Hospital Directors In Regular Session

Directors of Schleicher County Hospital District met in regular session Monday night and again set a tax rate of 45 cents for the present year.

Good reports were heard on the development of the grounds and lawns. A power lawn mower was purchased, as well as furniture needed by the Ladies Auxiliary.

A major piece of business was an agreement made with R. K. Dunbar & Co., for refunding of $40,000 of the hospital's bonds.

In this deal the District agrees to pay off certain bonds ten years earlier than originally planned, but in the process they will save nearly $20,000 in interest.

Dr. Brame Called To Mother's Funeral

Dr. J. B. Brame received word July 4th that his mother, Mrs. R. A. Brame, passed away that day at her home in Baytown.

The Success is without further information since the doctor and his family left for Baytown the same day.

Clemens Sauers Leave For Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sauer left Tuesday for Fort Worth to attend funeral services Wednesday for her sister, Mrs. Clarence Neel, who died there at the age of 43 after a long illness.

Mrs. Effie Lorene Neel died Sunday in a Fort Worth hospital. She was a native of Menard and had lived in Fort Worth for seven years. She was a former resident of El Paso and was a member of St. Rita's Catholic Church.

Survivors include her husband, Clarence E. Neel; sons, John Eldon Neel, and Dennis Allen Neel; and daughters, Mary Frances Neel, Diana Louis Neel, Elizabeth Susan Neel, all of Fort Worth; sisters, Mrs. Fay Patton, San Antonio, Mrs. Winnie Mae Sauer, Eldorado; brothers, Roy Trimble, San Antonio, Van Trimble, Menard, Earl Trimble, Tyler, Carol Trimble, Junction, Raymond Trimble, Big Lake, Phillip Trimble, Kerrville.

Rosary was at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Moore Funeral Chapel, Fort Worth. Requiem Mass was 10:00 a.m. Wednesday in St. Rita's Catholic Church, with interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Where Was The Fire?

Last Friday, the firemen made a run to a pick-up on the Christoval highway.

On Sunday, they were called to the Mort Mertz place at 3:12 p.m. after lightning struck a tree and started a grass fire.

Monday, they made two runs to the Latin-American community.

With this area becoming tinder-dry, hot weather continuing, and no immediate signs of rain, the firemen have issued their usual warnings to residents to be careful with trash burning and other open fires in order to keep down the incidence of fire alarms.

No-Strike Means No-Strike, Says Supreme Court

A breakthrough decision by the Supreme Court promises to help right the imbalance of excessive union power and contribute substantially to labor peace. That is the viewpoint of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Federal courts can now compel unions to honor their no-strike agreements as spelled out in contracts.

Most contracts contain both no-strike clauses and provisions for binding arbitration. One promise is usually obtained in exchange for the other.

However, eight years ago the Supreme Court ruled that although federal courts could compel employers to keep their pledge to arbitrate grievances, they were powerless to require unions to keep their side of the bargain.

Significantly, the number of strikes—almost one-third of which occurred during the term of a contract—has increased every year.

Post Script

The Weather Bureau's outlook for the month of July shows temperatures for this part of Texas as "above normal" and precipitation as being "below normal."

For us in semi-arid Schleicher County that amounts to the same thing as "normal."

We are accustomed to these extremes but let's hope it doesn't get so blistering hot as it did this time last year.

Charles Dickens starts out his story in his "Christmas Carol" by saying that Marley was dead as a door nail.

Maybe that description would be appropriate for Main Street in Eldorado on Saturday, July 4th.

Main Street was dead as a door nail.

If you could have shot a cannon up Main Street that day it would not have hit anything, except maybe the Success car which was parked briefly, while yours truly checked to see if there was very much mail at the post office.

(There wasn't much.)

A thirsty traveler coming through couldn't have bought a cup of coffee. The drug store was closed and Java Junction was closed.

He could have bought a soft drink at one of the filling stations, or he could have bought a six-pack at one of the package stores provided he took it with him.

Most people who had somewhere to go, had left. The Engdahls and perhaps many others had gone to Brady. Others went to Rocksprings where a parade was held in the morning, and rodeo performances were held afternoon and night.

The Otto Sauer family, with their scores of connections, had a big barbecue and family gathering that day at a park in Mertonton.

Popular Old Laundry Is No More

Equipment and machinery has been moved out and this is all that's left of the old Hazelwood laundry which served Eldorado for so many years. Sold over a month ago to Phil Olson it is now located down town in the rock building just north of the bank.

Another Change About To Take Place

Here is the Phillips gas station, the last station to survive on South Main street. Removal of Hwy. 277 to Divide Street some 12 years ago.

Station was built by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elder during the Huldale boom and operated by them for some time. Was leased by them to Clovis Taylor in November 1954. Taylors are closing out Monday night, July 13th.

