Decorate With Light

Exciting, dynamic and decorative—who would have thought a few years ago these would be words describing light fixtures?

Current fixtures are these things and more, according to Patricia A. Bradshaw. The housing and home furnishing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University took a look at recent trends in lighting.

"Today, lighting is a decorative element in its own right, capable of creating moods, providing effects and shaping space. "No longer is a lamp simply a light source.

"It works as an accessory piece and as an architectural detail to highlight and emphasize design, color and texture."

Shoppers might keep this in mind when choosing Christmas gifts.

Gone are the days of lamps that just stood up straight, with ugly bulbs carefully hidden.

INNOCENT LOOKING TOYS CAN BE DANGEROUS

Even the most innocent looking toys are potentially dangerous in the hands of the wrong child.

That's the basic message from Food and Drug Administration toy safety experts who are trying to reduce the number of toy injuries in the United States, a figure put at 700,000 annually by the government.

Some stuffed animals can be easily taken apart by a child—exposing dangerous wiring underneath. Check for unprotected wiring around the ears, arms and legs before purchasing such a toy.

Happily, thanks to the FDA, consumer groups and concerned manufacturers, toys are, in fact, safer than ever—but there are ways to keep the accident rate down.

The most important factor is parental supervision. Whether children are playing indoors or out, alone or with others, they must be watched.

Choice of toys is a key to safety too. Select toys suitable for a child's age, interest and abilities. Keep in mind younger brothers or sisters who may have access to toys bought for older children. And, check labels on fabrics. Choose items with non-flammable, flame resistant or retardant fabrics and stuffings marked washable and hygienic.

Reynolds H. D. Meets

The regular meeting of the Reynolds Home Demonstration Club was held on Nov. 14th in the home of Mrs. Henry Moore. We had 11 members, 2 visitors and our agent present. Mrs. Moore gave a report on the safety meeting. The officers were elected:

Mrs. Bascom Hartgraves — pres.
Mrs. Perry Mittel — vice-president
Mrs. B. J. Reynolds — sec.-treas.
Mrs. H. A. Belk and Mrs. Henry Moore, council delegates.

Miss Durrett reminded us that: The Sew-Fair was to be held Nov. 16 in Ballinger. Friday a.m. on Nov. 17, a program on sewing men's clothes, in San Angelo. The Senior Citizens party on Dec. 7th from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. Club members are asked to bring cookies and small gifts. The 4H Food Show will be Dec. 16th.

Miss Durrett showed a number of gifts which she had made. Club members brought gifts to show. I'm sure that each of us got new ideas for making Christmas gifts.

To raise money for our club, each brought a wrapped gift, which was numbered. Corresponding numbers were put in a basket, which was passed around. Each member put in 50c, drew a number and claimed her gift.

Refreshments of pumpkin chifon pie, spiced tea and coffee was served by our hostess.

Our Christmas party will be on Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Perry Mittel. —Rep.

MEMORIAL GIVING TO THE HEART FUND

Your gift serves two important purposes:

It not only pays thoughtful tribute to those who have passed away, but it helps the living by fighting heart diseases.

Special events such as birthdays, anniversaries, and a number of other occasions also are commemorated by making Memorial contributions.

An acknowledgement of a Memorial gift made for any purpose goes promptly to the donor, and of course a notification of a Memorial gift in honor of someone who has passed away goes to the family, and notification of a Memorial gift in honor of a living person goes to that person.

Memorial gifts are tax-exempt.

Is now the time to buy land?

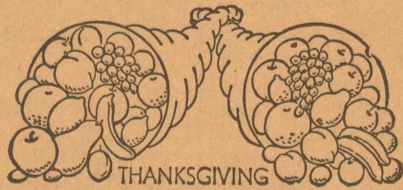

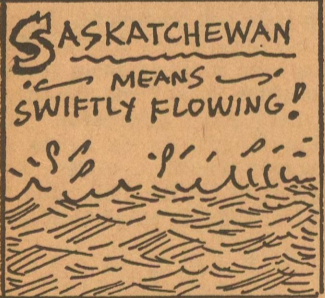

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

Crop And Livestock Reports Asked
From Farmers And Ranchers

Some 60,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire during the last half of November or December. This roundup survey of agricultural crop production and livestock numbers is made annually by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The Texas Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, are joined together to provide a continuing program of information on Texas agriculture. Texas has 254 counties, and producers are selected in the samples proportional to size of operation.

