Prairie Fire Occurs Saturday

Fire units from Sonora, Ozona, Big Lake and Mertzon joined local firemen Saturday afternoon in battling a blaze about 25 miles west of town, which charred an estimated 1,200 to 1,400 acres of grassland. It spread from the Bobby Oglesby ranch to the Ford Oglesby ranch, and at one time covered an area about four miles long and 3/4 of a mile wide.

Schleicher County Sheriff Orval Edmiston directed the operations of the fire departments, and in addition area ranchers and aircraft helped control the blaze.

Stock-spray equipment was used, and a plane operated by Floyd West of Eldorado circled the fire and reported to Edmiston about danger spots. The fire was reported at about 3:00 p.m. Saturday and controlled three hours later. No injuries were reported, and no livestock were believed lost.

Another One Monday

The firemen answered another alarm at about 2:30 Monday afternoon in a different part of the county. Clovis Taylor turned his dump truck over on the Rudd road starting a blaze a mile or two north of Eldorado.

The local firemen controlled the blaze, assisted by Sonora.

News Of The Sick

Mrs. Blanche Barney has been a patient in the local hospital.

Jack Elder was released Monday from the local hospital following an 11-day stay. He sustained injuries earlier in a flash fire while at work on oil equipment on the Bloodworth ranch near Sonora. The mishap also injured two other men, who were also at work.

Mrs. Frances Peters, assistant cashier at the bank, was confined home early this week with flu.

Coach Gary Tolar is around with his leg in a cast, after he injured it in the exhibition basketball game about two weeks ago.

Carroll Ratliff is a patient in Shannon hospital following a heart attack.

Gilbert Lowe is now home after having eye surgery in the Clinic Hospital last week. Gilbert reports he is doing fine but will not be able to work in his shop for about a month.

PAR - TEE

Twenty-one players entered the Mixed Team play Sunday afternoon.

Winning first place was the team of Eddy Kinser, W. G. Crippin, Lum Burk, and Tim Terry.

Winning second place was Bob Bland, Ernestine Hext, Bob Page and Ted Short.

Remember each 2nd and 4th Sunday are our mixed team play days. Come out and join in the fun.

An official board meeting will be held Thursday night, Feb. 14, and the president urges all members of the board to attend. Time 7:00 p.m.

A Bingo Party is to be held in the club house Friday night, February 15, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This is open to the public and we would like to see a large crowd out. Coffee and dessert will be served.

We wish a speedy recovery to our Tournament Chairman Carroll Ratliff who is recovering from a recent heart attack. We miss Carroll and Dot and hope they will be back in Eldorado very soon.

Sandy Donaldson was in the local hospital for tests. We are looking for him on the course soon as Billy and Larry are getting ahead of Daddy. It's wonderful to have families enjoying a fun day together and those three certainly seem to.

Ben Hext is in St. David Hospital Room 453, Austin, Texas 78731. No one is missed like Ben and we're hoping he will be home very soon.

Martha Godwin has been not feeling "up to par" the last few days. We hope she is feeling better now.

Everyone with back dues be sure and see W. G. Crippin and get all dues up to date so we can see everyone on the course when the weather is nice.

Happy Golfing! —Rep.

Congratulations to Gary Warnock for making a Hole in One on #1. Gary was using a 9 iron off the 110 yard tee box. We are real proud of our young golf team and Tim Terry is coach for this team.

Winter Drouth Holds On

Over on page 5 of this issue we are running the rainfall table. It shows another big fat zero for the month of January, 1974, just ended.

The last big rains we had over this county occurred early in October, so we have had a four-month period now without moisture.

Cover is high and dry on city lots and rangelands out in the county, causing firemen to voice their usual warnings to residents to be careful with trashfires and also careful when burning off unwanted grass and brush cover.

Elsewhere on this page are reports of grassfires which have been prevalent in recent weeks.

Federal Holiday Is Set For Monday

This coming Monday, February 18th, is designated as a Federal holiday for Washington's birthday. That means that the post office and other federal offices will be closed that day.

The post office will put mail in boxes, as on a Sunday, but will not have window service. So if you need to buy stamps or other things, take care of it no later than 10:30 Saturday morning so that the day off Monday will not inconvenience you.

The First National Bank will also observe Monday as a holiday. That means the bank will be closed from 3:00 p.m. Friday to 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday.

