70TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS, (76936)

Thursday, March 11, 1971

Number 10

County Population Declines To 2,277

Census Bureau reports official 1970 population of Schleicher county . . .

Schleicher county's official population in the 1970 census was 2,277, down 18.4% from the 1960 figure of 2,791, the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, reports.

The official population of the state of Texas was 11,196,730, up 16.9% from the 1960 population count, which was 9,579,677.

The 1970 Census counted 2,149 white persons in Schleicher county, 94.4% of the total; 69 Negroes, and 59 persons of other races. In 1960 97.1% of the population was white.

The Census showed 155 children under 5 years; 606 in ages 5 thru 17; 1,189 people 18 thru 64; and 327 who were 65 and older. The population 14 years and over included 1,166 married people, 178 who were widowed, 37 divorced, and 333 never married.

Schleicher county's 1970 population was classified as 100% rural.

There were 774 households, with 2,254 persons, including 147 one-person households. In addition 23 persons were living in group quarters.

The 1970 census counted 1,034 housing units in Schleicher county, 517 of them occupied by owners, 257 occupied by tenants, and 260 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 50.0%, compared with 53.0% in 1960.

Among year-round dwelling units there were 920 single family houses, 36 housing units in multi-unit buildings, and 10 mobile homes or trailers. The percentage of occupied units with more than one person per room was 10.3, compared with 14.2 in 1960. Of all the occupied housing units, 718 had piped water, toilet, and bath, while 56 lacked some or all plumbing.

The median value of owner-occupied houses in Schleicher county was $6,600, compared with $6,400 in 1960. The median rent paid by tenants in 1970 was $47 per month. Half were over and half below the median figures.

Handicapped Sought For Treatment

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and isn't getting it?", is the question being asked by Mr. Raymond Hall, who is Schleicher County's Easter Seal Representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives, Mr. Hall added.

This is accomplished through direct treatments, services, education, research, and co-operative efforts with all other health agencies, private, state, and federal. The Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services, but strives to fill all unmet needs of the disabled, he added.

The Easter Seal Society is carrying out its 42nd annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance a program of rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 20 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. Physical therapy and speech and hearing programs are offered to help the disabled make their lives fuller, despite their handicaps.

Mr. Hall urged persons in Schleicher county to increase their support of the Texas Easter Seal Society and its program of services to the crippled children and adults of Texas.

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Mrs. Cathy Niblett was called to Moody, Texas, early this week to the funeral of her grandfather, Maurice Winston Hargett, 81. His funeral was held Tuesday and he was buried beside Mrs. Hargett who died 10 months ago. He was a native of McLennan county.

Mrs. Niblett returned home Tuesday night.

Beta Sigma Phi Wants Your Coupons

Beta Sigma Phi is conducting a drive to collect Betty Crocker or General Mills coupons to help buy two kidney machines for a 17-year-old boy and a 13-month-old baby. These children live in Oklahoma. The deadline for the coupons is April 15th. If anyone having these coupons would like to help a very worthy cause it would be greatly appreciated.

These coupons may be left at Tooter's Beauty Shop or contact Ruthie Dacy at 2814. Any Beta Sigma Phi member would be glad to pick them up.

Deadline Past For Local Candidates

The deadline passed Tuesday evening for additional candidates for Directors for the Schleicher County Hospital District.

Unopposed for the three places are Ed Meador, Mrs. Mort Mertz and Mrs. Edwin Jackson.

For school trustees are three candidates, also unopposed—R. E. Bland, Wilson Page and H. G. (Buddy) White.

For City officials, we have for Mayor, Eldon Calk, incumbent, opposed by R. V. Sheppard. For altermen (vote for 2) we have Granvil Hext, Alvin Farris and John Edward Meador.

The city ballot will be the only local one providing a choice. But you can always have write-ins. One year ago a write-in put a new alderman on the board who was not on the ballot.

During the next week ballots will be printed for all of these three local elections.

Duster Blew In Here Tuesday Afternoon

We shall have weather, whether or not, and in this West Texas area it seems to mean, more of the same.

Tuesday afternoon we had another "Texas rain," when the atmosphere was again filled with clouds of red dust which obscured the sun. It came in, of course on a west wind and knowledgeable weather watchers here agree that we'll never get any rain as long as the wind is from the west.

Large trailer trucks loaded with hay from irrigation areas are offering hay to local stockmen and are parked here every day—and are making sales to those who are short on feed.

February Average Rainfall 1.41 Inch

It might be hard to convince some people that his figures are correct but Lloyd Johnson took the average of three gauges and has come up with the figure of 1.41 inches as the county's rainfall for February.

Practically all of this moisture came during the last week of the month and was extremely scattered with 2½ inches reported on ranches in the east part of the county, while only a half inch was acknowledged in the west part.

Thirty-six hours later the county again took on the appearance of a dust bowl as winds from the northwest filled the atmosphere with clouds of red sand and dust.

Band To Rodeo Parade

Eagle Band Director Wayne McDonald and his Eagle Band will be in San Angelo this coming Friday morning to march in the rodeo parade, which will begin at 10 a.m.

Frazier Retains

Heavyweight Crown

In the battle of the century at Madison Square Garden Monday night, Joe Frazier defeated Muhammad Ali in a 15-round bout which left Ali reeling as the fight ended.

The reports this week of the heavyweight championship fight between Cassius Clay and Joe Frazier recalls to my mind the battle between Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo in August, 1923.

