Eisenhower Opens His Aerial Campaign Drive

Makes Last-Minute Bid To Assist GOP

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH
EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER — President Eisenhower, striving to drum up votes for Republicans, told an industrial Detroit audience today his administration is solving the unemployment problem without war because "we have a government with a heart."
Police Inspector Arthur J. Held estimated a crowd of 50,000 persons jammed Cadillac Square in front of City Hall to hear Eisenhower declare:
"I am quite sure we do not want to pay for false prosperity in the blood of our sons on the battlefield."
Addressing a police-estimated crowd of 2,500 persons at Cleveland's Hopkins municipal airport, the President said prosperity under the Democrats was based on war.
He promised that his administration will do everything possible to find jobs for those out of work, but said the solution under his leadership never will be based on a war economy.

"Let me assure you this," the President said, "as long as a single American is out of work... this government will seek a better solution" to unemployment.
"We won't go to war to get it."
The President flew to Cleveland from Washington on the first leg of a four-state tour to get out the vote for next Tuesday's election.
He came into Ohio to help GOP Rep. George Bender in his contest for a U. S. Senate seat against the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Thomas A. Burke, who was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican.
Also at stake in Ohio are 23 house seats.
Despite the police estimate of 2,500 in the crowd, newsmen covering the tour said the figure would be closer to 1,000.
The President was accompanied by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and a few White House aides. Mrs. Eisenhower did not make the trip.
The President called on supporters last night to ring doorbells all over the nation in an 11th hour drive to get voters to the polls next Tuesday and elect another Republican-led Congress to "keep our government from political floundering while the world burns."
Eisenhower spoke to a coast-to-coast television and radio audience and an approval-shouting 500 diners at a Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee rally in Washington.
If the Democrats recapture the legislative branch, Eisenhower

Hopes For Quick End To British Walkout Fading

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON — Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton dashed hopes today for an immediate settlement of Britain's crippling dock strike.
Monckton told the House of Commons jurisdictional and contractual issues involving the employers and two rival unions now have added to the complexity of the problem.
Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet convened later to consider the crisis. Waterfront observers said the government could not delay much longer the use of troops to unload vital food cargoes and other imports.
The 43,000 striking dock workers have idled 346 ships in London, Liverpool, Southampton, Hull, Manchester, Birkenhead and Rochester.
A last-minute union maneuver knocked out a tentative truce plan. The end of the walkout appeared imminent last night when dock employers in London agreed to an armistice on the main issue—whether dock workers should have the right to turn down overtime work. Overtime now is compulsory. Employers maintain this is necessary because of the effect of tides on handling cargoes.
Under the truce formula the dockers would return to their jobs pending negotiation of their grievances. While negotiations were going on, employers would refrain from disciplinary action against any workmen who refused overtime.
Leaders of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union at first seemed inclined to accept the armistice proposal. But after a long huddle they came up with a demand that the same formula be extended to all ports outside London.
The Ministry of Labor said this was impossible because there was "no dispute about overtime in other ports where sympathetic stoppages have occurred."
The stevedores' group represents only 11,900 strikers and almost its entire strength is in London. Most of the other men on strike belong to the Transport and General Workers Union (TGWU). Leaders of the TGWU have denounced the walkout as a Communist conspiracy.

MARLON BRANDO SET TO MARRY GIRL IN FRANCE

TOULON, France (AP)—A two-line notice in a small town newspaper today announced the engagement of stage and screen star Marlon Brando to the 20-year-old daughter of a French Riviera fisherman.
"Mr. and Mrs. Paul Berenger are happy to announce the engagement of their daughter, Josiane, to Mr. Marlon Brando," said the notice in Le Petit Variels of Toulon.
The Berengers live in Bandol, a coastal town of 3,000 about 10 miles west of Toulon, where Brando has been a guest for two days.
Josiane, a petite brunette, met Brando in New York, where she was said to have been employed by a doctor who treated the actor.
Brando had been in France almost two weeks before he journeyed south to join Miss Berenger.

Death Of Tot Tied To Fiend

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The nude body of a pretty 6-year-old girl who left her nearby Conemaugh home to play Halloween "trick-or-treat" was found today in the ghastly surroundings of a graveyard. Conemaugh Police Chief George Fesko said the child "was murdered by a sex fiend."
Fesko said the death of Karen Mauk "is the work of a sex maniac" and added:
"We are rounding up all known sex degenerates for questioning."
Deputy Cambria County Coroner Richard P. Wilkinson ordered an autopsy but said results will not be known for several hours.
Fesko said the little girl's face and body were bruised and "blood was running from her mouth."
Steve Steffish, member of the Conemaugh fire dept., found the body near the entrance of the Cast Taylor township cemetery, two miles from the home of Karen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mauk.
Mrs. Mauk said she reluctantly gave the child permission to leave the house about 7 p. m. last night to take part in neighborhood Halloween activities.
The mother said the child wore a white falseface and a paper hat. The paper hat was found near the body with shreds of the child's clothes. The Halloween mask has not been found.
Mrs. Mauk reported the child missing about 9 p. m. when she did not return home. Police said the mother has not been able to identify the other children Karen joined when she left the house.
Earlier in the evening the little girl had been playing with a cousin.

Paul Lindenberg, 6. But Mrs. Mauk said the child returned home after that and then went out again.
Conemaugh firemen and neighbors organized a searching party after the child was reported missing. Firemen blew the siren to summon help.
However, Chief Fetako said an attempt to molest a 14-year-old high school girl was reported earlier in the evening.

Members Of IUOE Local Boost United Fund Total

The United Fund got a big boost from members of Local 828 of the International Union of Operating Engineers this morning when Bill Pate, president of the local turned in $1,584.58.
The gifts from Local 828 members will go a long way toward pushing the U.F. campaign to its $52,151 goal. Several other strong reports were expected at the general report meeting at noon today.
Prior to today's meeting, and before Local 828 report was made, the campaign had reached $52,327.05, about 64 per cent of the goal.
Workers in all divisions of the drive redoubled efforts Wednesday and Thursday in the final phases of the campaign. Dick Simpson, general campaign chairman, said he thought today's reports would place the drive at about 75 per cent of the way to the goal. The total might morning showed cash gifts amounting to $495.68 and additional pledges totaling $1,584.58.

Thus far, 343 members of the union have contributed.
Accepting the report from Pate this morning was D. A. Brazel, assistant district representative for the IUOE and himself first vice president of the Big Spring and Howard County Fund.

Mrs. Brown, 59, Dies; Mother Of Horace Garrett

Funeral for Mrs. L. E. Brown, 59, mother of Horace Garrett and member of a pioneer Howard County ranching family, was to be held in Fort Worth Friday afternoon.
Mrs. Brown died Thursday evening in a Fort Worth hospital, where she had been under treatment for the past four months. She had been in serious condition about two months ago, when her son was called to the bedside, but she improved somewhat.
Rites were to be held at the Ray Crowder Funeral Home at 4 p. m. with Dr. Aisle Carleton, pastor of the University Methodist Church in Dallas, officiating. Dr. Carleton also officiated at the funeral of her mother, the late Mrs. Dora Roberts, who died in a Fort Worth Hospital in December, 1953 and was buried here. Mrs. Brown's remains were to be laid to rest in the Greenwood Cemetery at Fort Worth.
Mrs. Brown was born Decia Griffin in Howard County and while she was a very small girl her father was killed. Subsequently, her mother was married to the late John Roberts, who also had a ranch in southeastern Howard County. In the early 1920s she moved to Lubbock, going from there about 20 years ago to Fort Worth. She owned the Park Hill Apartments at 2200 University Dr. in Fort Worth. She recently had

Labor Boosts Fund

W. E. (Bill) Pate, right, president of Local 828 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, AFL, turns in a preliminary report on contributions of Local members to the United Fund. Receiving the cash and pledges totaling $2,080.35 is D. A. Brazel, assistant district representative of the IUOE and first vice president of the United Fund. A leader in the U.F. work unable to be present for the report was Alfred (Tunney) Goodson, district vice president and member of the executive board of the Texas State Federation of Labor. Goodson was in Fort Worth for a meeting of the group.

Three Treated After Accident

One man was hospitalized and two others received first aid treatment following a three vehicle mishap this morning at the intersection of Sycamore and Settles streets.
Clyde Massingill, 1012 Sycamore, is the man who was hospitalized. Billy Williams, 1009 E. 2nd, and Mrs. M. N. Brown, 411 NW 7th, were treated for cuts and bruises.
The collision occurred about 8:08 a. m., and there was considerable damage to all vehicles involved. No one was seriously injured, it was believed, but Massingill was being X-rayed for shoulder injuries this morning.
A dump truck driven by Williams and a car operated by Massingill first collided. Massingill's vehicle veered off into the car driven by M. N. Brown, and Williams' truck ran into a corner yard.
Williams was driving the truck north on Settles at the time of collision, and Massingill was headed east on Sycamore. Brown had stopped at the intersection, though he had been headed south on Settles.
Following the collision the Massingill car and the one in which Mrs. Brown was riding were locked almost headon. Officers listed damage to Massingill's car at $600 and to the Brown car at $350. Damage to the dump truck was estimated at $400 to the dump truck was estimated.
Property damage of around $200 was estimated to Mrs. Wayne Spears' yard at 1301 Sycamore. The fence was torn down and five trees struck.
All the injured parties were taken to the hospital in an Eberley-River ambulance.
A collision behind the high school on Tenth Street occurred about 7:55 a. m. Drivers were Roger Miller, 1709 Settles, and Edgar D. Patton, 1514 Stadium.
Another accident was reported at Third and Benton about 5:30 p. m. Thursday. Those involved were Ruby Rose, 200 Mobile, and Lloyd Bullard, 1110 Main.

Sheppard Reports Panel Is Set Up On Loan Objections

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Ben Sheppard said today a consumer loans grievance committee has been set up to investigate and take action against unscrupulous money lenders.
The industry committee was formed by an 8-member group of loan business men who were warned by Sheppard yesterday that loan shark operations out of their industry or face a crackdown.
Earl O'Keefe, Amarillo, chairman of the group setting up the grievance committee, said it includes members of every type of consumer loan company.

Wright Pleased By Reduction In Batchelor's Term

"I'm mighty happy for the boy," H. W. (Hack) Wright, former draft board chairman, said here Thursday when he learned that Cpl. Claude Batchelor's prison sentence had been reduced from life to 20 years.
Wright resigned as local draft board chairman Oct. 5 in protest to the life sentence given Batchelor after he was found guilty of collaborating with the Communists in Korea. The official said he felt that the punishment was too severe, considering that Batchelor was only 16 years of age when he entered the Army and that he was subjected to "brain washing" and other duress while he was a prisoner of the Communists.
"I'm thankful that they reduced it," Wright said of the 20-year term set by the Fourth Army Thursday after a review of Batchelor's court-martial. "I feel that public sentiment had something to do with it."

New Davis Trial Is Set

A new trial for Ray Davis on charges of murder has been set in 118th District Court for Nov. 29.
Davis is charged in the death of Robert A. (Bob) Childers at the Wyoming Hotel on March 27, 1953. Childers died of gunshot wounds.
Davis was first tried on the charges during the week of Nov. 16, 1953. He was found guilty and a jury assessed a 20-year penitentiary sentence.
The Court of Criminal Appeals subsequently reversed the verdict, however, and sent the case back for new trial.
Warren Burnett, Odessa, district attorney for the 70th Judicial District, will be in charge of the prosecution at the new trial. Gullford Jones, 118th District Attorney, is disqualified as he was a member of the law firm of Thomas, Thomas & Jones which represented Davis at the first trial.
Davis Scarborough of Abilene again will assist as special prosecutor. The defendant's attorney now is Calloway Huffaker, Tahoka.

Convicted Murderer Executed In Santa Fe

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—With the words, "It's not murder, may God have mercy on your souls," Frederick W. Heisler went to his death in the New Mexico electric chair early today.
The 33-year-old Army deserter from Brooklyn was executed for murdering John Gunnish, a steelworker who befriended him three years ago by giving him a lift in his car.

Seek Jury Alternates

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the original supply exhausted, attorneys started today to examine a new panel of 25 prospects for alternate jury duty at the Sheppard murder trial.
The last two prospects of an original 75 were excused today at the trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard entered his 10th day.
From the 25, attorneys hope to pick two alternates to clear the way for a jury trip through the rambling lake front home where Sheppard's pretty wife, Marilyn, was savagely strangled to death July 4.
William J. Corrigan, the young osteopath's chief attorney, told a reporter today he feels much more "relaxed" now that the regular jury has been selected.
This seemed true, too, of the atmosphere of the court this morning, before the actual business of hearing testimony begins.
A jury of seven men and five women was sworn yesterday. The alternates will serve only if any of

Write-In Drive Opens In Martin

STANTON (SC) — The possibility of a write-in campaign aimed at electing Martin County Judge Bruce Frazier to a full term in the office blossomed here Friday.
Letters urging that the name of Frazier, who has held the office under appointment for the past four months, be written in on the general election ballot were distributed over the county Friday.
Jim McCoy, who was unopposed in the July primary, holds the Democratic party nomination for county judge.
The letters, which were printed and signed by "friends of Martin County," said the "opportunity for continued betterment of our county, schools and finances stands in your door."
They continued by reciting that during "four months he (Frazier) has accomplished a full year's work in office," that the financial status of the county promised to turn from red to black. It suggested that the name of the judge be written in the blank space for county commissioners court to fill the peremptory.
Frazier was elected by the county commissioners court to fill the office when James McMorris resigned under fire during a fiscal probe in July.

New Hearing Set For Boy Accused In Gun, Dog Case

WEST MONROE, La. (AP) — A third hearing was scheduled today for 10-year-old Joe Cooper who leveled a loaded shotgun at the principal and truant officer of a rural school to save his dog from a gas chamber.
Judge Howell Heard, who riled nationwide protests by quickly committing the son of an impoverished widow to a reform school, said the hearing would be closed to the press and public in accordance with state law.
The judge declined to discuss reasons for the surprise hearing and did not indicate if it would mean a final disposal of the case.
But for Joe Cooper and his mongrel, Tippie, the court session meant another brief reunion after two weeks of separation. The sixth-grader was whisked off to the Louisiana Training Institute in nearby Monroe less than five hours after the incident at the Ransom School Oct. 6. Tippie has been spending his days in a pet hospital.

Red Theorists Tell Comrades Revolution Can Wait Awhile

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst
In advance of this year's anniversary of the Russian Revolution, theoreticians of the Soviet Communist party are going to great pains to point out a new course to their "brotherly Communist parties" abroad. They are telling them not to be in such an all-fired hurry for the revolution.

