

Texas Loses Green Estate Tax Case

Massachusetts Was Colonel's Legal Domicile And Entitled To Inheritance Levy, Supreme Court Rules

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13 (AP)—Massachusetts won today in the supreme court in its contest with three other states over the right to collect an inheritance tax from the $26,157,535 estate left by Col. Edward H. T. Green, son of the famous Hasty Green.

The high tribunal decided that Massachusetts was the legal domicile of Green when he died in 1936. Justice Stone delivered the opinion which affirmed a recommendation in favor of Massachusetts by John S. Flannery, Washington attorney appointed special master in the case.

Massachusetts claimed $4,947,006 of the estate, Texas $4,685,057, New York $5,915,901, and Florida $4,685,557. The federal government already has collected $17,650,967.

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Black concurred, contending that the case should have been dismissed by the supreme court without a ruling on the merits.

Born in England in 1869, Green engaged in business and politics in Texas until 1911. Thereafter he lived in New York City and maintained palatial homes at Round Hills Farm, South Dartmouth, Mass., and at Star Island, Miami.

When former Attorney General William McCraw instituted Texas' fight for the taxes in 1927, some persons argued there was a possibility of the state collecting almost enough money to eliminate the general fund deficit.

Most Texans lost virtually all hope, however, when a special master who had been hearing the controversy held last November for Massachusetts.

The supreme court today upheld the master's findings and the Texas attorney general's department said that apparently ended the fight.

Hearings on the case were held in widely separated cities, including Dallas, Fort Worth and Terrell, Texas; Terrell was the eccentric multimillionaire's one-time home and McCraw contended without avail that it remained his home until his death in 1936.

NEGRO, FORMER ASYLUM INMATE, SLAYING SUSPECT

HOUSTON, Mar. 13 (AP)—A negro former inmate of an asylum for the insane was held for questioning today in the double ax murder of middle-aged Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Compton, whose bodies were found in their tent home yesterday.

Sheriff Norfleet Hill said the negro was arrested in a wooded bayou bottom not far from the scene of the crime. He said no fingerprints had been found in the tent to connect the suspect with the double slaying.

The couple were seen last by neighbors on Thursday. They had been dead more than 24 hours when their bodies, the heads bashed in by an ax, were found in their bed. There was no evidence of a struggle in the tent.

Race Betting Bill See-Saws In The House

Vote To Take Up Legislation, Then Order A Delay
AUSTIN, Mar. 13 (AP)—Advocates of legalization of horse race betting under local option gained an advantage in the house today, then lost it a half hour later.

Await Ruling
At 10:30 a. m. the house voted, 79 to 5, to begin floor consideration of the bill immediately. At 11 o'clock, it voted, 79 to 60, to postpone consideration pending an opinion from Attorney General Gerald C. Mann on constitutionality of the local option feature.

The outcome seemed in effect a temporary defeat for racing proponents because there was no certainty they could reach the bill again this week. It was expected for tomorrow but the controversial tax resolution recommended by the constitutional amendments committee will have the right-of-way tomorrow and the lower chamber probably will spend several days debating it.

After the house had voted amid cheering to take up the bill, Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene immediately raised the point of order that the local option provision was unconstitutional. Speaker R. Emmett Morse overruled the point, holding that there was a matter for the courts to determine.

Bradbury then appealed to his colleagues to postpone action until tomorrow to give him opportunity to obtain an opinion on the point from the attorney general. The voting machine showed a 68 to 62 favorable vote on a motion to roll the postponement move but a kill call revealed a 69 to 65 unfavorable vote. The question next recurred on the motion to postpone, and that carried, 79 to 60.

A motion that the house ask the attorney general for an opinion prevailed, 72 to 63.

Arguing it would be unconstitutional to allow each county to vote on racing, Bradbury said that question was settled many years ago by the then Chief Justice Nelson Phillips of the state supreme court, "one of the greatest legal minds of the century."

"The matter was raised," Bradbury said, "in regard to a law which would have allowed operation of pool halls under local option and Judge Phillips held any statute on the subject had to be statewide in effect."

Horse race betting was legal in Texas from September, 1933, to September, 1937. At that time there was no local option feature. The racing law was repealed at insistence of former Governor James V. Alfred, who called a special session of the legislature for that purpose.

