Three Phases To Case, Say U. S. Agents

Famous Kidnaping Case Is 'Hot'; High Official Makes Announcement

NEW YORK (AP)—Police announced Thursday they have in custody a man who received $50,000 ransom money paid by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in an ineffectual effort to recover his kidnaped son two years ago. The man is Bernard Richard Hauptmann, 1275 East 22nd street, the Bronx.

The announcement said the man is an alien, coming to this country as a stowaway eleven years ago.

The brief police announcement contained no further details, but the air at Greenwich police station where the announcement was made was surcharged with rumors.

One report, unconfirmed, said Hauptmann, a short time ago paid for gasoline at a Bronx filling station with a ten dollar gold certificate. The proprietor became suspicious at use of the banned money, and notified police.

The report said the man had an automobile found to have been stolen in New Jersey near Lakewood, the night before the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped March 1, 1932.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Department of justice agents said Thursday "hot" leads had been unearthed in the government's investigation of the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

William Stanley, assistant attorney general, said: "The case is hot. There are three phases to it and if anything should go wrong with them it would be tragic. I'm sorry that's all I can tell you now."

Resumption Of Cattle Buying Favored Here

Representatives of five counties Thursday morning endorsed resolutions favoring resumption of cattle buying in this area by the government.

The resolutions called attention to the fact that recent rains were scattered and were hardly sufficient to assure good range conditions or to produce necessary stock water. Poor condition of many herds and approaching winter months were also cited as reasons why the program should be resumed in this section soon.

Counties represented in the meeting were Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Mitchell, and Howard. Nolan and Coke were represented by proxy. Midland, Martin, Ector and Glasscock counties were unable to send delegates Thursday.

NEWPORT (Special)—Harold S. Vanderbilt's Rainbow made a staunch defense of the American cup Thursday by winning convincingly from T. O. M. Sopwith's twice victorious Endeavour.

The American defender breezed in approximately 1,400 yards in the lead of the British challenger, winning by a margin of 3 minutes and 55 seconds.

Victory of the Rainbow revived hopes that America might yet retain the cup. The Endeavour needs two more victories and the Rainbow three more victories to win.

Blankenship Before Lions

Local Club Given Verbal Picture Of Big Spring School Situation

Lions were given a verbal picture of the school situation Wednesday in their regular weekly meeting.

Armed with facts and figures, Supt. into-ent W. C. Blankenship brought a report on school conditions, dealing with the financial side.

For the 1934-35 term Big Spring schools have the largest enrollment in the history of the school system, yet the teaching staff is several short of the record force.

The school system is in as sound a financial condition as it has been for years, but the condition has been achieved by drastic economies and extremely low teachers' salaries.

Average teacher salary for elementary grades is $726 per annum. The average high school teacher salary is $993 per year and the negro teacher receives $540 per annum.

Operating expenses have been cut sharply in the past two years. From $117,295 in 1932, they have been sliced to $76,390 for 1934.

Blankenship presented an analysis of the tax rate showing that 70 per cent went for maintenance, that 30 cents was for interest and sinking fund.

Payment of delinquent taxes since April has aided the school system substantially and is responsible largely for the schools entering the fiscal year with enough money on hand to meet at least two payrolls. The superintendent presented interesting figures to show the number of delinquent taxpayers and for the number of years they were delinquent. They owed an aggregate of $72,779, he disclosed.

Pleading for support of the schools so that the level of teachers salaries might be raised to be commensurate with their training and service, he recounted how the three experienced teachers had declined positions in the local schools because of the pay.

WASHINGTON
By GEORGE DURNO

Senators—Some of Washington's leading dopsters have figured it out that an increase in the already top-heavy Democratic majority in the senate would only result in adding to the administration's woes. Now that Maine has reported, the New Deal faithful are getting ambitious enough to predict a pickup of nine seats in the upper house month after next. Five was their limit before the Pine Tree state returns.

The contention is that a conservative bloc of Democrats will spring up next January to harass President Roosevelt just as the Republican Progressives furnished hair-shirts for Messrs. Harding, Coolidge and Hoover in years past.

This is in line with the fine old Chinese custom of taking over the other fellow's army rather than trying to kill it off. There can be no doubt that the voices of Carter Glass, Harry Byrd, Tom Gore, "Cotton Ed" Smith—and all possible recruits—will carry a long way when they start lambasting one of FDR's pet projects. After all, they are Democrats.

G. O. P. strategists would never concede a Democratic gain of 9 senate seats but they can be brought privately to admit that it might be good business to trade a few weak voters for an efficient working crew.

When the Democrats forecast nine new members they are laying public claim to new voices from Maryland, Maine, West Virginia, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan.

Take either side into the privacy of one of those well-known "smoke-filled rooms" and the November outcome shapes up differently.

Those on the sideline who are trying to weigh all evidence impartially anticipate that four Republican senatorial seats will change hands in November. They are figured to be those now held by Goldsborough of Maryland; Hatfield of West Virginia; Kean of New Jersey, and Patterson of Missouri.

Claimed by the Democrats further but estimated impartially to be too much in doubt are the togas of Hebert of Rhode Island and Hale of Maine. The latter already has won a new lease on life by 1,200-odd votes but the Democrats intend to contest the election because there was such a marked disparity between the senatorial and gubernatorial votes. The total gubernatorial votes for both parties far exceeded those counted on both sides of the senatorial ticket.

Finally labeled "ours" by the majority party are the seats of Reed of Pennsylvania, Robinson of Indiana, and Vandenberg of Michigan. Unless something develops between now and election day the off-side pulse-takers say this is sheer optimism for national consumption.

Privately, the Democratic high command has little hope of beating the two Articles—Robinson of Indiana and Vandenberg of Michigan. They offer bets that Joe Guffey will beat Senator Reed in Pennsylvania—but on this election the onlookers here are hoping to pick up a little spending money. It takes a very long count to turn Pennsylvania Democratic if the G. O. P. machinery is even half functioning.