John Meador of C. C. Lease is taking over the lease from Elders and is buying Taylor's Merchandise and equipment. Just how it is to be operated has not yet been announced. We're glad it is not to be abandoned.

LOWE IMPROVING

Gilbert Lowe, who underwent eye surgery about a month ago, reports this week that he is slowly improving but that it will be two or three weeks before he can do any work at his popular repair shop and garage in north-eastern Eldorado.

Mrs. George L. Spinks and sons Andy and Stanley of Garland are visiting with the Fred Spinks this week. Mrs. Spinks will go with her children to visit her parents at Alpine next week. Grandmother Spinks is entertaining the boys with rides on the three wheel bike.

New Babies

Cheryl Lynn is the name given the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Pennington of Seattle, Washington.

Grandparents are Mrs. V. L. Pennington of McGregor and Mr. and Mrs. Gene McCalla.

The Penningtons have one son, Russell Van, 3½ years.

Paul Stanford, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meece and Mr. and Mrs. Truett Stanford, visited here for two weeks. His family, the A. L. Stanfords of Haynesville, La., joined him for the 4th of July week end. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton McGinnes drove to San Antonio last Wednesday and brought Wayne home for over the 4th. He will be returned on Friday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer and family left early this week to return to their home at Van Horn after spending the Fourth visiting with relatives. They attended the Sauer reunion held on the Fourth at Mertonton.

Little Jennifer Plunkett of San Antonio is visiting her grandparents, the Eldon Calks, while her parents attend the Bar Association Convention in Mexico City.

Forris H. Sutherland has moved to the Buchanan place for the summer from California.

Polio Immunization Program

On July 9th from 2:00 until 5:00 p. m., in the emergency room of Schleicher County Medical Center a county-wide immunization program against Polio will be conducted. All children between the ages of 2 months and 12 years should be fully immunized. For those in this age group who have had the original sugar cube only a booster sugar cube will be given. For all children who have not had the original series, one sugar cube will be given at that time and this must be repeated in two months.

Because of the increase in the number of cases of Polio in the state of Texas every children should be fully protected against this crippling disease. This program is sponsored by the State Health Department and Schleicher County and is for all children 12 years of age or younger who need the immunization. Any immunization records should be brought so that verification can be made of the original record.

A Tale Of Two Systems

The postal service and the telephone system are two of the most widely used means of communication today. There is little else the two systems have in common.

The cost of communicating between two cities such as Chicago and Los Angeles by first class mail has risen 300% since 1932, and the possibility exists that rates may be raised again to 8c an ounce.

Telephone costs, in contrast, have dropped dramatically over the same period, and today the cost of a three-minute daytime call between these cities is about one-fourth the cost in 1932.

These figures were compiled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The postal service was one of the first and most important functions of the Federal Government when the republic was founded.

Telephone service, on the other hand, has been left in the hands of private enterprise.

On can only wonder, observes the National Chamber, what would have happened if our founding fathers had telephones and had decided that only the government could make them work.

Dr. Dan Peterson Now On The Job Here

Schleicher County Medical Center is pleased to announce that Dr. Dan Peterson has joined their Medical Staff. The doctor is a graduate of the University of Texas Medical School and served his internship at the R. E. Thomason General Hospital in El Paso, Texas.

Dr. Peterson's office is located at Schleicher County Medical Center, where he is now seeing patients.

Dr. and Mrs. Peterson with their 8 month old son have moved into the late Mrs. Pat Martin's house at 210 N. Main here in Eldorado.

Medical Scholarship To Be Established

The Woman's Medical Auxiliary held its monthly meeting July 2 in the hospital dining room. Several committee progress reports were given at that time.

The hospital waiting room furniture has been delivered and is now in use. A report from the "Flea Market" was given and the date for the July sale day has been set for July 30. At this time a ½ price sale on summer merchandise will be offered.

Plans for the newly formed scholarship committee are now in action. A scholarship loan of $125 will be given to someone from Eldorado who is interested in pursuing a medically related field of study. The money to be used for the scholarship-loan will come from the Hospital Memorial Fund which is now in effect. Anyone wishing to remember friends or loved ones with a memorial gift may send a check to the Hospital Memorial Fund. It is hoped that the scholarship loan can come from the Memorial Fund and can be paid back in several ways. Anyone interested in applying for the scholarship loan may pick up an application blank at the hospital office.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE RESULTS FOR JULY 2ND:

- 1st, Melissa O'Harrow and Flora Hubble;
 - 2nd, Blakeways;
 - 3rd, Winnie and Debbie Hilliard.
- Will play Thursday, July 9th.

Did You Know That—

The first recorded event in the present Schleicher was in 1805. The United States had made the Louisiana Purchase in 1802. The boundary of Louisiana had not been defined and Zebulon Pike was sent west from St. Louis to explore the possible boundary. After Pike entered the region of Colorado, he discovered what is now known as Pike's Peak. After Pike reached Leadville, New Mexico, he was discovered by the Mexican soldiers and was promptly arrested. The Mexican Government became uneasy fearing the North Americans were settling Texas, and if so, someday they would lose Texas to these people.

