

Judge Morrison Tells Of Missionary Work

Judge W. S. Morrison was the principal speaker at the Royal Service program of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary Society Monday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. K. S. Beckett of the Mary Willis circle was in charge of the varied, inspirational program. The theme followed was, "Evangelical Witness to the World" and throughout the program missionary hymns were sung, led by Mrs. Ernest Hock with Mrs. J. E. Hardesty as accompanist.

The program was opened with a prayer by Mrs. W. J. Alexander, in which she asked that the program might give new appreciation of all evangelized witnesses. Mrs. Roy Odum gave the Bible lesson from Isaiah 33:1-13, declaring that "God has redeemed us that we may be His witnesses."

Mrs. H. E. Choate told of the fruits of mission work in faraway islands and countries, and Mrs. J. H. Greene related instances and stories servicemen have told of the work by chaplains in foreign countries, telling of the appreciation for foreign work.

Judge Morrison, who served for 15 months on Salpan as an intelligence officer, addressed the group, taking as his subject, "The Great Commission," Matthew 28:19. He enjoined Christians to carry the gospel to the four corners of the earth. Rev. Dick O'Brien gave a brief talk on experiences which have been related to him by returned servicemen.

With posters and maps in illustration, Mrs. Della K. Agnell described the work of the church in foreign countries, and showed that

Marchers In Easter Parade To Have Frills, Furbelows

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The Easter bonnet won't be the only item with frills upon it in this year's parade.

Your government has decided frills—on feminine cuffs, pockets and belts—are in again.

What's more, if she wants a "shorty coat"—25 inches by official measure—that's all right with the Civilian Production Administration too.

First, about those frills: As of today, these vital, extra touches, missing in wartime, have Washington blessing again:

(1) French or double cuffs on dresses, blouses, coats.
(2) Belts and belt loops on skirts and slacks.
(3) Flaps, good for decoration only on pockets or almost anywhere.

The shorty coat situation is a bit more complex. CPA explains it this way:

Since Easter time, 1945, when 33-inch coats were the thing to parade, coat lengths have been frozen at 33 inches to conserve cloth.

This year, however, some fashion designers thought of shorty coats. CPA quickly issued a ban, explaining there was no sense in sending Easter paraders to throw over perfectly good 33-inch models for a newer style.

But, CPA officials explained, some manufacturers went right on making shorty coats—by the thousands.

CPA threw in the towel. Shorty or otherwise, American women needed the coats.

To sum up, CPA approves this Easter outfit: short coat, complete with double cuffs, pocket flaps and belt loops.

As for the bonnet, the CPA man

Lunchroom In Final Clean-Up Stage In Preparation For Thursday Opening

The tri-school lunchroom at the high school was in the last stages of preparation for its Thursday opening. Tuesday when clean up after final installation of equipment was being carried on.

Unexpected arrival of equipment this week practically completed the lineup of necessary fixtures for the project, and last painting and the installation of a fan were being completed. With the exception of a baker's table, a bake oven, and several labor saving devices, all equipment has arrived or been arranged for.

A shipment of utensils which had been placed with two companies arrived this week, causing a duplication of a number of items. Mrs. J. E. Brigham said Tuesday. She asked the other units planning to install a similar lunchroom next year contact her Wednesday morning for purchasing the excess equipment.

On Monday Parent-Teacher workers were at the schools to accept registrations for the cafeteria and to sell meal tickets. Students registering for lunches reached 175, and 19 meal tickets were sold. The workers will be on hand again Wednesday morning from 8 until 12 to make further registrations and sell the tickets.

Mrs. W. C. Ezell, who will oversee the kitchen, expects approximately 300 patrons when the room opens Thursday, and will prepare food accordingly. Mrs. Ezell will be assisted in the cafeteria kitchen by Mrs. W. F. Fielder and Mrs. I. P. Davidson.

Further donations are necessary to complete payment of several bills, and Mrs. Brigham urged that those who are interested in the project and have failed due to oversight to contribute do so immediately.

The American Legion contributed $200 to the fund, and the First National Bank gave $25. A $10 gift was sent anonymously. Five dollar contributions were received from Ira Thurman, F. S. Gomez, Alvin Bettes, Walter Morrison and L. E. Coleman. Other donations came from A. L. McCormick, W. T. Gates, Boss's, Paul J. Rat, Miller's, Meier's agency, R. E. Lee, Lloyd Wasson and Mrs. Miller Russell.

Dog Prefers Jail

GALVESTON (UP)—There is a life-terminer in the Galveston county jail who cries like a baby every time they let him outside and forget to unlock the door to let him back in.

