Par-Teo News-

The Annual Couple's Tournament was a big success. Our sincere thanks goes to every member that helped in any way to make the event a success.

Thirty-five couples played. Winners of championship flight were: T. J. Bailey and Ida Mae Powell, 1st;

Sam and Edie Conner, 2nd; Doug Eakman and Mary Meacham, 3rd.

First Flight—Wes and Millie Harrison, 1st; John Cotton and Elaine Donaldson, 2nd; W. G. Crippin and Mary Barrow, 3rd.

Second Flight—Raymon Mobley and Ethel Olson, 1st.

Dr. Jack Bolen, Johnnie Rewaldt, 2nd; Eddie and Weatherly Kinser, 3rd.

Third Flight—Mr. and Mrs. Batts Friend, 1st; Charles and Linda Meredith, 2nd; Sam and Dorothy Harvey, 3rd.

Winning the ladies longest drive Sunday morning was Ethel Olson of Sonora and winning Sunday afternoon was Millie Harrison of San Angelo.

Winning the men's longest drive Sunday morning was Joe Jackson of Big Lake and the winner in the afternoon was Doug Eakman of San Angelo.

We're all wondering how Myrta Cash teed her ball up 10 feet in that tree. By the way, Mickey, would Myrta have made that birdie on No. 7? Wonder who had the most from Sunday morning, Mickey Rathbone and Myrta Cash or Delbert Taylor keeping the score? Everyone had fun and it was a very nice group from surrounding towns and our local people.

The entire group, except the ones having to go home, had a lovely buffet supper at El Dorado Restaurant.

Congratulations to Paul Page for another hole in one. This time it was on No. 1 and he was using an 8 iron. The list is almost complete for all the local hole in ones made so if anyone has been missed, please contact Juanita Taylor.

Our congratulations to Ernestine Hext and Wanda Neville for winning the first flight at the Riverside Ladies Golf Assn. Tournament.

Last Thursday was our regular monthly play with Mary Waldron as hostess. It was lots of fun as our play was using only three club. Afraid some of us chose the wrong clubs. Seems as if Eddie Kinser didn't as she had the lowest score and Ernestine Hext second. Marilyn Short was a guest.

Carroll Ratliff was out as usual Monday afternoon giving lessons. Happy Golfing! —Rep.

RC&D Projects Assist People; Local Citizens Assume Leadership

Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) projects assist people in taking care of their natural resources, and at the same time, improve their communities' economy.

It's an opportunity for local units of government, individuals and conservation districts to improve their communities in multicounty areas. This program can assist us in enhancing our economic environmental, and social well-being.

The program concept includes an expansion of views, ideas, activities, and program efforts to achieve more prosperous and attractive communities.

Initiative and leadership in all phases of RC&D project activities is a responsibility of the local people that cannot be assumed by others.

All RC&D projects must have community benefits. They should be big enough to permit developing the natural resources for economic improvement and community betterment, but small enough that local leadership can prepare and carry out the project plan.

In RC&D projects, all interests in the area—rural, suburban, and urban—work together. These are self-help projects. Local people get them going and run them. People working together plus teamwork between public agencies make for a successful project. In other words, local people are the key.

Ministerial Alliance Conservation Tour

Preparatory to observance of Soil Stewardship Week May 19-26 the local Ministerial Alliance took a tour of a portion of the county Friday, May 17, to observe conservation practices on the land as well as looking at land needing conservation practices applied to the land.

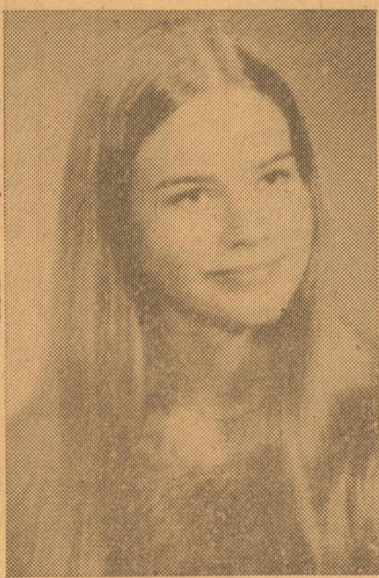

Bill Rountree, District Conservationist, assisting the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District, conducted the tour. The group observed lakes that had been terraced and contoured to keep water out of the lakes, run-off in lakes of overgrazed pastures as compared to no run-off in lakes of properly grazed pastures; and looked at a farm that had a complete conservation plan made with cost share practices and non cost share practices planned and applied. Fields planted with rows running up and down the hill were observed as well as water in the lakes of un-terraced fields.

