Considerable Hail; Scattered Showers In West Texas Area

Changeable weather conditions have been the pattern in this part of West Texas for the past week and the weather man has often predicted "partly cloudy and 40% chance of rain."

Last Thursday night Eldorado received a nice shower which many claimed was half an inch and was deeply appreciated by local gardeners. Apparently it was spotted and Reynolds area was missed.

Since then there were light showers which were registered only in tenths.

But by Sunday reports came in that considerable hail hit parts of this county Saturday evening.

A call to the Case Ranch Sunday night confirmed that a big storm hit their ranch Saturday night including hail of marble size up to golf ball size. It defoliated the trees and broke windows in their servant house. Mrs. Case said their rain gauge was broken but she was sure they received at least an inch and a half of moisture. She further remarked that, "it seemed that it lasted an awfully long time."

Phone lines were still a little out of kilter Sunday night and it took three dials to finally connect the Runge ranch. Mrs. Runge reported that the storm came about 10:00 p.m. Saturday and that hail covered the ground but did not last long. While hail stones were not as big as golf balls they did knock off lots of leaves and broke a window in their greenhouse.

In checking with these two ranch women it was reported that Harper's, Earl Cathey and Jimmy West were also in line in the storm. Harpers, for one, had their rain gauge busted.

Lifelong Residents To Note Anniversary

This coming Tuesday, June 8th, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Neill will note their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

While no formal observance is planned, the couple will have the best wishes of their many local and area friends at this significant time. Mr. Neill is county surveyor and engineer and Mrs. Neill retired a few years ago after serving for many years as deputy in the County Clerk's office. She is the former Ida Conner.

The couple's son lives at Guantanamo Bay naval base in Cuba and their daughter lives in Alabama.

At his Handy Hardware, Billy Gene Edmiston is launching a Second Anniversary Sale. There is a special 10% discount coupon in his ad on page 3.

Mrs. Fenna Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. Lum Burk were in Houston recently where their grandson, Bryan Whitten, graduated from high school.

Palmos At Conference

The Rev. Bobby C. Palmos, who is completing two years as pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, left early Monday morning to go to San Antonio for Annual Conference. He is to be there until the evening of June 3. Conference sessions have been held at Travis Park church in downtown San Antonio.

Mrs. B. E. Moore went to Fort Worth recently and her grandson graduated from high school on the 2nd of June.

The Pat Wester family spent the Memorial Day week end at Fort Davis.

Hundreds of young cowboys and cowgirls, dressed in their Sunday-best rodeo attire and riding Texas' fanciest and highly trained horses, will parade down Main Street in Eldorado at 5:30 Friday as the opening spectacular of the Second Annual Junior Rodeo scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings.

The parade will assemble on the street behind the Courthouse and will proceed through the main business district before winding its way to the new rodeo grounds.

Sponsored by the Jaycees and the Eldorado Riding Club, the big parade Friday will be the opening event of the two-day rodeo which will feature scores of contestants from all over the Big Country.

Regular rodeo events are scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m., on each of the two nights and feature nine events in three age groups. The nine events are: Bare back riding; Bull riding; Ribbon roping; Calf roping; Barrel racing; Pole bending; Flag racing; and Break-away roping. (Limited to 30 bull riders and 20 bareback riders.)

A public dance, sponsored by the Jaycees, will be held Saturday night at the City park.

The Riding Club reported 130 plates of barbecue served last Saturday at the Horse Show, and club members will meet Thursday evening of this week to make final arrangements for the Junior Rodeo.

Post Script

Cramer and Mary Sofge have put an addition onto their store building in eastern Eldorado, to house their package store.

They have moved their stock of liquors to the new quarters, and except for some straightening up, the new store quarters are in use.

This is latest phase of expansion for the Sofges who operate a grocery business, self-service gasoline, motel and trailer spaces at their premises on the Menard highway, in addition to the package store.

Some summer activities . . . Little League was launched on Tuesday evening at the local park. Coach Ronnie Stevens is in charge, with a number of men helping with the various teams.

