More Salutes To The Grads

This is the second of our special issues honoring the 1972 graduating Seniors of Eldorado High.

The 29 class members received their diplomas Monday night and they and a large crowd of relatives and friends heard Dr. Andrew Edgington of Schreiner Junior College, Kerrville, give an inspiring talk.

In this second issue saluting the '72 grads, we have included the photos and write-ups of those class members who were not in the May 18th paper. The two issues together, we hope, will be cherished by the classmen and their families in the years to come.

Extra copies of either Graduation Edition may be purchased at the Success office for just 10c each. Also, those college students who subscribed for the past nine-month school term may pick up their copies at our office, or their parents may do so.

Weather outlook from mid-May to mid-June according to the U. S. Weather Service outlook . . .

For our area in West Texas it predicts that temperatures will be below normal.

For rainfall it predicts that our precipitation will be NEAR normal!

PS. But what does "normal" mean in West Texas? Drought?

—ps—

'Ken Braden of Sonora was here Tuesday and visited The Success office. He reports that his Ken Braden Motor Company is now open in Sonora to sell the General Motors line of cars, and Formal Opening will be held June 15th. He has an ad on page 4 of this issue.

Adult Sewing Class To Be Offered Here

The homemaking department will offer an adult sewing class whose organizational meeting will be at 2:00 p.m. this Friday, May 26, in the homemaking department clothing lab.

As in the past, this meeting is necessary to determine the number of persons wishing to participate and the feasibility of creating more than one class.

There is no charge; this is sponsored jointly by the school and the Texas Education Agency. The class will meet three afternoons per week beginning Tuesday of the following week and terminating on June 16.

Each participant will bring her own material, small sewing equipment, but, of course, machines are available in the department.

Should one desire, she may bring her own portable sewing machine.

Home sewing offers a form of self-expression as well as an economic practicality for more and more women. The frequently used home sewing machine represented substantial savings, even when working with more expressive fabrics.

If you can not attend the first meeting this Friday, and wish to enroll, please contact Miss Dana Owens at school or at her home before that time.

Briscoe-For-Governor Boosters Are At It Again

Uvalde, Texas—The Briscoe-for-governor buses from Uvalde, which were very effective vote getters in the first primary, today resumed their tours for the run-off election.

The first busload of Uvalde citizens who are drumming up support over the state for their friend and neighbor, Dolph Briscoe, is scheduled to visit Austin, Dallas and points in between.

Only six bus tours will be made in the runoff campaign, whereas 11 bus tours and one air tour promoted the Briscoe candidacy in the first primary.

On Tuesday a bus will leave for the Rio Grande Valley; Wednesday one will visit Houston, Beaumont and Port Arthur. The following week two will leave Uvalde on Tuesday—one going back to Dallas and the other to the Houston-Galveston area.

The last tour will be all women, dressed in colorful costumes, and they will spend the last three days before the election in and around Houston. Each bus carries about 25 Uvalde citizens, who pay their own expenses on the trips to help their fellow-townsmen attain the governor's office. Melvin Rowland is in charge of the tours.

Closed also will be the clinic offices of the local hospital, but the hospital will be equipped to handle any emergencies.

For nearly everyone else, though, Monday will mean business as usual with most local stores and offices remaining open.

So if you need any stamps from the post office, or have any business to conduct at the court house, take care of it this week so that the Monday closing will not inconvenience you.

Austin, Tex.—State agencies received a recent warning to renew efforts to recruit minority group and women employees "before they are confronted with ultimatums and deadlines" from Washington and federal courts.

The agencies were reminded by the Governor's Committee on Human Relations staff that jurisdiction of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been extended to cover local and state governments.

EEOC will be giving "very critical examinations" to state employment practices. Committee on Human Relations Director James R. Ray wrote the agencies and departments.

Federal law goes farther than the state statute making it unlawful to discriminate against a person because of race, religion, color or national origin. The U. S. law also bars discrimination on the basis of sex.

Each state agency, advised Ray, will have to submit a detailed action plan to prove non-discrimination.

"In other words, you will not be able to prove non-discrimination without a federally-approved plan for recruitment of minorities and women for all levels of employment in your agency or department," the state units of government were told.

"Historically, the main concern of (EEOC) has been with numbers or quotas, and claims of recruitment difficulties have been summarily rejected as valid excuses," the Human Relations Committee staff maintained.

"Significant steps" were applauded within the state government during recent years to achieve equal employment opportunities.

