E. H. Dannheim Dies At The Age Of 76

E. H. DANNHEIM

Emil Harry (Tom) Dannheim died Tuesday evening in the Shannon Hospital after about a two-month illness. He was transferred to Shannon from Eldorado on April 5th.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church at 3:00 p.m. Thursday with the pastor, the Rev. Gene Stark, and Rev. Baltis Matthews of San Angelo officiating. Burial was in the Eldorado cemetery under the direction of Kerbow Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were George Williams and W. C. Parks, Jr., of Eldorado; Don Farrington and Lewis Kinser of San Angelo; Burl Davis and Billy Green of Sonora. Honorary pall bearers consisted of several close friends and the nephews of "Tom."

"Tom" Dannheim was born July 10, 1899 in San Angelo, Texas and moved to Menard county with his parents, the late L. T. Dannheims, at an early age. He came to Schleicher county in 1925 and went to work for the late Henry Speck Sr.

Tom was married to Etta Ruth McDonald at the bride's home on Dec. 18, 1927. In 1933 he became engaged in stock farming and remained so until his death.

He is survived by his wife, Etta Ruth; one daughter, Mrs. Dale Peterson of San Angelo; two sons, Donald R. (Rusty) Dannheim of Eldorado and Sherrill Dannheim of Sonora; seven grandchildren, and one great grandchild. Other survivors include two sisters, Annie Speck and Roxie White of Eldorado, and a brother Harvey Dannheim of San Angelo.

Post Script

The light turnout of voters last Saturday was repeated even more in those who went to the Precinct Conventions at 2:00 p.m. at each of the four polling places.

The precinct conventions are held with purpose of electing the delegates to the county convention, and from there this county will be allowed to send three to the State Convention.

The County Convention will be held at 2:00 p.m. this coming Saturday, May 8th, in the District Courtroom.

With our subscribers: W. A. Tampke retired here recently from Atlantic-Ricfield, and he and Mrs. Tampke have moved to Box 985, Brackettville, Texas 77922. They will make their home there and he will be salesman for an oil products firm.

The Eagle Band spent the week end at Carrollton and Arlington in the North Texas area. They participated in contests at Carrollton and earned a II rating. They spent Saturday at Six Flags and their three chartered buses pulled into Eldorado at about 2:00 a.m. Sunday. All attending report an enjoyable time.

The Eagle Band put on their annual Spring Concert last month, which was well received. On page 2 we have the Concert Band Personnel listed.

Around the business district: Painting and other work continues on converting the former Eldorado Hardware building to new quarters for the County Museum.

The Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. building is being painted. The metal awning on the front of the Finnigan office building sustained damage in high winds recently and has now been repaired.

Success printers have turned out the tickets for the barbecue to be held here the afternoon of June 26th in connection with the Bicentennial homecoming and celebration. These are now on sale for $2.50 each. It is reported that all tickets are to be sold in advance for the barbecue so they will know how many to prepare for.

These tickets for the barbecue are already on sale at several locations in the Eldorado business district and from several members of the Historical Society.

Here is a special word to college students who purchased the nine-month subscription last fall: Your subscription-by-mail to The Success is expiring with this issue. This is because the Spring term at most colleges is ending within the next few days, and newspapers, being Second Class Mail, will not be forwarded as are First Class letters.

If you want your copies of the three issues remaining in May, you may come by our shop and pick them up, or send a member of the family by to do so.

THE LIONS CLUB met at noon Wednesday and the program was brought by Phil Olson, chairman of the Public Relations committee; he is also program chairman for the month of May.

Voter Turnout Light

Only about 500 voters turned out for the First Democratic Primary last Saturday in this county, and attendance at Precinct Conventions was also light. Schleicher voters went along with the rest of Texas in giving overwhelming support to Jimmy Carter in the Presidential Primary. Since this county did not hold a Republican primary, we did not have any Reagan votes.

Complete results of how we voted in the various races are given elsewhere on this page.

