Solons To Weigh Every Word Of Truman's Speech

Policy Statement From President On Greece Scheduled

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—An assertion by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), that the United States may shoulder world-wide obligations by helping Greece sharpened congressional attention today on President Truman's promised report on the Mediterranean diplomatic crisis.

The President goes before a joint session of the House and Senate at noon tomorrow for a policy statement which members seem certain to weigh word by word before they reach any decision to pump American dollars and prestige into Greece and Turkey.

There were strong indications that the form in which Mr. Truman couches any proposal to help the two countries may tip the scales for or against American intervention at the strategic backdoor of Europe.

From what they learned at White House conferences, legislative leaders have concluded the President will recommend a loan of $250,000,000 for Greece and a credit of $150,000,000 for Turkey to bolster those two nations' economies at home, help meet the cost of maintaining their armed forces and pay for military equipment they need.

Vandenberg, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and has served as a State Department adviser at world diplomatic conferences, pointed up present Congressional indecision. Vandenberg told a news conference after a meeting of the Senate's 81 Republicans last night he hopes the "total implications" of any American economic intervention in the Mediterranean will be explained to Congress and the people by the President.

"So far as the Greek loan is concerned," he said, "I simply indicated to my colleagues my opinion that it is not an isolated phase but may prove to be symbolic of a general policy which may have to be pursued around the world, inasmuch as the same fundamentals are involved in so many situations."

Workers Voting In Texas On Joining Strike

ODESSA, March 11. (AP)—Several thousand telephone workers are voting today in Houston and San Antonio on whether they will join Odessa and other West Texas cities in a sympathy "continuous meeting" that would curtail telephone service over most of Texas.

The 2,500 telephone employees in the Houston district were casting their ballots today, following a meeting last night attended by 1,500. Each of Houston's 11 locals will hold a separate vote. Officials said it may be Thursday before the voting is completed there.

Members of San Antonio's seven locals are to cast their ballots from noon to 1 p.m., and from 4 to 8 p.m. today. Decision to place the matter before the membership was made last night by officials.

The 1,000 members of Fort Worth's seven locals will vote during their off hours tomorrow. P. J. Beasley, city union chairman, said the vote is to determine if workers are prepared to support the Odessa walkout. A mass meeting will climax the voting tomorrow night.

Spring Weather Covers Texas

By The Associated Press
Drowsy spring weather was reported in most of Texas today, only one point reporting below-freezing weather. It was 31 degrees at Salt Flats.
Elsewhere it was warm. It was so warm in Brownsville that the low reading this morning was 63 degrees.
Precipitation was slight, no point reporting as much as a tenth of an inch. Fog and slight drizzles in the Panhandle offered the state's most moisture.
Showers and cooler weather in the north and west central portions of East Texas are expected tomorrow, the Weather Bureau said. Partly cloudy and cooler weather is forecast in West Texas.

Supreme Court Hints For New Foreman Law

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—The Supreme Court left a broad hint with Congress today that if it wants foremen excluded from unions it will have to write a new law on the subject.
A 5 to 4 decision by the tribunal presented these choices to the lawmakers on the controversy over unionization of the men who boss the nation's plants, mills and mines:
1. To write a provision in the Wagner Labor Relations Act relieving employers of the obligation to bargain with a union of their supervisors. This, in effect, would cancel out yesterday's Supreme Court decision.
2. To write a provision specifically extending collective bargaining protection to unions of supervisors which are not affiliated with rank and file organizations. This would spell out by law the interpretation of the present statute which the court handed down.
3. To grant or withhold those privileges where the bosses are members of the same union as production workers. This point has not yet been passed on by the Supreme Court, and probably won't be before next October.
A case involving John L. Lewis' mine foremen's union is headed to warn the tribunal but is still before lower courts.
Significantly, the court's decision yesterday involved supervisory employees who were not in the same union as the rank and file workers. It concerned the Packard Motor Car Company of Detroit and the Foremen's Association of America, an independent union for supervisory workers only.
The high court gave no inkling how it would have ruled if the foremen had belonged to the same union as the workers they supervised.
The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, which passed on the case first, said it might have seen in a different light if the union were tied in with the production workers.
The Lewis case would put that issue squarely before the tribunal.

