Menard County Centennial Is Big Thing This Week

As far as we can understand it, the people this week are "putting the big pot in the little one" and are announcing to everyone to come to Menard and enjoy the celebration of the Menard Centennial—1871 to 1971.

Last week an enthusiastic cavalcade of Menard boosters came to all nearby county seats, including Eldorado, and presented a rousing invitation to join them in their celebration.

The dates are Thursday (today) November 11 and continuing thru Sunday, November 14.

The program for the four days is too long to be listed in detail, but it includes on Thursday a beard contest and liars' contest. It also includes for Thursday a centennial ball and a Jaycee turkey shoot.

Friday includes an antique car exhibit, a football game with Eldorado and a dance at the Corral Club.

Saturday's events will include an Old Time Fiddling Contest; bare-back riding, and tobacco spitting. Promoters at Menard have gone all out to offer a 4-day program which will interest and entertain both young and old. It has been advertised extensively in all the Southwest Texas counties and should draw tremendous crowds. Let's go!

Menard Centennial this week.

House Deeded To Scout Program

Last week, Mayor Eldon Calk received deeds and abstracts in which the former Morris house in the northeast part of town was given by San Angelo Savings Association to the Scouting programs here in Eldorado. The house is located between the West Texas Utilities sub-station and the Pete Bryant residence.

Plans call for the structure to be remodeled to its new use, with as much labor as possible donated.

Mr. Gentry has already agreed to give $75 worth of work, and the Lions Club appropriated $100 back in the summer for a new Scout hall.

The Lions Club is the long-time sponsor of the Boy Scout program here and they and other organizations will be involved in the work of converting the house to its new use.

Tentative plans call for the new meeting place to be used in the future by both the Boy Scout and Girl Scout units here.

The old Boy Scout hall in the north part of town, located near the Public Housing units, has fallen into such disrepair that it has not been used for some time. It will be razed in the near future. It was made from a World War II surplus building.

World War I Veterans Honored

Legionnaires of Bev McCormick Post 257 had a breakfast scheduled today, Thursday, Nov. 11th, at the Memorial Building honoring the dozen or so World War I veterans who live in this county.

All the details of serving, such as making the coffee, and frying the eggs, were taken care of by the Legion Post members.

November 11th marked cessation in 1918 of World War I, and the anniversary was observed as Armistice Day for many years afterward, and then as Veterans Day. Veterans Day is now a federal holiday observed the fourth Monday in October, but Nov. 11th is still a day that the American public pauses to remember, and honor those men who served in it.

Many Legion posts over all 50 states are having breakfasts today in honor of their World War I comrades.

Rainfall Totals Nearly 28" For Year, So Far

Average rainfall for the month of October is reported to be 4½ inches, according to figures provided by Lloyd Johnson.

Rainfall table on page 3 of this paper shows total for the year to be 27.89 inches, and that the bulk of it came during the past four months.

While precipitation is always welcome on ranch land, to farmers it can often be too much of a good thing. Beginning of this week showed only 20 bales of cotton at Mikeska Gin as harvesting is being delayed.

While it was not actually raining, Monday morning arrived with heavy, dripping fog.

At this time last year the gin was turning out 100 bales a day and approaching 2,000.

Jaycees Turkey Shoot A Success

The Jaycee Turkey Shoot held last Sunday, Nov. 7, was a success despite the cold and damp weather. There were eight adult contests and two contests for children. In each contest the ten participants fired at targets from 100 yards with the person with the highest score winning a frozen turkey from Hext Foods. Turkey winners in the adult classification were Ronnie Sauer, De Lux, David Moody and Kenneth Hicks. Mike Lux won both turkeys in the children's classification.

The next Jaycee general membership meeting will be Dec. 2 at 7:00 p.m. in the El Dorado Restaurant with Jaycee wives as guests for a supper and some form of entertainment.

Eagles and Yellow Jackets Square Off For Final Game Of The Season

FOOTBALL BULLETIN BOARD

HOW THEY CAME OUT LAST FRIDAY NIGHT:
Mason 41.....Robert Lee 0
Menard 40.....Bangs 0
Sonora 27.....Eagles 6

Where They Play Tomorrow Night:
Mason at Bangs
Sonora at Robert Lee
Eldorado at Menard.

