrote to say that he has represented the Wurlitzer Co. for 25 years and he will gladly provide the music-loving family with the best rebuilt jukebox available at no cost. And because of the special circumstances, Roth agreed to service the unit free of charge—forever.

Now, who says we're living in a cold, selfish society where people care only for themselves?

Today's rustlers are very different

HOUSTON (AP) — The cattle rustlers of today are a lot more sophisticated than their predecessors, prompting authorities to use equally sophisticated technology to round up the wily bandits, an industry spokesman says.

"Twenty years ago your average rustler was an old cowboy who was down and out," said Steve Munday, a spokesman for the 107-year-old Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. "He'd haul a horse into a pasture, rope a couple of cows and put them in a pickup.

"That's changed a lot," he said. "Now we find many people who don't know a Hereford from a heifer. But they know they can make money stealing cattle."

One victim of the modern rustler was 84-year-old widow Estella Williams. Earlier this year, 28 head of cattle disappeared from Mrs. Williams' ranch 60 miles north of Houston.

"I hope I get my cattle," she said. "I've had them all my life.... Every time they would multiply, I would sell them and they would help me through. The government helps me now."

Mrs. Williams, who at first thought the cattle had wandered away, realized several weeks later they must have been stolen. But by that time, says the special Texas Ranger working on her case, finding any clues was difficult.

The job of getting stolen cattle to market is made easy by the open interstate highway system and the fact 161 cattle auctions are conducted each week in Texas.

Under state law, animals up for sale must be inspected and have their brand recorded. Computers are used to store the brand information and authorities can check to see if the animal has been stolen.

The cattle association, which is based in Fort Worth, has hired peace officers for the last 100 years to work as field inspectors to help catch the rustlers.

"One myth about Texas is the average size of a cattle herd," Munday said. "Last year, 71.1 percent of all the cattle operations in the state had fewer than 50 head."

According to "The Almanac of Investments," smart investors would be wiser to give their true loves a complete set of Planet Comics instead of a diamond engagement ring. In four years, the comic books have risen in value 106 percent, from $6,621 to $13,643. But, says the book, the value of a 1-carat D-Flawless diamond has decreased in value 65 percent, from $55,000 to $19,250.

Freezing Dairy Products

Butter — Freeze fresh, thoroughly washed butter made from high-quality cream with no off-flavors. Wrap in moisture and vapor proof material even if previously wrapped in parchment paper. Butter should be made from pasteurized cream if it is to be stored for four to six months. Salt the pasteurized butter, using ½ teaspoon salt per pound. Do not salt unpasteurized butter. Butter made from cream which has not been pasteurized turns rancid or acquires off-flavors in two or three months.

Cheese — If not more than one inch thick and in small pieces of one pound or less, brick, cheddar, Edam, Gouda, Muenster, Port du Salut, Swiss, Provolone, Mozzarella and Camembert cheeses will freeze well. Small quantities of Blue, Roquefort and Gorgonzola can also be frozen for salads and salad dressings or for other uses where a crumbly texture is acceptable.

Cheese should not be stored longer than six months and should be thawed in the refrigerator when ready for use.

Uncreamed cottage cheese may be frozen in the container in which purchased for one to two weeks. Thaw in the container in the refrigerator.

Cream cheese may be frozen in moisture and vapor resistant paper or plastic bag for up to four months. Thaw in wrappings in the refrigerator.

Cream — Freeze whipped or unwhipped. For best results, add 13 cup sugar to each quart of cream. To freeze after whipping, put dabs of whipped cream on a flat surface such as a cookie sheet and freeze. Remove the frozen dabs to a carton or plastic bag. Package unwhipped cream in rigid containers leaving ½ inch headspace in pint containers. Cream whipped after it is thawed does not become as stiff as usual.

Thaw in the refrigerator or serve frozen. Store up to three months.

Ice Cream — Store ice cream no longer than three weeks for a top quality product.

If homemade ice cream is to be stored, make it from a recipe that contains gelatin and eggs. Use a pure extract as an imitation extract tends to change flavor during storage. A cooked custard makes a better frozen product. Stir the ice cream frequently if it is frozen in an electric refrigerator. The ice particles must be kept as small as possible as they have a tendency to increase in size during storage. If a crank-type freezer is used for freezing the ice cream, use one part salt to 12 parts ice. This requires a longer freezing period but is necessary to get a smooth ice cream.

Freeze the custard as firm as possible in the freezer or refrigerator. Pack immediately in moisture and vapor proof cartons to top of container so there are no air spaces remaining.

