Funeral Held Sunday For C. L. Martin, Sr.

Clarence L. Martin, 81, died at 6:30 a.m. Saturday at Schleicher County Medical Center.

Services were held at 2:00 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church with burial in Eldorado cemetery directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Mr. Martin was born April 15, 1889 in Tennessee. He was a retired carpenter and a member of the Woodmen of the World.

In the fall of 1959, a number of friends and relatives honored the Martins here on their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Sybil Kinser of Eldorado and Mozelle Hill of Fort Worth; two sons, C. L. Martin Jr. of Eldorado and Roy Hale Martin of McCamey; a sister, Mrs. Pearl Caudle of Whiteface and two brothers, Price Martin of Napa, Cal., and Bill Martin of Fort Worth; five granddaughters and seven great grandchildren.

CIVIC GROUP TAKES ON AMBULANCE PROBLEM

It's all settled except—

We don't know where to buy one—

We don't know what it will cost—

We don't know who's going to pay for it.

But except for that it has been firmly decided that Eldorado will have a new ambulance and ambulance service in the not-too-distant future.

This was the decision arrived at when directors of the Schleicher County Foundation met last Wednesday night. They voted to assume operation of an ambulance when one has been provided—most likely by the county.

Under the plan a number of volunteers—perhaps a dozen—will take turns in teams of two, in responding to calls for an ambulance.

The local hospital has agreed to maintain a 24-hour phone service for the operation when it is set up, and the doctors have agreed to conduct first aid courses for volunteer ambulance drivers.

Raymon Mobley, president, and Elton McGinnes, secretary of the Schleicher County Foundation, report that at least six prospective drivers have already volunteered and at least that many more are desired. Anyone willing to volunteer for this duty should contact one of the above officers.

Now all we need is the ambulance!

4. RECOVERY OF OPPONENTS' FUMBLES AND PASSES:

The following Eldorado Eagles who intercepted passes or recovered enemy fumbles did great service for their team against the tough Ozona Lions. Bob Whitten captured a Jim Montgomery forward pass in the second quarter. In the meantime Roy Jones, Charles Adams, Ricky Griffin, Robert Hibbitts, and Gary Danford all recovered Lon fumbles. Incidentally, the Lions outfumbled the Eagles 7 to 4 and lost the ball by a 5 to 2 margin.

All Aboard For Llano; Another Tough Game

The Eldorado Eagles go to Llano tomorrow night for possibly the first game ever between the Yellow Jackets and the Eagles. University Interscholastic League redistricting last year gave Eldorado little chance of a game unless Llano were included in the schedule as Bronte dropped out. There is quite a difference in competitive strength of the two schools.

It will be about as tough a game for the Eagles as could be found anywhere in this area. Llano is in the upper limit of enrollment for a Class 2A school and their football team not only enjoys the advantage of drawing from a large number of boys but their dispositions are big and tough as can be also. The squad is composed of 11 seniors and 13 juniors.

A glance at the Llano starting lineup confirms the "big" description of them. They defeated top-ranked Mason 20-0 in their season opener and Westlake, 19-0 in their second game last Friday night.

The Yellow Jackets have not been scored on this season. They employ a "Monster-five" defensive dispersion and crisscross linemen and linebackers very effectively. This is well substantiated by the "not scored on yet" part of their season's record.

The "Monster" or roving defender is No. 24, Kirk Winfrey at 165 pounds who doubles at offensive halfback on occasion. But the really "crunching" Yellow Jacket defenders are "Nose guard" Ricky Bauman, 220 pounds, and Hatch Smith, the middle linebacker at 205. To put it bluntly, with a big strong line and linebackers crisscrossing and with Winfrey and Smith "smashing" anything that escapes, the Yellow Jackets make it pretty hard to infiltrate their territory, disagreeable too.

Offensively they employ "Wing T." They don't enjoy a great deal of speed but they are not slow either. They are big, tough, and aggressive; and their offense is spearheaded by 78 and 62, 220-pound Ricky Bauman and 180-lb. Ernest Ligon, both very determined blockers, followed by 180-pound Burns Laning and 200-pound Ricky Virdell, both seniors.

The "Wing-T" offense they employ thus utilizes many of the powerful features of old time "single wing" but also takes advantage of the "man under" quarterback with its speed and deception.

All in all, the Eagles can expect a busy and arduous evening on this particular "big hunting" expedition.