How They Stand Conference:

Mason	3	1	0
Eldorado	2	2	0
Robert Lee	2	2	0
Menard	1	3	0
Bangs	0	4	0

For Season:

Sonora	9	0	0
Mason	7	2	0
Eldorado	3	5	1
Robert Lee	6	3	0
Menard	2	6	1
Bangs	0	8	1

It is possible but not probable that Robert Lee could give the Sonora Broncos a severe test tomorrow night, but it appears that the Robert Lee loss to Eldorado on October 22 badly disorganized the Steers. The severe drubbing they received at the hands of the Mason Cowpunchers this past Friday night will contribute to this condition.

The Eldorado Eagles "wind up" the 1971 football season tomorrow night and for the second time this season against a typical football "hooby trap," the Menard Yellow-jackets. It will be remembered that the lads from Menard made formidable competitive noises early this fall; but a succession of relentless football foes has "clobbered" them so that they have only a "2-win 6-loss 1-tie" season record. This sort of thing has left them completely frustrated and furiously ready to face an old and persistent "nemesis," the Eldorado Eagles, and this for the Yellowjackets' season's finals.

Facts of the matter are that Menard has a team, composition of which closely resembles that of the Eagles. Actually, the Yellow-jackets are somewhat heavier in average weight and older too. They have seven seniors, nine juniors, and seven sophomores to the Eagles' seven seniors, seven juniors, and eight sophomores. They pose a very real threat to Eldorado tomorrow night; and friends, fans, and parents will do well to be forewarned—careful and wary.

A glance at the Menard offensive lineup is as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Wt.
11	Carrol Graham	LE	150
75	Mike McMillan	LT	185
60	Micky Wright	LG	160
50	Butch Armstrong	C	132
54	Tommy Nasworthy	RG	155
70	Tom Williamson	RT	190
81	Eddie Gonzales	RE	155
10	Ricky Ashly	LHB	162
20	Neil McCain	RHB	165
30	Tommy Decker	FB	190
22	Alvarado Calderon	QB	150

Defensively, Menard utilizes a "four-man front with three line backers." The "fort four" are Boyd Murchison, 180; Tom Williamson, 190; Mike McMillan, 185; and Eddie Gonzales, 155. The linebackers are Micky Wright, 160; Tom Nasworthy, 155; and Butch Armstrong, 132. Corner backs are Jim Wright, 165; and Ricky Ashly, 162. Halfback and safety combinations are Ray Williamson, 150 and Alvarado Calderon, 150.

Menard has a good "repertoire" of plays, good concept of strategy, and are quite well grounded in football theory and fundamentals. Had this school assigned to almost any other Class A district than "double tough" 9A, chances are that Menard would have been grouped with the strong contenders for the title. They have the physical and mental potential to be dangerous opponents to Eldorado tomorrow night.

As it is, to defeat Eldorado in this final game would give them a very good season.

Meanwhile the Eldorado Eagles are in better than usual physical condition for this final game. Winning this one means a lot to the Eagles also. It would rank them No. 3 in District play and give them an almost "even stephen" win-loss record.

It is a foregone conclusion that conditions permitting, Coach Ronnie Stephens will utilize all three ends, Gene Nixon, Ken Peters, and Timmy Farris in this game along with all five tackles, Len Mertz, Lonnie Reynolds, Garry Wester, Roy Lloyd, and Oscar Martinez. Guards Robert Parker, Gary Danford, Manuel Martinez, Mort Mertz, and John R. Powell will have a "whack" at the Yellowjacket competition. And incidentally, John R. Powell's ankle is the only doubtful on the Eagle roster. Centers Karl McCormack and Mark Bland should each log some time in this contest.

As for the backs, Ricky Griffin, Billy Doc Hubble, Mike Manning, Chris Pena, Terry Clingan, Archie Nixon, and Hunter Henderson will take turns and it is possible that the Yellowjackets may make it for very real and for keeps.

A win will give Eldorado a 3-win 2-loss conference record, and a four-win five-loss one-tie season's standing. A win would give Menard a two-win three-loss conference standing and a three-win six-loss one-tie season record. This would tie Menard and Eldorado for third place in District 9A should Robert Lee lose as is expected to Sonora.

Anyway, game time is 7:30. A Menard win would be a fine way to celebrate their current "Centennial" Celebration.

Co-Op Employees Attend Lubbock Meeting

Although underground electric power lines are relatively new, it is a coming thing. This statement was made by Bob Pierce, operations manager of the South Plains Electric Co-operative, Inc., his opening remarks at the second Underground Rural Electric Distribution Conference sponsored by the electric co-operatives of West Texas.

The conference was held at the South Plains Electric Co-operative with representatives of 21 electric co-operatives and several suppliers and manufacturers in attendance.