Beta Sigma Phi hears about plant care tips

Bette League's backyard was the setting of the Beta Sigma Phi meeting on Sept. 25. League presented "Outdoor Living, Lawn Decorations and Use," giving tips on the care of potted and garden flowers. Some of her tips included rooting a plant indoors in a brown bottle works better than using a clear one; a spray of one-half milk and one-half water works wonders as a leaf shine; scotch guarding baskets prolongs their life; and all leafy foliage needs to be left on Cannas plants for protection from winter weather.

She also recommended "A Complete Guide to Texas Gardening" by Neill Sperry for use in West Texas climate.

Presiding over the business meeting, Brenda Hedges read a letter from SCOOP asking for donations to the home. Members planned to donate the profit from their western dance on Sept. 22 in the Snyder Country Club to SCOOP. Sorority members also brought articles to donate to the Noah Project.

Hostesses for the evening were Beverly Mitchell and Jean Rico. The attendance prize, a potted plant rooted by League, was won by Mona Bryan.

COME FOR DESSERT
Plum Crisp & Coffee

PLUM CRISP

3 pounds purple plums (fresh Italian prunes)
1¼ cups sugar
1¼ cups all-purpose flour
¼-pound stick butter
¼ teaspoon salt

Quarter plums and pit — there should be 6 cups. In a small bowl stir together ¾ cup of the sugar and ¼ cup flour; toss with plums. Turn into a 1½-quart shallow baking dish — about 10 by 6 by 2 inches. In a medium bowl stir together remaining ½ cup sugar and 1 cup flour; with a pastry blender cut in butter until fine; sprinkle over plum mixture. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until plums are soft and topping is browned — about 1 hour.

Shultz: 'Talks not positive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz says chances are now "reasonably good" that the United States and Moscow can establish constructive negotiations aimed at improving superpower relations.

But Shultz said Sunday it would be incorrect to say that the talks between President Reagan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko last week were very positive.

"Not very positive — sober and intense," Shultz said in an appearance on ABC-TV's "This Week with David Brinkley."

Meanwhile, Robert C. McFarlane, the president's national security adviser, said it would probably take a couple of months for the Soviets to respond to Reagan's proposals for regular high-level contacts focusing on arms control and other issues.

"The Soviet process is a very deliberate one, and they've had a lot to chew on after this week, so it will take some time," McFarlane said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Shultz said that in the nearly nine hours of talks with Gromyko — 3½ hours with Reagan and the rest with Shultz — "practically all subjects of concern" between the two nations were discussed.

As a result, he said, "the chances of a more constructive dialogue with the Soviet Union ... are reasonably good."

He said the two sides agreed "to keep in touch, carefully and systematically" through diplomatic channels.

Shultz said there will be follow-up consultations at the ambassadorial level in Washington and Moscow to decide plans for specific meetings on specific issues.

But Walter F. Mondale, the Democratic presidential hopeful, told reporters Sunday that the Reagan-Gromyko session was an "apparent failure in arms control," and "both disappointing and a basis for apprehension" because it raised doubts about "which Reagan will we see" if he wins a second term.

"Will we see the Reagan who for four years has engineered an arms race ... or will we see a Reagan who as he has in the past week, talks about peace?" he said.

Mondale, who met with Gromyko in New York on Thursday, said afterward he thought there was an opportunity for Reagan to make progress toward breaking the impasse over arms control talks.

However, after Gromyko's meetings with Reagan and Shultz, administration officials could only say they hoped the talks would break the impasse, but couldn't be sure.

Feds to halt raids

DALLAS (AP) — Federal agents say they will step up raids on "notorious" employers of illegal aliens in the wake of recent record round-ups in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

A three-day sweep last week netted a record 1,144 workers suspected of being illegal immigrants, authorities said.

Six investigators from the local INS office and 15 agents from the U.S. Border Patrol conducted the raids Tuesday through Thursday.

Walking helps in weight loss

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have smoked for 17 years. I have always been heavy, but when I quit smoking a year ago I gained 30 pounds. It was so easy to quit smoking. I just stopped.

I have tried many diets, but this is hard for me. I'm 5 feet and 6 and about 100 pounds overweight. I'm about ready to go back to smoking. Which is worse, smoking or carrying around all this excess weight? I used to smoke about a pack of cigarettes a day. I'm 32.