The small producer sampled represents many others of comparable size while the very largest producers may represent only themselves. Therefore, it is equally important for all farmers and ranchers receiving a questionnaire to return it promptly. The individual report is confidential—available to no other Government agency or anyone except the few persons processing the data. The county and state estimates published are available for everyone at the same time.

Beef May Become More Economical

College Station, Tex.—Reports of larger beef supplies for the next few weeks are causing speculations of slightly lower beef prices. According to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, "this situation is likely to cause a moderate reduction in prices.

"Chuck cuts and round steak are featured this week, along with a number of features on ground beef, sirloin steaks and rib roasts."

Mrs. Clyatt also reported a 5% increase over a year ago for the new turkey crop, indicating that prices will remain as "attractive" levels.

Turning to the pork counter, she listed several economical buys including boneless butt roasts "yielding a higher percentage of edible meat per pound."

Also ¼ loins cut into chops, loin roasts, and smoked cuts which include semi-boneless hams, picnics, bacon, liver and sausage.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at the most economical prices are apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas, cranberries, locally grown cooking greens — mustard, collard and turnip greens.

Also, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, dry yellow onions, hard shell squash, rutabagas and sweet potatoes.

In Those Days Compiled From Success Files ONE YEAR AGO Nov. 25, 1971—Paula Turnbow and Danny Boyer were married in West Side Church of Christ. The family of the late Johnny Meador gave an electric chime system to the First Baptist church in his memory, and it was put into use. Miss Billie Gayle Blaylock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Blaylock, was named to the Baylor Student Foundation for the school year.

FIVE YEARS AGO Nov. 23, 1967—The Hospital Directors were taking title to land south of the school for location of the new medical center. The old Congregational Methodist church building was slated for removal from the site. Nan Sauer was Gold Star Girl and Archie Nixon was Gold Star Boy, for the year from this county, in 4-H work. Rusty Meador gave a musical program at a meeting of the Lions Club. Mrs. Gloria Cavness was notified that her son, Ronnie Motley, was wounded in Vietnam and was convalescing in a hospital. Paula Mace was named to Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities at San Marcos. A shower was held in the Granvil Hext home honoring Christy Moore, bride-elect of Lynn Meador. C. F. The American Legion Christmas party for school children was set Dec. 16th, and Don McCormick was chairman of the general arrangements committee. Mrs. Teele's choral groups were to sing. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll and Vicki visited here from Ozona. The Boy Scouts were meeting with Jack Mund as Scoutmaster and David Kuykendall as assistant. Genie Newport was honored on her 8th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mason of Midland were spending Thanksgiving here with the Dwight Masons, and other relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meador Sr. spent Thanksgiving in Van Horn in the J. H. Benton home there.

35 YEARS AGO Nov. 26, 1937—King Cole's Comedians were to stage a tent show here for three nights, with free candy given all school children on opening night. A hunting party from here went to Culberson county to location about 40 miles northeast of Van Horn, and reported some luck. The group consisted of Sheriff O. E. Conner, Johnnie Isaacs, R. J. Page, Willie Whitten, Dutch Ohlenburg, all from here, and T. H. Langham of San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff visited in Coppell, Texas. Spending Thanksgiving here were Margaret Hill of Texas University, Austin, and Harmon Bodine of A&M. L. T. Texas Food and Fiber —Your Best Buy

