ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS (76936)

Austin, Tex.—A hot Railroad Commission runoff campaign between Jerry Sadler, 68, and State Rep. Jon Newton, 34, is under way.

Sadler, a pre-World War II Railroad Commissioner and former Land Commissioner, led the big May 1 Democratic primary field of candidates for the oil and gas regulatory agency.

Newton, a state lawmaker from Beeville, came in second and is rounding up endorsements from most of the other Democratic candidates.

Sadler, of Grapeland in East Texas, is zeroing in on Newton's campaign financing from oilmen. He says he will accept no oil money "above the filling station level."

Newton, who barely mentioned Sadler in the first primary campaign, is citing the former commissioner's record which includes a reprimand by the House of Representatives in 1969 and refusal to open some of his land office records to the press.

Don Yarbrough of Houston was a surprise winner of the May 1 State Supreme Court race over veteran Court of Civil Appeals Judge Charles Barrow of San Antonio. Some lawyers talked about chances of an independent candidate or write-in candidate against Yarbrough, but it's too late for an independent to get on the ballot.

Recession Ending

Texas' worst recession since the 1930's seems to be coming to an end, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The rate of inflation has been reduced substantially, and business activity for the first quarter of 1976 was 14% above the first quarter of the previous year and 7% above February level, the bureau reported.

About the same time, Secretary of State Mark White reported Texas led the Central U. S. in new businesses formed in January—with 1,709 new business corporations formed.

Short Snorts . . .

Travis D. Shelton of Lubbock will be the new president-elect of the State Bar of Texas. John Mark McLaughlin of San Angelo is vice president. Fred Micks of Galveston won the junior bar presidency.

Gov. and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe will vacation in England May 25-June 5. They will fly to London on the supersonic jet Concorde.

May 9-15 has been proclaimed small business week honoring firms which account for 55% of total Texas sales and 44% of manufacturing.

Gross sales taxes increased 20% during the last quarter of 1975.

Gov. Briscoe told the Texas Criminal Justice Conference reducing crime is the biggest challenge of the generation.

Texas' public school breakfast program in 1,044 schools is the second largest in the nation. It has grown 59% annually and will provide 28 million meals to pupils during 1976-77.

Cigarette tax revenue increased $563,256—to $21.5 million—last month over April 1975.

County Democratic Convention Held

The County Democratic Convention convened at 2:00 p.m. Saturday in the Court Room, with Curtis Andrews as chairman.

Elected delegates to the State Democratic Convention were Dr. J. B. Brame, Elton McGinness, and Curtis Andrews. Wives of those three are alternate delegates.

The State Convention sessions are set for June 18-19 in Houston, to be followed in September by the Governor's Convention in Fort Worth.

Post Script

We have reached a breather, of sorts, during this current election year, following the First Democratic Primary on May 1st.

Coming up on Saturday, June 5th, will be the Second Democratic Primary, or run-off.

The First Primary had a rather light voter turnout, and it can be expected that an even lighter run of voters will go to the polls on June 5th.

Here in Schleicher county, we will vote on just one state-level race: Railroad Commissioner. Jon Newton and Jerry Sadler emerged tops in the First Primary and now face each other in the run-off.

Elsewhere over the state of Texas, there are scattered run-off races for Commissioner, Sheriff, and Congressman, which should generate extra interest in those places.

Success Printers expect to print and deliver the ballots in the near future in time for absentee voting.

With our subscribers: Henson Garvin has moved from Irving to 3822 Mercury Drive, Fort Worth, Texas 76111.

Bert Bruton is a new subscriber at 2726 University in San Angelo.

Around the business district: The Eagle Dairy Mart, a popular place for quick food service and to play games, is advertising some specials on page 5 of this Success issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Taylor of Nashville, Tenn., visited here over the week end with Mrs. Frank Van Horn.

PAR-TEE NEWS—

Due to rains last week our turnout Sunday in the regular mixed foursome was small. However we're always happy and grateful for all the good rains.

Taking first place was the threesome of Delbert Taylor, Sandy Donaldson and Russell Callison.

