Style Show Is Set For Friday Night

THE PLACE OF THE STYLE SHOW HAS BEEN CHANGED FROM THE MEMORIAL BUILDING TO THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM.

The time is 8:00 this Friday so everyone put this down on your calendar and come out for an evening of fun. We have an evening filled with styles and memories from bygone days and the theme of the style show is "Memories." Don't miss this one! The admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Lemonade and cookies will be served following the show and instead of charging for the refreshments there will be a donation box available. Remember the place and time have been changed to the High School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Tickets for the barbecue on the 26th of June may be purchased from the merchants in town or contact Ruthie Dacy or Margaret Frost. These must be purchased ahead of time. There will be no tickets available the day of the barbecue.

Excerpts from a letter from Mrs. J. A. (Pearl Bailey) Nixon to the former Johnson girls, Joyce and Connie follows:

"Not long ago I was going thru some old pictures and ran across one taken at Matties (Mrs. Cozzens) wedding. In the wedding party were Steve Wright, Joab Campbell, Tom Palmer, Edwin H. Cozzens, the groom and Mattie Bailey, the bride, LaVita Christian and Katy Vannatti, flower girls, Miss Maud Cozzens, Girlie Robinson and Carrie Bates. Really Susie and I should have been flower girls because we scoured the whole countryside for bear grass blossoms which were used in the decorations with said decorations consisting of three wagon bows covered with honeysuckle vines interspersed with the bear grass blossoms. Believe it or not, it was very pretty—at least Susie and I thought so."

She goes on to say, "Then there was T. J. He was called Sugar and a number of other names by his three big brothers, Oliver, Allen and Buck, who 'picked on' and teased him unmercifully and called him many names. Buck's favorite name for him was 'Dulce Boy with a Bucketful of Freckles.' T. J. was very red-headed and did have a face full of freckles. Joyce, you spoke of his having a herd of 'cattle' (horns). He always had a herd of something but I believe his favorite 'herd' was of Spanish gourds. I suppose you remember those round gourds that grew on long vines. You may remember he married Jewel Roach who was a perfect wife for him. They have a son, Joe, and a daughter Martha Pearl and three grandchildren. They are both useful citizens of Ozona."

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Barker, Jamie and John Ray have given a flag to the museum. The Junior Girl Scout Troop gave money to help toward a flagpole.

Our Historical Society meets on June 7, 1976 at 7:30 in the club room of the Memorial Building. We hope to have some good entertainment for you and a short meeting.

We are beginning to receive articles for the Museum. Mrs. Judy Brannan has donated a glass case that her brother, "Hamburger Bill" used in his hamburger shop many years ago. I think all the oldtimers remember "Hamburger Bill's" hamburgers and have never eaten as good since he closed shop. Mrs. Brannan also donated the ice tongs he used. We are so proud of these two things and are grateful that they were saved. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Teele donated old cast iron andirons that were used in Mr. S. I. Nicks's ranch home. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Teele for this donation.

Our style show goes along with our Bicentennial theme, "A past to remember, a future to mold." —Rep.

Jackie Susan Etheredge of Dallas, granddaughter of Bessie Doyle and Jack and Lois Etheredge, will visit in Eldorado several days this week and attend the Junior Rodeo Friday and Saturday, June 4-5.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Farris and Timmy have returned from a trip to Montana and Canada. They were away for two weeks.

Post Script

A month ago the First Democratic Primary was held, with voter turnout light, both here in Schleicher county and elsewhere over Texas.

Now, coming up Saturday will be the Second Democratic Primary, or run-off, to settle those races in which no candidate received a majority the first time around.

It's already summer, with its attendant vacation time, so it is predicted that there will be another light voter turnout in the run-off Saturday.

We have no local races to be settled Saturday. There are two state level races, for Railroad Commissioner, and for Judge of Court of Criminal Appeals, Unexpired Term. A Sample Ballot is printed in new bi-lingual form, on page 2.

If you want to get your money's worth doing an act, just go and cast a vote Saturday. Your vote will probably cost several dollars to process.

We printed 400 ballots for each precinct. Most will go to waste.

Weather prediction for the week ahead.

"More clouds and less rain!"

If you are tired of reading about all the remaining Primary elections be reminded that they will be over in June.

Then will come the national conventions for both parties in July and August as follows:

DEMOCRAT—
The National Democratic Convention will be held in New York City beginning the week of July 12.