DEAR READER — I'd be very disappointed in you if you went back to smoking. The reason lung cancer is replacing breast cancer as the leading cause of cancer deaths in women is that so many women smoke. Besides, you might not lose your excess pounds if you quit, in which case you would be both overweight and hooked on cigarettes.

If I had to choose between being overweight and smoking, I would choose to be overweight. But you need not make that choice. You can lose weight if you simply stick to a good plan, which should include both a balanced low-calorie diet and a regular exercise program.

I have included a diet list from the four basic food groups, which you can use as a basis for a diet that will help you lose weight, in a new issue of The Health Letter, Special Report 17, Flexible Weight Control Plan, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Regular, frequent activity during the day probably helps keep the body's thermostat turned up and helps you use calories by producing body heat. A long exercise period, such as walking, is probably more helpful than a short intense period in terms of eliminating fat. Why? Because it takes quite a while for the mechanisms that mobilize fat for energy to take effect. Short-duration exercise is more apt to use muscle glycogen (glucose molecules) than fat for energy.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I want to reach out to a lot of people and the only way I know is through your column, because so many people read it. I wish more people could understand that nonsmokers are often allergic to chemicals in cigarette smoke. I wish they knew that they may be harming someone around them when they light up in many public places where there are no designated nonsmoking areas.

Cigarette smoke gives me a severe headache, followed by hot flashes and an overall paralysis of the body. I wish I could avoid smoke, but it follows me across the room. When I do move, there is always someone else lighting up. I'm very allergic and take shots for more than a hundred allergies. I'm allergic to cigarette smoke. I hope you will consider saying something about this.

DEAR READER — I have, but I will do so again. There are many people who are allergic to tobacco smoke. It can trigger asthmatic attacks in some asthmatics. I don't think most smokers would deliberately do things that would harm another person if they were really aware of the effects of their actions. An innocent bystander in the checkout line may have trouble breathing because someone in front of her is smoking.

And tests have shown that cigarette smoke from the end of a cigarette is more harmful than the smoke drawn through the cigarette and inhaled. It also does tend to curl up in front of a nonsmoker, strange as that may seem.

New mortgage loans available

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new type of mortgage, designed to have the advantages of fixed monthly payments and adjustable interest rates, is being introduced by the Federal National Mortgage Association.

Robert J. Mylod, president and chief operating officer of the mortgage association, known as Fannie Mae, said indications are "lenders expect this mortgage to be popular with consumers."

He said more than 200 lenders nationwide have already made commitments for the new loans.

Fannie Mae Chairman David O. Maxwell told a recent mortgage marketing group in Raleigh, N.C. that, starting Wednesday, the association would institute changes to make the new loan package more attractive to lenders.

Fannie Mae buys mortgages from lenders, giving them new money to lend. As the biggest single buyer of mortgages, it can affect the types of mortgage terms offered by banks and other institutions by specifying the terms of loans it is willing to buy.

Interest rates on the new "fixed-payment, adjustable-rate" mortgage are keyed to the one-year Treasury securities index, which has run 2 to 2½ percent lower than rates on fixed-rate 30-year loans.

Lenders usually offer lower rates on any adjustable rate mortgage because the risk of changes in interest rates is shared by lender and borrower. Many lenders are still stuck holding fixed-rate loans that were entered into during the days of single-digit interest rates.

However, borrowers and their representatives in Congress are critical of some adjustable rate mortgages that have frequent rate shifts, leaving home buyers unsure of their monthly payments.

As interest rates have stayed high or increased, most of the adjustments have been upwards, especially on loans that started out with artificially low "teaser rates," some as low as 5 percent. Some borrowers have seen their monthly payments double.

"Consumers are concerned about the high mortgage interest rates and fluctuating monthly payments of many loans being offered today," Mylod said. "The fixed-payment ARM is a very positive response to those concerns."

With the new home loan, payments change only every five years, even though the interest rate could change once a year.

At the end of the first five years, the borrower may negotiate a fixed-rate mortgage for the remaining 25 years or a new five-year contract at a new interest rate and payment schedule.

The new payment would be based on the average of the previous four years' rates and the current market rate on one-year ARMs.

Her use of local office space was approved Monday morning by county commissioners.

In other police action, employees of the Tropicano Motel on the East Highway called police at 11:30 a.m. Sunday to file the weekend's only criminal mischief complaint.

In other action, city police jailed a total of five suspects on various misdemeanor charges.

Ram defense stuffs Giants, 33-12

by The Associated Press

It was safety first, second and third for the Los Angeles Rams.

