Post Script

There was some activity going on early this week at Mrs. Mary Kempfsky's building across the street south of the Court House square.

Mrs. C. M. "Sandie" Caudle moved her craft and painting shop from the north part of town to the small unit, where The Caroussel Pants Show was operated a while about four years ago. Mrs. Caudle was moving her stock over the week end and getting things going in the new location.

Next door, where the post office was located some years ago and several subsequent tenant businesses, Mrs. Lois Cummings is putting in a dress shop.

Both units of the building are undergoing cleaning and redecorating for the new businesses, and they are welcomed by the entire community.

Mrs. Capt. Thad A. (Lillian) Thomson sent us the following note recently, which we are pleased to run for benefit of her friends:

TO ALL FRIENDS:

Mrs. Thad Thomson has just learned that a number of her notes of thanks for the deeply appreciated sympathy of her friends have gone astray and not been received; also that she has not received some of the notes written to her. She is very distressed by this and can only blame the exceedingly poor Postal System of Venezuela for which she apologizes.—Mrs. Thad Thomson, 6251 Old Dominion Dr. (Apt. 064) McLean, VA 22101.

In this issue we are running the first newsletter from our new Congressman Bob Krueger of New Braunfels. The 39-year-old Democrat recently succeeded Ovie Clark Fisher who has retired to his ranch near Junction after a 32-year term in the office.

Krueger emerged tops among the six Democrats who sought the Congress post last year in the Democratic primaries, and then he went on to win over Republican Doug Harlan of San Antonio.

The 21st Congressional District encompasses about 32 counties in a broad area stretching from San Antonio northward a distance of some 350 miles. Urban problems and their solution will be much more a concern of the operation of the district now than in the past, since that is where the bulk of the voters now live.

Thirty years ago, Fisher's 21st District was much smaller and more intimate. That was when Tom Green and adjacent counties made up the district composition. The big change took place later when the Supreme Court handed down their one-man one-vote ruling and Congressional boundary lines had to be re-drawn on basis of population.

Apparently the transfer of power from Fisher to Krueger has been a smooth one.

New Congressman Submits 1st Report

BOB KRUEGER

In this, my first report to the District since it honored me by electing me its Representative, I want to comment on two things: the state of Congress and the state of the Union.

First, the state of the Congress. Some press reports have suggested that the large number of new members means that the new Congress will be "liberal." I disagree. Most of the new members come from basically conservative districts, like ours, and I doubt that those members campaigned in favor of big new spending programs. Further, I doubt that they will vote for such programs. Certainly I do not intend to.

What the new Congress has done, however, is to bring reforms and procedures that altered the seniority system. Now districts with new congressmen have a chance of a more equal voice, so that they can be represented as effectively as the districts of long-time senior members. This change reflects democracy; all congressional districts should be equal and there need be no apology for these reforms. They will help the 21st District and the American system.

Second, the state of the Union. The President said in his address that the state of the Union "is not good." I disagree. "We have problems: high inflation, deepening recession, uncertainty about our national direction. But improvement lies within our power. We can work to control federal spending, and I will do so. We can give short-term, immediate tax relief to those most in need, as the President suggests, but we must always recognize that money spent today must be paid tomorrow, and I have strong reservations about the massive deficits that the President is asking for and that some in Congress will be willing to provide. The only way that I know to restore government to sound financial footing and to control inflation is to have the government live within its income. I will work for that, and I will work to find others to join me.

I hope to use these columns to give you a first-hand report from your Representative on events in Washington, and I hope you will call on me for help with any particular problem.

Lions Have Program On School Finance

Boss Lion Guy Whitaker presided at this week's meeting of the Eldorado Lions Club and he also brought the program on the subject of school finance and state aid. Program chairman for this month of January is L. D. Mund, chairman of the program and entertainment committee.

Lions Whitaker, Curtis Andrews and Ronnie Mittel recently attended the Mid-Winter Conference in Junction.

The club is sponsoring the local appearance Friday afternoon of the Bloodmobile, more fully reported in a separate article elsewhere on this page.

The club meeting on next Wednesday, January 29th, will be the monthly business session in lieu of a program. The Sweetheart Banquet ladies night will be held in February.

