Barfield Announces For County Attorney

Danny Barfield has announced for County Attorney of Schleicher county, and as he entered the race he submitted the following statement for consideration of local voters:

"To The Citizens of Schleicher County:

"In announcing my candidacy for the office of County Attorney of Schleicher County I wish to express my desire and continued willingness to work for the growth and expansion of our community.

"The Constitution of our State sets out the qualifications for those seeking the office of County Attorney. These are that he be a licensed attorney and be a resident of the County in which he is seeking to be elected. I graduated from the University of Texas Law School in January 1968, and was licensed to practice in that same year. I moved my wife Diane and family to Eldorado in 1969, and since arriving here I have been instrumental in the formation of the Schleicher County Industrial Foundation, a member of the Board of Directors of the Foundation, member of the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce, member of the Schleicher County Emergency Corps, and active in the formation of the Plateau Underground Water Conservation and Supply District. Prior to moving to Eldorado I was engaged in the Practice of law on the Gulf Coast with a primary specialty in land transactions, but with a heavy case load of criminal defense work.

"The post of County Attorney carries with it the duties and responsibilities of providing representation for the citizens of this County in all criminal prosecutions and additionally the duty to act as an advisor in legal matters to other elected county officials when requested. I feel that my training and background make me professionally competent to perform these duties and I actively solicit your support and votes in the May Democratic Primary.

"If I have not had the opportunity to meet you I plan to do so during the campaign, and when you are in town please stop by the offices of Barfield and Steele for a cup of coffee and an exchange of ideas on our County Government."

—Danny R. Barfield

Now We're Back In Nugent's District

JIM NUGENT

Due to changes in the state's legislative districts, Schleicher county finds itself again in the district of Jim Nugent of Kerrville, instead of the district presided over by Hilary Doran.

Nugent was our state representative until a few years ago before the districts made a previous change. He is well known here and was here just last week when he appeared at a Lions Club meeting.

Mr. Doran was not pushed out by the recent change. His district was enlarged by some more counties farther west and down the river from Del Rio, his home.

Both of these men have served us well in the State Legislature.

Nugent's newly aligned district Representative district is designated as the 56th, and consists of Gillespie, Kerr, Kimble, Llano, Mason, Menard, Real, San Saba, Schleicher, and Uvalde counties.

Sheriff Is The Only Unopposed Local Incumbent

ORVAL EDMISTON

With passing of the filing deadline at 6:00 p.m. Monday for candidates to get on the Democratic Primary ballot, Orval N. Edmiston, Schleicher County Sheriff and Tax Assessor Collector, emerged as the only unopposed local incumbent.

On higher levels, those who will appear on the ballot May 6th without opposition include Pete Snelson, state senator; Jim Nugent, state representative; Ovie Clark Fisher, Congressman; Earl Smith, district judge; Frank Dicky, district attorney; although one or two of the foregoing will have Republican opponents on the General Election ballot in November.

Gin Report

Even with one of the smallest cotton crops in years, ginning keeps lingering along a few bales at a time according to Gin Manager Kenneth Homer.

Last Friday they ginned 5 bales making a total of 529. He said there were about 4 bales on the yard and they were waiting for more to arrive to amount to a day's work.

As of Monday night he guessed that maybe another 20 bales could come in—from somewhere.

Post Script

In January these candidates announced for re-election; Edmiston for sheriff, Kinser for commissioner in precinct one, and Joe Christian for commissioner in precinct three.

There the matter stood for almost three weeks.

At the drug store coffee bar patrons were complaining, "What kind of an election is this going to be? What's the use of voting if there is no competition?"

Then February came and the filing deadline was approaching and suddenly the roof fell in.

Last week Weatherly Kinser, incumbent commissioner in Precinct One, was provided with two opponents—Thomas Richard Jones and E. C. (Pete) Peters.

In Precinct Three incumbent Joe Christian found himself with two opponents—Hollis McCormick and Robert Bradley.

In addition to that, during the past week end, we have the announcement of Danny Barfield (in this paper) in which he is running for the office of County Attorney in opposition to incumbent T. P. Robinson, who has held the post unopposed for about 20 years.

So now the Democratic Primary on May 6th takes on new interest with voters having choices.

The above notes were written Monday morning, but additional candidates had until 6:00 p.m. Monday, Feb. 7th, to announce with County Chairman Dick Preston.

The local political pot boiled again late Monday afternoon as County Democratic Chairman Dick Preston announced two new entrants in Commissioner races:

W. O. (Whip) Faull filed as a candidate in Precinct One.

And—Nick Robledo Jr. filed as a candidate in Precinct Three.

Between now and May 7th, there will be three local elections on Saturday, April 1st. These will be for:

Three city aldermen—
For School District trustees, and
For three Hospital District trustees.

