Senator Says Disloyal Aides To Benson 'Ghost Writers'

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Beall (R-MD) charged today that some aides of Secretary of Agriculture Benson have been "ghost writing" speeches unfairly attacking Benson's handling of farm problems.

Beall told a reporter a quiet inquiry is being made into what he said is "good evidence" that some Democratic holdover policy makers in the Department of Agriculture have written such speeches and slipped them to Democrats for delivery.

These employees and others, Beall said, also have supplied ideas and material to be worked into the texts of public addresses criticizing Benson.

He named no names, saying: "I do know it's being done. I think Mr. Benson now knows it's being done. There are dozens of these people—a core of disloyalty." Benson was not reached immediately for comment.

Many Democrats and some Republicans in Congress, as well as some farm leaders, have been highly critical of Benson's handling of farm problems, principally the decline in farm income.

"The public is entitled to a fair presentation of the facts of what Benson is trying to do," Beall said, "rather than half-true distortions prepared by skilled speech writers supposed to be interpreting and helping to implement farm programs designed for the benefit of all."

The senator said he became suspicious when he read the texts of speeches made "on the same day last summer in the Senate and House—the similarity of their language struck me."

He declined to name any senator and representative who made such speeches, but he said he looked into the matter and "our information was that the material came from ghost writers at the Agriculture Department."

Since then, he said, he has been told of instances where speeches were written in whole or in part by members of Benson's staff, for delivery by his critics. Others got critical material obtained from these staff members, he said.

Yule Parade Route Announcement Made

The Christmas parade as it has been mapped out by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will be an 18 block affair, and it is scheduled to get underway at 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

A number of floats as well as walking, commercial and rolling units have been entered in the parade, said Loyd Wooten, projects director of the Chamber. Outstanding attraction will be Santa Claus.

All parade units will be formed at the intersection of 2nd and Nolan Streets at 3:30 p.m. Promptly at 4:30 p.m. the parade will start moving west on 3rd Street from Nolan.

Units will go west on 3rd for two blocks, turn one block north on Runnels, swing west on 2nd again and march to Main, and head north again toward 1st Street.

At 1st the parade route goes west, turning south on Scurry for a block and then east on 2nd for a block. At Main a southerly direction will be taken until 3rd is reached again.

From 3rd and Main the parade will go two blocks west to Gregg Street and then one block south on Gregg. At 4th Street it will swing east again for two blocks, coming to Main. At Main it will head north and turn east on 3rd until Runnels is reached again. At Runnels, the parade route goes south. Breakup point will be between 4th and 5th on Runnels.

Chief E. W. York of the police department conferred with Wooten yesterday concerning the parade route, and he said the police would cooperate in clearing traffic. A good portion of Highway 80 will be blocked.

Six churches have entered the parade so far, each sponsoring floats with religious themes. Float titles are "The Carolers," "The Greatest Gift Of All," "No Room In The Inn," "Christ In A Manger," "Three Wise Men," and "The Angels Sing."

Various organizations and business concerns will also sponsor rolling units, and 10 motor companies will enter newly decorated autos. Four bands from the area are expected to march in the parade in addition to the high school, junior high and Webb Air Force Base bands. Coahoma and Colorado City bands have accepted invitations to march.

All units will be judged, with first, second and third places recorded for both walking and rolling units. Floats will be judged on portrayal of subject, originality, and artistry. Walking units will be judged on costumes, representation of character and marching appearances.

Veterans Complying With Hospital Rule

Veterans in the Big Spring area have apparently not been discouraged from seeking free hospital treatment for nonservice-connected ailments because of closer checks into their financial affairs.

Not a single veteran making application to enter Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital has objected to the new forms requiring detailed information on his wealth, according to W. O. Underwood, hospital manager.

Previously veterans only had to state they could not pay for medical treatment to get free hospitalization. Now they must give full details about their finances before being admitted to any VA hospital.

The change came recently after considerable criticism by the American Medical Association had been registered against the VA's free medical service to veterans whose ailments do not stem from service.

Closer checks were initiated to keep people who can pay from entering VA hospitals under false pretenses. However, Underwood says there are "very" few people in this area who try to enter the VA hospital falsely. "We had a situation here that was healthy to begin with," he said.

Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander, chief of professional services, joined Underwood in the opinion that few people have tried to "chisel" their way into the local hospital. He pointed out that better than 99 per cent of the applicants he has interviewed were not in a position to pay for treatment.