Opponents of racing claim it weakens the state's moral fiber; and that persons lose at the tracks the money which they otherwise use in paying their bills. Proponents argue it is impossible to force persons to be good and that the only counties which would have racing would be those in which a majority of the citizens favor it.

Ousted Slovak Premier Talks With Hitler

Form Of German Intervention Not Yet Determined

BERLIN, Mar. 13 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler received Dr. Joseph Tiso, deposed Slovak premier, for an "extended" conference today amid acknowledgement by official sources that Germany would make some sort of intervention in the Czechoslovak situation.

Welcomed With Honors
Tiso, who was ousted from the premiership of autonomous Slovakia by the Prague general government for Slovak independence, arrived at Berlin's Tempelhof airfield late this afternoon.

The mildest form of German intervention in the situation would be diplomatic representations, but the possibility of "stronger action if necessary" also was mentioned by a foreign office spokesman.

The spokesman indicated that even if only a diplomatic step was taken, the language of a German note would be sharp and unequivocal.

The spokesman would not commit himself as to whether the desired result of German intervention would be an "independent" Slovakia.

BELL TELEPHONE EARNINGS LOWER
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 13 (AP)—Southwestern Bell Telephone company, which serves Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma, reported today its net earnings available for interest and dividends in 1938 were $19,511,562.

This was a decrease of $277,730 from the 1937 total of $20,089,301. The company had gross operating revenues of $87,863,254, an improvement of $1,453,712, but the increase was offset by operating expenses, which rose from $55,670,994 to $56,687,938, due principally to higher payrolls and mounting taxes.

WOODWARD TAKES OATH OF OFFICE
AUSTIN, Mar. 13 (AP)—The senate smashed precedent today by suspending business to permit Walter Woodward of Coleman, for 10 years a member of the senate, to take the oath of office as state life insurance commissioner in the senate chamber.

An appointee of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Woodward and the governor shared the public praise of senators some of whom had criticized the chief executive for other appointments.

Woodward's nomination was termed by Senator John Redditt of Lufkin as "one of the best made by Governor O'Daniel or any other governor."

NEW STRIFE WRACKS CZECHO-SLOVAKIA

Envoy Received By The Pope After Coronation Rites

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 13 (AP)—Pope Pius XII opened his old summer estate in the Alban Hills today to the envoys of 41 nations who saw him crowned with brilliant pomp and stately ceremony in St. Peter's yesterday.

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to London and the first official United States representative to attend a papal coronation since 1846, had a separate audience with the pontiff to present Mrs. Kennedy and eight of their children.

Diplomats, prelates and princes were among the 500,000 or so persons who watched the resplendent scenes of religious pagantry and enthusiasm in the vast mother church of Catholicism when the great, golden, jewel-encrusted tiara was placed on the head of the 22nd pope, a pope of peace.

The envoys were invited to be guests of the new pontiff's secretary of state, Cardinal Maglione, for a tour of the 100-acre lake-side papal estate at Castel Gandolfo and tea in the 310-year-old summer palace.

The pope, who was not expected to go personally to Castel Gandolfo for the reception, was busy with audiences for seven foreign delegations to the coronation and for four cardinals. Besides Kennedy, his holiness received envoys from England, Peru, China, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Luxembourg.

Scores of ordinary folk nursed bruises and rested overstrained nerves from the four-hour coronation ceremony and the crush which thousands rushed out from the basilica to see the actual coronation, which took place on a St. Peter's balcony for the first time in almost a century.

Inside the church were wondrous scenes of brilliance. The appearance of the 83-year-old pope, who was elected March 2 to succeed the late Pius XI, thrilled many as he was borne on a portable chair in long, slow, solemn procession into the basilica.

Pierre Cardinal Gerlier, Archbishop of Lyon, France, who was master of ceremonies, was escorted by Swiss guards at the beginning of the colorful procession. European royalty, including Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and his princes, envoys of foreign countries including Ambassador Kennedy and Prime Minister Eamon De Valera of Ireland, and heads of religious orders were among the leaders of the procession.

The pope appeared on the balcony at 1:45 p. m. The mitre was lifted from his head by Cardinal Canali and Cardinal Caccia-Dominioni put the tiara gently in its place. Then the pope read the blessing and recited the papal absolution.

EARTH MASS MOVING AT A SLOWER PACE

GILROY, Calif., Mar. 13 (AP)—The moving earth mass which for a week slid ominously toward the main coastal highway near here appeared to have slowed to a mere crawl.