The swimming pool was filled during the week end and is set to open today, Thursday, June 3. The motor for the filter pump was repaired, and was re-installed by Toplife.

The Lions Club will have their ladies night and installation of officers the night of Monday, June 14th.

The local Boy Scout troop have a reservation to spend a week at Camp Fawcett late in June. Scoutmaster Lynn Meador reports that at least half a dozen plan to attend. Further information is available from him.

All of our small towns, Eldorado included, constantly voice the need for "more local industry" with its resulting payroll. One angle often overlooked is how one or two local jobs can often create work for another.

Coy Bishop and Bethel Jeffrey have operated their B&B Camper enterprise near the waterworks in the Enochs building for about two years now. Last week, we saw Billy Gene Edmiston at work in the shop of his Handy Hardware Store making about a dozen large desk-like units with drawers, which will be built into campers.

It seems that B&B has a steady run of work to turn out, both making new campers and repairing and renovating older ones and trailers. Now and then they get a large order and "farm out" some of it.

High School Students Beware Of Awards

School officials have received a ruling from Rhea H. Williams, University Interscholastic League director, relating to rodeo events and the League's Amateur and Awards Rules.

It states: This is official notice that the change in Amateur and Awards Rules, relative to participation in rodeo events, will not be effective until September 1, 1971.

In other words, any pupil 15 years of age or older, who accepts cash or valuable consideration prior to September 1, 1971, or participating in a rodeo event, will be ineligible to participate in athletics for the 1971-72 school year if proved before a proper committee.

The same effective date and interpretation as above is true relative to officiating for cash or valuable consideration under the Amateur Rule.

School administrators are anxious that this information be widespread so as to avoid having any pupil lose eligibility through ignorance of this ruling.

The Billy Joe Skinner family have moved to San Angelo. They vacated the Jim Holley house here.

A Delicious Change From Potatoes

Try Mashed Baked Bananas

The typical tiled rooftops of rural Honduras, where Cabana bananas are grown, form a natural backdrop for this serving of ham and Mashed Baked Bananas dressed up with sliced almonds.

Meat and potatoes! What a well-known twosome. How many times we automatically think of meat and potatoes when planning our meals.

Want something to go with meat that is just a little different? Surprise and delight your family with this delicious change from potatoes — Mashed Baked Bananas. The sweet, subtle flavor of this tropical fruit goes so well with a wide variety of meats and vegetables.

The home economists at Standard Fruit's Cabana Kitchens tell us that although baked bananas taste rich and sweet, they are not high in calories — only 106 per serving. Mashed bananas go particularly well with ham and pork.

The Cabana Kitchen's home economists also report that Mashed Baked Bananas contain a wealth of vitamins and minerals like A, B1, calcium and iron. So it's a good way to make sure your family is well nourished while they enjoy one of their favorite foods served in a different way.

Mashed Baked Bananas

3 bananas, peeled and mashed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Cinnamon or mace
2 tablespoons slivered blanched almonds (optional)

Spoon bananas into small baking dish. Dot with butter or margarine. Shake cinnamon or mace over top. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in 350° oven for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Serve instead of candied sweet potatoes, au gratin potatoes or macaroni and cheese.

Pesticide residues in foods remain at safe low levels according to the most recent report of the Food and Drug Administration.

In reporting the results of a survey of 30 market baskets of food representing 80 items, the Food and Drug Administration stated that "In every case, residues were within acceptable daily intake levels established by the World Health Organization and the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations."

Market basket or "total diet" surveys are conducted in addition to a program of examination of up to 25,000 samples of raw agricultural commodities annually for pesticide residues. It is of interest that the Food and Drug Administration has cited the results as showing a relatively low incidence of violations in most food categories over a period of several years.

As a further insight into the wholesomeness of the food supply, many tolerances established for pesticide residues in foods are 2,000 times less than an amount of the chemical that has been found to produce "no effect" in the most sensitive animal tested. Other residue tolerances are established on the basis of acute, short-term, and long-term toxicity studies, reproduction studies and the study of data on man.