I was in Long Beach, California, at that time and as a union printer I was substituting on the Long Beach Sun. I was not hired that night and I joined a large group outside listening to the round-by-round reports of the game. There was no radio at that time and reports came to the newspaper by way of teletype. On a balcony outside was an announcer who read the reports as they came in. For the first round or two there was considerable sparring, but finally there was a dramatic report—"Firpo Knocks Dempsey out of the ring!"

Dempsey picked himself up and ringside reporters helped him get back into the ring! Back in the ring Dempsey suddenly turned into a tiger. He went after Firpo and knocked him down—I don't remember how many times—but the next dramatic announcement was that Dempsey "wins by a Knockout!"

Suddenly a cheer went out from the crowd.

As I remember it, that was the first time that Dempsey was cheered and became an American hero. After Dempsey had defeated the aging Willard he was regarded as just a so-so champion. In 1921 he went against a Frenchman by the name of Carpentier. Many of the sportswriters at the time were hoping that Carpentier would knock his block off. Dempsey won that one easily, and in 1923 he fought Tommy Gibbons in Shelby, Montana. He won that easily too, but for some reason it didn't enhance his popularity. For one thing, he was not a WW I veteran.

But it wasn't until August of that year that he became "our" champion, when a South American knocked him out of the ring, and then he came back to win by a knockout.

In 1927 everybody was pulling for Dempsey when he met Tunney. In one round he flattened Tunney but the long count didn't start until Dempsey got back to his corner. Tunney won the decision, but even then Dempsey remained the popular hero, deprived of the decision by a technicality. Dempsey the popular slugger was finally defeated in a second bout by the boxer, Tunney.

Sportswriters still like to compare today's prize fighters and how they would compare with Dempsey when he was back in his prime. He didn't spar and dance around; he just slugged it out.

Jack Dempsey is still living, is in his early 70's, and lives in New York city where he has been in the restaurant business in recent years.

The proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution are being run for the fourth and last time in this week's Success issue. They are on page 7. Voters will go to the polls May 18 to cast ballots on them.

We urge our readers to study the amendments closely. In fact, since May 18th is two months away it might be a good idea to remove page 7, put it away, and then when you are ready to go vote, get out the paper again to refresh your memory.

Rules Distributed For Lions Queen Contest

The rules for the Lions Club Queen's Contest were being distributed this week in the school by High School Principal Guy Whitaker. A copy of the rules was being given to each eligible girl and a large group is expected to participate in this year's event.

Phil Olson is chairman of the Queen's Contest and the tentative date is March 30th, in the high school auditorium.

The winner of this year's contest will serve as queen of the Eldorado Lions Club for the 1971-72 year, and will be the local club's nominee in the district queen's contest later this Spring.

Debbie Johnson is currently serving as Lions Club queen.

Further arrangements will be given in the Success later.

Donations Solicited For Weight Machine

According to the records of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Eldorado Booster Club, contributions in the total amount of $65 have been made toward the purchase of a weight machine recently purchased for use in the school; the Booster Club agreed to pay one-half of the total cost and it is estimated that approximately $1300 will be required to be paid by it.

Lists of the donors and amounts will be published in later editions of the Eldorado Success.

Please mail or hand your contribution for this worthwhile addition to our school to Mrs. Frances Peters or to Clifford Schooley at the REA office.

Vernon Carrolls Buy House Here

After living in Brady for several years where they operated a motel, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carroll recently bought Mrs. Nan Montgomery's house here and announced plans to move back to Eldorado in the near future.

Mr. Carroll formerly owned and operated the Eldorado Welding Shop and he sold the establishment to Earl Dean Clark for health reasons. He and Mrs. Carroll then moved to Brady to run the motel and they remained frequent visitors back here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Montgomery's house is located about two blocks south of the school and she is in the process of disposing of some of her household goods in preparation for her move, and she will give the Carrolls possession of the house about the 1st of April. She is to move to her nearby apartment house. This former duplex will be remodeled into a single dwelling unit and she is having some minor carpenter work done and the interior repainted.

The Carrolls will be welcomed back here by their many friends of years standing, all of whom wish them luck in this move.

T & SCRA Convention To Start Monday In Fort Worth

Ft. Worth, Tex.—Plagued by a year-long drought and more recently by cattle-killing ice storms, members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association will gather here March 15-17 for the 94th annual convention of this, the world's largest regional cattle organization.

Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell Jr. of Washington, D. C. will join a group of distinguished speakers who will appear before the more than 1,000 cattlemen and agri-business leaders attending. Others to take the rostrum include Dr. Don Paarlberg, director of Agricultural Economics of the USDA, Senator Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. of Texas, Dr. Earl J. Butz, vice-president of the Purdue Research Foundation, and Dolph Briscoe Jr., chairman, David H. Stroud, president, and John L. Huston, vice-president of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

TSCRA President Frank H. Lewis of Bay City, Texas, has called this year's convention one of the most important in years. "The ranching community, already hampered by the hardships of nature, is now faced with proposed governmental restrictions on the use of agricultural chemicals that could bring serious damage to the industry," he said. "It is doubly important that cattle raisers present a show of strength now so that our cause will receive fair treatment."

Eagles Place 3rd In Relays At Ozona

The Eldorado Eagle track team traveled to Ozona Saturday to attend the annual Ozona Relays. Approximately 17 local teams participated in the three divisional meet which was made up of Class AA, A, and B schools respectively.