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water and other natural resources.

This year's theme, "A Different Place," emphasizes how the many changes now occurring in the nation affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land.

Messages on soil stewardship will be heard in churches of all faiths throughout our land during the week of May 19-26.

Garden Check List For May

1. Soak those flower and vegetable beds the day before you attempt to pull weeds. Less tugging is required and the roots don't break off as frequently.
2. As soon as roses finish one cycle of bloom, fertilize to promote new growth and another cycle. Remove all faded flowers to prevent seed formation.
3. Continue to fertilize flowering annuals and perennials to provide nutrients for optimum growth.
4. Stake gladiolus, snapdragons, dahlia and other tall plants having heavy flower heads.
5. This is an excellent time to propagate your favorite chrysanthemums from cuttings. As soon as the cuttings are rooted, dig up the parent plants, discard, and prepare beds for new plants grown from cuttings.

6. Pinch chrysanthemum tips every few weeks till early August to make stronger, bushier plants.

7. Weeds will soon invade a lawn that is suffering from lack of moisture. A thorough, deep soaking of the lawn every week is better than daily light waterings.

8. Seeds that may be sown directly in the warm soil at this time include, amaranthus, colosia, cosmos, marigolds, morning glories, portulaca, sunflowers and zinnias. Don't allow beds to become dry or seeds will not germinate.

9. Replenish garden mulches. Conserves moisture, cools ground, discourages weed growth and improves the soil.

10. In those areas where late freezing weather has not already thinned the fruit crop, remove part of the fruit so that which remains will attain a good size.

Do you want the San Antonio political machine to own your next U.S. Congressman?

Or do you want a congressman like Bob Krueger who will represent all the people of the 21st district?

Unlike NELSON WOLFF, the handpicked candidate of the San Antonio political machine, BOB KRUEGER is a man who believes that its time for government to represent the great majority of the American people.

Bob Krueger is the only candidate who has taken stands on every major issue.

He has spoken out:

- For a balanced budget
- For the right to work on a national level
- For a strong military
- For an agricultural policy which encourages rather than discourages agricultural production
- For a freer market system
- Against forced busing
- Against general amnesty
- Against gun control
- Against metro-government
- Against wage-price controls

Allen Moore Endorses Krueger For Congress

Judge Allen Moore of Upton county, a former candidate for U. S. Congress in the 21st District, on Monday, May 20th, endorsed congressional candidate Bob Krueger for his runoff election on June 1st.

"I believe he is honest, sincere and committed to no one but the people of our 21st District," Moore stated in a paid political advertisement in his home county newspapers, the Rankin News and the McCamey News.

Krueger is the independent businessman and rancher who carried 18 counties in the May 4th Democratic Primary election for U. S. Congress in the 21st District.

In his letter, Moore explained that he had met and observed the other candidates in the congressional race during the campaign for the first primary election.

"There was one (candidate) who impressed," the Upton County judge said, adding "I found him to be well informed on our economic background. The position he took on our government administration was sound and constructive."

"I'm going to vote for BOB KRUEGER to be our next congressman. I hope you will do the same," Moore wrote.

Upon learning of this most recent endorsement, Krueger said, "I'm very honored to have the support of yet another well-respected leader in West Texas. Moore's endorsement is very significant because it comes from a man who has reviewed each of the candidates first hand."

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—Beef, now at lower wholesale prices than it was a year ago, is one of the few food items boasting that distinction today, one expert says.

She's Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Consumer Marketing Information Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Scattered beef specials now offer the comparative shopper good values on chuck cuts, sirloin and rib steaks, round steak and beef liver," she added.

At pork counters, Boston butt and loin roasts are in the spotlight, while other features include quarter loins cut into chops, smoked picnics and some brands of bacon.

Turning to poultry sections, Mrs. Clyatt cited chicken, eggs and turkey—both whole bird and parts—as economical. She termed turkey and egg supplies "large."

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply as economical prices include apples, oranges, grapefruit and strawberries.