Dr. Friedlander emphasized that a veteran is not signing a "pauper's oath" when he says he is unable to pay. "It does not mean the veteran has to be penniless," he said. "It simply means he is unable to pay for the particular type treatment he needs."

Underwood stated that the new forms, in the short time they have been used, clearly show that more veterans are less eligible to pay than officials suspected.

Both Dr. Friedlander and Underwood stated that every veteran making application for hospital treatment must be hospitalized, even if that veteran has an unlimited amount of money. "It is not up to us to decide whether a man can pay or not," they said.

Individuals who are clearly able to pay their expenses are reported, however. People making such false statements leave themselves open to possible action by the government.

Dr. Friedlander and Underwood explained that top priority for treatment goes to individuals who have service connected ailments and for emergencies.

Syngman Rhee, Chiang Kai-Shek Confer Together

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Syngman Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek two Asian leaders bonded in hatred of communism, today began a series of talks apparently aimed at tightening their unofficial alliance against the Reds.

The South Korean president flew secretly to this Nationalist Chinese fortress only two days after conferences with top U.S. officials in Korea.

Chiang and Rhee clasped hands warmly at the door of Rhee's borrowed transport which belongs to Gen. Hull U.N. Far East commander.

Rhee said his trip was a friendly visit but added that "something may be brought up for discussion. . . ."

The surprise visit started immediate speculation that the two nations—both ravaged by Red forces—may join in a new anti-Red bloc.

Observers here expected the talks would touch upon at least two key points:

1. The possibility of Nationalist Chinese troops being sent to South Korea if the war is resumed.
2. The problem of what to do with some 14,000 anti-Red Chinese prisoners of war in Korea who are due to be freed as civilians in late January unless they choose to return to communism.

News reports from Seoul were the first word here that Rhee was coming. Despite all the hush-hush the United States obviously knew of the projected talks.

Dr. Friedlander and Underwood explained that top priority for treatment goes to individuals who have service connected ailments and for emergencies.

Woman, 72, Seeks More Awards For Her Prize Sheep

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Annie E. Wilson, 72-year-old Plano, Tex., sheep raiser, was back at the International Livestock Exposition today, hoping she can duplicate the grand championship she won with her sheep last year.

Mrs. Wilson, dressed in Western garb which included tan stockman's pants and black high-heeled cowboy boots, arrived yesterday after a 970-mile ride in a truck with the prize sheep she has entered in the show.

"It would take an atomic explosion to keep me away," Mrs. Wilson told other exhibitors. She has entered 14 pure bred Hampshire sheep in the show, which opens tonight and continues through Dec. 5. Mrs. Wilson, who didn't get into the sheep-raising business until she was 60, lives with her husband Dudley M., a retired mining engineer, on a 500-acre ranch.

Hawaiian Economy Outpacing Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Commerce reports that, from 1939 to 1952, Hawaii's economy outpaced the nation's slightly.

The report, first to be made on the Hawaiian economy, said total production of goods and services in Hawaii expanded from 270 million dollars in 1939 to $1,050,000,000 in 1952. During the same period U. S. total production went from $91,300,000,000 to 348 billions.

HEBREW LAWS SHOW COMPASSION FOR THE POOR AND FATHERLESS

Scripture—Deuteronomy 24:14-15, 19-21; Amos 5:10-12, 24; Matthew 23:23-28; 1 Thessalonians 3:7-10; James 5:1-6; 1 John 3:12

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. AS WE were informed in last week's lesson, the Hebrew laws were definite concerning the provision for the poor, for widows and their children. Owners of estates were ordered to leave gleanings for the distressed to gather, and olive trees and grape vines were not to be stripped of their last fruit, but some were to be left for the unfortunate, according to Deuteronomy 24:19-21. Also the law was exact in the matter of payment for work done. "Thou shalt not oppress a hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates: At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it; lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee." This exhortation is for us to be not only kind, but just, to the poor man who labors for bread for himself and family. If a man (or woman) puts in a full day's work, expecting to receive pay when the job is done, it may not be only inconvenient to be put off, but unjust and the cause of tragedy, as the worker may need

