Double Tragedy Near Sonora Saturday.

You stop umpiring
Ball games

Miss Elizabeth Dorothy Harris, 20 years old and her Sweetheart, Nelson McNeill, both of Valley Mills, met and untimely death nine miles south of Sonora Saturday, when they were overtaken in a pursuit from Sonora by the father and mother and half brother of the dead girl, who are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Harris and H. S. Harris.

The girl was shot 4 times and died instantly. The father tells that she was killed by McNeill, and that McNeill then shot himself in the head, he also admitted that the fighting finally got to a hand to hand fight and that he had knocked McNeill in the head with a shot gun, thinking he was dying he went to the road to stop a passing car and while he was up there McNeill got up and made his escape into the woods.

Friday May 27.

We still cling to the opinion that a June bride is preferred rather than a corpse.

We understand that Sutton County is preparing to do some good road work in the near future.

The Success is delighted with the good road work thus far done in our county, the work is the thing we needed these many years, it looks like permanency to us.

Cheer up—the days of honest work and honest pay are coming back.

The man who believes in himself is the man who achieves success.

Tear down that old fence and put a coat of fresh paint on that barn. It will increase the value of your property fifty per cent.

We invite you to our town because we know you will be delighted with its people, delighted with its laws, delighted with its school privileges, and delighted with the moral element that exists and is largely sustained by the people.

Good roads are winning a permanent place in popularity with the farmer and no community is considered progressive that has not improved its public highways. Build good roads and place your community in the progressive class.

Most all kinds of manufactured goods have gone up a little in price, but cotton and wool is still sliding down, tariff.

To say the least of it, Miss Dorothy Harris thought more of Nelson McNeill than she did of her parents, as evidenced by the fact that she followed him into the very jaws of death, refusing to the very last to surrender to her parents, preferring death instead, and was probably killed by shots from her father and brother, who will, by the law of common consent, be freed from all charges.

Sin is an awful thing and the wages thereof is death.

People who never mind their own business are very much of a class of animals as the surly, whiffet dogs that are always barking, biting and napping somebody. We wonder they would appreciate a lecture? We will ask them a few questions just to find out. Don't you think the world and the people in it will live and prosper without the tremendous anxiety you carry on your shoulders by keeping an eye on everything and everybody in the whole neighborhood are world besides? Can't Mrs. A. make a seaweake without you lying awake at night for fear there is going to be a wedding and you will not be invited? Can't Jennie have a new gown but you must immediately see it, know the price and for what special occasion it was purchased, or die of curiosity? Can't neighbor B and his wife go by but you'll bet they're going to see somebody and slighted you?

According to reports Eldorado is to have several June brides.

We understand that two of the Eldorado teachers have married since school closed.

Miss Mattie Whitten is attending the Commencement Exercises of the Howard Payne College at Brownwood.

We heard a young man tell a young lady Sunday, that he needed somebody to do his laundry work, and we found that some young lady doing some beautiful ironing Tuesday, something should be accomplished in the near future.

The tragedy at Sonora last Saturday is more evidence that the chasity of the home must not be violated. If the young people were married the father and brother should be punished if not, the unwritten law has been meted out.

W. O. Alexander, Cashier of the First National Bank, has written the Board of City Development at San Angelo, to see if a market couldn't be found for the surplus cream that goes to waste weekly in the San Angelo trade territory.

Now this movement should not be allowed to go unheeded, as it would open up a way to convert some of our farm products into cash that is now being lost.

Schleicher County should be represented at the meeting to be held in San Angelo next Saturday, where such features as these will be discussed. Schleicher could furnish a good supply of cream, poultry and eggs if a market worth while could be obtained, let's get the market.

In these pessimistic days of shifting markets and uncertain finances, just remember that it is always darkest just before the dawn; that it is a long lane that has no turning, that every cloud has a silver lining, and a few more old preverbs of what kind. There must be truth in them or they wouldn't have lived so long.

Kuzn' Bill, since going to Del Rio, is convinced that the world goes round and round.