Picture the modern housewife at the supermarket. Carefully she makes her way down the long rows of canned fruits or vegetables, or stops by the meat counter, or picks up a gallon of milk or a dozen eggs. Sounds like an everyday job? Sure, but it's also a modern miracle, for with less than 16 1/2 cents out of each dollar her husband earns, she is buying the best, safest and most wholesome food products offered to any civilization at any time. It's a modern miracle! First, let us look at the safety factor for Texas foods. Stories often appear in newspapers and magazines to the affect that food may be contaminated or unsafe. Nothing could be further from the truth. Every step of the way, products that go into human food chains are carefully inspected and regulated. Every quart of milk you buy has been watched by an average of five sets of health inspectors. Every animal is carefully examined before slaughter by state or federal inspection. These men are also there when the animal is killed and the carcass is carefully cleaned and washed. The same goes for canned fruits or vegetables. Food poisoning in the United States is also non-existent.

Secondly, your choice of the best food products is helped by federal labels that indicate how good it really is. For example, beef carcasses may be marked U. S. Choice, No. 2, with a harmless ink dye. This means that usually it comes from grain-fed beef animals and has just the right amount of fat to make tasty and delectable steaks and roasts. The number 2 means it will have an unusually high ratio of lean to bone. Milk is now coming mostly from Grade A dairies where gleaming stainless steel utensils are carefully cleaned after each milking in almost hospital like surroundings. Broilers are labeled USDA Grade A with further designation as "young" or "fryer" to let you know that they are crammed with good eating! Eggs are graded by size, and vegetables such as corn may carry the U. S. Grade A (or Fancy) label to let you know it's the very best!

Moreover, food is cheap! Don't be misled by the price index of foods. Food today has never been cheaper, when compared with other items you commonly buy. On this basis, food has declined in cost, expressed as percent of the consumer's disposable dollar, by nearly 10% since 1960. What makes your shopping bill so high is more likely all the extra services you enjoy such as built-in extras of packaging in convenient, attractive containers, or pre-cooking and preparation. Also it can be due to all the other items you often buy at the large supermarkets—cosmetics, kitchen utensils, drugs and even clothing! Actually, food prices in the last 10 years have gone up only 25% as compared to a 50% increase in wages and much higher increases in everything else. Americans spend less than half as much for food as the citizens of the iron curtain nations, based on percent of disposable income.

To do this job of producing the best food at the cheapest cost, Texas farmers and ranchers keep 5.7 million beef cows, fatten out 3.5 million steers a year in giant beef factories on the Plains. Texas dairy herds produce over 3 billion pounds of milk; Texas poultry flocks produce 223 million cartons of one dozen eggs a year. So big is the Texas agricultural industry that it returns about 3.2 billion dollars a year. This is vitally important to both rural towns and big cities like Dallas, Houston or San Antonio. Before it is finally processed and sold, a dollar's worth of Texas farm produce has earned nearly three times its original value in the services rendered. To you and me, this means that Texas food and fiber is the basis for nearly 9 billion dollars worth of income and commerce. Other industries serve this giant complex with fuel, electricity, water and transportation. In the Texas Panhandle, for example, over 1,700 trucks arrive or leave daily with cattle, feed and

Young Men Must Still Register For Draft

Austin, Tex.—Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, has again reminded young men of their obligation to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Glantz stressed that the requirement to register will continue in full effect whether the all-voluntary military force becomes a reality or not. Every native born and resident-alien young man is required to present himself for registration from 30 days before to 30 days after his 18th birthday. If, for any reason, a young man has failed to register he should do so immediately to escape the penalty of Federal law. Failure to register may result in a fine, imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the Military Selective Service Act. Young men may register at the office of the local board near their home or place of residence, or may be registered by volunteer registrars who are conveniently located. Registrar for Schleicher county is Mrs. Helen Carlman at the Court House.

Austin, Tex.—A total revision of the finance system for Texas public schools will be reviewed by the State Board of Education at a special meeting December 9.

The plan, which would hand to the state over a six-year period the entire cost of the basic public school program, was submitted by a board public school finance committee November 11.

