Tension Grows In Far East; Red, Nazi Assertions Vary

Russians Say Germans Lose Million Men

U. S. Ban On Gas For Japan Stings Tokyo Officials

By The Associated Press Soviet Russia and Germany continued to present opposite and optimistic pictures of the progress of their vast six-weeks-old struggle yesterday while Japan was reported massing troops at Russia's back door in Manchoukuo and France was holding out against German pressure for joint German-French defense of Dakar and French Africa.

A Japanese cabinet member directly described the international situation as imminently explosive. The Russians, claiming that German losses thus far number more than 1,500,000 men, portrayed the Germans as staggering and retreating under the lash of soviet counter-blows, notably in the vital Smolensk sector. The Russians reported destruction of two more nazidivisions, bringing to six the number listed in the last 24 hours.

At sea, a German destroyer and transport were sunk and two destroyers and another transport were damaged in the Baltic, the Russians added.

On the other hand, Hitler's high command announced that Red army troops encircled east of Smolensk, 230 miles from Moscow, were being "further hemmed in," and that "another decisive battle is under way" 155 miles south of Kiev, capital of the grain-rich Ukraine.

Meanwhile, axis-allied Japan, tung anew by the United States ban on aviation gasoline, was stirred by official alarms of grave events in the making. Chief among these was the blunt statement by Japanese Commerce Minister Vice Admiral Seizo Sakonji that the situation is so dangerous that "a single spark would be sufficient to cause an explosion."

Where the explosion would come was Tokyo's secret, but it seemed clear that Japan was exerting powerful pressure on Thailand (Siam) for military and air bases, which would put Japanese forces within 400 miles striking distance of the key British stronghold of Singapore and to mention an even more direct threat to British Burma. While Japan continued to pour men, guns and planes into newly gained French Indo-China bases, authoritative London quarters said that Japanese troops also were massing at Russia's backdoor—in Manchoukuo, bordering Soviet Siberia. Their positions were called a serious threat to the Russian naval and air base at Vladivostok, great Pacific port of entry for United States war supplies.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

These stories about boll worm threats may leave you cold, but could you realize it might mean a million or so dollars to the farmers of Howard county alone, you might become interested—intensely—right away.

No one says these worms will eat up that much cotton. They may not damage enough bolls to matter, but then again they might play havoc for what has a good chance of being one of the best cotton crops we ever raised. The menace may be no worse than in former years—but the stake is immensely greater. The crop looks big and the price is high.

Some have misgivings because the eighth annual rodeo here is being planned on such short notice (it's Aug. 13-17), but we have an idea that more people can be interested in a brief intensive effort than could have been in a long, drawn out program of planning. We look for this show to be financially successful for it is being staged on a much lower overhead. And it promises to be just as good show as ever before.

The Big Spring Bombers return to town today. Thus far home folks haven't turned out like they ought for a championship contender, so we hope from here on out the stands will be better filled. We hope, too, they will be packed Thursday when Appreciation Night is staged.

Ho Hum!—Says Carl Dunlap to her sister, Marjio, who apparently is too deeply engrossed with her slumbering to share an utter lack of concern over their early arrival. The stork got his orders mixed up and the twins were born prematurely to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thixton on June 25, two months before they were expected. Huddled off to an incubator, they thrived well for three weeks and last week Marjio was taken home. Carl, first born, weighed three pounds at birth and now tips the scales at four pounds three and a half ounces, still under the five pounds she must weigh before she can leave the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital. Marjio weighs around five and half pounds. Next problem for the parents is to figure some distinguishing mark between the sisters who are really identical twins. (Bradshaw Studio).

270 Attend Defense Training School Here

"Vacation" time finds 270 men going to school in staggered shifts over a 17-hour period daily as a part of the defense training classes offered at the Big Spring high school.

Instead of showing indications of a decline in enrollment, the classes in welding and aircraft sheet metal work give promise of growing and it is possible another group may be organized soon.

Appointment of Carl Dunlap as

I. J. Runyan, Coahoma, Dies

Another pioneer resident of this area, Isaac Jasper Runyan, 89, answered death's call Saturday afternoon, succumbing at his home in Coahoma following a critical illness of a week.

Grandpa Runyan, as he was affectionately known by members of the family and by friends, suffered a stroke a week ago. This was followed by another two days later. Born near Dayton, Ohio on June 11, 1852, he came to Texas while a boy. For 33 years and five months he was an employe of the T. & P. railroad in the water service department. His latter years in service were spent in charge of the watering station at Iatan tank, east of Coahoma, and following his retirement in 1927 he made his home in Coahoma.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Eberley chapel with the Rev. N. W. Pitts, pastor of the Coahoma Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in the Coahoma City cemetery beside the grave of his wife, who was Alva Adell Smith before their marriage in Sherman on Sept. 2, 1881. Together they came to Howard county in 1883. To them were born nine children.

Survivors include four sons, George Runyan, New Orleans, John and Burt Runyan of Coahoma, and Walter Runyan of Odessa. The late A. M. Runyan, Big Spring, was a son. Mr. Runyan also leaves 10 grandchildren, among them Mrs. Edith Trappnell, Mrs. Imogene McMahen, Raymond Runyan, Faye Runyan and Mrs. Eloise Merritt of Big Spring, and eight great-grandchildren.

Active pallbearers will be Ira McQuerry, Bill Hunter, Leroy Echols, Keith Birkhead, Boone Cramer and Norman Read.

Adolf Says —

Reds Are Tough

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, declared tonight that Germany has found in the red army an enemy "who battles with dogged tenacity, who surpasses all previous opponents in fighting temper."

"Bolshevism is the most dangerous enemy which we have to survive in the fight for final security and maintenance of the reich," said the article written by Dr. Fritz Zierke.

When the eastern campaign began, the article said, "many of us believed that after the first wavering of the German sword the enemy in the east would collapse like colossus on feet of clay."

"They (German readers) passed lightly over sentences in the proclamation of the Fuehrer which left no doubt that we faced a bitter, bloody war, the most violent battles in world history." The article said planes and tanks instructor in the aircraft metal work classes was announced Saturday, and beginning Monday these units are expected to develop a new class technique. Dunlap has a record of experience in the Lockheed and North American aircraft plants in California and the North American plant at Dallas, from whence he came to Big Spring. He plans instruction in blue print reading, layout and riveting. Rivet guns for the work are due to arrive here Monday.

Effective Aug. 1, a local council of administrators went into action. The council, identical in set-up with state and national councils, is composed of O. R. Rodden, representing the Texas State Employment Service, which has charge of referrals and placement; Edmund Nottelstein for the schools; and Ben Jackson, San Angelo, for the NYA work experience program. The council functions in addition to the regular advisory council.

Enrollment records show 150 adults listed in five welding classes and 15 in one sheet metal class; 80 boys, including 33 NYA enrollees, in two out-of-school youth welding classes; and 25 in one sheet metal class for the same age group. Classes run from 6 a. m. to 11 p. m.

The defense school represents considerable outlay. Instructional service runs around $1,500 per month and materials and supplies around $2,000 for the same period. Equipment in use cost right at $5,000 and in addition there has been some $600 expended in remodeling and $900 in repair and maintenance.

Because it is operating in accordance with the federal program, the school is attracting many out-of-town youths and men. Several youths have taken up temporary quarters here and men come three times a week from considerable distance. Among cities represented are Winkler, Sterling City, Westbrook, Stanton, Toyah, Colorado City, and Sweetwater.

Twelve boys have gone from the classes to California and six have written they have jobs in aircraft factories, three with Vultee, two with Solar and one with Lockheed. One, Marvin Burleson, was instructed by Lockheed to report from here.

Classes such as offered here are approved federal, state and local undertakings, carry no charge to those taking the work and are not to be confused with private schools which promise profusely and charge heavily.

have been destroyed by the thousands, "but the soviet armies still are defending themselves with dogged resolution, still are throwing new material into the battle. "Now we see why the very marrow was scraped out of the bones of the enslaved masses—farmers and workers: everything which the clique of the bolshevist dictators could press out of the people was used for the creation of offensive armaments without limits."

Workers Take Holidays Off Defense Jobs

New Stabilizing Agreement Blamed For Complication

By The Associated Press A nation-wide stabilizing agreement for AFL building trades unionists working on defense construction—designed to prohibit work stoppage for any reason—was blamed yesterday for "weekend holidays" at five giant munitions projects.

Thousands of workmen employed in Ohio and Missouri failed to show up at their jobs only a few hours after the presidents of International building trades unions ratified the agreement, worked out with national defense officials and approved by the war and navy departments.

The source of the complaint appeared to be in a provision to standardize overtime rates at one and a half times regular pay, whereas workers on many projects had been getting double time for weekend work.

The major spots affected were the $80,000,000 small arms ammunition plant and the $34,000,000 TNT plant near St. Louis; the $32,000,000 Plum Brook ordnance plant near Sandusky, Ohio; the $35,000,000 Ravenna (Ohio) ordnance plant, and a $10,000,000 munitions plant near Kansas City.

AFL electrical workers agreed to return to work at the Ford Instrument Company, Long Island City, N. Y., which has $100,000,000 in navy contracts, under an arrangement by which defense work being exempted from a city-wide strike of electricians. The strike was called in an effort to force Consolidated Edison Company to employ members of the Brotherhood of Installation Jobs at a company plant.

Gas Stations In East Will Close Tonight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Operators of 100,000 service stations, in eastern states, preparing for the initial "blackout" of nighttime sale of gasoline at 7 p. m., tomorrow, were told today by Petroleum Coordinator Ickes that they are "now on the battle line of democracy."

"The battle of the Atlantic is now being fought with oil," Ickes declared, "and will be won by oil. It has finally reached into American garages and gasoline tanks."

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—An increase of 2 cents a gallon in the service station price of gasoline and imposition of government priorities in the deliveries of petroleum and its products was forecast for the eastern seaboard tonight by authoritative oil men.

Virtually every citizen in the Atlantic states, from Florida to Maine, would be affected. The price rise and government control are expected before cold weather arrives—perhaps within the month.

OPM Grabs Silk, Rayon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Defense officials tonight said 10 per cent of the nation's rayon production and supplies for allocation among silk users affected by a drastic stop production command effective at midnight.

The newest step is intended, the office of price administration and supply said in a statement, "to avert complete dislocation of the silk hosiery and civilian silk supply silk weaving industry."

The present order supplies only to rayon yarn production during August and September, and during that time a special advisory committee of OPACB will attempt to work a long range program based on increases in rayon production, consumer reaction to silk substitutes, and adjustment of present rayon customers to the new conditions.

Few Quit Midland Air School Jobs

MIDLAND, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fewer than a dozen heavy equipment operators failed to show up for work on the Gage Brothers and Reeves air corps twin engine school construction project here this morning but all went back to work this afternoon pending negotiations for a wage increase.

The wage scale for them is 60 cents an hour and the men claimed they had been getting $1.12 and $1.25 on other jobs.

U. S. Tries To Stiffen Vichy Against German Demands

DALLAS, Aug. 2 (AP)—The man was dressed in overalls and wore a sunburned straw hat. "She ran away from me," he told a city detective. "Before she left she and another fellow threw me into a well. I stayed there several hours until a man came along with a rope and pulled me out. "I went to the constable about it, but he was sick. He gave me a warrant for her arrest but this piece of paper isn't any good. I can't catch her with that. I lost the pistol he gave me." The detective started to speak but the man shook his head and yelled: "I can't hear you."