Eagle coaches said this week that no charges were slated for the Eagle offensive and defensive lineups except that Jimbo Overstreet, starting offensive center, had a broken finger and would be replaced by Robert Hibbitts, normally a defensive tackle.

The Eagles will start Charley Adams and Jerry Baty at ends, at 155 and 185 pounds respectively; Walter Speck at 185 and Roy Jones at 190 at tackles; Gary Danford and Dobbie Lively at guards listed at 170 each; Hibbitts, 165, at center; Victor Belman and Ricky Griffin at the halfback positions, weighing 145 and 150 respectively; and possibly Billy Doc Hubble at 175 or Mike Manning, 160, at fullback. Archie Nixon at 155 will start at quarterback and it might be kept in mind that he is a marked man every night he walks out against any opposition.

Changes for defensive efforts will include Bob Whitten, 145 pounds, at linebacker; and Keith Williams, 145, as a safety or defensive half.

A very real disadvantage to the Eagles is the weight and age advantage enjoyed by Llano, especially in the backfield. For instance, Freshman Mike Manning, able and willing as he is, meets some powerful opposition in Nose-guard Ricky Bauman at 220 and Linebacker Hatch Smith at 205. Both are seniors while Manning is a freshman who weighs a respectable 160 pounds but this does not compare favorably with 205 and 220 and three years age margin.

Such disparities have moved men to write such things as what really counts about the game of football is "How you play the game" along with the winning and losing.

Mrs. A. E. Kent, 94 Buried Saturday

Mrs. A. E. Kent, 94, died Thursday morning in Schleicher County Medical Center.

Services were held at 2:00 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church here with burial in the Eldorado cemetery directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Mrs. Kent was born Sept. 23, 1876 and married to Albert E. Kent on Aug. 9, 1899 in Norgangee. Mr. Kent died in 1918 in the flu epidemic that swept the country in World War I.

Mrs. Kent served as treasurer of Schleicher County from 1923 to 1935 and had been a resident of Eldorado for 61 years.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Inez Alsop of San Antonio, Mrs. Mildred Stanford of Eldorado, Mrs. Pauline Means of Houston and Mrs. Pat May of Austin; three sons, Tom Kent of Midland, Buck Kent of Monahans and Luther Kent of Tyler; a brother, Jim Hill of Grand Prairie; four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Rankin of Houston, Mrs. Mesa Andres of North Zulch, Mrs. Sam Poteet of Ralls and Mrs. Pauline Gibson of Abilene; 23 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Post Script

This county enjoyed some good rains nearly a week ago and as we go to press this week, the skies are staying cloudy and there are weather forecasts giving the area a 50% chance of rain.

We hope that our hottest weather of the year is behind us and that we can now look forward to cooler days and the cool, longer autumn nights.

Fall gardens are producing and should continue to do so for about the coming two months.

EHS Band Does Ambassador Job

Your Eldorado High School band has been working for the town this past summer, putting Eldorado, Texas on the map. While the band kids were out for vacation the films, made at four years of marching contests, were appearing in Band Directors' Clinics across several states, including Arkansas, Tennessee, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico as well as our own big state of Texas.

Dean Kilton, director of bands at Texas Tech, who is quite impressed with the Eagle Band, style and performance, suggested the band film to be shown when marching material is requested. These are the films made at contests and kept at the band hall.

Copies of our film, filed in the Band Library at Texas A&I at Kingsville, are made available to band directors and bands and are constantly checked out to study.

Your band gets around!

Last February President Nixon sent to Congress his Federal Economy Act of 1970 which was aimed at the reduction, termination, or restructuring of 57 programs labeled by the President as "obsolete, low priority or in need of basic reform." Fourteen of these programs required Congressional action to change.

The Democratic-controlled House has blocked, procrastinated on, and outright ignored President Nixon's requests in every instance. In fact, as Presidential Counselor John Ehrlichman noted "Congress . . . has perpetuated all 14 and in some cases has increased either the authorization or the appropriation associated with some of them."

