Q. Why are intersections more slippery after a rain than other parts of the street? A. Because automobile wheels literally polish the surface of the road at stopping, starting

If you are considering the purchase of a lake lot or a small tract of land as an investment, then you should be cautious. The followable at the county Extension office ing guidelines are worth reading before you sign the contract:

1. Make a personal visit to the ing the profitability of a cow-calf property to see for yourself the overall condition of the land, access roads, improvements and the specific plot you will be purchasing. Every year thousands of people purchase land they have never seen and are often disappointed when they later visit the land de-

Ask the salesman for a copy of the Property Report which many land developmers are required to file with the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washingto This report will furnish information regarding the existence of liens on the property, availability of recreational facilities, availability of water service and utilities, the type of title the buyer will receive and the distance to nearby communities over paved or unpaved roads.

3. Determine a fair price for the land on the basis of land near the development rather than accepting at face value the salesman's claims of rapid appreciation of land values in the area.

4. Don't fall for the "free lot" sales pitch or its companion the 'discount check." These pitches are merely designed to encourage people to purchase a lot on their first visit to the development. Land developers are going to make a profit on the sale of their lots. If the development advertises a country club, golf course, boat marina, water district or other improvements which would enhance the value of the land, check on the status of these items to determine whether or not they are still in the "planning stage." In summary, the most important first step you should take before purchasing land would be to make a personal visit to the land to see for yourself what you are buying. But just as important would be to ask the right questions regarding the availability of the items necessary to insure your enjoyment of the property. If good quality drinking water is not available at an economical rate, septic tanks are not permitted, or electric power cannot be obtained at a reasonable cost, then the progress of the development may be very slow. Offers Leadership

The announced gubernatorial candidate who meets all the criteria for a restoraton of public confidence in the governor's office is Dolph Brisco Jr., of Uvalde. There is no blemish on the Brisco record of legislative service or on the Brisco record of business success in ranching and banking. He has built a far-flung structure of livestock and land and financial enterprises without being a "wheeler-dealer." The high regard, indeed, the warm affection, held for Dolph Briscoe Jr., by all who know him testifies to the personal qualifications that we all want to see in a state leader.

Dolph Briscoe gives himself unstintedly to movements for the public good. His leadership in soil conservation, pest eradication, improvement of livestock operations and water development has made him a legend in those areas. His devotion to civic betterment not only in Uvalde but all over South Texas is proved by the many successful efforts he has headed in community problem solving.

During his years as a member of the Texas House of Representatives (1949-1957), Dolph Briscoe Jr. coauthored the farm-to-market road program, voted on the side of progressive government and introduced the first resolution demanding an investigation of the Veterans Land Board which resulted in uncovering a major scandal involving millions in state

The night was dark and calm. All creatures were silent and leaves stood still as a lone man knelt in a garden called Gethsemane and prayed, "Not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

Around Him Jesus' disciples lay sleeping. Soon He knew would come betrayal, public condemnation and derision . . . and the long last march. And yet He prayed, "Thy will be done."

In the shadow of the Cross Jesus demonstrated perfect love and trust for God, His Father. In the hours ahead He would establish His Sonship for the atonement of all mankind.

And so today, in a world that needs this message of hope, let us commemorate that first Good Friday by acknowledging God as our Father, helping our churches to illustrate His way to the hungry, the sick, and the needy.

Future Homemakers

These young women of today will be the wives, mothers, and homemakers of tomorrow.

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. Nationwide in membership and effort, it is co-sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education through Division of Vocational and Technical Education and The American Home Economics Association. High School home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff and leading home economists serve as advisors to chapter, state and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

National headquarters are located in Washington, D. C.

The Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America has over 75,000 members in 1600 chapters. These chapters are participating in FHA Week events to develop the national theme of Profiles of Youth.

The annual meeting of the Texas Association will be held April 21-22, 1972, Convention Center, Fort Worth. More than 5,000 members and advisors are expected to attend.

The theme of the meeting is "We Can If I Will." The young people planning the meeting chose this theme because they believe that problems of society can be solved if each person accepts his responsibility.

Highlights of the meeting include talks by Don Williams, Pepperdine University, Los Angeles, Cal., and Kathryn Cawley, Home Economist with Lone Star Gas Company, Abilene; and a special presentation on HERO-FHA chapters.