Pest control practices provide the American consumer with a plentiful, wholesome, quality food supply free of insect and disease damage; and thus, contribute directly to the standard of living enjoyed in this country.

There are no fragments so precious as time, and none so needlessly lost by people who cannot make a moment, and yet waste years.

Most of us would be interested in an investment that was a sure thing to return five to one over a 10 year period. Such an investment is a correctly planned home landscape.

To make sure trees and shrubs are correctly planted, it is essential that a plan be developed before planting is started. In the case of a new home, it is best to design the landscaping before construction of the new home begins. Funds should be allowed in the budget for landscaping.

It is not too late to develop a plan even after a house is several years old. Renovation of an existing plan can be carried out any time the need arises.

The approach to the public area usually gets first consideration for it provides the setting for the home. The house should not be hidden behind a planted forest in the front yard. Remember trees and shrubs must have room to grow and develop if they are to attain full potential for beauty and usefulness. Simplicity is suggested.

Major emphasis should be given the development of the outdoor living area. Keep in mind the special needs and interests of the family members. It should be designed so the home owner will have time for relaxation and enjoyment instead of using all his spare time for maintenance. The outdoor area will generally be in the back yard and screened with a fence, wall or shrubs for privacy. It should be readily accessible to the living or family room.

An outdoor work area is also a necessity for most homes. It should be convenient to the work area of the house, that is, near the kitchen, utility room and garage. It is usually screened from public view. Depending upon the requirements of the owner, it may include space for a garbage can rack, tool storage facilities and compost box.

For maximum returns on the landscape investment, it is often desirable to consult a professional landscape architect. If this is not possible and you enjoy planning and planting, there are many good reference books and materials available.

Count the day lost when the descending sun views from thy hand no worthy action done.

Disability Reports Must Be Kept Up To Date

There has been a noticeable increase in violations by disability insurance beneficiaries who return to work without notifying the Social Security Administration, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. Sometimes employers, because of misunderstanding of the law, also fail to report correctly wages paid disabled employees.

Mr. Talbot reminds employers to be wary of any device or scheme to avoid proper reporting of wages earned by disability beneficiaries. Employees often ask their employer not to report their wages or to disguise their earnings as special payments, sick pay, etc.

Not only is the employer liable for proper reporting of wages, the disability beneficiary is responsible for reporting his return to work. The Social Security Administration must be advised of any work activity of persons receiving disability benefits.

Most people drawing social security benefits are entitled to a trial work period in which they test their ability to work for as long as nine months. Disability checks continue during this period no matter how high earnings are.

Employers having questions about reporting obligations should contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Ave (PO Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

Tragedy Rides The Waves For Careless Texas Boaters

Spring is the season when experienced and novice boatmen alike begin scraping down hulls and decks, mending sails and painting and varnishing in preparation for a summer of boating enjoyment on the thousands of Texas lakes and rivers and miles of ocean waters.

Unfortunately, the season and this preparation are only a foreboding of ill winds to come for those who may find their weekends ruined, or more tragically, lose their lives in boating accidents. Last year the Coast Guard reported 3,803 boating accidents in the United States, accounting for the tragic loss of 1,418 lives, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

In addition to the lives lost, 4,762 boats were damaged totaling $8,172,200 in property damage. In the last five years, 6,740 people have died in boating accidents in the nation; and $34,564,300 in property damage has been done to every type of boat, from the family six-foot dinghy to the executive's 60-foot yacht. These are remarkable totals when you consider that most people take to the water to get away from it all, the Institute offered.

In Texas last year, there were a total of 102 boating accidents which caused the deaths of 78 Texas boatmen and injured 24 others. Total property damage from the accidents totaled $282,500. In the last five years, 360 people have died in boating accidents in Texas; and $1,180,900 in property damage has occurred.

Coast Guard statistics clearly illustrate that in over half of the boating accidents, the operator is at fault.

Vessels capsizing as a result of operator mishandling is by far the most consistent cause of lives lost in boating accidents. Chief among the operators' faults are improper loading or overloading of the boat, ignoring weather warnings and proceeding under unfavorable weather conditions, and operating in waters which exceed the limits of the craft and/or the operator's training or experience.