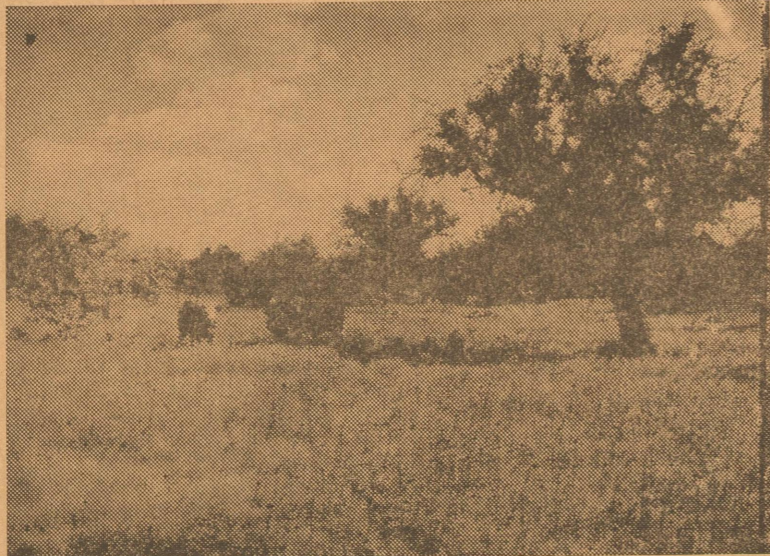

Faced with the continuing threat of inflation, this is inexcusable, and no matter how hard O. C. Fisher tries he cannot dissociate himself from the policies of the Democratic House leadership to whom he is completely subservient and whom he votes to keep in power year after year after year. The solution is clear: President Nixon must have the strength of a Republican-controlled House.

Range Site and Range Condition Classification

A major factor in the success of range conservation on farms and ranches in the district is a system of judging the range simply and quickly in the field and can be understood by the rancher.

Such a system of range appraisal has been developed by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service as they have helped ranchers analyze grassland conditions and plan practical grazing systems. This system of classification of range site and of range condition is in use in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District.

This range appraisal is essentially an economic and an ecologic evaluation of range resources. It provides an index to soil productivity and shows the comparative yield of vegetation for multiple uses on various range sites in four range-condition classes. Putting a range site in a certain condition class enables the rancher or farmer to know the capability of different kinds of rangeland in his holdings in terms of the kind and quantity of forage they can be expected to produce, and to appraise their present condition in relation to the potential, or "climax," than can be expected.

As range site and condition sites are determined with the rancher, safe starting stocking rates are assigned to each condition class for each site.

In this modern survey procedure, rangeland is defined as land on which the climax, or potential plant community consists principally of native grasses, forbs, and shrubs that are valuable for forage and are in sufficient quantity to justify its use for grazing.

A range site is just a distinctive kind of range land with a certain potential for producing range plants. The range site keeps its capacity to reproduce this climax plant community just as long as the environment remains unchanged. Different range sites are iden-ified by differences in kinds or proportions of plants that make up the original (climax) plant community; or differences in the total yield of the vegetation in the original (climax) plant communities is nearly the same.

Range condition is the present state of the vegetation compared to that of the original (climax) for a particular range site. Determining the condition of a range provides a measure of any deterioration that has taken place in the plant cover, and thereby provides a basis for predicting the degree of improvement possible. Four classes are used to express the degree to which the composition of the present plant community has departed from climax. These classes are defined as follows:

Class	% Climax
Excellent	76-100
Good	51-75
Fair	26-50
Poor	0-25

Range site and range condition surveys are not used to determine stocking rates. Rather, starting stocking rates based on information from properly grazed range are applied to adjoining ranges with similar sites and conditions.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the district work with producers in helping them determine their range condition and making the range surveys.

Candidate Calls For Stringent Explosive Sale Laws

Republican congressional candidate Dick Gill of San Antonio, has called for stiff amendments to the Texas Penal Code in order to crack down on "That small segment of our people that is in open rebellion against the United States government."

Citing FBI figures showing there were 4300 bombings in the U. S. during that 18 month period ending April 15, as well as 1475 thwarted bombing attempts, Gill told the State Republican Convention's Resolutions and Platform Committee that the relatively small number of people involved in the bombings made the situation none the less dangerous, adding:

"The time to stop a revolution is in the beginning—not in the end. Unlike restrictions on our right to bear arms—a Constitutionally guaranteed right we must defend vigorously—it is logical, prudent and necessary that we take the strongest possible steps to cut off the source of supply for the most devastating weapon in the revolutionary's arsenal: the terrorist bomb—which indiscriminately strikes down anyone unfortunate enough to be in its vicinity."