The officer reached for a pencil and pad. But the man again shook his head. "I can't read. I can't write either. All I can do is talk." The detective motioned to a fellow officer just coming on duty. Before the new arrival fully comprehended the situation, the first detective made a rapid exit.

The rural customer again told his troubles. "Haven't you any kind of hearing apparatus?" the detective yelled, motioning with his hand to his ear and then to his pocket. An overall pocket was turned inside out, revealing a pouch pocketbook and a long black tube. The detective pounced upon the tube and stuck one end of it into the man's ear. "Is it your wife or your sister who is missing?" he yelled. "Yes, I lost my pistol," the man shouted back. The second detective left in pursuit of the first one.

Nazis Want To Take Over Dakar Port

Welles Says Now Strained Relations Likely To Break

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—With Germany reportedly applying new pressures to the Vichy government of unoccupied France, the United States today endeavored to stiffen the latter's backbone with blunt, advisory words against any further concessions to the axis powers.

If France yields again, as she did to the Germans in Syria and the Japanese in Indo-China, this government let it be known, relations between Washington and Vichy, already badly deteriorated, cannot but grow worse.

A statement embodying that view was read to reporters by Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, a short time before he met with Lord Halifax, the British ambassador and other diplomats for a discussion of the newest disruptive development in the Far East.

From Vichy came during the day reports that the government had decided to make its own decisions regarding collaboration with Germany, despite the weight of outside pressure.

Washington had heard, even before the Vichy dispatch, reports of mounting pressure by Germany on unoccupied France. In addition, these reports said, Berlin is trying to maintain a constant political ferment in other western European countries, Spain and Portugal, to prevent any organized resistance to axis plans and to offset any loss of moral prestige caused by the slow progress of the German campaign against Russia.

So far as could be learned, these factors, together with the recent Japanese invasion of French Indo-China—with Vichy's consent—and the cooperation of the Vichy government with Berlin before the recent British victory in French mandated Syria were all in the background of Welles' statement of today.

Vichy, Welles said, has repeatedly assured the United States that it would not cooperate with the axis beyond fulfilling the "obligations imposed on it by the armistice" with Germany.

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Aug. 2—The French cabinet, meeting under strong pressure for greater collaboration with Germany which would embrace a joint French-German defense of Dakar and other strategic French African possessions, was reported to have determined today to make its own decision regardless of such pressure.

In a highly important two-hour session, Chief of State Paul Reynaud said, staying within the framework of existing collaboration engagements with the Germans.

Mohammed To The Mountain

LICKING, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP)—Farmer Ray Reed was in a bit of a spot.

His truckload of hay was on fire, set ablaze by a spark from the driver's seat. And the nearest body of water was the Piney river—15 miles away.

Reed along the outskirts of Licking. Reed tore out. He Licking to avoid setting fire to roadside buildings. The flames licked at the gasoline tank. With one hand on the wheel, Reed used the other to beat out the approaching fire with his hat. He lost his hat but reached the river in time to save his truck.

Civilians To Aid In War Maneuvers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Civilians will help the army to introduce fifth columnists, snipers, parachute troops, border incidents and other undercover techniques of modern warfare to its soldiers in the nation's gigantic war games this month.

Under a plan outlined today by Second Army intelligence officers to add realism to the maneuvers, kidnapping of mayors (with their permission), invasion of civic offices, taking over of city airports (without unduly disrupting plane traffic) and blacked out towns are among the most spectacular proposals.

Dog Succeeds As Man Fails To Rescue Girl From Drowning

HARDEN, Ill., Aug. 2 (AP)—Arthur W. Angel, 40, fisherman, drowned in the Illinois river attempting to save his 10-year-old daughter, Marion, from the same fate. But an old alreidae dog jumped in and completed the rescue.

The little girl toppled off the bank into the water and was swept downstream. Her father dived into the river, followed by "Prince," the family pet. As Angel was about to reach his daughter he suddenly went under.

Prince, however, caught Marion's clothing in his mouth and dragged her back to shore.

Cotton Men Watch For Insect Foes

Howard county farmers will be watching their crops closely this week for possible insect invasion, as the production of a $4,000,000 crop comes nearer and nearer to reality.

Principal watch will be for cotton leaf worms, noticed in numbers in several communities, and cotton boll worms, which may appear in large and destructive numbers.

County Agent O. P. Griffin will meet farmers in each community for inspection tours of fields. He will be in Vincent at 6 p. m. today. Monday he will be in Morgan at 2 p. m. and Gay Hill at 6 p. m.; Tuesday in Vealmoor at 2 and Garner at 6.

County Agents In New Office Quarters

County Agents O. P. Griffin and Lora Farnsworth now occupy new offices in the old federated club building.

Issuance Of Food Stamps Shows Gain

One of the most thriving businesses in town is that of the Howard county food stamp issuing office in the courthouse.

This "business" has a monthly increase in volume that should make any merchant envious. In June it sold $4,277 worth of stamps to 392 families and gave away $3,363.50 worth to 672 families.

In July the total jumped to $6,008 worth sold to 443 families and $4,561 given to 716 families.

These figures are released by Claud Wolf, county issuing officer.

There's a new Hope for the army, now that Bob has joined up. For America's new defense army has its Hollywood counterpart in "Caught in the Draft," Paramount's up-to-the-minute comedy film which plays today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. The picture burlesques the trials and tribulations of the rookie's life in the Army.

The comedy corps is headed by Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour. Fresh from the hilarious and romantic highway they paved in "Road to Zanzibar," the two gag-happy film pals are joined by Lynne Overman and Eddie Bracken, two fluke recruits who get more than they bargained for trying to keep Bob out of the guard house.

Dorothy, the colonel's daughter, wants her rookie to be a hero before she says "yes" and turns the colonel into a kernel to make her dream come true. Hope plays the part of a movie actor who's in the Army as the boomeranged result of one of his own practical jokes. He's the gun-shy, goose-pimply hero who'll floor you with his brand new stock of Army gags.

Bob and his two musketeer rookie friends, Overman and Bracken, reach the climax of this all-out comedy film when they take part in some war games that rival any slapstick hair-raisers in the memory of this screen reviewer.

Loaded with sparkling wit, tuneful melodies and laugh-lines that explode in split-second precision, "Caught in the Draft" is prize entertainment—the kind that even the Army boys at the camps will write home about.

Road Opened To Site Of Famous Old 'Big Spring'

For the first time in years, the site of old "Big Spring" is open to the public.

R. J. McDaniel, temporary city manager, said Friday that city crews had finished work on a cattle guard off highway No. 9 south and that traffic could now cross over it in getting to the spring site.

No road will be graded from the cattleguard to the spring for two reasons: (1) a small trail will appear more rustic, and (2) will last less dust.

The connecting road is located on the west side of the highway, about a quarter of a mile north of where the new city park road leaves the highway.

Those who have never seen the place which gave the city its name will be doomed to disappointment if they expect to find water gushing over moss-covered crags. Originally the spring was down in a deep hole and water issued from the water level. When this was pumped down to supply the railroad, wells were eventually drilled above the outlet to provide more water for the industry and the growing little town.

Consequently the spring dried up and the hole began to fill in. Today it has changed radically and contains weeds and a considerable amount of debris. On one edge is the old T. & P. pump house, a silent reminder of the day when the spring gave up a large volume of cool, clear water.

Ochiltree Folks Stick Together

PERRYTON, Aug. 2 (Sp)—Ochiltree county folks, who stuck together during the lean dust bowl years, still stick together as one big family.

Now, they have completed purchase and delivery of 4,213 brick for construction of the Panhandle-Plains museum's second unit at Canyon.

Eel Flows Through City Main To Tap

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 2 (Sp)—A. M. Fife was watering his lawn. Suddenly the stream from the nozzle turned to a mere dribble. There was no kink in the hose. The faucet was open.

Fuzzled, Fife unscrewed the nozzle. Out popped a lively six-inch eel.

The eel had been carried through the city water mains to Fife's hose from the Green River intake 40 miles away.

Leprosy takes about 20 lives a year in the U. S., according to latest census figures.

Girl-Problem Dramas To Be At Queen

"Problem" dramas come at the customers in double doses at the Queen theatre today and Monday, with presentation of a feature twin bill that has "Behind-the-scenes" exposés.

On the program are "City of Missing Girls," purporting to expose the connection between so-called "talent" schools and theatrical booking agencies; and "Girls Under 21," which tells the absorbing story of one man's battle to regenerate a group of hard-boiled youngsters in the slums.

The story of "City of Missing Girls," which, in many of its highly entertaining phases, is sensationally intimate and boldly diverting, revolves around the campaign of a veteran police detective (H. B. Warner), a girl newspaper reporter (Astrid Allwyn), and a young assistant district attorney (John Archer), to ferret out the human monster behind the disappearances and murders of a number of the big town's most beautiful and talented feminine youngsters.

The trail leads this trio, all of course, by separate route, to the theatrical "academy" operated by King Peterson (Phillip Van Zandt) from which the ambitious girl pupils, once their purses are empty, are sent to entertain yokels in lesser night clubs on faraway turnpikes.

One of the surprise elements in "City of Missing Girls" is when the girl reporter discovers someone very near and dear to her is in league with the unscrupulous racketeer who operates the talent school as a side issue.

Bruce Cabot, Rochelle Hudson and Paul Kelly, head the cast of "Girls Under 21."

Appearing as a gangster, Cabot has been acclaimed for turning in a forceful portrayal, while Miss Hudson, in the role of Cabot's wife, and Kelly, as a beloved school teacher, are both credited with realistic, skilful performances.

The film opens with Frances White, played by Miss Hudson, returning to her home in the Yancey Street slums after receiving much newspaper publicity as the wife of a notorious gangster. Announcing that she is finished with her racketeer husband, the girl gets a job in the neighborhood department store. Johnny Cane, local high school teacher, is both overjoyed and dismayed at her return.

He is overjoyed because he can again go out with the girl he always loved, but dismayed because the younger girls in the community, led by Frances' sister, Jennie, start patterning their behavior along the lines of Frances' newspaper publicity, openly flouting Cane's plans for their betterment.

Disregarding all of Johnny's teachings, the hard-boiled youngsters attempt to steal dresses from Frances' counter in the department store. Caught in the act, the girls flee. In the exciting chase which follows, one of them is killed when she loses her glasses and blindly runs into the path of a speeding truck. The public indignation, which follows this tragedy, leads to Frances' arrest as a material witness to the crime. However, in a smashing climax, Cane's faith in the "Girls Under 21" is fully justified when they completely exonerate Frances and his teaching system by opening acknowledged their guilt.

Life Of A Soldier—All the gags that could be conceived about life in the defense army are brought into play in "Caught In The Draft," comedy hit playing Dorothy Lamour on hand to provide the punchline. Other gagsters in the film are Lynne Overman and Eddie Bracken.

Negro Program At City Park Draws Record-Size Crowd

Largest crowd ever assembled in the city park amphitheater—excepting those on hand for the past two years for July 4 fireworks displays—was present Friday night for a program presented by Big Spring negroes.

