Young Men Must Still Register

Austin, Tex.—Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, reminded young men that they still must register with Selective Service even though there is no draft.

Glantz urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly, saying: "Failure to register is a violation of Federal Law and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice."

The President's authority to induct men into the Armed Forces expired on July 1, 1973. The Nixon Administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower.

Glantz emphasized that only the authority to induct expired. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held, young men will continue to register, and their local boards will continue to classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of national emergency.

BARKER TAKES 3RD IN SKI EVENT IN LOUISIANA

Jim Barker (right) of Eldorado, Tex., placed 3rd in Group II Men's jumps in the third annual Hodges Gardens Water Ski Tournament sponsored by the Poseidon Waterski Club of Leesville, La., Saturday and Sunday. Dan Rowzee (center) was first and Jim Miles (left) of Abilene was second. The tournament, which had 130 contestants from eight states, was held on the 225-acre lake centering Louisiana's famed forest gardens.

The State Director said the law requires all male persons, except certain nonimmigrant aliens, to register with Selective Service within 30 days before or after their 18th birthday. He said: "Young men have three legal obligations: (1) they must register at age 18,

2) they must notify their local draft board when they change address, and (3) they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability for service expires, for most men this is age 26."

The registrar for Local Draft Board No. 110 in Schleicher county is Mrs. Helen Carlman.

Mrs. Ray Jones of Oklahoma visited here recently with Claudie Galbreath and other relatives.

The Jerry Jones family returned last week from a trip to Colorado.

Mosquito Infestation Calls For Controls

Heavy rainfall throughout Texas is producing widespread mosquito production, and a lot of the problem may be occurring in your own back yard, says the Texas State Department of Health.

It only takes a little standing water and some adult mosquitoes to bring on the pain and discomfort—and sometimes disease from mosquitoes.

All mosquitoes need water in which to pass their early life stages. Adult flying mosquitoes frequently rest in grass, shrubbery or other foliage but they never develop there.

But give mosquitoes water and they'll multiply. Some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where they hatch in a day or two. Other mosquitoes lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans, or other water-holding containers in which they may remain unhatched for weeks or months until they are covered with water.

With both types of mosquito's, the wigglers or larvae grow quickly and turn into tumblers or pupae. Soon the skin of the tumbler splits open and out climbs another hungry mosquito.

The director of the State Health Department's Vector Control Division, Kenneth C. Lauderdale, says that in addition to being pests, mosquitoes can be dangerous. Such diseases as encephalitis, yellow fever, dengue fever and malaria are common diseases spread by the flying insect. They are big health problems in other parts of the world.

One of the last epidemics of mosquito-borne disease in Texas was Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis (VEE), which entered the country through Mexico. It struck many people—mostly in the Rio Grande Valley—and made heavy inroads into the horse population.

While mosquitoes are a threat to health and bodily comfort, there is something that you as an individual can do to ease the situation, says Lauderdale.

Lauderdale calls this the Ten Commandments of Home Mosquito Control. They are:

1. Empty, remove, cover or turn upside down any receptacle that will hold water—particularly old bottles and tin cans.
2. Change water and scrub vases holding flowers or cuttings twice each week—or grow cuttings in sand.
3. Discard old tires or store them indoors.
4. Screen rain barrels and openings to water tanks or cisterns. Seal cisterns not in actual use.
5. Repair leaky plumbing and outside faucets. They may cause standing water.
6. Connect open wastewater drains to a sewage system, or construct separate sump or leach lines.
7. Clean clogged roof gutters and drain flat roofs.
8. Fill holes in trees with sand or mortar, or drain or spray them, as required.
9. Stock ornamental ponds with mosquito-eating fish.
10. Clean and drain evaporative coolers frequently.

And remember, says Lauderdale, that mosquitoes develop only in water. And, water standing just a few days can produce a crop of mosquitoes!

New Film Depicts Defense Of Alamo

There's stirring near the Alamo. Just 100 paces from the front door of the venerable mission fortress, the story of the historic battle in 1836 unfolds.

The excitement is "Remember The Alamo," a wide-screen presentation recreating for the audience the siege and fall of the Alamo that led to the liberation of Texas.

The show's producer is R. Jay Casell, who produced Leterna Magika and three other crowd-pleasing shows at H-misFair '68. According to him, "people coming to San Antonio feel that if they haven't visited the Alamo, they haven't been to San Antonio. However, many leave with an empty feeling because it is difficult to grasp the actual symbolic meaning behind the story of the Alamo."