All of these considerations fall to hamper Senator J. Ham Lewis of Illinois, Chesterfield chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign committee, and his zealous subaltern Col. Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the senate. They have a good reason for marching on towards capture of all possible seats for the "Chosen Party."

These oldtimers recall that although the Republican Progressives, so-called, tossed many a barb into the last three Republican administrations most of them are now shouting hallelujah for the New Deal. The Norrises, LaFollettes, Johnsons, Cuttings, et al, still figure to be in on hand to offset occasional defections within the ranks labeled "Democratic."

Local wise men are betting on a sure gain of four Democratic seats. They gamble up to a total of six. But no more.

Futile—Among many other things, business has a dollars-and-cents complaint to make against the Blue Eagle that touches virtually every

MORE FOR FARMERS

Farm purchasing power is going to be up this year, in spite of the drought. Late estimates are that farm income from the year will exceed $6,000,000,000—fully a billion above last year's figures.

A good part of this increase, of course, is due directly to the federal government's benefit payments. These are expected to run to approximately $780,000,000. Higher prices for farm produce will make up the rest of the anticipated increase.

Now while the bulk of this rise is artificial, the good effects of it should be evident, nevertheless. The farmer will be able to buy more things this year than he bought last. This, in turn, will help to stimulate industrial production—and, we hope, will help to start up on that upward spiral by which the prosperity of each class or group communicates itself to the whole country.

HIS OWN ANTAGONIST

Adolf Hitler's effort to win the adhesion of inhabitants of the Saar valley is easily understandable. This rich mining area, torn from Germany at Versailles, is to hold a plebiscite in January to decide whether it shall be returned to Germany or become part of France.

The plebiscite gives Hitler his first chance to fulfill his campaign promises to restore Germany's lost territory.

Ordinarily, one would assume that a pro-German vote was a foregone conclusion, the inhabitants of the Saar being largely German by blood, language and tradition.

Yet it is reported that many of them are hesitant about voting to return to the Reich. Hitlerism does not look altogether attractive to them. Many are loath to vote themselves into his grip.

Once again, Hitler's violence and autocratic rule may deprive him of the very prizes they were meant to gain.

HIGH COST OF STRIKES

If you have ever doubted that the strike is the most-expensive way of settling labor difficulties, you might scan the figures presented by the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce, dealing with the recent truck strike in that city.

The truck drivers themselves, in wages, lost $575,000.

Employers lost, in diminished business, $20,000,000.

Taxpayers, through the calling of the national guard, had to foot a bill of $450,000.

In addition there were deaths, injuries, much property damage, wages losses to thousands of workers not directly involved in the dispute, and the loss of much business, some of which will never return.

All this makes a pretty heavy bill for a community to pay. Almost any kind of peaceful settlement would have been cheaper than that, in the long run.

New Racket For Borger As Slot Machine Stolen

BORGER, (UP)—A new racket has invaded Borger—the stealing of slot machines.

About midnight recently while 30 persons were playing pool in a domino parlor, a new car drove up the curb. The lights were left on and the engine kept running while a man jumped from the back seat, rushed inside, grabbed a slot machine and made his get-away before bystanders could stop him.

The slot machine taken was a nickel one, with a penny machine, also at the front of the building, was left undisturbed.

The incident happened so quickly that observers reported to the police that the men were driving a green coupe, a maroon-colored car and cars answering to almost as many different descriptions as there were people present.

Police searched the town, but failed to find any trace of the slot machine. During the hunt several people were disturbed on side streets. Reports have it that some "stashed" their whisky in alarm when the police arrived.

Earlier in the week and about 10 o'clock at night, while customers were being served at a barbecue stand, a slot machine had been removed with almost identical procedure.

Borger business houses, almost every one of which has a slot machine, are considering the moving of machines to the back.

Mrs. Coulter Richardson is assisting the cashier in the business office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company this week. Mrs. Richardson went there Monday.

State Health Officer Has No Fear Of Leprosy

HOURTON, (UP)—Leprosy, most dreaded of all diseases for thousands of years, holds no fears for Dr. John Brown, Texas state health officer.

How Dr. Brown personally conducted a leper railway car from Brownsville, Texas, to Carville, La., allowing no one else to contact the diseased persons, was told here by E. D. Hopkins, State Health Department engineer.

Dr. Hopkins said he went with Dr. Brown to Brownsville. After they heard there were four leprosy cases there.

"Dr. Brown's purpose was to take the victims to the leprosy colony at Carville, the only one in the United States. Permission was secured from the federal surgeon general," Dr. Hopkins said.

The doctor said Dr. Brown examined the four cases, found they had leprosy and persuaded them to go to the colony. Dr. Brown refused to let any one other than himself do any of the contact work, Dr. Hopkins added.

"A special car was hired and the sick persons were placed on it. The door was locked and no one was permitted to enter during the trip but Dr. Brown."

"When the train got to Carville the car was switched off. The four were taken to the colony in an automobile. The car then was fumigated," Dr. Hopkins said.

The doctor said that new discoveries have taken away much of the fear of leprosy among the medical profession. He said it probably was the least contagious of all diseases called contagious.

Lumber Industry In South At Low Ebb In August

AUSTIN—The lumber industry in the South was at comparatively low ebb during August, according to reports from the Southern Pine Association to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Average weekly production per unit was 183,000 board feet, a decline of 4 per cent from July and 27 per cent from August, 1933. Average weekly shipments per unit was 218,000 board feet, representing a rise of 17 per cent over July, but a drop of 14 per cent from August last year, the Bureau's report said. Under The Dome

At Austin

By GORDON H. SHEPHERD

AUSTIN, (UP)—Dispute of Attorney General James V. Allred's legal right to appear on the Nov. 6 ballot as a candidate for governor, is likely to add more wrinkles and, perhaps, bring a few gray hairs to Henry Cawley, brother of the U. S. Ambassador to Rumania.

