

Eisenhower, Supervising Chef, Asks 75 For Beef Stew Lunch

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, playing the role of supervising chef, invited more than 75 guests to a beef stew lunch today.

The guests included several long-time friends who have been Eisenhower neighbors for the many years he has been spending Colorado vacations at the home here of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Invited, too, were quite a few Denver business men who are golfing pals of the President. Also asked were a couple of fellows who make a living at golf and give Eisenhower a few pointers — Ed Dudley, the pro at the Augusta National Club in Georgia and at Colorado Springs and Ralph (Tip) Arnold, pro at Denver's Cherry Hills club where today's luncheon was being held.

prisms round steak — something considerably better than the "stewing meat," the White House calls it. Also eight pounds of small Irish potatoes, six bunches of small carrots, five pounds of small onions, 15 fresh tomatoes, three gallons of beef stock made from marrow bone with a bit of meat on it, salt, pepper, and a bunch of bouquet garniture, made of thyme, garlic and bay leaves.

With the ingredients ready, you start your beef stock two or three days ahead of your beef stew party. At Cherry Hills it has been simmering since Saturday.

Several hours in advance of the dinner hour put in the stew meat and cook it slowly in the beef stock until tender. Cook that mixture until the vegetables are done.

Then draw off two gallons of beef stock and thicken it slightly with beef rue. In this case, the rue is a mixture of about a pint and half of the fatty substance on top of the beef stock, and about a pound of flour. The rue should simmer 10 to 15 minutes before being used to thicken the stew.

After it has simmered, pour it back into the stew. Then let the whole concoction simmer for an hour and a half and serve.

One other guest invited to today's luncheon was Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who told a meeting of the American Meat Institute and the United Fruit and Vegetable Association in New York the other day that the purpose of the Eisenhower beef stew lunch was to promote sales of meat and vegetables.

The President took it easy at the Doud home yesterday after he and Mrs. Eisenhower attended services at the Corona Presbyterian church.

Snyder reported the Chief Executive "quite happy" about what he termed "tremendously enthusiastic" reaction of GOP leaders to the stepped-up campaign Eisenhower waged in the Far West last week for election of another Republican Congress.

The President also invited about 40 newsmen who have been covering his activities here. He said they were to have a half holiday today and gave instructions that everything at the luncheon, except the beef stew recipe and guest list, was off the record.

Close friends of Eisenhower have been telling for years about his beef stew, a ritual-like preparation usually several days in the making.

The recipe the White House made public is for 60 people, but assistant White House press secretary Murray Snyder told apprehensive newsmen enough stew was being cooked to provide even "seconds" for the more than 75 guests.

Here's the recipe:

'Nothing New' In GI Seizure Case

FRANKFURT (AP)—U.S. Embassy officials in Prague said today there was "nothing new" in the case of two U.S. soldiers held by the Czech Communist Government and that they had not even been told where the men are imprisoned.

The two men, 1st Lt. Richard H. Dries of St. Albans, Long Island, New York, and Pfc. George Plisk of Austin, Tex., were seized by a Czech border patrol near Eszlar, Germany, Sept. 17.

An embassy spokesman said that "contact" had been made with the Czech government. He added that "unofficially, it has been indicated they are at Pilsen, but they might even be here in Prague, for all we know."

A Czech charge that the pair was on an espionage mission when captured was denied by U.S. authorities.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

The huge clock above the Houses of Parliament has four faces.

LONDON, England — Now I am back in good old England! So far as I have observed, the country is about the same as when I saw it the last time. Since then, there has been a war, and a Socialist government has held power.

Thousands of houses and other buildings in London were destroyed by German bombs, but few signs of these are left. New buildings have gone up in many places, and other buildings have been repaired. Only here and there does a person see a vacant lot where a building used to exist.

For a long period, almost all the homes and office buildings in London have been made with brick or stone walls. This fact was important during the last world war.