Peter Frederick Case was recently promoted to the rank of Cadet Staff Sergeant in the R. O. T. C. program at Texas Military Institute in San Antonio where he is a student. He was also on the

These men studied methods of installation and maintenance and underground electric power lines.

Even though the cost of installing underground high voltage cable is now approximately twice the cost of overhead lines, new manufacturing techniques and volume are reducing this cost differential all the time. Therefore, it does seem that eventually many power lines will be underground, thereby reducing the exposure to ice storms and high winds and improving electric service.

Austin, Tex.—A blue-ribbon study commission has come out strong for state constitutional revision and widespread restructuring of the state and local governmental system.

The Texas Urban Development Commission, winding up an 18-month study which enlisted the services of experts and laymen, handed its 200-page report to Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith, commending the body for charting "a clear course for those in government to act on," announced appointment of a 17-member, permanent Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The latter will follow up on the report of the study group headed by Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff as chairman and Dr. Earl M. Lewis of Trinity University in San Antonio.

"The Texas Constitution," said the Commission, "should be thoroughly changed to allow state and local governments to exercise more initiative and to be more responsive to current and future demands but at the same time free to be truly responsive to changing needs and emerging problems."

Among 50 major recommendations were the following:

- State government should begin moving toward a new organizational and management system and consolidation of urban services in about 20 existing agencies.
- The governor should have more power over budgeting and appointments and removal of state agency governing boards chairmen.
- Local governments should be reorganized to meet specific needs and granted greater fiscal authority through additional revenue sources and property tax overhaul.
- Growth of special purpose districts must be checked.
- Urban growth planning programs and coordinated land planning should be launched at all levels of government.

Appointments . . .

George E. Stanley of Port Arthur was named to the Veterans Affairs Commission, succeeding the late Charles C. Ford of Longview.

Governor Smith named 10 members of the Criminal Justice Council executive committee and designated L. O'Brien Thompson of Amarillo as chairman.

Smith appointed an 18-member study committee on traffic court reorganization.

Lawrence L. Jester has been designated district engineer of the State Highway Department's Atlanta district on retirement of G. A. Youngs.

William G. Reid of Austin will serve as general counsel for the recently-established Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named committees to study the system of state licensing and examining boards and retirement benefits for employees of public educational institutions.

Bonds Sold
Continuation of the veterans land program was assured by sale of $20.8 million in bonds.

The low bid of 4.48943% effective net interest was submitted by a group of 50 investors. The constitutional ceiling on interest rates is 4.5% for the program.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale means the program can operate until almost the end of 1972 when Texas voters will have a chance to pass a constitutional amendment to raise the interest rate ceiling to 6%.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $70.7 million in bonds. More than 43,500 Texans have bought land under the program.

A New Governor
Texas will have a new governor briefly in December—when Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland takes over as chief executive for the day.

Snelson, as president pro tempore of the Senate, is third in line for the governorship. Governor Smith and Lieutenant Governor Barnes will absent themselves from the state December 4 so Snelson can have the honor of serving as governor. He represents 35 counties of the 25th senatorial district.

Courts Speak

The State Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Texas' abortion law, and said the state has the right to prohibit operations, in a decision conflicting with a June 18, 1970, three-judge federal court ruling at Dallas.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also reversed a Waco marijuana conviction due to improper questioning of witnesses by the prosecuting attorney.

State Supreme Court heard arguments in a suit seeking to nullify University of Texas acquisition of a 588-acre Odessa site for the new UT-Permian Basin campus because of the proximity of oil and gas equipment and a potential safety hazard.

Attorney General's Opinions

The governor can commute death sentences to life imprisonment even though convictions are on appeal, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- A new "surtax" on misdemeanor and felony convictions ($2.50 to $10) cannot be assessed for offenses committed prior to last August 30, date the law went into effect.
- Issue of tax cancellation certificates are authorized, and should cover all tax certificates showing no taxes due which had been previously and lawfully issued.
- Computation of actual interest expense incurred and to be recovered as an item of selling price on long term federal water contracts shall be made by applying the cumulative average effective rate to only that portion of the "direct cost" of the facility which is attributable to Texas Water Development Fund money.

Pesticide Decision Put Off

The new State Pesticide Advisory Committee delayed its decision on banning DDT for household uses.

No recommendation was made because the Environmental Protection Agency has not made its official rulings on DDT, committee chairman Dr. Perry Adkisson of Texas A&M University said.