Oswley's desk in the secretary of state's office, has the duty of certifying ballots. The injunction against certification of a ballot with Allred as the nominee, came just while he was in the midst of other ballot problems.

The legal right of the entire Republican state ticket to go on the ballot can also be contested. There are two questions that can be raised. One is if there was sufficient compliance with the statute requiring a party that has polled 100,000 votes in the last preceding general election to nominate by primary. The other is if the primary returns were canvassed at the right time and place. The canvass was made in Dallas on Aug. 13. An amendment to the election law directed that the canvass be held at Austin and on Aug. 11.

Communist and Socialist tickets for state offices have been filed. The Communist party of Texas reported that its ticket, headed by Enock Hardaway, Breckenridge, for governor, was nominated at Houston. The Socialists reported that at San Antonio they nominated W. B. Starr, Cisco, for governor, and others for statewide offices.

The business of campaign expenditures, reported in the Allred contest, is complicated. How many times the law was violated will never be known. How many know then that every person who made any contribution to any campaign is a law violator if he failed to file a report of it within ten days after the election? The provision is in the law—article 3145. Another article limits expenditures by assistant or county campaign managers to $10 for each 100 voters on the poll list of the county. Citizen groups are limited to $50 in defraying the expense of local political meetings. Individuals may expend $10 and they may contribute their services and their traveling expenses.

A letter sent to each of the more than 1,000,000 qualified voters in the state would cost three times the allowable total campaign expense of a candidate.

State Treasurer Charley Lockhart admits he cannot spell the kind of cigaret stamps the state sells through his office for payment of the state tax. When asked to do so, he answered:

"It took me two weeks to learn how to pronounce it. I would not attempt to spell it." The dictionary spells it "decalcomania."

Capitol economy has reached such a stage that Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson, wife of Speaker Stevenson, has had to buy an electric hot plate to heat her husband's shaving water, or make a cup of coffee. Hot water has been cut off the west wing of the building. Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt and the senators still are in the hot water zone.

Ben Allred, brother of the next governor, is stenographer of 126th District court here. In taking notes he uses two pens, alternately. He doesn't wipe one when he finishes with it. He dries it with a lighted match.

In addition to his duties as a member of the House of Representatives, Henry C. Kyle, San Marcos, furnishes his home town paper with a signed legislative story.

Former Gov. Dan Moody was overruled by his uncle Judge W. F. Robertson on the admissibility of testimony in a case here. Opposing counsel promised that the relevancy and admissibility of the testimony would be shown by subsequent testimony. If it should not be, he said, the court could instruct the jury to disregard it.

"You might as well throw a skunk into the jury box and tell the jurors to disregard the smell," said Moody.

FILMS TO DETERMINE NEW STRATOSPHERE FLIGHT

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (UP)—Secrets now contained in undeveloped films will determine whether the National Geographic Society and the United States Army will send a balloon into the stratosphere in 1935, according to Captain Orvil A. Anderson, member of the ill-fated "Explorer's" crew.

Anderson, a native of Utah, spent a 10-day furlough here. He declared that he and the other two members of the 1934 expedition were anxious to make another flight into the rarified atmosphere. Neither he, nor Major William F. Kepner, nor Captain Albert W. Stevens, suffered any ill-effects from their flight, he said.

Bovines Face Difficult Test With Lubbock

Mighty Mite

—By Pap

Visitors To Be Hefty, Fast

Bristow To Rely On Passers; Westerners Also Good At Tossing

Faced with a difficult non-titular contest with the powerful Lubbock Westerners here Friday afternoon, Steer coaches have been putting their charges through a last minute tapering off process.

The Lubbockans are expected to show much more than the usual early-game opposition, and Obie's boys will probably unwork a more or less wild forward pass attack in an effort to nettle Chapman's crew enough to whip across a marker or two.

Heavy Forwards
Due to be faced with an experienced forward wall that will outweigh them fourteen pounds to the man, the Bovines will have little chance to stage any kind of a successful running attack. Too, the Lubbock secondary is much heavier than the locals. An open style aerial offensive seems to be the only answer.

No doubt the Steers will put everything they have into the game, as they fell victim to the Westerners last year. It was in the Lubbock fray last fall that Cordill put up such a game battle and was hailed as a coming star. His performance tomorrow will be watched with interest. He'll handle the signal barking post, and his ability to judge quickly and accurately will mean a lot.

To Depend On Passes
Olie will more than likely be on the receiving end of numerous tosses by that Neel kid, and the mentors are hoping that accuracy and form will have improved a lot.

In the game against Hobbs, passing at times was a bit awkward and ragged, but generally speaking it looks pretty good for about this time of year.

The deep bucket would say that the Steers have only a very slim chance of winning tomorrow, but if those passes do get to clicking it may be a different story. Then again some new human dynamo may be uncovered that can rip the Lubbock line asunder, but that's not very probable—just a wild hope.

Wednesday practice in the Steer corral was devoted to signal work. Obie is afraid that his tackles, Coburn and Denton, may be swept right out by the hefty charging visitors, but is consoled in the fact that he has numerous fair subs he can shove into that hole.

In the rear ranks some shifting is still going on, and Bristow has fully determined his starting combination.

Neel, Cuable and Cordill will be three of them, with Madison or Hare at one of the halfback spots. Hare troubled a number of teams last year and should prove good for short gains through the line. Madison is rather new and is being given a complete test and close check. He ought to be fast and a driver through the line.

Same Starters
The starting line will probably be the same as that put in action against Hobbs. The coaches will probably do considerable subbing but not as much as in the season opener.

Coach Chapman says his Westerner machine will not be one of those "run three times and punt" teams, but will play a wide open game, passing lots.

The Lubbock line, under the direction of Chapman and Benial McWilliams, is large and evenly balanced from end to end. Starkey Whitehorn and Ocie Griggs look as if they have the inside track on the end posts. There are two good men for each of the other positions.