DATE DATA

About Lack Of A Car, Too Many Phone Calls

Dear Miss Brandon:
Should a boy tell a girl he has no car when he is making a date with her?

Ronald

A boy should furnish a girl with all necessary information concerning the proposed date so that she can decide whether or not she wants to accept. However, if she isn't a snob, the fact that you have no car should have no bearing on her decision and therefore I would consider it not pertinent.

What all that double talk means is: play it cagey. Don't tell her. You'd risk being turned down. She'll find out soon enough and if you ever get her out on a date you'll have the chance to be so entertaining, she'll no longer care about the "set of wheels." If she goes formal, that's a date that calls for a text.

Dear Miss Brandon:
Since I started going steady a month ago, I've faithfully telephoned my girl every night. Lately she doesn't seem interested in talking, makes excuses to get away, or has her little sister say she's not there when I know she is. I've tried not to neglect her. What's wrong?

Gordon

My guess is that you're overdoing it. Girls like attention, but an excess of it can become a nuisance. Your too-frequent telephone calls have probably exhausted her "talkability."

Suppose you let absence make the heart grow fonder while you religiously stick to two telephone calls per week, neither of which should exceed twenty minutes. At that pace you'll probably have something new to talk about instead of an awkward silence.

Swells Injure Many At Beaches In L. A.
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten-foot ground swells injured hundreds of bathers who flocked to the beaches yesterday to escape a temperature of 91 degrees.

Six persons required hospital treatment after being buffeted by the booming combers. Lifeguards rescued 80 persons at Los Angeles County beaches.

Lifeguard Capt. John F. Dillon said "literally hundreds of people were cut and bruised by the waves."

Lifeguards patrolled Venice and Playa Del Rey beaches in jeeps, warning parents to keep unattended youngsters out of the rampaging Pacific.

AFL Expected To Demand Cleanup Of Welfare Funds

By NORMAN WALKER
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Federation of Labor convention headed into its final session today with delegates expected to demand that AFL unions safeguard member welfare funds from fraud.

A strong statement readied for expected convention approval was reported to condemn as "traitors" any union officials who dip into the rich funds for their own use.

Mounting disclosures in congressional investigations of irregularities in union handling of the multi-million dollar funds have worried union leaders. They fear frauds may give all labor a black eye and lead to new legal restrictions against unions.

The convention statements reportedly will pledge AFL cooperation in new welfare fund investigations launched by the Senate and House, but suggest the probes include employer and insurance company practices in administering the funds.

Delegates were expected to steer clear of calling for federal legislation to establish welfare fund checks as President Eisenhower has suggested.

However, most AFL leaders indicated they are not opposed to such legislation. Two AFL vice presidents, David Dubinsky and George Harrison, have publicly called for legislative curbs. Dubinsky expressed doubt that unions can do an adequate safeguarding job on their own.

The expected strong convention demand on AFL unions to clean up welfare funds and keep them that way was described as being about the strongest step the AFL can take in the matter. The federation lacks any power to compel its individual unions to do anything.

The convention last week, however, ordered annual audits for welfare funds belonging to members of federal labor unions — scattered union groups run by the AFL itself with an aggregate of more than 180,000 members. This action was regarded as evidencing the AFL leadership's intention of doing everything possible to make sure welfare funds are properly handled.

A rush of resolutions was due at final convention sessions with AFL president George Meany and other officers expected to be re-elected.

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today issued a proclamation designating Oct. 11 as Casimir Pulaski memorial day, honoring the Polish count who fought for this country in the Revolutionary War.

Hyperion Federation Has First Meeting

"We need the vision to see, the faith to believe and the courage to do," Mrs. Clyde Angel told the group of five Hyperion Clubs at a luncheon Saturday at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. Angel is president of the Hyperion Federation, and she announced her theme for the year's work as being, "You Are a Light of the World."

She asked members to search their hearts and see where they might shine in the work of the community. Mrs. W. A. Hunt introduced Jack Hendrix, teacher of music at Howard County Junior College, who furnished the luncheon program of music. Mrs. Hendrix was also introduced to the clubs.