As a result, the idea for the show and theatre was conceived nearly a year ago when production began and plans were set in motion.

Seven days a week, every half hour, simultaneously in two intimately designed theatres, "Remember The Alamo" reveals the motivational factors causing the key figures (i. e. Bowie, Crockett & Travis) to be at the Alamo at the time. This enables the audience to identify with their favorite character thereby enriching their total Alamo experience.

A cinematographic technique is introduced called MultiVision, utilizing 10 projectors in each theatre and Polyphonic sound which surrounds the audience. The realism of the historic events are recreated in a way never presented anywhere before.

Directed by James R. Westberry of Creative Communications Group, written by Karen Lansky, edited by Gordon Marsh, technical design and manufacturing by Allen R. Willard of MetroSpec, Inc. and art by George Hughey.

"Remember The Alamo" is open from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults, 75 cents for students and military (with ID) and 50 cents for children 12 and under. This exciting attraction can be seen only in San Antonio, "One of America's Four Unique Cities."

Bake a Fluffy Cheesecake

Cheesecakes are many and varied. They may be baked with or without a crust; served plain or with a shining fruit glaze. In texture, too, they vary. Some are quite firm and somewhat dry. Others, like the one which appears below, have a soufflé-like fluffiness.

Fluffy Cheesecake

- 1½ cups dry or pot style cottage cheese
- ¼ cup corn starch
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1½ cups dairy sour cream
- ¾ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Lightly grease 9 x 3½-inch spring form pan. Put cottage cheese through sieve into large mixing bowl. Stir in corn starch. Add egg yolks, 1 at a time, beat until well blended. Add sour cream, ½ cup of sugar, salt, lemon rind, lemon juice and vanilla and beat until well blended. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add remaining ¼ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating until stiff peaks form when beater is raised. Fold egg whites into cheese mixture. Pour into prepared pan. Bake in a 350°F. oven about 50 minutes or until top is golden brown. Turn off heat and let cool in oven with door open. Makes 1 (9-inch) cheese cake.

Frank Facts . . .

With end-of-summer parties under way, "weiner roasts" are fun—and appropriate outdoor activities. The frankfurter plays a major role in these cookouts—and its contents affect the flavor. Thus, the shopper needs to know what to look for.

The label is the consumer's guide in buying frankfurters—there are no secrets in a hot dog. Everything that goes into them is inspected and regulated according to federal standards.

If the label states "all meat," the franks contain skeletal muscle tissue—the same as steaks, chops or roasts. If a product utilizes tripe, heart, lips, beef cheeks or other parts, they must be specifically listed on the label.

A label also must indicate if poultry meat is a constituent of the frank. If so, it's limited by law to less than 15%.

Law also limits certain other ingredients.

For example, a certain amount of fat is needed for good flavor, but the content is held to 30%. Taste tests at Iowa State University consistently show that franks containing less than 15% fat are rated barely edible.

Chemicals, including nitrates and nitrites, which are added to products have received much attention lately. Actually, nitrates and nitrites are the oldest meat preservatives known. They have been used since cave-man days.

Sodium ascorbate or sodium erythorbate are added to speed up the curing rate. These salts of ascorbic acid (vitamin C) sometimes are listed on the label.

In order to keep the meat in a tubular shape, a binder such as cereal or soy protein is included. However, this is limited to 3%.

Water also is added—in the form of ice—to keep the meat cool. This during cooking and smoking.

Shoppers should read labels on product packages and compare

Prevent Kitchen Falls

Ten per cent of all falls resulting in death or injury occur in the kitchen. Many falls stem from highly polished linoleum, or floors made slippery by spilled grease or other liquids.

Prevention of these is simple—just wipe up anything spilled on the floor immediately.

Other accidents result from using chairs, tables and various equipment to reach high places.

Prevent these by storing frequently used items within easy reach—to eliminate climbing and consequently the falls.

When using a chair to reach high places, utilize a sturdy one with a wide base, solid bottom and high back.

Place chair close to object. Wear low-heeled shoes and stand in the middle of the seat.

Stepladders and step-stools actually are safer than chairs.

Store a ladder or stool near the kitchen for convenience—but out of the way when not needed.

Keep everything in its place—and have a place for everything. Many serious kitchen falls are due to objects on the floor.

Likewise, children and pets underfoot when least unexpected cause accidents.

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Meat prices hover at ceiling prices, and "real specials" are hard to find. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, listed beef-department best values as chuck cuts, round steaks and ground beef.