The Rams manhandled the New York Giants 33-12 Sunday, registering a National Football League record three safeties and generally embarrassing the Giants' offensive line, which was called for holding nine times. Punter Dave Jennings had two of his kicks blocked and quarterback Phil Simms was sacked in the end zone while trying to pass.

Elsewhere, it was Denver 16, the Los Angeles Raiders 13; Miami 36, St. Louis 28; San Francisco 14, Atlanta 5; Tampa Bay 30, Green Bay 27 in overtime; New England 28, the New York Jets 21; Dallas 23, Chicago 14; Seattle 20, Minnesota 12; Indianapolis 31, Buffalo 17; Kansas City 10, Cleveland 6; New Orleans 27, Houston 10; San Diego 27, Detroit 24, and Washington 20, Philadelphia 0.

Cincinnati visits Pittsburgh tonight.

Henry Ellard sparked the Rams' scoring with an 83-yard punt return, but it was the defense which controlled the game. New York had only eight yards rushing.

The Giants, who were given a gift touchdown nine seconds into the game when LA's A.J. Jones failed to cover a kickoff in the end zone and rookie Phil McConkey fell on it, trailed 7-6 when Ellard scooted down the sidelines with a Jennings kick.

The safeties all came in the third quarter. At 1:00, Ivory Sully blocked a Jennings punt in and through the end zone. Just 2:20 later, Youngblood and fellow DE Reggie Doss trapped Simms. At 12:24, Norwood Vann burst into the end zone to stop another Jennings punt.

Broncos 16, Raiders 13

Denver knocked the defending Super Bowl champions from the undefeated ranks - only Miami and San Francisco are perfect at 5-0 - in a bitter battle. Gerald Willhite's 4-yard scoring run and three Rich Karlis field goals did the damage for the Broncos in a fight-marred game, lifting 4-1 Denver into a tie with the Raiders and Seahawks for first place in the AFC West.

The Broncos rushed for a season-high 233 yards.

Dolphins 36, Cardinals 28

Miami used a familiar formula: Dan Marino throwing to his talented corps of receivers for big yardage and lots of points. Marino, who leads the NFL with 15 touchdown throws, hit for a team-record 429 yards and three touchdowns on 24 completions in 36 passes.

Tight end Joe Rose caught a 26-yarder, Mark Clayton hauled in a 29-yard strike and Tony Nathan scored from 22 yards on Marino passes.

49ers 14, Falcons 5

San Francisco kept its record spotless as Joe Montana hit on a pair of touchdown tosses and the defense stopped Atlanta - which was averaging 30.5 points a game - four times inside the 49er 10. Montana, wearing a flak jacket to protect bruised ribs which forced him out of last week's game, threw to Russ Francis for a 5-yard score and to Mike Wilson for a 21-yard TD.

Redskins 20, Eagles 0

Washington's defense sacked Eagle quarterback Ron Jaworski four times and shut down Philadelphia. John Riggins rushed for 104 yards and a touchdown and Joe Theismann hit Art Monk on a 51-yard scoring pass.

Saints 27, Oilers 10

Hapless Houston, 0-5, was held to eight first downs and 133 yards by New Orleans.

Strange wins title at LaJet

ABILENE, Texas (AP) - Curtis Strange needed only a 71 to nurse home a two-shot victory Sunday in the LaJet Golf Classic.

Mark O'Meara came on to take second - for the fifth time this season - with a closing 66.

Strange carded a total 273; O'Meara finished with a 275 total Vance Heafner and Canadian Dan Halldorson tied for third at 278, each with a closing 70. Tom Watson matched par 72 and finished well back at 284.

In Clarendon Rodeo...

Western men place second

CLARENDON -- Western Texas College's men's rodeo team got some top performances from Bliss Mayhan and Gary Rowe to place second in the Clarendon College Rodeo here over the weekend.

Mayhan, who took runnerup all-around honors behind Tarleton State University's Hadley Reed, won the bull riding with a score of 68. He also placed sixth in the bareback, with a 62.

Rowe won the steer wrestling in a time of 8.7. Perry Echols, a Snyder native competing for TSU, took second with a 10.8.

Western polled 288 points overall to outscore rival and defending Southwest Region champion Sul Ross State University. Sul Ross, which did win the women's division, had 252 points for third place. Tarleton won the men's division with 292.5 points.