Cosden Team Defeated 4-3

Type Lice Offense Clicks And Newsies Finally Win A Game

For the first time this season, the Herald Type Lice offense began functioning Wednesday night in an ideal manner and the Newsies defeated the strong Cosden Oilers 4-3 despite a belated ninth inning rally.

Always a "jinx" hunch for the Cosdenites, the Heralders tallied in the second frame when Fred Savage scored on Neel's bingle to take the lead, and although allowing the Cosdenites to pull up even in the fourth stanza, were never headed.

The Type Lice threatened constantly and counted twice in the fifth to take a safe lead. Jojo Galbraith and Miller Harris put the Herald in the lead when they counted. They tallied on Savage's base knock.

After Savage had scored the final Herald run in the seventh, the Cosdenites made a big effort to overtake the Herald lead when both Dutch Moxley and "Lucy" West were put aboard by Herald errors. Edwards rolled to Hall at second base to score Moxley, and Henninger hit to send West across and leave the Oilers only one behind, but Townsend flew out to Corley to leave Spike stranded on the sacks.

Matadors Ready For Longhorns

LUBBOCK, (Sp.)—Prominently displayed signs posted in and around Texas Tech field house bear the legend: "We are ready for the Longhorn", which is the nearest thing to optimism ever permitted by pessimistic Pete, head of the Matador coaching staff.

"This note of confidence is echoed by the forty-odd gridders who Thursday began tapering off for the season opener here Saturday night against Jack Chevigny's University of Texas athletics. Although general scrimmage has been forbidden in favor of more group and individual work, practice the early part of the week was extremely strenuous. There are more than several skinned noses and bruised muscles, but fortunately there are no serious injuries.

Mentally, as well as physically, the Matadors are in better condition than ever before at this time of year. Quoting Caverton: "Enthusiasm and spirit is high."

Anderson Softball Team Defeats Linck Grocery Aggregation 9-2

By HANK HART
The Anderson Music company dented the Linck Grocery aggregation in short order Wednesday night when they came out on the long end of the score of 9-2.

Redding led the 9 hit attack against Harvey Kraus and this, coupled with 8 Grocery men smashes provided the margin of victory.

After the Linckmen had taken a two run margin in the second and appeared well on their way toward another victory, the Hard attack suddenly took hold and an Anderson victory was not to be denied.

The Fruze Peddler garnered only three hits off Buster Johnson and the Anderson twirler scattered these over the full nine innings. Jennings Ketter was the only Linckman to hit more than once.

The Melody Makers led the game in the eighth stanza when Williams, Ebbs, Young and Anderson tallied to break the tie.

Adding three runs to this in the final, Anderson kept his infield at work to force three Linckmen to roll into the infield in a row and gain the victory.

Burke Smith, traffic manager of American Airlines in El Paso, spent Wednesday evening in Big Spring, the guest of friends, en route to El Paso from Austin and Dallas, where he has been spending his vacation.

er than I have ever seen since the beginning of my time here. It is much more gratifying than I even dared to expect, and we are further along than we've ever been this early in the season."

While he does not definitely commit himself regarding the possible outcome of Saturday night's game, Caverton maintains an air of unusual, to him, confidence, despite the fact that more than a dozen letter men from 1935 are missing.

From a starting squad of better than 60, the Tech roster now shows 41 names, 26 of which identify men experienced in the ways of varsity conduct and discipline. Nineteen of these have been decorated with letters, and seven of the returning letter men were known as regulars through the 1933 season.

KATHERINE RAWLS OF MIAMI, FLA. "THE LITTLE 17-YEAR-OLD MISS WON THE AQUATIC DECATHLON AT JONES BEACH, N.Y., RECENTLY."

the Oil Belt winner promises to be Abilene.

We join in with several others in the belief that Abilene can not get away from the Panhandle contenders—such clubs as Pampa and Amarillo.

The San Angelo Bobcats are apparently shooting blind against Eastland. Taylor says he has no idea how tough Eastland will be, and hasn't decided upon a starting line-up for the Cats.

The Devils, coached by Ben Daniels and Jack Dean, work-out daily in the Steer lot. Ben expects to have a very formidable squad this year and is booking some tough junior teams. Some of the best players Bristow has now started out on Daniels' club.

Weldon Chapman, Lubbock tutor, scouted the Big Spring team last week. He returned home with stories of a tough Hobbs team but a double-bad Steer outfit, of seeing Cordill gallop 95 yards to a touchdown on the first play of the game, and other such hokey. Maybe it wasn't Chapman after all, but the Lubbock scribever.

One of the Steer assistant mentors hazarded a guess Wednesday that Lubbock would flag the locals down by about a two touchdown margin.

The same coach also was willing to wager that the Tech Matadors will trim Jack Chevigny's University of Texas Longhorns at Lubbock Saturday night.

A letter comes from Collier Paris, Lubbock sports editor, to the effect that the Westerners will arrive here by bus some time this afternoon. Frank Tolbert, another Lubbock scribe, will be down for the occasion.

R. C. "Hank" Hankins, the Midland newspaper man, will have a reporter here tomorrow just to make sure the boys get a good break.

The department may not get to scout the Bobcats at San Angelo Friday night after all. Not enough time to make the trip. Anyway, it's too early in the season to 'earn much.

Jinx Tucker has the following to say about the West Texas grid race: "Sweetwater high school promises to be weak on the gridiron this year after a number of highly successful seasons. Big Spring is considered the favorite in San Angelo's district, but the Oil Belt winner is due to be the champion of all West Texas this year. And

CLUBS

THE CLOWNS ARE COMING, 150 OF 'EM

Tomorrow brings the circus, and not one of your ordinary affairs, but the merged Ringling and Barnum and Bailey organization, making its first appearance in Big Spring since the amalgamation of America's two largest and most famous circuses.

Tomorrow it will be speeding over the rails from El Paso, and the first of four long trains bearing the preliminary essentials to the circus encampment is expected to arrive around the noon hour tomorrow, followed at short intervals by the remaining three trains. The tents—and it takes thirty—to accommodate this huge circus—will be pitched at 3rd and Bell St. where a single performance will be presented at 8 p. m. tomorrow, doors opening at 7 p. m.