Some estimates placed the crowd as high as 5,000 persons. General applause came from all as the colored people gave an entertaining program of musical numbers.

Instead of awarding individual prizes, as is customary at amateur night programs, the chamber of commerce split the $10 prize money evenly between the negro Baptist and Methodist churches.

Popular songs, a tap dance, and harmonica numbers preceded a part of the program devoted more to spiritual songs. Soloists included Callie Bush, Laura Ferguson, Mrs. L. E. Browning and Bronson Manning. The negro boy scouts gave a comical skit of "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

Sam Leach, popular old-timer among Big Spring's colored population, was master of ceremonies. Professor Washington announced numbers and directed the chorus of singers.

Next program at the amphitheatre, set for 8 p. m. Friday, will be presented by Latin-American residents of Big Spring. Emma Cecil Nalley, director, assisted by Gene Salazar, Mrs. W. C. Reed, Tony Costello, Tallaferrero Fierro and Mrs. Jose Hernandez, will be in charge.

Setting of the production will be the patio of a Mexican cafe and program parts will include: Torillia women, beggar, tamale man, orchestra, troleadores, vocal solo, chapanacas dance, piano selection, donkey with wood load, jarabe (dance), polka, comedy skit, jitterbugs, and the cast and chorus in "Ala el el Rancho Grande" and other songs. Gene Salazar will serve as narrator for the affair.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (Sp)—Buying shifted from rails to specialties in today's stock market and many leaders encountered sufficient offerings to keep them in the minus column.

Early financial dealings were more or less obscured by brisk upswing in cotton and wheat futures which apparently reflected proposals in the new price control bill, even before the measure is presented to congress, to lift ceilings on agricultural staples substantially. Cotton, about $5 a bale advanced at one time, eventually backed away. Wheat clung to gains of around 1 cent a bushel.

In the stock division large blocks of low-priced issues, most of which held at Friday's final levels, accounted for a relatively sizeable turnover. Transfers approximated 250,000 shares.

McDonald Automotive Supply Co. Becomes Studebaker Dealer Here

McDonald Automotive Supply Co. announced Saturday as the authorized dealer for Studebaker passenger and commercial automobiles in Big Spring.

Already a line of Studebaker cars are on the floor of the company's building at E. 3rd and Johnson street, said Cecil McDonald, operator.

Included in the line of Studebaker are the President, Commander and Champion models in passenger lines and the various types of commercial vehicles.

Not only will McDonald be in a position to handle deliveries of the various types of Studebaker, but he is equipping to give complete service for the line.

While nothing is sacrificed in the way of beauty and styling, Studebaker today lays claim to outstanding achievement in durability and economy of operation among its many models, said McDonald of the line.

Parts stocks are arriving, and it is probable that the store will be rapidly enlarged until the company will be in a position to serve as a parts house for Studebaker dealers over a wide area.

McDonald and members of his mechanical staff will leave soon for a service school scheduled at Fort Worth and will go through a complete course under direction of factory representatives.

Interior of McDonald Automotive Service has been refinished, and one room rearranged to care for parts stores. Because the building was originally designed to include a display room for automobiles, extensive remodeling will not be necessary.

The same condition prevails with reference to mechanical facilities, for the building covers more than a quarter of a block frontage on E. 3rd street.

McDonald is no new figure in Big Spring, for he is a native of the city. After several years in California, he returned here to join his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae McDonald, in the erection of a garage and service building on the site his late father had selected years ago for that purpose. Since opening the company has specialized in services for the motoring public.

To satisfy the American people's craving for chocolate bars, 224,834,095 pounds of chocolate were converted into bars last year, census figures show.

Dealer—Announcement
day that Cecil McDonald, operator of the McDonald Automotive Supply Co., has been designated as Studebaker dealer in Big Spring. His dealership covers both the passenger and commercial lines. The expansion entails the addition of an extensive parts department and the service department.

Ores and concentrates valued at $142,000,000 and containing 1,386,000,000 pounds of recoverable copper were produced at 49 copper mines in the U. S. in 1939, according to the Census Bureau.

Tammany Runs Republican For District Attorney

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (UP)—Tammany Hall made political history today by inducing to run as its choice, for district attorney, a young prosecutor who helped his republican Tammany-baiting boss send a Tammany chieftain to prison.

This vagary of Manhattan's Legendary democratic organization developed when Frank S. Hogan, assistant to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, fighting foe of Tammany, accepted the designation—with Dewey's blessing.

It was the 39-year-old Hogan who helped Dewey imprison powerful Tammany District Leader James J. Hines for policy racketeering. Hines is now a gardener at Sing Sing.

Hogan, an enrolled democrat but never a member of Tammany Hall, said he did not even know Tammany's political strategists. Asked when he would discuss his candidacy with Christopher Sullivan, Tammany leader, Hogan replied: "Some time after I am introduced to him. I don't know the gentleman."

O'Daniel's Personal Popularity Now At Lowest Point Of Second Term

New Compromise In Draft Extension

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Senator Hill (D-Ala.) said today that sponsors had agreed to compromise army service extension legislation to provide a maximum of 2 1/2 years of service for citizen soldiers. Hill told reporters that proponents were attempting to work out an amendment which would limit to 18 months the additional service that any selectee, national guardsman, reserve or regular enlisted man might be called on to undergo.

At Fairview he is scoutmaster, a teacher in the Sunday school, and president of the West Side Singing association.

Belden Poll Shows Swing In Sentiment

By JOE BELDEN, Editor
Texas Surveys of Public Opinion
AUSTIN, Aug. 2—W. Lee O'Daniel this weekend leaves the governor's office with his personal popularity among Texans at the lowest point of his second term. The Texas Surveys of Public Opinion monthly index of those who approve or disapprove of him as governor shows that during July his popularity curve took a nose dive below the 50 per cent line.

In other words fewer people now "generally approve of him as governor" than voted to re-elect him last summer. Since the time he announced for senator late in May, O'Daniel has lost more than 31 percentage points, at the end of July holding only 48 per cent. This is the sharpest turn his fortunes have taken since the amazing pick-up he demonstrated in July and August of last year, during and immediately following his second campaign for the governorship.

It is significant that his loss of favor as governor has come since he again became a candidate for office and was subsequently elected United States senator. This loss may well be an indication of O'Daniel's present status with the voters and goes hand in hand with the fact that less than 31 per cent voted for him for senator, the smallest total he has ever received at the polls.

Here is O'Daniel's popularity record, beginning one month before his re-election as governor when Texas Surveys was founded, ending with his departure for Washington as senator.

Month	Popularity %
June 1940 survey	43.1%
Official primary majority	54.3%
September 1940	66.5%
October 1940	70.0%
November 1940	70.0%
December 1940	74.0%
January 1941	74.1%
February 1941	76.3%
March 1941	76.5%
April 1941	73.7%
May 1941	69.4%
June (senatorial election; no survey)	48.0%
July 1941	48.0%

He enjoyed the largest following. It is to be noted, during the time the Forty-seventh Legislature was in Austin. The peak was reached in March, right in the middle of the session. One of the reasons O'Daniel's popularity has taken such a drop may be that people some weeks back began to disassociate him with his governorship; because since the campaign for senator he has often talked of other things

Popularity Chart—Above is charted W. Lee O'Daniel's popularity with the voters as Governor of Texas during his second term. His lowest point, 43.1 per cent, was measured one month prior to his election, in June, 1940. Since then he climbed steadily, reached a peak during the session of the recent legislature, but began to decline shortly before Sen. Morris Sheppard died and brought about a special election. Since he announced for Senator, O'Daniel's curve has pointed downward. He leaves for Washington this weekend at the lowest point since he became governor for a second term.

besides Texas. Some of his close friends, especially since his election, have been talking of boosting him for U. S. president in 1944. Although some may have smiled at the suggestion, political observers have raised an eyebrow instead, reminded of the well-packed bag of tricks O'Daniel has thrice produced and wondering what he might be able to show other states.

How many Texans today think they would support him for president? The question was put before the electorate, and these were the results:

Category	Percentage
Would support O'Daniel for president	20%
Would not support him	74%
Undecided	6%

One might be led to believe that most of that 20 per cent are pensioners, but this is not the case. Only about one out of every ten who would support him for president receives a pension. The belief that O'Daniel can count on practically all the pension recipients appears to be a myth. The Surveys found only 56 per cent of the pensioners cast votes for him as senator.

Going back to his popularity during July, the following breakdown by incomes again shows only 56 per cent of the pension group behind him:

Category	Percentage
Approve of O'Daniel	58%
Farmers	58%
Poor	51%
Average	40%
Above average	33%
Pensioners	56%
ALL VOTERS	48%

Gary Cooper Salary Tops

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Film actor Gary Cooper, with a paycheck of $482,820, led the nation's industrial big-wigs and the motion picture colony as well, in a compilation of 1939 corporation salaries made public today by the treasury.

The list did not include three of the leading Hollywood studios (Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Universal, Columbia), however, and corporate reports on file with the securities commission indicated that Louis B. Mayer, head of MGM, remained on top of the salary list with $697,048, as he has for several years. Other actors may have topped Cooper, too.

As far as the treasury list went, however, the first 10 salaries (including bonuses and commissions) for corporations keeping their books on either a 1939 calendar year or 1939-1940 fiscal year basis, were: (giving names, employers, and compensation.) Gary Cooper, Goldwyn and Paramount pictures, $482,820; Thomas J. Watson, International business machines, $442,500; George Washington Hill, American Tobacco company, $420,290; F. A. Countway, Lever Brothers Company (soap manufacturers), $383,210; William S. Knudsen, General Motors Corporation, $372,366; James Cagney, Warner Brothers pictures, $368,333; John Ford, film director, Argosy Corporation and Twentieth Century-Fox films, $320,000; A. A. Somerville, R. T. Vanderbilt company, $278,486; E. C. Stone, Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, $272,336; and E. G. Grace, Bethlehem Steel company, $271,224.

The G. S. T., of course, stands for "Gasoline Saving Time."

Fisher said it was a customer's idea.

Two Drown In Buchanan Lake

AUSTIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—Mrs. W. C. Bailey of Waco and L. S. Vaughan of Dallas drowned in Lake Buchanan last night when a motorboat carrying four persons overturned.

Sheriff Wallace Riddell of Burnet reported today.

The bodies of Mrs. Bailey and Vaughan had not been found early tonight.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Rubber boats included with parachute packs is the newest thing for Royal Air Force pilots, the commerce department reported today.

Frigidaire Fleet—Such might be the title for the line of trucks required by Taylor Electric Co., which has been made a complete Frigidaire sales and service unit. Elton Taylor, owner of the business, opened his doors the first day of 1933 and has handled the commercial and air conditioning lines for Frigidaire. Now he has been designated as dealer for Frigidaire household refrigerators. This does not affect the company's other lines as complete electrical appliances, contract wiring, motor rewinding, repair work, and servicing. (Kelsey Photo).

Taylor Electric Company Now Official Frigidaire Dealer

Announcement of the Taylor Electric Co., as authorized Frigidaire dealer brings to it a complete line of Frigidaire services in Big Spring.

For several years, Elton Taylor, owner and operator of the business, has served as dealer for commercial and air conditioning lines of Frigidaire, and now the household units, featuring the Frigidaire refrigerators, have been included in the dealership.