Noting that at least 44 persons have died at a result of terrorist bombs in the last 24 months, Gill made these specific recommendations: that exemptions under the Bombing Act of 1951 be more narrowly defined; that provisions requiring a police officer to obtain a search warrant before investigating illegal possession of explosives be liberalized so that an officer may search premises without a warrant if he has reasonable cause to believe there is imminent danger of harm to persons or property; and that all persons wishing to purchase explosives for legitimate ends be required to register their request with a local law enforcement agency.

"A law-abiding citizen who wishes to buy explosives for a legitimate purpose will readily accept the small inconvenience he might undergo," Gill stated, "when he considers the vital necessity for protecting not only the general public—but our nation as well—from terrorist bombs."

Renewed Vigilance, Stronger Laws Needed

By O. C. FISHER
U. S. Representative
21st Congressional District

At a Black Panther convention in Philadelphia recently, the 5,000 delegates assembled there were exhorted by a leader to get guns and kill peace officers.

This brazen declaration of war against law and order calls for renewed vigilance, stronger laws, more rigid enforcement by officers armed and prepared to shoot to kill when prudence and necessity requires it. Pampering and coddling of criminals have encouraged the Panthers and other lawless movements.

The Congress has enacted two anti-crime laws this year, and another one which hopefully might help the situation where federal jurisdiction is applicable—is in the works.

A member of the Chicago 7 who was convicted in Chicago for conspiring to cross state lines to violate an anti-riot law, recently set the tone of a new wave of lawlessness when he said in a speech at Columbia University:

"The 60's was a time of sit-ins—70's will be a time to burn the banks."

Various criminal groups have been pulled together in what is called the "New Left"—a sordid combination that is organized, trained, and armed to perpetrate their infamous deeds. These include the Weathermen faction of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), the Revolutionary Youth Movement, the Pro-Peking Progressive Labor Party, and others who collaborate with the Black Panthers and other extremists in a campaign of class warfare and guerilla terrorism. They follow the Communist line. They encourage dissent, discord, and defiance at all levels of society.

In a recent 15-month period a total of 4,330 bombings and 1,475 attempted bombings were reported.

It follows that every available weapon—including more rigid enforcement and an around demonstration of public indignation—must be employed in the war against the enemies of organized society.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

A cotton harvesting machine is a boon to modern farmers, but like anything else with dangerous moving parts, it should be treated with respect.

There is potential danger in every drive, belt, conveyor or pulley on a cotton stripper or picker.

Shields on machines are put there for a purpose—to protect the men working around them. When they must be removed for repair work, they should be replaced immediately.

No machine should be worked on while it is operating. Disengaging the gears could prevent many costly accidents at harvest time.

A small spot of grease on the machine or sole of a shoe can result in a serious injury and can be avoided if the machine is kept clean at all times.

Fire is also a major hazard in the cotton field and a dry chemical type or CO₂ fire extinguisher should be on every machine. It is also important to be sure that the spark arrestor is in place on the exhaust pipe and that matches and smokes are kept out of the cotton.

speed up decomposition.

Since moisture is needed for the decomposition process, the heap should be sprinkled with water to keep it moist when rainfall is not sufficient to do the job. By next spring you can have the needed material for mulching the flower beds, the vegetable gardens and home shrubbery.

A lecture is something that can make you feel numb at one end and dumb at the other.

Insects normally are not known as being particularly good parents to their offspring. However, female girdler beetles take great care to see that their young have the proper environment during their development.

The beetles are called twig girdlers because of the type of damage they do. The females laboriously make a notch-like incision through the bark and into the wood of twig after twig. She then deposits her eggs in small niches on the severed portions. The girdling is done so that the larvae that hatch from the eggs will have wood in a suitable condition of moisture and decay.

The adult beetles are 3/4 to 1 inch long and colored brown to grayish. Their most noticeable characteristic is the very long antennae which are longer than the beetle's body.

Although the beetles are only trying to make a proper home for their offspring, they do cause considerable damage to shade, fruit and nut trees. The girdled twigs die and either hang on the tree or fall to the ground. In young trees, there may be appreciable injury. Hickory, pecan, oak, persimmon, poplar, and honey locust are among the trees attacked by the beetles. Pecans may be deformed and the nut crop reduced. In persimmon, the beetle wounds afford entrance for a deadly wilt fungus disease.

Girdling begins during late summer and the damage at this time may go unnoticed. Close inspection of wilted twigs is necessary to see whether they have been notched. In the fall, girdling damage becomes more apparent as the twigs begin to drop to the ground.