He's Butch, a Chesapeake Bay dog adopted as a jail mascot when he was two days old.

"He's here for life," says Jailer John Cranston. "He cries his eyes out every time we let him outside."

Nabors Offers "Hair-Raising" Grooming Hints

Hair-raising trick to try if the lady has trouble keeping locks aloft at the temples or in an up-swing coil. It is to place combs at a diagonal slant. In that way they are much more likely to stay anchored than when they are squared off with the head. That was a hair-grooming hint from Mrs. Zella Nabors of the Nabors Permanent Wave Shop, 1700 Gregg.

For grip that's hard to pry loose, the beautician declared, always push combs in the direction opposite the way the hair is angled.

To fluff up wilted curls or to deepen waves, ladies were advised to hold the brush so that the wrist can twist, thus keeping bristles turning and tugging through hair. For those blessed with two brushes, the work can be done twice as well, Mrs. Nabors said. "Get one in each fist and twist from a rubbery wrist," she advised.

Before a woman starts figuring out how she can arrange her hair to fit the day's style, she should see to it that it is clean and shining. Clean hair is ever so much easier to handle, and it can double its attractiveness. A shampoo once a week or every 10 days should be sufficient. For keeping hair shining and glossy between washings, use a brush and lots of elbow grease, the hairdresser declared.

Some women are lucky enough to have naturally curly hair—others have to get permanents in order to give that necessary body to the hair to keep it in the desired appearance. Nabors shop is always happy to assist in any way possible and with 18 years of experience to back them up, the Nabors people feel that there is no problem too difficult for them to handle.

At the Nabors establishment, they have also a complete line of Contours and Revlon cosmetics for every need.

TES Transmission Workers Pile Up Safety Record

One of several divisions of workers for the Texas Electric Service Company, who see that power is maintained constantly for Big Spring, is the transmission department.

The transmission employees had their picture snapped recently while attending a dinner at the Settles hotel, at which annual safety awards were made and plans for the year were discussed.

Duties of the transmission department include keeping service on high lines and maintaining and operating sub stations and switching stations, which means that they are responsible for keeping a steady flow of current to the distribution points.

During 1945 there was only one disabling accident in 64,000 man-hours of work. This record was made while maintaining, operating and doing construction work on 600 miles of high voltage power line ranging from 33,000 to 132,000 volts, and also operating 25 high voltage sub-stations. These lines supply power and light to cities and towns in this part of West Texas, and also power to West Texas oil fields, refineries and many other large industries.

O'Brien Grocery Gets Spring Coat Of Paint And Rearranged Interior

In his renovated grocery store, fresh with the new paint on the walls and more conveniently arranged with a few changes, George O'Brien of the O'Brien grocery bids for the trade of the new neighbors in his area. The store, located at 1201 14th Place, is "the nicest, cleanest and closest around here," he says with pride.

Pointing out the advantages of trading there, he mentions the almost daily delivery of fresh vegetables in season and a good stock of the regulars, like potatoes, onions, green peppers, carrots and tomatoes. Luscious strawberries are also arriving in three times weekly shipments and other fruits and vegetables from spring gardens are on the way.

There's a good supply of beef cuts of meat in the meat counter, O'Brien says, and he hopes to have a good supply of pork in someday—but when, he doesn't know. All kinds of cured porks are on the scarce list throughout the country. There's plenty of margarine and milk on hand, although butter and whipping cream are still on the list of things to be reconverted. But when they are back on grocers' shelves, or iceboxes, again, O'Brien's will have them.

Quality ice creams are carried in the cold storage department and a good line of canned and packaged foods on the open shelf side.

A new item on sale these days is a deep aluminum chicken fryer, with plenty of them in stock, the grocer assured housewives. To fry chicken golden-brown in traditional southern style, there's nothing quite like a deep-pan fryer, an article of the market for many long war months.

O'Brien also has added a new employe to his grocery staff, J. D. Allison, and he mentions that his son Joe is on hand to help customers find what they need for supper.

Last, but not least, to prospective customers, O'Brien Grocery still maintains a delivery service as convenient as giving the operator the number 1622.

Money-Givers Cut Department Funds

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Demanding elimination of what it called a "deeply entrenched spending psychology" among federal officials, the house appropriations committee today recommended deep slashes in state, commerce and justice department funds.

It sent to the house floor a $358,825,758 bill to finance the three departments and the federal judiciary for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The total represents a 13 per cent cut from budget estimates but a $40,510,759 boost over current year funds.