Belief that the rock and tree-encrusted slide, after advancing more than a mile and three-quarters in six days, would halt short of the highway was expressed by Thomas Joyce of Salinas, district superintendent of state highways, after an inspection tour.

A large area of nearly-flat land and a ravine were in the path of the expansive mass and probably would stop the movement which had not progressed more than 10 feet since yesterday, Joyce said.

The intermittent slide, a quarter of a mile wide and about 100 feet high, uprooted trees and moved huge boulders on its way down from the "dead hills," a high country along the San Andreas earthquake fault.

Sadler Favors Lifting Of Oil Shutdowns

AUSTIN, Mar. 13 (AP)—Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas Railroad commission, said today he favored lifting the two-day a week shutdown of oil fields in the state.

The commissioner said he believed seven-day-a-week production could be resumed through "elimination of unnecessary and unjust excessive production in the Gulf coast area from Folk county to Mexico and in the Midland area of West Texas."

Several days ago, Chairman Lon Smith of the commission said he favored lifting Saturday shutdowns possibly in April and Sunday shutdowns some time thereafter.

A statewide oil production hearing has been scheduled by the commission for Wednesday.

"Records in possession of the commission reveal that in the 184 pools in the Houston area the shutdown order is in no way being observed—that wells are being produced seven days per week with surprisingly high allowables," Sadler asserted.

"An like situation exists in the Midland area," he said, "while in other sections of the state production is prohibited to five days. In my opinion, there is no just reason why wells in these particular areas should be permitted to be operated under such discriminatory conditions, while the remainder of Texas wells are being penalized. I am strongly opposed to practices of this sort."

MAN INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR
A man giving the name of Bowman suffered painful injuries on West Third street Sunday afternoon when struck by a car.

He was rushed to the Big Spring hospital for emergency treatment in an Eberley ambulance and then returned to his quarters in the Broadway camp.

Witnesses said that Bowman apparently wandered into the path of a car driven by W. H. Forsyth, 394 Lancaster. Forsyth stopped and rendered aid and reported the incident to the sheriff's department.

Reorganization Faces Technical Bar

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13 (AP)—The biggest dispute still involved in the government reorganization bill is one that calls up ghosts of old senate filibusters.

It is an argument over a technicality—not a dispute over policy. Even Senator Byrd (D-Va.), who has had as much to say about reorganization as any other democrat, does not complain very loudly over basic provisions of the bill which the house passed last week.

Byrd says most of the objectives for which he had been working have been included in the house bill. It specifies economy shall be one of the principal purposes for remodeling the government. It leaves with congress the acceptance or rejection of changes proposed by the president.

The bill does not specify, however, that no filibuster shall be countenanced in the senate in behalf of one of the changes. House rules are such as to prevent such a talking match there, but senators can talk as long as they please.

The house might adopt a resolution disapproving of reorganization changes. A majority of the senate might be in favor of such a resolution. Yet, it might be talked to death unless two-thirds of the senators voted to restrict debate.

A plan by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) requires affirmative action by congress before any of the reorganization changes could go into effect, but it provides such action would be obtained promptly. Within a specified time, it requires that a resolution legalizing suggested changes be brought in, debated for one hour and voted on.

DEMOS CHEERED BY EVIDENCE OF HARMONY IN PARTY RANKS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13 (AP)—Encouraged by the straight party vote by which the government reorganization bill passed the house, democratic leaders predicted today there would be no more revolts in their ranks at this session of congress.

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the democratic leader, and Rep. Boland of Pennsylvania, the party whip, said they regarded the almost unanimous democratic support of the controversial measure as an indication democratic no longer would join republicans in rejecting important administration proposals.

QUINTS WILL MEET KING AND QUEEN

CALLANDER, Ontario, Mar. 13 (Canadian Press)—Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, announced today he had accepted the invitation of the Ontario government to take his famous daughters to Toronto to be presented May 22 to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

The little girls, who will be five years old May 28, have never been outside Callander and when the invitation was issued March 7 Dionne looked on it with disfavor, asking why the government could not arrange for the royal couple to come to Callander.

With Slovakia demanding autonomy and independence of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia is stirred by new troubles. Premier Joseph Tiso (pictured below) was dismissed, demonstrations broke out through the country, and Germany found arguments of direct connection with Carpatho-Ukraine (shown on map) if Slovakia secedes. German intervention in the dispute was indicated as Ex-Premier Tiso conferred today with Adolf Hitler.