REPUBLICAN—
The Republican National Convention will be held in Kansas City, Mo., beginning the week of August 16.

In both these conventions, if a candidate fails to win the first ballot, the result will be in the traditional 'smoke-filled' room—horse trading.

Vernal Sudduth was in our shop last week and was complaining about armadillos at his farm, and especially in his garden, and he wished for a watch dog.

It seems that armadillos only work at night and that they dig for worms. They start at the end of a row of potatoes and they dig up a whole row, leaving small new potatoes on the ground. He said that he has gathered a painful of small new potatoes.

He doesn't know if there is only one animal, or a whole family of them, but if it is only one, it is one too many.

Suggestions?

The Schleicher County 4-H Horse Show is set for Saturday, June 12, at the Eldorado Rodeo Grounds, starting at 10:00 a.m. It will be dedicated to the late Jess Koy.

Jerry Swift, County Agent, is in charge of arrangements for the event.

The swimming pool is now open each afternoon except Monday, with Tim Terry and Larry Mitchel as managers. With the hot dry weather the pool should be getting good crowds.

42 Club Meets

Mrs. W. C. Parks was hostess Thursday when she entertained the Merry Makers 42 Club. There were three tables of players.

Those present were Ola Mae McDonald, Lois Etheredge, Allie Cheatham, Maude Bassinger, Jake Spencer, Virginia Griffin, Annie Speck, Rose Brannan, Zelma Henderson, Mildred Stanford and Bessie Doyle.

The hostess served a salad plate with crackers and home made cookies, with coffee.

Mrs. Annie Speck will be hostess June the 10th. —Rep.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

By JANNETTE WILKERSON

We're open for business! The Museum is now ready to start putting together the exhibits, and we still need your help. To thank everyone personally would be an impossible task, since the response has been so great. However we would like to take this opportunity to make a public "THANK YOU" to a very special lady, Margaret Frost. Never before have we witnessed such a bundle of vivacious energy, scraping paint, scrubbing woodwork, climbing a ladder, or shining windows. She has charmed and delighted fellow workers and members of the Historical Society into doing what has never been done. The realization of the Museum has been due to her positive attitude and ability to overcome the many problems facing any new project. The time and effort put into the Museum alone would have been a big enough task, but "Margie" has made several Bi-centennial dresses, bonnets, and aprons; sold metal social security cards, helped make a quilt to be raffled, procured artifacts, documents, and is even giving a mannequin a nose job, all to benefit the Museum. As president of the Historical Society, she has shown how good judgement, integrity, diplomacy and hard work can get things done. Margaret Frost has been a joy to watch, and a pleasure to work with, and the success of the Museum is largely due to her tireless effort. Oh! I forgot to mention modesty; I know she'll blush when she reads this!

REMEMBER WHEN?

Back in the days when windmills were 20 to 40 miles apart, on the sun parched plateau of Schleicher County, many happy and hazardous tales and events were spawned. Just such recollections were related by Mr. V. M. Owens, resident of Eldorado, born and reared. Mr. Owens's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Garvin came to Schleicher County in 1898 from Blanco. They experienced many adventures while making their home in this unsettled part of Texas. On a trip to San Angelo the tiring trek turned into a nightmare when the wagon overturned in the north Concho river. Mrs. Gavin was crippled and was trapped in the ill-fated wagon. Good people soon came to the aid of the distressed couple. One man dived under the struggling horses to release them from the harness while Mr. Gavin tried to hold their heads above the churning water. A boat was summoned and the rescue was made without loss of life to man or beast. Narrow escapes were a common occurrence in the early days; another close call came in 1913 to Mr. Gavin when he and his young grandson, Marion Owens, were returning to their home near Verand, after a trip to Eldorado. Mr. Gavin and young Marion were caught in a sudden thunderstorm and decided to take a shortcut home to beat the storm. A bolt of lightning crackled from the black cloud hitting a nearby tree. The awesome shock hit the top of the hack, knocking Mr. Gavin unconscious and slumped against the dash board, then traveling down the buggy to old "Pet," a favorite mare of the Gavins. The horse was killed instantly and the other horse "Prince," was panicked and trying to drag the dead companion and hack. Fearing his Grandfather was also dead, the boy shook and called until the shaken man revived and told Marion to grab the rein on Prince. The horse was soon calmed and the thankful prayers were sighed. The memory of that hot Spring afternoon will long be vivid to Mr. V. M. Owens, as are many events of his days in Schleicher County, with his parents, Mr.