Presidents of the organizations were introduced and each told of the year's plans for her club. Mrs. Obie Bristow, of the 1905 Club, gave their theme as "Yesterday's Heritage, Today's Challenge." This was taken from the fact that they are approaching their golden anniversary of the founding of the first club of the series.

"Emphasis," said Mrs. Bristow, will be placed upon Indian affairs, particularly help to the Navajos, and on our Texas heritage." In speaking of the history of the club, she disclosed that it was the same printing company, Jordan's, that printed both the first yearbook and the present yearbook.

Clara Secrest, president of the 1930 Hyperion Club, stated the theme of that club's study as "Today's Woman." Studies will be made of famous women, of unusual hobbies of various women and of how women can help in the development of mental health. The project of the group will be decided upon at the first meeting.

The 1946 Hyperion Club, of which Mrs. Milton Talbot is president, will study a variety of subjects. Emphasis, however, will be placed on mental health.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling gave the course of study for the 1948 Hyperion club as "Patterns for Effective Living." In this connection will be programs developing along the lines of "Understanding our Heritage," "Faith," "Mental Health" and "Fellowship."

For the 1953 Club, Mrs. James Duncan announced the theme of "Working Together in the Community." They will work on child welfare, mental health and juvenile delinquency as well as other subjects.

Mrs. Hunt announced the three numbers of the Civic Concert Association, the Don Cossack Chorus, the piano duo of Ferrante and Ticher and the play, "The Caine Mutiny Court-martial." She urged the women to help in bringing a more cultural atmosphere to the city by backing this association.

She also announced the H.C.J.C. is cooperating with the group this year.

During the business meeting, reports from two meetings of the Hyperion Council were read and the treasurer's report was given. It was decided to organize another group, to be known as the 1955 Hyperion Club.

Committee members for the luncheon included, Mrs. Merle Stewart, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. D. M. Penn, Mrs. Norman Reed, Mrs. Roy Sloan and Mrs. Hudson Landers. The luncheon was served buffet style and guests were seated at tables decorated with stalks of cotton. The speaker's table had a centerpiece formed of a small oil derrick surrounded by stalks of cotton and heads of grain. Over 50 attended.

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING
 Vinegar or lemon juice, 1-3 cup
 1 cup salad or olive oil

 1 teaspoon sugar
 Cayenne, few grains.

District 7 B&PW Clubs Meet At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—Over 100 delegates registered for the District 7 annual conference of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, held at Colorado City Saturday and Sunday.

Delegates arriving from Ahlens, Anson, Brady, Brownwood, Coleman, Hamlin, Rising Star, San Angelo, Snyder, Stamford, and Sweetwater, as well as members of the host club, attended a "Problem Clinic" Saturday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Anna Wells of Coleman.

A banquet at Civic House was the featured event on Saturday's program, with Mrs. Charley Minshew presiding and Mrs. James E. Payne, first vice president of the state organization, giving the principal address.

"Prepare yourself for your big adventure," she warned, and added that members should develop their interests and keep themselves well informed so that they would be ready for their big adventure—whatever its nature.

"Membership in the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club is not an end in itself," Mrs. Payne noted, "but rather the means of achieving preparedness for better everyday living at home, community, national and international levels."

At Sunday's session delegates set Brownwood as the convention site for 1955.

Delegates from the 12 clubs in District 7 also elected Mrs. Ellie H. Locke, of Brownwood, as District Director for the ensuing year. Mrs. Frances Fouts Carter of San Angelo was elected to the state nominating committee, with Marguerite Anderson of Ahlens as alternate.

The convention also voted favorably on a resolution presented by the Anson club, which would eliminate business sessions during church hours on Sunday.

Hein Ferguson of Belton, state vice president, spoke to the group urging support for jury service for women.