Second place went to the team of John Callison, Tom Miner, Eddy Kinser and Hank Hutcherson.

Remember the regular monthly Bingo party May 12th, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Congratulations to Eddy Kinser and Mary Waldron for winning 3rd place in their flight in the Ozona Women's Partnership Tournament.

Of course our big week end is coming up this Saturday and Sunday, May 15 & 16. This is our annual Couples' Tournament. We enjoy association with all the couples from over the country. The tournament is already full and some on the waiting list. Now let's hope we have a nice dry week end for those two days anyway.

The next big event is the Parent and Child tournament June 5 & 6. Last year it was a great success and we hope this year it will be even more so. The changes from last year is the ladies can play with their child and also a parent can play with son or daughter-in-law so gather all your family and come on out. Be sure and get your entry fees to Myrta Rathbone early as this one is filling up fast also. —Rep.

He joined the Austin Diagnostic Clinic in 1973 and resides in Austin with his wife, the former Judy Hext of Eldorado, and three children.

One And 3-Fourths Was Rain Total Here

While the Weather Service was predicting thunder storms and hail, Schleicher county was fortunate in receiving nice rains over several days that by the week end had reached 1 3/4 inches here in Eldorado.

In Reynolds community Mrs. Clemens Sauer reported that Clemens and Victor had each gotten 8-tenths of an inch and each was preparing his ground for planting. Five miles north of their place Northern Natural gas plant reported nearly 2 inches.

Johno Mayo, local cotton buyer, said recently that there would be lots of tractors running in the county and predicted an increase in cotton acreage.

A telephone survey last Thursday revealed the following rain totals as of that time:

Parker Bros. Bailey Rch	1.10
Northern Natural	1.90
Arch Edmiston	.31
A. A. Baugh ranch	1.20
Elizabeth Powell	.80
Clemens Sauer, & Victor	.80
James Williams farm	1.50
R. D. Johnson	1.00
C. O. Bruton place	1.20
A. W. Keyes	1.20
Henry Moore	1.00
Truett Stanford	1.30
Lester Nixon	1.30
E. H. Dannheim place	1.30
S. D. Harper	1.00

Nursing Home Notes

We have been busy this past two weeks; we are decouping some plaques and they will be on sale in the auxiliary stand.

Bingo winners these two weeks were Maggie Sluder, Elva Daniels, LaVita Brooks, Erna Rexroat, Georgia Springstun, Beulah Harris, Dixie Morris, Lizzy McAngus, Carrie Blakeway, Flossie Crawford, and Hattie Blaylock.

We are really looking forward to next week to Marylue Olson's piano students who are going to come play for us next Wednesday. We really enjoyed them last year and will again this year I am sure.

Flossie Crawford, LaVita Brooks, Fred Gunstead, and Maggie Sluder are our birthday people this month and we are going to celebrate their birthdays the 26th of May at a luncheon at the Dairy Mart hosted by the Ladies Auxiliary. We really appreciate our good auxiliary members for they bring us much joy and entertainment.

Out of town visitors these past two weeks were Mrs. Dub Proglise from Eden, Mrs. Karl Lapp from Eden came by to see Hixie Potter, and Clarice Procter came by to see her daughter Mrs. Elva Daniels. Mrs. Blakeway enjoyed visiting with her grandson Mickey Pennington from San Antonio and Ray Rhodes Sr. of Sweetwater. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson and Charles Wesley from Big Lake visited with Wren Jackson, and Flossie Crawford visited with Mrs. and Mrs. R. B. McNeil from Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stephens from San Angelo. Mrs. Blakeway also visited with Mrs. Albert Blakeway from San Antonio, Mr. Wylie Blakeway of Austin, and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Rhodes of Houston. Mrs. C. C. Weatherers from Santa Anna and Mrs. A. T. Nixon from Tow visited with their mother Hattie Blaylock last Wednesday.

We would like to say thank you to all the Home Demonstration Clubs for the lovely time they gave us at their recent Senior Citizens party held last Thursday.

Don't use influence until you have some. —Ruthie Day A. D., and Beulah Harris Reporter.

