The announcement of Pitts' promotion was made recently by W. K. Ramsey, district manager for WTU's San Angelo District.

Pitts' service with the Company began in 1957 when he came to work in the San Angelo Stores Department as assistant storekeeper. He transferred into the Service Department in 1963 as a serviceman and was transferred to Eldorado as a serviceman five years later.

Born and reared in Blossom in Lamar County, Pitts attended the schools there, graduating from Blossom High School in 1953. After graduation, he enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. He was discharged in 1957 as Airman 1. C. after seeing duty in the Pacific.

Pitts married the former Patricia Ann Powers of San Angelo in 1958. They have two daughters and are members of the First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado. Small Tornado Dips Near Eldorado Sunday Afternoon

Following a sunny day, the weather changed abruptly on Sunday when black clouds blew in on a twisting northwest wind.

A funnel touched on the north edge of Eldorado at 5:00 p.m., damaging a number of homes and business properties. There were no injuries, according to Sheriff Orval Edmiston. He said the twister blew off a barn at the Dr. J. B. Brame place.

The twister followed a southeasterly path damaging several residences.

The storm blew itself out in about an hour.

The brief rain brought 6-tenths in Eldorado and similar amounts to James Williams and A. W. Keyes and Henry Moore.

Fred Case just got a shower, and there was merely a sprinkle in Reynolds community, according to Northern Natural and Clemens Sauer.

S. D. Harper reported 1.10 inches and Mary Davis Coupe nearly an inch.

More Rains Predicted

As The Success went to press this week, more light showers had fallen over the area, and on Tuesday the Weather Bureau was predicting a 30% chance of more general rains.

Tourist Season Now On At Six Flags Over Texas

Arlington, Texas.—With nearly a half million visits recorded during the spring season, Six Flags Over Texas has begun daily operation for the summer months.

The entertainment center's vice president and general manager, Dan Howells, said attendance thru the Memorial Day week end was ahead of last year's figures for the same number of operating days despite the worst spring weather in our history.

"We're particularly pleased with the increase in numbers of tourists from outside Texas," he said. "For example, our attendance from the upper Midwest is up a third over 1974's figures."

Six Flags Over Texas will be open daily thru Labor Day, and then will return to a weekend-only schedule thru the end of November.

Howells said all additions to the theme park's entertainment lineup are in full operation, including the new Rotorious thrill ride.

He said the park will continue to present top name stars in concert on selected nights during the summer season. Some of the entertainers already booked for Six Flags appearances are Ray Stevens, Barbi Benton, Chuck Berry and Anne Murray.

In mid-May Six Flags Over Texas welcomed the 25 millionth person to visit the park since its opening in 1961. More than two million visitors are expected during the current season.

The park's annual attendance totals place it at the top of the list among the state's tourist attractions.

Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his labor until the evening.

Some say that sleeping with salt, bread, and a knife, all of which have been left inadvertently on the table after cleaning up, under one's pillow brings a vision of one's wife-to-be.

Many people believe that horseshoes bring good luck, based on an old idea that iron routed demons.

Sooty Mold On Ornamental Shrubs Sooty mold is a fungal disease frequently occurring in the spring on evergreen shrubs such as azaleas, camellias, laurels, gardenias, ligustrum and other ornamental plants.

The mold is a black, powdery coating that develops on leaves and twigs during cool, moist, cloudy weather. There are several fungi that grow in the sugary honeydew left on plants by insects such as white flies, scale insects, leafhoppers and aphids.

The fungi that cause sooty mold do not directly attack plants but derive their nutrition from the honeydew itself. This can destroy the beauty of plants if the mold concentration is heavy enough to shade out light, causing plants to become yellowed and stunted.

Control of sooty mold is indirectly achieved by controlling the honeydew-producing insects. Several insecticides are available to control these sucking insects. Select a material recommended for use on the plant to be treated.

Once sooty mold has become established, it is not easily removed. Generally, the mold will gradually disappear after the insects have been controlled.

Bloom Drop In Tomatoes Explained

Certain environmental conditions will cause tomato blooms to shed, resulting in a poor fruit set. Partial failure of flowers to develop into fruit will result in abnormal fruits which may be misshapen or catfaced.

Blossom drop is most common in tomatoes which bloom late. The usual cause for poor fruit set is high temperatures—either at night or day. Nighttime temperatures above 72 degrees F. along with daytime temperatures above 90 degrees F. along with daytime temperatures above 90 degrees F. often result in heavy blossom drop.