Westerman Drug Going In Page Bldg.

Cecil Westerman, who currently operates drug stores in San Angelo, Sonora and Ozona, this past week end made a deal for putting in a new pharmacy in Eldorado, in the Page building on South Main street.

Mr. Westerman was in Eldorado last week and this week making arrangements for lease of the building which is located between the Page brothers offices and the Eldo hotel building.

The property involved is a vacant one-time drug location, but is part of a Bert Page estate.

Mr. Westerman had L. V. Newport and Bill Williams starting preliminary work in the building Tuesday morning on the remodeling to make suitable location for a modern pharmacy.

Mr. Westerman specified that his new store will NOT have a soda fountain or a coffee drinking bar. The old ice cream and syrup dispensing equipment is to be removed and that area converted to the prescription dispensing area.

Other work calls for raising the floor six inches, painting of the ceiling and walls, and installation of modern store shelving and other fixtures. The project is to cost about $3,000 and take several weeks to complete.

The building is one of three on South Main which were erected in 1923 by Mr. McKnight. That was the period of the Whitten oil boom and when Santa Fe was laying their line through this county. Royster & Whitten Drug was housed in one of the buildings at that time. Later we had Page Drug, Ballew Drug, the Shaws, and Tony's Drug.

Hospital Auxiliary To Give Scholarship

The Schleicher County Hospital Auxiliary is again giving a scholarship to an individual pursuing a medical career.

Although the spring semester has already begun, the auxiliary feels that it is by no means too late to give the scholarship due to travel and other expenses which occur throughout the semester.

Anyone interested in this scholarship should contact a member of the Scholarship Committee, consisting of Mrs. Andy Nixon, Mrs. Edwin Jackson, and Mrs. Mike Moore. They will have application forms and will be happy to answer questions one might have concerning the scholarship.

The application forms must be completed and returned to a member of the Scholarship Committee by March 15, 1974. —Rep.

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Meat prices continue to trend upward, so meat items should be selected with care, one observer noted this week.

"A larger cut of meat is frequently an economy," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"Also less demanded cuts of meat are often priced below average.

"Many larger cuts can be divided easily into smaller cuts and cooked at different times," she added.

Less popular cuts of meat, such as beef heart, are tasty and nutritious when properly prepared, the specialist said.

"Steaks and roasts from the pork shoulder offer very good eating at considerably less cost than the more popular pork chops."

Turning to poultry, she termed turkey, turkey parts and fryer chickens economical protein food choices.

"Egg prices are up—considerably higher than a year ago, with Grade A, large-size eggs offering the best value."

At fruit counters, grapefruit and oranges are priced attractively with several varieties of oranges available—Temple, Valencia and Navel oranges are a few, the specialist added.

"Mangoes and tangerines are still available, though supplies are on the decline. Apples, bananas and pears are other fruit choices, along with moderately priced fresh strawberries and pineapples.

"The most economical vegetables include bulk turnips, cooking greens, rutabagas, head lettuce, cabbage, carrots, celery and broccoli, white potato and dry onion prices are up."

Consumer Watchwords: Don't waste food.

Still Waiting For Several More Bales

Word from Kenith Homer at the cotton gin office Monday was that Bill Blaylock still had several more bales to come before winding up the ginning season.

The season's total at that particular moment was 3061.

"We should have had a thousand more," was his only comment. Last year the gin continued to run up into April and the total for that year was 3,048.

The following scholarship committee was appointed: Mrs. Mike Moore, Mrs. Winnie Jackson, and Mrs. Andy Nixon. Also the following projects committee were appointed: Mrs. Arch Mittel, Mrs. Weatherly Kinser, Mrs. S. D. Harper and Mrs. Carroll Ratliff.

Austin, Tex.—Plenty of action for the May 4 Democratic primary developed just before last week's filing deadline.

Mrs. Frances "Sissy" Farenthold got into the governor's race against Gov. Dolph Briscoe, and promptly filed a $3 million lawsuit, alleging he accepted illegal campaign contributions.

Houston lawyer Donald B. Yarbrough filed against State Treasurer Jesse James Herbert "Peanut" Schroeder of Columbus challenged Agriculture Commissioner John C. White; and C. A. Killy of San Antonio took on Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace.