This, said Taylor, would broaden the services of the company. To meet demands upon the company, a complete line of service parts has been stocked—a heavier stock than ever before. Guarding against the possibility of a refrigerant rationing, Taylor Electric Co. has laid in a stock of the vital fluid.

The various models of the household units have been received and Taylor did not anticipate any big shortage although the defense program may necessitate curtailment of production and a possible rise in price range.

Other services of the company will in no wise be curtailed by the addition to dealership. Leo Shepherd, who has been with Taylor for six years, four of them here, will continue in charge of electrical contracting, a field in which he has had 10 years experience.

Seth Lacy will be in charge of installation and service and will be sent to an intensive service school soon at Fort Worth. The motor rewinding and shop repair work will continue in charge of Bill Cuthbertson. New machinery is being added in this department. Herbie Smith, who started in with Taylor as a diversified occupations student seven years ago and made a job for himself, will continue as house wiper and as an installation man and troubleshooter. Lucian Underwood, also an electrician, will assist in installations.

Bookkeeping, sales of light fixtures and electrical appliances will be in the hands of Mary Coffey, who also handles calls for the service department.

Taylor, of course, is active in all departments of the business he established eight and a half years ago. By coincidence, he came to Big Spring in 1931 as an employe of H. S. Faw, then Frigidaire dealer, thus making his connection with Frigidaire a continuous one for 14 years.

Wild Well Will Be Set Afire Again

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 2 (AP) A permit to ignite again the huge wild Hayea gas well, unbridled for two weeks, has been granted by State Minerals Director Joseph L. McHugh in belief the hazard from the burning gas would be less than the danger from an unexpected explosion.

McHugh also granted a permit for the Gulf Refining company to drill a directional "relief well" nearby. The minerals director said experts described the well, expelling between 100,000,000 and 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and spraying distillate in the air at a rate calculated as high as 4,000 barrels a day, as the most terrific blow-out in oil history.

Head Man of the Taylor Electric Co. is Elton Taylor, who has rounded out more than a decade in Big Spring, and most of it as a businessman. For 14 years he has had connections with Frigidaire and now he has realized an ambition to have a complete Frigidaire service including commercial, air conditioning and household units. (Kelsey Photo).

Troop-Laden Convoys Start Movement To Manuever Area

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

The roar of a thousand troop-laden convoys moving with split-second precision eastward across Texas Saturday enroute to the greatest race-time phase in the Southwest's role in national defense.

A few months ago many of these men of the Eighth Army Corps were clerks, farmers, typists, laborers, school boys. Saturday their officers expressed belief that they were soldiers.

The Eighth Army Corps—a unit of the big third army which meets the second army in rough and tumble mock war—was headed for the geographically-tough maneuver terrain in western Louisiana and eastern Texas, 30,000 square miles of it. This war starts in September. After the concentration is completed in mid-August, preliminary exercises will be held before the big show starts.

It won't be long until these ex-civilians who have been delving into the grim business of war on the plains and hills of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico get a real test of what they know.

Major General William S. Key, commander of the 45th, said his officers and men were ready as the first echelon of 8,500 rolled out of Camp Barkeley at Abilene for their first night's bivouac.

Simultaneous convoys started Saturday from Abilene and Camp Bowie at Brownwood. The largest movement of the first day involving approximately half the 45th division of former national guardsmen from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona.

One convoy travelled by way of Albany, Breckenridge, Bridgeport, and Denton to McKinney for their first stop. The south convoy rolled through Ranger, Weatherford, and Fort Worth to Dallas.

Texas' own 36th division dispatched from Camp Bowie an advance detachment including 125 vehicles eastward toward Louisiana by way of Goithwaite, Gatesville, Waco and Mexia for bivouac at Fairfield.

All along the route, Texas defense guardmen joined with local officers and military and state police in an effort to regulate civilian traffic to expedite movement of the troops which virtually monopolized east-west arteries. The public was warned that the heaviest strain on the highways will come next week.

It was a long day for the soldiers of the 45th who began the motor march on Louisiana. At 3:30 a. m. they were roused from their beds, hustled through breakfast and loaded in the trucks whose motors were warmed up and ready. It was dark before they were settled in bivouacs.

Sunday, the long lines of drab-green trucks will back-track westward from Dallas and McKinney to pick up their second load. For two days, each echelon will walk while the trucks are shuttling. The two echelons will concentrate at Marshall before continuing the march to Mansfield, La.

Citizens of Brownwood gave a farewell party, including a big street dance, for the soldiers of the 36th. Sunday will be spent in last-minute preparations for the drive to Louisiana, and Monday morning early the major movement will begin.

From El Paso Sunday the 56th cavalry brigade—also a Texas outfit—will begin its long journey to the maneuver area. A small detachment of troops from Fort Sill, Okla., will also start southward, but the transfer of the second division from Fort Sam Houston will not start until Tuesday.

Throughout next week and until August 12, the soldiers march afoot and by truck and train, more than 100,000 of them.

Major General George V. Strong, commander of the Eighth Army Corps, will direct the entire transfer from the air by means of short wave radio, maintaining constant contact with staff officers in charge of the various units on the highways.

Farm Senators Ask Minimum Prices, Too

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The administration's price control bill was countered today by a demand from some farm state senators that a "floor" be placed under farm prices if a "ceiling" was imposed by the legislature.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) said that the senate agriculture committee "was unanimously opposed to any price fixing that did not fix a floor as well as a ceiling."

Others, including Capper (R-Kas), Gillette (D-La.), Thomas (D-Okla.), and Stewart (D-Tenn) said they agreed that if congress was to fix a minimum price limit on things the farmers sell, it also should protect him by a minimum.

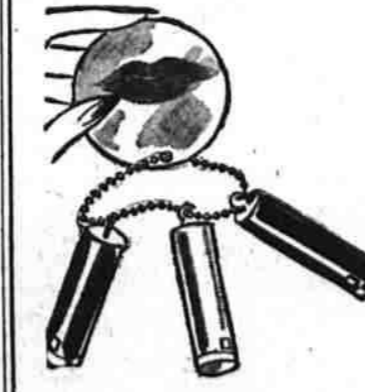

The price fixing bill, introduced yesterday in both branches of congress, would authorize the president to establish maximum prices for commodities and for rents in defense areas, but, in existing form, would give no control over wages or utility rates. Under its terms he could require licenses for engaging in transactions coming within the scope of the proposed law, but such licenses would not be required for distribution of newspapers, books and other printed matter.

Patient Flies Away After Operation

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP)—Dr. William Spaulding, throat specialist, conducted an emergency operation at Brandon hospital today which was so successful that the patient flew right out the window.

A newsboy had brought him a robin with a large bug lodged in its throat.

KIEL BOMBED

LONDON, Sunday, Aug. 3 (AP)—A big American-built bomber of the RAF dropped explosives on the docks of Kiel, German naval base, while on a reconnaissance flight Saturday, an authoritative source said today.

HERE'S THE ANSWER—From S. R. Smith (left), streets commissioner of Tulsa, Okla., comes an answer to that old question: what to do with used razor blades, and his scheme will aid the defense program, too. The barrel is at Tulsa's city hall. Rifle barrels are made of the same sort of steel, explain Smith and Clyde King (right), Chamber of Commerce president.

Mexico Lifts Ban On Horse Racing

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—The government lifted the ban on horse racing in Mexico today and at the same time granted a concession for what is planned to be the western hemisphere's largest race track. The return of racing, which was barred several years ago by ex-President Cardenas, was officially authorized in a published presidential concession.

The lavishly-planned racing establishment would include polo fields, breeding stables, sports facilities and jumping grounds in addition to the track.

New Reagan Pool Opened

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 3—Opening of another Ordovician lime pool on University of Texas land in Reagan county, locals of the first, the Big Lake field, that started the school on the road to potential riches in 1923, easily led West Texas oil developments this week.

The strike was made by Amerada Petroleum Corp. 7 1/2 miles southeast of Big Lake on block of 28,000 acres, of which 15,000 acres belong to the university. In cleaning itself into the pits Thursday from total depth of 9,070 feet, Amerada No. 1-RA University early flowed naturally at a rate estimated at 20 barrels hourly; 50 per cent light green, high gravity oil and 10 per cent drilling fluid. Gas was estimated at three-quarters of a million cubic feet daily. The well later gauged 70 1-2 barrels of oil in 3 1-4 hours.

Probably second in interest was reported recovery of porous, oil bearing lime by Lee C. Harrison and fellow Lubbock associates' No. 1 Naira estate, rank wildcat only 3 1-2 miles northeast of the city of Lubbock, in coring to 4,891 feet. Seven-inch casing was cemented at 4,857 feet, cable tools were substituted for rotary and plugs were due to be drilled Saturday night or Sunday.

Army Unit Will Camp Near Here

An army contingent—the 39th anti-aircraft regiment—is due to encamp 10 miles west of here, near Morita, Monday evening.

Army officers here last week said there would be around 650 trucks in the two units which go to make up the convoy which is enroute to maneuvers in Louisiana.

The schedule calls for the group to pass through Big Spring starting at about 7 a. m. Tuesday. The units will move in two sections, each 15 miles in length, and will require about an hour and a half to clear town.

Although the U. S. was not at war, "operations of war" are listed as the cause of four deaths in the census returns covering 1939. Three of these were deaths from injuries during the first World War and one was the death of an American citizen from injuries received in the Spanish revolution.

Outstanding Record is shown by the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company in its June 30 report. Policy sales have reached over a million dollars weekly, and 171,000 Americans now hold over $481,000,000 in Jefferson Standard policies. Assets of the company are over 98 1/2 million dollars, and an earning of 5.14 per cent on invested assets is reported for 1940. Jefferson Standard is represented in Big Spring by the Reeder Insurance Agency, composed of Roy Reeder (left) and R. E. Bridwell.

O'Daniel Leaves Texas Following Houston Barbecue

HOUSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Bidding farewell to 20,000 barbecue-filled admirers here tonight, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel said, as he looked out over the crowd, that he was sorry for just one thing.

"I just wish I was running for something," he said. A roar of laughter greeted this sally, the governor's one facetious departure in his brief but serious talk.

"I'm kind of betwixt and between tonight," he said. "There's not much I can say that would do any good as governor for my term is just about ended. And I should not say very much yet about what I hope to do as senator."

Governor O'Daniel, who left at 9:30 p. m. on the Houstonian for Washington to be sworn in as Texas junior senator, said he was going to Washington to fight for the preservation of democracy in America.

"If the citizens know what the problems are," he said, "they can solve them. To the best of my ability I will keep you advised on what is going on in Washington. And I want to hear from you folks. Good-bye and God bless you."

The nation's popcorn supply comes largely from Iowa, according to the Census. That state produces more than a half million bushels annually.

Nazi Norway In 'Emergency'

OSLO, German Occupied Norway, Aug. 2 (AP)—Reich's Commissioner Joseph Terboven was empowered today to declare a state of emergency—backed by authorization for sentences of death or imprisonment—to preserve public order, security and economic life in Norway.

The conquered nation has reached a "decisive phase" through development of the war and the foreign political situation. It was officially explained, and Terboven therefore was granted the power to meet any exceptional civil situation promptly and effectively.