However, department heads were placed on notice they must be sure each house "is in order and can stand the test (of non-discrimination) in federal court."

Attorney General's Opinions

County taxing bodies do not have authority to levy a fee on a mixed-beverage late-hours permit and a caterer's permit for the first three years of a permit, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

—Creation of a salary grievance committee for public employees in each county is constitutional.

—The county tax assessor-collector is generally immune from liability on claims of third parties where title is issued in good faith and within the scope of his official authority under the certificate of title act.

—A Midland County domestic relations court judge is entitled to the same salary as that paid the 142nd district court judge.

Courts Speak

Third Court of Civil Appeals held a full trial is necessary to develop facts for a standard by which Trinity River Authority can set a rate to be charged rice farmers for irrigation water from Devers canal system.

State Supreme Court upheld a lower court finding that the State Board of Medical Examiners acted properly in revoking the license of San Antonio Dr. J. J. Martinez for alleged sexual assaults on patients and an attempted abortion.

Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed a district court judgment that Nueces County Water District No. 3 has no authority to change the use of irrigation waters to municipal and domestic purposes for Robstown without prior approval of Texas Water Rights Commission. The Court also reversed a lower court decision that TWRC had authority to adjudicate additional water rights to the City of Corpus Christi at the expense of WCID No. 3.

Court Overhaul Recommended

A task force composed of legal professional leaders, judges and legislators has joined in recommending modernization of the Texas court system.

The group, headed by State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, released a draft of its proposal at a meeting here. Highlights include:

Merging the State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals, giving courts of civil appeals authority to hear criminal as well as civil cases, merging overlapping district courts and providing a single district court with multiple judges for metropolitan counties, creating a statewide system of new county-level courts with judges who are lawyers to replace all present courts below district level, setting up a system of administration by a statewide administrator and deputies under the chief justice of Texas, selection of judges in non-partisan elections or by gubernatorial appointments and requiring that all judges be lawyers.

Fifty-One Counties Are Now Poverty Areas

Fifty-one counties are now designated as poverty areas for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid. Those counties may receive up to 90% of money for constructing hospitals and related facilities from the federal program.

The original 13 counties designated were Starr, Zapata, Kinney, Jim Hogg, LaSalle, Dimmit, Willacy, Presidio, Brooks, Real, San Jacinto, Houston and Duval.

Added to the list under the new interpretation were Maverick, Falls, San Saba, Robertson, Red River, Kenedy, Fayette, Lavaca, Grimes, Hidalgo, Lee, Trinity, Irion, Leon, Edwards, Mason, Goliad, Llano, Shelby, Franklin, Marion, Hamilton, Rains, Cottle, Hudspeth, Burleson, Motley, Camp, and Coleman.

Screwworm Infestation Worsens

Texas Farmers Union has warned that a screwworm fly infestation will get worse rapidly between early summer and the first frost.

TFU says it is imperative that Gov. Smith ask increased state appropriations for the control program at the special legislative session. Congressmen have been asked for more federal aid to increase sterile fly production to the maximum level at the production plant in Mission and for fly drops in outbreak areas.

Ranchers and farmers have been urged to report all suspected cases of screwworm outbreak in their animals to county agents. Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association joined in the warning to livestock producers.

Appointments . . .

M. M. Vicars of Brownsville was appointed by Governor Smith to the Good Neighbor Commission to succeed the late Jack H. Drake of Weslaco.

Smith picked Arthur Busch of Dallas and Z. T. Craver of Marshall for assignments to the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

He appointed Chester W. Kyle of Kingsville to the Real Estate Research Advisory Committee.

Charles Kirkham of Dallas was selected chairman of the Legislative Property Tax Committee.

Companies Must Pay

State Board of Insurance announced it has received complaints that some insurance companies are requiring customers to pay costs of physical examinations before renewing coverage.

"Physical examinations used for automobile insurance underwriting by licensed Texas companies have a similar purpose to that of securing credit reports, and as such must be directly paid for by the insurance company concerned," the Board stated in an official memorandum to companies writing auto insurance.

Flood Disaster Assessed

Governor Smith said after a helicopter tour of flood-ravaged Hays, Comal and Guadalupe counties he will press for a federal disaster declaration and all necessary aid for those areas as well as Caldwell and Webb counties.

Smith said he was "shocked and dismayed" by the amount of the damage. He had already stated he would ask that portions of South Central Texas be designated a disaster area, and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen urged the White House Office of Emergency Preparedness to expedite the request. Preliminary estimates place private property damage in the five counties (where at least 16 died) at $15 million, damage to public facilities at $2.5 million.