FACTS & FIGURES

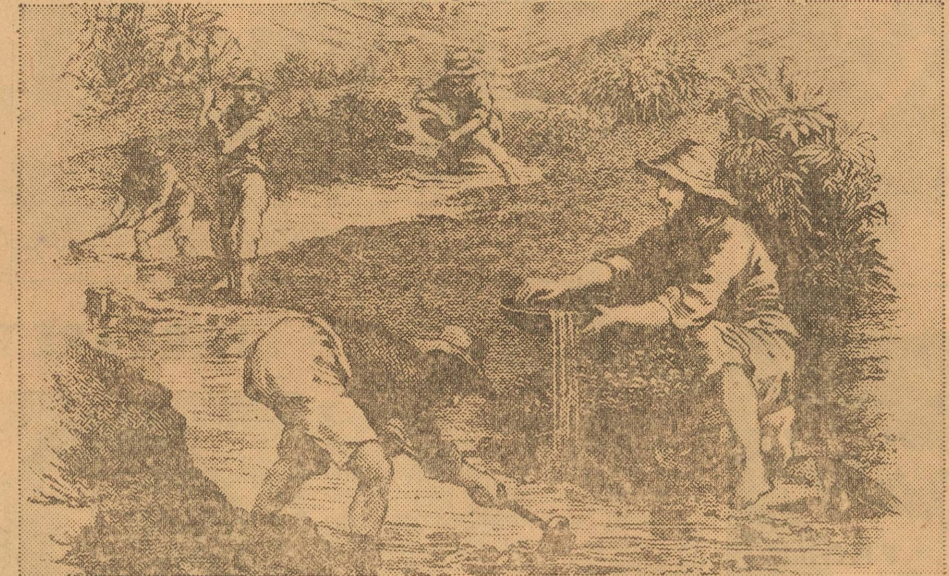

When did baseball begin? Historians of the sport say it had its origins in a game called "rounders" which was played in England as early as 1744.

In Army tests, it was learned that Bob Feller (Cleveland Indians) threw a pitch which traveled at a speed of 98.6 miles per hour as it crossed the plate. This makes him the fastest pitcher in baseball.

The POWER of PRINT in AMERICAN HISTORY 1776-1976

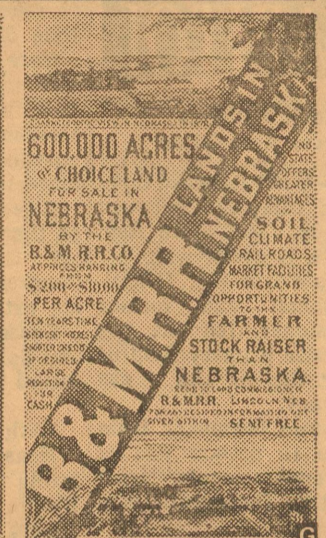

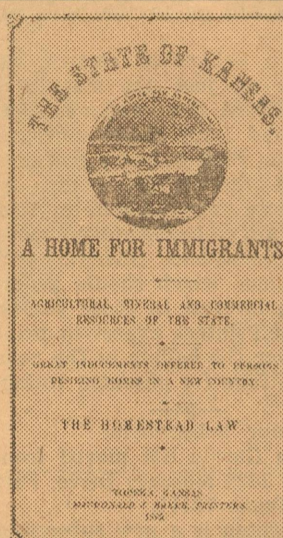

PROMISE—Guidebooks of the 19th century often indicated gold could be picked up easily from California riverbeds.

This article is adapted from a program of historical monographs created by the St. Regis Paper Company in an effort to rededicate our heritage and renew our pride in our country's achievements.

The American West probably inspired more flamboyant boastfulness, imaginative boosterism and hold overstatement than any other region. This was natural, for every pioneer was automatically converted into a self-appointed promoter. His new home was underpeopled, hence his duty was to convince others they would find prosperity, health, and happiness by following in his footsteps (and creating a market for his crops and land).

Media to spread the word were plentiful. Newspapers, magazines, guide books, letters to the Eastern press, railroad promotion literature, speculator's circulars, propaganda prepared by state or territorial immigration bureaus—all eager to lure newcomers to the land of promise.