Teach the children to be honest and upright. Do they cheat in their lessons or when they play games with their mates? Show them that these things are evil. There are many grown people who cannot bear to be beaten in anything in which they are interested; they are not what we call "good sports." They would rather cheat and swindle others than lose. "But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream." Matthew tells us the story of the rich young man who was not satisfied, and who sought out Jesus and asked Him how he could obtain eternal life. The Lord asked him if he obeyed the commandments. Which ones? Thou shalt do no murder, shall not steal, or bear false witness. Did he honor his father and mother and love his neighbor as himself? All these things he had done from his youth. "What lack I yet?" he asked. "Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow Me." That the young man could not do. He was not willing to make the money to buy necessities. Such injustice is sin in the sight of man and God. To some people money seems to mean more than anything else in the world, and to accumulate it their sole purpose in life. These people are severely rebuked in the Scriptures. In Amos' day many who witnessed such practices were afraid to speak out against those who were guilty. He says, "They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly." Possibly those who committed these sins were rich and powerful and those who would rebuke them feared retribution if they spoke out. "Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them. "For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sins; they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor from their right. "Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time. "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate. Hate the evil and love the good."

so large a sacrifice. So he went away still unsatisfied. He had lost the prize because of money. Writing to the Thessalonians, Paul reminded them that when he was with them he had earned his daily bread because he wanted to set a good example. They had made a rule that he who would not work should not eat. For those who get in their wealth by evil means, James writes: "Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. "Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days. "Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord." When we read in our papers of men who live by stealing, by racketeering, and accumulate wealth by other unlawful means, we wonder how they can possibly enjoy it. How can they live with themselves with such guilty consciences? To live honestly and uprightly, speaking the truth; to be just in our dealings; to teach our children to do likewise, and above all, as John says, "Let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth."

Tories Beat Down Rebellion In Party Over TV Proposal

LONDON (U) — Prime Minister Churchill's Conservatives beat down a rebellion in their own ranks last night, winning approval in the House of Lords of Cabinet plans to introduce commercial television in Britain. The peers by a 157-87 vote defeated a motion opposing the government's scheme. A full debate is now slated for the House of Commons. The nation's present TV and radio are a monopoly of the publicly owned British Broadcasting Corp. Under the new plan, some advertising would be accepted to earn money for improving and expanding the service. Government sources claimed a moral victory in last night's vote in the upper house, contending that between 80 and 150 members abstained from voting. Leading Conservatives opposing the plan include Lord Halifax, former ambassador to Washington, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher. The TV issue and other political differences have brought Churchill under bitter criticism from some of his Conservative supporters just as he is preparing for the Big Three meeting in Bermuda.

MY JOB IS THRILLING!

I've been an usher in Church for many years. And my job is thrilling. It's not that I'm money-minded. Frankly, I hardly notice what a person puts into the plate. Envelopes, paper, coins—they're all the same to me. What thrills me is the spirit of STEWARDSHIP. As I pass my plate through the pews, men and women are returning to God the fruits of their talents, their labor, their strength. In my mind's eye I see the wonders God will work with these humble gifts . . . the Church's ministry of mercy, of comfort, of teaching, of saving. But really, the greatest thrill is in placing my own gift on the plate. For I'm not just an usher—I'm a Christian. Receiving your gifts is merely my job. Giving your gifts is the joyous privilege that I share with YOU, and with all men who believe in Christ and His Church. Next SUNDAY IS STEWARDSHIP SUNDAY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

School Principal Charged Following Student's Spanking

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—A high school principal was charged with assault and battery after he spanked one of his students. M. G. Anderson, head of North Side High School, was accused in a warrant obtained yesterday by A. G. Neely, father of the 14-year-old pupil, Randolph Neely. Neely said his son yelled while seated in a school bus Nov. 13 and Anderson took him off the bus and whipped him with a tennis racket. The boy's finger was so badly cut it required a stitch, the warrant stated. Anderson said young Neely "let out a war-whoop" while he was talking to the students. "I asked him to come to my office. There I used a table-tennis paddle and do not deny that I whipped him, for he needed it." A hearing will be held Dec. 5.

Modern Styling For New Studebaker

Here is Studebaker's brand new sports car for 1954, the Commander Starliner Hard-top. New grille and bumper treatment emphasize the low wind-swept lines that make Studebaker distinctive. This is one of the new Studebaker line for 1954 that goes on display Saturday. The cars are to be seen at McDonald Motor Co., 208 Johnson.