A three-judge federal court last December in San Antonio held unconstitutional the present school finance formulas which are based heavily on local property taxes. The decision, now on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, concluded the system provides educational advantages for pupils in rich districts over those in poor districts.

Under the five-member finance panel's recommendations, the state would assume the "comprehensive foundation school program" cost completely from state taxes by 1978-79. Local share of the current foundation school program is about 20%.

Local taxes after 1978-1979 would be relied on only for building and equipping schools and for "enrichment" (expansion beyond the state standard) of individual school programs.

Increases already approved in the foundation school program will cost $464 million during the next six years. The committee-proposed improvements are estimated to cost $400 million by 1978-79.

"Enactment and implementation of the comprehensive foundation school program will require some of the most far-reaching public policy decisions ever made in Texas," said State Board of Education Chairman Ben Howell of El Paso. Committee members made clear they stand back of the recommendations regardless of the Supreme Court's ruling in the finance case.

Oil Allowable Again 100%

The statewide oil allowable for next month will remain at 100%.

Railroad Commission action retaining the all-out production formula marked a year at the nearly wide-open level due to increased energy demands.

Average monthly factor for 1972 is 94.1% or 344.4 producing days during the year, top figure since 1948 when the 100% allowable applied throughout the year.

An exception to the 100% order is East Texas field which will be held to 86% as a waste prevention measure.

Constitutional Revision Planned

First steps toward implementation of a new plan for revising the 96-year-old state Constitution were taken by a state Senator-elect last week.

Voters on November 7 approved a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to sit as a constitutional convention in January of 1974. The amendment also authorized appointment of a citizens' commission to study needed constitutional changes and report its recommendations next November.

Sen. Nelson Wolff pre-filed resolutions calling for appointment of a 36-member commission by a five-member group headed by the Governor and for formation of a 10-member House-Senate committee to plan convention mechanics. Wolff also offered a bill to appropriate $900,000 to the commission for its work. Any constitutional revision agreed on would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature and submitted to voters for a final review.

Courts Speak

North Texas State University's right to fire a teacher accused of using profane words in talking about its administration was sustained by the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals here turned down a bid by Texas Education Agency for an injunction blocking a Florida promoter from offering his self-improvement courses in Texas. The Court noted the firm already had ceased to do business in Texas.

Short Snorts . . .

Legislative Budget Board directed the State Building Commission to plan a parking garage on the site near the capitol, which the Legislature vetoed last month as a location for a $20.5 million highway building.

A Texas superport would pump $119.4 billion into the state's economy and create 336,770 new jobs in a decade, according to Texas A&M University researchers.

More than 600 state-chartered banks reported total assets and liabilities of $11,547,854,563—an increase of $1.9 billion over 1971.

A new state plan to provide jobs for the poor is being reviewed in Washington. It would be financed with federal funds.

Republicans set capturing the Texas governor's office as their major 1974 goal following a strong showing by State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston in the gubernatorial race November 7.

Watering Critical For House Plants

Improper watering causes more container plants to fail than any other factor. Too often homemakers get impatient and apply too much water and fertilizer to make house plants grow large and healthy. However, often the opposite results—the plant drowns. To overcome the tendency to water and fertilize excessively, it is suggested to select plants for interior landscaping that are of a size that will be immediately effective. Do not start with a small plant and expect it to grow to proper size under indoor conditions.

Plant characteristics and environmental conditions also govern the amount of water a plant needs. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with little foliage. And plants in a cool room need less water than those in a warm, dry atmosphere. Over-watering during the plant's slow growth period is the worst thing a person can do. These periods occur when light intensity is low and the plant is producing little food, as during the winter months.

In addition to moisture, plant roots must also have air. But if the soil is saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots. This leads to the loss of small feeder roots and eventually the plant dies. Water house plants only when they need it. With a little experience, soil moisture content can be determined by the color and feel of the soil. Another check is to insert a tooth pick or a freshly sharpened pencil into the soil. If soil sticks to the tooth pick or pencil, do not water.