Moscow seems to be pulling the reins on the Communists abroad, fearing that any attempt now at a violent overthrow of an established government could lead to the world war the Kremlin seems to fear at this moment. The Kremlin has had to explain this patiently, in Communist talk, to the brethren abroad.

Thus the Communists abroad are not to stop their efforts to undermine and embarrass governments in capitalist countries, and are not to stop propagandizing in favor of Moscow and world communism. But they are to proceed warily, and to avoid "adventurism," which in the Communist language, means setting out to accomplish something without assurance in advance of success.

The Communists abroad were told in the Pravda article, written by the influential editorialist A. Leontiev, that capitalism is dying anyway, that no force in the world can save it, that the world revolution sooner or later is inevitable, country by country.

Leontiev began the article by saying that Marx and Engels, the prophets of world communism, could not analyze the epoch of imperialism because they did not live in it. It remained, he said, for Lenin to do that and for Stalin to elaborate on the analysis.

Thus Lenin, and Stalin after him, came up with the realization that the simultaneous victory of the revolution in all or a majority of capitalist countries was not quite possible. Thus, said Leontiev, came the theory of "socialism in one country."

Your Own Conscience

Have you ever had a cold war with your conscience? Intellectually speaking, you know you are right because what you are doing is practical, but at the same time that "still small voice" inside tells you that you are nothing but a coward taking the easy way out.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself" say?—Or he who said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you?"

Sympathize with the mother who loves her daughter and wants her to be pure and unspotted from any taint of evil. She wants her daughter to be charitable toward all, and yet she knows that a minister's daughter is judged more critically than any other girl in the community and is always a popular subject of gossip among parishioners.

Dear Miss Brandow:
I am fifteen years old, and would like to date a boy a year older who has a bad reputation because several members of his family are literally "no good."
Jimmy can't help what they have done, but he has had the courage not to live up to their example. He is polite, good natured, a good student, and popular in a school where gossip can ruin the reputation of a saint. Several of my girl friends' parents have realized what a struggle Jimmy is having to prove himself.

What can she say? "Date this boy. You know he is good and striving for decency. He, too, is one of the flock; befriend him." Or should she say, "Think of your reputation, and the reputations of your father and me. We wish him well, but keep your distance, and let someone else be the good Samaritan?"

My mother insists that I cannot date him because it would ruin my reputation, and as the daughter of a minister, my reputation, must be spotless. How can I overcome their prejudice?

What should the answer of the preacher's family or any other Christian family be? I can't give it to you; no one can. It is whispered by "that still small voice."

(Beverly Brandow welcomes your letters and is happy to answer you personally. Write her in care of The Herald.)

Eisenhowers To Eye TV On Election Night

Far Western Election Outcome Hinges On Demo Trend's Depth

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The big political question in Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada today is whether an apparent Democratic upsurge will win for the party significant gains at the polls next Tuesday.

Only the voters can decide this point, of course, but Republicans do not deny the Democrats are showing potential strength in this off-year election. There are too many signs of a Democratic swing in the far western country which went solidly for President Eisenhower in 1952.

As an indication, Democratic registration in California increased by 154,827 and the Republican by 66,837 since the June primary. Democrats lead nearly 3 to 2 in the total sign-up—3,266,831 to 2,415,249.

How deep does the seeming Democratic trend go? Does it carry enough momentum to crack through Eisenhower's admitted personal popularity?

Eleven of 3 U. S. senators and 42 representatives, as well as state officers in three of the states, hinges closely on the answer. Washington, with no race for the Senate or Governor, will choose 7 representatives, California, 30; Oregon, 4; and Nevada, 1.

The GOP, making a stand on the Eisenhower line, hopes to retain the three Republican senators, one of them now a temporary appointee, and maybe better its 30-12 share of the House members from the four states.

Republicans declare they expect to throw back serious challenges against Sen. Guy Cordon (R-Ore.) and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), who succeeded vice president Nixon in the Senate.

In Nevada, though, prospects appear to favor former State Atty. Gen. Alan Bible to defeat Republican Sen. Ernest S. Brown, named by the Republican governor to serve until next January. The two lawyers plunged into an abbreviated campaign after the State Supreme Court ruled there must be an election for the two-year unexpired term of Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran, who died Sept. 28.

The critical test will come in California. Most election experts are picking Kuchel to win over Rep. Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles and Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to take Richard Graves in the plumbers' battle for the governorship. Independent polls indicate, however, that both Democratic candidates are moving up steadily.

There is sharp contention as well in California's 30 congressional districts, now represented by 19 Republicans and 11 Democrats. Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder of Los Angeles, state Democratic chairman, predicts her party will gain five House members. Nixon has said he looks for the GOP to increase its delegation by one.

What's behind the Democratic threat? The record of both the Eisenhower administration and of the 83rd Congress runs through the campaigns like a meandering western river—a theme of broad importance in some areas, of thinning significance elsewhere.

The course of debate shoots off into bread-and-butter issues affecting the West's pocketbook. Public vs. private power in the Pacific Northwest. Farm prices and jobs in California. Tariff protection for mining in Nevada.

Democratic candidates are hitting away at what they term a "giveaway" program, failing farm subsidies and continued high prices for consumer goods. They contend the people are disenchanted with the GOP record and show more than the normal off-year reaction against the party in power.

MAN OF ACTION

Greek Official Manages To Launch Modernizing

By L. S. CHAKALES
ATHENS (AP)—At 3 a. m., one day a year ago, a handsome, well-dressed man and a gang of laborers watched a streetcar pound down its track in the heart of Athens, shattering the quiet of the night.

"Now!" cried the leader. The gang jumped into the middle of the street, hooked up torches and started cutting the streetcar tracks along Patissia Boulevard.

The man who led this raid on the privately owned streetcar tracks was Constantine Karamanlis, minister of public works. He did the job when he grew tired of the traction company's delays in removing the tracks. He wanted to widen the street for vehicular traffic and substitute trolley buses.

He got away with it; the traction company never followed up a threat to sue.

Karamanlis, a man of action, is perhaps causing more changes in the face of Athens than any man since the days of Pericles, 2,350 years ago.

The 46-year-old minister has 482 public works projects under way, including dams, irrigation, roads, bridges and ports.

He talked the Cabinet into putting a 3 per cent levy on all rents.

The GOP message, as exemplified by Secretary of the Interior McKay's political tour, is that the power partnership plan will help build new hydroelectric works; that the agricultural market is stable; that administration policies are good for the West.

Other points of conflict, confined to state matters, are far from being overlooked. In California, for instance, proposed state liquor control and demands to "do something" about the major issues. A gambling expose has created a political furor in Nevada.

16 Wool, Mohair Houses Approved For Supports Plan

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Some 16 Texas wool and mohair warehouses have been approved as handlers under the new wool price support program.

The Commodity Credit Corp. made the announcement yesterday. The firms are at San Angelo, Uvalde, Mertzon, Brady, Del Rio, Lampasas, Ballinger, Menard, Talpa, Kerrville and Eldorado.

Applications for appraisal of about two million pounds of the 1954 wool clip have been received by the CCC office here. Local sources said much of the state's unsold wool would go into the government's loan program before Jan. 1, when the incentive program goes into effect.

An estimated 17 million pounds of this year's clip is said still in storage. Sales have been at a standstill since buyers purchased about four million pounds, mostly fall wool, earlier in the month.

Shortly after Nov. 1, wool sources say, appraisers will start to work in Texas.

FAMOUS TRICHOLOGIST WILL DEMONSTRATE HOW TO GROW THICKER HAIR ... AND GUARANTEES IT!

DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD HERE

This new method of home treatment of saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Big Spring, Texas, Monday ONLY, November 1. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Settles Hotel on Monday ONLY, November 1, 1954, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, October 21—In an interview here today Wm. L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and president of the Keele Hair and Scalp Specialists Inc., said, "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

Once a person avails himself to the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days, your money will be refunded."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong, and it should be given immediate attention.

HOPELESS CASES

First the trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely shiny bald is he in this lost category.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair, and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you call Trichologist P. Rance Pierce at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring, Texas, on Monday ONLY, November 1, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. (Adv.)

Judge Youngdahl, In News After Bias Charge, Stresses Religion

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—"Christianity in Politics" is the title chosen for his master's thesis by William Youngdahl, who is going to be a Lutheran minister. His Exhibit A: Dad.

Youngdahl's dad is U.S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, much in the news lately as a result of the legal hassle over his handling of the Owen Lattimore perjury case.

The judge, a six-footer, reads scriptural passages each day before he dons his black robes to take his place on the bench. And, likely as not, he already has addressed an early morning prayer meeting.

As for politics, this ruggedly handsome son of Scandinavian immigrants never lost a race in his native Minnesota and never failed to top the Republican ticket, whether running for municipal judge or governor.

When people, as they often do, refer to the judge as a deeply religious man, he makes no objection.

But he doesn't like to have it mentioned in print that he never takes a drink and doesn't smoke. His reason: people sometimes get the idea that such a man must be a blue nose or an old fogey.

Basically an animated, friendly man, Judge Youngdahl can be as impressive as Caesar's bust. As when U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover last week told him to his face the judge has "a fixed, personal bias and prejudice" in favor of Lattimore and against the government. So, Rover said, he should step aside and let another judge preside at the forthcoming trial of the controversial Far Eastern specialist.

A mouse-still, jam-packed courtroom watched in puzzlement as the judge sat there without showing any emotion and saying nothing. But in the end, he struck from the record as "scandalous" Rover's allegations against him.

Rover's affidavit, he said, was based upon the "virulent notion" that a federal judge "who adheres to the sacred constitutional presumption that a man is innocent until his guilt is established by due process of law has 'a bent of mind' that disables him from conducting a fair and impartial trial to which both the accused and the government are entitled."

Judge Youngdahl, silver-haired and sun-tanned at 58, keeps himself in physical condition by daily setting-up exercises and twice-weekly trips to the Y.M.C.A.

He also plays golf whenever he can find time for it, and fishes as often as he can.

Exhibit A of young Bill Youngdahl's "Christianity in Politics" is pleased by what he views as increased participation of church people in political affairs. This he regards as a good, practical development.

Federal judges, Youngdahl says, should stay out of what he calls "competitive politics." But he feels there is no reason for him to let up on his manifold nonjudicial activities which include church work and all sorts of causes dealing with youth welfare.

The judge's father, John C. Youngdahl, came from Sweden as a boy and settled in Minneapolis. His mother also was born in Sweden, was reared in Norway.

John Youngdahl ran a grocery store for more than 40 years and fathered 10 children. As a boy, Luther delivered groceries and sold newspapers to help pay for his education, which was stressed in the Youngdahl household along with religion and hard work. All the 10 young Youngdahls went to college and eight of them got degrees. Most of the family turned to humanitarian professions—preachers, teachers, and so on.

When former President Truman offered him a federal judgeship here in 1951, Youngdahl resigned as governor to accept it. Youngdahl says he hankered to return to the judicial field, his true love.

How did he get into the news now?

Owen Lattimore was indicted for perjury. The case was assigned to Youngdahl.

The first count of the indictment alleged that Lattimore, who had once been a State Department consultant, swore falsely before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee when he said he had never been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red causes. That charge, Youngdahl said in throwing it out, was "nebulous" and "indefinite."

More than 40,000 American men under 65 are killed in accidents each year.

TAIPEIAN SAYS

Overcrowding Is Formosa Problem

Crowd 8 1/2 million people onto an island of 47,000 square miles, add a military establishment of 600,000 men, and you have a problem.

That, aside from the politics of it, is a basic problem for Formosa, according to Ho-Yin-Lin, prominent YMCA layman from Taipei, Formosa. Lin avoided political questions as he addressed the Kiwanis Club here Thursday on his native land. He was to speak to YMCA directors as noon Friday.

Oddly, he told Kiwanians, the country does raise enough food to support itself, even having some rice to export to Japan. This is because the island has a predominantly hot climate for 11 months of the year, yielding two crops annually.

Formosa has no appreciable heavy industry, the nearest approach being an aluminum plant which the Japanese established in World War I for military purposes. Prior to the war the Japanese, who had been in control of Formosa since 1895, had deliberately maintained it in colonial relationship. Lin said significant progress toward light industrialization had been made since the war.

are tremendous is reflected by the fact that there are only 226 Christian churches, he said.

The island was named by the Portuguese who held it in the 16th century and called it "the beautiful." In 1634 the Dutch captured the island and dominated it for 27 years before the Chinese took over in 1662, holding it until the Japanese mandate in 1895. Although Japanese exerted great effort to obliterate Chinese culture, this still accounts for a major segment of the population. Other divisions include the native Formosans and those of Japanese extraction.

When the YMCA world services division responded to a plea for help, Formosan YMCA supporters more than raised the $120,000 required although they did not believe it was possible from such a poor constituency, Lin said.

At the meeting, H. W. Smith, chairman, announced that Sam Sonntag and Jack Roden would head up two teams which would meet next Thursday at 7 a.m. for a breakfast prior to placing gum ball machines. Club proceeds from the machines will go for boys and girls work.

Election of Leroy Olsak as president for the term beginning in January was announced. Other officers elect are the Rev. Clyde Nichols, first vice president; Carl Strom, second vice president; R. M. (Bob) Helme, Jasper Atkins, Elmer Boatler, Temp Currie Jr. Holdover directors are Ladd Smith, Wayne Bonner, H. W. Whitney.

T. B. Atkins, who introduced Lin, was presented by Olsak, who recalled that in World War II, he bombed Formosan points several times, once getting within 20 miles of Lin's home. Lin jokingly had accused Olsak of bombing him out of a house.

Two-Year Term For Officials Is A Safeguard For The Public

A rather drastic change in the scheme of local government is provided for in one of the amendments that Texans are called upon to decide in next Tuesday's general election.

This is the proposal to set up four year terms for elective district, county and precinct offices.

These offices are now, of course, filled by election every two years. There are some familiar arguments in behalf of this proposal. Some say that two-year terms do not give an official time to accomplish improvements in administration; that two-year terms require too much of the time of incumbents in campaigning for re-election; that running for office every two years is expensive and puts the official in the embarrassing position of depending too largely upon outside contributions.

On the other hand, it may be said that it is a fundamental principle of our state Constitution that elective officials should subject themselves to the judgment of the voters at least every two years; that reelection is not too great a problem for a competent official.