Cotton Ginning Passes 2,000 Mark

Cotton was arriving steadily at the Mikeska Gin here Tuesday.

The total bales ginned up to 10:30 a.m. was 1,972 and there were 36 bales on the yard ready to be processed which would put the day's total up to over 2,000.

Bookkeepers at the gin claim there is lots of cotton due to come. Some of the growers mentioned were Whip Faulk, Rooster Jackson and Ed Meador.

Weather prediction at noon Tuesday was for another cold front to move into this area. If that holds true, especially if it's a wet one, it will mean another delay in harvesting.

Garden Check List For January

- 1. Be prepared to protect tender plants against a sudden severe cold spell.
- 2. In Central and South Texas, continue to select and plant landscape trees and shrubs where needed in the landscape. In the northern portion of the state delay planting until late February or early March.
- 3. Winter annuals planted in November and December will need some fertilizer by mid or late January. Apply about one pound of 12-12-12 or equivalent per 100 square feet of bed area.
- 4. Prevent lawn damage by raking the fallen leaves and composting them.
- 5. Time to select and order gladiolus corms for February & March planting. In the lower Rio Grande Valley they can be planted to January.
- 6. Time to treat soil around hydrangea macrophylla plants to obtain the desired color.
- 7. Continue to select and plant roses in the central and southern areas of the state. For best results use Number 1 Grade bushes.
- 8. Don't be in a hurry to prune except in South Texas.
- 9. Good time to remove and destroy any bagworm pouches hanging on your favorite juniper and other shrubs. The eggs overwinter in the bag and will be ready to start the cycle again if allowed to remain on the plant.
- 10. Although we had lots of rain this last fall and early winter, many evergreen plants may need moisture especially those located beneath the roof overhang.
- 11. Still time to use a dormant oil spray for scale control. Be sure to read and follow directions regarding strength and temperature restrictions.
- 12. When planting bare-rooted plants be sure to cut back at least 1/3 and 1/2 of the top to insure success.
- 13. Better check the space between those proposed shrub plantings. Most plants will have a spread at least equal to their mature height.
- 14. If you like to propagate woody plants, now is the time to make dormant or hard-wood cuttings of crapemyrtle and other deciduous shrubs.
- 15. Send a friend or shut-in one of your favorite pot plants. They will enjoy it and you will feel much better for having done so.
- 16. Don't forget to feed your feathered friends at this time of the year.

All of this can be available in your own backyard. Through careful planning and with the help of a good landscape book from your local library you can develop your own yard into a relaxing garden to counter mental pollution. A recent survey stresses that man really wants and needs nature's surroundings about him. It is a known fact that almost everyone enjoys the out-of-doors, especially after being closed up in an office, shop, or home all day. Why not make yourself a pleasant retreat in your own backyard? Visit your local, reputable garden center and make your selection of trees and shrubs needed to complete your plan to make your home grounds a place of beauty in which to relax. You will be doing your part, too, to improve the environment.

This activity is also contagious. Soon the neighbors up and down the block will be trying to emulate your success and trying to improve their surroundings. So you can see community improvement depends upon someone making the first move. Why don't you?

Taxpayer May Designate $1 To Campaign Fund

San Angelo, Tex. — Taxpayers preparing their 1974 federal income tax returns can again take part in the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign Fund by checking a box on the front of their Form 1040 or 1040A, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said today.

Frank Strickland, Director's Representative of the IRS for the San Angelo area, said that more than 11 million of the approximately 81 million returns filed last year contained a campaign fund designation for 1973. Another 6 million of the returns had a retroactive designation for 1972.

The total amount designated on 1973 returns was about $26 million, Strickland said. With approximately $4 million checked off in 1972, the Campaign fund now totals about $30 million.

Under legislation enacted by Congress in 1971, every taxpayer with a tax liability of $1 or more may designate $1 of his or her tax ($2 on a joint return) each year to the 1976 campaign fund. All money thus earmarked goes into a general fund to be distributed among all eligible Presidential candidates.

Since participation in the campaign fund by a taxpayer neither increases his or her tax nor reduces any refund due, the IRS Director's Representative said, the taxpayer filing for a refund should not send cash or a check to pay for the designation.