Hoover Tells Need For Austrian Relief

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—day by a report from Herbert Hoover urging that $155,000,000 be spent in Austria during the next 15 months.
The former president said relief in Austria must continue at least until July 1, 1948, and "I have felt it better to face the fact now" rather than propose "renewed appropriations later."
But Rep. Bloom (D-NY), top Democrat of the House Foreign Relations Committee told a reporter he believes the group will prefer to take new look at foreign relief later "and make a supplemental appropriation then if necessary."
Hoover explained in his report to President Truman his proposal would provide Austria with less aid than a United Nation program contemplates but said he has in mind "world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer."
The United Nations estimates provide more food than Hoover's, he said, and include some help for industrial reconstruction.
The United Nations proposal would involve spending $148,000,000 in Austria for the rest of 1947 and if extended for 15 months, would cost $248,000,000, or $93,000,000 more than Hoover recommended.
The UN outlay would come from a fund of $610,000,000 of which the United States has been asked to contribute $350,000,000.
Hoover said the program he recommended would provide "a food level that, while Austria, in I believe, sufficient to maintain health and vigor."
He added: "The United Nations estimates contemplated a higher food level than that which I have felt possible or necessary during the emergency, and they include certain industrial reconstruction aids in addition to food, medicine and such agricultural supplies as seed, fertilizers and insecticides."
"While the program recommended by the United Nations is admirable and desirable, I have felt it necessary, in view of world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer, to make estimates only for food, medicines and agricultural supplies, and upon more limited levels of caloric intake."
He described Austria's nutritional condition as somewhat improved over last year and said "the present food levels appear adequate to prevent any disaster but must be regarded as 'emergency maintenance' which cannot be continued over years."

What Price ONE PAIR OF EYES?

EYESIGHT IS PRICELESS LIGHT IS CHEAP!

Those bright, sparkling eyes of childhood! Help them keep their sparkle—their clear, perfect vision. One school child in five has lost part of that sparkle because of defective vision. More than half the people over 35 have eyesight troubles.

Why not conserve precious eyesight by following the three commonsense rules illustrated at the right:

- 1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or other visual tasks close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.
- 2 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Use at least a 150-watt bulb.
- 3 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

Boys From Here Going To YMCA Lubbock Confab

A sizable group of Big Spring boys will attend a YMCA conference March 28-29-30, W. R. Dawes, local YMCA general secretary, said today.

The conference is primarily for Hi-Y club, but also is open to older high school boys. Fifteen local youths already have registered to attend, and Dawes said he hoped the figure would be doubled before the meeting date. Purpose of the conference is to give the boys an opportunity to learn more about good club performance and community service, Dawes said.

Speakers will include David Creighton, senior North American YMCA secretary for Greece, and Dr. James B. Boren, president of Hardin college, Wichita Falls. Theme of the meeting will be based on Van Dyke's poem, "Four Things A Man Must Learn To Do."

NEW ORDERS

keep the telephone waiting list long

For every single hour of the working day last year we were able to offer telephone service to 289 people who had ordered it in the five states we serve.

And every hour 288 more persons ordered telephones!

That's why the telephone waiting list at the start of 1947—235,460 names long—is only a little shorter than a year ago.

But it isn't the same list it was a year back, by any means. Most names on it, by far, are new ones. That's because we connect telephones in proper turn just as fast as equipment becomes available in a particular part of town.

And the equipment we have—switchboards and cable and all the ranks of humming machinery in a telephone central office—is bearing up under an extra load much heavier than we engineered it for. Part of this load has been for new telephones. Part has been caused by greater use of all telephones. The result: More people getting more service than ever before. And it's good service most of the time in most places.

In 1946 we were busier than we'd ever been before. In 1947 we'll be doing still more, working all day and every day.

A lot depends on a steady flow of equipment and materials, of course. We have the experience and the people to see the job through. As fast as we get the equipment—and this year we'll spend $95 million for it, compared to last year's $67 million—we'll put it in and connect telephones to it.

That's why we think 1947 will top 1946 in telephone work. And that means more telephones ringing in the homes of more people now doing without, and a service growing better than before.