Miss Ferguson claimed that Texas women were treated as half-citizens when they were not required to assume the full duties of the male citizen. The majority of objections presented by opponents of the constitutional change, she said, were mythical.

Ten Weekend Traffic Deaths Occur In State

By The Associated Press
At least 11 persons died in weekend Texas violence, all but one in traffic.
Three members of one family were killed when a car rammed a bridge near McKinney Sunday. The impact drove a bridge railing through the car.
Another crash killed one and injured 10.
Killed in the one-car accident near McKinney were Mrs. Frank Ollavo, her daughter, Orilla, 4, and her son, Knachio, 6 months, all of the little Collin County town of Wylie. Three other members of the Ollavo family and an unidentified hitchhiker were hurt, the latter critically.
James Hilliard Bruce of Dallas was killed and 10 persons injured in a violent three-car collision 15 miles east of Ranger on U.S. 80 Saturday night. Traffic was backed up two miles while wreckage blocked the highway.
A 29-year-old man identified as Lt. James R. Nichols of Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, was killed Saturday night when thrown from his car after a collision with a pickup truck near Austin.
Manuel Tobar, 6, died Friday after jumping from a moving jeep on a farm near Robstown.
Jimmy Williams of Dallas was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge abutment three miles east of Mineral Wells.
Joe Weber, 70, of Cotulla was killed Sunday when hit by a car on Highway 81, about two miles south of Artesia Wells, La Salle County. The State Highway Patrol reported Weber apparently was sleeping on the highway.
Clarence Pickard, 34, of Dallas was fatally stabbed Saturday by a butcher knife.
Cpl. Ernest L. Heway, 23, of Penacook, N.H., was killed Saturday night when his motorcycle ran off a farm road near Florence, Williamson County. He was stationed at Fort Hood.
Jimmie Collins, 28, cement finisher en route to Houston from Lubbock to look for work, was killed by a car Sunday night a mile west of Satsuma near Houston. State patrolmen said Collins was leaning into his stopped car when hit. The driver of the other car, a 36-year-old airline pilot, said he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming auto and did not see Collins until his car sideswiped Collins' vehicle.

Russia May Reopen Its Vast Frontiers To West's Tourists

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia may be preparing to open its vast frontiers to foreign tourists.
"Two vice presidents of Intourist will attend our ninth general assembly in London opening tomorrow," the International Union of Travel Organizations says.
"This is the first time since the war that the Russians have attended one of our meetings. We believe their interest indicates they have decided to take a step they have hinted at for years."
Intourist is the Soviet Union's state-operated agency set up to handle foreign tourists. Before the war it maintained offices in many countries and yearly brought several thousand foreign travelers to Russia.
Many Americans visited Russia through Intourist before the war. The largest groups were school teachers. Intourist did not encourage trips by individuals to Russia, but many of them went anyway. The Soviets once advertised a two-week bear-hunting holiday for about $280.
Last January the Communist Daily Worker said negotiations were under way to open Intourist's bureau here but so far nothing has happened.

Ex-Actress Wins Bullring Applause

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mex. (AP)—Former New York actress Bette Ford won applause here yesterday in what critics said was the best appearance of her brief career as a woman bullfighter.
She was rewarded two ears and the tail of one bull for her excellent performance, but got only applause for her second bull—a stubborn black animal that took numerous sword thrusts to dispatch.
Miss Ford said she would fight Oct. 3 in Ciudad Acuna where Patricia McCormick, a Texas cowd turned bullfighter, was critically gored by a bull.