A cold north wind made attempts at record-breaking difficult, but by the end of the meet the Eagles had finished up with a total of 69 points and third place behind Mason with 89 points and Sonora who finished with 97 points and the Division II Championship. Coach Lynn Meador stated that he was satisfied with the overall performance of the Eagles at Ozona.

Although few individuals qualified for finals in the running events, he cited that the Eagles' strength lay in field events led by Archie Nixon, Jerry Baty, Terry Clingan, and Billy Doc Hubble.

Coach Meador also pointed out that it is still early in the track season and that the running events should improve as the season progresses.

Eagles who placed in the Ozona Relays were as follows:

440 Relay (J. Baty, T. Clingan, R. Griffin, K. Peters), 4th place.
880 Relay, (same 4), 4th place.
1 Mile Relay, (T. Clingan, R. Griffin, K. Peters, B. Williams), 5th.
Keith Williams, 4th, 100 yard dash.

Archie Nixon, 1st, shot put; 2nd long jump, 2nd high jump, and 3rd discus.

Jerry Baty: 4th shot put, 4th discus, 6th long jump.

Terry Clingan, 4th long jump. The Eagles travel to Ballinger for the Ballinger Relays Saturday and a week later will host the Plateau Relays here.

Plateau Relays Set For March 20th

The annual Plateau Relays will be held here on Saturday, March 20th at Eagle Field. Track Coach Lynn Meador is at work on arrangements and the schedule and other details will be given in next week's Success issue.

This Saturday the trackmen go to Ballinger for a meet.

HOME BUYER

CLINIC

By John W. Warren
Vice President
American Land Title Association

Difficulties in Deed
It isn't unusual to encounter a home owner who confidently states, in effect:
"Sure, I own my property. My name's on the deed."

Unfortunately, a deed may not assure the home buyer that he owns anything. It is merely a document in which the seller of real estate transfers his right of ownership to the buyer in a home purchase transaction. The deed does not prove the seller is the owner, nor does it eliminate rights others may claim in the property.

A woman in a southeastern state learned of difficulty that can be experienced with a deed when workmen unexpectedly began clearing her land to make way for a shopping center. She had been paying taxes on the real estate for years and held a deed. But the shopping center owner also had a deed and his title prevailed.

The woman had to give up her land, but her financial loss was covered by owner's title insurance.

It's wise to learn all you can about purchasing real estate before you buy — and that includes consulting an expert when it comes to a deed. Investigate your local purchase situation closely because customs and practices differ around the nation. And, to safeguard against possible financial loss from a defective deed or other land title problems, be sure to secure a title search and owner's title insurance.

Eaglettes Close Out Successful Season

The Eldorado Eaglettes closed out a very successful year at the regional tournament in Denton as they fell to Carroll by a score of 30 to 41. The Eaglettes won 22 games for the year while losing only 8.

The guards set a new team record as they held the opponents to an average of only 34.57 points per game. The forwards also made a good showing for the year as they averaged 51.5 points per game for 30 games. The Eaglettes scored 1,544 points and allowed the opponents 1,037 points.

Loretta Schooley led the team in field goal shooting percentage. She made 142 baskets out of 341 attempts for 41.3%. Kathleen O'Harrow followed by only .7 percentage points as she hit on 143 baskets of 374 attempts. Peggy Hill trailed Kathleen by .5 a percentage point. Peggy attempted 253 shots and made 99 of them for 39.1%. Sherry Davis hit 38% of her shots, Petty Page 30%, Rosellen Maness 34.3%, and Jeanne McCreavy 33%. As a team the Eaglettes attempted 724 free throws and made an even 500 for 69.1%.

Mary Lynn McCalla led the rebounding on the guard end with 180 rebounds for the year. Gay Lynn Richardson, Lisa McAngus, and Claudia Meador followed closely with 153, 134, and 120 respectively. Claudia Meador led the turnover department as she lost the ball on only 39 occasions. Lisa McAngus turned the ball over 46 times as did Gay Lynn Richardson. Mary Lynn McCalla gave the ball up 55 times.

The Eaglettes placed four players on the first team all-district selections and three on the second team all-district. Guards Lisa McAngus and Mary Lynn McCalla as well as forwards Kathleen O'Harrow and Peggy Hill made the first unit. Loretta Schooley, a forward; Claudia Meador, a guard; and Gay Lynn Richardson, a guard, made second team all-district.

Lisa McAngus has also been selected as an alternate guard for the Texas High School Girls' Basketball Coaches' all star game to be played in Brownwood in this summer. This is quite an honor since Miss McAngus was in competition against all senior guards in the state regardless of school classification.

The Eaglettes did have a great year as they advanced as far as any girls team from Eldorado has ever advanced. With the continued support of the school and community, the girls hope for an even better season in 1971-72.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Ting Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

One of these days, winter will be over and spring will be here to stay, and then gardening fever will be on the rise.

Raising your own vegetable garden not only can save on the grocery bill but can assure an abundance of nutritious foods for your family.

Selecting adapted vegetable varieties is a major step in successful gardening. Just as much time is involved, plus labor and an expense, to produce a crop using poorly adapted varieties as it does with proved ones. Seed costs little or no more for the varieties that will do best in our area.