We are inclined to the view that the most worthy public official can and should submit his record to the voters every two years. The odds are large that, when he has done a good job, the people recognize it and give him another term. But when an inequitable, hard to enforce and easy to undo office, four years would be a mighty long time for him to serve without the people having the power to remove him.

It would appear that the longer term is a service to the public-office holder, and the shorter term is more in service to the public at large. We would be opposed to making this change in local government at this time.

Should Cities Gain Cut In Auto License Fee, Put It On Streets

A number of cities levy an ad valorem tax on motor vehicles as a source of badly needed revenue. Many people consider it an inequitable, hard to enforce and easy to evade tax. It is probably the most unpopular of all the many taxes levied, where political sub-divisions seek to make use of it.

Some communities don't even try to enforce this tax, and at the annual meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities in Fort Worth this week submission of a constitutional amendment was endorsed calling for its repeal.

At the same time, these city officials called for an increase of one-third in car owner's license fees. Three-fourths of this increase would go to cities and the remaining one-fourth to school districts where the licenses are paid. We would suggest an addendum to that: all money so derived would have to be applied to street improvements. This much can be said for the increased license fee on car owners: Every Texas car owner would have to pay it, whereas under the ad valorem tax levy some Texans pay, but most do not. Moreover, the larger fee would replace the revenue lost from repeal of the ad valorem levy to some extent, but probably would be less a burden on the individual than the ad valorem tax.

No matter how well enforced, the ad valorem tax levy will always fall upon a some and miss others. It will always penalize the conscientious and leave a loophole of escape for the less conscientious who find pleasure in dodging an unpopular tax.

For these reasons an amendment such as suggested by the league would probably find widespread support—except in cities where no ad valorem on cars is levied, and among people who find it perfectly easy to duck it. Everybody would have to pay the increased license fee, whereas hundreds of thousands escape the ad valorem tax.

Eisenhower's Chief Economist Prefers To Speak For Himself

When Arthur F. Burns, chairman of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers, appeared before a subcommittee of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, Rep. Richard Bolling (Dem. Mo.), confronted him with a Saturday Evening Post article, "The Depression Doctor," which implied that Burns possessed a semi-secret formula for forecasting business cycles from "statistics not as yet generally published."

Bolling said: "When I first read that I was intrigued and somewhat flabbergasted. But do I gather from what you said that these charts were not really mysterious or private, but evaluations of various statistical series known to all?"

"I do not deal in mysteries, Congressman." "Then I take it that the impression that I got from the article was..." "You were not quoting my language in that article, Congressman..." The author was very courteous in showing me his manuscript. I then quarreled with much of it and I would still quarrel with parts of it. When it comes to my economic ideas, I very much prefer to be the one who expresses them."

Burns needs no interpreter. He proved this the other day in a talk to the Detroit Economic Club—a talk which anyone interested in the Eisenhower administration should read in full. Burns scotched the notion that Republican business men in government are aloof bystanders watching economic tides roll over men. As Burns says it:

"A generation or two ago most economists and men of affairs took the business cycle for granted. The prevailing view was that... occasional declines in production served a useful function... (the declines) facilitated an adjustment of volume of production... to demand. They impelled workmen and business managers to greater efforts. These views... have gradually lost their hold on the minds of men."

"Experience has taught us that dependable workmen lose their jobs along with the shiftless few, once an economic contraction deepens. Well-managed firms, no less than those that are poorly managed, suffer losses and even bankruptcy. It is therefore very doubtful if, on balance, business contractions serve to enhance efficiency."

"Experience has taught us that a business depression leads many men to lose faith in themselves, and that it also leads some to lose faith in our economic and political institutions."

"Experience has also taught us that the federal government has become a very large factor in our economy... As one international crisis or breathing spell has succeeded another, people have gradually come to realize that the government has at least a responsibility for moderating the economic impact of its own unsettling actions."

"Most important of all, experience has taught us that, although the government is by no means omnipotent and while it is capable of making mistakes, it can also pursue policies that not only promise to bring greater stability to economic life, but also to expand the scope and add to the vigor of private enterprise."

The only question on which men differ, argues Burns, is not whether the government shall intervene, but how and when. As Burns sees it, "The government must avoid extravagance and make-work schemes, and yet must meet fully its responsibility to provide those public assets on which an expanding private economy depends, of which our highway system, which has suffered great neglect in recent years, is merely an outstanding example."

Obviously, Burns isn't a laissez-faire man. And actions justify his words. During the recession, the administration acted positively, though not as positively or as pervasively as such critics as Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers and the Congress of Industrial Organizations, would have desired.

It reduced taxes, made money and credit plentiful, stockpiled nonferrous metals, awarded shipbuilding contracts, supported farm prices, and tried to channel government orders into labor-surplus areas.

Consequently, the 1953-54 recession made history. Though industrial production dropped 9 per cent, disposable personal income—the money you and I have to spend—rose $1,500,000,000.

"This result," declared Burns, "has no parallel, as far as I know." As an outstanding student of the business cycle, Burns ought to know.

Oct. 29, When Stock Market Crashed 25 Years Ago, Could Be Meditation Day

By ED CREAUGH (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just 25 years ago today the bottom fell out of the New York Stock Exchange. The echoes of that spectacular crash still rumble around the world.

For the market crash of Oct. 29, 1929, heralded the greatest depression this country has ever known. It engulfed the United States in a worldwide economic morass that proved a breeding place for the seeds of World War II.

Here at home, the depression swept Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal into office.

Perhaps as important as any other effect, the crash and the depression did something to the American spirit. They didn't, as they seemed for a time to threaten to do, make this a nation of pessimists. But they did, perhaps permanently, dampen a notion that Americans were destiny's tots—that this country was somehow exempt from the woes that were always besetting foreigners.

And of course that time of shaken values and bruised faith had this added lingering effect, among others: it led some Americans to a belief, rudely shattered for most in the years to come, that the Russians had come up with a system which worked better.

All told, that Oct. 29 was a memorable day. Maybe it should be observed each year. Not a day of rest, as a holiday would be, but one of deep if not prayerful meditation, which is hard work indeed.

Actually, the trouble didn't start Oct. 29. The market broke sharply as early as March of that year. It bounced back swiftly, however, and its very recovery served to discredit the few skeptics who kept asking how long this crazy spree of paper prosperity could continue.

On Sept. 3, 1929, the Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks soared to an all-time peak: $137.70 a share.

By the middle of that month the average began to drop, however. By October it was skidding several dollars each day. Oct. 24—still known as "Black Thursday"—saw the wild ride become a headlong tumble. A kild rush to sell wiped out five billion dollars in stock values in a single day. The bottom finally fell out five days later—25 years ago today. One thing most experts agree on—the nation isn't likely to have another major depression.

What's to stop another 1929-type boom and bust? A number of things: tighter reins on speculation. Sounder values of stocks. Above all, perhaps, a long period of sobriety on the part of the American people—a realization that another gambling-on-the-market spree might end up in the same kind of post-1929 hangover.

Military Service Can Be Help To Mixed-Up Youth

MORGANVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Parents, when a son is drafted for military service, sometimes complain:

"I wouldn't want my boy to duck his duty to the country. But it does seem such a terrible waste of time, now that we are at peace. And he's so young. He'll be surrounded by all kinds of temptations. It's so easy for a kid his age to go wrong."

Whenever I hear a father or mother carry on like this, I feel like telling them the story of Steve Lavole. His career is an example of how military service, far from hurting a kid, can help him get his feet on the ground and find a real goal in life.

Steve, silver-haired but still tough-listed at 53, is about as rugged an individualist as any left in the land. He likes to hunt bears in Canada, buffalo or leopards in Africa, because he cherishes the intense feeling of aliveness that comes in moments of danger. He also operates a $12,000-a-year electronics firm, and gets a similar thrill hunting down the solution to an intricate problem in engineering.

This is Steve's saga: "I was a problem child in high school. Never in any big trouble, but always in some kind of mischief."

A heart-to-heart talk with a sympathetic teacher convinced Steve he was wasting his time. Although he was 16, he managed to enlist in the Navy by fibbing about his age. The Navy sent him to radio school, mustered him out with disability pay after two years because of an injury.

He had no money, less than two years of high school credits. But he talked Northeastern College into admitting him as a special student by promising to catch up on his high school work in the summer months. For a time he picked up some change by fighting as a pro boxer.

By stubborn honing he managed both to complete his high school work and graduate from college on schedule.

"But I still didn't feel I had an education," he said. Helped by his wife, Miriam, who earned $15 to $18 a week in a hardware store, he took a graduate degree at Union College, spent two more years at Harvard.

"I never wrote my doctor's thesis. We had two kids. I felt I had the knowledge I needed, so I said to hell with the degree. I wanted to work."

"That was 1939. I was flat. No real jobs were open. I made $15 a week doing waterproofing, my wife made $18 as an accountant, so we were at least living. Then I got fired."

A year later he became an associate engineer at Wright Field in Dayton, Ohio, and pioneered in developing airplane instrument landing systems.

"I invented a new antenna that enabled them to save and use $1,000,000 worth of transmitters they were ready to junk," Steve said. "For this they raised my pay $100—from $3,200 to $3,300 a year."

Steve, who admits he has quite a temper, brooded about this, finally quit. He got a commercial firm to put him on its payroll while he worked out his electronics experiments in his basement laboratory.

This firm didn't see any possibilities in the gadgets Steve turned up, so they severed the contract, and Steve went into business for himself, selling a high frequency wave meter he had invented. It caught on at once.

His basement laboratories, born in a lavatory, mushroomed during the war. Steve now has 500 employees and three plants that turn out a number of devices used in the nation's radar defense network.

The U.S. Navy, which turned Steve from a problem kid into a man with a goal, now employs his inventions on its ships and planes.

This isn't the end of Steve's saga, but it does point the moral — that the discipline a kid gets while serving Uncle Sam is an asset, not a handicap.

Women Have Made Shambles Of Formerly Masculine Poker

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note.

Women during the past few years have dealt a fatal blow to one of man's oldest institutions. They have made a shambles of the poker game.

The fact that women play poker is not so bad, but the way most of them play it is downright disgusting. They have changed the rules so much that a self-respecting gambler couldn't tell the game from tiddly-winks.

So far as the women are concerned, the original game of skill is no more. It has been replaced with variations so involved that no one but a member of the fairer sex or an electrical calculator could figure them out.

Such variations as Dr. Pepper, Baseball, Split in the Ocean, Low Hole Card, High-Low Split, Low-Ball, Chicago, Casino and many others are now common in games guided by feminine influence.

Henry Clay and other famous poker players of history would turn over in their graves if they knew of the variations to their beloved draw and stud poker now being played.

Modern man, however, seems to be taking the change in stride. In fact quite a few members of the male sex can be found hamming it up right along with the women.

Mixed poker "parties" are becoming more and more common, and a good number of the gabby games are now being played on the kitchen tables and in the living rooms instead of in basements and garages as of old.

These new "parties" have a social ring, with the women predominating. Instead of the cut-throat competition among fellow players common with an all male gathering, the emphasis is now on words. The idea is who can get in the most conversation while holding his cards.

Men can expect to hear the latest gossip with every card dealt them, and talk usually centers on everything but the game under way.

So long as the women are involved in the game, the men can also expect half the deck to be "wild." Most men are too timid to suggest that a round of five-card draw occasionally be played where the jokers are wild only with aces, straights and flushes.

Women seem to prefer such games as Dr. Pepper, where the tens, twos and fours are wild. With the jokers (always two), this makes 14 of the 52 cards which can be used as anything the holder wishes to make them. In Baseball, another feminine favorite, all the threes and nines are wild.

Those women dealers have to be held in restraint on these wild games, because nine times out of ten they will call several other cards wild too. This leaves only a few that can be played straight.

There is no such thing as a scientific calculation where the woman's poker is played. Just about the time a man thinks he is loaded, his women competitors make use of the "wildness" and flash five of a kind, straight flushes, and royal flushes on him.

And invariably the women have to be told what beats what. Indocrination follows every hand, despite the fact each woman involved has heard it a million times. The nice thing about this is that the women usually tip their hands in advance.

It sometimes ends up with charts prepared for each woman player, but even then they don't "understand" why three of a kind beat two pair. They never fail to understand the rules of all the games, though, and will get a man told every time.

One thing about it, however, a woman's game is not for the faint of heart. The ladies are just as apt to sweeten the kitty as substantially on a pair as on four of a kind, and everytime you turn around someone has to match the pot for a rules infraction. Before the participants realize it, they are competing for pretty high stakes.

All in all it takes a pretty brave man to venture into this new type of corrupt poker. The women will skin them every time.

Political Playback

Ernest O. Thompson is a man of many titles. Youngest lieutenant colonel in Pershing's AEF, later lieutenant general.

Boy mayor of Amarillo, daddy of oil prorator, chairman of the Railroad Commission.

He earned the right to use another title: Piggyback prophet.

Fifteen years back, Ernest Thompson forecast that someday the railroads would pick up enormous tonnage by hauling loaded motortruck trailers on rail flat cars. There were polite smiles and some snickers.

In July, 1954 the ICC approved rates on loaded trailer rail shipment, and several railroads began the operation.

For the truck lines, this innovation, foreseen so far by a Texan, this meant freeing the trucks themselves for handling pickup and delivery. For shippers, it meant a saving in time and cost of at least two loadings and unloadings, and the serious time-lag involved.

Piggyback rail traffic, loaded trailers ready to be hooked up for quick delivery after long-distance rail haul, became a fact.

Back in the early '20s, there was a tall, raw-boned Texan, well known to everybody in public life. He was Fisher Alsup.

I don't know his background of newspaper or political writing. I have him under the indiscriminate label of "publicist."

In Pat Neff's race for governor, one of the sensational issues was the falsification of Neff's age, in the traditional birth-and-death registry, in an old Bible. It was photostated and used in the campaign. The practical effect was to accuse Neff of being a World War I draft evader.

Alsup was accused, prosecuted and convicted of this, and given a sentence.

Neff didn't believe in pardons, and granted very few, no matter, toward the end of Alsup's term, he turned Alsup loose.

The deeply graven lines on Alsup's face seemed to reflect great and ineradicable sorrow. But Alsup's spirit was unbroken.

This is an authenticated bit of the tradition of the old Driskill Hotel in Austin, headquarters for politicians for three-quarters of a century.

Alsup and a crony registered at the hotel; sat up until mid-morning to swap political yarns. Alsup roused the sleeping hotel manager, and told him:

"This is a double room. We're paying the full rate you asked. We know our rights. There ain't but one radio in this room. You send up the other one right away."