A three-way Democratic race of comptroller was on schedule long before the filing deadline, with Bob Bullock of Howard Edburg of Austin and Buddy F. Kirk of Houston the candidates. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is retiring.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Attorney General John Hill, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, Railroad Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon and top appellate judges escaped Democratic opposition. But all incumbent statewide officials (except the judges) will get Republican opposition in November.

Republicans have contests for governor: Hank Grover of Houston, Jim Granberry of Lubbock and Odell McBrayer of Fort Worth; for lieutenant governor: Gaylor Marshall of Dallas and Troy Skates of Austin; and for railroad commissioner: Dale W. Steffes of Houston and John Hall of Weatherford.

Other Republican statewide candidates include Tom Cole of Houston for attorney general; Nicholas Rowe of McAllen for comptroller; Mrs. Mary Lou Grier of Boerne for land commissioner; Robert G. Holt of Amarillo for treasurer; Zack Fisher of Memphis for agriculture commissioner and Joe Cain of Houston for railroad commissioner against Langdon.

Raza Unida Party fielded Ramsey Muniz for governor and Fred Garza for Railroad Commissioner.

Truckers Irate

Unhappy Texas truck drivers called on Governor Briscoe for aid in getting diesel fuel prices rolled back.

In an effort to end their strike, Briscoe dispatched an aide to Washington to confer with Federal Energy Administrator William Simon on the situation.

The governor's aide, James Rose, said his mission was "simply to convey (the truckers') position to federal agencies and congressmen."

Texas truckers also demanded an increase in the speed limit between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals still has the largest case load of any state appellate court in the nation.

Attorney General Hill held the Texas Air Control board may not enforce federal environmental protection agency regulations not within its statutory jurisdiction and not adopted by the agency itself.

President Nixon's budget includes funds for veterans outpatient clinic at Beaumont and air conditioning modernization at the VA hospital in Kerrville.

A new $85 million predator control program to protect sheep and goats went into effect February 1.

Allstate Insurance Company has been called on to explain March 6 why $4 million in policy dividends were not paid to Texas drivers.

NIXON NAMED TO FIRST TEAM COLLEGE DIV. ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICAN FOOTBALL

Archie Nixon

Alpine, Tex.—Archie Nixon, a 5-8, 165 pound wingback and place kicker for Sul Ross State University has been selected to the first team of the College Division Academic All-American football team.

Nixon, a 1972 graduate of Eldorado High School, established two Sul Ross records during the 1973 football season. One record came as a result of a 45 yard field goal, setting a new distance mark and the other record being established as a result of his six total field goals during a season.

In two contests during the 1973 campaign Nixon's kicking toe made the difference for the Lobos. Against Tarleton State, Nixon booted a 32 yarder with one second remaining in the contest to give the Lobos a 13-10 decision. Again with the opponent being Texas A&I, Nixon put Sul Ross out in front with his 45 yard kick giving the Lobos a 10-7 victory.

In the classroom, Nixon maintains a 2.4 cumulative grade point average majoring in chemistry.

The Academic All-American team selections were made by the College Sports Information Directors of America. To qualify for nomination, players had to maintain a "B" average or better during the past year, or maintain a "B" cumulative average for their collegiate career.

In addition, they had to be athletes who made significant contributions to their team.

The cost of the statewide Easter Seal program is over one million dollars, financed mainly by the Easter Seal Appeal. Almost 90% of all funds raised by the Texas Easter Seal Appeal remain in Texas to support the growing needs of the disabled in the state.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1974 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen in the County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Fortune Drilling Corp., San Angelo, will re-enter and clean out to 4,632 feet at the former Skelly Oil Co. No. 1 Charlie Martin, a 4,800-foot failure, for completion attempt as a seventh Strawn oil producer and a 5/8 mile south and very slightly east extension to that pay in the Cheaney multipay field of Schleicher County, 25 miles northeast of Eldorado. It is the No. 2 Martin.

It was drilled "tight" as a Strawn test in the field and abandoned Aug. 11, 1970.

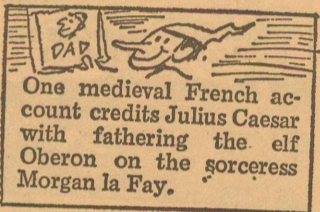

Location, exception to Rule No. 37, is 467 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east lines of 32-3-TW&NG. Ground elevation is 2,330 feet.