"Also, dry yellow onions, green onions, mustard, turnips & greens, cabbage, carrots, beets and radishes—along with soft-shell, or summer, squash.

"Watermelon prices dropped this week as supplies started increasing, while cantaloupe and honeydew melons reflect varying prices, usually according to melon size," Mrs. Clyatt said.

She reported pineapples in fairly heavy supply—and bananas in lighter supply with higher prices.

Consumer Watchwords: Chicken meat that turns darker near the bone after it's cooked indicates a young, tender bird.

Because today's chickens are marketed at earlier ages, bones aren't completely calcified. Bone marrow expands during slow freezing, as in home freezing, causing pigment to seek through the bone—which doesn't affect taste or quality.

Arts & Crafts Fair Set At Kerrville In May

Browsing through a gamut of exhibits covering the world of arts and crafts, sampling tempting foods, or stretching out under a tree to hear some favorite old tunes are all part of the "traditional Texas goodtimes" at the Texas Arts and Crafts Fair, May 24-27.

Sheltered under bright red and white striped tents Texas' 150 top artists and craftsmen will demonstrate their skills, display and sell their works.

Hand-crafted, one-of-a-kind items for sale enhance the old-time flavor of the fair, nestled in the rolling Kerrville hills. Favorite exhibits of the past two fairs will again be represented such as sculpting and painting in all mediums, batiks, silk screens, myriads of pottery, blown glass, macrame, leather crafting, jewelry design, metal crafts and ceramics.

In addition, this year's fair will feature a Pioneer Village, a natural in the rustic outdoors. Dedicated to the crafts skills of our pioneer settlers of a century ago demonstration and sales exhibits will include blacksmithing, lye soap making, sour dough bread baking, saddle making, quilting and much more.

The entire process of textile skills from sheep shearing to spinning and dyeing with herbs and vegetables to weaving is shown.

Booths catering to the hungry visitor will be just as plentiful as the arts and crafts. Fresh peaches and cream, fried chicken, watermelon, Mexican food, bakery items, fried catfish, frito pie, German sandwiches, corn dogs, beef jerky, sausage, natural foods, and sour-dough bread will tempt those with the strongest willpower.

Good entertainment always accompanies good food; the Old Fiddlers' Contest supplies just that. Strains of the best foot-stomping music from more than 30 of Texas' top fiddlers will cover the grounds beginning at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, May 26.

During the other three afternoons of the Fair, New Folk concerts will give visitors an opportunity to relax and listen to new folk music.

The "Texas Goodtimes" extend on into the evening with the third version of the Kerrville Folk Festival. Moved to a new outdoor theater, the festival offers the best in Texas folk music as performed by some 25 entertainers including Allen Damron, Chubby Wise, the Bluegrass Ramblers, Carolyn Hester and Peter Yarrow of Peter, Paul and Mary fame.

The real story of the fair stretches back over six years and thousands of miles into West Virginia. While Phil Davis, director of the fair, and others from Texas were attending a fair in Canada they saw crafts on exhibit which were designed in West Virginia, "and we developed the idea of a similar type fair to promote Texas arts and crafts," Davis said.

"For three years in a row we sent a committee to West Virginia to study how it was done. Then we brought the ideas back to Texas and put them to work after adding distinctive Texas flavor."

Since its beginning in 1972, the fair has grown immensely to meet the expectations of the crowd of more than 40,000 predicted to attend this year by Davis.

To alleviate space problems and increase the quality of the arts and crafts, this year's number of exhibitors was lowered. Over 400 entries were considered by the selection committee, Mrs. Carolyn Tiemann, Manager, Southwest Craft

How DOES your garden grow?

The mystery of life and growth was one our daughter took for granted . . . until last summer when she "adopted" a flower bed all her own. Then she began to ask what makes her garden grow.

I once had a course in botany; I thought I knew all the answers. But none of them seemed to register with Mary.

So my wife took over the answering department. God makes things grow! That made much more sense to Mary.

Is it, after all, a contradiction of science to admit that we live in a world full of mysteries . . . mysteries that happen before our very eyes . . . mysteries that reveal the wondrous mind of the Creator?

At graduation time, we fully realize that our sons and daughters need a spiritual foundation for all other knowledge. They will find it in the Church.