'Mixed Melange' Is Phrase For Mr. Bromfield's Malabar Farm

MALABAR FARM, Lucas, Ohio — It wouldn't surprise me if the single most important contribution to agriculture to develop out of all the experimentation here would be the perfection of seed and plants capable of fighting back.

In view of the numbers of persons from all over the world who continue to pour over Malabar, the better to study its agricultural triumphs, the more I marvel that anything comes up, much less lives to survive the constant scrutiny and the boots, boots, boots, boots.

Such seeds and plants may be just around the corner of the barn, for the Malabar harvest is in and it is bumper. And Louis Bromfield, who started it all 14 years ago, looks as smug as a man who has beaten at least one of his typewriters into a Graham puller.

(I have been coming here long enough to know that "mold board plow" are dirty words and any reference to such may cause the luckless guests to be tossed out into the snow. If, as at present, there is no snow, the management keeps a reserve supply on hand for mold-board-plow emergencies.)

The more Malabar changes, the more it is the same. It still combines the unique features of a working farm, an agricultural experiment station, an ASPCA shelter, the Salzburg Festival, Grand Hotel and a literary Kaffeeklatsch.

The phrase, "mixed melange," really applies. Malabar is still swamped with guests, invited and uninvited. The boxers still have right of eminent domain and still operate under the impression they are lap dogs.

The easiest method of acquiring a chair for sitting purposes is to make a secret agreement with one of the dogs that he get out of a chair and permit you to sit down. If you—in turn—will hold him. The boxers are large and affectionate and the arrangement is not bad after the first 30 minutes, when numbness sets in under the weight of Rex or Sophie or Rocky.

The record player distributes classical music through the house at all hours. This is pleasant and soothing at such times as the master is in the fields and not in the house singing all the parts in, say, "Carmen."

This is still no place for a man or woman on a diet. Now as in the past, when the dinner bell summons us to dinner and supper, I note that we free loaders almost kill each other in the rush to the dining room and the substantial meals turned out by Reba, the dream cook.

It is no effort to keep us city slickers down on the farm after such a dinner as we had today: roast beef, mashed potatoes swimming in butter (and gravy), broccoli and cauliflower with hollandaise sauce, a mixed-green salad specked with sweet, sharp onions, and an apple pie fit for the gods.

My wheelbarrow was abandoned yesterday and it is now obvious that my skirt bands will either have to give or go.

AFL Chiefs Endorse Program For Trinity

Associated Press Sports Writer
The proposed Trinity River Authority of Texas and farm and industrial development of the Trinity basin has received backing of top officials of the Texas State Federation of Labor (AFL).
And in Waco, some 150 farmers and ranchers formed the Texas Assn. of Watershed Groups.

The two developments were the latest in a growing effort to solve the state's water problems.
In Fort Worth, Leroy M. Williams, Texas State Federation of Labor president from Houston, and Jerry R. Holleman, the TSFL's executive secretary from Austin, expressed enthusiasm for the Trinity River Authority and its program.

Individual Efforts For States Rights Sought By Shivers

PHOENIX (AP)—A demonstration of individual efforts to preserve political freedom was urged last night by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

The governor spoke at an annual dinner which precedes the Arizona National Livestock Show.
Shivers said such a demonstration of individual effort was made by pioneers who settled the Southwest.

"When their freedom was threatened, they did not depend on someone else to fight the Indians.
"It will take hard work to preserve the freedom of the individual and the freedom of our states.

"Our states cannot alone do the job. We must have the help of the people throughout the country. We must fight as hard for the principles of states rights as our opposition is fighting for power."

West Texas Stock Auction Report Due

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Livestock auction sales in 11 West Texas cities are to be covered by the federal-state market reporting service beginning about Nov. 15.
The Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, has announced this new service is to get under way as soon as facilities are set up.

The auction sales report will cover activities of 18 livestock sales each week in San Angelo, Abilene, Brownwood, Lamesa, Lubbock, Colorado City, Big Spring, Eastland, Goldthwaite, Wichita Falls and Vernon.

Plane's Wreckage Is Sighted In Alps

NICE, France (AP)—The wreckage of a plane believed to be that of a U.S. Air Force C47 missing since Sunday was discovered in the French Alps north of here today by a searching helicopter.
A plane disappeared on a flight from Rome to Lyon, France, Sunday afternoon. It was carrying 15 passengers and a crew of six, all American Air Force personnel based at Manonville, England.
One of the U.S. helicopters participating in the hunt made forced landing on the Italian side of the mountainous frontier.

Two Denver Boys Die In Train-Auto Mishap

DENVER, (AP)—Two Denver boys died and their parents, two sisters and a brother were injured seriously last night when their car collided with a Rock Island Railroad freight train.
Killed in the crash on the northeast Denver outskirts was Richard Begler, 9. His brother, William, 6, died an hour later at a hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad G. Begler and their three other children, Shirley Ann, 11, Carol Diana, 8, and James, 13, were injured.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

THE HAGUE (AP)—In my dictionary of the English language, the "capital" of a country is defined as "the seat of government." This definition may have been missed by the makers of a prominent American almanac, the volume bearing the 1954 date) says that Amsterdam is the capital of Holland, but the Hague is the seat of government.
Despite the seeming mistake, almost anyone in Holland would agree with the statements in that almanac. Even in the Hague some of the residents are willing to honor Amsterdam by calling it the capital whether or not it is so marked in geography books.
Springing to an Amsterdam hotel manager, I said:

Sixth Fireman Dies From Blast Injuries

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sixth fireman died today from injuries suffered in the blast in the rear of a chemical plant yesterday which killed three fire officials and two other firemen.
The latest victim was James Doyle, 32. He had suffered second and third degree burns of 40 percent of his body.
Authorities probed the cause of the blast. City officials ordered flags at police and fire stations flown at half mast for 30 days.

To Vote On Controls

TOPEKAN, Kan. (AP)—A proposal that the Kansas Farmers Union go on record in favor of bushels or pounds instead of acres as a basis for farm marketing controls will be submitted to the organization's membership today.

Hagler Turns 37, Spends Birthday In Ft. Worth Jail

FORT WORTH (AP)—David Fred Hagler Jr. spent his 37th birthday in Tarrant County's jail today, fretting because $20,000 bond in his behalf could not be made.
Hagler is charged with murder in a baffling torch slaying near Davis, Okla., in which the victim is still unidentified after nearly three weeks.

The $20,000 bond is on an appeal of Hagler's extradition to Oklahoma to face trial for the slaying. Meanwhile the hunt for clues to the identity of the murder victim, thought at first to be Hagler himself, turned toward Europe, particularly France and Germany.
The charred body was found Oct. 10 in a station wagon which Hagler earlier had borrowed from his former wife.

He admitted being in Oklahoma the weekend of the slaying but said an extended drinking bout fogged his memory.
The present queen and her husband have four children. All of them are girls!

After the note on the royal palace in Amsterdam, let me add that the Hague also has a large royal palace. Instead of spending many days in either place, however, the queen and her family live in a rural area more than half of the time.
Tomorrow: Interesting Maid.

Lamb County Does Well On Corn Crop

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (AP)—Recent results with corn on irrigated acreage in Lamb County has brought yields that have attracted prospective land buyers. Lamb County Agent Dave Eaton said he believed a corn crop averaging 204.3 bushels an acre in the Pleasant Valley community may have broken the Texas corn production record.

Civil Defense Centers Slated For Southwest

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—With the moan of air raid sirens as background, 300 delegates today mulled over the immensely complex business of civil defense in an atomic age.

Emphasis at the third annual conference of the United States Civil Defense Council was on the developing art of swiftly evacuating a city threatened by atomic attack.

Systems set up to give advance warning of any approaching enemy bombers were outlined yesterday by Air Force Maj. Gen. J. V. Crabb, commander Central Air Defense, headquarters at Grandview, Mo.

Gen. Crabb told the crowd that "sky watch" posts that will need at least 100,000 volunteer workers are planned for the nation's southwest.

The Gulf states, and their neighbors, lie across a potential bomber route heretofore relatively unguarded. Similar networks have long been maintained around the nation's northern perimeter—the side closest to Russia.

Crabb said 17 filter centers (clearing agencies for receiving, plotting and relaying information on aircraft movements) probably will be set up by Jan. 1.

Each center would handle about 200 observation posts. States involved are: Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Louisiana, Utah, Arkansas and Kansas—and parts of Tennessee and Florida.

Maj. M. C. Des Voignes, Nashville, state coordinator for the Ground Observer Corps, said each center would require about 1,000 volunteers. Each post will need at least 25—more if watch is kept on 24-hour basis.

Target date for starting operations and training is July 1.

'Sweet Tooth' Gets Blame For Cavities At Dietetic Meeting

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Americans consume 100 pounds of sugar per person a year and that giant sweet tooth "causes a sour tooth of equally gigantic proportions," a dental expert said yesterday.

"The sour acids of tooth decay affect 95 per cent of our population," said Dr. Paul E. Boyle, professor of oral histology and pathology at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry.

Wayland College Dean To Speak Sunday At First Baptist Church

Dean Bryan Robinson of Wayland College, Plainview, will be guest speaker at First Baptist Church Sunday for two services.

DEAN ROBINSON

Robinson, who has been dean of students and in charge of the counseling program at Wayland College since the fall of 1953, is a graduate of Baylor University and of Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth. The Dignity of Work

BLESSINGS ATTEND HONEST LABOR; EVILS FOLLOW INDOLIGENCE

Scripture—Proverbs 6:6-11; 18:24, 27; 22:12; 24:30; 25:12; 28:9; 24:30-34.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. IN THE VERSES assigned for today's lesson, Solomon gives his views of the ever-present question of work versus indolence. We read in our newspapers too often about men who would rather rob than work and earn an honest living. Why do they commit crime rather than work?

It may seem like "easy money," but what a life such people must live—always in fear that they will find themselves in prison; never able to look their fellow citizens in the face; disgracing not only themselves, but their families.

Does the child who is given good marks in school but has copied a schoolmate's paper, feel happy about it? What of the child who secretly takes money from mother's purse, or from the desks of schoolmates? Does such a one enjoy spending money so gotten? The answer, of course, is no.

On the other hand, the man, woman or child, who performs a good, honest piece of work—no matter what it is—feels a glow of satisfaction and contentment. All living creatures work to get their food, to build their nests, to care for their young. Solomon suggests that a lazy man study the habits of that industrious little creature, the ant, as he saw him in Palestine:

"Blest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before moon men."—Proverbs 22:29.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise; which, having no guide, overseer, or ruler, provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest." "How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep; so shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man."

There are persons who feel that, as the saying goes, they are "square pegs in round holes." meaning, of course, that they are not employed in congenial work or work for which they are fitted. Even so, if, while they must earn a livelihood by doing such work, for a time, if they do a good job, they can feel proud of their efforts.

Poverty certainly follows the person who is too indolent to work. We all have known a few such persons—the man who fails to provide for his family because he will not work steadily; the woman who takes no pride in keeping her home neat and refuses to learn to cook well and plan so that her family is given the right type of food to keep them healthy; they are comparatively few, we are glad to say.

Again: "The hand of the diligent shall bear rule, but the slothful shall be under tribute." Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

AMAZING RESULTS

Old Snakeroot Remedy Brings Hope To Insane

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN CHICAGO (AP)—A research team today reported "dramatic" and seemingly "incredible" results in treating "hopelessly" insane patients with a new form of an old snakeroot remedy from India.

They said the drug, reserpine, brought improvement in 80 per cent of the 74 "back ward" mental hospital patients they treated. Eight have been discharged and 20 others have become so much better with continued use of the drug that they may be sent home on leaves of absence.

Reserpine also appeared to help mentally retarded patients. The doctors said reserpine should not be regarded as a "panacea in the treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded." However, if further studies bear out their results, they added, "reserpine will be the most important therapeutic development in the history of psychiatry."

They said they expect it to revolutionize present psychiatric treatment. They added they believe reserpine can be substituted as superior (or the often-feared electroconvulsive shock treatments) in 75 per cent of mental cases.

Reserpine is a chemically pure derivative of rauwolfia serpentina. This Indian plant has been used for centuries in the treatment of mental illness, insomnia, snake bite, anxiety states and other conditions. Lately, it has been found effective in lowering blood pressure in hypertensive patients.

The team of American physicians, Drs. Robert H. Noyce and David B. Williams of Modesto, Calif., and Walter Rapaport of Sacramento, investigated reserpine because of recent enthusiastic reports from India on its effectiveness in mental illness.

U. S. Auto Deaths Continue To Drop

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States, for the ninth straight month, showed a decrease in September, says the National Safety Council.

"Not since the early years of World War II when gasoline rationing went into effect, has there been an unbroken string of reductions for the first nine months of any year," the Council said yesterday in reporting 25,770 traffic deaths for the first nine months of 1954. This was a reduction of 8 per cent from the corresponding period of 1953.

Attress Dies While Emoting In Picture SABADELL, Spain (AP)—Spanish actress Mercedes Alda was killed here today while making a movie entitled "What Never Dies."

She was struck by the propeller of a plane she was to board in acting out her role.

Man Awakens Wife, Says Goodbye, Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Andrew E. Kelley, 64, ill for several years, awakened his wife, Charlotte, yesterday and told her he was going to die.

"I wanted to say goodbye to you first," he told her. Then he clutched his rosary, murmured "God was good to me," turned his head and died, Mrs. Kelley said.

GI Is Honored

Prepare Your Plants For Unusual Weather

In the past few years, abnormal weather in many parts of the country has become the usual occurrence. In general, large areas of the country have been warmer, while numerous areas have experienced more extensive droughts.

It is easy to protect prize trees and shrubs on your property from unusual weather conditions while the steps recommended can't harm plants no matter what kind of weather is experienced, says the American Association of Nurserymen. These steps are as follows:

1. If there is insufficient natural rainfall, thoroughly soak the ground around the roots of all established plants on your property at least every two weeks.
2. A mulch of peat moss or other porous, organic material will help to keep plants from drying out quickly in periods of drought. Mulch your shrubs well.
3. Roses, azaleas and many other flowering shrubs will perform better with a mulch three or four inches thick. Where there are strong winter and early spring winds, if the shrubs are the least bit tender, protect the plants themselves with salt hay or similar material.
4. Water, even in the fall and winter months, if there is a lack of natural precipitation. Plants need water during these months even though they may be dormant. It helps them to survive severe winter conditions of both wind and drought.