Other factors causing lack of fruit set or abnormal fruit include unbalanced nutrition, extended periods of warm, windy weather with low humidity, extended periods of shomery, cool, overcast weather in the early spring, and insects and diseases.

Therefore, providing a balanced fertilizer and controlling insects and diseases will help in controlling blossom drop. Of course, little can be done about weather conditions.

Poor fruit set is most common in the large slicing types of tomatoes. However, such varieties as

In obedience to an order of the Board of Equalization regularly convened and sitting, notice is hereby given that said Board of Equalization will be in session at its regular meeting place in the Schleicher County Court House in Eldorado at 2:00 o'clock P. DONE BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION of Schleicher County Independent School District Schleicher County, Texas, at Eldorado, Texas.

Mort L. Mertz, President, Schleicher County Independent School District

Early Giant, Spring Giant, Spring Set and Improved Summertime have the ability to set fruit during somewhat higher temperatures.

Smaller sized tomatoes that normally do not have the fruit set problem include such varieties as Small Fry, Red Cherry, Roma and the new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station variety, Saladette.

In areas where blossom drop seems to be a common problem year after year, we suggest planting some of the smaller type tomatoes or those varieties that tend to be more tolerant to higher temperatures.

WESTERN TRADITION NOW NATIONWIDE FASHION CRAZE

'Go West' is the fashion cry for the 1975 spring and summer seasons!

City-slickers who have long looked to Paris and New York for fashions to fit their fancy, are now following the lead of cowboys for the latest in stylish footwear, a veteran western bootmaker believes.

"Boots have never been in greater demand," says the 81-year-old Miss Enid Justin, founder and president of The Nocona Boot Company, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of quality western footwear.

"Today, more and more people—national leaders, entertainers, businessmen and professional people—are discovering that you don't have to own a horse or live in Texas to enjoy western boots."

And you can bet your boots Miss Enid knows what she's talking about! Now celebrating her 50th anniversary as the world's only lady bootmaker, she's no greenhorn. She knows her boots from the sole up and has developed a keen sensitivity to consumer demands.

Miss Enid cites young people and women as the two newest groups to "go western."

"With the current interest in nostalgia and the jean craze that prevails today, western boots are a natural among students and other young people," she believes.

And what prompted boot interest among the ladies? Miss Enid credits "women's lib," in part.

"Women are finally coming to their senses and are dressing comfortably and practically. They've finally realized that durable clothing is essential for outdoor sports and other activities. And nothing can take rougher treatment than western boots," she feels.

In addition to changes in consumer attitudes and life styles, Miss Enid attributes the increasing appeal of western boots to industry changes. She points to the advent of the round-toe boot as a milestone in western boot fashion.

"For years nothing but the sharp-pointed toe could be found, but then the round-toe boot was introduced. It's the perfect partner for the most tailored business suit as well as for a lady's pant suit."

The silver-haired boss lady also notes that boot manufacturers offer a wider variety of boot styles today. "When Nocona first opened shop, we only made a few styles in brown, black and tan. Now we offer 52 styles, including 12 for the ladies. They come in some real snappy colors like red, green and blue, and such exotic leathers as lizard, antelope and ostrich."

Admittedly, the boot industry has taken great strides during the past 50 years, as witnessed by Miss Enid. And she's pleased with the acceptance they've gained.

"It's good to know who's wearing the boots in the American families these days. "Everybody!"

AMERICA'S PEACEKEEPERS WHO WEARS MARINE CORPS RESERVE HELMETS

SOME OF THE FINEST

The face under a Marine Reserve helmet could be that of a lawyer, a mechanic, a college student, accountant or school teacher. It is the face of a man committed to his own life, his job, his dreams. He is a perfectly solid citizen who likes his golf game or Friday night bowling and who could easily have found something else to do during the two weeks of Annual Training Duty. Why is he trooping up and down hills under a full battle pack? Why did he choose the Marine Corps and its hard working Reserve?

There are thousands of answers to the question—but the common denominator of them all would probably go like this: There's something bigger I feel I have to do, for myself, my family—for everything that means something to me. And if I'm going to do it, I'll do it well.

tion of the nearest Marine Corps Reserve unit to you, where the toll free number call (toll free): 800-423-2600 is: 800-252-0241.

Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—A threatened slowdown of some doctors in major cities in protest to rising medical malpractice insurance costs was eased with signing of two new legislative acts.