These are all for non-paying jobs but sometimes they generate competition.

On another page appears a notice of the forthcoming city election for aldermen. It gives the names of the three aldermen whose terms expire and gives the final date for announcing.

The school board and the Hospital district each should have a public announcement of their impending elections in the near future.

More about this later.

Buy Girl Scout Cookies

Good salesmanship has always been an important facet of American financial life. So the next time you are sold a box of cookies by an eager green-clad youngster, take a moment to reflect.

That Girl Scout, as part of the largest voluntary sales force in the country, is not in the fundraising business for Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. What she is doing is selling a valuable means to a necessary end. She is earning some of the funds for her own troop's activities which may encompass a wide range of projects. At the same time, she is learning intelligent money management, its use, and the whys of budgets.

Each time you take a bite of the tasty, quality cookie, you are contributing in part to a special way of life here in our community. Proceeds are used to help local girls participate in special Girl Scout opportunities; give direct services to girls; purchase equipment and property in their behalf; and provide for camperships. Every penny earned by these sales remains in the Girl Scout council in which it is raised.

The boxes of cookies are just $1 each, for the big family size. There are five flavors of cookies: peanut butter, mint, assorted sandwich, butter flavored shorties, and pecanettes.

Eldorado currently has 68 girls and 12 adults registered in the Girl Scout and Brownie programs. Mrs. Barbara Rieken has been elected District IV chairman. This covers Eldorado, Ozona, Big Lake, and Sonora.

W. O. Faull Out For Commissioner Of Precinct No. 1

W. O. (Whip) Faull, lifelong farmer and veteran of W. W. 2, filed before the deadline Monday and authorized the Success to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct One, thus making the fourth entry in that race.

Mr. Faull arrived in Schleicher county in 1920 with his parents at the age of six. He attended the county schools, and in January, 1941, entered military service, spending four years and 7 months in the 36th Division.

He returned home in August of 1945 and about two years later was married to Gladys Daniels. Farming has been his life work.

"I think I understand the needs of the county about as well as anyone," declared Mr. Faull, "and I expect to see everyone in Precinct One before election day."

Eaglettes Winners Of District Crown

The Eaglettes won District 9-A Tuesday evening by defeating the Bangs team 68-22.

The local girls will play Forsan Thursday night in Robert Lee, and will advance to bi-district action Tuesday evening at 7:30 when they play Dublin in Brady.

Loretta Schooley paced the victory with 23 points, while Eason led the losers with 12.

The boys lost 37 to 44 to Bangs. During half-times of the games the 4th, 5th and 6th grade girls and boys demonstrated basketball.

Fisher Draws Two Demo. Opponents

U. S. Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo will face two San Antonio men in his bid for re-election as the Democratic candidate from this Congressional District in the May 6 primary election.

Filing in Bexar county late Monday were Norman Schafer, 40, and Lionel "Rock" Wayne, 50.

Schafer is a restaurant operator in San Antonio. Wayne is an artist and college student.

Schafer ran for Precinct 3 Bexar County Commission post in 1968, but was eliminated in the primaries.

A veteran, Wayne has been an unsuccessful candidate in the past for several Bexar County and San Antonio city posts.

Bad Weather Can Be Hard On Carpeting

College Station, Tex.—With the bad weather that accompanies the winter season, new carpet may take quite a beating.

"If sand and gravel are a problem, try placing an area rug with a soft backing on the carpet area that gets the most traffic," suggested Pat Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University. "Better yet, check your landscaping. Grass, a paved walk and door mat can all help keep sand, mud and gravel outdoors."

To protect your investment in new carpeting, Miss Bradshaw also pointed out that crushing may be avoided by using furniture glides under legs of heavy furniture. Furniture may also be shifted a few inches to keep the weight from being concentrated in the same place.

When tufts are crushed, vacuuming may bring them back up. Miss Bradshaw also recommended brushing tufts with a small stiff brush. "Dampen the brush with warm water and lift tufts gently. For shags, brush tufts in the same direction with a plastic or wooden shag rake.

Expect new carpet to fluff or shed, Miss Bradshaw said. "Excess fiber may take six months to come to the surface. Fluff doesn't affect the life or quality of your carpet. It may be removed by vacuuming. "Also, be prepared for sprouting tufts caused by a sharp object such as a shoe nail. Never try to pull out the carpet tuft because other tufts will come with it. Use scissors to clip the tuft even with the rest of the carpet."

Pieces of coarse-backed carpeting shouldn't be used on top of carpeting. "Your carpet may wear out faster," the specialist said. "Save the labels on your new carpeting. If tufts must be replaced or tape bindings are required later, your carpet repairman and dealer will need this information."