By agencies the money was earmarked: $148,024,000 for commerce, $104,783,408 for state, $95,168,250 for justice, and $15,850,100 for the judiciary.

All but a small part of the increase went to the commerce and state departments, whose foreign work has been augmented by war's end.

The committee allowed no funds at all for the state department's separate intelligence unit; shipped its estimate for expanded cultural relations activities almost in-half, and sharply pared commerce department requests for the census bureau and the civil aeronautics administration.

The committee approved a state department budget almost five times as large as the last pre-war budget after hearing Secretary of State James Byrnes behind closed doors.

Briefly, Byrnes told the committee in that part of his testimony made public, "we are still concerned with the prevention of future wars and with measures which will improve the social and economic well-being of the peoples of the world to the end that the conditions which lead to war will be removed."

Although the budget bureau is not directly affected by the bill, the committee rapped the knuckles of that agency with these words in its formal report to the house: "It is strongly urged that the bureau devote more time to the over-all coordination of the functions and activities of the various departments and agencies of government generally and less to the issuance of directives governing details of administrative management and planning."

Of federal spending generally, the committee had this to say: "There seems to have developed during the war years what some have termed a 'spending psychology' and the committee is fearful that this spending psychology has become somewhat too deeply entrenched in the minds of the officials responsible for the operation of our federal establishments. It must be eliminated."

Court Dissolves "Match Cartel"

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark today announced a consent decree dissolving what he called a "world-wide match cartel." It ends the government's anti-trust suit against leading match producers of the United States, Sweden and Great Britain.

Although not listed as a defendant in the final action, the British firm of Bryant and May was said to have "entered into a conspiracy with Swedish and American producers which 'successfully suppressed the manufacture of Everlasting matches.'" The justice department asserted it had been unable to serve the British firm with papers in the case.

Clark described the "Everlasting match" as one which may be struck several thousand times before it is consumed. The Diamond Match company, a defendant, said in a statement, however, that it knew of no such device.

Scouting Activities Will Be Discussed

Four Years Ago Today Bataan Fell To Japs And Thousands Were Killed

BATAAN PENINSULA, April 9 (AP)—A small car flying a white flag carried American officers to the Japanese lines four years ago today to surrender this fog-shrouded peninsula—where General MacArthur's stand with outnumbered, outgunned forces upset the whole timetable of Japanese conquest.

To thousands of Filipinos huddling fearfully by forbidden radios, and to the rest of the world, came these words on April 9, 1942: "With heads bloody but bowed, they have yielded to superior force and numbers... the world will long remember the epic struggle that Filipino and American forces put up in the jungle fastnesses and along the rugged coast of Bataan."

"For what sustained them... was a force more than physical. It was the force of unconquerable faith."

"Bataan has fallen, but the spirit that made it stand—a beacon to all the liberty-loving people of the world—cannot fall."

The words came from "The Voice of Freedom," the radio on still-embattled Corregidor. They were written by Capt. Salvador P. Lopez, former executive officer of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's staff.

Lopez now is back at his old job with the Manila Post—whose pages recently heralded the death before an American firing squad of Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, curt conqueror of both Bataan and Corregidor.

Manila papers today reprinted

Meeting Planned To Discuss JC's

Further discussions on Big Spring's needs—and her requisites—for a junior chamber of commerce will be discussed at an open meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the Settles hotel.

The session has been called by Dewey Collum and Clarence Fox, Jr., who said workers in that type of activity from other cities of this vicinity would attend.

Among the speakers who will be heard are Oliver Howard and J. W. Hooker, president and a member of the board of directors, respectively, of the Abilene Junior Chamber.

If formed here, the junior group would concentrate its efforts on programs not ordinarily undertaken by the senior organization, at the same time work in complete understanding and in the best of relations with the older unit, Fox said.

Hayden

operation that became the first permanent newspaper for Big Spring.

They changed location of the office several times before T. E. Hayden erected buildings in the 100 block of W. 1st street. In 1926, Mr. Hayden sold his interest in the paper to Mr. Jordan, but continued as editor of the paper. The Herald was sold to the present owners in March, 1929, and on Oct. 1 of that year, Mr. Hayden founded the Weekly News, which he continued to operate at the time of his death.

Like his partner, Mr. Hayden was sometimes discouraged by early day droughts and together they once laughingly agreed that they "had lied about this country long enough" and hired an editor. However, his faith never really wavered in the country, and he was constantly "boosting" in his paper for the institutions and developments he thought would build the city and area.