Joe M. Christian Re-Elected To Precinct No. 3 Commissioner Post

JOE CHRISTIAN Incumbent

NICK ROBLEDO Challenger

In Schleicher County's only contested race in the Democratic Primary of last Saturday, incumbent County Commissioner Joe M. Christian of Precinct 3 defeated his challenger Nick Robledo by a 110 to 80 margin. Christian had 94 votes cast Saturday with 16 from the absentee box. Robledo received 80 votes in Saturday's balloting, and no absentees. Christian's 30-vote victory was about the same as that of four years ago when he defeated Robledo in the Second Democratic Primary, or run-off.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The painting has been done now inside the museum and the "movable wall" will soon be made. This will serve as a backdrop and later as partitions for various displays. We have made a plea via Sonora radio for display cases. The new "Museum" sign has been made, and we are waiting for someone with the equipment to put it up. We will soon be ready for the exhibits themselves, so it's time to start digging in that old trunk, barn, or attic. Any documents or photographs pertaining to early days in Eldorado, please share them with us. Some of these things can be copied with no damage done to the original print. As they say, one picture is worth a thousand words. The museum is a real "eye catcher" and the ivy-covered, stone building is a perfect home for our proud and enduring heritage.

REMEMBER WHEN? With yet another election behind us, and still another election to come, let's go back to the first election held in Schleicher county. This election was held a short time after the county was created from Crockett county, in 1887. Mr. C. C. Coty was presiding officer of this election for state-wide prohibition. Of the 23 votes cast, only one was in favor of prohibition. The voting place was set at Point Breeze, about five miles southeast of the Twin Wells in the eastern part of the county.

Elections are a major part of any community, and the right to vote is held in sacred trust by Schleicher county residents. Early elections were another important part of the successful growth and honest government always maintained in our county. In July, 1901, these were the results of the county elections: County Judge, A. B. Priour; County Clerk, F. C. Bates Jr.; Sheriff, Henry Mills; Tax Assessor, C. C. Doty; and County Treasurer, J. L. Allen.

I don't know if people took their politics more seriously then, or maybe it just seemed that way, but "votin' day" was an occasion to gather on crt. house lawn to "cuss" or "discuss" the various candidates. As the people drifted into town by wagon and on horseback to vote, visit, buy supplies, and wait for the results of the election to be posted, there was a spirit of Democracy seldom felt outside our rural area.

Then winding up the day with a wagon load of supplies, and sleepy young-uns, these early settlers went home with the knowledge of the "best man won," and if they picked up a new recipe or heard how much rain a neighbor got, the day was all the better.

Krueger Takes A Lop-Sided Victory

BOB KRUEGER

Two-year incumbent Congressman Bob Krueger of New Braunfels took a big victory over his challenger, Joe Sullivan of San Antonio, in the First Democratic Primary held Saturday. The sprawling 21st District encompasses about 32 counties stretching from northwestern Bexar county westward to Alpine and Fort Stockton.

Schleicher voters gave Krueger 446 votes to 64 for Sullivan.

In the Republican primary, San Antonioan Bobby Locke scored an upset win over New Braunfels Attorney Neil Calnan. Locke will come up against Krueger in the General Election in November.

Fohn Re-Elected District Attorney

GERALD FOHN

Short-term District Attorney Gerald Fohn won re-election last Saturday for a four-year term of his own, over his challenger F. W. Ferrell.

In this county, voters gave Fohn 303 votes to 168 for Ferrell.

A third contender who had withdrawn, but whose name was still on the ballot, was Tom Goff. Local voters gave him 33 votes.

County Commissioners To Be Honored

The Schleicher County Home Demonstration Clubs will honor the County Judge and County Commissioners with an appreciation dinner in the Memorial Building on Monday, May 10 at 7:00 p.m. At this time a review of the club's activities for the year will be given. The homemaker of the year will be presented. 4-H club members will be providing the entertainment. The home demonstration clubs in the county appreciate the support given to them by the County Commissioners.

State Rep. Nugent Wins Re-Election

JIM NUGENT

Schleicherites gave incumbent State Representative Jim Nugent of Kerrville a resounding 346 votes to 160 for his challenger, Patrick Ainsworth of Kingsland.

Nugent's generally big margin of victory held for the other counties of the 56th District of Texas.

Kenith Homer has served as a leader in 4-H steer projects and helped tremendously in remodeling the show barn. He attended county 4-H camp last year and has helped with method demonstrations.

The 4-H'ers in the county elected these two adults as their outstanding leaders.