HELEN CARLMAN
Memorial Chmn. Schleicher County

Austin, Tex.—New guidelines for conduct of the state's first publicly-financed primary elections are due to reach local election officials this week.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, as chief Texas election officer, drafted the rules in line with a federal court amendment to the decision outlawing filing fees as proposed in a 1971 law. Bullock interpreted the latest order as authorizing the state to foot the bill for primary election costs. He said an earlier opinion permitted use of nominal filing fees to regulate length of the ballot but not as a revenue-raising device placing a wealth requirement on candidacy.

The chief election officer ordered this mandatory filing fee schedule for both Democratic and Republican candidates (or an alternative nominating petition signed by qualified voters):

Statewide offices, $400; U. S. representative, $300; state senator, $150; state representative, $100; chief justice or associate justice, court of civil appeals, $100; member state board of education, $50; district judge of any court having district office status, $100; district attorney or criminal district attorney, $100; all county offices except county surveyor or inspector of hides and animals, $100; inspector of hides and animals, $50; county commissioner, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties above 200,000 population, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties under 200,000, $25; all party offices, no fee.

Fees must be paid in full by February 28. In lieu of filing fees, candidates may elect to file petitions by a March 6 deadline. For statewide offices, 2,500 signatures are necessary. For other offices, signatures urging candidacy must be equal in number to at least 2% of the entire vote cast for a party's gubernatorial candidate in the last general election for the territory served—or at least 25 and no more than 300 signers.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has stated he will ask an attorney general's opinion on legality of Bullock's proposal to finance May and June primaries with funds transferred from another state appropriation. Gov. Preston Smith applauded the plan and said he will direct the necessary transfer.

Allowable Goes Up

The February oil allowable has been pushed up another 4.1% in answer to demands for more production.

Texas Railroad Commission set the allowable at 75.8% the week following after announcing it would be 71.7%.

Chairman Byron Tunnell said several Texas refineries insisted they could not get enough crude oil to meet demands for February if the allowable were set at the 71.7% factor.

The allowable has been raised for three straight months, and the new, adjusted February mark is the highest since a 77.2% factor last May.

Tunnell said requests amount to a firm demand for an additional 76,000 barrels of crude oil a day for the month. The new allowable will permit an extra 75,717 barrels a day.

Texas crude stocks January 21 came to 90,994,000 barrels, down 18.3 million from the same time in 1971.

Water Bonds Sold

Texas Water Development Board sold $25 million in water development bonds at an effective interest rate of 4.6831.

A syndicate headed by First National Bank of Dallas made the purchase.

Sale of the bonds increased the Board's statutory lending rate from 3.77207% to 3.95873%. Thus, governmental units borrowing money from the Board for water supply project construction will pay a higher interest rate for their loan. Bidding was close on the sale. Six bids overall were received.

Colorado Basin Plan Ordered

A water quality cleanup plan for the Colorado River Basin must be completed by local, state and federal authorities by July, 1973, to meet a federal requirement for loans.

Cities of Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Brownwood and Austin may be affected by the decision for years to come. A U.S. House resolution directed federal engineers to review reports on the Colorado and tributaries and compile the study of a 54-county basin including 890 river miles.

Efforts will be made to define areas generating most pollutants and to propose basinwide approaches to correcting problems.

Courts Speak

Policemen relying on first-time informers for information should have to identify them sufficiently to prove reliability before search warrants are issued, the Court of Criminal Appeals held.

Texas Supreme Court admitted that fine print technicalities in an insurance policy caused an apparent injustice, but concluded that changes should be made by the Insurance Board or legislature rather than judges.

A faulty search warrant based on hearsay resulted in reversal by the Court of Criminal Appeals of a four-year sentence of a former University of Texas professor on marijuana possession charges.

Single Member Districts

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin strongly criticized a January 28 federal court ruling ordering single-member districts for Bexar and Dallas counties.

Martin contends the decision is wrong and that the U. S. Supreme Court may reverse it on appeal.

Meanwhile, he asked the highest court to delay effect of the order for 1972 elections. If it is made effective immediately, Martin concluded, re-registration may be necessary for 400,000 Dallas and 224,000 Bexar County voters in line with altered voting precinct lines.

The three-judge federal court ordered 11 individual House districts in Bexar and 18 such districts of about 74,000 each of Dallas. Other districts drawn by a state legislative redistricting board last October were left intact, for this year's voting, although the legislature was directed to redraw all of them by July 1, 1973.

Anti-Income Tax Group Revives

An anti-income tax group of prominent Texans Wednesday announced plans to push for state governmental economies to head off "substantial new taxes" this year.