SWELLING APPEAL

Underdeveloped Nations Want World Bank Aid For Industry

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The World Bank was confronted today with a swelling appeal from underdeveloped countries for new sources of money to speed their industrial expansion.
Creation of a proposed "international finance corporation," as a World Bank subsidiary, was being pushed by more than 30 of the 57 nations represented at the joint annual meeting of the bank and the International Monetary Fund.
Several delegations were expected to speak up on the subject at today's meeting of the bank's Board of Governors which will take up the annual report of President Eugene R. Black.
Black's report, filed Saturday, indicated progress has stalled on organization of the proposed corporation which, unlike the bank, would lend to and invest in private enterprises in less developed countries without obtaining from the governments concerned any guarantee of repayment.
Black reported that the countries on which the corporation would have to depend for its funds—the United States would be foremost—"are not at the present time prepared to commit themselves to subscribe the capital."
Some delegates did not wait until the formal discussion to present their pleas. At Friday's opening meeting, spokesmen for Uruguay, Pakistan, and other countries declared the flow of foreign investment capital inadequate and called for more vigorous efforts to create the loan-and-investment corporation.
Chaudhri Mohamed Ali, finance minister of Pakistan declared that economic progress of European and other industrial nations in recent years has not been matched in the underdeveloped countries.
The governor of the bank for Uruguay, Nilo R. Bercheal, joined in the appeal, declaring that plans for the corporation "must not be abandoned" despite the difficulties of obtaining capital.
Meantime the International Monetary Fund took another step toward expulsion of its only member from behind the Iron Curtain, Czechoslovakia.
The fund's committee on finances and organization, it was learned, has endorsed "overwhelmingly" a recommendation of the executive directors that Czechoslovakia be forced to withdraw on Dec. 31 unless by that date it has furnished data on trade, international payments and economic conditions which, like all other members, is pledged to furnish.
The fund's board of governors is expected to accept the committee recommendation on Wednesday, the final day of the conference. The World Bank already has membership for failure to pay the capital subscriptions required. This ouster becomes final Dec. 31 unless the Czechs pay up.

Pair Rob Drive-In Theater At Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Sidney Mackey, 10, says "I was scared — well, not very much" when two bandits bound him up while robbing a movie.
Sidney, Mgr. Ray Thompson, 31, and Cecil Anderwald, 17, gave this account:
Two men drove into the Jefferson Drive-In Theater yesterday and approached Thompson's office on the pretext of asking whether "anyone has turned in a lost billfold."
Anderwald opened the office door to advise Thompson of the inquiry. The bandits pushed in behind him. One of them turned to Sidney, who had been standing nearby with Anderwald, and said, "Come on in, Sonny."
Inside, the older of the pair, about 34, produced a pistol.
After binding all three, the pair escaped with some $1,000. Thompson then worked himself loose and called police.

MacMillan Planning New Arctic Trek

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine. (AP)—Rear Adm. Donald B. MacMillan, 79-year-old explorer returned only yesterday from his 30th trip to the Far North, but already is making plans for another voyage there next year.
In the three months since he sailed from here, MacMillan said his 81-foot schooner at times bucked winds of 120 miles an hour on the trip to within 11 degrees of the North Pole.
"Never had anything like it for gales and foul weather," said MacMillan, "but that makes it the more interesting. I'm planning to go back next year."

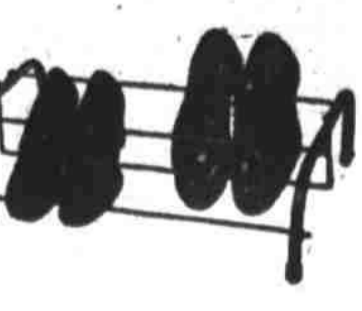

Children, Sitter Are Found Dead

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A Scranton woman returned home yesterday from a wedding party to find her three small children and their elderly baby sitter dead.
Dr. Paul E. Kabasko, Lackawanna County coroner, ruled the deaths were caused by accidental asphyxiation.
Mrs. Ruth Gospoderek told police she returned home at 1:30 Sunday morning to find the dead bodies. Patricia Ann, 21 months, was in her crib; Mary Jane, 5, was in bed, and 4-year-old Kathleen Ann was snuggled against the baby sitter, John Bell, 65, on the divan.
Mrs. Gospoderek said she found an oven jet partially opened.
Her husband, Jack, died last April.