Green Plants Combat Mental Pollution

Another good reason for observing Arbor Day is that plants are mental counterpollutants. That's a fact. If you don't believe it try this suggestion the next time you are feeling low or depressed. Visit your favorite nursery or garden center and wander through the display area where you can see plants of all types. It is a place where you can dress casually, be comfortable, and relax from the cares of everyday living as you wander about the display area. Enjoy the color of the foliage, the scent of the flowers, the interesting texture of the various plants or the restful sound of water gurgling from a fountain.

REFRIGERATOR
SAVINGS TIPS

Don't open refrigerator door unnecessarily. Plan your trips to the refrigerator while cooking. Make sure the children maintain a closed-door policy.

Buy the size that fits your needs. An over-large refrigerator or freezer wastes space as well as electricity.

Clean external coils, fins and motor often and keep them free from dust.

Defrost your refrigerator and freezer before ice deposit exceeds 1/2 inch. Excess ice causes your refrigerator to work harder.

Cleaning

Counseling against hate, the Bible has this to say: "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" 1 John 4:20.

Florescent Lighting For the Home

Florescent lighting can make a room look warm, exciting and alive with color. The two types of florescent lighting tubes are labeled deluxe warm or deluxe cool, and either one can make a home vibrant with color—if used correctly. Deluxe warm white creates a warm atmosphere similar to that achieved by using incandescent light. It enhances complexion and foods, warms tones in furniture, fabrics and paint, and even blends well with incandescent bulbs.

Deluxe warm is recommended for all home uses where a warm color appearance is important. Deluxe cool white flatters all colors—especially blues and greens. This extra cool light provides a change from the mellow yellowish incandescent lighting usually found in homes.

To create special effects, consider using florescent tubes that make certain colors appear more intense. Soft white tubes emphasize reds and pinks and can create dramatic effects in a pink bathroom or in a family room paneled in rich mahogany.

Care And Handling Of Fresh Bread
Bread always tastes best right out of the oven—yours or the baker's. But how fresh a loaf will remain depends on how it's handled and stored.

Bread and rolls should be stored in a clean, dry place at room temperature away from any source of heat. A well-ventilated bread box or drawer is ideal. Tests show refrigerator storage hastens the staling of bread products but also keeps down the tendency to mold.

Freezing preserves the freshness of bread, and frozen breads thaw fairly quickly. Rolls and slices of bread take only a few minutes while an unsliced loaf requires 30 minutes to an hour to thaw. Breads should remain wrapped during thawing to prevent condensation of moisture on the surface.

Grainline Important For Garment's Fit
Grain refers to the direction of the yarns in a piece of fabric. And proper grain is most important for a garment to hang straight.

Lengthwise grain runs parallel with the fabric's selvage, and crosswise grain runs perpendicular to the selvage.

When making a garment, follow the pattern markings for lengthwise and crosswise grainline as you lay the pattern on the fabric. In buying printed fabrics, be sure to notice whether the design is printed on grain. Sacrificing grain for a bargain will cause problems in constructing the garment.

Fabric with its design printed off the grain can be easily spotted because the design doesn't follow evenly along the selvage. Look for this characteristic along the selvage—not the cut edge—because fabric bolts are seldom cut on grain.

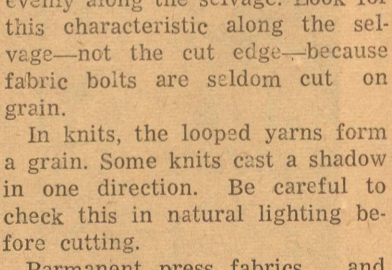

In knits, the looped yarns form a grain. Some knits cast a shadow in one direction. Be careful to check this in natural lighting before cutting.

Permanent press fabrics and knits that don't meet at the selvage after preshrinking should not be pulled to meet. They will eventually return to their original shapes. Lay the fabric flat, then cut pattern pieces accordingly.

An exception to always following the grainline in cutting out garments is the bias cut garment. This style is always deliberately cut off the grain and adds texture, design and ease to the garment.

TESTED TIPS TO HELP YOU

The inevitable spills and splatters that occur at the dinner table should be removed as soon as possible and before laundering. Grease and greasy food stains, which are particularly difficult to remove if left to stand, can be quickly and easily treated with corn starch. Cover stain with a layer of corn starch; roll up stained item and let stand. The corn starch will absorb grease. Then launder as usual.