Bad Weather Over Nation

Heavy rain, sleet, snow and floods in the northern half of the country during the week-end hampered traffic, crippled power lines and left at least 24 dead today.

Snow continued today in the eastern states, but rain and sleet had ceased in the middle west. Temperatures were rising in the Florida states and the Rocky Mountain area.

About three inches of snow fell in New York City and three deaths were attributed to weather conditions there. Two died in upstate New York, where snow and ice covered the highways of the western and central portions.

The storm claimed six deaths in New Jersey and traffic was hampered throughout the state. South in the Maryland area, cool, cloudy weather followed weekend rains and snow flurries.

Two pedestrians were killed by auto on ice-glazed roads. Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa suffered heaviest in the middle west, but conditions improved today.

A Sunday sleet storm caused extensive damage to communication lines in southern Michigan. Planes were grounded Sunday at Detroit, where one death and more than a score of injuries were attributed to the ice.

Highways were under four or five feet of water from flooded streams in several sections of central and eastern Ohio.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Skeets West threw us a news clipping recently of some Idaho Refining Co's basketball quintet defeating the Meteoras, 43-38, for the YMCA Triangle league leadership out in Pocatello, Idaho. Closer observation proved that the Idaho Refiners were coached by none other than Claude E. "Spike" Henninger, the one time school master whose teams here formerly tin pined all sorts of opposition in softball and baseball as well as basketball. It seems that Spike daubles in athletics wherever he may be. When curbed of that right, here he moved on.

Spike informs Skeets, whom he probably considers about the best pivot man he has ever handled, that interest in the game in that sector is at its best, that his team could probably take the measure of anything outside of the National Amateur Athletic Association tournament being played in Denver.

Spike will never have another bucket brigade like the Cosden Oilers be developed in the early '30's here, a team that would have given any Mo. Valley AAU outfit a major test. At that time Spike had such performers as Tommy Hutto, Jake Morgan, Jack Smith, Phil Smith, Dave Hopper, Cleddy Hall, Mileway Baker, Horace Wallin and West working for him. The team one season won so many games it threatened to ruin the amateur game in these parts.

In the Rankin tournament during one of those balmy seasons the Cosden outfit made it very unpleasant for the other company outfit in hogging all the individual awards as well as gaining the team blue ribbon. Six individual premiums were issued, Jake Morgan sewing up five of them and Hopper coming in with the other.

Henninger's efforts toward giving Big Spring the best in basketball were never appreciated, however. He always lost money in his home games. The people refused to watch the Oilers play, even when he offered to let them come free.

He staged several invitational tournaments here while his team was operating, probably the most interesting of which was in 1933 when a quint led by George Brown, high school athletic coach, beat the Cosdenites out in the finals by two points after the Oilers had ousted the acknowledged kings of West Texas basketball, the Christoval Bats, in an earlier round, 100-23. That preliminary game was one of the most astounding to ever be witnessed by fans in this sector. The two teams were apparently evenly matched but the issue was settled by the end of the opening period.

In scoring the 100 points, the Oilers did not make a free toss. Spike is planning an ambitious program in Pocatello. He's going to have a softball team the coming season, may even sponsor a baseball outfit. In wishing Henninger all the luck, we only hope he don't take any unnecessary chances and try to pitch again. He should have learned his lesson here.

Says US Again Will Dominate The Olympics

Michigan Coach Says Track Is Fastest Growing Sport

CHICAGO, Mar. 13 (AP)—American track and field stars will be doing business at the same old victory stand in the 1948 Olympics, says Charles (Chuck) Hoyt, the man who went to Michigan as a trainer and became a builder of track champions.

Hoyt sees the United States as a dominant Olympic power so long as track continues to grow in this country.

"Track now is one of this country's fastest growing sports," says Hoyt, whose Michigan team won its consecutive Big Ten indoor title here last Saturday.

"I expect to see improvement in all events, especially in the javelin, in the next few years. This continued growth assures us just as strong an Olympic team in 1948 as we have had in the past."

Woodward's Johnstown Is Derby Threat

Lost To El Chico But Fitzsimmons Thinks Charge Different

NEW YORK, Mar. 13 (AP)—You can't get Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons to talk "derby" this early in the racing year, but that's not stopping him from thinking his stables have quite a lot of horse in the big bay colt, Johnstown.