(Norway was long regarded as a likely springboard for a Nazi attempt to invade Britain after German troops landed there April 8, 1940. Now she may have become a source of concern to Berlin as a possible foothold for a British expeditionary force. It is 330 miles across the North sea from Aberdeen, Scotland, to Stavanger.)

(Several times in year the British have struck the German objectives in Norway, twice with spectacular effect. A even with the bulk of Adolf Hitler's first armies are engaged on the Russian front. Scandinavian ports have told of feverish activity by the Germans to reinforce coast bases, construct new airfields, withdraw civilians.)

Preparations For Big Spring Rodeo Advance Rapidly

Committees Form, Judge Is Selected

Rodeo officials moved swiftly Saturday to offset the lack of time for big preparations for the eighth annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo by announcing committees, lining up a judge and announcer, and establishing headquarters for the western celebration here Aug. 15-16-17.

W. B. Willingham, Rotan, advised Charlie Creighton, one of the association officials, Saturday that he would serve as one of the judges for the show here. Willingham has served at the Stamford reunion in this capacity for years and is well known in West Texas rodeo circles.

Simultaneously, Buck Johnson was secured as announcer for the event. At Pecos, Buck told officials that he was announcing for the Alpine rodeo this week and would host the Big Spring show.

Advance headquarters will be set up in the chamber of commerce office, it was announced Saturday, and publicity and correspondence will be handled from that point. Rodeo headquarters—which entails registration of contestants—will be at the Crawford hotel as in the past.

As an indication of enthusiastic support for the belated show, being developed on about two week's notice, bulk of a $750 underwriters agreement promised by a committee of businessmen was subscribed at a committee meeting Friday.

Other committee members handling the guarantee anticipated no trouble at all in securing the balance of needed signatures. It was understood that less than $200 needed to be secured.

Saturday evening first committee session was held under the direction of Dr. M. H. Bennett, head of the sponsors' group.

Anne Belle Edwards has been named as hostess sponsor and Louise Anne Bennett, who has represented Big Spring in other rodeos this year, will be Miss Big Spring but will not be competing for honors. Entertainment arranged for sponsors includes a luncheon on Aug. 1 and a dance the same evening. Each sponsor will be presented with a favor.

Committees announced Saturday included: Decorations: Cay Boykin, Jake Douglass and Bill Edwards. Concessions: Bill Tate, C. L. Roden, Harry Stalcup, and A. Swartz.

Tickets: R. R. McEwen, Charles Vines, C. L. Rowe, H. W. Smith, D. D. Douglass, G. H. Hayward, Roy Reeder, T. J. A. Robinson, Cliff Wiley, Shirley Robbins, V. A. Merrick, W. A. Satterwhite, Cal Boykin, W. W. Barker, and J. L. LeBlau.

Copies of the rules and regulations together with entry material went out Friday to prospective performers, and Saturday information on the sponsors' contest was mailed to communities in this territory.

British Minister Arrives In U.S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—Sir Ronald Campbell, newly appointed British minister to the United States, said today on his arrival by Clipper that Lord Halifax, British ambassador, probably would be granted a leave of absence soon so he could vacation at home.

Sir Ronald, who was British minister to Yugoslavia when that country was invaded, said the question of participation of American troops in the war seldom was mentioned in England.

"They think that is something very much up to you," he asserted.

Southwest Sawmill Strike Will End

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Aug. 2 (AP)—Resumption of work in the defense-vital mills of the Southwest Lumber company is scheduled for Monday following agreement today on a flat 9 cent wage increase ending a two-day strike.

The walkout of some 140 sawyers and mill hands yesterday morning, in the wake of wage increase demands by the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (AFL), was partially responsible for a shutdown today on $3,000,000 of defense projects at Fort Bliss, Texas.

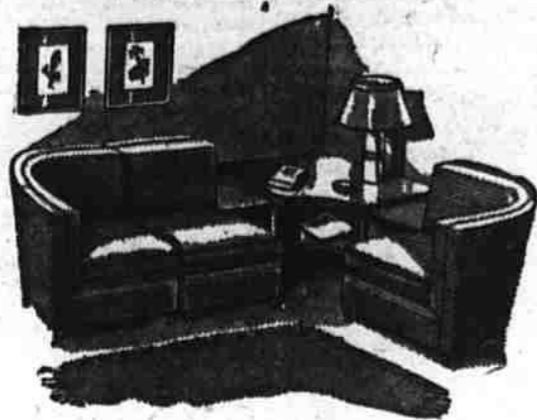

According to the census bureau, 4,600,000 tons of cane sugar are processed in the U. S. in a year.

All-Stars Featured Today As Bombers Open Against Spuds

Wichita Smashed In Final Tilt, 14 To 3

Fresh from a clean sweep at Wichita Falls, where they wound up the series with a 14 to 3 decision over the Spudders Saturday night to move to within less than a game's reach of Berger, the Big Spring Bombers return to their own grounds to open a hometown series with the Spuds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A galaxy of stars will be featured on the two clubs that clash today. Big Spring's entrants in the West Texas-New Mexico league's All-Star classic at Lubbock includes Shortstop Hayden 'Chubby' Greer, named outstanding in the dream game, and Pitchers Charlie Wheelchel, Bob Kohout, and Willard Ramsdell—plus Manager Jodie Tate. Wichita Falls' aces are Stan Bolton, outfielder, and Lefty Lucas, pitcher, who is slated to show his wares today.

Since this is one of the few times such an all-star lineup will be available on Roberts field, Big Spring fans are scheduled to turn out en masse to give these baseballers a rousing reception. Greer is slated to be spotlighted because of his standout performance at Lubbock.

This is one of the times Big Springers will be given a chance to do honor to its stellar lineup. After several years away from the best-in-the-circuit table, a Big Spring ball club brings a pennant touch to Roberts Field.

Therefore, this afternoon, the Bombers' All-Star department is to be given due credit and as a mark of appreciation a bumper crop of fans is expected.

Saturday night, Andy Mohrlock coached the Big Spring Bombers to their third straight win at Wichita Falls, while his mates gave him a big lead in the early innings. Mohrlock turned in an eight-hit hurling performance. The Spudders bunched four of their hits in the third inning for their runs.

Greer homered for Big Spring in the second with none on.

A. & I. Griddler Ruled Out Of Pro Ball

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Professional Football Commissioner Elmer Layden ruled today that Stuart Clarkson, Texas A. & I. center, is ineligible for National League competition with the Philadelphia Eagles because he has a year of college eligibility left. Layden made his ruling after receiving a protest from Bud McCallum, Texas A. & I. coach, who said that although Clarkson had played three years of college football, he has a year left since the Alamo conference of which A. & I. is a member does not have a freshman rule.

Between 300 And 400 High School Coaches Slated To Attend

HOUSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Between 300 and 400 high school coaches will invade Houston this weekend for the annual school of the Texas High School Football Coaches association—the largest of its kind in the nation.

Along with them will be Curt Leonard of Crane, one of the pioneers of six-man football, who will lecture on the new grid game.

The school will get under way at Rice Institute Monday morning. The school will reach a climax with Saturday night's all-star football game between the North and South teams garnered from the best high school seniors of the state, coached by Crisler and Neely, respectively.

All proceeds from the game will go into a fund providing insurance for high school players of the state against permanent injuries received on the gridiron.

Some 48 high school grid stars will be on hand early Monday morning to act as a human blackboard for the instructors. They not only will be working out daily on plays to prepare for the Saturday night battle, but also will be used to illustrate various formations by the lecturing coaches.

High school stars who will play in the game Saturday night include: North—Guards—J. E. McVickers, Flank—Johnny Davis, Vernon; Marty Merts, San Angelo, Tackles—McCharles Huff, Wichita Falls; Clifton Patton, Big Spring.

B'Spring Raps Wichita, 7-2, In Fri. Tilt

Schulze Adds 15th Win; Greer's, Poltras' Homers Help Decision

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 2 The Big Spring Bombers made it two in a row over the Wichita Falls Spudders here last night, winning 7 to 2 behind the steady chunking of Buck Schulze. It was Schulze's 15th win of the season.

Little Ed Rossi, Spudder southpaw, made a rocky start when Hayden 'Chubby' Greer blasted a three-run homer over the leftfield fence and Hank Poltras followed with another round tripper to bolster Schulze's precision-driven brand of hurling.

Schulze had only one bad inning, the seventh—when the Spudders bunched half of their eight hits for their runs.

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Lefty Grove failed today in his bid for the 301st victory of his career as the Detroit Tigers landed on him in the first inning for four runs and then went on to win over Boston, 6 to 5. Mike Higgins' homer, his sixth of the season, accounted for three of the Tigers' runs in the first.

A Featured Summer Attraction—

City Park Fills Needs Of Young, Old

MUNY PARK 4 COL #8

Big Spring situated in what Easterners would consider arid wastes, is not only possessor of a City Park that is bedecked with trees and green grass, complete with a brook, but has available every means to lessen the inroads of Sol during these scorching days and sultry nights.

A swing through the City Park gives a picture of the West Texas version of Coney Island. Families turn out en masse to stretch out, rest, and fight bugs. Youngsters have access to swings, a leg-motored merry-go-round, a wading pool, sand pile, and all the other essentials of children's play.

Greatest in number and perhaps the most popular item in the City Park is the swing system scattered throughout the grounds, twenty-five in all. Late in the afternoon, regardless of the wilted condition of the elders, Big Spring kids have a high time giving off the squeaky music from each and every chain-board machine in the park.

One wading pool seems to satisfy the nautical urge of the wee tots, and a sand pile gives full play to their build 'em up and tear 'em down inclinations. Also, the manually driven merry-go-round has its full complement of passengers and lights for night competition.

For the moms and pops and various and sundry aunts and uncles, croquet setups are available. The sport of the striped-blazed blades and Gibson Girls of the Nineties, can hardly be considered a thing of the past when one sees the four park croquet courts covered with compound surfaced tennis courts and softball diamonds, equipped with lights for night competition.

Then, for young and old, the City Park swimming pool is one of the chief centers of attraction for any and all who are determined to escape a bit of the type of weather that is, if the truth be known, West Texas' pride and joy.

But, the culinary arts were not forgotten when the city fathers outlined a plan for the entertainment of the citizens.

Open hearth facilities and stone tables and benches galore take care of those lovers of nature who feel the urge to cook under the open skies to the accompaniment of the forays of insects, the curiosity of stray dogs, and the stares of the other guy's kids.

And that's not all—the park seems to have taken the place of the elders' parlors.

So, every day, every night, Big Spring people like themselves to list featured summer attractions—let their offspring whoop and holler to their hearts' content, indulge in a bit of not too strenuous sport, and thank the powers that be that they among the few peoples of the world can enjoy a starry night and watch airliners instead of bombers sweep across the clear skies.

Headed For Battle

Jarrin' Jawn Signs For Horse Opera

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2 (AP)—Twentieth Century-Fox announced today John Kimbrough, all-American fullback at Texas A. & M. last year, had been signed to star in a Zane Grey picture, 'The Lone Star Ranger.'

The film will go into production immediately and will be completed in September in time for Kimbrough to meet engagements in professional football. The studio said it had taken an option on the player's future services.