THE HOME HELPER

All of our Home Helper hints this month have to do with cleaning. We didn't plan it, but its something we all start thinking about at this time of year.

* Want to get wax spots off a rug? Cover them with an absorbent paper towel, then press with a warm iron. The wax melts and the towel absorbs it. Repeat if necessary, but make sure the iron doesn't get too hot.

* If you have hard water in your area, calcium deposits can make sink and tub fittings look unsightly, but scabbing off that hard white film can mar the chrome. Hot vinegar dissolves these deposits easily. Let the liquid stay on the chrome until gas bubbles stop rising, then rinse.

* This season you've probably wanted to try one of those "steam" rug cleaning machines being demonstrated on TV. They're really hot water extraction machines just like the professionals use, according to the experts at Earl Grissmer Company, makers of Rinsenvac. While you're at it, why not clean the upholstery too? Many of the places that carry the machine also have an attachment for upholstery cleaning. The non-foaming detergent for carpets is also the gentlest, most effective you can use on furniture.

* Speaking of furniture, an old trick for getting rid of water stains on leather upholstery — when someone leaves a glass on the arm of your leather armchair, for example — is to apply a mixture of olive oil and sugar. Leave it on the stain for a few minutes, then wipe it off.

* Scouring pads, like everything else, have gone way up in price lately. You can buy steel wool in bulk at the hardware store, tear off the size piece you need and use it with regular dishwashing detergent. It's a lot cheaper, and you can buy different grades — coarse for the really tough jobs, fine for polishing.

* Scrubbing reminds us of a lady we know. She takes good care of her skin and doesn't like to use turpentine to remove oil-base paint spots from her hands or arms. Instead, she rubs half a fresh orange on the spot until it disappears. It's easier on the skin and it smells better.

People once believed that if your nose itched, company was coming.

The Emperor Tiberius liked cucumbers so much he had his gardeners devise artificial methods for growing them out of season.

Crisis Relocation Planning: A New Order Of The Ages Is Born

WASHINGTON, D. C. — So much political oratory emanates from here it's hard for the average American to sift the wheat from the chaff. Those able to separate facts from the colorful wordage employed as our national media is cluttered with facts and fiction from an overpopulated ring of White House aspirants, have formed MASS, Mutual Association for Security and Survival. Need for such a society is clear upon reading the premise on which the new order is based.

Admonitions are not only written in the Bible, but confirmed by sociologists, economists and political philosophers of our times. MASS is a non-profit association dedicated to development of retreats for select people desirous of security and survival in the event of national emergencies. Recognizing social, economic and political problems in the world in 1973, after the Arab oil embargo immobilized the economic life of industrial nations, the plan was inspired by episodic writings of T. A. De Mattis, editor of the Ultimate Society newsletters.

The American Security Council has launched its project, The Bicentennial Operation Alert, a joint Paul Revere-type educational project of several organizations coordinated by the Council. Its objective is to warn all Americans that the U. S. is now Number 2 in military strength and is cutting back further while the Soviets are increasing their military power. Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld, making his debut as a strategic policymaker the last week of January, in a lengthy statement to Congress endorsed even the most controversial and headline proposals of his predecessor, James Schlesinger.

In presenting a $100-billion defense budget, Rumsfeld echoed Schlesinger right down to the view that America can legitimately strike first with nuclear weapons. Rumsfeld also said U. S. Presidents should have the option to launch nuclear weapons before being attacked. While Rumsfeld was saying the Soviets are people "whom we are not sure we can trust, and who have great military power and have shown an inclination to draw on it," Russian weapons, technicians and latest instruments of warfare were getting actual combat testing in the hands of their own technicians and Cu-global overpopulations and affluence. He also sees runaway inflation continuing, causing more bankruptcies by states, cities and local communities. Increasing crime and violence will be exacerbated by ultra-liberal elements in U.S. courts and institutions. DeMattis predicts more environmental pollution of land, air and water; diminishing fossil fuels, minerals, forests and cropland from overuse and waste; repetition of energy crises, power failures, crippling labor strikes and terrorism; even greater Force on Emergency civil defense, heard the original plan being changed from emergency shelters in public buildings, with stockpiles of food, water and medical aid, to dispersal of the population out of the city's environs.

