Austin, Tex.—Gov. Dolph Briscoe served up a smorsgabord of legislative recommendations which could keep lawmakers jumping for the next four months, even if they had no proposals of their own.

Briscoe offered a 10-part package, assigning top priority to complete restructuring of the public school finance system and again serving warning he will not approve a tax bill.

He said he hopes the 64th Legislature will be known as the "Public Education Session."

The governor made no mention of two much-discussed issues: Constitutional revision and creation of a public utilities cemmission.

He called for the "weighted pupil approach" to distributing state aid. That would base state and local spending on actual cost of instructional programs geared to in- address: Box 1054, Pinetop, Aridividual district needs and masured against the best 42 districts. The local district's ability to pay would be based on taxable value of its property.

Briscoe placed heavy emphasis on legislation to assure individuals' at Apt. 1209A, 535 Nasa Road 1, right to privacy.

He drew some of his best applause with proposals to expand powers of the Coordinating Board, 42 Club Meets Texas College and University System, to give it a veto over new higher education construction programs and creation of new departments. Many college boards of regents can be expected to fight the

$109.7 Million Plan

General Telephone Company President L. Gray Beck today announced plans to spend $109.7 million during 1975 to expand and improve telephone facilities in its operations in Arkansas, Oklahoma. New Mexico and Texas.

than $150 per customer served by the company.

The telephone executive pointed

"These current conditions were drawn into sharp focus as the final 1975 budget and its related projects were examined," the tele-Phone company president said. "At the same time, our most optimistic estimates for the year showed that with our present rate structures and the dogging 'regulatory lag' (the time between the added costs and the granting of new rates to support these costs), our revenues would not be sufficient to support our original projected construction expenditures.

"As a result, during the last quarter of 1974 particularly, we studied and reevaluated our 1975 construction budget. The budget is now designed to enable us to maintain acceptable service and hopefully a financially viable position that benefits both the customer and company," Beck stated.

He continued, "Only through fair and reasonable rates and constant surveillance of operating costs can we properly finance our projected growth. If we are to remain viable, we must receive an adequate rate of return on our investment. If not, we have no alternative but to evaluate our service and growth in fines or imprisonment for not expenditures and keep construction costs at a level commensurate with earnings. Of course we intend, even in the face of the present economic situation, to keep service at a high level." If the general economic conditions continue to deteriorate we will have to adjust our construction budget accordingly, Beck added.

The largest portion of the telephone construction budget is $37.5 million earmarked for central office equipment (COE). This includes providing One Plus and/or Zero Plus Dialing to 34 exchanges. By the end of the year, 98% of for the San Angelo area. the company's customers will have One Plus Dialing and 70% will depend on," said Strickland, "is have Zero Plus Dialing.

These offices automatically perform self-checking functions, pinpointing trouble or potential trouble that normally goes unnoticed until service is interrupted.

A new electronic office being constructed in Bryan will be the company's first toll office operated by electronic equipment.

Another major portion of the budget amounts to $29.9 million to cover facilities located outside the central offices. Of this amount, $27.6 million is designated for growth and modernization which includes expansion and updating of long distance and extended area service facilities and buried and underground cable.

Beck said other parts of the budget include $2.9 million for land purchases and construction of new buildings and building additions.

Other items in the overall construction budget total $39.3 million for private automatic branch exchange (PABX) equipment, telephones, labor and materials to connect the customer's telephone to service lines, vehicles, furniture and fixtures, and tools and work equipment.

The company president said a gain of 72,000 telephones is expected during 1975, bringing the estimated year-end total to 1,194,800.

Gen. Telephone Sets | Gold Medal Set For Bicentennial Striking

Washington, D. C.—The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) has announced it plans to offer the 1976 national Bicentennial commemorative medal in gold, as well as bronze and silver. Public Law 93-167 states: "Except with respect to medals in commemoration of the bicentennial of the American Revolution authorized to be struck by Public Law 92-228 (approved February 15, 1972), no national medals made for public sale under authority of any law of the United States shall contain any gold without the express prior approval, by law, of the Congress of the United States."

P.L. 92-228 authorized a maximum of 13 medals commemorating specific historical events of great importance for the Bicentennial, and directs a national medal commemorating the year 1776 and its significance to American independence. The medals are struck by the U.S. Mint.