Corn starch is considered an excellent dusting powder. Use a sprinkling of corn starch in rubber dish washing gloves each time they are worn. The gloves will slip on and off more easily and stay free from that clammy feeling. It's a good idea, also, to use a sprinkling of corn starch in boots to absorb moisture.

On those days when everything seems to go wrong, take time for a relaxing corn starch bath. Fill the tub with hot water, pour in a cup or two of corn starch and swish it through the water to dissolve. Then spend as many leisurely minutes as possible just soaking.

and helps soothe itchy, irritated skin.

Fur collars, cuffs or hats can be cleaned using a simple household formula. In a well ventilated room, mix 3/4 cup corn starch with 1 tablespoon household dry cleaning solvent in a bowl. Place the fur piece flat on brown paper. Spread on the mixture with fingers, rubbing it into the fur. Let it stand for about 20 minutes; then rub it occasionally. As mixture absorbs dirt, it will turn grey. Remove dirt with vacuum cleaner, using the upholstery attachment or take the garment outdoors and shake and brush it well until completely clean.

Special Services Set At First Baptist Church

This coming Sunday, January 26, is another special day at the First Baptist Church, it has been announced by the pastor, the Rev. Gene Stark.

Sunday morning the church will be observing Baptist Men's Day with many of the congregation's laymen leading the congregation in worship. John Callison will be the speaker. Tom Byrd will lead singing and the invocation and welcome of guests will be delivered by Bill Rountree. Also, Granvil Hext will deliver the scripture reading and Henry Moore will deliver the children's message. The men will also fill the choir and be accompanied by Lynn Whitaker at the piano and Rev. Stark at the organ.

Jim Bob Byrd will play a clarinet solo during the worship hour. The service is designed to promote the importance of Christian men sharing their testimony. The congregation at First Baptist Church extend to you a warm invitation to be a part of this service and any other; if you are looking for a church home, the members of First Baptist extend to you a warm welcome to be a part of "the church with a smile."

Sunday evening at 7:30 the church will host the Real Life Singers, the High School Choir from First Baptist in San Angelo, as they come to present the musical "Love" by Otis Skillings. Ron Etheredge, music director for the church and the song leader of last Fall's revival, will direct the choir. Following the musical, the Union Youth Fellowship will meet in the church recreation area for refreshments and fellowship. Again, the public is invited to attend.

Austin, Tex.—The 64th Texas Legislature started with a bang and a burst of action last week.

State Senators set new records for speed in organizing while the House named Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake its new speaker and debated rules.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, as promised, named a complete roster of Senate standing committees on the first day of the session, January 14. Only changes in chairmanships were Sens. Don Adams of Jasper moving up to head of the house-keeping appropriations panel and Sen. Pete Snelson of Midland taking over the intergovernmental relations committee.

The Senate went to work almost immediately on a proposed emergency pay raise for state employees, while both houses advanced a measure to extend unemployment compensation benefits four weeks and gain $5 million in federal funds.

Clayton, who defeated Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur for the speakership, delayed naming of his committees until this week, while he concentrated on getting rules changes he wants.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted lawmakers a long list of emergency measures for immediate consideration, including the pay raise for state workers and $80 million in stop gap aid for schools.

Other than the emergency measures, and rules adoption, little action is expected on the floor of either house until after the inauguration of Briscoe and Hobby to second terms Tuesday (Jan. 21).

Briscoe prepared long-range recommendations for delivery to a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday (Jan. 22).

Production Still "Wide Open"

February is the 35th straight month of wide open statewide oil allowable.

Texas Railroad Commission once again set a 100% production order. Meanwhile, independent oilmen said the decline in Texas oil production has begun a "big turnaround."

Frank Pitts of Dallas said 60,000 to 70,000 wells can be drilled a year instead of the present 30,000. There are lots of places to drill oilwells, but the cost is going to be high, said Pitts.

Crude prices should average $90 to $100 per barrel to encourage drilling the maximum number of wells, said the Dallas oilman.