When watering, apply enough water so that it runs through the potting soil and into the saucer below, then discard the water in the saucer. This prevents the accumulation of soluble salts in the soil. Remember, check your house plant and the soil in which it is growing before watering. It probably will not require watering as often as you think.

Update Your Estate
It's a sound idea to update your estate by considering the assets of land, machinery, buildings, livestock and other personal effects that you have accumulated during your lifetime. Why? So that you can cut the erosion of your resources.

Estate planning can assist farm and ranch families by creating an equitable compromise for minimizing the amount of taxes due, distributing property as desired to beneficiaries, and assuring financial security.

Determining assets is a vital part of estate planning. The value of personal effects, real estate, stocks, bonds, bank accounts, life insurance policies and other business interests make up a part of the gross estate which may be taxable.

In considering the value of these holdings, families should become familiar with the term, "fair market value." This is the value determined at time of death or six months thereafter. It is the price at which property changes hands in a reasonable time between a willing buyer and a willing seller, both having reasonable knowledge of the facts. This means that the present selling of land and real estate in an area helps establish the fair market value. Once this value is established in an estate, costs associated with taxes and the amount of ready cash needed to settle an estate can be determined.

The value of farm and ranch land has increased 10% during the past year and all indications are that this climb in value will continue. When it comes to distributing property, a will is an invaluable document. Seek the legal advice of an attorney in this matter. A series of fact sheets on estate planning is available at the county Extension office which provides guidelines for sound estate planning.

Cut Operating Cost Of Home Appliances

There was a time—and not too long ago at that—when our supply of electrical energy seemed unlimited.

Now, in many major cities, there are recurring threats of summer "brownouts" and "blackouts" as electricity demand exceeds the ability of utilities to generate it. And gas companies around the nation also are threatening rationing and discouraging new demand for their product, particularly from large industrial users.

The homeowner can do more than just wring his hands about the "energy crisis," however. And in the process he can also help reduce his own utility bill.

Here are some suggestions from John Cook, manager of utility relations for the General Electric and Hotpoint major appliance group, on how to conserve energy:

✓ Since air conditioning accounts for some 50% of a utility company's peak summer load, it is a prime target for savings. Cook recommends using shades, blinds, draperies and awnings to keep direct sunlight from rooms which are being cooled. Heating ducts and fireplace flues also should be closed; they are among the most often overlooked ways to "lose your cool."

✓ Keep your food freezer, or the freezer section of your refrigerator, well stocked; less electricity is used maintaining temperature in a full freezer than in one partially filled. Keep the refrigerator and freezer out of direct sunlight or tight niches where there is little air circulation; too hot a spot can add as much as 15% to the cost of operation.

✓ In using your dishwasher, try for full loads rather than partial ones. Most machines use the same amount of hot water—heated by gas or electricity—regardless of load size.

✓ If your automatic clothes washer has a control for selecting a high, medium or low water level, be sure to select the setting that is appropriate for the size of the clothes load. And consider using cold water for washing lightly soiled loads or special fabrics.

✓ If you have automatic termination or electronic sensing controls on your dryer, use them in preference to timed settings. They will turn the dryer off automatically when the load is dry, whereas a timed setting may dry the clothes longer than necessary.

✓ Many people keep a coffee pot warming all day or all evening as a matter of habit; if you're not a coffee addict, break the habit, recommends Cook.

✓ Self-cleaning ovens are so simple to operate that many homemakers put them into the clean cycle regularly, even when soil is hardly apparent. Consider less frequent self-cleaning, Cook suggests, and then do it late in the evening when electricity demand is less. In the summer, this also will keep the kitchen cooler during the day.

Since the early afternoon—during the hottest part of the day—and dinner time are the two peak periods of electricity use during summer months, Cook advises against starting washers, dryers and dishwashers at these times.

Remember, the watts you save could just help prevent a power blackout.