The circus comes here in its entirety and assurance is positively given that the single performance here will be in every essential the same as presented in New York City, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles, El Paso and all the larger cities of the country. Big Spring is the scene of its natural history types ever taken upon tour, and that the main tent program negotiated in three rings, upon five stages, the hippodrome oval and in mid air, will present the very elite of the arena world. Mention may be made of a few of the outstanding acts and attractions, these including the gorgeous professional pageant of the Delhi Durbar, in which over 1000 persons participate, together with howdahed elephants, doped-up camels, hundreds of horses and other animals; Merkel, the chap who walks upside down from a suspended ceiling at the very top of the tent; Hugo and Victor Zaccchini, the human projectile, who are blown from the cannon's muzzle; Dorothy, madcap horsewoman, who rides a runaway, reinless equine around the hippodrome track and leaps over flaming barriers of fire; five squads of performing elephants; the great Con Colleano who somersaults on the high wire; the Wainwright troupe in suicidal stunts away up in the dome of the tent upon a slender promenade of steel wire; Miss Gillette in a sensational trapeze novelty with a shock finish that will cause gooseflesh to break out all over the customers, and a host of other acts and features.

It's the "greatest show on earth" that appears here tomorrow night, and the dictionary would be torn into shreds in even a feeble effort to adequately describe the wonders and marvels it will disclose to pop-eyed urchins and their elders. Clowns? Yes, 150 of the merry fellows in a riotous avalanche of howling hilarity. And the quaint giraffe-neck women from Burma will be seen upon the main tent program riding around the track in a silver chariot. These little brown women are not like the maidens Kipling met on the road to Mandalay, but they have points, chief among these being their incredibly elongated necks around which they wear as many as twenty-five brass coils.

Mrs. E. F. Wills returned Wednesday evening after taking her grand daughter, Marilyn Meyers of Fabusa to Denton to enter C.L.A.

Mrs. E. Smith Is Elected Class Head

Friendship Members Spend Day At Mrs. Gay's Home

Mrs. Ed Smith was elected president of the Friendship Class of the First Baptist Sunday School at its all-day meeting and social held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Morris Gay in the country.

Assisting Mrs. Smith will be the following officers: Mrs. J. A. Bode, first vice; Mrs. Fletcher, second vice; Mrs. A. E. Underwood, third vice; Mrs. Daniels secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Gignous her assistant.

Four captains were appointed, Mrs. Holt, Dyer, Hendrix and Matthews. All officers and captains will serve for six months.

The members heard reports of committee chairmen and retiring officers. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. During the social session conversation and swimming were the amusements.

In addition to 21 children, there were present the following adults: Mrs. G. H. Holt, J. B. Dean, A. J. Redman, Bob Phillips, C. L. Mason, Lee Jenkins, W. W. McCormick, Frank Stanfield, Ed Smith, Vernon Logan, W. D. T.E.L. Class Gives Lawn Party In Beautiful R. V. Hart Garden

Members, Husbands, Guests Play Games And Listen To Outdoor Radio During Enjoyable Evening

One of the most enjoyable socials in the history of the T.E.L. Class of the First Baptist Sunday school was given Tuesday evening in the lovely garden of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hart at 804 Johnson street.

The party was given for the ladies of the class and their husbands and several especially invited guests.

Among these guests was Miss Lucille Reagan, missionary from the First Baptist church to Africa, who is at home now on a furlough. Mrs. Grant presided over the guest book, which was later presented to the class teacher, Mrs. K. S. Beckett.

Mmes. Day, Grant, J. C. Douglass, W. R. Douglass, Shick and Fuller were hostesses with Mrs. Hart for the occasion. Miss Eloise Haley, a sister of Mrs. Hart, planned and presided over the entertainment for the evening.

Outdoor games and contests were staged in the beautiful setting provided by the garden and entered into with enthusiasm. Miss Haley favored the crowd with a reading as the climax of the program.

Mr. Day kept an eye on his watch in order not to miss Amos and Andy. At their hour activities ceased, while everybody listened to the program from the radio in the garden.

All the guests agreed that the Hart garden was an ideal place for a party. Refreshments of delicious chicken, sandwiches, stuffed

Members of Junior High Parent-Teachers' Association met at the high school Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. C. Coffey presiding.

The meeting was opened with the Lord's prayer in concert. Supt. W. C. Blankenship gave the leading address of the program, urging cooperation between parents and teachers, especially at the adolescent age.

He also said that the financial condition of the schools was especially strong, that old debts were being paid off and money was on hand for paying teachers, and that the condition as a whole was better than many other schools in the state.

Prin. George Gentry made a short talk telling of the crowded condition and of unusual problems that would arise for him. He asked that parents feel free to bring personal matters dealing with their children at school to him at the office for settlement.

Mrs. R. H. Miller reported that

Chapter 20 GATHERING CLOUDS

"Will you tell me one thing?" asked Flint.

"Perhaps."

"Are you in love with him?"

"I can't help it if I am, can I?" she said.

Flint shrugged his shoulders.

"That's a tough break for me," he said. "If he hadn't been along everything might have been different."

The two chairs were close together. Flint's hands rested on the arms of his. Ivy patted the hand that was nearer to her.

"Poor boy," she said, "I am sorry. I don't want to hurt anyone, but you'll get over it. You're just a kid. I am too old for you, for one thing."

Bowers returned, still whistling cheerfully. He had a half-glass of water and five-grain Pyramid tablet, and he stood over Flint until the chocolate youth had swallowed the latter.

At their backs was all that remained of a fantastic sunset, and presently the first soft vibrations of the "Get Ready" gong began to sound.

Sometimes when Ivy went below to shower Bowers had himself doused with sea-water and did his dressing on deck. But tonight the shower appealed to him and still more, the chance of a kiss or two before dinner.