Vegetable seed left over from the previous year may or may not be satisfactory for planting. It depends upon the kind of seed and how it was stored. Most unused seed should be stored cool and dry. It's usually cheaper to get seed each year from a reliable seed company.

Soil moisture at planting time is an important factor in getting a good stand. It may be necessary to soak the seedbeds before planting if soil moisture is short. Planting seed should also be treated with the recommended materials to help insure stands of vigorous growing plants.

Once the plants are up and growing, good management will insure a longer producing season and vegetables the like of which are hard to find in the grocery stores.

To know one's ignorance is the best part of knowledge.

Seed treatment has come a long way since the Middle Ages when seeds were thrown through fires to control disease organisms.

Chemicals are used today to treat planting seed to prevent damage by insects, fungi and bacteria. Most chemicals used for treating seed, such as pheno mercury acetate, are harmful to bacteria or fungi, and if misused can also be harmful to animals and humans.

To help prevent misuse of treated seeds and possible fatal results, the Federal Seed Act requires that seeds treated with mercurials and other similarly toxic substances be labeled accordingly.

The label must state the name of the substance used to treat the seed—either the commonly accepted name, the chemical name or a standard abbreviation of the chemical name. An example, BHC is the standard abbreviation for benzene hexachloride, which is the chemical name.

A label for treated seed must also contain an appropriate caution statement. Mercurials and similarly toxic substances must be labeled with the word "POISON" in red letters and with the skull-and-crossbones symbol.

Other substances classified as "harmful" in the regulations are required to be labeled with the statement such as "Do not use for feed, feed or oil purposes." Lawn seed are not ordinarily treated but home gardeners should note that many vegetable seed are often treated with toxic materials to help insure stands.

The Food and Drug Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare requires that food or feed grain seeds—wheat, oats, barley, rye, corn and grain sorghums—be colored an unnatural color if treated with a toxic substance, usually red.

So, whether you are a farmer or home gardener, it's a good idea to become a label reader and a careful user of treated seed.

The man who rolls up his sleeves seldom loses his shirt.

Electric fences might be the answer to some of your fencing problems. They are inexpensive, easy to build, require little maintenance and are effective. But there are factors which should be considered before one is constructed.

A primary factor is what the fence will be used for. Principal uses of electric fences are supplementary fencing and fencing marginal land which does not warrant an investment in permanent fences. They may also be used to discourage predatory animals and for placement inside bullpens for additional protection.

When using the electric fence the following precautions should be taken. Use only approved controllers. Although the fence requires low voltage, improper amperage can cause a fatal shock. Under no conditions should a home made controller be used. Instructions which come with each controller should be closely followed.

The fence should be properly grounded and all connections to the posts should be insulated. For the fence to operate at its maximum level, a ground rod should be installed to provide contact between moist earth and the controller.

If the fence is to be used along a public road or near other areas of farm traffic, it should be properly marked with appropriate signs every 200 feet and gate openings provided with insulated rubber grips.

Your electric fence can be a helpful farm tool if it is properly constructed and used in accordance with good safety practices.

Change favors the prepared mind.

Essay Winners Announced
 Conservation Essay Contest winners have been announced by the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District Directors, according to vice chairman, Voy Lee Butts.

Jean Rountree won first place, Phyllis Sauer second, and Patty Page third.

The essays that were written were 300 words or less in length. The subject of this year's essay was "Our Natural Environment—Preserve And Protect It." The subject of each year's essay is given by the Texas Conservation Awards Program. This was originally the Fort Worth Press Awards Program which carried the theme of "Save The Soil and Save Texas." Last year it changed and is now sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. This is the 26th year for the program and it is considered to be the largest and most widely honored program of recognition for achievement in all areas of conservation throughout the state.

District directors want to publicly thank Miss Katherine Hill, English teacher in the local public school, and all the students for their interest and support in this year's contest. Directors report that the essays seem to improve from year to year.

Plans are for directors to present checks of $15.00 to the first place winner; $10.00 to second place, and $5.00 to third place at a school assembly program in the near future.

Rosedown In Early Spring Outburst

St. Francisville, La.—The 28 acres of cloistered Southern gardens at Rosedown Plantation in St. Francisville, La. are in full outburst two weeks ahead of schedule, according to General Manager R. O. Butler of St. Francisville, La.

Camellia trees which were seedlings in the mid 1800s are lavish with red, magenta, lavender and delicate pink blossoms. Century-old azaleas in full blossom create walls of color throughout the gardens alongside redbud, dogwood and tulips in full flower.

Rosedown was built in 1835 by a wealthy cotton planter for his wife. The gardens they created were inspired by Versailles and other great gardens of Europe. The avenue of oaks from the entrance of Rosedown House to the orchard, as well as the Carrara statues interspersed between the giant trees, are reminiscent of the gardens of Versailles.

Rosedown was purchased in 1956 by the late Catherine Fondren Underwood, who restored the grandeur of the mid 1800s to the mansion and the famous gardens. Her restoration saved one of the great gardens of the 19th century.

The gardens of Rosedown are one of five great showplaces featured in a color film entitled "Great Gardens of Louisiana." This 28-minute color film is available to clubs through the Louisiana Tourist Travel Development Commission at P.O. Box 44291, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804.

For information on Rosedown House and the famous gardens around it, write Rosedown, Drawer M, St. Francisville, La. 70775.