Texas Association of Taxpayers, which helped defeat a corporate income tax in 1971, is seeking to expand its membership base of 5,500 before the 1972 special legislative session.

Principal objective, said Chairman Tom Sealy of Midland, is first to "encourage every possible economy that will put a lid on spending."

South Texas Plan Launched

Governor Smith announced initiation of a plan aimed at improving job opportunities, living conditions and governmental services in a vast 60-county area of South Texas.

Ideas for bettering the quality of life in South Texas involve largely the attraction of industries to the area and improved training of manpower for vocational skills.

"This may well be one of the most significant proposals to come out of my office since I have been governor," Smith said.

The area covered by the plan would extend from Val Verde county on the west to Refugio county on the east, as far north as Gillespie and Comal counties and south to the Rio Grande. Poverty incidence in the area, said Smith, is 35% compared to the statewide figure of 21.5%.

Attorney General's Opinions

State funds may be used by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to meet new federal requirements that qualified residents and businesses receive financial aid when they are uprooted by state-federal land acquisition, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

—Persons licensed by the Texas Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing Hearing Aids can lose their license for violating professional standards in out-of-state dealings.

—A person convicted of DWI subsequent offense is subject to having his license automatically suspended even when the sentence is probated.

Short Snorts . . .

A state appeal from a federal court decision that illiterate voters must get aid at the polls was withdrawn at the governor's demand.

H. P. Guerra II of Rio Grande City was named to the Finance Commission of Texas.

New state highway maps are now available, and Highway Department tourist bureaus reported a 16% increase in travel services for 1971.

County Democratic Chairmen are to hold an organization meeting here Saturday, Feb. 12.

Democrats are feuding over adoption of required new party rules for conventions and conduct of business.

An application has been filed to charter a new American (State) Bank at Odessa.

Teachers finally got their three-months' retroactive pay raises cleared.

The personal income index rose 8% in Texas last year.

MOVE TO UVALDE

Mr. and Mrs. John Hannes left last Thursday for Uvalde where they will make their future home. Their mailing address there will be: 1021 North Park Street.

For the past several years Mr. Hannes has been associated with Ford Oglesby Jr. in organizing the Plateau Wool and Mohair Co., a new process designed specially for spinning and marketing mohair. They spent the past two years selling the idea to investors, raising capital and ordering specially-made machinery from foreign sources.

The project has now advanced to such a point that Mr. Hannes' presence is demanded at Uvalde, where the plant will be located.

Hannes was earlier associated here in the woolen mill.

Williams For Congress

design, Williams explained, "In my life, I've had two heroes — Will Rogers and Harry Truman. I hope to follow in their foot steps in meeting everybody with friendliness, honesty, and common sense." Williams smilingly said that he now knows how Harry Truman felt in 1948: "All the pros have told me that I can't possibly win and am foolhardy even to file. I think their talk will change when they see what I can do 19 hours a day, six days a week, for 9 long months."

When asked if the Republicans had recruited him to run for Congress, Williams explained: "No, not really, but they sure have fallen over themselves to be helpful to a 'new man come to town.' Running for Congress is strictly my idea." In 1963 Williams served as Administrative Assistant to Wm. S. Davis, first Republican representative from Midland County to the Texas State House of Representatives.

Williams is a member of the Texas Bar Association, a lifetime member of the Texas State Teacher's Association, and a member of honorary legal and educational fraternities. He was elected to The Texas Law Review while attending Law School.

Already Campaigning

Williams visited recently in San Angelo at the start of his campaign and touched on several aspects of the coming months. He said he is fed up with what he calls the "Three L Disease" of public officials: lack of integrity, laziness on the job and lying to the public.

Williams said he had no ill feeling toward Rep. Fisher, the 30-year incumbent. "I think Congressman Fisher has served an honorable career in the office. He came to the job at the beginning of World War II shortly after Pearl Harbor. I was in the sixth grade when he was elected. I've liked him. My parents have liked him," he said.

"I also believe, however, that there is no reason why we must kill a man by forcing him to stay in Congress until he dies. He is entitled to use the annual $30,000 retirement salary he will receive for the rest of his life if he loses this race. He is entitled to go back to that ranch in Junction as an honored statesman.

"I believe our so-called system of seniority drives men to feel compelled to stay in office well beyond their age of effectiveness. I do not believe that is a fair system."

Williams said he believes the system retains men in government beyond the time they themselves like to retire. "People that live in the district have to start thinking about who is going to be their next congressman. If I were 70, I'd be thinking about that myself."

Williams also said, "I feel it appropriate for me to make four obligations to the voters of the district. I shall be publicly repeating these obligations in every precinct in all 30 counties for the next nine months."