ON DISPLAY SATURDAY

Styling Advancements Mark New Studebaker Line For '54

A brand new line of sedans, sports cars and station wagons incorporating gay and colorful interiors as well as many engineering improvements is being introduced to the motoring public by the Studebaker Corporation. The new cars are on display Saturday at McDonald Motor Company, 208 Johnson. Twenty body types are represented by the company's two- and four-door sedans, hardtop convertibles, coupes, Land Cruiser, and new pleasure-utility car colorfully named the Conestoga. The station wagon, like all the other models, was designed by internationally-famous Raymond Loewy. The striking exterior lines have been enhanced by further refinements and by exciting new interiors, elements which the company believes will keep Studebaker cars at the head of the style parade. The interior styling, characterized by new fabrics and textures selected expressly for Studebaker, is the work of Eleanor La Malfa, well-known interior decorating expert and color stylist. Upholstery fabrics are offered in four different basic color motifs harmonizing with the exterior hues of the cars. Such items as steering wheels, steering wheel columns, instrument panels, mouldings, door trim, and carpeting likewise harmonize with exterior body colors. Twelve different exterior solid color options and 10 different two-tone combinations make up the color repertoire for Studebaker's '54 models.

The Conestoga, Studebaker's new station wagon, accommodates six passengers with ease. When used as a utility car, with the rear seat folded down, an area of 64 cubic feet is available for baggage or haulage purposes. The car has a wheelbase of 118 1/2", is 185 1/4" in overall length, 69 1/2" in width, and 62 1/2" in height when loaded. Exterior body changes for Studebaker's '54 models include new grilles with vertical fins; bumper guards which provide increased protection for grilles; new hood ornaments as standard equipment on station wagons and on all sedans with the exception of the custom Champion. Foremost among the chassis improvements are new and larger brakes for both Champions and Commanders. These, according to intensive engineering tests, provide up to one-third greater braking power and thus add substantially to driving safety. They are self-centering and self-energizing and have, in addition to greater stopping power, increased pedal reserve, heavier drums, more durable brake lining, and labyrinth-type drum seals which keep out dirt and mud. Acceleration and performance have been stepped up on both the Champion and the Commander as a result of a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio in the power plants of both cars. Automatic transmissions on Champions now have three power ranges in "Drive" position: automatic low, intermediate, and direct. The automatic low gear start makes possible much greater acceleration at low traffic speeds. CUNNINGHAM & PHILIPS have filled your car's needs prescriptions since 1919. JAMES LITTLE ATTORNEY AT LAW State Nat'l Bank Bldg. Dial 4-5211

This is Mrs. Felice Littlejohn. She and her husband, Horace—who works for an electronics firm—have one child, six-month-old Susan.

How Mrs. Littlejohn's telephone helps her through busy days

Did you ever keep a record of all the telephone calls you made and received for a week? Mrs. Littlejohn is one of a group of telephone customers we asked to keep a diary of all calls made and received for one week. She was genuinely surprised at how much she depended on her telephone service. Here are some typical calls Mrs. Littlejohn recorded. Altogether, she made and received 53 local calls in the seven days, and she estimates that they covered a total of about 345 miles. The cost? Three miles for a penny, according to Mrs. Littlejohn.

9:00 Called my next-door neighbor to see if she would watch Susan for a few minutes while I went to the store for milk.

12:00 My husband's daily call which I always look forward to. I told him all was well at home. 12 miles.

1:00 Made dental appointment for Horace. He's too busy to call—and I'm more apt to remember date and time. 2 miles.

1:30 Called cleaner's to see if our clothes were ready. I save trips this way—and to me that's important. 2 miles.

3:30 Dotie, a friend, called to thank me for the housewarming I gave for her Sunday. It turned out so well. 10 miles.

7:30 Horace's Dad cut himself trimming the hedge. Called to tell us he's back from the doctor's and O. K. 6 miles.

Foul Play Theory Discarded In Death Of Lady Socialite

WISCASSET, Maine (AP)—Investigators report that an intensive probe has "failed to substantiate further in any way the theory of foul play" in the death of Mrs. S. Maynard Moran, New York City socialite who disappeared from Monhegan Island last July. "Nothing has been turned up to point the slightest suspicion toward any individual" in connection with the death of the 49-year-old former model, Lincoln County Atty. J. Blinn Perkins said last night. Perkins made his statement shortly after a grand jury which considered the case concluded three days deliberations with no indictments. Mrs. Moran, whose body was found at sea three weeks after her disappearance, was last seen alive when she went for an evening walk along 100-foot cliffs at the southern tip of Monhegan. The county attorney said last month that he suspected foul play on the basis of a pathologist's report indicating that Mrs. Moran died of a skull fracture "caused by blunt force to the top of the head."