Driving in '74 Was Safer

Vehicle accidents dropped 6% last year below 1973, and 1974 may have been the safest year on record considering the traffic death rate per 100-million miles, according to the Department of Public Safety.

The traffic toll for the year may reach 3,042 when all reports are in. That would represent a saving of 650 lives from 1973. In 1964, 3,006 were killed in Texas traffic accidents.

DPS Director Wilson Speir speculated that the reduction in driving and reduced speed limit brought about the improved safety record.

Short Snorts . . .

Governor Briscoe expressed concern that President Ford's energy proposals, including excise taxes on domestic oil and gas production, may take $3.4 billion out of the Texas economy in the form of higher utility and gasoline bills.

The winter tourist season is blossoming, and heading toward a near record, according to Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Governor Briscoe asked Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz to declare Limestone county a disaster area due to drought and other adverse weather.

Market Report

College Station, Tex.—A record crop of oranges is coming to market. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, also predicted attractive prices on oranges.

"Grapefruit also is plentiful, and quality is excellent," the Texas A&M University System specialist added.

"Apples, bananas, and avocados are other good fruit choices, price-wise."

Mrs. Clyatt said economical vegetable choices are broccoli, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, dry yellow onions, turnips, rutabagas and hard shell squash.

At meat counters, retail beef prices haven't changed much in the past week, the specialist noted.

"In general, look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver."

Pork values include Boston butt roasts, shoulder roasts, smoked hams and picnics.

Fryer chickens are good values, and supplies are adequate for the demand, Mrs. Clyatt concluded.

Consumer Watchwords: Save 20% on canned fruits and vegetables by doing some comparative shopping.

Choose wisely among brands, buy food according to intended use, and read and understand labels.

Pattern Brush Control A Compromise For Livestock And Wildlife

W. M. Rountree

Facing severe brush problems, many ranchers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District are using Pattern brush control as a method by which they compromise between the need to clear brush for more grass production and the need to leave brush for game animals and birds.

Ranchers who have cleared brush in past years are finding that they have overlooked one thing—the need for leaving some brush for cover and food for wildlife.

Yes, increasingly, ranch operators are taking wildlife into consideration in their brush control plans when they are developing their soil, water, plant and wildlife conservation plans.

Pattern brush control can be handled in various ways. On generally flat land it may involve staking out straight lines and leaving evenly spaced strips of brush untouched. In rolling, hilly country the straight lines may be changed to contours, or there may not be a pattern at all. The brush can just be left in irregular strips or along draws and waterways where nature usually grew brush in the first place.

Any of these methods have their likes and dislikes.

Contractors usually dislike the strip control method, especially if done on straight lines, as it complicates a job that isn't very easy to begin with. The operators have to be more careful, and the job moves along slower. Making the lines in thick brush is a major job in itself, involving chopping out a good bit of brush to allow "shooting" of the lines for the contractor to follow.

In deer country the long straight lines may make it easier to see and work livestock, but on the other hand it reduces the cover and the feeling of security of the wildlife. The deer tend to venture out better into smaller open spaces which have a limited field of vision than into long clear strips where they can see and be seen for a long way.

For this reason, especially in this part of the country, some landowners are moving toward irregular striping, sometimes following contours, leaving most or all of the cover untouched along streams and draws preferred by wildlife. This gives the contractor more freedom because he doesn't have to worry about straight lines.

It allows the ranchman to concentrate his investment in brush management on those deeper, more productive soils which probably tended to be open grasslands in the land's original state; it is there that he is likely to get the best return on his investment.

This method brings about complications because it is more difficult to determine the exact number of acres of brush work to be paid for to the satisfaction of the contractor, landowner, plus the federal government if cost sharing is involved.

Soil Conservation Service technicians are receiving reports from producers who have carried out brush pattern control, that the grass improvement has allowed them to increase their livestock and at the same time the deer have doubled because they have more feed now but still have adequate cover.

One advantage in strip control is that it gives the hunter a better chance while still leaving enough cover for a desirably high level of survival. Deer are considered to be "edge" animals, thriving best where they can move out into the open to graze, but always be near cover, to where they can run when frightened.