We are tempted to speak a word to our merchants. We do it only with the best intentions. We are thankful that you have placed your ad in our columns. Our wide awake readers will see it and they will read it. If the merchants wish to keep trade at home, they must, of course, let the public know what goods and what inducements they offer. The great merchants of our larger cities are constantly advertising an enormous expense, but it pays them; and it was by shrewd advertising that they became so successful. They cannot afford to stop, or else they would. Our merchants can't afford to stop advertising in their local paper. Advertising pays even if you have no competition.

ARKANSAS FARMER IS IN FINE SHAPE

Bennett's Health Restored By Tanlac Two Years Ago, And He Continues Well and Strong.

"It was two years ago that Tanlac set me right and put me into shape where I gained thirty pounds in weight and I have been in the best of health and retained my weight to this good day," said Oliver P. Bennett, a well-known farmer of Union Township, R. F. D. No. 4, Little Rock, Ark.

"I have been a farmer all my life," he continued, "but two years ago I got so I wasn't able to work and was beginning to think my farming days might be over. My stomach was all out of order and my appetite was well nigh gone. My nerves broke down and I couldn't half sleep. My shoulders and chest hurt something awful, and I got so weak and all run down I was beginning to wonder where it was all going to end. I had been under treatment for two years, but in spite of it all I was growing worse and gradually losing in weight.

"Finally I took a notion that Tanlac might fit my case. Well, sir, I never will forget how I commenced to pick up. Why, I never saw the like. I took six bottles and actually gained thirty pounds, as I said, and felt so well and strong I could go out and work from sun up to sun-down. Ever since then I have been feeling fine and I have this good old Tanlac to thank for it all."

Tanlac is sold in Eldorado by L. M. Hoover. (Adv.)

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XIII.—RHODE ISLAND

RHODE ISLAND is not really the name of this state. As can be seen from the state seal, the official name is the "State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations." It originated from two distinct settlements. The first was made by Roger Williams in 1638. He was the pastor of a church in Salem. As he advocated radical reforms he was ordered to return to England, but fled to the Narragansett tribe of Indians. From them he obtained a tract of land and called the town which he established Providence, in token of God's mercy which had so far provided for him.

About the same time Mrs. Anne Hutchinson and her followers were expelled from Massachusetts on account of a theological dispute. She made her way to the island of Aquidneck, which she purchased from the Indians for 40 fathoms of white wampum, 20 hoes and 10 coats. The name of this island was changed to the Isle of Rhodes, probably after the famous Greek island in the Mediterranean. By common usage it became known as Rhode Island. In 1692 Charles II gave Rhode Island a very liberal charter, and this remained in force until 1841, when a new state constitution was adopted by mass conventions, and two years later another new constitution was legally voted. The change in constitutions caused what was known as Dorr's rebellion.

The entrance of Rhode Island into the Union in 1790 completed the list of the original thirteen states. Though Rhode Island is the smallest of all the states, with only 1,248 square miles, it is very thickly populated and has five presidential electors, which is more than those of a number of states of much larger territory. ## The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XIV.—VERMONT

THE derivation of the name Vermont comes from the French "verts monts," or green mountains, and it was likewise the French who were probably the first white men to see those lofty landmarks which so appropriately give this state its name. This was in July, 1609, when Champlain made his memorable voyage up the lake now called after him.

The first permanent settlement was made in 1724 at Brattleboro, where the Massachusetts colony established a fort as a buffer against invasion from the north. The territory used was part of what was known as the "Equivalent Lands," which were sold at public auction in Hartford for about a farthing an acre, the proceeds being donated to Yale college. Shortly after this, settlers pushed eastward from New York across Lake Champlain and westward from New Hampshire. This led to disputes between these two colonies as to their boundaries. Under the leadership of Ethan Allen New York's claims were resisted by a local military force, which proudly called themselves "the Green Mountain Boys." It was these same men who played such a brilliant part during the Revolution.