These few precautions will keep your trees and shrubs healthier under the most trying conditions. Some new plantings may require partial shade. A full year of perfect weather for plants is practically unheard of but simple all-year care will prevent loss. Improper care is by far the most severe handicap of home plants today.

'The City' Studied By Forsan WSCS

FORSAN — The WSCS of the Forsan Methodist Church had charge of the program after the supper on Family night Monday. To close the first study of the year the WSCS presented a mock TV and radio program with Mrs. Glen Whittenberg as the leader.

Mrs. Lula V. C. Mitchell gave a book review of "Man and God in the City," using as her worship center a street map of a large city in the United States, showing the areas from "Exclusiva" to the "Point of No Return" in the slums.

"Radio" reports were given from the WSCS in New York by Mrs. L. B. McElrath; of an outdoor drive-in church service from Providence, R. I., by Mrs. H. H. Story; of a Christian Fellowship Communion in which the congregations of a Negro and white Methodist Church joined together in the Lord's Supper, a year before the Supreme Court decision.

A report from Tulsa, Okla., was by Mrs. L. B. McElrath, of the Church Mission, "Two by Two" to win all for Christ; from Evanston, Ill., and New York by Mrs. R. C. Nixon, of the World Council of Churches, and the National Council of Church on the Refugee program of the Churches; from Forsan, by Mrs. Henry Nixon, on the mission program of the Forsan Methodist Church, for a "Visitation Training and Mission" to the people of Forsan and vicinity.

Mrs. Nixon also told of the projects of the Forsan WSCS: help for the people of Korea, and the mission at Adlene.

Barbara Blair opened the program by singing "The Holy City," accompanied by May Lou McElrath on the piano.

Baptist Circle Meets In Theime Home

FORSAN — The Willie May Kennedy Circle of the Baptist Church met Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Frank Theime. "Love Lifted Me" was led by the song leader, Mrs. Sammie Porter. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Otis Adams. A mission study book, "Pilgrimage to Brazil" was taught by the mission study chairman, Mrs. Wayne Monroney.

"Sunbeams," sponsored by the Circle, include children from four to six years old, and will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of the month in the home of Mrs. Roy Klahr. The time is 3:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon.

The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Klahr, and a social period followed. Fifteen attended. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Bob Wash on Nov. 2.

Indoor Sports, Cheerio Clubs Have Halloween Party

Members of the Cheerio Club were guests of the Indoor Sports Club Thursday evening for a Halloween party at the Girl Scout Little House.

Guests were given Halloween caps as they arrived, and prizes were awarded for the tackiest costumes. Mrs. W. D. Wilbanks was the winner of the women's prize, and James Horton won the men's prize.

Plans were made for the annual Thanksgiving banquet for the club. The date is to be set later. The program for the next meeting, which will be Nov. 11, will be given by the B&PW Club.

The group voted to help the city fireman with their work in replacing toys for their Christmas boxes. About 30 attended the party.

BPO Does To Meet For Coffee Saturday

At the meeting of BPO Does Wednesday evening it was decided that the weekly coffee would be at the Elks Club Saturday morning at 9:00 and that the members would decorate at that time for the Halloween dance to be held Saturday night.

A box will be placed in the lodge for donations of food for a basket to be given a needy family at Thanksgiving.

The club will assist with the TB drive by addressing envelopes, it was announced.

Mrs. Pat Lehman was appointed assistant pianist. Mrs. Nell Zoder's name was called as winner of the attendance prize. She was absent and the prize will carry over.

After refreshments were served to the 14 members, they prepared gifts for a bingo party which they will sponsor for the women patients at the State Hospital next week.

Mrs. Grubbs And Daughter To Have Trip To England

Mrs. G. E. Grubbs and daughter, Linda, 4, will leave Fort Worth Monday on a flight to England where they will visit Mrs. Grubbs' parents and other relatives.

They expect to arrive in England Wednesday evening. The flight will take them by way of New York and Manchester to Stoke-on-Trent, home of Mrs. Grubbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Routledge.

Mrs. Grubbs and Linda last visited in England in 1951. They are to spend five months in Stoke-on-Trent, returning to Big Spring about April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Grubbs and their daughter are to go to Fort Worth Sunday where he will see them board a plane.

Elks Club Plans Halloween Dance

Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes for a man and a woman at the Halloween dance to be given by the Elks Club Saturday evening. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the lodge rooms in the Crawford Hotel.

An orchestra will furnish the music for the affair, which is open to members of the club and their guests.

Mr. Frazier Speaks For Altrusans

"We, of the United States, stand in the small group that has enough food," Bruce Frazier told the Altrusa Club at their luncheon meeting Thursday. "A majority of the peoples of the world do not have enough food for proper nourishment and growth."

Mr. Frazier spoke of how the various groups in the United Nations are trying to help conditions all over the world. He stressed the work of the foundations working for peace, among them, the World Health Organization, World Meteorological Organization and the Food and Agriculture Organization.

The program, a feature of the Guest Day in the club, was under the direction of Mrs. T. C. Thomas, chairman of the International Relations Committee. Guests were introduced by members, Mrs. Loyd Wooten read a pamphlet urging women to vote. It also brought in the importance of the constitutional amendment dealing with jury service for women.

The flag of the United States hung behind the speakers table, which was centered with a globe and flags of the U.N. About 40 were present for the meeting.

Park WSCS Observes Prayer Week

Observing the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, the WSCS of Park Methodist Church met Wednesday evening for a program with the theme, "Our All-Sufficient Help."

Mrs. Harold Pearce was leader. She opened the meeting with a call to worship. A silent meditation was held and then prayer was offered in union. Mrs. Pearce also talked on the "Deaconess Pension Fund."

Mrs. Olney Thurman spoke on "Christian Literature in India and Pakistan." She told of leadership training in those two countries.

Mrs. Pearce added information about rural and health work being done there.

Dedication of gifts was held. Following this Mrs. Ed Booth led a short business discussion. Ten members were present.

The next meeting will be a called meeting Nov. 2 in the home of Mrs. Pearce. There will be a business session and yearbook program at that time.

A group of Halloween candles such as these should add "witchery" to any table setting. As the wick burns down on the big fellow in the center, his face will light up from the candle within. By the way, no candle will burn as fast if it is kept in the refrigerator until it is almost frozen.

Candles Add Glamor To Special Occasions

By ANNE LEFEVER

It has been said that your way of setting a table is a key to your personality. For instance, you may still cling to using fine linen and Haviland china even though you have no maid to serve a formal dinner. Or you may serve the food in a slipshod manner using cracked dishes from the dime store.

Whatever your way of serving, there is always a time when your table might be dressed up with candles. Now table settings are very much in the limelight because of the fall teas and holidays, football parties, open houses and club entertainments. All these occasions give an opportunity to use some of the new candles on the market today.

For Halloween, there are candles made as goblin heads and witches, as well as cats and pumpkins.

Youth To Have Milk Fund Drive Halloween

GARDEN CITY — On Sunday night the youth of Garden City will knock at all homes for a Halloween "Trick or Treat." However, they will be asking for treats in the form of money which will enable the Christian Rural Overseas Program to send milk to the world's hungry at the rate of $20 worth of milk for every $1 collected.

The Youth Fellowship organization is sponsoring this drive and each young person will wear an official badge and carry a special marked carton.

Friendship Class

A jack-o-lantern decorated the table for a spaghetti dinner served at the home of Mrs. W. F. Taylor Thursday evening for members of the Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church. The pumpkin was based in an arrangement of Pyracantha and fruit and had a hat made of castor beans. Mrs. Woodrow Dowling gave the devotion and made a talk to the newly elected officers. Nine members attended.

Rubus Hardy Unger, 67, retired Howard County farmer, died in a hospital here Thursday night after a long illness.

Mr. Unger came here in 1928 and had been engaged in farming in the Ackery area, where he resided. He was active until ill health forced his retirement.

Services have been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Baptist Church in Knott with the Rev. Elbert Galloway, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park in Big Spring with the Eberley-River Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Unger is survived by his wife; two sons, Sgt. Jacob Walter Unger, who is stationed with the Air Force in England, and William Lee Unger, Richmond, Calif. He also leaves two grandchildren, a brother, Leroy Unger, Pittsburgh; three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Murphy, Big Spring, Mrs. Rhoda Shelton, Teague, and Mrs. Vera Mitchell, Tyler.

Parsons Woman Enters Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Mary Jean Parsons, Tulsa socialite, was fingerprinted, photographed and given educational and medical tests in the state prison for women today.

She entered quarantine at Goree Prison Farm last night after two unidentified men brought her here. One man said he was the young blonde's attorney.

Mrs. Parsons was convicted last year of murder in the fatal shooting of her bridegroom, Army Lt. Richard O. Parsons, formerly of Pleasantville, N.Y., in the couple's El Paso apartment.

Her case was tried at Wichita Falls on a change of venue and she was convicted and sentenced to 10 years in prison. The Court of Criminal Appeals issued a mandate in the case Wednesday. Previously the U. S. Supreme Court had refused a review and a state appeals court had refused to reverse the trial court decision.

Mrs. Parsons, who apparently drove here from her Tulsa home, carried one suitcase and several packages. She talked about what a nice town Huntsville is and about the cattle and trees in the community while she was being received at the prison.

In about a week, the daughter of a wealthy Tulsa oil well supply firm official will be assigned to work. Most women prisoners at Goree wear clothes and bedding for the prison system.

built a new home at 2814 Simondale Drive.

She is survived by her husband, L. E. Brown, Fort Worth; one son, Horace Garrett, Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Elsie Waters, Houston; one granddaughter, Ann Garrett, Big Spring; two nephews, R. L. Tollett, president of the Cosden Petroleum Corp., was among the pallbearers, and R. T. Piner and Ira Thurman of the First National Bank, which Mrs. Roberts headed many years, were among the honorary pallbearers.

Howard

Cosden No. 1 Simpson, 330 from west and 990 from north, 22-33-3n, T&P survey, has been flowing on tests for several days, but oil has been in varied amounts. The operator reports that it comes with no stabilized rate of flow. Various sized chokes have been used on tests. The tubing is now being pulled and a packer will be set in an attempt to stabilize the oil flow for completion.

Scherck, Smith and Cosden No. 1 Wright, C NE NE, 32-33-3n, T&P survey, is at 5,538 feet in lime and shale.

Sun No. 1 Simpson, C SE SE, 46-32-3n, T&P survey, is being prepared by operator for drilling around the fish which has not been recovered during past two weeks. A whipstock is now being set.

Ada No. 1 Wright, C SE SW, 41-33-3n, T&P survey, bored to 7,300 feet in shale and sand.

Mitchell

Continental No. 1 Ellwood, C NE SW, 41-17-SPRR survey, bored to 6,682 feet in lime and shale.

Nolan

A. W. and Blair Cherry No. 1 Mary Earwood, C NW NW, 259-64-HATC survey, reached 5,311 feet in lime and shale. Location is one and a half miles east of the EA (multipay) field.

Scurry

Union No. 1 M. L. Simmons, C NE SE, 138-2-HATC survey, is drilling below 5,793 feet in lime and shale.

Sterling

Continental No. 1 F. H. French, C NW SE, 97-6-HATC survey, took a drillstem test in the Permian lime from 1,499 to 1,650 feet with the tool open two hours and 32 minutes. Recovery was 345 feet of drilling mud, 360 feet of muddy salty sulphur water and 513 feet of shaly sulphur water. There were no shows and operator is drilling about 1,775 feet in lime and dolomite.

Roof Damaged In Residential Fire

Small damage to the roof resulted from a fire at 1209 West 2nd Street about noon yesterday. The fire was caused by the hot water heater, firemen said. Geary Thornton resides in the house.

A truck wheel bearing burned in the 200 block of Gregg Street yesterday, and the fire department was called to extinguish the fire. W. R. Miller of Houston was driver of the truck.

Chamber Meet Set

Regular meeting of the board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday at noon. The dinner meeting will be held in the Chamber offices in the Permian Building, said J. H. Greene, manager.

said, the government—with the White House Republican for the next two years—will wind up "in a hopeless jam." He added: "Let's all of us—yours and I—let's roll up our sleeves and go harder to work—for a stronger America, good government and a world at peace. Let's have another Republican-led Congress."

The Chief Executive arranged to take off from Washington's National Airport at 7:25 a.m. EST on today's swift 12-hour aerial campaign tour to Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Ky., and Wilmington, Del.

He was scheduled to speak at Cleveland's Municipal Airport, in Detroit's downtown Cadillac Square, at the Louisville Airport and at New Castle Airport in Wilmington.

In all four states there are key contests for U. S. Senate seats with Republicans in hard fought battles against Democratic opponents. Fifty House seats also are at stake, and Michigan and Ohio are electing governors.

The Michigan race pits Sen. Homer Ferguson, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, against a hard challenging Democratic opponent, Patrick V. McNamara.

The Kentucky Senate contestants are former Senator and Vice President Alben W. Barkley, a Democrat, and GOP Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

In Delaware, Democratic Sen. J. Allen Frear Jr. is bidding for reelection in a race with Republican Rep. Herbert B. Warburton.

In his address last night the President called on the Eisenhower Citizens Committee to work up "the same enthusiasm and fervor with which we burned two years ago." He said that means "talking to your neighbors, using the telephone, ringing doorbells" to get out the vote.

The Chief Executive's address was perhaps his hardest hitting of the campaign in dealing with what he called the dangers of a politically divided government.

He said he was neither exaggerating nor accusing on "his score, but that means talking to your neighbors, using the telephone, ringing doorbells" to get out the vote.

Ex-FHA Official Draws Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clyde L. Powell, ousted assistant federal housing commissioner, was sentenced today to serve a year in jail for criminal contempt of court.

The sentence was passed by U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who ruled that Powell had "willfully, deliberately and contumaciously" disobeyed his order that Powell answer specific questions put to him by a federal grand jury.

The grand jury is investigating charges of bribery and misconduct in the Federal Housing Administration. Powell had charge of a multimillion-dollar mortgage program which has been under fire.

The 58-year-old former official was discharged from his job at the start of the investigation of housing scandals.

Judge Letts, after passing sentence, turned down a plea by Daniel B. Maher, Powell's lawyer, that Powell be allowed liberty pending an appeal. He also refused to delay execution of the sentence until Maher could file a petition with the U. S. Court of Appeals.

The sentences Powell refused to answer before the grand jury drew with whether he had removed official papers from his FHA office.

Cool Front Hits Texas

A new cool front sped out through Texas Friday, but unlike one that passed through earlier in the week, it brought no rain.