Short Snorts . . .

State Sen. Barbara Jordan, a new congressional nominee and the first black elected to the Texas Senate since 1883, will serve as governor-for-a-day June 10.

Bureau of Mines forecasts June demand for Texas crude oil of 3,460,000 barrels daily, an increase of 700,000 barrels over May.

The state has paid out $846,783 to 187 counties for writing voter registration certificates for 2,164,224. Fifty-seven other counties, including the three largest, have not filed reports requesting their 40 cents for each voter registered.

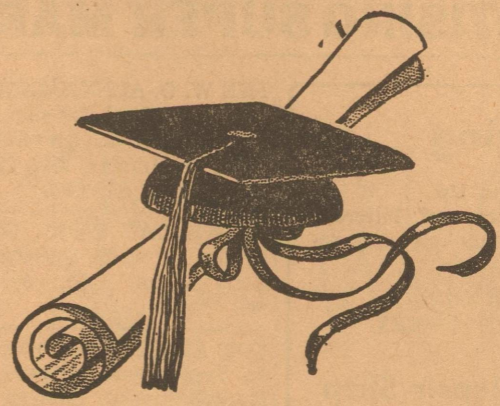

Secretary of State Bob Bullock urged county political party chairmen to hurry return of forms detailing anticipated expenses for the June 3 runoff primary.

Thirty-three criminal justice action grants totaling more than $1.1 million received recent approval of Criminal Justice Council executive committee.

The U. S. Department of Transportation has accepted Texas' agreement for carrying out the highway beautification act, preventing loss of $24 million to the state.

Sale of $8.9 million in bonds for universities at San Angelo, Huntsville, San Marcos and Alpine is scheduled June 1.

Screwworm Battle Raging Statewide
By JERRY SWIFT
County Agricultural Agent
A "red alert" is being sounded throughout the state as screwworms continue to assault livestock and other animals. Schleicher county has recorded two cases to date, and it's vital that all animals be inspected closely and regularly so that infestations can be pin-pointed and treated with sterile flies.
Weather conditions were favorable for heavy screwworm build-ups last winter in northern Mexico as well as in parts of the Southwest. Some infestations were also spread by transporting infested livestock last fall, and the insect pest spent the mild winter in new quarters. This spring overall conditions were "ripe" for a massive screwworm invasion.
More than 2,300 cases have been confirmed in Texas this spring, the earliest and heaviest outbreak in the history of the Screwworm Eradication Program. Although sterile fly production at the Mission Lab is running at its peak—200 million a week—treatment with those flies is not enough to stop the destructive, flesh-eating livestock pest.
All livestock producers and owners of other animals (dogs and cats) should follow certain precautions:
1. Carry out all approved preventive practices to help eliminate screwworms.
2. Inspect animals regularly and carefully and treat all wounds whether they are wormy or not.
3. Delay all surgery until cool weather this fall. Shearing, docking, castrating and dehorning only provide additional wounds for worm infestations. Studies show that almost 90% of all worm samples come from calf navels and man-made wounds.
4. Spray animals with an approved product before shipping them. This is a preventive measure against spreading the infestation.
5. Be cautious of livestock shipments coming from infested areas. If buying such animals, be sure to check them thoroughly for wormy wounds.
6. Care should be taken not to move infested livestock across state lines. Infestations resulting from this practice may bring about a quarantine and the regulated movement of livestock.
7. As soon as a wormy wound is found, send a worm sample to the Screwworm Laboratory, Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572. If the case is positive, sterile flies will be dropped as soon as possible to further protect animals in the area.
Everyone must cooperate if the screwworm eradication program is to be effective. "This means farmers, ranchers, pet owners, auction managers and others who work with or own animals."