"Give me ten minutes," Ivy said, "and the shower is yours."

And she went below with Helen holding her by the hand and prancing at her side.

"She's a great girl," said Flint.

"That isn't the half of it," said Bowers, and he looked at his watch.

"Circus life must be awful hard leading in this part of the world," said Flint.

"She is going to get out of that," said Bowers.

"I'd hate for anybody to give her a raw deal when I was around," said Flint.

Bowers shot a sidewise glance at the speaker and thought how very serious and pompous the young man was.

Averaged over the experience of many years, the rains proper were not due for several weeks, but the experience of any given year is often filled with exceptions and the weather is not controlled by the memories and statistics of scientific men.

There was sometimes the prelude of rain with wind squalls which followed by weeks and even months of placidity anticipated the real rains. Captain Wong Bo's glass indicated that there was getting to be more moisture in the atmosphere than was right and proper at that season.

The sunsets diminished in glory. The vast cumulus clouds which floated high and snow-bright with dove-colored and amethyst shadows during the heat of the day, darkened toward evening and sank of their own weight to the horizon.

Here they formed a lofty, phantasmagoric ring in which the imaginative eye could discover anything it sought in the way of landscapes, mountain ranges, and cities planned and built by Titans in the direction of the setting sun these conceptions were illuminated as if by volcanic and internal fires.

The chart showed that the Boldero was nearing the northern end of Borneo. To the starboard, according to the chart but not according to the deep blue waters which hid from view, a sunken reef stretched parallel with the coast of the main island, and nearly a hundred miles.

It was somewhere along this reef that Captain Wong Bo and his junior partner Mr. Flint had planned and built by Titans in the direction of the setting sun these conceptions were illuminated as if by volcanic and internal fires.

Flint held out for wrecking the ship by daylight but was overruled. Wong Bo did not argue the matter. He simply asserted his authority and said that the night was "more better."

Knowing nothing of the purloined guns or of Wong Bo's determination to leave Bowers and Ivy to their fate on the sinking ship, Flint could not see the beauty of complicating the adventure by darkness. Flint was thinking solely of Ivy's comfort in the matter.

To be wrecked by daylight in a smooth sea with competent boats at hand, and competent men to man them, and land of continental proportions perhaps distantly in sight, should have no real terrors for anyone.

It was not possible for either Bowers or Ivy to know that the ship had been wrecked on purpose. Two passengers occupied with the care of the menagerie and engrossed in each other would never notice that the course of the ship upon which they traveled had been altered a point or two.

Bo's, as a matter of fact, were extraordinary ignorant seafarers. They did not know that the weather was making up for premature rain. They did not know that the shroud of blue smoke ahead and on the starboard-bows was the smoke of a little volcano that had once risen out of the sea with volcanic violence that was audible at the distance of a thousand miles and had subsided and through the ages with the help of erosion, climate and sea-born seeds, made a little island home for itself.

If they gave the smoke a thought, they thought that it was the smoke of a far-off steamer.

The reef which paralleled the course of the Boldero, not of course the superstructure of the coral-builders but the more solid volcanic substructure, had perhaps risen from the ocean bottom in company with the volcano. It was not, of course, continuous. There were many breaks, deep and wide, and asked a few questions of Flint or Captain Wong Bo. They would have discovered that the volcano was part of a small island which because of its shape (it seemed that it had a body and four legs and a head and even something like the stump of a tail) was called Tiger Island.

And if they had learned this, they would in the immediate future have been spared much toil and anxiety.

To a vast height the western horizon below which the high peaks of Borneo had sunk during the day was piled with huge fantastic formations of black clouds. When the sun had gone down behind these, they were not penetrated here and there as usual by shafts and splashes of color. Between the setting of the sun and high there was only a short twinkle of twilight.

After dinner the usual rubbers of bridge were not played. Captain Wong Bo did not like the look of the weather. It looked like rain. The glass was low. If they cared to go on deck, they would see that the stars were being extinguished one by one and in clusters.

Navigation in these waters, Captain Wong Bo explained, was not easy, and his place was on the bridge. That it would rain and heavily before morning he was almost certain, and he advised the passengers for once to sleep below. But they would not. On deck the heat was sufficiently oppressive. When the rain actually did come, they said, there would be plenty of time to go below and, who could know, maybe it would be a cold rain.

Tomorrow, Wong Bo sends his first officer on a sinister errand.

CORRECTIONAL SCHOOL BOYS PLAN THEIR FOOTBALL LINES

PLAINFIELD, Ind. (UP) — Inmates of the Indiana Boys' School, correctional institution here, will play their own Indiana intercollegiate football series this fall. The football games were suggested by Al G. Feeney, state safety director and former Notre Dame football star, to replace semi-military drills.

Year-old uniforms are to be donated by the various colleges. They will be issued to teams representing the various dormitories and the team then will assume the name of the school whose uniform it is wearing.

Noble Kiser, Purdue coach, and Elmer Layden, Notre Dame coach, will lead off a series of talks at the school in which the boys will be given instructions in the game.

Gordon West of Wichita Falls is business visitor in Big Spring for several days.

Industry. Wages and hours are not involved.
 Almost all codes promulgated by NRA calls for the furnishing of multitudinous statistics to that code authority watching out over each industry. Codes have prescribed a certain percentage of labor costs, for instance, to be applied against manufacture, office force, direct rate and indirect sale. It is up to each firm to furnish. It is up to the authority with charts breaking these percentages down according to ritual. Other elaborate charts must be filled out to show how many lots of each grade of goods are sold monthly. In addition, many codes call for statistics on compensatory taxes involved. Any number of business establishments are sending a respectable number of additional dollars annually to have these figures compiled.
 The head of one big code authority was asked what he was doing with all this information. "Right now," he answered, "I'm piling it up in that big closet. Even if I had time I don't know what I'd do with it."