It was clear and nippy over the northern half of the state, and the front was expected to bring cooler weather to all of Texas by Friday night.

In East Texas, the Sabine River, fed by recent rains, was still on the rise. At Gladewater, the river stood at 23.25 feet, still short of the 25-foot flood stage.

Long experience with Sabine floods is expected to keep damage at a minimum as the river approaches a predicted 35-foot crest at Gladewater early next week. The river rose 1.25 feet overnight.

High natural levees protect Gladewater, which lies a half mile from the river's channel, and live-stock have been taken from threatened lowland areas.

Two Report Loss Of Auto Hub Caps

Two people reported to police Thursday that hub caps from their automobiles had been stolen.

Mildred Baker, 405 Mesquite, said that two hub caps were taken from her 1952 Ford while it was parked in front of Howard County Junior College Wednesday evening. J. C. Hammock, 1708 Lancaster, said that the hub caps were taken from his 1952 Plymouth while the vehicle was parked at his home.

MARCUS HAYWORTH

Pvt. Gerral H. Fehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fehler, 404 Benton, is taking his eight weeks basic training at Ft. Bliss, near El Paso.

Upon completion of basic training he will be assigned to another training organization for specialized instruction. He is now a member of Battery C, 15th Training Battalion, AARTC.

First Lt. Edwin Mullett Jr. of Big Spring recently received his commission in the regular Army. The son of Mrs. M. B. Mullett, 215 Wills, he is serving as commanding officer of Company B, Second Chemical Weapons Battalion at Dugway Proving Ground, Utah. His wife is the former Billie Marie Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrison, 1809 W. 3rd.

Mullett graduated from Big Spring High School in 1942 and entered the Army late in 1943. He served two years in the South Pacific Theatre, was discharged from the service in 1946 and graduated from Texas Western College in 1950. After teaching at Ysleta High School for one year, he re-entered the Army as a reserve officer.

Pvt. Tex E. Stallings, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stallings of Knott, recently began eight weeks of Army basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

He will spend his first eight weeks of basic military training on fundamental subjects such as rifle, machine gun, bazooka marksmanship and familiarization with Army technical subjects.

BLASTS NIXON

Adlai Chides Eisenhower On Reds-In-Capital Issue

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson chided President Eisenhower last night for the use of the Communists-in-government issue by Vice President Nixon and other Republicans in the current campaign.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate remarked that "a singular thing happened" at Eisenhower's conference Wednesday in Washington, when the President said he did not know about Republicans' use of the "communism" issue.

"Surely this must be the first time in history that the President, the leader of his political party, doesn't even know, let alone influence, his party's campaign," Stevenson said. "Surely this must be the first time in history that the President and the vice president of the United States aren't speaking terms."

Speaking before a crowd at the Trenton War Memorial Building, Stevenson said Eisenhower predicted last year that the campaign issue would be the record of the administration rather than Communism in government.

"But what happened?" Stevenson asked.

"In New York, Messrs. (Thomas E.) Dewey and (Irving M.) Ives charged Averell Harriman, with decency and corruption; in Illinois the Republicans are charging a great senator, Paul Douglas, who almost died fighting for his country at Okinawa, with Communist affiliations in Wyoming and Colorado the Republicans publish ads suggesting that the Democratic candidates are Reds and are serving foreign governments."

Stevenson said the pattern was the same throughout the country. "And he said the President's favorite campaigner, the heir apparent, the chief of staff—the vice president of the United States, Mr.

Nixon — is the leader of it all."

Stevenson's speech here, telecast in the metropolitan area, followed a day of campaigning in behalf of the Democratic nominee for U. S. senator from New Jersey, Rep. Charles R. Howell.

Stevenson called for the election of a Democratic Congress next Tuesday as a means of checking "the tendency of the last two years to separate the United States from our allies in world affairs," of restoring "the dignity of congressional investigation," and of strengthening "the atmosphere of individual freedom."

As for the Eisenhower program, Stevenson said that where it has been "responsible and constructive, it has not only received unstinting Democratic support, but that support has in many crucial cases provided the President his margin of victory."

"This would strongly suggest," he declared, "that a Democratic majority in the Congress could be trusted to support the President on basic questions of security and welfare."

Stevenson described as "singularly unrealistic and ungrateful" what he said was Eisenhower's prediction of a political "cold war" if Democrats gain control of Congress.

UF DRIVE

reach 50 per cent, he thought.

Another general report is set for next Tuesday and workers are hoping they can announce the drive is "over the top" on that occasion.

On making the report at United Fund headquarters this morning, both Pate and Brazel pointed out that cooperation in support of community welfare and similar projects is a vital part of labor's policy. Brazel cited a resolution passed by the executive board of the Texas State Federation of Labor in Austin early this month.

The resolution states: "Members of American Federation of Labor unions in Texas, as elsewhere, are keenly aware of their responsibility in contributing to the betterment of their local communities and their nation. We know that this year, as in the past, members of organized labor in Texas will be among those actively working for and supporting the United Fund and Community Chest campaigns. That active participation of representatives of organized labor is concrete evidence of our belief in these important drives. We of the AF of L have found 'federation' to be a great source of strength, and that same type of 'federation' is found in the combined programs of many agencies working through United Funds or Community Chests.

"We therefore urge upon the 300,000 members of the AF of L unions in Texas continued and increased support so that these important campaigns will go over the top from one end of Texas to the other."

Alfred (Tunney) Goodson of Big Spring is a member of the executive group which adopted the resolution.

who reduced the young soldier's life sentence to 20 years.

But Batchelor's civilian attorney, Joel Westbrook of San Antonio, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Batchelor of Kermit, said they were not satisfied.

"The decision is like cutting off a man's head at the eyebrows instead of at the neck," Westbrook commented. "It still kills him."

Mrs. Batchelor in Kermit said she would continue to work for her son's freedom. "We will be satisfied with nothing else," she said.

Batchelor's case still will be reviewed by a board appointed by the Army's Judge Advocate General.

James Stiff, 37, Former Resident, Dies In Lubbock

LUBBOCK (SC) — Requite Mass for James H. Stiff, former Big Spring resident who died in Lubbock about 10:15 p.m. Wednesday, is to be held at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial Park under the direction of McDonald Funeral Chapel.

Stiff, 37, was stricken shortly after returning home from a Knights of Columbus meeting. He was a member both of that organization and the Lions Club.

He moved to Lubbock from Big Spring in 1944 to accept a position with radio station KYFO. He later worked for station KCBQ but resigned in June, 1952, to make a successful bid for the job as county treasurer, a job he held at his death.

He was unopposed in his bid for a second term in the July Democratic primary.

Stiff, who had been confined to a wheel chair following a football injury suffered in high school here, was stricken just as he entered the door of his home in Lubbock.

Stiff was born in Dallas and lived in and near McKinney until 1927, when he moved with his parents to Big Spring. He graduated from the local high school in 1936.

Though he spent his last years in a wheel chair, he could drive his own car. Friends disclosed he had been under treatment for a heart condition for some time.

Stiff attended the University of Texas from 1929 until 1942, financing his education with employment on the campus.

He worked at radio station KBST for a time after leaving school until he moved to Lubbock in 1944. Survivors include his wife, Esther; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. (two brothers, John, of Irving; and Jack, Hamford, Calif.

Jimmie White Gets USAF Commission

Jimmie C. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White, has been appointed a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Medical Service Administration.

A 1954 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University with a major in business administration and a double minor in economics and science, Lt. White entered the Air Force June 28 in an enlisted capacity. He recently completed his basic training at Lackland AFB.

Currently he is enroute to Gunter AFB at Montgomery, Ala. to undergo a 16-week period of intensive training.

The direct commission was tendered to Lt. White by the USAF Headquarters MSA in Washington, D. C. As a field specialist appointment, he will not be required to attend OCS.

In high school experience here Lt. White was active in 4-H Club work. At Hardin-Simmons he was active in many extra-curricular fields and had the leading role in several campus drama productions.

Tax Discount Limit Is Sunday Midnight

Taxing agencies in Big Spring, Coahoma and Foran issued last minute warnings Friday that the deadline for maximum discounts on tax payments comes up Sunday midnight.

The three per cent discount offered by the Big Spring Independent School District, the Coahoma Independent School District, and the one per cent discount offered by the Foran Independent School District all expire with October. The county and state taxes carry the discount for 90 days prior to the Jan. 31, 1955, deadline.

Robert A. Weaver, 72, Dies Friday

Robert Arthur Weaver, 72, died in a hospital here early Friday morning.

Mr. Weaver had served as a cook in several cafes in Big Spring over a number of years.

Mr. Weaver leaves his wife; two sons, Robert George Weaver and Tommy Weaver, Big Spring, one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Wilkerson, Big Spring; four grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Beulah Morrison. Among other survivors are two nieces, Mrs. H. O. Hudgins and Mrs. Grady Harland.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Eberley-River Chapel with the Rev. C. O. Wiley officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Clyde Nichols and interment will be in the family plot at Stanton.

Probation Is Revoked For Big Spring Negro

Herman Lee Johnson, Big Spring Negro, will have to serve the two-year prison sentence he was assessed in September when he pleaded guilty to burglary.

The sentence was probated at the time, but Johnson was again charged with burglary on Oct. 11. District Judge Charles Sullivan this morning revoked the probation after the defendant admitted he had entered a northside residence.

ABSENTEE VOTE TOTAL HITS 36

The absentee vote total reached 36 here this morning as deadline approached for absentee voting in the general election, to be held next Tuesday.

Last opportunity to vote absentee was to be at 5 p.m. today, when the county clerk's office closes.

Seven Charged In County Court

Charges have been filed against seven persons in County Court and two this morning entered pleas of not guilty.

Bond of $500 each was set for Raul Pas and Juan Garza, who pleaded not guilty to charges of "procuring."

E. L. Barber was charged with committing an aggravated assault on John W. Oakes at the Atomic Cafe on Monday night.

T. S. James, W. E. Evans, Leon Sanders and B. H. Smith each was charged with defrauding with worthless check.

Two In Custody To Be Transferred

Two Negro men were to be transferred from Howard County jail to the custody of Martin County authorities today.

They were arrested by officers of the local sheriff's department last night. The Martin County sheriff's office said they will be charged with theft.

Standing Room Tickets Sold For 4-AA Tilt

COLORADO CITY — It will be "Standing Room Only" here tonight when the Colorado City Wolves tangle with the Stamford Bulldogs in a game which should determine the district champion. Though both teams play two more district opponents, the winner of Friday night's game will be heavily favored to represent district 4AA.

Superintendent Ed Williams said Thursday that all available seats had been sold, with 1,160 going to Stamford. The Wolf bowl seats 4,000. Tickets for standing room were printed this week and are now being sold.

The game has been designated as Homecoming for CHS execs and registration and a reception will be held at the high school from 8 to 9 p.m.

The Student Council and Quarterback Club are sponsoring the event and a Homecoming Queen, already selected in a secret ballot, will be presented between halves at the game. Walt Grubbs, Quarterback Club president, will present the queen with her crown. All ex-students have been invited to a Saturday morning meeting at the high school to organize an alumni organization.

Stamford fans, pep squad and band, arriving on a special train at 4:30 Friday afternoon will be met at the depot by Quarterback Club members and transported to the stadium. James E. Payne is chairman of the welcoming committee.

Coach Dillard Adair said Thursday that his starting team is crippled for the Stamford game.

The strength of the Wolf squad has been sapped by injuries to several key men, and three first stringers did not play against Hamlin last week. Aris Parkhurst, center, and Bud Windham and Billy Bridgford, backs, drew bench duty against Hamlin, with Parkhurst injured in practice and the two backs against the Andrews team the previous week.

Tommie Jamison, another top back has been able to play only a few minutes.

All may see service but Adair said that he didn't know how long they would be able to play.

Snyder Teams Beat Locals

Snyder teams took the measure of local eleven in football games played at Steer Stadium Thursday night.

The Eighth Grade Yearlings lost a 34-7 verdict to the Snyder C team after the Seventh Graders had yielded, 12-6.

Wayne Fields scored on a 15-yard jaunt for Big Spring in the Eighth Grade game, going over in the third quarter. Jimmy Whitefield made the extra point.

Fem Field Reaches Quarter-Finals

FORT WORTH (AP)—Five sharp-shooting pros and three hardy amateurs battled it out today in the 19th annual Women's Texas Open Golf Tournament.

Quarterfinal play was over the 6,788-yard layout of the River Crest Country Club here.

Left in the tournament as the contest reached the quarterfinals were professionals Betty MacKinnon, Savannah, Ga.; Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C.; Betty Dodd and Betty Jameson, both of San Antonio, Tex.; and Betty Hicks, Manhattan Beach, Calif.; plus amateurs Polly Riley, Fort Worth; Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth; and Mrs. William Harston of Dallas.

Longhorns Shoot The Works In Levelland Tilt Tonight

Lobos Boast Fine Record

TEAM RECORDS		LEVELLAND

15 Stephens	4-13	11 Lind	10-10
16 Yelton	4-13	12 Phillips	10-10

18 Vernon	4-13	14 Lamesa	10-10
19 P'view	4-13	15 Breckenr.	10-10
20 Total	41-171	16 Total	41-171

The jury is not yet in on the Big Spring Steers, but a verdict will, no doubt, be returned tonight on whether the locals can stand the pace in District 1-AAA football.

Carl Coleman's Longhorns, five times winners and tied once in games to date, get their biggest assignment of the 1954 campaign in Levelland tonight at 8 o'clock.

If the Longhorns lose this one, and they are the underdogs in the eyes of many observers, they will leave the center ring to Levelland, Breckenridge and possibly Sweetwater.

Should they win, they will have not only cooled off the conference's hottest club but stayed in the thick of the fight for first place, in the bargain.

The Steers will pit their thunderous running game against the all-around brilliance of Levelland. The Lobos, under-rated since the beginning of the season, can run with the ball. They can pass. And, as was the case last week, they can let the other team make the mistakes and then score.

Levelland, coached by Johnny Hickman, boasts a big, mobile line built around a raging terminal named Gary Lawhorn. Gary was breathing fire and brimstone in last weekend's game against highly touted Breckenridge, which resulted in a 13-13 tie.

Mac Freeman makes the Levelland Split T percolate as the "man under." Freeman is a fine runner but, more important still, he is a deadly passer.

He is due to try and shoot the Steer defense full of holes with short aerials tonight.

Frosty Robison is ready for Big Spring, which means the Lobos must get set to halt a murderous running game. Robison, all-state last year and running better than ever this season, is the league's leading scorer and top rusher.