And those who know owner William Woodward's remarkable grasp of the tricky business of breeding racing stock are wondering these days if his number may not be "up" for the third time when the filly rounds the turn and starts the run for the roses at Louisville in May.

These two, genial Jim, the trainer, and Banker Woodward, the boss, have come a long way at Churchill Downs with the breeding idea. Between them, they had Gallop Fox in the rain in '30 and, five years later, the Fox's own son, Omaha, in more bad weather.

Now, four years afterward, they are mighty high on a "second come" for the filly's last winner. They've bred both speed and distance into the new hopeful.

Sunny Jim isn't kidding himself about this year's running. He knows the El Chico of 1938 was one of the greatest two-year-olds in years, that he beat Johnstown twice, and that he'll be in there in the derby. But the veteran Jim points out that things have been known to happen when the youngsters start growing up.

"We'll need an awful lot of luck," he said today as he put Johnstown through his training paces over Aqueduct's wind-whipped Long Island racing strip. "And we have to do a lot of hoping. That's about as far as you can go in talking over derby chances. But Johnstown has wintered well here, has put on weight and has grown and spread some."

In his breeding, Johnstown, winner of seven of his 12 two-year-old starts, gets his sprinting heritage from his daddy, Jamestown. From his dam, the France, comes the route-going qualities. La France was out of Flambert, and so was Flambino, which gave Omaha to the racing world. Then too, La France's daddy, Sir Gallant III, sired Gallant Fox.

INFIELD DYKES' CHISOX PROBLEM

Gardeners And Pitchers Are Up To Par

By ROBERT MYERS
PASADENA, Calif., Mar. 13 (AP)—Endowed with more brains than talent, the Chicago White Sox face an uphill battle if they are to escape the second division of the American league this year.

Beset with hard luck from the very start of the 1938 campaign, which ended with the Pale Hose in sixth place, the 1939 season seems destined to be another shaky one unless some of the possibilities bloom into actualities, and lend a hand to smart-maneuvering Jim Dykes.

Manager Dykes has hopes that his pitchers, notably John Whitehead, Clint Brown, Thornton Lee and a couple of others, will return to the form they once displayed.

These hurriers, together with the old stand-by, Ted Lyons, and Art Herring, who won 18 and lost six with St. Paul last year; Vic Frazier, who won 17 and lost seven with the same outfit; and another hope or so loom as the best bets for the Sox pitching. Few around camp believe that plucky Monty Stratton can deliver the goods this year despite the brilliant young Texan's vow to try. Stratton, mainstay of the staff in 1938, lost a leg in a hunting accident this winter.

Congers Promising
Brightest hope among the newcomers is Merv Congers, who joined Chicago late last season and exhibited rare hitting prowess. The strapping youngster may not be good enough to oust Joe Kuhel from the first base position, but his fielding is improving and eventually he may become as valuable, and as colorful, as the one time pride of South Chicago fans, Zeke Bonura.

The outfield will remain about the same, with Gerald Walker, Mike Krewech, Henry Steinbacher and Rip Radcliff.

There's further worry at second base, not to mention the possibility that Luke Appling's once broken ankle might fold again and leave a wide gap at shortstop. Jack Hayes, the regular second sacker, won't be ready for the opening game, due to a knee operation, and while Eric McNair, bought from Boston, will take over the job, he is a natural shortstop and hardly up to the standard of Hayes. Also acquired to protect the infield was Ollie Bejma, brought back to the majors after a fine year with St. Paul.

DALLAS ENTRY SNIPE CHAMP

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

INFLUENZA ATTACK LAYS CINCINNATI REDS LOW
TAMPA, Fla.—Although the Cincinnati Reds were scheduled for an exhibition against the St. Louis Cardinals today, Manager Will McKechnie was about ready to change the game to checkers, or some other bedside pastime. An epidemic of mild influenza caused Vander Mee, Derringer, Myers, Hershberger, De Forge and Trainer "Doc" Rhoads to be confined.

THEY'VE HAVE TO WAIT TO COUNT OUT WHITNEY
NEW BRAINFLEES—They're giving Pinky Whitney a "long count" now on his big league career. In the Phillies' exhibition against the St. Louis Browns yesterday the veteran infielder, supposedly through last season, bashed out two doubles and a single, drove in one run and scored two, and played errorless ball all day.