In 1777 a formal Constitution for the state was adopted and Vermonters are proud of the fact that theirs was the first of the states to prohibit slavery by constitutional provision. For a number of years Vermont remained as a separate republic, but in 1791 it was admitted to the Union as the first addition to the original thirteen states.

In size Vermont has 9,564 square miles, and its congressional delegation numbers four. It thus casts four votes for the president. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

SHALL OUR CHRISTIAN DUTY BE NEGLECTED?

NAKED MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN FIGHT IN SNOW FOR OLD CLOTHING.

Near East Relief Sends Our Imperative Appeal.

The need for clothing—second hand, worn clothing, anything that is whole and warm—is one of the most desperate needs in the Near East today according to reports recently received from field workers and nurses in the stricken areas of Armenia and the Near East. In one district where the refugees were recently made homeless by the continuation of the Turkish Nationalist war, from thirty to fifty bales of clothing are distributed each month, and yet, writes Mr. Melville Chater, New York newspaper man on a tour of inspection "not a tenth of these half-naked people has as yet been clothed."

An Armenian orphan in shredded rags

Barefooted in Snow. "Just look at them," he states in his report, "let your eyes scan the surrounding circle from the ground up. There are bare feet, many of them children's, sitting painfully on the frozen earth; there are the multicolored shreds and patches, pinned together with thorns and fapping in the wind like a seagull's wing; there are the arms, folded across the waistline, as a starving man draws in his belt; there are the exposed breast, the quivering faces and last, the intent eyes, fixed—you would think—upon a display of gold and jewels instead of what the stenciled legend on each bale terms "WORN CLOTHING. U. S. A." Half the wretched children, thin faced and blue-lipped, many of them shivering their little brothers or sisters pick-a-bark, so to spare them from standing bare foot in the frost whitened mud."

Great Demand for Old Clothing. The clothing that was sent through the Near East Relief last year was the means of saving thousands of lives in the bitter cold region of the Caucasus. They were insufficient and with several hundred thousand additional to care for this winter, a greater amount of old clothing this year is needed. The demand is imperative, according to State Secretary O. M. Lowry of the Near East Relief, 719 Dallas County State Bank Building, Dallas, who said:

"What the people of Texas throw away and cast aside as worn out or useless in various articles of clothing will save the lives of naked little children and refugees in this far away land of Armenia."

Refugees Fight for Clothing. One relief unit in reporting of conditions stated: "We were almost trampled to death by the rush of half-naked wretched children for us when we distribute these clothes. To those that we are able to clothe, the garments are better than medicine. To one village where we took a shipment for distribution, we included in the bundle some children's clothes. We were met by the usual rush of refugees and the clothes disappeared rapidly. At last only the baby clothes were left. Upon investigation we found that not a single baby among the comparatively large number that we had found there previously remained. They had all died from exposure and lack of proper care."

Wealthy People Beg for Old Clothing. When one considers that large number of these people were once prosperous, the wretchedness of their plight is the more keenly realized. Many of them would rather starve to death than ask for food, but they will almost get down on their knees to beg for clothes. Another report reads: "At Urfa, I saw little children walking around in the snow, barefoot. Their entire bodies were almost completely naked. The few tattered old rags that they were wrapped about them were practically the only protection against the cold winter weather. Yet most of them have managed to survive, though the death rate was very high; far higher than it would have been had there been more old clothes from America to distribute among them and among the adults, who were just as badly off."

Shipping Address Announced. To remedy these conditions, the Near East Relief is appealing to the people of Texas to immediately send their bundles of old worn out, cast off clothing. A bundle for those who have nothing. No clothing is in too bad condition to send, since something is better than nothing. Bundles should be immediately prepared and sent to the Near East Relief warehouse, 545 West 39th street, New York City, by parcel post or express according to the size of the bundle. Bundles should also show a return address so that the senders may receive full credit for their share in this life saving work. Mr. Lowry announced. Financial support should be sent to the Dallas, Texas Near East Relief office.