It is also a south offset to Fortune Drilling No. 10 Cheaney, in 30-3-TW&NG, which has been shut in since Jan. 19, 1972, after testing through perforations at 4,651-52 feet and open hole 4,692-4,700 feet.

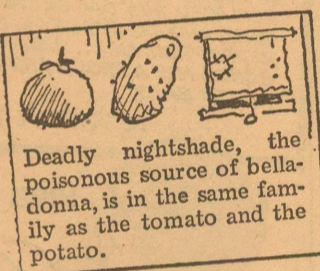

The field has one Harkey sand oil and one Strawn gas producer.

About Deceptive
Advertising Practices

(By John L. Hill, Attorney General) Austin, Tex.—Most merchants are truthful in their advertising, and straightforward in their sales techniques.

They strive to describe accurately the products and services they offer, and instruct their sales representatives to allow you to make your independent decisions about merchandise, free from high-pressure techniques.

They plan to be in business in their communities for a long time, and know that that very small percentage of merchants who subscribe to unfair or deceptive business practices tend to acquire only one-time customers.

Those ads that begin "It's just too good to be true . . ." usually are just that.

People may respond to such ads, but if they feel victimized by misleading advertisers, they'll pass the word around. Eventually, those businesses will run through customers, and have to close.

It's the job of the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division and of local district and county attorneys to shorten that cycle as much as possible. And it's the intent of this column to put customers on notice so they will be informed, and less likely to fall prey to unscrupulous business practices.

The 1973 Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act prohibits false, misleading and deceptive trade practices, unconscionable actions, and breaches of warranty, and gives injured consumers the right to file private suit.

But how can consumers, or businessmen, tell what types of advertising may be permitted or prohibited?

The act includes a "laundry list" of 19 practices which are prohibited specifically. And it says that the body of case law built up over several decades of cases handled by the Federal Trade Commission will serve as a guide.

It also states that local city ordinances can be passed to outlaw deceptive practices.

In general, state law, legal precedents, and local ordinances are in agreement on the following basic "rules of thumb" for identifying deceptive advertising or other misrepresentations:

1. The effect of the whole ad or label or business transaction must be considered, not just a portion.
 2. If a word or term is ambiguous, and one meaning is false, the word or term is "deceptive."
 3. Deliberate use of very small type to set out qualifications of disclosures may be considered a factor in causing a practice to be held deceptive.
 4. If a business practice "tends to deceive," it usually is considered "deceptive."
 5. To determine if a practice is deceptive, you have to determine its effect on the "ordinary purchaser," and this includes the gullible and unsophisticated consumer.
 6. Normally, the argument that competitors are using the same type of deceptive advertising complained of is not considered a defense.
 7. Even if a certain customer who appears in a place of business is not deceived by a specific ad or practice, if it is considered deceptive to the general public, it is unlawful.
 8. If an advertiser abandons a deceptive practice, he still can be ordered by a court to cease that practice, in order to prevent possible resumption.
- If you are in doubt, as a consumer or as an advertiser, as to whether a practice could be considered deceptive, consult your lawyers, or contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

6 WAYS TO CONSERVE AND SAVE FOR THE HOMEMAKER

1. Let Nature help you to save on operating costs.
 - (a) Let the sunshine in during winter months to help cut heating costs.
 - (b) Shade your home with trees and shrubs to help cut down on summer cooling costs. Draw draperies against afternoon sun.
2. Be prudent when using appliances. Wash full loads of dishes and laundry, and follow manufacturer's owner-manual for best results.
3. Proper insulation helps secure your home against dirt and noise and defends it against outside heat and cold, offering year round comfort and savings. Insulation can pay for itself in the savings from operating cost in about 1 1/2 years.
4. You purchased fine-home comfort when you bought your air conditioning and heating units. Properly maintained, they offer you years of efficient service. A once-a-year check-up by your dealer pays dividends in savings on operating and break-down costs.
5. For savings on energy, set the thermostat on the temperature setting that provides adequate comfort (the President suggests 68°). Don't continually switch it up and down. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the more money you save on energy.
6. Adequate lighting is essential for creating a safe and pleasing environment in every room of your home. Dust and dirt alone cause substantial losses in the amount of light produced. Systematic cleaning is important. Clean lamp bulbs (when they are cool) with a damp cloth. Conserve and save energy by turning lights off in rooms that are not needed.