The four "obligations" include the belief that the "American people have a right to vote on the anti-busing amendment. That may well be the most critical vote of this century," he said.

He also said the 14th amendment to the federal Constitution must be amended so that school affairs, quality of education and method of taxation are no longer a federal issue or a proper matter of federal jurisdiction. Otherwise, we shall have a federal education system within 10 years.

Williams also said he expects to make himself responsible to the needs of the cattle, wool, and mohair industry because in 29 of the district's 30 counties, those combine to make the major livelihood of men who first built West Texas."

His final "obligation," he said, "is to make himself responsible to the needs of the oil and gas industry as it exists in West Texas."

Cites Population Losses

Williams said the last census showed 18 of the district's 30 counties shrinking badly. "Some people might think this is the normal routine of urban movement. I don't feel that comfortable about it. I think some things are lacking. A district's economic health is partly reflected in the energy and attention to business by a congressman. I think a district's congressman becomes its economic salesman."

Moisture conditions for the '72 crop year are good at the present time in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District. Throughout the District farmers have found fields almost too wet to begin seedbed preparation. However, where winter small grain is planted more moisture is already needed to replenish moisture used by the crop.

More moisture will be needed from rainfall or irrigation wells to assure the very best moisture condition at planting time. The right management of rainfall or irrigation water will help assure ample moisture to supply the needs of crops, throughout the entire crop year.

Without any doubt water will again be one of the most important factors affecting crop yields in 1972. Whether it is water received from rainfall or irrigation supply, how it is managed will also affect crop yields. The right management of water available can help assure the maximum potential yields.

Irrigation water management is becoming more and more important as the demands on our water supplies increase. When irrigation water is used properly the crops being irrigated receive maximum benefit and water is not wasted.

Irrigation before crops are planted to fill the soil to full field capacity is one of the most important irrigations applied. Pre-planting irrigation can store water in the root zone depth that can be used by crops through the entire time the crop is being grown. Fields with the moisture content at or near full field capacity, when planted can eliminate the need of irrigating while plants are small. Also, weed control can be carried out without the hindrance of wet land.

The need and importance of any irrigation needed by crops being grown should not be minimized. If the maximum potential yield is to be attained crops must have all the moisture needed from planting time until they are made. To accomplish this, irrigation water must be applied when needed and in the amount needed.

Irrigation water management should be a must with each irrigation farmer in the district. Irrigation water management is the use and management of irrigation water, where the quantity of water used for each irrigation is determined by the moisture holding capacity of the soil and the need of the crop. Where the water is applied at a rate and in such a manner that the crops can use it efficiently, and significantly erosion does not occur. Also, includes the timing of irrigations to meet crop needs, the control and adjustment of stream sizes to prevent erosion, and the control of lengths of "set" to minimize water losses.

The purpose of water management is to accomplish efficient beneficial use of irrigation water according to the moisture needs of the crop to achieve optimum production while minimizing loss of soil and plant nutrients.

Ample irrigation water assures farmers that adequate water is available for crop needs. However, when farmers change from dry land farming to irrigation farming, they are confronted with new problems brought about by irrigation. Irrigation increases the cost of producing crops, therefore wise farmers use good farming practices to increase crop yields to pay for added expense and still leave a good profit. The use of good farming practices, including the application and maintenance of needed soil and water conservation practices is essential in attaining and maintaining maximum yields.

Investment Tax Credit Restored

College Station, Texas.—Investment tax credit is back. Farmers, ranchers and businessmen can claim a 7% investment tax credit on their 1971 tax returns for qualifying property. Such property must have been ordered and acquired after March 31, 1971, or acquired after August 15, regardless of when ordered, explains Dr. James I. Mallett, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Investment credit also applies to property where construction or reconstruction was begun after March 31 or was completed after August 15, regardless of when begun. If construction was begun before April 1, only costs attributed to the period after August 15 apply, explains Mallett.

Investment credit must be taken the year the property is placed in service and cannot exceed your tax liability, says the economist. If the tax liability is greater than $25,000, the limit is $25,000 plus one half of the tax liability in excess of $25,000. Unused credits can be carried back three years and then forward seven years.

The amount of investment credit on each asset depends on its useful life. This must be the same for computing both investment credit and depreciation. One-third of the investment qualifies for tax credit if the useful life is three years but less than five; two-thirds, if five years but less than seven; and 100%, if seven years or more. There is a $50,000 limitation on investments in used property eligible for credit.

Property qualifying for investment tax credit must be depreciable, points out Mallett. It includes tangible personal business property such as machinery, office equipment, trucks, autos and, for the first time, livestock (except horses), elevators and escalators. Tangible real property tied closely to production is also included, such as fences, silos, grain bins, hay barns and fuel storage tanks. Any buildings not used strictly for storage do not qualify.