THE DIFFERENCE

"I SAW you coming up the street and standing at the gate with Mr. Honeybug and Mr. Playfair," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "All three of you were laughing so the whole neighborhood could hear you. I wonder why you do all the laughing with your friends, and do nothing but grumble and scowl at home. I haven't seen you laugh in the house in five years, as you laughed out there with those men."

Honeybug is a good story-teller, and he was telling us a bully yarn, and for a brief season we forgot the burdens laid upon us, which are greater than we can bear. If you could tell a story as well as Honeybug does, I'd fill these ancestral halls with silvery laughter, but you never try to say anything amusing, Mrs. Jamesworthy. You do tell stories, but they are of a gloomy and tragic character.

"Last night, when I came home, you told a dramatic story to the effect that you had callers all afternoon, and hadn't a chance to cook anything for me, and so I had to eat canned salmon and soda crackers, and wash them down with water, and I insist that when a husband comes home from his arduous labors in the changing mart, so empty that his watch chain makes a clanking sound when it flaps against his spine, he should have warm victuals, something he can consume with pleasure and pride. The fact that you had an invasion of callers is a cheap excuse.

"My sainted mother never would have permitted any callers to interfere with her management of the cook-stove. She realized that her old man kept the shebang going, and that he should have the right of way. If any old hens happened to be in the house when grub time approached, my mother would request them, firmly but respectfully, to chase themselves, and if they didn't like it they could lump it. When my father came home from his work, the hay was always in the manger for him, and he never had to wait five minutes for a meal.

"The day before yesterday, when I came staggering home, faint and weary from my herculean efforts to make both ends meet, you told me another story. It was to the effect that you had been downtown sizing up a shipment of new spring hats, just received at the millinery foundry, and you were so interested you forgot the lapse of time, and didn't get home in time to cook anything. But you flashed a winning smile at me, and said it wouldn't take you ten minutes to warm up a can of beans, and there was some cold coffee left from breakfast, and you had plenty of smoked herrings on hand.

"Doubtless I should have burst forth into boisterous laughter over this entertaining anecdote, but somehow it didn't appeal to my sense of humor. I was so busy that day I hadn't time to eat anything at noon, and all the way home I was hoping you would have a porterhouse steak about three inches thick, and a raft of boiled potatoes, and perhaps a slab of niuce pie as an epilogue.

"The day before that, when I came home as hollow as a bass drum, and fairly gnashing my teeth with hunger, you related a humorous story to the effect that your club didn't adjourn on time that afternoon, and you didn't get home until late, so I would have to get along with a picked-up supper. If I would be patient a few minutes, you said, to make the story seem more spicy, you would boil an egg for me, and there was cold corn bread in the cupboard.

"Such stories, Mrs. Jamesworthy, may seem highly amusing to an innocent bystander, and I have no doubt they would make a great hit if written up and printed in London Punch, but there is something wrong with my sense of humor, or I am at the wrong end of the stories. Anyhow, I can't gurgie over them as I do over Honeybug's yarns."

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. "To educate the reason without educating the desire is like placing the repeating rifle in the hands of a savage."
HERBERT SPENCER.

IN THE JUNGLE DAYS, when men killed each other with clubs, an education which simply taught them to make guns would have made bad matters worse. Along with the science of gun-making men must learn that it is wrong to kill with either guns or clubs. In other words, civilization progresses as technical and moral education keep pace with each other—as men learn to develop more perfect material things and also how to apply these things to higher ideals in life. Better things without higher ideals will make men more paganized pagans.

Christian Education is Complete Education

Moral education has fallen far behind technical skill in America. Our things often outrank the use we make of them.

It will take Germany a century to live down the effects of an education minus the Christian element. And all other nations also.

The Christian college is the only college which trains head and heart together. None other places the emphasis jointly upon character and brains. Therefore the Christian college is the hope of the world.

The M. E. Church, South, will raise a Christian Education Fund of $33,000,000 to equip and adequately maintain a system of 90 of the nation's finest and most thoroughly Christian schools and colleges. The campaign period is May 27-June 5.

Send a check for this cause to the pastor of any Southern Methodist Church today.