Newspapers were in practically every frontier town, each an exuberant booster selling its community to all mankind. So were dozens of guidebooks that gave such exaggerated descriptions of the wealth that awaited every newcomer and the near Eden quality of the land that they set in motion the nation's most potent weapon of conquest: its restless population.

AND MORE PROMISES—Many pamphlets boosted bleak wastes of western Kansas and Nebraska as "new and better Eden" with climate just this side of Paradise.

The most dramatic event leading to the populating of the West was probably the discovery of gold in California.

Excitement started when President James K. Polk devoted a paragraph in his annual message to Congress to an enthusiastic account of California mining. Suddenly, the whole nation went mad. Eastern newspapers filled their columns with tales of imaginary discoveries. A whole library of imaginative creations called guide books rolled off the presses, all designed to prove that the gold fields were easily reached and that their riches would transform every miner into a millionaire. When at last the West was won, the power of print had played a major role in that conquest. Through word-of-mouth advertising, tales spread orally by the first frontiersmen, letters sent Eastward to relatives and friends, lectures and sermons all played their part, none was more effective, perhaps, than the barrage of words that flowed from the nation's presses in the form of guide books, newspapers, magazines, promotional literature and advertisements. Without them, without printing, the West—and the United States—would not be as we know it today.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Consumer Credit—How You Get It

By Willis W. Alexander, Executive Vice President, American Bankers Association.

If you still "quake in your boots" at the thought of approaching your banker for a needed consumer loan, chances are you've been watching too many old movie reruns on T.V.

In 1975 alone, banks loaned more than $73 billion to individuals who needed to purchase autos, finance long-dreamed-of vacations or improve their homes. And, this is up from $29 billion in 1965.

Most people have better credit than they think. The average working person who regularly pays his electric, telephone, department store, gas and credit card bills, usually has adequate credit for most loans he would need.

Of course, responsible bankers will not lend money to just anyone for any purpose, so with a little advance knowledge your chances of success will be greater. Here are some tips to help you:

• Visit your banker if you think you need to borrow money. A simple chat, which costs nothing, could give you more perspective on whether the loan is really necessary, how much money you'll actually need and your true ability to pay it back.

• Bring with you a simple list of your assets and liabilities — what you owe and what you own — to give your banker a quick, clear overview of your economic condition.

• Attach any supporting documents which show that you have completed payments on other installment purchases in the past, and that your credit card accounts are under control.

• For lower interest rates, and a quicker OK, include any proof of ownership of real property, securities, cash value of life insurance policies or your savings account passbook for use as collateral.

• As a last resort — if you are young, on your first job, new in the neighborhood or have a limited credit rating — have in mind a friend, relative or business associate who would be willing to sign the loan with you. Be confident, though, of your ability to return the money, because your co-signer has to pay if you don't.

To assist all credit applicants, Congress, on March 9, expanded the Equal Credit Opportunity Act of 1975 to prohibit discrimination on the basis of age, race, color, religion, national origin, receipt of public assistance benefits and the exercise of rights under the Act.

In addition, the amendments, which will become effective one year after the President signs them, require creditors to provide applicants with an oral explanation of credit denial or a written explanation if it is requested in writing. If this happens, ask your banker how to correct the situation. Then go out and put your economic house in order, and you'll probably get your loan the next time around.

In the English language, there are about 1,000 synonyms for intoxicated.

THE BICENTENNIAL KITCHEN Old Fashioned Yeast Rolls A Southern Favorite

On holidays throughout the year most everyone reverts to customs and menus from the past. However, a look into the homes throughout the country reveals that many family treasured recipes are prepared and served often, any time of year.

American cooking, a composite of pioneer traditions and ethnic innovations, is still very regional with many old-fashioned favorites. For instance, there are many breads and rolls which originated in colonial times still served today—hot corn bread, corn dodgers, beaten biscuits, cracklin' bread.

Whatever the region and ethnic background, every family has traditional family favorites which they integrate into their daily meals.