PROTECTION

Price-fixing is the pest of NRA. The consumer gets it in the neck now by reason of lumber price-fixing by Gen. Johnson last summer. Automobile bodies might be cheaper if the Fisher Body Corporation could buy $5,000,000 feet of hardwood at 12 1/2 per cent less than the code minimum, as it tried to do, and as 72 contractors agreed to go along with.
 Assistant Administrator Glancy put his foot down and warned the lumber code authority that if it sanctioned the sale to Fisher.
 "NRA doesn't call process 'price-fixing.' It gives it the pleasant name of 'cost protection.' Thus the lumber dealers who try to drum up business are protected against themselves."

SELECTIVE

A fast glance through the 1934 sample examinations for admission to the U. S. Naval Academy would indicate that our future generals might be made New-Deal-minded from the start.
 Possible themes for English composition include "The New Deal," "The Plight of the Farmer," "The Influence of Machinery on our Present Age," "The Civilian Conservation Corps," and "the significance of the London Conference."
 In fairness it should be reported these were picked out deliberately to make a point. Another suggested theme "How To Run a High School Game." Many were too tough for the limited mentality of this writer.

NOTES

Secretary Hull tried to support pitiless publicity for munitions disclosures but the Diplomatic Corps made it too hot for him.
 Secretary Morgenthau isn't stockpiling on silver fast enough and Senator King kicks to FDR.
 Bankers can't understand why federal leading agencies refuse to gold mines has meant a shift to the Toronto Stock Exchange. The price of its memberships has been climbing steadily and some of our northern neighbors predict that seats in Toronto will be selling as high as in New York before long. That might happen—and what a blow it would be to Wall Street's pride!

 American brokers cast longing eyes on this new bonanza and a number of firms have sounded out the possibilities of joining the Toronto exchange. But alas, the Canadian dealers seem to want to keep their good thing to themselves. Very few American firms stand a chance of being admitted.
 However, there's always a way if you're anxious enough. In Toronto it's the International Stock Exchange—set up as a rival to the original organization with the blessing of the Liberal government in Ontario. Half of its one hundred chartered seats are reserved for Americans—which is manna for profit-hungry brokers and traders.

Glutton
 It looks from here as if Air Commerce Director Gene Vidal has brewed himself a new dish of trouble. New York learns that none of the bids on his 25 light planes meets all specifications—and that busts the show wide open. Decision was to be on price between ships filling the bill but since none does which would you choose? Any answer Vidal makes will be wrong.
 What intrigues observers is that he conferred in advance with the bidders and knew what was coming. One cracks: "The guy must like being in trouble."

Sidelights
 New York hears the Martin plant—builder of "the world's fastest bomber"—is secretly busy on a new job that will give foreign nations a bad headache. Observers close to the Soviets still think the debt skimming is mostly honey and that a settlement will be announced as soon as elections are out of the way.

Lion

 he emptied his revolver at the animal. In an instant the beast was converted into a roaring jungle terror. Galloping down the street dragging a wounded leg and causing new fear to spectators who had been held by curiosity after retreating to what had seemed a safe distance.
 After a run of a hundred yards the lion left the boulevard, loping across an open lot and dropped down at the foot of a tree adjacent to the Hawkins-Johann sheet metal work. While L. O. Hawkins and Miss Edna Powell watched from an office window of the metal works, the beast was aroused into new activity by shots fired from police revolvers. He leaped through a door of the shop, routing four workmen and was at once trapped as circus employes and police closed all doors and braced them.

Shot With Rifle
 An order was given to shoot the animal and a door was cautiously opened while Earl Lindsey, circus auditor, fired four shots from a rifle.
 Three shots took effect in the lion's neck, it was learned later, but he was still alive when Marvin Kramer, one of his keepers, opened a policeman's revolver, entered the building and approached closely to fire the finishing shot into his head.
 The net results of the "hunt" were one spectator, John Kelly, slightly wounded in the forearm by a flying bullet; one young lion, the biggest prize by Beauty, dead and a hundred of persons almost equally frightened and thrilled.
 Meanwhile the circus parade proceeded in regular order.

New York Giants Defeat Reds 6 To 3

NEW YORK, (AP)—With one big exception the New York Giants tacked another half-game onto that National league lead Wednesday, defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3, to increase their advantage over the second place Cardinals to four full games. The Cards again were rained out at Boston.
 Going into the last half of the eighth with the score tied at two, the Giants put together four hits, a base on balls and an error to score four runs. Before they subdued the Reds in the ninth, however, Manager Bill Terry was forced to call Adolfo Luque from the bullpen to put down a threatened rally.
PHILLIES 5, BRUNS 4
 PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Curt Davis chalked up his 17th win of the season Wednesday—an elusive mark for which he had been gunning since August 4—as he and his Phillies mates landed on Chicago Cub pitching for a 5-4 victory in the third game of the current series. Davis not only limited the Cubs to seven hits, but drove in the two runs that spelled victory.