The five-member committee will meet again December 7 to consider the matter. Texas Department of Agriculture, charged with administering the state law on pesticides, asked advice from the advisory panel authorized by the Legislature this year.

Hunt Invite "Disappears"

State legislators and officials who had been invited to hunt on state game management areas found the invitations suddenly withdrawn after newspapers publicized them.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director James U. Cross issued the invitations, although other would-be deer hunters are required to draw for the limited number of free permits in the areas. PW Commissioners expressed doubt special exceptions could be made for state officials and legislators, so the bid was unceremoniously taken back. One commissioner called for Cross's resignation over the incident, but the new director said he plans to stay on the job.

Insurance Pool Meet Slated

Complaints about the new Texas catastrophe pool insurance plan will be aired at a public hearing here December 7.

The State Board of Insurance announced it will "consider all aspects" of the plan approved by the Legislature for 14 seacoast counties this year.

Texas Association of Insurance Agents will offer testimony and stress "positive steps" that can make the pool work as intended.

Short Snorts . . .

Attorney General Martin lambasted the new state code of ethics for public officials as a "virtual mishmash" and predicted a court effort by one or more political subdivisions to invalidate it.

An experimental fusion machine, which may help revolutionize energy-producing mechanisms, has been dedicated at the University of Texas.

State health authorities rechecked September rabies tests after a faulty lab check came close to letting a case of the deadly disease escape detection.

Three railroad union legislative boards have merged into a single United Transportation Union, Texas Legislative Board to represent 12,000 railroad and bus line employees on legislation.

Deer hunting, one of the state's biggest businesses—involving 510,000 "customers" who spend about $88 million in two months on 37 million acres of leased land—gets under way this week end in most counties.

Governor Smith declined the request of New York Attorney Roy Cohn for a special investigating committee to look into Attorney General Martin's probe of the $228 million Moody Foundation, saying he has no authority to name a committee with subpoena power.

Foreign Aid Bill Defeated In Senate

By LLOYD BENTSEN
United States Senator

The sudden defeat of the Foreign Aid Bill in the Senate last week is still causing shock waves here and abroad. I would like to tell you some of my reasons for voting against the bill. I suppose people felt that because foreign aid has been a fact of life for so many years, it simply would continue to roll along under its own momentum. Fortunately, this was not the case, for our foreign aid programs in recent years have been producing less and less of the results for which they were intended, and more and more doubt about whether or not American dollars are being wisely spent.

More importantly, this year's bill called for a substantial increase over last year's funding. With the United States facing the biggest budget deficits in history, I could not vote for this increased foreign aid spending. We should be reducing these funds, not increasing them. The bill we were asked to approve for a "Christmas Tree" measure with the Administration and many nations lobbying for a larger slice of the foreign aid pie. At a time when Americans are being asked to tighten their belts and forgo wage and price increases here at home, I could not approve the large outlays for foreign nations as contained in the bill.

In the years before and after World War II, when war's devastation and steady Communist advances threatened world stability, there was clearly an assisting role for us to play as the world's strongest and richest nation. We provided help where and when it was needed.

Continuing Controversy On Aid

Since the post-war years, however, there has been a continuing debate over the wisdom and effectiveness of continued foreign aid going around the world. Some said we had a moral obligation to help those less fortunate than ourselves, while others maintained that if we did not provide help where it was needed, the Russians would. Foreign Aid became both a humanitarian project and a cold war weapon. I suppose each of these justifications is at least partially correct. But the really important questions were and still are, what kind of approach should we use in distributing aid and what kinds of programs are most effective?

We have been more than generous with food, money and weapons. Too generous, too unwilling to re-examine our goals and programs. There has been controversy, but no major changes in our approach to foreign aid.

Aid Funds Often Diverted

In the beginning, we made grants to those in need. Later, long-term, low-interest loans were instituted, but many complained that these only made small nations hopelessly in debt to us. Worse still, some nations receiving the low-interest loans were actually re-lending the money at very high interest.

We had reports of corruption and of aid money reaching only rich foreign officials, but never the people for whom they were intended.

Military aid has always had its critics, because there are always debates as to whether we are supporting the right people or not.

Time For Substantial Cuts

If this year's Senate defeat of foreign aid puts us on the road toward answering these questions and gives us the kind of overhaul that it really needs, then we will have accomplished something. This is the time for substantial cuts in foreign aid. If any program should emerge, it must be limited and productive. Foreign aid should be an accompaniment to foreign policy, not a substitute for it. For too long we have tried to substitute American dollars for sound American policy. We need effective foreign policies, not excessive foreign pay-offs. If we are to have American aid programs, they must not simply support foreign powers, but help them instead to become self-supporting. It's time we realize that old programs will not work with new realities of our day.