Personal injuries in boating accidents are primarily caused by collision which is, again, the result of fault by the operator. The increasing popularity of water skiing and the failure of the boat's operator to maintain a forward lookout is a dangerous combination on the water, the Institute says.

The majority of the over $8 million in property damage to boats last year was caused by fires and explosions which were directly related to some fault of, again, the operator. Many of these, the Coast Guard points out, could have been prevented with proper ventilation equipment for fuel systems. A Coast Guard brochure dramatically illustrates the importance of proper ventilation when it describes the potential explosive force of one cup of gasoline spilled in the bilges as equal to 15 sticks of dynamite.

It is evident from these statistics and a predicted record number of over 300,000 boats tooling around Texas waterways and over 5,000,000 boats in the nation, that caution and common sense at the rudder and wheel could be life-savers this summer.

Consumer Marketing Report

College Station, Tex.—Stretch your food dollar this week and take advantage of lower prices during seasonal peaks, suggests Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Best beef values include round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, liver and short ribs.

Retail pork prices are unchanged for the past three weeks. Look for best pork values on smoked hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, end cut loin roasts and chops and liver.

Fryers are still excellent buys in most retail meat departments, and frozen turkeys are available in some stores at low prices.

Check prices on large and medium size eggs for lowest costs, comparing eggs of the same grade. If the cost difference of the two sizes is less than seven cents, the larger size is usually the best buy, Mrs. Clyatt says.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at the most economical prices include oranges, bananas, lemons, strawberries, pineapples, corn, potatoes, head lettuce, celery, cabbage, carrots, broccoli, yellow onions, radishes and green onions.

Austin, Tex.—Sixty-second Legislature wound up its regular session with a bang and a roar—and a few whimpers.

In a photo-finish, the House-Senate conferees turned out a record $6.9 billion biennial budget for near-deadline consideration.
Lawmakers earlier agreed on a $617 million tax bill which will go into effect July 1, then followed up with $35 million worth of new taxes on liquor-by-the-drink and by-the-gallon.
Texans will be paying 4% sales (5% in most cities) and auto sales tax, 18.5 cents a pack on cigarettes; $4.50 per $1,000 on corporation franchises; and $5 per barrel on beer. A 10% gross receipts tax will be levied on mixed-drink sales and $1.95 a gallon on liquor sales generally. A gasoline tax increase, approved earlier, was repealed in a subsequent bill.
Among other achievements for which the 62nd Legislature will be remembered are:
—Ratification of a federal constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.
—Approval of a liquor-by-the-drink sales act and submission of a mixed-drink referendum to the first group of wet counties May 18.
—Congressional and legislative redistricting.
—Submitted a constitutional amendment to authorize the convening legislature in 1974 to sit as a convention to rewrite Texas' constitution.

—Passed far-reaching bank law reform legislation.
—Creation of a tuition-backed revenue bond fund to build new state colleges.
—Establishment (by constitutional amendment) of a $100 million bond fund to aid cities that build sewer facilities.
Lawmakers gave up on budgeting for welfare services for this biennium, and will return next year (if not sooner) to appropriate funds for 1973 assistance to the needy, meanwhile hoping for expanded federal aid.

Attorney General's Opinions

An appointee who served one day as "executive" of a printing company was ineligible for the "employer" member position on the Texas Industrial Accident Board, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.
In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:
—Governor does not have power to veto proposed constitutional amendments.
—A bill providing that a dry area annexed to a wet area shall occupy the same wet status as the annexing area is unconstitutional, as it violates the local option mandate.
—Applicants signing petitions for incorporation of a new town must be qualified electors who have resided in the area at least six months. Area must contain more than 200 inhabitants (who do not have to be qualified electors).
—Out-of-state witnesses in criminal cases receive compensation solely from the state, not the counties.
—Environmental Protection Act of 1971 is constitutional in authorizing private individuals to maintain legal anti-pollution actions on behalf of the public or to sue the state, but vagueness and caption of the bill offer constitutional problems.
—Bill authorizing commissioners courts in "counties of one million to 1.5 million" to prohibit keeping of hogs within 500 feet of a residence not in an incorporated city is unconstitutional.
—A hospital district in which an indigent prisoner was held by the sheriff is liable for his medical bills when it did not have adequate facilities and treatment had to be administered by another hospital.
—Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators has no authority to fix licensing fee of $50 per annum for "administrators in training."
—A State Department of Public Welfare employee called out on an emergency mission for protective service to an abandoned or abused child is entitled to reimbursement for official travel mileage expense.