Defense of the public is a political and psychological complex of many factors to be considered by CRP masterminds. The scenario now, cognoscenti writers of the press corps feel, is dependent on what the Soviet Union does in building up the International confrontations — socially, politically and economically. A nuclear holocaust is unacceptable to Russia, so they'll build up war tensions to a crisis point and start evacuating their own cities. In response, the U. S. will build its own emergency evacuation plans informing its citizens nuclear attack is a real threat. This would be followed by urgent radio and TV broadcasts, with special edition newspaper releases instructing people in certain key urban areas to move to refuges in designated host areas, using public and commercial buildings, mine shafts and caves in the countryside.

CRP units from federal, state and local agencies are to provide shelters, food, sanitation and other essential services to the thousands, perhaps millions who flee. Defense/Civil Preparedness Agency (DCPA) will spend about $100 million in current planning operations and a test run may be in the near future.

Survival Town, U. S. A., operating under the Fellowship of Christian Men, has an interesting development going in pursuit of survival shelters for select people. MASS is studying possibilities of uniting with this project.

breakdown of morality in our schools, government, business, industry, the home and among people, changing and often violent attitudes among minorities who think the world owes them a living; general disregard of fundamental rights of private citizens who work and pay taxes, and especially professional people; and last of all threats of nuclear holocaust precipitated by ongoing wars and proliferation of atomic materials.

While little attention was given in the media, top administration officials in the Department of Defense last year (under Schlesinger) changed the civil defense plan, calling it "Crisis Relocation Planning." CRP. A recent conference of New York City's Task ban troops in Angola. In Washington our own Congress denied aid to anti-communist forces in Angola, comparing it to Viet Nam and assuming isolationist postures. At the United Nations, our representatives for the first time were reflecting American disenchantment with the U. N., and future U. S. subsidizing of the United Nations Assembly and participation is due for little or no support.

In reviewing history from biblical times and contemporary social/economic reports by leading scientists on the world scene, Editor De Mattis foresees impending chaos enveloping the social structure of our civilization. He looks for spreading famine in already troubled nations caused by

PEOPLE ARE BETTER THAN EVER!

HOW WE'RE HELPING NEIGHBORS IN NEED

Between Parent and Child

The problems that trouble individuals and tear families apart have their repercussions everywhere: drug abuse, angry, rebellious youth, school dropouts; each problem sets off a chain reaction that reaches far into the community and touches us all. That's one of the reasons why your neighbors in the Salvation Army, in keeping with its Christian ministries, are working to bridge the gap between parents and children.

FOR TROUBLED YOUTH—Bridging the gap.

Persons specially trained in the sensitive arts of helping offer various programs and services. In addition to the basic spiritual ministries offered, there are character-building and recreational activities for children and youth, camps for children and for mothers and children together, daytime and after-school care for the children of working parents, location of missing family members, casework counseling on family problems, and many social, cultural and physical fitness programs in which the entire family can participate.

You can help these troubled families by offering your time, money or talents at your nearby Salvation Army center, or by contacting the Salvation Army Headquarters, at 120 West 14th St., New York, N.Y. 10011. Perhaps by working with other peoples' children you may gain a better understanding and build a better relationship with your own.

Safety And Economy Hints

Some dealers provide "installation and set-up" for color sets without extra charge. This means attaching the set to an existing antenna, making any necessary minor adjustments and introducing you to the operation of the set. This is an added convenience and well worthwhile if it's included in the price of the set, but it's not strictly necessary with modern color sets.

The best television set will show a poor picture if it doesn't receive a good, strong signal, say experts at the Electronic Industries Association. The signal is fed to the set from the antenna. A rabbit ear or single pole built-in antenna will be satisfactory in some cases, specifically where the television stations are not too distant and there are few obstructions such as tall buildings or mountains to cause "ghosts" or double images.

Never expose a TV set to rain or water. If it becomes damp or wet, pull the plug and have it inspected by a service technician. Rain or excessive moisture—even as a result of extended exposure on a back porch—may cause electrical shorts which can result in fire or shock hazards.

REDDY'S HELPFUL TIPS

- Distribute unfrozen foods evenly throughout the freezer. Foods freeze faster if they are not stacked in one section.
- To conserve energy, freeze no more than 10% of the total freezer capacity at one time. Label packages to conserve door-open time. Date and rotate packages so you use the older ones first.
- Defrost promptly—frost build-up of more than ¼" makes cooling units work harder—they use more energy and wear out faster.