The Gobbler Is Back

The Highway Gobbler is the driver who acts like he's the only one on the road. He always drives a little faster than the speed limit, passes to get a little further ahead or tailgates when he can't pass.

This Thanksgiving weekend, the Highway Gobbler is back. He really hasn't been gone. He's been there all along making his generous contribution to the toll of death and injury and property damage on our highways. But he's recognizable for what he is during the Thanksgiving holiday season.

There's no room for the Highway Gobbler—this Thanksgiving or any time of the year.

Two Great Ways To Prepare Turkey

The young tender turkey available today requires less preparation and roasting time than in grandmothers' day. And, methods of cooking are numerous. The home economists at Reynolds Aluminum suggest two great ways to roast your holiday turkey.

Foil Tent Turkey Method

Line a shallow roasting pan with Reynolds Wrap and place thawed turkey on a rack in the pan. Brush all over with soft butter or margarine. Roast in a preheated 325°F. oven according to the following timetable.

Ready-to-cook weight	Oven temperature	Meat thermometer temperature		Total Cooking Time (Hours-approximate)
6-8 pounds	325°F.	185°F.		3 to 3½
8-12 "	"	"		3½ to 4½
12-16 "	"	"		4½ to 5½
16-20 "	"	"		5½ to 6½
20-24 "	"	"		6½ to 7

Cooking time is based on chilled poultry or poultry that has just been thawed—temperature not above 40°F.

When turkey is lightly brown, cover with a "tent" of foil. To make tent: tear off a sheet of Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap 5 to 10 inches longer than bird. Crease through center and place over bird. Hold in place by crimping it lightly at breast and over drumsticks. This keeps turkey moist without basting and prevents overbrowning. Snip the string holding drumsticks during last hour of roasting so heat penetrates inside of thighs.

Oven Bag Turkey Method

Shake one tablespoon flour in empty turkey size Brown-In-Bag oven cooking bag and place in two-inch deep roasting pan. Brush thawed turkey with soft butter or margarine and sprinkle with seasonings. Slide turkey into oven bag. Secure bag with twist tie and make six half-inch slits in top of bag. Cook in a preheated 350°F. oven according to the following timetable.

Ready-to-cook weight	Oven temperature	Meat thermometer temperature		Unstuffed	Stuffed
8-12 pounds	350°F.	185°F.	2½ to 3 hrs.	2	2 to 2½ hrs.
12-15 "	"	"	3 to 3½ hrs.	2½	2½ to 3 hrs.
15-20 "	"	"	3½ to 4 hrs.	3	3 to 3½ hrs.

Thanksgiving Cites Five Resources

College Station, Tex.—Thanksgiving is just what its name says it is—or is it?

A home management authority viewed resources in Texas homes and asked families to share her findings by taking a hard look at their own homes—a "Thanksgiving inventory."

Lynn Bourland, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, took issue with today's "gloommakers" and directed more attention to five resources. "Thanksgiving as a time when families pause a few hours in their busy lives to offer thanks for their many blessings.

"As you offer thanks this year, consider all the resources you have been granted—human resources, material possessions, space, time and natural resources."

Human Resources—"The greatest resources your family has is each family member and his or her potential.

"Recall the many times each family member has given of himself to help the family reach its goals. What have the children done for the family that saved others time, energy and money? Likewise, how have the parents offered their time, energy and talents to enable the children to have and do things that might have been impossible otherwise?

Turning to material possessions, the specialist noted, "Material possessions are the more obvious resources the family can see come and go as they're used. "Everything the family owns, including money and all it can buy, are material resources."

Another resource, space, gained attention as Miss Bourland continued her report. "Space on earth is limited, but every family has space in their home, some space around it, and some types of community or public space available."

Time is the fourth resource. "One we all have in equal amounts—24 hours a day. Without time, other resources would be useless."

Fifth: "Today we've been alerted to the scarcity of our natural resources. We'll need to ask for wisdom in seeking ways to use them more wisely in order to conserve them and develop substitutes for them. Resources give the greatest returns when they're managed and spent—not merely used."