Food Buying
Scratch a big dent in food costs by converting to bargain shopping. To be a bargain shopper, read food ads in your local newspaper. Look at the "loss leaders," usually the week end specials at high savings to you, and no profit to the stores.
If time can be stretched, bypass prepared foods. Frozen dinners and vegetables, ready-made desserts or easy-to-prepare casseroles charge for their convenience. Preparing these same items from scratch at home helps you save on your food bill.
Unit pricing also drags down food costs. Figure unit prices by checking those the local store has posted or by determining the cost per ounce or pound yourself. Comparing these to competing prices will prove that significant savings can be earned.
Another budget saver is buying in bulk quantities. Generally, a 10-pound bag of potatoes of potatoes costs more than a five-pound bag, but less per pound. The consumer, then, is spending more initially yet saving over the long run.
Curb expensive impulse buying by making a well-planned list of only what you need and sticking to that list. Buying on impulse can ruin a food budget.
***
Canned Meats
Do you hesitate to buy canned hams? How do the hams compare in price and quality? How long do they keep? Are they inspected?
Canned hams, the most popular of the canned meats, should pose no mystery to food shoppers. Almost any market will offer several brands of fully cooked hams in a variety of weights. Smaller, one-to-two-pound hams, heated to sterilization temperatures, require no refrigeration prior to opening. Larger, three- to 10-pound ones have been heated only to pasteurization temperatures and are perishable. Labels on these larger hams specify refrigeration even before opening.
Heating a canned ham usually improves texture and flavor but is not required. All sizes can be eaten cold without heating. Buying a larger ham means paying a lower price per pound within the same brand. But the larger meat may be a different cut. Hams of 5 pounds and under feature shankless and usually buttless cuts from the more desirable center portion. Larger hams are sometimes shankless cutted, but often the entire ham is packed.
The degree of trim plus addition of honey and other ingredients also influence the cost of the canned ham. Some are smoked, but smoke flavoring does not increase the cost per pound as do honey and other ingredients. Dry gelatin is often added to canned hams during processing. Ham weight may increase up to 8% after injection of the curing solution during canning. This solution and other liquids cook out as the ham undergoes processing, so the gelatin is added prior to heating. Labels for these hams read, "fully cooked ham with natural juices, gelatin added."
Labels on all canned meat products post a list of ingredients in the order of largest to smallest in quantity. Only corned beef ham or chopped ham, with an identity standard, doesn't list ingredients.
All U. S. process meats are inspected for wholesomeness. Foreign exports undergo an inspection program equivalent to that of the U. S., and imported meats are sampled at the port of entry.

Eaglettes Win Five Track Meets

The Eaglettes track team won the first five meets they attended in the 1972 season. They won the Robert Lee meet by squeezing past Baird. The victory was made possible by a good team effort and was not cinched until the mile relay. This was the first win for the mile relay team that eventually won third in the state meet. In the Eaglette Relays the girls again won, but this victory was much easier as they easily outscored the field. The Wink win was again close as the Eaglettes edged past Seagraves. The following meet at Stephenville was again an easy victory as the girls racked up 169 points. On the way to this point total they won all three relays. Even after suffering several setbacks in the district meet, the girls still won the district title. The highlight of the regional, as far as the Eaglettes were concerned, was the second place victory of the mile relay team that earned them a place in the state meet. The 4:03.9 clocking of the mile relay at the state meet had to be the highlight of the year for the team.

Many performances by Eaglettes this year are included in the all time record list given below:

County Ag. Agent's Column

By Jerry Swift

Pecan Nut Casebearer

Judging from pecan nut casebearer moth emergence and grove observation, indications are that the best time to spray for control of the pecan nut casebearer in this county will be during the period of May 15 to 27.

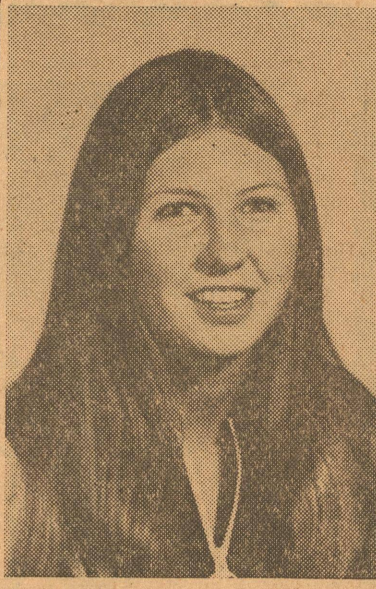

To determine the best time for applications of controls for the pecan nut casebearer on a particular tree, observation of the ends of the nutlets for eggs of the pecan nut casebearer is most reliable. Generally spray applications should be applied 4 to 5 days after eggs are first found. The newly laid eggs appear light green in color. As they mature the eggs take on a reddish cast and after eggs begin to exhibit this red appearance, control measures should be applied the following day.

For most effective control, a second application of insecticides may be needed. This can be determined by observing the nutlets for newly laid eggs several days after the first application. When observed a second application of insecticides should be applied 7 to 10 days following the first application.