"A substitute hamburger is available in some stores," she said.

"This is ground beef with a soy protein added. Its price is substantially lower than regular ground beef; however, this may increase some as the price of soy beans continues to rise. Its protein is about the same as regular ground beef—and fat is lower."

In pork, Mrs. Clyatt recommended Boston butt roasts, quarter-loin sliced and rib-end roasts.

"Fryer chicken and egg prices remain about the same as a week ago with large-size eggs in best supply, while turkeys have increased a bit.

"Fryer chickens are still good buys in most markets even though prices have advanced considerably in the past few months.

"For economy and good eating, invite friends over for backyard barbecued chicken.

"Cheese products also are at high levels."

Mrs. Clyatt cited supply-demand factors as one reason for rising prices, noting "this is true not only in this country, but throughout the world—most of these products aren't in large enough supply to keep pace with consumer demand."

She suggested dry beans as "a summertime must," served hot to accompany chilled salad plates boasting seasonally available fresh fruits and vegetables.

"Many vegetables are behind schedule due to the wet weather earlier, but quality is generally good," she said.

"Dry onions and potato supplies continue on the light side with relatively high price tags, and carrot supplies are less than usual at this season.

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in best supply at the most reasonable prices include bananas, oranges, cherries, cantaloupes and watermelons.

"Also peaches, grapes, nectarines, celery, okra, black-eye and purple-hull peas, hard-shell squash, cabbage, corn, radishes, bell peppers, green onions and cucumbers."

JULY

show, pet parade and beauty contest (12); water activities and square dance (13); "Over 50" golf tourney (13-14); parade, antique car show, hay-loft party and dance (14); and all-day singing with dinner on the grounds (15)

July 14-15, 21-22, 28-29. Horse Races, La Bahia Downs, Goliad. Ten or more races each day starting at 8 p.m. on Saturdays and 1 p.m. on Sundays. Ten-horse gate running 220-660 yard distances. Covered grandstand seats 3,000. On the 14th, a special event will be the Miss La Bahia Downs Beauty contest, a highly regarded preliminary for the Miss World contest. In the last two years, winners of this competition have gone on to win two Miss Texas and one Miss USA title. Admission, $2, reserved $2.50, Box $3.

The following events, selected by the Texas Tourist Development Agency, are but a few of the many excellent recreational opportunities offered by communities across the state. A more complete listing of Texas events may be obtained free of charge by writing TIDA, Box 12008, Austin 78711.

July 2, 3, 4 Texas Cowboy Reunion, Stamford. Billed as the world's largest amateur rodeo, this event, in its 43rd year, was founded on the principle that the working cowboy should have a rodeo all his own. There are no rodeo professionals—just 200-300 cowboys trying to win a new saddle or a pair of spurs. In addition to the rodeo, there is square dancing nightly, the American Quarter Horse Show and chuck wagon meals. Rodeo tickets are $2.50-$3 for adults and $1.25 for children.

July 2-4 Ragtime Festival Kerrville. Ragtime pianists will compete for the Texas championship and $100 prize money. Two of the judges, ragtime pianist Knocky Parker and stride piano star Dick Wellstood, will also play at each concert. Kerrville Auditorium, 8 p.m. Admission $3.50

July 12-15 Spring Ho Festival & Centennial, Lampasas. Schedule includes arts and crafts show and historical tours (12-15); open horse

July 20-22 Lunar Landing Festival, Houston. Commemorating July 20, 1969, when man first stepped on the moon, this event, in its second year, promises to be a major Houston event. A beauty contest to select "Miss Moon Maiden", and dancing to the music of various ethnic bands are a part of the full schedule. For complete information write Greater Houston Convention & Visitors Council, 1006 Main Street, Houston 77002.

July 28-29 Texas Water Ski Championships, Austin. Two-day, all-day competition in slalom, tricks and jumps. Approximately 120 will compete in this event at Festival Beach on Town Lake. Admission is an Aqua Festival "Skipper pin" or $1.

THE UNEXPECTED

What if you looked out your window and saw an elephant standing in your back yard? Would you think you'd been transported to Africa—or that the zoo had lost a boarder?

Situations just as bizarre and unexpected can happen anywhere, anytime, to anyone. When they happen to you, are you able to cope with them?

Merely attending church isn't going to solve all your problems. But it will help build a base that teaches you how to take the unexpected in stride. And life, when you get down to it, is in itself unexpected.

Start going to church next Sunday.