Sizes of medals, metals, emblems and inscriptions are determined by the ARBA, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Consultations on these matters with the Treasury Department and the U.S. Mint will be initiated in the near future.

P. L. 93-167 provides for penalties for violators of up to $10,000 more than one year, or both.

Revenue from the sale of ARBA commemorative medals is used to support Bicentennial projects and programs throughout the country, primarily through matching grants.

Condition Your Air - Winter And Summer

Air conditioning in the Win-

Yes - but not in the usual sense. Just as you remove moisture from the air in the summer with air conditioning to avoid the discomforts of muggy days, you also can add moisture in the winter to avoid the discomforts of too-low humidity. Among the most common problems caused by low humidity are static electricity shocks, said Jane Butel Silver, manager of General Electric's Consumers Institute. "But bonedry winter air can cause other, more costly problems, too. "For instance, expensive or antique furniture can come unglued in a very dry environment, necessitating costly repairs. Parched air may also dry out nose, throat and sinus tissues, which can contribute to personal discomfort for you and your children," she added. You can avoid being zapped all winter by unexpected static electricity shocks as well as the other discomforts of low humidity by the easy and relatively inexpensive addition of a power humidifier to a forced-

Proper humidity may result in reduced heating bills, too, place to live.

Mrs. Silver observes, because moisture in the air makes you tend to feel warmer at lower temperatures.

Another device which works with your furnace and can help improve comfort year-round is the electronic air cleaner.

"A single cubic foot of air in your home may contain millions of particles of dust, dirt, ash, pollen, and mold spores, which a standard furnace filter cannot remove from the air," she explained.

Electronic air cleaners generally are designed to trap nearly all particles down to as small as 1 micron in size and 50% of those particles down to onehundredth of a micron.

By comparison, human hair averages about 50 microns in diameter. Pollen ranges from 10 to 100 microns in size and most mold spores from 10 to 30 microns. Electronic air cleaners are even effective in helping eliminate tiny pollutants such as cigarette, cigar, or pipe smoke particles, most of which are from .01 to 1 micron in

Salt Harzardous For Malting Ice

Using salt to melt ice on sidewalks, streets and driveways can injure nearby trees, shrubs and lawn grass. Salt may drain into the ground when ice melts and damage root systems of nearby grass and shrubs.

Salt in the root systems of trees can cause partial or complete burning of leaves and may result in the loss of valuable trees and shrubs. Patches of dead grass may also result. These effects may not show up until early summer.

It is suggested using ammonium nitrate fertilizer instead of salt to melt ice. Ammonium nitrate not only melts the ice, but fertilizes shrubs and plants in the lawn. Any commercial fertilizer that is high in nitrogen and potassium can be

Favorite Pie Wears Crunchy Crown

Praline Topped Pumpkin Pie is a traditional favorite with a

As the holiday season draws near, so does the time for preparing the family's food favorites. If that sounds a little tedious, add a few new touches. The traditional pumpkin pie, spicy and smooth, is made with velvetized evaporated milk. That's a success secret for a marvelous pie. Crown it with a Praline Topping right before you serve it. The texture and flavor combination of the pie and the topping are melt-in-the-mouth good. You'll find evaporated milk a necessity for your holiday cooking and baking needs. Use it to make smooth and creamy candies, delicious desserts and scrumptious salads.

Praline Topped Pumpkin Pie (Makes one 9-inch pie)

2 slightly beaten eggs 11/2 cups canned pumpkin 1 cup sugar

1/4 teaspoon ground cloves ½ teaspoon nutmeg1½ cups undiluted Carnation

Evaporated Milk ½ teaspoon salt 9-inch single crust unbaked 1 teaspoon cinnamon pie shell 1/4 teaspoon ginger

Combine eggs, pumpkin, sugar, salt and spices. Gradually add evaporated milk. Mix well. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 15 minutes; reduce to moderate heat (350°F.) and continue baking about 40 minutes or until knife inserted near center of pie comes out clean. Cool pie. Just before ready to serve top with Praline Topping.

Praline Topping: Combine 2 tablespoons melted butter, ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar and 1/3 cup chopped pecans. Sprinkle evenly over pie. Place pie under broiler until top is bubbly, about 1 minute (watch pie carefully). Serve at once.