Mercury Discharge Is Health Problem

Last spring attention was focused on what many scientists and environmentalists proclaimed a "serious public health problem" resulting from pollution of waters by the industrial discharge of mercury. This highly toxic metal turned up as a fish contaminant in the waters of at least 17 states, including Texas.

A portion of Lavaca Bay was closed to the harvesting of oysters when samples taken by the State Health Department indicated a mercury density in excess of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration guideline of 0.5 parts per million.

That situation has changed dramatically in the past year and a large portion of the bay has now been reopened to oyster harvesting.

Excessive mercury densities are still being found in some Blue Crab collected from Lavaca Bay. Therefore, Texas health officials recommend that Blue Crab taken from Lavaca Bay not be used for human consumption until further notice.

The oyster is perfectly safe to harvest and eat when taken from approved harvesting areas. State health officials say their surveillance program of mercury pollution in Texas, under way since 1968, has shown a steady and consistent reduction in mercury densities in oysters taken from Lavaca Bay.

Evidence that mercury may not be the sustaining health hazard scientists and public health officials once thought was brought before the American Public Health Association annual meeting last month. A team of Detroit researchers reported that the amount of mercury in the environment has actually decreased during the past 60 years and that mercury now presents no health hazard.

The researchers based their conclusions on studies of several samples of preserved human tissue going back to 1913.

This data would seem to indicate a continual cleansing of the environment from mercury pollution instead of accumulation of the deadly metal. Health authorities say mercury accumulations in vital tissues can cause brain, nerve, eye, liver, and kidney damage, as well as severe birth defects.

Location is 2,249.7 feet from the north and 2,279.46 feet from the east lines of 70-EL&RR.

21st District Congressman
In Washington, the House Monday narrowly defeated a proposed constitutional amendment that would have permitted voluntary prayer or meditation in public schools.
The vote, following long, bitter debate, climaxed the latest round in a 9-year battle by pro-prayer forces to reverse U. S. Supreme Court anti-prayer rulings.
The proposed amendment, which opponents charged would allow government to meddle in religion, needed approval by two-thirds of the House members present and voting. It fell 30 votes short, losing 242 to 167.
All Texas congressmen voting favored the amendment except for Reps. Earl Cabell of Dallas, Wright Patman of Texarkana, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, Jack Brooks of Beaumont and Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

Eagles Lose 27-6 To Sonora, 7th Time

For the seventh time in as many years, the Eagles lost to Sonora last weekend. Not since 1964 have the Eagles overcome the Broncos.
The Sonora Broncos downed the Eldorado Eagles 27-6 in Sonora last Friday night. Nobody can "bad mouth" the youthful and definitely "underdog" Eagles for their efforts in this contest. They made it a football game and not a "cave-in" "give up" rout as forecast. Indeed, they shocked the Broncos severely in the first quarter and never let up the whole game, even though Steve Street was too hard to catch in the remainder of the game. As it was, the Broncos nearly lost their poise in the first period when the Eagles penetrated to the Sonora two-yard stripe on two occasions.
In fact, the Eagles made more first downs, completed more passes, made fewer errors, captured more Bronco fumbles, stopped Bronco Fullback Milton Noel, and out punted Sonora by an average of 10 yards for each kick; but the Eagles could not catch Bronco No. 23, Steve Street. He got away three times and that was the margin.
Examination of the game statistics shows that the Eagles played their best game of the current season. The figures are as follows:

Eldorado:	Sonora:
17	First downs 13
169	Yards rushing 408
55	Yards passing 28
224	Total yards 436
7 of 32	Passes att. & com. 1 of 4
1	Passes intercepted 1
4	Fumbles captured 2
2 for 27	Pen. & yds. lost 8 for 70
7 for 44	Punts & Av. d. 5 for 34