Courts Speak

U. S. Supreme Court decision striking down Georgia's financial responsibility law poses a threat to Texas law. Court said the law must provide for determination of fault before a drivers license is suspended.
Third Court of Civil Appeals here reversed the local court in a suit involving control of an Abilene bank.
State recovered $6,000 penalty from Texas Rockwool of Belton in an air pollution suit filed by the attorney general on behalf of the State Air Control Board.
State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers got a permanent injunction against a Del Rio man from practicing engineering or representing self to the public as a licensed professional engineer.

High Enrollment For Legion Boys State

Austin, Tex.—An all-time high enrollment of 840 high school junior boys will assemble on the Campus of the University of Texas, June 5 for the 1971 session of American Legion Boys State, B. B. Hester, Department Commander, has announced.

The program sponsored by The American Legion, Department of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in actual "do it yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by Doing."

Delegates will converge on Austin and commence registration at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, June 5, at Jester Center. Following an evening meal the new citizens of Boys State will assemble for orientation in their respective Boys State cities.

The 840 boys will be housed in 18 Boys State cities with each city further divided into two precincts, one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political party.

Each Boys State City is named in honor of a Past Department Commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

The American Legion is stressing its belief that youth should be offered a better perspective of the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part of, commensurately responsible for, the character and success of his government. Boys State is an activity of high educational value, born out of a need for youth training in practical citizenship.

Citizens must remember that whether we of this generation like it or not, the young men and women attending high school and college now will eventually be the chosen leaders of this land. Boys State brings future goals within sight by developing civic leadership and pride in American citizenship; by arousing a keen interest in the detailed study of our government; by stressing the importance of maintaining our form of government and by bringing a full understanding of our American traditions and beliefs in the United States of America to the more than 27,000 youths throughout the nation who participate this year.

"Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion," Commander Hester stated. "Not only do the youths learn more about the unctious of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each good citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilities in voting. They soon discover how the quality of government is related directly to active interest of each citizen."

On Friday, June 11, the citizens of Boys State will visit the State Capitol and actually sit in chairs of the office to which they were elected and run the state government for a day.

A Governor's Ball will climax the week's activities at Jester Center on Friday night.

Barry Williams is to attend as delegate from the Bev McCormick Post here in Eldorado.

Wool Referendum Vote Coming Up June 7-18

Sheep producers and lamb feeders throughout the country are scheduled to make a major decision June 7-18 when the Secretary of Agriculture calls for votes in a nationwide mail referendum to determine if sheep owners want to continue their own 16-year-old promotion for both lamb and wool.

According to Louis L. Farr, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, such a vote is called by the Secretary after each passage of the National Wool Act in Congress. The Wool Act was passed last winter as a part of national farm legislation.

The vote is to determine if producers want to continue to have deductions made from their incentive payments which are in turn used to finance lamb and wool advertising, sales promotion, education and sheep industry development programs as carried on by the American Sheep Producers Council (ASPC), headquartered in Denver, Colorado.

Farr added that the ASPC was set up in '55 by sheepmen through a "self-help provision" of the National Wool Act that allowed for deductions from incentive payments to finance lamb and wool promotion to the nation's consumers. At present, deductions amount to 1½ cents for each pound of shorn wool and 7½ cents for each 100 pounds of unshorn lamb sold.

Since 1955, four referendums have been called after passage of the Wool Act. Farr states that sheep owners gave "overwhelming support to their promotion program in all of the past votes."