Chemical controls are effective when they are timed to coincide with the beetles' girdling and egg laying activities. Sprays containing malathion or carbaryl should be applied to the trees when the first girdled twigs are noticed. This is usually in late August or early September. Three applications at 2-week intervals are usually necessary.

Infestations may also be reduced by gathering and burning all severed twigs since the larvae remain in them until spring.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

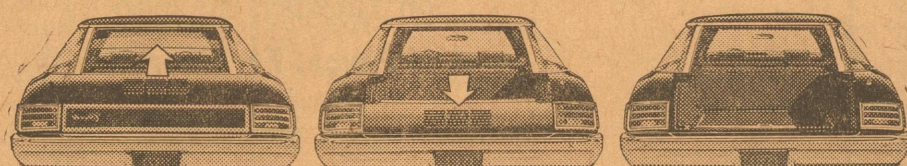

Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

Vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

See what we mean by putting you first? September 29 at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Eagles Lose Ozona Game By 16-0 Score

The Ozona Lions overpowered the Eldorado Eagles 16-0 in Ozona last Friday night. Ruben Tambunga and Greg Stuart no doubt found the victory very satisfying since they were important cogs in the Lion team that endured a 40-13 thumping from the Eagles in Eldorado last fall.

Statistics show that the Lions had the stronger ball club but that the Eagles made a real contest of it.

Eldo.	Ozona
12	first downs 14
170	yards rushing 252
3	yards passing 17
173	total yards 269
1 of 7	passes 3 of 6
1	interceptions 1
4	total fumbles 7
2	fumbles lost 5
6 for 35	punts & av. 4 for 38

Score by quarters:
 Ozona — 7 0 0 3 6—16

Fumbles hurt both teams, directly resulting in a Lion touchdown; but the Eagles showed marked improvement over the Rankin contest in which they fumbled 10 times and lost the ball six times. Amusingly enough, responsible Eagles have been accompanied by footballs in their daily travels about the campus and elsewhere. This is an ancient and time-honored treatment for this dreaded football ailment. Also, the Eagles saw grim examples all over of the disasters fumbles are to those who commit this cardinal football sin as the Lions lost five other scoring opportunities against the Eagles. In fact, the Angelo State U. vs. Southwest Texas game in San Marcos Saturday night sounded like a re-write of the Rankin-Eldorado game with the name changes.

Ozona scored late in the first quarter after an exchange of punts. The Eagles had the ball on their own five-yard line and fumbled while trying for some kicking room. Ozona also got the advantage of the only major penalty Eldorado received all night to put the ball on the Eagle one-yard line. The Lions sent Ruben Tambunga over, and Pagan, No. 81 for Ozona, kicked the extra point.

The second quarter was scoreless but in the third period, after a sea-saw jumble of fumbles, punts, interceptions, and recoveries, Pagan kicked a field goal from 20 yards out to give Ozona a 10-0 lead.

Ozona's second touchdown came after the Lions blocked at attempted Eagle field goal attempt. On the first play afterward from scrimmage, Greg Stuart ran the ball to the Eagle 10. After a goal line stand, Tambunga crossed over. Pagan tried to run the ball over this time for two extra points but the Eagle defense would not permit. This last Ozona score occurred two minutes before the game ended.

These two final minutes saw the Eagles furiously but futilely struggling to score and they did battle the ball to the Lion 8-yard line when the clock went dead and the game ended.

The Eagles defensively distinguished themselves against the tough Ozona attacks. They halted Lion sallies many times and in fact permitted only one really earned touchdown.

Three Eagles distinguished themselves by making more than 20 individual tackles. Dobbie Lively led this illustrious trio with 27 stops while Bob Whitten and Roy Jones came close behind with 21 each. Walter Speck ranked four with 16 and Keith Williams next with 10. Gary Danford and Robert Hibbits made 8 each while Ricky Griffin and Charles Adams posted records of 6 and 5 respectively.

In spite of the rugged Ozona defense, Archie Nixon and Terry Clingan posted yardage amounting to 44 and 40 yards each. Victor Belman scampored for 32 while Keith Williams and Ricky Griffin each racked up 27 yards of joltingly rough progress. The Eagles averaged better than three yards a carry during the contest.