One argument made against strip control of brush is that it allows reseeding of brush on the cleared area by livestock and wildlife. Some ranchers prefer to get rid of all the brush to eliminate the seed source. The only thing wrong with this idea is the fact that there is usually already enough seed on or in the ground to keep new brush seedlings coming back for years. More seed is brought in from the neighbors by drifting wildlife and birds, or by livestock coming from brushy pastures. So a constant reseeding of brush can be expected no matter how well the land is cleared. A certain amount of periodic brush control will be needed in any case.

To the rancher with a brush problem and a dislike for wildlife, perhaps he can hardly live with the brush and desires to get rid of all the brush. For the rancher with the same problem but a likeness for wildlife can develop brush patterns and live with a certain amount of the brush.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service will be glad to work with producers and assist them in developing brush patterns for their ranches.

Hearty Ranch Style Baked Beans

Individual bean pots hold a savory meal of Idaho dried red beans combined with tomatoes, bacon, green pepper, onion and robust seasonings. Complete the Ranch Style Baked Bean menu with a crisp green salad or cabbage slaw and hot tender cornbread.

Sunny bean growing areas of Idaho produce several varieties of dried beans, all recognized for their excellent appearance, flavor and cooking qualities. The most popular are Great Northern, Pinto, Pink and Red.

Idaho dried beans are a valuable source of nutrients. Rich in protein, they need only a small amount of animal or complementary plant protein to provide all the essential amino acids. They also contain substantial amounts of calcium, iron and the B vitamins, especially thiamine.

Ranch Style Baked Beans

- |                               |                         |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 2 cups Idaho dried red beans  | ½ teaspoon dry mustard  |
| 6 slices bacon, cut in thirds | ½ teaspoon chili powder |
| 1 (16 oz.) can tomatoes       | 2 tablespoons           |
| 1 green pepper, chopped       | Worcestershire sauce    |
| 1 onion, chopped              | ¼ teaspoon pepper       |
| 1 clove garlic, minced        | ½ cup bean liquid       |
| 1 teaspoon salt               |                         |

Place beans in 6 cups water and soak overnight; or for quick soak method, boil 2 minutes and let stand 1 hour. Add 2 teaspoons salt. Cover beans and simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Drain, reserving bean liquid. Add remaining ingredients to beans, reserving 2 slices bacon for garnish. Place in individual pots or large casserole and top with reserved bacon. Cover and bake at 325 degrees 1 hour for individual casseroles or 1½ hours for large casserole, adding more bean liquid if needed. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

APPLE FACTS FOR ENCIENS

Yes, there really was a Johnny Applesed. He was John Chapman, born in Massachusetts in 1774. The pioneers called him Johnny Applesed because he tramped for 40 years over the Ohio Valley, planting apple seeds and giving packets of seeds to families moving westward in covered wagons. He was a kindly man, and he apparently had great endurance—possibly from eating so many apples—because he saved Mansfield, Ohio, from massacre by running 60 miles through the night for troops.

Apples may be served at any temperature you like, but your reserve supply keeps best in your refrigerator (not close to the freezer) in plastic bags or the hydrator drawer. Apples keep well with reasonable care and this helps make them one of the most economical fruits.

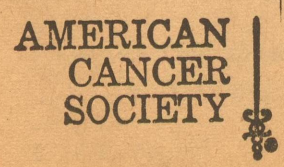

Apples help correct both constipation and diarrhea. Their pectin and mild acids help fight body poisons and have a healing effect.

You can make many delicious things out of apples, but some people get hooked on just one. For example, according to tradition, Yalermen were served apple pie at supper every evening for 100 years. And presumably no Yalie yelled!

Sunday John 1: 35-39	Thursday Acts 10: 34-41
Monday Proverbs 3: 1-8	Friday Exodus 34: 27-31
Tuesday Ephesians 4: 1-6	Saturday John 3: 14-18
Wednesday Psalms 26: 8-12

We all feel that way at times. And, tragically, there are some folks who feel that way much of the time.

But while the world in which we live leaves a lot to be desired, it's our world. And life in that world is pretty much what man himself has made of it.

The God who created us and our universe had some excellent plans for life as it should be. They are clearly set forth in the Bible whose writing He inspired. And they have become the spiritual blueprint of constructive living for millions of believers.

As the earth continues its endless turning, search for your goals in faith—not escape... in the Word of God—not the words of cynics.