Eligible to vote who have owned sheep or lambs, six months of age or older, for any one period of at least 30 days since January 1, 1971. Ballots will be mailed to producers and feeders by June 7 and must be returned to county ASCS offices not later than June 18, Farr emphasized. Approval of two-thirds of the total number of producers voting, or of producers having two-thirds of the total volume of production represented in the referendum is required to keep the promotion program in effect.

PAR-TEE

Congratulations to Rose Doyle for being the Ladies Club Champion for 1971. Rose played two mighty fine rounds of golf to come in winner. We are all very proud of her and hope that this is only the beginning of her mastery of the game. Ernestine Hext, defending champion, came in second, and Eddy Kinsler third in the championship flight.

Winner of Second flight was Mary Waldron with Agnes Hannes placing second. In third flight Billie Andrews placed first and Muffy Wallace second. Congratulations to each of you winners!

In the mixed team play Sunday the team of Wilson Page, Mary Waldron, Gary Wallace and W. L. Kinsler placed first with a five under. At second place with 4 under was Chuck Adams, Granvil Hext, E. C. Peters, Gladys Mittel and Louise Wilkins. Third place (didn't pay—prestige only) went to John Pitts, Charlie Hahn, Wayne Doyle and Ernestine Hext, with 3 under.

A belated Congratulations to Mike Edwards for winning in the West Texas Utilities Co. tournament in Abilene week before last. We had no intention of slighting you Mike—just didn't get the good word.

This seemed to be the week of tournaments. Vernon Rogers and Chris Berger (Sonora) placed 4th in the Championship flight of the Sonora men's partnership this week end.

Buddy White and Howard Derrick brought home the First Place trophy in first flight in the Sonora Tournament.

Congratulations to each of you boys!

Without a doubt the best dressed golfer on the course Sunday afternoon was Ben Hext. He had new shoes, jump suit and orange socks—really looked sharp. I think he looked so great that his fellow team mates were looking at him instead of the ball and didn't score as well as they are capable. Ben got sick Sunday night. Hope he is feeling better by now and back on the golf course.

Two teams will participate in the Big Lake Ladies partnership tournament Saturday, June 5: Mary Waldron, Eddy Kinsler, Rose Doyle, Ernestine Hext.

Don't forget the local partnership tournament on June 12-13. This is for both Male and Female golfers. Qualify on Saturday (points system) with 18 holes. Pairings will be listed on Sunday for the 27 hole play beginning at 1:00 p.m.

We regret that Gary and Muffy Wallace will be moving to Plains, Texas, in the near future. This young couple has certainly been an asset to our golf club. We do wish them the very best of luck and success in their move, and hope that they will come back to Eldorado and visit us often.

We had several out of town players of the course last week end. "They Say" our greens are much better than San Angelo's and they seem to find this little course a challenge.

Keep Your Head Behind The Ball!

Nitrogen or Iron Lack Can Yellow Lawns

College Station.—Texas homeowners who have St. Augustinegrass or Bermudagrass lawns which are turning yellow instead of growing thick and green should look for nitrogen and iron deficiencies in their soil.

The nitrogen deficiency causes a general yellowing of the lawn while the symptoms of iron deficiencies are yellow, bleached spots in the turf, according to Al Novosad, Extension pasture and turf specialist.

He notes that iron deficiencies develop mainly in alkaline soil and the upper Gulf Coast and parts of East Texas are usually the only regions in the state that don't lack iron.

For the most rapid and effective correction of iron deficiencies, Novosad recommends spray applications of iron chelates or iron sulfate. He points out that soil applications are also helpful, but warns that they may not correct severe iron deficiencies.

A soil test is extremely helpful in determining exact fertilizer needs, showing the need for lime, and indicating soil salinity problems, but there are some general guidelines to follow in fertilizing St. Augustinegrass or Bermudagrass.

Novosad advises that the applications of the complete fertilizers in early spring and fall should be made so that two pounds of nitrogen are applied per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Examples of such applications would be 20 pounds of 10-5-5 or 17 pounds of 12-12-12 per 1,000 square feet.

The additional applications during the growing season should be made so that approximately one pound of nitrogen is applied per 1,000 square feet in each application, he added. Examples of proper application would be five pounds of ammonium sulfate (21%) or three pounds of ammonium nitrate (33%) per 1,000 square feet of lawn area.