ROMANS — CHAPTER 10

Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3. For they, being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth these things shall live by them.

6. But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

7. Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring Christ again from the dead.)

8. But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach;

9. That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11. For the Scripture saith, Who-soever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.

13. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?

15. And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16. But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?

17. So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18. But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went unto all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.

19. But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20. But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21. But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

VALENTINE'S DAY LORE AND LEGEND

The actual origin of St. Valentine's Day has been lost in antiquity, but from earliest times February 14th has been shrouded in mystery, magic and romance. Legend says that on this day the fairy world of elves, gnomes and little folk awaken to sounds of Spring unheard by humans; flowers and toadstools begin to stir and birds start to sing their mating songs.

Popular belief also holds that St. Valentine, a Roman priest, wrote a farewell message to the blind daughter of his jailor on the eve of his death and signed it "From Your Valentine." If this is true it is the origin of the expression used over the centuries, and began the custom of sending a "Valentine" to a loved one that is ardently pursued by millions today.

The Valentine was actually the very first greeting card in history and predates the first Christmas card by about 200 years. Norcross has an extensive and rare Historical Collection of Valentines that dates back to 1710 and includes Civil War cards and the heavily adorned cards of the 1850's. Today's Norcross Valentine cards reflect the taste and manners of our modern society; but their inspiration comes from many of these treasured messages from the past. Fads may come and go, but love and romance still reign on Valentine's Day.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION GOOD NEWS ABOUT GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE New Housing For The Working Man How can working people be housed when conditions are becoming increasingly crowded? When cities are sprawling out into suburbia and the suburbs slipping off to the farms? One interesting idea comes from Mexico, where there has always been a dwelling dilemma, and the population explosion has blown up the housing shortage situation almost out of control. Last year, an ambitious new program to establish housing facilities especially for workers was instituted by Mexican President Luis Echeverria and financed through a 5 percent payroll tax levied on every business! This program, administered by the Institute for a National Fund for Workers' Housing (INFONAVIT) will spend over $300 million in 1973 building housing units in major Mexican cities. In the first year of the program, 54,000 homes were put up and $80 million worth of credit for housing was granted to Mexican workers. This year, 2,000 homes were turned over to the people in one month alone! INFONAVIT is also planning to create the nation's largest housing complex, just north of Mexico City. It will include 20,000 houses and 100 apartment buildings in different cities and extend credit for workers' home improvements. In addition, the Mexican government is independently encouraging the establishment of housing developments for the poor, non-salaried workers and peasants, and channels credits through an official bank to go towards the construction of homes for middle class families. A Mexican's home is his casa, and now more and more Mexicans can have casitas they can call their own, gracias to their government, which may deserve a big "thank you" from the U.S. as well!

Hostess TIPS SPOT-FREE GLASSES AND TABLEWARE Spotless glasses, dishes and silverware are one of the "little things" that can make every homemaker known as a famous hostess. Now, because automatic rinse agent products are available everywhere for use in home dishwashers-Jet-Dry is the most popular one-you can be sure of getting top hotel quality spot-free tableware results with dishes and glasses you take right from your dishwasher to your table. The fact is that no dishwasher detergent alone can possibly guarantee your spotless results. Why? Because spotting develops during the rinse cycle of your dishwasher's operation, and by that time, your detergent has already gone down the drain! Jet-Dry is your inexpensive insurance of spotlessness, moreover, since one package, in either liquid form (for dishwashers without dispensers) costs less than a dollar and lasts for over two months. There are other "little things," and inexpensive ones too, that you can do to help you become famous as a hostess with family and friends. Here's one idea. Give your floral arrangement personal meaning to your dinner guests by using the official flower of your honored guest's birth month. The carnation is January's flower, for example, and the violet is February's. Your florist can guide you. You might even want to ask him to make up a bouquet, including one birth month flower for each guest you expect to invite. Using candlelight on your table is another of the "little things" that adds subtle beauty to your table setting, of course. And now, with the energy shortage, it's even patriotic to use more candlelight! And further, remember that by getting automatically spotless table settings with a Jet-Dry working in your automatic dishwasher you've saved all the time you might have spent in hand polishing your glasses. And you can spend the time you've saved to create your own personal touches or "little things" to bring raves from family and friends!