He had a remarkable knowledge of the country and of the old times, and the doings or passing of one of them, no matter where, never escaped his attention. His clear memory of past events enabled him to inculcate vivid background details into his stories, all in his own style and always without a by-line, which an extreme modesty kept him from ever employing.

In past years he was a leading figure in the chamber of commerce and its forerunners. Even in later years he maintained this active interest and served on committees. No meeting of the Howard County Old Settlers reunion ever escaped him. He never married, caring for his mother, Mrs. Maria Hayden, until her death in 1938.

Surviving him are three brothers, J. T. Hayden and A. C. Hayden of 901 Johnson, and H. R. Hayden, 200 Gregg. He also leaves four nephews, Joseph Hayden, Albert Jordan, Thomas E. Jordan, Jr., Harry Jordan; and seven nieces, Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Van Horn; Mrs. Cecil Wasson, Ooate, N. M.; Lillian Jordan, Mrs. Dorothy Genery, Mrs. Louise Jackson, Mrs. Lillie Mae Lomax and Mrs. Helen Acuff, all of Big Spring.

Two Veterans Reenlist For Three-Year Terms

Two men who saw service overseas have departed here to resume their careers in the US Army.

They are Clarence L. Bryant, a veteran of 7 1/2 years in uniform, and John W. Rowland, who was with the 2nd Fighter Group in the ETO.

Both go into the Army Air Forces for three years.

Wolf Picks Up Man Suspected Of Theft

Sheriff Bob Wolf made a trip to Lamasa Monday to pick up Desiderio Lozana, wanted here in connection with a theft of chickens on the Dick Simpson place in North Howard county several weeks ago. Lozana had been undergoing interrogation in the Dawson county jail for burglaries in that vicinity.

Fernando Cano, who allegedly helped Lozana in the raid on Simpson's chicken coop, has been in confinement here for some time.

FROM TEXAS TO WASHINGTON—

Texan Pushes Amendment To Social Security Laws

By PAUL BOLTON
WASHINGTON, April 9. (Sp.)—Notes of a Texan on the Washington scene:
From Texas to Washington is quite a "fur piece" but the distance can be bridged. Here's an instance.
Not so long ago, a column appeared in this paper concerning the injustice to the service man who was formerly covered by the Social Security laws who had lost the benefits of his civilian service by reason of his induction into the armed services. The civilian had built up a substantial benefit record, by deductions from his pay each week, and it seemed unfair that the record of several years should be ruined by his involuntary service in the armed forces.
The fault in the law was due, naturally, to the fact that when retirement and insurance benefits were set up under Social Security, nobody had looked into the future to see another world war approaching. It was a solecism.
When this column appeared one editor thought the case so good that he wrote a hot letter to Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Austin. Johnson immediately went to the Social Security Board. The board was then preparing amendments to the law to submit to the Congress. An amendment was drawn taking care of the situation, and incorporated in the SSB report.
Here are notes: The Truman administration is convinced that the Democratic party can win in the next election if the party continues liberal and progressive. That may have influenced the decision of Tom Clark, the Texas attorney general, to accept an invitation to speak to the PAC convention in Chicago this month. A prominent member of the Texas Congressional delegation is in line for appointment to a lifetime judicial job before the primary elections in Texas. The administration of Housing Administrator Wyatt's veterans' preference building priority order will be centered in San Antonio. Charles T. MacLeod is in charge of housing, and George W. Chambers in charge of all other construction. The office is that of civilian production in the Transit Tower.
Here's the Texas record on home inflation as reported from Wyatt's office: From the spring of 1940 to February of this year, homes formerly selling below $6,000 went up in value a minimum of 45 per cent, a maximum of 100 per cent. Homes selling formerly for more than $6,000 inflated 25 to 100 per cent. From VJ day to February the inflation ranged 5 to 30 per cent on the cheaper homes, 5 to 25 on the more expensive. These were estimates of what the office said were "real estate brokers" in the state. . . .

Senator O'Daniel has been heard to say that his jobline for a federal judgeship is Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth. Martin has not announced for re-election, nor has he indicated that he'll try again for attorney general of Texas. . . . Examine those dollar bills in your pocket; you'll find a few signed by the new secretary of the treasury, Fred M. Vinson. They've just started circulating.

Test Frozen Juice

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Frozen apple juice may become a commercial reality, allowing producers to extend the market period beyond the normal season. Experiments by the food technology division of the University of California have shown that both fresh apple juice and sharp ciders retained their natural flavor and color after even six to 12 months in storage.