I've heard it said life was simpler and Mrs. Pete Owens. Then, but the ability to make the right decision at the right time doesn't always come with sophisticated education. It seemed to be standard equipment for all our Schleicher County residents.

CARL DALLY

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoffs to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

JON NEWTON

Texas Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation . . . bad absentee record in public office . . . investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel . . . sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS . . . in 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service . . . authored the law regulating strip mining . . . fought for a Public Utility Commission . . . serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman) . . . endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas . . . described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature" . . . in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

Student Council Officers Were Recently Elected To Serve For Next Year

Student Council Idle? Hardly ! !

The Student Council is the single most important student organization in school, but it gets the least recognition for its efforts.

This organization is representative of the entire student body. Its members are elected by the individual classes. The Student Council is sponsored by Ken Thomas.

Everything the Student Council does is for the benefit of the students. It provides a variety of interesting programs through the Southern Assembly Organization, gives dances, and is the vehicle for voicing student body opinions to the school board, superintendent and principal.

Of course, most of the activities promoted by the Student Council take money.

Their means of raising money are somewhat limited, but in the past year members have sold stadium cushions and light bulbs, had concession stands at games, and have auctioned the Freshman class as slaves to the upperclassmen.

The money the Student Council

makes doesn't have much of a chance to build interest in the bank. It is a rare occasion when they have money left at the end of the school term. Most years they barely break even, but this year there is a surplus of $700.

The money is spent in many ways.

Donations to organizations like West Texas Boys Ranch and the American Cancer Society take a chunk out of the fund.

The money from the slave auction goes for a band for the Twirp Dance.

Each year the Student Council provides gifts for Mr. and Miss E. H. S. as well as pins for its members.

This year the Student Council took it upon itself to replace the money stolen from the Menard players during a football game.

Their biggest investment this term was the purchase of a new marquee, which cost them $1700. It has been erected between the Highway and the old tennis courts.

The local Student Council is a member of the Texas Association of Student Councils, the National Association of Student Councils, and the West Texas Forum of Student Councils.

The officers of the Student Council for next year are as follows: Mark Thornton, president; John Ben Cawley, vice president; Gynna Jay, recording secretary; Willie Day, corresponding secretary; and Susan Warnock, parliamentarian.

UNFOUNDED Fears

At the turn of the century, when the "horseless carriage" was first seen on the roads, one doctor actually feared that driving in an automobile at a speed of more than fifteen miles an hour would cause insomnia!

*Women in southern India once feared that to pronounce a husband's name or to say it even in a dream would bring him an untimely death.

Many people today actually fear that nuclear power plants could cause them fatal injury. But even if he lived within 25 miles of a reactor, a person would be 500,000 times more likely to be killed in a fall than by the power plant.

People were so afraid to fly in airplanes, probably feeling they were "agin nature," that it took the Wright brothers five years to get a customer to ride in one of their planes.

Fears

Health faddists once warned early automobile drivers that the speeds at which their machines traveled would cause them to inhale insects as they rode.

Although some people today fear to live near a nuclear reactor because of radiation, they actually get less living near the plant for an entire year than they would flying across the United States.

The Indians who once inhabited the Caribbean would not eat any pork for fear it would cause them to develop little pig's eyes.

Famous Fathers

Where Does Yours Stand?

Gideon, the Biblical warrior, had 70 sons—"for he had many wives." But one of history's most famous soldiers and father figures—George Washington, Father of his Country—died childless.

Then there was Philip of Macedon, whose exploits in conquering Greece made his son fear that his father would leave him no glories to win. Philip's boy managed to amount to something after all by seizing the Persian Empire and much of India before he was 30; he is known to history as Alexander the Great.

CRYSTAL DECANTER FOR DAD—A gift that says he's special.

No matter where you and your dad may stand in the annals of fathers and children, the time occasionally arises to give him a gift that really says he's special. Fine crystal by Fostoria Glass Company is always a good choice because it is elegant—and at the same time—so practical. Wine decanters and coordinated barware, like the "Coventry" crystal decanter and "Invitation" wine goblet shown above, make great gift ideas for the man of the house.