Score by quarters:
Eldorado — 0 0 0 6—6
Sonora — 0 14 7 6—27

The Sonora win was next to the Broncos' last hurdle for the 9A championship and guaranteed them at least a tie for the District crown. Only remaining obstacle is Robert Lee tomorrow night at Robert Lee and it is doubtful that the Steers can pull themselves together after suffering a close defeat by Eldorado and a crushing one by Mason.
It was Gary Danford's night to rampage against the Broncos as he captured two Sonora fumbles, one with 2½ minutes to go in the first quarter, and the second in the third period. Len Mertz distinguished himself by capturing a Bronco fumble also as did Roy Lloyd midway in the third period. Oscar Martinez captured a loose one also while Ricky Griffin purlined a Bronco forward pass. Mike Manning did yeoman's service setting up at least two of these loose ball captures by tackling and stripping the ball carrier so the ball squirted from the arms of Bronco carriers.
Mike Manning led the way defensively also with 24 stops on Bronco carriers while Gary Danford, Len Mertz, and Roy Lloyd tied for second honors with eight each. Chris Pena and Oscar Martinez ranked third with tie honors and four stops each.
Ken Peters led the way with pass receiving, hauling in three for 29 yards; and the catches were usually followed by hard buffets from Sonora defenders. Archie Nixon caught one for 11 yards, while Gene Nixon, Billy Doc Hubble, and Terry Clingan also caught one for six, eight, and five yards respectively.
Ricky Griffin carried the ball twice for five yards—tough yards—while Hunter Henderson carried 12 times for 8 yards. Billy Doc Hubble lugged the ball 53 tough yards for 17 carries. Archie Nixon broke the 100 mark again against the Broncos carrying the ball 20 times for 102 yards which when combined with his 11-yard pass reception gave him a total of 113 for the night.
As usual, Mark Bland at offensive center, played an errorless game although hardly noticed as the man who makes the first move every time Eldorado had the ball.
It is interesting to note that Sonora fielded a team composed of 11 seniors, 12 juniors, and six sophomores. The Eldorado Eagles are composed of seven seniors, seven juniors, and eight sophomores.
Conclusions are that the Eagles played an older, heavier, and more experienced football team and did it in such fashion that they can regard their competitive efforts with pride and maintain their self-respect. They made a good ball game of it all the way.
The Eagles will close their '71 football season Friday night at Menard, and then turn their efforts to the basketball season that gets under way Nov. 16th.

County Ag. Agent's Column

Some Hunting Hints . . .

Before hunting this fall, review safety rules and help prevent accidents. Hunting is one of the safest sports when the large number of hunters is compared with the small number of accidents. But even one accident is a tragedy for some family.

If taking youngsters to the field for the first time, impress on them that accidents are caused by careless shooters.

Practice safe gun handling at all times and encourage young hunting friends to do the same. Treat every gun as if it were loaded. Never point a gun at anything you don't expect to shoot. And be sure of your target before pulling the trigger.

Be sure the barrel and actions are clean and clear of obstructions. Keep the chamber and magazine open at all times when the gun is not in use. And never store or leave a loaded gun unattended.

Carry the gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle—even though you stumble. And unload your gun before climbing trees or fences or jumping ditches.

Don't drink alcoholic liquids before or during hunting or shooting.

Never shoot at a flat hard surface or the surface of water.

Practice safe gun handling rules until they become second nature.

By remembering to treat every gun with respect and pointing only at things you want to shoot, you won't have to say, "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

Also, consider wearing a shirt or jacket of daylight fluorescent blaze orange. It's the most visible color for hunters to wear in the field as it can be seen better under more varying light conditions than any other color.

House Plants

If summer growth has sent your houseplants sprawling, can you manage the greenery without turning your house into a jungle? You should make a decision on trimming the extra growth to fit your limited quarters. If you can manage the extra growth, consider the extra support needed by the plant. Coat hangers concealed among the greenery make excellent support. They're easily attainable around any home and the metal will not harm the plants. Trellis supports can also be made of plastic without harming the plant. All sorts of wood can be used to provide supports. While arranging the supports don't worry about facing the leaves in the right direction. The leaves naturally turn out to face the sunlight.

If you decide you should trim the plants, then don't be afraid to prune just as you would an outdoor plant. Be sure to cut with clean pruning shears or a clean knife. Disease can be spread with blades that are coated with months of cutting. To prune or keep extra summer growth of houseplants is your choice.

Crickets . . .

Common crickets are moving into homes as cooler weather approaches. Crickets are attracted by lights and invade homes through cracks, window sills and doors. They may chew cotton and wool fabrics, particularly those that are soiled. However, they are not likely to chew synthetic fabrics.

Control of the crickets outside requires a combination spray. Most successful are combinations of chlordane and diazinon or chlordane and malathion. If crickets are not listed specifically on the label, use the manufacturer's directions listed under fly or nuisance pest control when spraying foundations, sidewalls and lawn edges.