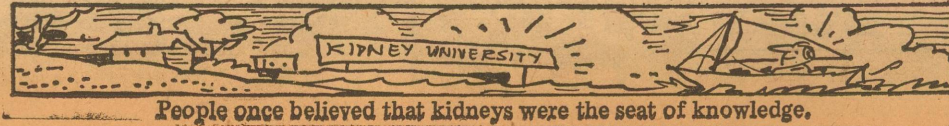

Here's an old-fashioned southern-style yeast roll recipe. It is traditionally flavored with lemon and mace and has been modernized with that buttery taste of Blue Bonnet Margarine.

- SOUTHERN-STYLE YEAST BUNS
4 to 5 cups unsifted flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
1/4 teaspoon ground mace
1 package active dry yeast
3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup water
1/3 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine
2 eggs (at room temperature)
In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1-1/4 cups flour, sugar, salt, lemon peel, mace and undissolved active dry yeast.
Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120°F.—130°F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and 1/2 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.
Punch down dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide in half. Form each half into a 12-inch roll. Cut into twelve 1-inch pieces. Form into smooth balls. Place in greased 2-1/2 x 1-1/4-inch muffin cups. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.
Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Remove from muffin cups and cool on wire racks. Makes two dozen buns.

Arts & Crafts To Be Featured At Fair

Vernell Leach of San Angelo demonstrates watercolor technique while preparing for the Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair in Kerrville on May 29-30 and 31.

How many children have seen a sheep sheared, a horse shod, a blacksmith's forge, or a spinning wheel or hand loom used? One of the most outstanding collections of these historic arts and crafts in the nation can be seen at the Texas Arts and Crafts Fair in Kerrville on May 29-30-31. Over 50 pioneer artisans will demonstrate pioneer crafts in the atmosphere of an old-fashioned country fair. The ladies of the Dwyer Community will have a quilting bee. Others will make bonnets, do tatting, bobbin lace, crochet, needlepoint and embroidery.

A fleece to fabric demonstration will take wool from shearing the sheep, carding the wool and spinning it into yarn on a spinning wheel to dyeing the wool with natural dyes. Then the yarns will be woven into woolen cloth on a hand loom. And, to complete the demonstration, making the soap with which to wash the cloth. That's right, Grandma's Lye Soap!

Old western movies were right about one thing. The newspaper was one of the most important places in town, just as it is today. A 76 year old master printer and engraver and his daughter will bring an antique Washington press and an equally old proof press from Waco. Repro proofs from both presses will be given to fair visitors for souvenirs. Actual metal etchings will be made on the fairgrounds. These handmade etchings are being widely recognized as an art form in themselves.

Woodwork was a necessity for frontier families: Fair visitors will watch cowhide bottom chairs crafted from native Texas woods. Or listen to the gentle strum of a dulcimer or the twang of a mouth bow played by the 74 year old gentleman who made them entirely by hand.

An antique woodwork tool collection will be explained by an expert in woods. He also shows youngsters how to use hand tools. A log cabin will be constructed on the grounds during the fair.

Pottery making is almost as old as man. Yet the process, except for the electric potter's wheel and a few glazing and firing techniques, has changed little through centuries of time. A potter's wheel, a table for hand throwing and a kiln will be operated constantly by Texas potters during the fair.

The atmosphere of an old fashioned country fair lends a fun filled background for the 200 contemporary artists and craftsmen that make up the remainder of the fair. Strictly juried from 560 entries, the fair shows the finest of Texas arts and crafts.

Then add some of the best Texas cooking, and the beautiful tree shaded site on Schreiner College campus. Country-western and folk music also take fair visitors back to the days of early Texas and to "Texas Goodtimes" on the Memorial Day week end in Kerrville.

This big event is designed for family enjoyment. Write for free brochure to Texas Arts and Crafts Foundation, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville, Texas 78028.

Jack Foxworth Of Lumber Firm Honored

J. L. (Jack) Foxworth, president of the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company, was named "Texas Lumberman of the Year" April 24 in Ft. Worth, Texas.

The award was made at the annual banquet of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas for "outstanding and meritorious service to the retail lumber industry of Texas."