Another father who deserved a special gift from his son: Beethoven Senior, who encouraged little Ludwig to practice the piano, until Beethoven Junior became perhaps the greatest composer of all times!

The word rascal originally meant a skin deer, hardly worth hunting.

Spirited COOKING CHEESE PLEASURES A happy idea for hors d'oeuvres is to serve these cheesy little pastries that contain the seeds of a marvelous party and are almost as easy as pie-crust to create. SPIKED CHEESE PASTRIES 2 cups unsifted flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 cup butter 1/2 lb. grated Cheddar cheese 3 tablespoons Bourbon (or 1 tablespoon each Bourbon, Scotch, Kummel) 1 egg beaten with 1 tablespoon water Sesame seeds, caraway seeds, coarse salt Measure flour and salt into a bowl. Cut in butter and blend in cheese, as for pie crust. Stir in Bourbon. (Or divide mixture into three parts and stir in 1 tablespoon of different liquor into each.) Gather dough into a ball, wrap in plastic wrap and chill for at least 1 1/2 hours. Roll out on well-floured board, about 1/4 inch thick. Cut as desired. Brush with beaten egg and sprinkle with desired garnish—sesame seeds with Bourbon, caraway seeds with Kummel, coarse salt with Scotch. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in preheated 375°F. oven for 8 to 10 minutes, until lightly browned. Makes about 4 dozen.

UNFOUNDED Fears When railroad trains were first introduced in this country, many people were afraid that they would cause the cows to go dry in the fields they passed.  A tribe of American Indians once feared to look at the sea, believing it would cause them to develop facial tics.

Today, some people fear nuclear reactors, although there's absolutely no way a nuclear explosion can be caused by the materials or the conditions in them.  Care instructions on flame resistant textiles should be followed strictly because improper care may even make the fabric highly flammable. For example, soap and hard water mineral deposits can counteract the effect of flame-retardant finishes.

MANAGING YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCES By Dr. Carl F. Hawver Q. My granddaddy believed in paying "cash-on-the-barrel head" and I find myself wondering if he wasn't right. Isn't all this credit pretty dangerous? A. Credit is something like fire. Fire can keep your house warm or burn it down—depending on how it is used. Credit can make a budget work, or ruin it—depending on how it is used. Unless we have married money, or inherited it, most of us have to depend on income for our needs. Some needs, however, are greater than we can meet out of a single paycheck, and needs won't always wait until we can save up money to meet them. Suppose your car breaks down and you need it to get to work. It will cost $85 to repair it and you don't have that much left in the paycheck after you pay for the rent, food, and other necessities. Credit will help you get the car fixed and spread the cost over several paychecks. The function of credit is to allow families to purchase big ticket items or handle major emergencies by spreading the cost over a period of time. Most of us would not be able to purchase cars or homes if credit were not available. Credit adjusts the peaks and valleys of our needs to the more stable level of our income. Remember, however, credit is not a scheme to spend more than you earn. It should be used only when you are spending less than you earn (so you will have the money to make the payments). Remember, too, that credit costs money. Be sure you know how much, and that having the goods or service now, is worth the extra cost. Dr. Carl F. Hawver, Executive Vice President of the National Consumer Finance Association, is a widely recognized counseling expert in family money and credit management.

TOWER TALKS by U.S. Senator for Texas JOHN TOWER Intelligence Folly WASHINGTON—Congress will be making a very dangerous mistake if it enacts into law the recommendations of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities. I served as Vice-Chairman of the Select Committee, but I could not sign its final report because the Committee's legislative proposals make significant departures from an overriding lesson of the American experience—the right of American citizens to be free is inextricably bound to their right to be secure. The 183 separate recommendations proposing new detailed statutes and reporting procedures not only exceed the number and scope of documented abuses, but represent and overreaction that could have dangerous consequences for our national security. Especially impractical and potentially dangerous are the restrictions proposed by the Committee majority with regard to covert operations, electronic surveillance, and the use of informants. "Dangerously naive" is perhaps the kindest description that can be made of the Committee's recommendation that Congress be given prior notification of any covert operations to be undertaken by the CIA or other intelligence agencies. Covert operations are and—this world being what it is—must remain a vital tool of American foreign policy. They give us a wide range of responses between diplomatic notes of protest or all out war as a means of meeting aggressive challenges from our potential adversaries. A President and a Secretary of State who are denied the tool of covert operations would be like a workman whose only tools were a screwdriver and a sledgehammer: they wouldn't have the tools they need to get the job done. The Committee majority stopped short of the utter folly of recommending a ban on covert operations, but the plan for prior notification could have the same effect. Congress is not notorious for keeping secrets, and secrecy is vital to the success of covert operations. Similarly ill-conceived is the Committee's proposal to limit electronic surveillance of Americans suspected of espionage to probes of violations of specific criminal statutes. The Committee majority did this despite its own admission that present laws provide inadequate protection against modern forms of espionage. To prohibit electronic surveillance in these cases is to sanction an unnecessary risk to our national security. Also unrealistic are the Committee's proposals with regard to the use of informants. Informants are a vital tool of law enforcement. To adopt the Committee's position and impose stringent limitations and mechanical time limits upon their use would be to place our faith in standards which are both illusory and unworkable.

