Memorial Fund For Tommy Sikes Started

The Bangs Methodist Church has established a memorial fund for the late Tommy Lee Sikes, a member of the church and a life-long resident of Bangs, who coached last year in the school system here in Eldorado and was killed in a vehicular accident near San Angelo in August.

After consultation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sikes. the Memorial Committee agreed that an organ for his church would be a fitting memorial.

Guy Whitaker, high school principal here, was notified this week by letter of the arrangements for the memorial to Coach Sikes.

Gifts may be made to the Tommy Lee Sikes Memorial Fund and

Mr. E. B. Elliott

Box 644 Bangs, Texas 76823

Mr. Elliott is chairman of the Memorial Fund. Rev. John K. Mc-Kee is pastor of the First Methodist Church in Bangs. The Rev. Mr. McKee stated in the letter to Mr. Whitaker:

"Let me thank you personally for the many comforting words and expressions of sympathy which have come from the people of Eldorado. Should inquiries come to you, (about the Memorial Fund), I would appreciate your passing this information on.

City Calls For Bond Issue for Gas System

Citizens of Eldorado will have their first opportunity to cast a ballot on January 24th when qualified tax-paying voters will vote on a $65,000 bond issue.

The call for election is set forth on another page in a legal notice which was adopted by the city governing body in a meeting on December 29th. The call is for issuing $65,000 in revenue bonds for the purpose of purchasing facilities and equipment for, and making extensions and additions to the City's gas system.

Legal work connected with the election is being handled by Spence & Gibson, the city's bond attorneys of Austin, who have assured the city that their bonds will carry an interest rate of not to exceed 5.4% according to Lum Burk, city secretary.

Since the bonds to be voted will be Revenue Bonds they will not affect the city's tax rate, and Mr. Burk expained further that there will be no rate increase to city gas consumers.

The natural gas distribution system was set up by the city some 20 years ago with the city buying its gas from the Cooper Gas Company who supplied gas with a 13-mile line from the field to the city limits

Cooper Gas sold the 13-mile line to local individuals and later became known as Eldorado Pipe Co., and continued to supply the city. The system has worked satisfactorily during all that time except on one or two occasions. Fearing that gas supplies in the future may not be sufficient during extreme cold spells, city officials are anxious to take over the entire system and to add an additional auxiliary supply.

In the last three years many gas wells have been brought in and Eldorado is now ringed with gassers —some within a mile of the city limits. City dads are looking forward into the future planning for a gas supply large enough for any kind of weather, and large enough to serve an industry if one should ever want to locate here.

-ps-In another column we carry the story of a forthcoming City Bond Election set up for Tuesday, Jan.

This notice for bond election seems to have come up suddenly out of a clear blue sky, and no doubt will be a surprise to many of our readers who will be asking why and what for.

The only city official that we have talked to is Mr. Burk, the city secretary and he thinks it will a good deal for the City of Eldorado. One of the questions we asked Mr. Burk was, how much has it been costing the city to buy their gas from Eldorado Pipe Line Co. On Tuesday morning he checked his books and reported that in the last four years they had paid $44,401.00—an average of over $11,000 a year. The City has agreed to pay the Eldorado Pipe Line Company $50, 000.00 for their 13-mile line. Mr. Burk contends that it will itself out in five years, and will leave the city in control of its supply and will also leave it free to dicker for additional supplies when needed.

Back in 1787 when delegates from 13 colonies struggled from May until September to set up a Federal Constitution Benjamin Franklin, then over 80 years old and the oldest delegate there, propounded a great truth. He said pole and rolled over several times to inform them!"

Now I guess you can tell by what we've said so far, that we believe what Mr. Burk has told us, and that we the Success will vote FOR the proposition. After all it is only a "little bittie" bond issue and it is nothing to be alarmed about.

THE RAIL FESTORE

ELDORADO AND SONORA, TEXAS

Austin, Texas.—Come Tuesday, Texas legislators will be back in session at the state capitol.

Pressing money matters and certain new taxes head the "worry list" confronting the lawmakers. But a broad montage of other problems on the agenda promises an interesting, high-voltage session. It is sure to be one that will continue through the full 140-day period and may even go into extra innings.

Gov. John Connally in his "state of the state" message to the solons later this month will outline spending recommendations which will require more than $100 million in new taxation. Included will be his own $911.5 million budget.

Numerous tax proposals are expected to be offered. These include expansion on the sales tax, a onecent-per-gallon boost in gasoline taxes, a franchise tax raise and many other proposals.

We give thanks that she was able to teach through Thursday of that week and are especially grateful that she did not have the prolonged illness and sufferng she might have had since she died of leukemia.

This has been a year of "ups and downs" physically for Dorothy and she finally entered the hospital Thanksgiving Day for surgery. No malignancy found. So though recovery has been slow it has been sure. She hopes to be back on the job with her sixth graders after mid-semester.

Soon after coming to the Valley, Russell joined Toastmasters. Having been selected to represent his club in annual competition, he "made it" to the Regional Conference in Wichita, Kansas. Next stop would have been the International Finals! We are proud of his accomplishment and Dorothy says the experience has improved his preaching! Providing adequate winter protection for trees, shrubs and flowers is a problem which all homeowners face. The amount of protection needed depends on the natural hardiness of plants, severity of climate and exposure.

Winter injury to plants is usually attributable to two factors—severe cold or loss of moisture from shoots and branches. Extreme cold will cause twigs, stems and roots to freeze, prompting cell tissues to break down. Excessive loss of moisture, which frequently causes winter-killing, is due largely to the effects of strong, drying winds during periods of winter sunshine.

Dun & Bradstreet Gives 41 Businesses

Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., international business information agency which has been celebrating its 125th Anniversary, has released latest statistics on the business population of Schleicher county. Mr. A. J. Hemphill, district manager of the Fort Worth office of D&B, reports that figures obtained by a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1967, show that there are 41 retailers, wholesalers, and manufacturers in this area.

Founded in 1841 in New York City, the Dun & Bradstreet organization now includes nearly 240 offices in the United States and abroad. The company was originally established to collect and report data on merchants on the Western frontier in order to promote trade, and has been gathering financial and credit data on firms of all types ever since.

British Isle Goes To Expo 67

Reminding the world that she, too, is an island nation, Great Britain will represent herself at Canada's Expo 67 next April 28th through October 27th with a most appropriate pavilion. Expo 67 itself has an island site in the St. Lawrence, off Montreal, so the British reminder should be well taken.

Located at the edge of a lake on Ile Notre Dame, the $7\foralle{2}\text{million Pavilion stands between those of France and the Federal Republic of Germany. Its walls rise sharply from the water, and a huge conical tower, nearly 200 feet high, dominates over all.

Visitors enter the pavilion area by crossing a shallow moat. The covered concourse, which has neither grass nor flowers, features a sculptured fountain and accompanying pool. The concourse provides tourists a place to watch the Exposition's lake regattas, and to listen to music from nearby bandshells.

vilion, in conjunction with Expo 67's general theme of "Man and His World," is the "Challenge of Change." It will be expressed through exhibits in five main sections.

The first, located at the base of the tower, is dedicated to showing the British as mature people welded into a strong community through the influence of a common history.

From here tourists take an escalator to the second section, exhibiting the achievements of the British. A bridge to the third section brings visitors to ountain and accompanying ool. The concourse provides ourists a place to watch the exposition's lake regattas, and o listen to music from nearby andshells.