The Mexican Government sent a scouting party West from San Antonio to Santa Fe, New Mexico, to see if any aliens were settling in Texas. The party chief was named Amangual. Amangual kept notes on his journey and his trip is easily located now. On his return trip, after he leaves the Pecos River he finds three Comanche Indians who lead him to a large body of water. Amangual names the lake Sam Xavier Lagoon. This lake was later known simply as the Big Lake. The town nearby was named Big Lake also. The three Indians led Amangual on to their tribe's camp which was on the head springs of Spring Creek. From Spring Creek, Amangual went to the Head Springs of the San Saba. Halfway between the two springs he records that he "camped for the night at a lake fed by springs; this no doubt was in Schleicher County somewhere north of Eldorado. Some people think the place was at the water hole on the Frankie Thompson ranch. The spot that Mr. Doty first settled. Other people think the camping place was in the Jimmie West pasture at the Indian water hole.

The Historical Society will hold its next meeting July 17 at 7:30 in the Memorial Building. Plan to be there.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Brown of Round Rock, Texas, were visitors in the Fred Spinks home last week end.

Worthy Country Sought By Bentsen

Houston, Tex.—Lloyd M. Bentsen, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, believes America should begin immediately an all-out effort to make our country worthy of the sacrifices made by our Vietnam veterans.

"Hundreds of thousands of these young men who have fought for us will be returning in the months ahead," said Bentsen. "They put their lives on the line for America. Many of their comrades have died for that same cause, and many more will bear the scars and wounds for the rest of their life."

"For the Vietnam veteran, what kind of country shall this be? It can be a nation torn by dissension and disunity. It can be an ugly country which has fouled its air and water, depleted its natural resources and filled its cities with slum and dirt."

"It can be a country which has turned its back on its heritage and put power in the hands of extremists, either right or left, whose intention is to rule or ruin," he declared.

"That's not the kind of country I want that veteran to live in," said Bentsen, "and I doubt that other Texans do, either. He deserves better than that. All of us deserve better than that."

"We have a long agenda for improving this country, because in a democracy you never sit back and say you've done enough."

"We have to face and turn back the threat of pollution," said Bentsen. "That is really a matter of life and death."

"We have to face and defeat other kinds of pollution, too. I'm talking about social pollution, and that includes crime, the drug traffic and the alarming tendency to seek change through violence and hatred."

"For some people, the words 'Law and Order' have a sinister ring," Bentsen noted. "But in a republic like ours, law and order must prevail."

"Our agenda includes the assurance of a good education for every American child," he added. "And it includes the right to live in a decent house and have decent food and health care. It includes the right to work at a decent job, and to get the training for that job under our free enterprise system."

"And a very important item on our agenda is the soundness of the dollar, because if we don't have a strong economy all of these other things are totally impossible," said Bentsen.

"Unemployment, high interest rates and inflation undermine our work for a better life for all Americans," he declared. "Nothing is more important than to get this country's economy back on the track."

Homeowners need to care for their lawns throughout the summer, even though the mercury may rise and it is easier to stay in front of the air conditioner.

In the summer, Saint Augustine grass is often attacked by a soil fungus which causes what is known as "fading out." This is shown by the grass dying in irregular patches.

The fungus is always present in the soil, but attacks the grass stolons, runners, only when the plants get in a depleted, weakened condition. Some tips for keeping a lawn looking lush and green all summer.

Molasses for Summer Cooking

Summertime is the time to prepare food favorites in easy ways that provide lots of flavor and nutrition. One way to add a delightful touch to beans and barbecues is to dress them with a traditional American cooking ingredient, light molasses.

Molasses 'n' Beans

Light molasses adds rich flavor and color, as well as valuable iron so necessary for energy and good health, to canned beans. Use light molasses to spark popular pork and beans or beans in tomato sauce, and try it with new varieties like kidney or pinto beans. Some will like their beans cold. Light molasses, vinegar, salt, chopped onion and spices will make a hearty dressing for bean salad.

Barbecue with Molasses

For the simplest of barbecue sauces for any season, spoon or brush Brer Rabbit Light Molasses over meats and fish being broiled or baked . . . over outdoor coals or in the house. When brushed on beef, poultry, or other meats before cooking, light molasses seals in the juices and gives a wonderful "charcoal-broiled" flavor even to meats cooked in the stove. This simple sauce enhances the flavor of meats and fish. Keep a bottle of light molasses handy in the kitchen for adding fine fillips to your summer proper growth of the plants. In addition, proper watering will help. This part of lawn care would seem to be the easiest, but often causes unnecessary problems. The common afternoon sprinkles used by many people often result in a shallow root system that is harmful to the grass. Water the lawn thoroughly and then not water it again until the ground needs it.