CURVE BALL WEAKNESS
PASADENA, Calif.—Jimmy Dykes, who has about given up the idea of keeping himself on the active list this year, has some additional worries today because his Chicago White Sox showed a weakness for curve balls in their first exhibition.

Way Cleared For Spring Training In Other Camps

Whether the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league goes to eight clubs or starts its chase without Pampa and Lamesa will be decided this week when the committee working on the drive in Pampa files its report to the league president, Milton E. Price.

That city was given ten days to make a decision in the March 5 league confab in Lubbock. Lamesa representatives said that city was prepared to enter if given the opportunity.

In Midland the campaign for $4,000, the amount needed to incorporate the club, was nearing the end. Only $900 short of their goal in a Saturday checkup, directors expressed confidence that the entire amount will have been subscribed by the end of this week.

A business manager will probably be selected by Midland club officers within the immediate future. Jimmy Kerr, former Dallas catcher, was recently named as playing manager.

At Abilene the opening day ticket sale came to a successful end, 1,000 having been disposed of, and Fincher Withers, president and general manager of the club, was preparing for the spring drills. Withers said he had 17 players already under contract, including Potocar, flashy catcher who was with the Midland club in 1937; Ted Kerr, a West coast catching star; and Carl Littlejohn, veteran infielder who formerly played in the Texas league.

Withers said that spring training would probably get underway in the Abilene camp around April 10.

Lubbock's mighty Hubbers, defending loop champions, have been at work for the past week under Harry Faulkner, business manager, at Longview along with other farm clubs of the Chicago White Sox. They are slated to come to this sector around April 1.

Workers in the fund campaign here continue to plug away in the hope of putting an early ending to the three weeks' old drive. Saturday night the committee were but 600 short of their $2,500 objective and R. L. Cook, club president, expressed confidence that the money could be raised by the time Tony Rego, newly appointed manager, arrives this week. Workers are to meet with Cook and the directors again Wednesday evening in the court house.

NEW YORK, Mar. 13 (AP)—There'll be no more arguments over whether the inside or outside horse wins in photo finishes or arguments over the timing of horse races if a young New York electrical engineer has his way.

Henry Belock, 34-year-old veteran engineer in the motion picture and radio fields, has, after five years of experimenting, perfected a camera and timing system he believes is fool proof. He has interested eastern racing officials in his invention.

The camera, the inventor claims, eliminates, to an extent greater than other cameras, the possibility of producing a photograph of two horses crossing the finish line together, and the tendency to show one closer to the finish line. The result has been obtained through use of the new scanning process and of film moving at approximately the same rate of speed as the horses and in the same direction.

As the tip of the nose of a horse reaches the finish line the camera begins to take a continuous photograph of that horse until he has completely passed the finish line. It also takes a continuous photograph of every other horse in the race and at the same time registers the time for each.

Except to open the system for operation, no human hand is involved in the recording of the time, which is entirely the result of electrical forces. The equipment is designed to eliminate the effect of reflected light.

FORT WORTH, Mar. 13 (AP)—Prospects for the 17th annual Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock show track and field meet, which is to be held in Fort Worth Friday and Saturday, boomed today when an avalanche of entries hit the desk of R. D. Evans, originator and director of the event.

Headed by the University of Texas Longhorns, defending champions, eleven universities and senior colleges came in with varsity squads. Seven of them will also send their freshman teams.

Thirty-five high schools, scattered all the way from northern Oklahoma to the Rio Grande valley of Texas, are already assured.

Although he will be unable, on account of his recent serious illness, to accompany his squads, Coach Clyde Littlefield is sending 22 varsity Longhorns and 13 freshmen to the meet.

Nix To Begin Track Drills At Forsan Hi

Team Once Again To Be Built Around Hollis Parker

FORSAN, Mar. 13 — Track and field workouts will get away to a belated start at Forsan high school this afternoon under Brady Nix.

Hollis Parker, leading point maker in last year's county meet, is Nix's leading hopeful while Tommy McDonald, Orville Creelman and Carleton LaBeff are all being counted upon to give the Bisons a strong representation.

Nix will inaugurate spring football drills later in the week. Since no immediate plans toward playing the eleven man game are in the making, Nix will again tutor his charges in the fundamentals of "six-man."