Several Factors Affect Food Costs

College Station, Tex.—Food prices go up or down for many reasons—weather, labor costs, selling practices. And the changes occur from month to month, week to week, and even day to day, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. Consider these tips as you shop this week.

Look for best prices at the meat counter on beef chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, beef and calf liver, and round steaks and roasts. Fresh picnics, chops, loin roasts, canned hams and liver are among the best pork values. Prices are generally steady for Grade A bacon, with specials on lesser grades.

Prices on frying chicken continue to be attractive, and scattered specials bring them down to the irresistible level. Chicken hens should also be considered as a thrifty buy. Large size eggs remain the best bargain for your egg money.

Grapefruit still highlights the fruit department in most stores. However, check the fruit carefully for weight, as puffy fruit lacks juice. Apples, coming from cold storage, are of good quality and have moderate prices. Bananas, now in plentiful supply, also have attractive prices. Oranges, tangerines, tangelos, lemons, limes and avocados are other good fruit selections.

Fresh vegetables available in good supply and at lower prices are cabbage, carrots, celery, potatoes, and head lettuce. Sweet potatoes, squash and onions, including white, yellow, and green varieties are also worthy choices.

Labels Important On Foods And Drugs

When was the last time you read the list of ingredients on that package of instant casserole or off-brand can of beans you've been buying at the local supermarket lately? Chances are you haven't. But you should, for the label on that jar of orange juice or that package of fresh oysters could tell you a lot, whether it is frozen juice or imitation orange drink, or if those oysters were prepared and packed by a manufacturer approved by health inspectors working for the state or federal government.

The Texas Health Department has long had food and drug inspectors who take seriously their responsibility of protecting the consumer through enforcement of food and drug laws. The purpose of these laws is to protect the consumer against adulterated or misbranded foods, drugs, and cosmetics, and to require informative labeling of substances intended for household use.

Texas Health Department official James M. Doughty believes there is a growing trend in this country to put greater emphasis on the importance of labeling on all consumer products, especially food and drugs. He is watching with interest federal efforts to draft a new national policy concerning labeling, one that also sets guidelines for particular key nutrients and how much of each one should be, and how much actually are, included in each class of food.

For an idea of the effect better labeling might have on the food industry, consider what has happened to hot dogs. Back in 1969, the U. S. Department of Agriculture set 30% as the maximum permissible amount of fat in frankfurters. Those of you who were buying hot dogs back before World War II may remember when you could get the all-American food with as little as 17% fat content. But then certain manufacturers pushed the content up until it reached 51% by weight—and over 80% by caloric proportion. Now if frankfurters had been labeled in terms of percent protein, percent fat, and total calories, the government probably wouldn't have had to impose the 30% limit. Competition would have taken care of the problem, before the eyes of a weight-conscious nation.

Competition would probably also affect the proportions of saturated or polyunsaturated fats if quantities were stated on food labels, as would probably be the case with chemical preservatives and other synthetic chemical additives.

Food Fallacies Are Still Believed

College Station, Texas.—Do you know if these statements about foods are true or false?

Older people need less protein than young adults.

Fried foods are difficult to digest.

Whole grain breads are more nutritious than enriched white breads.

Butter has more calories than margarine.

Toast has fewer calories than bread.

They are all false, says Miss Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University. And here are the reasons:

Our body's requirements for protein continue throughout life, so an older person needs the same amount as a young adult of the same body size.

Digestion of fried foods is as complete as that of other foods, but fat takes longer to digest than carbohydrates or proteins. Because fat coats food when fried, it remains in the stomach for a longer period of time.

Enriched white breads are just as nutritious as whole grain breads. Be sure to watch labels for the word "enriched", as unenriched white breads have less vitamins B and iron.

One hundred calories—that's the amount both butter and margarine contain. The price is different, but the calorie content is the same.

A slice of bread loses moisture when toasted, making toast lighter in weight than bread. But the number of calories in a slice of bread does not change with toasting.

Mrs. Bessie Doyle and Mrs. Ruby Damron visited recently in Pearsall with Bessie's son, Jerry Doyle and family. On their return home they also visited Bessie's sister in Kerrville, Mrs. Minnie Coker.

SHRIMP, EGGS IN NOVEL DISH

If the egg and you are beginning to look at each other with increasing interest, could be a sign of Spring. But before you color them (or even after) add a small can of shrimp to your plans. The combination in this luncheon or late supper dish is a novel, delightful one in which the eternal hard-cooked egg is fluffed and stuffed with shrimp, then baked in a savory sauce.

SHRIMP TEASED EGGS

- 1 can (4½ ounces) shrimp
- 6 large hard-cooked eggs
- 3 tablespoons seasoned bread crumbs softened in 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1 tablespoon grated fresh onion
- 1 tablespoon finely minced fresh parsley
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 raw egg yolk
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish mustard
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Drain shrimp, reserving liquid in the can. If shrimp are small or tiny, reserve 12 or more for garnishing. Chop the rest coarsely and set aside. Peel and halve the eggs. In a bowl, mash yolks and combine with shrimp liquid, buttered crumbs, onion, parsley, and chopped shrimp. Separately, combine sour cream with raw yolk, mustard, and salt; whisk together thoroughly. Stuff egg whites with shrimp mixture; garnish with any reserved shrimp. Arrange in a shallow baking dish and cover with sour cream sauce. Bake in a pre-heated 350-degree oven 25 minutes or until sauce is set and delicately browned. 6 servings.