Protect Plants From Freeze Damage

Extremely cold weather can cause plant tissues to rupture or can cause dehydration. Special care can protect landscape plants or at least reduce the degree of injury.

Mulching the root area to prevent low soil temperatures is helpful. This allows the continued uptake of moisture and less chance of dehydration, especially in evergreens.

Do not allow the soil to become excessively dry. And water thoroughly before a freeze. However, do not water while the ground is frozen.

Cover choice plants with large cardboard containers or wrap them with polyethylene film. If film is used, be sure to remove it whenever direct sunlight hits it, as extremely high temperatures can develop and cause severe damage. Do not be over-anxious to remove plants that appear to have been killed by a freeze. Often the damaged plant will send out new shoots from the root. Unless it is budded or grafted, the new growth will be the same as the original plant.

Wait until new growth starts before pruning ornamentals with freeze damage. Pruning too soon can result in removing either too much injured wood or not all the dead tissue.

More information on pruning can be obtained from the county Extension office.

Prune Freeze Damaged Trees

Most trees are subject to damage from winter ice storms and freezing weather. But with careful pruning and good cultural practices, damaged plants will generally recover.

The first step in caring for ice damaged trees is to survey the damage and plan corrective pruning. Remove damaged limbs at the point of origin or just above a good side branch. Do not allow stubs to remain unless absolutely necessary.

When extremely severe damage makes it necessary to stub back a branch or main trunk, paint the wound with a good tree wound dressing available at any nursery or garden center. Orange shellac makes a good temporary dressing. Continual pruning and attention will be necessary to keep down sucker growth at the end of the stub.

If a trunk or main branch has split due to ice accumulation, remove the portion of the trunk that has broken away. Cables and bolts may be used to pull the damaged trunk together, but unless done by a professional tree man, the results are seldom satisfactory.

When a broken limb has pulled bark loose along the side of a trunk, smooth the torn area with a sharp knife or chisel and paint all exposed cuts with tree wound dressing.

Garden Check List

Begin preparation of annual beds, select the site, correct any drainage problems that may exist, add needed humus and fertilizer, and work up soil ready to plant.

This is an excellent time to control scale insects using a dormant oil spray. Never apply oil sprays if the expected temperatures high is above 70 degrees F. or plant damage can occur. Likewise do not apply if freezing weather is predicted within 48 hours after application. Be sure to spray lower leaf surface and all exposed branch surfaces.

Remove any bagworm pouches from choice evergreens as this is where the pest overwinter in egg form ready to go to work as soon as conditions are right.

Fertilize fruit and nut trees in late February.

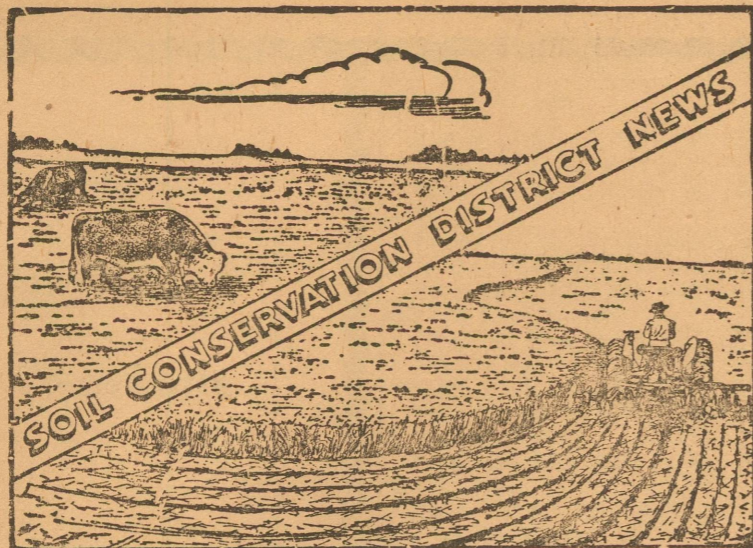

Continue to select and plant woody trees, shrubs, and vines. Remember to plan before planting. Prune established hybrid tea and florabunda roses. Wait with climbers until the peak of spring bloom.

Towns should be fertilized in late February or early March with a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or equivalent applying 15 to 20 pounds per 1000 square feet or better yet follow recommendations based on a soil test. Contact your local County Extension Agent for instructions, and mailers for submitting a soil sample.