New Regulations Issued By State On Tidelands Work

GALVESTON (AP)—New regulations have been issued governing the supervision of geophysical work on the Texas tidelands. General Land Office Commissioner Bascom Giles issued the regulations yesterday, saying they would become effective Dec. 1. The regulations prohibit seismic work within certain distances of shrimp fleets, dredged channels, marked oyster beds and red snapper banks, jetties, passes and the mouths of rivers. The regulations also cover the removal of pipes from an area upon completion of a job. The regulations were issued to state inspectors who have been assigned the various geophysical companies currently working out of Galveston, Fort Arthur, Port Lavaca, Aransas Pass, Port Isabel and Corpus Christi. When the tidelands were returned to the states the supervision of geophysical work was turned over to the General Land Office.

Allies May Approve Neutrals At Parley

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
PANMUNJOM (U.S. envoy Arthur Dean indicated today that the Allies will agree to Red demands that neutral observers be invited to a Korean peace conference—If Russian attends as a Communist belligerent.)

Dean stressed that nonbelligerent observers would have a voice but no vote.

Summarizing items "on which both sides can probably reach agreement," Dean made several stipulations regarding what he called "nonvoting observers."

The spokesman for 16 United Nations which fought in Korea is not authorized to approve invitations for neutrals during the negotiations to set up a peace conference.

Informed quarters emphasized, however, that he would not have told the Communists "both sides can probably reach agreement" on something he could not deliver.

Meanwhile, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission refused the U. N. Command for the second time when it turned down a request that 15 explainers be authorized to interview 22 Americans, 1 Briton and 23 South Koreans who have refused to come home.

The commission again set a limit of five Allied explainers.

The U. N. Command has not indicated when it will start trying to persuade the balky prisoners to change their minds.

Communist efforts to woo home about 20,000 unrepatriated Chinese and Koreans remained stalled by Red refusal to accept rule changes.

Only 26 working days are left before the Dec. 23 deadline for winding up the interviews.

The repatriation commission also ruled that it has no jurisdiction over three North Korean soldiers who fled to safety at Panmunjom Nov. 19. The decision cleared the way for eventual release of the trio in South Korea.

Dean was asked after the session whether his statements meant there was a possibility of the United Nations accepting participation of neutral nations at the Korean peace conference.

"I don't say that this is a possibility, but I have to know precisely what they have in mind before I report back to the United Nations," he replied.

He listed three stipulations which would govern Allied agreement to invite nonbelligerent observers to the peace conference.

They are:

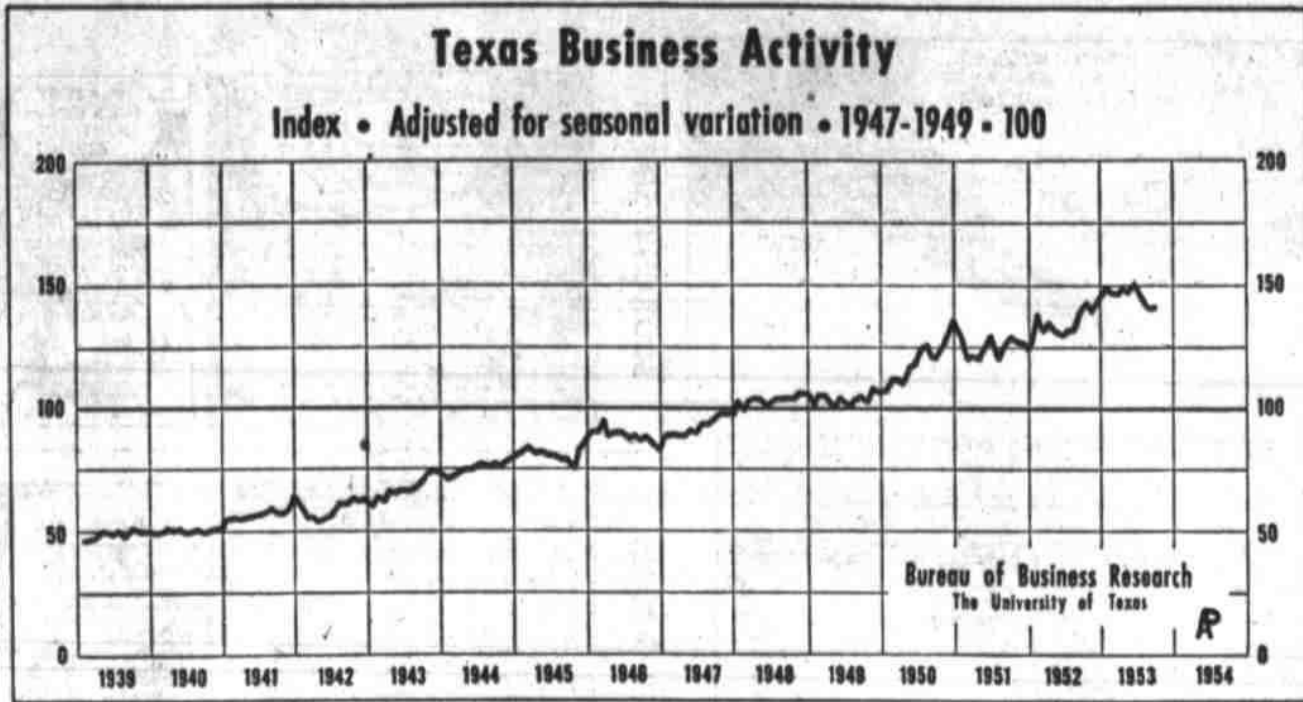

"1. The nonvoting observers, if invited, will be entitled to speak at the conference only on items on the agenda agreed upon between the two sides at such times, places, meetings, committees and in such manner as are agreed upon unanimously by both sides and only upon topics as they are scheduled at the conference between the two sides.

"2. The nonvoting observers, if invited, will not be on either side, and will have no right to vote at the political conference or to participate in the political conference except as provided for in the paragraph above.

"3. The nonvoting observers, shall not participate at the political conference in the working out of the agenda."

Government Spends $11 Billion Already

WASHINGTON (U.S. Senate House Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures say the government spent 11 billion dollars in the first two months of the fiscal year which started July 1.)

Texas Business Up Slightly

Texas business edged upward by one per cent in September, according to statistics of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Most of the improvement was in the consumer level. Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the bureau, noted that the weakness in the industrial segments of the state economy was barely more than offset by a slight rise in retail sales. (AP Photo Chart).

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Folks all over the country these days are getting a good look at a good picture of Big Spring's favorite cowboy, Toots Mansfield.

These pictures appear in magazine advertisements of the Porter Saddle Company of Phoenix, which has brought out a "Mansfield" model roping saddle called the "Porter Mansfield." And it's another case of "none genuine without signature" since Toots' signature will be stamped on every saddle.

Says the saddle maker: "The Mansfield solves all saddle problems — unquestionably an even greater tree than the Porter Trophy which broke all national sales records for one style tree."

In one of the largest sales of registered Herefords at private treaty recently the O'Connor Brothers of Victoria bought 30 bulls, 28 cows and 52 heifers from Charles Pettit of Walnut Springs.

SCS technicians report that a good stand of grass has been obtained on the 1,000 acres of Webb Air Force Base planted this year. This was one of the largest single grass plantings made in Texas.

Where water was available for irrigation Bermuda was planted. Over the remainder of the acreage a mixture of Side Oats Grama, Blue Grama and King Ranch Blue-stem was seeded.

On display in the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission there is a large silver trophy cup which has been permanently awarded the San Angelo District of the TEC which includes the local unit.

There are 12 district clubs in the state, and this district, winner of the honor of having the highest record of accomplishment for the year, takes the trophy permanently for having won this distinction for two years, the first time being in 1950.

The donor organization has something of a United Nations-sounding name: The International Association of Personnel in Employment Security.

Congratulations to Mrs. Thelma Roe, Ted Vinson and Leon Kinney.

Seen in front of the Big Spring High School when traffic was heavy as the students were getting to school a few mornings ago:

A county officer, with a red light on his car, ran a red light and made a left turn all at the same time, and it wasn't any emergency, either.

L. L. Hillbrunner of Shamrock was in Big Spring spending Thanksgiving with the family of his son, Alvin, of the Police Department.