Calk Gets Invitation To Go To Europe

Eldon Calk, mayor of the city of Eldorado, has received an official invitation from Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes to serve as a delegate on the Texas Flight for Understanding which will depart August 1.

Itinerary includes Paris, Stockholm and Moscow. The trip is being made in behalf of the Americans who are held prisoners of war and those missing in action in Southeast Asia.

"Your presence as a member of the delegation will be of invaluable assistance to our ultimate success," Barnes wrote. He added:

"We can no longer afford to sit quietly while fellow Americans are subjected to harsh, inhumane treatment by our enemies in Indo-China. These Americans put their lives and their freedom on the line for you and me. We must demonstrate to the world that we have not forsaken them. We must prove to all people the determination of each American citizen to take every step necessary to obtain their release."

"It is the hope of those involved in this effort that the example set by Texas will be followed by all our sister states so that the demand for decent treatment, sufficient information, and speedy release of all prisoners will be so constant and so overwhelming that it can no longer be ignored. It has been demonstrated that the National Liberation Front and the government of North Vietnam respond to public pressure. We intend to multiply that pressure which has previously been exerted in different places by different groups many times so that every citizen of this world is aware of the cruelty being perpetuated and of the efforts being made to put an end to that cruelty."

Calk has already sent in the $100 deposit for the trip, and the other $500 of the $600 total is to be paid by July 1, one month ahead of the August 1 departure time.

The Lions Club and the Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion have voted contributions to this trip, as have a few individuals. Anyone else wishing to make a cash contribution, please see L. D. Mund, Lions Club president, or L. E. McCalla, Legion post commander.

Barnes concluded in his letter: "Because of the large proportions of this undertaking, the cost will be substantial. For this reason, each participant is being asked to finance his own portion of the trip, perhaps with the assistance of local Chambers of Commerce, or other civic groups."