The POWER of PRINT in AMERICAN HISTORY

1776-1976

EQUAL RIGHTS AND DEMOCRACY

This article is adapted from a program of historical monographs created by the St. Regis Paper Company, in an effort to rededicate our heritage and renew our pride in our country's achievements.

American democracy did not land with the first settlers at Plymouth. It has developed slowly and at times violently over the past two centuries.

The quest for equal rights has been a constant, if ever changing, part of the American experience and the recorded word has served a vast and particularly American purpose—the expansion of democracy and equal rights.

When the Declaration of Independence was signed, whole groups in the new nation—women, native Americans, slaves—did not share equally in the principle enunciated by the concept "consent of the governed." Many immigrant laborers had little protection in the law. These groups differed greatly from each other but all shared a common condition. None participated fully in the American Dream.

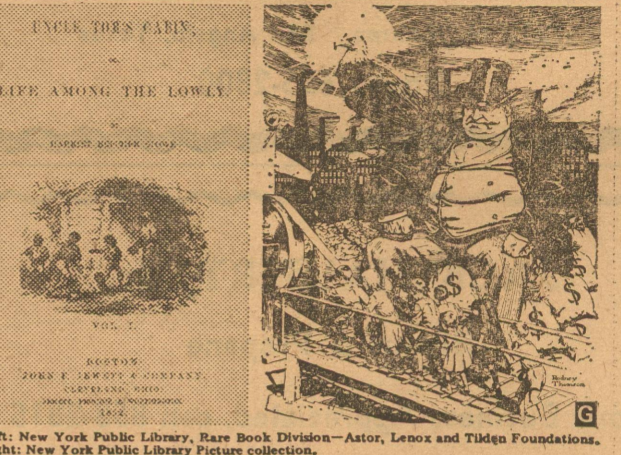

Print allowed such groups and those who sympathized with them to press their unequal condition on a larger audience, spread knowledge of deeply felt injustices and help reshape public opinion. Among the aggrieved themselves, the written word allowed them to stick together as articulate "minorities" and to build powerful social movements.

The cause of American blacks was boosted by abolitionist newspapers, published by both blacks and whites, and aided enormously in 1852 by the publication of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel Uncle Tom's Cabin. Few published works in recent centuries so powerfully affected public opinion.

The printed word served

For many Americans freedom had to be won long after the Revolution was over. They were aided in this by printed materials such as foreign-language newspapers.

Novels like Uncle Tom's Cabin and political cartoons depicting unfair labor practices also helped.

other minorities who were seeking to improve their status. The more than 20 million immigrants who arrived between 1820 and 1920 were hardly welcomed as equal partners. The immigrant press served as a vital instrument for maintaining group identity and solidarity.

Trade unionists and labor reformers found the printed page essential as they built craft and general unions meant to protect men and women in their workplaces and generally improve living and working conditions.

In itself, print is neutral. It can serve power and it can challenge power. But in our society, it has long served as an instrument of beneficial change.

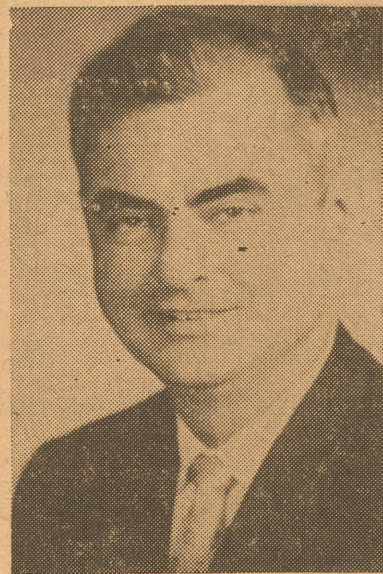

The most valuable stamp in the world, the one cent black on magenta from British Guiana, is now worth $300,000, though it was originally bought for 84 cents!

Beware Of Cookware Bargains
Despite claims and advertisements, waterless cooking isn't anything new or fantastic.

It simply involves cooking food by steam rather than water—so great quantities of liquid are not necessary.