Proper mowing is also important especially trimming at regular intervals and at the right height. Many people cut too much of the grass at one time if frequent mowing is not practiced.

Don't allow the development of "thatch," that layer of dead grass and leaves that give the lawn a spongy feel. The best way to prevent this problem is to catch the grass clippings when mowing. Although it is too late this year, it is best to clip the grass shorter than normal just as growth begins in the spring.

Finally, the proper use of fungicides can help control fading out. Fungicides are to be used in conjunction with the other practices, and not to be relied on by themselves. Information on the type and amount of fungicides for ordinary lawn care can be obtained from my office.

The lawn care program must be a continuing one all during the summer growing season; or so that the lawn grass may be maintained in a healthy vigorous condition all year long.

Although there's never a shortage of trouble, some people insist on wasting time looking for it.

Everybody has a different belief or remedy for those little bugs that cause so much misery.

The truth about chiggers or red-bugs comes is the bugs can be present everywhere there is any form of vegetation.

Since the requirements of chiggers are so wide and cover just about any type of climate and vegetation, they are found in every county of Texas. Soil and temperature do have some effect, but the type of grass, vine or weed most influences the presence of chiggers.

Eggs hatch into immature chiggers called larvae. Chiggers in the larvae stage are the troublemakers, since the yare parasitic on man and animals. The larvae transform into nymphs, and the nymphs into adults. Nymphs and adults feed on insect eggs, small insects and other organisms found on or near decaying woody substances.

When the larvae come in contact with man or animal, they move about in search of a suitable location to feed. Delicacies for chiggers are areas of the body where the clothing fits tight or where the flesh is thin, tender or wrinkled.

Chiggers attach themselves by inserting their mouthparts into the skin. When they feed, they inject a fluid which liquifies the tissue and causes reddish welts, swelling, itching and (in some persons) fever.

A chigger attached in a pore or at the base of a hair may be so enveloped by swollen skin that it appears to be burrowing in the skin. This leads some people to mistakenly believe that chiggers embed themselves in the skin or that welts contain chiggers.

Protection from chiggers can be achieved through use of a repellent before entering areas where the bugs might be present. Repellents most effective are diethyl toluamide, dimethyl phthalate, dimethyl carbate, ethyl hexanediol and benzyl benzoate.

If and when chiggers do infect the skin, the following steps are the most effective in obtaining relief:

Take a bath as soon as possible and then apply a dab of antiseptic to each welt to kill the chiggers and reduce the possibility of infection.

Destroying the chiggers reduces the itching but does not stop it because the fluid injected into the skin is the cause. No treatment is known that will give permanent relief from the itching, but temporary relief can be obtained with a local anesthetic.

A formula compounded by a druggist of 5% benzocaine, 2% methyl salicylate, 0.5% salicylic acid, 73% ethyl alcohol and 19.5% water when applied to each welt will give relief for an hour or longer.

In lawns and areas where chiggers need to be controlled, dust or spray formulations can be effective. Dusts recommended are carbaryl (Sevin), chlordane, lindane,

Bush Scores Rural-To-Urban Migration

Congressman George Bush said Thursday, July 2, that he is concerned that a continuation of the trend of migration from the rural areas will result in "a magnification of the problems of pollution, high crime incidence and racial strife which are most prominent in the high population concentration urban areas."

Bush, candidate for the U. S. Senate, said that steps must be taken to reverse this trend.

"The Rural Job Development Act, which I first introduced in July, 1968, provides for tax incentives for industries locating in rural areas with low employment opportunities," he said. "I reintroduced this legislation in the first session of the 91st Congress and have continued to push for its passage."

"I am highly encouraged that public awareness of this issue has been aroused, and I am hopeful that positive action will soon follow in the Congress."

"It is not enough merely to get people out of the cities and into the rural areas. To do no more than this would be to merely spread the problems out to areas not now affected. Foresight and planning for the influx of these areas must be given if we are to avoid the same thing from happening in these areas as happened in the urban areas when this migration began.

"The local governments, with state and federal assistance, must deal with the problems of inadequate waste treatment facilities, housing, schools and police. At the present time, many of these local governments find it difficult to serve the existing population, much less deal with a population growth trend."

"The legislation which I have introduced provided for the carefully controlled use of tax-exempt industrial development bonds to provide financial assistance to local governments to deal with these problems. The establishment of a Rural Development Bank may also provide a part of the answer to this problem. Land use management must be established. Pollution control must be considered in the establishment of new industry."

"More long range thought than just how to get people to the rural areas must be given if we are to successfully solve these problems. Legislation which I introduced and which has now become law, establishing a Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, will hopefully help deal with these problems. We must establish a population growth policy for this country which will deal with population growth problems in terms of both numbers and distribution.