Mr. Hillbrunner says the Shamrock country hasn't had a snow since Thanksgiving of last year and very little rain since. There have been some light, slow showers, however, he reports, and as a consequence wheat and other fall and winter-growing crops look good.

A winter without plenty of snow in the Shamrock country is most unusual. The folks up that way hope they won't see any more of them.

Now what about these leaves of lettuce beneath the half of a pear, the half of a small cherry and the teaspoonful of cottage cheese that comes as naturally as a guest speaker with a Chamber of Commerce banquet?

Is it permissible, proper or bad manners to eat this lettuce, or is the stuff supposed to be poisonous, or something?

At the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce banquet I looked up and down the table, just as I've done many a time at many a place before. Everybody in sight, including Champ Rainwater and Doug Orme and Cecil Bridges had daintily eaten the pear and the cherry and pushed the lettuce-leaved little plate back.

Now me. I like a touch of lettuce now and then, and so I said to W. S. Goodlett who was sitting on my right: "How about this lettuce? Reckon it'd be alright for me to eat it?"

"Go ahead," says Goodlett, "nobody pays any attention to table manners any more anyway."

I went ahead and then I gave Goodlett my empty plate and ate his lettuce. I couldn't understand a conservationist letting that lettuce go to waste.

Mrs. Jim Crook of Lubbock was on my left. I thought she was going to offer me her lettuce, too, but she didn't and since she didn't I didn't mention it either.

Family Leaves After Canal Makes Son Its 33rd Victim

CLYDE, Calif. (U.S. —) The bereaved family of little Joe Anderson left yesterday for a new home in Oregon—miles from the irrigation canal that made Joe its 33rd victim last week.

"Getting away from here will make the forgetting easier," said Mrs. Warren Anderson. "I'm not bitter at anyone. But Joe is dead. Now they'll build a fence, I'm sure of that."

Joe's father last week wrote a poignant letter to President Eisenhower asking him to build a fence along the canal.

"I can't fence it, nor can any of my neighbors," he wrote, "because it belongs to our government... The canal is your responsibility, Mr. President, and I think if you had known about it one of your first acts as President would have been to have fenced it. Because the canal, Mr. President, has taken 33 lives—mostly babies like your grandson, David, and my boy, Joe..."

A movement is now under way to get the canal fenced all along its 57 miles. The government may go ahead with the work providing the irrigation district repays the cost.

But the Andersons won't be here then. They're moving to Portland Ore., "because we don't know anyone there."

They still want the fence built, however. As Mr. Anderson said in his letter to the President, "build it for Joe—not my Joe now because he was the last boy the canal took from his mama and daddy. Not for my Joe, but for some other little Joe—or David—who's all boy and will be No. 34."

Ava Gardner Plans To Go Ahead On Split

LOS ANGELES (U.S. —) Ava Gardner is en route to New York City and Rome, where she will make a movie. A studio spokesman said last night she will go ahead with plans to divorce Frank Sinatra.

The spokesman quoted the actress as saying the crooner's latest visit with her at the Hollywood home of her sister, Bea Gardner, was merely to say goodby.

She didn't scream when he started through the window. She calmly lifted a stick of stove-wood and whacked him on the head.

The intruder fled, leaving his hat. That was the only trace police found of him.

Burglars Not All That Loot Tavernkeeper

OAKLAND, Calif. (U.S. —) When burglars took $8,500 from Mike Sheen's home last week the 66-year-old tavern owner figured things had gone just about far enough.

Remembering the $3,500 he lost the same way in 1944 and the $3,000 burglars got in 1948, Mike ran an ad in the newspapers. From now on, he declared, he was going to be more careful with his money. Burglars could stay away.

The next day he got a phone call from Los Angeles. I'm an old friend named Turner, the man said. You remember me. Saw where you lost all that money. Want to help you out. Got a fool-proof system for beating the horses. Just send me some money, to M. Turner, Los Angeles.

Mike sent $200. The next day another call, another $100. Then $200 more, then $300.

Yesterday Mike got another call: "Send me more money, only this time to M. Turner, Miami, Fla."

"Where's my winnings?" Mike demanded.

"Don't worry, I'll call you again," the man replied.

Mike went to police. They're looking for M. Turner.

And Mike has made a new resolution:

He's going to be more careful with his money. Starting right now.