Tax laws prevent the creation of artificial credits by disposing of raised or non-recapture depreciable livestock and then acquiring substantially similar livestock. The cost of substantially identical livestock acquired within one year beginning six months before the original livestock was sold is reduced by the sale value.

The business percentage of property used for both business and personal purposes is also eligible for investment credit, adds Mallett.

Foreign-made equipment is not eligible for tax credit unless it was ordered between April 1 and August 15 last year. This includes all property completed outside the United States and property completed in this country if less than 50% of the cost is attributable to value added inside the U. S.

The economist explains that if investment credit property is disposed earlier than its estimated life, the credit must be recomputed. Any credit for which the actual holding period does not qualify must be paid back.

Voter Registration Did Not End January 31st

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said recently that despite some newspaper articles and radio bulletins to the contrary, voter registration did not end on Jan. 31.
 Secretary Bullock said, "I am aware of at least two newspaper articles and several radio announcements which stated that January 31 was the last day for voter registration. Apparently there is some confusion about the new voter registration law passed by the last legislature. Under the new law, voters can register any time during the year. However, persons must register at least 30 days prior to an election, to be able to vote in that election."
 Bullock stated that his office was mailing a reminder of the new voter registration law to all County Tax Assessor-Collectors.

Williams Announces For Congress

A New Braunfels resident, J. P. Williams, Jr., announced last Wednesday his filing for the office of U. S. Representative, 21st District, a seat now held by Democrat O. C. Fisher.

Williams, age 43, will seek the Republican nomination in the party primary scheduled for May 6th. If nominated, he will oppose the Democrat nominee in the November general election.

Born and educated in San Angelo, Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, Sr., a drilling contractor in the boom days of West Texas oil development. Both parents, now retired, still reside in San Angelo. While attending the University of Texas Law School, Williams married the former Audrey Wick of San Angelo. The couple have three children, Pete III, 19, Hardy, 17, and Nina Kay, 15. The family now resides in New Braunfels.

Williams practiced law in McCamey, Texas, for five years and then closed his office in order to enter the teaching profession in Del Rio, Texas. Both Williams and his wife have been employed in teaching, counseling, and administrative positions in the San Antonio and Austin areas since 1960. Williams called attention to the fact that he has lived and worked in all four corners of the 21st District.

Williams explained that he has organized a staff of five full time assistants, 100 volunteer workers, a print shop, and a four vehicle campaign caravan (including a mobile headquarters and bus) which will actively canvass every precinct in the vast 30 county district.

"We're geared up for a nine month 'sunrise to midnight' type of campaign," the candidate stated.

Williams' eldest son, Pete III, has withdrawn from Sam Houston State University and will actively campaign at his father's side until the general election in November. The whole family will join the campaign during the summer months.

Luau Kabobs - Great New Barbecue Treat

Tired of charcoaled steaks and hamburgers? Spark your outdoor cooking this summer with a new idea from the grill. Luau Kabobs, a unique and appetizing dish, are sure to please your family and friends.

This unusual relative of the shish kabob features ham chunks, green pepper and pineapple basted in a sweet and tangy mustard sauce. They are simple to prepare, and may be cooked outdoors on the barbecue grill, or broiled in the kitchen. Either way these tempting kabobs are a delicious new flavor treat.

Serve "Luau Kabobs" on a bed of saffron rice with a tossed green salad and warm crusty bread. Coconut cake and coffee offer a fine finish to this satisfying meal.

Luau Kabobs

- 1 1-lb. fully cooked ham steak
- 1 green pepper
- 1 can (1 1/2 oz.) pineapple chunks
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 6 Tbs. Gulden's Spicy Brown Mustard
- 2 Tbs. soy sauce

Cut ham and green pepper in 3/4" squares. Drain pineapple. Alternate ham, green pepper, and pineapple chunks on skewers. Combine remaining ingredients; blend well. Brush ham kabobs thoroughly with mustard sauce. Cook on grill, (or broil) several inches from the heat 15-20 minutes. Turn kabobs several times during cooking and baste with additional sauce. Makes 4-6 kabobs.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By The Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado

America On Its Knees

There are no less than 66 notable prayers in our Bible. Abijah's army prayed for victory, 2 Chr. 13:14. Abraham prayed for his son. Gen. 15:1-8. In the book of Acts of The New Testament we find the Church at Jerusalem prayed for guidance and protection. Elijah, 1 Kings 18, prayed for triumph over Baal. In Judges we read where Gideon prayed for proof of his call. The suggested number of prayers nor the selected prayers in reference, include the Prayers of our Savior. The Lord's Prayer is the greatest of them all.