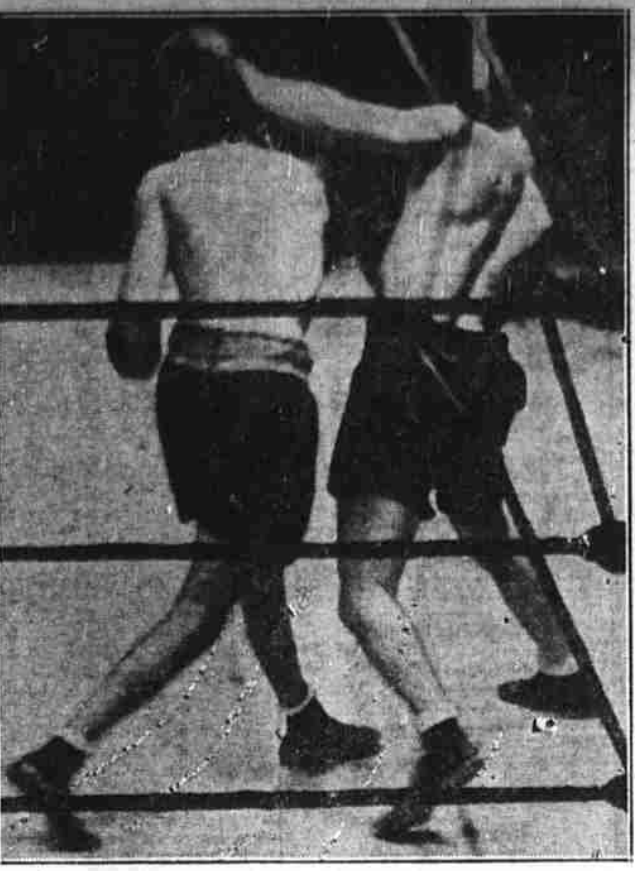

DODGERS 48, PIRATES 14

BROOKLYN, (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers gained their third successive victory in two days over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday as they swept a doubleheader, 4-1 and 8-4.
 A seventh-inning rally, in which seven runs were scored off three Pittsburgh pitchers, settled the nightcap behind the steady hurling of Johnny Babich. Van Lingle Mungo held the Pirates scoreless in the opening contest until the ninth inning, limiting them to six scattered blows.
 Larry French was charged with the defeat in the second after being chased to the showers during the seventh-inning uprising.
 Jerry Creswell, Ahlens, was here for a brief time Thursday. Creswell is especially well known in this section as a football referee.

Texas Centennial Machinery Set In Motion In Dallas Headquarters

DALLAS, (Spl.)—Machinery to make the 1936 Texas Centennial celebration the outstanding event of the twentieth century has been set in motion here this week with the opening of headquarters for the Centennial commission.
 The secretary is on the ground and he is rapidly rounding out the organization of staff and field men whose business it will be to attend to the many details which are an inevitable part of an event of this kind.
 The tremendousness of their task may be grasped when it is recalled that the legislature has required historical celebrations at San Antonio, Houston, Nacogdoches, Goldad, Gonzales, Huntsville and other places of historic interest together with the central exposition at Dallas. It is the purpose of the commission to make the celebration statewide in its nature, laying stress upon those happenings in early Texas history when her heroes laid the foundations of the great commonwealth that exists today.
 Prior to their being set up here, the Centennial commission headquarters were in Austin. This was in accordance with the wish of the commission pending the legislature's designation, through the commission, of the city where the central exposition will be held.
 Now that this city has been selected for that exposition, and headquarters opened here, the entire citizenry has set to work to do its part in making the celebration of the first 100 years of Anglo-Saxon history in this state one that will be Texanic, both in its proportions and in its nature.
 On every hand, one hears expressions which reflect the deep sense of responsibility which the people here feel that the legislature, acting through the commission, has placed upon them.
 These expressions are marked by the determination that, with the aid of the other cities and towns, which has already been proffered, the celebration will be one of which not only every Texan, but every American, will be proud.
 Joe Parrish of Tucson, Arizona, is visiting with relatives here.

Kansas Youth Fights Wet Law

TOPEKA, Kan., (UP)—Youth, or at least a portion of it, is mobilized today in Kansas to crusade for retention of the state's liquor prohibition laws. Its slogan is, "Keep Kansas Dry for Kansas Youth."
 The W. C. T. U. and the Anti-Drug laws is underway. This fall voters will decide if prohibitions of a lifetime are to be discarded.
 Leading the fight for the drys is the State Christian Endeavor Union. Drought retarded development of Saloon League are in the fight, too, but in this instance it is the youth organization that is carrying the banner.
 To focus attention on the dry crusade prominent speakers are being sent over the state and rallies are in order. The radio, too, is being utilized to bring the "message" to many. Later the 14 districts into which the state endorses is divided will hold county conventions and lay plans for the final appeal to the voters.
 Until the last few years the prohibition element had little to worry about in Kansas. One of the first states to rule against liquor, it was political suicide for an office seeker even to hint that a glass of wine, or a drink of whiskey, was not inherently wrong. The nation suddenly swung from prohibition to repeal, sentiment apparently has been changing in Kansas, too. In the primaries this summer a candidate for governor ran as an out-and-out wet and drew a heavy vote.

 Lions club directors met Thursday. They dispensed with club business and planned major activities for organization. The directors voted to meet on the first Monday of every month.

French Women Want Cops' Jobs

PARIS, (UP)—Women long have been in authority in France, but it remains with the municipal council whether or not they are to be accepted as policemen, or rather policewomen.
 This idea now has the active sponsorship of M. Armand Massard, whose father, Emile Massard, first proposed the idea that, at that time, appealed only to song writers and cartoonists.
 Accompanied by Mme. Pichon-Landry, president of the National Council of Women, the Countess Romanet, president of Oeuvre des Gares and Mme. Harbizet of the International League of Women, M. Massard presented his project to M. Langeron, prefect of police. He explained, assisted by his feminine constituents, the advantages and necessity of having a band of agents de police.
 The prefect did not deny the interest in such a project, but informed the committee that the matter would have to pass through the minds of the municipal council, the manipulators of the budget and several other departments of state before any definite action could be taken.
 It is argued that women policemen would be a distinct advantage in railroad stations, dance halls, movies and schools, and that they would exercise more tact and intuition than men in such capacities. Nor would they have to wear a masculine uniform. An insignia would be sufficient to make them accredited policewomen.

Yankees Turn On Tigers For 5-2 Win

DETROIT, (AP)—After being held scoreless by Detroit pitchers for 20 consecutive innings, the New York Yankees turned on Elden Auker Wednesday and broke the spell when they scored a run in the third inning to make a start that developed into a 5-2 victory.

The defeat reduced the Tigers lead over the second place Yankees to six and one half games but Mickey Cochrane's men still needed only four victories or three, if they beat the Yanks in the final game of the series tomorrow, to clinch their first pennant since 1909.

Murphy held the Bengals to six hits to score his fourteenth victory of the year.