"We must assure that the local government has the expertise and support to provide for rural development which will solve these problems and not merely create new and perhaps greater ones."

Modern Schools May Resemble Old Ones

Austin, Tex.—Some modern public school buildings in Texas today resemble the little red one-room schoolhouse of yesteryear in one respect—more open space and fewer partitions.

In fact, a new term in modern school construction and use is "the open-space school." It refers to a school building—usually for elementary students—in which as much as 140,000 square feet of floorspace contains large unpartitioned study areas, grouped around "learning centers" or "media centers" that formerly were called libraries.

An open-space school building might have four or five classes per area within five instructional areas. Carpets have replaced hard-surface floors. No walls divide classes in the instructional areas, although moveable partitions may be an optional feature.

Teachers work in groups under a system called "team teaching." The buildings are "climate controlled." Traditional straight chairs and desks, row on row, are replaced with comfortable chairs arranged around tables of various sizes. Building decor and furniture are colorful and attractive.

Texas elementary principals and supervisors, meeting at their annual summer workshop in Austin, devoted one discussion session to "The Open-Area Elementary School and Its Program."

Elementary principals from 3 San Antonio schools which were designed and built for the open-space concept told how it works. One said the new system requires new methods and much imagination on the part of teachers, and a new kind of orientation and discipline.

In addition to team teaching, the open-space schools emphasize individualized instruction, tutoring by students, use of parents as volunteer aides, and grouping of youngsters according to special abilities and needs.

"Our children's attitudes about school changed overnight when we moved into our new open-space school," another speaker said. "They really are enjoying school in the more comfortable, attractive surroundings."

Although the open-space school is currently being used in only 15 or 20 school districts in Texas (in an estimated 25 or 40 buildings) the principals said they think more school systems will join the trend. Not one principal said he would go back to the traditional setup, even though the new system has brought some new problems.

They figure the problems are outweighed by the advantages: Being able to teach children in an atmosphere more conducive to learning and to the development of independence, cooperation, self-discipline, self-esteem, and leadership.

Shopping Hints On Summer Foods

College Station, Tex.—Give cottage cheese the spotlight in your summer meals. It is appealing to lagging appetites, is reasonably priced and has many of the nutritive qualities of milk, Gwendolyne Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist, suggests.

She also gives the following hints and suggestions for week end grocery shoppers.

"Pork supplies are normally smaller in summer and prices are higher than when supplies are abundant. However, beef supplies are larger and should have a tendency to hold pork prices at a lower level," Mrs. Clyatt said. Several pork cuts, including smoked hams, loin cuts and the Boston butt, are among the better meat values from a cost standpoint."

Beef prices, generally, are up a bit, she noted, adding that most hindquarters remain at regular prices while scattered specials will be found on some forequarter cuts.

According to Mrs. Clyatt, beef cuts most often featured this week include chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and rolled rib roasts, with both beef liver and ground beef available at reasonable prices.

"Current prices for whole, quarters and pieces of fryers should stimulate interest in this versatile protein food," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Many markets will offer poultry items at popular prices, and eggs continue to be a very reasonably priced protein food, too."

Cantaloupe is in plentiful supply, and generally, sizes are larger than a couple of weeks back, Mrs. Clyatt noted. Most of the peaches on the market now are semi-cling varieties and the supply is increasing, she added.

Watermelons, honeydews, bananas, nectarines, strawberries and pineapples are also good fruit choices.

Buy fresh vegetables in quantities that will be used in two or three days in order to maintain the "freshness" of purchases, she suggested.

Farmers Receive Early Program Payments

Farmers who have contributed to stabilizing markets for food and fiber and to the conservation of soil and water resources by taking part in the 1970 wheat, feed grain, and cotton programs are receiving their program payments earlier this year than ever before.

The first batch of payments were made beginning July 1, 1970. Additional payments will continue to be made as rapidly as farmers certify compliance with program requirements and as fast as individual farm records can be processed and checks returned to ASCS county offices for distribution to farmers.

Most payments should be completed by mid-August, if farmers who signed up will complete the necessary certification indicating that they have complied with all of the program provisions.

Farm program payments help maintain a balance between supply and demand, the Chairman explained. He pointed out that both farmers and consumers benefit from this balance.

"Agricultural productivity almost doubled in the past 20 years, but farmers' markets take only about a third of this increase," said Powell. This means we need new markets. Farm programs help us hold down farm production and maintain farm income until new markets are developed and old ones expanded.

"Huge surpluses must be avoided. They are costly in tax dollars and are wasteful of food and fiber. Farm programs help farmers make adjustments in their individual farming operations that in the long run will result in more farm income from the marketplace and less from the public treasury."

"Since farmers are $50-billion-a-year purchasers of goods and services produced in our cities and rural towns, the workers and business firms in cities and towns benefit from farm programs, too."