Salesmen for "waterless cookware" have several sales pitches. Some include "reducing the amount of food needed" and "increasing flavor and nutritive value of food prepared."

However, wise consumers know that cookware will not improve family health or decrease food bills.

Sometimes sales pitches offer additional temptations—"discounts" or "free bonuses" such as glassware or silverware.

However, prices are usually set very high to allow the salesman to offer such so-called bonuses.

Prospective brides, single women on their first jobs and young people in school often make prime targets for zealous salesmen.

Actually, waterless cooking can be done in any heavy metal pan which has a tight-fitting lid. The tight lid allows only a small amount of steam to escape.

Utilizing low heat is extremely important in keeping water vapor losses to a minimum.

In general, waterless cookware is made of a heavier gauge metal than normally used in top-of-the-range pans. However, it's usually sold in sets—so use caution when considering a purchase.

Pots included in a large set may not come in sizes needed, and buying a set that includes items you won't use is hardly a bargain.

When purchasing cookware—whether it's waterless or regular—a pan should possess several characteristics.

A good pan is: —made of thick, durable, non-warping material;

—constructed of a material that heats quickly and evenly;

—designed with wide, flat bottom; wide, smooth rounded corners and straight sides;

—complete with a tight-fitting lid, and is made of materials and construction features which permit easy cleaning.

Consumer Food News

College Station.—Consumers can expect bargains on processed fruits and vegetables as many grocery stores and manufacturers "step up" promotions on them. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt predicts.

She cited heavy supplies as the reason for upcoming "specials."

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She also recommended smaller-size cans of processed fruits and vegetables for economy in single-serving or two-serving menus, noting that 3 1/4-8 1/2 ounce cans adequately serve one or two people—with no left-overs.

At most fresh-produce counters, cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelons are available—but prices are high, as is usual for first-of-the-season items, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"The good old standbys, cabbage and carrots, have very attractive prices, though—and soft-shell squash prices are down slightly. Cooking greens and rutabagas have economic prices.

"Some stores are offering specials on various-sized bags of dry yellow onions and potatoes—but check for quality buying."

Corn, mostly from Florida, is a bit lower in price, she added.

"Strawberries are fairly plentiful now, but consumers will have to wait awhile for the rest.

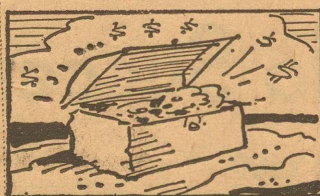

"In fresh-fruit buying, grapefruit, oranges, apples and bananas are plentiful—with economical prices—and tangerines are still available. Also, fresh pineapple offers some special prices," Mrs. Clyatt said.

"At beef counters, emphasis is on chuck roasts and steaks—and liver.

"In comparing prices, remember that the amount of bone and fat in a cut of meat determines the number of servings per pound it will yield," she advised.

In poultry sections, turkey drumsticks and hindquarters may offer "feature" prices.

"For menu variety, chicken hens may be found at attractive prices."

The most valuable treasure ever found was one discovered in England in 1966 of more than 1,200 antique gold coins worth more than $1,400,000.

Jim Nugent Cites Buying Of Votes

Campaign expenditures do not always relate to the final vote, according to figures compiled from the candidate's sworn statements.

In the State Representative race, Jim Nugent gathered 60% of the vote, while his opponent, Patrick Ainsworth, finished with the remaining 40%.

The expenditures were a different story. Ainsworth reported spending $17,536.78, compared to $3,092.82 for Nugent. As of that time, April 22, Ainsworth spent $2.54 for each vote, while Nugent spent 32 cents for each tally. In a radio address, Ainsworth admitted spending over $20,000 at the end of the campaign.

Mother knows how to do everything. If you don't believe it, ask any child. A child's faith in his mother's ability is a wonderful thing. She can fix broken toys and mend broken hearts. Mother knows how to stop sores from hurting and how to make the greatest peanut butter sandwiches in town. She has the answers to a trillion questions. Regardless of our age, we still have questions we would like to have answered. Some will never be answered to our satisfaction, unless God sees fit to impart His special wisdom. He often reveals Himself to us in a special way when we worship. The answers we seek may come as we meditate, pray, and listen to His Word. Church is a good place to find what we are seeking.