Accidental Poisoning Can Be Prevented

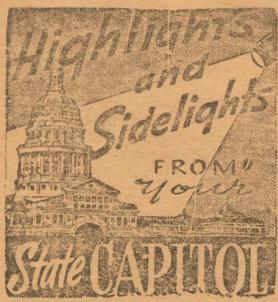

College Station, Tex.—Who would want to hurt a child? Certainly not you. But for every child accidentally poisoned, an adult is responsible, says Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension specialist in home management at Texas A&M University.
 Each year, close to one million children accidentally ingest medicine and commonly-used household products, such as cleaning agents, furniture polish, kerosene, paint thinner and pesticides.
 To prevent a tragedy, learn the potential danger spots for your child. For example, Mrs. Myers says that a child under five is constantly exploring his surroundings. When he learns to crawl, he reaches, touches and tastes everything within reach. Products stored on the floor and in floor-level cabinets, then are potential danger spots for him.
 A toddler can reach higher places and is more likely to pull open low drawers or to reach items left on low tables or chairs. As he grows, he learns to climb a chair to reach objects above his arm's length.

A common remedy in protecting a child against household poisons is always keeping them locked up. But other simple rules are vital for your child's safety, Mrs. Myers adds.
 Never describe medicine as candy; call it by name—medicine.
 Read the label on the bottle of medicine each time you use it, even if it means turning the light on at night. This practice prevents giving an overdose or the wrong medicine.
 Children are tempted to imitate, so don't take medication in their presence.
 When the phone or door bell rings, take the furniture polish with you. Don't leave it on the coffee table to tempt your child to sample it. Keep all products in their original containers. Don't transfer it to a soft drink bottle or cup.

Eldorado Variety

Austin, Tex.—In a week of major financial flurry, the House passed a $492.5 million tax bill and an $80 million college tuition hike, while the Senate approved a $185 million college building bond plan. Here's the breakdown on the tax bill:

- An increase in the sales tax from 3.25 to 4%, $279.8 million.
- Increase in the auto sales tax rate from 3 to 4%, $69.75 million.
- Increases in the hotel occupancy tax from 3 to 4%, $6.3 million.
- A $1 tax on transfer of corporate securities, $10 million.
- A 10% levy on entertainment admissions, $26.6 million.
- Increase in the corporation franchise tax rate from $3.25 to $3.75 per $1,000 of assets, $39.5 million.
- A 5 cents per gallon tax on aviation jet fuel, $50 million.
- An increase in the tax on sand, gravel, shell and marl taken from submerged lands, $10.6 million.

The House rejected amendments that would have taxed corporation net profits, timber, snuff and sales to government units.

Representatives approved a tuition increase from $50 a semester to $7 per semester hour—or $105 a semester for a full 15-hour course load.

Also included is a $47 per semester hour charge on out-of-state students, or about $700 per semester.

Both bills now go to the Senate, where Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes has promised extended hearings. First, however, the Senate—unlike the House—proposes to total its spending proposals to see just how much revenue is required to balance the budget.

Senate voted 21-7 for the House-passed bill to provide tuition-backed revenue bond financing of new higher education facilities in San Antonio, Dallas, Odessa, Houston, Lubbock and El Paso.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court refused to review a Sunday closing law case involving Cook's discount store at Bryan, thus again affirming Texas' blue law.

A woman who burned her finger due to a defective safety glove at the Dallas Texas Instruments plant nine years ago got a new trial in her damage suit for more than $20,000.

U. S. Supreme Court, in a case of interest to Texas, held unanimously that highways constructed with federal funds cannot cut through public parks except in "the most unusual situations."

U. S. Supreme Court in a Houston case held that an indigent cannot be jailed to work out traffic fines for non-jailable offenses.

Court of Criminal Appeals held two boys sentenced for murder in Edinburg were placed in double jeopardy because of their age.

Redistricting Row Looms

Lawmakers, armed with new census tract maps, are tuning up for some early showdowns on congressional legislative redistricting.

Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian introduced caption bills for his redistricting committee to start work on within the next week. Word said he plans to out-of-Austin public hearings like those being conducted by the House redistricting committee headed by Rep. Delwin

Jones of Lubbock.

Forty-six of 52 big-city House members served notice on Jones they don't like his preliminary sketches of new district lines. They interpret Jones' early efforts as designed to safe-guard rural congressmen.

Under a fair plan, they said, Harris county should include four congressional districts, Dallas county three, and Bexar and Tarrant counties two each. Instead of the 11 districts to which the metropolitan counties are entitled, they argued, Jones has indicated only seven districts would be dominated by the bigger cities.

Appointments . . .

Gov. Preston Smith named Houston attorney Carl Illig to the Texas Water Development Board.

Smith selected for the Texas Tech University Board of Regents Bill E. Collins of Lubbock, Dr. John James Hinchey of San Antonio and Johnny Clinton Formby of Hereford.

Among other recent appointments announced by Smith were: John B. Turner Jr. of Houston to Texas Industrial Commission.

C. H. Coffield of Houston to Texas Conservation Foundation. Aubrey D. Voelkel of LaGrange, Roger Gilbert Zercher of Blanco, William C. Petri of Austin (reappointment) and Thomas C. Ferguson of Burnet (reappointment) to Lower Colorado River Authority Board.

Wright Matthews of Palestine (reappointment) to Upper Neches River Municipal Water Authority Board of Directors.