Local Riders Resume Bouts With Lubbock

Originally scheduled to show their wares on Bennett Field this afternoon, Big Spring's and Lubbock's poloists have transferred their battle to Lamesa. The scene of action was shifted to avoid possible conflict with the Big Spring-Wichita Falls baseball game.

Last week, the Big Spring quartet took a 5 to 3 victory over the Lubbock riders at Lubbock.

Dr. M. H. Bennett said Saturday night that Lloyd Wasson, missing from the local lineup for several weeks, would be riding over Big Spring colors in the clash with the Lubbock hearties. In addition to Bennett and Wasson, Gus White, Jr., of Lamesa, and Lewis Rix are slated to perform with the Big Spring aggregation.

Game is to get underway at 3 o'clock.

Wood Grabs 6-Hole Lead Over Ghezzi

MAHONING COUNTRY CLUB, GIRARD, O., Aug. 2 (AP)—Shooting one of the greatest competitive rounds of the golf season on his morning 18—a seven under par 68—smooth-stroking Craig Wood snatched a six-hole lead over big Vic Ghezzi today in their battle for the unofficial world championship.

The sensational 68, a record for this tricky 6,351-yard layout, gave the national open king a seven-par margin and he lost only one hole of the advantage in posting even par for the afternoon round.

The $2,500 winner-take-all match goes into the final 36 holes or less tomorrow.

Wood beat the P. G. A. titlist at his own game, putting, to pile up the commanding lead. On the record 18 Craig used only 28 putts while his foe required 34. In the afternoon Wood took only 29, two less than the swarthy sharpshooter from Deal, N. J.

Score cards showed Wood with 31-32-33-34—130 and Ghezzi 35-36-36-33—140.

Cardinals Down Phillies, 11-7

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Heavy slugging made up for three errors and numerous fumbles that didn't get into the box score today as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the lowly Philadelphia Phillies, 11 to 7, to maintain their one-game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Howard Krist might have been knocked out of the box had the game been close, but a 14-hit bombardment by his mates, including a home run by Johnny Mize with the bases filled and one by Enos Slaughter with one on base made the rocky road safe and he stayed to the finish. He was picked for 10 hits, including a ninth inning homer by Carlin with a runner on base.

Between 75 And 100 West Texas Junior Golf Entrants Expected

Youths Open Qualifying Rounds Tues.

Tuesday morning between 75 and 100 young golfers will square off for qualifying rounds of the fourth annual West Texas Junior Golf tournament, according to expectations of Harold Akey, Muni golf pro. Saturday, Akey said that all indications pointed toward the best year yet experienced in youngster divesteering in this section of the country. Qualifying rounds will continue throughout the day, then, match play will be the order of the day Wednesday. Thursday will be devoted to semi-finals and finals. Out of town lads who appear to have the advantage in pre-meet listing are last year's champion, Jim Fritchett of Colorado City, and Bobby Davidson, Sweetwater youth who has been burning up the courses hither and yon. Last year, Fritchett was medalist with a 73 card. The Colorado City golfer took the title by defeating Roy Fain of Abilene, one up on the 22nd. Fritchett had moved into the finals with a 2 and 1 victory over Davidson, while Fain went into the last go-round by virtue of a triumph over Melvin Best of Lubbock, one up on 19th.

Fudge Matlock, young Big Spring caddy who qualified with a 77 last year, is touted to be one of the leading lights in this year's conflict. W. F. Julliff, Jr., Marvin House, Jr., Charles Harrell, Bob Bankston, and possibly Jimmy Brigham are other Big Springers who are on the books to keep the home fires burning. The as yet incomplete list of entrants includes Jack Swift of Merkel, Jackie Vaughn of Lamesa, Tommie Yarbro of Foran, James Gardner of Foran, Past Champion Red Roden of Glen Rose, Ted Roden of Odessa, Carol Claiborne of Lubbock, Melvin Best of Lubbock and Past Champion Jack Johnson of San Angelo. Akey said he expected the largest out-of-town delegation to be from Lubbock, fifteen probably being the number

Loboes Mark Up 5-4 Score Over Lubbock

LAMESA, Aug. 2 — Marshall Brown and Kirby Jordan led the Lamesa Loboes to 5 to 4 victory over the Lubbock Hubbers here last night, both accounted for four out of five Lamesa runs between them with an unbeatable slugging show.

Lubbock turned in a slipshod performance as the Loboes took advantage of every slip-up to add a Hubber scalp.

WHEN ACCURACY COUNTS

In state after state, wherever newspaper men meet, tribute is being paid The AP staff men abroad who daily overcome tremendous difficulties to give American readers FACTS.

Typical of resolutions adopted unanimously by many meetings of AP member publishers and editors is that from the minutes of a meeting attended by newspaper men from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. It follows in part:

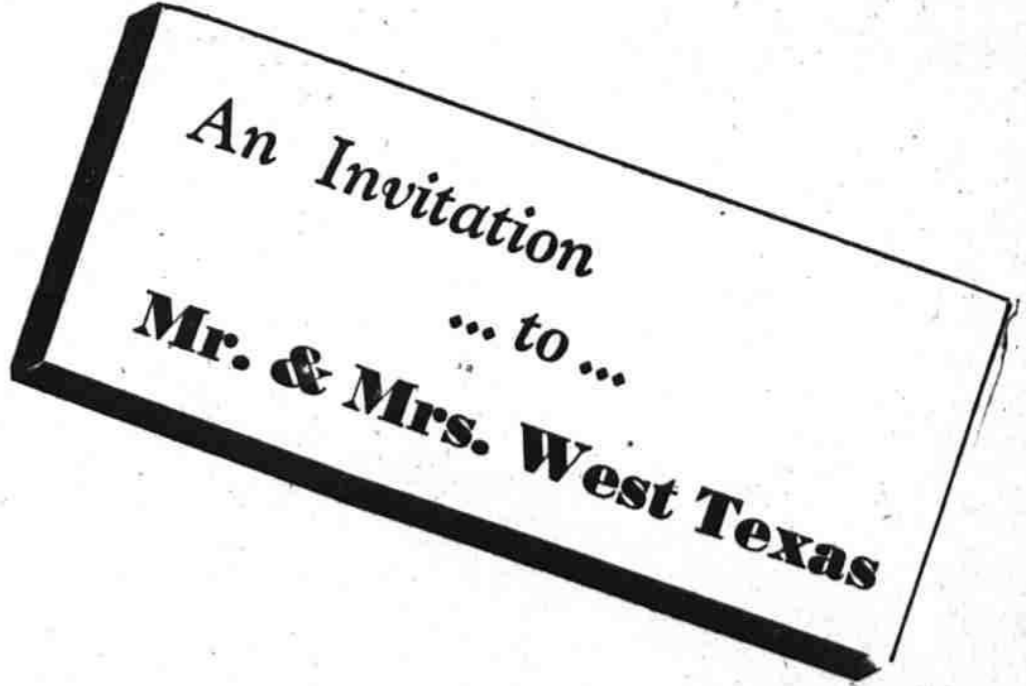

"At a time when the exciting nature of events has offered every temptation to exaggeration, sensation and hasty conclusions, a time when propaganda has polluted many news streams at their source, the care and vigilance of The Associated Press have maintained, unquestioned, the truthfulness of its report.

"At a time when their daily work involved hardship and danger, the members of The Associated Press staff abroad have told the story of war in graphic detail that has set new standards of vivid factual reporting."

To all of which this newspaper adds a hearty second. AP's traditional accuracy and impartiality never meant more than in these momentous days. To be fully, accurately informed — read your AP newspaper.

Well, Girls, How Do You Think You'll Look In Cotton Stockings?

A prospect of cotton clad legs for Big Spring women isn't causing much of a furor to date. In fact to quote one merchant, "let Japan keep their silk, we ought to use Texas cotton anyway."
 The latest international complication, freezing Japan's credits in the United States, is however, likely to make a shortage of silk hose, according to most store owners.
 But contrary to city populations where women are supposedly snatching the hose as fast as they can get it, Big Spring merchants are only enjoying a fairly normal brisk business.

On the dark side of the picture some merchants have received wires from their hosiery houses stating that they can make no guarantee on future orders or quote any special prices.

One hosiery firm has gone out of business temporarily and fall supplies have not been received here in many cases.

Some few stores, who ordered early in the summer for fall hose, have them in stock and ready for sale. But most merchants will be caught short if there is a stoppage as they have only a normal quantity of stock on hand.

But as a whole the merchants were not losing any extra sleep over the situation. With exclusive accounts with large hosiery houses, and most fall orders placed, they figure on getting along for several months. And after that—well, they have stopped worrying any farther ahead than that.

Announcing! CAMERON'S New Farm and Ranch Plan Book and Survey Service

What is CAMERON'S New Plan Book?

Here is a practical, new Plan Book which offers you new plans of Farm and Ranch Buildings—structures which are:

1. The most economical to build for their specific purpose.
2. Are designed to increase your profits and income.
3. Are constructed so as to last—reduce upkeep—increase the value of your investment—save you time and needless steps and work.

These plans contain the accumulated experience of Wm. Cameron & Company's 73 years of meeting and successfully solving Southwestern Farmers' and Ranchers' building problems.

These plans are ready for you to see and use at your nearest Cameron Lumber Store. They are hot off the press—brand new and include the best and latest in Farm and Ranch construction. When you buy your materials from Wm. Cameron & Company, the necessary plans are furnished you free. Included in the Plan Book are important technical data on ventilation, necessary size of structures for each given number of livestock, etc. Regardless of whether or not you are now planning any building, remodeling or repairing—it will pay you to see this new Plan Book at your nearest Cameron Lumber Store—TODAY!

What is CAMERON'S New Survey Service?

A Farm or Ranch is, in fact, a factory. Its purpose is to earn profits. The buildings and structures on that Farm and Ranch are important in causing a profit or loss. The location of the buildings in relation to each other, the convenience of their inside layout, their efficiency, upkeep cost, and the time and work they do or do not save determines whether you will have high or low operating costs. The lower your operating costs, the higher your profits will be.

To have a low operating cost Farm or Ranch you must plan your buildings—their location, construction, interior layout and the use of correct materials. You must have a plan—low operating cost farms don't just happen—they are based on careful study and planning.

To meet this need, William Cameron & Company developed their new Farm and Ranch SURVEY SERVICE. Special printed survey forms are provided on which you, with the assistance of your trained local Cameron Man, can:

1. Make a survey of your existing buildings—their layout, location, condition, etc.
2. The findings of this survey are placed on the Cameron Survey Form, furnishing a written record of the layout, design, efficiency, condition, etc., of your existing buildings and equipment.
3. Next, on the basis of this information, plus your needs and the new ideas, plans and data contained in the Cameron Farm and Ranch Plan Book—you can scientifically determine what must be done to make your Farm or Ranch Factory a lower operating cost one.
4. On these facts a definite program is laid out—not to be completed in one year—but over the years a sound plan is set up which will reduce your operating costs and increase your profits. As you proceed with the plan—it will begin to pay for itself.

Right now, take advantage of this new, scientific Cameron Way of increasing your profits. It's the businesslike way—the way factories—your Farm or Ranch Factory—can be made to increase its earnings. See your nearest Cameron Lumber Store NOW—This Cameron Survey Service is free and without obligation.