He has plenty of help from such individuals as Brick Johnson, who may be set to play his greatest game; Tommy McAdams, Jerry Barron, Ronnie Wooten and others.

The two lines shape up about evenly. Big Spring will have a slightly bigger primary.

Both clubs have been scored against often. As a matter of fact, each has yielded at least one touchdown in every game.

Big Spring has yet to suffer defeat but Levelland was surprised by Phillips, an AA school, several weeks ago. That was no disgrace, since the Blackhaws are supposed to have one of the very best teams in Texas.

The Steers looked to best advantage against hapless Plainview last week, after being tied by Vernon the week before.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A former Breckenridge resident, now residing here, passed the word along to the Breckenridge paper that football interest doesn't seem to be very high here. How answer we?

Johnny Hickman, head coach of the Levelland team that will be trying to unseat the Big Spring Steers tonight, is new on the job but he has plenty of football back of him.

Hickman was a star halfback under Henry Frnka at Tulsa University, at the time Tulsa was walking in seven league boots on the gridiron.

His assistant is Vic Spooner, a great end on the Texas Tech Gator Bowl team last year.

The Lobos used the Winged T last year under Truett Ratton but Hickman installed the Split T when he assumed the coaching reins last spring.

Much of the credit for Levelland's successes on the greensward this year must go to Spooner, who has developed an aggressive, alert set of forwards.

It's needless to inscribe here that all games are won down in the battle pits. Tonight, as always, the lines will tell the story.

Gainesville, semi-final opponent of Big Spring in the playoffs last year, hasn't beaten Paris in Gainesville since 1939. The Leopards were favored to take Paris this year but lost, 14-6.

They tell me that the people in Kermit, after arising from bed every morning, face the east and ask for a fox on Big Spring.

The reason is obvious. Frosty Robison, Big Spring's star halfback, used to live there and, for a while, it appeared he would play his football there.

Don Kay Brown, a star tackle for Oklahoma University until he retired this year due to an injury, used to play pass-and-touch football on the lawn of the Robison home.

It isn't yet November but Ira High School has been through with football for two weeks.

Ira gave up trying to compete in eleven-man ball to field a six-man club but could book only four games.

The Ira basketball team will be the host in a tournament there Dec. 15-18. Ken Dismuke is the Ira coach.

Pub Gabrel, who propelled Odessa High School to a 12-0 victory over Big Spring the year the Bronchos won state (1947), may be the next coach of Bowie High School in El Paso. He's now operating a filling station in the Border City.

Fug kept Odessa from going under in that Odessa-Big Spring game in 1947. Bryon Townsend, favoring an injury that day, was of no use to the Steers. The Steers' defense had been geared to stop Townsend and did a magnificent job of it.

Heavy, Heavy Hangs Over Heads Of The Unbeaten

Heavy, heavy hangs over the heads of more than 50 unbeaten teams tonight in a crucial round of Texas schoolboy football.

At least a dozen are likely to fall as the conference races tighten up down the stretch run.

Two of the biggest—Port Arthur and Galveston—clash in a game of deep significance at Port Arthur. The District 8 championship of Class AAAA hangs in the balance.

Others of the unbeaten in this class also are in for trouble as Dallas Forest plays its arch rival Dallas Sunset, and San Antonio Breckenridge battles powerful Corpus Christi Ray.

Big Spring and Levelland meet in the feature of Class AAA. It may be the last mile for Big Spring, which pushed into the finals last season. Levelland is the surprise of rugged District 1 where Breckenridge, once heralded as the state's best, is staggering. Class AA's feature is Stamford

SWC Faces A Fateful Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Arkansas' race toward a championship and Texas' desperate efforts to save something from disaster via for interest in a fateful Southwest Conference football weekend.

Arkansas finds itself the favorite after four Saturdays of being the underdog and that might be a prophecy of doom as the Razorbacks journey into Texas for the last time this season to meet sullen, vengeful Texas A&M.

Undefeated, untied and riding magnificently atop the conference race, the Razorbacks best be, and probably are, wary of an Aggie team whose coach, Paul Bryant, says "is going to beat somebody."

Before Arkansas tries for its fourth straight conference victory, Texas will have made its bid for a glittering comeback against Southern Methodist.

The Longhorns and Methodists clash at Austin in the afternoon game and it's the big test for Coach Ed Price's mid-season shakeup of a squad troubled by violations of the training rules and lackadaisical play.

Texas has no championship hopes but victory here would mean much more than that. It would mean the Longhorns could pick themselves up from the lowest ebb of disappointment.

Southern Methodist is unbeaten in the conference race and while a defeat by Texas would not be a fatal blow—the Methodists would still have a chance at the championship—it would slow down the league's most vicious surge and put a crimp in rosy plans.

At Fort Worth, Baylor and Texas Christian will be playing their most crucial game. The loser will fall out of the championship race.

Rice, still in contention with a 1-1 record, takes time out from conference strife for a pleasant afternoon of inter-sectional football with a Vanderbilt team that has come close but hasn't been able to win a single game in four tries.

Rice is a heavy favorite to triumph and boost the conference's inter-sectional record that now rests at 13 victories against 7 losses.

Arkansas is a 13-point choice over Texas A&M, which prompted Bryant to observe, after a workout last night, that if Arkansas was No. 4 in the nation and was no heavier favorite than that, then the "Aggies ought to be 15th."

A&M has fullback Don Kachitk wearing a mask to protect a broken nose and he probably will see limited action, but otherwise the Aggies are in top shape for the supreme test against the tough men of Arkansas.

West, Airport Meet Saturday

West Ward gets a chance to climb back into contention for first place in Elementary School Football League play Saturday morning when it plays the pace-setting Airport team.

Airport is the only undefeated club in the circuit. An Airport win would just about sew up first place for the Fliers, who have now won five games in a row.

West owns a 3-1 won-lost record, after having lost to College Heights last week, 7-6. College Heights now occupies second place in the standings.

Shorthorns Play Snyder Saturday

The Big Spring High School B team returns to action Saturday, meeting Snyder in Snyder.

The Shorthorns defeated Snyder, 22-0, in a previous contest here but will not be at full strength for this one.

The local reserves were to have played Colorado City here last week but the game was cancelled out by the coaches of the Wolves. Instead, the Dogies tangle with the Big Spring A team reserves and lost a spirited game, despite the fact that they scored three touchdowns.

Kansas City Move Next?

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—The American League has apparently forced the Philadelphia Athletics into Kansas City.
Blocked in its efforts to sell the club to a Philadelphia syndicate, the Mack family was expected today to resume negotiations for the sale of its stock to Arnold Johnson and the transfer of the Philadelphia franchise to the Missouri city.

In a special meeting yesterday, the American League voted to reject the bid by an eight-man Philadelphia group to buy the Athletics and keep the club in Philadelphia. The vote, according to an American League executive, was 4-4. Six affirmative votes are needed to approve any owner.

No reason was given for the turnout of the syndicate. However, the opposition appeared to stem from a desire to get the league out of Philadelphia.
League public relations director Earl Hilligan, who made the announcement at the conclusion of the six-hour meeting, simply said: "The transaction presented today by the Philadelphia group failed to receive a vote of approval. The meeting was adjourned to permit the Macks to return to Philadelphia to attempt to work out their problems."

Hilligan did not amplify the statement, but several club owners indicated they were not satisfied with the "divergence of opinion" in the Mack family on how to whom the stock should be sold.

"It seems to me," said Charles Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, "that the Macks can't get together on what they want to do. One wants one thing and another wants something else."
"I will not come back to any more meetings until the Macks (91-year-old Connie and his two sons, Roy and Earle) have settled their own affairs among themselves. There are others who feel the same way."

Will Harridge, president of the American League, said no further meetings were planned, and it now was up to the Macks to settle their own affairs.

"As far as the league is concerned," he said, "the Macks have the ball club. They own the stock. They are going to operate the club."
Baseball people, however, doubted the Macks could do that financially, and predicted they would renew negotiations with Johnson, who recently offered $3,375,000 for the entire stock plus Connie Mack Stadium. In an Oct. 12 meeting in Chicago, the American League approved the sale to him and also the transfer of the franchise to Kansas City.

The Macks in a surprising switch Oct. 17 had ended negotiations with Johnson and agreed to sell to the Philadelphia group.

FALK SCOLDS BIG LEAGUES

AUSTIN (AP)—Bibb Falk, baseball coach of the University of Texas, was sore at the big league gumshoes again today. He claimed Paul Richards, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, and an Oriole scout, Claude Dietrich, came to Austin and tried to entice Harry Taylor of Fort Worth, freshman pitcher at the university into pro baseball. Taylor declined.

Taylor, a righthander, has been sought by the major league clubs for several years, with the New York Giants offering him a bonus to sign.

"Those scouts had their chance all summer to sign Taylor," said Falk. "But the kid didn't want to sign a contract. He's interested in going to college and becoming a dentist. Yet, here they are again, using a big name like Richards to try to get the kid to quit college and sign a contract. That makes me mad. They had their chance and here they are again bothering the kid."

"Well, Harry told them when Richards and his party talked with him that he was still going to finish college. He might play pro ball after finishing college."

Though he speaks English well, there are some words and phrases in our language that still throw him for a loss.

"He's on his way to becoming a naturalized American. He married a local girl and the two now have a growing daughter."

Tito, who won 14 games for Big Spring last season, was acquired from Port Arthur by the Broncs last spring, after he had refused to report to the Evangelist League club.

He was with Big Spring in 1951, prior to going to Roswell with Pat Stasey.

Arencibia's arm bothered him much of last season. That, coupled with the fact that he will be a class man, clouds his baseball future.

If the right arrangement comes along, he'd take it—sure. But, it would have to be good, he insists. Right now, he's happy with his job.

"Why shouldn't I be?" he sums it up thoughtfully. "Everyone is so nice to me on the job. So good to show me things I don't know."

Born Nov. 7, 1930, in Pinar del Rio, Cuba, Arencibia is one of a family of ten. He has five brothers and two sisters. His father is a retired judge while his mother formerly taught school.

White Oak Forced To Yield Games
LONGVIEW (AP)—An ineligible player has cost White Oak three football games, knocking the team out of the unbeaten list and cancelling its chances at the District 16-A championship.

Officials forfeited White Oak victories over Carlisle, East Mountain and Overton. It kept last week's triumph over Hallsville, in which the ineligible player did not appear.

The forfeitures yesterday left Gaston as the unbeaten of 16-A.

Carleton Hired
ABILENE (AP)—John Carleton, former business manager of the San Angelo and El Paso baseball clubs, has been employed in a similar capacity with the Abilene club of the West Texas-New Mexico League. Carleton was an umpire in this league last season.

Porkers, Beware Of SMU, Cautions Gil Johnson

DALLAS (AP)—The man who shocked Arkansas with probably the most galling defeat in Razorback football history says the Hogs better beware of Southern Methodist.

This advice comes from a Dallas service station operator named Gilbert Johnson. Fans will recall him as SMU's great passer during the Mustangs' golden era of the late 1940's.

Tito Learning To Type—The English Way, That Is

You wouldn't think anyone who can type 85 to 90 words a minute would need additional typing lessons but Aramis (Tito) Arencibia, starting hurler for Big Spring Broncs last season, is undergoing such training at Howard County Junior College.

Arencibia, now employed in Office Supply by Cosden Petroleum Corp., is a whiz at typing—in Spanish. What he is doing is mastering the art of writing in English.

Tito, who says he possibly has pitched his last in professional baseball, is also enrolled in an English class at the local junior college.

Though he speaks English well, there are some words and phrases in our language that still throw him for a loss.

"He's on his way to becoming a naturalized American. He married a local girl and the two now have a growing daughter."

Forsan Buffaloes Defeat Blackwell Sextet, 55 To 26

FORSAN (SC)—Forsan belted Blackwell, 55-26, here Thursday night for its fourth win in five District Seven six-man football starts.

Blackwell was unable to get a point against the Forsan first team. Coach Bob Honeycutt of Forsan played 20 boys.

Harold Hicks scored three touchdowns and Albert Oglesby four for the winners. The first one came on a 24-yard jaunt by Hicks early in the contest.

Albert Oglesby's drop kick made it 2-0, Forsan.

Johnny Baum later passed to Oglesby for 35 yards, and the second Buff TD and Oglesby again drop kicked for two points to make it 16-0.

Hicks then scored on a 17-yard ramble and Oglesby went over after James Skeen had recovered a fumble.

A pass from Skeen to Baum accounted for another Forsan score in the first period.

In the second, Hollowell roared 70 yards against the Forsan reserves for Blackwell's first TD.

In the third, Hicks moved eight yards for a tally to make it 36-6. Self passed to E. Boyd for a Blackwell TD and Baum flipped a pass to J. C. Draper, good for 36 yards and another Forsan TD.

In the fourth, Baum and Oglesby got together on a 65-yard scoring pass play. Oglesby later counted on an end-around play and Hicks added the extra point on a run.

Hollowell ran 28 yards for the third Blackwell TD and Edison ran across, the point. Edison dashed 70 yards for the final score of the night shortly before the game ended and a pass from Self to Tucker added the point.

Johnny King scored on a 30-yard jaunt for Forsan but the play was called back.

Oglesby and Skeen among the regulars and King and Tony Starr among the reserves looked to advantage for Forsan.

Eagles Hand Knott Hill Billies Initial Defeat

KNOTT (SC)—Before the largest crowd ever to see a football game at Knott—estimated at 1,000—the Ackerly Eagles took a strangle-hold on first place in District Six six-man standings by subduing the resident Hill Billies, 38-24, here Thursday night.

The defeat was the first of the season for the Hill Billies.

On the second play of the third quarter, a pass from Long to Roosevelt Shaw produced another Knott touchdown and Knott went ahead for the first time, 18-0. The play covered 50 yards.

Knott increased its lead after John Shanks recovered an Ackerly fumble and Toby Metcalf went 20 yards to score. It was 24-0.

Ackerly then drove the length of the field and Gill went over from the eight to make it 24-22. When Gill booted the point, it ran the count to 24-24, although Knott had four touchdowns and Ackerly but three.

Ackerly returned to the lead in the fourth round on a sustained march downfield. This time, Dub Grigg took a pass over the double stripes.

Shortly before the end of the game, an 18-yard pass play from Brown to Weaver produced an insurance tally for the Eagles. Gill's kick made it 38-24.

Roosevelt Shaw and Long sparkled, both offensively and defensively, for the losers.

Longhorns Have Drawn 22,975

A total of 22,975 paying customers have seen the Big Spring Steers play six football games this season.