In our modern day men are still praying in faith and with hope. And maybe each of us can be encouraged by the words taken from the address by Conrad N. Hilton, entitled, "The Battle For Peace." This address was given about 20 years ago. Let us see if these words say anything for us today:

"Our Father in Heaven: We pray that You save us from ourselves. The world that You made for us, to live in peace, we have made into an armed camp. We live in fear of war to come. We are afraid of the terror that flies by night, and the arrow that flies by day, the pestilence that walks in darkness and the destruction that wastes at noon-day. We have turned from You to go our selfish way. We have broken Your commandments and denied Your truth. We have left Your altars to serve the false gods of money and pleasure and power. Forgive us and help us. Now, darkness gathers around us and we are confused in all our counsels. Losing faith in You, we lose faith in ourselves. Inspire us with wisdom, all of us of every color, race, and creed, to use our wealth, our strength to help our brother instead of destroying him. Help us to do Your Will as it is done in Heaven and to be worthy of Your promise of peace on earth. Fill us with new faith, new strength, and new courage, that we may win the Battle for peace. Be swift to save us, Dear God, before the darkness falls."

Mr. C. N. Hilton said something before he offered these words. Quote. "America is not beaten there (to her knees), by the hammer and sickle, but freely, intelligently, responsibly, confidently, powerfully. America now knows it can destroy communism and win the battle for peace. We need fear nothing or no one... except God."

Let us fear God enough to humble ourselves before Him. Seek to serve God and make Him the winner. Why should we strive to battle so hard for self. God allows nothing from this world to follow us, but the judgment we prepare to meet will be the greetings of our tomorrow.

Prayer to man is strength, it is comfort, it is a pleasure and a privilege to have a God to pray unto and know that He will hear. Make prayer a daily habit and a part of your life. As Dr. Weber has said so many times: "God is still on His Throne and Prayer changes things."

do cats laugh?

We don't mean to offend any cat-lover, but we don't believe cats laugh.

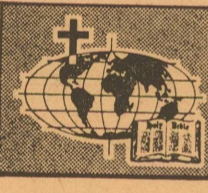

Laughter is a muscular response to appreciated humor. And we're inclined to view humor as one of those high-level responses which are characteristic in humans only. And thank the Lord for humor. Without laughter this would be a sorry world.

Religion is another human characteristic not evident in animals. Our belief in and worship of God, coupled with our conscientious effort to live according to moral principles—these are not found in the animal world.

Whether cats laugh is not a question of great moment. But whether man is living up to the religious capacity God has given him is another matter. Our awakening to our spiritual potential is a great moment!

Food Specials Cut Down Grocery Bill

College Station, Tex.—“Do you take advantage of the advertised food specials? You can save money on your food budget this way,” said Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Clyatt said to check meat counters this week for good beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, stew meat, ground beef and beef liver.

“Most markets will feature one or more cuts at special prices so look over the offerings carefully before making any choice,” she advised.

This week's values also include hams, ham portions, end-cut loin roasts and chops and shoulder steaks. Fryer chickens are an excellent meat choice, she noted.

“Two eggs supply satisfactory protein in lieu of meat. Buying and serving more eggs could result in a savings worthy of your consideration,” Mrs. Clyatt said. “Grade A large eggs offer the best combination of quality and economy for your money.”

“In general, the best values on the vegetable counter will be green cabbage, split peas, potatoes, bulk turnips, carrots, bell peppers, dry yellow onions and rutabagas. Broccoli, eggplant, sweet potatoes and cauliflower remain moderate in price.”

Apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas, pears, tangerines and tangelos dominate the fruit counter.

Forage Outlook Bright For Texas

College Station, Texas.—National authorities on forage production feel that Texas and other southern states have a bright future. They formed this opinion at a recent conference of the American Forage and Grassland Conference in Louisville, Kentucky.

Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, attended the conference. He agrees with the outlook on forage production.

“The American public is consuming more and more beef each year. Since forage is marketed thru beef cows or dairy cows, this additional market potential spells profit for top forage producers.”

“In Texas, forage producers need to take advantage of their opportunities,” says Pratt. Soil and climatic conditions are favorable for long growing seasons in most of the state. High quality and high producing grasses are available for growing large tonnages of good quality forage. Plant food is readily available and inexpensive for providing good-quality grazing.

Good quality forage can also be produced in other sections of the nation but higher investments are required for harvesting, storing and feeding. In Texas long growing seasons and adapted winter forages provide producers with considerable opportunities for improving pasture profit, contends the agronomist. In addition to profits from stocker calves on winter pastures, forage producers over much of the state have opportunities for profitable cow-calf production on limited winter pastures.

Organizational meeting will be held Feb. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Memorial Bldg.