Dorothy Thompson Says— Russian - Polish Alliance Is Heavy Blow To Hitler

LONDON—The signing of the Russian-Polish friendship pact is a diplomatic military move of prime importance and indicates great sagacity on the part of the Russian government. It leaves Adolf Hitler as the only enemy, actual or potential, of the small nations of Europe. It is a thorough-going repudiation of the whole Russo-German pact.

If Germany has any case whatsoever Poland and Russia have an equally good one and have had ever since 1918. The Polish frontiers were drawn after one hundred and fifty years and the division could not be established with exact ethnographic justice. Modern Poland included far more Ukrainian and White Russian racial stock than it ever did of German stock.

Objective students of ethnographic questions challenged the Eastern frontier settlement at the time the division was made. Therefore the Russian gesture will leave Germany without a scrap of ground to stand on.

Meanwhile in the last two years since Poland became the victim of Hitler's aggression and Warsaw the first heap of rubble as the result of the Luftwaffe's activity, the Poles have justified the right to their country in the only way such a claim ever can be justified. They have demonstrated on every battle line, in every branch of service, that they will die for Poland.

Some day a new Sienkiewicz will rise to write in epic form the story of the struggle of the Poles. He will record that when Poland's own military experts advised her she could not hold out three weeks against Germany's total war and Great Britain warned that no immediate aid could be expected because of geographic conditions and the necessary disposition of inadequate forces, the Poles fought anyway.

It will be recorded that, defeated and scattered, they escaped to neighboring countries, there to be interned under international law. It will be recorded that from there they escaped some by one unit thousands of them were working their way to France to stand in lines there against the German onslaught. It will be recorded that no regions in France stood firmer, that when the Poles were forced to retreat they marched to Switzerland in full order to be received in silent admiration by the Swiss.

It will be recorded that they stand on guard 30,000 strong in Scotland, that they are fighting in the Near East, that they are among the most daring fliers and among the most undaunted men of the merchant and armed marine.

It will be recorded that Nazi gulle found no Quisling in Poland. It will be recorded that the fierce, passive resistance of the people, who, beaten and imprisoned, shot, humiliated, terrorized, has made it extremely difficult for the Germans to administer their country.

It will be recorded that young men and women published secret newspapers, operated secret stations and receiving radio stations under the eyes of the Gestapo. It will be recorded that the secret, sullen warfare goes on continually, patiently. It will be recorded that the fiercely loyal support of the men of Polish blood in Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo, who working in armament factories, watch carefully to prevent sabotage in the making of arms to protect America and defeat Hitler, and that they work for Poland, too.

It will be recorded that all the fierce pride and undaunted scorn of the people of that impoverished nation who possess the noble virtue of gratitude and who, being called into a rebirth by the democracies, remain loyal to them through thick and thin, intending once again to raise a statue to Woodrow Wilson which the Germans have torn down.

It will be recorded also that intelligence and realism had grown among the Polish leaders in the face of disaster, how they drew near to the Czechs, planning with them a more reasonable collaboration, how they drew near to the French, planning with them a more reasonable collaboration, and that Russia as a liberator of peoples is more powerful than Russia as the center of the comintern.

The ranks of Russia close under the impulse of the age-long Slavie fear of the Teuton, and Russians of all political colors redoubt that Russian soil, whether protected by Reds or Whites, is the home of all Russians to be defended against any invader under any banner.

This brokeh but beautiful city of London has become the world center of lost causes, homeless governments, homeless soldiers and poets. The sum of the lost causes is the cause of the future. It is the cause fought for by this sceptered isle, the home of kings, and the land of the Red Star and the proletariat.

What will come out of it all no one can quite foresee, but certainly it will be a synthesis.

Meanwhile a journalist feels the inadequacy of his medium. Poets and novelists should write about this war, not only journalists, for the truth about it can be grasped by sensibilities and imagination more clearly than by a mere factual study of events.

The last war produced a Remarque and a Barbusse to record its futility. This war will produce a Victor Hugo, a Sienkiewicz, a Joseph Conrad to record the final triumph of the world's lost cause through the invincibility of the human spirit.

The German people know it. Led dumbly and docilely from victory to victory they have apprehended the check that will come, for they know their outlandish leader has made them into rank outsiders of the world. He is making them the pariah of mankind even in their triumphs to be deep pitied by the imaginative mind. (Released by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Editorial — — Now Is Time For Planning Ahead

Now, we believe, is a good time for some sound, long-range planning.

If ever the stage was set for snapping at current benefits, that time is now. Everywhere, communities are clamoring and fighting for defense projects of one kind or another. If it isn't a camp, it's an industry; if it isn't an industry, it's something else—anything to get into the boom-time parade.

Now there is nothing wrong with any city going out after all it can get. Those who are blessed with sufficient initiative and resources to land these things are to be commended for their alertness and good luck.

For one reason or another, Big Spring has lacked in good fortune when it came to landing big defense items; but Big Spring has shared, and will share to a greater degree indirectly, in benefits of the program.

In this respect, what some would call our misfortune may well be turned to our good fortune if we are wise enough to look ahead. Regardless of how dark and complicated the picture, the international situation will begin to clear up one way or another some of these good days, and defense spending will swing sharply back in the other direction. So will a lot of boom activities attendant upon it.

Geared to a high and different tempo of production, we cannot cease production suddenly without chaotic disorganization of economy. There must be a shift of production, production to meet shortages resulting from the system of defense priorities, production of new things turned up by invention born of defense necessity.

The city that is wise will be looking ahead to that day. It will prepare to assume its place in handling the new flood of distribution; to foster and encourage small industries; to process more of its bountiful agricultural raw materials; to capitalize upon the tourist thousands; to build soundly for business and residential needs; to make civic improvements consistently and systematically—to have a plan in mind and try to follow it.

Man About Manhattan— Orchids For Cop No. 309

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If "Butch" LaGuardia is listening, this corner has a kind word to say for one of his cops. Cop 309. That was the number on his badge.

This cop was directing traffic that flows through the Lincoln tunnel. When you come into the tunnel from the Jersey side, you pause at a little glass-enclosed booth, and an officer leans out and takes your 50 cents. That's the toll fee—50 cents. Then you proceed.

It wasn't my car; I was driving in with a friend, and when we got to the booth my friend handed the officer on duty a $5 note. The officer returned him a handful of change. Suddenly it became clear that we had much too much change. Five dollars too much. There were four ones neatly folded and around them was wrapped a five. With this was the 50 cents in change.

This left us in a rather odd spot; any shortages in the till have to be made up by the cops on duty. We were rolling in a tide of traffic that could not be controlled. We continued through the tunnel and as we shot out in the bright daylight my friend swung over toward the center, where the cop was dividing traffic.

"What do you want?" he wanted to know.

My friend said, "Your pal back there in the booth gave me too much money, and I couldn't stop to tell him about it. Will you take it and see that he gets it?"

"Sure," said Officer No. 309.

We gave him the $5 and drove on.

That was early morning, say about 8. At 5 that afternoon we drove back through the tunnel, and on impulse paused at the booth.

"You been here all day?" my friend asked.

"Nope," said the new man, "we came on about an hour ago. We just changed shifts."

"Well, listen, this morning I got $5 too much change and I sent it back by one of your traffic policemen. Do you know whether he got it? Is there any way you could check on that?"

The cop in the booth shrugged. The stalled motorists behind us were beginning to blast their horns.

Suddenly the honest Irish face of a cop we hadn't seen from the other side of the tunnel, shoved its way into the car.

"What's the matter, bud? You worried about that $5? Well, I'm the guy you gave it to. Sure, he got it."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Lana Turner Gets Culture; But Cooking's All Greek

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — These modern kitchens are wonderful.

Lana Turner, now, has the pump inside, right by the sink, and there's no more of this hiking out to the well with the old oaken bucket. And the range is a nice squat four-burner with a pipe to take away all woodsmoke except what escapes beneath the range.

Lana is a pretty cook. She steps into the kitchen (for "Honky Tonk") looking like a stranger to the pots and pans. Sort of dimly-dainty, in her old-fashioned dress and starched white apron, with a fresh green bow of ribbon on burnished hair which has been regimined by the hairdresser.

Lana is making some beaten biscuits while Marjorie Main, housekeeper, butters the pans.

"What is it?" asks Lana, tentatively lifting a spoonful which stretches like jittery rubber. "It like glue," she giggles.

Director Jack Conroy personally dabs a little flour on her cheek, sprinkles a little more on her hands. The prop man starts the smoke in the stove.

"Now Lana," says Conroy, "don't forget to look as if you know what you're doing."

"I don't," Lana confesses. "You want me to act?"

"That's it," says Conroy. "Action!"

It's the scene wherein Claire Trevor, gambling lady in flashy sequins and fancy green and black feathers, pays a call on her rival for that Gable fellow.

The camera turns. "Keep yer biscuits light and yer whup-hand heavy," recites Miss Main. "That's the way to make a man to the mark."

Enter Miss Trevor. The smoke from the stove billows up in greeting, and the cameraman, Hal Rosson, stops the scene. "Out! Looks like the joint's on fire," he says.

While the prop men bring the "fire" under control, I get my chance to corner Lana. "Can you cook?" I ask.

"I can cook up a lot of hell," she laughs, "but that's not printable, is it? No, I can't cook—only hamburger and steaks."

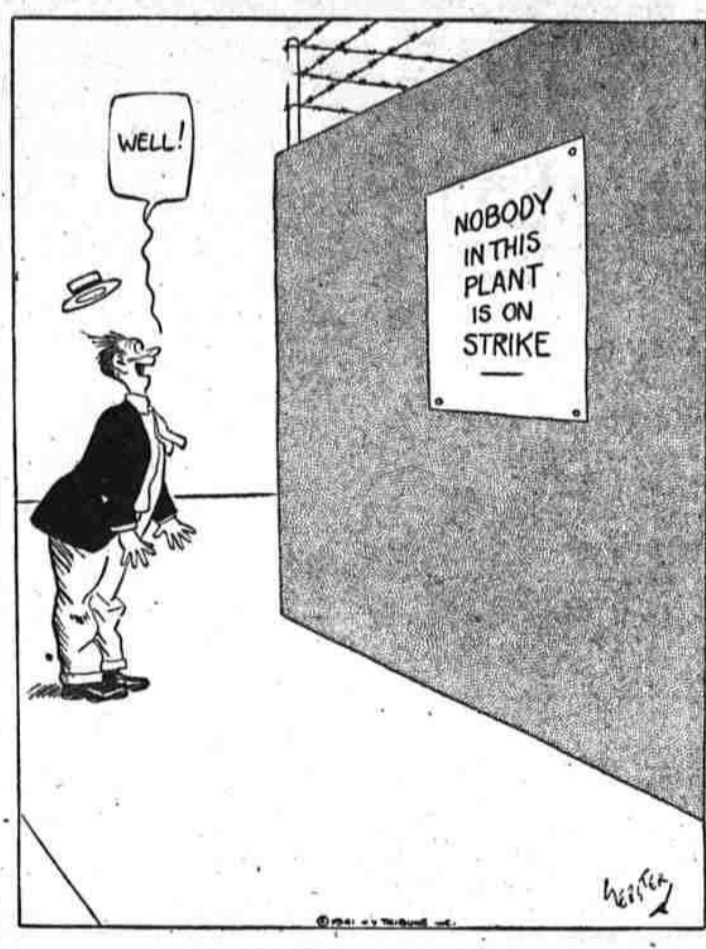

She's the same young Lana, still the sweater girl despite old-fashioned dress and apron and ribbon in her hair. But she's different when you bring up those rumors about Lana and the higher things—Lana the student, Lana the seeker after culture.