On The Record By Dorothy Thompson (Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.) THE DICTATORS' 1938 PLANS Mr. Hope-Bellsha's statement in the house of commons to the effect that in case of war the British government would envisage sending 300,000 men to France sounds sensational, but is logical and inevitable should a general European war break out in which one or more continental powers contend with Britain and France.

The Herald's Serial Story Old Home Week Murder By Phoebe Atwood Taylor

Chapter Eight Going Into A Huddle "Where are the rest?" Jane had passed the stage of flippant desperation, and was now resigned and nearly normal except for the redness of her eyes. "What rest?" "Doc's medical examiner for this part of the world," Assey said. "Wes is the town, an' the law, an' I'm actin' head of the police here. Lane's the state outfit. Don't need more, unless you want it to be fancy. Lane's a detective. He's done what you might call the needful. Say, when is Eloise due?" "She should have been home long ago," Jane said. "It's awfully late for her. You don't suppose—but then nothing could happen to her. She's with Prettyman."

CENTRALIZED LIQUOR CONTROL Politics—and other things—make strange bedfellows, a statement borne out by the diversity of witnesses at a hearing to abolish the Texas Liquor Control board. The hearing was held before the house committee on liquor traffic, which voted 13 to 4, against enacting a repeal bill.

CIO-AFL Peace Talks Called A Feather In The Tricorn Of Secretary Frances Perkins

When President Roosevelt called on the AFL and the CIO to heal the breach in labor's ranks, did he act on a sudden inspiration or was his letter part of a carefully laid plan? Sigrid Arne, AP feature service writer, has made a painstaking study of what went on behind the scenes. This article is the first detailed account of what happened.

Frances Perkins: "Smiles When She Says It"

WASHINGTON—Those "Dear Bill" and "My Dear John" letters the president issued from Miami were not notes written on the spur of the moment. Behind them lay five months of trekking back and forth by the determined, black-clad figure of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

The Italian campaign against France is another. Under the plan Italy would enormously reinforce her troops in Libya, looking toward French Somaliland, and the agitation in Palestine and Syria would be pushed, if possible, to the point of revolution. Italian general mobilization would immediately follow.

But the "Journal des Debats" presumes to know what the program of the axis powers is, or was. A sensational article appeared in that paper this week. Its publication is the more significant because only a few days before the French woman journalist, Genevieve Taboulet, in an article in "L'Oeuvre," had revealed in more vague terms what is now precisely stated in the "Journal des Debats."

This plan of the axis powers consisted in the first line of creating all sorts of difficulties for the western democracies on as many fronts as possible. The occupation of the Island of Hainan by Japan was one move in this campaign.

no very distressed! She couldn't find you— "She'll survive," Cummings said brusquely. "Assey, you tell her—no, on second thought, I will. The rest of you go into the kitchen, or somewhere."

"What—" "The doctors," Zeb said, "call it loose association. If you mean Eloise, tell me, is there any chance of keeping this reasonably quiet for a while?"

"Well, he calls himself a mortician," Cummings said, "but he owes me for his last two children and his appendix." "All right, Doc, you an' Lane'll have to go to him tonight, in the beach wagon, an' leave the car there. I'll—no, Zeb will follow, and bring you back. Can you fix things with your wife, Doc, or shall I?"

"Mary loved this town," Jane said. "I think that matters tremendously. So does Eloise. Mary would have hated to think that because of this awful thing happening to her, and us, and all that, the town should suffer the way it will if this is all made public right away. It's an awful thing. A terrible thing. We're going to find out who did it. But we think if it can be kept quiet until next week, why shouldn't it? After all, everyone knows who it's supposed to know."

GIRL SAVES ANOTHER FROM FLAMES PHILLIPSBURG, Kas., Mar. 13 (AP)—The presence of mind of seven-year-old Lydia Alice Demotte probably saved the life of her cousin, Mary Lynn Graves, 7. The two girls were standing in front of a stove. Mary Lynn's coat caught on fire. "Stand real still, Lydia Alice said, then dashed to the kitchen for a pan of water. She made three trips before the fire was put out.

Continued tomorrow. "Will you come in here? Jane, you tell them what we have decided—although I'm sure I can't help feeling that there's something very wrong about it, but of course if you and the rest feel that—suppose the majority always knows—tell them, Jane."