Good Management Practices Urged

An agricultural irony of the day is that the screwworm epidemic currently engulfing Texas—and to a lesser extent Arizona—is being aggravated by the very success of the program at which it is aimed. This seeming paradox is noted by Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the Southwestern Screwworm Eradication Program and a man who has battled the flesh-eating fly since the pioneering days in Florida before there was a Mission Lab.

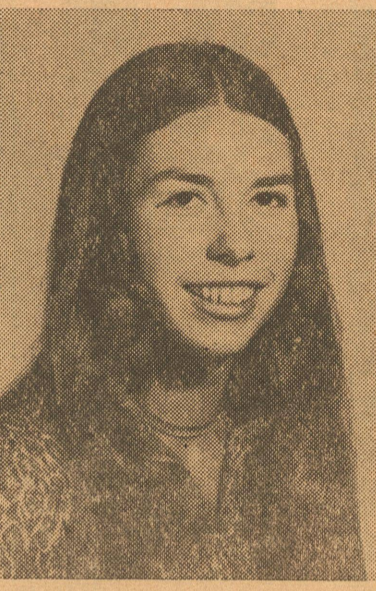

"While we can't change the agricultural labor picture, certain management practices can be scheduled during the seasons when there is less likelihood of worm problems," he added. Meadows' prescription for reduction of screwworms has never changed since the present outbreak began: Delav until fall, if possible, all animal husbandry practices that will cause wounds; inspect livestock regularly, especially newborn calves, and forward a sample of any larvae found to the Mission Lab, Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572 for identification.

Are you listening?

Hear the sweet voice of Jesus say,
 "Come unto me, all ye that labor, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls." Matthew 11:28-30

Has man ever heard a sweeter, more appealing invitation? The wonderful figure for you and me is that we are included now.

But how can I come to Jesus?
 He makes our part clear in this phrase, "Learn of me."
 How can I learn of Jesus?
 There is only one way that you can learn of Jesus today, and that is through the Word of God.

He is revealed in promise and prophecy in the Old Testament, and in his life and teaching in the New Testament. Study to learn and follow the happy way that leads to rest.

Back From Las Vegas

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr departed from Eldorado on Saturday, May 6, and drove to Dallas. There they spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Holden. On Sunday morning they drove to Love Field where they joined a group of 206 other representatives and employees of Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co.

This group boarded a chartered Super DC-8 Jetliner and flew to Las Vegas, Nevada to attend the Southwest Divisions Office Convention honoring Mr. Ernest Hundahl of Dallas on his 50th anniversary as a general agent for Mutual of Omaha. In Las Vegas, the group stayed at Caesar's Palace and attended numerous shows and various clubs along the "Strip" along with a few meetings and awards banquets. Mr. Orr was presented with a beautiful watch for qualifying for the Mutual of Omaha Honor Club for the past two years.

The group remained in Las Vegas until Wednesday the 10th when they returned to Dallas by the same chartered jetliner. The Orrs then drove home to Eldorado. They reported a wonderful, but tiring, trip which was thoroughly enjoyed.

A football coach from one of the Southwest Conference schools was addressing a sportswriters' convention and quoted a letter he had just received.

"You are the greatest football coach in the world and better than Frank Leahy, Knute Rockne, or Bud Wilkinson."

For a moment the sportswriters were stunned at such conceit.

Then the coach continued, "Incidentally, the letter is signed 'Mother.'"

Salesman at door: "Madam, I'd like to show you a little item your neighbors said you couldn't afford."

This is the soil, the good earth without which man could not exist. Suppose we woke up tomorrow to find a concrete world. Flowers would wilt, plants would die, and famine would sweep the land.

God, in His infinitely wise planning, gave us the earth to make use of — to care for. Without this care, the soil and fields become barren.

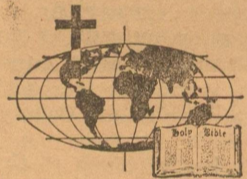

People are not very different. We need three kinds of care if we are to flourish — physical, mental and spiritual. Unfortunately the last, in many ways the most important, is often most neglected.

The spirit is a great part of you! Nurture it by attending the church of your choice.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan.

Appliance Serviceman Honored By Frigidaire

Pat Wester, Eldorado West Texas Utilities manager, was honored recently in Dayton, Ohio as one of the top appliance servicemen in the nation.

Mr. Wester won the expense paid, two-day visit to Frigidaire division of General Motors when he was selected as one of only 72 servicemen to represent some 1475 technicians from across the country. Twelve were selected from each of the company's six major sales regions.