Local School Costs Set

Local school district share of the state's public education system cost in 1971-72 will be $245.1 million.

State Board of Education set the local fund assignment for the next school year at a meeting here last week. (March 1).

Assignment includes 20% of the foundation school program cost ($215.1 million), plus another $30 million in special credits earned by the districts during the past year.

Total cost—both state and local share—of the foundation school program for the 1970-71 school year is estimated at $1,075,634,247 (billion).

Professional and teacher aide salaries this year will cost $926.7 million; maintenance and operation of schools, $76.8 million; transportation, $26.8 million; Texas Education Agency administration, $2,093,000 and special programs, $7,082,000.

Many local school districts pay for additional services with local tax money and support salaries for their teachers higher than the minimum scale.

Crime Increasing Still

Major crime increased in 1970 by 5.1%, according to a report by Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Although Texas' crime trend remained up, Speir noted, the rate of increase was down from a 19.9% gain for the first six months of last year and compares with almost 16% for all 1969.

DPS director said there was a major crime every 1 1/4 minutes.

Crime rate jumped 4.8% in cities and 7.9% in rural areas. There was some decline in the crime rate (5.9%) for cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 population bracket. It was up 25.2% in 10,000-25,000 cities. In big cities, the rate increase was just 2.8%. Crime clearance rate rose slightly.

Better Budgeting Urged

In a new report, the Texas Research League recommended better budgeting and money management for the state.

Recommendations include a proposal that the governor become chairman of a new State Budget Commission which would include Legislative Budget Board members. A single staff would serve the Commission, and only a single budget would be presented to the Legislature. System envisions "budget execution" as part of the money management process.

Short Snorts . . .

House committee heard testimony on a bill to protect news reporters from having to reveal confidential sources of information. Senate committee killed a bill to authorize nine to three jury verdicts.

Testimony on the proposed penal code revision continued antagonistic.

Tax revenue from cigarette smokers increased from $12.8 million in February 1970 to $13.6 million last month.

Demonstrations On Lamb Cuts Set at Fair

Texas Department of Agriculture personnel will give demonstrations March 12 and 13 in the Women's Building at the San Angelo Livestock Show on how to select and prepare cuts of lamb and beef for maximum nutrition and enjoyment, Commissioner John C. White has announced.

The demonstrations on lamb, called "lamb-o-ramas," will be given at 12 noon and 3:00 p.m. Friday, March 12; and the "beef-o-ramas" will be given Saturday, March 13, at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Modern Way Food Stores and the Texas Department of Agriculture are co-sponsoring the demonstrations.

"We are happy to help sponsor these demonstrations in San Angelo in connection with this fine show," Commissioner White said, "for we want to remind housewives to ask for Texas lamb, not just any lamb, and for Texas beef, not just any beef, when they go to the food store."

Home economists, Patsy Kincaid and Judy Park, and meat specialist, Frank Brooks, will give the demonstrations. Mrs. Park and Marty Stults of San Angelo will appear on a program on KCTV Thursday, March 11, at 5:00 p.m. to discuss lamb and beef as nutritious foods and as they affect the economy of the area.

The demonstrations are a part of the Texas Department of Agriculture's continuing promotion of Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) in which all consumers are urged to support Texas agriculture by choosing Texas products as being "first in quality, economy, and availability."

In the TAP program, different Texas agricultural products are promoted at different times of the year. The promotions use about 400 billboards over the state; visits of Texas Agriculture Department personnel to 14,000 food stores over the state to place point-of-purchase posters and banners; direct mailings of about 1,500,000 pieces by utility and financial institutions with their statements; news releases to newspapers, radio and TV stations; and, of course, the demonstrations.

Stock Show & Rodeo Under Way In Angelo

San Angelo (Spl)—For the 38th year, the Capitol City of the Conchos will be host this week to thousands of their neighbors from throughout Southwest and West Texas as the annual San Angelo Stock Show and Rodeo opens Wednesday, March 10, for a five-day run.

The welcome banners have been flying over the city's streets for nearly a week as opening day approaches. Advance sales of rodeo tickets have soared as West Texas make their entertainment plans for the five-day show which will feature two of the nation's most outstanding Country and Western music stars. The popular Sonny James show seen by millions on national television will open Thursday, March 11, for three performances. Faron Young and His Country Deputies, long-popular entertainers on television and the stage, will perform March 13-14.

The livestock show, commercial exhibits, Quarter Horse Show, and the Women's Division will open Wednesday, March 10. Nearly 2,000 entries have been received in the livestock show competition and Women's Division workers have spent two weeks organizing thousands of entries that will be judged and exhibited in a spacious new building constructed this year at a cost of more than $25,000.

The show will have more commercial exhibits than ever before, with space hooked both outside and inside the sprawling show grounds. The giant Midway with its spectacular shows and rides will be in operation opening day and each day and night until Sunday, March 14. More and bigger rides are promised by officials of the Bill Hames Shows, operators of the Midway.

Friday, thousands of San Angeloans and their out-of-town neighbors will line the streets of the downtown area to see one of the biggest rodeo parades ever held here. More than 25 mounted riding groups, a dozen bands, floats, girls drill teams, clowns and antique cars will be viewed starting at 10:00 a.m. Parade route will be along Chadbourne Street to Beauregard and hence to Bryant Thruway South.