David Hoover, manager of the Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Center in Eldorado, said: "We are awfully proud of Jack for his unselfish interest and activity in our lumber industry." Foxworth served as president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas in 1971-72.

Jack Foxworth is the son of one of the original founders of Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company and was reared in Dallas, getting his college degree from the University of Texas at Austin. He and his wife have three sons and eight grandchildren.

Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. began in 1901 in the Texas Panhandle and now operates some 50 building materials centers from East Texas to California. The successful family-owned company is in its 76th year and is under the active management of the second and third generations of the original founders.

The most valuable treasure ever found was one discovered in England in 1966 of more than 1,200 antique gold coins worth more than $1,400,000.

There's a great resurgence of at-home games...more people play chess, checkers, cards, dominos, scrabble, even Uncle Wiggley, than five years ago. Here's a chance to have an inexpensive fun evening at home. For game-time refreshments, why not serve that all-time eating favorite, ravioli? We've had some fun concocting two different recipes from a 40 ounce economy size can of Mini Ravioli; half the can was used in a casserole, the other half was fried for crunchy, munchy finger food. Both will delight your guests after a fast poker game.

- CHECKERBOARD RAVIOLI CASSEROLE
- 1/2 pound ground beef
  - 1/2 cup chopped onion
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
  - 1/2 can (40 oz.) Chef Boy-ar-dee Mini Ravioli
  - 1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach
  - 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
  - 1/2 cup bread crumbs
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt

Brown ground beef in butter; add garlic powder. Combine ravioli and beef mixture. Arrange one-half of mixture in bottom of 8" by 8" by 2-1/2" square baking dish or a 2-quart round casserole. Cook frozen spinach according to package directions; drain well. Combine spinach, cheese, bread crumbs, egg and salt. Spread spinach mixture on top of ravioli mixture. Arrange remaining ravioli mixture on top placing ravioli like squares on checkerboard. Bake at 350°F. for 30 to 35 minutes. Serves 4.

- MINI FRIES
- 1/2 can (40 oz.) Chef Boy-ar-dee Mini Ravioli
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
  - 3/4 cup bread crumbs
  - 1 cup oil
  - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
  - 1 tablespoon water
- Remove ravioli from can; save remaining sauce. Combine garlic salt and bread crumbs. Bread ravioli and cover with wax paper, press gently and allow to stand in refrigerator for 1/2 hour. Fry in oil until golden. Remove to warm platter. Remove one-half cup of remaining sauce; combine with Tabasco sauce and water for dip. Serve with fried ravioli. Serves 4 to 6.

Card Of Thanks

There are so many I want to thank. The list of importance, I can not ran. Possibly, how you helped, you are not aware, For it was merely to say, "I care." Each kind deed gave me strength to go on, And made me aware I was never alone. I want to give credit where credit is due. And share this "great moment" with each of you. I could not have made it without your help and concern. You helped make it possible for me to go forth and learn. Please come and join me in his glorious day, I will graduate at seven on the fourteenth of May. My Love and Thanks, Patsy Hutcherson *

THANK YOU

Take Preventive Action
"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" may be a well-worn adage. But when applied to household chores, it's a well-tested fact of life.

Below are a few examples of simple tasks that quickly get out of hand. You'll probably be able to think of additional items that belong on this list. Keep these and similar chores under control before problems set in, and you'll find your days run much smoother and with less effort:
Sew loose buttons before they fall off; polish the silver before it tarnishes; clean the "works" of your coffeepot before they get really discolored.
Clear leaves and dirt out of your gutters before they overflow; sprinkle sand or salt on your walk and driveway right after you finish shoveling the snow—and before the ice forms.
Clean kitchen and bathroom drains weekly with Drain Power, the one-second drain opener that contains no dangerous lye or acids, to prevent sluggish drains and avoid difficult clogs.
Have your chimney cleaned and sweep out your fireplace before your first winter fire; vacuum your draperies frequently and have them dry-cleaned before dust has the chance to wear away the fibers.
So, take a little advice from the household sages and take preventive action to avoid disasters around your home.