At a special awards banquet, Harold W. Campbell, General Motors vice president and general manager of Frigidaire, told Mr. Wester and the other technicians:

"We respect and honor you for what you have accomplished. Fulfilling the rigid standards which have been established for accredited technicians is not an easy task, especially when you consider that any of your customers, by one single complaint, can cause you to lose out."

John C. Purcell, director of consumer services of the General Motors Corporation marketing staff, added his congratulations in his keynote talk to the visiting technicians.

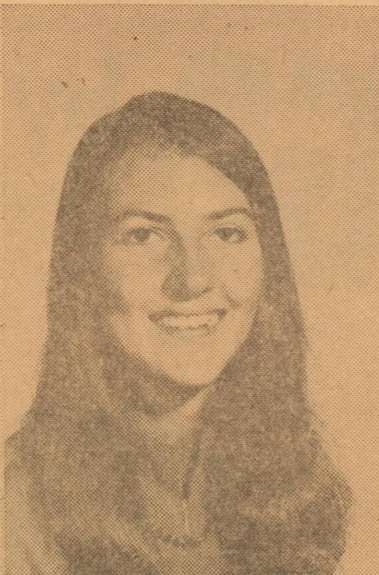

While in Dayton, the local technician also toured Frigidaire's manufacturing, engineering and quality control operations and participated in technical sessions, customer clinics and service seminars.

The Accredited Technician program, first of its kind in the appliance industry, was originated by Frigidaire in 1963 to recognize individual servicemen who meet high standards of workmanship, experience, training, attitude, and customer relations.

The award is made only on an annual basis and the serviceman must requalify each year. He is rated not only by the appliance dealer he works for but also by the individual customers he serves. One justified customer complaint during the year disqualifies a candidate serviceman.

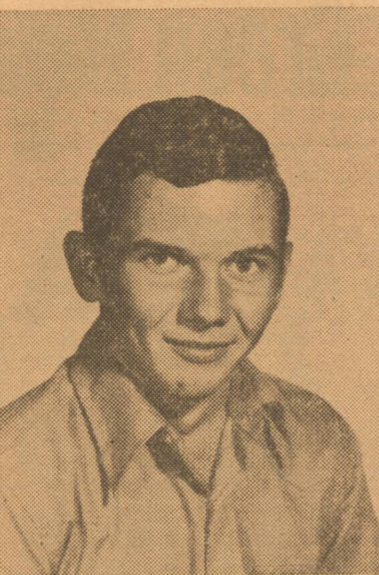

The more demanding Master Accredited Technician rating, introduced by Frigidaire in 1969, requires the same high standards necessary for the basic accreditation rating. In addition, however, the master candidate must pass a two-hour written exam administered by Frigidaire instructors at one of 29 General Motors Training Centers across the country.

GARAGE SALE advertisements must be paid in advance. No phone orders, please. —Success.

She was also a member of the Eagle Band both years in Eldorado. She plans to attend Angelo State University next fall on an academic scholarship.

WES WADE

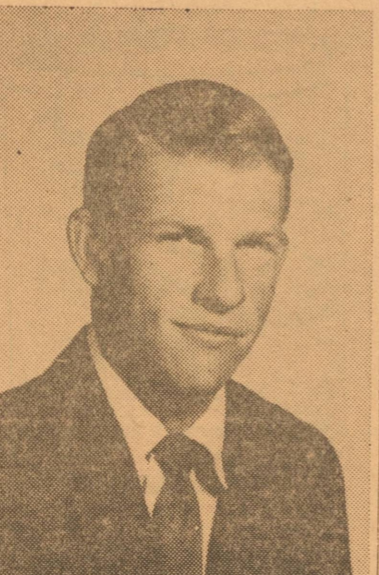

Wes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade and will attend Angelo State University.

He has been in Voc. Ag. and on livestock judging team all four years, and in parliamentary procedure the first two years, and in farm skills as a freshman. He was FFA vice pres. as a junior and president as a senior. He was in the speech club this past year.

BETTY KAY LACY

Betty Kay has been in band and one-act play her freshman through junior years, was on basketball team the first two years, as well as in Future Homemakers, was on the magazine staff as a junior, and in choral group as a freshman.

NORRIS SAUER

He served as treasurer his senior year and parliamentarian his senior year, and was on the livestock judging team for four years. He was class favorite his sophomore year, participated in speech two years, and played basketball his freshman year. His future plans are undecided.