Tex. Medical Association's House of Delegates went on record against the work stoppage and said the short-term laws should be given a chance to work.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe urged immediate start of a study of the overall problem by a blue-ribbon panel of 18.

Former University of Texas Law School Dean W. Page Keeton was designated chairman of the Medical Professional Liability Study Commission established by one of the new acts.

The bill would also create a pool or joint underwriting association to issue policies up to $300,000.

Another would authorize the State Board of Insurance to set malpractice liability rates and cut the statute of limitation on filing of suits to two years.

Both acts will expire in 1977. A bill pushed by doctors and hospitals to place a $500,000 limit on claims in malpractice actions failed to clear the House of Representatives.

The Commission will report its findings and long range recommendations by Dec. 1, 1976.

Legislature Closes

Texas has a new $654 million public school finance act and authorization for a Public Utilities Commission to regulate telephone rates and services and to control other utilities (except gas) in rural areas.

Cities may elect to come under the Commission after two years with utilities other than telephones. Gas will be regulated by the state Railroad Commission.

Both the school finance and utilities acts were among the last major pieces of legislation approved by the 64th Legislature which ended its session at midnight June 2.

A record $12.1 billion appropriations bill passed by lawmakers on final night of the session has been certified by Comptroller Bob Bullock as within anticipated income.

Briscoe has until June 22 to decide which of the legislature's acts he will sign and which he will veto.

Hearing Recessed

A Railroad Commission hearing on phasing out natural gas as a boiler fuel has been recessed for 30 days after three days of testimony and opening statements.

Some spokesmen said converting plants to other fuels would be extremely costly.

Others urged that any phase-out should be "orderly" and with attention to what effect the changeover might have on rising consumer rates.

Short Snorts . . .

The Legislature scoreboard: 3,375 bills introduced, 761 passed, plus constitutional revision resolutions and four other proposed constitutional amendments.

A $2.7 million tax reduction bill (dealing mainly with exemptions) passed the Legislature.

Larry Yawn of Austin is new president of the 160,500-member Texas State Teachers Association.

Comptroller Bob Bullock was picked as vice chairman of the Multistate Tax Commission executive committee. Bullock said he hopes to strengthen coordination in tax administration on large firms.

Jack Warren of Tyler resigned as state Republican chairman. A June 9 meeting of the GOP executive committee will name his successor.

The State Democratic rules subcommittee met here June 7 to consider new delegate selection rules.

Governor Briscoe has requested disaster area designation for seven more counties due to drought or storms.

New Night For TOPS No. 899

The meeting was called to order by leader Norma Hodges. It was told that we would be meeting on Tuesday nights at 7:30 in the Auditorium of the Memorial Building instead of Wednesday.

Mary was queen for the month of May and Rosetta won the fruit basket. There was a total of 9 1/2 pounds lost with no gains with six members present.

FALLACIES and FACTS

FALLACY: Our forests are used just to make a lot of wood and paper products.

FACT: Aside from lumber for homes, pulp, paper, and thousands of other products, forests are used for things that money can't buy. Eighteen years ago, for example, International Paper Company started a wildlife program to make sure its forests would make the best possible home for wild animals.

FALLACY: Trees are a depletable resource.

FACT: Unlike most other natural resources, which are depletable, trees are a renewable resource. They can be treated as crops—planted, nourished, harvested and replenished. It's necessary to help nourish this renewable resource, not only to meet the present needs of people everywhere, but to help assure the availability of this resource for future generations.

FALLACY: Timberland isn't used for recreation.

FACT: Forests are a haven for people. International Paper Company believes that forests should be used for people's enjoyment. Last year over 2 million people enjoyed the company's lands. It allows hunting and fishing on a majority of its timberlands, and it opens its woods to everyone, whenever it can—hikers, campers, berry pickers, bike riders and Sunday drivers.

Gold hath been the ruin of many.

Batter Up!!

There are times when you just know you'll get a hit—until you swing and miss that third strike!
Success is never certain in this world—even to the fellow with confidence written all over his face.
Frequently, achievement comes with giving your best when you're not convinced your best will be enough.
Religion cannot guarantee success to any man.
It promises all men the spiritual impetus to realize their best.
When you come to church next Sunday, you'll gain a deeper understanding of your virtues and of your faults.
Such understanding—with God's help and God's forgiveness—inspires us to give our best to every challenging opportunity.