The closely clustered Lion defense gave the Eagle passing attack a difficult time, holding the Eagles to their lowest aggregate gain for a number of seasons.

It is now the Eagles' time to "thirst" for another year as the Lions did through the rest of 1969 and 1970.

FIELD DAY SET WEDNESDAY AT KNOX CITY PLANT CENTER

Plans are complete for the field day to be held at the Soil Conservation Service plant materials center at Knox City Wednesday, September 30, a local conservation leader said today.

Bill Rountree, SCS District Conservationist at Eldorado, said that guided tours are planned through the 60-acre center starting at 9:00 a.m. Bus trips will run continually until about 3:00 p.m.

To get to the center, Rountree said you go north of Knox City on Highway 283 about 2 miles, then turn left on FM 1292 for 2½ miles. There are signs at both the turn-off and the center, he said.

Junior High Team Loses Game To Eden

Despite the fine efforts of a "fired up" Eagle team, the Eden Bulldogs outmanned our boys and went home with victory number one for the season.

Outstanding passing by quarterback Gary Roberts was demonstrated throughout the game as he completed 10 of 14 passes to ends Larry Day and Billy Donaldson. Eldorado's first score came early in the first quarter on a 45-yard bootleg run by Roberts with a successful point after attempt on a pass from Roberts to Day. Eden quickly followed with a score on a dive play and added the extra two points to tie the score 8-8.

In the second quarter Eldorado's drive was kept alive on a pass from Roberts to Day for 15 yards and another keeper pass to Donaldson for two quick first downs. Donaldson then scored on a fine pass from halfback Dale Storie. The point after attempt failed and the Eagles led 14-8.

Tackle James Holley made the next big play for Eldorado when he received a fumble on the Eden 45-yard line. However, the Eagles failed to move the ball and had to punt. Eden took possession and managed to score both a touchdown and extra points to bring the halftime score: Eden 16 to Eldorado 14.

In the third quarter Eden scored on a 30-yard run, but the point after attempt was unsuccessful as the result of a determined Eagle defense. Also in the third quarter, defensive tackle Raymond Spears recovered a Bulldog fumble on their 40 yard line. However, once again the Eagles failed to move the ball and the quarter ended: Eden 22, Eldorado 14.

The only score in the 4th quarter came on a keeper play by the big Bulldog quarterback. He also added the extra points after the touchdown.

Even though the final score was Eden 30, Eldorado 14, the coaches and fans were pleased with the performance of all the Eagles. Impressive running was exhibited by backs Forrest Henderson, Walter Hanusch, Jimmy Cawley, and Dale Storie behind the fine work of standouts in the offensive line consisting of Clay Williams, Billy Joe Pina, Zack Holsley and Gary Warnock. Defensive standouts were Eljio Rodriguez, Daniel Robledo, Raymond Spears, Mark McDonald, James Holley, and Johnny Factor.

All the Eagles saw action Thursday night as a "seventh graders only" scrimmage followed the previous game. Eagle Derrick Adams scored the only touchdown in the scrimmage which made the score Eldorado 6, Eden 0. The seventh grade team consisted of Jeff Head, Derrick Adams, Charles Blair, Kenneth Boehm, Gary Collins, Jim Bob Edmiston, Ricky Gibson, Alan Hall, Bill Nikolauk, John Ford Oglesby, and Robert Pena. The scrimmage ended when center Bill Nikolauk picked off a stray Eden pass.

Coaches for the Jr. High are Bobby Helmers and Lynn Meador. Leading the cheering for the Eagles this year are Jill Edmiston, Wally Joiner, Margaret Powell, and Charlene Warnock. The Jr. High cheerleader sponsor is Pam White. The next game is Thursday, September 24, at 6:00 p.m. in Menard. Pep rallies are held Thursday mornings at 9:00 a.m. Come and support your "little" Eagles. —Rep.

Booster Club Meets With 35 Present

Thirty-five saw films of the Ozona-Eldorado game and heard comments by Coach Barker when the Booster Club met Monday, September 21, at 8:00 p.m. in the band building. Barker also reported on the "B" game with Wall played at Wall on Thursday night.

In the business meeting the usual committees were named and Jack Jones and Bob Bradley, membership committee members, were commended for their excellent efforts and results in the membership drive. The membership now stands at 166. Reports from committees appointed earlier were given and the secretary, Mrs. E. C. Peters, gave a report on the success of the concession stand operated by the club at the Junior High game with Eden last Thursday.