At that aggregate, home games have drawn 12,346 for per-game average of 4,415. The Longhorns have met Stephenville, Yaleta and Lamesa here.

On the road, the locals have played to only 9,729. Their road foes have been Andrews, Vernon and Plainview.

Last week, the Steers and Plainview game attracted a paid crowd of 2,732, nearly half of whom were from Big Spring.

The cash income from the contest reached $2,343.05. Big Spring's share, after expenses, totaled $969.70.

More than 1,600 seats have already been sold here for tonight's game between Levelland and Big Spring in Levelland. The crowd is expected to approach 5,000.

Summer Tan Liked In Rich Stakes

By JOHN CHANDLER
CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Horsemen today must spend money to make money, and about 12 owners are expected to plank down one-half of the necessary $2,000 that will give them a shot at some $155,000 in the racing world's richest gallop.

The objective is the $100,000-added Garden State Stakes over the mile and one-sixteenth distance tomorrow, and the total jackpot may hit around $270,000.

The horse liked most is Mrs. Russell A. Firestone's Summer Tan, one of the classiest juvenile colts of the season. Given the best chance of beating Summer Tan is the Cain Hay Stable entry of Flying Fury and Racing Fool.

Other names expected to be dropped into the entry box include Woody Stephens' Brother Tex, the Pine Oak Farm's Roman Patrol, the Rokeby Stable entry of Cup Man and Golden Land, Mrs. E. E. Pershall Belz's Simmy, C. V. Whitney's Pyrenes, the Dumtreath Farm's Fleet Path, Tallman Warner and Jack Welch's Money Weather, James Patton's Riches, the Darby Dan Farm's Windsor King and Mrs. Louise West's Baysid89 (PAJ).

Owners must hand over $1,000 to pass the entry box today, and another $1,000 to start tomorrow in the race to be televised nationally by CBS 4-4:30 p.m., EST.

The winner gets about $154,000 with approximately $50,000 for second, $35,000 for third and $15,000 for fourth place.

City Commission Studies Plan For Extension Of Sixth Street

Big Spring city commissioners last night discussed the opening of Sixth Street east of town and gave tentative approval to a plan for a second new addition in the area now being annexed.

Street problems in Edwards Heights Addition and North Big Spring were also discussed. A report was made on possibility of a federal aid in construction of a local airport, and authority was granted to buy a new police car.

Opening of East Sixth Street must come in the immediate future, commissioners agreed, as property owners in the area now being annexed have cleared their land for housing developments.

City Manager H. W. Whitney was authorized to investigate the cost of rental equipment for the dirt moving job which opening of the street will entail. Quotations from firms are to be available by the next meeting.

Approximately 6,000 cubic yards of dirt will have to be moved, and City Engineer Clifton Bellamy estimated it would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of 20 cents per yard, depending on where the dirt has to be hauled.

Plat approval was of the Anderson Addition, which joins the Ward Hall addition on the west. Large housing developments are scheduled for both additions, and leveling has all but been completed before construction begins.

Commissioners last night approved partial payment for paving Circle Drive between the Stanford Park Addition and Fourth Street. The street will have an inverted crown so that water can be drained down its center.

Ward Hall will pay two-thirds cost for installation of hot mix, and the city will pay approximately one-third. Paving of the street with an inverted crown will eliminate the necessity of installing a storm sewer system, thus saving the city quite a bit of money, it was pointed out.

Circle Drive is one of the more troublesome drainage areas of the city. The city last night assumed obligation to pay for 199 feet of paving near the intersection of Cedar Road and Farm Road 710, near Park Hill School. This footage was charged up to Carl Strom, who owns land on the north east side of the intersection, some of which is not quite adjacent to the road.

Land for which the city assumed obligation was opposite an alley on the other side of the street which was assumed as projected on across. Man a g e r Whitney was instructed to dedicate the public road land between the street and Strom's land to Strom, who is paying for most of the paving there anyway.

Commissioners refused to accept a dedication which has been filed to donate land for a street in North Big Spring. Property owners between North Eighth and Ninth filed a street dedication for 30 feet width which would extend to North Nolan.

The dedication was filed at the courthouse without approval by the commissioners, and it was rejected last night because width is not adequate. City Attorney Walton Morrison advised commissioners last night that there is nothing to keep property owners from dedicating the land, but the city does not have to accept it.

The street is now open, but commissioners take the attitude it is a private driveway rather than a street. Texas Electric Service Company has an easement down the middle of the "street" but will not move their lines unless the street is accepted.

The jury met in secret sessions dating from Oct. 18 to hear evidence presented by U. S. Atty. Donald E. Kelley.

Kelley declined comment when asked if other union officials are under investigation. The Mine-Mill union was ousted from the CIO in 1950 for alleged Communist domination.

reported by letter to commissioners that a formal request for airport funds must be in the CAA office by Nov. 22 this year if it is considered for the fiscal year of 1956. The CAA indicated that federal aid will be limited to fields having at least 30 permanently based planes and possibly to fields having commercial air line service accommodating some 2,500 persons per year.

The CAA would have to have complete plans concerning developments on the airport on file, along with information as to the source of local money going into the project, according to the letter which was written by A. E. Dyatt, district airport engineer.

Commissioners authorized that a 1953 Ford police car with 85,000 miles be traded in. Lowest bid submitted by local firms was by Big Spring Motor, where a new 1955 Ford can be obtained for the difference of $750.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jake The Snake, a young 11-foot python, slithered somewhere on Key Biscayne today while Dade County Police and all available Crandon Park Zoo attendants renewed their efforts to bring him back alive.

Jake The Snake went AWOL. His wife Anna, 32, found one in the backyard of their home here yesterday. The bird had struck a wire-mesh fence, crippling itself.

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Someone shot and killed Mrs. C. R. Brown's cow with a shotgun Wednesday night. Phossants and ducks are the principal game being hunted with that firearm in this area now.

"Impossible," replied a Fish and Game Department spokesman, when asked if it were possible the cow was mistaken for a pheasant. "Must have been self-defense."

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—Police opined it was a clean-minded thief who turned up in Sweetwater. He stole the bathtub from a residence Wednesday night.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Maurice E. Travis, secretary-treasurer and former president of the 100,000-member International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers (I. M. S. W.), was arrested here yesterday on charges of lying when he said he was not a Communist party member.

Travis was free today on $10,000 bond posted immediately on being taken before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Neft late yesterday afternoon.

The arrest, announced by the Justice Department in Washington while U. S. marshals were picking up Travis at union headquarters here, stemmed from a six-count indictment handed down yesterday by a 23-member Federal Grand Jury in Denver.

The jury met in secret sessions dating from Oct. 18 to hear evidence presented by U. S. Atty. Donald E. Kelley.

Kelley declined comment when asked if other union officials are under investigation. The Mine-Mill union was ousted from the CIO in 1950 for alleged Communist domination.

Rites Held For Blaze Victims

COLORADO CITY — Funeral services were set for two more of Colorado City's hotel fire victims today. Both, along with two others, were claimed by flames when the Colorado Hotel was struck by lightning Tuesday night.

Albert Gary Gates, 52, cafe man who had lived in Colorado City for more than eight years, was to be buried in the Colorado City Cemetery Friday at 4:30 p. m. with services at the graveside. Rev. Bill Austin, pastor of the Oak Street Baptist Church, will officiate.

Funeral services for James Lonnie Mize, 34, of Colorado City were held from the Kiker and Son Chapel at 10:30 a. m. Friday. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery, with the Rev. Jack Elizey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating.

Hiram Edward Ladd, 76, buried Thursday morning in Colorado City, and Albert Rufus T. Rice, 76, with services to be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, were the other fire victims.

Mrs. A. A. Dorn, about 80, a former resident of Colorado City died at her home in McAllen Wednesday and her body is being returned to Colorado City for burial.

Mr. Dorn, a former county commissioner of Mitchell County, died several years ago. Mrs. Dorn will be buried at his side in the Dorn Cemetery ten miles southwest of Colorado City.

Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist Church, Sunday at 3 p. m. with Rev. Jack Elizey, pastor, officiating. She is survived by two sons, Phelan Dorn of McAllen and Bill Dorn of Lubbock, and two daughters, Mrs. Key Hooker and Mrs. Roy Almsworth, both of McAllen.

One of the features in the booths will be the space ship ride. A dance will be held in the Student Union Building, from 10 p. m. until midnight.

Admission prices for the various booths range from 10 to 25 cents. Admission fee for a special side show to be staged in the large auditorium at 9:30 o'clock will be 25 cents.

Indian Press Generally Hails Nehru's Visit To Red China

By EUGENE LEVIN
NEW DELHI, (AP)—India's newspapers hailed Prime Minister Nehru's tour of Communist China as a great historical event. In their enthusiasm papers found little if anything to criticize. Writers generally seem to believe Nehru convinced Red China leaders they must take steps to assure other Asian countries—such as Burma and Indonesia—that Peiping plans no aggression and has only peaceful intentions. Indian newsmen also give indications they are impressed by the promises of Red China's Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai to cooperate with India's peace efforts. As a result, newspapers appear fully to endorse Nehru's trip. Most of these impressions emerge from front page "spot news" stories sent from Peiping by leading staffers of newspapers and Indian News agencies. These staffers were invited to China at the expense of the Peiping government. Only after Nehru left Peiping did any Indian newspaper display a hint of criticism. The Times of India said Thursday that the Chinese Communists tried to play "power politics" and get Nehru openly to side with the Reds. The newspaper said Nehru properly held his position of "nonalignment." New Delhi newspapers generally took a more sober view of the visit in their comments Thursday than they had at any previous time in the tour.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The government estimate on Howard County cotton has been raised from 24,000 to 28,000 bales this week.

The weekly report shows 17,531 bales ginned in Howard County and 17,931 bales ginned in Martin County.

It is estimated that 63 per cent of the Howard County cotton and 39.8 per cent of the Martin County cotton has been harvested.

The Martin County estimate remains at 45,000 bales. Unofficially it is estimated that 14 per cent of the cotton ginned in Howard County is grown in Martin and other counties.

It looks like the "give away" plan of "grants" for soil and water conservation is out.

Hereafter, according to the new Farmers Home Administration soil and water conservation program, the farmer or rancher will not be paid outright for conservation practices on his place but will be provided with a loan with up to 20 years to pay and with a limit of $25,000 to any single landowner.

The money will not be loaned by the government, but will be gotten from private lenders at 3 1/2 per cent interest and will be guaranteed by the government. The landowner will actually pay 4 1/2 per cent interest, however, the government retaining one per cent to pay the expense of handling the program.

Loans can be secured up to seven years on chattel mortgages, but real estate mortgages will be required for longer term loans. Second liens will be accepted. Only bona fide ranchers or farmers will be eligible for the loans. In this last respect the program differs greatly from the "grants" which have been made.

The soil and water conservation practices for which the loans may be obtained must be approved by the Soil Conservation Service or the Extension Service.

The thing that most makes it look like the "grant" program is on the way out is the fact that these loans may be obtained for such improvements as drilling and equipping wells for irrigation, tank building, the distribution of water to livestock, subsiding and brush clearing.

Our last information is that only three of these loans have so far been made in Texas.

Down in Garden City, County Agent Oliver West, and Vocational Agriculture Instructor M. A. Barber were checking over the results of 21 lambs shown at the Texas State Fair by members of the Glascock 4-H Club and the Garden City Chapter of Future Ranchers of America (FFA).

Of these 21 lambs 16 placed in the prize money.

Thirteen of the lambs were shown as 4-H projects and eight of them by the Future Ranchers. The Ranchers also had one fat barrow at the State Fair.

Showing lambs as 4-H members were Jimmy Davee, Kenneth Smith, Eddie Price, Theibert Ashbill, Aubrey Ashbill, Clifford Stephens and Jack Ashbill.

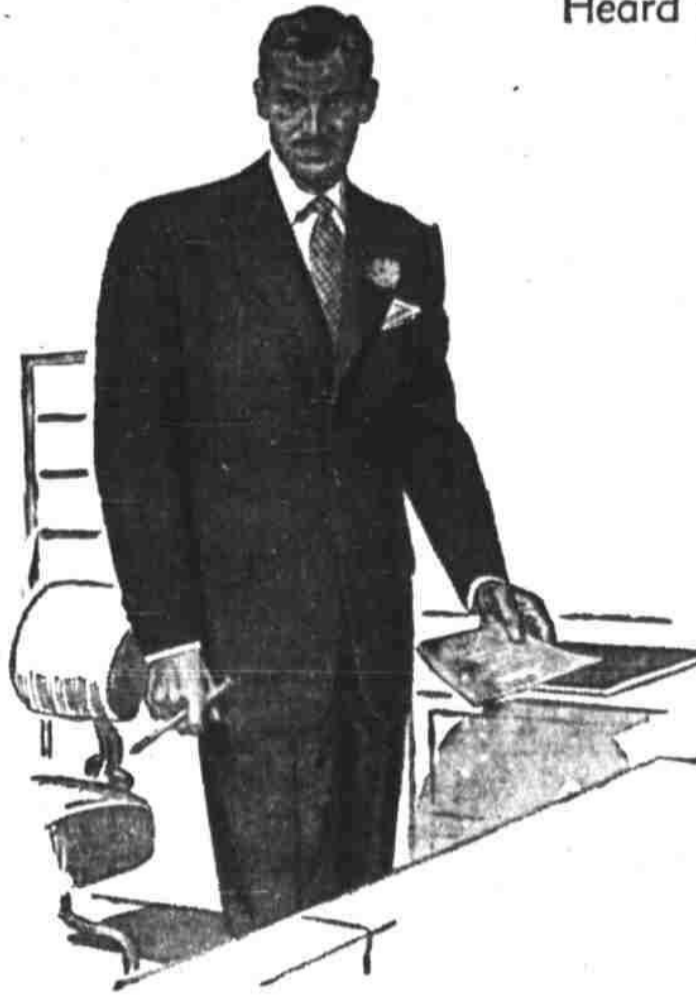

Future Ranchers showing lambs were Eugene Davee, Jim Nelson, John L. Daniels, Marion O'Bannon and Bill King.

In the Fine Wool lamb class there were 115 lambs competing for the 50 places that paid off in cash. Glascock County boys showed nine Fine Wool lambs and won eight of the places.

In the Crossbred lamb class there were 142 lambs competing for the 50 premiums. The Garden City boys showed 11 lambs in this class and won seven of the prizes, and among the 10 top Crossbred lambs, from all over the state,
