"It's pretty costly to own and not use such an appliance," the specialist said.

'It's also expensive to mistreat Proper care and maintenance play important roles in conservation of resources-by avoiding unnecessary breakdowns, repairs and expenses."

Remove acid and salty foods as quickly as possible to avoid pitting the cooking surface.

Let the skillet cool to room temperature before washing it, Mrs. Myers continued. "Cold water in a hot pan causes warping.

"For best performance, wash skillet after each use with hot sudsy water. Also clean the outside and underneath to avoid burned grease build-up."

Steel wool can be used on stainless steel or aluminum pans-but only plastic or rubber scrubbers on teflon-coated ones, she added.

Never immerse a heat control in water. Simply wipe clean with a damp cloth, then dry.

"As a reminder to use it often, store skillet in an easy-to-reach spot." the specialist suggested.

"Efficient use adds to the quality of living."

It's a new Land Bank serving a new agriculture in new ways

Over the next ten years, agriculture will require a minimum of $60 billion in new financing to meet unprecedented changes and challenges. Because there is a Federal Land Bank-created to insure an abundance of capital at reasonable rates-you can have more confidence this need for credit will be met.

The Land Bank will continue to obtain loan funds in the nation's money markets on the very best terms it can. It will continue to make financing available to farmers and ranchers at reasonable cost. And with increased flexibility now permitted by the Farm Credit Act, it will help more people in more ways.

Today, more than ever, you should understand the operation of your Federal Land Bank. If you are not an Association member, let's get acquainted. If you are a member, let's get better acquainted. Let's work together ... to build a secure place for you and your family in a viable, prosperous agriculture.

The windmills, the wooden shoes and the colorful native costumes in old-time villages continue to attract thousands of American visitors to the Netherlands, the crisp, clean and hospitable land of tulips and canals.

The Netherlands is a flat country with plenty of lakes, rivers, canals and, of course, the Zuider Zee. Its charm and beauty are rewarding to the person who spends more than a couple of days seeing the highlights.

The Dutch speak English with determination, which means that most Americans will feel very much at home. The southeastern part of the country is made up of beauti-ful rolling hills dotted with castles.

Since canals are the main thoroughfares in Holland, don't miss taking a trip through Amsterdam in one of the glass-topped motor launches. The boats go through all the important canals, as well as many smaller ones. Amsterdam combines the old and the Rotterdam's harbor is actually the world's busiest seaport. Miles of wharves and warehouses have been built to handle the transfer of ocean freight to canal barges destined for the industrial centers of Holland, Germany, and Belgium, Ship building is the city's leading industry. Other important manufactures include sugar, cigars, margarine, paints, rope, furniture and leather goods.

The largest, most modern hotel in the city is convenient-ly located in the heart of the shopping and business section and is only three minutes from the railroad station. The Rotterdam Hilton, which boasts one of the city's most popular nightsports, also, has excellent convention facilities including a ballroom that can seat over 500 people. The elegant Cote de Boeuf restaurant of the Rotterdam Hilton specializes in American style steaks and chops and Dutch seafood. The informal Coffee House serves snacks roundthe - clock. You can savor cocktails in the 18th century setting of the Jan Steen Bar, or join the lively crowd in Le Bateau--swingingest discotheque in town. Also delighting the eye and the spirit are Rotterdam's brilliant flower markets, craftsmen fashioning objects of pewter, diamonds and Dutch sweets.

Based on a similarity of coastal outlines, some scientist believe that the Americas were once a part of Europe which floated away from its moorings.

The Veterans Administration today cautioned institutions of all types providing services to eligible veterans that enrollment verifications must be returned at once to avoid delay of VA payments.

A. A. Hunter, Director of the None. VA Regional Office in Houston, said that veterans will not receive their October educational allowances until the verification of enrollment is received for all veterans who received advanced payment of benefits when they enrolled at the start of the fall semester. Hunter described the enrollment verification as a small yellow IBM card which reflects general information about the veteran's status, including any changes in number of hours attendance since the veteran started school.