Mayhan and Rowe got help from other teammates. Snyder cowboy Van Hale took second in the bulls with a 66, while Jason Phillips tied for third with a 65. Also pointing for WTC were Donnie Yorks, fifth in calf roping with an 11.1, and Cody Foster, who teamed with Texas Tech's Cliff Tippet for sixth in the team roping (10.5).

Western's women's team did not compete as well. The women scored 21.5 points for seventh place. SRSU's 147.3 won the division.

WTC's Judy Cox tied for third in the breakaway roping with a 3.9. Niki Moist was sixth in the barrels with an 18.77.

Team effort pushes Cowboys past Bears

CHICAGO (AP) - Rafael Septien says his three field goals and two conversions weren't the biggest factor in the Dallas Cowboys victory over the Chicago Bears.

"If you don't have the touchdowns, the field goals don't count," Septien said after the Cowboys' 23-14 victory at Soldier Field Sunday. "It takes total work from everybody."

Septien, who has scored on his last eight field goal attempts, "is one of the strongest things we had going for us this year," Cowboys Coach Tom Landry said.

The game, matching two of the National Football League's most potent offenses, looked like it might be a high-scoring contest after Dallas took a 17-14 halftime lead.

But the defenses buckled down in the second half, with two Septien field goals the only scoring.

"In the second half, we changed up our defenses and did a better job," Landry said.

Chicago running back Walter Payton rushed 20 times for 130 yards in the first half, and for a while appeared likely to get the 222 yards he needed to break Jim Brown's career rushing record.

But Payton rushed just five times for 25 yards in the second half, and finished with 155 yards rushing, 66 shy of Brown's 12,312 career yards.

Dallas quarterback Gary Hogeboom completed 18 of 29 passes for 265 yards and one touchdown, but was held to just 89 passing yards in the second half.

The Bears had 400 total yards, compared to 313 for Dallas. Starting quarterback Jim McMahon completed 6 of 14 passes for 79 yards before leaving the game midway through the fourth period because his injured hand, fractured several weeks ago, prevented him from throwing effectively.

Tigers defeat MHS Loboes

MONAHANS -- Snyder's Tigers put the cuffs on defending champion Monahans here Saturday to throw the District 2-4A volleyball race back into a three-way tie.

The Tigers stumbled in the first game, 6-15, but came back to pop the Lady Loboes 15-13 and 15-12.

"We had a definite game plan we stuck to the entire time and it worked," said Coach Penny Bane, whose Tigers are now tied with Monahans and Pecos for the loop lead. "We knew where they would play us so we didn't hit there. We had a real nice balance between offense and defense. We had some excellent blocking from Karlene Thompson, Donna Anderson, Gina Vaughn and Allison Adams. The same four had some spectacular hits at the net. Hope Hernandez, Kima McLarty and Sabrina Sullivan did well serving, and Sabrina had a very good game as our setter."

The win, coupled with confirmation of a forfeit by Fort Stockton to the Tigers, pushes Snyder's district record to 6-1. The Tigers are idle Tuesday but will host Lamesa on Thursday.

"We didn't play all that bad, but the gym was cold and it took us a while to get warmed up," said Bane, who was not pleased with the officiating. "There were a number of questionable calls that hurt us in the first game and took away our momentum in the second game. I'm not one to complain, but these were really questionable.

"Our junior varsity team arrived just before the second game, and that was a real momentum factor for us," she added. "We also had some fans there and we want to tell them we really appreciate them," noted the coach.

Snyder went ahead 12-4 in the second game, but Monahans pulled back "from our own mistakes and a couple of calls" to tie at 12-12. The game went to 13-13 before Snyder snared the final two points.

The lead switched back and forth in the third game until Thompson served six straight points for a 10-3 advantage. Snyder never trailed after that.

McLarty and Thompson served 2 points each in the first game; Adams and Hernandez 4 each in the second and Thompson 6 in the third.

Spikers stumble in Crane tourney

The Cats lost to Monahans, 15-10 and 15-2, and to Fort Stockton, 7-15 16-14 and 15-8.

"The first match, their serving percentage was very low. When you can't score, you can't win," said Coach Penny Bane. "The second match we made a few mistakes that really hurt us. The girls have played hard all year. They lost some close ballgames but their skill level has really improved. They are going to add to the varsity program very well next year."

Leading scorers for Snyder were, against Monahans, Stacy Dunk with 4 points in the first game and Leslie Ward with 2 in the second; and against Monahans, Tammy Williamson with 5 in the first game and 6 in the second, and Ward with 3 in the third.

The girls will entertain Lamesa at 6:30 on Thursday.