"It's true," she says, with hushed reverence.

The ex-sweater girl, once dubbed "Queen of the Night Clubs," finds herself a little amazed at herself, going to bed at 9 p. m. and enjoying it except those nights when she still goes to Ciro's which are not so often as before. It all happened during "Ziegfeld Girl" when Lana began discovering that beyond the sweater-girl bracket, if she worked hard enough, there could be a career.

"I'm trying to learn a little about everything," is her recipe. "Right now, I'm reading the lives of all the composers, so when I hear their music I'll understand it."

The Timid Soul

MADE UP TO KILL

Chapter 13
Mr. Lugotti

Slow footsteps dragged down the corridor. Jeff leaned against the door jamb and waited. A short swarthy individual in a blue serge suit, appeared opposite him.

"Yeah?" the individual said.

"Won't you come in and have a drink?"

"Jeff!" I said.

"It's okay, lady, I can't drink on duty."

"Duty?"

"Sure, Peterson sent me up to keep an eye on Miss Blanton."

We all turned to Carol. She attempted a smile. "Well, if you're going to keep an eye on me, shouldn't we meet?"

"My name's Lugotti."

"How do you do, Mr. Lugotti?"

"I'm terrible. How would you be if you'd been followin' people for twelve years?"

"It would depend on who you followed," Jeff said. "I'd feel swell if it was Madeline Carroll. But awful if it was Jesse Owens. He goes to fast!"

"Madeline Carroll, that'd be nice. But that would never happen to you. You should see some of the characters I been assigned to. It's usually some politician with the jitters, or if it's a woman... well, not only my feet take a beating but also my eyes."

"Your eyes won't take no beating from Miss Blanton!" Jinx said stoutly. We had forgotten he was there. I thanked him in behalf of Carol and suggested that he was now free to look after his elevator. He left reluctantly.

"Harlem is right," Lugotti said. "I imagine I will have some competition. I bet a lot of guys follow Miss Blanton without gettin' paid for it." His leer at Carol was a work of art.

"Listen, Mr. Lugotti," I said. "I hope..."

"Don't worry, lady."

"Don't call me lady."

Jeff laughed. "It's just a figure of speech. Haila. You misunderstand Lugotti. He is probably married and has five or six children."

"No, I ain't married. I never get close enough to anybody to marry them. I spend my life fifty feet behind everyone."

"Are you going to watch me all the time?" Carol asked.

"I'll be takin' turns with Jimmy Rosen and Crowley. And listen, Miss Blanton, you could do Crowley a big favor when he's on duty. You could stay off buses. Busses make Crowley sick."

"Everywhere I go, I'm to be watched?"

"That's right, Miss Blanton."

His voice rose shrilly. "Then tonight isn't the end! Mr. Peterson thinks they're going to keep on trying to kill me! Of course! Everybody knows it. They poisoned me and they tried to stab me and they won't stop until..."

I put my arm around her trembling shoulders and urged her toward the bedroom.

"It's all right," Lugotti said in what was supposed to be a soothing voice. "Nothing's goin' to happen to you with us around. But look, if I was you I'd stay right here in your apartment. I wouldn't go out at all."

"She won't," I assured him.

"And, Miss Blanton, he went on, "you can go to sleep now without worryin' at all. Because I promise you I won't go to sleep."

Inviting Disaster

Carol and I were on our second cup of coffee and Jeff well into his fourth when Peterson appeared that morning. Dangling from

"But really, I don't..." Carol began.

"You and I will discuss that later. And alone." He turned back to me. "Who knows if there'll be another attempt? If there is, it might be next Sunday or next year. Miss Blanton can't spend the rest of her life in hiding, can she?"

"I don't say that anything will come of my boys tagging her. But if anyone behaves strangely, if somebody is too interested in her comings and goings, we'll know about it. Troy!"

"Yes, Sir?"

"I don't mind you sticking your nose in the case. God knows we cops need all the help we can get. But I said help, not interference. If you know anything or find out anything, you tell me. Quick."

"Of course."

"Yeah, but you won't. And you'll probably get hurt. But I'd be wanting my breath to warn you. Now, you take your girl for a walk. Miss Blanton and I want to be alone, don't we?"

Carol smiled and waved us away, but I thought I heard her catch her breath and saw her hands clench slightly as we closed the door.

As the corner of Fifty-fourth and Lexington Jeff stopped. "What do you think the chances are of Bowers being in his office now?"

"Fifty."

"That's all we go for. First?"

"First? Does that mean you're going detecting?"

Without even smiling modestly he nodded and we headed for the office in silence. We met Philip Ashley in front of the Colony Theatre and the three of us turned down the alley together.

Inside the stuffy elevator I rummaged through my purse for my compact and lipstick. I would be stopping to powder my nose before venturing into a producer's office. I told myself ruefully, when I was ninety. A producer's office is a producer's office and it doesn't matter that you've got the job and done with. I snapped shut the enameled box and dropped it in my purse.

"It's fairly crass of me," Philip Ashley was saying, "to barge in on Clint at a time like this. I suppose, and to demand just what is what. But I thought it possible that he might want to close the show."

"Quite possible," Jeff said shortly.

Philip loosened the gay colored

The Week

stock for the freezer locker plant has been subscribed. It would be a good thing to get this plant into operation as soon as possible, for certainly this is an ideal year to store up food.

If Harry Seden lived in Germany, A. Hitler, et al would have bled him of his holdings long ago. But he doesn't live in Germany and he's thankful. Last week he gave 100 pounds of aluminum to the defense drive — and aluminum is worth something now. He always contributed anonymously, but Harry put many a dollar into relief campaigns for the Greeks, Yugoslavs and other over-run democracies.

Indeed, we could talk more about our climate. Last week while other parts of the nation sweated, Big Spring and area enjoyed perfect nights. We don't appreciate our splendid breezes enough, and certainly we don't advertise them enough.

We believe that affairs of the city are in capable hands with appointment of B. J. McDaniel as temporary city manager and H. W. Whitney as assistant to fill the vacancy created by resignation of E. V. Spence as city manager. But they have a record of development and solvency set in the past 10 years to shoot at.

Negroes, under the direction of Sam Leach and Georgia Collins, put over a mighty fine program, Friday night. The 4,500 who turned out made the third largest crowd ever to gather in the big stone bowl. This week the Mexicans have the program.

Yanks Blank Browns, 2-0

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankee pitching, which has been of high quality, continued to flourish today as Marvin Breuer turned in a 2-0 shutout over the St. Louis Browns. It was the third whitewashing by a Yankee pitcher in as many games. The opposition hasn't scored in the last 30 innings.

Breuer, a curve-balling right-hander from Rolla, Mo., who has remained in the background while his fellow pitchers have been compiling long winning streaks, was superb today. He gave the cellar-dwellers three hits and allowed only three men to reach second base.

The Yanks touched up Denny Galehouse for eight hits, two in the second and two in the eighth accounting for their runs.

DiMaggio, who collected two hits, ran his latest streak to 16 straight games. He has connected in 72 out of his last 73 games.

Brownwood Gives Soldiers Party

Two days hence, the all-Texas 36th division and other units of the eighth corps area will be on the long trek to Louisiana and the nation's greatest maneuvers.

Park Service Will Study Denison Dam

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary Ickes announced the national park service will formulate plans soon for recreational use of the Denison dam and reservoir area on the Oklahoma-Texas border.

A detailed survey of the recreational resources of the project will be made by the park service, Ickes said.

Services were held in the St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. William J. Kelly in charge. Burial was in the Evergreen cemetery there. Mrs. Lamar Smith accompanied the Darrows.

Novelist—Mrs. Elizabeth Wheaton, above, of Texas City, Tex., won the Thomas Jefferson southern award of $2500 for the year's outstanding book on the south. The book is titled "Mr. George's Joint," and is a story of the life of negroes in a small Texas town.

British Planes Bomb Berlin

BERLIN, Sunday, Aug. 3 (AP)—A few British planes reached Berlin and dropped a small number of bombs, largely on residential quarters, causing some civilian dead and injured, a communique said today.

Three British planes were shot down during the night raid, including one in the immediate vicinity of Berlin, the communique reported.

British fighters also were said to have made "disturbance attacks without military effectiveness" over western and northern Germany.

British Ignore Economy Request

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The British ignored en masse today an urgent government request to stay at home this weekend—so that gasoline could be saved and so that railroads could be kept clear for important freight and coal traffic vital to Britain's war effort.

By the thousands they poured out of populous centers everywhere to spend today, tomorrow and Monday in the traditional peace-time manner at country and seaside resorts, defying the government despite the possibility they might be stranded out of town.

PENNY FOR YOUR THOUGHTS?—Fast a figure whose square look, cane, and especially-made "chimmer pot" hat make him almost as recognizable from the back as from the front—Winston Churchill—skims an American-made bomber, in England.

War Analysis—Nazi Problems Multiply In Russian Drive

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Herald Special News Service

The six weeks which Nazi propagandists proclaimed would see Russian resistance utterly smashed by Hitler's steelshod legions ends with the outcome as uncertain as it was that Sunday morning when the offensive was launched.

Within those weeks the greatest battle in history has raged. Nine million or more men have been engaged on a 2,000 mile fighting front. In all probability there has been the greatest casualty toll in the blood-spattered war annals of humanity. Russians, Germans, humanitarians and Finns by the hundreds of thousands are dead, maimed or huddled in prison camps.

By reason of its size alone the struggle baffles efforts to plot its contours or assess accurately the strategic effect of vaguely indicated day to day changes in front. It is made up of three or four battles, each in itself greater in size than any battle of the World War. Military yardsticks of even recent war experience are all but useless to measure its ebb and flow.

Yet out of those tragic six weeks one lesson of grim significance for Hitler has come. It is that Russian morale at the fighting front or behind the lines remains unshaken. The vital resources in Russia at which Hitler grasped seem even farther from his reach than they were six weeks ago. His hopes of seizing by force from Russia the oil and the food stocks he desperately needs to consolidate his continental victories are waning, not brightening. The specter of winter warfare in Russia is dogging his generals.

Every Berlin war effort and Hitler's own cryptic official progress bulletins reflects increasing fanatical Russian resistance, both by the army and civilians. Well authenticated neutral eye-witness reports tell of blasted grain fields in the Ukraine breadbasket surrendered only grudgingly and still teaming with guerrilla groups far in the rear of Nazi front lines.

Russian oil wells, probably the objective above all else sought by Hitler when he turned on his former Moscow "friends," still are far distant. Day by day and night by night Russian bombers have been hovering above Germany's own prime oil sources in Rumania blasting at wells, pipelines and refining plants.

There can be little doubt now even in German high command circles that if Nazi and Rumanian armies do eventually fight their way to physical possession of Russia's great Caspian oil fields, the most productive high-grade source in the world, they will find them destroyed.

No question of private interests or capitalistic investment would deter a Russian decision to destroy the wells rather than yield them to the enemy. Unquestionably, a word from Stalin would touch off the blasts.