For treating lawns and flower beds, use the manufacturer's directions for sod or turf insect control if crickets are not listed on the label. The lighter mixture is necessary to prevent leaf burn from the insecticide.

For inside control, use an aerosol spray bomb containing Baygon, DDDP, diazinon, or malathion.

Effective outside spraying should include walks, driveways, foundations up one or two feet from ground level, lawn edgings, window sills, doorways and other openings where the crickets may enter.

Take Crime Out Of Holiday Shopping

Austin, Tex.—An appeal for Texans to "take crime out of Christmas" came today from Governor Preston Smith, as he urged citizens to join in a statewide effort to prevent the upsurge in crime which frequently accompanies the yuletide season. The approach of Thanksgiving means that the time is not far off.

"Many crimes which occur during the Christmas rush," the governor said, "go unreported. Law enforcement officers find it difficult to cope with increased traffic and increased offenses all at the same time. The result is increased opportunity for the criminal, and increased crime."

The appeal, timed to coincide with the start of the Christmas shopping season, was made in connection with the Governor's Crime-Stop program launched early this year.

Governor Smith said the effort has received widespread response from newspapers and police agencies, cooperating in a public information campaign to encourage citizens to report offenses and suspicions to police and to educate the public in crime prevention methods.

Goals of the program, he said, are expressed in two slogans used in the early stages of the campaign: "Don't be crime's silent partner," and "Crime made easy makes crime."

"If you neglect to report an offense or suspicious behavior to police, you are crime's silent partner," the governor said.

"Failure to exercise the proper precautions makes crime easy, and results in more crime being committed."

The governor gave these reminders: "When shopping, take no more cash than you actually need; keep a tight grip on your pocketbook; place packages out of sight in the trunk of your car, instead of in a seat. Keep your house locked, and don't advertise it when you are away from home."

"Let's take the crime out of Christmas and make more room for the things Christmas is supposed to have."

Prime Time For Purse Snatchers
Linda, as she got into her car outside the supermarket, tried to remember how much money she had been carrying in her purse. Must have been more than $100.

Her Christmas shopping money. The purse had been in the grocery cart at her elbow when she first noticed the two young men out of the corner of her eye. She hadn't actually seen them; she was merely aware of their presence.

Then one of them approached her. "Ma'am, could you help me find the blackberry gelatin? You see, I left my glasses at home."

Why, it's right here . . . But after some seconds of looking, Linda realized that blackberry was not one of the flavors offered.

"Oh, I'll just take this kind," the young man said, and he was gone. She hardly had seen him.

At the checkout counter, she opened her purse to take out her wallet. It was gone, with all her money and identification. She couldn't even cash a check.

The store manager was not too sympathetic. Finally, she had to tell him just to put the groceries in her cart back on the shelves.

Now she must decide whether to call her husband or the police. The approaching holidays is prime time for purse snatchers and pickpockets. Almost every wallet contains extra cash for Christmas shopping. You can help thwart the criminal by taking extra precautions, and by being on the alert for criminals at work.

Fight Pollution — Build A Compost Pile

College Station, Texas.—Rather than burning leaves this fall and polluting the air, why not use them for a compost pile? This will provide a good source of organic matter for potted plants, for top-dressing the lawn, and for building up the soil in flower beds and shrub borders, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

There are many ways of composting leaves and other vegetable matter, but the simplest method is to alternate four-to-six-inch layers of vegetable matter (leaves, grass) with two-to-four inches of good garden soil. If available, manure can be added to the soil layer to good advantage. The compost pile should be four-to-six feet wide and any desired length depending on material and space available.

Sprinkle a commercial fertilizer on each layer of vegetable matter to hasten decomposition, suggests Janne. Use about one-half pound, or one cupful, of any good commercial fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio per 10 square feet of each vegetable matter layer.

The top layer of the compost pile should be soil and the surface of the pile should be dish-shaped, forming a basin to hold water. Each layer of organic matter should be watered thoroughly before adding the soil layer. This is especially true when composting leaves as they can be extremely slow to decompose if too dry. The pile should be watered thoroughly when completed and additional water should be added as needed to keep the material moist but not soggy.

Turn or mix the compost with a garden fork or shovel every three or four months, recommends the horticulturist. It should be ready to use in six months to a year. The decomposition process can be speeded up by using commercial compost activators.

Well prepared compost can be utilized anywhere peat moss is used, concludes Janne.

Happiness Is Being Ready For Winter

College Station, Texas.—Prepare for a safe and happy winter season by making sure fireplaces, heaters and other heating aids are in good working order.