Anyone interested in high school athletics (both girls and boys) is invited and urged to attend the meetings held each Monday night at 8:00 o'clock and to join the Booster club. Make a note and be there Monday. Refreshments were served by Elizabeth Ballew, assisted by Margaret Frost.

BRIDGE RESULTS:

Edde Kinser and Beverly Childers, 1st;

Austin, Texas.—State Republican and Democratic parties have put their appeals to Texas voters in writing—via the platforms drafted at their separate conventions last week.

Democrats, party veterans said repeatedly, "wrote the most progressive planks ever."

Republicans put the emphasis on attacking crime, campus disorders and drug use.

Highlights of the Democratic statement of party goals include:

—A far-reaching vocational-technical education program, repeal of annual voter registration requirements and substitution of "registration by voting" every four years, opposition to a tax on groceries, a minimum foundation program for policemen with state standards of qualification and pay, state civil service, expansion of unemployment insurance benefits.

—Increase in workmen's compensation benefits, creation of a public utilities regulatory commission, establishment of an office of consumer protection, elimination of the $80 million a year welfare outlay ceiling, an increase in minimum wage, sweeping insurance reforms and creation of a state management research commission to promote governmental efficiency.

Republican platform highlights are:
 —Legislation to end discrimination in state governmental employment and to insure equal pay for equal work, creation of single-member legislative districts, realistic technical and vocational courses commencing at junior high school level and offered in nearly all high schools, condemnation of forced busing of students to achieve racial balance; —Opposition to a tax on groceries, later voter registration deadlines, inclusion of all insurance company income in calculating auto insurance rates, admission of oral confessions in trials, and life sentence without parole for murdering a policeman.

AFL-CIO "Backs" Demos

Following the conventions, Texas AFL-CIO leaders "urged" support by labor of all statewide candidates of the Democratic party in the general election.

Decision, AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown explained, left union members free to do as they pleased, since there was no formal "endorsement" carrying monetary support or mandatory vote.

Big labor's hang-up was in the U. S. Senate race. Some union spokesmen were reluctant to back Democrat Lloyd Bentsen but were likewise unenthusiastic about Republican candidate George Bush.

Committee of Political Education (COPE) gave "special recognition" to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Agriculture Commissioner John White and Land Commissioner nominee Bob Armstrong.

Mixed Drink Study Urged

Alcoholic Beverage Commission directed its staff to study liquor-by-the-drink laws before the mixed drink constitutional amendment is voted on November 3.

ABC officials expressed concern that the liquor-by-the-drink law, if approved by the voters and Legislature, be tightly enforced.

Meanwhile, "Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws," sponsors of the liquor-by-the-drink amendment, announced a statewide publicity and advertising campaign to put over its amendment.

"Texans Who Care" organization will conduct an opposition campaign.

Oil Allowable Up

Texas Railroad Commission bumped the state oil allowable for October to 87% of potential.

This would be the highest since January, 1949. Increase was granted on the understanding of strict compliance with the order directing record allowable.

Order provides for no violation of the no-flare regulations, no gasoline plant processing casinghead gas to flare in October, and a curb on excessive brine production.

Unemployment Program Changed

Texas Employment Commission has called attention to a new federal law which will result in the biggest single increase in worker coverage since the federal-state program began.

An estimated 400,000 Texas workers will be covered, and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Federal law provides for payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. Federal government will pay half the extended benefits—once regular benefits are exhausted.

Bill also makes more jobholders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to insurance tax and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who already are covered by the law. About 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to the coverage in Texas. These organizations employ four or more in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, and have the option of paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid.

Textbooks Rejected

State textbook committee rejected four of six proposed literature textbooks written for minority group students in high school.

Committee chairman expressed disappointment that only one of five books recommended for 11th and 12th grades was specially written to appeal to minorities.

One committee member complained of language used in one of the controversial texts.

Industrial Winners Announced

Six industries were named winners of the Governor's Industrial Expansion award for 1969.

Winners are Friedrich Refrigerators Inc. of San Antonio, Johnson Manufacturing Company of Lubbock, Kilgore Ceramics Corporation, Laredo Packing Company, Celanese Chemical Company of Clear Lake and Missouri Beef Packers Inc. of Friona.

All will receive awards in a special program here at the Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion on October 13.

State Banking Commission has received an application for a new bank charter from Huffman, Harris county.