Three Local Students In State Competition

Cleve Clark, Jim Bob Byrd, and Paul McWhorter

At the University Interscholastic League State Literary Meet this past week end, Eldorado placed three students in state competition.

The debate team of Jim Bob Byrd and Paul McWhorter took second place honors, while Cleve Clark won a bronze medal in Prose Reading.

The debaters lost in the finals to a team which had twice participated in the state meet. The debate topic for the year was RESOLVED: That the development and allocation of world energy resources should be controlled by an international organization. The two made an impressive record, losing only one debate in U. I. L. competition from district through state.

In Prose Reading, Cleve Clark took third with her reading of Katherine Mansfield's short story, "A Cup of Tea." Eldorado's region proved strong with the three state qualifiers from the region placing first, second and third in prose and the three debate teams from the region—including Junction also from our district—placing second, third and fourth in debate.

In Number Sense, Jim Bob Byrd won a fourth place, with a student from Wall High School in our district placing second.

These students are to be highly commended for their hard work and accomplishments.

Car Wash Scheduled

The young people of the First Baptist Church will be having a car wash on Saturday, May 15th, at the church. The car wash will begin at 9:00 a.m. and last all day. The cost for each car washed will be $2.00, but anyone may donate more than the $2.00 if they so desire. The money raised will be used to help the young people pay for their trip to Glorieta Baptist Encampment at Glorieta, New Mexico, this summer, June 12-18.

May 6 The historic Stafford Opera House in Columbus, official Bicentennial Meeting House for Texas, reopens at 8:30 p.m. with the musical drama "1776". Performances in the Stafford are also slated for the nights of May 7, 8, 15 and 16. The May 15-16 performances are just part of the 15th annual Columbus Magnolia Homes Tours, a popular celebration with many events. For details write Magnolia Homes Tour, Box 817, Columbus, Tex. 78934.

May 7-8 Eighth Annual Frontier Fair, Brackettville. Arts, crafts, antiques, games, barbecue cook-off and baking contest. For information write: Chamber of Commerce, Box 386, Brackettville, Tex. 78832.

May 14-16 Shrimporee, Aransas Pass. Features include: beauty contest (14th), parade, shrimp eating contest, street dance (15th), blessing of the fleet (16th). For details write: Chamber of Commerce, 452 Cleveland, Aransas Pass, Tex. 78336.

May 15-16 Stagecoach Days, Marshall. A parade, stagecoach rides, arts festival, crafts fair, nightly musical "Jubilee" and homes tour are some of the events on the Stagecoach Days schedule. For full details write The Harrison County Historical Society, 303 N. Columbus St., Marshall, Tex. 75760.

May 15-16 Centennial, Arlington. Staged in Doug Russell Park on Trading Horse Creek the city's birthday celebration is free and open to the public. The event will feature crafts and skills that initially built the community. Included are a full slate of games and contests. For additional information contact the Convention & Visitors Bureau, Box A, Arlington, Tex. 76010 (817-265-7721).

May 16 Lost Pines Country Fair, Bastrop. Sponsored by the Lake Bastrop Acres Volunteer Fire Department, this annual event is staged in Lake Bastrop Acres Park, five miles north of Bastrop on Highway 95. Country-western music, dancing, square dancing, country auction, exhibits, demonstrations, old-fashion games and lots of barbecued sausage will make for a fun-filled afternoon. Free admission. For more information contact Lost Pines Country Fair, Rt. 2, Box 146 c-1, Bastrop, Tex. 78602.

May 16-Sept. 6 Six Flags Over Texas, Arlington is open daily.

THAT VITAL SOMETHING

The trust of a child is a beautiful thing. Do you merit it?

Sure, you work hard every day to keep up payments on the nice, modern house where he has a room of his own — with enough toys in it to make two kids happy. You give him the best modern medical and dental care. You even started a special bank account for him — for the years when he will be going to college.

But — haven't you missed something? In your concern for his mental and physical well-being, haven't you overlooked that elusive, vital "something" called the soul?

Remember, man is neither all mind nor all body. He has a spiritual side, too!