Set out dahlia tubers in late February. Other summer flowering bulbs and bulb-like structures that can be planted in late February or early March include canna, ginger and oxalis.

Complete all fruit tree pruning by the end of February.

Plant gladiolus corms this month. Space planting dates at two week intervals to extend flowering date.

Conservation of irrigation water through proper handling is becoming more and more important as demands on our water supplies increase irrigation farmers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District who are practicing good irrigation water management. This not only helps conserve irrigation water, but also applies the right amount of water to crops, according to Lloyd B. Johnson, Soil Conservation Technician of the Soil Conservation Service.

Irrigation before crops are planted is one of the most important irrigations applied. Pre-planting irrigation can store water in the root zone depth that can be used by crops through the entire time the crop is being grown. By applying enough water to fill the soil to full field capacity crops can grow to a good height before the next irrigation is needed. Weed control can be carried out without the hindrance of wet land. Also, fields are usually in the best condition for application of irrigation water before crops are planted.

The need and importance of any irrigation needed should not be minimized if the purpose of irrigation is to increase yields and net income. Maximum potential yields can only be attained when crops have all moisture needed from planting time until harvest.

Knowing when to irrigate is equally as important as having water to irrigate with. Irrigating before crops are hurting for moisture and not before the moisture content of the soil is about 50% field capacity, is the right time to irrigate.

When to irrigate and how much water to apply can be determined by digging a hole about three feet deep or root zone depth. By determining moisture content for each foot of depth the time irrigation is needed and how much water to apply can be determined. This is known as the feel or ball method since a representative sample of soil from each foot of depth is made into a ball by squeezing with one hand. The ball is then tossed into the air repeatedly, to about one foot height and caught the same as a baseball. If the ball breaks with five tosses or less, moisture content is less than 50% field capacity. If the ball remains intact after it has been tossed five times it contains 50% or more of its water holding capacity.

Establishing and maintaining a good irrigation system is essential in attaining the most efficient use of irrigation water. A poor delivery system can waste from 25% up to more than 50% of the water available. Excess grade and side fall or a reverse grade adds to the inefficiency of irrigation. Water received from rainfall can be wasted and cause soil erosion on irrigated field with excessive side fall and grade. Making the best use of rainfall and irrigation should undoubtedly be conducive to the most net profit. Whereas, irrigating where water received from rainfall is lost and irrigation water applied is less than or equal to inches of rainfall received, would no doubt decrease net profit. Trading equal amounts of rainfall for irrigated water is no doubt a losing proposition.

"Assistance in planning and applying all the needed practices on irrigated land is available from the Soil Conservation Technicians assisting the District. Cost share assistance is available in applying the needed enduring type conservation practices through the Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the S. C. S.," Johnson said.

Though most blanket statements have little value, here's one that can save you work and money and keep you extra warm during the cold months ahead:

Choose a pair of wool blankets and make them into draperies for your living room. By contrasting them with your wallpaper, paint or carpeting, you'll achieve a fresh, dramatic effect.

The mood can be delicately feminine—a white or pink "see-through" thermal blanket—or ruggedly masculine, using a strong solid color blanket—or one with a tartan or American Indian pattern.

Wool blanket "draperies" are a natural for the living room. Wool's inherent ability to hold moisture—up to 33 percent of its own weight—acts as a natural fire retardant. And the wool fiber itself acts as an insulator—it keeps the room's heat in and keeps the cold air out. You get all this when you buy a wool blanket with the Woolmark label on it, a meaningful blanket statement assuring you of a quality-tested product made of the world's best...Pure Wool!

Wool blanket draperies—a good idea to hang on to!

THE QUEST FOR NEW TRAILS

The history of man is a story of progress. Each of its thousands of volumes could bear one common title: The Quest for New Trails.

Even in childhood we display this strange genius which has brought us from primeval forests to this atomic age. We love to penetrate the untouched spaces . . . to open trails where none have ever been.

But this quest could destroy us more rapidly than it has profited us. History recounts the fall of many a civilization too busy with its search for new trails to understand its deeper needs.

For man can truly progress only when his spiritual growth keeps pace with his cultural and scientific advancement.

Or, bluntly, the future of this young Arctic explorer and of his world depends on the Church. The truths of God are unchanging—and ever more essential—as we seek new trails into the Unknown.