Father Gagnon Attends Seminar In San Angelo

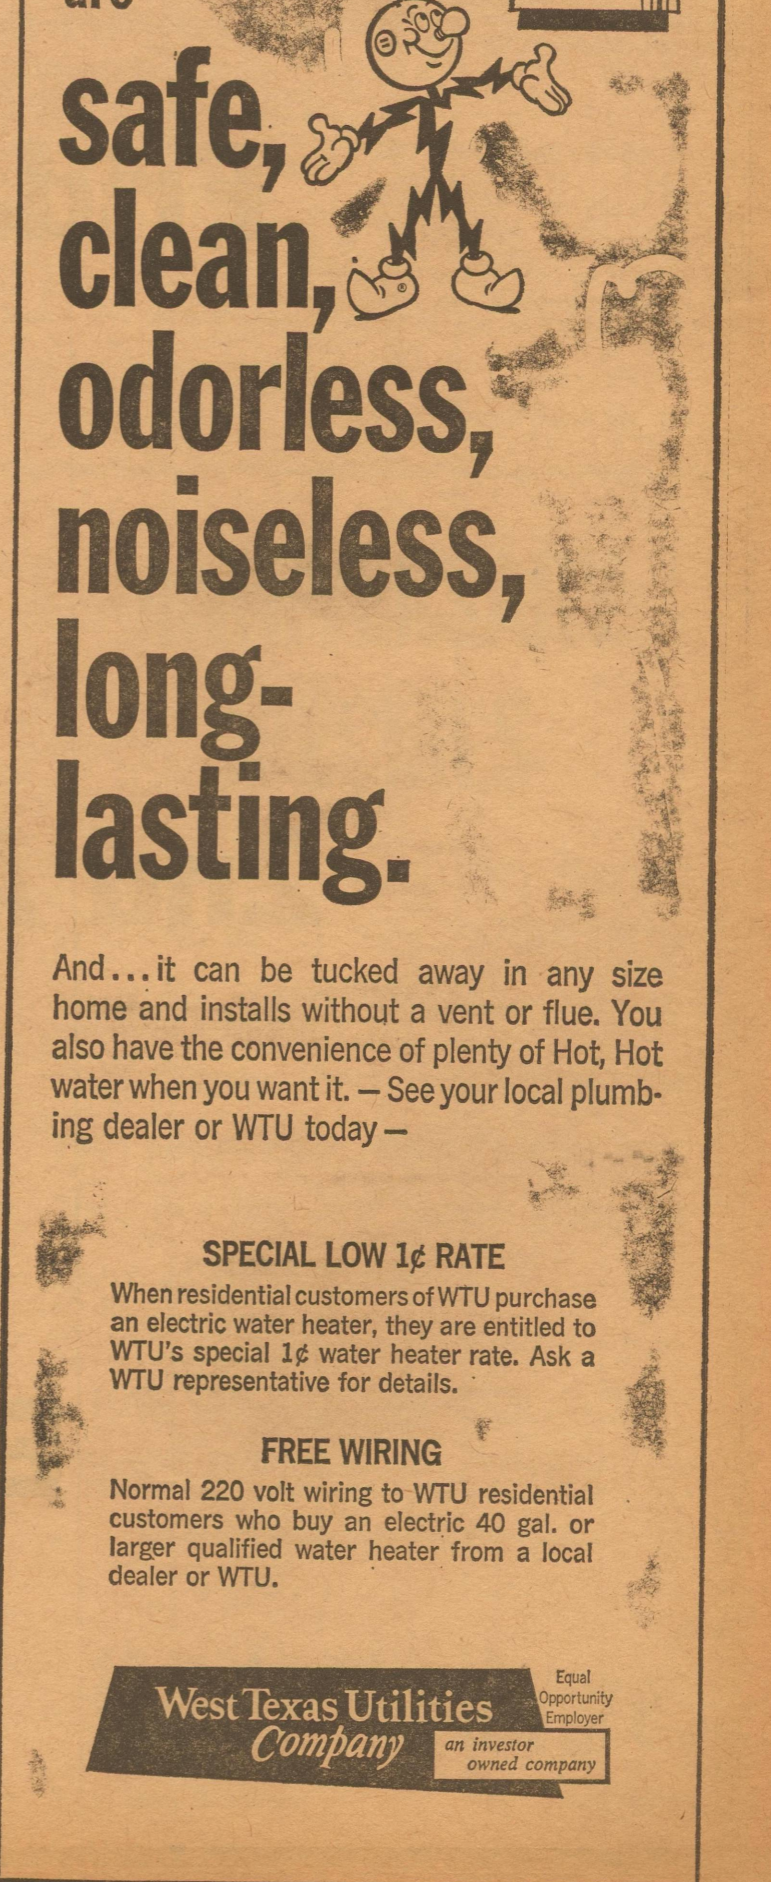

San Angelo, Tex. (Spl.)—The Rev. Richard Gagnon, Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, Eldorado, attended a seminar, "The Role of the Priest in the Diagnosis and Treatment of the Hospitalized Sick," at St. John's Hospital on Tuesday, May 25.

The program for priests in the Diocese of San Angelo is the first in a series of such seminars, according to Sister Mary Vincent O'Donnell, administrator of the hospital.

In addition to Sister Mary Vincent other members of the hospital and medical staff presenting the program included Dr. John Coughlin, a staff physician; Sister Bridget Florence Deneny, director of nursing; Mrs. Julia Rogge, supervisor of nursing service; Dr. Richard Stoenber, a staff physician, and the Rev. Louis J. Droll, hospital chaplain. On hand as a special consultant were the Rev. Charles Brover, O.M.I., chief chaplain at Santa Rosa Medical Center in San Antonio and Sister Charles Marie Frank of Villa Rosa, psychiatric pavilion.

Similar seminars will be scheduled in the future for ministers of other religious denominations, Sister Mary Vincent said.

The programs are designed to acquaint all religious ministers with the hospital's techniques in caring for the sick and how the minister may assist in the care of the sick through spiritual counseling. Information given in the seminars is applicable to ministers of any faith visiting and counseling the ill in any hospital whether it has religious affiliations or not.