Farm programs also make important contributions to conservation of natural resources and help fight pollution, Powell said. Acres that are diverted out of crop production under farm programs are put to conserving uses such as the growing of grass and trees. Such practices conserve soil and water, provide habitat for wildlife and small game, help prevent pollution of our streams from sediment and agricultural chemicals or waste products, and reduce air pollution caused by blowing dust, the Chairman explained.

"When a farmer takes land out of production and puts it to a soil-and-water-conserving use, he gives up the value of the production he normally would have received as income. At the same time, the farmer pays taxes on land removed from production even though that land produces no crops. Program payments are designed to compensate him for these voluntary contributions toward a more stable farm economy and a better environment," Powell said.

In recent years the U. S. Department of Agriculture had advanced partial payment to farmers during the spring sign-up period for the feed grain program only. The balance of the feed grain payment, and cotton and wheat payments were generally made starting in late July and continuing through August and September, or later, the Chairman explained.

"Because of budget restraints, partial payments could not be made this year. However, the Department made a commitment to farmers that full payments would be made as early as possible. That commitment is now being fulfilled."

In recent years the U. S. Department of Agriculture had advanced partial payment to farmers during the spring sign-up period for the feed grain program only.

Returning Veterans Should Contact Colleges Of Choice

Mr. P. J. Mims, Director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Houston, advises that any veteran planning to enter school for the first time under the G. I. Bill should contact the school of his choice as soon as possible.

Mims said, "the veteran student should be certain that the course of study he desires to follow is being taught at the particular school he desires to enter and that the school and the course have been approved by the Texas Educational Agency."

Mr. Mims further suggested that each concerned veteran should have funds available to carry him for at least 60 to 90 days after entering school. These funds will probably be needed for the expenses of enrollment, etc. If everything is in order and the veteran is properly enrolled, his payments will be retroactive to the date of enrollment.

Mr. Mims emphasized that once the school has been contacted, the veteran should file an application for education and training with the Veterans Administration. When contacting the VA, he should bring or send his application together with his separation or discharge papers, and if married, a certified copy of the marriage certificate; and if any children, certified copies of the birth certificate(s).

The Veterans Administration Office in Houston is located at 515 Rusk Avenue, Room 1018. The Veterans Assistance Center in San Antonio is located at 410 S. Main, Room 310. Hours at both locations are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Grass And Trees Rank First With Homeowners

Austin, Tex.—A house is a home when there is green grass and trees around it, according to a poll of over 4,000 families as reported in Housing Trends. "Preference for grass and trees over such things as good schools, shopping facilities and a modern kitchen, is a little surprising," says Joe Butler, executive vice president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, "but homeowner's preferences obviously are changing with the times."

The poll, taken for a national firm, shows that a "house becomes a home" when grass and trees are around in the preference of 95% of those interviewed; 92% wanted neighbors with whom they could "feel comfortable." A church of their faith nearby ranked 83%; a first-rate shopping center area close by, 84%, with the same number wanting a kitchen with all the modern conveniences. Good schools nearby was rated as important by 81%.

The same preferences for good neighbors, shopping facilities, and schools, churches, and landscaped surroundings, are a major factor for homeowners modernizing their houses. "Don't move—improve" is a popular slogan these days. Many Texas lumber dealers specialize in helping families repair and modernize their homes so they remain in familiar, friendly and comfortable surroundings.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The 1969 Tax Reform Act contained a change that can be important to many taxpayers. Under the old law you could decrease your withholding tax for the following year if your itemized deductions for the past year ran high enough to create a very large refund. However, under the new law you can now decrease your withholding during the year before you pay a lot of withholding tax that you don't owe. A good example of what can happen was brought out by the tornado and storm victims in West Texas. Many of these taxpayers are eligible to immediately reduce the amount of tax withheld from their pay, since their itemized deductions for the 1970 tax year will include a casualty loss amounting to several thousand dollars. Of course the itemized deduction provision of the law is not limited to casualty losses, but also applies to all types of itemized deductions. If your itemized deductions have increased by a very large amount you can obtain a new Form W-4 and a Form W-4 Schedule A from your payroll office to get an immediate increase in pay instead of the refund check next April.

Polio Strikes In Texas Once Again

The crippling, contagious disease of polio has struck the State of Texas once again. Following an epidemic of the disease in South Texas, state, local, and federal health officials have mounted a state-wide immunization campaign to protect all young children against this disease. By the end of June, the Texas State Department of Health had received reports of 14 possible cases of the disease. Of these, only three have been confirmed as polio. One case was diagnosed as ECHO virus, and the others remain under observation. One death has been attributed to polio, and the disease is suspect in one other fatality.

Dr. M. S. Dickerson, chief of the Communicable Disease Services section of the State Health Department, reports the paralytic polio outbreak in Texas has become an epidemic under the definition of the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the U. S. Public Health Service. Their guidelines say an outbreak will be considered an epidemic when there are two or more confirmed cases of the disease caused by the same type of virus during a four week period in a specific area. The three confirmed cases are of Type 1 polio virus, and all three were diagnosed in Hidalgo county.