If you have been having predator problems or feel that the problem is in the near future, now is the time to join the trapping club. Only club members will receive the usage of the trapper that is to be hired.

Grain Marketing In The Future

Wheat (HRW) is enjoying a steady demand. The 1971 crop reports excellent quality. While export shipments are off from last year (first six month period), domestic disappearance remains stable. Cash market prices to producers during 1971 hit a peak at harvest, then declined and has now regained strength. Barring any major disruption, continued upswing in cash price to slightly more than offset storage insurance and interest costs can be expected until new crop becomes available.

Grain Sorghum markets continue steady on demand basis. Stocks are not excessive, but demand is influenced by the huge corn crop. Exports are off sharply, with some relief when the dock strike is settled. Domestic use remains steady—with the major feeding area buying on demand basis. Changes in the 1972 feed grains program will influence production for the coming year.

Longer-Run Future

The grain marketing climate will be shaped by more active producer group participation. Along with government assistance, producers will attempt to more closely manage supplies with demand patterns. The current administration has gone on record for freer market movements with less government participation.

Expect greater interest in improved marketing tools and techniques. Greater use of forward contracting as a marketing tool will emerge, along with increased use of the futures market as a means to shift risk of price change. Successful futures marketing requires increased knowledge about factors influencing market behavior and this should pose no problem to the Southwest grain industry. Financing institutions will give more consideration to risk shifting accomplished by grain firms.

Rent-a-train and mini-trains are techniques being explored for long or short volume movements. Expect continued search by grain marketing firms to create additional methods for grain movements—multi-truck, multi-use with back haul a major consideration, container use, and combination truck-rail-barge techniques. Air freight for grain movements is not expected to enter the scene because of the non-perishable, storable characteristics of grains.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wimer were in Austin over the week end where they visited the Kenneth Pennington family, and also with Mickey Pennington. The Wimers returned home Sunday night.

New Highway Map To Be Distributed

Austin, Texas. — Gleaming new stretches of Interstate highways, more miles of four-lane divided facilities, several new lakes and a new National park make this year's 1972 Official Highway Travel Map better than ever.

The free map, published by the Texas Highway Department, is a perennial favorite with Texas motorists. Projections for 1972 call for distribution as high as 1.4 million.

This year's map includes the addition of Lake Fairfield in Freestone county and Decker Lake in Travis county. Lake Palestine, located in Henderson, Smith, Cherokee and Anderson counties, has been on the map for several years. This year, however, the water impoundment has been enlarged considerably.

The new map reflects construction, realignment and improvement of many types of highway facilities in the state-maintained system.

The publication shows that about 130 miles of Interstate highways have been added to the state highway network. Texas now has 2,922 miles of Interstate highways open to traffic. When the national Interstate system is complete, Texas will have 3,176 miles of IH routes.

The map shows that several important gaps in the state's Interstate system have been closed. These include:

A 40-mile segment of IH 30 between Mount Pleasant and New Boston, completing IH 30 between Dallas and Texarkana.

A 32-mile segment of IH 45 between Streetman and Buffalo, completing IH 45 between Dallas and Galveston.

Ten-mile and 31-mile segments of IH 20 between Abilene and Fort Worth.

The '72 map shows that some 265 miles of divided highways have been added to the state system. This gives Texas 5,695 miles of four-lane divided facilities. Four-lane divided highways are an important safety measure in an effort to cut down on head-on accidents.

The new map will reflect a new U. S. Highway 380 designation from Greenville in Hunt county, westward to near Old Glory in Stone-wall county. In addition, the map will show the new boundaries of the Guadalupe Mountain National Park located in Hudspeth and Culberson counties.

Visitors will find expert assistance in planning travels in Texas at 11 tourist information bureaus operated by the Highway Department, including the Roy Bean Visitor Center and Cactus Garden at Langtry and in the Capitol in Austin.

The other tourist information bureaus are located at key highway gateways at Anthony, Laredo, Orange, Waskom, Texarkana, Denison, Gainesville, Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Each bureau and information center is operated by trained travel counselors who assist more than one million visitors annually.

Other features of the '72 map include listings of Highway Department district offices, Department of Public Safety Offices and State Parks. A handy conversion table turns kilometers to miles and liters to gallons.

Safety rest areas are designated on the map with a small blue dot, and comfort stations with the familiar blue square.

The Texas Highway Department provides approximately 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts for the safety and convenience of highway users in Texas.

Copies of the 1972 Official Highway Travel Map are available at Highway Department Tourist Bureaus and at Department district offices. The map is one of the most popular of the more than 7.3 million pieces of travel-oriented literature distributed each year by the Texas Highway Department.

The map may also be ordered directly by sending name, address and ZIP code to Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.