"There are several things a householder can do to provide winter comfort and convenience," says Bill Allen, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"First, check the fuel supply for furnaces, stoves, heaters, and other units regardless of whether they burn oil, coal or gas. Even lay in a supply of fireplace logs before bad weather slips in."

A central heating system should be checked each fall by a qualified heating engineer or contractor. If that cannot be done, the home owner should be prepared to handle the job himself, says the engineer.

Air and oil filters should be carefully checked and replaced if necessary. All motors, fan bearings and pump bearings should be oiled and otherwise cared for according to the unit's operation manual. Pot-type burners should be cleaned of accumulated soot.

"It is imperative that all chimneys and flues be clean and safe," Allen advises. "This is especially true in the case of old flues and chimneys which do not have flue liners. Without cleaning, they can cause dangerous soot fires."

On hot water heaters all connections and valves should be checked for possible leaks. Radiators should be examined for "air-locks" which can reduce heating efficiency.

Fireplaces, to be efficient heating units, must have dampers that are in order and that work properly. If there are no dampers in open fireplaces, it is necessary to either close the fireplace opening, install new dampers, or install the grass-front type screen which serves as a damper to prevent heat loss up the chimney.

Also available during the warm weather is that job of insulating the house. "Add that needed insulation in the attic, sidewalls and under the floor," recommends Allen. "Weather strip doors and windows and repair or replace those that need it. Caulk all cracks around the windows and doors."

The engineer also reminds that there is still time to do some needed painting, especially if the latex-type paint is used.

Other jobs might be to repair or replace house roofs, to clean, repair or replace gutters, and to repair outside steps and floors where snow and ice can otherwise be a hazard.

"Insulate any exposed water pipes which would otherwise freeze in cold weather, and rearrange the garage or carport to permit its intended use in bad weather, suggests Allen. "Winterize the lawn mower and store it safely."

The agricultural engineer would also choose the waning warm weather as a good time to do any necessary grading and seeding around the house to encourage proper drainage.

Incorporate Best Food Buys Of Week

College Station, Tex.—Interested in saving time and money while shopping for the family food supply?

To help, keep an up-to-date shopping list incorporating the week's best buys, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

This week, economical fresh fruit choices include apples, bananas, oranges, Tokay grapes, pears, cranberries and avocados.

According to the specialist, vegetable items in best supply are carrots, cabbage, potatoes, yellow onions, sweet potatoes, salad tomatoes, and mustard, collard and turnip greens.

At the meat counter look for best values on chuck roasts and steaks, round and rib steaks, boneless roasts, ground beef and liver.

"Both fresh pork and smoked cuts will be featured in many markets," Mrs. Clyatt says. Specials may be found on Boston butt roasts, shoulder steaks, end-cut chops and one-quarter loins cut into chops. Semi-boneless hams, canned hams, smoked picnics, bacon and roll sausage head the list of "specialized" smoked items.

Fryer chickens, turkeys and eggs are also worthy selections, price-wise.

And don't forget to add cheese loaves, mild and sharp natural cheddars and cottage cheese to your shopping list, the specialist adds.

Potatoes Are Not Always Fattening

College Station, Tex.—A popular misconception about calories and increased competition with other foods are the main reasons Americans are not buying as many potatoes these days, says Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Since 1950, there has been a marked drop in the per capita consumption of potatoes in this country. The growing concern of the public with calorie intake and the mistaken belief that potatoes are high in calories are underlying factors.

"Although potatoes are higher in calories than most vegetables, they are considerably lower than many other foods in the daily American diet," she explains. A baked or boiled potato has fewer calories than the same amount of avocados, lima beans, bran flakes, prunes, rice or sweet potatoes.

Potatoes prepared without butter or cooking oil, or served without gravy also have fewer calories than most fruits canned in heavy syrup, she adds.

Starch, often considered the reason potatoes are fattening, and other nutrients make up only 20% of the potato; the remaining 80% is water.

"If potatoes had to be your only source of nutrients, they would provide all the riboflavin, one and one-half times the iron, three to four times the thiamine and niacin, and more than 10 times the vitamin C you need. Potatoes also contain many important mineral elements and they supply a significant amount of protein as well," she continues.

As for the convenience of potatoes, Miss Reasonover reminds that potatoes come in more than 50 quick and easy-to-prepare forms. Processed potato products include dehydrated "instant," canned potatoes and ready-to-eat chips, as well as a variety of frozen, packaged potatoes and prepared potato dishes.