The virus is attacking primarily children under one year of age, with the oldest reported case only three years old. These reported cases are coming out of families who have failed to take their children to a doctor or their local health department for immunization against the crippling disease. None of the children under observation by health officials had received any polio vaccine. All cases have some degree of paralysis.

Dr. Dickerson says health officials have mounted a massive polio immunization campaign. Some 40,000 doses of the Trivalent Oral Polio Vaccine were distributed in the last week end of June to residents in the epidemic locality. But Dr. Dickerson stresses the need for a state-wide vigilance, and urges all parents to get their children immunized as soon as possible.

Polio immunization is carried out in five steps. The first dose of the Trivalent vaccine is recommended for the child of two months of age, when the protective antibodies the child received from his parents are beginning to diminish. A second dose is required at the age of four months. A third dose follows at six months of age, a fourth dose at 18 months of age, and a fifth and final dose is recommended just prior to the child's admission to school. All five doses are necessary for full immunization.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Oh for it to stay July, for weeks and weeks and weeks! I'm a cornbread and vegetable person, a salt and watermelon person, a peach eater of great devotion. I had rather go to a vegetable market than an art museum; well almost. I remember with excitement getting up at 4:00 in the morning to go to the greatest of all, Les Halles in Paris, on a glorious August day years ago. I remember being awed by the movie stars surveying the day's offerings at the farmer's market in Los Angeles. With the exception of the years ago great, Fred Astaire, the vegetables and fruits were still more exciting than the stars who had the integrity to do their own shopping. Coventry Market in London is big, sprawling, busy and quite interesting but by no means as exciting as some of its peers.

I even get a kick out of stopping at the vegetable stand in Bangs, Texas, and incidentally have discovered at this very market some of the most glorious peaches in the world.

We don't have a garden or a corn patch but some of our friends and neighbors do and for the past month we have been eating high off the cucumber vine and corn stalk. Right now I'm standing ready for the tomatoes with a salt shaker very handy.

How are vegetables best? The way you like them—that is best. I like mine simple, the taste of the vegetable, salt and pepper, and a little dab of butter. This goes for all of them: beets, squash, onions, potatoes, corn and okra. The less water these vegetables are cooked in the better they taste.

I have cooked corn without water for a long time, instead I steam it. Cover the bottom of container with a generous layer of clean shucks. Add water, but not enough to cover the shucks. Brine and silk fresh corn is placed on top of shucks. Put lid on container and steam until corn is tender, usually takes about 10 minutes or so. Test before eating for doneness. Corn will vary according to time.

Stuffed tomatoes are delicious served with broiled steak, chicken or hamburger and served with green beans and a simple dessert add to a perfect meal. This is to be used only when there are so many fresh tomatoes that one can afford to cook a few without wincing.

Stuffed Tomatoes

- 6 medium sized ripe tomatoes
- 1/3 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 1/2 cups coarsely crumbled cornbread
- 2 slices bacon.

Cut slice from top of each tomato. Remove seeds and most of pulp, but leave shell thick enough to hold its shape. Keep about 2/3 cup pulp. Turn tomatoes upside down to drain. Lightly brown celery in butter. Add chopped tomato pulp, salt, pepper, and cornbread. Mix lightly, until ingredients are combined.

Fill drained tomatoes with the cornbread mixture. Place in greased baking pan. Lay one slice bacon on top of three tomatoes; repeat with other slice on the other three. Bake at 350 F. for 15 to 20 minutes.

And for a meal within itself, try these:

Club Bunwiches

Slice desired number hamburger buns crosswise into three slices. Butter bottom slice of each. Add leaf lettuce, slice of tomato and mayonnaise. Cover with buttered middle slice. Add leaf lettuce; thinly sliced cold chicken and slices of Swiss cheese. Top with third buttered slice of bun.

Of course ordinary bread can be used instead of a bun.

Luncheon meat is not the most glamorous meat in the world but sometimes it isn't glamour that the mother of a housefull of hungry children is looking for. Most of the time I am sure she would be glad to settle for low cost volume. The following recipe does a good job of filling the bill.

- Macaroni-Luncheon Meat Salad
- 1 8-oz. package macaroni
 - 1 cup chopped celery
 - 1 cup chopped sweet pickles
 - 2 tablespoons chopped onion
 - 2 tablespoons juice from pickles
 - 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 cup cubed, canned luncheon meat.

Cook macaroni as directed until just tender. Drain thoroughly, add celery, pickles, onion; mix. Blend juice from pickles into mayonnaise. Stir in salt and pepper. Add to macaroni mixture along with luncheon meat. Mix well. Chill and serve.