The 250 contestants began arriving in San Angelo early this week as many were coming direct from the giant Astrodome Rodeo just concluded in Houston. Rodeo stock from the Harry Knight Rodeo Co. started moving into the rodeo grounds over the week end.

"We have done our very best to arrange one of the finest shows ever staged here," said stock show president Clovis Olsak. "We anxiously look forward to seeking and visiting with our many out-of-town visitors and we sincerely hope they will have a wonderful time and an enjoyable stay in San Angelo."

LIVING WALLS

BY NANCY BRADY

BEDROOMS

A narrow, uninspiring room six feet, six inches wide (left) was transformed into a functional bedroom for a teenager (right) with the help of the Wallcovering Industry Bureau. Bright colors are liberally mixed with white in wallcovering. Module chests alternated colors in drawers and pulls in white and green repeat the fresh green vinyl wallcovering. Removable framed mesh panels now hide the ugly water pipe and a fiberglass ceiling brings it to the proper height for the room. A matching fabric glamorizes the floor-to-ceiling posts of a canopied bed. A new wash basin has a laminated cabinet that matches the wallcovering.

A masculine and a feminine temperament can seldom agree on the subject of a wallcovering pattern for a mutual bedroom background, but they can generally decide on colors they both like, and find stripes and textures in wallcovering in that color range which will please both of them.

Master bedrooms should strive for a tailored look, with valances over the windows, ample draperies, and simple but comfortable furniture. Serenity and comfort might be the watchwords, and a fireplace—that works!—is to be prized.

In a large bedroom there may even be "his" and "her" sections, furnished accordingly, although the best solution is to have separate dressing-rooms in which the background and appointments can differ from the bedroom proper, to the degree that they are isolated.

Children? From infancy the individuality of a child ought to be respected. Psychologists now believe that tiny children enjoy bright primary colors as well as pastels and merchandise for the nursery suggests this. One thing is certain, their response to animal motifs is unmistakable. Since babies and toddlers spend so much time in bed, decorated borders around a room at a level where they can be seen should help keep them entertained. Scrubbable vinyls relieve the worry factor in all-over-the-wall use. Strippables make it simple to remove and replace when childish motifs are outgrown.

The principal factor in a room that may signify the girl's or boy's age may be the wallcovering. Every year or so this may reflect his or her changing taste. Children outgrow a background as they do their clothes. Happily, by the time they are teenagers they should be able to select their own patterns and, what's more, apply them. Prepacked papers and strippable wallcovering should be investigated with this in view.

Interim vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies due to expiration of a full term, but only for the unexpired portion of the term in question. The membership shall designate one of its members to serve as chairman for a period of two (2) years.

"(3) The members of the commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

"(4) The commission shall recommend the compensation, per diem, and mileage allowance of members of the Legislature, and may recommend the salary of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Lieutenant Governor at an amount higher than that of other members notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary of Article IV, Section 17, of the Texas Constitution.

"(5) The commission shall promulgate rules of ethics to govern the conduct of all legislators, legislative officers and all officeholders, appointive or elective, of any office, department, district agency, commission, board or any governmental unit or branch established by or under the authority of the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and all persons who shall use any privilege of the floor in either House of the Legislature. The Texas State Ethics Commission shall further promulgate rules providing that each member of the Legislature and each of the hereinabove named officeholders upon election and any appointee to any of these offices shall file with the State Ethics Commission a statement under oath setting out a complete financial statement in detail within 10 days after being elected or receiving an appointment. This information shall be privileged information to the State Ethics Commission to be used only by them to determine if there exists a conflict of interests or if there is or has been a violation of any of the rules of ethics promulgated by the Texas State Ethics Commission or any laws of the State of Texas. The Legislature shall enact statutes dealing with unauthorized disclosure or misuse of said privileged information.

"(6) The commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet in Austin at least once each year to review existing rules of ethics, Legislative compensation rates, mileage allowances and per diem rates, and to make any changes deemed necessary.

"(7) All rules of ethics, compensation rates, mileage allowances or per diem rates currently in force, as well as all changes and recommendations by the State Ethics Commission shall be promulgated before the convening of any session of the Legislature by filing a certified copy of the proclamation with the Secretary of State.

"(a) Each rule of ethics or change thereof made by the commission shall take effect on the 15th day of the legislative session following the proclamation unless disapproved before that day by resolution of either House of the Legislature.

"(b) All rates of compensation, mileage allowances or per diem rates and all changes and recommendations made by the commission thereof shall not take effect until approved section by section by resolution of both Houses of the Legislature.

"All votes on these resolutions or parts thereof shall show the individual votes in the respective journals of both Houses.

"(8) The commission shall investigate any alleged violation of any rule of ethics promulgated by it and report its findings to the appropriate State agency, official, legislative body, grand jury or district attorney.

"(9) Until otherwise provided by the commission, each member of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury an annual salary of Four Thousand, Eight Hundred Dollars ($4,800) per year and per diem not exceeding Twelve Dollars ($12) per day for the first 120 days only of each Regular Session and for 30 days of each Special Session of the Legislature. No Regular Session shall be of longer duration than 140 days. In addition to the per diem, the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five (25) miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel, from a table of distances prepared by the Comptroller to each county seat now or hereafter established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of the Regular or Called session.

"(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 18th day of May, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to create a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the Legislature, State officers and legislative officers, to investigate violations thereof, and to recommend compensation for members of the Legislature and the Lieutenant Governor and recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process."