Matching lace and pearls adorned the high neckline. The A-line skirt and long, slender sleeves were accented by medallions of matching lace. A ruffle flounce at the hemline swept into a chapel train. Miss Cynthia Stigler, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a gown of white eyelet over yellow satin which was identical to Miss Paula Stigler's.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stigler chose a pale pink gown. Mrs. Williams wore a gown of yellow chiffon.

First Baptists To Observe Pentecost Service

This Sunday, June 6, the First Baptist Church will be celebrating Pentecost, which follows 50 days after the Jewish celebration of Passover. Originally, the festival was the time when, with appropriate ceremony and ritual, the first fruits of the corn-harvest, the last Palestinian crop to ripen, were dedicated. It was the events of Acts 2 which transformed the Jewish festival into a Christian one. Some have seen a symbolic connection between the first fruits of the ancient festival, and the 'first fruits' of the Christian dispensation. Whitsunday is therefore the 50th day after Easter Sunday. The name derives from the white garments of those seeking baptism at this festival, a practice of very ancient origin.

The record in Acts 2 discloses that on Pentecost's Whitsunday 3000 souls were added to the church. This Sunday First Baptist Church will be honoring its 48 new members who have been received into its fellowship by baptism, letter or statement since last May. Activities planned for the day call for a covered-dish luncheon in the fellowship hall after the morning services; sack races, volleyball and three-legged races; forty-two; and a gospel singing followed by homemade ice cream for all. An early evening service will conclude the day's festivities.

For the gospel singing, the various singers will be accompanied by the old Bailey Ranch Baptist Church pump organ. The organ now belongs to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Blaylock who recently had it restored.

One special event centers around an activity sponsored by the young people. At a low cost, with all receipts going toward the Glorieta trip, an individual may purchase some water balloons to throw at the pastor or youth director whose heads will be serving as the bull's eye of a special target. The whole day is planned for fellowship and as opportunity for all to get better acquainted within the church.

Vacation Bible School Set At 1st Bapt. Church

Next week, Monday through Friday, June 7-11, the First Baptist Church will be sponsoring its annual Vacation Bible School. Classes will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 each morning.

This Saturday, June 5, at 9:30 a.m., Preparation Day will be held. All children in town are urged to be here for the Vacation Bible School parade.

The Vacation Bible School is for birth through sixth grade. Classes will be set up according to the grade completed in the past school year.

If your child would like to come to Vacation Bible School, but does not have a ride, please call the church at 853-2662 and proper arrangements will be made.

Avoid storing canned food near steam pipes, radiators, furnace and kitchen ranges. A dry, moderately cool place is best.

It's said that ancient Egyptians kneaded clay with their hands but dough with their feet.

I want to thank you personally for your generous support in the primary election of May 1st. If I can be of any assistance to you, please contact my Washington office or any of my district offices.

Best Regards,

Bob Krueger

WHICH WAY TO TURN?

There he goes, walking into the future. But what direction will he take? Whatever his choice, he will have to face problems and obstacles before his chosen goals can be reached.

One thing is sure, the years ahead hold much promise. One day he may be landing a jet on a carrier at sea, building a bridge in a foreign country, closing a big sale, or perhaps covering a fast-breaking news story. But to successfully reach his goal he will have to find the strength and wisdom to rise above the knotty problems of life.

Fortunately, he need not make his decisions alone. With the help of the Church, he can determine a course for successfully living his life in the world of tomorrow.