Austin, Tex.—A blue-ribbon insurance study committee has recommended exploring Texas' compulsory auto liability coverage and a careful look at allegations that garages charge more for policy-covered repairs.

Report went to Gov. Preston Smith prior to the State Insurance Board hearing July 14-15 on inclusion of insurance company investment income in the auto rate-making formula.

Smith indicated that the Board may not be ready this soon to evaluate the full effect of the formula change which also is backed by the study committee he named last summer after an auto policy rate hike was recommended.

Most observers think motorists are in for another increase in their premiums after the main August 17 rate hearing, regardless of whether the Board determines that investments should be figured in the base.

Study committee, headed by former Gov. Price Daniel, noted that North Carolina rates appear to be consistently low, although it also has mandatory liability coverage, Massachusetts and New York, other mandatory auto liability insurance states, have higher rates.

Committee recommended that the Legislature look into ways to stop "excessive charges being made on repairs on insured automobiles" which, in turn, leads to escalating rates year after year.

Insurance industry is expected to ask new increases as high as 15 to 20% at the August hearing.

Smith may ask Daniel's committee to examine the Board's final recommendation, as they did in 1969 (when rate adjustment was 9.9% upward instead of 11.4 as originally recommended by the Board). However, the majority of the committee is cool toward going into more extended hearings like those required by their study last year.

Capitol Addition Asked

An important part of state government may be going underground is a Building Commission proposal is approved.

Commission, in new budget requests, laid out plan for a 45,000-square-foot, $2.5 million underground addition to the capitol building, providing office space for legislators. Enlargement would be in a natural depression to the west of the present historic structure.

Commission also proposed these new projects:

- $1.26 million revamping of the north approaches to the capitol.
- $3 million parking facility for 320 cars.
- 215,000 renovation of the old Highway building for use by the Parks and Wildlife Department when Highway Department's new headquarters is completed.
- $200,000 face-lifting of old Parks and Wildlife offices in the virtually new John Reagan State Office Building—for use by the Welfare Department when P&W moves.
- $25,000 in repairs to the Governor's mansion.

Courts Speak

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Fort Worth trial court order blocking further civil rights suits under the Sunday closing law until 13 cases are finally adjudicated.

State officials have taken to the 10th U. S. Court of Appeals their fight to stop spraying of land in northeast New Mexico with pesticide Toxaphene (to control tent caterpillars). State claims Toxaphene would jeopardize the purity of Lake Meredith and thereby endanger water supplies of 11 Texas cities in the Panhandle and Great Plains.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals here held J. Weingarten Inc. of Houston is entitled to recover $19,274 in chain store tax payments.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals upheld constitutionality of the Texas Clean Air Act.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin brought suit in Galveston County District Court to prevent 145 developers from encroaching on public beaches.

Appointments

George P. Taylor, formerly of Shamrock and McAllen, is now director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

He succeeds Bob G. Allen, native of Hamilton, who moved to a new position in the state-local relations division of the governor's office.

Governor Smith announced that C. R. Hutcheson of Lubbock will serve as executive assistant to State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Elmer C. Baum of Smith.

Smith named Winston W. Lorenz, Stockdale mayor, to the Board of Directors of San Antonio River Authority, succeeding C. W. Millikin Jr. of Floresville who resigned.

Robert E. Stewart took oath of office as State Banking Commissioner on July 1.

Attorney General's Opinions

Person who faces drivers license suspension as a result of refusing to submit to chemical breath analysis is entitled to have his hearing in the county of his residence, Attorney General Martin says. Martin held that county attorneys can, but don't have to, represent the state in such proceedings.

In other new opinions, Martin ruled that:

—Special option purchase agreement between the State Department of Agriculture and International Business Machines Corporation on data-processing equipment is constitutional, since there is no obligation to spend money beyond revenues available at the time the debt is due.

—Legislature left to Commissioners Court determination as to whether office space should be furnished by the county for its home demonstration agent and county farm agent. In the absence of contractual obligation, says the AG, the Court isn't required to provide offices but has authorization to do so.

Gas Rate Hike

State Railroad Commission granted Pioneer Natural Gas Company, serving 61 West Texas communities, a new rate of 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet on its gas.

That amounts to four cents of the 6.43 cent increase the company requested.

Rate is still subject to approval by individual city governing bodies before it finally goes into effect.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. announced that his office is forfeiting charters of 10,907 corporations for failure to pay state franchise taxes.

Figure, says Dies, is almost double last year's and indicates to him "this is a barometer reflecting general economic decline throughout the nation."

Grants Approved

A large range of new federal grants were approved for Texas agencies and programs. They include:

- $51,293 for child development (Head Start) in Cameron County;
- $709,415 for emergency food and medical services;
- $150,605 for family planning programs;
- $30,135 for police tactical squad experiment;
- $42,000 for youth opportunity development program; and
- $30,000 to establish uniform procedures for recording and reporting criminal justice information.
